accrued. The defendant may plead immunity at any stage of the proceeding.

- a. At a summary judgment hearing on the issue of immunity, evidence is limited to evidence tending to demonstrate whether the defendant complied with all applicable executive orders issued by the Governor in association with the declared state of emergency for COVID-19 and any guidelines from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention applicable at the time the cause of action accrued.
- b. If the court determines at a summary judgment hearing that the defendant complied with the executive orders and guidelines, the defendant is immune from civil liability for ordinary negligence.
- c. If the court determines at a summary judgment hearing that the defendant did not comply with the executive orders and quidelines, the plaintiff may proceed with the action. However, absent at least gross negligence proven by clear and convincing evidence, the defendant is not civilly liable for any act or omission relating to a COVID-19-related claim.
- (d) The burden of proof is upon the plaintiff to demonstrate that the defendant did not comply with the executive orders and guidelines under subparagraph (c) 2.
