I. Summary:

SB 226 creates the Care for Retired Law Enforcement Dogs Program. The program will provide reimbursement for up to $1,500 of annual veterinary costs associated with caring for a retired law enforcement dog by the former handler or adopter who incurs the costs. The program will be administered and managed by a not-for-profit corporation in a contractual arrangement with the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) after a competitive grant award process.

The bill requires valid documentation of the dog's retirement from a law enforcement agency the dog served for 5 years or more. If the dog served more than one agency during its career, documentation from two or more agencies showing a total of at least 5 years of service is acceptable. A valid paid invoice from the veterinarian for veterinary care is required in order for reimbursement of veterinary costs to occur.

The bill includes an appropriation of $300,000 in recurring funds from the General Revenue Fund for the purpose of implementing and administering the program.

The bill is effective July 1, 2022.

II. Present Situation:

Law enforcement dogs have become an integral part of many law enforcement efforts statewide, including suspect apprehension through tracking and searching, evidence location, drug and bomb detection, and search and rescue operations.¹ Law enforcement dogs cannot work forever and are faced with natural aging conditions and may have sustained injuries in the line of duty.²

When it is time for a law enforcement dog to retire, the dog typically lives with their law enforcement officer partner. Tarpon Springs Police Department K-9 officer, Dobies, retired on his birthday, after seven years of service.³ In 2017, two dogs who had both served the Flagler County Sheriff's Office for eight years retired from duty in apprehending suspects and sniffing for narcotics, with a combined 190 deployments.⁴ All three of the dogs were to stay at home with their handlers as pets.⁵ The veterinary expenses due to complications from law enforcement K-9's injuries, joint problems, or other job-related health problems may be too costly for the former handler.⁶

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill creates the Care for Retired Law Enforcement Dogs Program (program) within the FDLE to provide a stable funding source for veterinary care for retired law enforcement dogs. The FDLE is directed to contract with a not-for-profit corporation, organized under ch. 617, F.S., to administer and manage the program.⁷ The corporation will be selected through a competitive grant award process and must:

- Be dedicated to the protection or care of retired law enforcement dogs.
- Hold tax-exempt status under the Internal Revenue code as an s. 501(c)(3) organization.⁸
- Have held tax-exempt status for at least five years.
- Agree to be subject to review and audit at the discretion of the Auditor General to ensure accurate accounting and disbursement of state funds.
- Demonstrate the ability to effectively and efficiently disseminate information and assist former handlers and adopters of retired law enforcement dogs in complying with the bill.

⁷ Section 617.01401(5), F.S., defines "corporation not for profit" as a corporation no part of the income or profit of which is distributable to its members, directors, or officers, except as otherwise provided under ch. 617, F.S.

⁸ See 26 U.S.C. s. 501(c)(3).

The program will provide up to $1,500 annually, per dog, to any former handler or adopter of a retired law enforcement dog for reimbursement of veterinary care for the dog. In order to receive these funds, valid documentation must be received from the agency from which the dog retired verifying the dog's service of 5 years or more with the agency or service of a total of 5 years or more with two or more law enforcement agencies.

The former handler or adopter must submit a valid invoice from a veterinarian for care provided in Florida and proof of payment for reimbursement to occur. The former handler or adopter may not accumulate unused funds for the current year for use in a future year. When the annual funding for the program is depleted, reimbursements must be discontinued for the remainder of the year.

“Retired law enforcement dog” is defined as a dog who has been in the service of or employed by a law enforcement agency in this state for the principle purpose of aiding in the detection of criminal activity, enforcement of laws, or apprehension of offenders. The retired law enforcement dog must have received certification in obedience and apprehension work from a certifying organization, such as the National Police Canine Association, Inc.⁹

The bill defines “law enforcement agency” as a state or local public agency that has primary responsibility for the prevention and detection of crime or the enforcement of the penal, traffic, highway, regulatory, game, immigration, postal, customs, or controlled substance laws.

The bill adopts the term “veterinarian” from s. 474.202(11), F.S., which defines “veterinarian” as a health care practitioner who is licensed to engage in the practice of veterinary medicine in Florida under the authority of ch. 474, F.S.¹⁰ The bill also defines “veterinary care” as the practice, by a veterinarian, of veterinary medicine as defined in s. 474.202(13), F.S. “Veterinary medicine” includes, with respect to animals, surgery, acupuncture, obstetrics, dentistry, physical therapy, radiology, theriogenology, and other branches or specialties of veterinary medicine.¹¹ The bill specifies that the term also includes:

- Annual wellness examinations;
- Vaccinations;
- Internal and external parasite prevention treatments;
- Testing and treatment of illnesses and diseases;
- Medications;
- Emergency care and surgeries;

¹⁰ Section 474.202(9), F.S., defines “practice of veterinary medicine” to mean diagnosing the medical condition of animals and prescribing, dispensing, or administering drugs, medicine, appliances, applications, or treatment of whatever nature for the prevention, cure, or relief of a wound, fracture, bodily injury, or disease thereof; performing any manual procedure for the diagnosis of or treatment for pregnancy or fertility or infertility of animals; or representing oneself by the use of titles or words, or undertaking, offering, or holding oneself out, as performing any of these functions. The term includes the determination of the health, fitness, or soundness of an animal.

¹¹ Section 474.202(13), F.S.

- Veterinary oncology or other specialty care; and
- Euthanasia and cremation services.

The bill specifies that the not-for-profit corporation is the disbursing authority for the funds appropriated by the Legislature to the FDLE for the program. The FDLE must pay the not-for-profit corporation up to 10 percent of appropriated funds for administrative expenses, including salaries and benefits.

The bill contains legislative findings related to the value of law enforcement dogs to the residents of Florida.

The bill includes an appropriation of $300,000 for Fiscal Year 2022-2023 in recurring funds from the General Revenue Fund to the FDLE for the purpose of implementing and administering the program. The funds will be used to reimburse a former handler or an adopter for the cost of the retired law enforcement dog's veterinary care and to pay the contract with the not-for-profit corporation.

The FDLE is required to adopt rules to implement the program.

The bill is effective July 1, 2022.
