Scenarios for Drawing Southwest Florida Congressional Districts

Contents

This packet includes for the plans listed above:
- A map of showing districts in the Southwest Florida regions.
- A description of the plan.
- Census statistics for districts and the parts of counties within districts (southwest districts only). Statistics include: total population, voting age population (age 18 and older), Black voting age population (and percentage), and Hispanic voting age population (and percentage). Persons who identified themselves as both Black and Hispanic are counted in both categories.
- A summary of public comments about the plan, including relevant remarks by the author.
- Professional staff comments.

With the electronic version of this document:
- Click a plan name in the Table of Contents to jump to the page where the plan is presented.
- Click a heading (plan name in blue type) to link to the "Plan Details" page, where more maps, statistics, and downloads are posted. Another easy way to access plan details is from the Submitted Plans page at www.flsenate.gov/redistricting.

FL2002_CON – Current Congressional Districts

Overview:
- Currently there are two congressional districts in Southwest Florida with majority-minority populations. Current District 23 in Hendry, Palm Beach, St. Lucie, Martin, and Broward Counties has 54.0% Black voting age population and current District 25 in Collier, Monroe, and Miami-Dade Counties has 72.2% Hispanic voting age population. Both districts are in areas subject to Section 5 preclearance. District 23 has an African-American incumbent. District 25 has a Hispanic incumbent.

Description:

- Although the majority of its population is in Broward and Palm Beach Counties, District 23 includes much of the Black community in Hendry County and has a 54% Black voting age population. Voters in this district have elected an African American incumbent since 1992.
- District 25, the Hispanic majority-minority district, contains the eastern portion of Collier County as well as parts of Miami-Dade and Monroe Counties. It has a 72.2% Hispanic voting age population, and has consistently elected a Hispanic candidate since 2002.
- District 11 has 26.8% Black and 25.8% Hispanic voting age population. It is currently represented by a white member of Congress.
- Districts 10, 11, and 23 are underpopulated by 1% to 3%. Other districts in the area are overpopulated by 8% to 33%.

SPUBC0154 – Adora Obi Nweze

Overview:

- This map was submitted on behalf of the Florida State Conference NAACP. Representatives of this group testified at nearly every public hearing, expressing concern for minorities to be able to elect candidates of their choice. This map preserves the cores of the existing majority-minority and access districts in Florida.

Description:
- This map preserves the portion of existing District 23 that extends into eastern Hendry County. Voters in this district have consistently elected an African American member of Congress since 1992. The existing District 23 currently has 54% Black voting age population. Proposed District 23 has 50.1% Black voting age population.
- This map also preserves the core of existing District 11, which is currently 26.8% Black and 25.8% Hispanic voting age population. The proposed District 11 is 26.7% Black and 25.5% Hispanic voting age population.
- Proposed District 25 is in Monroe and Miami-Dade Counties and has 76.5% Hispanic voting age population. Currently, District 25 has 72.2% Hispanic voting age population and contains portions of Collier, Monroe, and Miami-Dade Counties.
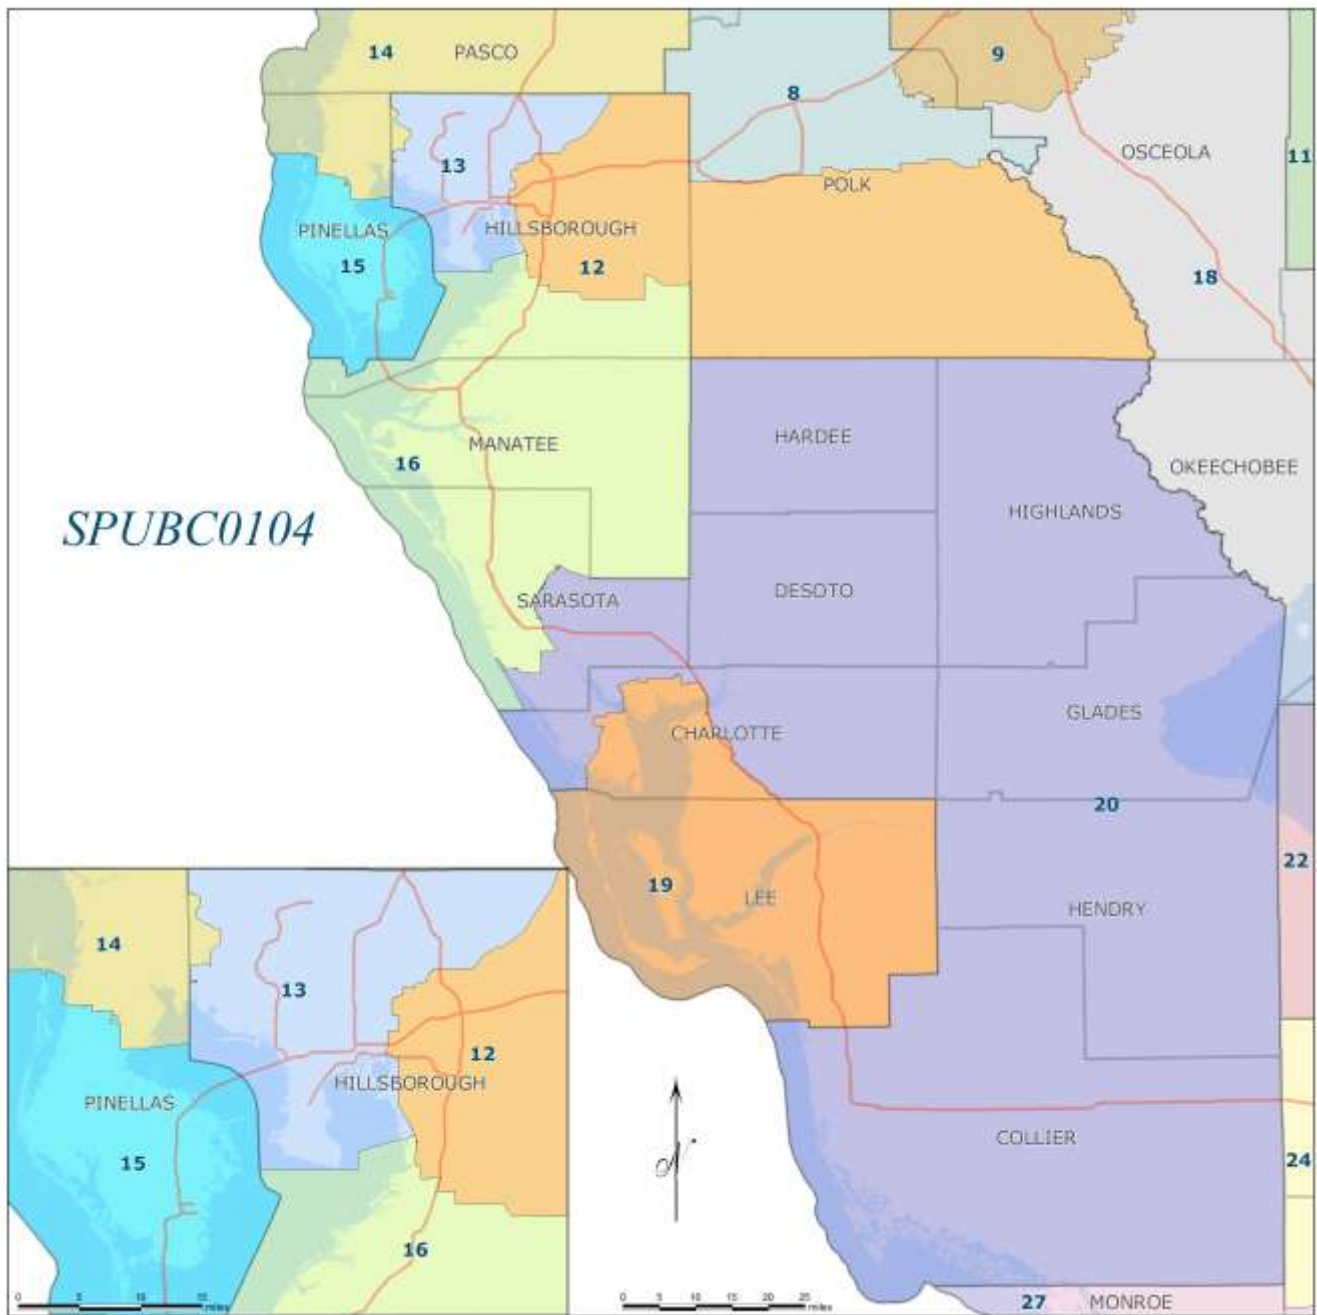

Professional Staff Comments:
- This map preserves the cores of existing minority districts.
- This map largely follows city boundaries. When it does not follow city boundaries, it is for the purpose of keeping minority communities whole.

SPUBC0104 – John Libby

Overview:

- This map exemplifies plans that follow city and county boundaries.

Description:

- This map separates Collier County from Miami Dade and Monroe County. The current district in this same area groups these three counties together and has 72.2% Hispanic voting age population. In this proposal, Collier County joins a district which is 18.6% Hispanic voting age population. Proposed District 27, which contains all of Monroe County and portions of Miami-Dade, is 58.4% Hispanic.

Public Testimony and Comments from the Map Author:
- Mr. Libby presented an earlier version of this map in Jacksonville, where he testified that he wanted to keep communities together while adhering to the constitutional standards.
- Members of the public at the Key West hearing testified that they had more in common with Miami Dade than they did with Collier County. Citizens at the Miami hearings testified that their needs were different than those of Collier County. Testimony at the Naples hearing indicated that Collier County citizens felt the same way.

Professional Staff Comments:
- The consequences of separating Collier County from Miami Dade and Monroe counties in this map were removing Collier County from a majority Hispanic district into a white district and reducing the Hispanic population in the Miami Dade and Monroe County district by 14%.
- Proposed District 13 removes the portion of existing District 11 that extends from Hillsborough County into Pinellas and Manatee Counties, dropping the Black voting age population from 25.2% to 17.6%.
- Also, this map removes eastern Hendry County from a majority Black district (existing District 23), and places it in a majority white district (proposed District 20) instead.

Description:
- This map is an example of following county and city boundaries. District 23 has the highest Black voting age population among proposed districts in the Southwest part of the state (31%). This district is predominantly based in Southeast Florida and only includes 6,125 people in Hendry County, of which 4,177 are voting age population.

Public Testimony and Comments from the Map Author:
- The submitter presented his map at the Boca Raton public hearing. He testified that he followed city lines and preserved municipal boundaries throughout the state except in Jacksonville, where the population was too high. He also expressed some frustration with the lack of clarity from the Justice department as to the standards for majority-minority districts.

Professional Staff Comments:
- Proposed District 23 has the highest Black voting age population in the Southwest Florida region of this plan (31%). District 23 in the current plan has Black voting age population of 54%. This district is predominantly based in Southeast Florida and only includes 6,125 people in Hendry County, of which 4,177 are voting age population.
- The plan splits minority communities in the Tampa Bay area among two districts. Proposed District 14 crosses Tampa Bay and has 17.4% Black and 13.5% Hispanic voting age population. District 15 in Hillsborough County has 17.8% Black and 25.6% Hispanic voting age population. The benchmark District 11 in the current plan has 26.8% Black voting age population and 25.8% Hispanic voting age population.

Scenarios for Drawing Southwest Florida Senate Districts

Senate Committee on Reapportionment
November 15, 2011

Contents

This packet includes for the plans listed above:
- A map of showing districts in the Southwest Florida regions.
- A description of the plan.
- Census statistics for districts and the parts of counties within districts (southwest districts only). Statistics include: total population, voting age population (age 18 and older), Black voting age population (and percentage), and Hispanic voting age population (and percentage). Persons who identified themselves as both Black and Hispanic are counted in both categories.
- A summary of public comments about the plan, including relevant remarks by the author.
- Professional staff comments.

With the electronic version of this document:
- Click a plan name in the Table of Contents to jump to the page where the plan is presented.
- Click a heading (plan name in blue type) to link to the "Plan Details" page, where more maps, statistics, and downloads are posted. Another easy way to access plan details is from the Submitted Plans page at www.flsenate.gov/redistricting.
- Click a map to open a plan in District Explorer, a web application for navigating maps, exploring population characteristics, and creating custom maps in PDF format. Another easy way to open the plan in District Explorer is from the "Plan Details" page.

The descriptions and professional staff comments in this report do not reflect the intent or official position of persons submitting plans or the Florida Senate.

FL2002_SEN—Current Senate Districts

Overview:

- In the 2002 plan, District 18 in Hillsborough, Pinellas, and Manatee Counties has 39.5% Black voting age population and 23.3% Hispanic voting age population. The current District 39 in Collier, Hendry, Monroe, Palm Beach, Broward, and Miami-Dade Counties has 29.1% Black voting age population and 43.0% Hispanic voting age population. Both districts are in areas subject to Section 5 preclearance and have African-American incumbents.

Description:

- Districts in the current senate map were nearly equal in population based on the 2000 Census, but due to different growth rates in different parts of the state, there are significant deviations from the ideal district population based on the 2010 Census. Settled urban areas like Tampa, St. Petersburg, Clearwater, Bradenton, and Sarasota did not keep pace with Florida's average population growth. Suburban areas in east Pasco, Hillsborough, Manatee, and Lee Counties were among the faster growing parts of the state.
- Minority Access: District 18 in Hillsborough, Pinellas, and Manatee Counties has 39.5% Black voting age population of 39.5% and 23.3% Hispanic voting age population. It is underpopulated by 65,211 people. District 39 in Hendry, Collier, Monroe, Palm Beach, Broward, and Miami-Dade Counties is 29.1% Black voting age population and 43.0% Hispanic voting age population. It is overpopulated by 13,150 people.
- Districts 18 and 39 are both in areas subject to Section 5 preclearance. Both also have African-American incumbents.

SPUBS0155—Adora Obi Nweze (FL State Conference NAACP)

Overview:
- This plan keeps the minority access districts in the southwest region at their 2002 percentages. District 18 is 38.7% Black voting age population and 22.1% Hispanic voting age population. District 39 is 35% Black voting age population and 39.6% Hispanic voting age population.

Professional Staff Comments:
- Deviation: In this map, every district within the southwest region is within a 0.8% deviation from the target population.
- Counties: This plan makes extensive use of County boundaries. The map follows the boundary between Manatee County and Hardee and DeSoto Counties to divide Districts 13 and 19, it follows the boundary between Charlotte and Lee Counties and Glades and Hendry Counties to divide Districts 21 and 13, and it follows the boundary between Okeechobee and Osceola to divide Districts 13 and 27.
- Municipalities: This plan keeps most municipalities in the region unsplit. Exceptions include: Tampa, Lakeland, and Sanibel.
- Minority Access: This plan provides a minority district in Hillsborough, Pinellas, and Manatee Counties. District 16 has 22.6% Black voting age population and 30.0% Hispanic voting age population. Comparatively in the 2002 map, District 18 in Hillsborough, Pinellas, and Manatee Counties has 39.5% Black voting age population and 23.3% Hispanic voting age population.

HPUBS0060—Jeffery Maas (City of Bonita Springs)

Overview:

- This plan is a single district which takes all of Lee County, except for the majority of the municipality of Cape Coral.

Description:
- District 27 is located within Lee County.

Public Testimony and Comments from the Map Author:
- The City Clerk of Bonita Springs, Dianne j. Lynn, submitted a letter and resolution of the City Council of Bonita Springs with this map at the Lehigh Acres public hearing that urged the legislature not to divide the city of Bonita Springs into multiple Senate districts.
  - "Whereas in the last ten (10) years the city of Bonita Springs has experienced a significant population increases and growth, which has been faster than the State average and Bonita Springs desires district boundaries for the Senate and House of Representatives that will address all of the Bonita Springs resident's needs to have a voice and vote with State representation." – from the Bonita Spring City Council Resolution No. 11-056
  - "Whereas a purpose of reapportionment or state redistricting is to provide a structure for voters with similar needs or 'communities of interest' to elect a candidate of their choice." – from the Bonita Spring City Council Resolution No. 11-056

Professional Staff Comments:
- Deviation: In this map, district 27 is 2.7% under the target population.
- Counties: District 27 is located entirely within Lee County and uses the southern and eastern boundaries of the county for borders.
- Municipalities: District 27 includes a small portion of Cape Coral.

SPUBS0086—Bruce King

Overview:
- This plan's districts follow a box-like pattern that emphasizes geographic compactness. They do not follow political boundaries or maintain the percentages of minority districts.
- District 20 in Hillsborough County is 23.1% Black voting age population and 27.8% Hispanic voting age population. District 40 in Collier, Hendry, Lee, Monroe, Palm Beach, Broward, and Miami-Dade Counties is 17.2% Black voting age population and 47.5% Hispanic voting age population.

Public Testimony and Comments from the Map Author:
- Mr. King submitted comments with his plans explaining how he began by drawing Senate districts, then divided those into House districts, and then used those House districts to draw Congressional districts. This map corresponds with SPUBH0087 and SPUBC0088.
- Other points by Mr. King:
    o "The districts were defined starting on the northern border, going from west to east, and then moving south. For the panhandle region, this involved starting with county based units and continuing until population of the evolving district boundary was just below the target population. Next voting districts (VTD-level) are used to get a closer approach to the target, using the undo button when the target is exceeded. Finally the block- level is used, including the "lasso assign" button, to migrate a smooth boundary as the target population is approached. At the final step, the border was magnified to the finest scale where block boundaries become visible, then the population is "fine tuned" by exchanging several blocks between either sides of the boundary until the district population is within the target value by an acceptable increment. Finally the utility scans for contiguity and completeness are made, corrected, and rebalanced if necessary. The changes were then saved and the completed district locked. Thus the just completed boundary is not changed when one starts to form the next district."
    o "For the urban areas where minority populations are more concentrated, the choice of the district boundaries were made to maximize the number of majority minority Senate districts. For non-minority Senate districts, any concentrated areas of minorities are not split between adjacent Senate districts, so that when the House districts are made from the Senate districts, majority minority House districts are also maximized."
    o "It is at the macro phase where the boundaries are laid out with consideration for compactness, minority representation, commonality of communities of interest, such as similar socioeconomic and cultural factors and common local governments. All of these general criteria, However, are forever compromised by the dominance of extreme measures of uniformity of population prescribed by law and legal precedence as the main driver."

Professional Staff Comments:
- Deviation: In this map, every district within the southwest region is within a individual of the ideal population for a district giving them all a 0.0% deviation from the target population.
- Counties: This plan does not use county boundaries to divide districts.
- Municipalities: This plan emphasizes geometrically compact districts as opposed to municipal boundaries.
- Minority Access: District 20 in Hillsborough County is 23.1% Black voting age population and 27.8% Hispanic voting age population. District 40 in Collier, Hendry, Lee, Monroe, Palm Beach, Broward, and Miami-Dade Counties is 17.2% Black voting age population and 47.5% Hispanic voting age population. Comparatively in the 2002 map, District 18 in Hillsborough, Pinellas, and Manatee Counties has 39.5% Black voting age population and 23.3% Hispanic voting age population. The current District 39 in Hendry, Collier, Monroe, Palm Beach, Broward, and Miami-Dade Counties has 29.1% Black voting age population and 43.0% Hispanic voting age population.

Scenarios for Drawing Southwest Florida House Districts

Senate Committee on Reapportionment
November 15, 2011

Contents

This packet includes for the plans listed above:
- A map of showing districts in the Southwest Florida regions.
- A description of the plan.
- Census statistics for districts and the parts of counties within districts (southwest districts only). Statistics include: total population, voting age population (age 18 and older), Black voting age population (and percentage), and Hispanic voting age population (and percentage). Persons who identified themselves as both Black and Hispanic are counted in both categories.
- A summary of public comments about the plan, including relevant remarks by the author.
- Professional staff comments.

Professional Staff Comments:

- Districts in the current senate map were nearly equal in population based on the 2000 Census, but due to different growth rates in different parts of the state, there are significant deviations from the ideal district population based on the 2010 Census.
- Black Minority Access: The 2002 plan has one district in Hillsborough County with a 54.0% Black voting age population and one district in Hillsborough, Manatee, Pinellas and Sarasota Counties with a 49.4% Black voting age population.
- Hispanic Minority Access: The 2002 plan has a district in the southwest region with a majority Hispanic voting age population and a district just under 50% Hispanic voting age population.
    - District 112 in Collier, Broward, and Miami-Dade Counties has 71.4% Hispanic voting age population
    - District 58 in Hillsborough County has a Hispanic voting age population of 49.8%

SPUBH0156—Adora Obi Nweze

Overview:

- This plan attempts to keep the districts in the same general shape and location as the 2002 plan, including minority access seats.
- This plan creates one district in Hillsborough County with 53.4% Black voting age population and one district in Pinellas, Hillsborough, Manatee, and Sarasota Counties with 46.4% Black voting age population. The plan has a 48.9% Hispanic voting age population district in Osceola and Polk Counties. District 58 in Hillsborough County has a Hispanic voting age population of 50.2%. District 112 in Collier, Broward, and Miami-Dade Counties is 54.5% Hispanic voting age population, which is less than the 71.4% benchmark for the current district.

Professional Staff Comments:

- Deviation: In this map the districts in the southwest region are all within a 4.5% deviation of the ideal mean for voting age population.
- Counties: This map makes some use of county boundaries to divide districts. It follows the boundary between Manatee County and Hardee County to separate Districts 66 and 67 and the boundaries between Charlotte and DeSoto Counties and between Glades and Highlands Counties to separate Districts 72 and 77.
- Municipalities: The focus of this map is not keeping municipalities whole.
- Black Minority Access: This plan creates one district in Hillsborough County with 53.4% Black voting age population and one district in Hillsborough, Manatee, Pinellas, and Sarasota Counties with a 46.4% Black voting age population.
- Hispanic Minority Access: District 112 in Broward, Collier and Miami-Dade Counties has a Hispanic voting age population of 54.5%, which is less than the 71.4% benchmark for the current district. District 58 in Hillsborough County has a Hispanic voting age population of 50.2%. District 41 in Osceola and Polk Counties has a Hispanic voting age population of 48.9%.

Public Testimony and Comments from the Map Author:
- Mr. Libby participated in the Jacksonville public hearing and commented on his Congressional map. His later House maps were not submitted until after the conclusion of the public hearings.

Professional Staff Comments:
- Deviation: In this map the districts in the southwest region are all within a 0.6% deviation of the ideal mean for voting age population.
- Counties: This map makes frequent use of county boundaries to divide districts, including the boundary between Hardee County and Polk County to separate Districts 52 and 72, the boundary between Glades County and Hendry County to separate Districts 78 and 81, the boundary between Martin County and Palm Beach County to separate Districts 84 and 92, and the boundary between Collier and Monroe to separate Districts 81 and 120.
- Municipalities: This plan splits municipalities in Hillsborough, Lee, and Pinellas Counties.
- This plan creates one district in Hillsborough County with a 44.5% Black voting age population, which is less than the 53.4% benchmark for the current district.
- This plan creates one district located in Collier, Hendry, and Miami-Dade Counties with a 63.0% Hispanic voting age population, which is less than the 71.4% benchmark for the current district.

HPUBH0052—Michael Reagen

Overview:
- This plan is comprised of three districts, with a single district that includes portions of both Collier and Miami-Dade Counties.
- District 3 located in Collier and Miami-Dade Counties has a 59.4% Hispanic voting age population, which is less than the 71.4% benchmark for the current district.

Public Testimony and Comments from the Map Author:

- Michael Regan, on behalf of the Greater Naples Chamber of Commerce, Naples Area Board of Realtors, Economic Development Council of Collier County and the Collier Building Industry Association presented this map along with a presentation at the Naples public hearing. He points out that his map divides Collier County among 3 legislative districts as opposed to 5 in the 2002 map.
  - "The current maps hold little regard for compactness, political subdivisions and communities." – Michael Regan at the Naples public hearing
  - "One, new boundaries should keep Collier County intact to the greatest extent possible. Number 2, new boundaries should ensure that the proposed districts clearly are compliant with the standards of the Voting Rights Act. Third, permit Collier voters to elect representatives of their choice to the greatest extent possible." – Michael Regan at the Naples public hearing

Professional Staff Comments:

- Deviation: The three districts in this plan all have a deviation within 0.2% of the ideal mean population for a house district.
- Counties: The boundary of Collier and Monroe County is used as a border for District 3.
- Municipalities: There are no split municipalities in the three districts drawn.
- Minority Access: District 3 located in Collier and Miami-Dade Counties has a 59.4% Hispanic voting age population, which is less than the 71.4% benchmark for the current district.
