Leaders of the Florida House and Senate Announce School Safety Proposal

Tallahassee—Leaders of the Florida Senate and Florida House of Representatives today announced a comprehensive package of legislation to improve the safety and security of Florida students and schools. Senate legislation will be heard in the Committee on Rules, chaired by Senator Lizbeth Benacquisto (R-Ft. Myers), on Monday, February 26, 2018.

“It has been one week since I visited Stoneman Douglas High School, but the scene of horror that we viewed was so troubling it feels like we were there earlier today. I cannot imagine how those who survived the attack must feel as they face the vivid memories of that day,” said Senate President Joe Negron (R-Stuart).

“Earlier this week I had the opportunity to celebrate the life of Peter Wang and to learn about his hopes and dreams to one day serve our country as a member of the United States Army. Those dreams, and the hopes and dreams of each person senselessly murdered last week will never be realized because of the criminal acts of one person,” continued President Negron. “Nothing we will do in the State Legislature will fill the void created in the families of the victims, their school, or their community, but we can honor their memory by taking the appropriate steps at the federal, state and local levels to help reduce the chance that a tragedy like this could ever happen again.”

A summary of the proposal announced today is attached. The following pieces of Senate legislation will be available via the Senate website later today.

- Senate Proposed Bill 7022 – Firearm Safety
- Senate Proposed Bill 7024 – Public Records
- Senate Proposed Bill 7026 – School Safety
