I. Summary:

This Committee Substitute for SB 1202 creates the “Motor Vehicle Insurance Affordability Reform Act” which implements the majority of the recommendations¹ contained in the Final Report of the Senate Select Committee on Automobile Insurance/PIP Reform issued on March 3, 2003, and other revisions² to the PIP (personal injury protection) automobile insurance laws. The committee substitute does the following:

Criminal Penalties for PIP Fraud

Creates new crimes for soliciting accident victims, intentionally causing motor vehicle accidents, disclosing confidential vehicle accident reports, presenting false or fraudulent motor vehicle insurance cards, and specified fraudulent actions by insurers and providers; increases penalties for soliciting accident victims and presenting false or fraudulent insurance applications; provides minimum mandatory penalties for intentionally causing motor vehicle accidents and soliciting accident victims during the 60-day period accident reports are confidential; increases the ranking of solicitation crimes and certain motor vehicle insurance fraud offenses under the Offense Ranking Chart law; and, provides funding for insurer Special Investigation Units, the Division of Insurance Fraud within the Department of Financial Services, and the Office of Statewide Prosecution for the prevention, investigation, and prosecution of motor vehicle insurance fraud by increasing specified agent fees.

² There are some PIP issues contained in this bill on which the members of the Select Committee did not reach agreement because there was not sufficient time for the members to thoroughly debate these issues in order to reach a general consensus. These matters pertain to utilizing voluntary insurance mediation, establishing guidelines for attorney’s fees, providing for application of contingency risk multipliers in specified circumstances, applying the offer of judgment provision to PIP issues, providing for specified fraudulent actions by insurers and providers, and other provisions.

Regulation of Health Care Clinics

Transfers health care clinic regulation from the Department of Health (DOH) to the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) to be funded by license application fees up to $2,000, every 2 years; strengthens clinic regulation by requiring clinics to be licensed rather than registered; authorizes AHCA to conduct clinic inspections and requires Level 2 background screenings under ch. 435, F.S.³ of clinic applicants who own or control, directly or indirectly, 5 percent or more of interest in the clinic, and other licensed medical employees; if an applicant has committed a Level 2 crime (including violations relating to insurance fraud) within the past 5 years, such individual or entity may not obtain a clinic license or work as a licensed medical provider, medical director, or clinical director; provides that civil rights must be restored prior to obtaining a license; requires clinics to have a fixed location (not be mobile); mandates clinics to allow AHCA complete access to premises and records; authorizes the agency to impose administrative fines or seek corrective action from clinic owners or directors under specified circumstances; requires MRI clinics to become accredited by specified national organizations within 1 year of licensure; and, provides penalties.

Authorizes AHCA to institute injunctive proceedings and agency actions under specified circumstances. It provides for new crimes and penalties associated with operating an unlicensed clinic and provides that providers, who are aware of the operation of an unlicensed clinic, but fail to report such clinic that the provider knows or has reasonable cause to suspect that such clinic is unlicensed, be reported to an appropriate licensing board.

Medical Fee Schedule, Utilization Guidelines, Independent Medical Examinations

Limits medical fees for treatments under PIP to 200 percent of the Medicare fee schedule and 225 percent of the Medicare fee schedule for accredited MRI facilities; fee schedules for certain diagnostic tests currently under workers' compensation would remain under that schedule; exempts hospitals; authorizes the Department of Health, in consultation with the appropriate medical boards, to establish a list of diagnostic tests that are not medically necessary, and therefore non compensable; clarifies that insurers and their insureds are not required to pay bills that do not meet a fee schedule or other provisions.

Authorizes the Department of Health, in consultation with the appropriate medical boards, to establish PIP utilization guidelines for neck and back injuries, while assuring appropriate patient care; creates a presumption of correctness for such guidelines; exempts hospitals; requires that insurers or providers may not improperly miscode (services); prohibits insurers or their employees from improperly requiring physicians to materially change IME reports, provided that this does not preclude the insurer from notifying the physician of errors of fact in the report based upon information in the claim file; provides penalties; mandates insurers to rotate, on a yearly basis, physicians who prepare IME reports and that physicians maintain, for at least 3 years, copies of all reports as medical records. Provides for a PIP financial incentive to consumers to report improper billing by providers; provides that if medical treatments are rendered out of state, then the reimbursement amount is set for the area where the insured resides; and provides that an insured and insurer may have a civil cause of action against any person to recover payments for services later determined to have not been lawfully rendered.

PIP Billing Provisions

Requires that the written notice of medical benefits, furnished to insurers by providers, must meet specified provisions before insurers are required to submit payment. These provisions include: that statements or bills are properly completed as to procedural code provisions; that the insured or guardian must countersign a disclosure and acknowledgment form, approved by the Financial Services Commission, attesting to the fact that charges were for services actually rendered; that the insured, or guardian, was not solicited by any person to seek medical services; that the provider has an affirmative duty to explain the services rendered so that the insured, or guardian, in countersigning the form, has informed consent; that the licensed medical provider sign, in his or her own hand, the disclosure and acknowledgment form, and that the original form be furnished to the insurer and may not be electronically furnished.

Increased PIP Benefits by Financial Services Commission

Provides that if the Financial Services Commission determines that cost savings under PIP have been realized due to the provisions in this act, prior reforms, or other factors, then the Commission may increase the minimum $10,000 benefit coverage requirement. However, in establishing the amount of the increase, the Commission must determine that the additional premium for such coverage is approximately equal to the premium cost savings that have been realized by the $10,000 PIP coverage.

Demand Letter and Mediation (Attorney's Fees)

Expands the current presuit demand letter provision to be applicable to all PIP disputes and increases the time for insurers to respond to the letter from 7 business days to 15 calendar days; provides that parties in a PIP dispute may use the current insurance mediation law (s. 627.745, F.S.) and the option to use mediation affects application of attorney's fees in the following manner:

- (a) If mediation is requested by the insurer, the insurer pays all mediation costs. Otherwise, the costs are paid equally by both parties (except as provided in (e), below).
- (b) Consumer affairs specialists, within the Department of Financial Services, shall be available to consult with persons not represented by an attorney.

- (c) If mediation is unsuccessful (the parties fail to reach an agreement), the neutral mediator selected by the Department of Financial Services or the Office of Insurance Regulation, would issue a written report recommending the amount, if any, payable by the insurer.
- (d) An insurer is liable for attorney's fees, if it declines to participate in mediation or declines to pay the mediator's recommended amount. In such cases, a contingency risk multiplier (ranging from 1.0 to 2.5, pursuant to case law) would apply to attorney's fees only if the court determines and states explicitly the particular legal or factual issue involved and provides appropriate reasons. However, a risk multiplier of 2.5 (highest level) would be applied if the court determines that the issue is of great public importance that the public interest requires determination of that issue. (Note: See (f) below which requires insurers to pay a limited attorney's fee under certain other circumstances.)
- (e) An insurer is not liable for attorney's fees (except as provided in (f), below), if the claimant declines to mediate, declines to settle the matter in accordance with the mediator's recommendation, or if the insurer pays the amount demanded or mediator's recommended amount, plus mediator's fees and interest.
- (f) An insurer is liable for reasonable attorney's fees of up to a $1,000, as determined by the mediator, if the mediator recommends an amount that is in excess of the amount that the insurer has paid.

This Committee Substitute for SB 1202 substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 119.105, 316.066, 456.0375, 456.072, 626.7451, 627.732, 627.736, 627.739, 627.745, 768.79, 817.234, 817.236, and 921.0022.

This Committee Substitute for SB 1202 creates the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 400.201, 400.203, 400.205, 400.207, 400.209, 400.211, 400.213, 400.215, 400.217, 400.219, 400.221, and 817.2361.

This Committee Substitute for SB 1202 repeals s. 456.0375, Florida Statutes, effective March 1, 2004.

II. Present Situation:

Current Automobile Insurance Requirements

The Legislature enacted Florida's "no-fault" insurance provisions in 1971.⁴ Under the Florida Motor Vehicle No-Fault law, every owner of a four-wheeled motor vehicle registered in Florida is required to maintain $10,000 of no-fault personal injury protection ("PIP") insurance⁵ and $10,000 in property damage ("PD") insurance.

Subject to co-payments and other restrictions, PIP insurance provides compensation for bodily injuries to the insured driver and passengers regardless of who is at fault in an accident. This coverage also provides the policyholder with immunity from liability for economic damages up to the policy limits and for non-economic damages (pain and suffering) for most injuries. However, the immunity does not extend to injuries consisting of: (1) significant and permanent loss of an important bodily function; (2) permanent injury within a reasonable degree of medical probability (other than scarring or disfigurement); (3) significant and permanent scarring or disfigurement; or (4) death. This is known as the “verbal threshold.” In summary, a plaintiff must suffer a permanent injury in order to seek pain and suffering damages against a motorist with PIP coverage.

Persons required to have PIP must also obtain property damage liability coverage. Property damage liability insurance must provide a minimum per-crash coverage of $10,000 for property damage, or $30,000 for combined property damage and bodily injury liability. Property damage to a vehicle is not covered under the no-fault law; that is, the person who negligently causes the property damage is liable, which is covered by PD liability.

Benefits Available

Personal injury protection covers the named insured, relatives residing in the same household, passengers, persons driving the vehicle with the insured’s permission, and persons struck by the motor vehicle while not an occupant of a self-propelled vehicle. With respect to injuries sustained in a motor vehicle accident, regardless of who is at fault, a vehicle owner’s PIP coverage will pay 80 percent of medical costs, 60 percent of lost income, and a $5,000 per-person death benefit, up to a limit of $10,000.

Financial Responsibility Law

The Florida “Financial Responsibility Law” (ch. 324, F.S.), requires drivers to demonstrate their ability to respond to damages for bodily injury caused in an accident. This law requires a minimum level of bodily injury (BI) liability insurance, or other allowable form of security, but only after a driver has been involved in an accident or convicted of certain serious traffic offenses. Such proof of BI coverage is not required as a condition of registering a vehicle, as required for PIP and PD, unless the Financial Responsibility law has been triggered by a prior accident or conviction. The minimum amounts of liability coverage required are $10,000 in the event of bodily injury to, or death of, one person, $20,000 in the event of injury to two or more persons, and $10,000 in the event of injury to property of others, or $30,000 combined single limit. If the owner or operator of the vehicle was not financially responsible at the time of the accident, his driver’s license is suspended as well as the registration of the owner of the vehicle. An individual can comply with the Financial Responsibility law in several ways: liability insurance, surety bond, deposit of cash or securities, or self-insurance.

2003 Senate Select Committee on Automobile Insurance/PIP Reform

On December 5, 2002, Senate President King created the Select Committee on Automobile Insurance/PIP Reform to address the problems with PIP insurance which range from fraud and abuse to the soaring costs that exist within this automobile insurance market. The Select Committee met five times during January, February, and March and heard testimony and received information from a wide variety of interests: insurance companies, trial lawyers, fraud investigators, medical consultants, agency regulators, and representatives from the hospital, chiropractic, medical, trial, and insurance associations.

The Select Committee members agreed that the reforms made in 1998 and 2001,⁶ did not go far enough in attacking the problems of fraud and abuse occurring within the PIP system. There was also a consensus among the members that the goals behind the Legislature's adoption of the PIP no-fault law in 1971 had been significantly compromised. After hearing the testimony, all the members of the Select Committee agreed that:

- Fraud continues to permeate the PIP insurance market and constitutes a serious problem in Florida.
- According to the Division of Insurance Fraud, fraud adds as much as $240 to the average Florida family's auto insurance premiums, annually.
- Over the past 5 years, the average Florida PIP claim rose 33 percent (from $4,287 to $5,687), and PIP and BI (bodily injury liability) loss costs (amount of premium needed per insured vehicle to pay claims) have escalated by 35 percent and 18 percent, respectively.
- As costs escalate, as many as 22 percent of Florida drivers choose not to carry PIP insurance, according to the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.
- Florida is the 4th highest in terms of both PIP and BI loss costs among the 13 states which have no-fault (PIP) laws.
- Florida's PIP coverage benefit of $10,000 has not kept up with inflation and is worth $3,730 in today's dollars based on the Consumer Price Index. Of the other no-fault states, six states provide higher PIP coverage benefits than Florida, two states offer the same coverage, and four states require less coverage benefits than Florida.

⁶ During both the 1998 and 2001 sessions (ch. 98-27; ch. 2001-271; and, ch. 2001-163, L.O.F.), the Legislature passed automobile insurance reform legislation which included the following:

- Requiring health care providers to submit statements and bills for medical services in a timely fashion on specified forms with procedural codes.
- Revising geographical requirements for independent medical examinations (IMEs) of claimants.
- Requiring health care clinics to register with the Department of Health and have a licensed physician as medical director.
- Adopting a medical fee schedule for specified procedures.
- Curtailing the activities of "brokers," who improperly received compensation from insurers or insureds for the use of medical equipment. The improper activities of brokers were defined and charges for services rendered by such persons were made noncompensable and unenforceable.
- Requiring, as a condition precedent to filing actions for non-payment of PIP claims, that insurers receive a 7 day notice of the intent to litigate via a "demand letter."
- Elevating the ranking of specific insurance fraud crimes under the Offense Severity Ranking Chart law and increasing penalties for other insurance related crimes.
- Limiting access to vehicle accident (crash) reports so that illegal solicitation activity could be curtailed; and,
- Creating a civil cause of action to allow insurers to sue a person who, in connection with a PIP claim, is found guilty of, or plead guilty or nolo contendere (regardless of adjudication of guilt) to, insurance fraud, patient brokering, or kickbacks.

- Medically inappropriate diagnostic testing, inflated charges, and over-utilization of treatments by certain medical providers greatly impact PIP and BI insurance costs.
- In certain cases, both insurers and providers are improperly and systematically changing codes which apply to the provision of medical services. Furthermore, in some instances, insurance companies improperly request physicians preparing independent medical examination (IMEs) reports to change or modify the report.
- According to representatives with the Department of Health, 2,404 health care clinics are currently registered with the Department, however, the agency lacks the statutory authority or the necessary resources to perform adequate background investigations of clinic owners or to investigate and inspect clinics.

As noted above, the great majority of the recommendations of the Select Committee are contained in this Committee Substitute for SB 1202. However, there were some PIP issues on which the members of the Select Committee did not reach agreement, or were not otherwise considered, because there was not sufficient time for the members to thoroughly debate these issues in order to reach a general consensus. These matters pertain to utilizing voluntary insurance mediation, establishing guidelines for attorney's fees, specifying application of contingency risk multipliers in certain instances, applying the offer of judgment provision to PIP issues, providing for specified fraudulent actions by insurers and providers, and other provisions.

Current PIP Provisions

Under present law, PIP insurance benefits paid pursuant to s. 627.736, F.S., are overdue if not paid within 30 days after the insurer is furnished written notice of the fact of the covered loss and the amount of such loss. If a written notice is not furnished to the insurer as to the entire claim, any partial amount supported by written notice is overdue if not paid within 30 days after such written notice is furnished to the insurer.

Health care providers may charge "only a reasonable amount for services and supplies rendered" and in no event may a charge be "in excess of the amount the person (provider) or institution customarily charges for like services or supplies in cases involving no insurance." Providers are not subject to a fee schedule for charges for services under the PIP law. However, there are several exceptions, in that certain diagnostic tests are currently subject to the workers' compensation fee schedule under s. 440.13, F.S. These tests include medically necessary cephalic thermograms, peripheral thermograms, spinal ultrasounds, extremity ultrasounds, video fluoroscopy, surface electromyography, and nerve conduction testing. Nerve conduction testing performed by certified providers may be billed at 200 percent of Medicare Part B. Charges for magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) services are limited to 175 percent of Medicare Part B, but may be billed at 200 percent of Medicare Part B, if offered at facilities accredited by specified organizations.

Other states have adopted some type of PIP medical fee schedule to address cost containment of medical services. For example, Pennsylvania limits PIP fees to 110 percent of Medicare reimbursement while in New Jersey, the Insurance Department bases fees on the type of service provided and such fees must incorporate the reasonable and prevailing fees of 75 percent of the practitioners within the region. If there are fewer than 50 specialists in the region, the fee schedule incorporates the reasonable and prevailing fees of the specialist providers on a statewide basis. Hawaii's fee schedule for medical services must not exceed 110 percent of the participating physician fees under Medicare. In Hawaii, the reimbursement to chiropractors is limited to an aggregated certain dollar amount per visit along with a cap on the number of visits. In Utah, the Insurance Department has to conduct a study every other year to determine the reasonable value of medical expenses. Under workers' compensation laws, the majority of states (41) have adopted some type of fee schedule to limit medical costs. The types of fees schedules include Medicare, Medicaid, and other type schedules.

Organizations that accredit MRI facilities may charge fees in the thousands of dollars and take many months to several years to review the facility before awarding accreditation. According to representatives with AHCA, a minimum amount charged by one such organization is approximately $8,500 per facility location, takes from six to eight months for the facility to be accredited, and it must be reaccredited every three years. To become accredited, facilities must comply with applicable health care standards for delivery of services and patient care, compliance with state and federal laws and regulations, be licensed in the state in which it is located, provide health care services under the direction of licensed providers, and allow inspection of the facility and its records by the accreditation organization.

Currently, there are no medical utilization guidelines for PIP services or treatments and there are no guidelines for medical tests which are deemed to be unnecessary and therefore noncompensable.

Under present law, insurers may negotiate and enter into contracts with licensed health care providers to offer their insureds preferred provider policies (PPOs) under s. 627.736(10), F.S. Such policies allow an insured to pay a lower premium if the insured uses a preferred health care provider (who has contracted with the insurer, or has contracted with the insurer through an intermediary) under a PPO plan when the insured is involved in a motor vehicle accident. As an alternative, several large insurers have provided to their insureds at the point of claim (after an accident), a list of health care providers with whom the insurer has contracted, either directly or indirectly, for reduced rates for their services. The insurers encourage insureds to use such providers by telling the insureds that a greater level of benefits may be obtained for the $10,000 PIP limits. However, some of these providers are litigating this issue with the PIP insurers. These providers allege that the PIP law controls their PPO contract with insurers and allows them to charge any reasonable rate for their services (and not the PPO rate). Representatives with one large insurer stated that the majority of county courts have sided with providers and not the insurers on this issue. However, representatives with this company state that they have a letter from the former General Counsel with the Department of Insurance who approved the insurer PPO arrangement in 1999.

The current demand letter provision requires that a written notice of intent to initiate litigation be provided to the insurer as a condition precedent to filing suit for an unpaid claim. The pre-suit notice cannot be sent until the claim is overdue and must state with specificity certain information to be included in the notice, including the name of the insured, claim number, the medical provider who rendered treatment along with an itemized statement listing the exact amount, dates of treatment, service and type of benefits claimed to be due. If the claim, along with applicable interest, is paid within 7 business days, the claimant would be prohibited from bringing an action against the insurer for nonpayment or late payment of a claim. The statute of limitations would be tolled for a period of 15 days by the mailing of the notice. Any insurer who engages in a general business practice of not paying valid claims until receipt of the notice, commits an unfair trade practice under the Insurance Code.

Attorney's Fees (Lodestar and Contingency risk multipliers)

Under present law, insurers are required to pay attorney's fees under s. 627.428, F.S., if they lose in court to insureds or to beneficiaries under an insurance policy or contract. However, if insurers prevail in court, their fees are not paid by the losing side. This section is known as the "one-way attorney's fee" provision. Currently, attorney's fees are calculated according to the application of two common law-created provisions: Lodestar and contingency risk multipliers.⁷ A contingency risk multiplier is a number ranging from 1.0 to 2.5 that may be applied by the court when it awards attorney's fees. It may be applied once the court initially determines the Lodestar figure (which is basically the number of hours expended by an attorney on a particular case, multiplied by an hourly rate). The contingency risk multiplier may be applied to the Lodestar figure by multiplying the risk multiplier number (ranging from 1.0 to 2.5) times the Lodestar figure to determine the attorney's ultimate fee.

The Lodestar factors utilized by a court in determining a reasonable attorney's fee are enunciated in the Florida Bar Code of Professional Responsibility under Rule 4-1.5. There are eight factors listed which include the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; the time and labor required, the novelty, complexity, and difficulty of the questions involved, and the legal skill requisite to perform the legal service in the case; the significance of, or amount involved in the subject matter of the representation; the fee customarily charged in the locality, etc.

After the Lodestar is calculated, the court considers three factors as to whether the risk multiplier is necessary: 1) whether the relevant market requires a contingency fee multiplier to obtain competent counsel; 2) whether the attorney was able to mitigate the risk of nonpayment in any way; and, 3) the amount involved in the case, the result obtained, and the type of fee arrangement between the attorney and the client. Other factors are utilized by the court which involve consideration of the chances of success at the outset of trial: 1) if success was more likely than not at the outset, the court may apply a multiplier of 1 to 1.5; 2) if success was approximately even at the outset of trial, the trial judge may apply a multiplier of 1.5 to 2.0; 3) if success was unlikely at the outset, a multiplier from 2.0 to 2.5 may be applied.

Other provisions of current law affected by this bill are summarized below under each appropriate section.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The Committee Substitute for SB 1202 addresses the rising cost of motor vehicle insurance as well as the problems of fraud and abuse which affect Florida's no-fault insurance system. It addresses the following issues: strengthens anti-fraud provisions and health care clinic regulation; establishes medical fee schedules, medical utilization guidelines for neck and back injuries, billing requirements, adopts procedures for filing presuit demand letters to insurers; sets mediation guidelines for legal disputes to encourage settlements and decrease litigation; and provides for other reforms so that cost-savings may be realized for all drivers in this state.

Section 1. Declares that the bill be entitled the “Florida Motor Vehicle Insurance Affordability Reform Act” and makes legislative findings. It declares that the principle underlying the basis of the no-fault or personal injury protection (PIP) insurance system is that of a trade-off of one benefit for another, which is providing medical and other benefits in return for a limitation on the right to sue for non-serious injuries. The PIP law has provided valuable benefits to consumers over the years in the form of medical payments, lost wages, replacement services, funeral payments, and other benefits, without regard to fault.

The bill makes Legislative findings that the goals behind the adoption of the original no-fault law, which were to quickly and efficiently compensate accident victims regardless of fault, reduce the volume of lawsuits by eliminating minor injuries from the tort system, and reduce overall motor vehicle insurance costs, have been significantly compromised due to fraud and abuse which have permeated the PIP insurance market. Further, the bill finds that the PIP insurance market has been compromised due to the increase in litigation, insofar as the system no longer effectively limits the use of the tort system to injuries that are significant and permanent.

Additionally, it is found that the no-fault system has been weakened in part due to certain insurers not adequately or timely compensating injured accident victims or health care providers. In addition, the system has become increasingly litigious with attorneys obtaining large fees by litigating, in certain instances, over relatively small amounts that are in dispute. These weaknesses need to be addressed and cost controls put in place, including the establishment of a medical fee schedule, medical utilization protocols, anti-fraud measures, procedures to strengthen the regulation of health care clinics, insurer and provider standards, and setting forth mediation guidelines for legal disputes.

The Legislature finds it is a matter of great public importance that, in order to provide a healthy and competitive automobile insurance market, consumers be able to obtain affordable coverage, insurers be entitled to earn an adequate rate of return, and providers of services be compensated fairly. Further, to protect the public’s health, safety, and welfare, it is necessary to enact the provisions of this bill to prevent PIP fraud and abuse, curb escalating medical, legal, and other related costs, and the Legislature finds that the provisions of this act are the least restrictive actions necessary to achieve this goal. Therefore, the purpose of this act is to restore the health of the PIP insurance market by addressing these issues, preserving the no-fault system and thus realize cost-savings for all citizens.

Section 2. Amends s. 119.105, F.S., to prohibit persons who legally obtain exempt or confidential PIP accident (police) reports, during the 60-day period such reports are confidential, from disclosing information in the report to a third party for purposes of commercially soliciting accident victims. Clarifies that this section does not prohibit publication of information to the general public by news media legally entitled to possess such reports. Under current law, use of police reports for commercial solicitation is a third-degree felony and therefore this new prohibition would also be a third-degree felony.

Section 3. Amends s. 316.066, F.S., to require persons who legally obtain exempt or confidential PIP accident (crash) reports, during the 60-day period such reports are confidential, to present a valid driver's license or other photographic identification and file a sworn statement stating the report will not be used for commercially soliciting victims or disclosed to third parties. It provides that this section does not prevent the publication of news to the general public by any legitimate media entitled to access the confidential reports. It further provides that a law enforcement officer, as defined in s. 943.10(1), F.S., may enforce this provision. The provision mandates that it is a third-degree felony for any person to knowingly use confidential information in violation of a filed written sworn statement.

Under current law, crash reports are confidential for 60 days after the date the report is filed and are available to specified persons, e.g., parties involved in the crash, their insurers and legal representatives, prosecutors and law enforcement, and the media. It is a third-degree felony for any employee of a state or local agency to disclose confidential reports and for persons, knowing that they are not entitled to such reports, to obtain the confidential report.

Section 4. Effective October 1, 2003, this provision creates part XIII of ch. 400, F.S., consisting of ss. 400.201-400.221, F.S., to be entitled the "Health Care Clinic Act." This part essentially transfers health care clinic regulation currently administered by the Department of Health (DOH) to the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) to be funded by license application fees up to $2,000, every 2 years. The agency is required to adjust the license fee annually by not more than the change in the Consumer Price Index based on the 12 months immediately preceding the increase. The bill provides legislative findings that the regulation of health care clinics must be strengthened to prevent significant cost and harm to consumers and that its purpose is to license, establish, and enforce basic standards for health care clinics with oversight by AHCA.

It requires clinics to be licensed rather than registered which is current law under s. 456.0375, F.S. (Note: this section stands repealed effective March 1, 2004, under Section 18, below.) It defines the term "clinic" to mean an entity at which health care services are provided to individuals and which tenders charges for reimbursement for such services. Each clinic must become licensed by AHCA, with the following exceptions:

- (a) Entities licensed or registered under chapters 390 (abortion), 394 (mental health), 395 (hospitals), 400 (nursing homes), 463 (optometry), 465 (pharmacy), 466 (dental), 478 (electrolysis), 480 (massage), or 484 (optical); entities that own, are owned, or are under common ownership, directly or indirectly, with such licensed or registered entities; or are exempt from federal taxation under the Tax Code; or
- (b) Is a sole proprietorship, group practice, partnership, or corporation that provides health care services by licensed health care practitioners under chs. 457 (acupuncture), 462 (naturopathy), 463, (optometry), 466 (dentists), 467 (midwifery), 484 (optical), 486 (physical therapy), 490 (psychological services), 491 (clinical counseling), F.S., or parts I, (audiology/speech-language pathology), III (occupational therapy), X (dietetics),

XIII (athletic trainers), or XIV (orthotics, prosthetics, and pedorthics) of ch. 468, F.S., which is wholly owned by a licensed health care practitioner, or a licensed practitioner and spouse, parent, or child of a licensed health care practitioner, so long as one of the owners who is a licensed practitioner is supervising the services performed therein and is legally responsible for the clinic's compliance with all federal and state laws. However, a health care practitioner may not supervise services beyond the scope of the practitioner's license.

The term "medical director" means a physician employed or under contract with a clinic who maintains an unencumbered physician license in accordance with chs. 458 (physicians), 459 (osteopathic physicians), 460 (chiropractors), or 461 (podiatric medicine), F.S. However, if the clinic is limited to providing services pursuant to chs. 457, 484, 486, 490, or 491, or part I, III, X, XIII, or part XIV of ch. 468, the clinic may appoint a practitioner to serve as a "clinic director" who is responsible for the clinic activities.

Each clinic must file a notarized license application with AHCA by March 1, 2004, have a fixed location (mobile clinics must provide health care services only at a single location), and allow inspections by AHCA as a prerequisite for licensure. Applicants that submit an application before March 1, that meet all the requirements for initial licensure shall receive a temporary license until the completion of the initial inspection verifying that it meets all the requirements.

The agency may do unannounced inspections and the clinic must allow access to the premises and clinic records. An applicant must file a list of services that the clinic will provide, either directly by the applicant or through contractual arrangements with existing providers, along with the number and discipline of each professional employee, and proof of financial ability to operate.

Background investigations and screenings are authorized for "applicants" who are defined as individuals who own or control, directly or indirectly, 5 percent or more of an interest in the clinic, medical or clinical directors, the financial officer, and clinic licensed medical providers. Such applicants must meet Level 2 screening criteria under ch. 435, and have had no prior violation of Level 2 crimes (including insurance fraud) within the past 5 years.⁸ If an applicant has had a Level 2 violation,⁹ (including insurance fraud) within the past 5 years, then a license may not be granted to the clinic. If applicants have had their civil rights removed due to Level 2 violations and 5 years have lapsed, then such applicant must show that his or her civil rights have been restored in order for a license to be issued. Requested information omitted from an application must be filed with AHCA within 21 days of receipt of the agency's request.

Licenses are renewed every 2 years and may not be sold, assigned, or otherwise transferred. The agency is authorized to promulgate rules and establish fees that must be calculated to only cover the agency's costs in licensing and regulating clinics. Such fees are to be deposited in the Health Care Trust Fund. It is a third-degree felony to own, operate, or maintain an unlicensed clinic and persons found guilty of violating this provision a second or subsequent time commit a second-degree felony. Health care providers who are aware of the operation of an unlicensed clinic must report that facility to AHCA and failure to do so when the provider knows or has reasonable cause to suspect the clinic is unlicensed shall be reported to the provider's licensing board. It is also a third-degree felony for any person who knowingly files a false or misleading clinic license application or who files false or misleading information pertaining to the license.

⁹ This means if the applicant has been found guilty of, regardless of adjudication, or has entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to, any offense prohibited under the Level 2 provisions including insurance fraud.

Responsibilities for clinic operation are outlined to include the appointment of a medical or clinic director who must agree in writing to accept legal responsibility for specified activities including ensuring that practitioners maintain an active license which is appropriate for the level of care provided, ensure proper record keeping, and conduct reviews of clinic billings.¹⁰ It further provides that all charges or claims made by a clinic that is required to be licensed, but that is not so licensed, are unlawful charges, and therefore not compensable, which is current law under s. 456.0375(4)(a), F.S. The agency may fine, suspend or revoke a clinic license that operates in violation of these provisions. Additionally, each clinic engaged in magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) services must be accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, the American College of Radiology, or the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care, within 1 year after licensure.

The agency may institute injunctive proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction to enforce the provisions of this act when the attempt by the agency to correct a violation through administrative fines has failed. Further, administrative actions challenging agency actions shall be reviewed on the basis of the facts and conditions that resulted in the agency action.

The agency is authorized to impose administrative penalties against clinics of up to $5,000 per violation for violations of requirements of this part. In determining if a penalty is to be imposed, AHCA may consider factors like the gravity of the violation; actions taken by the owner, medical or clinic director to correct violations; any previous violations; and, the financial benefit to the clinic of committing or continuing the violation. Each day of continuing violation constitutes an additional, separate, and distinct offense. Actions taken to correct violations must be documented in writing.

The bill provides that any unlicensed clinic that continues to operate after agency notification is subject to a $1,000 fine per day and any licensed clinic whose owner or director concurrently operates an unlicensed clinic is subject to a fine of $5,000 per day. The agency, as an alternative to administrative actions, must make a reasonable attempt to discuss each violation and recommended corrective action with the owner or director, prior to written notification. The agency may further, instead of fixing a period for the clinic to enter into compliance with standards, may request a plan of corrective action from the clinic which demonstrates a good-faith effort to remedy each violation. All fines are paid by any clinic into the Health Care Trust Fund.

Section 5. Amends s. 456.0375, F.S., relating to clinic registration, to clarify that the term "clinic" does not mean entities that own, are owned, or are under common ownership, directly or indirectly, with entities licensed or registered under chapters 390 (abortion), 394 (mental health), ¹⁰ Many of the enumerated responsibilities are provided in current law under s. 456.0375(3) and (4), F.S.

395 (hospitals), 400 (nursing homes), 463 (optometry), 465 (pharmacy), 466 (dental), 478 (electrolysis), 480 (massage), or 484 (optical).

Section 6. Amends s. 456.072, F.S., providing as grounds for health care professional disciplinary actions, to expand such actions to include, with respect to making a PIP claim, providers who intentionally submit a claim using a billing code that is greater than the amount that would be paid (“upcoding”) and intentionally submitting a claim for payment of services that were not rendered.

Section 7. Amends s. 626.7451, F.S., to increase the fee that managing general agents (MGA) may charge by $15.00 (from $25 to $40). It provides that a MGA that collects a per-policy fee on behalf of an insurer must remit a minimum of $5 per policy to the insurer for the funding of a Special Investigations Unit dedicated to the prevention of motor vehicle insurance fraud, $5 per policy to fund the Division of Insurance Fraud within the Department of Financial Services, dedicated to the prevention and detection of motor vehicle insurance fraud, and $5 per policy to the Office of Statewide Prosecution, dedicated to the prosecution of motor vehicle insurance fraud.

Any insurer that writes directly without a MGA and which charges a per-policy fee shall charge an additional $5 per policy to fund its Special Investigations Unit dedicated to the prevention of motor vehicle insurance fraud, $5 per policy to fund the Division of Insurance Fraud within the Department of Financial Services, dedicated to the prevention and detection of motor vehicle insurance fraud, and $5 per policy to the Office of Statewide Prosecution, dedicated to the prosecution of motor vehicle insurance fraud.

Section 8. Amends s. 627.732, F.S., to provide for changes to the provisions relating to “brokers” and to provide for definitions under the PIP insurance system. It amends the “broker” definition under the no-fault law which currently provides that PIP benefits are not payable to a broker of MRI services, to revise one of the exceptions for temporary leasing of equipment due to repair or maintenance. The bill extends the allowable 30-day lease period by an additional 60 days, where the owner certifies that the 60-day extension complies with current law. Current law allows the lease of such equipment not to exceed 30 days in a 12-month period.

Definitions are added to include the following:

- “certify” means to swear or attest to being true or represented in writing.
- “countersigned” means a second or verifying signature, as on a previously signed document, and is not satisfied by the language “signature on file” or any similar statement.
- “immediate personal supervision,” as it relates to the performance of medical services by non-physicians not in a hospital, means that an individual licensed to perform the medical service or provide the medical supplies must be present within the confines of the physical structure where the medical services were performed or where the medical supplies were provided such that the licensed individual can physically see the activities of all employees and respond immediately to any emergencies, if needed.
- “incident,” with respect to services considered as incident to physician’s licensed under ch. 458 (physician), 459 (osteopathic), 460 (chiropractic), or 461 (podiatric), if not furnished in a hospital, means such services must be rendered under the physician’s

- immediate personal supervision by his or her employee; must be an integral, even if incidental, part of a covered physician's service; must be a service commonly furnished in physician's office; and must be medically necessary.
- “knowingly” means that a person, with respect to information, has actual knowledge of the information; acts in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information; or acts in reckless disregard of the information; and proof of specific intent to defraud is not required.
 - “lawful” or “lawfully” means in compliance with all applicable criminal, civil, and administrative requirements of Florida and federal law related to the provision of medical services or treatment.
 - “hospital” is a facility licensed under ch. 395, F.S.
 - “properly completed” means providing truthful, complete and accurate responses to each applicable request for information or statement.
 - “render” means to have properly licensed personnel actually physically perform the medical service or physically transfer the supplies to the insured incident to the provider’s professional services. The term does not include scheduling medical services or ordering medical supplies for the insured.
 - “upcoding” means an action that submits a billing code that would result in payment greater in amount than would be paid using a billing code that accurately describes the services performed.
 - “unbundling” means an action that submits a billing code that is properly billed under one billing code, but which has been separated into two or more billing codes, that would result in payment greater in amount than would be paid using one billing code.
 - Otherwise lawful billing of MRI services in accordance with the limitations specified in this section which combine all components of service into a “global bill” is not prohibited when provided and billed by a MRI facility which has performed the technical component and has also provided the professional component, through either an employee or an independent contractor, of the services being billed, so long as the person ordering the services has no financial interest in the facility providing the services and receives no consideration from anyone other than the patient and the insurer.

Section 9. Amends s. 627.736, F.S., by revising provisions governing the payment of personal injury protection benefits, charges for treatment, discovery, mental and physical examinations of injured persons, attorney’s fees, preferred provider policies, civil actions for insurance fraud, and provisions relating to the Financial Services Commission.

The Committee Substitute requires providers, when furnishing written notice to insurers of a covered loss and the amount thereof, to meet specific requirements which include properly completed billing statements, and, for billings rendered by non-institutional providers, compliance with applicable procedure codes. It specifically mandates that statements and bills for medical services be submitted on properly completed Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) 1500 forms; that all billings shall follow the Healthcare Correct Procedural coding System (HCPCS) or ICD-9 and comply with other codes. In determining compliance with applicable codes, guidance shall be provided by the Physicians’ Current Procedural Terminology (CPT) or the HCPCS coding system in effect, the Office of the Inspector General, Physicians Compliance Guidelines and other authoritative treatises designated, by rule by AHCA.

It further requires that all non-institutional providers include on the applicable claim form the professional license number of the provider on the line or space provided for "Signature of Physician or Supplier Including Degrees or Credentials." Currently, the universal claim form utilized by medical providers (except hospitals) is the HCFA 1500 form, but it does not require a license number. However, Medicare does require a provider to include his/her license number on the form under the "Signature of Physician..." line, which is entry #31.

Further, physicians, clinics, or other medical institutions, other than hospitals, must furnish to the insurer an original completed disclosure and acknowledgment form which is countersigned by the insured, or guardian, upon receiving PIP medical benefits. The form, which is adopted by rule by the Financial Services Commission, requires the following:

- the insured, or guardian, has the right and duty to confirm that charges are for services actually rendered.
- the insured, or guardian, was not solicited by any person to seek medical services.
- the provider has an affirmative duty to explain the services rendered so that the insured, or guardian, in countersigning the form, has informed consent.
- the licensed medical provider must sign, by his or her own hand, the disclosure and acknowledgment form, and
- such form may not be electronically furnished to the insurer.

Insurers or insureds are not required to pay claims or charges for treatments by providers, except for hospitals, which were unlawful, were knowingly submitted as false or misleading statements, were submitted on bills or statements that did not meet the requirements of being properly coded or submitted on requisite forms, for treatments which were upcoded or unbundled, and for MRI services that are provided by an entity within a moveable or non-moveable trailer coach, vehicle, or a trailer, unless such services are provided during the 30 or 90-day period provided in s. 627.732(1)(c), F.S. (that provision pertains to the allowable 30 or 90-day lease period referred to under section 8., above.)

The bill provides that insurers may change codes it determines to have been improperly or incorrectly coded, without affecting the right of the provider to dispute the change by the insurer, provided that, before changing a code, the insurer must contact the health care provider and discuss the reasons for the insurer's change, or make a reasonable good-faith effort to do so, before the insurer may change the provider's medical codes.

It provides that PIP benefits are not due or payable to an insured who commits insurance fraud if the fraud is admitted to in a sworn statement by the insured or if it is established in court. Such fraud shall void all coverage arising from the claim, irrespective of whether a portion of the claim may be legitimate. Any benefits paid prior to the discovery of the fraud are recoverable by the insurer from the person who committed insurance fraud in their entirety and the insurer is entitled to costs and attorney's fees in any action in which it prevails.

The bill clarifies the date, June 19, 2001, for PIP benefits for MRI services to take effect under the Medicare Part B fee schedule under ch. 2001-271, Laws of Florida. This provision clarifies the specific date such services were to be compensated which was the date the Governor approved the bill and it became law. The bill further provides that such charges are not payable by the insurer or insured if there is no reimbursement established under such schedules. Clarifies that if medical treatments are rendered out of state, then the reimbursement amount is set for the area where the insured resides.

It authorizes the Department of Health (DOH), in consultation with the appropriate professional licensing boards, to establish by rule a list of diagnostic tests that are specifically deemed to be not medically necessary, and therefore not compensable, by January 1, 2004. The DOH, in conjunction with the appropriate boards, must establish by March 1, 2004, PIP utilization guidelines for neck and back injuries, while assuring appropriate patient care for medical treatment. It creates a presumption of correctness for the guidelines in cases to which they apply, and exempts hospitals from these provisions.

The bill limits medical fees for all treatments under PIP, effective October 1, 2003, to 200 percent of the Medicare fee schedule and to 225 percent for accredited magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) facilities which includes accreditation by the American College of Radiology, the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care, or the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations. The bill clarifies that insurers and their insured are not required to pay any statement or bill that does not meet such fee schedule, is fraudulent or not medically necessary, or does not meet the material requirements applicable to properly completed billing statements. It provides that procedures currently under the workers' compensation fee schedule remain under that schedule. It further removes the PIP arbitration provision which was declared invalid by the Florida Supreme Court in Nationwide Mutual v. Pinnacle Medical, Inc., 753 So.2d 55 (Fla. 2000).

The bill provides for an anti-fraud financial incentive to consumers that if, based on a written report by a person, the insurer finds improper billing by a medical provider, that the insurer would pay the person 20 percent of the amount of the reduction up to $500, or pay 40 percent, if the provider is arrested due to improper billing. Furthermore, it requires that an insurer may not systematically down code with the intent to deny reimbursement otherwise due and that such violation constitutes a material misrepresentation under the unfair or deceptive practices provisions of the Insurance Code.

It prohibits insurers or their employees from improperly requiring physicians to materially change an opinion in an independent medical examination (IME) report, however, this does not preclude the insurer from notifying the physician of errors of fact in the report based upon information in the claim file; and provides that the denial of a payment as a result of such a changed option constitutes a material misrepresentation under the unfair and deceptive practices provisions. It mandates that insurers rotate, on a yearly basis, physicians who prepare IME reports and that physicians maintain, for at least 3 years, copies of all reports as medical records.

The provision clarifies that this section does not prohibit an insurer that chooses not to offer a preferred provider policy from providing certain benefits pursuant to a contract entered into directly or indirectly, with a licensed provider or hospital that establishes agreed amounts to be charged for services rendered to persons entitled to such benefits.

The bill deletes the demand letter provisions which are reenacted and modified under Section 11, below.

The bill authorizes that insurers and insureds have a cause of action against any person to recover payments for services later determined to have been unlawfully rendered.

The bill provides that if the Financial Services Commission determines that cost savings under PIP have been realized due to the provisions in this act, prior reforms, or other factors, the Commission, by rule, may increase the minimum $10,000 benefit coverage requirement. However, in establishing the amount of the increase, the Commission must determine that the additional premium for such coverage is approximately equal to the premium cost savings that have been realized for the PIP coverage with limits of $10,000.

This section of the bill deletes the demand letter provisions, which are transferred and amended in Section 11, below.

Section 10. Amends s. 627.739, F.S., relating to PIP deductibles, to change the calculation of the PIP deductible to require that it must be applied to 100 percent of medical expenses, rather than to the current 80 percent of expenses that PIP pays. This provision has the effect of requiring PIP to pay more in benefits than it does now if a deductible is elected. For example, under current law: $5,000 medical bill, PIP pays 80 percent, or $4,000, minus $2,000 deductible = $2,000. Under this provision: $5,000 medical bill, minus $2,000 deductible, is $3,000. PIP pays 80 percent X $3,000 = $2,400.

This provision also changes the calculation of the PIP deductible so that the full $10,000 in PIP benefits can be obtained. This has the effect of requiring PIP to pay more than it does currently if a deductible is elected. Presently, a $2,000 PIP deductible operates to lower the maximum PIP benefits to $8,000 because the law provides that the deductible is deducted from the “benefits otherwise due.” Under these provisions, the PIP deductible would be applied in a similar way as to how a deductible is applied in a health insurance policy, to be the out-of-pocket expense that must be incurred before the policy benefits are paid.

Under current law, an insured may select a deductible to apply to the named insured and dependent relatives residing in the same household, but may not elect a deductible to apply to any other person covered under the policy. Deductibles range in amounts of $250, $500, $1,000 and $2,000 and are deducted from PIP medical benefits, otherwise due, but not from death benefits. Insureds selecting a deductible have an appropriate reduction of premium associated with the deductible selected.

Section 11. Amends s. 627.745, F.S., to provide for the pursuit demand letter and mediation. It expands the current pursuit demand letter provision (previously under s. 627.736, F.S.) to be applicable to all PIP disputes and increases the time for insurers to respond to the letter from 7 business days to 15 calendar days.

The Committee Substitute provides that all parties in a PIP dispute may use the current mediation law, that the choice to utilize it is optional, and that either party may decline to participate. However, mediation affects the payment of mediation costs and the application of attorney's fees, otherwise required under the provisions of the Insurance Code or for damages under s. 624.155, F.S.,¹¹ in the following manner:

- (a) If mediation is requested by the insurer, the insurer pays all mediation costs. Otherwise, the costs are paid equally by both parties (except as provided in (e), below).
- (b) Consumer affairs specialists, within the Department of Financial Services, shall be available to consult with persons not represented by an attorney.
- (c) If mediation is unsuccessful (the parties fail to reach an agreement), the neutral mediator selected by the Department of Financial Services or the Office of Insurance Regulation, would issue a written report recommending the amount, if any, payable by the insurer.
- (d) An insurer is liable for attorney's fees, if it declines to participate in mediation or declines to pay the mediator's recommended amount. In such cases, a contingency risk multiplier (ranging from 1.0 to 2.5, pursuant to case law) would apply to attorney's fees only if the court determines and states explicitly the particular legal or factual issue involved and provides appropriate reasons. However, a risk multiplier of 2.5 (highest level) would be applied if the court determines that the issue is of great public importance that the public interest requires determination of that issue. (Note: See (f) below which requires insurers to pay a limited attorney's fee under certain circumstances.)
- (e) An insurer is not liable for attorney's fees (except as provided in (f), below), if the claimant declines to mediate, declines to settle the matter in accordance with the mediator's recommendation, or if the insurer pays the amount demanded or mediator's recommended amount, plus mediator's fees and interest.
- (f) An insurer is liable for reasonable attorney's fees of up to a $1,000, as determined by the mediator, if the mediator recommends an amount that is in excess of the amount that the insurer has paid.

The bill further provides that a party to the mediation is not required to attend the mediation, provided that any representative of the party participating in the mediation must have the authority to make binding decisions.

Section 12. Amends s. 768.79, F.S., relating to offer of judgment and demand for judgment, to apply this provision to all PIP claims. Currently, the offer of judgment provision applies to all other civil actions for damages. In 2000, the Third District Court of Appeal held in U.S. Security Insurance Co. v. Cahuasqui, 760 So.2d 1101 (Third DCS 2000), that the offer of judgment section does apply to PIP cases (but circuit courts in other districts have differed). The Third District holding currently applies throughout the State (until another District Court or the Florida Supreme Court holds otherwise). The offer of judgment provision is a tool that both parties can use, which helps encourage reasonable settlement offers and demands for judgment.

Section 13. Amends s. 817.234, F.S., relating to false and fraudulent insurance claims, to provide that it shall constitute a material omission and insurance fraud for any physician or other provider, other than a hospital, to engage in a general business practice of billing amounts as its usual and customary charge, if such provider has agreed with the patient or intends to waive a deductible or co-payment, or does not for any other reason intend to collect the total amount of such charge.

It provides that it is a third-degree felony for insurers to change an opinion in a independent medical examination (IME) report or direct the physician preparing the report to change his or her opinion, provided that this provision does not preclude the insurer from calling to the attention of the physician errors of fact in the report based upon the information in the claim file.

It prohibits solicitation, with intent to defraud, of a PIP accident victim during the 60-day period crash reports are confidential, and increases the penalty from a third to a second-degree felony. Provides for a 2-year minimum mandatory sentence. It prohibits solicitation of a PIP accident victim, by any means of communication (other than advertising), during 60-day period the crash (accident) report is confidential and provides that it is a third-degree felony. It prohibits the solicitation of PIP accident victims after 60 days (after report becomes public) by specified professionals, e.g., lawyers, health care providers defined under s. 456.001 (which includes all individual health care professions and occupations licensed in Florida), clinic owners or medical directors, at the victims residence or by phone. Provides that it is a third-degree felony.

Provides that charges for services rendered by a person who violates solicitation provisions are not compensable by the insurer or insured. Provides that it is a second-degree felony to organize, plan, or participate in an intentional motor vehicle collision and requires a 2-year minimum mandatory sentence.

Section 14. Amends s. 817.236, F.S., to provide for increasing the penalty, from a first-degree misdemeanor to a third-degree felony, for presenting a false or fraudulent motor vehicle application.

Section 15. Creates s. 817.2361, F.S., to provide that it is a third-degree felony to present a false or fraudulent motor vehicle insurance card.

Section 16. Amends s. 922.0022, F.S., the Offense Severity Ranking Chart law to increase the ranking of the following crimes: soliciting an accident victim with intent to defraud; unlawfully obtaining or using a confidential crash report; filing a false motor vehicle insurance application; operating an unlicensed clinic or filing false clinic license information; and, organizing, planning, or participating in an intentional motor vehicle collision.

Section 17. Amends s. 456.0375, F.S., relating to the regulation of health care clinics, to state that the provision under Section 5 of this act is intended to clarify the legislative intent of that paragraph as it existed at the time the paragraph initially took effect and shall operate retroactively to October 1, 2001.

Section 18. Repeals s. 456.0375, F.S., effective March 1, 2004. This section currently provides for the registration and regulation of health care clinics under the Department of Health (DOH). It is being repealed because under Section 4 of this bill, clinic regulation and licensure is placed within the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA). Up until March 1, 2004, DOH will continue to register clinics, but that responsibility will be taken over by AHCA at that time.

Section 19. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this act, this act shall take effect July 1, 2003.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. Other Constitutional Issues:

The Committee Substitute for SB 1202 does not reduce PIP benefits, but puts limitations on receiving PIP benefits, such as medical fee schedules, and limits on recovery of attorney fees. Such limitations may raise the constitutional issue of whether the No-Fault Law continues to provide a reasonable alternative remedy for redress of injury, in exchange for limiting the right to sue in tort for pain and suffering and other non-economic damages, based on the constitutional right of access to courts for redress of injury under s. 21 of Article I of the Florida Constitution. The Legislature can abolish a judicial remedy provided a reasonable alternative remedy, commensurate benefit or overpowering public necessity for the abolishment is shown and there is no alternative method for meeting that public necessity. See Kluger v. White, 281 So.2d 1 (Fla. 1973); Psychiatric Assoc. v. Siegel, 610 So.2d 419 (1992).

V. Economic Impact and Fiscal Note:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

The bill requires a $2,000 biennial licensure fee for health care clinics under Section 4 of this Committee Substitute. (Please see discussion under Private and Government Sector Impact, below.)

The bill also increases the per-policy fee that many managing general agents (MGA) may charge from $25 to $40 per policy. Specifically, it would require MGAs to remit a minimum of $5.00 to fund each of the following entities: insurers' Special Investigation Units, the Fraud Division within the Department of Financial Services, and the Office of Statewide Prosecution. Insurance companies that write directly, without a managing general agent, and that charge a per-policy fee, would also have to charge an additional $5.00 per policy fee (total amount $15.00) to fund each of those entities. Committee staff has been unable to obtain from the Office of Insurance Regulation how much revenue would be generated from this provision. (See discussion below under Private and Government Sector Impact.)

B. Private Sector Impact:

Any reduction in insurance fraud, litigation expenses, and medical costs resulting from this legislation should reduce insurer loss experience and result in premium savings for PIP policyholders. This may also result in increasing the $10,000 PIP limits due to the provision that the Financial Services Commission may determine whether cost savings under these PIP reforms have been realized, and if cost savings have been achieved, the Commission may increase the minimum $10,000 benefit coverage requirement. In establishing the amount of the increase, the Commission must initially determine that the additional premium for such coverage is approximately equal to the premium cost savings that have been realized by the $10,000 PIP coverage.

Applicants for health care clinics licenses will incur costs associated with licensing, inspections, background screenings, and other regulations imposed by this amendment. However, stricter regulation of such clinics by AHCA will benefit insureds and insurers and could reduce overall fraud costs.

Clinics offering magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) services must be accredited under the provisions of this bill and will have to pay thousands of dollars before they can achieve accreditation. According to representatives with AHCA, a minimum amount charged by one accreditation organization is approximately $8,500 per facility location, it takes from six to eight months for the facility to be accredited, and it must be reaccredited every three years.

Medical providers would be subject to fee schedules and utilization guidelines that may reduce current charges for services and treatment covered by PIP, but which may result in prompter payment from insurers. Such fee schedules and guidelines could also lower litigation costs by reducing the number of disputes currently occurring between providers (or insureds) and insurers over the proper amount of reimbursements.

Litigation costs could be reduced by having parties to PIP disputes settle these issues via mediation, rather than by filing law suits in court, and reducing the likelihood and amount of attorney's fees required to be paid by insurers. Limiting attorney's fees would likely serve to reduce the incentive of providers to litigate PIP disputes and, thereby, lower PIP costs and premiums. Under this bill, insurers who request mediation will have to pay all mediation costs, otherwise such costs are paid equally by both parties. Insurers would also have to pay attorney's fees up to $1,000, if the mediator's recommended amount is more than the amount the insurer has paid.

There will be a need for more mediators to mediate PIP disputes under this bill which cannot be estimated.

The Committee Substitute would benefit insurer' Special Investigative Units by providing those Units with greater resources ($5 per policy for each entity from MGA or insurers which charge per-policy fees) to prevent and investigate motor vehicle insurance fraud. Committee staff has been unable to determine the amount of revenues that would be generated by the collection of per-policy fees. According to representatives with the Office of Insurance Regulation, with the exception of one company, the larger insurers do not use managing general agents and do not charge per-policy fees. However, smaller insurers, particularly non-standard (high risk) insurers, typically utilize MGAs who charge per-policy fees and thus would be required to fund the Units under the provisions of this bill.

C. Government Sector Impact:

This Committee Substitute for SB 1202 would require the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) to license, inspect, and enforce the overall regulation of certain health care clinics. Clinic registration is currently carried out by the Department of Health (DOH) and the bill would transfer this responsibility to AHCA as well as provide that agency with greater regulatory responsibilities than are currently vested in DOH. The Agency for Health Care Administration will establish clinic licensure fees by rule and such fees must reasonably cover the costs of all regulatory activities, not to exceed $2,000. The bill does provide that the agency shall adjust its fees annually by the change in the Consumer Price Index. Also, clinics are required to renew their registration biennially.

Fiscal Analysis from the Agency for Health Care Administration

On March 21, 2003, committee staff obtained a fiscal analysis from AHCA concerning clinic regulation. The analysis from AHCA contemplates the licensure (and inspection) of 3,000 health care clinics over a 2 year period (1,500 clinics would be licensed in the first year and 1,500 the following year). However, AHCA projects a licensure fee of $2,255 per clinic instead of a fee of $2,000, as provided in the bill.

Summary: Total expenditures estimated by AHCA to license 1,500 clinics for year one would be $2,416,655 with 50 FTEs with continuing costs of $3,381,477 for year two and thereafter. (See table below.) Total revenues from license fees ($2,000) for licensing 1,500 clinics would be $3,000,000 for the first year and thereafter.

Total Revenues and Expenditures	FTEs	FY 2003-04	FY 2004-05
Total Revenues:		$3,000,000	$3,000,000
Total Expenditures:	50.0	$2,416,655	$3,381,477
Difference (Total Revenues minus Total Expenditures)		$583,345	($381,477)

The Committee Substitute would benefit the Division of Insurance Fraud within the Department of Financial Services, and the Office of Statewide Prosecution by providing those entities with greater resources ($5 per policy for each entity from MGA or insurers which charge per-policy fees) to investigate and prosecute motor vehicle insurance fraud. However, as noted above, committee staff has not been able to determine the amount of revenues that would be generated by the collection of per-policy fees. According to representatives with the Office of Insurance Regulation, with the exception of one company, the larger insurers do not use managing general agents and do not charge per-policy fees. However, smaller insurers, particularly non-standard (high risk) insurers, typically utilize MGAs who charge per-policy fees and thus would be required to fund the entities under the provisions of this bill.

The creation of new PIP insurance fraud crimes and added penalties provided for in the Committee Substitute for SB 1202 may increase jail and prison costs associated with incarcerating those individuals caught committing those crimes.

There is expected to be an additional work-load on the Department to administer the mediation program, adopt appropriate rules, provide consumer affairs specialists to consult parties not represented by an attorney, and approve mediator qualifications established under this bill.
