

The Florida Senate
HOUSE MESSAGE SUMMARY

Prepared By: The Professional Staff of the Reapportionment Committee

[2012s1176.hms.docx]

BILL: CS/SJR 1176

INTRODUCER: Reapportionment Committee

SUBJECT: Apportionment

DATE: February 6, 2012

I. Amendments Contained in Message:

House Amendment 1 – 601757

II. Summary of Amendments Contained in Message:

Consistent with state and federal law, House Amendment 1 apportions the state into 120 single-member state representative districts.

House Amendment 1 inserts legal definitions of the 120 state representative districts in section 2. It also amends the title to include narrative descriptions of the 120 districts and to express for all the newly drawn senatorial and representative districts, “it is the intent of the Legislature, where not in conflict with federal law or subsection (a) of section 21 of Article III of the State Constitution, to establish districts that are compact and, where feasible, utilize existing political and geographical boundaries.”

The state representative districts in House Amendment 1 have an overall range of 4.0 percent. The state representative district with the largest population has 159,978 persons (3,300 more than the ideal), and the state representative district with the smallest population has 153,745 persons (2,933 less than the ideal).

The attached maps and statistical analysis provide details for state representative districts in House Amendment 1 and the current (benchmark) plan. The attachments are similar to those in the bill analysis for state senate districts in CS/SJR 1176 (as passed by the Senate) and the current (benchmark) plan.
