COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Technical Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 488 provides that for purposes of the property tax exemption for long-term, low-income seniors who have a homestead with a just value less than $250,000, the $250,000 limitation is measured at the time of the owner's initial application for exemption.

The bill is effective on the same date SJR 492 or a similar joint resolution takes effect. If SJR 492 is approved by voters at the November 2016 general election, CS/SB 488 will become effective on January 3, 2017.

The Revenue Estimating Conference has analyzed similar legislation (HJR 277 (2016)) and determined that it has an indeterminate impact because it is contingent on a joint resolution (HJR 275 (2016)), which requires voter approval. If the joint resolution is approved by the voters and the bill is fully implemented only within the jurisdictions that currently provide the exemption, the bill will reduce local property taxes by $700,000 in Fiscal Year 2018-2019. If all counties and municipalities choose to grant the exemption, the legislation will reduce local property taxes by $2.4 million in Fiscal Year 2018-2019, with a recurring impact of $4.2 million.

II. Present Situation:

General Overview of Property Taxation

The ad valorem tax or "property tax" is an annual tax levied by counties, municipalities, school districts, and some special districts. The tax is based on the taxable value of property as of January 1 of each year.<sup>1</sup> The property appraiser annually determines the “just value”<sup>2</sup> of property within the taxing authority and then applies relevant exclusions, assessment limitations, and exemptions to determine the property’s “taxable value.”<sup>3</sup> Tax bills are mailed in November of each year based on the previous January 1 valuation and payment is due by March 31.

The Florida Constitution prohibits the state from levying ad valorem taxes,<sup>4</sup> and limits the Legislature’s authority to provide for property valuations at less than just value, unless expressly authorized.<sup>5</sup>

The just valuation standard generally requires the property appraiser to consider the highest and best use of property;<sup>6</sup> however, the Florida Constitution authorizes certain types of property to be valued based on their current use (classified use assessments), which often result in lower assessments. Properties that receive classified use treatment in Florida include: agricultural land, land producing high water recharge to Florida’s aquifers, and land used exclusively for noncommercial recreational purposes;<sup>7</sup> land used for conservation purposes;<sup>8</sup> historic properties when authorized by the county or municipality;<sup>9</sup> and certain working waterfront property.<sup>10</sup>

Property Tax Exemptions for Homesteads

Statewide Homestead Exemption

Every person having legal and equitable title to real estate and who maintains a permanent residence on the real estate (homestead property) is eligible for a $25,000 tax exemption applicable to all ad valorem tax levies, including levies by school districts.<sup>11</sup> An additional $25,000 exemption applies to homestead property value between $50,000 and $75,000. This exemption does not apply to ad valorem taxes levied by school districts.

Additional Homestead Exemptions for Qualified Senior Citizens

The Florida Constitution also authorizes the Legislature to allow counties and municipalities to grant additional homestead property tax exemptions for persons aged 65 years or over whose <sup>1</sup> Both real property and tangible personal property can be subject to tax. Section 192.001(12), F.S., defines “real property” as land, buildings, fixtures, and all other improvements to land. Section 192.001(11)(d), F.S., defines “tangible personal property” as all goods, chattels, and other articles of value capable of manual possession and whose chief value is intrinsic to the article itself.

<sup>2</sup> Property must be valued at “just value” for purposes of property taxation, unless the Florida Constitution provides otherwise. FLA. CONST. art VII, s. 4. Just value has been interpreted by the courts to mean the fair market value that a willing buyer would pay a willing seller for the property in an arm’s-length transaction. See Walter v. Shuler, 176 So. 2d 81 (Fla. 1965); Deltona Corp. v. Bailey, 336 So. 2d 1163 (Fla. 1976); Southern Bell Tel. & Tel. Co. v. Dade County, 275 So. 2d 4 (Fla. 1973).

household income does not exceed $20,000 (low-income seniors).<sup>12</sup> The income limitation is adjusted each year according to changes in the consumer price index; the 2015 household income threshold for these exemptions is $28,448.<sup>13</sup> The exemptions require the owner to hold legal or equitable title to the real estate and maintain thereon their permanent residence.

$50,000 Additional Exemption. Since 1999, counties and municipalities have been authorized to grant an additional homestead exemption not exceeding $50,000 for low-income seniors.<sup>14</sup>

Long-term, Low-Income Seniors with Homesteads under $250,000. Since 2013, counties and municipalities have been authorized to also exempt the entire assessed value of a low-income senior's homestead with a just value less than $250,000 if the low-income senior has maintained that homestead for not less than 25 years.<sup>15</sup>

A county or municipality may grant either or both of the additional exemptions and must do so by ordinance pursuant to the procedures prescribed in chapter 125 or 166, F.S.<sup>16</sup> The ordinance must specify that the exemption applies only to taxes levied by the unit of government granting the exemption.<sup>17</sup>

For purposes of the exemption, "household income" means "the adjusted gross income, as defined in s. 62 of the United States Internal Revenue Code, of all members of a household."<sup>18</sup> The term "household" means "a person or group of persons living together in a room or group of rooms as a housing unit, but the term does not include persons boarding in or renting a portion of the dwelling."<sup>19</sup>

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 of the bill amends s. 196.075(2)(b), F.S., to provide that for purposes of the long-term, low-income senior exemption for homesteads with a just value under $250,000, the $250,000 limitation is measured at the time the property owner first applies for the exemption.

Section 2 of the bill provides that the bill becomes effective on the same date that SJR 492 or a similar joint resolution becomes effective. If SJR 492 or a similar joint resolution is approved at the November 2016 general election, the bill will become effective on January 3, 2017.<sup>20</sup>

<sup>17</sup> Because the exemption applies only to taxes levied by the county or municipality that enacts the exemption, it does not apply to taxes levied by school districts or other taxing authorities. See s. 196.075, F.S.

<sup>20</sup> SJR 492 does not provide a specific effective date. Under current law, if approved by the voters, a joint resolution without a specific effective date will become effective on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January following the election. FLA. CONST. art. XI, s. 5(e).

IV. Constitutional Issues:*A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

CS/SB 488 does not require counties or municipalities to spend funds or take action requiring the expenditure of funds, reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenues in the aggregate, or reduce the percentage of state tax shared with counties or municipalities. As such, it does not fall within the mandate provisions of Article VII, section 18 of the Florida Constitution.

If the joint resolution is approved by the voters and the bill is fully implemented only within the jurisdictions that currently provide the exemption, the bill will reduce local property taxes by $700,000 in Fiscal Year 2018-2019.
