I. Summary:

SB 158 increases from $1,000 to $5,000, the maximum value of a debtor's motor vehicle that is exempt from attachment, garnishment, or other legal process. The $1,000 amount was established in 1993 and has not been increased since then.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2024.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Constitution protects a homestead, used as a residence, and personal property that does not exceed $1,000, from the forced sale by creditors. The purpose of the homestead exemption is a matter of public policy - to maintain the home as a shelter for a family and prevent the family from becoming dependent on public assistance.

In a similar manner, the Florida Statutes protect certain assets from the claims of creditors. Chapter 222 exempts, or protects, the following items:

- A life insurance policy.<sup>3</sup>
- The cash surrender value of a life insurance policy and the proceeds of an annuity contract.<sup>4</sup>
- Disability income benefits.<sup>5</sup>
- Pension money and funds placed in certain tax-exempt accounts.<sup>6</sup>

 Assets held in qualified tuition programs, health savings and medical savings accounts, Coverdell education savings accounts, which are also known as an educational IRA, and hurricane savings accounts.<sup>7</sup>

- Certain wages, unless the person has agreed in writing to waive the exemption.<sup>8</sup>
- Personal property when properly inventoried and filed with a court.<sup>9</sup>
- Professionally prescribed health aids for the debtor or his or her dependent.<sup>10</sup>
- Items exempted under the federal Bankruptcy Reform Act of 1978 including a social security benefit, unemployment compensation, or a local public assistance benefit; a veterans' benefit; a disability, illness, or unemployment benefit; alimony, support, or separate maintenance, to the extent reasonably necessary for the support of the debtor and his or her dependent; and payments under a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, annuity, or similar plan under specified circumstances.<sup>11</sup>
- A debtor's interest in a single motor vehicle which does not exceed $1,000 in value. 12

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill increases the value of an exempt motor vehicle from $1,000 to $5,000. This $1,000 limit was placed in statute in 1993 and has not been increased since.<sup>13</sup>

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumer Price Index Inflation Calculator, $1,000 in October 1993 is the equivalent of $2,107.42 in November 2023.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2024.
