CALL TO ORDER

The Senate was called to order by Senator Fasano at 10:00 a.m. Senator Fasano turned the gavel over to outgoing Senate President and Chief Financial Officer-Elect Jeff Atwater.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Marc Rhodes, First Baptist Church of South Brevard, Melbourne:

Our gracious heavenly Father, I come to you today asking your blessing upon the members of this body. May they labor with honesty, humility and honor. May their leadership cause the people they represent to rejoice in wisdom, guidance, and their selfless service.

May each member of this ordained body purpose in their hearts to serve in an ethical and praiseworthy fashion, and may they sow in such a manner that the reaping of their labors will be beneficial to all. May God grant that each member serves with devotion and distinction, laboring as though it depends upon their vowing before providence, realizing that without God, their labor is in vain.

This I pray in the name of Jesus to the glory and benefit of Almighty God. Amen.

PLEDGE

Alexis, Hayden, and Reagan Haridopolos of Melbourne, Senator Haridopolos' children, led the Senate in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

ORGANIZATION

The Senate proceeded to the organization of the body.

NOMINATIONS FOR PRESIDENT

The President announced that nominations would be received for President of the Senate, pursuant to Article III, Section 2 of the Constitution, for a term of two years.

The President recognized Senator Thrasher who placed in nomination the name of Senator Mike Haridopolos of the 26th Senatorial District.

Senator Thrasher: Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen, Governor Crist, distinguished guests, past Presidents and friends of the Haridopolos family that are here. Ladies and gentlemen, there have been times in the history of our nation and our state when a leader emerges who is so uniquely suited to confront the challenges we face that we sense greater forces are at work. Rather than resolve to compromise or random luck, we find purpose and meaning in the delivery of a person who can confront and master these challenges for the benefit of all.

Today, Florida finds itself in one of those uniquely challenging times. Our unemployment rate has hit a high not seen in generations. Florida families are suffering as rarely before, and some of our politicians have offered little more than platitudes to ease the pain. An entire segment of our economy, development, has been cut to a fraction of its former size, yet government has continued to add regulations to this beleaguered industry. At a time when we should be focusing on better educating our school children to compete in an ever more advanced marketplace, there have been cries to relax education standards and return to the mediocrity that plagued our schools less than a generation ago. Were it not for the presence of one man, I would be concerned that these challenges could overwhelm Florida and put us in a status of a minority state in comparison to our sister states. But, because of the presence of one man, that will not happen.

Ladies and gentlemen, that one man is Mike Haridopolos, the next President of the Florida Senate. Mike is an accomplished leader who understands that principle and not political gain should form our agenda. Mike believes in personal responsibility, less government, and the power of the free market. He believes that people, rather than bureaucracies, are best suited to chart our individual paths, and much more importantly, he doesn't just believe in these things, he lives them every single day. So, we can see the success that Mike has enjoyed in his private life reflects the same principles he will apply to his public life. Mike Haridopolos will be a great steward of the power and the responsibility that he accepts today, and we in this chamber and those Floridians outside will be the beneficiaries of his intellect, his self-discipline, and his ferocious energy that he devotes to every aspect of his work. There is no greater honor I could have today, or pleasure, than to nominate a leader who spans the chasm history has created for our paths. Ladies and gentlemen, it is a high personal honor and privilege to nominate my friend, my leader, and the next President of the Florida Senate, Senator Mike Haridopolos.

The President recognized Senator Flores who seconded the nomination of Senator Haridopolos.

Senator Flores: Thank you Mr. President. It is a true honor and privilege to second the nomination of Senator Mike Haridopolos for the position of Senate President for the 2010 - 2012 term.

I know I am not the first in this chamber to wonder, "What exactly is a Haridopolos?" Is it an animal? A beachy island escape off the coast of a Greek island? Or, is a Haridopolos just the type of man we need to lead Florida in a time that will define what our Florida becomes for the next generation? I can tell you that a Mike Haridopolos is a man that will make us all proud to call him Senate President.

I first met Mike when he began his career in the Florida House of Representatives. At the time, I was a Fellow for the Speaker's office, and was given a chance to work with the then Representative Haridopolos on a piece of legislation relating to education funding. Now in a year that welcomed more House freshmen than any other class combined, it may have been a challenge to stand out amongst that large crowd, but Mike found a way. This particular legislation proposed to allow school districts to sell advertising space on school buses—not exactly the idea that the establishment had in mind when they requested more funding for education. Ultimately, the legislation did not pass, but Mike immediately made a name for himself as someone who certainly understood the meaning of "thinking outside the box."

Senator Haridopolos continued to make a name for himself by co-founding the Freedom Caucus, that group the status quo may call stubborn elected officials who simply refuse to add to Floridians' financial burdens. Mike understands that throwing more funding at the problem or issue will not solve it. The public pledge Mike has taken to reduce the financial burden on Florida's families should put us all at ease that he is at the helm of the Florida Senate.

Over the years, Mike has continuously resisted the temptation to become a politician or a bureaucrat. He remains loyal to the principles that led him to public service: a desire to make positive change, to be a voice for all Floridians, and a commitment to ensuring Florida's future remains positive and bright. We all understand that we have difficult times ahead, but with Mike as our Senate President we can rest assured that all of our voices will be taken into account.

I don't think that Mike has ever really stopped campaigning since that first election in 2000. We all know that he is an ever present face on the Internet, his Facebook page keeps everyone informed of his latest moves, and many of you have received a handwritten note for your birthday or congratulating you on your latest achievement. How do you have time for all those notes? But we also know that Mike is not necessarily campaigning for himself. Rather he is campaigning for our state, constantly seeking input on what the next big idea can be for the state of Florida. Mike Haridopolos has to be the most accessible Senate President in recent history. It is that unselfish notion that it doesn't matter where the idea came from, as long as it is a productive one, that makes me proud to be a member of the Florida Senate even in these challenging times.

Today as Mike Haridopolos takes on his latest role as leader of the Florida Senate—under the watchful eye of his wife, Stephanie, and children Alexis, Hayden and Reagan—we all know what a “Haridopolos” is. A Haridopolos is a genuine leader, a doting husband, a proud father, a good listener, an innovative thinker, a hard worker who does his homework on issues, someone who certainly thinks outside the box, and, most importantly, for each of us who just took our oath as Senators, Mike Haridopolos is our Senate President, and I know that he will make us all proud.

Thank you!

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED

On motion by Senator Siplin that a committee be appointed to escort Senator Haridopolos and his wife, Dr. Stephanie Haridopolos, to the rostrum of the Senate, the President appointed Senators Siplin, Bullard, Negron, Oelrich, Altman and Ring. INTRODUCTION OF THE PRESIDENT'S FAMILY AND GUESTS

President Atwater introduced the following members of Senator Haridopolos' family: his wife, Dr. Stephanie Haridopolos; his children, Alexis, Hayden and Reagan; and his parents, Ernie and Georgia Haridopolos.

President Atwater presented the gavel to President Haridopolos, the 84th President of the Florida Senate since statehood.

PRESIDENT HARIDOPOLOS PRESIDING

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT

President Haridopolos: Thank you, I'm honored to be your next Senate President.

This is a real challenge for our entire state. Before I start my speech, I want to say that I'm thankful to God. I'm thankful to my wife, my children, and my parents. My children, when taking the oath today, my heart got heavy because that's what it's all about, our kids. I didn't think that I would get emotional today, but I saw them up here and it really struck me just how important it is that we pass around these opportunities to our kids and our grandkids. You give me an incredible honor and opportunity. I cherish it and make sure every single day I'll go to work for you and the entire State of Florida. This is what America is all about.

Each one of us has a unique story of how we arrived here at the State Capitol. We are all unified in what our goal is, to leave a legacy for the very people in this room. Please look around. Look at our kids and grandkids. This is what it's all about, not just in rhetoric, but in action. We've been given an incredible gift that we can never take for granted. Our legacy is to leave this opportunity for them. That's why we're here. It's not about the TV. It's not about politics. It's about people. My father was not even born in this country. His son is sitting here today. That's what America is all about. I want to be a part of that.

Our legacy will be their success. Let us recognize that this legacy is in jeopardy. It is being challenged like never before. One out of eight Floridians is out of work. We're facing a budget shortfall. I will say this now and I'll say it for the next few years, we face a 2 1/2 billion dollar shortfall. We have two options, to raise taxes or spend less. We will spend less.

Right now, in Washington D.C., they're not giving us much flexibility. Today with Medicaid, we are going to ask for that flexibility. Their heavy handed ways are not serving our state well. Regardless of what they do in Washington D.C., this Florida Senate will lead by example. That's how you lead. We'll do more with less. We'll tighten our own belt and we will not raise taxes a single dime.

As many of you know, I teach. I've been teaching at the college level since 1993. I love what I do, it's a gift from God. One of the things that I teach about is the Constitution. A lot of people think that the Constitution is an empowering document for government. It's not. Those who study the Constitution well know that the Constitution limits the power of government over the individual. We believe in people, not government first. When we think of the Constitution, let us think of limited government, not one that reigns over us. We lead by example: I'm proud to say that this Florida Senate, this Florida House, and this government has cut its own pay over the last few years. Just this summer, right here in the Florida Senate, we realized that if we're going to lead, we're going to lead by example. We cut over a million dollars in our own expenses by rightsizing the Senate, by asking people to do more with less, which every business and family is doing right now.

To gain the trust of the people of Florida we have to have an open, transparent government. I'm proud to call our state the Sunshine State. I'm even more proud of, not only do we have government in the sunshine, we now have spending in the sunshine. That's what we need to do. It's not our money. It's their money, and if we think of that every day, we're going to be a lot better off.

I want to make sure that everyone in this room and everyone across the state of Florida has a voice. Every single piece of legislation in this chamber will go through at least three committees. The public deserves not the hyperbolic, not the politics, not rhetoric, not innuendo, but fact-based decisions. That's what adults do, and this is the time that calls for adults to lead.

As legislation goes through these three committees, let me just say this, “If your piece of legislation raises taxes, makes it easier to file a lawsuit against a fellow Floridian, or increases red tape and bureaucracy, I don't like your chances.” Some people call that rhetoric; I call that reality. Each one of those things that I just listed—higher taxes, more bureaucracy, more lawsuits—that stops opportunity, and that stops job growth. Our business should be to create opportunities, jobs and more and more opportunities for everyone.

Just think about it, our new Governor, Rick Scott, who I can't wait to work with, said it well. He said, “Think about it, we're a state without an income tax. We're a right-to-work state.” As Senator Thrasher said quite well, “Our schools are dramatically improved.” We can do more. We can break down those barriers to opportunities. Not just break them down, but smash those barriers. When one out of eight Floridians is out of work, that is unacceptable to every single person in this room. When we think about it, we've been empowered by the people of our home district. They have lifted us up to help solve those problems. This is a time that calls for leadership. This is a time when Republicans and Democrats need to work together. This is a time to set politics aside, look at people like my kids—Reagan, Alexis and Hayden—and not forget why we're doing this. The reason why we had the oath given with your family members is because I want you to look into the eyes of your family members and make that solemn pledge to them. It is that important. You look into their eyes and you think about the votes you're making, the dollars you're spending, and you think of them first.

I'll close with this. When we pray to God, my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, I pray to my God for leadership. God does not simply grant us leadership. God provides us an opportunity to lead. We have been given and are blessed with this incredible opportunity at a trying time in our nation. This is a test. I truly believe this, because I know every Senator in this room. This test will be a testimony. A testimony that when Floridians come together, not only is anything possible, but the best days are still ahead.

In the end, as I mentioned earlier, our legacy is what we leave for our children. My parents, and my wife's parents, have blessed us with that opportunity. A test that can be a testimony at the end is a testament to what this nation, families, and we are all about as the State of Florida. We are the land of opportunity. It is our obligation to lead the people because they have given us their heart and soul. They want us to succeed. Senators, I can't wait to get started today. We have an incredible path ahead of us. Like the most amazing story ever told, the story of America, it begins today and I am grateful. Thank you very much.

NOMINATIONS FOR PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The President announced that nominations would be received for President Pro Tempore of the Senate for a term of two years.

The President recognized Senator Richter who placed in nomination the name of Senator Michael S. "Mike" Bennett of the 21st Senatorial District.

Senator Richter: I rise to place into nomination for President Pro Tempore our colleague from the 21st Senatorial District, Senator Mike Bennett. It is a great honor for me to nominate Mike.

Members, Pro Tempore is a Latin phrase which, in English, best translates to "For the time being." I submit to you that this interpretation is misleading. "For the time being" conjures up a short term image. "For the time being" would lead one to believe that soon, it will be different. Nothing could be more off the mark about Senator Mike Bennett. Mike is not short term! Yes, Mike certainly can be "different," but in a very positive way—a way in which we would all like to be called "different." In this chamber and in our committee rooms, Mike always speaks his mind. If you want to know where Mike stands on an issue, you don't have to beat around the bush, you don't have to speculate, you don't have to guess. All you have to do is ask him. He'll tell you. And when he does, you can "take it to the bank."

We all know that the number one issue, challenge and priority for Florida is the revitalization of Florida's economy. Said differently, "jobs!" Well, when it comes to signing paychecks, Senator Bennett has signed the front side of more paychecks than he has the back. He understands businesses create jobs!

An entrepreneur is a risk taker. Entrepreneurs put their values on the line. Entrepreneurs make commitments! Senator Bennett is an entrepreneurial businessman and an entrepreneurial politician. He always was a risk taker as a young man, and he's a risk taker today.

At 13 years old, he hitchhiked from Florida to Washington State, that's about the longest hitchhike you can do in this country! A few years later, after lettering in "circus," he became a "human cannonball" when he was shot out of a cannon at the "Sailor Circus." Yes, Mike Bennett flies high. He always travels the "high road." Senator Bennett is a risk taker in the finest sense of the term.

He is a "patriot." Not one tour of duty in Vietnam—not two tours of duty in Vietnam—not three tours of duty in Vietnam—but four tours of duty in Vietnam. He was proud to serve his country by performing air-to-sea rescue missions. Many don't know that while he was performing air-to-sea rescues, he actually delivered a baby in a helicopter, not once but twice!

A major decision that he made in his life that wasn't risky was when he met Dee. Ten days after meeting Dee he proposed to her and Dee accepted! That's when she became the risk taker! That was 44 years ago! Senator Bennett will tell you without any reservation whatsoever, Dee is the rock in his life. She is his foundation, his motivator, his confidant, lover and friend. She is his compass and his passion.

Honest, loyal, thoughtful, effective, and passionate describe my tremendous friend Senator Mike Bennett. Senator Bennett is committed to his community, he is committed to our state and he is committed to our country. He is committed to his values! Senator Bennett will fulfill his responsibility as your President Pro Tempore by leveraging his experience, his entrepreneurial spirit, his political talent, his energy and his unique style for the betterment of this great State of Florida.

Abraham Lincoln pretty much described Mike Bennett when he said, "in the end, it's not the years in your life that count, it's the life in your years." Mr. President, I am proud and honored to nominate my treasured friend, Senator Mike Bennett, for President Pro Tempore!

The President recognized Senator Smith who seconded the nomination of Senator Bennett.

Senator Smith: Thank you, Mr. President. I stand here today to second the nomination of Dee Bennett's husband.

Dee Bennett is a beautiful, regal, intellectual woman who was born in Des Moines, Iowa, and matriculated college at the prestigious Drake University where she graduated. So her husband can't be half-bad. She went into the noble profession of teaching, and she taught all over this country. She taught in Huntington Beach, California. She taught school in Iowa. She then came here and began shaping the minds and teaching the students of Florida, shaping our future leaders of this state, so her husband can't be half-bad. She also, while teaching in Iowa, helped her husband financially by supporting him through Drake University.

Later in Florida, she became an elected official, serving on the Cedar Hammock Fire Rescue Board. Dee also volunteers in many organizations and charities within our community. She volunteers at hospitals, soup kitchens, homeless shelters, the Southeast Guide Dogs, the Hope Family Center for battered women and many more. I hear she plays a mean hand of bridge and loves to fish, so her husband can't be half-bad.

Dee Bennett is a woman of great intellect, a woman of great compassion. Dee Bennett is probably dying a little bit right now, because she is a woman of great humility. She prefers to sit in the background and work hard with the spouses' wives and other charities. She prefers to sit in the background and support her husband and get her own hands dirty while helping him and helping our state. So Dee Bennett can stay married for forty-four years and love and support Mike Bennett. I am proud to stand here and support Mike Bennett, and second his nomination for President Pro Tempore.

ADDRESS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Senator Bennett: I am so highly honored that President Haridopolos has provided me with the opportunity and trust to serve with him as President Pro Tempore. Senator Richter and Senator Smith, I want to thank you for those wonderful words. My father would have been proud, and my mother would have actually believed them.

To the best staff any Senator could ask for, Cheryl Ennis, Jacquie Connell, Crystal Fitzgerald and Valda Cook. They are a wonderful team that has the dual qualifications and abilities to be both great legislative aides and to act as adult supervisors to their Senator. For you new members, when I am gone, my advice to you is to grab them, they will make you look good.

I want to send out a thank you and a prayer for my good friend and mentor, Jim King. I am proud to have known him and was fortunate to serve with him.

I want to say thank you to the Greater Sertoma Club of Sarasota. Sertoma is an acronym for “SERvice To MAnkind.” A group that has always supported me and more importantly, service to others has always been their mission.

I also want to thank every veteran of every war, who has fought to protect what we are here to celebrate and enjoy every day—the right of the free vote, and for all of our freedoms that so many take for granted, and so many paid the ultimate price to protect and pass down to us. To paraphrase Ronald Reagan: Many of us ask ourselves will or has our life made a difference? A veteran never has to ask that question.

Dee, you and I will be married 44 years in just 10 days. You took a gamble and married a crazy sailor, one who had never dreamed of going to college, who never dreamed of what a wonderful life we would grow to share. There are no words that I could ever say that would allow me to fully express my love for you and all you have allowed us to become because you never gave up. You truly are the wind beneath my wings.

With this team and you, my fellow Senators, I have reached a position that my mother, father, brothers and sisters would all agree was well beyond anything any of us ever even dreamed of. I thank you for that and I promise not to disappoint you.

As we go forward the next two years, we are charged with an awesome opportunity to do right for the people who elected us. This opportunity only comes about because of challenges to our economy; the great opportunities in life only come about because there are great challenges.

My good friend, Senator Richter, is fond of saying that in the banking world, bad loans are made in good times and good loans are made in bad times. When I relate that statement to the area of legislation, I believe it applies here also. Bad government is created in good times, and good government and laws will be created in bad times.

When the economy was booming we did not hold back. We created entitlement slavery for our constitutions, we expanded many social programs because we had the money to do it. We allowed the cost of health care, education, government construction projects, government land purchases, and duplicate government regulations to fly in the face of common sense and financial responsibility. We allowed government interference and government to grow beyond our needs. We entered an era of overreaching government, excessive permitting and wasteful spending. We allowed our taxpayers’ money to be spent on monuments instead of buildings, on land purchases that made no sense, while ignoring the real conservation piece next door. We voted for expensive trains and ignored the costs, all the while needing money for education.

I have observed with my own eyes where people were cited and, in some cases, fined for trying to replace the roof on their home after a hurricane blew it off because they did not have a permit. I recently saw in Sarasota where they wanted to have a contest to build sand castles on the beach and were held up because they didn’t have a permit—a permit from the State of Florida. I think DEP has better things to do than worry about building sand castles at the beach. When a permit to replace a water heater costs just about as much as the water heater; a government that takes two to three million dollars and three to four years to get a development permit—a development permit that would create jobs—we are far overreaching.

As we go into these next 24 months of opportunity, let us act as Senators and have the courage to bring down the cost of Medicaid, but let’s not do it by cutting reimbursements to the doctors. Let’s have the courage to let the other providers of health care practice to the full extent of their training.

As we try to expedite building and development and job creation, let’s not do it by trampling on all of the environmental laws we have enacted to protect the wonderful state we live in. Let’s do it by getting rid of duplication, redundancy, multiple inspections, and overhead driven by bad laws and overreaching government agencies.

As we try to continue to improve education and still bring down costs, let’s not do it on the backs of our teachers. Let’s do it by reining in construction costs, out of control engineering, and architect fees that are mandated. Let’s bring down the costs by getting rid of purchasing requirements that force our schools to buy new books, whether they want or need them or not.

Allow the teachers to teach, set up rules where teachers can control the classrooms and students, instead of the other way around. We look to bring control to our social programs, but are afraid to attack the real problems brought about by those who want to replace parenting with Ritalin and video games. There are those who believe the land of opportunity should be the land of handout. We cannot solve these problems if we are always worried about saying something that someone will claim was not politically correct.

Let us work on the illegal immigration problem, not by racial profiling, but by common sense applications that allow us to throw out the criminal element, but keep those who want to assimilate, who want to work, learn English, educate their children and become productive citizens. Let us be careful and mindful that we don’t throw out the productive along with the unproductive.

Let’s solve the pension problem not by taking away what has been earned, but change it for the future as we look to manage responsibly. Let’s look at cutting property taxes in a way that doesn’t kill local government. Let’s look at the surplus lands that the state owns. Can we give it or sell it to private companies that would use it to create jobs and get that property back on the tax rolls which would help our local governments?

Let us stay focused on all of the people of the State of Florida, stay focused on jobs and economy and avoid the temptation to stray into areas of our individual social agendas. We must support an agenda of common sense. We cannot operate if we are worried about criticism; we cannot solve the problems in Florida if we are worried about the next election or campaign contribution.

We can only show the people of the State of Florida that they elected the right people to serve them if we are truly willing to serve. I know as do you, that we don’t have all the answers. In fact, sometimes I think the only people with all the answers are busy writing editorials. We have an economy that has been knocked down but not out. All over the world, we read of protests and riots because governments everywhere are trying to correct for their over generous social subsidies and now they have to take them back.

Yes, we have problems and yes, we have needs, and we have perceived loyalties to those who gave us campaign contributions. We have perceived loyalties to our parties, and perceived loyalties to lobbyists. But the only ones we truly owe and should be loyal to is ourselves. You must know at the end of the day you had the courage to do the right thing, you had the courage to say no, the courage to fight for the people of the great State of Florida.

When the President and I talked about this position, I looked up the Latin meaning of pro tem. Loosely interpreted, it means for a moment in time or a short time. We are only Senators for a short time; let's make the best of it.

The President announced that nominations would be received for Secretary of the Senate for a term of two years and recognized Senator Jones who placed in nomination the name of Robert Philip Twogood.

Senator Jones: Thank you, Mr. President. Senators, it gives me a great pleasure to nominate Secretary Robert Philip Twogood to return as our Secretary of the Florida Senate for the 2010-2012 term. I have known and worked with Phil for 19 years. In the beginning, we were in the House Minority together. He came over to the Senate before I did, but I was glad to have him here when I arrived in 2002. Phil was always available to answer questions, provide valuable information and to be a friend. Phil and his dedicated staff serve the entire Senate and do a wonderful job. During session, they're here early, and they stay late. I move that Dr. Twogood be elected by acclamation by the membership of the Senate.

By unanimous consent of the membership, Robert Philip Twogood was elected Secretary of the Senate for the 2010-2012 term.

The President shall preside and maintain order and decorum. The Senate Rules relating of the Senate applicable to standing committees shall govern when applicable. The Committee of the Whole may consider and report, by majority vote of those committee members present, on any bill or question not formally introduced in the Senate and any bill on which all standing committees of reference have rendered a favorable report. A bill thus originating in a Committee of the Whole shall, when introduced as contemplated by the State Constitution, receive no further reference to committee. (5) ~~Bills placed on the calendar shall be reviewed by the Chair of the Committee on Rules~~. The review of a bill that appears to be local in nature shall be ~~performed~~ by the Rules Committee ~~on Rules~~ to determine whether such measure is local in nature for reference purposes and whether it responds to the legal requirements of a local bill.

(6) A bill is local in nature for referencing purposes if it does not substantially alter a law of general application throughout the state and it either affects no more than one (1) county or relates to a special district that is located wholly within no more than two (2) counties.

(7) When the Rules Committee ~~on Rules~~, through staff ~~review analysis~~, has determined that the bill is not local in nature for referencing purposes, the committee shall report such determination to the President ~~of the Senate~~, who shall refer such bill to an appropriate standing committee for hearing. Such report shall be made within fifteen (15) legislative days from date of receipt by the Rules Committee ~~on Rules~~. 4.12—Reading of bills and joint resolutions

Each bill or joint resolution shall receive three (3) separate readings on three (3) separate days previous to a vote on final passage unless decided otherwise by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present as provided in Article III, Section 7 of the State Constitution.

4.13—Reading of concurrent resolutions and memorials

(1) Each concurrent resolution or memorial shall receive two (2) separate readings by title on two (2) separate days previous to a voice vote on adoption, unless decided otherwise by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present. ~~If the reading on the second (2nd) day is dispensed with by this waiver, the concurrent resolution or memorial may be read the second (2nd) time by title only.~~

No other bills shall be considered until this Special Order Calendar has been completed by the Senate, except that any bill appearing on this calendar may be stricken by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present or any bill appearing on the ~~general~~ calendar of bills on second (2nd) ~~or third (3rd)~~ reading may be added to the end of the Special Order Calendar by the same vote. All bills set as Special Order for consideration at the same hour shall take precedence in the order in which they were given preference.

~~(3)(4)~~ A two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present shall be required to establish a Special Order except as provided in this Rule. 4.18—Local Bill Calendar

Local bills shall be disposed of according to the calendar of bills of a local nature and shall be considered only at such time as determined by the ~~Rules Chair of the Committee on Rules~~ and approved by the President. Any member of the delegation for the local area affected by a bill

VOTING

5.1—Taking the yeas and nays

The President shall declare all votes, but, if five (5) Senators immediately question a voice vote by a show of hands, the President shall take the vote by yeas and nays or electronic roll call. When taking yeas and nays on any question, the electronic roll call system may be used and shall have the force and effect of a roll call taken as provided in these Rules. Also, this system may be used to determine the presence of a quorum. When the Senate is ready to vote on a question requiring roll call and the vote is by electronic roll call, the President shall state: "The Secretary will unlock the board machine and Senators prepare to vote." When sufficient time has elapsed for each Senator to vote, the President shall say: "Have all voted?" And, after a short pause, shall state: "The Secretary shall now lock the board machine and record the vote." When the vote is completely recorded, the President shall announce the result to the Senate; and the Secretary shall enter in the Journal the result. When the Senate is equally divided, the question shall be lost.

5.2—Change of vote

(1) After the result of the vote has been announced by the President, a Senator with unanimous consent of those Senators present may change his or her vote or vote on the ~~matter measure~~ except that no such change of vote or vote shall be valid where such vote would alter the final passage of the ~~matter measure~~ until the ~~matter measure~~ shall first have been recalled to the Senate for further consideration. Records of such requests shall be available at the Secretary's desk through the session. If no objections are raised before the close of the business that day, requests will be accepted.

(2) The original roll call shall not be altered, but late votes and change of votes shall be recorded under the original roll call in the Journal. On request of a Senator before considering other business, the President shall order a verification of a vote.

(3) A Senator who was not present for a daily session of the Senate or who was present but did not provide a vote record to the Secretary before the close of business that day, may provide to the Secretary an indication of vote preference. This indication shall be included in a dedicated section of the next Journal published after the Secretary receives the indication. An indication of vote preference will not be accepted if the indication would have, if recorded, altered the vote.

5.3—Casting vote for another

No Senator shall cast a vote for another Senator unless the Senator is present in the Chamber area and requests the casting of said vote, nor shall a person not a Senator cast a vote for a Senator. In addition to such penalties as may be prescribed by law, a Senator who shall without such authorization vote or attempt to vote for another Senator may be punished as the Senate may deem proper. Also, a person not a Senator who shall vote in the place of a Senator shall be excluded from the Chamber for the remainder of the session.

After a motion has been stated or read by the President, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the Senate and, without a second, shall be disposed of by vote of the Senate. The mover may withdraw a motion, except a motion to reconsider, as hereinafter provided, at any time before the same has been amended or before the vote shall have commenced.

6.2—Motions; precedence

(1) When a question is under debate, the President shall receive no motion except:

- (a) To adjourn

(2) The President shall ~~present~~ ~~propound~~ all questions in the order in which they are moved unless the subsequent motion is ~~be~~ previous in nature.

(3) When a motion is under consideration, but prior to the commencement of the vote, a substitute motion shall be in order. Only one (1) substitute shall be considered and the substitute shall be in the same order of precedence.

6.3—Division of question

A Senator may ~~move~~ ~~call~~ for a division of a question when the sense will admit of it. A motion to delete and insert shall be deemed indivisible; a motion to delete, being lost, shall neither preclude amendment nor a motion to delete and insert.

6.4—Reconsideration generally

(1) When a main question (the vote on passage of a measure, including a vote on a veto message, confirmation of executive appointments, removal or suspension from office) has been decided by the Senate, a Senator voting with the prevailing side may move for reconsideration of the question on the same or the next legislative day on which the Senate meets.

- (a) If the question has been decided by voice vote, any Senator may so move.
- (b) When a majority of those Senators present vote in the affirmative on the question but the proposition be lost because it is one in which the concurrence of more than a majority of those Senators present is necessary for adoption or passage, any Senator may move for reconsideration.

(2) Such motion may be made ~~prior to or~~ pending a motion to recess to a later day or adjourn ~~or if it is time to adjourn~~.

- (a) Consideration of a motion to reconsider shall be a special and continuing order of business for the Senate when it next meets on a legislative day succeeding that on which the motion was made and, unless considered on said day, shall be considered abandoned. If the Senate shall refuse to reconsider or, on reconsideration, shall confirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order except on unanimous consent of those Senators present.

The affirmative votes of a majority of those Senators present shall be required to adopt a motion to reconsider.

6.7—Reconsideration; collateral matters and procedural motions

A motion to reconsider a collateral matter must be disposed of during the course of the consideration of the main subject to which it is related, and such motion shall be out of order after the Senate has passed to other business. Reconsideration of a procedural motion shall be considered on the same day on which it is made.

6.8—Reconsideration; Secretary to hold for period

The Secretary shall hold all bills for the period after passage during which reconsideration may be moved. The adoption of any motion to waive the Rules by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present and immediately certify any bill to the House shall be construed as releasing the measure from the Secretary's possession for the period of reconsideration and shall, thereafter, preclude reconsideration. During the last five (5) calendar days allowed under the State Constitution for a regular session and during any extensions thereof, or during any special session, the bills shall be immediately transmitted to the House. Messages relating to Senate action on House amendments or to conference committee reports shall be transmitted forthwith.

The adoption of a motion to indefinitely postpone a measure shall dispose of it for the duration of the legislative session and all extensions thereof. A motion to postpone consideration to a time beyond the last day allowed under the State Constitution for the current legislative session shall be construed as a motion to indefinitely postpone. Motions to indefinitely postpone shall not be applicable to collateral matters.

6.10—Committee substitute; withdrawn

Once a bill has been reported as a committee substitute, it may be withdrawn from further consideration only by motion of the introducer and unanimous consent of the Senate.

(1) No amendment to a bill on any Senate calendar shall be considered by the Senate unless the amendment was prepared in proper form and filed with the Secretary ~~of the Senate~~ no later than 5:00 p.m. the day prior to the day that session was called to order. Copies of such amendments shall be made reasonably available by the Secretary ~~of the Senate~~ before the session, upon request, to the Senators members and to the public. The consideration of all amendments not timely filed in accordance with this rule, requires a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(2) Amendments shall be filed with the Secretary on forms prescribed by the Secretary but shall be considered only after sponsors gain recognition from the President to move their adoption, except that the chair of the committee (or, in the chair's absence, the vice chair or any member thereof) reporting the measure under consideration shall have preference for the presentation of committee amendments. An amendment shall be deemed pending only after its sponsor has been recognized by the President and has moved its adoption. Amendments that have been filed with the Secretary ~~of the Senate~~ but have not been formally moved for adoption shall not be deemed to be pending.

(3) No proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted in the form under color of an amendment. The following bills are out of order and shall not be admitted or considered in the form under color of an amendment to a bill on the calendar and under consideration by the Senate:

- (a) Bills which have received an unfavorable committee report.
- (b) Bills which have been withdrawn from further consideration by the introducer.
- (c) Bills the substance of which have not been reported favorably by all committees of reference.

7.3—Sequence of amendments to amendments

(1) An amendment to a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of, no other motion to amend will be in order, except a substitute amendment or an amendment to the substitute. Such amendments are to be disposed of in the following order:

- (a) Amendments to the amendment are acted on before the substitute is taken up. Only one (1) amendment to the amendment is in order.
- (b) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on.
- (c) The substitute then is voted on.

(2) The adoption of a substitute amendment in lieu of an original amendment shall be treated and considered as an amendment to the bill itself.

(3) The following amendments are out of order:

- (a) A substitute amendment for an amendment to an amendment.
- (b) A substitute amendment for an amendment to a substitute.

7.4—Deleting everything after enacting clause

7.5—Amendment by section

The adoption of an amendment to a section shall not preclude further amendment of that section. If a bill is being considered section by section or item by item, only amendments to the section or item under consideration shall be in order. The President, in recognizing Senators for the purpose of moving the adoption of amendments, shall endeavor to cause all amendments to section 1 to be considered first, then all those in section 2, and so on. After all sections have been considered separately, the entire bill shall be open for amendment.

7.6—Printing in Journal

All amendments taken up by the Senate unless withdrawn shall be printed in the Journal except that an amendment to the general appropriations bill constituting an entirely new bill shall not be printed until the filing of the conference committee report. All item amendments to the general appropriations bill shall be printed.

A House bill may be amended in the same manner as a Senate bill. If a House bill is amended, the same shall be noted by the Secretary on the jacket before it is transmitted reported to the House.

7.8—House amendments to Senate bills

(1) After the reading of a House amendment to a Senate bill, the Senate may:

- (a) Amend the House amendment,
- (b) Concur in the House amendment,
- (c) Refuse to concur in the House amendment and ask the House to recede, or
- (d) Request a conference committee.

(2) The adoption of any of the foregoing motions shall be by majority vote of those Senators present.

7.9—House refusal to concur in Senate amendment

A Senator shall not address or refer to another Senator by his or her first name. A Senator shall use the appellation of “Senator” or such appellation and the district number of the Senator being addressed, or a Senator may also use such appellation and the surname of the Senator referred to or addressed.

8.4—Senator speaking, rights

(1) When a Senator is speaking and another Senator interrupts to request recognition, the presiding officer may permit the person rising to state why he or she desires the floor. If the question the Senator desires to raise is entitled to precedence, the Senator originally speaking shall relinquish the floor until the question having precedence is disposed of. The Senator then is entitled to resume the floor.

(2) The Senator making a debatable motion or the introducer of a bill shall have five (5) minutes in order to close debate.

8.5—Limit on speaking

No Senator shall speak longer than thirty (30) minutes without yielding the floor, except by consent of a majority of those Senators present.

8.7—Points of order, parliamentary inquiry, definitions

An appeal from a decision of the presiding officer must be made promptly before debate has concluded or other business has intervened. A point of order on any other question is not in order while an appeal is pending, but a point of order relating to the appeal may be raised; and, if the determination of the appeal is dependent on this point, it may be decided by the presiding officer. This second (2nd) decision is also subject to appeal.

8.10—Appeals, debatable

An appeal from a decision of the presiding officer on a point of order is debatable even though the question from which it arose was not debatable.

8.11—Questions of privilege

- (1) Questions of privilege shall be:
 - (a) Those affecting the rights of the Senate collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; and
 - (b) The rights, reputation, and conduct of Senators individually, in their representative capacity only.
- (2) These shall have precedence over all other questions except motions to ~~recess to a later day or adjourn. The question shall not be recognized during the debate on a bill.~~ A question of privilege affecting either house collectively takes precedence over a question of privilege affecting an individual Senator member.

- (1) A lobbyist shall supply facts, information, and opinions of principals to legislators from the point of view from which he or she openly declares. A lobbyist shall not offer or propose anything to improperly influence the official act, decision, or vote of a legislator.
- (2) A lobbyist, by personal example and admonition to colleagues, shall uphold the honor of the legislative process by the integrity of his or her relationship with legislators.
- (3) A lobbyist shall not knowingly and willfully falsify a material fact or make any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or representation or make or use any writing or document knowing the same contains any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements or entry.

9.3—Lobbyists' requirements

A lobbyist shall adhere to the statutory requirements for lobbyists provided by law and the Joint Rules.

9.35—Contributions during sessions

During a regular legislative session, and during an extended or special session as further provided for in Rule 1.361(2), a lobbyist may not directly or indirectly contribute to a Senator's own campaign, or to any organization that is registered, or should have been registered, with the Rules Committee on Rules pursuant to Rule 1.361(3).

9.4—Advisory opinions

(1) A lobbyist, when in doubt about the applicability and interpretation of Rule Nine (9) in a particular context, may submit in writing a statement of the facts involved to the Rules Committee on Rules and may appear in person before said committee.

(2) The Rules Committee on Rules may render advisory opinions to any lobbyist who seeks advice as to whether or not the facts in a particular case will constitute a violation of these Rules. All opinions shall delete names and be numbered, dated, and published in the Journal of the Senate.

9.5—Compilation of opinions

The Secretary of the ~~Senate~~ shall keep a compilation of all advisory opinions of the Rules Committee on Rules.

9.6—Violations; investigations, penalties

(1) Any person may file a sworn complaint with the Rules Chair of the Committee on Rules alleging a violation of the Rules regulating the conduct and ethics of lobbyists. The complaint shall be based on personal knowledge, shall state detailed facts, shall specify the actions of the named lobbyist which form the basis for the complaint, and shall identify the specific Rule(s) alleged by the complainant to have been violated by the lobbyist. Upon a determination by the Rules Chair of the Committee on Rules that the complaint states facts supporting a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be referred to a special master. Upon a determination by the chair that the complaint fails to state facts supporting a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be dismissed. The special master shall conduct an investigation, shall give reasonable notice to the lobbyist who is alleged to have violated the Rules and shall grant the lobbyist an opportunity to be heard unless the investigation fails to reveal facts supporting a finding of probable cause. A special master's report and recommendation is advisory only and shall be presented to the chair as soon as practicable after the close of the investigation. If the special master's report and recommendation conclude that the facts do not support a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be dismissed by the Rules Chair. If the complaint is not dismissed, the Rules Committee on Rules shall consider the special master's report and recommendation, shall grant the lobbyist an opportunity to be heard, and shall develop its own recommendation. If the Rules Committee on Rules votes to dismiss the complaint, the Rules Chair shall dismiss the complaint. Otherwise, the special master's report and recommendation and the recommendation of the Rules Committee on Rules shall be presented to the President. The President shall present the committee's recommendation, along with the special master's report and recommendation, to the Senate for final action.

(2) Separately from any prosecutions or penalties otherwise provided by law, any person determined to have violated the requirements of this Rule shall be censured, reprimanded, placed on probation, or prohibited from lobbying for the duration of the session and from appearing before any Senate committee of the Senate. Such determination shall be made by a majority vote of the Senate, on recommendation of the Rules Committee on Rules.

9.7—Committees to be diligent

Committees shall be diligent to ascertain whether those who appear before them, in other than an obviously individual capacity, have conformed with the requirements of Rule Nine (9), the Joint Rules, and the Laws of Florida, and shall report violations. No committee member shall knowingly permit an unregistered lobbyist to be heard.

9.8—Lobbyist expenditures and compensation

Chapter 2005-359, Laws of Florida, amends existing provisions of the law relating to legislative lobbying at the state level in Florida and adds new and substantial obligations, prohibitions, and requirements.

This Rule provides assistance to persons seeking to comply with the letter and spirit of the new law as it applies in the legislative context by refining the law and providing Interim Lobbying Guidelines and answers to 25 Frequently Asked Questions. It also is intended to provide guidance to the legislative committees that will participate in enforcing the new law.

Part One of the Guidelines refines and applies the new prohibition, with ten clearly-stated exceptions, so that ~~Senators members~~ and ~~Senate employees of the Senate~~ can no longer directly or indirectly take any “expenditure” from a lobbyist or principal in either the public or private sector.

Part Two of the Guidelines refines and applies the underlying core requirement that “lobbying firms” must publicly disclose the compensation they receive for lobbying activities, and does so in a way that is narrowly-tailored, furthers the state’s compelling governmental interest in regulating legislative lobbying at the state level, and employs the least intrusive means available to do so.

This Rule sets out general principles. Outcomes depend heavily on underlying fact patterns that can vary greatly from case to case. Full disclosure of the operative facts must be provided and considered before a proper and correct answer can be derived.

A ~~Senator member of the Senate~~ may request an informal advisory opinion from the Senate General Counsel regarding the application of the new law and this Rule to a specific situation, on which the legislator may reasonably rely.

The houses of the Legislature are responsible for the administration and enforcement of the legislative lobbying portions of the new law. The legislative lobbying expenditure prohibitions are not part of the Florida Code of Ethics for Public Officers and Employees. Neither the Florida Commission on Ethics nor the Florida courts have jurisdiction to interpret these internal matters of the Legislature.

Part One—Expenditures

(1) General Guidelines

a) The Expenditure Prohibition

The new law contains a prohibition against lobbyists and principals making direct or indirect lobbying expenditures for legislators and legislative employees. It provides:

[N]o lobbyist or principal shall make, directly or indirectly, and no member or employee of the Legislature shall knowingly accept, directly or indirectly, any expenditure... (emphasis added).

The new expenditure prohibition applies only to expenditures made by lobbyists and principals. It applies whether or not the lobbyist, principal, legislator, or legislative employee is in Florida. Florida’s gift law, section 112.3148, Florida Statutes, continues to apply to gifts to legislators and legislative employees from others.

Example: A legislator may accept a subscription to a newspaper or periodical that is neither published by, nor paid for, nor provided by a lobbyist or a principal.

Example: A legislator may not accept a free health screening or other personal service provided on behalf of an association that is a principal.

Example: A legislator may, as either a member or an invited guest, participate in meetings of, and partake of the food and beverage provided by a civic organization if the organization is not a principal.

The practical effect of this law is to prohibit expenditures for attempting to obtain the goodwill of a member or employee of the Legislature, and it is not designed to prohibit expenditures made in attempting to influence legislative action or non-action through oral or written communication.

b) Definitions

“Expenditure” is defined, essentially, as anything of value made by a lobbyist or principal for the purpose of lobbying.

“Lobbying,” in turn, means: (1) influencing or attempting to influence legislative action through oral or written communication (“active lobbying”); or, (2) attempting to obtain the goodwill of a member or employee of the Legislature (“goodwill”).

“Goodwill expenditure” is a gift, an entertainment, any food or beverage, lodging, travel, or any other item or service of personal benefit to a legislator or legislative employee.

Goodwill expenditures include contributions or donations from a lobbyist or a principal to a charitable organization that is, directly or indirectly, established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof.

A “lobbyist” is a person who is employed and receives a payment, or who contracts for economic consideration, for the purpose of lobbying, or a person who is principally employed for governmental affairs by another person or governmental entity to lobby on behalf of that other person or governmental entity.

“Personal benefit” means a profit or gain pertaining to, directed toward, or affecting a person.

A “principal” means the person, firm, corporation, or other entity that has employed or retained a lobbyist. When an association has employed or retained a lobbyist, the association is the principal; the individual members of the association are not principals merely because of their membership in the association.

c) Honorarium-related Expenses

It is no longer permissible to accept from a lobbyist or principal, directly or indirectly, payment or reimbursement of expenses for travel, food, lodging, or beverage, related to speaking engagements or other honorarium-type events.

d) Indirect Expenditures

An indirect expenditure is an expenditure that is not made directly to a legislator or legislative employee, but is made to another with the purpose that the expenditure be used for the personal benefit of a legislator or legislative employee.

The new expenditure prohibition expressly prohibits any lobbyist or principal from directing prohibited lobbying expenditures through a surrogate or through any person who by his or her actions or activities is obligated to register as a lobbyist but has failed to do so. Third party intermediaries, such as employees, members of associations and others, cannot be used to make prohibited expenditures.

Where an item or service (anything of value) is provided to a person other than a legislator or legislative employee by a lobbyist or principal and the item or service or the benefit attributable to the item or service ultimately is received by the legislator or employee, and where the item or service is provided with the intent to benefit the legislator or employee, such item or service constitutes a prohibited indirect expenditure to the legislator or employee.

TEST FOR DETERMINING LEGALITY OF AN INDIRECT EXPENDITURE

(1) The existence or nonexistence of communications by the lobbyist or principal indicating the lobbyist’s or principal’s intent to make or convey the item or service, or a personal benefit attributable to the item or service, to a legislator or employee rather than to the intervening third person;

(2) The existence or nonexistence of communications by the intervening third person indicating the intent to make or convey the lobbyist’s or principal’s item or service, or a personal benefit attributable to the item or service, to a legislator or employee rather than to the third person;

(3) The existence or nonexistence of any relationship between the lobbyist or principal and the third person, independent of the relationship between the lobbyist or principal and a legislator or employee, that would motivate the transfer to the third person;

(4) The existence or nonexistence of any relationship between the third person and a legislator or employee that would motivate the transfer;

(5) Whether the same or similar items or services have been or are being provided to other persons having the same relationship to the lobbyist or principal as the third person;

(6) Whether, under the circumstances, the third person had full and independent decision-making authority to determine whether a legislator or employee, or another, would receive the items or services, or a personal benefit attributable to the items or services;

(7) Whether the third person was acting with the knowledge or consent of, or under the direction of, the lobbyist or principal;

(8) Whether there were payments or the intention for any payments or bookkeeping transactions between the third person and the lobbyist or principal, reimbursing the third person for the items or services;

(9) The degree of ownership or control the lobbyist or principal had over the third person; and,

(10) Whether a lobbyist or principal knew, or should have known, that an item or service provided to a third-party would be used to provide a personal benefit to a legislator or employee, such as for the funding of a legislative reception or an event to be attended by legislators or employees.

Example 1: A law firm which lobbies the Legislature invites all of its attorneys to attend a weekend retreat. The attorneys are encouraged to bring their spouses or significant others at the firm's expense. Legislator C is married to an attorney in the firm and has been asked by her spouse to attend the retreat. The lodging provided to Legislator C for the retreat, food and drink, firm t-shirts, and the like would be considered a gift to her from her spouse and thus not a prohibited indirect expenditure, because the firm's invitation was extended to Legislator C's spouse by virtue of his employment with the firm.

Example 2: Legislator D hosts a fox hunt attended by legislators and lobbyists. Lobbyists give money to a third person, who is not a legislator or a legislative employee, to pay for the food and beverages which will be served at the fox hunt. The third party orders and prepares the food and beverages. The money provided to the third person by the lobbyists would be a prohibited indirect expenditure to Legislator D, because it was given with the intent of benefiting him and his guests at the fox hunt.

Example 3: Legislator N and spouse have arranged to take a vacation trip together. A legislative lobbyist meets with Legislator N's spouse and offers to pay for the spouse's travel expenses. The lobbyist and Legislator N's spouse know each other only through the lobbyist's involvement with the legislator. This would constitute a prohibited indirect expenditure to Legislator N under the new law.

e) Equal or Greater Compensation

An expenditure is not prohibited when equal or greater value is given contemporaneously by the recipient to the donor.

Therefore, it is not an expenditure if:

1. The fair market value of the event, meeting, or other activity, including any food, beverage, transportation, lodging or any other thing of value, can readily be determined, and

2. The legislator or legislative employee pays his or her pro rata share of the total fair market value to the person or organization hosting the event contemporaneously with the time of attending or participating in the event.

Thus, if a lobbyist or principal provides $35 worth of goods or services to a legislator or legislative employee but the legislator or legislative employee contemporaneously provides equal or greater consideration, the lobbyist or principal has not provided anything of value, thus, there is no "expenditure."

f) Valuation

The law is silent as to the valuation of goods and services. Fair market value is the proper and applicable standard of valuation.

The retail price of an item or service is presumed to be its fair market value so long as it is reasonable in relation to the value of the item or service and the amount is not subsidized by a lobbyist or principal.

In valuing an expenditure, you may exclude the amount of additional expenses that are regularly required as a condition precedent to the donor's eligibility to make the expenditure if the amount expended for the condition precedent is primarily intended to be for a purpose other than lobbying, and is either primarily for the benefit of the donor or is paid to a charitable organization. Initiation fees and membership fees are examples of additional expenses that are regularly required as conditions precedent for eligibility to make an expenditure. Transportation expenses incurred to bring a member to an out-of-town event are not.

Entrance fees, admission fees, or tickets are normally valued on the face value or on a daily or per event basis. The portion of a ticket attributable to a charitable contribution is not included in the value. Conversely, if the ticket is subsidized by contributions of lobbyists or principals, the pro rata subsidized amount must be attributed to the face value.

A person providing transportation in a private automobile shall be considered to be making an expenditure at the then-current statutory reimbursement rate, which is currently 29 cents per mile. The value of transportation provided in other private conveyances must be calculated on its fair market value.

g) Exceptions

1. Relatives

A relative is an individual who is related to the member or employee as father, mother, son, daughter, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, first cousin, nephew, niece, husband, wife, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepson, stepdaughter, grandparent, grandchild, great grandchild, step grandparent, step great grandparent, step grandchild, or step great grandchild; any person who is engaged to be married to the member or employee or who otherwise holds himself or herself out as or is generally known as the person whom the member or employee intends to marry or with whom the member or employee intends to form a household; or any other natural person having the same legal residence as the member or employee.

This definition of "relative" is taken from former Joint Rule 1.4(4)(b), and has operated historically as an exception to the presumption that things of value given to a legislator or employee by a lobbyist or principal are intended for the purpose of engendering goodwill.

Example: A legislator is permitted to accept a Christmas gift from an aunt, even if she is a lobbyist. The gift is not deemed an expenditure made for the purpose of lobbying because of the family relationship between the donor and the donee.

2. Employment-related Compensation and Benefits

Salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with the recipient's employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization are not prohibited expenditures so long as they are given in an amount commensurate with other similarly situated employees, officers, or directors.

These sorts of expenditures are currently also excepted from the definition of a gift in section 112.312(12)(b), Florida Statutes, and are a necessary exception in order for many legislators to continue their employment or continue their service on boards and continue to serve in Florida's citizen Legislature.

Example: A legislator who is on the board of directors of an organization that has a lobbyist is nevertheless permitted to partake of food and beverage provided to the board members by the organization at its board meetings.

3. Political Organizations and Entities

An expenditure does not include contributions or expenditures reported pursuant to chapter 106, Florida Statutes, or its federal law counterpart; campaign-related personal services provided without compensation by individuals volunteering their time; any other contribution or expenditure made by a chapter 106 entity such as a candidate campaign, political committee, organization making electioneering communications, political party, or committee of continuous existence; or an entity qualified under section 501(c)(4) or section 527 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Members are cautioned that these organizations or entities may not be used as a vehicle for skirting the new lobbying expenditure law. To the extent that funds come from lobbyists or principals, one should exercise great care that the expenditures are legal and appropriate for that particular organization or entity.

4. Communications Expenses

The expenditure prohibitions in the new law do not reach expenditures made by a lobbyist or principal for items such as “media advertising,” “publications,” “communications,” and “research.”

Expenditures for researching, gathering, collating, organizing, providing, or disseminating information for the exclusive purpose of “active lobbying” (influencing or attempting to influence legislative action through oral or written communication) are necessary for Floridians to be able to “instruct their representatives.”

5. Office and Personal Expenses of Lobbyists and Principals

“Office expenses” and personal expenses of the lobbyist or principal for “travel,” “lodging,” and “food and beverages” as those items were defined in former Joint Rule 1.4(4)(c) are exempt from the prohibition on lobbying expenditures. This category does not include any expenses for legislators, legislative employees, or persons whose expenses would be attributed to them.

6. Government to Government Expenditures

Real property or a facility owned or operated by a state or local public agency or entity that is a lobbying principal, and transportation to, from, and at the location provided by that agency or entity may, with the prior approval of the respective state legislative presiding officer or his or her designee, be used without payment, by a member, committee, or staff of the Legislature for a public legislative purpose. Such purposes include publicly noticed legislative committee meetings and site visits to operations conducted by the public agency or entity. Allowable free uses also specifically include legislative district offices and sub-offices and the normally attendant utilities, parking, janitorial services, building maintenance, and telecommunications equipment and services common to a government building in which the office is located. Allowable free use does not extend to sports or entertainment venues; does not include food, beverages, or entertainment; and does not include free parking privileges at any location other than a district office or sub-office.

7. Free and Open Public Events

Expenditures directly associated with events that are held within the Capitol complex, out-of-doors or under temporary shelter, open to the general public, widely and publicly noticed, free to all, not ticketed, and for which equal and totally unobstructed access to the general public is provided, are not prohibited expenditures made by lobbyists or principals, or when accepted by legislators or legislative employees.

Example: Atlas County, Florida is holding Atlas Day in the plaza between the Capitol and the Historic Capitol. Lunch is served to all comers. The event was widely publicized and access to the event and the food and beverage is totally unobstructed. Legislators may partake as well.

8. Regional and National Legislative Organizations

The prohibition does not apply to expenditures made directly or indirectly by a state, regional, or national organization that promotes the exchange of ideas between, or the professional development of, governmental officials or employees, and whose membership is primarily composed of elected or appointed public officials or staff to members of that organization or to officials or staff of the Legislature. This exception does not include extracurricular activities, entertainments, or items or services provided at conferences that are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal.

9. Monetary Value Impossible to Ascertain

The value of some items is truly impossible to quantify at the time of the expenditure. Expenditures for which a monetary value is not ascertainable at the time of the expenditure are not prohibited. Examples are: appearing on a news show or having a feature article about a legislator in a trade magazine or other medium, applause received by a legislator at an event, obtaining priority seating in a crowded restaurant or priority for obtaining services where there is an established queue, or the pro-rata portion of a host’s monthly or annual membership in an exclusive supper club.

10. Plaques and Certificates

The prohibition does not apply to personalized wall plaques, personalized photographs, or personalized certificates, that have no substantial inherent value other than recognizing the donee’s public, civic, charitable, or professional service.

h) Effect of Other Laws and Rules

To the extent that an expenditure is excluded or exempt from the new lobbying prohibition in section 11.045, Florida Statutes, it is still subject to the restrictions and requirements in other statutes: most notably, the gift law (section 112.3148, Florida Statutes) and the campaign finance law (chapter 106, Florida Statutes).

(2) Frequently Asked Questions

LEGISLATIVE EVENTS/RECEPTIONS

1. Question: Can a county legislative delegation or delegation office sponsor an annual event in Tallahassee on public grounds or in quarters belonging to either the Senate or the House of Representatives (i.e., “Flavors of Hillsborough”)?

ANSWER: A county legislative delegation may host an annual event in Tallahassee provided that no free food, beverages, or other personal benefits to a legislator or legislative employee are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal, either directly or indirectly.

Legislators and legislative staff may pay an amount established and published by the delegation as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the delegation may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph 1.g)7. above.

2. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee go up to the 22nd floor of the Capitol and partake of free food and drink provided by an organization hosting a luncheon or event at the Capitol?

ANSWER: It depends. Yes, provided the organization hosting the event is not a principal and none of the food and beverages are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal. Otherwise, the legislator or legislative employee could attend the event but could not partake of the free food or beverages or they can pay the fair market value of what they consume.

3. Question: Can “legislative days” that provide food, beverages, entertainment, and other personal benefits to legislators or legislative employees during the session and are hosted by counties, cities, universities, and others that employ a lobbyist continue?

ANSWER: “Legislative days” and other legislative events funded by lobbyist or principal dollars may continue provided no free food, drink, entertainment, or other personal benefit is provided to a legislator or legislative employee, either directly or indirectly. Any such benefit would be a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

Legislators and legislative staff may pay an amount established and published by the sponsor as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the sponsor may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph 1.g)7. above.

4. Question: Can a not-for-profit organization host receptions and events for legislators that provide food, beverages, entertainment, and other personal benefits to legislators or legislative employees through contributions solicited from lobbyists or principals who sponsor the reception or event?

ANSWER: The charity may host a reception or event for legislators and legislative employees provided that no free food, beverages, entertainment, or other personal benefit is provided to a legislator or legislative employee from the funds of lobbyists or principals.

Legislators and legislative employees may pay an amount established and published by the sponsor as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the sponsor may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph 1.g)7. above.

5. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal host an event with food, beverages, entertainment, or other personal benefit for legislators or legislative employees and collect from each legislator or legislative employee, a flat, per-person entrance fee based on the total cost to plan, produce, stage, and clean up after the event, divided by the number of persons reasonably expected to attend?

ANSWER: Yes.

6. Question: Each year, a few associations host legislative receptions / BBQs and invite their members as well as legislators. They usually pass out campaign funds at these events to those who support their industry. Would it now be legal to host this event if it were called a “fundraiser”? Could legislators then accept free food and beverages at the event?

ANSWER: Senate Rule 1.361 precludes a senator, and House Rule 15.3 precludes a representative, from accepting a campaign contribution during a regular or special session, in addition to prohibiting them from accepting contributions on behalf of a section 527 or section 501(c)(4) organization, a political committee, a committee of continuous existence, a political party, or the campaign of any other senatorial candidate or candidate for representative, respectively. Thus, any fundraiser held during a regular or special session would violate the rules of each house.

Fundraisers not held during a regular or special session are outside the purview of the expenditure prohibitions in the new law. A goodwill lobbying expenditure does not include contributions or expenditures reported pursuant to chapter 106, Florida Statutes. However, if the facts and circumstances demonstrate that calling the event a “fundraiser” is merely an artifice for lobbyists or principals to provide free gifts, food, beverages, and other items or services of personal benefit to a legislator, not associated with influencing the results of an election, then the fundraiser would violate the expenditure prohibition of the new law. Note, also, that fundraisers remain subject to the contribution restrictions and requirements of Florida’s campaign finance law (chapter 106, Florida Statutes).

HONORARIA EXPENSES

7. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal continue to pay or reimburse a legislator’s or legislative employee’s expenses for such items as food and beverages, travel, and lodging associated with an honorarium event?

ANSWER: No.

GIFTS TO LEGISLATORS

8. Question: Can a school child give a legislator a painting that he or she has made?

ANSWER: Yes. The prohibition against lobbying expenditures only applies to lobbyists and principals, and those acting on their behalf.

9. Question: Can a school student whose parent is a lobbyist or principal give a scarf that was purchased by the child’s parent to a legislator as a gift?

ANSWER: It depends. The lobbying expenditure prohibition applies to all gifts from lobbyists or principals to legislators, directly or indirectly. A lobbyist or principal cannot use a third-party intermediary to circumvent the lobbying expenditure prohibition. Thus, if the facts and circumstances demonstrate that the scarf is an indirect gift from the lobbyist or principal to the legislator, it would be prohibited.

10. Question: Can a legislator accept rent-free office space and associated building services from a city, county, or community college in his or her district that employs or retains a lobbyist?

ANSWER: Yes. See Paragraph 1.g)6. above for explanation and limitations.

11. Question: Can a legislator or legislative staff accept transportation services from another governmental entity?

ANSWER: Yes. See Paragraph 1.g)6. above for explanation and limitations.

12. Question: Are there any value limitations on the exceptions in the new law for “floral arrangements or other celebratory items given to legislators and displayed in chambers on the opening day of a regular session”?

ANSWER: Yes. All opening day flowers and floral arrangements are subject to the limitations and requirements of the gift law (section 112.3148, Florida Statutes). No other celebratory items will be allowed in either chamber on opening day of the regular session.

FOOD AND BEVERAGES/GIFTS

13. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee and his or her spouse have dinner with a lobbyist friend the legislator or legislative employee has known for 30 years at the lobbyist’s home, whether or not active lobbying occurs?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislator or legislative employee contemporaneously provides the lobbyist with the pro rata share of the total fair market value of the cost of the food and beverages provided to the legislator or legislative employee and his or her spouse, either in cash or barter (i.e., bottle of wine, flowers). Otherwise, the expenditure for food and beverages would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure, irrespective of the extent of the legislator’s and lobbyist’s friendship.

14. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal and legislator or legislative employee have dinner at a public restaurant?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the dinner is “Dutch treat.”

15. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal and a legislator or legislative employee have dinner “Dutch treat” at the Governor’s Club?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislator or legislative employee pays the total cost of all food and beverage that he or she was served or consumed, or that was served to or consumed by a person whose expenditures are attributed to the legislator or legislative employee.

16. Question: Can a lobbyist’s business partner, employee, spouse, or child, who is not a registered lobbyist, accompany the lobbyist and legislator or legislative employee to dinner and pay for all the food and beverages if the partner, employee, spouse, or child does not actively lobby?

ANSWER: No. The lobbying expenditure prohibition applies to all food and beverages provided by lobbyists or principals to legislators or legislative employees, directly or indirectly. A lobbyist or principal cannot utilize a third-party intermediary to channel gifts to legislators to circumvent the lobbying expenditure prohibition.

17. Question: If someone offers a legislator or legislative employee a drink at a bar, or any other gift or personal benefit, does the legislator or legislative employee have a duty to inquire if the donor is a lobbyist or principal?

ANSWER: Yes. A legislator or legislative employee is liable for knowingly accepting an expenditure from a lobbyist or principal, or someone acting on behalf of a lobbyist or principal. “Knowingly” has many statutory definitions, including that a person: (1) has actual knowledge of the information; (2) acts in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information; or, (3) acts in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information. Therefore, prudence dictates that the legislator or legislative employee, at a minimum, make reasonable inquiry as to the source of the proposed expenditure to determine whether it is prohibited. Reasonableness will turn on the facts and circumstances of each individual situation.

For example, a legislator receiving an invitation to an event to be held the next week, from an organization he or she is not familiar with would likely require that the legislator, at a minimum, consult the online directory of legislative principals and lobbyists, and perhaps make further inquiry if facts or circumstances come to light indicating that the organization might be making the expenditure on behalf of a lobbyist or principal. Similarly, a legislator offered a drink from someone he or she doesn't know in a Tallahassee bar or restaurant generally known to be frequented by lobbyists would probably be required, at a minimum, to ask whether the person is a lobbyist or principal or affiliated with a lobbyist or principal. On the other hand, a Miami legislator on personal holiday with his or her spouse at Busch Gardens in Tampa, who strikes up a friendship with a couple they don't know visiting from Colorado and who subsequently offers to pay for the legislator's and spouse's dinner probably has less of a duty to inquire whether either member of the couple is a Florida lobbyist or principal.

CHARITIES

18. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee raise funds from lobbyists or principals for charitable causes?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the charity for which funds are sought is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof. Otherwise, such a contribution or donation would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

19. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee establish or operate a charitable foundation that relies on lobbyist or principal support?

ANSWER: No. A legislator or legislative employee may establish or operate a charitable organization but none of the money contributed or donated to the charity may be from lobbyists or principals. Such a contribution or donation would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

20. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee sit on the board of a charitable organization that is not established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof? Can he or she accept free food and beverages provided by the charity and be reimbursed by the charity for expenses associated with the work of the charity (i.e., travel, lodging)?

ANSWER: Yes. A legislator or legislative employee may sit on the board of a charitable organization that receives donations and contributions from lobbyists, and may partake of free food, beverages, and other personal benefits provided by the charity to board members in connection with their service, including reimbursement of personal expenses incurred by board members in furtherance of the charity's work. A goodwill expenditure does not include salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with a legislator's or legislative employee's employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization. However, any such salary, benefit, services, fees, commissions, gifts or expenses cannot be from funds earmarked by lobbyists or principals to the charity for such purpose and must be received only for the legislator's or legislative employee's service as a member of the board.

21. Question: Can a legislative caucus that is established as a nonprofit group raise funds from lobbyists for its charitable causes?

ANSWER: It depends. If the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, then the answer is no.

If the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, or operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, then the answer is yes.

22. Question: Can a legislative caucus that is established as a nonprofit group host its own charity golf tournament funded by lobbyist or principal "sponsors" at a private club, where the cost of sponsorship buys an opportunity to play golf with a member of the caucus, and to make a presentation to the caucus before and after the event?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, and the legislators and legislative employees pay their own golf fees and the per-person cost for food and beverage.

OTHER

23. Question: What happens when a legislator is married to, related to, or living with a lobbyist? Can the lobbyist pay for meals, lodging, etc.?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the lobbyist does not use the expenditure to actively lobby the legislator. Expenditures by "relatives" of a legislator for food, lodging, travel, and the like are specifically exempt from the definition of a goodwill expenditure.

24. Question: Can a legislator be employed by a lobbyist or principal? Can a legislator go to the employer's retreat and partake of food and beverages?

ANSWER: Yes. A goodwill expenditure does not include salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with a legislator's or legislative employee's employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization.

25. Question: Where a lobbyist or principal leaves a gift, such as a box of chocolates, in a legislator's office, what should the legislator do with the item?

ANSWER: When a legislator or legislative employee receives an item that they believe violates the prohibition against accepting an expenditure from a lobbyist or principal, the item must either be sent back to the donor or delivered to the Sergeant-at-Arms for disposal.

Part Two—Compensation

(1) General Guidelines

Chapter 2005-359, Laws of Florida, for the first time, requires the reporting of compensation received by lobbying firms for each calendar quarter, both in the aggregate and for each individual principal. Much of the reporting is done in dollar categories; however, if compensation from a single principal is $50,000 or more in a calendar quarter, the lobbying firm must report the specific dollar amount of the compensation, rounded to the nearest $1,000.

A "lobbying firm" is any business entity with a lobbyist, or an individual contract lobbyist, who gets paid to lobby for a principal. It is the lobbying firm that must report, not the individual lobbyists in the firm (except in the case of an individual contract lobbyist, where the lobbyist also comprises the entire lobbying firm).

Reports are due no later than 45 days after the end of each calendar quarter. For 2006, compensation reports will be filed on paper forms designed by the Office of Legislative Services. Beginning with the first reporting period in 2007, compensation reports must be filed electronically using the online filing system of the Office of Legislative Services.

The new law requires the senior partner, officer, or owner of the lobbying firm to certify to the veracity and completeness of each compensation report. This requirement is designed to discourage the mischaracterization and thus omission of reportable compensation through designations such as "media fees," "consulting services," "professional services," "governmental services," and other such artifices.

For example, if a law firm were paid a lump sum for rendering multiple types of services to a client, only one of which is lobbying, then the person certifying the report is responsible for properly and reasonably allocating the portion of the total fee received for lobbying activities and for activities other than lobbying. Only the compensation received for lobbying activities is to be reported on the compensation form.

The Legislature will use random audits supplemented by the lobbyist disciplinary process to hold the person certifying the compensation report and the lobbying firm accountable for making a true, complete, properly-allocated report as required by law. In addition, the certification brings every compensation report filer within the scope of potential criminal penalties in section 837.06, Florida Statutes, for culpable violations.

(2) Frequently Asked Questions

1. Question: Is an in-house, salaried lobbyist for an association, a governmental entity, or a corporation that does not derive income from principals for lobbying required to report compensation?

ANSWER: No. An association, a governmental entity, a corporation or other business entity that does not derive income from principals for lobbying, and its employee lobbyists, are not a “lobbying firm” as defined in section 11.045(1)(g), Florida Statutes. Only “lobbying firms” must report compensation as provided in section 11.045(3)(a), Florida Statutes.

2. Question: Does the prohibition against providing compensation to an individual or business entity that is not a lobbying firm, mean that in-house lobbyists must either become a lobbying firm or cease lobbying?

ANSWER: No. The provision in question merely clarifies that reportable “compensation” under the law must be provided to a “lobbying firm,” and not contracted or subcontracted through some “straw man” to circumvent compensation reporting requirements. The provision in question clarifies and emphasizes the statutory definition of “compensation” in section 11.045(1)(b), Florida Statutes, as “anything of value provided or owed to a lobbying firm.”

11.2—Waiver and suspension of Rules

These Rules shall not be waived or suspended except by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present. The motion, when made, shall be decided without debate. A motion to waive a Rule requiring unanimous consent of the Senate shall be construed to be an amendment to these Rules and shall be referred to the Rules Committee ~~on Rules~~ except by unanimous consent of those Senators present.

11.3—Changes in Rules

All proposed actions regarding the Rules and Order of Business in the Senate shall be first referred to the Rules Committee ~~on Rules~~, which shall report as soon as practicable. Consideration of such a report shall always be in order. The Rules Committee ~~on Rules~~ may originate reports and resolutions dealing with the Senate Rules and the Order of Business, and such power shall be exclusive, provided, however, that any report made pursuant to this Rule may be amended by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

11.4—Majority action

Unless otherwise indicated by the Senate Rules or the State Constitution, all action by the Senate shall be by majority vote of those Senators present.

11.5—Uniform construction

11.6—General

When used in the Senate Rules, the following words shall, unless the text otherwise indicates, have the following respective meaning: the singular always includes the plural. Except where specifically provided or where the context indicates otherwise, the use of the word “bill,” ~~or~~ “measure,” or “matter” means a bill, joint resolution, concurrent resolution, resolution, or memorial; however, “matter” also means an amendment, an appointment, or a suspension.

RULE TWELVE

PART ONE—EXECUTIVE SESSIONS

12.1—Executive session; authority

The business of the Senate shall be transacted openly and not in executive session except under conditions pursuant to Article III, Section 4(b) of the State Constitution.

12.2—Executive session; purpose

Pursuant to Article III, Section 4(b) of the State Constitution, the Senate may resolve itself into executive session for the sole purpose of considering appointment, removal, or suspension. No one shall be in attendance except Senators, the Secretary ~~of the Senate~~, and staff as approved by the President, who shall be sworn not to disclose any executive business without consent of the Senate.

12.3—Executive session; vote required

When the Senate agrees, by a majority of those Senators present, that specified appointments, removals, or suspensions shall be considered in executive session, such shall be calendared for formal consideration by the Senate.

12.4—Work product confidentiality

All information and remarks including committee work product concerning the character and qualification, together with the vote on each appointment, removal, or suspension considered in executive session shall be kept confidential except information on which the bans of confidentiality were lifted by the Senate while in executive session.

12.5—Separate Journal

A separate Journal shall be kept of executive proceedings of the Senate, and no information regarding same shall be made public except by order of the Senate or by order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

12.6—Violation of Rule

Violation of the above Rules as to the confidentiality of the proceedings of executive sessions shall be considered by the Senate as sufficient grounds for unseating the offending Senator.

PART TWO—APPOINTMENTS, SUSPENSIONS, AND REMOVALS12.7—Procedure

(1) Except as otherwise herein provided, on receipt by the Senate of appointments or suspensions on which action by the Senate is required, the President shall refer each to the ~~Committee on~~ Ethics and Elections Subcommittee, other appropriate committee or committees, or to a Special Master appointed by the President. Any such committee, subcommittee, or Special Master shall make inquiry or investigation and hold hearings, as appropriate, and advise the President and the Senate with a recommendation and the necessity for deliberating the subject in executive session. Reports and findings of the committee, subcommittee, or the Special Master appointed pursuant hereto are advisory only and shall be made to the ~~Senate~~ President. The report of the committee, subcommittee, or the Special Master may be privileged and confidential. The President may order the report presented to the Senate in either open or executive session, or the President may refer it to the Rules Committee on Rules for its consideration and report. When the report is presented to the Senate in open session or received by the Rules Committee on Rules, the report shall lose its privileged and confidential character.

(2) Upon receipt of a request by the Governor or other appointing official or authority for the return of the documentation of an appointment, which appointment has not been acted upon by the Senate, the Secretary ~~of the Senate~~, upon consultation with the President, shall return the appointment documentation and the return shall be noted in the ~~Journal of the Senate~~. The appointee whose appointment was returned continues in office until the end of the next ensuing session of the Legislature or until the Senate confirms a successor, whichever occurs first.

- (a) If the appointment returned was made by the Governor, official or authority's predecessor, the appointee shall not be subject to the provisions of section 114.05(1)(e) or (f), Florida Statutes, during the period of withdrawal.
- (b) If the appointment returned was made by the Governor, official or authority requesting the return, for purposes of section 114.05(1)(e) and (f), Florida Statutes, the returned appointment shall be treated as if the Senate failed to consider the appointment.

(3) An executive suspension of a public official who is under indictment or who has pending against him or her criminal charges filed by the appropriate prosecuting officer in a court of record, or an executive suspension of a public official that is challenged in a court shall be referred to the ~~Committee on~~ Ethics and Elections Subcommittee, other appropriate committee or Special Master; however, all inquiry or investigation or hearings thereon shall be held in abeyance and the matter shall not be considered by the Senate, ~~the committee, subcommittee, or~~

~~the~~ Special Master until the pending charges have been dismissed, or until final determination of the criminal charges at the trial court level, or until the final determination of a court challenge, if any, and the exhaustion of all appellate remedies for any of the above. In a suspension case in which the criminal charge is not for the alleged commission of a felony, the committee, subcommittee, or ~~the~~ Special Master, and the Senate may proceed if the written consent of counsel for the Governor and of the suspended official is obtained.

(4) The Governor and the suspended official shall be given reasonable notice in writing of any hearing or pre-hearing conference before the committee or Special Master.

(5) The suspended official may file with the Secretary ~~of the Senate~~, no later than ten (10) days prior to the first (1st) pre-hearing conference, or no later than the date set by the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master if no pre-hearing conference is held, all written defenses or matters in avoidance of the charges contained in the suspension order.

(6) When it is advisable, the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master may request that the Governor file a bill of particulars containing a statement of further facts and circumstances supporting the suspension order. Within twenty (20) days after the receipt of such bill of particulars by the suspended officer, that officer shall file with the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master a response to the Governor's bill of particulars. Such response shall specifically admit or deny the facts or circumstances set forth in the Governor's bill of particulars, and may further make such representation of fact and circumstances or assert such further defenses as are responsive to the bill of particulars or as may bear on the matter of the suspension.

(7) The committee, subcommittee, or Special Master may provide for a pre-hearing conference with counsel for the Governor and the suspended official to narrow the issues involved in the suspension. At such conference, both the Governor and the suspended official shall set forth the names and addresses of all the witnesses they intend to call, the nature of their testimony, ~~and~~ photocopies of all documentary evidence, and a description of all physical evidence that will be relied on by the parties at the hearing. Each shall state briefly what each expects to prove by such testimony and evidence.

(8) Subject to the limitations of Rule 12.7(3), the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master shall institute action by transmitting a notice of hearing for a pre-hearing conference or a hearing on the merits within three (3) months after the effective date of the suspension order. If a suspension order is referred to the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master but is held in abeyance in accordance with Rule 12.7(3), the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master shall institute action within three (3) months after the termination of pending proceedings as described in Rule 12.7(3). The Senate may act on the recommendations of the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master at any time it is in session but shall do so no later than the end of the next regular session of the Legislature.

(9) For the purposes of Article IV, Section 7(b) of the State Constitution, the Senate may find that the suspended official has committed a felony notwithstanding that a court may have withheld adjudication of guilt upon which the suspension order is based in whole or in part.

(10) If the Governor files an amended suspension order, the attention of the Senate, ~~the committee, subcommittee, or the~~ Special Master shall be directed at the amended suspension order.

(11) Within sixty (60) days after the Senate has completed final action on the recommendation of the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master, any party to the suspension matter may request the return, at that party's expense, of any exhibit, document, or other evidence introduced by that party. After the expiration of sixty (60) days from the date the Senate has completed final action, the committee, subcommittee, or Special Master may dispose of such exhibits or other evidence.

12.8—Special Master; appointment

The President may appoint and contract for the services of a Special Master to perform such duties and make such reports in relation to suspensions and removals as he or she shall prescribe.

12.9—Special Master; floor privilege

With consent of the President, the Special Master may have the privilege of the Senate floor to present and explain the report and answer questions as to the law and facts involved.

12.10—Issuance of subpoenas and process

The committee, ~~subcommittee~~, and the Special Master shall each have the authority to request the issuance of subpoenas, subpoenas duces tecum, and other necessary process under Rule 2.2. The committee chair, ~~subcommittee chair~~, and the Special Master may each administer all oaths and affirmations in the manner prescribed by law to witnesses who shall appear to testify on matters pending before the committee, ~~subcommittee~~, or Special Master.

12.11—Rule takes precedence

In any situation where there is a direct conflict between the provisions of Rule Twelve (12) and part V of chapter 112, Florida Statutes, Rule Twelve (12), derived from Article III, Section 4(a) of the State Constitution, shall take precedence.

RULE THIRTEENSPECIAL SESSION*13.1—Applicability of Senate Rules

(2) The notice ~~posted~~ shall include the date, time, and place of the meeting together with the name of the introducer, ~~subject short title~~, number of each bill to be considered, and the amendment deadline for the meeting. All other provisions for publication of notice of committee meetings are suspended.

13.4—Delivery for introduction

All bills for introduction may be delivered to the Secretary ~~of the Senate~~ at any time.

13.5—Committee reports

Any bill on which no committee report is filed may be withdrawn from such committee and calendared on point of order. Every bill referred to a standing subcommittee shall be reported to the standing committee at a time specified by the chair of the standing committee which shall not be beyond the time allowed herein.

13.6—Conference committee reports

recommended. During the last two (2) days of a special session the report shall be read only once. A conference committee report shall be made available to the membership two (2) hours prior to the beginning of debate of the report by the Senate.

(4) A conference committee may only report by recommending the adoption of a series of amendments to the House or Senate bill that was the subject of the conference, or it may offer an amendment deleting everything after the enacting clause of any such bill referred to the committee. In any event the conference committee may recommend, as part of its report, the adoption or rejection of any or all of the amendments theretofore adopted by either house.

(5) When ~~a bill is referred to a conference committee and the conferees on the part of the Senate report an inability to agree, any no action of the Senate taken prior to such reference to a conference committee shall not~~ preclude further action on said measure as the Senate may determine.

(6) After Senate conferees have been appointed for thirty-six (36) hours and have failed to make a report, it is a motion of the highest privilege to move to discharge said Senate conferees and to appoint new conferees, or to instruct said Senate conferees.

PLEDGE

Former Senator Carey Baker led the Senate in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

By direction of the President, the Secretary read the following proclamation:

THE FLORIDA LEGISLATURE JOINT PROCLAMATION

TO THE HONORABLE MEMBERS OF THE FLORIDA SENATE AND THE FLORIDA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:

We, Mike Haridopolos, President of the Florida Senate, and Dean Cannon, Speaker of the Florida House of Representatives, by virtue of the authority vested in us by Article III, Section 3(c)(2), Florida Constitution, and Section 11.011, Florida Statutes, do hereby proclaim:

VETOED BILLS 2010 REGULAR SESSION

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 6

The Honorable Kurt S. Browning
Secretary of State

April 15, 2010

Dear Secretary Browning:

By the authority vested in me as the Governor of Florida, and under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 6, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Education Personnel...

The decision to approve or veto a bill is one of the fundamental duties of the Governor. Since 2007, I have reviewed hundreds of proposed laws. More often than not, I sign bills approved by the Legislature because the process generally produces ideas which embody the ideals of representative government. Though sparingly, I have exercised the authority to veto legislation.

To proponents of a bill, a Governor's veto may be mischaracterized as ill informed or political. It is likely that my action today will be met with similar charges from supporters of SB 6. However, there is only one person who can accurately state the reason for a veto - the one who holds the pen.

Let me be clear; I veto SB 6 because this bill is contrary to my firmly held principle to act in the best interest of the People of Florida. I am confident in my decision today because I know it is the right thing to do for the People.

After reviewing the legislation, I have identified several issues of concern. First and foremost, this bill does not appropriately accommodate special education students and their dedicated teachers. These children can and do learn; however, there must be more consideration given to their individual needs than is afforded in this bill.

Further, the bill does encroach on local decision-making. At worst, it could result in an infringement upon the constitutional authority of school boards. While the bill allows school boards to create district policies, there are considerable directives given to local boards and a requirement for state sign-off before plans can be approved. Some of these directives are quite overreaching, such as not allowing multi-year teacher contracts, choosing arbitrary percentages for calculating a teacher's effectiveness, and permanently decertifying an excellent teacher in Florida who simply needed improvement two out of the previous five years on the job.

SB 6 places teachers in jeopardy of losing their jobs and teaching certificates without a clear understanding of how gains will be measured, and without taking into account circumstances beyond the control of teachers. Teachers have an incredible impact on the lives of their students, but they are not the only influence.

During the House debate and after the final passage of the bill, even the supporters of SB 6 acknowledged the imperfections of the bill. They were satisfied with the ability to come back next year for a glitch bill or make corrections and clarifications in the implementing process. Such assurances are not enough for me to sign this legislation today.

Finally, I veto this bill because of the process by which it was passed. This legislation sped through committees without the meaningful input of parents, teachers, superintendents, and school boards. It was troubling to learn that the bill would not be amended after it passed in the Senate, particularly when more and more concerns were coming to light. As I articulated on the opening day of the 2010 Legislative Session, "It is not only the substance of those issues that is important; it is also the attitude with which you address them. These will determine whether you have done your job well."

The incredible outpouring of opposition by teachers, parents, students, superintendents, school boards, and legislators has greatly influenced my decision today. They brought to light many concerns that were not addressed in the amendatory process. As with any major legislation, stated goals sometimes do not match the words in the bill. That is why under normal circumstances bills can be meaningfully debated and changed so that flaws may be remedied.

In summary, I find the content of SB 6 and the manner of its adoption significantly flawed. Nonetheless, I believe in the stated goals of establishing differential and performance-based merit pay for classroom teachers, developing workable measures of student learning gains, and preparing students for their place in a global economy. These are worthy of future pursuit in a collaborative setting with participation of those who are directly impacted.

To those who may ask for a prescribed fix for SB 6, I say we must start over. This bill has deeply and negatively affected the morale of our teachers, parents, and students. They are not confident in our system because they do not believe that their voices were heard. They, like I, did not fathom that there would be no opportunity for meaningful deliberation and appropriate changes to this bill. Tens of thousands of Floridians have reached out to me asking for a veto of SB 6 and instead address the important goal of improving education in a more deliberative and open manner. Should the Legislature decide to go back to the drawing board, I believe it is critical that they heed the call of Floridians. To make such landmark changes, we must have the patience and wisdom to communicate effectively with the People.

As Governor, it is my responsibility to work ardently to position Florida for success on round two of "Race to the Top." Although Florida's first application was strong, we learned a very important lesson on the value of stakeholder participation. Like every good competitor, we will make strategic changes and raise our game. In the coming days I will announce the creation of a collaborative work group to thoroughly review and vet our application and suggest improvements that will help us win.

Florida has made tremendous gains in our education system. We cannot, we must not stop. As we move forward, let us ensure that we fulfill our highest calling, which is to honor the People for whom this government is established. The education of our children is far too important for us to do otherwise.

For this reason, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 6, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 1004

The Honorable Dawn K. Roberts
Interim Secretary of State

June 1, 2010

Dear Interim Secretary Roberts:

By the authority vested in me as the Governor of Florida, and under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1004, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Local Government...

When I took office, I promised the people of Florida that government transactions and information would be open to public input and transparent in its execution. Competitive bidding by governmental entities protects the public's interest and assures the best use of taxpayers' dollars. Laws are in effect which require competitive bidding of county lease agreements. This law is sufficient to achieve balance and protection of the public's interest and enable county government officials to achieve the best bid.

Local governments should strive to adhere to competitive bidding standards. Because we are elected officials, we have a responsibility to conduct business in the open for all to compete. We should not modify laws in the name of ease in exchange for the public's trust.

For this reason, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1004, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 1516

The Honorable Dawn K. Roberts
Interim Secretary of State

May 28, 2010

Dear Interim Secretary Roberts:

By the authority vested in me as the Governor of Florida, and under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1516, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to state-owned lands...

This bill requires the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) to create and maintain a real property database that includes an inventory of all property, including buildings, which are owned, rented, occupied or managed by any state agency or the judicial branch. DEP is Florida's state agency charged with protecting natural resources and preventing pollution to our environment. A significant element of its mission is to acquire, manage and account for conservation lands. Fulfilling this natural resource protection function is unique to those real property assets of the state held as conservation lands. Giving DEP the responsibility for accounting for all state real property would blur the natural resource protection mission of the agency and provide increased responsibilities that fall outside of that mission. DEP is the appropriate agency to oversee the acquisition and management of conservation lands, but maintenance of a comprehensive database of other state-owned real property should not be added to its responsibilities.

For this reason, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1516, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 1842

The Honorable Dawn K. Roberts
Interim Secretary of State

June 4, 2010

Dear Interim Secretary Roberts:

By the authority vested in me as the Governor of Florida, and under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1842, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Transportation Projects...

The bill creates additional requirements and conditions in order for a roadway design to include a median with turning lanes.

The safe and the efficient movement of people, goods and services on our roadways continue to be an important priority for my administration. Current law provides citizens, businesses and local governments the opportunity to provide their input into the decision-making process through public hearings. The bill creates confusion by duplicating existing processes for public notice and hearings and applying it only to modifications of access. It introduces but does not define "affected property owners," again, only related to modifications of access. These important public safety projects should not be subjected to unnecessary delays.

For this reason, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1842, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 1964

The Honorable Dawn K. Roberts
Interim Secretary of State

June 1, 2010

Dear Interim Secretary Roberts:

By the authority vested in me as the Governor of Florida, and under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1964, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Design Professionals...

The bill limits the tort liability of design professionals for economic damages from a design defect. The design professionals affected by the bill include licensed engineers, surveyors, architects, interior designers, and landscape architects. This limit of liability grants unique privileges to design professionals by removing a consumer's right to bring a tort action against them for economic damages caused by their negligence. Other professionals, such as accountants, doctors, and lawyers, cannot similarly limit their professional duty of care.

An error in design may create significant economic damages to both business and home owners. I am concerned this bill fails to provide any alternate remedies and shifts the losses for design defects to consumers.

For the reasons stated above, I am hereby withholding my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1964 and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 2044

The Honorable Dawn K. Roberts
Interim Secretary of State

June 1, 2010

Dear Interim Secretary Roberts:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 2044, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Insurance...

Senate Bill 2044 makes numerous changes to the law relating primarily to residential property insurance. I am most concerned about the expansion of the current expedited rate filing procedure for property insurers that makes it easier to increase Floridians premiums. During these very difficult economic times, Florida's consumers should not have to be concerned with an additional premium increase to their policy.

Additionally, the bill makes troubling changes to the way mitigation discounts are applied. Specifically, responsible Floridians who have already made investments to harden their homes could be unfairly penalized.

Therefore, I am withholding my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 2044, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

The bills, together with the Governor's objections thereto, were referred to the Committee on Rules.

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the United States establishes a limited Federal Government and guarantees the rights of individuals and the rights of states, and

WHEREAS, the Florida Constitution requires a balanced budget and establishes the foundation for the state’s fiscal responsibilities, and

WHEREAS, the Medicaid program was established in 1965 as a federal and state partnership, based on shared responsibility, distinct authority, and mutual financial participation, and

WHEREAS, Florida’s Medicaid program has operated for 45 years with authority to determine eligibility, define covered services, and set payment levels, and

WHEREAS, decisions by the Florida Legislature about Medicaid must be made after consideration of the ongoing tax burden carried by Floridians, the state’s available resources, and other state obligations, and

WHEREAS, the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act eliminates state discretionary powers over eligibility by mandating coverage of at least 1.8 million new enrollees in Florida and prohibiting any changes to current eligibility standards, and

WHEREAS, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act further hinders the state’s ability to manage its resources by mandating previously optional services, requiring specific payment levels to certain providers, and imposing numerous additional administrative requirements, and

WHEREAS, the cumulative effect of new federal requirements is to commandeer an increasing amount of Florida’s resources while leaving the state with few options for cost containment or program improvement, and

WHEREAS, Florida’s current Medicaid program is expected to cost more than $20 billion per year, including $5.5 billion in state funds, and will require more than $2.5 billion in additional general revenue to meet current commitments in the next 3 fiscal years, and

WHEREAS, additional requirements imposed by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act will add nearly another $1 billion more to the state’s financial obligation by 2016, require an escalating state financial commitment, and disallow essential means of state fiscal control, and

WHEREAS, the performance of Florida’s Medicaid program is undermined by limited physician participation, complex programmatic design, extensive fraud, and inadequate quality controls, and

WHEREAS, Medicaid participants are poorly served by a program that cannot deliver coordinated and accessible health care, and

WHEREAS, the future of Florida’s Medicaid program requires the delivery of more effective and affordable services to a growing, diverse, and aging population, and

WHEREAS, the rebuilding of Florida’s Medicaid program is best accomplished through extension and modification of the current Medicaid reform waiver, and

WHEREAS, the Agency for Health Care Administration is negotiating pursuant to chapter 2010-144, Laws of Florida, an extension of the current Medicaid reform waiver beyond its 5-year term, and requires additional legislative guidance to successfully complete the negotiation, and

WHEREAS, the objectives contained in this memorial are meant to be instructive to the Agency for Health Care Administration in its negotiations for the extension of the Medicaid reform waiver, and

WHEREAS, the Florida Legislature intends to transform the Florida Medicaid program into a statewide integrated managed care program for all services, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

(1) That the Florida Legislature urges Congress to amend Title XIX of the Social Security Act in order to reestablish a fair and prudent federal-state partnership that respects the constitutional requirements and fiscal constraints of each government and enables states to provide cost-effective health care services to low-income residents.

(2) That the Florida Legislature urges Congress to restructure the Medicaid program based on the following principles:

(a) The federal-state partnership for Medicaid should be modeled on the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, with federal funding distributed based on population and tied to specific goals and objectives, thereby allowing each state the freedom to craft a Medicaid program that meets the needs of its residents.

(b) Participants should be empowered to use the public resources provided for their health care to purchase private health insurance when they determine such insurance better meets their needs.

(c) A focus on prevention and the cost-effective use of services should be established by fostering personal responsibility and rewarding healthy behaviors.

(d) Decisionmaking should be decentralized in order to allow providers and plans to compete to deliver better value to consumers through innovative service packages, organizational forms, delivery systems, and payment methods.

(e) Participants should be given every opportunity to achieve optimal health through systematic, transparent, and continuous outcome measurement and quality improvement.

(3) That the Florida Legislature resolves, even without the federal reforms described herein, to adopt comprehensive legislation in the 2011 Regular Session to accomplish the following objectives:

(a) To improve program performance by expanding key components of the Medicaid managed care pilot program statewide, while strengthening accountability for improved patient outcomes and preserving meaningful choices for participants.

(b) To improve access to coordinated care by enrolling all Medicaid participants in managed care except those specifically exempted due to short-term eligibility, limited service eligibility, or institutional placement.

(c) To enhance fiscal predictability and financial management by converting the purchase of Medicaid services to capitated, risk-adjusted payment systems.

(d) To use the expertise of managed care organizations, including both health maintenance organizations and provider service networks, to provide all coverage and services for medical assistance and long-term care, including home and community-based services.

(e) To make the state a more prudent purchaser through the use of regional, competitive procurements to select, based on quality and price, a limited number of managed care organizations, including at least one provider service network in each region.

(f) To protect participants’ choices and dignity by expanding the use of the opt-out provisions of the pilot program and allowing Medicaid funds to be used for any state-regulated private coverage, rather than limiting this option to employment-based health benefits.

(g) To phase in implementation of the statewide managed care program, allowing adequate time for development of managed long-term care and reserving the final phase of the implementation of managed care for persons with developmental disabilities.

(4) That the Florida Legislature resolves to enact reforms that establish a more fair and predictable civil justice system and reduce disincentives for serving Medicaid participants.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this memorial be dispatched to the President of the United States, to the President of the United States Senate, to the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and to each member of the Florida delegation to the United States Congress.

DISCLOSURE

I am manager of Blue Head Farms, LLC, which has a range of agricultural interests. CS for CS for CS for HB 981 contains amendments that potentially affect the cost of equipment useful in the growing certain types of crops produced by Blue Head Farms, which in turn potentially affects the cost of operation of a portion of Blue Head Farms' business. Therefore, I believe that, in an abundance of caution, I should disclose the above facts pursuant to Senate Rule 1.39.

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT MIKE HARIDOPOLOS

In November, 1942, after three grim years of defeat, the British won a great victory in North Africa that proved to be a turning point in World War II. Winston Churchill famously said at the time that it was not the end, or even the beginning of the end. But, perhaps, it was the end of the beginning.

For more than three years—for what seems like forever—Florida has been battered by an economic storm the likes of which has not been seen since the Great Depression. Life savings have been swept away as families looked on helplessly. Wave after wave of home foreclosures have washed over us. Unemployment has mounted higher and higher still, month after month, year after year. And government revenues at every level have plummeted, rendering budgetary fat an unaffordable luxury, which is good, and necessitating cuts to the bone and beyond, which is not.

We are certainly not at the end of this recession, but I hope we can go Churchill one better—perhaps we are at the beginning of the end. There is hardship yet to be endured, hard decisions yet to be made. Too many homes still teeter on the edge of foreclosure. Too many people who want work still cannot find work. And we will cut billions more from the state budget at a time when unfunded mandates from the Federal government and the needs of our citizens demand more from us, not less.

So, if it is true that adversity builds character, then every one of you can count on being a much better person by the time we adjourn in 60 days. I believe it is not too early for us to take stock, to reflect on the lessons of the recession as they apply to our state government, and to chart a new course for the future.

I recognize that we are bit players in the international economic drama. In fact, it is doubtful that we alone can do much to impact the national economy in all its vastness and complexity.

But, fortunately, we are not alone. We may rely upon the fact that our colleagues in Congress and our brethren in every state legislature share our goals of prosperity with justice, and freedom with security. And we can be sure that farmers in Nebraska are not so very different from construction workers in Florida in the ways that matter most.

Edmund Burke wrote that the building blocks of any community, of every nation, are the little platoons—families, churches, charities, civic organizations. We are just such a little platoon in the big picture of things. But if we do our part, and others do theirs, then together we will achieve our shared goals as a people, as a state, and as a nation.

But, what is to be done? I say let's shoot the sharks nearest the boat first. Let's concentrate on what we can reasonably expect to accomplish today without dissipating our energy and losing our focus in futile pursuit of things that ought to be done some day.

For it is written: "Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its own troubles." This is great advice, probably because Matthew had it on pretty good authority.

The troubles we face today are the programmatic remnants of a government that was too large, too complacent and too wasteful. A government whose structural weaknesses were harshly exposed by the stress test that is this recession. We will have countless opportunities this year to address these troubles.

But my personal priorities for this session can be summed up as the two Rs—Reform and Restraint. When looking at opportunities for reform, two leap out at me.

Pension Reform and Medicaid Reform

First, we must reform the Florida Retirement System. Defined benefit plans are rapidly becoming a thing of the past. This has already happened in the private sector because of their prohibitive cost. And unlike most other states we have defined benefit plans, to which the public employees make no contributions. This is the dinosaur we have nurtured in Florida.

Make no mistake: I yield to no one in my high regard for our public employees. My experience is that these men and women are able and dedicated professionals, and I am grateful for their hard work, as we all should be. But while public service may be a calling, it is still a job, not a magic cloak that can hide one from reality.

Pension reform must be a priority this year. Medicaid reform is essential. I applaud Speaker Cannon for his leadership on this issue. Senators Negron, Gaetz and Garcia have already done outstanding work. We can realize the savings that result from competition and managed care in Medicaid without sacrificing quality and always putting patients first. This is a massive undertaking, a real paradigm shift. But coming to grips with Medicaid is a duty we cannot shirk. The increasing Medicaid population, rising health care costs, and unfunded Federal mandates have created a black hole that will swallow the state budget sooner than later if we do not act promptly.

My second R, restraint, may be a goal more difficult to achieve than reform. It is always hard to change long-standing programs and laws, each with its own powerful and vocal constituency. But changing ourselves is something else altogether. Anyone knows what I mean if they have ever tried to lose weight, stop smoking, exercise regularly or in the case of most politicians, listen when someone else is talking. And while we have done much better of late, primarily because of necessity, restraint has not historically been one of the distinguishing characteristics of any legislature. But it is my belief that we can learn restraint, and even institutionalize it in some cases. We must, of course, continue to hold the line against new taxes, however great the strain. I doubt any of you thinks that now is the time to increase the tax burden of Floridians. I know most of us believe that the appropriate frequency of tax increases roughly coincides with appearances of Haley's comet. And I agree with you; taxes have no more ruthless enemy than me. Whether we can actually reduce taxes, at the present time, in a responsible way, remains to be seen. If anyone can show me how we can realistically feed the increasing multitude with even fewer fish and less bread than we have now, then I will gladly follow him.

Another area where restraint can go a long way in aiding recovery is what I think of as responsible regulation. I compliment Governor Scott for his bold initiatives in this area. He can count on my unstinting support for vetting our regulations past and future with new standards based on real need and common sense. When it comes to regulation, government should require no more of its people than their actual health, safety and welfare demands. More than that is meddling, and arrogance to boot. When it comes to regulation, my personal belief is less is more and a little humility will go a long way. And speaking of humility and restraint, the legislature has room to show more respect in its dealings with local governments than it has during the past decade.

We say we believe in the principle of representative democracy, in home rule, but it is a principle more often honored in the breach than in the observance.

Our hands certainly are not clean on this issue. But the arrogance and reckless disregard for unfunded mandates with which the new Federal health care regime has been imposed on us has made me re-think relations between state and local governments. I have a renewed appreciation for home rule. And what is good for the goose is good for the gander. So let's not roll anything downhill to DeLand, DeBary, and DeFuniak Springs this session.

My final priority under the R of restraint is a meaningful statutory limitation on state spending coupled with new reserves that will help soften the blow of the next economic downturn. There is a state spending limitation currently on the books, but the fact that it has never operated to limit one dime in spending is proof positive of its inadequacy. I call my plan Smart Cap, because it is both. But it could be called the Old Testament Option, as the concept was originally Joseph's. In the good years, don't eat all the corn. Save some, so that in the bad years you don't have to eat sand. Very wise, and very much needed if we do not want our spending in the past to be the prologue to our spending in the future.

Smart Cap is also an opportunity to walk the walk on home rule. We will lead by example, not coercion. Smart Cap will apply only to state government. Local governments will choose their own paths in consultation with their constituents.

The agenda I have outlined is an ambitious one. Getting good grades in the two Rs will not be easy. But I know we are up to it. Experience tells me that.

For three years we have labored mightily to meet the challenges of this recession. I am proud of the job we and our colleagues in the House, led by Dean Cannon, have done in cutting spending, holding down taxes, and preserving needed services under tremendous pressure.

But as I said at the outset, we are only at the beginning of the end, and there is much more to be done. So, I welcome to the job all those who are just now getting to work. There cannot be too many willing hands turned to the task before us.

So, on this opening day...I close by saying to you: "Once more into the breach, dear friends...once more."

(b) “Division” means the Division of Legislative Information Services within the Office of Legislative Services.

(c) “Legislative action” means introduction, sponsorship, testimony, debate, voting, or any other official action on any measure, resolution, amendment, nomination, appointment, or report of, or any matter that may be the subject of action by, either house of the Legislature or any committee thereof.

(d) “Lobby” or “lobbying” means influencing or attempting to influence legislative action or nonaction through oral or written communication or an attempt to obtain the goodwill of a member or employee of the Legislature.

(e) “Lobbying firm” means any business entity, including an individual contract lobbyist, that receives or becomes entitled to receive any compensation for the purpose of lobbying and where any partner, owner, officer, or employee of the business entity is a lobbyist. “Lobbying firm” does not include an entity that has employees who are lobbyists if the entity does not derive compensation from principals for lobbying or if such compensation is received exclusively from a subsidiary or affiliate corporation of the employer. As used in this paragraph, an affiliate corporation is a corporation that directly or indirectly shares the same ultimate parent corporation as the employer and does not receive compensation for lobbying from any unaffiliated entity.

(f) “Lobbyist” means a person who is employed and receives payment, or who contracts for economic consideration, for the purpose of lobbying or a person who is principally employed for governmental affairs by another person or governmental entity to lobby on behalf of that other person or governmental entity. An employee of the principal is not a “lobbyist” unless the employee is principally employed for governmental affairs. “Principally employed for governmental affairs” means that one of the principal or most significant responsibilities of the employee to the employer is overseeing the employer’s various relationships with government or representing the employer in its contacts with government. Any person employed by the Governor, the Executive Office of the Governor, or any executive or judicial department of the state or any community college of the state who seeks to encourage the passage, defeat, or modification of any legislation by personal appearance or attendance before the House of Representatives or the Senate, or any member or committee thereof, is a lobbyist.

(g) “Payment” or “salary” means wages or any other consideration provided in exchange for services but does not include reimbursement for expenses.

(h) “Principal” means the person, firm, corporation, or other entity that has employed or retained a lobbyist. When an association has employed or retained a lobbyist, the association is the principal; the individual members of the association are not principals merely because of their membership in the association.

(i) “Unusual circumstances,” with respect to any failure of a person to satisfy a filing requirement, means uncommon, rare, or sudden events over which the person has no control and which directly result in the failure to satisfy the filing requirement.

(3) For purposes of this rule, the terms “lobby” and “lobbying” do not include any of the following:

(a) Response to an inquiry for information made by any member, committee, or staff of the Legislature.

(b) An appearance in response to a legislative subpoena.

(c) Advice or services that arise out of a contractual obligation with the Legislature, a member, a committee, any staff, or any legislative entity to render the advice or services where such obligation is fulfilled through the use of public funds.

(d) Representation of a client before the House of Representatives or the Senate, or any member or committee thereof, when the client is subject to disciplinary action by the House of Representatives or the Senate, or any member or committee thereof.

(4) For purposes of registration and reporting, the term “lobbyist” does not include any of the following:

(a) A member of the Legislature.

(b) A person who is employed by the Legislature.

(c) A judge who is acting in that judge’s official capacity.

(d) A person who is a state officer holding elective office or an officer of a political subdivision of the state holding elective office and who is acting in that officer’s official capacity.

(e) A person who appears as a witness or for the purpose of providing information at the written request of the chair of a committee, subcommittee, or legislative delegation.

(f) A person employed by any executive or judicial department of the state or any community college of the state who makes a personal appearance or attendance before the House of Representatives or the Senate, or any member or committee thereof, while that person is on approved leave or outside normal working hours and who does not otherwise meet the definition of lobbyist.

(5) When a person, regardless of whether the person is registered as a lobbyist, appears before a committee of the Legislature, that person must submit a Committee Appearance Record as required by the respective house.

(6) The responsibilities of the division and of the Lobbyist Registration Office under Joint Rule One may be assigned to another entity by agreement of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives for a contract period not to extend beyond December 1 following the Organization Session of the next biennium, provided that the powers and duties of the President, the Speaker, the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services, and any legislative committee referenced in Joint Rule One may not be delegated.

1.2—Method of Registration

(1) Each person who is required to register must register on forms furnished by the Lobbyist Registration Office, on which that person must state, under oath, that person’s full legal name, business address, and telephone number, the name and business address of each principal that person represents, and the extent of any direct business association or partnership that person has with any member of the Legislature. In addition, if the lobbyist is a partner, owner, officer, or employee of a lobbying firm, the lobbyist must state the name, address, and telephone number of each lobbying firm to which the lobbyist belongs. The Lobbyist Registration Office or its designee is authorized to acknowledge the oath of any person who registers in person. Any changes to the information provided in the registration form must be reported to the Lobbyist Registration Office in writing within 15 days on forms furnished by the Lobbyist Registration Office.

(2) Any person required to register must do so with respect to each principal prior to commencement of lobbying on behalf of that principal. At the time of registration, the registrant shall provide a statement on a form provided by the Lobbyist Registration Office, signed by the principal or principal’s representative, that the registrant is authorized to represent the principal. On the authorization statement, the principal or principal’s representative shall also identify and designate the principal’s main business pursuant to a classification system approved by the Office of Legislative Services that shall be the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) six-digit numerical code that most accurately describes the principal’s main business.

(3) Any person required to register must renew the registration annually for each calendar year.

(4) A lobbyist shall promptly send a notice to the Lobbyist Registration Office, on forms furnished by the Lobbyist Registration Office, canceling the registration for a principal upon termination of the lobbyist’s representation of that principal. A notice of cancellation takes effect the day it is received by the Lobbyist Registration Office. Notwithstanding this requirement, the Lobbyist Registration Office may remove the name of a lobbyist from the list of registered lobbyists if the principal notifies the Lobbyist Registration Office that the lobbyist is no longer authorized to represent that principal.

(5) The Lobbyist Registration Office shall retain all original registration documents submitted under this rule.

(6) A person who is required to register under Joint Rule One, or who chooses to register, shall be considered a lobbyist of the Legislature for the purposes of ss. 11.045, 112.3148, and 112.3149, Florida Statutes.

1.3—Registration Costs; Exemptions

(1) To cover the costs incurred in administering Joint Rule One, each person who registers under Joint Rule 1.1 must pay an annual registration fee to the Lobbyist Registration Office. The annual period runs from January 1 to December 31. These fees must be paid at the time of registration.

(2) The following persons are exempt from paying the fee, provided they are designated in writing by the agency head or person designated in this subsection:

(a) Two employees of each department of the executive branch created under chapter 20, Florida Statutes.

(b) Two employees of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission.

50,000 or more	Actual amount reported

(3) The annual fee is up to $50 per each house for a person to register to represent one principal and up to an additional $10 per house for each additional principal that the person registers to represent. The amount of each fee shall be established annually by the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The fees set shall be adequate to ensure operation of the lobbyist registration and reporting operations of the Lobbyist Registration Office. The fees collected by the Lobbyist Registration Office under this rule shall be deposited in the State Treasury and credited to the Legislative Lobbyist Registration Trust Fund specifically to cover the costs incurred in administering Joint Rule One.

(3) The reporting statements shall be filed no later than 45 days after the end of each reporting period. The four reporting periods are from January 1 through March 31, April 1 through June 30, July 1 through September 30, and October 1 through December 31, respectively. The statements shall be rendered in the identical form provided by the respective houses and shall be open to public inspection. Reporting statements shall be filed by electronic means through the electronic filing system developed by the division, conforming to subsection (4).

1.4—Reporting of Lobbying Firm Compensation

(1)(a) Each lobbying firm shall file a compensation report with the division for each calendar quarter during any portion of which one or more of the firm’s lobbyists were registered to represent a principal. The report shall include the:

(4) The electronic filing system for compensation reporting shall include the following:

1. Full name, business address, and telephone number of the lobbying firm;
2. Registration name of each of the firm’s lobbyists; and
3. Total compensation provided or owed to the lobbying firm from all principals for the reporting period, reported in one of the following categories: $0; $1 to $49,999; $50,000 to $99,999; $100,000 to $249,999; $250,000 to $499,999; $500,000 to $999,999; or $1 million or more.

(a) As used in this rule, the term “electronic filing system” means an Internet system for recording and reporting lobbying compensation and other required information by reporting period.

(b) For each principal represented by one or more of the firm’s lobbyists, the lobbying firm’s compensation report shall also include the:

(b) A report filed pursuant to this rule must be completed and filed through the electronic filing system not later than 11:59 p.m. of the day designated in subsection (3). A report not filed by 11:59 p.m. of the day designated is a late-filed report and is subject to the penalties under Joint Rule 1.5(1).

1. Full name, business address, and telephone number of the principal; and
2. Total compensation provided or owed to the lobbying firm for the reporting period, reported in one of the following categories: $0; $1 to $9,999; $10,000 to $19,999; $20,000 to $29,999; $30,000 to $39,999; $40,000 to $49,999; or $50,000 or more. If the category “$50,000 or more” is selected, the specific dollar amount of compensation must be reported, rounded up or down to the nearest $1,000.

(c) Each person given secure sign-on credentials to file via the electronic filing system is responsible for protecting the credentials from disclosure and is responsible for all filings made by use of such credentials, unless and until the division is notified that the person’s credentials have been compromised. Each report filed by electronic means pursuant to this rule shall be deemed certified in accordance with paragraph (1)(d) by the person given the secure sign-on credentials and, as such, subjects the person and the lobbying firm to the provisions of s. 11.045(8), Florida Statutes, as well as any discipline provided under the rules of the Senate or House of Representatives.

(c) If the lobbying firm subcontracts work from another lobbying firm and not from the original principal:

(d) The electronic filing system shall:

1. The lobbying firm providing the work to be subcontracted shall be treated as the reporting lobbying firm’s principal for reporting purposes under this paragraph; and
2. The reporting lobbying firm shall, for each lobbying firm identified as the reporting lobbying firm’s principal under paragraph (b), identify the name and address of the principal originating the lobbying work.

1. Be based on access by means of the Internet.
2. Be accessible by anyone with Internet access using standard web-browsing software.
3. Provide for direct entry of compensation-report information as well as upload of such information from software authorized by the division.
4. Provide a method that prevents unauthorized access to electronic filing system functions.
5. Provide for the issuance of an electronic receipt to the person submitting the report indicating and verifying the date and time that the report was filed.

(d) The senior partner, officer, or owner of the lobbying firm shall certify to the veracity and completeness of the information submitted pursuant to this rule; certify that no compensation has been omitted from this report by deeming such compensation as “consulting services,” “media services,” “professional services,” or anything other than compensation; and certify that no officer or employee of the firm has made an expenditure in violation of s. 11.045, Florida Statutes, as amended by chapter 2005-359, Laws of Florida.

(5) The division shall provide reasonable public notice of the electronic filing procedures and of any significant changes in such procedures. If, whenever they deem it necessary, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives jointly declare the electronic system not to be operable, the reports shall be filed in the manner required prior to April 1, 2007, as provided by House Concurrent Resolution 7011 (2007), enrolled, unless the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives direct use of an alternate means of reporting. The division shall develop and maintain such alternative means as may be practicable. Public notice of changes in filing procedures and any declaration or direction of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives may be provided by publication for a continuous period of reasonable time on one or more Internet websites maintained by the Senate and the House of Representatives.

(2) For each principal represented by more than one lobbying firm, the division shall aggregate the reporting-period and calendar-year compensation reported as provided or owed by the principal. Compensation reported within a category shall be aggregated as follows:

Category (dollars)	Dollar amount to use aggregating

1.5—Failure to File Timely Compensation Report; Notice and Assessment of Fines; Appeals

(1) Upon determining that the report is late, the person designated to review the timeliness of reports shall immediately notify the lobbying firm as to the failure to timely file the report and that a fine is being assessed for each late day. The fine shall be $50 per day per report for each late day, not to exceed $5,000 per report.

(2) Upon receipt of the report, the person designated to review the timeliness of reports shall determine the amount of the fine based on when the report is actually received by the division or when the electronic receipt issued by the electronic filing system is dated, whichever is earlier.

(3) Such fine shall be paid within 30 days after the notice of payment due is transmitted by the person designated to review the timeliness of reports, unless appeal is made to the division. The moneys shall be deposited into the Legislative Lobbyist Registration Trust Fund.

(4) A fine shall not be assessed against a lobbying firm the first time the report for which the lobbying firm is responsible is not timely filed. However, to receive the one-time fine waiver, the report for which the lobbying firm is responsible must be filed within 30 days after notice that the report has not been timely filed is transmitted by the person designated to review the timeliness of reports. A fine shall be assessed for any subsequent late-filed reports.

(5) Any lobbying firm may appeal or dispute a fine, based upon unusual circumstances surrounding the failure to file on the designated due date, and may request and shall be entitled to a hearing before the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services, who shall recommend to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or their respective designees, that the fine be waived in whole or in part for good cause shown. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, or their respective designees, may by joint agreement concur in the recommendation and waive the fine in whole or in part. Any such request shall be made within 30 days after the notice of payment due is transmitted by the person designated to review the timeliness of reports. In such case, the lobbying firm shall, within the 30-day period, notify the person designated to review the timeliness of reports in writing of his or her intention to request a hearing.

(6) A lobbying firm may request that the filing of a report be waived upon good cause shown, based on unusual circumstances. The request must be filed with the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services, who shall make a recommendation concerning the waiver request to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives may, by joint agreement, grant or deny the request.

(7)(a) All lobbyist registrations for lobbyists who are partners, owners, officers, or employees of a lobbying firm that fails to timely pay a fine are automatically suspended until the fine is paid or waived and all late reports have been filed or waived. The division shall promptly notify all affected principals, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of any suspension or reinstatement. All lobbyists who are partners, owners, officers, or employees of a lobbying firm are jointly and severally liable for any outstanding fine owed by a lobbying firm.

(b) No such lobbyist may be reinstated in any capacity representing any principal until the fine is paid and all late reports have been filed or waived or until the fine is waived as to that lobbyist and all late reports for that lobbyist have been filed or waived. A suspended lobbyist may request a waiver upon good cause shown, based on unusual circumstances. The request must be filed with the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services who shall, as soon as practicable, make a recommendation concerning the waiver request to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives may, by joint agreement, grant or deny the request.

(8) The person designated to review the timeliness of reports shall notify the director of the division of the failure of a lobbying firm to file a report after notice or of the failure of a lobbying firm to pay the fine imposed.

1.6—Open Records; Internet Publication of Registrations and Compensation Reports

(1) All of the lobbyist registration forms and compensation reports received by the Lobbyist Registration Office shall be available for public inspection and for duplication at reasonable cost.

(2) The division shall make information filed pursuant to Joint Rules 1.2 and 1.4 reasonably available on the Internet in an easily understandable and accessible format. The Internet website shall include, but not be limited to, the names and business addresses of lobbyists, lobbying firms, and principals, the affiliations between lobbyists and principals, and the classification system designated and identified with respect to principals pursuant to Joint Rule 1.2.

1.7—Records Retention and Inspection and Complaint Procedure

(1) Each lobbying firm and each principal shall preserve for a period of 4 years all accounts, bills, receipts, computer records, books, papers, and other documents and records necessary to substantiate compensation reports.

(2) Upon receipt of a complaint based upon the personal knowledge of the complainant made pursuant to the Senate Rules or Rules of the House of Representatives, any such documents and records may be inspected when authorized by the President of the Senate or the Speaker of the House of Representatives, as applicable. The person authorized to perform the inspection shall be designated in writing and shall be a member of The Florida Bar or a certified public accountant licensed in Florida. Any information obtained by such an inspection may only be used for purposes authorized by law, this Joint Rule One, Senate Rules, or Rules of the House of Representatives, which purposes may include the imposition of sanctions against a person subject to Joint Rule One, the Senate Rules, or the Rules of the House of Representatives. Any employee who uses that information for an unauthorized purpose is subject to discipline. Any member who uses that information for an unauthorized purpose is subject to discipline under the applicable rules of each house.

(3) The right of inspection may be enforced by appropriate writ issued by any court of competent jurisdiction.

1.8—Questions Regarding Interpretation of this Joint Rule One

(1) A person may request in writing an informal opinion from the General Counsel of the Office of Legislative Services as to the application of this Joint Rule One to a specific situation involving that person's conduct. The General Counsel shall issue the opinion within 10 days after receiving the request. The informal opinion may be relied upon by the person who requested the informal opinion. A copy of each informal opinion that is issued shall be provided to the presiding officer of each house. A committee of either house designated pursuant to s. 11.045(5), Florida Statutes, may revise any informal opinion rendered by the General Counsel through an advisory opinion to the person who requested the informal opinion. The advisory opinion shall supersede the informal opinion as of the date the advisory opinion is issued.

(2) A person in doubt about the applicability or interpretation of this Joint Rule One with respect to that person's conduct may submit in writing the facts for an advisory opinion to the committee of either house designated pursuant to section 11.045(5), Florida Statutes, and may appear in person before the committee in accordance with s. 11.045(5), Florida Statutes.

1.9—Effect of Readoption and Revision

All obligations existing under Joint Rule One as of the last day of the previous legislative biennium are hereby ratified, preserved, and re-imposed pursuant to the terms thereof as of that date. The provisions of Joint Rule One are imposed retroactively to the first day of the present legislative biennium except that provisions new to this revision are effective on the date of adoption or as otherwise expressly provided herein.

(3) If a bill is referred to a conference committee by operation of this rule, a 72-hour public review period shall be provided prior to a vote being taken on the conference committee report by either house.

(4) A copy of the bill, a copy of the bill with amendments adopted by the nonoriginating house, or the conference committee report shall be furnished to each member of the Legislature, the Governor, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and each member of the Cabinet. 2. An electronic copy may be furnished to each member. The Legislature hereby deems and determines that a copy shall have been furnished to the members of the Legislature when an electronic copy is made available to every member of the Legislature. An electronic copy is deemed to have been made available when it is accessible via the Internet or other information network consisting of systems ordinarily serving the members of the Senate or the House of Representatives.

(b) An official other than a member of the Legislature who is to be furnished a copy of a general appropriations bill under subsection (4) may officially request that an electronic copy of the bill be furnished in lieu of a printed copy, and, if practicable, the copy may be furnished to the official in the manner requested.

(8) An implementing or conforming bill recommended by a conference committee shall be subject to a 24-hour public review period before a vote is taken on the conference committee report by either house, if the conference committee submits its report after the furnishing of a general appropriations bill to which the 72-hour public review period applies.

(9) With respect to each bill that may be affected, a member of the Senate or the House of Representatives may not raise a point of order under this rule after a vote is taken on the bill. tion, the Legislature hereby determines that, after a general appropriations bill has been enacted and establishes governing law for a particular fiscal year, a bill considered in any subsequent session that makes net reductions in such enacted appropriations or that makes supplemental appropriations shall not be deemed to be a general appropriations bill unless such bill provides for the salaries of public officers and other current expenses of the state for a subsequent fiscal year.

For purposes of effecting notice to members of the house to which the chair does not belong, notice to the Secretary of the

RICK SCOTT

President Haridopolos, Speaker Cannon, Chief Justice Canady, members of the Supreme Court, members of the Cabinet, members of the Legislature and my fellow Floridians: It is an honor to appear before this body for the first time as Governor of the Great State of Florida.

I want to recognize our Lt Governor, Jennifer Carroll, and her husband Nolan. The new first lady of Florida is here, who's been my first lady for 38 years, Ann Scott.

Tonight we are honored to be joined by General Titshaw, members of the Florida National Guard, and Florida soldiers and airmen who have returned from duty abroad. We are safe and comfortable here tonight because men and women like them stand guard in hard and dangerous places.

There are many humbling moments in life, but none more so than visiting with a wounded warrior, seeing the sacrifice and the courage. And we are joined tonight by two of those brave men who received the Purple Heart for their service: Staff Sergeant Alberto D. Porro and Air Force Staff Sergeant Christopher "Mark" McDuffie.

We are also honored by the presence of Phillip and Maureen Miller, the parents of Staff Sergeant Robert J. Miller, a Special Forces soldier who gave his life serving our country in Afghanistan.

Staff Sergeant Miller was awarded the Medal of Honor for giving his life so that his fellow team members could move out of an ambush kill zone. His courage is an inspiration to all of us. On behalf of the people of Florida, we thank all of you for your service.

We also want to recognize the bravery and the sacrifices of our law enforcement officers here in Florida. In the last two months, six public safety officers have lost their lives serving our state in the line of duty, including three brave men in St. Petersburg in just one month.

We're honored tonight by the presence of Donna Malloy and her daughter Payton, the family of Colonel Greg Malloy, who laid down his life just a few weeks ago, while hunting down a fugitive. Thank you for joining us here tonight and representing the families of our fallen law enforcement heroes. We honor their memory and pray that God will comfort their families.

We gather tonight at a momentous time in our state's history. Bold reforms are underway.

Thousands of our fellow Floridians have assembled here in our Capital, some to criticize our budget priorities, and far more to thank us for our willingness to make hard choices.

For years, politicians have not dared to face the full extent of our financial problems. Politics prevailed, even when the numbers did not add up. All the cans that have been kicked down the road are now piled up in front of us. Floridians have been encouraged to believe that government could take care of us.

But government always takes more than it gives back.

Some thought that businesses could tolerate a strangling web of regulations, and that government could grow without starving the private sector or destroying jobs. The result of that experiment is in: government grew way beyond its ability to pay for its promises, and the jobs disappeared.

The first step to better times is acknowledging that government cannot afford what some have come to expect.

Doing what must be done will not make me "Most Popular," but I'm determined to make Florida "Most Likely to Succeed."

On my first day in office, I ordered a review of every regulation in the pipeline and every contract exceeding $1 million.

These steps sent two clear signals. First, that Florida will not allow unreasonable regulations to stand in the way of job creation. And second, that we intend to watch state spending like a hawk. On my watch we will never allow another wasteful project like the "Taj Mahal" Courthouse to slip under the radar.

We also sold the state airplanes as I had promised to do. And we created the most fiscally conservative state budget in the country.

Our "jobs" budget is targeted to create private sector jobs, increase accountability, and reduce the size of government.

Every day since elected Governor, I've gone job hunting for the people of Florida. In my business career I was never shy about picking up the phone and making a cold call to try to make something good happen. As Governor, I've been making those calls every day to recruit job creators, and I will continue making those calls until every Floridian has the opportunity to get back to work.

As we meet tonight, unemployment in Florida stands at 12 percent. While this legislative session is a regular session, it is, in many ways, an emergency session.

For the 1.1 million Floridians who are out of work, this is an emergency. They are running out of options. The unemployed have heard enough talk. They're saying, "Show me the jobs."

And tonight, I am here to show you some new jobs. We have a long way to go, but we're on our way.

Joining us tonight are four business leaders: one who decided to move a business to Florida, and three who decided to expand their business here. I'd like to recognize them now.

Armand Lauzon is president of Chromalloy, an aviation parts manufacturing company that just opened a new, manufacturing plant in Tampa and created 400 jobs in Hillsborough County.

And we're also joined tonight by David Meers, the Chief Operating Officer of Vision Airlines, a company that helps put tourists onto Florida's beaches. Vision recently began flying to 23 cities from Destin less than a year after the economic damage from the Deepwater Horizon oil spill.

In Southwest Florida, Rheinhold Schmieding is founder and president of Arthrex, manufacturer of state-of-the-art medical devices. Tonight he's here to announce that Arthrex is breaking ground on a 160,000-square-foot facility that will create 150 new jobs every year for the next five years.

And finally, Dean Minardi, CFO of Bing Energy, is here with us. Bing Energy, a California-based company, was courted by offers from several other states. Bing decided to come to Florida in December.

The reason Florida won? Mr. Minardi said it was our plan to eliminate the corporate tax.

These leaders, like me, share a positive view of Florida's economic potential. On behalf of the people of Florida, I want to thank all of you for your faith in Florida's future.

I urge every member of the Legislature to join me in making job recruitment a daily task. I want to encourage each of you to become a "Jobs Ambassador" and direct new prospects to me, so we can work together to recruit potential job creators.

Ask Florida business owners, "What can we do to help you expand your business?"

Ask business leaders around the world, "Why not move to Florida?"

Last July I submitted a detailed plan to the people of Florida to create 700,000 jobs over seven years. They reviewed the plan and voted to enact it.

Last month, I delivered to you a budget that puts that plan into action and cuts taxes by $2 billion. These tax cuts put money back in the hands of families and business owners who will grow private sector jobs.

An important priority in our "jobs" budget is to consolidate government's economic development efforts into a single, highly focused agency. Working with our public-private partner, we will have the resources to be effective, and the flexibility to adapt to particularly promising opportunities. This agency will be headquartered two doors down from my office, and its work will never be far from my mind.

I come to the job of Governor after a 35-year career in the private sector. I want to use that business experience on behalf of the people of Florida. I'm asking this legislature and the people of Florida to give me the tools and hold me accountable for results.

Our "jobs" budget makes sure government is held accountable for every spending decision. And by focusing on the core missions of government – and only the core missions – this budget will give Florida a competitive edge in attracting jobs.

I know the members of this body have thoughtful, constructive modifications to our "jobs" budget.

But we must not lose our focus or blunt our momentum.

Business people in Florida and around the world are watching what we do in the weeks ahead. They can locate anywhere. They will be deciding whether to invest in Florida, based, in part, on our ability to work together to remove the obstacles to business success. I am convinced that putting this plan into action will put our state on the road to prosperity.

On behalf of the millions of Floridians who are desperate for new jobs, I ask you to pass our "jobs" budget promptly.

We also need to focus on our incredible opportunity to improve our K-through-12 education system. We now have real innovators offering a 21st century approach to education. And many of those new approaches offer better outcomes without increasing costs.

With so many Floridians out of work, and the exhaustion of one-time federal handouts, Florida educators will face challenges in managing limited resources. But our commitment to positive change must not waiver.

Let's begin by agreeing on a few basic principles.

First, that individual student learning must be the touchstone for all our decisions. Practices that improve student learning must be adopted. Practices that impair student learning must be abolished.

Second, I think we can all also agree that the single most important factor in student learning is the quality of teaching. Florida has to recruit, train, support and promote great teachers, great school principals and great school superintendents.

Great educators are priceless. Every one of us has a teacher in our past who made a lifelong difference in our lives. Educators, like other professionals, should be rewarded based on the effectiveness of their work, not the length of their professional life. That's why Florida needs to pay the best educators more and end the practice of guaranteeing educators a job for life regardless of their performance.

The third principle worth remembering is that we all improve through competition. Think of how exciting it will be when schools are recruiting our children, when every school in the state focuses on continual improvement in order to outperform every other school in attracting students. We need to expand the eligibility for opportunity scholarships to harness the power of engaged parents.

And I am calling for an increase in the number of charter schools – which are public schools that are allowed to work independently of their school board and can innovate in ways that encourage all schools to improve.

With us here today is the principal of a very successful charter school – Sonia Mitchell of Florida International Academy. This charter school moved from an "F" school to an "A" school. Ms. Mitchell attributes their success to the passion of great educators and weekly measurements of student outcomes.

And finally, we can all agree that measuring results is a key aspect of education. We must test our students, and we must evaluate our educators. Those measurements need to be fair and thoughtful, and they need to have rewards and consequences.

We must also analyze how much education money is spent in the classroom versus the amount spent on administration or capital outlays.

With these principles in mind, Florida can become the most innovative and effective place in the country to educate the workforce of the future.

In other areas where government has a role to play, we are offering cost-conscious reforms. Most Floridians have had to tighten their belts. The state needs to do the same thing.

We are streamlining the functions of state agencies to save money and provide better service for taxpayers. Reviewing every activity in every agency with a fresh eye, we are simplifying the structure of state government.

For example, I have asked the Division of Emergency Management to report directly to me. If a hurricane comes our way, I will be personally and continuously engaged in solving problems. Direct, clear lines of authority will expedite our efforts.

We will also modernize our state government. Florida is currently the only state where taxpayers pay for the entire pension of state workers. We need to secure the state's pension system and be fair to the taxpayers of Florida. We will bring Florida's retirement system in line with other states by having government workers contribute towards their own retirement, just like everyone else.

Providing a modern, health care safety net for our low-income and disabled citizens is an important state function, but the costs of this program have been spiraling out of control. Yet there are ways to save money and provide better care by adopting market principles and giving patients more choice.

Unfortunately, the federal government requires Florida to get approval before expanding the use of these innovative, cost-saving programs. The federal government seems to forget that federal revenues were recently the hard earned dollars of Floridians. But, with or without the cooperation of the federal government, we will find a way to meet these health care needs without jeopardizing other priorities.

Another government program with good intentions and potentially dangerous side-effects is our system of unemployment compensation. In times of high unemployment, the system provides a critical safety net. But its rising costs, which are borne by the very employers who are struggling to stay in business, threaten to create even more job losses.

The costs of unemployment insurance cannot be allowed to deter job creation. By working with the legislature, we will bring those costs down.

And finally, we need lawsuit reform.

Every Floridian should have access to the courts for redress of harm. At the same time, we can't allow frivolous suits and unreasonable awards to give our state a reputation that frightens away new jobs.

I ask everyone to look beyond the short-term and imagine with me what Florida will be like once we turn our state around. Florida will be the leading job creator over the next eight years.

With no income tax, a phase out of the business tax, the expansion of the Panama Canal, the expansion of the economies of Central and South America, our beautiful weather, our beaches, the Everglades, world-class theme parks, Florida oranges, our universities and colleges, and the hardest working people in the world, Florida will become the most exciting place to live, work, and play.

With more than 700,000 new jobs, families will be able to build their own version of the American dream with the security of steady employment opportunities. Entrepreneurs will create a business climate that continually offers new goods and services. State government will be smart, lean, affordable and focused only on its core missions.

Let me close with this: It's a rare blessing in life to be in a position to improve the lives of millions of people. The leaders in this room have the power to make that kind of difference. We have a unique opportunity to put government back in its proper place and show the nation how private-sector growth leads to prosperity.

Such a moment may not come again.

My "jobs" budget has plenty of critics. Some critics are accustomed to big government and will fight to protect special interests, and there are others who agree on our policy but say that our agenda is too bold – that we need to trim the sails of our imagination and settle for small improvements.

They're wrong.

I did not fight to become the 45th Governor of the greatest state in the nation to settle for a status quo that does not promote the enormous potential of our people. I am completely committed to this mission. It is achievable.

A vast majority of legislators were elected, as I was, on our promise of smaller government, lower taxes, less regulation, support for job creation, individual opportunity, individual accountability, and more freedom.

Don't blink. Don't let special interests persuade you to turn your back on the people who elected you.

Keep faith with the Floridians who supported you because you said, "I believe in the American Dream." Remember their faces when you decide what to do in the weeks ahead.

Working together we can do incredible things if we stand together with the courage of our convictions.

Ronald Reagan once described America as a place "Unimpressed with what others say is impossible." I think that's especially true about Florida.

We are a state that has regularly done the impossible. We build magic kingdoms. We launch ships that fly to the moon. Florida can be the place where the American Dream continues to be a reality.

The world is watching, and God is watching over us. Our success will be the model for the nation.

With new jobs and an education system full of new energy, we'll plot the course for a brighter future. May God bless our great state and all of you. Let's get to work!

DISSOLUTION OF JOINT SESSION

Following the Governor's address, the previously appointed committee escorted the Governor from the rostrum and from the House chamber, followed by the Lieutenant Governor, members of the Cabinet, Justices of the Supreme Court and members of the Florida Congressional Delegation.

On motion by Senator Thrasher, the joint session was dissolved at 6:38 p.m. and the Senators were escorted from the House chamber by the Senate Sergeant at Arms.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR AND OTHER EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 6

The Honorable Kurt S. Browning
Secretary of State

Dear Secretary Browning:

By the authority vested in me as the Governor of Florida, and under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 6, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Education Personnel...

The decision to approve or veto a bill is one of the fundamental duties of the Governor. Since 2007, I have reviewed hundreds of proposed laws. More often than not, I sign bills approved by the Legislature because the process generally produces ideas which embody the ideals of representative government. Though sparingly, I have exercised the authority to veto legislation.

To proponents of a bill, a Governor's veto may be mischaracterized as ill informed or political. It is likely that my action today will be met with similar charges from supporters of SB 6. However, there is only one person who can accurately state the reason for a veto - the one who holds the pen.

Let me be clear; I veto SB 6 because this bill is contrary to my firmly held principle to act in the best interest of the People of Florida. I am confident in my decision today because I know it is the right thing to do for the People.

After reviewing the legislation, I have identified several issues of concern. First and foremost, this bill does not appropriately accommodate special education students and their dedicated teachers. These children can and do learn; however, there must be more consideration given to their individual needs than is afforded in this bill.

Further, the bill does encroach on local decision-making. At worst, it could result in an infringement upon the constitutional authority of school boards. While the bill allows school boards to create district policies, there are considerable directives given to local boards and a requirement for state sign-off before plans can be approved. Some of these directives are quite overreaching, such as not allowing multi-year teacher contracts, choosing arbitrary percentages for calculating a teacher's effectiveness, and permanently decertifying an excellent teacher in Florida who simply needed improvement two out of the previous five years on the job.

SB 6 places teachers in jeopardy of losing their jobs and teaching certificates without a clear understanding of how gains will be measured, and without taking into account circumstances beyond the control of teachers. Teachers have an incredible impact on the lives of their students, but they are not the only influence.

During the House debate and after the final passage of the bill, even the supporters of SB 6 acknowledged the imperfections of the bill. They were satisfied with the ability to come back next year for a glitch bill or make corrections and clarifications in the implementing process. Such assurances are not enough for me to sign this legislation today.

Finally, I veto this bill because of the process by which it was passed. This legislation sped through committees without the meaningful input of parents, teachers, superintendents, and school boards. It was troubling to learn that the bill would not be amended after it passed in the Senate, particularly when more and more concerns were coming to light. As I articulated on the opening day of the 2010 Legislative Session, "It is not only the substance of those issues that is important; it is also the attitude with which you address them. These will determine whether you have done your job well."

The incredible outpouring of opposition by teachers, parents, students, superintendents, school boards, and legislators has greatly influenced my decision today. They brought to light many concerns that were not addressed in the amendatory process. As with any major legislation, stated goals sometimes do not match the words in the bill. That is why under normal circumstances bills can be meaningfully debated and changed so that flaws may be remedied.

In summary, I find the content of SB 6 and the manner of its adoption significantly flawed. Nonetheless, I believe in the stated goals of establishing differential and performance-based merit pay for classroom teachers, developing workable measures of student learning gains, and preparing students for their place in a global economy. These are worthy of future pursuit in a collaborative setting with participation of those who are directly impacted.

To those who may ask for a prescribed fix for SB 6, I say we must start over. This bill has deeply and negatively affected the morale of our teachers, parents, and students. They are not confident in our system because they do not believe that their voices were heard. They, like I, did not fathom that there would be no opportunity for meaningful deliberation and appropriate changes to this bill. Tens of thousands of Floridians have reached out to me asking for a veto of SB 6 and instead address the important goal of improving education in a more deliberative and open manner. Should the Legislature decide to go back to the drawing board, I believe it is critical that they heed the call of Floridians. To make such landmark changes, we must have the patience and wisdom to communicate effectively with the People.

As Governor, it is my responsibility to work ardently to position Florida for success on round two of "Race to the Top." Although Florida's first application was strong, we learned a very important lesson on the value of stakeholder participation. Like every good competitor, we will make strategic changes and raise our game. In the coming days I will announce the creation of a collaborative work group to thoroughly review and vet our application and suggest improvements that will help us win.

Florida has made tremendous gains in our education system. We cannot, we must not stop. As we move forward, let us ensure that we fulfill our highest calling, which is to honor the People for whom this government is established. The education of our children is far too important for us to do otherwise.

For this reason, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 6, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 1004

Interim Secretary Dawn K. Roberts
Interim Secretary of State

June 1, 2010

Dear Interim Secretary Roberts:

By the authority vested in me as the Governor of Florida, and under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1004, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Local Government...

When I took office, I promised the people of Florida that government transactions and information would be open to public input and transparent in its execution. Competitive bidding by governmental entities protects the public's interest and assures the best use of taxpayers' dollars. Laws are in effect which require competitive bidding of county lease agreements. This law is sufficient to achieve balance and protection of the public's interest and enable county government officials to achieve the best bid.

Local governments should strive to adhere to competitive bidding standards. Because we are elected officials, we have a responsibility to conduct business in the open for all to compete. We should not modify laws in the name of ease in exchange for the public's trust.

For this reason, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1004, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 1964

Interim Secretary Dawn K. Roberts
Interim Secretary of State

June 1, 2010

Dear Interim Secretary Roberts:

By the authority vested in me as the Governor of Florida, and under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1964, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Design Professionals...

The bill limits the tort liability of design professionals for economic damages from a design defect. The design professionals affected by the bill include licensed engineers, surveyors, architects, interior designers, and landscape architects. This limit of liability grants unique privileges to design professionals by removing a consumer's right to bring a tort action against them for economic damages caused by their negligence. Other professionals, such as accountants, doctors, and lawyers, cannot similarly limit their professional duty of care.

An error in design may create significant economic damages to both business and home owners. I am concerned this bill fails to provide any alternate remedies and shifts the losses for design defects to consumers.

For the reasons stated above, I am hereby withholding my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1964 and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

VETO OF CS FOR CS FOR SB 2044

Interim Secretary Dawn K. Roberts
Interim Secretary of State

June 1, 2010

Dear Interim Secretary Roberts:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of and transmit to you my objections to, Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 2044, enacted during the 42nd Session of the Legislature of Florida, convened under the Constitution of 1968, during the Regular Session of 2010 and entitled:

An act relating to Insurance...

Senate Bill 2044 makes numerous changes to the law relating primarily to residential property insurance. I am most concerned about the expansion of the current expedited rate filing procedure for property insurers that makes it easier to increase Floridians premiums. During these very difficult economic times, Florida's consumers should not have to be concerned with an additional premium increase to their policy.

Additionally, the bill makes troubling changes to the way mitigation discounts are applied. Specifically, responsible Floridians who have already made investments to harden their homes could be unfairly penalized.

Therefore, I am withholding my approval of Committee Substitute for Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 2044, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Charlie Crist, Governor

The bills, together with the Governor's objections thereto, were referred to the Committee on Rules.

SUPREME COURT OF FLORIDA

No. SC11-182

IN RE: CERTIFICATION OF NEED FOR ADDITIONAL JUDGES.

PER CURIAM.

This opinion fulfills our constitutional obligation to determine the State's need for additional judges in Fiscal Year 2011/2012 and to certify our "findings and recommendations concerning such need" to the Legislature. Certification is "the sole mechanism established by our constitution for a systematic and uniform assessment of this need." In re Certification of Need for Additional Judges, 889 So. 2d 734, 735 (Fla. 2004).

TRIAL COURTS

The Florida Supreme Court continues to use a weighted caseload system as a primary basis for assessing judicial need for the trial courts. Using objective standards, this Court has examined case filing and disposition data, analyzed various judicial workload indicators, applied a sustained net need analysis, and considered judgeship requests submitted by the lower courts. Applying this methodology, this Court certifies the need for eighty additional trial court judgeships statewide, twenty-six in circuit court and fifty-four in county court.

As we make this certification, we also are aware that difficulties in our economic situation continue to have a severe impact on both the private and public sectors in Florida. With over one million Floridians unemployed and significant deficits in the state budget, we recognize that funding new judgeships will compete with other critical state priorities. Nonetheless, the reality is that Florida's circuit and county judges are overloaded with new filings, have substantial caseloads, and have fewer support staff to assist with the disposition of cases. Taken together, these factors continue to hamper the effective administration of justice in Florida.

For Term Ending

The trial court chief judges have provided us with ample justification to certify new judgeships to the Legislature. First, the chief judges have identified a number of workload trends that are affecting court operations throughout the state. Several chief judges have cited filing increases across multiple divisions, slower case processing times, increases in pending caseloads, and higher jury trial rates. Dropping clearance rates, a key barometer of the relationship between court filings and dispositions, were also cited by many chief judges.

Second, the ongoing challenges to state government associated with the current economic crisis have resulted in considerable reductions in trial court funding. Trial court expense budgets and support staff have been significantly reduced. Judges are absorbing the work previously performed by magistrates, law clerks, case managers, and other supplemental support staff lost in the budget reductions of the last several years. As noted in last year's certification opinion, we have lost a total of 249 trial court staff positions due to reductions to our budget. Most of these positions provided direct case management, legal research, and adjudicatory support to our judges. The loss of staff translates into slower case processing times, crowded dockets, and long waits to access judicial calendars. Another consequence of high caseloads and reduced staff support is less judicial time spent on hearings. Some of our judges believe that the quality of justice being delivered today is suffering because they do not have adequate time to devote to each case. We find that observation troubling. Over time, these factors can result in a weakening of the effective administration of justice throughout the state.

Third, several of the trial court chief judges also note the significant increases in pro se (i.e., self-represented litigants) filings for multiple divisions of court. This observation is not surprising given the state of our economy. Many citizens cannot afford to hire an attorney and choose to represent themselves in court. Pro se litigants are often unprepared for the rigors of presenting evidence, following rules of procedure, and representing themselves in court. Cases involving pro se litigants frequently require enhanced judicial involvement which entails lengthier or rescheduled hearings, which can result in litigant frustration and court delay.

Fourth, the mortgage foreclosure crisis continues to challenge every judicial circuit in Florida. The attendant workload associated with the total volume of foreclosure filings far outweighs current judicial capacity, notwithstanding the additional senior judge and case manager resources provided by the Legislature to assist with this crisis.

And fifth, the loss of the civil traffic infraction hearing officers in county court continues to impact county judges throughout the state. In many counties, county judges are hearing traffic cases previously processed by these hearing officers. This additional workload greatly expands county court dockets, creating case processing delays. As we have noted in previous certification opinions, having county court judges perform work that could be processed by civil traffic infraction hearing officers is not the best use of valuable judicial time.

Trial court judges have responded admirably by doing more with less and staying focused on managing their caseloads using available resources. Where possible, they have sought efficiencies by applying various management techniques such as differentiated case management, alternative dispute resolution, jury selection backup during trial weeks, and improved scheduling and calendaring. Their unwavering commitment to advancing the administration of justice during these difficult economic times is laudable, and we commend them.

The Court also takes notice that while the trial courts have identified their need for the additional supplemental resources necessary to ensure the efficient and effective flow of cases, their legislative budget request to the Legislature for Fiscal Year 2011/2012 was significantly scaled back due to the forecasted revenue deficits the State is facing. The Court would support a request for additional resources and, at the very least, the restoration of lost resources in the lower courts but respects the trial courts' willingness to continue to make do with less in acknowledgment of the tremendous demands on state government.

DISTRICT COURTS OF APPEAL

No district court of appeal requested additional judgeships for Fiscal Year 2011/2012. Consequently, the Court is not addressing the need for additional district court judges in this opinion.

CONCLUSION

We have conducted both a quantitative and qualitative assessment of judicial workload. Using the case weighted methodology required by the Legislature and the application of other factors identified in Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.240, we certify the need for eighty additional trial court judges in Florida. At the same time, we recognize that our State is caught in a period of protracted economic difficulties which are impacting all sectors of state government and that the Legislature will be confronted with extraordinarily challenging funding decisions in the upcoming session. We are hopeful, however, that the demonstrated need for additional judges in Florida can be addressed when the State’s fiscal condition improves.

In the difficult fiscal circumstances confronting the Legislature, we respectfully urge that the Legislature consider the priority of maintaining adequate funding for the courts which provide justice for the people of Florida.

It is so ordered.

CANADY, C.J., and PARIENTE, LEWIS, QUINCE, POLSTON, LA-BARGA, and PERRY, JJ., concur.

1. Article V, section 9 of the Florida Constitution provides in pertinent part:

Determination of number of judges.—The supreme court shall establish by rule uniform criteria for the determination of the need for additional judges except supreme court justices, the necessity for decreasing the number of judges and for increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits. If the supreme court finds that a need exists for increasing or decreasing the number of judges or increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits, it shall, prior to the next regular session of the legislature, certify to the legislature its findings and recommendations concerning such need.

2. Our certification methodology relies primarily on case weights and calculations of available judge time to determine the need for additional trial court judges. See Fla. R. Jud. Admin 2.240.

3. The needed judgeships in the circuit and county courts are set forth in the table in the attached appendix.

4. In re Certification of Need for Additional Judges, 29 So. 3d 1110 (Fla. 2010).

2.13—Open meetings

Except as otherwise provided in the Senate Rules, all committee meetings shall be open to the public, subject always to the powers and authority of the chair to maintain order and decorum. If any matter is reported on the basis of a poll of the committee, such matter shall be referred to such committee on a point of order made prior to final passage thereof.

2.15—Standing committee in deliberation; reports

(1) It shall be the duty of standing committees to report all matters referred to them either:

- (a) Favorably,
- (b) Favorably with committee amendment(s),
- (c) Favorably with committee substitute as defined in these Rules, or
- (d) Unfavorably.

The vote of the members of a standing committee or subcommittee on final passage of any measure shall be recorded. Upon the request of any two (2) members of a committee or subcommittee, the vote on any other matter or motion properly before the committee shall be recorded. After such report has been received by the Secretary, no matter so reported shall be recommitted to a committee except by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present in session or except as provided in Rule 2.7 or Rule 4.7(2).

(2) Such reports shall also reflect:

- (a) The date, time, and place of the meeting at which the action was taken, and
- (b) The vote of each member of the committee on the motion to report each bill.

The Secretary shall enter in the Journal the action of the committee, but shall not include that portion of the report relating to the date, time, and place of the meeting or the vote of each member on the motion to report a measure. Reports of committees shall be preserved pursuant to law.

(3) In reporting a Senate measure, a standing committee may draft a new measure embracing the same general subject matter to be returned to the Senate with the recommendation that the substitute be considered in lieu of the original measure. The substitute measure must be accompanied by the original measure referred to the committee and returned to the Secretary in the same manner as a favorable report. No other standing committee of reference shall consider the original measure but shall direct its attention to the substitute measure. A committee receiving a committee substitute from a prior committee of reference may also report a committee substitute and shall not be precluded from doing so with the substance of the bill as originally introduced. When reported, the substitute shall be read a first (1st) time by title, the original proposition shall be automatically tabled, and the substitute considered in lieu of without motion. The substitute shall carry the identifying number of the original and shall be returned to the Secretary in the same number of copies required for first (1st) introduction of a similar measure. The names of the introducer and each co-introducer of the original measure shall be shown by the committee administrative assistant on the committee substitute unless an introducer or co-introducer requests that it be omitted. A Senate committee may not recommend a Senate committee substitute for a House bill.

(4) All standing committee reports shall be approved by the chair or, in the chair's absence, the vice chair. Such reports shall be filed with the Secretary's office as soon as practicable, but not later than 4:30 p.m. on the next legislative day, except a committee drafting and recommending a committee substitute shall file such committee report no later than 4:30 p.m. on the second (2nd) legislative day. These reports must be accompanied by the original bill. Each report by a committee must set forth the identifying number of the bill. If amendments are proposed by the committee, the words "with amendments" shall follow the identifying number. Committee amendments shall be printed in full on forms prescribed by the Secretary and shall accompany the report. All bills reported unfavorably shall be laid on the table.

2.16—Standing subcommittee in deliberation; reports

(1) It shall be the duty of standing subcommittees to report all measures referred to them directly to the standing committee, which shall promptly certify a copy to the Secretary. The standing subcommittee shall report all matters either:

- (a) Favorably,
- (b) Favorably with committee amendment(s),
- (c) Favorably with committee substitute as defined in these Rules, or
- (d) Unfavorably.

(2) Such reports shall also reflect:

- (a) The date, time, and place of the meeting at which the action was taken, and
- (b) The vote of each member of the subcommittee on the motion to report each bill.

(3) In reporting a bill to the standing committee, a standing subcommittee may draft a new measure, embracing the same general subject matter, to be returned to the standing committee with the recommendation that the substitute be considered in lieu of the original measure. The substitute measure must be accompanied by the original measure referred to the standing subcommittee and returned to the standing committee in the same manner as a favorable report. The standing committee of reference shall not consider the original measure but shall direct its attention to the substitute measure. The standing committee receiving a committee substitute from a subcommittee of reference may also report a committee substitute and shall not be precluded from doing so with the substance of the bill as originally introduced. When reported, the substitute shall be read a first (1st) time by title, the original proposition shall be automatically tabled, and the substitute considered in lieu of without motion. The substitute shall carry the identifying number of the original and shall be returned to the standing committee in the same number of copies required for first (1st) introduction of a similar measure. The names of the introducer and each co-introducer of the original measure shall be shown by the committee administrative assistant on the committee substitute unless an inroducer or co-introducer requests that it be omitted. A Senate subcommittee may not recommend a Senate committee substitute for a House bill.

(4) All standing subcommittee reports shall be approved by the chair or, in the chair's absence, the vice chair. Each report by a standing subcommittee must set forth the identifying number of the measure. If amendments are proposed by the standing subcommittee, the words "with amendments" shall follow the identifying number. Standing subcommittee amendments shall be printed in full on forms prescribed by the Secretary and shall accompany the report.

(5) All bills reported unfavorably shall be laid on the table when the standing committee considers the standing subcommittee's report. On motion by any member of the committee, adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those standing committee members present, the same may be taken from the table. When a bill is thus removed from the table by a standing committee, it shall receive a hearing de novo and witnesses shall be permitted to testify.

(6) When a bill with a favorable report by a standing subcommittee is considered by the standing committee, no additional testimony shall be permitted except by a majority vote of those standing committee members present before final action is taken; however, debate by members of the standing committee shall be allowed.

(7) A bill with a favorable subcommittee report may be withdrawn, in accordance with Rule 4.10, from the standing committee without any further action on the bill by the standing committee.

2.17—Quorum of committee

A standing committee, standing subcommittee, or select committee is assembled only when a quorum constituting a majority of the members of that committee is present in person. No committee business of any type shall be conducted in the absence of a quorum. Any matter reported in violation of this Rule shall be recommitted by the President when it is called to the President's attention by a Senator.

2.19—Conference committee in deliberation; reports

(1) All meetings of Senate conferees with House conferees at which the business of the conference committee is discussed shall be open to the public subject to proper order and decorum. A meeting of the Senate and House conferees is a meeting of the two (2) groups, therefore, the rules governing each respective house apply. Meetings between a majority of the members of a conference committee may be held following a notice being filed with the Secretary by or at the direction of the person calling the meeting, at least one (1) hour in advance of the meeting. The notice shall indicate the names of the conferees and scheduled participants, the date, the time, and the place of the meeting. Conference committees may meet at any time with proper notice.

(2) A conference committee, other than a conference committee on a general or special appropriations bill and its related legislation, shall consider and report only on the differences existing between the Senate and the House, and no substance foreign to the bills before the conferees shall be included in the report or considered by the Senate.

(3) A conference committee may only report by recommending the adoption of a series of amendments to the House or Senate bill that was the subject of the conference, or it may offer an amendment deleting everything after the enacting clause of any such bill referred to the committee. Such amendments shall accompany the conference committee report. In any event, the conference committee may recommend, as part of its report, the adoption or rejection of any or all of the amendments theretofore adopted by either house. Conference committee reports must be approved and signed by a majority of the managers on the part of each house. All final actions taken in a conference committee shall be by motion.

(4) Each conference committee report shall contain a statement sufficiently explicit to inform the Senate of the effect of the report on the measure to which it relates.

(5) When the President appoints a conference committee, a notice of the following meetings to discuss matters relating to the conference, stating the names of the conferees and scheduled participants, and the date, time, and place for the meeting, shall be filed with the Secretary by or at the direction of the person at whose call the meeting is convened, not less than one (1) hour preceding the time for the meeting:

- (a) Meetings between the President (or a Senator designated to represent the President), the Governor, and the Speaker (or a Representative designated to represent the Speaker);
- (b) Meetings between a majority of the members of any subcommittee of the conference committee;
- (c) Meetings between the President or any Senator(s) designated to represent the President and a conferee from the House of Representatives, or any meeting between a conferee from the Senate with the Speaker or any Representative(s) designated to represent the Speaker; and
- (d) Meetings of a majority of the Senate conferees; and when the bill that is the subject of the conference committee deals primarily with the general appropriations act or revenue matters, any meeting of three (3) or more conferees on the part of the Senate.

(6) Notice of meetings, as scheduled, between the chair of the Senate's conferees with the chair of the House's conferees, or between respective Senate and House committee chairs with each other, shall be posted in the public corridor leading to the Senate Chamber. In the case of the appropriations conference, said notice shall also be posted outside the door of the offices of the appropriations committees.

(7) All meetings for which notice is required pursuant to this Rule shall be held in the Capitol Complex, but shall not be held in the Chamber of either house while it is in session.

(8) When conferees on the part of the Senate report an inability to agree, any action of the Senate taken prior to such reference to a conference committee shall not preclude further action on the measure as the Senate may determine.

(9) After Senate conferees have been appointed for seven (7) calendar days and have failed to make a report, it is a motion of the highest privilege to move to discharge said conferees and to appoint new conferees, or to instruct said conferees. This motion shall have precedence over all other questions except motions to adjourn or recess to a later day, and questions of privilege. Further, during the last six (6) calendar days allowed under the State Constitution for any regular session, it shall be a privileged motion to move to discharge, appoint, or instruct Senate conferees after the Senate conferees have been appointed thirty-six (36) hours without having made a report.

PART TWO—COMMITTEES—OFFICERS

2.20—Appointment of chair and vice chair

A chair and a vice chair of each standing committee shall be appointed by the President and shall continue in office at the pleasure of the President. The President shall also appoint a chair for each standing subcommittee and select committee authorized by these Rules and may designate a vice chair, both of whom shall continue in office at the pleasure of the President.

2.21—Chair's calling of committee to order

The chair or, in the chair's absence, the vice chair, shall call the committee to order at the hour provided by these Rules. A quorum being present, the committee shall proceed with the order of business. Any member of the committee may question the existence of a quorum. No committee business of any type shall be conducted in the absence of a quorum.

2.22—Chair's control

The chair shall preserve order and decorum and shall have general control of the committee room. If there is a disturbance or disorderly conduct in the committee room, the chair may require participants in the disturbance to clear the room.

2.23—Chair's authority; appeals

(1) The chair shall approve all notices, vouchers, subpoenas, or reports required or permitted by these Rules.

(2) The chair shall decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal by any Senator, and the appeal shall be certified by the chair to the Senate for a decision by the President during the daily session of the Senate next following such certification. The ruling shall be entered in the Journal, shall constitute binding precedent on all committees of the Senate, and shall be subject to appeal as any other question. The chair may, or on the vote of a majority of the committee members present shall, certify a question of parliamentary procedure to the President as contemplated by the Rule without a formal appeal. Such a certified question shall be disposed of by the President as if it had been on appeal. The perfection of an appeal or the certification of a question pursuant to this Rule shall not constitute an automatic stay to further legislative action on the measure under consideration.

2.24—Chair, vice chair; vote

The chair and vice chair shall vote on all matters before such committee. The name of the chair shall be called last.

2.25—Temporary alternate to chair

The chair may name any member of the committee to perform the duties of the chair if such substitution shall not extend beyond such meeting. If for any reason the chair is absent and fails to name a member, the vice chair shall assume the duties of the chair during the chair's absence.

2.26—Vice chair's duties

On the death, incapacitation, or resignation of the chair, the vice chair shall perform the duties of the office until the President shall appoint a successor. In the absence of the chair, the vice chair shall act as chair.

PART THREE—COMMITTEES—MEMBERS

2.27—Members' attendance, voting, proxy

(1) Unless excused or necessarily prevented, every member of a committee shall be in attendance during each of its meetings.

(2) The chair may excuse any member for just cause from attendance at meetings of his or her committee for any stated period, and this excused absence shall be noted on the committee's records.

(3) Failure to attend two (2) consecutive regular meetings, unless excused from attendance in the Senate on those days as provided in these Rules or by the chair of the committee, shall constitute automatic withdrawal from the committee.

(4) No member of any committee shall be allowed to vote by proxy. A majority of all the committee members present shall agree by their votes on the disposition of any matter considered by the committee.

(5) The President may designate either the President Pro Tempore or the Majority Leader to vote in any committee. The President shall notify the Secretary and the chair of the affected committee of the designation. The designee may not count for the purpose of a quorum unless specifically stated in the notification.

PART FOUR—COMMITTEES—VOTING

2.28—Taking the vote

(1) The chair shall declare all votes and shall cause same to be entered on the records of the committee, but if any member questions a voice vote, then by a show of hands by two (2) members the chair shall count the yeas and nays. When the committee is equally divided, the question shall be lost.

- (2) A member may request to:
 - (a) Vote, or
 - (b) Change his or her vote before the results of a roll call are announced. After the results have been announced, a member with unanimous consent of those committee members present may vote or change his or her vote. If the vote alters the final action of the committee, no vote or change of vote shall be valid unless the matter has been reconsidered by the committee. On request of a member prior to consideration of other business, the chair shall order a verification of a vote.

2.29—Pair voting prohibited

No pair voting shall be permitted by the committee.

2.30—Casting vote for another

No Senator shall cast a vote for another Senator, nor shall any person not a Senator cast a vote for a Senator. In addition to such penalties as may be prescribed by law, any Senator who shall vote or attempt to vote for another Senator may be punished as the Senate may deem proper. Also, any person not a Senator who shall vote in the place of a Senator shall be excluded from the committee for the remainder of the session.

2.31—Explanation of vote

No member shall be permitted to defer or explain his or her vote during a roll call, but may submit his or her explanation in writing and file it with the chair. This explanation shall be kept as part of the committee record and a copy filed with the Secretary.

PART FIVE—COMMITTEES—MOTIONS AND PRECEDENCE

2.32—Motions; how made, withdrawn

Every motion may be made orally. On request of the chair, a member shall submit his or her motion in writing. After a motion has been stated or read by the chair, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the committee without a second, and shall be disposed of by vote of the committee members present. The mover may withdraw a motion at any time before the same has been amended, or before a vote shall have commenced. The mover of a motion to reconsider may withdraw that motion only with the unanimous consent of those committee members present.

2.33—Motions; precedence

(1) When a question is under debate, the chair shall receive no motion except:

- (a) To rise
- (b) To take a recess
- (c) To reconsider
- (d) To limit debate
- (e) To temporarily postpone
- (f) To commit to a select subcommittee
- (g) To amend

which shall have precedence in the descending order given.

(2) The chair shall present all questions in the order in which they are moved unless the subsequent motion is previous in nature.

(3) When a motion is under consideration, but prior to the commencement of the vote, a substitute motion shall be in order. Only one (1) substitute shall be considered and the substitute shall be in the same order of precedence.

2.34—Division of question

A member may move for a division of a question when the sense will admit of it. A motion to delete and insert shall be deemed indivisible; a motion to delete, being lost, shall neither preclude amendment nor a motion to delete and insert.

2.35—Reconsideration generally

(1) When a question has been decided by a committee, any member voting with the prevailing side may move for reconsideration of the question. Also when a question has been decided by voice vote, any member, during the meeting at which the vote was taken, may so move. If the committee shall refuse to reconsider or, upon reconsideration, shall confirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order except upon unanimous consent of those committee members present.

(2) Consideration of a motion to reconsider a measure or the confirmation of an executive appointment shall be a special and continuing order of business for the succeeding committee meeting, and, unless considered during such meeting, shall be considered abandoned. Such motion may be made prior to or pending a motion to rise. During the last fourteen (14) days of a regular session, a motion to reconsider shall be made and considered during the meeting at which the original vote was taken.

2.36—Reconsideration; vote required

The affirmative votes of a majority of the committee members present shall be required to adopt a motion to reconsider.

2.37—Reconsideration; debate allowed

Debate shall be allowed on a motion to reconsider only when the question is debatable. When debate on a motion to reconsider is in order, no Senator shall speak thereon more than once nor longer than five (5) minutes.

2.38—Reconsideration; collateral matters

A motion to reconsider a collateral matter must be disposed of during the course of the consideration of the main subject to which it is related, and such motion shall be out of order after the committee has passed to other business.

PART SIX—COMMITTEES—AMENDMENTS

2.39—Amendments, proposed committee substitutes, and proposed committee bills; form, notice, manner of consideration

(1) No amendment or proposed committee substitute to any measure, or no proposed committee bill on any committee agenda shall be considered by that committee unless the amendment, proposed committee substitute, or proposed committee bill was prepared in proper form and filed with the committee administrative assistant at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the noticed meeting time. For the purpose of this rule, office hours are Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Copies of such amendment, proposed committee substitute, or proposed committee bill shall be made reasonably available by the committee administrative assistant before the meeting to the members of the committee and to the public.

- (a) Subsequent to distribution of all timely filed amendments, amendments to amendments or substitute amendments may be filed to any measure to which an amendment was timely filed. Such amendments must be filed with the committee administrative assistant at least two (2) hours prior to the noticed meeting time.
- (b) Subsequent to distribution of all timely filed proposed committee substitutes and proposed committee bills, amendments, amendments to amendments, or substitute amendments to any proposed committee substitute or proposed committee bill must be filed with the committee administrative assistant at least two (2) hours prior to the noticed meeting time.
- (c) Amendments to late-filed amendments, proposed committee substitutes, or proposed committee bills shall be considered timely filed if filed at least two (2) hours prior to the noticed meeting time.
- (d) After the first fifty (50) days of any regular session, an amendment, proposed committee bill, or proposed committee substitute to any measure prepared prior to a committee meeting at which it is offered shall be filed with the committee administrative assistant at least two (2) hours prior to the noticed meeting time.
- (e) The consideration of any amendment, proposed committee bill, or proposed committee substitute not timely filed in accordance with this rule, including any filed during a committee meeting in which it is to be offered, requires a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those committee members present if any member requests that such a vote be taken. These time requirements do not apply to a committee's recommendation during a meeting to make a committee substitute which is merely a combination of the noticed bill and amendment.

- (2) Amendments shall be filed on forms prescribed by the Secretary.
 - (a) An amendment shall be considered only after its sponsor, who is a member of the committee, gains recognition from the chair to move its adoption.

- (b) An amendment shall be deemed pending only after its sponsor has been recognized by the chair and has moved its adoption. Amendments that have been filed but have not been formally moved for adoption shall not be deemed to be pending.
- (c) No proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted in the form of an amendment.

2.40—Sequence of amendments to amendments

(1) An amendment to a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of, no other motion to amend will be in order, except a substitute amendment or an amendment to the substitute. Such amendments are to be disposed of in the following order:

- (a) Amendments to the amendment are acted on before the substitute is taken up.
- (b) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on.
- (c) The substitute then is voted on.

(2) The adoption of a substitute amendment in lieu of an original amendment shall be treated and considered as an amendment to the bill itself.

(3) The following amendments are out of order:

- (a) A substitute amendment for an amendment to an amendment.
- (b) A substitute amendment for an amendment to a substitute.

2.41—Deleting everything after enacting clause

A proposal to delete everything after the enacting clause of a bill, or the resolving clause of a resolution, and insert new language of the same general subject as stated in the original title shall be deemed proper and germane and shall be treated as an amendment.

2.42—Amendment by section

The adoption of an amendment to a section shall not preclude further amendment of that section. If a bill is being considered section by section or item by item, only amendments to the section or item under consideration shall be in order. The chair, in recognizing members for the purpose of moving the adoption of amendments, shall endeavor to cause all amendments to section 1 to be considered first, then all those in section 2, and so on. After all sections have been considered separately, the entire bill shall be open for amendment.

2.43—Senate amendments to House bills

A House bill may be amended in the same manner as a Senate bill.

2.44—Amendments by another committee

Amendments recommended by all committees of reference shall accompany a bill when filed with the Secretary. No committee shall physically remove an amendment by another committee but may recommend an amendment to an amendment, or a substitute for an amendment, by another committee. Any accompanying amendment shall be included in a subsequent committee substitute unless altered or negated by committee action. Amendments adopted by a committee to be incorporated in a committee substitute need not be filed with the Secretary as part of the reports required in Rules 2.15 and 2.16.

PART SEVEN—COMMITTEES—DECORUM AND DEBATE

2.45—Decorum and debate

When a member desires to speak or present a matter to the committee, the member shall address himself or herself to “Mr. or Madam Chair” and, on being recognized, may address the committee and shall confine any remarks to the question under debate, avoiding personality. A member shall not address or refer to another member by his or her first name. A member shall use the appellation of “Senator” or such appellation and the surname of the member referred to or addressed.

2.46—Chair’s power to recognize

When two (2) or more members request to speak at once, the chair shall recognize the member who is to speak first.

2.47—Interruptions; when allowed

(1) No member shall be interrupted by another without the consent of the member who has the floor, except by:

- (a) Rising to a question of privilege;
- (b) Rising to a point of order requiring an immediate ruling;
- (c) Rising to appeal a decision of the chair concerning a point of order (if the appeal is made immediately following the decision);
- (d) Rising to make a parliamentary inquiry requiring an immediate reply; or
- (e) Rising to question the existence of a quorum.

(2) The chair shall strictly enforce this Rule.

2.48—Speaking rights

(1) When a member is speaking and another member interrupts to request recognition, the chair may permit the person rising to state why he or she desires the floor. If the question the member desires to raise is entitled to precedence, the member originally speaking shall relinquish the floor until the question having precedence is disposed of. The member is then entitled to resume the floor.

(2) The member making a debatable motion or the introducer of a bill, whether or not a member of the committee, shall have five (5) minutes in order to close debate.

2.49—Time for debate

No Senator shall speak longer than ten (10) minutes without yielding the floor, except by consent of a majority of those committee members present.

2.50—Limitation on debate

When a matter is under debate by the committee, a member may move to limit debate, and the motion shall be decided without debate. The introducer of the pending matter shall have five (5) minutes to discuss the motion, and the introducer may divide such time with, or waive it in favor of, some other member. If the question is decided in the affirmative by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those committee members present, the debate shall be limited accordingly. The time allotted by such limitation shall be apportioned by the chair. Once limited, debate may be extended beyond the original debate time limit by a majority vote of the committee members present.

2.51—Priority of business

All questions relating to the priority of business shall be acted on and shall be decided without debate.

2.52—Repealed

2.53—Appeals

The proper method of taking exception to a ruling of the chair is by appeal. An appeal from a decision of the chair must be made promptly before debate has concluded or other business has intervened. A point of order on any other question is not in order while an appeal is pending, but a point of order relating to the appeal may be raised; if the determination of the appeal is dependent on this point, it may be decided by the chair. This second (2nd) decision is also subject to appeal.

2.54—Appeals debatable

An appeal from a decision of the chair on a point of order is debatable even though the question from which it arose was not debatable.

RULE THREE

(5) When the change in language is so general that the use of these procedures would hinder, rather than assist, the understanding of the amendment, it shall not be necessary to use the coded indicators of words added or deleted but, in lieu thereof, a notation similar to the following shall be inserted immediately preceding the text of the provision being amended: "Substantial rewording of section. See s. [number], F.S., for present text." When such notation is used, the notation as well as the substantially reworded text shall be underlined.

(6) The words to be deleted and the above-described indicators of such words and of new material are for information and guidance and shall not be considered to constitute a part of the bill under consideration.

(7) Section catchlines of existing text shall not be typed with underlining.

3.2—Bills for introduction

A bill may not be introduced until properly filed with the Secretary.

3.3—Form of local bills

Forms of affidavit may be obtained from the Secretary. All local bills that require publication shall, when introduced, have proof of publication securely attached to the original copy of the bill and the words "Proof of Publication Attached" clearly typed or stamped on the Senate side of the bill jacket or cover, or the same shall be rejected by the Secretary.

(2) Only the Secretary shall prepare copies of Senate resolutions that are to be furnished to any person after the resolution's adoption.

3.7—Bill filing deadline during regular session; bill filing between regular sessions

(1) To facilitate processing and committee referencing, all bills (except for the general appropriations bill, implementing bills, appropriations conforming bills, local bills, Senate resolutions, concurrent resolutions, committee bills, and trust fund bills or public-record exemptions that are linked to timely filed general bills) shall be filed for introduction with the Secretary no later than 12:00 noon of the first (1st) day of the regular session.

(2) A motion to waive this Rule shall be referred to the Rules Committee for a hearing and its advisory recommendation as to the existence of an emergency reasonably compelling consideration of a bill notwithstanding this Rule and a recommendation shall be reported back to the Senate. The Secretary shall number each bill to provide identity and control until a permanent number can be affixed.

(3) Between regular sessions of the Legislature, bills may be filed by delivery to the Secretary.

3.8—Filed bills; consideration between regular sessions

(1) A filed bill complying with these Rules shall, in anticipation of the next regular session, be serially numbered in accordance with the permanent system required by these Rules.

(2) The Secretary shall provide each such numbered bill to the President for reference to a committee or committees pursuant to these Rules. The Secretary shall promptly forward each referenced bill to the first (1st) or only committee of reference. The Secretary shall make available to each Senator all filed bills, including the referencing data for each bill, and a calendar of all committee hearings, including the bills noticed for hearing by each.

(3) Each bill considered by a committee and reported to the Secretary during the interim shall be introduced and read on the first (1st) day of the regular session, pursuant to the State Constitution, Laws of Florida, and these Rules. The Journal shall reflect the committee reference and the report of the committee. All requirements for the referencing of bills to and the consideration of bills by Senate committees shall be deemed to have been met and discharged if the jurisdictional requirements of this Rule have been complied with as to each of such bills.

(4) If a committee fails to consider and report a filed bill prior to the convening of a regular session, the committee or committees failing to so report shall conduct hearings and file reports during the regular session.

(5) Notwithstanding these Rules, a Senator may, during the day of introduction of filed bills, but no later than under the Order of Business of "Motions Relating to Committee Reference" on the second (2nd) legislative day on which the Senate meets, move for reference to a different committee or for removal from a committee. This motion may be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(6) Prior to the introduction of a bill on the first (1st) day of the regular session, a Senator may give written notification to the Secretary to withdraw his or her bill from further consideration of the Senate.

3.9—Copies of bills

When filed, bills (including committee bills and committee substitute bills) shall be published by the Secretary for the information of the Senate and the public. The absence of a published copy shall not delay the progress of a measure at any stage of the legislative process. Sufficient copies of the general appropriations bill proposed to be introduced by the Budget Committee shall be made available to the members and, upon request, to the public, at the Office of the Secretary and at the committee's office, no less than two (2) hours prior to the time the Budget Committee meets to consider the proposed committee bill.

3.10—Identification of bills

Bills and other measures requiring legislative action shall be introduced in the order they are received at the desk of the Secretary. They shall be serially numbered with even numbers as introduced, without differentiation in number as to type. The Secretary shall mark the original copy of each measure to ensure its identification, and each page thereof, as the item introduced in order to prevent unauthorized or improper substitutions. This identification may be made by any device to accomplish the purpose of this Rule. Such device shall be in the custody of the Secretary, and its use by any person not authorized by this Rule is prohibited.

3.11—Companion measures

When a Senate bill is reached on the calendar of the Senate for consideration, either on second (2nd) or third (3rd) reading, and there is also pending on the calendar of the Senate a companion measure already passed by the House, it shall be in order to move that the House companion measure be substituted and considered in lieu of the Senate measure. Such motion may be adopted by a majority vote of those Senators present, provided the House measure is on the same reading; otherwise, the motion shall be to waive the Rules by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present and read such House measure. A companion measure shall be substantially the same and identical as to specific intent and purpose as the measure for which it is being substituted. At the moment the Senate passes the House companion measure, the original Senate measure shall be regarded as automatically tabled. Recommitment of a Senate bill shall automatically carry with it any House companion measure then on the calendar.

3.12—Introducers of bills; introducers no longer Senators

(1) Bills shall be approved for introduction by a Senator whose name is affixed to the original, or by any committee with the name of the committee and the name of the chair of the committee affixed to the original. A bill may be co-introduced by any Senator whose name is affixed to the original.

(2) A Senator who is not seeking or is ineligible for reelection and, therefore, will not be a Senator at the next regular session of the Legislature may not file a bill for that session. Once a Senator is no longer in office, any bill filed by that Senator for a current or future session of the Legislature shall be deemed withdrawn from further consideration of the Senate unless the bill has a co-introducer who, within seven (7) days, is willing to become the introducer of the bill.

3.13—Fiscal notes

(1) Upon being favorably reported by a committee, all general bills or joint resolutions affecting revenues, expenditures, or fiscal liabilities of state or local governments shall be accompanied by a fiscal note. Fiscal notes shall reflect the estimated increase or decrease in revenues or expenditures. The estimated economic impact, which calculates the present and future fiscal implications of the bill or joint resolution, must be considered. The fiscal note shall not express opinion relative to the merits of the measure, but may identify technical or mechanical defects.

(2) Fiscal notes on those bills affecting any state retirement system shall be prepared after consultation with an actuary who is a member of the Society of Actuaries, and the cooperation of appropriate state agencies for necessary data shall be solicited.

(3) Fiscal notes shall be regarded as memoranda of factual information and shall be made available to Senators.

(4) If a bill or joint resolution is reported favorably by a committee without a fiscal note or economic impact statement, as defined in this Rule, a Senator may at any time raise a point of order, and the President shall order return of the bill or joint resolution to the committee. A fiscal note prepared for a Senate bill or joint resolution shall be presumed as prepared also for its House companion for the purposes of point of order.

RULE FOUR

ORDER OF BUSINESS AND CALENDAR

4.1—Sessions of the Senate

The Senate shall meet pursuant to a schedule provided by the President. This schedule shall set forth hours to convene and adjourn and may contain a schedule for the Special Order Calendars submitted by the Calendar Group. During the first fifty (50) days of a regular session, the Senate shall not convene before 7:00 a.m. nor meet or continue to meet after 8:00 p.m. Otherwise, the Senate shall not convene before 7:00 a.m. nor meet or continue to meet after 6:00 p.m.

4.2—Quorum

A majority of the Senate shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as it may prescribe. A Senator at any time may question the existence of a quorum.

4.3—Daily Order of Business

(1) The Daily Order of Business shall be as follows:

- (a) Roll Call
- (b) Prayer
- (c) Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America
- (d) Reports of Committees
- (e) Motions Relating to Committee Reference
- (f) Messages from the Governor and Other Executive Communications
- (g) Messages from the House of Representatives
- (h) Matters on Reconsideration
- (i) Consideration of Bills on Third (3rd) Reading
- (j) Special Order Calendars
- (k) Consideration of Bills on Second (2nd) Reading
- (l) Correction and approval of Journal

(2) The Secretary shall prepare and distribute, on each legislative day, a calendar corresponding to the Daily Order of Business; and within each order of business, matters shall be considered in the order in which they appear on such daily calendar. Local bills may be omitted from the formal calendar and may be distributed to Senators by the Secretary separately.

(3) Certain messages from the House of Representatives may be withheld from the Daily Order of Business pursuant to Rule 1.18 or on order of the President. Notwithstanding Rule 4.3(1), the Senate may take up messages from the House at the direction of the President.

(4) First (1st) reading of a bill shall be accomplished by publication of the title thereof in the Journal pursuant to Article III, Section 7 of the State Constitution.

(5) Except by unanimous consent of those Senators present in session, no bill shall be considered by the Senate if the bill or a companion measure has not been first reported favorably by at least one (1) Senate committee.

4.4—Committee of the Whole

By a majority vote of those Senators present, the Senate may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole and, when thus constituted, may consider any question whether formally introduced in the Senate or not. The Senate may, however, restrict the subject matter to be considered by the Committee of the Whole, or its jurisdiction, by resolving itself into a Committee of the Whole for a specific and limited purpose. The President shall preside and maintain order and decorum. The Senate Rules relating to standing committees shall govern when applicable. The Committee of the Whole may consider and report, by majority vote of those committee members present, on any bill or question not formally introduced in the Senate and any bill on which all standing committees of reference have rendered a favorable report. A bill on which committee action has been taken by the committee or committees of reference or on which an unfavorable committee report has been filed may be considered only by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those committee members present. Such vote shall also be required to favorably report any such bill to the Senate. A bill thus originating in a Committee of the Whole shall, when introduced as contemplated by the State Constitution, receive no further reference to committee. A favorable report by a Committee of the Whole on a bill having theretofore received an unfavorable report by a standing committee of reference shall not have the effect of withdrawing such bill from the table. Consideration by the Senate of such a bill shall be preceded by the adoption of the appropriate motion during a session of the Senate. Bills considered by a Committee of the Whole shall be read once, debated, amended, and acted on as a standing committee function. The body of a bill formally introduced shall not be interlined or defaced, but all amendments denoting the location shall be entered on a separate paper by the Secretary of the Committee of the Whole. The same shall be agreed to by the Committee of the Whole, and the report filed as otherwise provided in these Rules for committee reports. After report, the bill or other matter may be again debated and shall be subject to be again amended by the Senate. The quorum for a Committee of the Whole shall be the same as for the Senate, and when the Committee of the Whole shall rise, the roll shall be called to ascertain the presence of a quorum of the Senate.

4.5—Conference committee report

(1) The report of a conference committee appointed pursuant to Rule 1.5 shall be read to the Senate on two (2) consecutive legislative days, and on the completion of the second (2nd) reading the vote shall be on the adoption or rejection thereof and final passage of the measure as recommended. During the last five (5) days of a regular session and during any extension thereof, the report shall be read only once. Copies of conference committee reports shall be available to the membership twelve (12) hours prior to the time such report is scheduled to be taken up on the Senate floor.

(2) The report must be acted on as a whole, being adopted or rejected, and each report shall include a statement sufficiently explicit to inform the Senate of the effect of the report on the measure to which it relates.

(3) Except when the Senate is voting on a proposition, reports of conference committees shall always be in order.

4.6—Reference generally

(1) All bills, including those that are strictly local in nature, shall be referred by the President to appropriate committees and standing subcommittees. Any general appropriations bill, appropriations implementing bills, and appropriations conforming bills introduced by the Budget Committee may be placed on the calendar without reference.

(2) Bills received by the President during a regular session and within three (3) weeks next preceding the convening of a regular session shall be referred within seven (7) days. Upon failure of the President to reference such bills within this limitation, they shall be referred to committees as may be recommended by the introducer. In the event of extended absence of the President or the President's disability or incapacity, the President Pro Tempore shall assume the duty of referring bills.

(3) When the Legislature is not in session, the President may change or correct a bill reference. Notice shall be given to the Secretary and the bill introducer.

(4) If the President has not previously designated a standing subcommittee of reference, the chair of the standing committee shall promptly determine whether such measure shall initially be considered by the standing committee, a standing subcommittee, or a select subcommittee appointed by the chair. The chair, in referring a bill to a subcommittee, shall specify the number of days available for consideration and may, at any time, remove the bill from the referenced subcommittee. If subreference is to a standing subcommittee, the chair of the standing committee shall promptly report this reference and the time allowed for consideration, or the removal of the bill from the referenced subcommittee, to the Secretary on forms prescribed by the Secretary.

(5) The review of a bill that appears to be local in nature shall be performed by the Rules Committee to determine whether such measure is local in nature for reference purposes and whether it responds to the legal requirements of a local bill.

(6) A bill is local in nature for referencing purposes if it does not substantially alter a law of general application throughout the state and it either affects no more than one (1) county or relates to a special district that is located wholly within no more than two (2) counties.

(7) When the Rules Committee, through staff review, has determined that the bill is not local in nature for referencing purposes, the committee shall report such determination to the President, who shall refer such bill to an appropriate standing committee for hearing. Such report shall be made within fifteen (15) legislative days from date of receipt by the Rules Committee. When the Rules Committee, through staff review, has determined that a bill is local in nature for referencing purposes and that it responds to the legal requirements of a local bill, the bill shall be available for the calendar on local bills notwithstanding Rule 4.3(5).

4.7—Reference to more than one committee; effect

(1) In case of multiple reference of a bill, it shall be considered by each committee separately in the order in which the multiple reference is made. However, if any committee to which the bill is referred makes an unfavorable report on said bill, that report shall be filed with the Senate and no further consideration given by other committees except by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(2) If a committee reports a bill favorably with committee substitute or with any amendment which substantially amends the bill, the President may change or correct the reference of the reported bill. This Rule does not apply to a bill reported by a subcommittee unless the bill has been withdrawn from the standing committee. Notice shall be given to the Secretary and the introducer of the bill.

4.8—Review and reference of bills affecting appropriations, revenue, retirement, or county or municipal spending

All bills authorizing or substantially affecting appropriations or tax revenue shall be reviewed by the appropriate revenue or appropriations committee. All bills substantially affecting a state-funded or state-administered retirement system shall be reviewed by the Governmental Oversight and Accountability Committee. All bills which are affected by the provisions of Article VII, Section 18 of the State Constitution shall be reviewed by the Community Affairs Committee. A bill that is amended to substantially affect appropriations or tax revenue, a state retirement program, or expenditures or revenues as set forth in Article VII, Section 18 of the State Constitution may, before being placed before the Senate for final passage, be referred by the President along with all amendments to the appropriate revenue or appropriations committee.

4.81—Claim bills

(1) Claim bills are of two (2) types: excess judgment claims filed pursuant to section 768.28(5), Florida Statutes, and equitable claims filed without an underlying excess judgment.

(2) All claim bills shall be filed with the Secretary on or before August 1 in order to be considered by the Senate during the next regular session, except that Senators elected to the Senate during a general election or a special general election may have sixty-two (62) days from the date of that election to file a claim bill. Senators currently serving who are re-elected during a general election are not subject to the immediately preceding provision relating to sixty-two (62) days. A motion to introduce a claim bill notwithstanding the claim bill filing deadline shall be referred to the Rules Committee for a hearing and a determination as to the existence of an emergency reasonably compelling consideration of a claim bill notwithstanding the claim bill filing deadline. A House claim bill which does not have a Senate companion claim bill timely filed under this Rule shall not be considered by the Senate. Any motion to consider a House claim bill which does not have a timely filed Senate companion bill shall be referred to the Rules Committee for a hearing and a determination as to the existence of an emergency reasonably compelling consideration of a claim bill notwithstanding the claim bill filing deadline. The determination by the Rules Committee shall be reported back to the Senate. Upon a determination by the committee that an emergency does exist, the motion may be considered by the Senate and must be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(3) If the President determines that a de novo hearing is necessary to determine liability, proximate cause, and damages, a special master shall conduct such hearing pursuant to reasonable notice. Discovery procedures shall be governed by the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure and the Florida Evidence Code, as applicable. The special master shall administer an oath to all witnesses, accept relevant documentary and tangible evidence properly offered, record the proceedings, and prepare a final report containing findings of fact, conclusions of law, and recommendations. The report shall be signed by the special master who shall be available, in person, to explain his or her report to the committees and to the Senate.

(4) All claim bills shall be referred by the President to one (1) or more committees for review. On receipt of the special master's report and recommendations, if any, the Secretary shall, upon the President's reference, deliver each claim bill with the report attached to the committee or committees of reference.

(5) Stipulations entered into by the parties are not binding on the special master, the Senate, or its committees.

(6) The hearing and consideration of a claim bill shall be held in abeyance until all available administrative and judicial remedies have been exhausted; except that the hearing and consideration of a claim that is still within the judicial or administrative systems may proceed where the parties have executed a written settlement agreement. This subsection does not apply to a bill which relates to a claim of wrongful incarceration.

4.9—Reference of resolutions

All resolutions shall be referred by the President to a standing committee, except resolutions on Senate organization, resolutions of condolence and commemoration that are of a statewide nonpolitical significance, or concurrent resolutions recalling a bill from the Governor's office, setting Joint Rules of the Legislature, extending a session of the Legislature, or setting an effective date for a bill passed over the Governor's veto. These may be considered on motion and adopted at time of introduction without reference, except that resolutions of condolence or commemoration that are of a statewide nonpolitical significance may be shown as introduced, read, and adopted by publication in full in the Journal. A joint resolution setting an effective date for a bill passed over the Governor's veto may be considered on motion and introduced without reference.

4.10—Reference to different committee or removal

When the President has referred a bill, the Rules Chair may move for reference to a different committee or for removal from any committee after the introducer of the bill has filed a request with the Rules Chair signed by the chair of the affected committee, the Rules Chair, and the President. This motion may be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

4.11—Papers of miscellaneous nature

Papers of a miscellaneous nature addressed to the Senate may, at the discretion of the President, be read, noted in the Journal, or filed with an appropriate committee. When there is a demand to read a paper other than one on which the Senate is called to give a final vote and the same is objected to by any Senator, it shall be determined by a majority vote of those Senators present.

4.12—Reading of bills and joint resolutions

Each bill or joint resolution shall receive three (3) separate readings on three (3) separate days previous to a vote on final passage unless decided otherwise by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present as provided in Article III, Section 7 of the State Constitution.

4.13—Reading of concurrent resolutions and memorials

(1) Each concurrent resolution or memorial shall receive two (2) separate readings by title on two (2) separate days previous to a voice vote on adoption, unless decided otherwise by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(2) Concurrent resolutions used to recall a bill from the Governor's office, adopt Joint Rules of the Legislature, extend a session of the Legislature, or set an effective date for a bill passed over the Governor's veto are exempt from the provisions of this Rule and may be introduced, read the first and second time, and adopted on the same day.

4.14—Reading of Senate resolutions

On introduction each Senate resolution shall be read two (2) times by title only before the question is put on adoption by voice vote, except that resolutions of condolence or commemoration that are of a statewide nonpolitical significance may be shown as introduced, read, and adopted by publication in full in the Journal.

4.15—Referral or postponement on third (3rd) reading

On the third (3rd) reading of a bill or joint resolution, it shall not be referred or committed (except as provided under Rule 4.8) or amended (except a corrective or title amendment) except by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present, nor shall the vote on passage be postponed to a day certain without the consent of a majority of those Senators present.

4.16—Consideration out of regular order

A bill shall be considered out of regular order on the calendar on unanimous consent of those Senators present obtained in the following manner: prior to the consideration of the motion, the Senator moving for unanimous consent of those Senators present shall orally give the membership not fewer than fifteen (15) minutes' notice of his or her intention to move and shall specify the number of the bill and its position on the calendar. On entertainment of the motion, the moving Senator shall be allowed one (1) minute to explain his or her purpose, and unanimous consent of those Senators present shall be given or refused without further debate.

4.17—Special Order Calendar; Consent Calendar

(1) Commencing fifteen (15) days prior to a regular session of the Legislature permitted under the State Constitution and continuing through any extension permitted under the State Constitution, a Calendar Group, consisting of the Rules Chair, Rules Vice Chair, Majority Leader, Minority Leader, two (2) members of the Rules Committee designated by the President, and one (1) member of the Rules Committee designated by the Minority Leader, shall submit a Special Order Calendar determining the list of bills for consideration by the Senate. The President shall determine the order of such bills on the Special Order Calendar.

(2) Except for a Special Order Calendar submitted for the first (1st) or second (2nd) day of a regular session, each Special Order Calendar shall be for the second (2nd) succeeding legislative day on which the Senate meets, and this calendar may include bills that had been scheduled for Special Order on the previous legislative day. No other bills shall be considered until this Special Order Calendar has been completed by the Senate, except that any bill appearing on this calendar may be stricken by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present or any bill appearing on the calendar of bills on second (2nd) reading may be added to the end of the Special Order Calendar by the same vote. All bills set as Special Order for consideration at the same hour shall take precedence in the order in which they were given preference.

(3) A two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present shall be required to establish a Special Order except as provided in this Rule. Notice of date, time, and place for the establishment of the Special Order Calendars shall be published in a Senate calendar; provided, during the last ten (10) days of each regular session, notice of date, time, and place may be given by announcement from the floor.

(4) The Rules Chair, with the approval of the President, may submit a Consent Calendar, to be held in conjunction with the Special Order Calendars. When such a day is designated, all bills appearing on the Consent Calendar shall be considered in their order of appearance. Amendments shall be limited to accompanying committee amendments, noncontroversial and technical amendments, and amendments required to conform a House companion bill to the Senate bill. However, if an objection by any Senator shall cause such bill to be temporarily postponed, it retains its order on the regular calendar. All Consent Calendar bills must have appeared on the printed Senate calendar.

4.18—Local Bill Calendar

Local bills shall be disposed of according to the calendar of bills of a local nature and shall be considered only at such time as determined by the Rules Chair and approved by the President. Any member of the delegation for the local area affected by a bill on the Local Bill Calendar may request that the bill be removed from such calendar.

4.19—Order after second (2nd) reading

The order of disposition of a Senate bill that has been read the second (2nd) time and amended shall be its reference to the engrossing clerk to be engrossed after all questions relative to it while on second (2nd) reading have been disposed of, and the same shall be immediately engrossed and placed on the calendar of bills on third (3rd) reading to be considered on a succeeding legislative day. No bill shall be committed to the engrossing clerk or placed on the calendar of bills on third (3rd) reading unless all motions relative to it and placed, by the President, before the Senate have been disposed of. Amendments filed with the Secretary, the adoption of which have not been formally moved, shall not be construed to be pending so as to deter such advancement. A bill shall be available for its third (3rd) reading when it has been read a second (2nd) time on a previous day and no motion left pending. Bills calendared for second (2nd) or third (3rd) reading shall not be considered on such reading until reached on the calendar and appropriately read to the Senate as directed by the President.

4.20—Enrolling

The Secretary shall be responsible for the enrolling of all bills. After enrollment, all bills shall be signed by the President and the Secretary and the enrolling report shall be published in the Journal.

4.21—Veto messages

As required by Article III, Section 8 of the State Constitution, if the originating house votes to re-enact a vetoed measure, whether in a regular or special session, and the other house does not consider or fails to re-enact the vetoed measure, no further consideration by either house at any subsequent session may be taken. If a vetoed measure is presented at a special session and the originating house does not consider it, the measure will be available for consideration at any intervening special session and until the end of the next regular session. All veto messages shall be referred to the Rules Committee.

RULE FIVEVOTING*5.1—Taking the yeas and nays

The President shall declare all votes, but, if five (5) Senators immediately question a voice vote by a show of hands, the President shall take the vote by yeas and nays or electronic roll call. When taking yeas and nays on any question, the electronic roll call system may be used and shall have the force and effect of a roll call taken as provided in these Rules. Also, this system may be used to determine the presence of a quorum. When the Senate is ready to vote on a question requiring roll call and the vote is by electronic roll call, the President shall state: "The Secretary will unlock the board and Senators prepare to vote." When sufficient time has elapsed for each Senator to vote, the President shall say: "Have all voted?" And, after a short pause, shall state: "The Secretary shall now lock the board and record the vote." When the vote is completely recorded, the President shall announce the result to the Senate; and the Secretary shall enter in the Journal the result. When the Senate is equally divided, the question shall be lost.

5.2—Change of vote

(1) After the result of the vote has been announced by the President, a Senator with unanimous consent of those Senators present may change his or her vote or vote on the matter except that no such change of vote or vote shall be valid where such vote would alter the final passage of the matter until the matter shall first have been recalled to the Senate for further consideration. Records of such requests shall be available at the Secretary's desk through the session. If no objections are raised before the close of the business that day, requests will be accepted.

(2) The original roll call shall not be altered, but late votes and change of votes shall be recorded under the original roll call in the Journal. On request of a Senator before considering other business, the President shall order a verification of a vote.

(3) A Senator who was not present for a daily session of the Senate or who was present but did not provide a vote record to the Secretary before the close of business that day, may provide to the Secretary an indication of vote preference. This indication shall be included in a dedicated section of the next Journal published after the Secretary receives the indication. An indication of vote preference will not be accepted if the indication would have, if recorded, altered the vote.

5.3—Casting vote for another

No Senator shall cast a vote for another Senator unless the Senator is present in the Chamber area and requests the casting of said vote, nor shall a person not a Senator cast a vote for a Senator. In addition to such penalties as may be prescribed by law, a Senator who shall without such authorization vote or attempt to vote for another Senator may be punished as the Senate may deem proper. Also, a person not a Senator who shall vote in the place of a Senator shall be excluded from the Chamber for the remainder of the session.

5.4—Pairing

(1) Pairing, a type of absentee voting by which a Senator who is excused from attendance agrees with a Senator who would have voted opposite the excused Senator, shall be permitted.

(2) The Senator in attendance shall not vote in the electronic roll call.

(3) The pair vote form prescribed by the Secretary shall be used and shall:

- (a) State the matter to which the pair applies,
- (b) Indicate how both Senators would have voted,
- (c) Be filed with the Secretary and announced prior to the vote, and
- (d) Be recorded in the Journal.

5.5—Explanation of vote

No Senator shall be permitted to explain his or her vote during a roll call but may submit his or her explanation in writing and file it with the Secretary. This explanation shall be entered in the Journal.

5.6—Election by ballot

In all cases of ballot, a majority of the votes cast shall be necessary to an election. If, however, no one is elected on the first three (3) ballots, the names after the top two (2) in number of votes received on the third (3rd) tally shall be dropped, and the Senate shall ballot on the two (2) names remaining.

RULE SIXMOTIONS AND PRECEDENCE*6.1—Motions; how made, withdrawn

Every motion may be made orally. On request of the President, a Senator shall submit his or her motion in writing. After a motion has been stated or read by the President, it shall be deemed to be in possession of the Senate and, without a second, shall be disposed of by vote of the Senate. The mover may withdraw a motion, except a motion to reconsider, as hereinafter provided, at any time before the same has been amended or before the vote shall have commenced.

6.2—Motions; precedence

(1) When a question is under debate, the President shall receive no motion except:

- (a) To adjourn
 1. Instantly
 2. At a time certain
- (b) To recess to a later day
- (c) Questions of privilege
- (d) To take a recess
- (e) To proceed to the consideration of executive business
- (f) To reconsider
- (g) To limit debate
- (h) To temporarily postpone
- (i) To postpone to a day certain
- (j) To commit to the Committee of the Whole
- (k) To commit to a standing committee

- (l) To commit to a select committee
- (m) To amend
- (n) To postpone indefinitely

which shall have precedence in the descending order given. A motion to discharge Senate conferees and to appoint or instruct said conferees as set forth in Rule 2.19 is a motion of the highest privilege and this motion shall have precedence over all other questions except motions to adjourn and questions of privilege.

(2) The President shall present all questions in the order in which they are moved unless the subsequent motion is previous in nature.

(3) When a motion is under consideration, but prior to the commencement of the vote, a substitute motion shall be in order. Only one (1) substitute shall be considered and the substitute shall be in the same order of precedence.

6.3—Division of question

A Senator may move for a division of a question when the sense will admit of it. A motion to delete and insert shall be deemed indivisible; a motion to delete, being lost, shall neither preclude amendment nor a motion to delete and insert.

6.4—Reconsideration generally

(1) When a main question (the vote on passage of a measure, including a vote on a veto message, confirmation of executive appointments, removal or suspension from office) has been decided by the Senate, a Senator voting with the prevailing side may move for reconsideration of the question on the same or the next legislative day on which the Senate meets.

- (a) If the question has been decided by voice vote, any Senator may so move.
- (b) When a majority of those Senators present vote in the affirmative on the question but the proposition be lost because it is one in which the concurrence of more than a majority of those Senators present is necessary for adoption or passage, any Senator may move for reconsideration.

(2) Such motion may be made prior to or pending a motion to recess to a later day or adjourn.

- (a) Consideration of a motion to reconsider shall be a special and continuing order of business for the Senate when it next meets on a legislative day succeeding that on which the motion was made and, unless considered on said day, shall be considered abandoned. If the Senate shall refuse to reconsider or, on reconsideration, shall confirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order except on unanimous consent of those Senators present.
- (b) During the last five (5) days of a regular session, a motion to reconsider shall be made and considered on the same day.

6.5—Reconsideration; vote required

The affirmative votes of a majority of those Senators present shall be required to adopt a motion to reconsider.

6.6—Reconsideration; debate

Debate shall be allowed on a motion to reconsider only when the question which it is proposed to reconsider is debatable. When the question is debatable, no Senator shall speak thereon more than once nor longer than five (5) minutes.

6.7—Reconsideration; collateral matters and procedural motions

A motion to reconsider a collateral matter must be disposed of during the course of the consideration of the main subject to which it is related, and such motion shall be out of order after the Senate has passed to other business. Reconsideration of a procedural motion shall be considered on the same day on which it is made.

6.8—Reconsideration; Secretary to hold for period

The Secretary shall hold all bills for the period after passage during which reconsideration may be moved. The adoption of any motion to waive the Rules by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present and immediately certify any bill to the House shall be construed as releasing the measure from the Secretary's possession for the period of reconsideration and shall, thereafter, preclude reconsideration. During the last five (5) calendar days allowed under the State Constitution for a regular session and during any extensions thereof, or during any special session, the bills shall be immediately transmitted to the House. Messages relating to Senate action on House amendments or to conference committee reports shall be transmitted forthwith.

6.9—Motion to indefinitely postpone

The adoption of a motion to indefinitely postpone a measure shall dispose of it for the duration of the legislative session and all extensions thereof. A motion to postpone consideration to a time beyond the last day allowed under the State Constitution for the current legislative session shall be construed as a motion to indefinitely postpone. Motions to indefinitely postpone shall not be applicable to collateral matters.

6.10—Committee substitute; withdrawn

Once a bill has been reported as a committee substitute, it may be withdrawn from further consideration only by motion of the introducer and unanimous consent of the Senate.

RULE SEVEN

AMENDMENTS

7.1—General form; notice; manner of consideration

(1) No amendment to a bill on any Senate calendar shall be considered by the Senate unless the amendment was prepared in proper form and filed with the Secretary no later than 5:00 p.m. the day prior to the day that session was called to order. Copies of such amendments shall be made reasonably available by the Secretary before the session, upon request, to the Senators and to the public. The consideration of all amendments not timely filed in accordance with this rule, requires a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

(2) Amendments shall be filed with the Secretary on forms prescribed by the Secretary but shall be considered only after sponsors gain recognition from the President to move their adoption, except that the chair of the committee (or, in the chair's absence, the vice chair or any member thereof) reporting the measure under consideration shall have preference for the presentation of committee amendments. An amendment shall be deemed pending only after its sponsor has been recognized by the President and has moved its adoption. Amendments that have been filed with the Secretary but have not been formally moved for adoption shall not be deemed to be pending.

(3) No proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted in the form of an amendment. The following bills are out of order and shall not be admitted or considered in the form of an amendment to a bill on the calendar and under consideration by the Senate:

- (a) Bills which have received an unfavorable committee report.
- (b) Bills which have been withdrawn from further consideration by the introducer.
- (c) Bills the substance of which have not been reported favorably by all committees of reference.
- (d) Bills which have not been published at least one (1) legislative day under Bills on Second Reading in the Senate calendar.

Amendments covered by this Rule shall be substantially the same and identical as to specific intent and purpose as the measure residing in the committee or committees of reference.

7.2—Adoption

(1) On second (2nd) reading, amendments may be adopted by a majority vote of those Senators present.

(2) On third (3rd) reading, amendments and amendments to amendments, including substitute amendments and amendments to the substitute, shall be adopted by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present. Amendments to the title or corrective amendments may be decided, without debate, by a majority vote of those Senators present on third (3rd) reading.

7.3—Sequence of amendments to amendments

(1) An amendment to a pending amendment may be received, but until it is disposed of, no other motion to amend will be in order, except a substitute amendment or an amendment to the substitute. Such amendments are to be disposed of in the following order:

- (a) Amendments to the amendment are acted on before the substitute is taken up. Only one (1) amendment to the amendment is in order.
- (b) Amendments to the substitute are next voted on.
- (c) The substitute then is voted on.

(2) The adoption of a substitute amendment in lieu of an original amendment shall be treated and considered as an amendment to the bill itself.

(3) The following amendments are out of order:

- (a) A substitute amendment for an amendment to an amendment.
- (b) A substitute amendment for an amendment to a substitute.

7.4—Deleting everything after enacting clause

A proposal to delete everything after the enacting clause of a bill, or the resolving clause of a resolution, and insert new language of the same general subject as stated in the original title shall be deemed proper and germane and shall be treated as an amendment.

7.5—Amendment by section

The adoption of an amendment to a section shall not preclude further amendment of that section. If a bill is being considered section by section or item by item, only amendments to the section or item under consideration shall be in order. The President, in recognizing Senators for the purpose of moving the adoption of amendments, shall endeavor to cause all amendments to section 1 to be considered first, then all those in section 2, and so on. After all sections have been considered separately, the entire bill shall be open for amendment.

7.6—Printing in Journal

All amendments taken up by the Senate unless withdrawn shall be printed in the Journal, except that an amendment to the general appropriations bill constituting an entirely new bill shall not be printed until the filing of the conference committee report. All item amendments to the general appropriations bill shall be printed.

7.7—Senate amendments to House bills

A House bill may be amended in the same manner as a Senate bill. If a House bill is amended, the same shall be noted by the Secretary on the jacket before it is transmitted to the House.

7.8—House amendments to Senate bills

(1) After the reading of a House amendment to a Senate bill, the Senate may:

- (a) Amend the House amendment,
- (b) Concur in the House amendment,
- (c) Refuse to concur in the House amendment and ask the House to recede, or
- (d) Request a conference committee.

(2) The adoption of any of the foregoing motions shall be by majority vote of those Senators present.

7.9—House refusal to concur in Senate amendment

(1) If the House shall refuse to concur in a Senate amendment to a House bill, the Senate may:

- (a) Recede,
- (b) Insist that the House concur and request a conference committee, or
- (c) Insist that the House concur.

(2) The adoption of any of the foregoing motions shall be by majority vote of those Senators present.

RULE EIGHT

DECORUM AND DEBATE

8.1—Decorum and debate

When a Senator desires to speak or present a matter to the Senate, the Senator shall rise at his or her seat and address himself or herself to “Mr. or Madam President” and, on being recognized, may address the Senate from his or her desk or from the well of the Senate and shall confine any remarks to the question under debate, avoiding personality. A Senator shall not address or refer to another Senator by his or her first name. A Senator shall use the appellation of “Senator” or such appellation and the district number of the Senator being addressed, or a Senator may also use such appellation and the surname of the Senator referred to or addressed.

8.2—Presiding officer’s power of recognition

When two (2) or more Senators rise at once, the presiding officer shall recognize the Senator who is to speak first.

8.3—Interruptions; when allowed

(1) No Senator shall be interrupted by another without the consent of the Senator who has the floor, except by:

- (a) Rising to a question of privilege;
- (b) Rising to a point of order requiring an immediate ruling;
- (c) Rising to appeal a decision of the presiding officer concerning a point of order (if the appeal is made immediately following the decision);
- (d) Rising to make a parliamentary inquiry requiring an immediate reply; or
- (e) Rising to question the existence of a quorum.

(2) The presiding officer shall strictly enforce this Rule.

8.4—Senator speaking, rights

(1) When a Senator is speaking and another Senator interrupts to request recognition, the presiding officer may permit the person rising to state why he or she desires the floor. If the question the Senator desires to raise is entitled to precedence, the Senator originally speaking shall relinquish the floor until the question having precedence is disposed of. The Senator then is entitled to resume the floor.

(2) The Senator making a debatable motion or the introducer of a bill shall have five (5) minutes in order to close debate.

8.5—Limit on speaking

No Senator shall speak longer than thirty (30) minutes without yielding the floor, except by consent of a majority of those Senators present.

8.6—Limitation on debate

When a matter is under debate by the Senate, a Senator may move to limit debate, and such motion shall be decided without debate, except the introducer of the matter shall have five (5) minutes to discuss said motion. If, by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present, the question is decided in the affirmative, debate shall be limited accordingly.

8.7—Points of order, parliamentary inquiry, definitions

A point of order is the parliamentary device that is used to require a deliberative body to observe its own rules and to follow established parliamentary practice. A parliamentary inquiry is the device for obtaining a predetermination of a rule or a clarification thereof and may be presented in hypothetical form.

8.8—Questioning decision not to abstain

A point of order questioning the decision of a Senator not to abstain from voting on account of a conflict of interest may be raised after the vote has been recorded and before the result is announced.

8.9—Appeals

Taking exception to a ruling of a presiding officer shall be by appeal. An appeal from a decision of the presiding officer must be made promptly before debate has concluded or other business has intervened. A point of order on any other question is not in order while an appeal is pending, but a point of order relating to the appeal may be raised; and, if the determination of the appeal is dependent on this point, it may be decided by the presiding officer. This second (2nd) decision is also subject to appeal.

8.10—Appeals debatable

An appeal from a decision of the presiding officer on a point of order is debatable even though the question from which it arose was not debatable.

8.11—Questions of privilege

- (1) Questions of privilege shall be:
 - (a) Those affecting the rights of the Senate collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; and
 - (b) The rights, reputation, and conduct of Senators individually, in their representative capacity only.
- (2) These shall have precedence over all other questions except motions to recess to a later day or adjourn. A question of privilege affecting either house collectively takes precedence over a question of privilege affecting an individual Senator.

RULE NINE

LOBBYING

9.1—Those required to register

All persons (except those specifically exempted) who seek to encourage the passage, defeat, or modification of legislation in the Senate or before its committees shall, before engaging in such activity, register as prescribed by law and the Joint Rules of the Florida Legislature.

9.2—Obligations of lobbyist

- (1) A lobbyist shall supply facts, information, and opinions of principals to legislators from the point of view from which he or she openly declares. A lobbyist shall not offer or propose anything to improperly influence the official act, decision, or vote of a legislator.
- (2) A lobbyist, by personal example and admonition to colleagues, shall uphold the honor of the legislative process by the integrity of his or her relationship with legislators.
- (3) A lobbyist shall not knowingly and willfully falsify a material fact or make any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or representation or make or use any writing or document knowing the same contains any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements or entry.

9.3—Lobbyists' requirements

A lobbyist shall adhere to the statutory requirements for lobbyists provided by law and the Joint Rules.

9.35—Contributions during sessions

During a regular legislative session, and during an extended or special session as further provided for in Rule 1.361(2), a lobbyist may not directly or indirectly contribute to a Senator's own campaign, or to any organization that is registered, or should have been registered, with the Rules Committee pursuant to Rule 1.361(3).

9.4—Advisory opinions

(1) A lobbyist, when in doubt about the applicability and interpretation of Rule Nine (9) in a particular context, may submit in writing a statement of the facts involved to the Rules Committee and may appear in person before said committee.

(2) The Rules Committee may render advisory opinions to any lobbyist who seeks advice as to whether or not the facts in a particular case will constitute a violation of these Rules. All opinions shall delete names and be numbered, dated, and published in the Journal.

9.5—Compilation of opinions

The Secretary shall keep a compilation of all advisory opinions of the Rules Committee.

9.6—Violations; investigations, penalties

(1) Any person may file a sworn complaint with the Rules Chair alleging a violation of the Rules regulating the conduct and ethics of lobbyists. The complaint shall be based on personal knowledge, shall state detailed facts, shall specify the actions of the named lobbyist which form the basis for the complaint, and shall identify the specific Rule(s) alleged by the complainant to have been violated by the lobbyist. Upon a determination by the Rules Chair that the complaint states facts supporting a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be referred to a special master. Upon a determination by the chair that the complaint fails to state facts supporting a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be dismissed. The special master shall conduct an investigation, shall give reasonable notice to the lobbyist who is alleged to have violated the Rules and shall grant the lobbyist an opportunity to be heard unless the investigation fails to reveal facts supporting a finding of probable cause. A special master's report and recommendation is advisory only and shall be presented to the chair as soon as practicable after the close of the investigation. If the special master's report and recommendation conclude that the facts do not support a finding of probable cause, the complaint shall be dismissed by the Rules Chair. If the complaint is not dismissed, the Rules Committee shall consider the special master's report and recommendation, shall grant the lobbyist an opportunity to be heard, and shall develop its own recommendation. If the Rules Committee votes to dismiss the complaint, the Rules Chair shall dismiss the complaint. Otherwise, the special master's report and recommendation and the recommendation of the Rules Committee shall be presented to the President. The President shall present the committee's recommendation, along with the special master's report and recommendation, to the Senate for final action.

(2) Separately from any prosecutions or penalties otherwise provided by law, any person determined to have violated the requirements of this Rule shall be censured, reprimanded, placed on probation, or prohibited from lobbying for the duration of the session and from appearing before any Senate committee. Such determination shall be made by a majority vote of the Senate, on recommendation of the Rules Committee.

9.7—Committees to be diligent

Committees shall be diligent to ascertain whether those who appear before them, in other than an obviously individual capacity, have conformed with the requirements of Rule Nine (9), the Joint Rules, and the Laws of Florida, and shall report violations. No committee member shall knowingly permit an unregistered lobbyist to be heard.

9.8—Lobbyist expenditures and compensation

Chapter 2005-359, Laws of Florida, amends existing provisions of the law relating to legislative lobbying at the state level in Florida and adds new and substantial obligations, prohibitions, and requirements.

This Rule provides assistance to persons seeking to comply with the letter and spirit of the new law as it applies in the legislative context by refining the law and providing Interim Lobbying Guidelines and answers to 25 Frequently Asked Questions. It also is intended to provide guidance to the legislative committees that will participate in enforcing the new law.

Part One of the Guidelines refines and applies the new prohibition, with ten clearly stated exceptions, so that Senators and Senate employees can no longer directly or indirectly take any “expenditure” from a lobbyist or principal in either the public or private sector.

Part Two of the Guidelines refines and applies the underlying core requirement that “lobbying firms” must publicly disclose the compensation they receive for lobbying activities, and does so in a way that is narrowly tailored, furthers the state’s compelling governmental interest in regulating legislative lobbying at the state level, and employs the least intrusive means available to do so.

This Rule sets out general principles. Outcomes depend heavily on underlying fact patterns that can vary greatly from case to case. Full disclosure of the operative facts must be provided and considered before a proper and correct answer can be derived.

A Senator may request an informal advisory opinion from the Senate General Counsel regarding the application of the new law and this Rule to a specific situation, on which the legislator may reasonably rely.

The houses of the Legislature are responsible for the administration and enforcement of the legislative lobbying portions of the new law. The legislative lobbying expenditure prohibitions are not part of the Florida Code of Ethics for Public Officers and Employees. Neither the Florida Commission on Ethics nor the Florida courts have jurisdiction to interpret these internal matters of the Legislature.

Part One—Expenditures

(1) General Guidelines

a) The Expenditure Prohibition

The new law contains a prohibition against lobbyists and principals making direct or indirect lobbying expenditures for legislators and legislative employees. It provides:

[N]o lobbyist or principal shall make, directly or indirectly, and no member or employee of the Legislature shall knowingly accept, directly or indirectly, any expenditure.... (emphasis added).

The new expenditure prohibition applies only to expenditures made by lobbyists and principals. It applies whether or not the lobbyist, principal, legislator, or legislative employee is in Florida. Florida’s gift law, section 112.3148, Florida Statutes, continues to apply to gifts to legislators and legislative employees from others.

Example: A legislator may accept a subscription to a newspaper or periodical that is neither published by, nor paid for, nor provided by a lobbyist or a principal.

Example: A legislator may not accept a free health screening or other personal service provided on behalf of an association that is a principal.

Example: A legislator may, as either a member or an invited guest, participate in meetings of, and partake of the food and beverage provided by a civic organization if the organization is not a principal.

The practical effect of this law is to prohibit expenditures for attempting to obtain the goodwill of a member or employee of the Legislature, and it is not designed to prohibit expenditures made in attempting to influence legislative action or non-action through oral or written communication.

b) Definitions

“Expenditure” is defined, essentially, as anything of value made by a lobbyist or principal for the purpose of lobbying.

“Lobbying,” in turn, means: (1) influencing or attempting to influence legislative action through oral or written communication (“active lobbying”); or, (2) attempting to obtain the goodwill of a member or employee of the Legislature (“goodwill”).

“Goodwill expenditure” is a gift, an entertainment, any food or beverage, lodging, travel, or any other item or service of personal benefit to a legislator or legislative employee.

Goodwill expenditures include contributions or donations from a lobbyist or a principal to a charitable organization that is, directly or indirectly, established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof.

A “lobbyist” is a person who is employed and receives payment, or who contracts for economic consideration, for the purpose of lobbying, or a person who is principally employed for governmental affairs by another person or governmental entity to lobby on behalf of that other person or governmental entity.

“Personal benefit” means a profit or gain pertaining to, directed toward, or affecting a person.

A “principal” means the person, firm, corporation, or other entity that has employed or retained a lobbyist. When an association has employed or retained a lobbyist, the association is the principal; the individual members of the association are not principals merely because of their membership in the association.

c) Honorarium-related Expenses

It is no longer permissible to accept from a lobbyist or principal, directly or indirectly, payment or reimbursement of expenses for travel, food, lodging, or beverage, related to speaking engagements or other honorarium-type events.

d) Indirect Expenditures

An indirect expenditure is an expenditure that is not made directly to a legislator or legislative employee, but is made to another with the purpose that the expenditure be used for the personal benefit of a legislator or legislative employee.

The new expenditure prohibition expressly prohibits any lobbyist or principal from directing prohibited lobbying expenditures through a surrogate or through any person who by his or her actions or activities is obligated to register as a lobbyist but has failed to do so. Third party intermediaries, such as employees, members of associations and others, cannot be used to make prohibited expenditures.

Where an item or service (anything of value) is provided to a person other than a legislator or legislative employee by a lobbyist or principal and the item or service or the benefit attributable to the item or service ultimately is received by the legislator or employee, and where the item or service is provided with the intent to benefit the legislator or employee, such item or service constitutes a prohibited indirect expenditure to the legislator or employee.

Factors to be considered in determining whether a prohibited indirect expenditure has been made are set out on the following page in the joint functionality test:

TEST FOR DETERMINING LEGALITY OF AN INDIRECT EXPENDITURE

(1) The existence or nonexistence of communications by the lobbyist or principal indicating the lobbyist’s or principal’s intent to make or convey the item or service, or a personal benefit attributable to the item or service, to a legislator or employee rather than to the intervening third person;

(2) The existence or nonexistence of communications by the intervening third person indicating the intent to make or convey the lobbyist’s or principal’s item or service, or a personal benefit attributable to the item or service, to a legislator or employee rather than to the third person;

(3) The existence or nonexistence of any relationship between the lobbyist or principal and the third person, independent of the relationship between the lobbyist or principal and a legislator or employee, that would motivate the transfer to the third person;

(4) The existence or nonexistence of any relationship between the third person and a legislator or employee that would motivate the transfer;

(5) Whether the same or similar items or services have been or are being provided to other persons having the same relationship to the lobbyist or principal as the third person;

(6) Whether, under the circumstances, the third person had full and independent decision-making authority to determine whether a legislator or employee, or another, would receive the items or services, or a personal benefit attributable to the items or services;

(7) Whether the third person was acting with the knowledge or consent of, or under the direction of, the lobbyist or principal;

(8) Whether there were payments or the intention for any payments or bookkeeping transactions between the third person and the lobbyist or principal, reimbursing the third person for the items or services;

(9) The degree of ownership or control the lobbyist or principal had over the third person; and

(10) Whether a lobbyist or principal knew, or should have known, that an item or service provided to a third-party would be used to provide a personal benefit to a legislator or employee, such as for the funding of a legislative reception or an event to be attended by legislators or employees.

The following examples illustrate some of the applications of the foregoing indirect expenditure criteria:

Example 1: A law firm which lobbies the Legislature invites all of its attorneys to attend a weekend retreat. The attorneys are encouraged to bring their spouses or significant others at the firm's expense. Legislator C is married to an attorney in the firm and has been asked by her spouse to attend the retreat. The lodging provided to Legislator C for the retreat, food and drink, firm t-shirts, and the like would be considered a gift to her from her spouse and thus not a prohibited indirect expenditure, because the firm's invitation was extended to Legislator C's spouse by virtue of his employment with the firm.

Example 2: Legislator D hosts a fox hunt attended by legislators and lobbyists. Lobbyists give money to a third person, who is not a legislator or a legislative employee, to pay for the food and beverages which will be served at the fox hunt. The third party orders and prepares the food and beverages. The money provided to the third person by the lobbyists would be a prohibited indirect expenditure to Legislator D because it was given with the intent of benefiting him and his guests at the fox hunt.

Example 3: Legislator N and spouse have arranged to take a vacation trip together. A legislative lobbyist meets with Legislator N's spouse and offers to pay for the spouse's travel expenses. The lobbyist and Legislator N's spouse know each other only through the lobbyist's involvement with the legislator. This would constitute a prohibited indirect expenditure to Legislator N under the new law.

e) Equal or Greater Compensation

An expenditure is not prohibited when equal or greater value is given contemporaneously by the recipient to the donor.

Therefore, it is not an expenditure if:

1. The fair market value of the event, meeting, or other activity, including any food, beverage, transportation, lodging, or any other thing of value, can readily be determined, and

2. The legislator or legislative employee pays his or her pro rata share of the total fair market value to the person or organization hosting the event contemporaneously with the time of attending or participating in the event.

Thus, if a lobbyist or principal provides $35 worth of goods or services to a legislator or legislative employee but the legislator or legislative employee contemporaneously provides equal or greater consideration, the lobbyist or principal has not provided anything of value, thus, there is no "expenditure."

f) Valuation

The law is silent as to the valuation of goods and services. Fair market value is the proper and applicable standard of valuation.

The retail price of an item or service is presumed to be its fair market value so long as it is reasonable in relation to the value of the item or service and the amount is not subsidized by a lobbyist or principal.

In valuing an expenditure, you may exclude the amount of additional expenses that are regularly required as a condition precedent to the donor's eligibility to make the expenditure if the amount expended for the condition precedent is primarily intended to be for a purpose other than lobbying, and is either primarily for the benefit of the donor or is paid to a charitable organization. Initiation fees and membership fees are examples of additional expenses that are regularly required as conditions precedent for eligibility to make an expenditure. Transportation expenses incurred to bring a member to an out-of-town event are not.

Entrance fees, admission fees, or tickets are normally valued on the face value or on a daily or per event basis. The portion of a ticket attributable to a charitable contribution is not included in the value. Conversely, if the ticket is subsidized by contributions of lobbyists or principals, the pro rata subsidized amount must be attributed to the face value.

A person providing transportation in a private automobile shall be considered to be making an expenditure at the then-current statutory reimbursement rate, which is currently 29 cents per mile. The value of transportation provided in other private conveyances must be calculated on its fair market value.

g) Exceptions

1. Relatives

A relative is an individual who is related to the member or employee as father, mother, son, daughter, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, first cousin, nephew, niece, husband, wife, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepson, stepdaughter, grandparent, grandchild, great grandchild, step grandparent, step great grandparent, step grandchild, or step great grandchild; any person who is engaged to be married to the member or employee or who otherwise holds himself or herself out as or is generally known as the person whom the member or employee intends to marry or with whom the member or employee intends to form a household; or any other natural person having the same legal residence as the member or employee.

This definition of "relative" is taken from former Joint Rule 1.4(4)(b), and has operated historically as an exception to the presumption that things of value given to a legislator or employee by a lobbyist or principal are intended for the purpose of engendering goodwill.

Example: A legislator is permitted to accept a Christmas gift from an aunt, even if she is a lobbyist. The gift is not deemed an expenditure made for the purpose of lobbying because of the family relationship between the donor and the donee.

2. Employment-related Compensation and Benefits

Salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with the recipient's employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization are not prohibited expenditures so long as they are given in an amount commensurate with other similarly situated employees, officers, or directors.

These sorts of expenditures are currently also excepted from the definition of a gift in section 112.312(12)(b), Florida Statutes, and are a necessary exception in order for many legislators to continue their employment or continue their service on boards and continue to serve in Florida's citizen Legislature.

Example: A legislator who is on the board of directors of an organization that has a lobbyist is nevertheless permitted to partake of food and beverage provided to the board members by the organization at its board meetings.

3. Political Organizations and Entities

An expenditure does not include contributions or expenditures reported pursuant to chapter 106, Florida Statutes, or its federal law counterpart; campaign-related personal services provided without compensation by individuals volunteering their time; any other contribution or expenditure made by a chapter 106 entity such as a candidate campaign, political committee, organization making electioneering communications, political party, or committee of continuous existence; or an entity qualified under section 501(c)(4) or section 527 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Members are cautioned that these organizations or entities may not be used as a vehicle for skirting the new lobbying expenditure law. To the extent that funds come from lobbyists or principals, one should exercise great care that the expenditures are legal and appropriate for that particular organization or entity.

4. Communications Expenses

The expenditure prohibitions in the new law do not reach expenditures made by a lobbyist or principal for items such as “media advertising,” “publications,” “communications,” and “research.”

Expenditures for researching, gathering, collating, organizing, providing, or disseminating information for the exclusive purpose of “active lobbying” (influencing or attempting to influence legislative action through oral or written communication) are necessary for Floridians to be able to “instruct their representatives.”

5. Office and Personal Expenses of Lobbyists and Principals

“Office expenses” and personal expenses of the lobbyist or principal for “travel,” “lodging,” and “food and beverages” as those items were defined in former Joint Rule 1.4(4)(c) are exempt from the prohibition on lobbying expenditures. This category does not include any expenses for legislators, legislative employees, or persons whose expenses would be attributed to them.

6. Government to Government Expenditures

Real property or a facility owned or operated by a state or local public agency or entity that is a lobbying principal and transportation to, from, and at the location provided by that agency or entity may, with the prior approval of the respective state legislative presiding officer or his or her designee, be used without payment, by a member, committee, or staff of the Legislature for a public legislative purpose. Such purposes include publicly noticed legislative committee meetings and site visits to operations conducted by the public agency or entity. Allowable free uses also specifically include legislative district offices and sub-offices and the normally attendant utilities, parking, janitorial services, building maintenance, and telecommunications equipment and services common to a government building in which the office is located. Allowable free use does not extend to sports or entertainment venues; does not include food, beverages, or entertainment; and does not include free parking privileges at any location other than a district office or sub-office.

7. Free and Open Public Events

Expenditures directly associated with events that are held within the Capitol complex, out-of-doors or under temporary shelter, open to the general public, widely and publicly noticed, free to all, not ticketed, and for which equal and totally unobstructed access to the general public is provided, are not prohibited expenditures made by lobbyists or principals, or when accepted by legislators or legislative employees.

Example: Atlas County, Florida, is holding Atlas Day in the plaza between the Capitol and the Historic Capitol. Lunch is served to all comers. The event was widely publicized and access to the event and the food and beverage is totally unobstructed. Legislators may partake as well.

8. Regional and National Legislative Organizations

The prohibition does not apply to expenditures made directly or indirectly by a state, regional, or national organization that promotes the exchange of ideas between, or the professional development of, governmental officials or employees, and whose membership is primarily composed of elected or appointed public officials or staff to members of that organization or to officials or staff of the Legislature. This exception does not include extracurricular activities, entertainments, or items or services provided at conferences that are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal.

9. Monetary Value Impossible to Ascertain

The value of some items is truly impossible to quantify at the time of the expenditure. Expenditures for which a monetary value is not ascertainable at the time of the expenditure are not prohibited. Examples are: appearing on a news show or having a feature article about a legislator in a trade magazine or other medium, applause received by a legislator at an event, obtaining priority seating in a crowded restaurant or priority for obtaining services where there is an established queue, or the pro-rata portion of a host’s monthly or annual membership in an exclusive supper club.

10. Plaques and Certificates

The prohibition does not apply to personalized wall plaques, personalized photographs, or personalized certificates that have no substantial inherent value other than recognizing the donee’s public, civic, charitable, or professional service.

h) Effect of Other Laws and Rules

To the extent that an expenditure is excluded or exempt from the new lobbying prohibition in section 11.045, Florida Statutes, it is still subject to the restrictions and requirements in other statutes: most notably, the gift law (section 112.3148, Florida Statutes) and the campaign finance law (chapter 106, Florida Statutes).

(2) Frequently Asked Questions

LEGISLATIVE EVENTS/RECEPTIONS

1. Question: Can a county legislative delegation or delegation office sponsor an annual event in Tallahassee on public grounds or in quarters belonging to either the Senate or the House of Representatives (i.e., “Flavors of Hillsborough”)?

ANSWER: A county legislative delegation may host an annual event in Tallahassee provided that no free food, beverages, or other personal benefits to a legislator or legislative employee are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal, either directly or indirectly.

Legislators and legislative staff may pay an amount established and published by the delegation as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the delegation may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph 1.g)7. above.

2. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee go up to the 22nd floor of the Capitol and partake of free food and drink provided by an organization hosting a luncheon or event at the Capitol?

ANSWER: It depends. Yes, provided the organization hosting the event is not a principal and none of the food and beverages are paid for or provided by a lobbyist or principal. Otherwise, the legislator or legislative employee could attend the event but could not partake of the free food or beverages or they can pay the fair market value of what they consume.

3. Question: Can “legislative days” that provide food, beverages, entertainment, and other personal benefits to legislators or legislative employees during the session and are hosted by counties, cities, universities, and others that employ a lobbyist continue?

ANSWER: “Legislative days” and other legislative events funded by lobbyist or principal dollars may continue provided no free food, drink, entertainment, or other personal benefit is provided to a legislator or legislative employee, either directly or indirectly. Any such benefit would be a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

Legislators and legislative staff may pay an amount established and published by the sponsor as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the sponsor may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph 1.g)7. above.

4. Question: Can a not-for-profit organization host receptions and events for legislators that provide food, beverages, entertainment, and other personal benefits to legislators or legislative employees through contributions solicited from lobbyists or principals who sponsor the reception or event?

ANSWER: The charity may host a reception or event for legislators and legislative employees provided that no free food, beverages, entertainment, or other personal benefit is provided to a legislator or legislative employee from the funds of lobbyists or principals.

Legislators and legislative employees may pay an amount established and published by the sponsor as the per-person cost of the event, or they may “pop in” and not partake of any food, beverage, or other personal benefit at the event. Alternatively, the sponsor may make the event a free, open public event as described in Paragraph 1.g)7. above.

5. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal host an event with food, beverages, entertainment, or other personal benefit for legislators or legislative employees and collect from each legislator or legislative employee, a flat, per-person entrance fee based on the total cost to plan, produce, stage, and clean up after the event, divided by the number of persons reasonably expected to attend?

ANSWER: Yes.

6. Question: Each year, a few associations host legislative receptions/BBQs and invite their members as well as legislators. They usually pass out campaign funds at these events to those who support their industry. Would it now be legal to host this event if it were called a “fundraiser”? Could legislators then accept free food and beverages at the event?

ANSWER: Senate Rule 1.361 precludes a senator, and House Rule 15.3 precludes a representative, from accepting a campaign contribution during a regular or special session, in addition to prohibiting them from accepting contributions on behalf of a section 527 or section 501(c)(4) organization, a political committee, a committee of continuous existence, a political party, or the campaign of any other senatorial candidate or candidate for representative, respectively. Thus, any fundraiser held during a regular or special session would violate the rules of each house.

Fundraisers not held during a regular or special session are outside the purview of the expenditure prohibitions in the new law. A goodwill lobbying expenditure does not include contributions or expenditures reported pursuant to chapter 106, Florida Statutes. However, if the facts and circumstances demonstrate that calling the event a “fundraiser” is merely an artifice for lobbyists or principals to provide free gifts, food, beverages, and other items or services of personal benefit to a legislator, not associated with influencing the results of an election, then the fundraiser would violate the expenditure prohibition of the new law. Note, also, that fundraisers remain subject to the contribution restrictions and requirements of Florida’s campaign finance law (chapter 106, Florida Statutes).

HONORARIA EXPENSES

7. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal continue to pay or reimburse a legislator’s or legislative employee’s expenses for such items as food and beverages, travel, and lodging associated with an honorarium event?

ANSWER: No.

GIFTS TO LEGISLATORS

8. Question: Can a school child give a legislator a painting that he or she has made?

ANSWER: Yes. The prohibition against lobbying expenditures only applies to lobbyists and principals, and those acting on their behalf.

9. Question: Can a school student whose parent is a lobbyist or principal give a scarf that was purchased by the child’s parent to a legislator as a gift?

ANSWER: It depends. The lobbying expenditure prohibition applies to all gifts from lobbyists or principals to legislators, directly or indirectly. A lobbyist or principal cannot use a third-party intermediary to circumvent the lobbying expenditure prohibition. Thus, if the facts and circumstances demonstrate that the scarf is an indirect gift from the lobbyist or principal to the legislator, it would be prohibited.

10. Question: Can a legislator accept rent-free office space and associated building services from a city, county, or community college in his or her district that employs or retains a lobbyist?

ANSWER: Yes. See Paragraph 1.g)6. above for explanation and limitations.

11. Question: Can a legislator or legislative staff accept transportation services from another governmental entity?

ANSWER: Yes. See Paragraph 1.g)6. above for explanation and limitations.

12. Question: Are there any value limitations on the exceptions in the new law for “floral arrangements or other celebratory items given to legislators and displayed in chambers on the opening day of a regular session”?

ANSWER: Yes. All opening day flowers and floral arrangements are subject to the limitations and requirements of the gift law (section 112.3148, Florida Statutes). No other celebratory items will be allowed in either chamber on opening day of the regular session.

FOOD AND BEVERAGES/GIFTS

13. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee and his or her spouse have dinner with a lobbyist friend the legislator or legislative employee has known for 30 years at the lobbyist’s home, whether or not active lobbying occurs?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislator or legislative employee contemporaneously provides the lobbyist with the pro rata share of the total fair market value of the cost of the food and beverages provided to the legislator or legislative employee and his or her spouse, either in cash or barter (i.e., bottle of wine, flowers). Otherwise, the expenditure for food and beverages would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure, irrespective of the extent of the legislator’s and lobbyist’s friendship.

14. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal and legislator or legislative employee have dinner at a public restaurant?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the dinner is “Dutch treat.”

15. Question: Can a lobbyist or principal and a legislator or legislative employee have dinner “Dutch treat” at the Governor’s Club?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislator or legislative employee pays the total cost of all food and beverage that he or she was served or consumed, or that was served to or consumed by a person whose expenditures are attributed to the legislator or legislative employee.

16. Question: Can a lobbyist’s business partner, employee, spouse, or child, who is not a registered lobbyist, accompany the lobbyist and legislator or legislative employee to dinner and pay for all the food and beverages if the partner, employee, spouse, or child does not actively lobby?

ANSWER: No. The lobbying expenditure prohibition applies to all food and beverages provided by lobbyists or principals to legislators or legislative employees, directly or indirectly. A lobbyist or principal cannot utilize a third-party intermediary to channel gifts to legislators to circumvent the lobbying expenditure prohibition.

17. Question: If someone offers a legislator or legislative employee a drink at a bar, or any other gift or personal benefit, does the legislator or legislative employee have a duty to inquire if the donor is a lobbyist or principal?

ANSWER: Yes. A legislator or legislative employee is liable for knowingly accepting an expenditure from a lobbyist or principal, or someone acting on behalf of a lobbyist or principal. “Knowingly” has many statutory definitions, including that a person: (1) has actual knowledge of the information; (2) acts in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information; or, (3) acts in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information. Therefore, prudence dictates that the legislator or legislative employee, at a minimum, make reasonable inquiry as to the source of the proposed expenditure to determine whether it is prohibited. Reasonableness will turn on the facts and circumstances of each individual situation.

For example, a legislator receiving an invitation to an event to be held the next week, from an organization he or she is not familiar with would likely require that the legislator, at a minimum, consult the online directory of legislative principals and lobbyists, and perhaps make further inquiry if facts or circumstances come to light indicating that the organization might be making the expenditure on behalf of a lobbyist or principal. Similarly, a legislator offered a drink from someone he or she doesn't know in a Tallahassee bar or restaurant generally known to be frequented by lobbyists would probably be required, at a minimum, to ask whether the person is a lobbyist or principal or affiliated with a lobbyist or principal. On the other hand, a Miami legislator on personal holiday with his or her spouse at Busch Gardens in Tampa, who strikes up a friendship with a couple they don't know visiting from Colorado and who subsequently offers to pay for the legislator's and spouse's dinner probably has less of a duty to inquire whether either member of the couple is a Florida lobbyist or principal.

CHARITIES

18. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee raise funds from lobbyists or principals for charitable causes?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the charity for which funds are sought is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof. Otherwise, such a contribution or donation would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

19. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee establish or operate a charitable foundation that relies on lobbyist or principal support?

ANSWER: No. A legislator or legislative employee may establish or operate a charitable organization but none of the money contributed or donated to the charity may be from lobbyists or principals. Such a contribution or donation would constitute a prohibited goodwill expenditure.

20. Question: Can a legislator or legislative employee sit on the board of a charitable organization that is not established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof? Can he or she accept free food and beverages provided by the charity and be reimbursed by the charity for expenses associated with the work of the charity (i.e., travel, lodging)?

ANSWER: Yes. A legislator or legislative employee may sit on the board of a charitable organization that receives donations and contributions from lobbyists, and may partake of free food, beverages, and other personal benefits provided by the charity to board members in connection with their service, including reimbursement of personal expenses incurred by board members in furtherance of the charity's work. A goodwill expenditure does not include salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with a legislator's or legislative employee's employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization. However, any such salary, benefit, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses cannot be from funds earmarked by lobbyists or principals to the charity for such purpose and must be received only for the legislator's or legislative employee's service as a member of the board.

21. Question: Can a legislative caucus that is established as a non-profit group raise funds from lobbyists for its charitable causes?

ANSWER: It depends. If the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, then the answer is no.

If the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, or operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, then the answer is yes.

22. Question: Can a legislative caucus that is established as a non-profit group host its own charity golf tournament funded by lobbyist or principal "sponsors" at a private club, where the cost of sponsorship buys an opportunity to play golf with a member of the caucus, and to make a presentation to the caucus before and after the event?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the legislative caucus or the nonprofit group is not directly or indirectly established by, organized by, operated primarily by, or controlled by a legislator or legislative employee, or any combination thereof, and the legislators and legislative employees pay their own golf fees and the per-person cost for food and beverage.

OTHER

23. Question: What happens when a legislator is married to, related to, or living with a lobbyist? Can the lobbyist pay for meals, lodging, etc.?

ANSWER: Yes, provided the lobbyist does not use the expenditure to actively lobby the legislator. Expenditures by "relatives" of a legislator for food, lodging, travel, and the like are specifically exempt from the definition of a goodwill expenditure.

24. Question: Can a legislator be employed by a lobbyist or principal? Can a legislator go to the employer's retreat and partake of food and beverages?

ANSWER: Yes. A goodwill expenditure does not include salary, benefits, services, fees, commissions, gifts, or expenses associated primarily with a legislator's or legislative employee's employment, business, or service as an officer or director of a corporation or organization.

25. Question: Where a lobbyist or principal leaves a gift, such as a box of chocolates, in a legislator's office, what should the legislator do with the item?

ANSWER: When a legislator or legislative employee receives an item that they believe violates the prohibition against accepting an expenditure from a lobbyist or principal, the item must either be sent back to the donor or delivered to the Sergeant at Arms for disposal.

Part Two—Compensation

(1) General Guidelines

Chapter 2005-359, Laws of Florida, for the first time, requires the reporting of compensation received by lobbying firms for each calendar quarter, both in the aggregate and for each individual principal. Much of the reporting is done in dollar categories; however, if compensation from a single principal is $50,000 or more in a calendar quarter, the lobbying firm must report the specific dollar amount of the compensation, rounded to the nearest $1,000.

A "lobbying firm" is any business entity with a lobbyist, or an individual contract lobbyist, who gets paid to lobby for a principal. It is the lobbying firm that must report, not the individual lobbyists in the firm (except in the case of an individual contract lobbyist, where the lobbyist also comprises the entire lobbying firm).

Reports are due no later than 45 days after the end of each calendar quarter. Compensation reports must be filed electronically using the online filing system of the Office of Legislative Services.

The new law requires the senior partner, officer, or owner of the lobbying firm to certify to the veracity and completeness of each compensation report. This requirement is designed to discourage the mischaracterization and thus omission of reportable compensation through designations such as "media fees," "consulting services," "professional services," "governmental services," and other such artifices.

For example, if a law firm were paid a lump sum for rendering multiple types of services to a client, only one of which is lobbying, then the person certifying the report is responsible for properly and reasonably allocating the portion of the total fee received for lobbying activities and for activities other than lobbying. Only the compensation received for lobbying activities is to be reported on the compensation form.

The Legislature will use random audits supplemented by the lobbyist disciplinary process to hold the person certifying the compensation report and the lobbying firm accountable for making a true, complete, properly-allocated report as required by law. In addition, the certification brings every compensation report filer within the scope of potential criminal penalties in section 837.06, Florida Statutes, for culpable violations.

(2) Frequently Asked Questions

1. Question: Is an in-house, salaried lobbyist for an association, a governmental entity, or a corporation that does not derive income from principals for lobbying required to report compensation?

ANSWER: No. An association, a governmental entity, a corporation or other business entity that does not derive income from principals for lobbying, and its employee lobbyists, are not a “lobbying firm” as defined in section 11.045(1)(g), Florida Statutes. Only “lobbying firms” must report compensation as provided in section 11.045(3)(a), Florida Statutes.

2. Question: Does the prohibition against providing compensation to an individual or business entity that is not a lobbying firm mean that in-house lobbyists must either become a lobbying firm or cease lobbying?

ANSWER: No. The provision in question merely clarifies that reportable “compensation” under the law must be provided to a “lobbying firm,” and not contracted or subcontracted through some “straw man” to circumvent compensation reporting requirements. The provision in question clarifies and emphasizes the statutory definition of “compensation” in section 11.045(1)(b), Florida Statutes, as “anything of value provided or owed to a lobbying firm.”

RULE ELEVEN

CONSTRUCTION AND WAIVER OF RULES

11.1—Interpretation of Rules

It shall be the duty of the President, or the presiding officer for the time being, to interpret all Rules. Motions for the previous question and to lay on the table shall not be entertained.

11.2—Waiver and suspension of Rules

These Rules shall not be waived or suspended except by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present. The motion, when made, shall be decided without debate. A motion to waive a Rule requiring unanimous consent of the Senate shall be construed to be an amendment to these Rules and shall be referred to the Rules Committee except by unanimous consent of those Senators present.

11.3—Changes in Rules

All proposed actions regarding the Rules and Order of Business in the Senate shall be first referred to the Rules Committee, which shall report as soon as practicable. Consideration of such a report shall always be in order. The Rules Committee may originate reports and resolutions dealing with the Senate Rules and the Order of Business, and such power shall be exclusive, provided, however, that any report made pursuant to this Rule may be amended by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of those Senators present.

11.4—Majority action

Unless otherwise indicated by the Senate Rules or the State Constitution, all action by the Senate shall be by majority vote of those Senators present.

11.5—Uniform construction

When in the Senate Rules reference is made to “two-thirds (2/3) of those present,” “two-thirds (2/3) vote,” “two-thirds (2/3) of the Senate,” “two-thirds (2/3) of those voting,” etc., these shall all be construed to mean two-thirds (2/3) of those Senators present, except that two-thirds (2/3) of the membership of the Senate shall be required to consider additional proposed legislation in any extended session in accordance with Article III, Section 3 of the State Constitution.

11.6—General

When used in the Senate Rules, the following words shall, unless the text otherwise indicates, have the following respective meaning: the singular always includes the plural. Except where specifically provided or where the context indicates otherwise, the use of the word “bill,” “measure,” or “matter” means a bill, joint resolution, concurrent resolution, resolution, or memorial; however, “matter” also means an amendment, an appointment, or a suspension.

RULE TWELVE

PART ONE—EXECUTIVE SESSIONS

12.1—Executive session; authority

The business of the Senate shall be transacted openly and not in executive session except under conditions pursuant to Article III, Section 4(b) of the State Constitution.

12.2—Executive session; purpose

Pursuant to Article III, Section 4(b) of the State Constitution, the Senate may resolve itself into executive session for the sole purpose of considering appointment, removal, or suspension. No one shall be in attendance except Senators, the Secretary, and staff as approved by the President, who shall be sworn not to disclose any executive business without consent of the Senate.

12.3—Executive session; vote required

When the Senate agrees, by a majority of those Senators present, that specified appointments, removals, or suspensions shall be considered in executive session, such shall be calendared for formal consideration by the Senate.

12.4—Executive session; work product confidentiality

All information and remarks including committee work product concerning the character and qualification, together with the vote on each appointment, removal, or suspension considered in executive session shall be kept confidential except information on which the bans of confidentiality were lifted by the Senate while in executive session.

12.5—Executive session; separate Journal

A separate Journal shall be kept of executive proceedings of the Senate, and no information regarding same shall be made public except by order of the Senate or by order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

12.6—Violation of Rule

Violation of the above Rules as to the confidentiality of the proceedings of executive sessions shall be considered by the Senate as sufficient grounds for unseating the offending Senator.

PART TWO—APPOINTMENTS, SUSPENSIONS, AND REMOVALS12.7—Procedure

(1) Except as otherwise herein provided, on receipt by the Senate of appointments or suspensions on which action by the Senate is required, the President shall refer each to the Ethics and Elections Subcommittee, other appropriate committee or committees, or a special master appointed by the President. Any such committee, subcommittee, or special master shall make inquiry or investigation and hold hearings, as appropriate, and advise the President and the Senate with a recommendation and the necessity for deliberating the subject in executive session. Reports and findings of the committee, subcommittee, or the special master appointed pursuant hereto are advisory only and shall be made to the President. The report of the committee, subcommittee, or the special master may be privileged and confidential. The President may order the report presented to the Senate in either open or executive session, or the President may refer it to the Rules Committee for its consideration and report. When the report is presented to the Senate in open session or received by the Rules Committee, the report shall lose its privileged and confidential character.

(2) Upon receipt of a request by the Governor or other appointing official or authority for the return of the documentation of an appointment, which appointment has not been acted upon by the Senate, the Secretary, upon consultation with the President, shall return the appointment documentation and the return shall be noted in the Journal. The appointee whose appointment was returned continues in office until the end of the next ensuing session of the Legislature or until the Senate confirms a successor, whichever occurs first.

- (a) If the appointment returned was made by the Governor, official or authority's predecessor, the appointee shall not be subject to the provisions of section 114.05(1)(e) or (f), Florida Statutes, during the period of withdrawal.
- (b) If the appointment returned was made by the Governor, official or authority requesting the return, for purposes of section 114.05(1)(e) and (f), Florida Statutes, the returned appointment shall be treated as if the Senate failed to consider the appointment.

(3) An executive suspension of a public official who is under indictment or who has pending against him or her criminal charges filed by the appropriate prosecuting officer in a court of record, or an executive suspension of a public official that is challenged in a court shall be referred to the Ethics and Elections Subcommittee, other appropriate committee or special master; however, all inquiry or investigation or hearings thereon shall be held in abeyance and the matter shall not be considered by the Senate, committee, subcommittee, or special master until the pending charges have been dismissed, or until final determination of the criminal charges at the trial court level, or until the final determination of a court challenge, if any, and the exhaustion of all appellate remedies for any of the above. In a suspension case in which the criminal charge is not for the alleged commission of a felony, the committee, subcommittee, or special master and the Senate may proceed if the written consent of counsel for the Governor and of the suspended official is obtained.

(4) The Governor and the suspended official shall be given reasonable notice in writing of any hearing or pre-hearing conference before the committee or special master.

(5) The suspended official may file with the Secretary, no later than ten (10) days prior to the first (1st) pre-hearing conference, or no later than the date set by the committee, subcommittee, or special master if no pre-hearing conference is held, all written defenses or matters in avoidance of the charges contained in the suspension order.

(6) When it is advisable, the committee, subcommittee, or special master may request that the Governor file a bill of particulars containing a statement of further facts and circumstances supporting the suspension order. Within twenty (20) days after the receipt of such bill of particulars by the suspended officer, that officer shall file with the committee, subcommittee, or special master a response to the Governor's bill of particulars. Such response shall specifically admit or deny the facts or circumstances set forth in the Governor's bill of particulars, and may further make such representation of fact and circumstances or assert such further defenses as are responsive to the bill of particulars or as may bear on the matter of the suspension.

(7) The committee, subcommittee, or special master may provide for a pre-hearing conference with counsel for the Governor and the suspended official to narrow the issues involved in the suspension. At such conference, both the Governor and the suspended official shall set forth the names and addresses of all the witnesses they intend to call, the nature of their testimony, photocopies of all documentary evidence, and a description of all physical evidence that will be relied on by the parties at the hearing. Each shall state briefly what each expects to prove by such testimony and evidence.

(8) Subject to the limitations of Rule 12.7(3), the committee, subcommittee, or special master shall institute action by transmitting a notice of hearing for a pre-hearing conference or a hearing on the merits within three (3) months after the effective date of the suspension order. If a suspension order is referred to the committee, subcommittee, or special master but is held in abeyance in accordance with Rule 12.7(3), the committee, subcommittee, or special master shall institute action within three (3) months after the termination of pending proceedings as described in Rule 12.7(3). The Senate may act on the recommendations of the committee, subcommittee, or special master at any time it is in session but shall do so no later than the end of the next regular session of the Legislature.

(9) For the purposes of Article IV, Section 7(b) of the State Constitution, the Senate may find that the suspended official has committed a felony notwithstanding that a court may have withheld adjudication of guilt upon which the suspension order is based in whole or in part.

(10) If the Governor files an amended suspension order, the attention of the Senate, committee, subcommittee, or special master shall be directed at the amended suspension order.

(11) Within sixty (60) days after the Senate has completed final action on the recommendation of the committee, subcommittee, or special master, any party to the suspension matter may request the return, at that party's expense, of any exhibit, document, or other evidence introduced by that party. After the expiration of sixty (60) days from the date the Senate has completed final action, the committee, subcommittee, or special master may dispose of such exhibits or other evidence.

12.8—Special master; appointment

The President may appoint and contract for the services of a special master to perform such duties and make such reports in relation to suspensions and removals as he or she shall prescribe.

12.9—Special master; floor privilege

With consent of the President, the special master may have the privilege of the Senate floor to present and explain the report and answer questions as to the law and facts involved.

12.10—Issuance of subpoenas and process

The committee, subcommittee, and special master shall each have the authority to request the issuance of subpoenas, subpoenas duces tecum, and other necessary process under Rule 2.2. The committee chair, subcommittee chair, and special master may each administer all oaths and affirmations in the manner prescribed by law to witnesses who shall appear to testify on matters pending before the committee, subcommittee, or special master.

12.11—Rule takes precedence

In any situation where there is a direct conflict between the provisions of Rule Twelve (12) and part V of chapter 112, Florida Statutes, Rule Twelve (12), derived from Article III, Section 4(a) of the State Constitution, shall take precedence.

RULE THIRTEENSPECIAL SESSION*13.1—Applicability of Senate Rules

13.2—Sessions of the Senate

The Senate shall meet each legislative day at 9:00 a.m. or pursuant to a schedule provided by the President.

13.3—Committee meetings; schedule, notice

(1) Committee meetings shall be scheduled by the President. Meetings of committees scheduled in accordance with this Rule may be held after notice is made available in the public corridor leading into the Senate Chamber for two (2) hours in advance of the meeting. A committee may meet less than two (2) hours after the convening of a special session if a notice is filed with the Secretary by 5:00 p.m. of the day prior to the meeting.

(2) The notice shall include the date, time, and place of the meeting together with the name of the introducer, subject, number of each bill to be considered, and the amendment deadline for the meeting. All other provisions for publication of notice of committee meetings are suspended.

13.4—Delivery for introduction

All bills for introduction may be delivered to the Secretary at any time.

13.5—Committee reports

Every bill referred to a standing committee or committees shall be reported to the Secretary before 4:30 p.m. of the third (3rd) calendar day from the day of reference (the day of reference not being counted as the first (1st) day) unless otherwise ordered by the Senate by majority vote of those Senators present. Any bill on which no committee report is filed may be withdrawn from such committee and calendared on point of order. Every bill referred to a standing subcommittee shall be reported to the standing committee at a time specified by the chair of the standing committee which shall not be beyond the time allowed herein.

13.6—Conference committee reports

(1) The report of a conference committee appointed pursuant to Rule 1.5 shall be read to the Senate on two (2) consecutive legislative days and, on the completion of the second (2nd) reading, the vote shall be on the adoption or rejection thereof and final passage of the measure as recommended. During the last two (2) days of a special session the report shall be read only once. A conference committee report shall be made available to the membership two (2) hours prior to the beginning of debate of the report by the Senate.

(2) The report must be acted on as a whole, being adopted or rejected, and each report shall include a statement sufficiently explicit to inform the Senate of the effect of the report on the measure to which it relates.

(3) Conference committees, other than a conference committee on a general or special appropriations bill and its related legislation, shall consider and report only on the differences existing between the Senate and the House, and no substance foreign to the bills before the conferees shall be included in the report or considered by the Senate.

(4) A conference committee may only report by recommending the adoption of a series of amendments to the House or Senate bill that was the subject of the conference, or it may offer an amendment deleting everything after the enacting clause of any such bill referred to the committee. In any event the conference committee may recommend, as part of its report, the adoption or rejection of any or all of the amendments theretofore adopted by either house.

(5) When conferees on the part of the Senate report an inability to agree, any action of the Senate taken prior to such reference to a conference committee shall not preclude further action on said measure as the Senate may determine.

(6) After Senate conferees have been appointed for thirty-six (36) hours and have failed to make a report, it is a motion of the highest privilege to move to discharge said Senate conferees and to appoint new conferees, or to instruct said Senate conferees.

13.7—Reconsideration

A motion to reconsider shall be made and considered on the same day.

13.8—Special Order Calendar

(1) A Calendar Group, consisting of the Rules Chair, Rules Vice Chair, Majority Leader, Minority Leader, two (2) members of the Rules Committee designated by the President, and one (1) member of the Rules Committee designated by the Minority Leader, shall submit a Special Order Calendar determining the list of bills for consideration by the Senate. The President shall determine the order of such bills on the Special Order Calendar.

(2) Such Special Order Calendar shall be for the next legislative day. The amendment deadline for bills on the Special Order Calendar shall be 5:00 p.m. or two (2) hours after the Special Order Calendar is announced, whichever occurs later.

RULE FOURTEENSEAL AND INSIGNIA*14.1—Seal and insignia

(1) There shall be an official seal of the Senate. The seal shall be the size of a circle of two and one-half inches diameter having in the center thereof a fan of the five flags which have flown over Florida, above a disc containing the words: "In God We Trust" arched above a gavel, quill, and scroll. PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Dr. Albert Simpson, Jr., Senior Pastor, Philemon Baptist Church, Jacksonville:

“Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, thy kingdom come, thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth. Give us day by day our daily bread and forgive us our sins, for we also forgive everyone that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.”

Father, thank you for the opportunity to petition you in behalf of our legislative bodies, forty Senators and one hundred and twenty House of Representatives and their families, and also our executive branches, judicial branches, and the various agencies that are charged with the statutory responsibilities to administer the laws of our state. Bless their families.

O Father, hear us as we lift our local governmental officers and their families up, our churches as our conscience to synergize our efforts as civil and spiritual servants. O Father, bless our men and women in our military branches and their families, and the citizens of this great state. Hear us, O Father, and guide this body through this legislative session, and as we remember the words from the prophet Micah, I quote, “He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God.” O Father, we thank you in thy name.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages Donald McCloud, Jr. of Monticello; Christine Martinez of Tampa; Alex Merrill of Osprey; Megan Gallagher of Freeport; Grace Kurecki and Brittany Detert, granddaughter of Senator Detert of Venice, led the Senate in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the following creation of Section 28 of Article I of the State Constitution is agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the next general election or at an earlier special election specifically authorized by law for that purpose:

ARTICLE I

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS

SECTION 28. Health care services.—

(a) To preserve the freedom of all residents of the state to provide for their own health care:

(1) A law or rule may not compel, directly or indirectly, any person or employer to purchase, obtain, or otherwise provide for health care coverage.

(2) A person or an employer may pay directly for lawful health care services and may not be required to pay penalties or taxes for paying directly for lawful health care services. A health care provider may accept direct payment for lawful health care services and may not be required to pay penalties or taxes for accepting direct payment from a person or an employer for lawful health care services.

(b) The private market for health care coverage of any lawful health care service may not be abolished by law or rule.

(c) This section does not:

(1) Affect which health care services a health care provider is required to perform or provide.

(2) Affect which health care services are permitted by law.

(3) Prohibit care provided pursuant to general law relating to workers' compensation.

(4) Affect laws or rules in effect as of March 1, 2010.

(5) Affect the terms or conditions of any health care system to the extent that those terms and conditions do not have the effect of punishing a person or an employer for paying directly for lawful health care services or a health care provider for accepting direct payment from a person or an employer for lawful health care services, except that this section may not be construed to prohibit any negotiated provision in any insurance contract, network agreement, or other provider agreement contractually limiting copayments, coinsurance, deductibles, or other patient charges.

(6) Affect any general law passed by a two-thirds vote of the membership of each house of the legislature after the effective date of this section, if the law states with specificity the public necessity that justifies an exception from this section.

(d) As used in this section, the term:

(1) "Compel" includes the imposition of penalties or taxes.

(2) "Direct payment" or "pay directly" means payment for lawful health care services without a public or private third party, not including an employer, paying for any portion of the service.

(3) "Health care system" means any public or private entity whose function or purpose is the management of, processing of, enrollment of individuals for, or payment, in full or in part, for health care services, health care data, or health care information for its participants.

(4) "Lawful health care services" means any health-related service or treatment, to the extent that the service or treatment is permitted or not prohibited by law or regulation at the time the service or treatment is rendered, which may be provided by persons or businesses otherwise permitted to offer such services.

(5) "Penalties or taxes" means any civil or criminal penalty or fine, tax, salary or wage withholding or surcharge, or named fee with a similar effect established by law or rule by an agency established, created, or controlled by the government which is used to punish or discourage the exercise of rights protected under this section. For purposes of this section only, the term "rule by an agency" may not be construed to mean any negotiated provision in any insurance contract, network agreement, or other provider agreement contractually limiting copayments, coinsurance, deductibles, or other patient charges.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the following title and statement be placed on the ballot:

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

The amendment expressly provides that it may not be construed to prohibit negotiated provisions in insurance contracts, network agreements, or other provider agreements contractually limiting copayments, coinsurance, deductibles, or other patient charges.

The Honorable John Thrasher
Chair, Florida Senate Rules Committee
Mr. Chairman,

February 15, 2011

Last year, I was contacted by the Ethics Commission after they received a complaint regarding the Financial Disclosure forms that we all are required to fill out each year. I was alerted by the Commission to errors that had resulted from me filling out the forms incorrectly in the same way each year between 2004 and 2008. I believed that I had filled out these forms accurately, and as soon as these errors were brought to my attention I filed amended forms to be sure that the correct information was listed.

When the Ethics Commission met on October 22, 2010 the investigator's report on the case was released, and probable cause was found that I had made these errors. After that report was released, I accepted full responsibility for these mistakes in a proposed stipulation agreement. The Commission voted to accept this agreement at their meeting on December 3, 2010.

Throughout the process, I answered all questions from the Commission completely and supplied them with all of the documentation they requested. None of these mistakes were intentional or meant to hide any personal information. To be clear, all of my income over this period was reported on the original forms. Nonetheless, I did not adequately follow the instructions on the forms that were filed and relied on forms from previous years for consistency. All documents now on file with the Ethics Commission are accurate and complete.

While these errors on my forms have been easily corrected, I take this situation very seriously and will embrace whatever is deemed to be the appropriate penalty. I accept responsibility for these errors and apologize to the members of the Florida Senate. I have learned from this process and have gained a greater respect for the need for elected officials to remain diligent in their efforts to be transparent with the public.

Sincerely,
 Mike Haridopolos
 Florida Senate, District 26

CONSENT DECREE

The Committee on Rules and the Honorable Mike Haridopolos, Senator, District 26, enter this consent decree.

INTRODUCTION

- (1) President Mike Haridopolos, having received a December 7, 2010 Final Order and Public Report from the Commission on Ethics re: himself, referred consideration of this matter to the Rules Committee in accordance with Senate Rule 1.42.
- (2) The Final Order and the Public Report of the Commission on Ethics finds that Senator Haridopolos violated Article II, section 8(a) and (i) of the Florida Constitution, by failing to fully disclose his financial interests for the years 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, and 2008.

DISPOSITION

- (3) All parties accept the Commission on Ethics finding of violations as set forth in the Final Order and Public Report. The parties further agree that these violations were neither willful nor intentional and were corrected prior to the entry of the final order.
- (4) In view of the inadvertent nature of these violations, Senator Haridopolos' admission of error and his subsequent submission of required corrections, the Rules Committee recommends to the Senate that a letter of admonishment from the Rules Chair is an appropriate level of penalty.

March 9, 2011

Dear Senator Haridopolos:

I have received the report of the Rules Committee in which the committee has recommended, and you have accepted, that I issue a letter of admonishment related to your failure to file complete financial disclosure statements with the Commission on Ethics for the years 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008 while a Member of the Florida Senate.

While I accept your assertion that the errors and omissions were unintentional, I nevertheless would admonish you that in upholding the trust which has been placed in you by the voters of District 26, you must meticulously adhere to the requirements of the financial disclosure law and other laws and rules related to legislative service.

In the future, should you find yourself in doubt as to the proper course of action in such matters, I would strongly urge you to seek the advice of the General Counsel of the Senate or of the Commission on Ethics, prior to risking a violation of the rules which govern our conduct.

I have also received your letter of apology which I am accepting on behalf of the Florida Senate. I appreciate and applaud your willingness to accept responsibility and to seek to bring this matter to an appropriate conclusion.

Sincerely,
 John Thrasher
 Chair, Rules Committee

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. John R. Ragsdale, Presbytery of St. Augustine, Jacksonville:

O God, we come before you this morning as servants of the people of this state. In this extraordinary act, we carve out time not to speak to constituents or to one another, but to speak to you and to listen.

Our minds and hearts are weighed by many things, yet in this moment we focus on one thing. We come, of course, with our own agendas, but daring to glimpse your agenda. We grapple and negotiate over scarce resources, mindful that you are the creator of all we have, and the provider of all we truly need.

Make us good stewards of your creation. We face tough choices in this session, but we do not do so alone. Be present to us then, so that when we depart this chamber, we will know that we have done our best for you and for all the citizens of this state.

And finally, but not least of all, we wonder and perhaps worry about family, friends and colleagues from whom we are apart, even as we rest confident they are in your care and held in your arms. For that and for so much more, we are truly grateful. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages Rejerio Burton of Ocala; Austin Toro of Tallahassee; Gregory Hyppolite of Miami; Alexandria Hall of Monticello; and Lindsay Taggart of Lutz, led the Senate in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

On motion by Senator Joyner—

By Senator Joyner—

SR 540—A resolution recognizing February 2011 as “Black History Month” in Florida.

WHEREAS, our nation has celebrated Black History during the month of February since 1926 when Carter G. Woodson established Negro History Week, and the theme for this year’s celebration is “African Americans and the Civil War,” and

WHEREAS, long ago, approximately 12 million African men, women, and children were forced to enter ships for lives of slavery in the Western Hemisphere, 10 million of whom survived the Middle Passage to arrive in America, and

WHEREAS, the Civil War erupted because the ideals upon which this country was founded are in direct conflict with slavery, resulting in the ratification of the 13th Amendment, abolishing slavery in the United States of America, and

WHEREAS, the Civil Rights Movement of the 20th century began in an effort to correct the failures of Reconstruction and erase the remnants of slavery still evident in Jim Crow laws, in continued segregation in nearly every aspect of daily life, and in the persistence of second-class citizenship for African Americans, and

WHEREAS, as a testament of strength throughout these struggles, African Americans, such as Harriet Tubman, Sojourner Truth, Frederick Douglass, W.E.B. DuBois, Booker T. Washington, George Washington Carver, Carter G. Woodson, Malcolm X., Thurgood Marshall, Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Fannie Lou Hamer, Shirley Chisholm, Barbara Jordan, and Dorothy Height, have contributed to the political and social growth of American society, and

WHEREAS, through the contributions of African American musicians and writers, such as Louis Armstrong, Count Basie, Duke Ellington, Billie Holiday, Charlie Parker, Ella Fitzgerald, Dizzy Gillespie, Leontyne Price, Marian Anderson, Andre Watts, James DePreist, Phyllis Wheatley, Langston Hughes, James Baldwin, Richard Wright, Alex Haley, Maya Angelou, Alice Walker, Gwendolyn Brooks, and Toni Morrison, the culture of the United States of America has been vitally enriched, and

WHEREAS, African American sports figures, such as Jesse Owens, Arthur Ashe, Muhammad Ali, Robert “Bullet Bob” Hayes, a Florida native who is the only athlete to earn both an Olympic Gold Medal and an NFL Super Bowl Ring, Lee Roy Selmon, Venus Williams, and Serena Williams, have demonstrated their ability to be role models on and off the field and in and out of the ring as they stood up for their rights and beliefs, and

WHEREAS, the fields of medicine, science, and technology have all been advanced by the contributions of such African American men and women as Dr. Charles Drew, Dr. Daniel Hale Williams, Garrett Morgan, George Washington Carver, Dr. Mae C. Jemison, and Dr. Benjamin Carson, and

WHEREAS, African Americans who are native to Florida, such as Zora Neale Hurston, Charles Kenzie Steele, Sr., Jesse K. McCrary, Jr., Joseph E. Lee, Asa Philip Randolph, and Mary McLeod Bethune, have proudly represented our state as they contributed to the history and culture of the United States of America, and

WHEREAS, it is important to celebrate the many achievements of African Americans in an effort to offer each American a broader perspective of United States history and an appreciation for the diversity that makes this country strong, and

WHEREAS, February is the birth month of both Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass, two of the leaders in the movement to abolish slavery, and has been recognized at the local, state, and national levels as an appropriate month to commemorate the contributions of African Americans to our society, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the Senate of the State of Florida:

That February 2011 is recognized as “Black History Month” in the State of Florida, and the Florida Senate calls upon the people of this state to observe Black History Month through programs, ceremonies, and activities celebrating the historical and cultural contributions of African Americans.

WHEREAS, in 1960, the Theta Phi chapter petitioned for the establishment of a Chi Chapter on the campus of Edward Waters College, which was granted on March 20, 1961, and
