In 2023-2024, Miami Diaper Bank's Mobile Diaper Pantry will connect diapers directly to families in three areas of significant need including Homestead, Florida City and North Miami Beach. These communities were identified, with assistance from longtime capacity partner The Children's Trust, using local data to determine areas with extremely limited access to services. As South Florida's first Mobile Diaper Pantry, this innovative diaper distribution program will fill a gap in services for under-served and under-reached families in Miami-Dade. To remove barriers to access and promote equity, diapers will be distributed directly to families who lack awareness about services, do not have access to services because of transportation and other challenges, and/or who do not meet the guidelines for local direct service agencies.
