MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR AND OTHER EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

VETOED BILLS 2022 REGULAR SESSION

Secretary Laurel Lee March 29, 2022
 Secretary of State
 R.A. Gray Building
 500 South Bronough Street
 Tallahassee, Florida 32399

Dear Secretary Lee:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8 of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and transmit my objection to CS/SB 102, enacted during the 124th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during Regular Session 2022 and entitled:

An act relating to Establishing the Congressional Districts of the State

As presented in both the primary and secondary maps enacted by the Legislature, Congressional District 5 violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution for the reasons set forth in the attached memorandum. Although I understand the Legislature's desire to comply with the Florida Constitution, the Legislature is not absolved of its duty to comply with the U.S. Constitution. Where the U.S. and Florida Constitutions conflict, the U.S. Constitution must prevail.

Accordingly, I withhold my approval of CS/SB 102 and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,

Ron DeSantis
 Governor

The bill, together with the Governor's objections thereto, was referred to the Committee on Rules.

MEMORANDUM

To: Ron DeSantis, Governor of Florida
 From: Ryan Newman, General Counsel, Executive Office of the Governor
 Date: March 29, 2022
 Re: Constitutionality of CS/SB 102, An Act Relating to Establishing the Congressional Districts of the State

Congressional District 5 in both the primary and secondary maps enacted by the Legislature violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution because it assigns voters primarily on the basis of race but is not narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling state interest.

“Just as the State may not, absent extraordinary justification, segregate citizens on the basis of race in its public parks, buses, golf courses, beaches, and schools,” the U.S. Supreme Court has made clear that the State also “may not separate its citizens into different voting districts on the basis of race.” Miller v. Johnson, 515 U.S. 900, 911 (1995) (internal citations omitted). “When the State assigns voters on the basis of race,” the Court explained, “it engages in the offensive and demeaning assumption that voters of a particular race, because of their race, ‘think alike, share the same political interests, and will prefer the same candidates at the polls.’” Id. at 911-12 (quoting Shaw v. Reno, 509 U.S. 630, 647 (1993)).

For these reasons, the Court has interpreted the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution to prohibit state legislatures from using race as the “predominant factor motivating [their] decision to place a significant number of voters within or without a particular district,” id. at 916, unless they can prove that their “race-based sorting of voters serves a ‘compelling interest’ and is ‘narrowly tailored’ to that end.” Cooper v. Harris, 137 S. Ct. 1455, 1464 (2017) (citation omitted). That race was the predominant factor motivating a legislature’s line-drawing decision can be shown “either through circumstantial evidence of a district’s shape and demographics or more direct evidence going to legislative purpose.” Miller, 515 U.S. at 916.

Although non-adherence to traditional districting principles, which results in a non-compact, unusually shaped district, is relevant evidence that race was the predominant motivation of a legislature, such evidence is not required to establish a constitutional violation. “Race may predominate even when a reapportionment plan respects traditional principles, if ‘[r]ace was the criterion that, in the State’s view, could not be compromised,’ and race-neutral considerations ‘came into play only after the race-based decision had been made.’” Bethune-Hill v. Va. State Bd. of Elections, 137 S. Ct. 788, 798 (2017) (quoting Shaw v. Hunt, 517 U.S. 899, 907 (1996) (alteration in original)). “The racial predominance inquiry concerns the actual considerations that provided the essential basis for the lines drawn, not post hoc justifications the legislature in theory could have used but in reality did not.” Id. at 799. A legislature “could construct a plethora of potential maps that look consistent with traditional, race-neutral principles,” but “if race for its own sake is the overriding reason for choosing one map over others, race still may predominate.” Id. It is the “racial purpose of state action, not its stark manifestation,” that offends the Equal Protection Clause. Miller, 515 U.S. at 913.

In light of these well-established constitutional principles, the congressional redistricting bill enacted by the Legislature violates the U.S. Constitution. The bill contains a primary map and secondary map that include a racially gerrymandered district—Congressional District 5—that is not narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling state interest. See generally Fla. H.R. Comm. on Redist., recording of proceedings, at 0:00-2:55:19 (Feb. 25, 2022), <https://thefloridachannel.org/videos/2-25-22-house-redistricting-committee/> (committee presentation and discussion of the maps later passed by the Legislature).

In the secondary map, which was the original map reported out of the House Congressional Redistricting Subcommittee, District 5 is a sprawling district that stretches approximately 200 miles from East to West and cuts across eight counties to connect a minority population in Jacksonville with a separate and distinct minority population in Leon and Gadsden Counties. The district is not compact, does not conform to usual political or geographic boundaries, and is bizarrely shaped to include minority populations in western Leon County and Gadsden County while excluding non-minority populations in eastern Leon County. Because this version of District 5 plainly subordinates traditional districting criteria to avoid diminishment of minority voting age population, there is no question that race was “the predominant factor motivating the legislature’s decision” to draw this district. Miller, 515 U.S. at 916.

District 5 in the Secondary Map

In response to federal constitutional concerns about the unusual shape of District 5 as it was originally drawn, and which is now reflected in the secondary map, the House Redistricting Committee drew a new version of District 5, which is reflected in the primary map. This configuration of the district is more compact but has caused the adjacent district—District 4—to take on a bizarre doughnut shape that almost completely surrounds District 5. The reason for this unusual configuration is the Legislature’s desire to maximize the black voting age population in District 5. The Chair of the House Redistricting Committee confirmed this motivation when he explained that the new District 5 was drawn to “protect[] a black minority seat in north Florida.” Fla. H.R. Comm. on Redist., recording of proceedings, at 19:15-19:26 (Feb. 25, 2022).

District 5 in the Primary Map

Despite the Legislature’s attempt to address the federal constitutional concerns by drawing a more compact district, the constitutional defect nevertheless persists. Where “race was the criterion that, in the State’s view, could not be compromised, and race-neutral considerations came into play only after the race-based decision had been made,” it follows that race was the predominant factor, even though the district otherwise respects traditional districting principles. Bethune-Hill, 137 S. Ct. at 798 (cleaned up).

Such was the case here. Even for the more compact district, the Legislature believed (albeit incorrectly) that the Florida Constitution required it to ensure “a black minority seat in north Florida.” Fla. H.R. Comm. on Redist., recording of proceedings, at 19:15-19:26 (Feb. 25, 2022). Specifically, according to the House Redistricting Chair, the primary map’s version of District 5 is the House’s “attempt at continuing to protect the minority group’s ability to elect a candidate of their choice.” Id. at 19:45-19:54. The Legislature thus used “an express racial target” for District 5 of a black voting age population sufficiently large to elect a candidate of its choice. Bethune-Hill, 137 S. Ct. at 800.

Because racial considerations predominated even in drawing the new District 5, the Legislature must satisfy strict scrutiny, the U.S. Supreme Court’s “most rigorous and exacting standard of constitutional review.” Miller, 515 U.S. at 920. And to satisfy strict scrutiny, the Legislature “must demonstrate that its districting legislation is narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling interest.” Id. That, the Legislature cannot do.

There is no good reason to believe that District 5 needed to be drawn as a minority-performing district to comply with Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act (VRA), because the relevant minority group is not sufficiently large to constitute a majority in a geographically compact area. In the primary map, the black voting age population of District 5 is 35.32%, and even in the secondary map, with the racially gerrymandered, non-compact version of District 5, the black voting age population increases only to 43.48%. Compare Fla. Redist. 2022, H000C8019, <https://bit.ly/3uczOXb> (available at floridaredistricting.gov/pages/submitted-plans) (last visited Mar. 28, 2022), with Fla. Redist. 2022, H000C8015, <https://bit.ly/36hFRBB> (available at floridaredistricting.gov/pages/submitted-plans) (last visited Mar. 28, 2022). “When a minority group is not sufficiently large to make up a majority in a reasonably shaped district, § 2 simply does not apply.” Cooper, 137 S. Ct. at 1472 (citing Bartlett v. Strickland, 556 U.S. 1, 18-20 (2009) (plurality opinion)); see also Thornburg v. Gingles, 478 U.S. 30, 50 (1986) (explaining that one of the threshold conditions for proving vote dilution under Section 2 is that the minority group is “sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a majority”).

Nor is there good reason to believe that District 5 is required to be drawn to comply with Section 5 of the VRA. Section 5 is no longer operative now that the U.S. Supreme Court invalidated the VRA’s formula for determining which jurisdictions are subject to Section 5. See Shelby Cnty. v. Holder, 570 U.S. 529, 553-57 (2013); see also Ala. Legis. Black Caucus v. Alabama, 575 U.S. 254, 279 (2015) (suggesting that continued compliance with Section 5 may not remain a compelling interest in light of Shelby County). In any event, even before the coverage formula was invalidated, the State of Florida was not a covered jurisdiction subject to Section 5. See In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176 (Apportionment I), 83 So. 3d 597, 624 (Fla. 2012). Only five counties in Florida were covered—Collier, Hardee, Hendry, Hillsborough, and Monroe—and none of them are in northern Florida where District 5 is located. See id.

The only justification left for drawing a race-based district is compliance with Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution. But District 5 does not comply with this provision. Article III, Section 20(a) provides that “districts shall not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or to diminish their ability to elect representatives of their choice.” The Florida Supreme Court has noted that these “dual constitutional imperatives follow almost verbatim the requirements embodied in the Federal Voting Rights Act.” Id. at 619 (cleaned up). The first imperative, which prohibits districts that deny or abridge the equal opportunity of minority groups to participate in the political process, is modeled after Section 2 of the VRA, and the second imperative, which prohibits districts that diminish the ability of minority groups to elect representatives of their choice, is modeled after Section 5. Id. at 619-20.

Like the VRA, these provisions of the Florida Constitution “aim[] at safeguarding the voting strength of minority groups against both impermissible dilution and retrogression.” Id. at 620. Although judicial interpretation of the VRA is relevant to understanding the Florida Constitution’s non-dilution and non-diminishment provisions, the Florida Supreme Court nonetheless recognizes its “independent constitutional obligation” to interpret these provisions. Id. at 621.

Relevant here is the Florida Constitution’s non-diminishment requirement. Unlike Section 5 of the VRA, this requirement “applies to the entire state.” Id. at 620. Under this standard, the Legislature “cannot eliminate majority-minority districts or weaken other historically performing minority districts where doing so would actually diminish a minority group’s ability to elect its preferred candidates.” Id. at 625. The existing districts “serve[] as the ‘benchmark’ against which the ‘effect’ of voting changes is measured.” Id. at 624 (cleaned up). Where a voting change leaves a minority group “less able to elect a preferred candidate of choice” than the benchmark, that change violates the non-diminishment standard. Id. at 625 (internal quotation marks omitted); see also id. at 702 (Canady, C.J., concurring in part and dissenting in part) (noting that the dictionary definition of “diminish” means “to make less or cause to appear less” (citation omitted)).

The Florida Supreme Court has acknowledged that “a slight change in percentage of the minority group’s population in a given district does not necessarily have a cognizable effect on a minority group’s ability to elect its preferred candidate of choice.” Id. at 625. The minority population percentage in each district need not be “fixed” in perpetuity. Id. at 627. But where the reduction in minority population in a given district is more than “slight,” such that the ability of the minority population to elect a candidate of choice has been reduced (even if not eliminated), the Legislature has violated the Florida Constitution’s non-diminishment requirement as interpreted by the Florida Supreme Court.

Given these principles, there is no good reason to believe that District 5, as presented in the primary map, complies with the Florida Constitution’s non-diminishment requirement. The benchmark district contains a black voting age population of 46.20%, whereas the black voting age population of District 5 in the primary map is only 35.32%.¹ Compare Fla. Redist. 2022, FLCD2016, <https://bit.ly/3Iv6FeW> (available at floridaredistricting.gov/pages/submitted-plans) (last visited Mar. 28, 2022), with Fla. Redist. 2022, H000C8019, <https://bit.ly/3uczOXb> (available at floridaredistricting.gov/pages/submitted-plans) (last visited Mar. 28, 2022). This nearly eleven percentage point drop is more than slight, and while the House Redistricting Chair represented that the black population of the district could still elect a candidate of choice, see Fla. H.R. Comm. on Redist., recording of proceedings, at 59:44-1:00:17 (Feb. 25, 2022), there appears to be little dispute that the ability of the black population to elect such a candidate had nevertheless been reduced, see id. at 1:00:18-1:00:58 (noting that the benchmark district performed for the minority candidate of choice in 14 of 14 previous elections and that the new district would not perform for the minority candidate of choice in one-third of the same elections).

Moreover, the House Redistricting Chair claimed that the only criterion that mattered was whether the new district still performed at all. See id. at 1:06:09-1:06:30 (“It is not a diminishment unless the district does not perform.”); see also id. at 1:05:05-1:05:13 (“Is it less likely to perform? Honestly, I don’t know.”). But that view is plainly inconsistent with the Florida Supreme Court precedent described above, which prohibits any voting change that leaves a minority group “less able to elect a preferred candidate of choice.” Apportionment I, 83 So. 3d at 625 (internal quotation marks omitted). In sum, because the reduction of black voting age population is more than slight and because such reduction appears to have diminished the ability of black voters to elect a candidate of their choice, District 5 does not comply with the non-diminishment requirement of Article III, Section 20(a) of the Florida Constitution. Therefore, compliance with the Florida Constitution cannot supply the compelling reason to justify the Legislature’s use of race in drawing District 5 in the primary map.

In the secondary map, by contrast, District 5 complies with the Florida Constitution’s non-diminishment requirement, but in doing so, it violates the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. The U.S. Supreme Court has warned that a “reapportionment plan that includes in one district individuals who belong to the same race, but who are otherwise widely separated by geographical and political boundaries, and who may have little in common with one another but the color of their skin, bears an uncomfortable resemblance to political apartheid.” Shaw, 509 U.S. at 647. As described earlier, District 5 in the secondary map does precisely this.

That the district is believed to be necessary to comply with the Florida Constitution’s non-diminishment requirement does not alone suffice to justify the use of race in drawing bizarre, non-compact district boundaries for the sole purpose of cobbling together disparate minority populations from across northern Florida to form a minority-performing district. Mere compliance with a state constitutional requirement to engage in race-based districting is not, without more, a compelling interest sufficient to satisfy strict scrutiny. The Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution and the VRA, which enforces the Fifteenth Amendment, exist to prevent states from engaging in racially discriminatory electoral practices. Indeed, one such weapon that states long used, and that the VRA was designed to combat, “was the racial gerrymander—the deliberate and arbitrary distortion of district boundaries for racial purposes.” Id. at 640 (cleaned up).

Here, the Florida Constitution’s non-diminishment standard would be satisfied only by a sprawling, non-compact district that spans 200 miles and repeatedly violates traditional political boundaries to join minority communities from disparate geographic areas. Such a district is not narrowly tailored to achieve the compelling interest of protecting the voting rights of a minority community in a reasonably cohesive geographic area. As applied to District 5 in the secondary map, therefore, the Florida Constitution’s non-diminishment standard cannot survive strict scrutiny and clearly violates the U.S. Constitution.

For the foregoing reasons, Congressional District 5 in both maps is unlawful.

¹ The benchmark district itself is a sprawling, non-compact racial gerrymander that connects minority communities from two distinct regions of the State; however, for purposes of this point, I assume that the district can be used as a valid benchmark against which to judge the new maps.

Dear Secretary Byrd:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and transmit my objection to Senate Bill 406 (SB 406), enacted during the 124th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during the Regular Session of 2022 and entitled:

An act relating to Secured Transactions

If SB 406 were to become law and be given retroactive effect as the Legislature intends, it would unconstitutionally impair certain vested rights and contracts. See art. I, §§ 9, 10, Fla. Const. While the prospective policy reforms are sound this does not cure the legal infirmities of the legislation.

For this reason, I withhold my approval of Senate Bill 406 and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,

Ron DeSantis

Dear Secretary Byrd:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and transmit my objections to Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 620 (CS/SB 620), enacted during the 124th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during the Regular Session of 2022 and entitled:

An act relating to the Local Business Protection Act

CS/SB 620 authorizes private, for-profit businesses to claim damages from a county or municipality if the county or municipality enacts or amends certain non-exempt ordinances or charter provisions that have the effect of reducing profits beyond the designated threshold.

Local governments do overstep their authority and unreasonably burden businesses through policies that range from the merely misguided to the politically motivated. Indeed, this was illustrated by the bizarre and draconian measures adopted by some local governments during COVID-19, necessitating the state to overrule these edicts to protect freedom and opportunity for Floridians. Incredibly, this bill exempts compensating businesses due to “emergency” orders of local government. However, the broad and ambiguous language of the bill will lead to both unintended and unforeseen consequences and costly litigation.

Because of this, the better approach is to enact targeted preemption legislation when local governments act in a way that frustrates state policy and/or undermines the rights of Floridians.

For the reasons stated above, I withhold my approval of CS/SB 620 and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,

Ron DeSantis

An act relating to Independent Hospital Districts

As Governor, I have approved local legislation for independent hospital districts. CS/SB 1260 intends to solve a priority of one independent hospital district through broad statewide policy changes, rather than through the local bill process. Florida’s public hospitals serve our medically indigent population and support the state share of the low-income pool. Under these circumstances, each policy change to the governance structure of our independent hospital districts should be reviewed on a district-by-district basis.

Dear Secretary Byrd:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and withhold my approval from the following specific appropriation contained within Senate Bill 2526 (lines 78-93):

- (2) Beginning in the 2022-2023 fiscal year, and annually through the 2052-2053 fiscal year, the sum of $20 million is appropriated and shall be transferred to the Board of Directors of the H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center and Research Institute for construction and development of Moffitt's Pasco County life sciences park. Monies transferred to the Board of Directors of the H. Lee Moffitt

Cancer Center and Research Institute pursuant to this subsection may be used to secure financing to pay costs related to the construction and development of Moffitt's Pasco County life sciences park. Such financing may include the issuance of tax-exempt bonds or other forms of indebtedness by a local authority, municipality, or county pursuant to parts II and III of chapter 159. Such bonds shall not constitute state bonds for purposes of s. 11, Art. VII of the State Constitution, but shall constitute bonds of a local agency as defined in s. 92159.27(4).

I do hereby sign and transmit the remainder of Senate Bill 2526 enacted during the 124th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during the Regular Session of 2022 and entitled:

An act relating to Health

The Freedom First Budget provides $100,000,000 to support the Florida Consortium of National Cancer Institute Centers Program, of which the H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center and Research Institute is one of three eligible institutions. This funding represents an increase of $37,771,257 over the previous year. I requested this additional funding because I am committed to enhancing Florida's competitiveness in cancer research and care at national and international levels to ensure that all Floridians have access to the highest quality of care.

However, I do not support the provision of funding that will tie the state to a long term, thirty-year commitment that inhibits budget flexibility. These state funds could be used to support more than $300 million of bonding capacity that would impact the state's debt capacity without any state oversight.

For the reasons stated above, the $20,000,000 appropriation contained in Senate Bill 2526 is hereby vetoed, and I hereby approve the remainder of the Act.

SUPREME COURT OF FLORIDA

The following certificate was received:

No. SC22-1621

IN RE: CERTIFICATION OF NEED FOR ADDITIONAL JUDGES.

December 22, 2022

PER CURIAM.

This opinion fulfills our constitutional obligation to determine the State's need to increase or decrease the number of judges in fiscal year 2023-24 and to certify our "findings and recommendations concerning such need" to the Florida Legislature.¹ Certification is "the sole mechanism established by our constitution for a systematic and uniform assessment of this need." In re Certif. of Need for Addtl Judges, 889 So. 2d 734, 735 (Fla. 2004).

In this opinion, we certify no need for additional county court, circuit court, or district court of appeal judgeships. We certify the need to decrease by one the number of county court judgeships in Brevard County, and we certify that there is no need to decrease the number of circuit court judgeships. Additionally, we acknowledge excess judicial capacity in the First District Court of Appeal and the Second District Court of Appeal resulting from recently enacted changes to the jurisdictional boundaries of appellate districts and the policy in that law (recommended by the Court and adopted by the Legislature) of allowing a judge to continue to serve in the district where the judge resided. As we explain, the Court recommends that the Legislature address this excess appellate capacity over time by reducing the number of statutorily authorized judgeships based on attrition, without requiring a judge to vacate his or her position involuntarily. This recommendation is consistent with the approach the Court recommended last year in its opinion on the need to create an additional district court of appeal. In re Redefinition of App. Dists. & Certif. of Need for Addtl App. Judges, 345 So. 3d 703, 706 (Fla. 2021).

Trial Courts

The Court continues to use a verified, objective weighted caseload methodology as a primary basis for assessing judicial need for the trial courts.² The lower courts submit judgeship requests that supplement the objective data, including descriptions of how secondary factors are affecting those courts. The secondary factors identified by each chief judge reflect local differences in support of their requests for more judgeships or in support of their requests for this Court not to certify the need to decrease judgeships in situations in which the objective case weights alone would indicate excess judicial capacity.

Based on the analysis under this two-step methodology, we conclude that there is no demonstrable need for an additional circuit court or county court judgeship.³ Considered in isolation, the two-step analysis suggested certifying no need to decrease circuit court judgeships and certifying the need to decrease two county court judgeships in Brevard County and one county court judgeship each in Alachua, Collier, and Monroe counties. However, the Court determines that other relevant circumstances further explained below, coupled with the secondary-factor analysis, militate against certifying the need to decrease all but one of those county court judgeships.

Under Florida Rule of General Practice and Judicial Administration 2.240, the Commission on Trial Court Performance and Accountability is responsible for reviewing the trial court workload trends and case weights and considering adjustments every five years. The current cycle of workload trend and case weight review began in Florida's trial courts in December 2022 and will conclude by June 2024. The statewide effort involves an assessment of the workload of all trial court judges and will consider the contributions of all quasi-judicial officers such as senior judges, magistrates, child support enforcement hearing officers, and civil traffic infraction hearing officers. The workload assessment is comprehensive and will be carefully validated.

Several chief judges have commented on the importance of updating the current case weights in order to capture a more complete picture of case complexity addressed by trial court judges. Since the last workload assessment and case weight update in 2016, state laws have changed significantly, affecting the courts' work in interpreting and applying those laws. Further, court operations have changed significantly, such as through the rapid deployment of remote technology as a result of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 pandemic (COVID-19). We agree with the chief judges' observations that these and other developments warrant reevaluation of the case weights that are the foundation of this Court's evaluation of judicial workload.

In addition, the lingering impact of workload stemming from COVID-19 limits our ability to accurately project judicial need and further militates against certifying the need to decrease trial court judgeships. Notwithstanding significant progress in addressing pandemic-related workload, it is estimated the trial courts will be facing more than 210,000 pending cases above normal on July 1, 2023. As reflected in the State Courts System's fiscal year 2023-24 legislative budget request, the Trial Court Budget Commission has identified the need for temporary adjudicatory and case support resources to address this workload. This third and final year of the pandemic recovery plan, if funded, will provide Other Personal Services (OPS) general magistrates, case managers, and staff attorneys; facilitate additional use of senior judges; and expand mediation services to help address increased workload caused by COVID-19. The trial courts' existing judicial resources are the frontline of this pandemic-recovery effort.

Further, chapter 2019-58, section 9, Laws of Florida, increased the dollar amount threshold for the jurisdiction of the county court. The Legislature elected to adopt a phased approach in the implementation of this statutory revision. Effective January 1, 2020, county court monetary jurisdiction increased from an upper limit of $15,000 to $30,000, and it will increase to $50,000 on January 1, 2023. The jurisdictional expansion in county court can reasonably be expected to increase workload in the county courts.

The Court also considered other significant factors such as the anticipated cases resulting from Hurricane Ian and Hurricane Nicole, the continued expansion of drug courts and other problem-solving courts and the increased judicial time associated with those dockets, and judicial time related to the implementation of the civil case management requirements that initially went into effect in In re Comprehensive COVID-19 Emergency Measures for Florida Trial Courts, Florida Administrative Order No. AOSC20-23, Amendment 10⁴ (March 9, 2021). These factors also contributed to the Court's cautious approach to certifying the need to decrease trial court judgeships.

Mindful of these considerations, the Court does not recommend decreasing the number of county court judges in Alachua, Collier, or Monroe counties. The Court does, however, recommend a decrease of one county judgeship in Brevard County. We base this recommendation on a demonstrated, multi-year trend of excess judicial capacity in that county.

District Courts of Appeal

In furtherance of our constitutional obligation to determine the State's need for additional judges in fiscal year 2023-24,⁵ this opinion certifies the need for no additional district court judgeships. The Court recognizes excess judicial capacity in the First District and the Second District based on the addition of a sixth district effective January 1, 2023, along with corresponding jurisdictional boundary changes in three existing districts. However, the Court continues to recommend that this excess capacity be addressed over time through attrition and therefore is not certifying the need to decrease any district court judgeships.

In September 2021, the District Court of Appeal Workload and Jurisdiction Assessment Committee determined that a sixth appellate district should be created in Florida and that accompanying changes should be made to the existing boundaries of the First, Second, and Fifth districts. The Committee further recommended that no existing district court judge's position be certified for elimination while that judge is in office and that no existing district court judge should have to change residence in order to remain in office as a result of the realignment of districts. In its fiscal year 2022-23 certification opinion, the Court concurred with the Committee's recommendation, stating:

The Court concurs with the Committee's recommendation that realignment of districts not result in decertification of judges or a requirement for judges to change their residence in order to remain in office....

Further, the Court recommends that the legislation implementing the territorial jurisdiction changes specify that vacancies will not be deemed to occur as a result of the changes and recommends that excess judicial capacity in a given district court be addressed over time through attrition, as guided by this Court's annual certification of the need for additional appellate judges. The creation of an additional district and changes to the territorial boundaries of other districts are milestone events that have not occurred since the creation of the Fifth District Court of Appeal in 1979. It will take some time to fully assess the impact of these changes on workload and judicial need for any given court and statewide.

In re Redefinition of App. Dists. & Certif. of Need for Add'l App. Judges, 345 So. 3d at 706.

The law creating a sixth district court of appeal and realigning the boundaries of the existing First, Second, and Fifth districts embodied this policy by specifying, in part:

No judicial vacancy may be deemed to occur as a result of the addition of a sixth appellate district or district realignment under this act. Effective January 1, 2023, a current district court of appeal judge residing in a county, the district of which is realigned under this act, shall be a district court of appeal judge of the new district where he or she resided on December 22, 2021.

Ch. 2022-163, § 15, Laws of Fla.

Based on the workload analysis the Court conducted for this first certification since the creation of a sixth district court of appeal, we have determined that there is an estimated excess capacity of one judgeship in the First District and three judgeships in the Second District. To address this situation, this Court recommends that during the 2023 Regular Session the Legislature consider enacting legislation that provides for reduction in the number of statutorily authorized district court judgeships based on attrition and without requiring a judge to vacate his or her position involuntarily. Such legislation could specify that, upon each occurrence of an event that otherwise would have resulted in a vacancy in the office of judge of the First District or Second District, the number of authorized judges shall be reduced by one, until a specified number of judges remain on each court; we recommend that eventually, after attrition, there be 12 judges authorized for each of those courts. The goal of the Court's recommended approach, consistent with last year's opinion on the creation of a new district court of appeal, is to address excess district court judicial capacity without prematurely ending an existing judge's judicial career.

The Court continues to use a verified, objective weighted caseload methodology as a primary basis for assessing judicial need in the district courts of appeal,⁶ as well as considering qualitative factors and other factors analogous to those it considers in assessing trial court workload. Based on that analysis, the Court does not certify the need to decrease judgeships in the district courts of appeal at this time. The Court does, however, recommend addressing excess judicial capacity in the First and Second Districts in the manner described above.

Notwithstanding legislative enactment of a statutory framework using attrition in the First District and Second District to rectify present excess capacity, the Court will continue to fulfill its constitutional obligation to determine the State's need for additional appellate judges among all six districts and to certify its recommendations concerning such need to the Legislature. As the Court noted in its certification opinion for fiscal year 2022-23, it will take some time to assess fully the effect of the jurisdictional boundary changes on workload and judicial need for any given district court and statewide. In re Redefinition of App. Dists. & Certif. of Need for Add'l App. Judges, 345 So. 3d at 706.

Conclusion

We have conducted quantitative and qualitative assessments of trial court and appellate court judicial workloads. Using the case-weighted methodology and the application of other factors identified in Florida Rule of General Practice and Judicial Administration 2.240, we certify the need for no additional trial court judgeships in Florida. We recommend a decrease of one county court judgeship in Brevard County. We certify no need for additional judgeships in the district courts of appeal. Finally, we recommend legislation to reduce the number of statutorily authorized judgeships in the First District and the Second District based on attrition and without requiring a judge to vacate his or her position involuntarily, as noted in this certification.

It is so ordered.

I agree with the majority's opinion except in one respect—that is, the decision to decrease one county court judgeship in Brevard County. In my view, the reasons given by the majority as support for not decreasing county court judgeships in three other counties weigh in favor of retaining the current number of county judgeships in Brevard County as well. I stress in particular the uncertainty in projecting judicial need following the COVID-19 pandemic and the acknowledged necessity of updating current case weights to accurately reflect case complexity and judicial workload—including the valuable time that county court judges expend in circuit court roles. I do not believe that the “multi-year trend” on which the majority relies, see majority op. at 8, negates the many substantial reasons for retaining the current number of county judgeships in Brevard County for now.

Accordingly, I respectfully dissent from the portion of the majority decision recommending a decrease of one county court judgeship in Brevard County. I concur in all other respects.

Original Proceeding—Certification of Need for Additional Judges

Determination of number of judges.—The supreme court shall establish by rule uniform criteria for the determination of the need for additional judges except supreme court justices, the necessity for decreasing the number of judges and for increasing, decreasing, or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits. If the supreme court finds that a need exists for increasing or decreasing the number of judges or increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits, it shall, prior to the next regular session of the legislature, certify to the legislature its findings and recommendations concerning such need.

² Our certification methodology relies primarily on case weights and calculations of available judge time to determine the need for additional trial court judges. See Fla. R. Gen. Prac. & Jud. Admin. 2.240.

³ Applying the weighted caseload methodology, only Nassau County would appear to be eligible for an additional county court judgeship. However, if the Court were to certify the need for that judgeship, the county would immediately fall below the workload threshold suggesting the need to decrease that same judgeship.

⁴ The requirements are now found in In re COVID-19 Health and Safety Protocols and Emergency Operational Measures for Florida Appellate and Trial Courts, Florida Administrative Order No. AOSC21-17, Amendment 3 (Jan. 8, 2022).

⁵ See supra note 1.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Reverend Beth Demme, Gray Memorial United Methodist Church, Tallahassee:

God of everything, your creation is amazing and your creativity is unparalleled. Just look at the individuals you've gathered here in this chamber: each of them fearfully and wonderfully made; each of them a unique creation; each of them equipped with a variety of gifts, talents, and life experiences. We celebrate your good work, God! We humbly pray that when you look at those gathered here, you are pleased by what you see. And we marvel with gratitude that you have called them to serve here—to serve the people of the State of Florida. Guide them to make our state the best it can be. By that, God, we mean make it what you want it to be. Open our hearts and minds to see your creativity in the diversity of humanity. Open our hearts and minds to enlarge our love for you and for each and every Floridian that we might see our neighbors as gifts from you. Bless each of these leaders that they might serve with a spirit of cooperation, guided always by their conscience and compassion. Thank you for all you have done, all you are doing, and all you will do. Amen.

Dear President Passidomo and Chair Broxson:

The Joint Select Committee on Collective Bargaining convened on March 13, 2023, in the Reed Hall Committee Room, 102 House Office Building, at 12:30 p.m. The purpose of the meeting was to provide all parties involved in collective bargaining disputes with the State of Florida the opportunity to present their positions to the Florida Legis-

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Brad Clayton, Faith Presbyterian Church, Tallahassee:

Holy God, we rise and give thanks for the gift of this new day. We begin this day with gratitude, knowing that all that we are and everything that we have comes from your providence.

We pray, O God, that we will fill this day with gratitude—gratitude for the opportunity to work with each other, to listen to each other, to learn from each other, to compromise with each other, to hope with each other, and to dream with each other. Gratitude for the opportunity to serve our state and serve our neighbor. Gratitude for the opportunity to look at those in need and say, “I am here to help.”

We give thanks, O God, for all those people that on most days we take for granted. Gratitude for first responders, for police officers, and for firefighters and medics who put themselves in harm’s way every day. Gratitude for teachers who do far more than teach, that they often feed and support and show compassion to children who find their only refuge in school. Gratitude for doctors and nurses who work double shifts. Gratitude for custodians and sanitation workers who clean up the mess we make. Gratitude for those who grow and harvest our food that miraculously appears in our grocery stores. Gratitude for our neighbor that we don’t notice, that we take for granted.

We pray, O God, that you will open our eyes and help us to see all the ways that we are so blessed. We pray that spirit of gratitude will guide our hearts, guide our minds, guide our words, and guide our actions. And then, when this day is done, we pray that we might lay our heads on our pillow, we might close our eyes and say, “Thank you God for this day gone by. We would be nothing without you.” We pray this all in the name of the God who loves us and will not forsake us. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Shane Jeffcoat of Sarasota; Samyuktha Sridhar of Jacksonville; and Paige Wilkinson of Keystone Heights, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Rabbi Schneur Z. Oirechman, Chabad of Tallahassee and FSU, Tallahassee:

Almighty G-d, King of the Universe:

As the honorable members of the Florida Senate gather here before Passover, the holiday of renewal and freedom, let us remember the Seven Laws of the Code of Noah, the ultimate foundation of freedom: let us worship you and you alone, not idols or false gods; let us never curse in your holy name; let us never take an innocent life; let us never violate the institution of marriage; let us never steal, lie, or cheat; let us never inflict cruelty on any living creature; and let us establish our government and society on the foundation of just laws and on the recognition of you as the single ruler of all men and nations.

Almighty G-d, grant those assembled here the power and wisdom to enact laws that foster ultimate freedom. Empower them with integrity; grant them empathy; and render them agents of your charity. Let them always realize that in working towards just laws, they are bringing your freedom and redemption to this good earth.

Tonight we enter Nissan, the Jewish month of Passover, which resembles redemption and freedom. We invoke the inspiration of the spiritual leader of the Chabad-Lubavitch movement, of the Menachem Schneerson of righteous memory, whose birthday falls in Nissan. The Rebbe always urged each of us to commit just one more act of goodness and kindness to bring the world to redemption. In this month of Nissan, we pray for freedom and redemption—a world of healing, goodness, and kindness.

We pray that this Passover celebrates not just physical freedom but freedom from mentality of enslavement. We pray for freedom from bad habits, from those things that hold us back from fulfilling our true potential, for connection with what is beyond us, for passing over our limits to reach ever greater heights. And let us say, Amen.

Senate Pages, Hannah Desguin of Crawfordville; Camille Friall of Tallahassee; and Kristian Wydysh of Cape Coral, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

WHEREAS, the United States Census Bureau reports that Florida ranks third in the nation in population, and

WHEREAS, statistics released by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System show that Florida ranks fifth in the nation in the household debt-to-income ratio, and

WHEREAS, a 2018 report issued by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority Investor Education Foundation found that, in Florida, approximately 18 percent of individuals reported that, in the previous 12 months, their household spending exceeded their household income; approximately 46 percent of individuals reported that they did not have a rainy-day fund; and only about one in three individuals could correctly answer at least four questions on a basic five-question financial literacy quiz, and

WHEREAS, a 2021 survey conducted by the National Foundation for Credit Counseling and Wells Fargo showed that, nationwide, 47 percent of the general population reported having credit card debt, while only 44 percent reported having a budget and keeping close track of expenses, such as food, housing, and entertainment, and 38 percent of adults reported carrying credit card balances, and

WHEREAS, the Governor and the Florida Legislature have supported and promoted financial literacy education, enacting the Dorothy L. Hukill Financial Literacy Act in 2022, which requires high school students entering 9th grade in the 2023-2024 school year and thereafter to take a financial literacy course to receive a standard high school diploma, and

WHEREAS, quality personal financial education is essential to ensuring that individuals are prepared to make sound money management decisions about credit, debt, insurance, financial transactions, and planning for the future and to become responsible workers, heads of household, investors, entrepreneurs, business leaders, and citizens, and

WHEREAS, financial literacy empowers individuals to make wise financial decisions and reduces the confusion caused by an increasingly complex economy, and

WHEREAS, amblyopia can cause permanent vision loss if not detected and treated early in life, and

WHEREAS, many forms of amblyopia are difficult to detect and can be identified only through proper screening techniques, and

WHEREAS, the sooner children are identified as having amblyopia or other vision-threatening disorders, the sooner treatment can commence, and

WHEREAS, millions of children in the United States are left with permanent vision loss due to undetected amblyopia and other childhood vision disorders that could have been detected with proper screening and successfully treated, and

WHEREAS, less than 20 percent of preschool children are currently screened for vision problems, despite the fact that such screening is a covered service by many health insurance plans and health maintenance organizations, and

WHEREAS, parents should be encouraged to have their children screened for vision problems before admission to preschool, and

Senator Grall moved the following amendment which failed:

Amendment 1 (113938) (with title amendment)—Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Section 57.104, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

57.104 Computation of attorney attorneys' fees.—

(1) In any action in which attorney attorneys' fees are to be determined or awarded by the court, the court shall consider, among other things, time and labor of any legal assistants who contributed non-clerical, meaningful legal support to the matter involved and who are working under the supervision of an attorney. For purposes of this section "legal assistant" means a person, who under the supervision and direction of a licensed attorney engages in legal research, and case development or planning in relation to modifications or initial proceedings, services, processes, or applications; or who prepares or interprets legal documents or selects, compiles, and uses technical information from references such as digests, encyclopedias, or practice manuals and analyzes and follows procedural problems that involve independent decisions.

(2) In any action in which attorney fees are determined or awarded by the court, there is a strong presumption that a lodestar fee is sufficient and reasonable. This presumption may be overcome only in a rare and exceptional circumstance with evidence that competent counsel could not otherwise be retained.

Section 2. Section 86.121, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

86.121 Attorney fees; actions for declaratory relief to determine insurance coverage after total coverage denial of claim.—

(1) In an action brought for declaratory relief in state or federal court to determine insurance coverage after the insurer has made a total coverage denial of a claim:

(a) Either party is entitled to the summary procedure provided in s. 51.011, and the court shall advance the cause on the calendar.

(b) The court shall award reasonable attorney fees to the named insured, omnibus insured, or named beneficiary under a policy issued by the insurer upon rendition of a declaratory judgment in favor of the named insured, omnibus insured, or named beneficiary. This right may not be transferred to, assigned to, or acquired in any other manner by anyone other than a named or omnibus insured or a named beneficiary. A defense offered by an insurer pursuant to a reservation of rights does not constitute a coverage denial of a claim. Such fees are limited to those incurred in the action brought under this chapter for declaratory relief to determine coverage of insurance issued under the Florida Insurance Code.

(2) This section does not apply to any action arising under a residential or commercial property insurance policy.

Section 3. Subsections (3), (4), and (10) of section 95.11, Florida Statutes, are amended, and subsection (12) is added to that section, to read:

95.11 Limitations other than for the recovery of real property.—Actions other than for recovery of real property shall be commenced as follows:

(3) WITHIN FOUR YEARS.—

~~(a) An action founded on negligence.~~

~~(a)(b)~~ An action relating to the determination of paternity, with the time running from the date the child reaches the age of majority.

~~(b)(c)~~ An action founded on the design, planning, or construction of an improvement to real property, with the time running from the date of actual possession by the owner, the date of the issuance of a certificate of occupancy, the date of abandonment of construction if not completed, or the date of completion of the contract or termination of the contract between the professional engineer, registered architect, or licensed contractor and his or her employer, whichever date is latest; except that, when the action involves a latent defect, the time runs from the time the defect is discovered or should have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence. In any event, the action must be commenced within 10 years after the date of actual possession by the owner, the date of the issuance of a certificate of occupancy, the date of abandonment of construction if not completed, or the date of completion of the contract or termination of the contract between the professional engineer, registered architect, or licensed contractor and his or her employer, whichever date is latest. However, counterclaims, cross-claims, and third-party claims that arise out of the conduct, transaction, or occurrence set out or attempted to be set out in a pleading may be commenced up to 1 year after the pleading to which such claims relate is served, even if such claims would otherwise be time barred. With respect to actions founded on the design, planning, or construction of an improvement to real property, if such construction is performed pursuant to a duly issued building permit and if a local enforcement agency, state enforcement agency, or special inspector, as those terms are defined in s. 553.71, has issued a final certificate of occupancy or certificate of completion, then as to the construction which is within the scope of such building permit and certificate, the correction of defects to completed work or repair of completed work, whether performed under warranty or otherwise, does not extend the period of time within which an action must be commenced. Completion of the contract means the later of the date of final performance of all the contracted services or the date that final payment for such services becomes due without regard to the date final payment is made.

~~(c)(d)~~ An action to recover public money or property held by a public officer or employee, or former public officer or employee, and obtained during, or as a result of, his or her public office or employment.

(d)(e) An action for injury to a person founded on the design, manufacture, distribution, or sale of personal property that is not permanently incorporated in an improvement to real property, including fixtures.

(g)(h) An action for taking, detaining, or injuring personal property.

(h)(i) An action to recover specific personal property.

(i)(j) A legal or equitable action founded on fraud.

(j)(k) A legal or equitable action on a contract, obligation, or liability not founded on a written instrument, including an action for the sale and delivery of goods, wares, and merchandise, and on store accounts.

(k)(l) An action to rescind a contract.

(l)(m) An action for money paid to any governmental authority by mistake or inadvertence.

(m)(n) An action for a statutory penalty or forfeiture.

(n)(o) An action for assault, battery, false arrest, malicious prosecution, malicious interference, false imprisonment, or any other intentional tort, except as provided in subsections (4), (5), and (7).

(o)(p) Any action not specifically provided for in these statutes.

(p)(q) An action alleging a violation, other than a willful violation, of s. 448.110.

(4) WITHIN TWO YEARS.—

(a) An action founded on negligence.

(b)(a) An action for professional malpractice, other than medical malpractice, whether founded on contract or tort; provided that the period of limitations shall run from the time the cause of action is discovered or should have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence. However, the limitation of actions herein for professional malpractice shall be limited to persons in privity with the professional.

(c)(b) An action for medical malpractice shall be commenced within 2 years from the time the incident giving rise to the action occurred or within 2 years from the time the incident is discovered, or should have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence; however, in no event shall the action be commenced later than 4 years from the date of the incident or occurrence out of which the cause of action accrued, except that this 4-year period shall not bar an action brought on behalf of a minor on or before the child's eighth birthday. An "action for medical malpractice" is defined as a claim in tort or in contract for damages because of the death, injury, or monetary loss to any person arising out of any medical, dental, or surgical diagnosis, treatment, or care by any provider of health care. The limitation of actions within this subsection shall be limited to the health care provider and persons in privity with the provider of health care. In those actions covered by this paragraph in which it can be shown that fraud, concealment, or intentional misrepresentation of fact prevented the discovery of the injury the period of limitations is extended forward 2 years from the time that the injury is discovered or should have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence, but in no event to exceed 7 years from the date the incident giving rise to the injury occurred, except that this 7-year period shall not bar an action brought on behalf of a minor on or before the child's eighth birthday. This paragraph shall not apply to actions for which ss. 766.301-766.316 provide the exclusive remedy.

(d)(e) An action to recover wages or overtime or damages or penalties concerning payment of wages and overtime.

(e)(f) An action for wrongful death.

(f)(e) An action founded upon a violation of any provision of chapter 517, with the period running from the time the facts giving rise to the cause of action were discovered or should have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence, but not more than 5 years from the date such violation occurred.

(g)(f) An action for personal injury caused by contact with or exposure to phenoxy herbicides while serving either as a civilian or as a member of the Armed Forces of the United States during the period January 1, 1962, through May 7, 1975; the period of limitations shall run from the time the cause of action is discovered or should have been discovered with the exercise of due diligence.

(h)(g) An action for libel or slander.

(10) FOR INTENTIONAL TORTS RESULTING IN DEATH FROM ACTS DESCRIBED IN S. 782.04 OR S. 782.07.—Notwithstanding paragraph (4)(e) (4)(d), an action for wrongful death seeking damages authorized under s. 768.21 brought against a natural person for an intentional tort resulting in death from acts described in s. 782.04 or s. 782.07 may be commenced at any time. This subsection shall not be construed to require an arrest, the filing of formal criminal charges, or a conviction for a violation of s. 782.04 or s. 782.07 as a condition for filing a civil action.

(12) FOR ACTIONS INVOLVING SERVICEMEMBERS.—Any action involving a servicemember as defined in s. 250.01, in which the servicemember is a party, is subject to s. 250.5201 and part IV of chapter 250, which includes the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, 50 U.S.C. ss. 501 et seq., providing for protections to members of the United States Armed Forces, the United States Reserve Forces, or the National Guard during terms of federal or state active duty which materially affect the servicemember's ability to appear.

Section 4. Section 624.155, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

624.155 Civil remedy.—

(1) Any person may bring a civil action against an insurer when such person is damaged:

(a) By a violation of any of the following provisions by the insurer:

1. Section 626.9541(1)(i), (o), or (x);
2. Section 626.9551;
3. Section 626.9705;
4. Section 626.9706;
5. Section 626.9707; or
6. Section 627.7283.

(b) By the commission of any of the following acts by the insurer:

1. Not attempting in good faith to settle claims when, under all the circumstances, it could and should have done so, had it acted fairly and honestly toward its insured and with due regard for her or his interests;
2. Making claims payments to insureds or beneficiaries not accompanied by a statement setting forth the coverage under which payments are being made; or
3. Except as to liability coverages, failing to promptly settle claims, when the obligation to settle a claim has become reasonably clear, under one portion of the insurance policy coverage in order to influence settlements under other portions of the insurance policy coverage.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the above to the contrary, a person pursuing a remedy under this section need not prove that such act was committed or performed with such frequency as to indicate a general business practice.

(2) Any party may bring a civil action against an unauthorized insurer if such party is damaged by a violation of s. 624.401 by the unauthorized insurer.

(3)(a) As a condition precedent to bringing an action under this section, the department and the authorized insurer must have been given 60 days' written notice of the violation. Notice to the authorized insurer must be provided by the department to the e-mail address designated by the insurer under s. 624.422.

(b) The notice shall be on a form provided by the department and shall state with specificity the following information, and such other information as the department may require:

1. The statutory provision, including the specific language of the statute, which the authorized insurer allegedly violated.

2. The facts and circumstances giving rise to the violation.

3. The name of any individual involved in the violation.

4. Reference to specific policy language that is relevant to the violation, if any. If the person bringing the civil action is a third party claimant, she or he shall not be required to reference the specific policy language if the authorized insurer has not provided a copy of the policy to the third party claimant pursuant to written request.

5. A statement that the notice is given in order to perfect the right to pursue the civil remedy authorized by this section.

(c) No action shall lie if, within 60 days after the insurer receives notice from the department in accordance with this subsection, the damages are paid or the circumstances giving rise to the violation are corrected.

(d) The authorized insurer that is the recipient of a notice filed pursuant to this section shall report to the department on the disposition of the alleged violation.

(e) The applicable statute of limitations for an action under this section shall be tolled for a period of:

1. Sixty days after the insurer receives from the department the notice required by this subsection.

2. Sixty days after the date appraisal is invoked pursuant to paragraph (f).

(f) A notice required under this subsection may not be filed within 60 days after appraisal is invoked by any party in a residential property insurance claim.

(4)(a) In an action for bad faith failure to settle a liability insurance claim, including any such action brought under the common law, if the insurer initiates settlement negotiations by tendering the lesser of the policy limits or the amount demanded by the claimant in exchange for a general release of the insured within 90 days after receiving actual notice of the loss, the failure to tender the policy limits sooner does not constitute bad faith.

(b) If an insurer does not tender the lesser of the policy limits or the amount demanded by the claimant within the 90-day timeframe provided in paragraph (a), the existence of the 90-day timeframe and that no bad faith action could lie had the insurer tendered the lesser of policy limits or the amount demanded by the claimant pursuant to paragraph (a) is inadmissible in any action seeking to establish bad faith on the part of the insurer.

(c) If the insurer fails to tender pursuant to paragraph (a) within the 90-day period, any applicable statute of limitations is extended for an additional 90 days.

(5) In any bad faith action, whether such action is brought under this section or is based on the common-law remedy for bad faith:

(a) Mere negligence alone is insufficient to constitute bad faith.

(b) The focus of the bad faith claim is on the conduct of an insurer, but in determining whether the insurer actually could have settled the claim, the jury may consider the totality of the circumstances, including:

1. Whether any conditions placed on the settlement by the claimant were unreasonable or impossible to perform within the time permitted; and

2. Whether the insured failed to cooperate with the insurer's efforts to meet the conditions after being fully advised by the insurer about the purpose and importance of doing so.

(6)(a) If two or more third-party claimants have competing claims arising out of a single occurrence, which in total may exceed the available policy limits of an insured who may be liable to the third-party claimants, and the insurer initiates settlement negotiations by globally tendering the applicable policy limits in exchange for a general release of the insured within 90 days after receiving actual notice of the loss, the failure to tender policy limits sooner does not constitute bad faith.

(b) If an insurer does not globally tender the policy limits within the 90-day timeframe provided in paragraph (a), the existence of the 90-day timeframe and that no bad faith action could lie had the insurer tendered the lesser of policy limits or the amount demanded by the claimant pursuant to paragraph (a) is inadmissible in any action seeking to establish bad faith on the part of the insurer.

(c) If two or more third-party claimants have competing claims arising out of a single occurrence, which in total may exceed the available policy limits of an insured who may be liable to the third-party claimants, and the claimants are unwilling to globally settle within the policy limits, thereafter, the insurer must attempt to minimize the magnitude of possible excess judgments against the insured. The insurer is entitled to great discretion to decide how much to offer each respective claimant in its attempt to protect the insured. The insurer may, in its effort to minimize the excess liability of the insured, use its discretion to offer the full available policy limits to one or more claimants to the exclusion of other claimants and may leave the insured exposed to some liability after all the policy limits are paid. An insurer does not act in bad faith simply because it is unable to settle all claims in a competing claimant case.

(d) An insurer is not liable beyond the available policy limits for failure to pay all or any portion of the available policy limits to one or more of the third-party claimants if, pursuant to a binding arbitration that has been agreed to by the insurer and all the third-party claimants, the insurer makes the entire amount of the policy limits available for payment to the competing third-party claimants before a qualified arbitrator agreed to by the insurer and such third-party claimants at the expense of the insurer. The third-party claimants are entitled to a pro-rated share of the policy limits as determined by the arbitrator, who must consider the comparative fault, if any, of each third-party claimant and the total likely outcome at trial based upon the total of the economic and noneconomic damages submitted to the arbitrator for consideration. A third-party claimant whose claim is resolved by the arbitrator must execute and deliver a general release to the insured party whose claim is resolved by the proceeding.

(7)(4) In any insurance bad faith action, whether brought under this section or the common law, upon adverse adjudication at trial or upon appeal, the authorized insurer shall be liable for damages, together with court costs and reasonable attorney ~~attorney's~~ fees incurred by the plaintiff.

(8)(5) No Punitive damages may not shall be awarded under this section unless the acts giving rise to the violation occur with such frequency as to indicate a general business practice and these acts are:

(a) Willful, wanton, and malicious;

(b) In reckless disregard for the rights of any insured; or

(c) In reckless disregard for the rights of a beneficiary under a life insurance contract.

Any person who pursues a claim under this subsection shall post in advance the costs of discovery. Such costs shall be awarded to the authorized insurer if no punitive damages are awarded to the plaintiff.

(9)(6) This section does shall not be construed to authorize a class action suit against an authorized insurer or a civil action against the commission, the office, or the department or any of their employees, or to create a cause of action when an authorized health insurer refuses to pay a claim for reimbursement on the ground that the charge for a service was unreasonably high or that the service provided was not medically necessary.

(10)(7) In the absence of expressed language to the contrary, this section shall not be construed to authorize a civil action or create a cause of action against an authorized insurer or its employees who, in good faith, release information about an insured or an insurance policy to a law enforcement agency in furtherance of an investigation of a criminal or fraudulent act relating to a motor vehicle theft or a motor vehicle insurance claim.

(11)(8) The civil remedy specified in this section does not preempt any other remedy or cause of action provided for pursuant to any other statute or pursuant to the common law of this state. Any person may obtain a judgment under either the common-law remedy of bad faith or this statutory remedy, but ~~is shall not be entitled to a judgment under both remedies.~~ This section ~~does shall not be construed to create a common-law cause of action.~~ The damages recoverable pursuant to this section shall include those damages which are a reasonably foreseeable result of a specified violation of this section by the authorized insurer and may include an award or judgment in an amount that exceeds the policy limits.

(12)(9) A surety issuing a payment or performance bond on the construction or maintenance of a building or roadway project is not an insurer for purposes of subsection (1).

Section 5. Section 624.1552, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

624.1552 Civil actions involving an insurance contract; applicability of offer of judgment provisions.—The provisions of s. 768.79 apply to any civil action involving an insurance contract.

(2) ADMISSIBLE EVIDENCE OF MEDICAL TREATMENT OR SERVICE EXPENSES.—Evidence offered to prove the amount of damages for past or future medical treatment or services in a personal injury or wrongful death action is admissible as provided in this subsection.

(a) Evidence offered to prove the amount of damages for past medical treatment or services that have been satisfied is limited to evidence of the amount actually paid, regardless of the source of payment.

If the claimant does not have health care coverage or has health care coverage through Medicare or Medicaid, evidence of 120 percent of the Medicare reimbursement rate in effect on the date of the claimant’s incurred medical treatment or services, or, if there is no applicable Medicare rate for a service, 170 percent of the applicable state Medicaid rate.

1. If the claimant has health care coverage other than Medicare or Medicaid, or is eligible for any such health care coverage, evidence of the amount for which the future charges of health care providers could be satisfied if submitted to such health care coverage, plus the claimant’s share of medical expenses under the insurance contract or regulation.

2. If the claimant does not have health care coverage or has health care coverage through Medicare or Medicaid, or is eligible for such health care coverage, evidence of 120 percent of the Medicare reimbursement rate in effect at the time of trial for the medical treatment or services the claimant will receive, or, if there is no applicable Medicare rate for a service, 170 percent of the applicable state Medicaid rate.

3. Any evidence of reasonable future amounts to be billed to the claimant for medically necessary treatment or medically necessary services.

(d) This subsection does not impose an affirmative duty upon any party to seek a reduction in billed charges to which the party is not contractually entitled.

(e) Individual contracts between providers and authorized commercial insurers or authorized health maintenance organizations are not subject to discovery or disclosure and are not admissible into evidence.

(3) LETTERS OF PROTECTION; REQUIRED DISCLOSURES.—In a personal injury or wrongful death action, as a condition precedent to asserting any claim for medical expenses for treatment rendered under a letter of protection, the claimant must disclose:

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Major Charlotte Gargis, Salvation Army of Lee, Hendry, and Glades Counties, Fort Myers:

Good afternoon gracious, heavenly Father. Thank you for this gift of today. As we gather together, we turn our thoughts and prayers to you. Guide us, each one, as our elected representatives of the Florida Senate meet and continue their work during this session. We ask for your spirit's guidance and wisdom to be with them and your will be done. We ask for your blessings on our Senate President, Kathleen Passidomo, and for her colleagues of this body who are with us and who have assumed the people's trust to represent them.

As our communities in this wonderful land continue to recover from Ian, we know that you are with them. Please be with them and help restore that which was lost and those whom have been lost, we mourn and we know that you will comfort. Let us not forget those that are still continuing and work together to help make them whole again. Let all of us be instruments of peace, comfort, care, concern, and assistance to dispel loneliness, fear, and frustration. As we see another storm season on the horizon, unite us in care for one another as we prepare.

We live in challenging times. Our challenges can be overcome with your spirit's inspiration and strength. For when we are weak, you are strong. We ask you to pour out your grace and your favor upon this state, our Florida. These members of the Florida Senate have answered the call of public service for governance of this wonderful state—a community diverse yet united in so many ways. Continue to guide our leaders during these times. Unite them in your love and your mission for our most precious resource—the people of this state. Continue to inspire them with your spirit to guide and invest in the future of our young people with education. As in all things, we also turn to you to answer the needs of the vulnerable, the elderly, and those in need of your healing touch. Continue to inspire our Senators as we continue to provide a land of prosperity, opportunity, hope, and liberty for all Floridians.

Finally, bless and be with all our servant leaders of this state and all those who hold office at all levels of government in our land. For with your grace, together we can do good and great things for your people. In your mighty name, we pray. Amen.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Earl Glisson, Anchor Faith Church, St. Augustine:

Dear Heavenly Father, we come before you this afternoon, the creator of heaven and earth, and humbly submit ourselves to your authority. We place ourselves in remembrance that there is no authority except from God, and those which exist are established by God. Since you have established authority, you also anoint and equip those placed in authority.

For your word tells us that your ways are higher than our ways and your thoughts are higher than our thoughts, so we ask for the impartation of your divine wisdom in governing the affairs of this state of which your people reside. As your son was quoted as saying, "For I did not speak on my own initiative, but the Father himself who sent me has given me what to say and what to speak." He understood that you, Lord, give wisdom and from your mouth come knowledge and understanding. I pray that these men and women will have the same desire when making decisions that effect and influence the lives of their fellow residents.

With this in mind, I pray that these members of the Florida Senate will trust in you, Lord, with all their hearts and would not lean on their own understanding, nor be wise in their own eyes. For there is a way which seems right to a man, but its end is the way of death. Give them the knowledge to discern the difference between the spirit of truth and the spirit of error. As they seek you first, we pray your kingdom would come, your will would be done on earth just as it is in heaven. I ask for continued protection and safety for them, their families, and their staff as well as all the provision necessary for them to accomplish their assignments. Lord, strengthen them in their call to public service by empowering them by your spirit. We ask all these things in the name of Jesus. Amen.

Senator Polsky moved the following amendment which failed:

Amendment 1 (424832) (with title amendment)—Before line 46 insert:

Section 1. Subsection (1) of section 61.13, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

61.13 Support of children; parenting and time-sharing; powers of court.—

(1)(a) In a proceeding under this chapter, the court may at any time order either or both parents who owe a duty of support to a child to pay support to the other parent or, in the case of both parents, to a third party who has custody in accordance with the child support guidelines schedule in s. 61.30. Child support payments may be ordered under this section for an unborn child beginning at conception. If the paternity of the obligor is disputed, the court must await the outcome of the paternity proceeding before ordering child support payments and must award child support retroactive to the date of conception.

1. All child support orders and income deduction orders entered on or after October 1, 2010, must provide:

a. For child support to terminate on a child’s 18th birthday unless the court finds or previously found that s. 743.07(2) applies, or is otherwise agreed to by the parties;

b. A schedule, based on the record existing at the time of the order, stating the amount of the monthly child support obligation for all the minor children at the time of the order and the amount of child support that will be owed for any remaining children after one or more of the children are no longer entitled to receive child support; and

c. The month, day, and year that the reduction or termination of child support becomes effective.

2. The court initially entering an order requiring one or both parents to make child support payments has continuing jurisdiction after the entry of the initial order to modify the amount and terms and conditions of the child support payments if the modification is found by the court to be in the best interests of the child; when the child reaches majority; if there is a substantial change in the circumstances of the parties; if s. 743.07(2) applies; or when a child is emancipated, marries, joins the armed services, or dies. For child support orders involving unborn children, the court shall review and shall, if appropriate, modify the amount and terms and conditions of child support payments when the child is born. The court initially entering a child support order has continuing jurisdiction to require the obligee to report to the court on terms prescribed by the court regarding the disposition of the child support payments.

(b) Each order for support ~~must provide~~ ~~shall contain a provision~~ for health insurance for the minor child when health insurance is reasonable in cost and accessible to the child. For child support orders involving unborn children, the order must provide for health insurance coverage for the pregnant woman for at least the duration of the pregnancy and for any related postpartum care needed immediately after the child is born. Health insurance is presumed to be reasonable in cost if the incremental cost of adding health insurance for the child or children does not exceed 5 percent of the gross income, as defined in s. 61.30, of the parent responsible for providing health insurance. Health insurance is accessible to the child if the health insurance is available to be used in the county of the child's primary residence or in another county if the parent who has the most time under the time-sharing plan agrees. If the time-sharing plan provides for equal time-sharing, health insurance is accessible to the child if the health insurance is available to be used in either county where the child resides or in another county if both parents agree. The court may require the obligor to provide health insurance or to reimburse the obligee for the cost of health insurance for the minor child when insurance is provided by the obligee. The presumption of reasonable cost may be rebutted by evidence of any of the factors in s. 61.30(11)(a). The court may deviate from what is presumed reasonable in cost only upon a written finding explaining its determination why ordering or not ordering the provision of health insurance or the reimbursement of the obligee's cost for providing health insurance for the minor child would be unjust or inappropriate. In any event, the court shall apportion the cost of health insurance, and any noncovered medical, dental, and prescription medication expenses of the child, to both parties by adding the cost to the basic obligation determined pursuant to s. 61.30(6). The court may order that payment of noncovered medical, dental, and prescription medication expenses of the minor child be made directly to the obligee on a percentage basis. In a proceeding for medical support only, each parent's share of the child's noncovered medical expenses shall equal the parent's percentage share of the combined net income of the parents. The percentage share shall be calculated by dividing each parent's net monthly income by the combined monthly net income of both parents. Net income is calculated as specified by s. 61.30(3) and (4).

1. In a non-Title IV-D case, a copy of the court order for health insurance shall be served on the obligor's union or employer by the obligee when the following conditions are met:

a. The obligor fails to provide written proof to the obligee within 30 days after receiving effective notice of the court order that the health insurance has been obtained or that application for health insurance has been made;

b. The obligee serves written notice of intent to enforce an order for health insurance on the obligor by mail at the obligor's last known address; and

c. The obligor fails within 15 days after the mailing of the notice to provide written proof to the obligee that the health insurance existed as of the date of mailing.

2.a. A support order enforced under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act which requires that the obligor provide health insurance is enforceable by the department through the use of the national medical support notice, and an amendment to the support order is not required. The department shall transfer the national medical support notice to the obligor's union or employer. The department shall notify the obligor in writing that the notice has been sent to the obligor's union or employer, and the written notification must include the obligor's rights and duties under the national medical support notice. The obligor may contest the withholding required by the national medical support notice based on a mistake of fact. To contest the withholding, the obligor must file a written notice of contest with the department within 15 business days after the date the obligor receives written notification of the national medical support notice from the department. Filing with the department is complete when the notice is received by the person designated by the department in the written notification. The notice of contest must be in the form prescribed by the department. Upon the timely filing of a notice of contest, the department shall, within 5 business days, schedule an informal conference with the obligor to discuss the obligor's factual dispute. If the informal conference resolves the dispute to the obligor's satisfaction or if the obligor fails to attend the informal conference, the notice of contest is deemed withdrawn. If the informal conference does not resolve the dispute, the obligor may request an administrative hearing under chapter 120 within 5 business days after the termination of the informal conference, in a form and manner prescribed by the department. However, the filing of a notice of contest by the obligor does not delay the withholding of premium payments by the union, employer, or health plan administrator. The union, employer, or health plan administrator must implement the withholding as directed by the national medical support notice unless notified by the department that the national medical support notice is terminated.

b. In a Title IV-D case, the department shall notify an obligor's union or employer if the obligation to provide health insurance through that union or employer is terminated.

3. In a non-Title IV-D case, upon receipt of the order pursuant to subparagraph 1., or upon application of the obligor pursuant to the order, the union or employer shall enroll the minor child as a beneficiary in the group health plan regardless of any restrictions on the enrollment period and withhold any required premium from the obligor's income. If more than one plan is offered by the union or employer, the child shall be enrolled in the group health plan in which the obligor is enrolled.

4.a. Upon receipt of the national medical support notice under subparagraph 2. in a Title IV-D case, the union or employer shall transfer the notice to the appropriate group health plan administrator within 20 business days after the date on the notice. The plan administrator must enroll the child as a beneficiary in the group health plan regardless of any restrictions on the enrollment period, and the union or employer must withhold any required premium from the obligor's income upon notification by the plan administrator that the child is enrolled. The child shall be enrolled in the group health plan in which the obligor is enrolled. If the group health plan in which the obligor is enrolled is not available where the child resides or if the obligor is not enrolled in group coverage, the child shall be enrolled in the lowest cost group health plan that is accessible to the child.

b. If health insurance or the obligor's employment is terminated in a Title IV-D case, the union or employer that is withholding premiums for health insurance under a national medical support notice must notify the department within 20 days after the termination and provide the obligor's last known address and the name and address of the obligor's new employer, if known.

5.a. The amount withheld by a union or employer in compliance with a support order may not exceed the amount allowed under s. 303(b) of the Consumer Credit Protection Act, 15 U.S.C. s. 1673(b), as amended. The union or employer shall withhold the maximum allowed by the Consumer Credit Protection Act in the following order:

- (I) Current support, as ordered.
- (II) Premium payments for health insurance, as ordered.
- (III) Past due support, as ordered.
- (IV) Other medical support or insurance, as ordered.

b. If the combined amount to be withheld for current support plus the premium payment for health insurance exceed the amount allowed under the Consumer Credit Protection Act, and the health insurance cannot be obtained unless the full amount of the premium is paid, the union or employer may not withhold the premium payment. However, the union or employer shall withhold the maximum allowed in the following order:

- (I) Current support, as ordered.
- (II) Past due support, as ordered.
- (III) Other medical support or insurance, as ordered.

6. An employer, union, or plan administrator who does not comply with the requirements in sub-subparagraph 4.a. is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $250 for the first violation and $500 for subsequent violations, plus attorney’s fees and costs. The department may file a petition in circuit court to enforce the requirements of this subparagraph.

7. The department may adopt rules to administer the child support enforcement provisions of this section that affect Title IV-D cases.

(c) To the extent necessary to protect an award of child support, the court may order the obligor to purchase or maintain a life insurance policy or a bond, or to otherwise secure the child support award with any other assets which may be suitable for that purpose.

(d)1. All child support orders ~~shall~~ provide the full name and date of birth of each minor child who is the subject of the child support order. For child support orders involving unborn children, the order must specify that the order is for the benefit of an unborn child and include the name of the pregnant woman carrying the unborn child.

2. If both parties request and the court finds that it is in the best interest of the child, support payments need not be subject to immediate income deduction. Support orders that are not subject to immediate income deduction may be directed through the depository under s. 61.181 or made payable directly to the obligee. Payments made by immediate income deduction shall be made to the State Disbursement Unit. The court shall provide a copy of the order to the depository.

3. For support orders payable directly to the obligee, any party may subsequently file an affidavit with the depository alleging a default in payment of child support and stating that the party wishes to require that payments be made through the depository. The party shall provide copies of the affidavit to the court and to each other party. Fifteen days after receipt of the affidavit, the depository shall notify all parties that future payments shall be paid through the depository, except that payments in Title IV-D cases and income deduction payments shall be made to the State Disbursement Unit. In Title IV-D cases, an affidavit of default or a default in payments is not required to receive depository services. Upon notice by the department that it is providing Title IV-D services in a case with an existing support order, the depository shall transmit case data through, and set up appropriate payment accounts in, regardless of whether there is a delinquency, the Clerk of the Court Child Support Enforcement Collection System as required under s. 61.181(2)(b).

And the title is amended as follows:

Between lines 2 and 3 insert: amending s. 61.13, F.S.; providing that a court may order child support payments for unborn children beginning at conception; requiring the court to await the outcome of paternity proceedings in disputed paternity cases before ordering child support payments; providing for retroactive child support payments under certain circumstances; requiring the court to review and, if appropriate, modify child support orders involving unborn children when the child is born; requiring that child support orders involving unborn children include health insurance coverage for the pregnant woman for a specified time; requiring that child support orders involving unborn children include specified information;

(3) CONSENTS REQUIRED.—A termination of pregnancy may not be performed or induced except with the voluntary and informed written consent of the pregnant woman or, in the case of a mental incompetent, the voluntary and informed written consent of her court-appointed guardian.

(a) Except in the case of a medical emergency, consent to a termination of pregnancy is voluntary and informed only if:

1. The physician who is to perform the procedure, or the referring physician, has, at a minimum, orally, while physically present in the same room, and at least 24 hours before the procedure, informed the woman of:

a. The nature and risks of undergoing or not undergoing the proposed procedure that a reasonable patient would consider material to making a knowing and willful decision of whether to terminate a pregnancy.

b. The probable gestational age of the fetus, verified by an ultrasound, at the time the termination of pregnancy is to be performed.

(I) The ultrasound must be performed by the physician who is to perform the abortion or by a person having documented evidence that he or she has completed a course in the operation of ultrasound equipment as prescribed by rule and who is working in conjunction with the physician.

(II) The person performing the ultrasound must offer the woman the opportunity to view the live ultrasound images and hear an explanation of them. If the woman accepts the opportunity to view the images and hear the explanation, a physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, advanced practice registered nurse, or physician assistant working in conjunction with the physician must contemporaneously review and explain the images to the woman before the woman gives informed consent to having an abortion procedure performed.

(III) The woman has a right to decline to view and hear the explanation of the live ultrasound images after she is informed of her right and offered an opportunity to view the images and hear the explanation. If the woman declines, the woman shall complete a form acknowledging that she was offered an opportunity to view and hear the explanation of the images but that she declined that opportunity. The form must also indicate that the woman’s decision was not based on any undue influence from any person to discourage her from viewing the images or hearing the explanation and that she declined of her own free will.

(IV) Unless requested by the woman, the person performing the ultrasound may not offer the opportunity to view the images and hear the explanation and the explanation may not be given if, at the time the woman schedules or arrives for her appointment to obtain an abortion, a copy of a restraining order, police report, medical record, or other court order or documentation is presented which provides evidence that the woman is obtaining the abortion because the woman is a victim of rape, incest, domestic violence, or human trafficking or that the woman has been diagnosed as having a condition that, on the basis of a physician’s good faith clinical judgment, would create a serious risk of substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function if the woman delayed terminating her pregnancy.

c. The medical risks to the woman and fetus of carrying the pregnancy to term.

The physician may provide the information required in this subparagraph through telehealth as defined in s. 456.47 if the pregnant woman resides more than 100 miles from the nearest abortion provider. The physician may provide the information required in this subparagraph within 24 hours before the procedure if requested by the woman at the time she schedules or arrives for her appointment to obtain an abortion and if she presents to the physician a copy of a restraining order, police report, medical record, or other court order or documentation evidencing that she is obtaining the abortion because she is a victim of rape, incest, domestic violence, or human trafficking.

2. Printed materials prepared and provided by the department have been provided to the pregnant woman, if she chooses to view these materials, including:

- a. A description of the fetus, including a description of the various stages of development.
- b. A list of entities that offer alternatives to terminating the pregnancy.
- c. Detailed information on the availability of medical assistance benefits for prenatal care, childbirth, and neonatal care.

3. The woman acknowledges in writing, before the termination of pregnancy, that the information required to be provided under this subsection has been provided.

Nothing in this paragraph is intended to prohibit a physician from providing any additional information which the physician deems material to the woman’s informed decision to terminate her pregnancy.

1. All child support orders and income deduction orders entered on or after October 1, 2010, must provide:

a. For child support to terminate on a child’s 18th birthday unless the court finds or previously found that the minor child, or the child who is dependent in fact and between the ages of 18 and 19, is still in high school and is performing in good faith with a reasonable expectation of graduation before he or she reaches the age of 19 ~~s. 743.07(2) applies~~, or the continued support is otherwise agreed to by the parties;

b. A schedule, based on the record existing at the time of the order, stating the amount of the monthly child support obligation for all the minor children at the time of the order and the amount of child support that will be owed for any remaining children after one or more of the children are no longer entitled to receive child support; and

c. The month, day, and year that the reduction or termination of child support becomes effective.

2. The court initially entering an order requiring one or both parents to make child support payments has continuing jurisdiction after the entry of the initial order to modify the amount and terms and conditions of the child support payments if the modification is found by the court to be in the best interests of the child; when the child reaches majority; if there is a substantial change in the circumstances of the parties; the minor child, or the child who is dependent in fact and between the ages of 18 and 19, is still in high school and is performing in good faith with a reasonable expectation of graduation before he or she reaches the age of 19 ~~if s. 743.07(2) applies~~; or the when a child is emancipated, marries, joins the armed services, or dies. The court initially entering a child support order has continuing jurisdiction to require the obligee to report to the court on terms prescribed by the court regarding the disposition of the child support payments.

(b) A parenting plan approved by the court must, at a minimum:

1. Describe in adequate detail how the parents will share and be responsible for the daily tasks associated with the upbringing of the child;

2. Include the time-sharing schedule arrangements that specify the time that the minor child will spend with each parent;

3. Designate who will be responsible for:

a. Any and all forms of health care. If the court orders shared parental responsibility over health care decisions, ~~the parenting plan must provide that~~ either parent may consent to mental health treatment for the child unless stated otherwise in the parenting plan.

b. School-related matters, including the address to be used for school-boundary determination and registration.

c. Other activities; and

4. Describe in adequate detail the methods and technologies that the parents will use to communicate with the child.

Section 3. Section 61.29, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

61.29 Child support guidelines; principles; applicability.—

(1) The following principles establish the public policy of the State of Florida in the creation of the child support guidelines:

(a)(1) Each parent has a fundamental obligation to support his or her minor or legally dependent child.

(b)(2) The guidelines schedule is based on the parent's combined net income estimated to have been allocated to the child as if the parents and children were living in an intact household.

(c)(3) The guidelines encourage fair and efficient settlement of support issues between parents and minimizes the need for litigation.

(2) The guidelines in this section do not apply to support for a dependent adult child as defined in s. 61.1255(2)(a). The amount of support for a dependent adult child is determined by s. 61.31.

Section 4. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section 61.30, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

61.30 Child support guidelines; retroactive child support.—

(1)(a) The child support guideline amount as determined by this section presumptively establishes the amount the trier of fact ~~shall~~ order as child support for a minor child, or a child who is dependent in fact and between the ages of 18 and 19 and who is still in high school and is performing in good faith with a reasonable expectation of graduation before he or she reaches the age of 19, in an initial proceeding for such support or in a proceeding for modification of an existing order for such support, whether the proceeding arises under this or another chapter. The trier of fact may order payment of child support which varies, plus or minus 5 percent, from the guideline amount, after considering all relevant factors, including the needs of the child or children, age, station in life, standard of living, and the financial status and ability of each parent. The trier of fact may order payment of child support in an amount which varies more than 5 percent from such guideline amount only upon a written finding explaining why ordering payment of such guideline amount would be unjust or inappropriate. Notwithstanding the variance limitations of this section, the trier of fact ~~shall~~ order payment of child support which varies from the guideline amount as provided in paragraph (1)(b) whenever any of the children are required by court order or mediation agreement to spend a substantial amount of time with either parent. This requirement applies to any living arrangement, whether temporary or permanent.

Section 5. Section 61.31, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

61.31 Amount of support for a dependent adult child.—

(1) In determining the amount of support to be paid after a dependent adult child as defined in s. 61.1255(2)(a) reaches the age of 18, the specific terms and conditions of such support, and the rights and duties of both parents with respect to the support, the court shall determine and consider all of the following:

(a) The dependent adult child's income and assets.

(b) Any existing and future needs of the dependent adult child which are directly related to his or her mental or physical incapacity and the substantial care and personal supervision directly required by or related to that incapacity.

(c) Whether a parent or other person pays for or will pay for the care or supervision of the dependent adult child or provides or will provide substantial care or personal supervision to the dependent adult child himself or herself.

(d) The financial resources available to each parent for the support, care, and supervision of the dependent adult child.

(e) Any other financial resources or other resources or programs available for the support, care, and supervision of the dependent adult child.

(2) The court may irrevocably assign the support to a special needs trust under 42 U.S.C. s. 1396p(d)(4)(A) or to a pooled trust under 42 U.S.C. s. 1396p(d)(4)(C) established for the benefit of the dependent adult child by the dependent adult child, his or her agent under a durable power of attorney, the court, a parent or grandparent, a guardian, or a guardian advocate who has been delegated those rights in order to maintain the dependent adult child's means-based government benefits.

(3) In making its decisions, the court shall consider:

(a) Any state or federal programs and benefits that the dependent adult child is receiving or may receive due to reaching the age of majority; and

(b) The effect that the court-ordered support would have on the dependent adult child's eligibility for such programs and benefits.

(4) The court may not order support that will cause ineligibility for programs in which the dependent adult child currently participates, or programs and services for which the dependent adult child is reasonably expected to become eligible upon reaching the age of majority.

Section 6. Paragraph (b) of subsection (2) and subsection (3) of section 393.12, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

393.12 Capacity; appointment of guardian advocate.—

(2) APPOINTMENT OF A GUARDIAN ADVOCATE.—

(b) A person who is being considered for appointment or is appointed as a guardian advocate ~~is not required to~~ ~~need not~~ be represented by an attorney unless required by the court or if the guardian advocate is delegated any rights regarding property other than the right to be the representative payee for government benefits or to receive periodic payments for the support, care, maintenance, education, or other needs of the person with a developmental disability pursuant to s. 61.1255. This paragraph applies only to proceedings relating to the appointment of a guardian advocate and the court's supervision of a guardian advocate and is not an exercise of the Legislature's authority ~~under~~ ~~pursuant to~~ s. 2(a), Art. V of the State Constitution.

(3) PETITION.—

(a) A petition to appoint a guardian advocate for a person with a developmental disability may be executed by an adult person who is a resident of this state. The petition must be verified and must:

1.(a) State the name, age, and present address of the petitioner and his or her relationship to the person with a developmental disability;

2.(b) State the name, age, county of residence, and present address of the person with a developmental disability;

3.(c) Allege that the petitioner believes that the person needs a guardian advocate and specify the factual information on which such belief is based;

4.(d) Specify the exact areas in which the person lacks the decisionmaking ability to make informed decisions about his or her care and treatment services or to meet the essential requirements for his or her physical health or safety;

5.(e) Specify the legal disabilities to which the person is subject; and

6.4) State the name of the proposed guardian advocate, the relationship of that person to the person with a developmental disability; the relationship that the proposed guardian advocate had or has with a provider of health care services, residential services, or other services to the person with a developmental disability; and the reason why this person should be appointed. The petition must also state if a willing and qualified guardian advocate cannot be located, the petition shall so state.

(b) A petition to appoint a guardian advocate may include a request for the authority to bring a civil action in circuit court to establish periodic payments from either or both parents of the person with a developmental disability for the support, care, maintenance, education, or other needs of that person pursuant to s. 61.1255. This section may not be construed to confer any obligation or duty for a guardian advocate to pursue support for the person with a developmental disability.

Section 7. Subsection (1) of section 742.031, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

742.031 Hearings; court orders for support, hospital expenses, and attorney fees ~~attorney's fee.~~—

(1) Hearings for the purpose of establishing or refuting the allegations of the complaint and answer ~~shall~~ be held in the chambers and may be restricted to persons, in addition to the parties involved and their counsel, as the judge in his or her discretion may direct. The court shall determine the issues of paternity of the child and the ability of the parents to support the child. Each party's social security number ~~shall~~ be recorded in the file containing the adjudication of paternity. If the court finds that the alleged father is the father of the child, it ~~shall~~ so order. If appropriate, the court ~~may shall~~ order the father to pay the complainant, her guardian, or any other person assuming responsibility for the child moneys sufficient to pay reasonable ~~attorney at~~ ~~orney's~~ fees, hospital or medical expenses, cost of confinement, and any other expenses incident to the birth of the child and to pay all costs of the proceeding. Bills for pregnancy, childbirth, and scientific testing are admissible as evidence without requiring third-party foundation testimony; and ~~shall~~ constitute prima facie evidence of amounts incurred for such services or for testing on behalf of the child. The court may also make a determination of an appropriate parenting plan, including a time-sharing schedule, in accordance with chapter 61.~~

Section 8. Section 742.06, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

742.06 Jurisdiction retained for future orders.—The court shall retain jurisdiction of the cause for the purpose of entering such other and further orders as changing circumstances of the parties may in justice and equity require. Modifications and enforcement of child support, time-sharing, and support for a dependent adult child are determined under chapter 61.

The amount of support is determined pursuant to s. 61.31. This section may not be construed to confer any obligation or duty for a guardian to pursue support on behalf of a dependent adult child.*

Section 10. This act shall take effect July 1, 2023.

And the title is amended as follows:

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Manny Arisso, Share Your Heart, Tallahassee:

Heavenly Father, we come before you this morning. Oh yes, seeking your guidance, Father, that the spirit of the Lord rests upon us—the spirit, wisdom, and understanding; the spirit of counsel and might; the spirit of knowledge and the fear of the Lord which begins the spirit of wisdom. I ask you to bless these men and women on the job they are doing, Lord. Give them guidance. Bless them on their way in and their way out. Bless them in the cities and bless them in the countries, Lord. Bless them all around. Bless their families, Father. I ask you for protection upon their families, Lord. Families are far away right now—wives, husbands, and children. I ask you just to direct them and guide them, Father. We ask for your strength, your shield, and for you to be our strong tower, Father.

Father, we all know the prayer of the Lord: “Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come and thy will be done on Earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day, our daily bread. Forgive us, Lord. Forgive us who have sinned against you or someone else.” Direct our ways, Father. Yes, direct our ways. Father, pour guidance upon these men and women that are challenged every day. They might ask if God chose me—why these battles? And I say to you this day, the Lord says without battles, there are no wins. He has prepared you for these battles. He gives you wins—victories—but without battles, there are no victories. May the Lord bless you. May the Lord protect you. May he make his face shine upon you and be gracious to you. May the Lord show you his favor and give you peace. I praise and I worship him, the Lord Jesus Christ. Amen, amen, and amen. God bless you all and may this be the beginning of many more. In the name of Jesus. Amen.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Pastor Gary Shultz, First Baptist Church of Tallahassee:

Heavenly Father, we thank you and praise you for your goodness and grace toward us. We thank you for the gift of life, for the gift of your presence, and for the gift of government that orders our affairs and facilitates our life together.

I thank you for these men and women in this room whom you have called to government service. I ask that of all the places they could potentially look to for help or wisdom, that they would lift their eyes to you, knowing that our help comes from you, the maker of heaven and earth. We know that you never slumber or sleep, that nothing escapes your care or notice, that you faithfully watch over us, that you are our keeper, our protector, and our ever-present help in time of trouble.

I ask that you help us to seek and submit to your ways, to trust that your promises are true, to conduct our business with compassionate hearts, kindness, humility, meekness, and patience, bearing with one another and forgiving one another as you have forgiven us. May each of us be found faithful in pursuing these qualities with our hearts and our minds, and may our decisions reflect these qualities for the good of all the people in our state.

Please bless our great State of Florida. Please bless our great nation. We need your help, and we pray for it in the name of Jesus. Amen.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Bishop John Baker, New Hope International Outreach Ministries, Tallahassee:

Father, we thank you for this new day and for all the opportunities that you will afford us as we reflect and demonstrate your love with compassion and kindness in service to each other.

Father, I stand here today in the chamber of the Florida Senate, and from this spot, I ask for your blessings and guidance for the men and women who serve in this great chamber. I give you thanks for their dedication to public service and for the greater good for every Floridian. I thank you, Father, for their commitment to the ideals of democracy, our justice system, and their pledge to ensure fairness for all citizens of this great state.

God, the issues that these Senators are tasked to debate and to find solutions for that will advance our state are numerous. They are complex; they are controversial; and some are divisive. So today, I ask that you grant the men and women who serve in this chamber strength, wisdom, knowledge, and understanding. Father, they need these virtues for this season.

Father, let the legislative directives offered by this chamber for the problems and issues Florida faces bring prosperity to the state, healing to the land and to the people, and pull Florida together. Father, we also pray that the spirit of civility that has existed in this chamber will continue to do so. Let all men and women who serve in this chamber, regardless of the capacity in which they serve, continue to exemplify this spirit. If there's ever a place in Florida where men and women can look to see unity, let it be this chamber—Senators reaching across the aisle working together for the common good of our state.

Father, you are the giver of good gifts, and I have no doubt that you will grant the Senate these mercies. Bless the Florida Senate. Bless the State of Florida. It is in your son's name, Jesus, I pray. Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Gordon Anderson of Panama City Beach; Sara Henkel of Seminole; and Aubrey Rosenhaus of Miami Beach, led the Senate in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.
