PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Bishop Henry Fernandez, Faith Center Ministries, Lauderhill:

Heavenly Father, it is with great honor and we count it a privilege to stand before you today to ask your blessing over this great Senate. We acknowledge that you are almighty and all powerful, and that you direct our steps in the way we should go in accordance with your divine will.

We are thankful today for these whom you have assigned—on every level and in every area—to carry out the business of this great State of Florida. We pray that you will continue to grant them your wisdom, knowledge, and understanding as they seek you in the decisions they make.

They are our Senators, but they are your chosen vessels. Use them for your glory, and for our good.

We ask this in your name, Amen.

HONOR GUARD

At the direction of the President, the Sergeant at Arms opened the doors of the chamber and an Honor Guard of Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps cadets from Tallahassee representing the Marine Corps, Army, Navy, and Air Force marched into the chamber bearing flags of the United States of America and the State of Florida.

The Honor Guard included the following members: from Leon High School, Gunnery Sergeant Anthony Reaves, Sr., Cassie Petrusek, Joseph Ciliberto, and Anthony Reaves, Jr.; from Lincoln High School, Lieutenant Commander Erik Snyder, Courtney Lawrence, and David Newsome; from Rickards High School, Major Joe Christen, Atrayvis Pate, and Roy Cherry; and from Godby High School, Lieutenant Colonel Ken David, Kristopher Callahan, and Aaron Merkel.

COMMITTEE RECEIVED

A committee from the House of Representatives composed of Representative O'Toole, Chair; and Representatives Hooper, Nelson, Hood, Gibbons, Reed, Schwartz, and Rouson was received and informed the Senate that the House of Representatives was convened and ready to proceed to the business of the session. The committee then withdrew from the chamber.

REMARKS BY PRESIDENT DON GAETZ

Every teacher, Senator Legg, Senator Thompson, Senator Bullard, Senator Hukill, and even we old superintendents, Senator Montford, all know what a midterm report means.

Senator Detert, Senator Galvano, you know, when you have finished the front nine, it is still a long way to the clubhouse. Senator Gardiner, when you are 5K into that 10K run, it is just as far to go forward and finish as to turn around and go back.

Senator Hays was a football player, a linebacker. He knows what half time is. It is the start of the second game. The only question is: Do you start that second game ahead or behind?

Well, here is the halftime score with the run half done; teeing off on the back nine; the midterm grades in the book. The Florida Senate is ahead—way ahead.

Already passed, already on the books of this Legislature:

- What has been called the most sweeping ethics reforms in 38 years. No less than Governor Reubin Askew, the father of open government, described what you did as “amazing, a miracle.”
- You have begun the transformation that will lash Florida education to the realities and opportunities of the economy.

In 2008, only 803 students, 803 students in the entire state of Florida, earned national industry certifications in our high schools. In 2013, you passed the Career and Professional Education Act. Because of that act, this year CAPE students in middle and high school are enrolled in 1,915 CAPE academies earning 62,000 national industry certifications in aerospace, biomedicine, digital design, diesel mechanics, and 236 more career-technical fields in demand today in Florida's recovering economy. Though many are from economically poor families, CAPE students are graduating at a higher rate with higher GPAs and getting better jobs with more pay than their peers. When you voted for the Career and Professional Education Act, you changed the lives of generations of Florida students forever and for the better.

We had a good session last year. Results without rancor. Partnership more than partisanship. Each of us, all of us, had victories for the people who sent us here. I look into the faces of 39 Senators and see success. But, Jeb Bush was right when he said, “Reform is never finished, and success is never final.” That is why they make the back nine, the last lap, the second semester, and we are on the shot clock.

Therefore, following the State of the State Address, I ask the Senate to come back to this floor, and let's get down to business today. There is a reason our priorities did not die in the House last year. We all worked our bills, that is for sure, but we also had someone working with us. We have a talented, trusted partner and friend 200 steps across the Capitol Rotunda—the Speaker of the House, Will Weatherford. The Speaker has reached out to the Senate once more in an invitation to work together again on a 2014 Work Plan on urgent priorities that cross the Capitol, cross the aisle, cross the state, and really matter.

The first of these priorities is to protect Florida's most vulnerable. Since the passage of the Jimmy Ryce Act, 594 sexual offenders have slipped out the side doors of the criminal justice and civil commitment systems. Gaps in the law; inconsistencies by state agencies; local law enforcement and prosecutors without the tools they need; whatever the causes, one chilling consequence: 594 predators caught but then released to stalk, violate, and murder our children again.

Today, in this Senate, that will end. We cannot legislate the evil out of evildoers, but today four Senate committee chairs, bipartisan, working together, will bring us the legislation that prosecutors, police, and parents have asked for. We will protect our children and we will scorch the earth against sexually violent predators. We cannot waste one more day. We cannot lose one more child.

We will take up long overdue reforms to safeguard the elderly in adult living facilities. We will reform a child welfare system so porous that 430 children known to the Department of Children and Families have disappeared or died in the last five years. We will toughen the laws against human trafficking and care for its victims. Our budget will increase funding for child advocacy centers, ensure that every child caught in the court system has a guardian ad litem, and end the long critical needs waiting list of disabled children standing in line or sitting in their wheelchairs waiting for services from the Agency for Persons With Disabilities.

While we in the Senate are acting to make Florida the most unwelcome place in America for those who would harm our children, the House of Representatives this afternoon will take up the second of our Work Plan 2014 priorities; legislation to make Florida the most welcome place in America for our military, their missions, and their families.

What we are calling the Florida GI bill will:

- Expand educational benefits for veterans,
- Provide scholarships for our Florida National Guard members,
- Help our returning and retiring military start businesses and get jobs,
- Cut red tape so physicians leaving the military can practice in Florida immediately,
- Make needed repairs and renovations to remaining National Guard armories within two years, and
- Go national with a campaign to recruit military families to make Florida their permanent home.

Our mission is to make Florida the “Welcome Home” state for our military and their families, the most military-friendly state in America.

The third shared House and Senate priority is to double down on transforming our education system into a pathway out of poverty and into jobs. I spoke of the extraordinary success of our Career and Professional Education academies. Now it's time to lift the course limit on career-technical education so more students from middle school through college can take more courses and earn more industry certifications.

The pathway out of poverty is education—education that qualifies you for a job. Our education committees will ask you to support the Board of Governors in establishing metrics of performance for our state universities and tying funding to that performance so more students will actually earn degrees, and those degrees will qualify graduates for real jobs.

It is time to end another waiting list. Ten thousand low-income families are waiting in line for their children to attend schools that meet their needs, schools of their choice. It is time to expand school choice by expanding the Tax Credit Scholarship Program. School choice, financial accountability, and student achievement are part of the same transformational policy. The performance of Tax Credit Scholarship students should be assessed like the performance of any other child.

Why? Because testing is not just about the scorecard. It is about measuring academic progress so schools and teachers can customize instruction to meet individual student's needs, parents will know how their children are really doing, and taxpayers can be sure how their money is used.

Another scholarship program deserves our support, as well. Every year the cost of a Florida Prepaid Scholarship for a university goes up by 15 percent. If you bought a Florida Prepaid 4-year University Plan for a newborn today, the lump sum cost would be $53,729. That price slams the door on the dreams of many parents and grandparents to help the children they love go to college. Our work plan calls for ending the automatic price increases, saving the average family $10,000 on a newborn prepaid plan, and putting college within reach for more families with modest means.

Government accountability and efficiency—a smarter, cleaner government—is a moral imperative. President Lee and Speaker Bense passed lobbyist compensation audits in 2005. They were never enforced. Now they are. Today, Senator Thrasher will bring to the Senate floor a joint rule to ensure that legislators live among the people they represent.

This session, we will consider legislation to apply higher ethical standards and greater disclosure to local government, special districts, statutorily created corporations like Citizens Insurance and Enterprise Florida, and direct support organizations like Visit Florida. They take public funds. They have a public responsibility. They must live up to the public trust. And to those who have treated our ethics laws with contempt, refused to comply, and then refused to pay their fines, I ask you to put teeth in the law so they can be removed from office.

Pension reform is one of the few issues that divides this Senate. There is nothing to be gained by taking the Senate down the same road as last year with the same results. So I have asked the proponents of pension reform to compromise, to consider options different from last year's bill. I ask opponents to unfold their arms, roll up their sleeves, and help craft a compromise.

Here is the stubborn fact: annually the Florida Legislature appropriates $500 million to subsidize the unfunded actuarial liability of our pension system. That is $500 million that can't be spent on the environment, education, health care, or left in taxpayers' own pockets. It is $500 million off the top. For the sake of our future employees, for the sake of our taxpayers, we should not be like Washington. We should look for a solution.

Work Plan 2014 includes a fifth priority that Governor Scott has put into words everyone can understand: "It's your money." Every dollar in Tallahassee is involuntarily extracted from the pockets and cash registers of the people of Florida. I ask you to stand with Governor Scott, Speaker Weatherford, President-designate Gardiner, and Budget Chair Negron and cut taxes by $500 million this year. The centerpiece of our tax cut proposal will be a reduction of vehicle fees to help working families who drive their cars and trucks to school and to their jobs.

In Washington, the debate is about which taxes to raise. In Florida, the debate is about which taxes to cut.

This, then, is our 2014 Work Plan:

- Broad-based tax cuts helping working families,
- A smarter, cleaner government, more efficient and more accountable,
- Education transformed, so more students can graduate, so graduates can get better jobs, so Florida can be first in the nation in preparing our young people for success in the real economy,

- The Florida GI bill to make our state the number one "Welcome Home" state for America's military missions and military families, and
- Protection for the most vulnerable: our children, our elderly, our abused, and our disabled.

Your DNA is all over this 2014 Work Plan. So many of you have contributed and will contribute your designs, your improvements in committee, your bold ideas. This is truly OUR work plan—bipartisan and bicameral. I ask for your help to perfect and pass our work plan for Florida, and I promise you my help, for there are a hundred compelling ideas of yours already moving toward this floor.

Some say the second year of a presiding officer's term is not supposed to be ambitious. The recommendations are "soft landing," "quiet harbor," "risk averse." I commend to you instead the advice of Theodore Roosevelt who said that each of us is given his "crowded hour" to do great things even though risking failure, but to never be "with those poor spirits who live in the gray twilight of fear and indecision that knows neither victory nor defeat."

Starting now we have 60 days. Let's fill them with crowded hours.

On motion by Senator Thrasher that a committee be appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate was convened and ready to proceed to the business of the session, the President appointed Senator Grimsley, Chair; and Senators Simmons, Gibson, Garcia, Montford, and Hays. ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR RICK SCOTT

Good morning, Chief Justice Polston and distinguished members of the Supreme Court. Welcome Attorney General Pam Bondi, Chief Financial Officer Jeff Atwater, Agriculture Commissioner Adam Putnam, President Gaetz, and Speaker Weatherford, and a special welcome to Florida's new Lieutenant Governor Carlos Lopez-Cantera. To the members of the Florida Senate and to the Florida House, thank you for having me. To the former Senate Presidents and House Speakers here, it is an honor to address you today.

A lot has happened since I spoke to you last year. I could talk about how our unemployment rate is now down to 6.3 percent, how our crime rate is at a 42-year low, how we have invested record funding in protecting our environment, all while our tourism industry is breaking records, or how we have added more than 460,000 new private-sector jobs since the end of 2010; but I want to start off with some developments a little closer to home.

I am proud to announce that Ann and I are now the proud grandparents of three grandsons. Our daughter, Allison, gave us another grandson, Quinton, in July, and Jordan had her first child, Sebastian, in September. Please help me welcome the love of my life, First Lady Ann Scott; our daughter, Jordan; son-in-law, Jeremy; and our newest grandson, Sebastian.

There are only a few things more exciting than a new baby in the family. It is fun to dream about what he or she will become one day. Auguste, our oldest grandson, is the only one old enough to have his own dreams right now as he is two. Depending on the day, he wants to be a cowboy or a forklift operator. My hope is that Florida will be the place where he can make his dreams come true whatever they are.

But, that's not where our state was headed a few years ago. Like Washington, Florida's economy was driven into the ground by spending what some embraced as "free money." Of course, there is no such thing. Florida's big spending racked up big debt. Florida was in a hole. Unemployment was above 11 percent. More than one million people were unemployed, and our debt ballooned to more than $28 billion. The year was 2010. Some say these statistics were all because of a global recession. They say it doesn't matter who was running our state, and anyone would have been just a victim of the times. I disagree.

As Americans, our freedom and our optimism make us anything but victims, even in the worst circumstances and the toughest times. Our leaders especially and every person in our state are not simply bystanders in the arena of life where the hard battles are fought and history is made. Our people are strong. Our people are dreamers. They came to Florida because they want the liberty to build a lasting legacy for generations to come. That is worth fighting for, and we did.

We could have kept embracing spending and debt, but we didn't. We could have kept growing government and expecting our challenges to solve themselves, but we didn't. Together, we made government more efficient. Together, we have cut almost 3,000 regulations on small businesses. Together, we have now paid down $3.6 billion in state debt and paid back another $3.5 billion borrowed from the federal government for unemployment assistance.

Working together, Florida rejected the tax-borrow-and-spend strategy that was hurting our future. It wasn't easy getting Florida's fiscal house in order and it wasn't any fun either. In my three years as Governor, I have yet to have anyone come into my office and lobby me to spend less taxpayer money. The simple truth is that our state, just like our small businesses and our families, has to live within its means. We can't spend more than we take in; our kids and grandkids will pay for it.

Let's be honest about it, we inherited a terrible mess: growing unemployment, dangerous levels of debt, growing deficits, and a crippled housing market. We had two options: we could take the usual way out by raising taxes and running up more debt or we could do the politically hard thing and trim our budget. When the hard thing is the right thing, we need the courage to do the hard thing and we did. The result is that Florida is now tied for having the largest drop in unemployment out of all 50 states. Florida is one of only a few states that has gone from above the national average in unemployment to below the national average in unemployment. Unlike the previous administration, which lost almost 1 million jobs, we have added almost a half a million jobs. Together, we have cut taxes 24 times already, and my hope is that we are about to cut them again by another $500 million this year.

As I tell the hardworking people of Florida while I travel our state: "We want you to keep more of the money you earn because it's your money!" Working together, we have made Florida not just a destination for tourists but a destination for opportunity. And when I say that we have done it, I don't mean just those of us here in this chamber today. No, the real credit goes to the hardworking and industrious people of the great State of Florida. I know that it has become fashionable in Washington to think that our people are victims who need handouts, but the people of Florida are diligent and hardworking people. They aren't looking for more promises from government or programs from government. They want their shot at success. They want the freedom to overcome adversity. They have their own dreams and many of those dreams start with getting a great education. That's why we are again proposing to invest record amounts in our K-12 education system. With your support, this budget will invest a total of $18.8 billion in education—the highest in Florida history. This record investment builds on our previous budgets, which invested an additional $1 billion in K-12 education for two years in a row.

Of course, ensuring students get a quality education means they must have excellent teachers. That's why, last year, with your support, we gave every full-time public classroom teacher the opportunity to get a pay raise. This investment is sure to pay off. Florida teachers are ranked among the most effective in the nation. Because of their hard work, our fourth and eighth graders have had the largest achievement gains in the nation. Our fourth graders are now second in the world for reading, and Florida high schools are 4 out of the top 10 in the country.

What motivates our teachers every day is more than a paycheck. I want to share with you the story of a teacher from Delray Beach. After being diagnosed with breast cancer in 2012, this Spady Elementary School teacher said her students saved her life by supporting her and making her stronger. Even when she returned to the classroom, while still receiving treatments, her students made sure she would sit when teaching, and they helped her with simple chores around the classroom. Most of all, they made her laugh, and they constantly showered her with love. This is the story of teacher Ruthie Santiago, who is still teaching and just celebrated her second anniversary of being cancer free. Please join me in welcoming Ruthie and her principal, Rona Tata, as we honor Ruthie's bravery in battling cancer and her incredible service as a teacher. It is teachers like Ruthie who make Florida schools some of the best in the country.

We commit to you that we will keep working until we have the best schools in the world. We will keep working until all of our children have the very best opportunities. Every parent wants his or her child to get a great education and for many, that doesn't end at high school. That's why we are recommending $80 million in our budget this year for those colleges and universities whose students graduated and are the best positioned to get a job.

We are changing how we fund higher education, but if we want to make higher education more accessible to low and middle-income families, we have to make it more affordable. Last year, I vetoed a tuition increase that would have taken a total of more than $42 million from Florida families. And, this year, with your help, we want to get rid of the 15 percent annual increase and inflationary increase on tuition. Undoing these 2007 and 2009 laws is another way we can keep higher education affordable and accessible. My commitment to every family dreaming to send their children to college is simple: we will hold the line on tuition.

Parents saving for their children to get a four-year degree from a public university today need to save over $53,000—fifty-three-thousand-dollars. We shouldn't celebrate how accessible higher education is until we can make it more affordable. That's why I am proud that all of Florida's 4-year state colleges now offer bachelor's degrees for only $10,000. These degrees aren't just affordable; they are also geared toward high-demand job fields so students are prepared to start a great career when they graduate.

When we set out to jump start our economy four years ago, we talked about creating 700,000 jobs in seven years. It was an ambitious goal. Today, we are moving the bar even higher: if we continue to pay down debt like we do in this budget by another $170 million, if we continue to cut taxes by rolling back the 2009 tax hike on annual motor vehicle fees so Floridians keep more of the money they earn, and if we continue to cut taxes on small businesses by cutting the tax on business leases and rolling back the business tax to now exempt 4 out of 5 Florida businesses from paying it, we can make Florida not just the land of 700,000 new jobs, we will make Florida the land of opportunity.

I believe Florida will become so rich in opportunity that we will beat New York in population and beat Texas in job creation. Four years ago people were down on Florida: high unemployment and shrinking home values. Florida was in retreat. For the first time in decades, more people left the state of Florida than moved in from other states. Now, we are on the rise: jobs are coming back, career opportunities are growing, home values are improving, and there is simply no reason that Florida cannot be the number one state in the country in which to find a good job, raise a family, and achieve the American dream. Working together, we are making Florida number one.

I want to share with you the story of a young man living in Puerto Rico a few years ago. The economy there was hurting, and he couldn't find a good-paying job. He moved to Florida from Puerto Rico in 2007 with his parents and his sister but struggled to find work. That all changed one day when he drove by a building under construction. That building would become O'Reilly Auto Parts which just opened a distribution center in Lakeland and announced their plans to hire 400 new workers. That young man is Jorge Martir, and he has worked in quality assurance there since November. Jorge says his new job is a dream come true but he has other dreams. He wants to keep working his way into higher positions at O'Reilly. In fact, Jorge just got promoted to supervisor-in-training, and he starts that new job on the 9th of March. Jorge is here today. Jorge, please stand. Congratulations on your job and your promotion. We know your dream is to stay in Florida and make a great career at O'Reilly Auto Parts. We join you today in saying: "Let's keep working."

A second story I want to share is about a young woman who immigrated to Miami from Haiti when she was eight years old. She went to public school in Miami and went on to get a bachelor's degree in International Business from FSU; a little school down the road that just won the national football championship. Thanks, Coach Jimbo Fisher! This young lady worked a few jobs after she graduated, but in 2012, both she and her husband were out of work. She finally found a job in the bilingual sales department at AT&T which recently announced its expansion and plans to hire 350 new workers. That woman is Freda Voltaire. She is more than an employee at AT&T. She is also the mother of two young boys who are two and four years old. She said she wants her children to understand what it means to work hard and that in America, if you work hard, you can live your dreams. Freda, we agree. Freda, please stand as we join with you in saying to your children and all future generations in Florida: "Let's keep working."

The stories of opportunity in Florida stretch from east to west—from Key West to Panama City. In fact, a man in Panama City was struggling to find work when he was finishing his service in the U.S. Air Force. He told his wife and son that they should prepare to move wherever he could find work. He couldn't find good job options in Panama City until he heard about a growing company called iSirona, a NantHealth Company. He walked into the company and got to meet with its CEO that very same day. This company has now announced they will add another 300 jobs in the area. That man is U.S. Air Force veteran Sean Gilder. Sean and his wife, Mindi, are with us today. Sean and Mindi, please stand. Like you, we believe Florida is the best place to raise a family, and we want our children to chase their dreams right here at home. That's why we join with you in saying: "Let's keep working." Will you please all stand with me to thank Sean for his service to our country and all of our military men and women who have served or are currently serving all across the world today.

We can never say thank you enough to those who have served our country. I am so proud of all of our men and women who wear the uniform like my dad did. I am also proud to say that Florida has one of the largest veteran populations in the country. In closing, I want to share with you one last story. It is the story of a young man who lived in public housing as a kid, who never knew his natural father, who saw his adopted dad struggle to keep a job, and who remembers the heartbreak on his parents' faces when the family car was repossessed.

This young man joined the U.S. Navy after high school. Newly married, he left his young bride in their tiny apartment almost 2,000 miles from their home while he went off to sea. They didn't have much money so they used the camping equipment they got for wedding gifts as furniture. They used a cooler as a coffee table, and they slept in sleeping bags on the floor. This young couple was thrifty; they saved every penny they could. They didn't have much money but they were determined to make it. While working their way through college, they eventually saved enough money to open a small business. They worked at this business themselves, along with both of their moms. After a while, the business started making money, and they added another location. That young couple is still young at heart, even though they have now been married over 40 years. That small business was a donut shop, and that is the story of how Ann and I opened our first business.

I share that story with you today for two reasons. First, because I lost my mom over a year ago and I wanted another chance to talk about her and how I wish she was here today. We all need help in life, and my mom was my help. She taught me the value of hard work, and she did what she had to do to put food on the table for us five kids. She was not afraid to work two or three jobs. She refused to fail. She taught us the value of work and the dignity of work. She was happy that as a grade schooler I was selling tv guides door-to-door for just a few cents per copy.

The second reason for talking about my story is that I hope it explains just a little about my passion for creating jobs and opportunities for all Florida citizens. I know that reporters get tired of me constantly talking about creating jobs when they are asking other questions. I know that some people think I'm too singularly focused on growing Florida's economy. Well, all I can tell you is that we are all products of our own experiences in life. I've seen what happens to families who are struggling to find work. I've had Christmas without any presents, and I don't want any of our people to ever feel stuck in those situations. I didn't start caring about jobs when I ran a company. I started caring about jobs when I saw my father lose his. That's why I want Florida to be the land of opportunity. I want every entrepreneur to move here. I want every business that is already here to expand. I want every Floridian who has an idea to open a small business to be able to do it.

Every time a new job is created, some family, like mine growing up, is better off. Government cannot create jobs. Washington has proven that. But government can create an environment where Floridians can create jobs. We have proven that. With your help, I want us to keep cutting taxes and keep cutting regulations so every small business can succeed. Let's keep working to reject the tax-borrow-and-spend approach of D.C. Let's keep working until everyone in our state—regardless of what country, family, or zip code they were born into—has their shot at the American dream.

Let's keep working until we are not only the destination for the world's tourists, but for the world's businesses. Let's keep working until all of our children and grandchildren can have any career they want right here in Florida. The challenges facing our state are real. Our housing market is still recovering. Some are still looking for a job. Members of the Senate, members of the House: I am asking you to join with me this session to say to all the people of Florida, "We have more work left to do; so let's keep working." Thank you.

REPORT OF JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE

The Honorable Don Gaetz
President of the Senate

February 17, 2014

The Honorable Will Weatherford
Speaker of the House of Representatives

Dear Mr. President and Mr. Speaker:

The Joint Select Committee on Collective Bargaining convened February 17, 2014, for the purpose of giving all parties involved in collective bargaining disputes with the State of Florida the opportunity to present their positions to the Florida Legislature, consistent with the provisions of section 447.403, Florida Statutes, and the open meeting provisions of Article III, Section 4 of the State Constitution.

The parties presented their positions and indicated they are continuing to negotiate the issues at impasse. We recommend that negotiations continue and that the appropriate legislative committees be kept abreast of the issues agreed upon by the parties as well as the issues that remain at impasse or require legislative action to resolve. Because many of the issues are economic in nature and will be resolved through continued negotiations and the annual budget process, it is premature to make recommendations on those issues.

Copies of presentations and other pertinent materials have been retained by staff and, for purposes of future public inquiry, are available through the Senate Governmental Oversight and Accountability Committee and the House Government Operations Subcommittee.

Respectfully submitted,
Senator Alan Hays
Co-Chair

Representative Charles Van Zant
Co-Chair

OTHER EXECUTIVE COMMUNICATIONS

VETOED BILLS 2013 REGULAR SESSION

The Honorable Kenneth W. Detzner
Secretary of State

June 12, 2013

Dear Secretary Detzner:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, and Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and transmit my objections to Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 354, enacted during the 115th Session of the Legislature of Florida, during the Regular Session of 2013, and entitled:

An act relating to ad valorem tax exemptions...

This bill provides that the ad valorem property tax exemption for property owned by the federal government extends to any leasehold interest of and improvements affixed to land owned by the federal government, if the leasehold interest and improvements are acquired or constructed and used pursuant to the U.S. Military Housing Privatization Initiative of 1996. The exemption only applies to leasehold interests and improvements that are used to provide housing for persons on active duty in the military or their dependents.

While the bill, as originally filed, was well-intentioned, a floor amendment may have had the unintended consequence of imposing property taxes on portions of housing developments on federal military installations that are currently fully exempt from such taxation. This will hurt Florida's military installations, which are essential to the economic vitality of our local communities and our state. I strongly oppose any increase in taxes, especially those associated with the provision of housing for our military families.

For these reasons, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 354 and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Rick Scott, Governor

The Honorable Kenneth W. Detzner
Secretary of State

June 12, 2013

Dear Secretary Detzner:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of the State of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby veto and transmit my objections to Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1420, enacted during the 115th Session of the Legislature of Florida during the Regular Session of 2013 and entitled:

An act relating to mental health treatment...

This bill shortens the timeframe, from five to three years, for criminal charges to be dismissed against certain defendants determined by a court to be incompetent to proceed to trial. While the bill maintains the current five-year requirement for defendants charged with most violent crimes, it does not maintain this requirement for attempted violent crimes or other serious crimes. The additional time provides an opportunity for the defendant to regain competency under state supervision in order to stand trial. Dismissal of criminal charges for individuals deemed incompetent after only three years who have been charged with attempting to commit violent crimes, could pose a serious public safety risk.

For the reasons stated above, I withhold my approval of Committee Substitute for Senate Bill 1420, and do hereby veto the same.

Sincerely,
Rick Scott, Governor

The Honorable Kenneth W. Detzner
Secretary of State

May 20, 2013

Dear Secretary Detzner:

By the authority vested in me as Governor of Florida, under the provisions of Article III, Section 8, of the Constitution of Florida, I do hereby withhold my approval of portions of Senate Bill 1500, enacted during the 45th Session of the Legislature convened under the Constitution of 1968, and entitled:

An act making appropriations; providing monies for the annual period beginning July 1, 2013, and ending June 30, 2014, to pay salaries, and other expenses, capital outlay buildings, and other improvements, and for other specified purposes of the various agencies of State government; providing an effective date.

We first recommended the Florida Families First budget for Fiscal Year 2013-2014 to make strategic investments in support of continued economic growth and job creation. This final budget, as passed by the Florida Legislature and signed into law today, does in fact put Florida families first by investing in economic development initiatives and making a record investment in our K-12 schools, including the $480 million we requested to give Florida teachers a well-deserved pay raise.

We made strategic investments in this budget, while holding the line on spending that does not give Florida taxpayers a positive return on investment. In order to ensure all taxpayer funds are well spent, I have vetoed special legislative projects totaling $368 million. Therefore, the Florida Families First budget now totals $74.1 billion.

The Florida Families First budget includes $1.2 billion in taxpayer savings. This budget also reflects the smallest state government workforce per 1,000 residents in Florida in this century. The Florida Families First budget is one of our state's smallest budgets this century, when adjusted for population growth and inflation.

We are also holding the line on tuition by vetoing the Legislature's recommended 3 percent tuition increase on our college and university students. Higher education is one of the best ways we can prepare Floridians to get a great job. It is also one of the best ways we can provide every family the opportunity to pursue their dreams, regardless of where they start in life. I believe that I would not have had the opportunity to start a business, or even serve this great state, if I had not had the benefit of a higher education experience. Therefore, I believe it is incumbent upon state leaders to ensure the cost of higher education remains accessible to as many Floridians as possible. Florida should be proud that we have one of the most affordable high-quality college and university systems in the country—now also offering $10,000 baccalaureate degree programs. Just as we are proud to be one of only a few states without a state income tax, and one of only a few states that have cut taxes and paid down state debt, even in tough budget years, we should also be proud to keep tuition low in Florida.

The Florida Families First budget is about helping the majority of Florida families, most of which are making $50,000 or less a year, struggling to make ends meet, and working hard to achieve their version of the American dream. We know that investing in economic development and our K-12 education system is working to create more jobs and opportunity in our state. Our unemployment rate has now dropped to 7.2 percent — well below the national average, and we are already almost half way to our 2010 goal of creating 700,000 new jobs in seven years.

Some highlights of our strategic Florida Families First budget investments are:

Continued Investment in Job Growth

- Quick Response Training: The Florida Families First budget provides $12 million for skills training offered to companies that are creating and training new high-skill/high wage jobs in the state either by expanding their current workforce or relocating their company to the state.
- Economic Development Incentives: The Florida Families First budget provides $45.5 million for economic development tools and incentives to promote job creation in Florida. Additionally, uncommitted funds from current year appropriations will be deployed to increase funding for this area.

- Enterprise Florida: The Florida Families First budget provides $18.05 million for Enterprise Florida. This total includes $350,000 for export marketing and diversification and $1 million for the Florida Sports Foundation.

Enterprise Florida helps businesses start up, locate, or expand in Florida

- VISIT Florida: On the heels of back-to-back record years of tourism (the state's number one industry), VISIT Florida will be funded at $63.5 million — $9.5 million above the current funding level.

Visit Florida works with businesses and Florida communities to promote tourism in Florida. Tourism was responsible for welcoming 91.4 million visitors to Florida in 2012 who spent more than $70 billion, generating 23 percent of the state's sales tax revenue and employing more than one million Floridians.

Strengthening Florida's Education System

- K-12 Public School Funding: The Florida Families First budget provides $10.5 billion in state funding for K-12 public schools, including $480 million for teacher salary increases and $45.3 million for the Teacher Classroom Supply Program. It provides each teacher approximately $250 for classroom supplies, and $45.8 million for rural districts in order to cover higher costs the districts incur due to a sparse student population.
- K-12 Development Disability Services: The Florida Families First budget provides $13.1 million in K-12 state grants for an array of exceptional education programs and services to students with developmental disabilities. In addition, $45.7 million is provided for the Florida School for the Deaf and the Blind, which is the state-supported residential school for eligible sensory-impaired students in preschool through the twelfth grade.
- K-12 Rural School Districts: The Florida Families First budget provides $7.4 million in funding to assist rural school districts across the state. Included in the $7.4 million funding is $6 million for technology transformation grants to assist districts in establishing a wireless network or expanding an existing wireless network. Also, $1.4 million is provided to three regional educational consortiums to create greater equity between larger and smaller districts by providing small districts access to resources and expertise they could not provide individually.
- School Building Maintenance: The Florida Families First budget provides $90.6 million in PECO funding for critical deferred maintenance for charter schools. It also provides $20 million in PECO funding for other traditional public schools.
- Early Learning: The Florida Families First budget provides $404.9 million toward the Voluntary Pre-K (VPK) program, and $552.5 million for the School Readiness program, including an increase of $5 million to further expand school readiness services.
- Florida College System: The Florida Families First budget provides $20 million in new funds for state college operating costs, $3.9 million for operating and maintenance costs of new facilities opening in Fiscal Year 2013-2014, and $5 million in performance funding based on associated industry certifications.
- State University System: The Florida Families First budget provides an additional $300 million in recurring funding to our university system with performance measures and $50 million in performance funding based on performance metrics that will measure a university's success in helping students obtain high paying jobs affordably.
- College and University Building Maintenance: The Florida Families First budget provides $41.7 million in PECO funding for critical deferred maintenance for Florida College system projects and $44.4 million in PECO funding for critical deferred maintenance items for State University System projects.

- Student Financial Aid: The Florida Families First budget increases need-based financial aid by $3.3 million.

Protecting Public Safety

- Ensuring Safe Prisons: The Florida Families First budget provides $13.7 million to hire more than 245 correctional officers at high-risk prisons. The Florida Families First budget invests $1.3 million for critical prison facility maintenance and repairs and $500,000 for prisoner transport vans.
- Safe Communities through Security and Effective Rehabilitation to Reduce Recidivism: The Florida Families First budget invests:
 - $3.8 million for the added security of electronic monitoring of inmates on work detail in community work release centers;
 - 2.9 million for the opening of the newly built Gadsden Reentry Center, which will bring jobs into Gadsden County for targeted rehabilitative programs for inmates within three years of release; and
 - $2.6 million for the expansion of community based substance abuse treatment beds for drug offenders.
- Continuing Reforms in Juvenile Justice: With continued reductions to residential commitment programs for youth as a result of effective prevention and intervention programs, the Florida Families First budget provides more than $10 million to expand effective prevention and treatment programs for youth at risk to engage in criminal activity. This investment includes:
 - More than $2 million to expand slots in existing PACE Centers for Girls across the state and open a new school in Miami-Dade;
 - $1.5 million to expand the children-in-need/families-in-need counseling services to at-risk youth in rural counties; and
 - $5 million for Boys and Girls Clubs to expand their Street Smart, Gang Prevention, and Prevention through Reentry programs statewide; and $1.5 million for the Big Brothers Big Sisters programs targeting youth of incarcerated parents for mentoring and counseling.
- Protecting Vulnerable Children: The Florida Families First budget provides $3.8 million to increase volunteers to represent dependent children through court proceedings and $323,000 to provide attorneys ad litem for dependent, disabled children in nursing homes.
- Protecting Families from Abuse and Violence: The Florida Families First budget provides:
 - $3.5 million for the continued funding of the 25 child advocacy centers statewide that provide coordinated services for abused children;
 - $200,000 for the Florida Coalition on Domestic Violence; $100,000 for the Justice Coalition; $316,000 to continue the Domestic Violence Offender Monitoring program all designed to protect, assist, and prevent further senseless violence among our families; and
 - $2.9 million to enhance child abuse investigative teams led by local Sheriffs to investigate suspected child abuse, neglect, abandonment, and sexual abuse.
- Rape Crisis Centers: The Florida Families First budget invests $2.5 million for the state's 30 rape crisis centers.
- Human Trafficking: The Florida Families First budget provides $3 million for shelter and services to child human trafficking victims.

Investing in the Disability Community

- Agency for Persons with Disabilities Waitlist Funding: For the first time in eight years, the Florida Families First budget provides additional funding for the Developmental Disabilities Medicaid Waiver program to go toward serving individuals on the waiting list. The Florida Families First budget provides $36.3 million to remove an estimated 750 individuals from the waitlist and onto the waiver program.

- Nursing Home Diversion and Aged and Disabled Adult Waiver Waitlist Funding: The Florida Families First budget funds the waitlist by $25.2 million. This funding will help keep vulnerable individuals out of nursing homes and in their homes and communities. The funding will serve approximately 2,000 individuals on the waitlist.
- Fetal Alcohol Diagnosis and Intervention: The Florida Families First budget more than doubles existing funds for early intervention and treatment to mitigate potential long-term effects on children.
- Quest Kids: The Florida Families First budget invests $650,000 toward early intervention services for at least 82 children, and skill validation and behavioral support services for at least 221 adults. Services will teach critical skills and reduce problem behavior, improve IQ and adaptive and social skills in children, and develop home-life and employment skills in adults. With this funding, individuals with disabilities will master new skills, transition into and maintain placement in mainstream school, improve literacy skills, achieve personal goals, and maintain current living arrangements.
- Dan Marino Jobs Program for Children with Disabilities: The Florida Families First budget invests $1 million toward on-the-job training, internships, and mentor apprenticeships for individuals with developmental disabilities between the ages of 18 and 30 years old. With this funding, more young adults with disabilities will have firsthand opportunities to prove their value in the workplace. Maximizing firsthand experiences in the workplace was one of three primary recommendations of the premier 2012 report by the Governor's Commission on Jobs for Floridians with Disabilities.
- Rate Increase for Adult Day Training Providers: The Florida Families First budget invests $1.9 million in the form of a 3 percent across-the-board raise to all providers of adult day training services in the Medicaid Home and Community Based Services Waiver program. These services are among the most popular in the program. Providers offer individuals up to six hours per day of meaningful activities that support the individual with daily routines in the community, including training in the areas of self-help, adaptive, and social skills. These services are provided in congregate, facility-based settings, and may include off-site enclaves or mobile work crews.
- William J. (Billy Joe) Rish Recreational Park: The Florida Families First budget provides $1.4 million for maintenance and repairs at Billy Joe Rish Park, located on the St. Joseph Peninsula near Port St. Joe and Cape San Blas in Northwest Florida. Rish Park is open year round for people with disabilities and their family members, guardians, and caregivers. Special ramps provide access to the beautiful beach on the Gulf of Mexico. Boardwalks connect all of the cabins to the beach, event hall, and pool, and the Olympic-size swimming pool is wheelchair accessible.

Improving Florida Infrastructure

- Seaport Funding: The Florida Families First budget provides more than $278 million to continue our state's commitment to develop and enhance our 15 seaports.

In the last three years we have significantly increased funding to develop and enhance our 15 seaports. As a result, Florida seaports generate more than 680,000 direct and indirect jobs and contribute $96 billion in economic value through cargo and cruise activities. This accounts for 13 percent of Florida's Gross Domestic Product. With the expansion of the Panama Canal and the economies of Central and South America, our seaports will be a significant job creator over the next 10 years.

- DOT Work Program: The Florida Families First budget includes funding for the following proposed transportation projects:

- West Central Florida projects include:
 - $246 million to add lanes and reconstruct I-75 from the Georgia state line to the Tampa Bay region; and
 - $143 million to add lanes and rehabilitate pavement on I-75 in Pasco County, improving interstate capacity and allowing for greater movement of people and freight through the corridor; and
 - $61 million to add lanes and reconstruct the Veteran's Expressway from south of Gunn Highway to the Sugarwood Mainline Toll Plaza in Hillsborough County.
- East Central Florida projects include:
 - $72 million to add lanes and rehabilitate pavement on State Road 50 in Orange County, relieving congestion on a major east-west corridor; and
 - $42.1 million to widen the entrance to the West Turn Basin in Port Canaveral in Brevard County in order to create jobs and promote economic opportunity for cargo and the cruise industry.
- Southeast Florida projects include:
 - $291.9 million to add managed lanes on State Road 826 and on I-75 in Miami-Dade County. The project will expand the regional managed lanes network in South Florida and provide alternate travel routes through congested urban areas; and
 - $154 million to add lanes and reconstruct the Homestead Extension of the Florida Turnpike in Miami-Dade County.
- Southwest Florida projects include:
 - $71.6 million to rehabilitate a bridge and add lanes on I-75 from State Road 80 to State Road 78; and
 - $58.3 million to add lanes and reconstruct US 41 in Collier County in order to relieve congestion along a major corridor.
- Northeast Florida projects include:
 - $98.9 million to construct a new expressway on State Road 23 (First Coast Outer Beltway) in Duval and Clay Counties — providing managed lanes to promote the movement of people and freight; and
 - $85.3 million to add managed lanes on I-295 in Duval County — alleviating congestion in the general use lane and providing long-term mobility by managing demand.
- Northwest Florida projects include:
 - $50.1 million to add lanes and reconstruct I-10 in Escambia County —relieving congestion along the I-10 corridor.

Protecting Florida's Natural Treasures

- Florida Forever: The Florida Families First budget invests $81.8 million in the Florida Forever program, including $70 million for conservation lands, $11.1 million for the Rural and Family Lands Protection Program, and $642,000 for the Florida Recreation Development Assistance Program. The conservation lands funds will go toward natural spring protection, military buffering, water resource protection, and targeted land acquisitions. The $70 million for conservation lands includes $50 million in authority from the sale of surplus lands.
- Everglades Restoration: The Florida Families First budget investment of $70 million toward Everglades restoration will provide funding for the Comprehensive Everglades Restoration Plan (CERP), Northern Everglades, Estuaries Protection Program, and $32 million of recurring funds for the Governor's water quality plan. The Governor's water quality plan will ensure, once and for all, that the Everglades receives the quality of water that it needs to be protected for generations to come. The agreement ends years of litigation between the state and the federal government, and focuses Florida and its federal partners on a series of restoration projects with measurable results, and at almost half the cost of the federal alternative.

- Springs Protection: In addition to springs protection as part of the Florida Forever Program, the budget includes funds for water quality restoration, addressing nitrates in springs and water conservation measures. It invests $10 million for springs projects generally and earmarks $5.5 million for springs projects within the Suwannee River Water Management District.
- Water Projects: The Florida Families First budget provides $32.2 million for local water projects, including $2 million for the Florida Keys to assist in complying with wastewater standards for that community.
- Beach Projects: The Florida Families First budget invests $37.5 million toward financial assistance to local governments for beach and dune restoration, beach nourishment, inlet sand bypassing, regional sediment management, and innovative projects. This includes $10.7 million in available funds from beach projects funded in previous years.
- Petroleum Storage Tank Cleanup: The Florida Families First budget funds the cleanup of petroleum storage tank discharges at $125 million.
- Wastewater Treatment Facility Construction: The Florida Families First budget provides $142.7 million for low-interest revolving loans to local governments for wastewater treatment and stormwater management systems.
- State Park Facility Improvements: The Florida Families First budget invests $19 million toward repairs and renovations to Florida's award winning 171 state parks and trails. Florida's state park and trail properties have inspired residents and visitors with recreation opportunities and scenic beauty that helps to strengthen families, educate children, expand local economies and foster community pride.
- Citrus Greening Prevention: The Florida Families First budget provides $9.5 million for research on stopping the bacterial disease known as citrus greening. Citrus greening has cost the state over $3.6 billion in lost revenue and more than 6,600 jobs since 2006. This investment will help secure an industry with a total annual impact of $8.91 billion and a way of life that is an important part of Florida's history.
- St. Johns River: The Florida Families First budget invests $10.5 million (split into a $7 million water project and $3.5 million water project) to restore the St. Johns River Ecosystem.
- Apalachicola Bay: The Florida Families First budget provides $4 million for water quality restoration projects in the Apalachicola Bay estuary and more than $750,000 for oyster shelling and research to help that industry's recovery. This ecosystem and community has been unnecessarily devastated by the actions of the United States Army Corps of Engineers, preventing the needed flow of fresh water down the Apalachicola River. In addition to this funding, Florida will continue to fight to ensure that the federal government and neighboring states recognize Florida's right to an adequate supply of water in the Apalachicola River.
- Hybrid Wetland Projects: The Florida Families First budget includes $11 million for innovative nutrient reduction projects to help restore the Northern Everglades, Lake Okeechobee, and the St. Lucie and Caloosahatchee estuaries.

Supporting Florida's Seniors

- Senior Hot Meal Program: $950,000 for congregate and home delivered meal programs for seniors in Miami-Dade County.
- Adult Day Care Services in Miami-Dade County: $500,000 for adult day care services for activities in non-institutional protective environments for seniors who are unable to remain in their home without constant supervision.
- Alzheimer's Respite Services: $1.2 million for Alzheimer's respite services to provide more funding for caregiver services.

- Aging Resource Centers: $1.3 million for the Aging and Disability Resource Centers that will be used to meet the increased workload associated with the transition to the State-wide Medicaid Managed Care Long-Term Care (SMMC LTC) program. This will help ensure that the clients currently served in the Medicaid waiver programs are smoothly transitioned to the new program and that the intake portion of the new program will operate efficiently on an ongoing basis.
- Medicaid Waiver Program: $25.2 million for both the Aged and Disabled Adult Medicaid Waiver Program and the Nursing Home Diversion Program that will allow for the frailest seniors on the wait list to be served. Many of the individuals on the wait list are at risk of being served in a more costly Medical nursing home bed.
- Community Care for the Elderly (CCE): $3.7 million for the Community Care for the Elderly program that will help to serve over 1,000 individuals who are at the highest risk of entering a nursing home.
- Office of Public Guardian: $50,000 to expand public guardianship services in Bay County that will allow those indigent elders currently without access to public guardianship assistance to receive services.
- Memory Disorder Clinics: There are 2 of 15 statutorily designated memory disorder clinics that do not receive state funding. $445,000 will be used to fund these remaining two memory disorder clinics, which are both in areas where a need has been determined by the Alzheimer's Disease Advisory Committee.

For these reasons, and for those that follow, I do hereby withhold my approval of the following line items in the 2013-2014 General Appropriations Act:

SECTION 2 - EDUCATION (ALL OTHER FUNDS)

The Florida Families First budget for Education provides a roadmap to ensure every student has access to a world-class education.

The fundamental goal of Florida's early learning programs is to provide high quality early childhood education. This budget provides $5 million in additional funding to expand direct services for low-income working families that are eligible for school readiness programs. These funds will provide much needed child care for low-income families, allowing them to work and further support their families. In addition, the budget continues the state's investment in a free, voluntary pre-kindergarten education for all four-year-olds in the state.

The fundamental goal of our K-12 system is to prepare our students for future success in college and careers. This budget includes $20.3 billion in total funding for K-12 education, an increase of $1.08 billion over last year's budget. This funding includes $45.2 million for the Teacher Supply Classroom Supply Program and $45.8 million specifically for rural districts. In addition, it includes $480 million to provide a much deserved teacher pay raise for our public school teachers. Florida's high student success is the result of our outstanding classroom teachers.

- Florida is first in the nation for percentage of students in the graduating class taking the Advanced Placement (AP).
- Florida's teachers earned the TOP score in the US two years in a row for teacher quality.
- Florida leads all other mega-states in achievement gains in Fourth and Eighth grade reading and math.
- Florida's fourth-grade-students ranked among the best in the world in an international reading survey.

Because of these great achievements in the classroom, it is so important that we make sure our classroom teachers get a pay raise for their hard work in preparing our students for success.

Our goal for educational success continues in Florida's higher education system. Our students must be prepared for careers and have the skills to compete in a global economy. Performance based funding and the adoption of meaningful metrics will make certain our higher education institutions are meeting the needs of students, parents, and employers, while ensuring a positive return on investment for all Florida families. In addition, we must hold the line on tuition and fee increases to ensure that our higher education system is affordable and accessible.

Further, while this budget supports tuition assistance at private colleges and universities, it is important we ensure these funds directly benefit students and are a sound investment for the state. Higher education is critical to drive economic success for our state, and I encourage all entities, including public and private, to hold the line on increased tuition and fees.

Families expect investments in education to provide increased success and opportunities for their children. Our education investments should provide access and services on a statewide basis and demonstrate high-performance and success.

Like many Florida students today, my wife Ann and I paid for our higher education experience by working while attending school. Because we know how important it is to ensure college is affordable, our administration has fought to keep tuition low in Florida. Today, student debt is at an all-time high — saddling students with heavy financial burdens that could limit their future opportunities. Florida students should be able to graduate and get a great job without the burden of massive debt.

Prior to the start of the legislative session, on December 5, 2012, university presidents declared that if the state made a significant funding commitment in the budget, tuition increases would not be needed. The Florida Families First budget includes their request for $300 million and additional funding is available through performance measures.

Florida families want the best value possible from their higher education system. To achieve this, we must make attaining a degree more affordable and better connected to students' ability to get a great job when they graduate. We were pleased to share this important goal with higher education leaders who have continued to affirm their commitment to keep tuition low in Florida. We have included comments from several higher education officials below, as part of this veto to hold the line on tuition:

University of Florida President Bernie Machen: "Thanks to Governor Scott's commitment to higher education, the Governor and Legislature have provided a badly needed funding increase to the State University System for the first time in several years. As a result of the additional funds contained in the budget, the University of Florida will not be seeking a tuition increase for next year."

St. Petersburg College President Bill Law: "We know, and we have already put together a budget, that holds the line on tuition, maintains open door access and full support services for students, while also providing modest salary increases for our staff. With Governor Scott's directional leadership we have reduced administrative costs and are more effectively managing operations."

Broward College President David Armstrong: "Our state colleges are very fortunate to have one of the best years of funding in many years, thanks to the support of Governor Scott and the Florida Legislature. As a result, Broward College will not raise tuition this year for the second year in a row. Our Governor-appointed Board of Trustees and I continue to work to help our students and families afford to attend college and upgrade their skills for jobs. Because of the support from the Governor and Legislature, we are confident we can hold down the student cost to attend college and continue to provide excellent quality and expansion of services to support student success."

Palm Beach State College President Dennis Gallon: "Palm Beach State College is committed to providing quality education and training opportunities for the residents of Palm Beach County. Because of the college's current fiscal stability, we are in a position to forego a tuition increase for the 2013-2014 academic year to ensure access for our students."

By withholding my approval from these portions of proviso language relating to (Specific Appropriations 117, 120, and 142), it is my intent to maintain tuition and fees at current levels to ensure higher education and workforce development are affordable and accessible to all Florida families and students.

Specific Appropriation 129
Page 39 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because the Florida Department of Education, the Florida College System, and the State University System have already begun efforts to expand the use of online learning. Florida has a long history of accepting competency-based credits, including credits for prior learning and military credits. As such, it is recommended these entities continue with this research and provide a report to the Governor and the Legislature by February 1, 2014. Such report shall identify areas in which further legislative changes are necessary to provide competency-based credits and utilize massive open online courses.

From the funds in Specific Appropriation 129, $500,000 is provided for the department to contract with an outside entity to conduct a study on the accessibility and the awarding of credit for K-12 and postsecondary online courses."

Specific Appropriation 142
Pages 43 and 44 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because it mandates a tuition increase. The Florida Families First budget holds the line on tuition increases to make higher education more affordable for Florida families.

"Beginning with the Fall 2013 semester, undergraduate tuition is established at $106.42 per credit hour for the 2013-2014 fiscal year."

The following is vetoed because development of specific programs should be generated by the State university System. In addition, funding to support the regional military base was not included in the recommendations of the Florida Defense Support Task Force. The Task Force is comprised of 13 members from across Florida and is charged with developing and executing specific strategies to protect Florida military facilities from future base closures and realignments.

"From the general revenue funds in Specific Appropriation 142, $15,000,000 shall be awarded to three main or extension sites by September 1, 2013, pursuant to section 1011.905(1)(b), Florida Statutes as amended in chapter 2013-27, Laws of Florida. Of the three sites, two shall meet the requirements prescribed in section 1011.905(1)(b), Florida Statutes. One of the three sites shall meet the requirements prescribed in section 1011.905(1)(b), Florida Statutes, and the following:

(1) Supports the regional military base(s) Defense Base Closure and Realignment (BRAC) Commission's profile by serving as a distribution hub for LambdaRail connectivity to the regional military bases to support research and operational activity at the military.

(2) Offers continuing education programs including industry certifications that are associated with cloud/virtualization and big data.

(3) Have begun the process of discussions to establish a Master's degree in cloud/virtualization supported by documentation from the 2012-2013 fiscal year.

(4) Been actively involved in the 2012-2013 fiscal year with the National Science Foundation Grant to Florida State College at Jacksonville on the cloud/virtualization initiative.

(5) Intends to establish LambdaRail connectivity to the university site and regional military bases with formal plans to provide links to all regional educational entities.

(6) Have established working relations with major cloud/virtualization companies in the 2012-2013 fiscal year.

(7) Establishes a target of 90 percent job placement within 12 months after graduation."

The following is vetoed because it is for a specific provider of services and could be purchased by school districts if desired. Funding for school districts has increased by more than $1 billion for two years in a row. School districts currently have the local flexibility to purchase curriculum and other services based upon their own priorities.

"From the general revenue funds in Specific Appropriation 142, $2,500,000 is provided to the Florida State University Center for Reading Research to coordinate with station to conduct a supplemental reading pilot project for at least five independent school districts and open-enrollment charters in the State of Florida not currently implementing such a program. This program shall provide academic support to students and teachers to help ensure grade level achievement in reading by providing an online, interactive reading assessment and research-based intervention program for grades PreK-5. This online program must automatically place students into an individualized on-line curriculum and instruction, provide teacher and administrators with immediate reporting, provide recommendations for interventions and teacher lessons, and provide small group instruction lessons. The program must provide computer-adaptive assessments at least eight times per year, and teacher, principles and districts must have immediate on-line reporting to identify those students who are not reading on grade-level and those that are at risk of failing the state reading assessment pursuant to sections 1008.22(3) and 1008.22(5), Florida Statutes. The program must make available to parents reporting and resources regarding student achievement via a home portal. Implementation of the program must begin no later than August 15, 2013. A comprehensive report detailing the results of the program shall be submitted to the Department of Education by July 1, 2014 for review and recommendation for statewide implementation."

The following is vetoed because this report is currently produced by the Department of Economic Opportunity at a much lower cost and will continue to be produced to meet the state's need. In addition, the report can be disseminated electronically and provided online to eliminate the need for statewide printing.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 142, $1,000,000 from the General Revenue Fund is provided to the University of West Florida to continue to expand the components of the Economic Security Report under the direction of the Haas Center. From the $1,000,000, $380,000 is provided for the collegemeasures.org contract; $142,500 for the Haas Center for administration and development of the project; and $427,500 for the dissemination of the Economic Security Report in printed and other formats to expand coverage to interested parties including, but not limited to, Department of Juvenile Justice facilities, private schools, and home education students. The remaining $50,000 shall be allocated to serve and support exceptional student participation in the project."

SECTION 3 - HUMAN SERVICES

The Florida Families First budget for Health and Human Services (HHS) is committed to improving the cost, quality, and access of health care for Florida families.

The HHS missions range from protecting and promoting the public health of our state's residents to ensuring that our most vulnerable individuals receive the protections and services they need. HHS funded programs provide medical care for low income children and families, nursing home care, home and community based services for the elderly and individuals with disabilities, protective services for adults and children, mental health services, biomedical research, disease prevention, substance abuse services, prescription drug coverage, and long term care for our veterans.

This year's budget provides $80 million for graduate medical education by creating the Statewide Medicaid Residency Program. This program will improve access to and quality of care for Florida families, expand graduate medical education on an equitable basis, and increase the supply of highly trained physicians statewide. Florida's supply of skilled physicians is and will continue to be greatly determined by the capacity of graduate medical education, and this commitment will ensure that the State of Florida expands its ability to attract and train doctors.

This budget remains committed to increasing transparency and accountability within the health care system. Implementation of the Diagnosis Related Groups (DRGs) prospective payment system within this year's budget will bring greater transparency, cost controls, and equity to Medicaid hospital inpatient pricing by paying similar rates for treating specific diagnosis. This new patient-centered reimbursement system will reward high-value, quality-driven health care services in an efficient manner to the benefit of Medicaid recipients and Florida taxpayers.

The plan to transition to the DRG system was passed in March at the end of the 2012 legislative session. By the time DRGs are implemented on July 1, 2013, the state will have spent more than a year transitioning to the new system, a process entailing numerous public meetings and forums hosted by both the executive and legislative branches of our state government. Transitioning in such a deliberative manner has resulted in a proposed DRG reimbursement methodology second to none in its reach, sophistication, and balance.

Because the new payment system will encompass virtually all hospitals and inpatient services, and because it will mark Florida's first large-scale experience with prospective payment in Medicaid, I do hereby approve of the $65 million in transitional payments to further assist with the implementation of this important reform. In addition, we have received commitments from the recipient hospitals that they will not request or accept these funds for the 2014-2015 state fiscal year to ensure that the transitional payments are truly transitional.

Ensuring our most vulnerable individuals maintain access to the protections and services they need are of critical importance in this budget. However, in the HHS budget, a commitment was made to ensure Florida tax dollars are spent in the most efficient manner possible, That is why a high value has been placed on programs that demonstrate a need, provide a statewide benefit, maintain high performance metrics, and do not duplicate existing statewide programs and/or services.

Specific Appropriation 206
Page 53 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed since it is in addition to the current reimbursed rates for these services.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 206, $88,136 from the General Revenue Fund, $125,116 from the Medical Care Trust Fund, and $308 from the Refugee Assistance Trust Fund are provided for a rate increase for Home Health Services provided by Licensed Practical Nurses and Registered Nurses."

Specific Appropriation 208
Page 54 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because it is in addition to the current reimbursed rates that the hospital receives for Medicaid inpatient services. There is no information on what this special payment was for, and hospitals are paid for the services they provide to Medicaid recipients.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 208, $1,500,000 in nonrecurring funds from the General Revenue Fund and $2,129,325 in nonrecurring funds from the Medical Care Trust Fund are provided as a special Medicaid payment for Bethesda Hospital, Inc., located in Palm Beach County."

Specific Appropriation 223
Page 60 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because it is related to the corresponding increase to capitated rates for prepaid plans in relation to the lump sum transition payment included for hospital inpatient reimbursements due to the implementation of the new DRG methodology. The lump sum payments are distributed outside of hospital base rates. Therefore, a pass through is not needed for the Health Maintenance Organizations.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 223, $9,563,931 from the General Revenue Fund, of which $4,781,966 is nonrecurring, $13,577,712 from the Medical Care Trust Fund, of which $6,788,856 is nonrecurring, and $127,008 from the Refugee Assistance Trust Fund, of which $63,504 is nonrecurring, are provided to Health Maintenance Organization and Provider Service Network capitation payments as a result of increased hospital inpatient reimbursements related to the implementation of the Diagnosis Related Grouping reimbursement methodology."

Specific Appropriation 226
Page 61 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed since it is in addition to the current reimbursed rates for these services.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 226, $3,878,652 from the General Revenue Fund and $5,506,332 from the Medical Care Trust Fund are provided for a rate increase for Private Duty Nursing services provided by Licensed Practical Nurses."

SECTION 4 - CRIMINAL JUSTICE AND CORRECTIONS

The Florida Families First budget for Criminal Justice and Corrections maintains Florida's sentencing laws that require individuals to serve at least 85 percent of their prison sentence before being released back into our communities. Florida's crime statistics reflect a continued decrease in crime in our state. A 42-year low crime rate can be attributed to tougher sentencing laws that hold individuals accountable through targeted, effective rehabilitation efforts in Florida's jails, prisons, and communities that treat addictions and underlying factors of criminal behavior. Effective tools and technologies are helping our state and local police protect Florida families and visitors.

This public safety budget ensures Florida's state and local criminal justice agencies have the resources they need to provide for the safety and protection of Florida families and visitors through effective investigations, prosecution, security, and targeted rehabilitation and prevention efforts.

Specific Appropriation 608
Page 114 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because the proviso requires implementation of a statewide system without providing the resources necessary to implement them, which would require the agency to divert funds from officer salaries or prison security.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 608, $1,000,000 of general revenue funds shall be placed in reserve. After the Department of Corrections' successful statewide implementation of the electronic time and attendance system identified in chapters 2010-152 and 2011-69, Laws of Florida, the department may submit a budget amendment in accordance with all applicable provisions of chapter 216, Florida Statutes, requesting release of the funds."

Specific Appropriation 644S

Specific Appropriation 692A
Page 126 - A portion of proviso language

"From funds in Specific Appropriation 692A, $150,000 is provided from non-recurring general revenue funds for the Pinellas Ex-offender Re-entry Coalition to educate potential corporations and employers on the benefits of hiring released inmates and match ex-offenders with employment and assist both employer and employees to sustain long term stability."

The following is vetoed because felony probation supervision is the statutory responsibility of the Department of Corrections. Consideration of alternative methods and structures should take place at a statewide level, as there are more than 115,000 felony offenders under supervision statewide. This proviso limits the review to only one county.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 692A, $120,000 in nonrecurring general revenue funds shall be provided to the Pasco County Sheriff's Office. The Pasco County Sheriff's Office shall use these funds to evaluate the potential of transitioning the responsibility for providing felony probation services for the supervised population in Pasco County from the Department of Corrections to the Pasco County Sheriff's Office."

Specific Appropriation 736
Page 130 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed as this appropriation appears to circumvent the competitive procurement process. Tampa Crossroads was not selected during a recent competitive procurement for services. It is the policy of this administration to encourage competition for the provision of state services.

"From funds in Specific Appropriation 736, $185,000 in recurring general revenue funds is provided to contract for eleven nonsecure residential beds at Tampa Crossroads in Hillsborough County."

Specific Appropriation 744
Page 132 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because this case management system would support only six of the 20 Public Defender Offices. From the funds in Specific Appropriation 744, $300,000 in nonrecurring general revenue funds is provided to the Florida Public Defenders Coordination Office to establish and host a shared case management system for the Public Defenders. A report on the progress of the system shall be provided by January 31, 2014 to the chairs of the Senate Appropriations and House Appropriations Committees. Specific Appropriation 1216
Pages 186 and 187 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because state funding for the design and engineering of a new Flagler County jail was vetoed in Fiscal Year 2012-2013. Funding for county jails is not a state responsibility.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 1216, $150,000 in nonrecurring general revenue funds is provided for the Flagler County Re-Entry Training Program."

The following is vetoed because funding for planning and construction of county buildings is the responsibility of local government.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 1216, $500,000 in nonrecurring general revenue funds is provided for start-up monies for the Nassau County Sheriff's Administrative Building. The Attorney General will receive an additional $10 million, through Senate Bill 1852, to distribute directly to these civil legal aid offices in Fiscal Year 2013-2014.

SECTION 5 - NATURAL RESOURCES/ENVIRONMENT/
GROWTH MANAGEMENT/TRANSPORTATION

The Florida Families First budget provides a commitment to protect our environment; maintain healthy fish, wildlife, and their habitats; and supports a vital and growing agricultural industry. This commitment is reflected by the highest level of funding in the last five years for Everglades restoration and the Florida Forever program — a total of $151.8 million dollars. These funds are directed in a targeted manner to implement the Governor's water quality plan, ensuring the Everglades receives the clean supply of water it needs; construct key Comprehensive Everglades Restoration Plan projects; and to protect properties that bring a return on investment to Florida — through military base buffering, springs protection, critical natural resources, and our agricultural industry.

The Florida Families First budget also includes $2 million for the continued investment in wastewater projects for the Florida Keys. As part of this investment in protecting the waters of this important community, the Department of Environmental Protection is directed, in coordination with the Department of Economic Opportunity, to perform a review of the sources of funding currently being utilized for this issue. These agencies are also directed to evaluate the uses and impact of prior state funding, and provide the Office of Policy and Budget within the Executive Office of the Governor with a report outlining the findings of this review, as well as provide recommendations for actions needed to address the continued funding of wastewater projects in the Florida Keys. In addition, the Florida Families First budget includes more than $18.5 million for the restoration and protection of our fresh water springs and $10.5 million for the restoration of the St. Johns River — two ecosystems that, like the Everglades, define Florida to the world.

The Florida Families First budget includes more than $8.5 billion to fully fund the Department of Transportation's Work Program and to ensure that Florida's infrastructure remains as one of the best in the nation. Funds are used for the maintenance, enhancement, and expansion of the state's transportation systems and includes funding for seaports, airports, transit systems, and railways. The quality of Florida's transportation systems are vital to our efforts to enhance Florida's economic competitiveness, to retain and create transportation-related jobs, provide safe movement of products and goods, along with improving the quality of life for Florida families. We recognize the importance of Florida's role as a global leader in international trade and markets. This Florida Families First budget provides more than $278 million to continue our state's commitment to develop and enhance our 15 seaports and will place us in the best position to take advantage of new trade routes as a result of the Panama Canal expansion.

The Florida Families First budget ensures taxpayer dollars are spent on areas that produce a return on their investment, with measurable results. Whether it is investment in Florida's natural resources or transportation infrastructure, Floridians deserve to know that their hard earned dollars will be spent in a targeted manner and result in significant benefit to the state.

One of Florida's most important resources is water. The Department of Environmental Protection and the state's five water management districts provide funding to protect the quality and quantity of Florida's water supply. These agencies work to ensure that Floridians' tax dollars are spent in a manner that will provide a demonstrable improvement statewide. While some water projects may also contribute to a statewide objective, not all projects demonstrate an ability to contribute to a statewide investment. Based on criteria for water projects, the following projects did not provide a significant return for the investment of the Fiscal Year 2013-2014 Florida Families First budget:

The following is vetoed because the proviso language limits the use of state funds to administrative costs. However, incentivizing investments in Florida's state park system should be encouraged. As such, a similar amount should be invested in Florida's Partnership in Parks program for the Fiscal Year 2014-2015 budget.

"1676A SPECIAL CATEGORIES CONTRACTED SERVICES FROM STATE PARK TRUST FUND.....	750,000

Specific Appropriation 1720

Pages 242 and 243 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because the funding was not requested by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission. In addition, the proviso language circumvents the established Department of Management Services process for agencies to identify and lease office space.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 1720, $129,000 from the Administrative Trust Fund is provided for the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission to determine the feasibility of purchasing a building located at 3800 Esplanade Way, Tallahassee, FL 32311, for relocation of the commission. The commission shall work with the Department of Management Services on the feasibility study and for possible inclusion of the building within the Florida Facilities Pool. The commission shall submit the results of the feasibility study to the chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee and the chair of the House Appropriations Committee by January 1, 2014."

The following is vetoed because the funding was not requested by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission. Also, the use of state funds to create a fundraising program for a nonprofit Citizens Support Group (CSG) is not an efficient use of state dollars and there is no guaranteed return on investment.

The following is vetoed because the Transportation Work Program includes more than $57 million in statewide funding for transit greenways for the movement of pedestrian, bicycle, and specialized transit greenway vehicles. The worthwhile project contemplated by the Coast to Coast Connector can be built incrementally and consistent with a prioritization of gaps in the existing trail system.

The funds in Specific Appropriation 1835A are provided for costs of land acquisition, design, and construction of "The Coast to Coast Connector", a multi-use trail intended to provide a system of interconnected trails traversing from St. Petersburg to Titusville, Florida. The Department of Transportation shall fund the projects identified by the Florida Greenways and Trails Council needed to complete and close the gaps between existing trails, including the Starkey Gap, Goodneighbor Gap, Van Fleet Gap, Orange Gap, Seminole Gap, East Central Gap and the Space Coast Gap."

Specific Appropriation 1845

Page 257 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because there are transit option studies underway along this transportation corridor to determine the appropriate placement of a transportation hub facility and this project circumvents the Transportation Work Program evaluation process.

"From the funds in Specific Appropriation 1845, $500,000 shall be used to develop a transportation hub facility at State Road 7 and Oakland Park Boulevard in Broward County, facilitating the mobility and transfer among different modes of transportation. The hub should foster regional mobility along commercial corridors through public transportation and neighborhood linkages to accommodate increasing populations and congestion mitigation."

Specific Appropriation 1896
Page 261 - A portion of proviso language

The following is vetoed because projects funded with state dollars should be able to demonstrate a benefit to Florida's taxpayers. In addition, this issue is a matter of pending litigation.

"The nonrecurring general revenue funds in Specific Appropriation 1896 are provided to the Port St. Joe Port Authority to directly pay costs attributable to Capital City Bank loans #6806390850 and #6806390851. The Port St. Joe Port Authority shall report the status of these payments to the chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee and the chair of the House Appropriations Committee by August 1, 2013."

SECTION 6 - GENERAL GOVERNMENT

The Florida Families First budget for Economic Development continues to support the key elements of Florida's Economic Growth Agenda — creating jobs, promoting an economic climate under which Florida's businesses can grow and thrive, and providing the resources needed to quickly and efficiently respond to job creation and economic development opportunities.

In partnership with the Legislature, the Florida Families First budget provides more than $45.5 million in flexible economic development funding, to be used for incentives to attract the most promising business opportunities in an effort to stimulate Florida's economy. In the form of programs and tools such as the Quick Action Closing Fund, the Qualified Targeted Industry Tax Refund, and the Innovation Incentive Program, these incentives help create an economic environment in Florida that encourages the creation, relocation, and expansion of businesses, allowing us to create more jobs in our effort to get Floridians "Back to Work".

For the state's general government agencies, the budget includes prudent investments in the state's facilities and systems. Additional funding totaling $32.4 million is provided to address the most significant deficiencies in office buildings. Further, $15 million is included to continue to renovate Florida National Guard armories — an important investment to improve efficiency, force readiness, and the state's ability to gain additional units. The budget also continues the development and improvement of the One Stop Business Registration Portal. The Portal is expected to become operational in 2013, and will serve as a single point of entry for individuals and businesses seeking to start a business and transact business in the state.

Improving efficiency, as evidenced through budget reductions and targeted investments, remains a key priority. The budget reflects more than $27 million in reductions, over Fiscal Years 2012-2013 and 2013-2014, made possible through contract and real estate lease savings. In addition, the budget reflects strategic investments necessary to improve the efficiency of state-owned office space and to enhance state procurement training and expertise. Funding is also provided to equip the Lottery's sales force with tools to improve productivity and generate savings. Finally, the budget includes funding to study how to improve the state's human resources and fleet management operations, to ensure that these enterprise activities are operated effectively, and to harness available economies of scale.

Throughout this section, approved programs or projects that have a statewide impact or have gone through a competitive review process, are recommended based on measurable and positive outcomes. Projects and programs that have won approval this year are held accountable in an effort to ensure the proper use of state tax dollars. Such programs include CAMACOL Trade and Exhibition Center, Space Florida — Financing Program, and the Hispanic Business Initiative Fund Outreach Program.

The following is vetoed because funding for this item was vetoed in the Fiscal Year 2012-2013 General Appropriations Act and a similar conference could be developed by an association or group of interested vendors. There is no available evidence that the conference results in improved opportunities for participating businesses. SECTION 7 - JUDICIAL BRANCH

The Florida Families First budget funds priorities in the State Court System, including ensuring offenders are serving at least 85 percent of their prison sentence and overseeing appropriate supervised treatment programs for qualifying drug offenders.

Florida started the national drug court movement in 1989 by creating the first drug court in the United States in Miami-Dade County. Recognizing the value of these drug courts, funding for eight drug courts that were previously funded through a federal grant program and have shown demonstrated success is continued.

Additionally, another method the courts use to assist individuals with specific needs and problems is Veterans' Courts. Veterans' Courts are specifically designed as a pre-trial intervention program for veterans charged with qualifying criminal offenses. These pretrial intervention programs address complex treatment needs associated with substance abuse, mental health, and other issues unique to the traumatic experience of war. With eight Veterans' Courts currently operating in Florida, funding is provided to expand five additional Veterans' Courts. Providing the correct diversion and treatment programs assist in reduced recidivism and contribute to Florida's low crime rate which is at a 42-year low.

The following are vetoed as the Department of State has an established process for entities to apply for funds related to the preservation and restoration of historic buildings. "SECTION 79. The sum of $85,635 is appropriated from the General Revenue Fund to the Department of State for the 2012-2013 fiscal year for a library grant to the Okaloosa County Library. This section shall be effective upon becoming law."

Section 93

The following is vetoed because in lieu of General Revenue, the State Economic Enhancement and Development (SEED) Trust Fund was specifically created by the Legislature as a funding source for economic development programs.

"State Economic Enhancement and Development Trust Fund24,900,000"

Finally, I note a few sections of Senate Bill 1500 that are generally objectionable. While I have chosen not to veto the items below, they are noteworthy:

Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles - Closure of Haines City Driver License Office
—SA 2625

Section 322.02, Florida Statutes, provides that the transition of driver license issuance services from driver license offices to tax collectors be completed by June 30, 2015. Unfortunately, the Polk County Tax Collector's Office is not equipped to manage driver license issuance services until June 1, 2014. Therefore, the Haines City Driver License Office will continue to require funding for payments on contractual obligations until the Polk County Tax Collector's Office is prepared to manage these services. I urge the Polk County Tax Collector's Office to move as quickly as possible in effecting the will of the Legislature to have the tax collector provide these services.

No funds are provided in Specific Appropriation 2625 through 2636 for Fiscal Year 2013-2014 to make payments for the use of property after January 31, 2014, on any existing contracts, lease or other contractual obligations held by the state or any of its agencies and entities associated with the closure of the Haines City (L04) Driver License office.

Department of Corrections — Reduction of Public Worksquads
—SA 657

The Legislature chose not to fully fund the Department of Corrections' operating deficit for the Fiscal Year 2012-2013. Because of this, the Department must use upwards of $45 million in Fiscal Year 2013-2014 funds to cover last year's deficit; meaning that the Department will begin the year with an operating deficit.

This unfortunate reality will require strong fiscal management during the next year. However, the ability of the Department to reduce expenditures and responsibly manage its budget is severely limited by this proviso language.

I fully expect the Department of Corrections to develop a plan to manage its deficit, which includes reducing services that are not statutorily mandated and provided at no cost to local governments. Accordingly, the directives in this proviso language are unnecessary.

From the funds in Specific Appropriation 657, $34,504,901 in general revenue funds is provided to the Department of Corrections to ensure all general revenue public worksquads are maintained. The Department of Corrections shall, before eliminating any general revenue funded public worksquad officer positions, submit its proposal to the Governor's Office of Policy and Budget and the chairs of the Senate Appropriations Committee and the House Appropriations Committee for review and approval.

Business Case Study on use of Vehicles
—SA 2734

In conjunction with the business case study funded in Specific Appropriation 2734, I have instructed the Secretary of the Department of Management Services to include in the statewide review, the need for the use of state owned vehicles by State Attorneys and Public Defenders. This review will include policy recommendations to govern the determination of when a vehicle is a mere prerequisite and when a vehicle is necessary to accomplish the public mission.

In conclusion, as I did last year and in recognition of my continued commitment to the citizens of Florida, I am voluntarily reducing my salary to 1 cent per month for Fiscal Year 2013-2014 as authorized in Section 8 of the General Appropriations Act in which the Legislature has set the salary schedule for state officers and judges.

The portions of Senate Bill 1500 which are set forth herein with my objections are hereby vetoed, and all other portions of Senate Bill 1500 are hereby approved.

Sincerely,
Rick Scott, Governor

The bills, together with the Governor's objections thereto, were referred to the Committee on Rules.

SUPREME COURT OF FLORIDA

The following certificate was received:

No. SC13-2296

IN RE: CERTIFICATION OF NEED FOR ADDITIONAL JUDGES.

[December 19, 2013]

PER CURIAM.

This opinion fulfills our constitutional obligation to determine the State's need for additional judges in Fiscal Year 2014/2015 and to certify our "findings and recommendations concerning such need" to the Legislature.¹ Certification is "the sole mechanism established by our constitution for a systematic and uniform assessment of this need." In re Certification of Need for Additional Judges, 889 So. 2d 734, 735 (Fla. 2004). In this opinion we are certifying a total need of forty-nine judges, forty-six in the trial courts and three in the appellate courts as further elaborated below.

TRIAL COURTS

The Florida Supreme Court continues to use a weighted caseload system as a primary basis for assessing judicial need for the trial courts.² Using objective standards, this Court has examined case filing and disposition data, analyzed various judicial workload indicators, applied a three-year average net need, and considered judgeship requests submitted by the lower courts. Applying this methodology, this Court certifies the need for forty-six judgeships statewide, seven of which are in circuit court and thirty-nine in county court as detailed in the attached appendix. As noted in previous opinions, our judges and court staff continue to work diligently to administer justice, promptly resolve disputes, and ensure that children, families, and businesses receive the proper amount of judicial attention for their cases. They do so despite a demonstrated need for new judges and with a smaller staffing complement.

Our most recent analysis of statistics from Fiscal Year 2010/2011 to Fiscal Year 2012/2013 indicates a slight increase in circuit civil filings and a six percent increase in probate filings. At the same time, felony and juvenile dependency filings declined by five percent while domestic relations and juvenile delinquency filings experienced a seventeen percent decline. Although it may be too soon to indicate a sustained downward trend for most of these case types, recent juvenile justice reforms undertaken by the Florida Department of Juvenile Justice may continue to result in fewer juvenile delinquency filings.³

Notwithstanding the decreases to most filing categories, our three-year average net need analysis continues to indicate that additional judgeships are necessary in our circuit courts. This three-year average net need reflects sustained workload over a multi-year period.

Several of the chief judges reference high jury trial rates, substantial pending caseloads and reduced clearance rates as workload trends that continue to impact the trial courts. In addition, seasoned judges throughout the state continue to report to the court that statutory revisions requiring additional hearings for certain case types contribute to case complexity and additional judicial workload. Some chief judges also note the effect of self-represented litigants on court time and resources, factors that contribute to judicial workload and court delay. This Court is carefully monitoring such feedback and will apprise the Legislature of any updated findings to its workload evaluation model.

Many of our chief judges lament the long waits associated with obtaining hearing times. In some circuits, dockets are so full that it takes several weeks to schedule a hearing. This is especially true for scheduling lengthy hearings. Similarly, judges must schedule lengthy jury trials months in advance. Judges continue to report to their chief judges that they are less able to devote adequate time to hearings due to their overall workload. This observation is of particular concern as it strikes at the essence of access to the courts as well as public trust and confidence in our courts.

Our judges continue to absorb the work previously performed by case managers, law clerks, magistrates, and other supplemental support staff lost in the budget reductions of recent years.⁴ Most of these positions provided direct case management, legal research, and adjudicatory support to our judges. The consensus among chief judges is that the loss of support staff translates into slower case processing times, crowded dockets, and long waits to access judicial calendars.

Workload associated with the mortgage foreclosure crisis continues to impact disposition times and rates in our circuit civil divisions. In recognition of this protracted crisis the Legislature, using monies from the national mortgage foreclosure settlement,⁵ has provided dedicated funding for Fiscal Year 2013/2014 and Fiscal Year 2014/2015 that has enabled the court system to secure the services of additional senior judges and magistrates for additional docket time, necessary case management resources, and to deploy technology resources to provide for more efficient and effective management of cases. The Court is grateful for this funding to address the temporary but prolonged spike in foreclosure filings in Florida. Because the current foreclosure activity is known to be temporary, the Court is relying on these additional resources from the Legislature for enhanced judicial capacity, and does not calculate the excess foreclosure filings in this certification of judicial need.

County court workload remains high with judicial need holding steady. In select counties, some chief judges report that misdemeanor, domestic and stalking violence cases are increasing county court workload. The reduction of civil traffic infraction hearing officers in county court coupled with new workload associated with red light camera cases continue to increase county judge workload. These factors contribute to a high county court judicial need.

Self-represented litigants continue to impact county courts as they do circuit courts. Frequently, self-represented litigants are unprepared for the rigors of presenting evidence, following rules of procedure, and generally representing themselves in court. Consequently, they often require enhanced judicial involvement, which entails lengthier hearings, rescheduled hearings, and court delay.

DISTRICT COURTS OF APPEAL

The Second District Court of Appeal requests two additional judgeships, citing its current averaged weighted judicial workload of 325 cases per judge and Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.240(b)(2)(B), which provides that a presumption of need arises "where the relative weight of cases disposed on the merits per judge would have exceeded 280 after application of the proposed additional judge(s)." As with last year's opinion, we have used a three-year average of weighted dispositions on the merits per judge which is consistent with our discretion under Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.240.

A number of factors contribute to the overall high workload in the Second District, including the fact that civil filings have increased seventeen percent in the last five years. Further, their relative weighted judicial workload per judge has increased by twenty-one percent in the last five years.

The chief judge of the Second District notes that the statistics for average pending cases per month demonstrate that in spite of its increased clearance rate and a reduction in the number of filings, the Second District continues to maintain the highest number of pending cases per judge. Further, the chief judge notes, and we agree, that backlog is more than a statistic. It means that parties wait longer for finality. Divorces and foreclosures take longer to dispose. Business litigation takes longer. We agree with the chief judge's conclusion that "this scenario is not good for families and it is not good for business."

The Fifth District Court of Appeal requests one additional judgeship. The chief judge of the Fifth District observes that the average number of cases per judge in his court (330) is the highest in the state. The Fifth District is the only district court in the state that has experienced a net increase in total case filings for the period of 2008 to 2013. It also has the highest number of trial court felony filings and the highest number of prison admissions on a per judge basis of any of the district courts. The chief judge also notes that "even with the implementation of creative methods of case management, with available resources, we have been unable to avoid a declining clearance rate and a decline in timeliness of our case dispositions.”

Given the factors cited above, we certify the need for two additional district court judges in the Second District and one additional district court judge in the Fifth District for Fiscal Year 2014/2015.

CONCLUSION

We have conducted both quantitative and qualitative assessments of judicial workload. Using the case weighted methodology and the application of other factors identified in Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.240, we certify the need for forty-six additional trial court judges in Florida, consisting of seven in circuit court and thirty-nine in county court, as set forth in the appendix to this opinion, and three additional district court judges, two in the Second District and one in the Fifth District Court of Appeal.

We are straining judicial capacity in both the Second and Fifth Districts. We continue to monitor the downward filing trends for multiple trial court divisions. At this juncture, it is too early to determine whether those trends will continue to decline or whether they will normalize (i.e., level off) in the next year or two. Accordingly, this certification request is conservative, in that we are requesting the minimum number of trial and district judges necessary to stay abreast of documented workload.

We appreciate the continued support of the Legislature in funding court operations and providing resources to address foreclosure case backlog issues. As our state economy emerges from recession, we continue to prioritize and triage our needs and requests acknowledging the economic reality of our time. Although constitutionally required to certify judicial need, we are mindful of the competing funding needs within state government. On balance, we ask that priority funding consideration be given to issues requested in the Judicial Branch’s Fiscal Year 2014/2015 Legislative Budget Request.

It is so ordered.

POLSTON, C.J., and PARIENTE, LEWIS, QUINCE, CANADY, LARGA, and PERRY, JJ., concur.

1. Article V, Section 9 of the Florida Constitution provides in pertinent part:

Determination of number of judges.—The supreme court shall establish by rule uniform criteria for the determination of the need for additional judges except supreme court justices, the necessity for decreasing the number of judges and for increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits. If the supreme court finds that a need exists for increasing or decreasing the number of judges or increasing, decreasing or redefining appellate districts and judicial circuits, it shall, prior to the next regular session of the legislature, certify to the legislature its findings and recommendations concerning such need.

2. Our certification methodology relies primarily on case weights and calculations of available judge time to determine the need for additional trial court judges. See Fla. R. Jud. Admin. 2.240.

3. See Rick Scott, Governor of Florida, Reform Underway at Florida’s Juvenile Justice Agency (January 3, 2012), available online at <http://www.flgov.com/2012/01/03/reform-underway-at-florida%E2%80%99s-juvenile-justice-agency/>.

4. When the case weights were originally developed in 1999 and updated in 2007, they incorporated the availability of supplemental resources to assist judges with case processing matters.

5. This program is commonly known as the Foreclosure Backlog Reduction Initiative.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Imam Azhar Subedar, Masjid Nur of the Islamic Community of Southwest Florida:

In the name of God, the most gracious, the most merciful: The sun has risen once again, and a new day has dawned upon us all. This unique gift of today is different from yesterday—unattainable come the morrow, hence we acknowledge this blessing from you, O Lord, as we pray in your name.

Dear Lord of the Universe, make our today better than yesterday and a pedestal to an even better tomorrow. O Mighty One, we thank you for time and opportunity, health and ability, peace and stability. We awoke this morning after a night of slumber, for this we thank you. For the presence of loved ones by our side, we thank you. For the ability to breathe, thank you.

In acknowledgment of all these blessings, we beseech you, O Creator and Sustainer: Those who are hungry, provide for them; those who are naked, clothe them; those who are homeless, shelter them; those who are in distress, assist them; those who are in the midst of chaos, harbor them, and for those whose loved ones are missing, reunite them.

In expression of gratitude for the opportunity and responsibility you've bestowed upon the men and women of this Senate, we implore you, O Controller of all Affairs and Guide of all Hearts. By your grace you select, and through your name you guide.

The men and women of this chamber recognize the greatness of this nation and have pledged to uphold and promote it as the greatest nation as they are selected to continue all the good in your name.

With the acceptance of that responsibility, O Supreme One, in spite of their eloquence and position, influence and acquaintances, they know they—as we all—are weak and full of shortcomings. Yet, despite it all, allow them through your grace to fulfill their duty in a selfless manner to the best of their ability.

O Merciful One, we as a people realize the sacrifices which make us who we are and bless us with what we have. So to all those who continue to strive in their dedicated services for us all—from those abroad to those here at home, the ones who are active to the ones standing by, from the employed to the volunteers—we thank you for them, O Lord, and ask you to shower upon them goodness from your treasures.

From distant lands with an array of cultures, it is not the color of our skin or the languages we speak, not even the way we live or the faith and belief we ascribe to; rather, the common ground that unites us all and makes us one and all here in this nation of ours is our pledge to our flag and the promise to uphold our constitution.

So my Lord, once more guide us, inspire us, use us as your tools of mercy and righteousness for the commonwealth of this nation and for the entire humanity. Love and unity, peace and stability for all, Amen.

PLEDGE

Senate Pages, Ben Murzin of Pensacola; T.J. Johnson of Miami Gardens; Dexter Lazo of Ocala; Natali Shafer of Fernandina Beach; and Madeline Daniel of Jacksonville, led the Senate in the pledge of allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

DOCTOR OF THE DAY

The President recognized Dr. Ruth W. Orth of Pensacola whom he sponsored as the doctor of the day. Dr. Orth specializes in rheumatology.
