COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 98 modifies provisions related to Florida workforce development and education. Specifically, the bill:

- Authorizes the Governor to seek federal waivers to create greater flexibility and strategic investment in Florida’s implementation of the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA).
- Creates the Office of Reimagining Education and Career Help (Office) in the Executive Office of the Governor to provide coordination and alignment in Florida’s workforce development system.
- Requires the Office to create a “no-wrong-door” entry strategy whereby Floridians may access services from any workforce partner with a common intake form and case management system.
- Creates a publicly available online opportunity portal to provide Floridians with access to identify in-demand jobs, the skills needed, where to obtain those skills, available services, and program performance employability and economic mobility.
- Requires the DEO and the DCF to evaluate the impact of workforce services on participants receiving benefits and welfare transition programs, to include performance reports on participant earnings.
- Requires local workforce development boards (LWDB) to be assigned a letter grade, which must be made public, based on improvement of participant long-term self-sufficiency and return on investment.

- Charges the Labor Market Estimating Conference as the entity responsible for determining Florida's real-time supply and demand in the labor market.
- Requires the Talent Development Council to coordinate Florida's efforts to meet state healthcare workforce needs, by conducting a gap analysis and provide trend information on nursing programs.
- Requires the DEO to establish WIOA eligible training provider criteria focused on participant outcomes.
- Requires the CareerSource state board to appoint a Credentials Review Committee to identify degree and non-degree credentials of value, develop a Master Credentials List for performance funding, and establish policy direction for funding which prioritizes outcomes and leverages resources to support vulnerable populations.
- Creates the Open Door Workforce Grant Program to provide grants to school districts and Florida College System (FCS) institutions to cover up to two-thirds of the cost of short-term, high-demand programs.
- Creates the Money-Back Guarantee Program, requiring each school district and FCS institution to refund the cost of tuition to students who are not able to find a job within 6 months of completing select programs.
- Creates a new workforce performance funding model for school district and FCS institution workforce programs, requiring one-third of performance funding to be based on rewarding student job placement and the remaining two-thirds be based on student earnings, with a focus on increasing the economic mobility of underserved populations.
- Requires that students entering a public postsecondary institution in 2022-2023, and thereafter, must be able to earn nationally recognized digital credentials for competencies within the general education core courses which demonstrate career readiness.

The bill has a significant, negative impact on state expenditures. See Section V.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

The Workforce Estimating Conference

Current law directs the Workforce Estimating Conference to develop forecasts of employment demand for jobs by occupation and industry. The conference must also review local and regional occupational data generated through the Internet-based job-matching and labor-market information system and consider such data in developing its forecasts for statewide employment demand. Additionally, the data is used to make recommendations to CareerSource on any changes to local target occupation lists. The Workforce Estimating Conference is expected to meet at least twice a year;¹ however, the conference has not met since September 6, 2013.²

Florida's Workforce Development System

The federal Workforce Investment Act of 1998 (WIA) was passed by Congress in an effort to improve the quality of the nation's workforce through implementation of a comprehensive workforce investment system.³ The WIA required each state to establish an investment board at the state level and to also establish workforce investment boards to represent local service areas.⁴ The WIA also called for the delivery of workforce development services through a system of "one-stop" centers in local communities.⁵ Some key principles of the WIA were to better integrate workforce services, empower individuals, provide universal access to participants, increase accountability, and improve youth programs.⁶

In response to the WIA, Florida established a workforce development system under the Workforce Investment Act of 2000.⁷ The act aimed to better connect the state's economic development strategies with its workforce development system and to implement the principles of the federal WIA.⁸

Federal Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014

In 2014, Congress passed the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA), which superseded the Workforce Investment Act of 1998.⁹ The WIOA requires each state to develop a single, unified plan for aligning workforce services through the identification and evaluation of core workforce programs.¹⁰ In general, the WIOA maintains the one-stop framework of the WIA and encompasses provisions aimed at streamlining services, easing reporting requirements, and reducing administrative barriers.¹¹ The WIOA officially became effective on July 1, 2015, the first full program year after enactment.

Core Programs

The WIOA identifies four core programs that must coordinate and complement each other in a manner that ensures job seekers have access to needed resources.¹² The core programs are:

- Adult, Dislocated Worker, and Youth Programs;
- Employment Services under the Wagner-Peyser Employment Act;
- Vocational Rehabilitation Services; and
- Adult Education and Literacy Activities.

Performance Measures

In an effort to promote transparency and accountability, the WIOA created a single set of common measures for the evaluation of core programs.¹³ The WIOA requires performance reports to be provided at the state, local, and trainer provider levels. The performance measures that now apply across all core programs are:

- The percentage of participants in unsubsidized employment during second quarter after exit;
- The percentage of participants in unsubsidized employment during fourth quarter after exit;
- The median earnings of participants during second quarter after exit;
- The percentage of participants who obtain a postsecondary credential or secondary school diploma within 1 year after exit;
- The achievement of measureable skill gains toward credentials or employment; and
- The effectiveness in serving employers.¹⁴

State Workforce Development Plan

Using the common performance measures for core programs, the WIOA requires each state to develop and submit a unified state plan based on a 4-year strategy for workforce development.¹⁵ The state plan must describe an overall strategy for the core programs and how the strategy will meet needs for workers, job seekers, and employers.¹⁶ The WIOA also provides an option for states to submit a combined plan that outlines plans for the core programs along with additional workforce programs.¹⁷

The WIOA requires the Governor to establish a State Workforce Development Board¹⁸ to assist the Governor in carrying out the duties and responsibilities required by the WIOA.¹⁹ The membership of the state board must represent diverse geographic regions of the state, and the membership must include the Governor, members of the state legislature, representatives of business, representatives of workforce within the state, and membership from state officials with primary responsibility for the core programs.²⁰ Among other duties, the state board is required to assist in the development, implementation and modification of a 4-year state plan, review statewide policies, programs, and recommendations on actions to align workforce development programs, and identification and dissemination on best practices.²¹

Regional Planning and Local Workforce Development Boards

The WIOA requires states to identify regional planning areas for workforce development strategies.²² Within each area, a local workforce development board must be established.²³ Each local workforce development board is required to coordinate planning and service delivery strategies within their area.²⁴ Formulated strategies are then used by the local workforce development board to develop and submit a local plan for the delivery of workforce services.²⁵

The WIOA requires each Governor to designate local workforce development areas in consultation with the state workforce development board, chief elected officials²⁶ and local workforce development boards, and after consideration of public comment.²⁷ In making such designations, the WIOA requires each Governor to consider, with limited exception,²⁸ the extent to which the areas: (1) are consistent with the labor market areas in the state; (2) are consistent with regional economic development areas in the state; and (3) have the federal and non-federal resources necessary to effectively administer workforce investment activities, including whether the areas have the appropriate education and training providers, such as institutions of higher education and area career and technical education (CTE) schools.²⁹

The Governor's Authority

The WIOA grants the Governor broad oversight authority of both the state and local level workforce development programs. The Governor is responsible for designating the local workforce areas,³⁰ certifying the local workforce development boards,³¹ and negotiating the performance measures required by the WIOA.³² The Governor also has the authority to decertify a local workforce development board, and require its reorganization, for fraud, abuse, or failure to carry out its statutory duties.³³ If a local workforce development board fails to meet its agreed upon performance measures in two consecutive program years, the Governor must decertify it and implement a reorganization plan.³⁴

One-Stop Delivery System

The WIOA aims to strengthen the one-stop delivery system by requiring each local area to have at least one comprehensive one-stop delivery provider.³⁵ A comprehensive one-stop delivery provider supplies physical access to services provided by core partners, as well as other mandatory partners.³⁶ The WIOA mandates that each partner shares in the funding of services and infrastructure costs of the one-stop delivery system.³⁷

Florida's Implementation of The WIOA

In 2016, Florida made changes to the workforce development system to conform to the new federal guidelines established by the WIOA.³⁸ Under the current workforce development system, the DEO, CareerSource, the state board, and 24 local workforce development boards act as partners in administering Florida's comprehensive system for the delivery of workforce strategies, services, and programs. Florida submitted its first Unified State Plan in 2016, a Two-Year Modification in 2018, and most recently a plan for the period July 1, 2020 to June 30, 2024.³⁹ Florida's plan includes the following required programs:

- Adult Program;
- Dislocated Worker Program;
- Youth Program;
- Adult Education and Family Literacy Act;
- Wagner-Peyser Act; and
- Vocational Rehabilitation Program, including Blind Services Program.⁴⁰

The Unified State Plan includes the required core partners of: CareerSource, the DEO, and the Department of Education's (DOE) Divisions of Career and Adult Education, Vocational Rehabilitation and Blind Services.⁴¹

The Department of Economic Opportunity

The DEO serves as Florida's lead workforce agency.⁴² The DEO is responsible for the fiscal and administrative affairs of the workforce development system.⁴³ The DEO receives and distributes federal funds for employment-related programs to the local workforce development boards.⁴⁴ Additionally, the DEO must annually meet with each local workforce development board to review the board's performance and to certify that the board is in compliance with applicable state and federal law.⁴⁵

CareerSource Florida, Inc., and the State Board

CareerSource Florida, Inc., a nonprofit corporation, provides administrative support to Florida's state-level workforce development board.⁴⁶ CareerSource collaborates with the DEO, the local workforce development boards, and one-stop service providers to ensure workforce services are consistent with state and local plans.⁴⁷ CareerSource also implements policy directives of the state board.⁴⁸

The state board is the board of directors of CareerSource.⁴⁹ The board of directors includes the Governor, 16 business representatives, six workforce representatives, and eight government officials.⁵⁰ The state board conducts its work through its board of directors, two councils, and an executive committee.⁵¹

Additionally, the state board is responsible for the design and implementation of Florida's workforce development system and provides policy direction to ensure that the DEO is properly administering workforce development activities and programs.⁵² The state board is also responsible for developing a 4-year plan that is consistent with the requirements of the WIOA.⁵³ In partnership with state and local workforce partners, the state board develops strategic planning elements for the state plan to address strategies to fulfill workforce system goals; aggregate, integrate, and leverage resources; coordinate the activities of federal, state, and local workforce system partners; address the needs of small businesses; and foster the participation of rural and distressed communities.⁵⁴ The state board submits an annual report by December 1 of each year to the Governor and the Legislature on the operations and accomplishments of the board, as well as all audits.⁵⁵

Local Workforce Development Boards

Twenty-four local workforce development boards deliver Florida's workforce development services through over 100 one-stop service providers.⁵⁶ The one-stop service providers give Floridians access to available workforce services; including job placement, career counseling, and skills training.⁵⁷ Each local board formulates a local budget and oversees the one-stop delivery system within its local area.⁵⁸

Collectively, the local boards operate under a charter approved by CareerSource.⁵⁹ The local boards must submit a request for continued designation every two years, beginning July 1, 2017, to CareerSource and the DEO.⁶⁰ Continued designation is granted if the local board performed successfully and sustained fiscal integrity.⁶¹ Each local board must develop their own local plans which are aligned with the vision and goals of the state plan.⁶²

Accountability

For the period February 10, 2020, through August 7, 2020, the U.S. Department of Labor (USDOL) Employment Training Administration (ETA) conducted a compliance review of the DEO to determine its level of compliance with programmatic, fiscal, and administrative requirements.⁶³ The review identified 50 compliance findings, which must be addressed, with several findings having regulatory, statutory, and policy violations.⁶⁴

The DEO has since provided corrective action responses to 46 of the 50 findings.⁶⁵ The DEO's response concluded that the state board has not delegated its policy making authority and provided the agreement⁶⁶ between the DEO and CareerSource.⁶⁷ Additionally, the DEO will incorporate an annual review of local board websites to ensure local plans and modifications are made publicly available. To address conducting business in an open manner, the DEO has

Workforce Education Programs

Workforce education programs include:

- Adult general education programs.
- Career certificate programs.
- Applied technology diploma programs.
- Continuing workforce education courses.
- Degree career education programs.
- Apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs.⁶⁹

FCS institutions and school districts may conduct workforce education programs; however, only an FCS institution may award college credit for an associate in applied science (AAS) or an associate in science (AS) degree.⁷⁰ If an AAS or an AS degree program includes an occupational completion point⁷¹ that confers a certificate or an applied technology diploma (ATD), a school district career center can operate that portion of the program.

Approval Process

The DOE develops and maintains CTE programs which align with 17 career clusters.⁷² Each CTE program has a corresponding curriculum framework which outlines the program structure, total hours, and student performance standards.⁷³ Once a program is approved by the SBE, the program may be offered by any institution in Florida.⁷⁴

The SBE is authorized to review and approve baccalaureate programs offered by FCS institutions.⁷⁵ The approval process requires an FCS institution to submit a notice of intent that must include evidence that the FCS institution engaged in need, demand, and impact discussions with the state university and other regionally accredited postsecondary education providers in its service district. A proposal by an FCS institution to offer a baccalaureate program, among other criteria, must include an analysis of workforce demand and unmet need for graduates of the program, cost, and admission requirements.⁷⁶

Continuing Workforce Education (CWE)

CWE is defined as instruction that does not result in a technical certificate, diploma, associate in applied science degree, or associate in science degree.⁷⁷ CWE is for:

- Individuals who are required to have training for licensure renewal or certification renewal by a regulatory agency or credentialing body.
- New or expanding businesses.
- Business, industry, and government agencies whose products or services are changing so retraining of employees is necessary or whose employees need training in specific skills to increase efficiency and productivity.
- Individuals who are enhancing occupational skills necessary to maintain current employment, to cross train, or to upgrade employment.⁷⁸

Expenditures for CWE programs provided by an FCS institution or school district must be fully supported by fees. Enrollments in CWE courses may not be counted for purposes of funding FTE enrollment.⁷⁹

Apprenticeships and Preapprenticeships

The Florida Legislature has established educational opportunities for young people in the state to be trained for trades, occupations, and professions suited to their abilities.⁸⁰

The federal government works in cooperation with states to oversee the nation's apprenticeship programs. States have the authority to register apprenticeship programs through federally-recognized State Apprenticeship Agencies.⁸¹ In Florida, the Department of Education (DOE) serves as the registering entity to ensure compliance with federal and state apprenticeship standards, provide technical assistance, and conduct quality assurance assessments.

An apprenticeable occupation is a skilled trade that possesses all of the following characteristics:

- It is customarily learned in a practical way through a structured, systematic program of on-the-job, supervised training;
- It is commonly recognized throughout the industry;
- It involves manual, mechanical, or technical skills and knowledge requiring a minimum of 2,000 hours of work and training, which hours are excluded from the time spent at related instruction; and
- It requires related instruction to supplement on-the-job training. Such instruction may be given in a classroom or through correspondence courses.⁸²

Registered Apprenticeship

Registered apprenticeship is an employer-driven, on-the-job workforce educational training program that connects job seekers looking to learn new skills and career opportunities with employers looking to create a pipeline of highly skilled individuals for their workforce.⁸³

The key components of a Florida registered apprenticeship program are business involvement, structured on-the-job training, related technical instruction, rewards for skill gains, and a nationally recognized credential.⁸⁴

Apprenticeship Programs

An “apprentice” is a person at least 16 years of age who is engaged in learning a recognized skilled trade through actual work experience under the supervision of journeyman craftsmen, which should be combined with properly coordinated studies of technical and supplementary subjects. An apprentice must enter into an apprentice agreement with a sponsor who may be either an employer, an association of employers, or a local joint apprenticeship committee.⁸⁵

Potential candidates for apprenticeships may apply with a registered sponsor, who determines whether the candidate meets the required qualifications.⁸⁶ Sponsors may provide private classroom instruction or coordinate with a local educational agency⁸⁷ to provide related supplemental classroom instruction.⁸⁸ The apprentices are exempt from paying tuition and fees at a school district technical center, Florida College System (FCS) institution, or state university.⁸⁹

The sponsor operates and registers an agreed-upon apprenticeship program.⁹⁰ An apprenticeship program is an organized course of instruction, registered and approved by the DOE that contains all terms and conditions for the qualifications, recruitment, selection, employment, and training of apprentices.⁹¹

The administration and supervision of related and supplemental instruction for apprentices, coordination of such instruction with job experiences, and selection and training of teachers and coordinators for such instruction is the responsibility of the appropriate career education institution. The career education institution is encouraged to provide facilities, equipment and supplies, and instructors' salaries for the performance of related and supplemental instruction associated with the registered program.⁹²

Preapprenticeship Programs

A preapprentice is any person 16 years of age or over engaged in any course of instruction in the public school system or elsewhere, which course is registered as a preapprenticeship program with the DOE. The program's purpose is to provide training that will enable students, upon completion, to obtain entrance into a registered apprenticeship program. The program must be registered with the DOE and sponsored by a registered apprenticeship program.⁹³

The DOE is authorized to administer the law⁹⁴ relating to preapprenticeship programs in cooperation with district school boards and FCS institution boards of trustees (BOT). District school boards, FCS institution BOT, and sponsors must cooperate in developing and establishing preapprenticeship programs that include career instruction and general education courses required to obtain a high school diploma.⁹⁵

Department of Education Responsibilities

The DOE is responsible for administering, facilitating, and supervising registered apprenticeship programs, including, but not limited to:

- Developing and encouraging apprenticeship programs;
- Registering any apprenticeship or preapprenticeship program, regardless of affiliation,⁹⁶ which meets standards established by the DOE;
- Cooperating with and assisting sponsors to develop apprenticeship standards and training requirements;
- Monitoring registered apprenticeship programs;
- Leading and coordinating outreach efforts to educate veterans about apprenticeship and career opportunities;
- Investigating complaints regarding failure to meet the standards established by the DOE; and
- Canceling registration of programs that fail to comply with DOE standards and policies.⁹⁷

The DOE establishes uniform minimum standards and policies governing registered apprenticeship programs and agreements. The standards and policies must govern the terms and conditions of the apprentice's employment and training, including the quality training of the apprentice for, but not limited to, such matters as ratios of apprentices to journeymen, safety, related instruction, and on-the-job training. The DOE is also required to publish an annual report on apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs, which must include:

- A list of registered apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs;
- A summary of each local educational agency's expenditure of funds for apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs, per trade or occupation;

- The percentage of apprentices and preapprentices who complete their respective programs in the appropriate timeframe;
- Information and resources related to applications for new apprenticeship programs and technical assistance and requirements for potential applicants; and
- Documentation of activities conducted by the DOE to promote apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs through public engagement, community-based partnerships, and other initiatives.⁹⁸

State Apprenticeship Advisory Council

The State Apprenticeship Advisory Council (council) advises the DOE on matters related to apprenticeship. The council may not establish policy, adopt rules, or consider whether particular apprenticeship programs should be approved by DOE. The Commissioner of Education (commissioner) or the commissioner's designee must serve ex officio as chair of the council, but may not vote. The state director of the USDOL also serves ex officio as a nonvoting member of the council. The council is comprised of 10 voting members appointed by the Governor. The council must meet at the call of the chair or at the request of a majority of its membership, but at least twice a year.⁹⁹

Florida Pathways to Career Opportunities Grant Program

In 2019, the Governor issued an executive order directing the DOE to seek funding to seed high quality workforce apprenticeships and other industry specific learning opportunities for students.¹⁰⁰

The Florida Pathways to Career Opportunities Grant Program (grant program) was established in 2019¹⁰¹ in the DOE to provide grants on a competitive basis to high schools, career centers, charter technical career centers, FCS institutions, and other entities authorized to sponsor an apprenticeship or preapprenticeship program to establish new apprenticeship or preapprenticeship programs, and expand existing apprenticeship or preapprenticeship programs. Grant funds may be used for instructional equipment, supplies, personnel, student services, and other expenses associated with the creation or expansion of an apprenticeship program. Grant funds may not be used for recurring instructional costs or for indirect costs.¹⁰²

Credentials of Value

Industry certification is a voluntary process through which individuals are assessed by an independent third-party using predetermined standards for knowledge, skills, and competencies, resulting in the award of a credential that is nationally recognized and must be at least one of the following:

- Within an industry that addresses a critical local or statewide economic need.
- Linked to an occupation that is included in the workforce system's targeted occupation list.

- Linked to an occupation that is identified as emerging.¹⁰³

Industry certifications for nonfarm occupations must be based on the highest national standards available for the specific industry certification. Industry certifications for farm occupations must demonstrate student skill proficiency and be based upon the best available data to address critical local or statewide economic needs.¹⁰⁴

Florida produces several lists by various entities to identify industry certifications which may be offered by secondary and postsecondary institutions:

The Florida Career and Professional Education (CAPE) Act

The CAPE Act was created to provide a statewide planning partnership between the business and education communities to attract, expand and retain targeted, high-value industry to sustain a strong, knowledge-based economy. The primary purpose of the CAPE Act is to:

- Improve middle and high school academic performance by providing rigorous and relevant curriculum opportunities;
- Provide rigorous and relevant career-themed courses that articulate to postsecondary-level coursework and lead to industry certification;
- Support local and regional economic development;
- Respond to Florida's critical workforce needs; and
- Provide state residents with access to high-wage and high-demand careers.¹¹³

In order to fulfill the requirements of the CAPE Act the DOE incentivizes school districts and FCS institutions¹¹⁴ through two statewide lists.¹¹⁵

The CAPE Industry Certification Funding List includes CAPE industry certifications, CAPE acceleration industry certifications, and CAPE digital tool certificates. Industry certifications on the final approved CAPE Industry Certification Funding list are eligible for additional weighted funding through the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP). The value is added to the total FTE in secondary career education programs for grades 9 through 12. Each district must allocate at least 80 percent of the funds provided for CAPE industry certification to the program that generated the funds.¹¹⁶

CAPE Industry Certification Funding List (K-12)

Florida's current process for submitting, reviewing, and approving certifications starts with the submission of a certification application to CareerSource by local boards or public school principals. All submissions are then researched by CareerSource staff, the DOE, and the DEO to determine eligibility and to develop a list of recommended certifications for approval. The CareerSource Board of Directors is responsible for the final approval of certifications that the DOE may consider for funding eligibility and addition to the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List.¹¹⁷

Approved industry certifications are published by the DOE, CareerSource, and the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (DACCS). The selection of industry certifications occurs in two phases. First, CareerSource must identify industry certifications and compile them into a Comprehensive Industry Certification List.¹¹⁸ Second, the DOE must:

- Review CareerSource's Comprehensive Industry Certification List that includes 236 certifications;¹¹⁹
- Identify industry certifications that qualify for additional weighted funding;¹²⁰
- Consider district requests that industry certifications be added to the approved list;¹²¹ and
- Annually publish a final list.¹²²

In order for an industry certification to be included on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List, a certification must require a minimum of 150 hours of instruction and be achievable by secondary students.¹²³

CAPE acceleration industry certifications, which are annually approved by the commissioner, must articulate for 15 or more college credit hours and, if successfully completed, must be eligible for additional FTE funding.¹²⁴ In order for a CAPE acceleration industry certification to be included on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List, it must meet the same requirements as an industry certification and also have a statewide articulation agreement that enables students to earn 15 hours or more of college credit.¹²⁵

CAPE digital tool certificates recognize a student's attainment of digital skills. The DOE is required to identify, by June 15 of each year, digital tool certificates that indicate a student's digital skills. The DOE must notify each school district when a digital tool certificate is available. Digital tool certificates must be made available to all public elementary and middle grades students. By July 1, 2018, and on an annual basis thereafter, at least 75 percent of public middle grades students are expected to earn at least one digital tool certificate.¹²⁶ In order for a CAPE digital tool certificate to be included on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List a certificate must:

- Be achievable by elementary school and middle grades students;
- Assess at least one of the following digital skills: word processing; development of spreadsheets; digital arts; cybersecurity; coding; and development of sound, motion, and color presentations; and
- Be part of a career pathway leading to the attainment of a career and professional education industry certification on the career and professional education funding list.¹²⁷

The commissioner may at any time recommend adding to the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List no more than 30 career and professional education digital tool certificates limited to the areas of word processing; development of spreadsheets; digital arts; cybersecurity; coding; and development of sound, motion, and color presentations that do not articulate for college credit.¹²⁸

The Chancellor of Career and Adult Education may identify certificates and certifications for students with disabilities, which must be included on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List, i.e., digital tool certifications, workplace industry certification, and occupation safety and health administration industry certifications.¹²⁹

CAPE Postsecondary Industry Certification Funding List

The CAPE Postsecondary Industry Certification Funding List is developed by the Chancellor of the FCS and the Chancellor of Career and Adult Education and approved by the SBE. These industry certifications are linked to occupational areas identified in the General Appropriations Act.¹³⁰

BOG data-driven gap analysis of the state’s job market demands and the outlook for jobs that require a baccalaureate degree or higher, with a growth rate of at least 10.1 percent, and a median Florida wage of at least $45,000 per year.¹³⁵

The BOG periodically updates the list of identified programs of strategic emphasis (PSE), and most recently updated the list in September 2020¹³⁶ identifying 868 PSE.¹³⁷ The BOG categorizes PSEs into five areas:

- Critical Workforce - Education: comprised of the SBE critical teacher shortage areas.
- Critical Workforce - Health: comprised of workforce projections by the DEO.
- Critical Workforce - Gap Analysis: programs leading to occupations projected to be critically under-supplied in the BOG analysis of labor market projections and related degree production.
- Economic Development - Global Competitiveness: programs that assist in making the SUS globally competitive.
- Economic Development - Science Technology Engineering and Math (STEM): programs identified with national usage.¹³⁸

The PSE are used by the BOG to develop annual accountability plans, coordinate academic programs, and approve new academic programs.¹³⁹ PSEs are also a component of SUS performance based funding.¹⁴⁰ For the 2019-2020 academic year, 54 percent of bachelor’s

Performance Funding

Incentives are provided for valuable credentials. A value of 0.025 FTE is calculated for CAPE digital tool certificates earned by students in elementary and middle school. Weights of 0.1, 0.2, 0.3, 0.5, or 1.0 FTE are added for courses that lead to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification, as reflected in the following table:¹⁴²

Weight	Course Type
0.1 FTE	CAPE Industry Certification does not articulate to college credit
0.2 FTE	CAPE Industry Certification articulates to college credit
0.3 FTE	CAPE Innovation Course
0.5 FTE	CAPE Acceleration Industry Certification articulates to 15-29 college credit hours
1.0 FTE	CAPE Acceleration Industry Certification articulates to 30+ college credit hours

Bonuses are available for teachers of courses in which students earn industry certifications, as follows:

- A bonus amount of $25 is awarded for a course with a weight of 0.1.
- A bonus amount of $50 is awarded for a course with a weight of 0.2.
- A bonus amount of $75 is awarded for a course with a weight of 0.3.
- A bonus amount of $100 is awarded for a course with a weight of 0.5 or 1.0.¹⁴³

In addition, performance incentive funds are provided for attainment of industry certifications identified on the CAPE Postsecondary Industry Certification Funding List.¹⁴⁴ For FY 2020-21, $6.5 million in performance-based incentives were allocated for school districts and $14 million for state colleges.¹⁴⁵ Each eligible postsecondary-level certification earned by a student at a postsecondary institution generates $1,000 in state performance funding for the institution.¹⁴⁶

Rapid Credentialing Grant

In FY 2020-2021, $35 million was allocated for the Rapid Credentials Grant from the Governor’s Emergency Education Fund (GEER),¹⁴⁷ one of the four grant programs created through the Coronavirus Aid Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act.¹⁴⁸ Grant funds are directed to connecting unemployed, underemployed, or furloughed individuals with training in an in-demand area of the regional workforce board.¹⁴⁹

Rapid credentialing programs are designed to increase all of Florida's 28 state and 48 technical colleges’ capacity to enroll and graduate students in short term, in-demand, middle to high wage occupation, workforce programs that can be completed in 18 weeks or less, aiding in accelerated recovery for residents and the economy after the COVID-19 pandemic.¹⁵⁰ Many of these programs are not eligible for federal financial aid as they do not meet the minimum instructional time requirements.¹⁵¹

Rapid credential programs include the following:

- Technical certificate programs (i.e., short, credit options offered by FCS institutions).
- Market-driven and in-demand clock hour career certificate programs (i.e., short, vocational training programs offered by technical colleges).
- Engaging, transformative, in-demand industry certification preparation courses (i.e., courses that culminate in an industry-recognized certification that can articulate into college credit).¹⁵²

The DOE identified over 100 rapid credential programs statewide and cross-walked them to CareerSource’s in-demand sector strategies. These workforce education-related options are accessible, affordable, and articulate into “higher-level” credentials (i.e., associate of science degrees or bachelors of applied science degrees).¹⁵³

Funds were allocated to 73 local education agencies, including charter districts and laboratory schools.¹⁵⁴ The grant requires 25 percent matching by the institution and allocates a minimum of $150,000 per agency plus a pro-rated share of additional funds based on unduplicated headcount in postsecondary CTE programs.¹⁵⁵ Of the $35 million award, $7,130,453 was allocated to technical colleges, and the remaining $27,869,547 was allocated to FCS institutions.¹⁵⁶ Funds may be used to purchase necessary equipment and underwrite costs associated with administering these short term courses/programs.¹⁵⁷

Measuring Outcomes for Florida's Workforce Programs

Florida Talent Development Council

The Florida Talent Development Council is responsible for the development and monitoring of a strategic plan for talent development to accomplish the attainment goal of 60 percent of working age adults with a high-value postsecondary credential by 2030.¹⁵⁸

Florida Education & Training Placement Information Program (FETPIP)

The FETPIP is a data collection and consumer reporting system established to provide follow-up data on former students and program participants who have graduated, exited, or completed a public education or training program within the state of Florida. The law requires all elements of Florida's WDS to use information provided through FETPIP for any project they conduct that requires automated matching of administrative records for follow-up purposes.¹⁵⁹

FETPIP data does not capture certain data elements necessary for WIOA federal reporting criteria. The system is unable to report data on non-WIOA participant performance.¹⁶⁰

Workforce Development Information System (WDIS)

The DOE is responsible for designing specifications for the collection and reporting of data and performance specifications for the WDIS. The design must allow parallel reporting and state-level access of workforce data necessary to use the data reports as a basis for calculating funding allocations. In addition, the design must be capable of providing reports necessary to comply with other program performance documentation required by state or federal law, without requiring additional data collection or reporting from local educational agencies.¹⁶¹

Career and Technical Education Program Audit

On January 2019, the Governor issued Executive Order 19-31¹⁶² which established a goal for Florida to become number one in the nation for workforce education by 2030. The executive order directed the commissioner to complete an audit of CTE offerings in Florida and develop a methodology to audit and review offerings annually.

The commissioner is required to annually review K-12 and postsecondary CTE programs in consultation with the DEO, CareerSource, leaders of business and industry, the BOG, the FCS, school districts, and other education stakeholders. The review must assess alignment of existing offerings with employer demand, postsecondary credentials, and professional industry certifications. This includes identifying offerings that are linked to occupations that are in high demand by employers, require high-level skills, and provide middle-level to high-level wages.¹⁶³

Under the audit's labor market alignment requirements, current secondary career preparation and postsecondary CTE programs are required to be linked to an occupation on the Statewide or Regional Demand Occupation List, linked to a program that is expected to grow over the next eight years, or train for an occupation with middle to high wages. For programs not meeting any of these criteria, local agencies may document demand using the criteria specified in the Strengthening Career and Technical Education for the 21st Century Act (Perkins V) CLNA.¹⁶⁴

The commissioner is required to phase out CTE programs which are not aligned with the needs of employers or do not provide program completers with a middle-wage or high-wage occupation and encourage districts and postsecondary institutions to offer new programs.¹⁶⁵

Nursing

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Florida ranks third among states to employ nurses. While Florida ranks as one of the top states for employment of nurses, a report in June 2020, showed 35,000 or 16.3 percent of registered nurses (RN) and 3,700 or 13.4 percent of advanced practice registered nurses (APRN) are over the age of 60 in Florida and may begin phasing into retirement during the next 5 to 10 years.¹⁶⁶

According to a 2019-2020 American Association of Critical-Care Nurses report, United States nursing schools turned away 80,407 qualified applicants from baccalaureate and graduate nursing programs in 2019 due to an insufficient number of faculty, clinical sites, classroom space, and clinical preceptors, as well as budget constraints.¹⁶⁷

Career Planning for Florida's Students

Middle Grades

Before a middle grades student can successfully be promoted to high school, one of the required courses a student must complete is a career and education planning course during grades 6, 7, or 8. The required course must be internet-based and result in a personalized academic and career plan for the student that may be revised as the student progresses; must emphasize the importance of entrepreneurship and employability skills; and must include information from the DEO's economic security report.¹⁶⁸ The required personalized academic and career plan must inform students of high school graduation requirements, the requirements for each scholarship in the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship Program; SUS and FCS institution admission requirements; and available opportunities to earn college credit in high school.¹⁶⁹ The course may be implemented as a stand-alone course or integrated into another course or courses.¹⁷⁰

The career and education planning course must prepare students to:

- Describe the influences that societal, economic, and technological changes have on employment trends and future training.
- Develop skills to locate, evaluate, and interpret career information.
- Identify and demonstrate processes for making short and long term goals.
- Demonstrate employability skills such as working in a group, problem-solving and organizational skills, and the importance of entrepreneurship.
- Understand the relationship between educational achievement and career choices/postsecondary options.

For the 2020-2021 school year, the DOE identified 79 approved middle grades courses for career and education planning.¹⁷² In addition, the DOE publishes an educator's toolkit, providing resources such as classroom activities, lesson plans, and additional resources to assist teachers in career and education course planning.¹⁷³

High School

Each district school board must provide appropriate instruction to ensure that students meet SBE-adopted standards¹⁷⁴ in specified subject areas.¹⁷⁵ Each school district must submit a report to the commissioner that describes how instruction was provided during the previous school year.¹⁷⁶ One of the required instructional topics is a character development program required in kindergarten through grade 12.¹⁷⁷

In grades 9 through 12, the character development curriculum, at a minimum, must include instruction on:

- Developing leadership skills, interpersonal skills, organization skills, and research skills.
- Creating a resume.
- Developing and practicing the skills necessary for employment interviews.
- Conflict resolution, workplace ethics, and workplace law.
- Managing stress and expectations.
- Skills that enable students to become more resilient and self-motivated.¹⁷⁸

Postsecondary

Florida's postsecondary institutions provide students with opportunities to explore and prepare for their future careers through services available at their career centers and courses on life skills and career planning. The career centers provide students with opportunities to create a resume, prepare for job interviews, and search for jobs among other services.¹⁷⁹

State Career Planning Resources

The MyCareerShines website is a career planning system available to Florida's middle and high school students to assist in exploring career options and developing an academic and career plan.¹⁸⁰ Some school districts use the system to help satisfy the middle grades course requirements. Effective September 1, 2020, school districts became responsible for their own

¹⁷⁴ In 2020, the State Board of Education adopted new standards for English language arts and mathematics, called the Benchmarks for Excellent Student Thinking (BEST) standards. The DEO, in consultation with the DOE, prepares an annual economic security report of employment and earning outcomes for degrees or certificates earned at public postsecondary educational institutions. The report must be easy to read and accessible by the public and must be made available online.¹⁸² Additionally, each middle school and high school student or the student's, parent prior to registration, must be provided a 2-page summary of the report.¹⁸³ At the postsecondary level, each SUS and FCS institution must provide students, prior to registration, electronic access to the report.¹⁸⁴

The report, by education sector, must provide data for graduates of degree or certificate programs of public postsecondary institutions in the year after the certificate is earned and 5 years after graduation. The data must include:

- The number and percentage of graduates employed full-time.
- The number and percentage of graduates earning:
 - Quarterly wages of $6,250 and annualized wages of $25,000 and below.
 - Quarterly wages between $6,251 and $11,250 and annualized wages between $25,001 and $45,000.
 - Quarterly wages of $11,251 and annualized wages of $45,001 and above.¹⁸⁵

Launch My Career Florida serves as an on-line tool which provides students, parents, and the public with a preliminary view of the type of information that is available within the annual Economic Security Report. The tool allows users to explore wage information, current and projected job growth, and search for public postsecondary schools that offer a degree in a selected career path.¹⁸⁶

Employ Florida serves as Florida's online labor exchange system and case management system.¹⁸⁷ The site serves job seekers looking to find a job or receive additional training, employers seeking to post job openings and find qualified candidates, and individuals looking to explore career fields, build a resume, or access labor market information.¹⁸⁸

The site highlights the 17 career pathways offered at Florida's 28 state colleges and 48 technical colleges, providing alternatives to the traditional university pathway.¹⁸⁹ Apprenticeship Florida is another initiative to expand apprenticeship opportunities in several targeted sectors in Florida as well as expanding apprenticeship and pre-apprenticeship opportunities to underrepresented populations.¹⁹⁰

General Education Program

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC), the regional accrediting body for Florida's public post-secondary institutions, describes general education as an integral component of an undergraduate degree program and the component of a degree program where students encounter the basic content and methodology of the principal areas of knowledge: humanities and fine arts, social and behavioral sciences, natural sciences and mathematics.¹⁹¹

Current law requires an associate in arts degree at an FCS or SUS institution to be no more than 60 semester hours of college credit and include 36 semester hours of general education course work. For the baccalaureate degree, it must be no more than 120 semester hours of college credit, unless prior approval has been granted by the BOG or the SBE, as applicable, and include 36 semester hours of general education coursework.¹⁹²

Since academic year 2015-2016, students entering an FCS or SUS institution are required to complete at least one identified core course in the subject areas of communication, mathematics, social sciences, humanities, and natural sciences. All public postsecondary educational institutions are required to accept these courses as meeting general education core course requirements.¹⁹³ After completing the general education core course requirement, the remaining courses and credits that fulfill the total 36-hour general education requirement for an associate in arts or baccalaureate degree are at the discretion of the FCS or SUS institution.¹⁹⁴

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Florida's Workforce Development System (Section 1)

To create greater alignment among Florida's WDS for the delivery of programs suited for the 21st century which are focused on equity and efficiency, the bill creates s. 14.36, F.S., to create the Reimagining Education and Career Help Act (REACH Act).

The REACH Act serves to address the evolving needs of Florida's economy by increasing the level of collaboration and cooperation among state businesses and education communities while improving training and providing for equity and access to a more integrated workforce and education system for Florida. To facilitate alignment and coordination of entities responsible for Florida's WDS, the bill creates the Office of Reimagining Education and Career Help (REACH Office) in the Executive Office of the Governor. The Director of the REACH Office is required to be appointed by the Governor and serve at his or her pleasure.

REACH Office Duties

The REACH Office is required to fulfill the following duties:

- Serve as an advisor to the Governor on matters related to the state's WDS;
- Establish criteria and goals for workforce development and diversification in Florida's WDS;
- Provide strategies to align and improve efficiency in Florida's WDS and the delivery of workforce related programs;
- Coordinate state and federal workforce related programs, plans, resources, and activities provided by CareerSource, the DEO, and the DOE;
- Oversee the workforce development information system designed by the DOE to verify the validity of data collected and monitor compliance of workforce related programs and education and training programs with applicable federal and state requirements as authorized by federal and state law;
- Serve on the Credentials Review Committee to identify non-degree and degree credentials of value and facilitate the collection of data necessary to conduct committee work;
- Coordinate and facilitate a memorandum of understanding (MOU) for data sharing agreements of the state's workforce performance data among state agencies and align, to the greatest extent possible, adopted performance measures;
- Streamline the clinical placement process and increase clinical placement opportunities for students, hospitals, and other clinical sites by administering, directly or through a contract, a web-based centralized clinical placement system for use by all nursing education programs subject to the requirements of nursing education program approval; and
- Direct the objectives of the Talent Development Council.

In addition, the REACH Office will develop the criteria DEO will use to assign a letter grade to each LWDB, and require the criteria, in part, be based on LWDB performance accountability measures and return on investment. The majority of the grade should be based on the improvement by each LWDB in the long-term self-sufficiency of participants through outcome measures such as reduction in long-term public assistance and the percentage of participants whose wages were higher after program completion compared to wages before participation in a program.

No-Wrong-Door Entry Strategy

The REACH Office is required to improve equity and access to the myriad of state and federally funded workforce related programs offered across different entities by creating a no-wrong-door entry strategy whereby a Floridian must not be required to visit multiple locations when seeking access to education and workforce training. In creating the no-wrong-door strategy, the office is required to do the following:

- Develop a training course to cross-train all staff within Florida's WDS on workforce related programs, including how to use an integrated case management system, develop an individual employment plan, conduct a comprehensive needs assessment, pre-certify individuals for workforce related programs, and on any other activities to reinforce the no-wrong-door-entry strategy;
- Coordinate and facilitate a common intake form and case management system for use by workforce related programs to minimize duplicate data entry;
- Coordinate and facilitate a MOU between the DEO and the DCF to permit Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) and TANF clients to pre-certify for WIOA training services without having to physically visit a one-stop center;
- Oversee the performance evaluation of workforce related programs and services for participants receiving family self-sufficiency benefits and in welfare transition programs; and
- Identify other state and federal programs that serve individuals with significant barriers to employment as demonstrated by low placement, employment, and earnings rates and identify strategies to increase the utilization of such programs by LWDBs.

Workforce Opportunity Portal

The REACH Office is required to minimize duplication and use existing resources to adapt and integrate state information systems into an online workforce opportunity portal. The REACH Office should maximize the use of available federal and private funds for the development and initial operation of the portal.

To determine the quality of workforce related programs offered by public postsecondary educational institutions and public and private training providers, the office must review each program one year after the program's first graduating class and every five years after the first review.

The bill requires the REACH Office to maximize the use of the portal at locations within Florida's WDS and ensure the portal provides access to labor market data consistent with official information developed by the Labor Market Estimating Conference as well as information on how to appropriately use and analyze the presented data, including any limitations.

The REACH Office is required to report to the Legislature on December 1, 2022, and annually thereafter, on the implementation and outcomes of the workforce opportunity portal, including the increase of economic self-sufficiency of individuals.

Definitions

To define the work of the REACH Office, the bill provides the following definitions:

- “Workforce development system” includes the entities and activities that contribute to Florida’s talent pipeline system through education, training, and support services that prepare individuals for employment or career advancement. The definition specifies the entities that are responsible for oversight or conducting those activities such as CareerSource, LWDB, One-Stop Centers, the DEO, the DOE, and the Department of Children and Families.
- “Workforce education region” as areas of the state identified by the DOE, in collaboration with the DEO, to maximize resource allocation by combining two or more sources of funding to integrate education and training in order to improve access to credentials of value for participants in adult education programs.
- “Workforce related program” as a program operated, delivered, or enabled, in whole or in part, by a state or local entity using federal funds or state appropriations to offer incentives, funding, support, or guidance for any of the following purposes:
 - Job training;
 - Attainment of a credential of value as identified by the Credentials Review Committee;
 - Attainment of a postsecondary degree or credential;
 - The provision of other types of employment assistance; or
 - Any other program that has, at least in part, the goal of securing employment or better employment for an individual and receives federal funds or a state appropriation.

The bill defines the attainment of a postsecondary degree or credential to include an apprenticeship certificate, industry certification, license, advanced technical certificate, college credit certificate, career certificate, applied technology diploma, associate in applied science degree, associate in science degree, bachelors of applied science degree, and bachelors of science degree.

State Plan (Section 7)

The bill requires the CareerSource state board to work with state and local partners in the workforce development system to develop the strategic planning elements required by WIOA for Florida’s state plan. Additionally, the bill modifies s. 445.006, F.S., to require the state plan to describe the following:

- How the activities will be carried out by the core programs to implement the strategy and how the activities will be aligned across the programs and among the entities administering the programs, including using co-enrollment and other strategies.
- How the activities will be aligned with other activities that are provided under employment, training, education, including CTE, and human services programs that are not covered by the state plan, as appropriate, to avoid duplication and assure coordination.
- How the entities carrying out the respective core programs will coordinate activities and provide comprehensive, high-quality services, including supportive services, to individuals.
- How the state's strategy to engage Florida College System (FCS) institutions and local CTE schools as partners in the WDS will enable the state to leverage other federal, state, and local investments and increase access to workforce development programs at those institutions.
- How the activities will be coordinated with economic development strategies.

- How the state's strategy will improve access to activities leading to a state approved recognized postsecondary credential, including a credential that is an industry recognized certificate or certification that is portable and builds on additional education or training.

Use of WIOA Funds (Section 5)

The bill modifies s. 445.003, F.S., to require the 15 percent of WIOA Title I funds which are retained for state administration to be used to evaluate the long-term impact of innovative Individual Training Account pilots, demonstrations, and programs to enable participants to attain self-sufficiency and to evaluate the effectiveness of performance-based contracts¹⁹⁵ used by LWDBs on increasing wages and employment over the long term.

CareerSource State Board (Section 6)

The bill modifies s.445.004, F.S., to add to the membership of the state board a representative from the DOE's Divisions of Vocational Rehabilitation and Blind Services as well as a representative from the DCF.

The bill requires the state board to, beginning July 1, 2022, assign and make public a letter grade for each LWDB using the criteria established by the REACH Office.

In carrying out their duties, the bill requires the state board to do the following:

- Create a state employment, education, and training policy that ensures workforce related programs are responsive to present and future business and industry needs and complement the initiatives of Enterprise Florida, Inc.
- Establish policy direction for a uniform funding system that prioritizes evidence-based, results-driven solutions.
- Include in their policy related to the education and training of target populations the effective use of federal, state, local, and private resources in reducing the need for public assistance by combining two or more sources of funding to support workforce related programs or activities for vulnerable populations.
- Identify barriers to coordination and alignment among workforce related programs and activities and develop solutions to remove such barriers.
- Maintain a Master Credentials List that:
 - Serves as a public and transparent inventory of state-approved credentials of value.
 - Directs the use of federal and state funds for workforce education and training programs that lead to approved credentials of value.
 - Guides workforce education and training programs by informing the public of the credentials that have value in the current or future job market.
- Establish incentives for LWDBs which reward effective alignment and coordination of federal and state programs and programs identified by the REACH Office and outline rewards for achieving long-term self-sufficiency of participants.

¹⁹⁵ Outcomes-based contracts, also known as fixed-price performance-based contracts, help focus on the delivery of results for those being served with an emphasis on the outcomes of participants, such as obtaining and retaining jobs. Traditional cost-reimbursement contracts pay the same amount for the services provided, regardless of whether they actually help people gain skills, get jobs, or earn higher wages. Results for America, Performance-Based Contracts in WIOA (Dec. 2020), available at <https://results4america.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/12/Performance-Based-Contracts-in-WIOA.pdf>.

The bill amends s. 445.004, F.S., to require the state board, to work with DEO to submit their annual report on December 1 to the Governor and Legislature and requires the report to include the following:

- All investigations;
- Number of mandatory partners located within one-stop centers; and
- Progress on implementing solutions to address barriers to coordination and alignment among programs and activities.

Section 1 of the bill requires the state board to ensure the Executive Director of CareerSource and his or her staff works with the DEO to minimize duplication and maximize efficient use of resources in carrying out their duties to implement the WIOA.

The bill modifies s. 445.002, F.S., in Section 4 to add gross management and waste as instances which would provide cause for removal of a state board member.

The bill modifies s. 445.004, F.S., to authorize any committees, councils, or administrative entities of the state board to use funds to award recognition by a LWDB, its committees and subdivision, and other units of the workforce system.

The bill amends s. 288.047, F.S., in Section 3 to align the required wages for participants in the Quick-Response Training program administered by CareerSource to present market wages.

The bill amends s. 445.004, F.S., to remove the authority for the state board to designate Institutes of Applied Technology, provide policy direction to evaluate labor market supply, and expand the occupations of the Workforce Estimating Conference. The bill removes duplicative language already in current law which allows the Auditor General to conduct an audit of the state board and CareerSource or any programs or entities created by the state board and the authority for the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability (OPPAGA) to review performance outcomes and quality of services of the state board and CareerSource.¹⁹⁶

DEO Compliance Monitoring (Section 5)

The bill amends s. 445.003, F.S., to require the DEO to adopt rules to monitor the compliance of workforce related programs and determine whether programs are meeting performance expectations, including an analysis of the return on investment of workforce related programs on individual employment, earnings, and public benefit usage outcomes and a cost-benefit analysis of the monetary impacts of workforce services from the participant and taxpayer points of view.

Consumer-First Workforce System (Section 10)

To transform Florida's workforce system into a unified workforce system which focuses on the consumer, the bill amends s. 445.011, F.S. to create a consumer-first workforce system, requiring the DEO to consult with the DOE and the DCF to implement one state automated system that improves coordination among the required one-stop partners to efficiently and effectively provide workforce and education programs and services in Florida.

The consumer-first workforce system requires an integrated service delivery system that includes common registration and intake for required one-stop partners and support service integration and case management across programs and agencies. The bill requires the DEO to develop training for required one-stop partners on the use of the system and prequalifying individuals for workforce programs. The bill requires any contract to implement the consumer-first workforce system, entered into or renewed on or after July 1, 2021, to be performance based.

The bill makes conforming changes (ss. 443.151, 445.010, and 445.045, F.S.) to reflect the implementation of one consumer-first workforce system.

One-Stop Career Centers (Section 9)

The bill amends s. 445.009, F.S., to require training services provided to One-Stop Center participants through Individual Training Accounts to be used on programs that prepare individuals to enter occupations identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference. Additionally, the bill requires training services provided through Individual Training Accounts to condition final payment, of at least 10 percent, to a training provider upon a participant's successful job placement.

Program Evaluation (Section 11)

To effectively assess the impact of services on workforce participants who are dually served, the bill amends s. 445.033, F.S. to require the DEO and DCF to measure the performance of workforce related programs and services for participants who receive benefits and welfare transition programs. The evaluation must include participants who receive TANF and also those receiving family self-sufficiency program benefits.

The DEO is required to consult with LWDBs to develop annual performance reports which analyze participants as they transition from public assistance to self-sufficiency. Participant co-enrollment in programs must be considered as a part of the performance measure.

Each LWDB is required to, at a minimum, provide quarterly reports on the following measures:

- Percent of participants working in unsubsidized employment;
- Percent of participants who stop receiving benefits for reasons other than disqualification or sanction;
- Number of sanctions and waivers that are granted, measured by the type of sanction or waiver and the number of completed compliance activities that lead to a restoration of benefits.
- Median placement wage rate;
- TANF work participation rate; and
- Self-sufficiency index, by county, based on the percent of current or former participants who stop receiving benefits or are working 30 or more hours per week and at 1 and 2 years after participants stop receiving benefits or work 30 or more hours per week.

The self-sufficiency index is required to include the percentage of participants earning at or above 200 percent of the federal poverty level three years after participants stop receiving benefits or work 30 or more hours per week. Additionally, the report must contain an expected range of performance for each county on the self-sufficiency index. The expected range is required to be derived by a statistical methodology developed in consultation with the local boards and that the methodology control for differences across counties in economic conditions and demographics of participants in family self-sufficiency programs and welfare transition programs.

To conduct the evaluation, the state board and the DEO are required to share information with and develop protocols for information exchange with the Florida Education and Training Placement Information Program (FETPIP).

WIOA Waiver Authority (Section 7)

To provide Florida with additional flexibility in overseeing the state's workforce investment and to streamline administration of our system while also increasing accountability, the bill amends s. 445.006, F.S., to require the DEO to prepare a federal waiver to be submitted by the Governor to the USDOL that allows:

- The CareerSource state board to fulfill the roles and responsibilities of LWDBs or that reduces the number of LWDBs based on population size and commuting patterns in order to:
 - Eliminate multiple layers of administrative entities to improve coordination of the WDS;
 - Establish consistent eligibility standards across the state to improve the accountability of workforce related programs; and
 - Provide greater flexibility in the allocation of resources to maximize the funds directed to training and business services.
- The Governor to reallocate funds among local areas that have a demonstrated need for additional funding and programmatic outcomes that will maximize the use of the additional funds to serve low-income individuals, public assistance recipients, dislocated workers, and unemployment insurance claimants.

Local Workforce Boards (Section 8)

The bill amends s. 445.007, F.S., to establish term limits for a LWDB chair as no more than two years and establishes term limits for all members of a LWDB as no more than eight consecutive years, unless the member is a representative of a government entity. The bill requires LWDB members to serve staggered terms and specifies that service which commenced before July 1, 2021, will not count toward the eight year term limit.

To provide greater oversight in a LWDBs contracting process, the bill does the following:

- Requires prior approval from DEO for contracts between the board and an organization or individual represented on the LWDB and states that such contracts may not be included on a consent agenda by the LWDB. Additionally, a member whose organization may benefit from the contract must abstain from voting on the contract.
- Reduces the threshold from $25,000 to $10,000 for contracts between local boards, a relative of a local board, or an employee of the board, which do not require prior approval from the DEO but do require approval by a two-thirds vote of the board.
- Requires the publication of contracts between a LWDB and a member of the board, a relative of a board member, an organization or individual represented on the board, or an employee of the board approved on or after July 1, 2021, to be published on the board's website, or

DEO's website if the local board does not maintain a website within ten days after approval by DEO and requires it to remain published for at least 1 year after termination of the contract.

- Requires the DEO, in their review of required contracts to consider documentation provided by the LWDB, including performance ratings of the entity under consideration for contract and whether such entity is the only provider of the desired good and services within the area served.

Each LWDB is required to annually, within 30 days after the end of the fiscal year, disclose to the DEO, in a manner determined by the department, the amount and nature of compensation paid to all executives, officers, directors, trustees, key employees, and the highest compensated employees, as defined for purposes of the Internal Revenue Service Form 990, Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax. The reported compensation must include salary, bonuses, present value of vested benefits including but not limited to retirement, accrued leave and paid time off, cashed-in leave, cash equivalents, severance pay, pension plan accruals and contributions, deferred compensation, real property gifts, and any other liability owed to such persons. The disclosure must be accompanied by a written declaration from the chief financial officer, or his or her designee, that he or she has read the compensation disclosure and affirms it is true and accurate. The compensation disclosure information must also be published on the LWDB's website, or the department's website if the local board does not maintain a website, for a period of three years after it is first published.

The bill amends s. 445.004, F.S., to require any local performance accountability measures established to gauge the performance of a LWDB in achieving the workforce development strategy to be based on identified local area needs.

The bill amends s. 445.002, F.S., to add gross management and waste as instances which would provide cause for removal of a LWDB member and LWDB executive director.

WIOA Eligible Training Providers (Section 5)

To support informed consumer choice, with a focus on positive labor market outcomes for participants, the bill amends s. 445.003, F.S., to direct the use of WIOA workforce program funds to high-quality training providers. The DEO is required to determine high-quality training providers by adopting rules for initial and subsequent eligibility criteria for the ETPL, based on input from the CareerSource state board, LWDBs, the DOE, and other stakeholders. The bill requires a training provider who offers training for credentials identified on the Master Credentials List, as determined by the CareerSource Credentials Review Committee, to no longer be eligible for inclusion on a state or local ETPL if the provider fails to submit required information or fails to meet initial or subsequent eligibility criteria.

The bill amends s. 445.003, F.S., to require subsequent eligibility criteria to use performance and outcome measures which at a minimum, must require each program offered by a training provider to meet the following phased in criteria:

- For the 2021-2022 program year, the DEO and the DOE must set the minimum criteria a training provider program must achieve for completion, earnings, and employment rates of eligible participants. The bill requires that the minimum program criteria set must not exceed the threshold at which more than 20 percent of all eligible training provider programs in the state would fall below.

- Beginning with the 2022-2023 program year, each program offered by a training provider must, at a minimum, meet all of the following:
 - Income earnings for all individuals who complete the program that are equivalent to or above the state's minimum wage in a calendar quarter.
 - An employment rate of at least 75 percent for all individuals, with programs linked to an occupation, the employment rate must be calculated based on obtaining employment in the field in which the participant was trained.
 - A completion rate of at least 75 percent for all individuals, beginning with the 2023-2024 program year.

Credential Attainment in Florida (Section 25)

To increase momentum towards Florida's SAIL to 60 Attainment goal, and respond to those impacted by job loss or disruption due to COVID-19, the bill amends s. 1004.013, F.S., to create the Strategic Efforts to Achieve Self-Sufficiency (SEAS). SEAS creates three key strategies: the workforce opportunity portal, the Open Door Grant Program, and the Money-Back Guarantee Program.

Workforce Opportunity Portal (Section 1)

The workforce opportunity portal, created in the Office of Reimagining Education and Career Help (REACH Office) under s. 14.36, F.S., is intended to provide the public with more effective access to available federal, state, and local services and a system-wide, global view of workforce related program data across various programs through actionable qualitative and quantitative information. The goal of the portal is to help residents:

- Explore and identify career opportunities.
- Identify in-demand jobs and associated earning potential.
- Identify the skills and credentials needed for specific jobs.
- Access a broad array of federal, state, and local workforce related programs.
- Determine the quality of workforce related programs offered by public postsecondary educational institutions and public and private training providers, based on employment, wages, continued education, student loan debt, and receipt of public assistance by graduates of workforce, certificate, or degree programs.
- Identify opportunities and resources to support individuals along their career pathway.
- Provide information to help individuals understand their potential earnings through paid employment and cope with the loss of public assistance as they progress through career pathways toward self-sufficiency.
- Map the timing and magnitude of the loss of public assistance for in-demand occupations across the state to help individuals visualize how their incomes will increase over time as they move toward self-sufficiency.

Open Door Grant Program (Section 34)

The Open Door Grant Program established under s. 1009.895, F.S., provides grants to school district's postsecondary technical centers and FCS institutions to cover up to two-thirds of the cost of short-term high-demand programs for eligible students upon successful completion and award of a credential of value.

Under the Open Door Grant program, an eligible student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid and:

- For a student who does not receive state or federal aid, at the time of enrollment, the student is responsible for paying one-third of the cost of the program and signing an agreement to either complete the program or pay an additional one-third of the program cost in the event of non-completion. Grant funds may be used to cover the student's one-third of the cost of the program for students in integrated education and training programs and students who do not have a high school diploma and meet requirements established by the DOE.
- For a student who does receive state or federal aid, grant funds may be awarded to cover the unmet need after all eligible aid is accounted for.

The DOE must prioritize funding for integrated education and training programs in which institutions establish partnerships with LWDBs to provide basic skills instruction contextually and concurrently with workforce training that results in the award of credentials on the Master Credentials List. One-quarter of the appropriated grant funds must be prioritized to serve students attending rural institutions and no more than one-quarter of funds may be disbursed annually to any one eligible institution. Grant funds may be used to cover the cost of a program, which includes tuition and fees, examination, books, and materials. The DOE may not reimburse any institution more than $3,000 per completed workforce training program by an eligible student.

The bill requires the SBE to adopt rules and the DOE to administer the grant by:

- Requiring eligible institutions to provide student-specific data and make final decisions on any dispute between eligible institutions and grant recipients;
- Undertaking periodic assessments of the overall success of the grant program and recommend modifications, interventions, and other actions based on such assessments;
- Establishing the procedure by which eligible institutions shall notify the department when eligible students enroll in eligible programs; and
- Requiring each eligible institution to submit a report with data from the previous fiscal year on program completion and credential attainment by students participating in the grant program.

The DOE must provide an annual report to the SBE on program completion, attainment, and participant wage and demographics categorized by credential name and relevant occupation.

Money-Back Guarantee Program (Section 38)

The Money-Back Guarantee Program created under s. 1011.803, F.S., requires each school district and FCS institution, beginning in the 2022-2023 academic year, to refund the cost of tuition to students who are not able to find a job within six months of successful completion of select workforce related programs.

Each institution is required to offer a money-back guarantee on at least three programs that prepare individuals to enter in-demand, middle-level to high-level wage occupations, or at least 50 percent of workforce education programs if the institution offers six or fewer programs. The money-back guarantee program must be offered for all workforce education programs which are established to meet a critical local economic need and are not aligned to statewide needs identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference.

Each institution is required to establish student eligibility criteria for the program, including student attendance, career service attendance, participation in internships or work-study, job search documentation and development of a student career plan.

Institutions are required to notify the SBE of the money-back guarantee programs it offers by July 1, 2022 and information on the offered programs are required to be made available on each school district's and FCS institution's website, on the DOE's website, and on the Employ Florida website. The DOE is required to provide a report on performance results by school district, FCS institution, and program by November 1 of each year.

Florida's Healthcare Workforce (Section 26)

To address Florida's health care needs, the bill amends s. 1004.015, F.S., to require the Florida Talent Development Council (FTDC) to coordinate, facilitate, and communicate statewide efforts to meet supply and demand needs for Florida's health care workforce. The FTDC must annually, beginning December 1, 2021, report on their implementation on the council's webpage.

To support the efforts of the council, the BOG and the SBE must do the following:

- Conduct a statistically valid biennial data-driven gap analysis of the healthcare workforce. Demand must align with the Labor Market Estimating Conference.
- Provide 10-year trend information on nursing education programs. In order to collect the information, the bill requires the Department of Health, the BOG, the SBE, the Commission for Independent Education (CIE), the Independent Colleges and Universities of Florida (ICUF), and postsecondary institutions participating in the Access to Better Learning and Education (ABLE) or Effective Access to Student Education (EASE) state grant program to provide data on:
 - Number and type of programs and student slots available;
 - Number of student applications submitted, the number of qualified student applicants, and the number of students accepted;
 - Number of program graduates;
 - Program retention rates of students tracked from program entry to graduation;
 - Graduate passage rates on and the number of times each graduate took the National Council of State Boards of Nursing Licensing Examination;
 - Number of graduates who become employed as practical or professional nurses in the state; and
 - Educational advancement of nurses through career pathways by comparing their initial degree to their highest degree obtained for the preceding 10 years.
- Develop a survey for use by the Department of Health, the CIE, the ICUF, and postsecondary institutions participating in ABLE or EASE, to collect information on trends in nursing education programs. The survey must include, but is not limited to, a student's age, gender, race, ethnicity, veteran status, wage, employer information, loan debt, and retirement expectations.

Through the creation of s. 14.36, F.S., the bill requires the REACH Office to streamline the clinical placement process across the state by administering a web-based centralized clinical placement system for use by all nursing programs.

The bill amends s. 445.003, F.S., to define businesses for Incumbent Working Training Program funds to include hospitals operated by nonprofit or local government entities which provide nursing opportunities to acquire new or improved skills.¹⁹⁷

Identifying Labor Market Demand in Florida (Section 2)

The bill amends s. 216.136, F.S., to reconstitute the Workforce Estimating Conference as the Labor Market Estimating Conference.

The conference is required to develop real-time supply and demand information on Florida's statewide, regional, and local labor markets. Such information must include labor supply by education level, analyses of labor demand by occupational groups and occupations compared to labor supply, a ranking of critical areas of concern, and identification of in-demand, high-skill, middle-level to high-level wage occupations prioritized by level of statewide or regional shortages.

The Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR) is designated as the official lead for the United States Census Bureau's State Data Center Program or its successor. All state agencies are required to provide the EDR with the necessary data to accomplish the goals of the conference and that agencies must ensure that any related work product regarding labor demand and supply is consistent with the official information developed by the conference.

The conference must meet at least twice a year and as necessary to address emerging opportunities for the state's economy.

The bill makes conforming changes to reflect the Labor Market Estimating Conference and their role in developing labor demand and identification of in-demand, high-skill, high-wage occupations.

Credentials of Value

Credentials Review Committee (Section 6)

The bill amends s. 445.004, F.S., to centralize identification and designation of credentials of value by requiring the CareerSource state board to appoint a Credentials Review Committee (committee) to identify non-degree credentials and degree credentials of value for approval by the CareerSource state board and inclusion in a Master Credentials List. Credentials must include registered apprenticeship programs, industry certifications, licenses, advanced technical certificates, college credit certificates, career certificates, applied technology diplomas, associate degrees, baccalaureate degrees, and graduate degrees.

The bill provides the composition of the committee to include:

- The Chancellor of the Division of Public Schools;
- The Chancellor of the Division of Career and Adult Education;
- The Chancellor of the FCS;
- The Chancellor of the SUS;
- The Director of the REACH Office;
- Four members from LWDBs, with equal representation from urban and rural regions’;
- Two members from nonpublic postsecondary institutions;
- Two members from industry associations;
- Two members from Florida-based businesses;
- Two members from the DEO; and
- One member from the DACS.

The committee is required to establish a definition for credentials of value for Florida and create a framework of quality. The framework must align with federally funded workforce accountability requirements and undergo biennial review. The bill establishes minimum criteria to determine value for non-degree credentials to include the following:

- Evidence the credential meets labor market demand as identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference or meets local demand as identified in the criteria adopted by the Credentials Review Committee. Evidence must include employer information on present credential use or emerging opportunities.
- Evidence the competencies mastered upon completion of the credential are aligned with labor market demand.
- Evidence of employment and earnings outcomes for individuals after obtaining the credential. Earnings outcomes must provide middle-level to high-level wages with preference given to credentials generating high-level wages. Credentials that do not meet the earnings outcomes criteria must be part of a sequence of credentials required for the next level occupation that does meet the earnings outcomes criteria to be identified as a credential of value. For new credentials, this criteria may be met with conditional eligibility until measurable labor market outcomes are obtained.

The committee is required to establish criteria to determine value for degree programs. Criteria for degree programs must include evidence that the program meets the labor market demand as identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference or meets local demand as determined by the committee.

The committee is required to establish a process for the following:

- Prioritizing non-degree credentials and degree programs based on critical statewide or regional shortages;
- At a minimum, quarterly review and approval of credential applications which must be used to develop the Master Credentials List;
- Annual review of the Master Credentials List;

- Phasing out credentials on the Master Credentials List that no longer meet the framework of quality;
- Designating performance funding eligibility for credentials earned by postsecondary students, based upon the highest available certification; and
- Linking Classifications of Instructional Programs (CIP) to Standard Occupational Classifications (SOC) for all new credentials of value identified on the Master Credentials List.

The committee must identify all data elements necessary by the Florida Education and Training Placement Program (FETPIP).

All information pertaining to the committee, the process for the approval of credentials of value, and the Master Credentials List must be made publicly available and easily accessible on all relevant state agency websites.

CAPE Industry Certification Identification

Beginning with the 2022-2023 school year, the bill amends s. 4454.004, F.S., to require the CareerSource state board to produce and submit a Master Credentials List to the SBE. The list must, at a minimum, identify non-degree credentials and degree programs determined to be of value for CAPE Industry Certification funding; if the credential or degree program meets statewide, regional, or local level demand; the type of certificate, credential, or degree; and the primary standard occupation classification code. The Master Credentials List shall be used by the SBE to establish the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List beginning with the 2022-2023 school year. For the 2021-2022 school year the SBE will continue to use the certifications identified in the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List and the CAPE Postsecondary Industry Certification Funding List adopted by the SBE before October 1, 2021.

The bill amends s. 570.07, F.S., to require the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (DACS) to work with the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS) at the University of Florida and the College of Agriculture and Food Sciences at the Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University to annually submit industry certifications for agriculture occupations to the committee for consideration on the Master Credentials List.

The CAPE Industry Certification Funding List will assign additional full-time equivalent (FTE) membership (incentives) to certifications identified by the Master Credentials List that meet a statewide, regional, or local demand and courses that lead to such certifications. The bill amends s. 1008.44, F.S., to provide that additional FTE funding for regional and local demand certifications and courses that lead to such certifications may only be earned in areas with regional or local demand as identified by the Credentials Review Committee.

The bill amends s. 1003.4203, F.S., to require the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List to be comprised of CAPE industry certifications identified as credentials of value (both at the secondary and postsecondary level); CAPE digital tools certificates (removing the previous cap of no more than 30 CAPE digital tools); CAPE ESE digital tool certificates, workplace industry certifications, and OSHA industry certificates; CAPE Innovation Courses (removing the previous cap of no more than five courses); and CAPE acceleration industry certifications. The bill amends s. 1003.4935, F.S., to require middle grades career and professional academy courses and career-themed courses to lead to careers in occupations aligned to the Cape Industry Certification Funding List.

The bill amends s. 1011.81, F.S., to clarify that postsecondary industry certifications must be identified on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List and are eligible for performance funding. The bill amends s. 1011.80, F.S., to delete occupational areas for which industry certifications may be earned which are identified in the GAA for performance funding eligibility.

The bill amends s. 1008.44, F.S., to require the Chancellor of Career and Adult Education to provide the Articulation Coordinating Committee recommendations for articulation of postsecondary credit for related degrees for the approved certifications within 90 days after an industry certification has been approved for inclusion on the Master Credentials List.

State University System-Programs of Strategic Emphasis

The bill amends s. 1001.706, F.S., to require the BOG, beginning with the 2022-2023 academic year, to adopt the criteria to determine value for and prioritization of degree programs established by the committee to review and designate programs of emphasis. The bill requires the BOG to review the PSE list at least every three years to ensure alignment with the prioritization of degree credentials and degree programs identified by the committee.

Incentivizing Credentials

School Districts and Florida College System Institutions

The bill amends s. 1008.44, F.S., to require the commissioner to conduct a review of the methodology used to determine additional FTE membership weights assigned to CAPE programs and, if necessary, recommend revised weights. The weights must factor in prioritization of critical shortages of labor market demand and middle-level to high-level wage earning outcomes as identified by the Credentials Review Committee (committee). The results of the review and the commissioner's recommendations must be submitted to the Governor and the Legislature no later than December 1, 2021.

Beginning with FY 2022-2023, the bill amends s. 1011.80, F.S., to revise the formula for allocating postsecondary performance incentive funding to school district technical centers and FCS institutions. Rather than each certification, earned by a student, earning $1,000; the Credentials Review Committee is required to develop a returned-value funding formula that rewards job placements and wages for students earning industry certifications, with a focus on increasing the economic mobility of underserved populations. One-third of the performance funds must be allocated based on student job placements. The remaining two-thirds must be allocated using a tiered weighted system based on aggregate student wages that exceed minimum wage with the highest weight applied to the highest wage tier, with additional weight for underserved populations. Student wages above minimum wage are considered to be the value added by the institution's training. At a minimum, the bill requires the Credentials Review Committee to take into account variables such as differences in population and wages across school districts and the state when developing the returned-value funding formula. In addition, when developing the formula, the committee must not penalize school districts or institutions for students who postpone employment to continue their education. The bill removes an obsolete methodology for distribution of performance funds.

The bill amends s. 1003.491, F.S., to require the CAPE strategic 3-year plan developed jointly by the local school district, LWDBs, economic development agencies, and state-approved postsecondary institutions to be developed based on local and regional workforce needs for the ensuing three years, using labor projections as identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference and strategies to develop and implement career academies or career-themed courses based on occupations identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference.

Florida Education and Training Placement Information Program (FETPIP)

The bill amends s. 1008.39, F.S., to require the DOE automated system, which matches the social security numbers of former participants in state educational and training programs with information in the files of state and federal agencies that maintain educational, employment, and United States armed service records, to include former participants in workforce related programs. Additionally, the bill requires that the system incorporate any data collection elements prescribed by the Credentials Review Committee.

Workforce Development Information System (WDIS)

The bill amends s. 1008.40, F.S., to require the DOE to design the WDIS using common terms and to use the data to conduct audits, and determine compliance of workforce related programs and education and training programs with applicable federal and state requirements as authorized by federal and state law. The bill requires the DOE to establish a process for the collection, review, and reporting of Comprehensive Local Needs Assessments (CLNA) as required by federal law.

The bill requires the WDIS to link data from multiple sources for consideration in developing broad public policy initiatives for workforce related programs and requires the DOE to work with the DEO, the DCF, and other entities to define statewide education, workforce development, and employment metrics and ensure the integrity and quality of data being collected.

The bill requires the DOE to develop a workforce development metrics dashboard that measures the state's investments in workforce development. The bill requires the dashboard to be produced, to the extent feasible, using existing available data and resources that are currently collected and accessible to state agencies. To the extent feasible, the dashboard must use statistically rigorous methodologies to estimate, assess, and isolate the impact of programs on participant outcomes.

The bill the dashboard to provide the following data:

- Impact of workforce related programs on credential attainment, training completion, degree attainment, and participant wages;

- Demographic breakdowns, including, to the extent possible, race, ethnicity, age, gender, veteran status, wage, student loan debt, barriers to employment, and credential or degree outcomes, and information on workforce outcomes in different industry sectors;
- Performance data on training providers to enable individuals to make informed choices; and
- Measure, at a minimum and to the extent feasible with existing resources, the return on investment of the following workforce related programs:
 - CTE programs offered by school districts and FCS institutions;
 - Workforce related programs; and
 - State apprenticeship programs.

The bill amends s. 1003.491, F.S., to require the DOE to utilize the WDIS to conduct the annual review of CTE programs and use data captured in WDIS to provide an automated data collection process that includes the collection and evaluation of the federal CLNA, to assist in the review of programs.

Apprenticeship and Preapprenticeship Programs in Florida

To determine the impact of apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs on participants, the bill amends s. 446.032, F.S., to require the DOE to establish uniform minimum standards and policies governing apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs and agreements which must require apprenticeship training providers to submit data which is necessary to determine program performance. The bill clarifies that uniform minimum standards are the requirements established for each occupation under which an apprenticeship or preapprenticeship program is administered. The bill amends s. 446.0915, F.S., to require the DOE to adopt rules to administer such standards and policies.

The bill amends s 446.032, F.S., to require the DOE to provide the following additional information in the annual report on apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs:

- Detailed summary of each local educational agency's expenditure of total funds allocated, expended for administrative costs, and expended for instructional costs by training provider, program, and occupation;
- Documentation of the outcomes of activities conducted to promote apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs and their impact on establishing or expanding such programs;
- Retention and completion rates of participants disaggregated by training provider, program, and occupation; and
- Wage progression of participants as demonstrated by starting, exit, and post apprenticeship wages at 1 and 5 years after participants exit the program.

Florida Pathways to Career Opportunities Grant Program (Section 37)

The bill amends s. 1011.802, F.S., to require the DOE to award Florida Pathway to Career Opportunities Grants to preapprenticeship or apprenticeship programs with demonstrated regional demand which:

- address a critical statewide or regional shortage as identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference and that are industry sectors not adequately represented throughout the state, such as health care;

- address a critical statewide or regional shortage as identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference; or
- expand existing programs that exceed the median completion rate and employment rate 1 year after completion of similar programs in the region, or the state if there are no similar programs in the region.

The DOE is required to annually report on the Florida Pathways to Career Opportunities website the following information:

- number of programs funded and represented throughout the state;
- retention, completion, and employment rates, categorized by program and provider; and
- starting and ending salaries, as categorized by program and provider, for participants who complete the program.

The DOE is authorized to use up to $200,000 of the total grant allocation to administer the grant program.

The bill requires the SBE to adopt rules to implement the Pathways to Career Opportunities Grant.

Program Approval (Section 35)

The bill amends s. 1011.80, F.S., to require the SBE to develop criteria for the review and approval of new workforce education programs which are not included in the statewide curriculum framework and are proposed to be offered by a FCS institution or a school district technical center. The bill requires the criteria to be based on the framework of quality established by the Credentials Review Committee.

A FCS institution or school district is authorized to offer new workforce education programs that are already included in the statewide curriculum framework, however, these programs may not receive performance funding and add on FTE funding until they are reviewed and approved by the SBE. The bill requires an expedited SBE review process for these programs that must include, but is not limited to, the following:

- A description of the workforce education program that includes all of the following:
 - An analysis of workforce demand and unmet need for graduates of the program on a district, regional, or statewide basis, as appropriate, including evidence from entities independent of the technical center or institution
 - Geographic region to be served; and
- Documentation of collaboration among technical centers and institutions serving the same students in a geographical or service area that enhances program offerings and prevents program duplication which exceeds workforce need. Unnecessary duplication of programs offered by public and private institutions must be avoided.
- Beginning with the 2022-2023 academic year, alignment of program offerings with credentials or degree programs identified by the Credential Review Committee on the Master Credentials List.

- Articulation agreements between technical centers and FCS institutions for the enrollment of graduates in related workforce education programs.
- Documentation of alignment between the exit requirements of a technical center and the admissions requirements of a FCS institution.
- Performance and compliance indicators that will be used in determining the program's success.

The SBE is authorized to phase out workforce education program offerings that are not aligned with the framework of quality, do not meet labor market demand, or are unwarranted program duplications.

Continuing Workforce Education (CWE)

To provide clarity, the bill amends s. 1004.02, F.S., to revise the definition of CWE to mean instruction that does not result in a registered apprenticeship certificate of completion and revises the definition of workforce education to include a course or program of study which leads to a registered apprenticeship certificate of completion. The revision distinguishes apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs as a workforce education program.

To expand opportunities for apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs, the bill amends s. 1011.80, F.S., to authorize\ school districts and FCS institutions to count enrollments in apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs for purposes of funding FTE enrollment.¹⁹⁸

Career and Technical Education (CTE) Program Audit (Section 22)

The bill amends s. 1003.491, F.S., to require the DOE's annual CTE audit to examine, at a minimum, the following:

- Alignment of offerings with the framework of quality established by the Credentials Review Committee;
- Alignment of offerings at the K-12 and postsecondary levels with credentials or degree programs identified on the Master Credentials List;
- Program utilization and unwarranted duplication across institutions serving the same students in a geographical or service area; and
- Institutional performance measured by student outcomes.

The CTE audit shall use data captured through the WDIS and provide an automated data collection process that includes the collection and evaluation of the federal CLNA, to assist in the review of programs.

The commissioner is required to use the findings from the CTE audit to phase out CTE offerings which are not aligned with the framework of quality established by the Credentials Review

¹⁹⁸ School districts are presently able to report a maximum of 2,000 on-the-job training hours for apprenticeship FTE. Committee, do not meet labor market demand or institutional performance, or are unwarranted program duplications.

The bill requires the DOE to adopt rules to administer the annual review of K-12 and postsecondary CTE offerings.

Career Planning for Florida's Students

To provide students with the information necessary to explore and make decisions as they plan for their future and embark on a career pathway, the bill amends s. 1003.4156, F.S., to require secondary career and education planning courses, curriculum, and postsecondary career services to utilize state career planning resources as a student progresses along their educational experience.

At the secondary level, the bill requires the middle grades career and education planning course to include information from state career planning resources. In the character development curriculum for grades 9 through 12, the bill amends s. 1003.42, F.S., to require students to explore career pathways using state career planning resources and to create a digital resume.

At the postsecondary level, the bill amends s. 1007.25, F.S., to authorize courses that provide instruction in student life skills, including career planning and exploration, or similar, to use state career planning resources within the course and provide students with the opportunity to create a digital resume. For postsecondary student career service centers, the bill creates s. 1006.75, F.S. to require centers to prepare students for employment upon completion of their academic work. Career service centers, to the extent possible, are required to use state career planning resources to assist students in: exploring and identifying career opportunities; identifying in-demand jobs and associated earnings outcomes; understanding the skills and credentials needed for specific jobs; identifying opportunities to gain on-the-job experiences; and creating a digital resume.

Developing Workplace Readiness

To provide opportunities for students to experience and develop the skills necessary to enter the workforce and distinguish their unique skills to employers, the bill makes the changes discussed below.

Work-based Learning (Section 16)

The bill creates s. 446.090, F.s., to define a work-based learning opportunity to mean an interaction with industry or community professionals that occurs in a workplace setting, to the extent possible, or a simulated environment at an educational institution that allows firsthand experience with tasks required in a given career field, is aligned with curriculum and instruction, and is provided in partnership with an educational institution.

Work-based learning must be developmentally appropriate, identify learning objectives for the experience, explore multiple aspects of an industry, develop workplace skills and competencies, assess performance, provide opportunities for work-based reflection, link to next steps in career planning and preparation in a student's chosen career pathway, be provided in an equal and fair manner, and be documented and reported in compliance with state and federal labor law. The bill prioritizes paid work-based learning opportunities, such as apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs.

The SBE is required to adopt rules to implement work-based learning opportunities. The adopted rules must include uniform minimum standards and guidelines for determining student eligibility, obligations of employers, and requirements of institutions that offer work-based learning opportunities.

Career Readiness Credential

Beginning with students initially entering a public postsecondary institution in 2022-2023, and thereafter, the bill amends s. 1007.25, F.S., to require each student to be able to earn a nationally recognized digital credential from competencies within the general education core courses which demonstrate career readiness.

The digital credentials must be identified by a faculty committee appointed by the chair of the SBE and the chair of the BOG. The faculty committee must identify the competencies within the general education core courses which demonstrate career readiness and will result in the award of a verifiable and interoperable nationally recognized digital credential.

In order to ensure students pursuing an associate in applied science or associate in science degree may earn a digital credential, the bill requires, beginning in the 2022-2023 academic year, students entering such degree programs to complete at least one identified core course in the subject areas of communication, mathematics, social sciences, humanities, and natural sciences.

The bill requires all public postsecondary institutions to distinguish in their course catalog the general education core courses linked to earning a digital credential, and requires institutions to grant and accept the identified digital credential.

The bill provides conforming changes.

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

B. Private Sector Impact:

The bill identifies and categorizes in-demand credentials and degree programs and requires information to be made available to the public to determine the performance of these programs and training providers offering these programs, as well as long-term earnings results and impact to self-sufficiency.

Employers may incur costs to integrate with a new or modified system to post job, apprenticeship, and training opportunities.

C. Government Sector Impact:

Based on standard salaries/benefits and expense packages for a policy coordinator and associated analysts within the Governor's office, staffing the new Office of Reimagining Education and Career Help (REACH) within the Executive Office of the Governor office is estimated to require 8 full-time-equivalent (FTE) positions, at a cost of $887,503.

The cost of implementing an automated and coordinated Consumer-First Workforce Information System among the state's workforce partners is indeterminate and cannot be quantified at this time as each entity currently operates its own data systems. Analysis by the DOE and the DEO state that the cost could be between $70 million and $140 million for each program and each agency involved. Detailed analysis is required to include data governance for shared data across all entities, engineering of data interoperability and new business processes, and documentation of detailed functional requirements for the procurement of supporting technologies. Analysis should also include how current data and intake systems can be enhanced or augmented to include these functionalities. Based on historical costs related to planning information technology systems, such an analysis could cost between $1.5 million and $2 million. Funding for the Consumer-First Workforce Information System will be dependent upon consideration of the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2021-2022.

The DOE estimates they would need two additional FTE to assist with data collections and outcome reporting requirements for the development of a workforce development metrics dashboard. Based on standard salaries/benefits and expense packages associated with the personnel handling this workload, the cost will be $268,265.

The DOE estimates a need of two additional FTE to successfully implement the new reporting requirements in the Pathways to Career Opportunities Grant Program. While costs for these positions are estimated to be $199,496, the DOE states the cost for the new positions can be absorbed within the current, recurring appropriations for the program.

To the extent the Legislature provides funding for the new program, it would have an indeterminate, negative impact based on the amount of appropriations made available for the newly created Open Door Grant Program. Funding requirements for the personnel and the grant program provisions within the bill will be dependent upon consideration of the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2021-2022.

The application of the Master Credentials List and the development of a returned-value funding formula may affect the distribution of funds currently being allocated to Florida Colleges and District workforce programs, however the affect is indeterminate.

Actual expenditures Money Back Guarantee Program will vary depending on the number of guarantees that must be honored and the cost of tuition for those students.

The bill may require the incorporation of multiple federally funded programs with diverse funding and program requirements. Each agency will need to come to agreements on allocation methodologies to ensure that each federal source is appropriately charged.

379 implement the Incumbent Worker Training Program.

380 g. No more than 10 percent of the Incumbent Worker Training
381 Program's total appropriation may be used for overhead or 382 indirect purposes.

383 4. At least 50 percent of Rapid Response funding shall be
384 dedicated to Intensive Services Accounts and Individual Training
385 Accounts for dislocated workers and incumbent workers who are at 386 risk of dislocation. The department shall also maintain an 387 Emergency Preparedness Fund from Rapid Response funds, which

388 will immediately issue Intensive Service Accounts, Individual
389 Training Accounts, and other federally authorized assistance to 390 eligible victims of natural or other disasters. At the direction
391 of the Governor, these Rapid Response funds shall be released to 392 local workforce development boards for immediate use after 393 events that qualify under federal law. Funding shall also be 394 dedicated to maintain a unit at the state level to respond to 395 Rapid Response emergencies and to work with state emergency
396 management officials and local workforce development boards. All
397 Rapid Response funds must be expended based on a plan developed 398 by the state board in consultation with the department and 399 approved by the Governor.

400 (6) AUTHORITY TO HIRE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR AND STAFF.—The 401 state board may hire an executive director and staff to assist 402 in carrying out the functions of the Workforce Innovation and 403 Opportunity Act and in using funds made available through the 404 act. The state board shall require ~~authorize~~ the executive 405 director and staff to work with the department to minimize 406 duplication and maximize efficient use of resources in carrying 407 out the functions of the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity
408 Act.

409 (7) DUTIES OF THE DEPARTMENT.—The department shall adopt
410 rules to implement the requirements of this chapter, including:

411 (a) The submission, review, and approval of local workforce
412 plans.

413 (b) Initial and subsequent eligibility criteria, based on 414 input from the state board, local workforce development boards,
415 the Department of Education, and other stakeholders, for the 416 Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act eligible training

417 provider list. This list directs training resources to programs
418 leading to employment in high-demand and high-priority
419 occupations that provide economic security, particularly those 420 occupations facing a shortage of skilled workers. A training
421 provider who offers training to obtain a credential on the 422 Master Credentials List under s. 445.004(4) (h) may not be 423 included on a state or local eligible training provider list if 424 the provider fails to submit the required information or fails
425 to meet initial or subsequent eligibility criteria. Subsequent 426 eligibility criteria must use the performance and outcome
427 measures defined and reported under s. 1008.40, to determine 428 whether each program offered by a training provider is qualified 429 to remain on the list.

430 1. For the 2021-2022 program year, the Department of 431 Economic Opportunity and the Department of Education shall 432 establish the minimum criteria a training provider must achieve
433 for completion, earnings, and employment rates of eligible
434 participants. The minimum program criteria may not exceed the 435 threshold at which more than 20 percent of all eligible training
436 providers in the state would fall below.

437 2. Beginning with the 2022-2023 program year, each program
438 offered by a training provider must, at a minimum, meet all of 439 the following:

440 a. Income earnings for all individuals who complete the 441 program that are equivalent to or above the state's minimum wage
442 in a calendar quarter.

443 b. An employment rate of at least 75 percent for all
444 individuals. For programs linked to an occupation, the 445 employment rate is calculated based on obtaining employment in 446 the field in which the participant was trained.

447 c. A completion rate of at least 75 percent for all
448 individuals, beginning with the 2023-2024 program year.

449 (c) Monitoring compliance of programs authorized by this 450 chapter and determining whether such programs are meeting
451 performance expectations, including an analysis of the return on 452 investment of workforce-related programs on individual
453 employment, earnings, and public benefit usage outcomes and a
454 cost-benefit analysis of the monetary impacts of workforce
455 services from the participant and taxpayer points of view.

456 Section 6. Paragraph (d) of subsection (3), paragraphs (b)
457 and (e) of subsection (5), subsections (6), (7), and (8),
458 paragraph (b) of subsection (9), and subsection (11) of section
459 445.004, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraph (h) is 460 added to subsection (4) of that section, to read:

461 445.004 CareerSource Florida, Inc., and the state board;
462 creation; purpose; membership; duties and powers.—

463 (3)

464 (d) The state board must include the vice chairperson of 465 the board of directors of Enterprise Florida, Inc., and one
466 member representing each of the Workforce Innovation and 467 Opportunity Act partners, including the Division of Career and 468 Adult Education, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, the 469 Division of Blind Services, the Department of Children and 470 Families, and other entities representing programs identified in 471 the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act, as determined 472 necessary.

473 (4)

474 (h)1. The state board shall appoint a Credentials Review

151258

475 Committee to identify nondegree credentials and degree
476 credentials of value for approval by the state board and 477 inclusion in the Master Credentials List. Such credentials must 478 include registered apprenticeship programs, industry
479 certifications, licenses, advanced technical certificates,
480 college credit certificates, career certificates, applied
481 technology diplomas, associate degrees, baccalaureate degrees,
482 and graduate degrees. The Credentials Review Committee must 483 include:

- 484 a. The Chancellor of the Division of Public Schools.
- 485 b. The Chancellor of the Division of Career and Adult
486 Education.
- 487 c. The Chancellor of the Florida College System.
- 488 d. The Chancellor of the State University System.
- 489 e. The director of the Office of Reimagining Education and 490 Career Help.
- 491 f. Four members from local workforce development boards, 492 with equal representation from urban and rural regions.
- 493 g. Two members from nonpublic postsecondary institutions.
- 494 h. Two members from industry associations.
- 495 i. Two members from Florida-based businesses.
- 496 j. Two members from the Department of Economic Opportunity.
- 497 k. One member from the Department of Agriculture and 498 Consumer Services.

499 2. All information pertaining to the Credentials Review
500 Committee, the process for the approval of credentials of value,
501 and the Master Credentials List must be made available and be 502 easily accessible to the public on all relevant state agency
503 websites.

504 3. The Credentials Review Committee shall establish a 505 definition for credentials of value and create a framework of 506 quality. The framework must align with federally funded
507 workforce accountability requirements and undergo biennial
508 review.

509 4. The criteria to determine value for nondegree
510 credentials should, at a minimum, require:

511 a. Evidence that the credential meets labor market demand
512 as identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference created 513 in s. 216.136 or meets local demand as identified in the 514 criteria adopted by the Credentials Review Committee. Evidence 515 must include employer information on present credential use or 516 emerging opportunities.

517 b. Evidence that the competencies mastered upon completion
518 of the credential are aligned with labor market demand.

519 c. Evidence of the employment and earnings outcomes for 520 individuals after obtaining the credential. Earnings outcomes
521 must provide middle-level to high-level wages with preference
522 given to credentials generating high-level wages. Credentials
523 that do not meet the earnings outcomes criteria must be part of 524 a sequence of credentials that are required for the next level
525 occupation that does meet the earnings outcomes criteria in 526 order to be identified as a credential of value. For new 527 credentials, this criteria may be met with conditional
528 eligibility until measurable labor market outcomes are obtained.

529 5. The Credentials Review Committee shall establish the 530 criteria to determine value for degree programs. This criteria
531 shall include evidence that the program meets the labor market
532 demand as identified by the Labor Market Estimating Conference

533 created in s. 216.136 or meets local demand as determined by the 534 committee. Such criteria must be used to designate programs of 535 emphasis under s. 1001.706 and to guide the development of 536 program standards and benchmarks under s. 1004.92.

537 6. The Credentials Review Committee shall establish a
538 process for prioritizing nondegree credentials and degree
539 programs based on critical statewide or regional shortages.

540 7. The Credentials Review Committee shall establish a
541 process for:

542 a. At a minimum, quarterly review and approval of 543 credential applications. Approved credentials of value shall be 544 used by the committee to develop the Master Credentials List.

545 b. Annual review of the Master Credentials List.

546 c. Phasing out credentials on the Master Credentials List
547 which no longer meet the framework of quality.

548 d. Designating performance funding eligibility under ss.
549 1011.80 and 1011.81, based upon the highest available
550 certification for postsecondary students.

551 e. Beginning with the 2022-2023 school year, the state
552 board shall submit the Master Credentials List to the State
553 Board of Education. The list must, at a minimum, identify 554 nondegree credentials and degree programs determined to be of 555 value for purposes of ss. 1008.44 and 1011.62(1); if the 556 credential or degree program meets statewide, regional, or local 557 level demand; the type of certificate, credential, or degree;
558 and the primary standard occupation classification code. For the 559 2021-2022 school year, the Master Credentials List shall be 560 composed of the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List and the 561 CAPE Postsecondary Industry Certification Funding List under ss.

562 1008.44 and 1011.62(1) and adopted by the State Board of 563 Education before October 1, 2021.

564 8. The Credentials Review Committee shall establish a
565 process for linking Classifications of Instructional Programs
566 (CIP) to Standard Occupational Classifications (SOC) for all new 567 credentials of value identified on the Master Credentials List.
568 The CIP code aligns instructional programs to occupations. A CIP
569 to SOC link indicates that programs classified in the CIP code
570 category prepare individuals for jobs classified in the SOC code
571 category. The state board shall submit approved CIP to SOC
572 linkages to the State Board of Education with each credential
573 that is added to the Master Credentials List.

574 9. The Credentials Review Committee shall identify all data 575 elements necessary to collect information on credentials by the 576 Florida Education and Training Placement Program automated
577 system under s. 1008.39.

578 10. The Credentials Review Committee shall develop a
579 returned-value funding formula as provided under ss.
580 1011.80(7)(b) and 1011.81(2)(b). When developing the formula,
581 the committee may not penalize Florida College System
582 institutions or school districts if students postpone employment
583 to continue their education.

584 (5) The state board has all the powers and authority not 585 explicitly prohibited by statute which are necessary or 586 convenient to carry out and effectuate its purposes as 587 determined by statute, Pub. L. No. 113-128, and the Governor, as 588 well as its functions, duties, and responsibilities, including,
589 but not limited to, the following:

590 (b) Providing policy direction to ensure that the following

591 programs are administered by the department consistent with 592 approved plans:

593 1. Programs authorized under Title I of the Workforce
594 Innovation and Opportunity Act, Pub. L. No. 113-128, with the 595 exception of programs funded directly by the United States
596 Department of Labor under Title I, s. 167.

597 2. Programs authorized under the Wagner-Peyser Act of 1933,
598 as amended, 29 U.S.C. ss. 49 et seq.

599 3. Activities authorized under Title II of the Trade Act of 600 2002, as amended, 19 U.S.C. ss. 2272 et seq., and the Trade
601 Adjustment Assistance Program.

602 4. Activities authorized under 38 U.S.C. chapter 41,
603 including job counseling, training, and placement for veterans.

604 5. Employment and training activities carried out under 605 funds awarded to this state by the United States Department of 606 Housing and Urban Development.

607 6. Welfare transition services funded by the Temporary
608 Assistance for Needy Families Program, created under the 609 Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act

615 provided under the Food and Nutrition Act of 2008, 7 U.S.C. ss.
616 2011-2032; the Food Security Act of 1988, Pub. L. No. 99-198;
617 the Hunger Prevention Act, Pub. L. No. 100-435; and the 618 Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018, Pub. L. No. 115-334.

619 9. The Quick-Response Training Program, provided under ss.

620 288.046-288.047. Matching funds and in-kind contributions that 621 are provided by clients of the Quick-Response Training Program
622 count toward the requirements of s. 288.904, pertaining to the 623 return on investment from activities of Enterprise Florida, Inc.

624 10. The Work Opportunity Tax Credit, provided under the Tax
625 and Trade Relief Extension Act of 1998, Pub. L. No. 105-277, and 626 the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, Pub. L. No. 105-34.

627 11. Offender placement services, provided under ss.
628 944.707-944.708.

630 ~~The department may adopt rules necessary to administer this~~ 631 ~~chapter which relate to implementing and administering the~~
632 ~~programs listed in this paragraph as well as rules related to~~ 633 ~~eligible training providers and auditing and monitoring~~
634 ~~subrecipients of the workforce system grant funds.~~

635 (e) Ensuring that the state does not waste valuable
636 training resources. The state board's policy is that all
637 resources, including equipment purchased for training Workforce
638 Innovation and Opportunity Act clients, be available for use at 639 all times by eligible populations as first priority users. At 640 times when eligible populations are not available, such 641 resources shall be used for any other state-authorized education
642 and training purpose. The state board and any of its committees,
643 councils, or administrative entities may authorize expenditures
644 to award suitable framed certificates, pins, or other tokens of 645 recognition for performance by a local workforce development
646 board, its committees and subdivisions, and other units of the 647 workforce system. The state board may also authorize 648 expenditures for promotional items, such as t-shirts, hats, or

151258

649 pens printed with messages promoting the state's workforce
650 system to employers, job seekers, and program participants.
651 However, such expenditures are subject to federal regulations
652 applicable to the expenditure of federal funds.

653 (6) The state board shall ~~may take action that it deems~~
654 ~~necessary to~~ achieve the purposes of this section by, ~~including,~~ 655 ~~but not limited to:~~

656 (a) Creating a state employment, education, and training
657 policy that ensures workforce-related programs ~~that programs to~~ 658 ~~prepare workers~~ are responsive to present and future business
659 and industry needs and complement the initiatives of Enterprise
660 Florida, Inc.

661 (b) Establishing policy direction for a uniform funding
662 system that prioritizes evidence-based, results-driven solutions
663 by providing ~~provides~~ incentives to improve the outcomes of 664 career education, registered apprenticeship, and work-based 665 learning programs and that focuses resources on occupations
666 related to new or emerging industries that add greatly to the 667 value of the state's economy.

668 (c) Establishing a comprehensive policy related to the 669 education and training of target populations such as those who 670 have disabilities, are economically disadvantaged, receive 671 public assistance, are not proficient in English, or are 672 dislocated workers. This approach should ensure the effective
673 use of federal, state, local, and private resources in reducing 674 the need for public assistance by combining two or more sources
675 of funding to support workforce-related programs or activities
676 for vulnerable populations.

677 (d) Identifying barriers to coordination and alignment

151258

678 among workforce-related programs and activities and developing 679 solutions to remove such barriers.

680 (e) Maintaining a Master Credentials List that:

681 1. Serves as a public and transparent inventory of state-
682 approved credentials of value.

683 2. Directs the use of federal and state funds for workforce
684 education and training programs that lead to approved
685 credentials of value.

686 3. Guides workforce education and training programs by 687 informing the public of the credentials that have value in the 688 current or future job market

689 ~~(d) Designating Institutes of Applied Technology composed~~ 690 ~~of public and private postsecondary institutions working~~
691 ~~together with business and industry to ensure that career~~
692 ~~education programs use the most advanced technology and~~
693 ~~instructional methods available and respond to the changing~~
694 ~~needs of business and industry.~~

695 ~~(e) Providing policy direction for a system to project and~~ 696 ~~evaluate labor market supply and demand using the results of the~~ 697 ~~Workforce Estimating Conference created in s. 216.136 and the~~ 698 ~~career education performance standards identified under s.~~
699 ~~1008.43.~~

700 ~~(f) Reviewing the performance of public programs that are~~ 701 ~~responsible for economic development, education, employment, and~~ 702 ~~training. The review must include an analysis of the return on~~ 703 ~~investment of these programs.~~

704 ~~(g) Expanding the occupations identified by the Workforce~~
705 ~~Estimating Conference to meet needs created by local emergencies~~
706 ~~or plant closings or to capture occupations within emerging~~

707 ~~industries.~~

708 (7) By December 1 of each year, the state board, in 709 consultation with the department, shall submit to the Governor, 710 the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of 711 Representatives, the Senate Minority Leader, and the House
712 Minority Leader a complete and detailed annual report setting
713 forth:

714 (a) All audits and investigations, ~~including any audit~~
715 ~~conducted under subsection (8).~~

719 stop centers.

720 (d) The progress on implementing solutions to address
721 barriers to coordination and alignment among programs and 722 activities identified under paragraph (6) (d).

723 (8) Annually, beginning July 1, 2022, the state board shall 724 assign and make public a letter grade for each local workforce
725 development board using the criteria established by the Office
726 of Reimagining Education and Career Help under s. 14.36 Pursuant 727 ~~to his or her own authority or at the direction of the~~
728 ~~Legislative Auditing Committee, the Auditor General may conduct~~
729 ~~an audit of the state board and CareerSource Florida, Inc., or~~
730 ~~the programs or entities created by the state board. The Office~~
731 ~~of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability,~~
732 ~~pursuant to its authority or at the direction of the Legislative~~ 733 ~~Auditing Committee, may review the systems and controls related~~
734 ~~to performance outcomes and quality of services of the state~~
735 ~~board and CareerSource Florida, Inc.~~

736 (9) The state board, in collaboration with the local 737 workforce development boards and appropriate state agencies and 738 local public and private service providers, shall establish 739 uniform performance accountability measures that apply across 740 the core programs to gauge the performance of the state and 741 local workforce development boards in achieving the workforce
742 development strategy.

743 (b) The performance accountability measures for each local 744 area consist of the primary indicators of performance, any 745 additional indicators of performance, and a local level of 746 performance for each indicator pursuant to Pub. L. No. 113-128.
747 The local level of performance is determined by the local board,
748 the chief elected official, and the Governor pursuant to Pub. L.
749 No. 113-128, Title I, s. 116(c). Any local performance
750 accountability measures that are established must be based on 751 identified local area needs.

752 (11) The workforce development system must use local design
753 and control of service delivery and targeted activities. The 754 state board, in consultation with the department, is responsible 755 for ensuring that local workforce development boards have a
756 membership consistent with the requirements of federal and state
757 law and have developed a plan consistent with the state's 758 workforce development strategy. The plan must specify methods
759 for allocating the resources and programs in a manner that 760 eliminates unwarranted duplication, minimizes administrative 761 costs, meets the existing job market demands and the job market
762 demands resulting from successful economic development
763 activities, ensures access to quality workforce development
764 services for all Floridians, allows for pro rata or partial

151258

765 distribution of benefits and services, prohibits the creation of 766 a waiting list or other indication of an unserved population,
767 serves as many individuals as possible within available
768 resources, and maximizes successful outcomes. The state board
769 shall establish incentives for effective alignment and 770 coordination of federal and state programs and those identified
771 by the Office of Reimagining Education and Career Help under s.
772 14.36(4) (e), outline rewards for long-term self-sufficiency of 773 successful job placements participants, and institute
774 collaborative approaches among local service providers.

775 Section 7. Subsection (2) of section 445.006, Florida
776 Statutes, is amended, and subsection (4) is added to that 777 section, to read:

778 445.006 State plan for workforce development.—

779 (2) STRATEGIC PLANNING ELEMENTS.—The state board, in 780 conjunction with state and local partners in the workforce
781 development system, shall develop strategic planning elements,
782 pursuant to Pub. L. No. 113-128, Title I, s. 102, for the state
783 plan.

784 (a) The strategic planning elements of the state plan must 785 include, but need not be limited to, strategies for:

786 1. Fulfilling the workforce system goals and strategies
787 prescribed in s. 445.004.†

788 2. Aggregating, integrating, and leveraging workforce
789 system resources.†

790 3. Coordinating the activities of federal, state, and local 791 workforce system partners.†

792 4. Addressing the workforce needs of small businesses.†~~and~~

793 5. Fostering the participation of rural communities and 794 distressed urban cores in the workforce system.

795 (b) The strategic planning elements must include criteria
796 for allocating workforce resources to local workforce
797 development boards. With respect to allocating funds to serve
798 customers of the welfare transition program, such criteria may 799 include weighting factors that indicate the relative degree of 800 difficulty associated with securing and retaining employment
801 placements for specific subsets of the welfare transition
802 caseload.

803 (c) The state plan must describe:

804 1. How the activities will be carried out by the respective 805 core programs to implement the strategy and how the activities
806 will be aligned across the programs and among the entities
807 administering the programs, including using coenrollment and 808 other strategies.

809 2. How the activities will be aligned with other activities
810 that are provided under employment, training, education,
811 including career and technical education, and human services
812 programs that are not covered by the state plan, as appropriate, 813 to avoid duplication and assure coordination.

814 3. How the entities carrying out the respective core
815 programs will coordinate activities and provide comprehensive,
816 high-quality services, including supportive services, to 817 individuals.

818 4. How the state's strategy to engage Florida College
819 System institutions and local career and technical education
820 schools as partners in the workforce development system will 821 enable the state to leverage other federal, state, and local 822 investments and increase access to workforce development

823 programs at those institutions.

824 5. How the activities will be coordinated with economic 825 development strategies.

826 6. How the state's strategy will improve access to 827 activities leading to a state approved recognized postsecondary
828 credential, including a credential that is an industry
829 recognized certificate or certification that is portable and 830 builds on additional education or training.

831 (4) WAIVERS.—The department shall prepare a federal waiver
832 to be submitted by the Governor to the United States Department
833 of Labor which:

834 (a) Allows the state board to fulfill the roles and 835 responsibilities of local workforce development boards or that 836 reduces the number of local workforce development boards based 837 on population size and commuting patterns in order to:

838 1. Eliminate multiple layers of administrative entities to 839 improve coordination of the workforce development system.

840 2. Establish consistent eligibility standards across the 841 state to improve the accountability of workforce-related 842 programs.

843 3. Provide greater flexibility in the allocation of 844 resources to maximize the funds directed to training and 845 business services.

846 (b) Allows the Governor to reallocate funds among local 847 areas that have a demonstrated need for additional funding and 848 programmatic outcomes that will maximize the use of the 849 additional funds to serve low-income individuals, public
850 assistance recipients, dislocated workers, and unemployment
851 insurance claimants.

852 Section 8. Section 445.007, Florida Statutes, is amended to 853 read:

854 445.007 Local workforce development boards.—

855 (1) One local workforce development board shall be 856 appointed in each designated service delivery area and shall 857 serve as the local workforce development board pursuant to Pub.

908 serve staggered terms and may not serve for more than 8
909 consecutive years, unless such member is a representative of a

151258

910 governmental entity. Service in a term of office which commenced
911 before July 1, 2021, does not count toward the 8-year
912 limitation.

913 (b) The Governor may remove a member of the local board,
914 the executive director of the local board, or the designated 915 person responsible for the operational and administrative 916 functions of the local board for cause.

151258

939 competitive process was used to select the administrative 940 entity.

941 (c) Provide ongoing oversight related to administrative 942 costs, duplicated services, career counseling, economic

954 Consistent with the intent of the Workforce Innovation and 955 Opportunity Act, local ~~workforce development~~ boards should 956 provide the greatest possible choice of training providers to 957 those who qualify for training services. A local ~~workforce~~
958 ~~development~~ board may not restrict the choice of training
959 providers based upon cost, location, or historical training
960 arrangements. However, a local board may restrict the amount of 961 training resources available to any one client. Such 962 restrictions may vary based upon the cost of training in the 963 client's chosen occupational area. The local ~~workforce~~
964 ~~development~~ board may be designated as a one-stop operator and 965 direct provider of intake, assessment, eligibility
966 determinations, or other direct provider services except

151258

968 agreement of the chief elected official and the Governor as 969 specified in 29 U.S.C. s. 2832(f)(2). The state board shall 970 establish procedures by which a local ~~workforce development~~
971 board may request permission to operate under this section and

987 local ~~workforce development~~ boards shall apply the procurement
988 and expenditure procedures required by federal law and policies
989 of the department and the state board for the expenditure of 990 federal, state, and nonpass-through funds. The making or 991 approval of smaller, multiple payments for a single purchase
992 with the intent to avoid or evade the monetary thresholds and 993 procedures established by federal law and policies of the 994 department and the state board is grounds for removal for cause.
995 Local ~~workforce development~~ boards, their administrative 996 entities, committees, and subcommittees, and other workforce

151258

997 units may authorize expenditures to award suitable framed
998 certificates, pins, or other tokens of recognition for

1006 federal regulations applicable to the expenditure of federal 1007 funds. All contracts executed by local ~~workforce development~~
1008 boards must include specific performance expectations and 1009 deliverables.

1010 (10) State and federal funds provided to the local 1011 workforce development boards may not be used directly or 1012 indirectly to pay for meals, food, or beverages for members, 1013 staff, or employees of local ~~workforce development~~ boards, the 1014 state board, or the department except as expressly authorized by 1015 state law. Preapproved, reasonable, and necessary per diem
1016 allowances and travel expenses may be reimbursed. Such 1017 reimbursement shall be at the standard travel reimbursement
1018 rates established in s. 112.061 and shall be in compliance with 1019 all applicable federal and state requirements. The department
1020 shall provide fiscal and programmatic guidance to the state
1021 board, CareerSource Florida, Inc., and all local ~~workforce~~
1022 ~~development~~ boards to hold both the state and local ~~workforce~~ 1023 ~~development~~ boards strictly accountable for adherence to the 1024 policy and subject to regular and periodic monitoring by the 1025 department. Local boards are prohibited from expending state or

1038 specified by the department, must be submitted to the department
1039 for review and approval. Such a contract must be approved by a 1040 two-thirds vote of the local board, a quorum having been 1041 established; all conflicts of interest must be disclosed before 1042 the vote in a manner consistent with the procedures outlined in 1043 s. 112.3143(4); and any member who may benefit from the 1044 contract, or whose organization or relative may benefit from the 1063 by the local board or department, whichever is later. Such 1064 contracts must remain published on the website for at least 1

1065 year after termination of the contract.

1067 subsection, the department shall review and consider all
1068 documentation provided to the department by the local board,
1069 including the performance of the entity with which the local 1070 board is proposing to contract with, if applicable, and the 1071 nature, size, and makeup of the business community served by the

1088 budget must remain published on the website for the duration of 1089 the fiscal year for which it accounts for the expenditure of 1090 funds.

1091 (13) Each local workforce development board shall annually,

I. Summary:

CS/SB 102 creates section 16.65, Florida Statutes, which establishes a system wherein the Attorney General, as the state’s chief legal officer, is responsible for the prosecution, management, and coordination of any civil proceedings brought by governmental entities in matters of great governmental concern. The bill defines a “matter of great governmental concern” as any fact, circumstance, or conduct that has caused substantial economic loss or other harm of a similar nature to governmental entities in fifteen or more counties in this state.

The bill endows the Legislature with authority to declare a matter to be a matter of great governmental concern by concurrent resolution. The Legislature also has the authority to amend or rescind such resolution. A declaration of a matter of great governmental concern provides the Attorney General with the sole authority to file a civil proceeding on behalf of the affected governmental entities in the state unless and until that declaration is rescinded by the Legislature.

Under the bill, the Attorney General may take any legal action he or she determines is in the public interest as long as such action is not inconsistent with the terms or provisions of the Legislature’s resolution declaring the matter to be a matter of great governmental concern. When a matter is declared a matter of great governmental concern, the Attorney General is expressly provided the following procedural rights in state or federal court civil litigation:

- May institute or intervene in any legal proceeding, including any pending appeal;
- May consolidate, dismiss, release, settle, or take action that he or she believes to be in the public interest;

- A declaration operates to abate or stay any relevant civil proceeding filed by a governmental entity unless and until the Attorney General takes action in such proceeding; and
- Any statute of limitations under Florida law affecting a claim by a governmental entity is tolled for the declaration's pendency or one year, whichever is shorter.

The bill provides that public officials and employees involved in a matter of great governmental concern have to furnish relevant assistance and information to the Attorney General, including notice of any pending civil proceeding related to a matter of great governmental concern.

The bill requires that any award for damages or monetary payment from a settlement arising from a matter of great governmental concern is subject to full appropriation by the Legislature and may not be appropriated, expended, or encumbered by the Attorney General or the terms of a settlement agreement. Also, any settlement or resolution of a civil proceeding by a governmental entity taken after a declaration without the Attorney General's consent is void.

The bill states that the Department of Legal Affairs is exempt from section 120.57(3), Florida Statutes, for purposes relevant to a matter of great governmental concern.

The bill also provides a procedure for an attorney to receive from any recovery reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred in connection with representing a governmental entity before the Attorney General issues a declaration. The bill describes the various criteria a court must consider when calculating the amount of any reasonable attorney fees.

The bill takes effect upon becoming law.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Executive Branch and Cabinet

Like the federal system, Florida's state government is divided into three branches: the executive branch, the legislative branch, and the judicial branch. The governor of Florida is the chief executive of Florida and the State's chief administrative officer responsible for the planning and budgeting for the State and serves as chair when the governor and the Florida Cabinet sit as a decision-making body in various constitutional roles. The governor has the power to execute Florida's laws and to call out the state militia to preserve the public peace, being commander-in-chief of the State's military forces that are not in active service of the United States.¹

Florida is unique among U.S. states in its cabinet-style government. Members of the Florida Cabinet are independently elected and have equal footing with the governor on issues under the Cabinet's jurisdiction. The Cabinet consists of the attorney general, the commissioner of agriculture, and the chief financial officer. Along with the governor, each member carries one vote in the cabinet decision-making process. In the event of a tie, the side of the governor is the prevailing side. Cabinet elections are held every four years, on even-numbered years not divisible by four (such as 2018, 2022, etc.).²

² Article IV, Sections 1 and 4, of the Florida Constitution.

The State Attorney General

The Florida attorney general is the State's chief legal officer. The attorney general is responsible for and the head of the Department of Legal Affairs.³ As with other elected statewide offices in Florida, the attorney general is limited to serving two consecutive four-year terms. The attorney general is second (behind the lieutenant governor) in the line of succession to the Governor of Florida's office.⁴

Roles and Functions of the Attorney General

The Attorney General has various roles and functions within Florida's government and legal system. These responsibilities are outlined in the Florida Constitution and state statute. The Attorney General performs the following responsibilities:⁵

- Defends the constitutionality of statutes duly enacted by the Legislature;
- Issues formal legal opinions at the request of various public officials on questions relating to the application of state law;
- Is responsible for protecting Florida consumers from various types of fraud and enforcing the state's antitrust laws;
- Protects Floridians in Medicaid fraud cases;
- Defends the state in civil litigation cases;
- Represents the people of Florida when criminals appeal their convictions in state and federal courts; and
- Administers programs to assist victims of crime.

The Office of the Attorney General also houses and oversees other officials and departments. The Solicitor General is a position within the Office of the Attorney General. The Solicitor General is appointed by and serves at the pleasure of the Attorney General. The Solicitor General oversees civil and criminal appeals involving the State and has the authority to decide whether the State should appeal a case to the Florida Supreme Court, United States Supreme Court, or the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeal, as well as the authority to decide whether the State should file or join an amicus brief in state or federal court.⁶

Furthermore, the Attorney General appoints the Statewide Prosecution from a list of nominees selected by the Florida Supreme Court Judicial Nominating Commission. The Statewide Prosecutor serves four years terms and acts as the agency head for eight offices throughout the state that targets widespread criminal activities throughout Florida, including identity theft, drug trafficking, and gang activity.⁷

The Office of the Attorney General also houses the Florida Commission on the Status of Women, the Council on the Social Status of Black Men and Boys, and the Office of Civil Rights, which investigates and takes legal action against civil rights violations.⁸

Attorney General Common Law Powers

In addition to the Attorney General's variety of constitutional and statutory powers, courts have ruled that state attorney generals have broad legal powers under common law. The common law provides the Attorney General with authority to intervene in matters of compelling public interest. Under common law, the Attorney General has the power and duty to prosecute all actions necessary to protect and defend the state's property and revenue.⁹ Moreover, in Florida, the attorney general is in many respects judicial in character and is clothed with considerable discretion. This considerable discretion includes the Attorney General's power to institute litigation on his or her own initiative.¹⁰

In the case of State of Fla. ex rel. Shevin v. Exxon Corp., the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit ruled that the Attorney General of Florida retains common-law powers, and in the absence of an express legislative provision to the contrary, the Attorney General's common law powers prevail.¹¹

The Doctrine of Parens Patriae¹²

The sovereign role of states and the exercise of police power is to promote the people's health, safety, and welfare. In service of this sovereign responsibility, states may vindicate their interest in the citizenships' welfare through a legal action referred to as parens patriae. The Latin phrase Parens patriae means "parent of the country." Under this legal action, states may recover costs or damages incurred because of behavior that threatens the state's citizenry's health, safety, and welfare.¹³

American courts have uniformly recognized a state's authority to sue as parens patriae. In this legal action, the state alleges that a defendant's misbehavior harmed the state's interest in protecting its citizens and its interest in enforcing civil and criminal law. More specifically, parens patriae actions have been ruled appropriate for suits seeking to abate public nuisances, maintain access to energy sources, halt price-fixing, and enforce state anti-trust laws. In the United States, parens patriae actions were greatly expanded over the 1900s and have been described as an increasingly popular vehicle for state attorneys general to vindicate their constituents' rights.¹⁴

¹⁴ See Mississippi ex rel. Hood, 876 F.Supp.2d 758 (S.D.Miss. 2014).

A parens patriae action by a state is typically reserved for breaches of duty or inflictions of damages on a statewide scale, warranting civil state involvement in litigation. A state is not permitted to enter a controversy as a nominal party to forward individual citizens' claims. But it may act as the representative of its citizens in original actions where the injury alleged affects the general population of a state in a substantial way.¹⁵ Parens patriae actions are disfavored where the injury falls “on a small group of citizens who are likely to challenge” the harm directly. But where “a great many citizens ... are faced with increased costs aggregating millions of dollars per year” and “cannot be expected to litigate [the issue] given that the amounts paid by each consumer are likely to be relatively small, parens patriae suits are appropriate. Parens patriae statutes are most common in the antitrust and consumer protection contexts.¹⁶

Procedural Limits to Attorney General Common Law Powers in Litigation

Although the Attorney General has broad authority to litigate matters in the public interest, courts have ruled that the Attorney General must still abide by relevant judicial procedures and rules. In the case of Bondi v. Tucker, Florida’s First District Court of Appeal ruled that when the Attorney General does appear in court as a party litigant, he or she is subject to the same rules of judicial procedure which other litigants must observe. In this case, Attorney General Bondi failed to participate as a party in the lower tribunal proceedings and was denied the ability to invoke appellate proceedings individually. In its decision, the court expressly recognizes that courts maintain discretion to enforce judicial procedure even when the Attorney General is involved.¹⁷

Instances of State Involvement in Civil Litigation

Petroleum Products Overcharges

In Hawaii v. Standard Oil, the state of Hawaii brought a complaint against companies involved in the petroleum industry, alleging defendants violated the Sherman Act, 26 Stat. 209, 15 U.S.C. s 1, by entering into unlawful contracts; by conspiring and combining to restrain trade and commerce in the sale, marketing, and distribution of refined petroleum products; and by attempting to monopolize and actually monopolizing trade and commerce in the petroleum industry.¹⁸

The State sought to recover damages in three distinct capacities. First, the state claimed it suffered damages in its proprietary capacity for overcharges for petroleum products sold to the State itself. Second, as parens patriae, Hawaii sought similar damages for overcharges paid by the State's citizens. Third, the state looked to recover damages as the representative of all purchasers in Hawaii for the overcharges.¹⁹

In this case, the Supreme Court held that the State of Hawaii could seek damages for its citizens via a parens patriae suit alleging antitrust violations.²⁰

Liquid Crystal Display Price-fixing

In the case of Mississippi ex rel. Hood v. AU Optronics Corp., the Attorney General of Mississippi filed a state court parens patriae suit on behalf of the State of Mississippi against manufacturers, marketers, sellers, and distributors of liquid crystal display (LCD) panels, alleging that defendants engaged in a price-fixing scheme in violation of Mississippi Consumer Protection Act (MCPA) and Mississippi Antitrust Act (MAA).²¹

The State sought the following relief: (1) a permanent injunction prohibiting the defendants from continuing to engage in anti-competitive behavior; (2) civil penalties of $10,000 per LCD panel product sold in Mississippi during the relevant time period, pursuant to the MCPA; (3) civil penalties of up to $2,000 per month, per defendant for violations of the MAA during the relevant time period; (4) restitution to the State for its own losses caused by purchasing LCD panel products during the relevant time period; (5) restitution to the State on behalf of its citizens and local governments who suffered losses by purchasing LCD panel products during the relevant time period; (6) punitive damages; and (7) other relief including costs of court, pre- and post-judgment interest, and attorney's fees.²²

The ruling in this case mainly involved whether Mississippi's claims were subject to the Class Action Fairness Act provisions and must be brought in federal court or could be brought in state court. The court in this case ultimately ruled that Mississippi's Attorney General may maintain a parens patriae suit in state court, to enforce Mississippi's consumer protection and antitrust laws, for the economic well-being of Mississippi's consumers and governmental entities, and that the general public exception to Class Action Fairness Act applied to prevent removal to federal court.²³

2010 Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill

On April 20, 2010, the Transocean offshore oil rig, Deepwater Horizon, under the operation of BP, exploded in the Gulf of Mexico, causing an estimated 4.9 million barrels of crude oil to spill into the ocean approximately 45 miles south of the Louisiana coast. Florida Governor Charlie Crist issued a state of emergency as a result of the spreading oil spill.²⁴

On April 4, 2016, Florida, the four other affected Gulf States, the federal government, and BP entered into a Consent Decree, "In re: Oil Spill by the Oil Rig "Deepwater Horizon" in the Gulf of Mexico on April 20, 2010" (no. 2179, M.D.L, document no. 15), that awarded civil and criminal penalties in the amount of $20.8 billion to the United States and the five Gulf States to be paid by parties responsible for the oil spill. In a separate agreement, BP agreed to pay a total of $4.9 billion to the five Gulf States and up to $1 billion to local government entities for economic damage claims related to the Deepwater Horizon incident.²⁵ In July of 2016, Attorney General Pam Bondi received the first settlement payment from BP for $400 million.²⁶

To administer the settlement funds paid by BP, the Florida Legislature established the Triumph Gulf Coast, Inc., a nonprofit corporation created pursuant to s. 288.8013, F.S. Under s. 288.8013(2), F.S., seventy-five percent of all payments to the state pursuant to the settlement agreement with BP are transferred immediately by the Chief Financial Officer from the General Revenue Fund to the Triumph Gulf Coast Trust Fund. Triumph Gulf Coast, Inc. is responsible for allocating settlement funds by providing awards for public and private projects within each disproportionately affected county's geographic boundaries.²⁷

Opioid Epidemic

From 1999 to 2016, it is estimated 453,300 Americans have died from opioids.²⁸ The opioid epidemic was initially caused by the over-prescription of opioids in the 1990s, which led to them becoming the most prescribed class of medications in the United States. The U.S. Department of Justice has found that civil and criminal violations by opioid manufacturers substantially contributed to the opioid epidemic.²⁹

In the aftermath of this epidemic, numerous state, county, and city governments have brought civil claims against opioid manufacturers to recoup damages related to the opioid epidemic. In 2019, opioid distributors McKesson Corp., AmerisourceBergen, Cardinal Health, and drug manufacturer Teva Pharmaceuticals agreed to a $260 million settlement with Cuyahoga and Summit counties in Ohio.³⁰ Also in 2019, an Oklahoma judge ruled that Johnson and Johnson must pay the state of Oklahoma $572 million as damages for actions that contributed to the opioid epidemic.³¹

In Florida, Broward County, Broward Health Hospital District, and 26 other governmental entities and institutions across the state have also joined civil litigation against Purdue Pharma, Johnson & Johnson, Abbott Laboratories, and others in the prescription opioid industry. The

On February 4, 2021, Attorney General Ashley Moody announced that her office secured millions of dollars for Florida through efforts to hold accountable corporations responsible for helping fuel the deadly opioid epidemic. Florida joined a coalition of 47 states, the District of Columbia, and five U.S. territories in the $573 million action with one of the world's largest consulting firms, McKinsey & Company. The multistate action resolved investigations into the company's role in working for opioid companies to promote products that fueled the opioid epidemic. As a result, Florida will receive more than $40 million—a majority of which will be made available for allocation by Florida lawmakers.³³

Similarly, on March 16, 2021, Attorney General Moody announced that her office secured additional funding for Florida communities from Purdue Pharma's bankruptcy plan, which is worth approximately $7 billion in total.³⁴

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill creates s. 16.65, F.S., which establishes a system wherein the Attorney General, as the state's chief legal officer, is responsible for the prosecution, management, and coordination of any civil proceedings brought by governmental entities in matters of great governmental concern.

The bill includes legislative findings that a single official representing governmental entities in civil proceedings in matters of great governmental concern will maximize recoveries and minimize costs. The bill states it is the intent of the Legislature to establish a procedure for use by the Attorney General in addressing matters of great governmental concern, and that the act is not intended to expand or change existing law with respect to the power and authority of the Attorney General.

The bill defines "governmental entity" to mean the state and any department, agency, political subdivision, unit of government, or school district thereof. A "matter of great governmental concern" is defined as any fact, circumstance, or conduct that has caused substantial economic loss or other harm of a similar nature to governmental entities in fifteen or more counties in this state.

The bill endows the Legislature with authority to declare a matter to be a matter of great governmental concern by concurrent resolution. The Legislature also has the authority to amend or rescind such resolution. A declaration of a matter of great governmental concern provides the Attorney General with the sole authority to file a civil proceeding on behalf of the affected governmental entities in the state unless and until that declaration is rescinded by the Legislature. Under the bill, when a matter is declared a matter of great governmental concern, the Attorney General may institute or intervene in any governmental entity legal proceeding, including any pending appeal, and may consolidate, dismiss, release, settle, or take action that he or she believes to be in the public interest, as long as such action is not inconsistent with the terms of the Legislature's resolution. The Legislature's declaration operates to abate or stay any relevant civil proceeding filed by a governmental entity unless and until the Attorney General takes action in such proceeding. A declaration by the Legislature also tolls any statute of limitations under Florida law affecting a claim by a governmental entity for the declaration's pendency or 1 year, whichever is shorter.

The bill provides that public officials and employees involved in a matter of great governmental concern have to furnish relevant assistance and information to the Attorney General, including notice of any pending civil proceeding related to a matter of great governmental concern.

The bill requires that any award for damages or monetary payment from a settlement arising from a matter of great governmental concern is subject to full appropriation by the Legislature and may not be appropriated, expended, or encumbered by the Attorney General or the terms of a settlement agreement. Also, any settlement or resolution of a civil proceeding by a governmental entity taken after a declaration without the Attorney General's consent is void.

The bill states that the Department of Legal Affairs is exempt from s. 120.57(3), F.S., for purposes relevant to a matter of great governmental concern.

The bill also provides a procedure for an attorney to receive from any recovery reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred in connection with representing a governmental entity before the Attorney General issues a declaration. The bill describes the various criteria a court must consider when calculating the amount of any reasonable attorney fees to include the following:

- The time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the question involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly;
- The likelihood, if apparent, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the attorney;
- The fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services;
- The amount involved and the results obtained;
- The time limitation imposed by the governmental entity or the circumstances;
- The nature and length of the professional relationship with the governmental entity;
- The experience, reputation, and ability of the attorney performing the legal services; and
- Whether the fee is fixed or contingent.

The bill takes effect upon becoming law.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. State Tax or Fee Increases:

None.

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

Article V, s. 2(a) of the Florida Constitution, grants the Florida Supreme Court the exclusive authority to adopt rules of judicial practice and procedure for actions filed in Florida.³⁵ Generally, the Legislature is empowered to enact substantive law while the Florida Supreme Court has the authority to enact procedural law.³⁶ Accordingly, a statute that creates or modifies a procedural rule of the Florida Supreme Court violates Art. II, s. 3 of the Florida Constitution, which prohibits one branch of government from exercising any powers appertaining to either of the other branches unless expressly permitted by the constitution.³⁷

The bill may implicate these constitutional provisions by containing procedural dictates that fall exclusively within the Florida Supreme Court's constitutional powers and, thus, violate the constitutional separation of powers. The bill's constitutionality likely depends on whether a court considers the bill's provisions "clearly substantive" with "incidental" procedural aspects. If so, the bill may be constitutional.³⁸

The bill also may implicate Art. I, s. 10 of the United States Constitution and Art. I, s. 10 of the Florida Constitution. Both of these constitutional provisions prohibit any law that impairs the obligation of contracts. The bill may violate these constitutional restrictions by impairing existing contractual relationships between governmental entities and private attorneys that may be affected if the Attorney General declares that a matter is a great governmental concern.³⁹

³⁸ "If a statute is clearly substantive and operates in an area of legitimate legislative concern, this Court will not hold that it constitutes an unconstitutional encroachment on the judicial branch. However, where a statute does not basically convey substantive rights, the procedural aspects of the statute cannot be deemed incidental, and that statute is unconstitutional. Moreover, where this Court has promulgated rules that relate to practice and procedure, and a statute provides a contrary practice or procedure, the statute is unconstitutional to the extent of the conflict. Finally, where a statute has some substantive aspects, but the procedural requirements of the statute conflict with or interfere with the procedural mechanisms of the court system, those requirements are unconstitutional." *Massey v. ³⁹ See Searcy, Denney, Scarola, Barnhart & Shipley, etc. v. State, 209 So.3d 118 (Fla.2017)(claims bill's limitation on payment of attorney fees impermissibly impaired family's preexisting contingency fee contract with law firm).

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

Indeterminate.

C. Government Sector Impact:

Indeterminate.

The bill may increase state revenue as it would direct all recovery obtained in litigation on a matter of great governmental concern, with the exception of local government attorney fees in specified circumstances, to the state.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

The bill's current definition of a "matter of great governmental concern" appears to only apply to situations where a governmental entity suffers substantial economic loss or harm. This definition may exclude certain parens patriae legal actions related to the economic loss or harm suffered by the citizenry of a governmental entity and not the governmental entity itself.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill creates section 16.65 of the Florida Statutes.

IX. Additional Information:A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

CS by Community Affairs on March 30, 2021:

The committee substitute makes the following revisions:

- Redefines "matter of great governmental concern" to mean situations where 15 or more counties suffer economic loss or other harm, as opposed to 5 or more counties;
- Provides that the Legislature has the authority to declare, amend, or rescind a declaration for a matter of great governmental concern by concurrent resolution, as opposed to the Attorney General;
- Provides that the Attorney General may take legal action in the public interest as long as such action is not inconsistent with the terms or provisions of the Legislature's resolution declaring the matter to be a matter of great governmental concern;

- Requires that any award for damages or monetary payment from a settlement arising from a matter of great governmental concern be subject to full appropriation by the Legislature; and
- Removes the statement that a declaration of a matter is a matter of great governmental concern does not constitute final agency action subject to review pursuant to ss. 120.569 and 120.57, F.S.

 38 Section 1. Section 16.65, Florida Statutes, is created to 39 read:

40 16.65 Matters of great governmental concern.—

41 (1) LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS.—The Legislature finds that:

42 (a) Several events have led to extensive litigation by 43 multiple governmental entities in this state arising from the 44 same facts, circumstances, or conduct or similar causes of 45 action. This litigation has been difficult to resolve in a 46 timely and expeditious manner because of the number and 47 different types of governmental entities involved.

48 (b) It is in the interest of this state that a single 49 official represent governmental entities in civil proceedings in 50 matters of great governmental concern to maximize recoveries and 51 minimize costs.

52 (c) The Attorney General is the state's chief legal officer
 53 and is the official who should be responsible for the 54 prosecution, management, and coordination of any civil 55 proceedings brought by governmental entities in matters of great 56 governmental concern.

57 (d) The failure to have a single official responsible in 58 matters of great governmental concern undermines fairness and

59 efficiency and risks inconsistent or incongruent results, which 60 will delay recovery and undermine governmental entities' ability
 61 to respond to such matters of great governmental concern.

62 (2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, unless the 63 context otherwise requires, the term:

64 (a) "Governmental entity" means the state and any 65 department, agency, political subdivision, unit of government,
 66 or school district thereof.

67 (b) "Matter of great governmental concern" means any fact,
 68 circumstance, or conduct that has caused substantial economic 69 loss or other harm of a similar nature to governmental entities
 70 in 15 or more counties in this state.

71 (3) AUTHORITY.—

72 (a) The Legislature by concurrent resolution may declare a 73 matter to be a matter of great governmental concern. Upon such 74 declaration, the Attorney General has the sole authority to file
 75 a civil proceeding on behalf of the affected governmental
 76 entities in this state until the Legislature by concurrent
 77 resolution invalidates, rescinds, or amends that declaration.

78 (b) The Attorney General may investigate a matter before
 79 and after the Legislature declares that the matter is a matter
 80 of great governmental concern. In any investigation and civil 81 proceeding commenced pursuant to this section, it is the duty of 82 all public officers and their deputies, assistants, clerks,
 83 subordinates, and employees to render and furnish to the 84 Attorney General, when so requested, assistance and all
 85 information available in their official capacity.

86 (c) The Attorney General may institute or intervene in any 87 civil proceeding in state or federal court, including any

88 pending appeal, on behalf of a governmental entity to seek any 89 relief afforded at law or in equity, under state or federal law,
 90 pertaining to a matter of great governmental concern.

91 (d) The Attorney General may consolidate, dismiss, release,
 92 settle, or take action that he or she believes to be in the 93 public interest in any civil proceeding in state or federal 94 court pertaining to a matter of great governmental concern,
 95 provided that such action is not inconsistent with the terms or 96 provisions of the Legislature's resolution declaring the matter
 97 to be a matter of great governmental concern.

98 (e) Any award for damages or monetary payment arising from 99 a civil proceeding, compromise, or settlement of any claim or 100 litigation pertaining to a matter of great governmental concern,
 101 excluding attorney fees described in subsection (4), is subject
 102 to full appropriation by the Legislature and may not be 103 appropriated, expended, or encumbered by the Attorney General or 104 the terms or provisions of any settlement agreement.

105 (f) A declaration by the Legislature that a matter is a
 106 matter of great governmental concern operates to abate or stay 107 any civil proceeding in state or federal court pertaining to the 108 matter of great governmental concern filed by a governmental 109 entity until the Attorney General takes an action in such 110 proceeding.

111 (g) Any statute of limitations under the laws of this state
 112 affecting a claim by a governmental entity is tolled for the 113 pendency of a declaration that a matter is a matter of great 114 governmental concern or for 1 year, whichever is earlier.

115 (h) Upon learning of a declaration that a matter is a
 116 matter of great governmental concern, all governmental entities

117 then a party to any affected civil proceeding shall provide 118 notice to the Attorney General of the existence of any such 119 civil proceeding, including the style of the action, the case
 120 number, and the court where such proceeding is pending. Any 121 settlement or resolution of the civil proceeding by a 122 governmental entity taken after a declaration without the 123 consent of the Attorney General is void.

124 (i) For purposes of this subsection, the Department of 125 Legal Affairs is exempt from s. 120.57(3).

126 (4) ATTORNEY FEES.—

127 (a) If a governmental entity retains attorneys to represent 128 it before a matter is declared to be a matter of great
 129 governmental concern, the governmental entity or its attorneys
 130 may apply to the court where the civil proceeding is being
 131 prosecuted by the Attorney General or, if no such proceeding
 132 exists, in the circuit court in and for Leon County to receive
 133 from any recovery its reasonable attorney fees and costs
 134 incurred in connection with such representation.

135 (b) In calculating the amount of any reasonable attorney
 136 fees, the court shall consider all of the following factors:

137 1. The time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty
 138 of the question involved, and the skill requisite to perform the 139 legal service properly.

140 2. The likelihood, if apparent, that the acceptance of the 141 particular employment will preclude other employment by the 142 attorney.

143 3. The fee customarily charged in the locality for similar 144 legal services.

145 4. The amount involved and the results obtained.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 130 promotes the use of peer specialists to assist an individual's recovery from substance use disorder (SUD) or mental illness. Peer specialists are persons who have recovered from a substance use disorder or mental illness who support a person with a current substance use disorder or mental illness.

Specifically, the bill:

- Adds the use of peer specialists as an essential element of a coordinated system of care;
- Provides legislative findings and intent related to the use of peer specialists in the provision of behavioral health care;
- Requires the Department of Children and Families (the DCF) to develop a training program for peer specialists, giving preference to trainers who are certified peer specialists;
- Requires the DCF to certify peer specialists, directly or through the use of a third-party credentialing entity;
- Revises background screening requirements and codifies existing training and certification requirements for peer specialists;
- Adds offenses for which individuals seeking certification as a peer specialist may seek an exemption from eligibility disqualification;

- Allows peer specialists to work with adults with mental health disorders, in addition to SUDs and co-occurring disorders, while a request for an exemption from a background check disqualification is pending.
- Expands the statutory limit for the number of days during which a service provider can work while a request for exemption from a background check disqualification is pending to 180 days from the current 90 days.
- Allows for recovery support services to be reimbursed as a recovery service through the DCF, a behavioral health managing entity, or the Medicaid program.
- Provides that individuals certified as peer specialists by July 1, 2021, will be deemed to have met the requirements for certification under the bill.

The bill is expected to have an insignificant negative fiscal impact on state government.

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Substance Abuse

Substance abuse is the harmful or hazardous use of psychoactive substances, including alcohol and illicit drugs. Substance use disorder (SUD) is determined based on specified criteria included in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Fifth Edition (DSM-5).¹ According to the DSM-5, a diagnosis of SUD is based on evidence of impaired control, social impairment, risky use, and pharmacological criteria.² SUD occurs when an individual chronically uses alcohol or drugs, resulting in significant impairment, such as health problems, disability, and failure to meet major responsibilities at work, school, or home.³ Repeated drug use leads to changes in the brain's structure and function that can make a person more susceptible to developing a substance abuse disorder.⁴ Imaging studies of brains belonging to persons with SUD reveal physical changes in areas of the brain critical to judgment, decision making, learning and memory, and behavior control.⁵

In 2018, approximately 20.3 million people aged 12 or older had a SUD related to corresponding use of alcohol or illicit drugs within the previous year, including 14.8 million people diagnosed with alcohol use disorder and 8.1 million people diagnosed with drug use disorder.⁶ The most common substance abuse disorders in the United States are from the use of alcohol, tobacco, cannabis, opioids, hallucinogens, and stimulants.⁷

Substance Abuse Treatment in Florida

In the early 1970s, the federal government enacted laws creating formula grants for states to develop continuums of care for individuals and families affected by substance abuse.⁸ The laws resulted in separate funding streams and requirements for alcoholism and drug abuse. In response to the laws, the Florida Legislature enacted chs. 396 and 397, F.S., relating to alcohol and drug abuse, respectively.⁹ Each of these laws governed different aspects of addiction, and thus had different rules adopted by the state to fully implement the respective pieces of legislation.¹⁰ However, because persons with substance abuse issues often do not restrict their misuse to one substance or another, having two separate laws dealing with the prevention and treatment of addiction was cumbersome and did not adequately address Florida's substance abuse problem.¹¹ In 1993, legislation was adopted to combine ch. 396 and 397, F.S., into a single law, the Hal S. Marchman Alcohol and Other Drug Services Act (Marchman Act).¹²

The Marchman Act encourages individuals to seek services on a voluntary basis within the existing financial and space capacities of a service provider.¹³ However, denial of addiction is a prevalent symptom of SUD, creating a barrier to timely intervention and effective treatment.¹⁴ As a result, treatment typically must stem from a third party providing the intervention needed for SUD treatment.¹⁵

The Department of Children and Families (DCF) administers a statewide system of safety-net services for substance abuse and mental health (SAMH) prevention, treatment and recovery for children and adults who are otherwise unable to obtain these services. Services are provided based upon state and federally-established priority populations.¹⁶ The DCF provides treatment for SUD through a community-based provider system offering detoxification,¹⁷ treatment

services¹⁸ and recovery support¹⁹ for individuals affected by substance misuse, abuse or dependence.²⁰

Peer Specialists

Research has shown that social support provided by peers is beneficial to those in recovery from a SUD or mental illness.²¹ Section 397.311, F.S., defines a peer specialist as “a person who has been in recovery from a SUD or mental illness for at least 2 years who uses his or her personal experience to provide services in behavioral health settings to support others in their recovery, or a person who has at least 2 years of experience as a family member or caregiver of an individual who has a SUD or mental illness. The term does not include a qualified professional or a person otherwise certified under ch. 394 or ch. 397.”²²

There are four primary types of social support provided by peers:

- Emotional: where a peer demonstrates empathy, caring or concern to bolster a person’s self-esteem. (i.e., peer mentoring or peer-led support groups).
- Informational: where a peer shares knowledge and information to provide life or vocational skills training. (i.e., parenting classes, job readiness training, or wellness seminars).
- Instrumental: where a peer provides concrete assistance to help others accomplish tasks. (i.e., child care, transportation, and help accessing health and human services).
- Affiliational: where a peer facilitates contacts with other people to promote learning of social skills, create a sense of community, and acquire a sense of belonging. (i.e., recovery centers, sports league participation, and alcohol or drug free socialization opportunities).²³

In Florida, DCF and Medicaid both allow reimbursement for peer support services, but only if provided by certified peer specialists.²⁴

An individual seeking to become a certified peer specialist must have either been in recovery from a SUD or mental illness for at least two years, or must have at least two years of experience as a family member or caregiver of an individual suffering from a substance use disorder or mental illness.²⁵ The DCF must approve one or more third-party credentialing entities for the purposes of certifying peer specialists, approving training programs for individuals seeking certification as peer specialists, approving continuing education programs, and establishing the minimum requirements and standards that applicants must achieve to maintain certification.²⁶ To obtain approval, the third-party credentialing entity must demonstrate compliance with nationally recognized standards for developing and administering professional certification programs to certify peer specialists.²⁷ All individuals providing DCF-funded recovery support services as a peer specialist must be certified, however an individual who is not currently certified may work as a peer specialist for a maximum of one year if they are working toward certification and are supervised by a qualified professional or by a certified peer specialist with at least three years of full-time experience as a peer specialist at a licensed behavioral health organization.²⁸

¹⁸ Treatment services include a wide array of assessment, counseling, case management, and support that are designed to help individuals who have lost their abilities to control their substance use on their own and require formal, structured intervention and support.

The Florida Certification Board (FCB) is currently the only credentialing entity approved by the DCF for certifying peer specialists in the state.²⁹ The FCB credentials Certified Recovery Peer Specialist (CRPS), which assist in providing client directed care by helping individuals develop skills, and relationships that will allow them to achieve and maintain recovery from SUDs and mental illness.³⁰ CRPS applicants must attest to having been in recovery for a minimum of two years.³¹ The CRPS must also have demonstrated competency through training and experience in the performance domains of: Recovery Support, Advocacy, Mentoring and Professional Responsibilities.³² As of June 2020, 630 individuals maintain active CRPS certifications statewide.³³

Individuals seeking certification must adhere to the CRPS credentialing standards and requirements, complete a background screening, and have completed all court-ordered sanctions related to any prior crimes committed for at least three years.³⁴ Prospective CRPS must also successfully complete training and a competency exam demonstrating proficiency in certain educational areas.³⁵

Substance Use Disorder and Criminal History

Certain individuals receiving substance abuse treatment may have a criminal or violent history: about 54 percent of state prisoners and 61 percent of sentenced jail inmates incarcerated for violent offenses met the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, 4th Edition, (DSM-IV) criteria for drug dependence or abuse.³⁶ Additionally, individuals who use illicit drugs are more likely to commit crimes, and it is common for many offenses, including violent crimes, to be committed by individuals who had used drugs or alcohol prior to committing the crime, or who were using at the time of the offense.³⁷ As a result, individuals who have recovered from a SUD or mental illness often have a criminal history that may disqualify them from employment in the substance abuse treatment industry due to Florida's background screening process.

Background Screening Process

Current law establishes standard procedures for criminal history background screening of prospective employees; ch. 435, F.S., outlines the screening requirements. There are two levels of background screening: level 1 and level 2. Level 1 screening includes, at a minimum, employment history checks and statewide criminal correspondence checks through the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) and a check of the Dru Sjodin National Sex Offender Public Website,³⁸ and may include criminal records checks through local law enforcement agencies. A level 2 background screening includes, but is not limited to, fingerprinting for statewide criminal history records checks through the FDLE and national criminal history checks through the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and may include local criminal records checks through local law enforcement agencies.³⁹

Every person required by law to be screened pursuant to ch. 435, F.S., must submit a complete set of information necessary to conduct a screening to his or her employer.⁴⁰ Such information for a level 2 screening includes fingerprints, which are taken by a vendor that submits them electronically to the FDLE.⁴¹

For both level 1 and 2 screenings, an employer must submit the information necessary for screening to the FDLE within five working days after receiving it.⁴² Additionally, for both levels of screening, the FDLE must perform a criminal history record check of its records.⁴³ For a level 1 screening, this is the only information searched, and once complete, the FDLE responds to the employer or agency, who must then inform the employee whether screening has revealed any disqualifying information.⁴⁴ For level 2 screening, the FDLE also requests the FBI to conduct a national criminal history record check of its records for each employee for whom the request is made.⁴⁵

The person undergoing screening must supply any missing criminal or other necessary information upon request to the requesting employer or agency within 30 days after receiving the request for the information.⁴⁶

Exemption from Disqualification

If an individual is disqualified due to a pending arrest, conviction, plea of nolo contendere, or adjudication of delinquency to one or more of the disqualifying offenses, s. 435.07, F.S., allows the Secretary of the appropriate agency (in the case of substance abuse treatment, the DCF) to exempt applicants from disqualification under certain circumstances.⁴⁸

⁴⁷ Section 435.04(2), F.S.

Receiving an exemption allows that individual to work despite the disqualifying crime in that person's past. However, an individual who is considered a sexual predator,⁴⁹ career offender,⁵⁰ or sexual offender (unless not required to register)⁵¹ cannot ever be exempted from disqualification.⁵²

Additionally, individuals (including peer specialists) employed, or applicants for employment, by treatment providers who treat adolescents 13 years of age and older who are disqualified from employment solely because of certain crimes may be exempted from disqualification from employment, without applying the 3-year waiting period.⁵³ These crimes include certain offenses related to:

- Prostitution;
- Unarmed burglary of a structure;
- Third degree felony grand theft;
- Sale of imitation controlled substance;
- Forgery;
- Uttering or publishing a forged instrument;
- Sale, manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to sell, manufacture, or deliver controlled substances (excluding drug trafficking);
- Use, possession, manufacture, delivery, transportation, advertisement, or sale of drug paraphernalia; and
- Any related criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy.⁵⁴

To seek exemption from disqualification, an employee must submit a request for an exemption from disqualification within 30 days after being notified of a pending disqualification, and the DCF must grant or deny the application within 60 days of the receipt of a completed application.⁵⁵

To be exempted from disqualification and thus be able to work, the applicant must demonstrate by clear and convincing evidence that he or she should not be disqualified from employment.⁵⁶ Clear and convincing evidence is a heavier burden than the preponderance of the evidence standard but less than beyond a reasonable doubt.⁵⁷ This means that the evidence presented is credible and verifiable, and that the memories of witnesses are clear and without confusion.⁵⁸ This evidence must create a firm belief and conviction of the truth of the facts presented and,

considered as a whole, must convince DCF representatives without hesitancy that the requester will not pose a threat if allowed to hold a position of special trust relative to children, vulnerable adults, or to developmentally disabled individuals.⁵⁹ Evidence that may support an exemption includes, but is not limited to:

- Personal references.
- Letters from employers or other professionals.
- Evidence of rehabilitation, including documentation of successful participation in a rehabilitation program.
- Evidence of further education or training.
- Evidence of community involvement.
- Evidence of special awards or recognition.
- Evidence of military service.
- Parenting or other caregiver experiences.⁶⁰

After the DCF receives a complete exemption request package from the applicant, the background screening coordinator searches available data, including, but not limited to, a review of records and pertinent court documents including case disposition and the applicant's plea in order to determine the appropriateness of granting the applicant an exemption.⁶¹ These materials, in addition to the information provided by the applicant, form the basis for a recommendation as to whether the exemption should be granted.⁶²

After all reasonable evidence is gathered, the background screening coordinator consults with his or her supervisor and, after consultation with the supervisor, the coordinator and the supervisor will recommend whether the exemption should be granted.⁶³ The regional legal counsel's office reviews the recommendation to grant or deny an exemption to determine legal sufficiency. The criminal justice coordinator in the region in which the background screening coordinator is located also reviews the exemption request file and recommendation and makes an initial determination whether to grant or deny the exemption.⁶⁴

If the regional criminal justice coordinator makes an initial determination that the exemption should be granted, the exemption request file and recommendations are forwarded to the regional director, who has delegated authority from the DCF Secretary to grant or deny the exemption.⁶⁵ After an exemption request decision is final, the background screener provides a written response to the applicant as to whether the request is granted or denied.⁶⁶

If the DCF grants the exemption, the applicant and the facility or employer are notified of the decision by regular mail.⁶⁷ However, if the request is denied, notification of the decision is sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the applicant, addressed to the last known address

and a separate letter of denial is sent by regular mail to the facility or employer.⁶⁸ If the application is denied, the denial letter must set forth pertinent facts that the background screening coordinator, the background screening coordinator's supervisor, the criminal justice coordinator, and regional director, where appropriate, used in deciding to deny the exemption request.⁶⁹ It must also inform the denied applicant of the availability of an administrative review⁷⁰ pursuant to ch. 120, F.S.⁷¹

Individuals Requiring Background Screening Under Ch. 397, F.S.

Only certain individuals affiliated with substance abuse treatment providers require background screening. Section 397.4073, F.S., requires peer specialists who have direct contact⁷² with individuals receiving services must undergo a level 2 background screening as provided under s. 408.809 and ch. 435.⁷³ Applicant peer specialists are required to pay the costs associated with such screenings.⁷⁴ Similarly, all owners, directors, chief financial officers, and clinical supervisors of service providers, as well as all service provider personnel who have direct contact with children receiving services or with adults who are developmentally disabled receiving services must also undergo level 2 background screening.

Other statutory provisions are tailored to facilitate individuals in recovery who have disqualifying offenses being able to work in substance abuse treatment. The DCF may grant exemptions from disqualification for an individual seeking certification as a peer specialist if at least three years have passed since the individual has completed, or been lawfully released from, any confinement, supervision, or nonmonetary condition imposed by a court for the individual's most recent disqualifying offense.⁷⁵ Similar to the conditional employment granted to other select applicants in s. 397.4073, certified peer specialists may work with adults with SUD for up to 90 days after being notified of his or her disqualification or until the DCF makes a final determination regarding the request for an exemption from disqualification if three years or more have elapsed since the most recent disqualifying offense, whichever is earlier.⁷⁶

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Coordinated System of Care

The bill amends s. 394.4573, F.S., relating to coordinated systems of care, to add the use of peer specialists to assist in an individual's recovery from a substance use disorder or mental illness to the list of essential elements of a coordinated system of behavioral health care.

Legislative Findings and Intent

The bill provides legislative findings and intent, as follows:

- The Legislature finds that the ability to provide adequate behavioral health services is limited by a shortage of professionals and paraprofessionals.
- The Legislature finds that the state is experiencing an increase in opioid addictions, many of which prove fatal.
- The Legislature finds that peer specialists provide effective support services because they share common life experiences with the persons they assist.
- The Legislature finds that peer specialists promote a sense of community among those in recovery.
- The Legislature finds that research has shown that peer support facilitates recovery and reduces health care costs.
- The Legislature finds that persons who are otherwise qualified to serve as peer specialists may have a criminal history that prevents them from meeting background screening requirements.
- It is the intent of the Legislature that the use of peer specialists be expanded as a cost-effective means of providing services.
- It is the intent of the Legislature to ensure that peer specialists meet specified qualifications and modified background screening requirements and are adequately reimbursed for their services.

Criteria for Becoming a Certified Peer Specialist

The bill codifies a number of criteria currently used by the Florida Certification Board (FCB) in the process of certifying peer specialists. Specifically, the bill requires that persons seeking certification as peer specialists:

- Be in recovery from a substance use disorder (SUD) or mental illness for the past two years, or be a family member or caregiver of an individual with a history of SUD or mental illness;
- Pass a competency exam developed under the bill by the Department of Children and Families (DCF); and
- Undergo background screening as provided under the bill.

Duties of the Department of Children and Families (DCF)

Currently, the FCB provides training and administers a competency exam for peer specialists seeking certification. Under the bill, the DCF is made statutorily responsible for:

- Creating a training program for peer specialists, giving preference to trainers who are certified peer specialists. The training program must coincide with a competency exam and be based on current practice standards; and
- Mandating that all individuals providing recovery support services become certified.

Individuals may practice as a peer specialist prior to becoming certified for up to one year if the individual is actively working toward certification and is supervised by a qualified professional⁷⁷

or a certified peer specialist with at least two years of full-time experience as a peer specialist at a licensed behavioral health organization.

Background Screening

The bill specifies revised background screening requirements, requiring applicants to submit a full set of fingerprints to the DCF, or to a vendor, entity, or agency⁷⁸ that has entered into an agreement with the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE). Fingerprints must then be forwarded to the FDLE for state processing and retention, and to the FBI for national processing and retention. This will enable the FDLE to conduct ongoing, fingerprint-based, state and national background checks on certified peer specialists. The bill mandates any arrest record discovered be reported to the DCF. The bill requires the DCF to screen results in order to ensure an applicant meets the requirements of certification, and it provides that the applicant peer specialist is to pay all fees charged in connection with state and federal fingerprint processing and retention.⁷⁹

The bill authorizes the DCF or the Agency for Health Care Administration (the AHCA) to contract with vendors for electronic fingerprinting, provided that such contracts ensure the integrity and security of all personal identifying information obtained. Vendors who submit fingerprints on behalf of employees must:

- Meet the requirements of s. 943.053, F.S.;⁸⁰
- Be capable of communicating electronically with the state agency accepting screening results from the FDLE; and
- Be capable of providing the applicant's:
 - Full first name, middle initial, and last name;
 - Social security number or individual taxpayer identification number;
 - Date of birth;
 - Mailing address;
 - Sex; and
 - Race.

The bill provides that a background screening of a peer specialist must ensure that a prospective peer specialist has not been arrested for and awaiting final disposition of, found guilty of, regardless of adjudication, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to, or been adjudicated delinquent and the record has not been sealed or expunged for, any felony within the past three

under part I of chapter 464; or a person who is certified through a department-recognized certification process for substance abuse treatment services and who holds, at a minimum, a bachelor's degree." A person who is certified in substance abuse treatment services by a state-recognized certification process in another state at the time of employment with a licensed substance abuse provider in this state may perform the functions of a qualified professional as defined in this chapter but must meet certification requirements contained in this subsection no later than 1 year after his or her date of employment.

⁷⁹ This cost is already borne by the applicant under current law requiring level 2 background screening for certified peer specialists. See ss. 397.4073(1)(a)3. and 408.809(5), F.S.

⁸⁰ Section 943.053, F.S., provides, among other things, standards for vendors meant to ensure that all persons having direct or indirect responsibility for verifying identification, taking fingerprints, and electronically submitting fingerprints are qualified to do so and will ensure the integrity and security of all personal information gathered from the persons whose fingerprints are submitted.

years. The bill also requires that background screening ensure the applicant has not, at any time, been found guilty of, regardless of adjudication, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to, or been adjudicated delinquent and the record has not been sealed or expunged for, the following laws or similar laws of other jurisdictions:

The new screening requirements of the bill eliminate the following disqualifying offenses from current law for peer specialists:

- Misdemeanor assault, or battery (Ch. 784, F.S.).
- Prostitution (Ch. 796, F.S.), with the exception of those offenses listed in s. 796.07, F.S., which have not been expunged.
- Lower level burglary offenses (s. 810.02, F.S.).
- Lower level theft and robbery offenses (Ch. 812, F.S.).
- Lower level drug abuse offenses (s. 817.563 and Ch. 893, F.S.).
- Credit card fraud (ss. 817.481, 817.60, and 817.61, F.S.).
- Forgery (ss. 831.01, 831.02, 831.07 and 831.09, F.S.).

The bill allows individuals who wish to become peer specialists, but have a disqualifying offense in their background, to request an exemption from disqualification pursuant to s. 435.07, F.S., from the DCF or the AHCA, as applicable.

The bill also allows service provider personnel, including peer specialists, to work with adults with mental health disorders (in addition to the current allowance to work with adults suffering from SUDs or co-occurring disorders) while an exemption request is pending, and extends the time limit for such work from 90 days to 180 days.

The bill grandfathers in all peer specialists certified as of July 1, 2021, by stating they are recognized as having met the requirements of the bill.

Deleted Provisions of s. 397.417, F.S.

The bill eliminates and replaces all of the current provisions of s. 397.417, F.S. Specifically, the bill:

- Eliminates the requirement that a family member or caregiver of an individual with a SUD or mental illness have at least two years of experience in order to attain certification as a peer specialist;
- Requires the DCF to develop a peer specialist training program rather than a third-party credentialing entity;
- Allows the DCF the option of certifying peer specialists directly or approving third party credentialing entities to do so;
- Permits an individual with two years of full-time experience as a peer specialist to supervise an individual providing recovery support services and working toward certification (supervisory certified peer specialists currently must have at least three years of experience).

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

PCS/CS/SB 130 eliminates several disqualifying criminal offenses that often result in disqualification from certification eligibility, and as a result the DCF predicts that there may be additional revenues generated for certification providers from fees paid by a greater number of individuals seeking certification.⁸¹

C. Government Sector Impact:

The DCF estimates there may be a negative impact to state government due to a potential increase in background screenings being conducted, and a possible increase in the number of exemptions from disqualification requested, leading to a heavier workload for the department's Background Screening Office.⁸² However, any additional workload will likely be absorbed within existing department resources.

141 397.417 Peer specialists.—

142 (1) LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND INTENT.—

143 (a) The Legislature finds that:

576-03000-21

144 1. The ability to provide adequate behavioral health
145 services is limited by a shortage of professionals and 146 paraprofessionals.

147 2. The state is experiencing an increase in opioid
148 addictions, many of which prove fatal.

149 3. Peer specialists provide effective support services
150 because they share common life experiences with the persons they 151 assist.

152 4. Peer specialists promote a sense of community among
153 those in recovery.

154 5. Research has shown that peer support facilitates
155 recovery and reduces health care costs.

156 6. Persons who are otherwise qualified to serve as peer
157 specialists may have a criminal history that prevents them from 158 meeting background screening requirements.

159 (b) The Legislature intends to expand the use of peer
160 specialists as a cost-effective means of providing services. The 161 Legislature also intends to ensure that peer specialists meet
162 specified qualifications and modified background screening
163 requirements and are adequately reimbursed for their services.

164 (2) QUALIFICATIONS.—

165 (a) A person may seek certification as a peer specialist if 166 he or she has been in recovery from a substance use disorder or
167 mental illness for the past 2 years or if he or she is a family
168 member or caregiver of a person with a substance use disorder or 169 mental illness.

170 (b) To obtain certification as a peer specialist, a person
171 must complete the training program developed under subsection
172 (3), achieve a passing score on the competency exam described in 576-03000-21

173 paragraph (3) (a), and meet the background screening requirements
174 specified in subsection (5).

175 (3) DUTIES OF THE DEPARTMENT.—

176 (a) The department shall develop a training program for 177 persons seeking certification as peer specialists. The
178 department must give preference to trainers who are certified
179 peer specialists. The training program must coincide with a
180 competency exam and be based on current practice standards.

181 (b) The department may certify peer specialists directly or 182 may approve one or more third-party credentialing entities for 183 the purposes of certifying peer specialists, approving training
184 programs for individuals seeking certification as peer
185 specialists, approving continuing education programs, and
186 establishing the minimum requirements and standards applicants
187 must meet to maintain certification. Background screening
188 required for achieving certification must be conducted as 189 provided in subsection (5) and may not be conducted by third-
190 party credentialing entities.

191 (c) The department shall require that a person providing
192 recovery support services be certified; however, an individual
193 who is not certified may provide recovery support services as a
194 peer specialist for up to 1 year if he or she is working toward 195 certification and is supervised by a qualified professional or 196 by a certified peer specialist who has at least 2 years of full-
197 time experience as a peer specialist at a licensed behavioral
198 health organization.

199 (4) PAYMENT.—Recovery support services may be reimbursed as 200 a recovery service through the department, a behavioral health
201 managing entity, or the Medicaid program. Medicaid managed care

576-03000-21

202 plans are encouraged to use peer specialists in providing 203 recovery services.

204 (5) BACKGROUND SCREENING.—

205 (a) A peer specialist, or an individual who is working
206 toward certification and providing recovery support services as 207 provided in subsection (3), must have completed or have been 208 lawfully released from confinement, supervision, or any 209 nonmonetary condition imposed by the court for any felony and 210 must undergo a background screening as a condition of initial
211 and continued employment. The applicant must submit a full set
212 of fingerprints to the department or to a vendor, an entity, or 213 an agency that enters into an agreement with the Department of 214 Law Enforcement as provided in s. 943.053(13). The department,
215 vendor, entity, or agency shall forward the fingerprints to the 216 Department of Law Enforcement for state processing and the 217 Department of Law Enforcement shall forward the fingerprints to 218 the Federal Bureau of Investigation for national processing. The 219 department shall screen the results to determine if a peer
220 specialist meets certification requirements. The applicant is 221 responsible for all fees charged in connection with state and 222 federal fingerprint processing and retention. The state cost for 223 fingerprint processing shall be as provided in s. 943.053(3) (e)
224 for records provided to persons or entities other than those 225 specified as exceptions therein. Fingerprints submitted to the 226 Department of Law Enforcement pursuant to this paragraph shall 154204

576-03000-21

231 943.05(4). Any arrest record identified must be reported to the 232 department.

233 (b) The department or the Agency for Health Care
234 Administration, as applicable, may contract with one or more
235 vendors to perform all or part of the electronic fingerprinting
236 pursuant to this section. Such contracts must ensure that the 237 owners and personnel of the vendor performing the electronic 238 fingerprinting are qualified and will ensure the integrity and 239 security of all personal identifying information.

240 (c) Vendors who submit fingerprints on behalf of employers
241 must:

243 2. Have the ability to communicate electronically with the 244 state agency accepting screening results from the Department of 245 Law Enforcement and provide the applicant's full first name,
246 middle initial, and last name; social security number or
247 individual taxpayer identification number; date of birth;
248 mailing address; sex; and race.

249 (d) The background screening conducted under this
250 subsection must ensure that a peer specialist has not, during 251 the previous 3 years, been arrested for and is awaiting final
252 disposition of, been found guilty of, regardless of 253 adjudication, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to,

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 130 promotes the use of peer specialists to assist an individual's recovery from substance use disorder (SUD) or mental illness. Peer specialists are persons who have recovered from a substance use disorder or mental illness who support a person with a current substance use disorder or mental illness.

Specifically, the bill:

- Adds the use of peer specialists as an essential element of a coordinated system of care;
- Provides legislative findings and intent related to the use of peer specialists in the provision of behavioral health care;
- Requires the Department of Children and Families (the DCF) to develop a training program for peer specialists, giving preference to trainers who are certified peer specialists;
- Requires the DCF to certify peer specialists, directly or through the use of a third-party credentialing entity;
- Revises background screening requirements and codifies existing training and certification requirements for peer specialists;
- Adds offenses for which individuals seeking certification as a peer specialist may seek an exemption from eligibility disqualification;

- Allows peer specialists to work with adults with mental health disorders, in addition to SUDs and co-occurring disorders, while a request for an exemption from a background check disqualification is pending.
- Expands the statutory limit for the number of days during which a service provider can work while a request for exemption from a background check disqualification is pending to 180 days from the current 90 days.
- Allows for recovery support services to be reimbursed as a recovery service through the DCF, a behavioral health managing entity, or the Medicaid program.
- Provides that individuals certified as peer specialists by July 1, 2021, will be deemed to have met the requirements for certification under the bill.

The bill is expected to have an insignificant negative fiscal impact on state government.

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Substance Abuse

Substance abuse is the harmful or hazardous use of psychoactive substances, including alcohol and illicit drugs. Substance use disorder (SUD) is determined based on specified criteria included in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Fifth Edition (DSM-5).¹ According to the DSM-5, a diagnosis of SUD is based on evidence of impaired control, social impairment, risky use, and pharmacological criteria.² SUD occurs when an individual chronically uses alcohol or drugs, resulting in significant impairment, such as health problems, disability, and failure to meet major responsibilities at work, school, or home.³ Repeated drug use leads to changes in the brain's structure and function that can make a person more susceptible to developing a substance abuse disorder.⁴ Imaging studies of brains belonging to persons with SUD reveal physical changes in areas of the brain critical to judgment, decision making, learning and memory, and behavior control.⁵

In 2018, approximately 20.3 million people aged 12 or older had a SUD related to corresponding use of alcohol or illicit drugs within the previous year, including 14.8 million people diagnosed with alcohol use disorder and 8.1 million people diagnosed with drug use disorder.⁶ The most common substance abuse disorders in the United States are from the use of alcohol, tobacco, cannabis, opioids, hallucinogens, and stimulants.⁷

Substance Abuse Treatment in Florida

In the early 1970s, the federal government enacted laws creating formula grants for states to develop continuums of care for individuals and families affected by substance abuse.⁸ The laws resulted in separate funding streams and requirements for alcoholism and drug abuse. In response to the laws, the Florida Legislature enacted chs. 396 and 397, F.S., relating to alcohol and drug abuse, respectively.⁹ Each of these laws governed different aspects of addiction, and thus had different rules adopted by the state to fully implement the respective pieces of legislation.¹⁰ However, because persons with substance abuse issues often do not restrict their misuse to one substance or another, having two separate laws dealing with the prevention and treatment of addiction was cumbersome and did not adequately address Florida's substance abuse problem.¹¹ In 1993, legislation was adopted to combine ch. 396 and 397, F.S., into a single law, the Hal S. Marchman Alcohol and Other Drug Services Act (Marchman Act).¹²

The Marchman Act encourages individuals to seek services on a voluntary basis within the existing financial and space capacities of a service provider.¹³ However, denial of addiction is a prevalent symptom of SUD, creating a barrier to timely intervention and effective treatment.¹⁴ As a result, treatment typically must stem from a third party providing the intervention needed for SUD treatment.¹⁵

The Department of Children and Families (DCF) administers a statewide system of safety-net services for substance abuse and mental health (SAMH) prevention, treatment and recovery for children and adults who are otherwise unable to obtain these services. Services are provided based upon state and federally-established priority populations.¹⁶ The DCF provides treatment for SUD through a community-based provider system offering detoxification,¹⁷ treatment

services¹⁸ and recovery support¹⁹ for individuals affected by substance misuse, abuse or dependence.²⁰

Peer Specialists

Research has shown that social support provided by peers is beneficial to those in recovery from a SUD or mental illness.²¹ Section 397.311, F.S., defines a peer specialist as “a person who has been in recovery from a SUD or mental illness for at least 2 years who uses his or her personal experience to provide services in behavioral health settings to support others in their recovery, or a person who has at least 2 years of experience as a family member or caregiver of an individual who has a SUD or mental illness. The term does not include a qualified professional or a person otherwise certified under ch. 394 or ch. 397.”²²

There are four primary types of social support provided by peers:

- Emotional: where a peer demonstrates empathy, caring or concern to bolster a person’s self-esteem. (i.e., peer mentoring or peer-led support groups).
- Informational: where a peer shares knowledge and information to provide life or vocational skills training. (i.e., parenting classes, job readiness training, or wellness seminars).
- Instrumental: where a peer provides concrete assistance to help others accomplish tasks. (i.e., child care, transportation, and help accessing health and human services).
- Affiliational: where a peer facilitates contacts with other people to promote learning of social skills, create a sense of community, and acquire a sense of belonging. (i.e., recovery centers, sports league participation, and alcohol or drug free socialization opportunities).²³

In Florida, DCF and Medicaid both allow reimbursement for peer support services, but only if provided by certified peer specialists.²⁴

An individual seeking to become a certified peer specialist either must have been in recovery from a SUD or mental illness for at least two years, or must have at least two years of experience as a family member or caregiver of an individual suffering from a substance use disorder or mental illness.²⁵ The DCF must approve one or more third-party credentialing entities for the purposes of certifying peer specialists, approving training programs for individuals seeking certification as peer specialists, approving continuing education programs, and establishing the minimum requirements and standards that applicants must achieve to maintain certification.²⁶ To obtain approval, the third-party credentialing entity must demonstrate compliance with nationally recognized standards for developing and administering professional certification programs to certify peer specialists.²⁷ All individuals providing DCF-funded recovery support services as a peer specialist must be certified, however an individual who is not currently certified may work as a peer specialist for a maximum of one year if they are working toward certification and are supervised by a qualified professional or by a certified peer specialist with at least three years of full-time experience as a peer specialist at a licensed behavioral health organization.²⁸

The Florida Certification Board (FCB) is currently the only credentialing entity approved by the DCF for certifying peer specialists in the state.²⁹ The FCB credentials Certified Recovery Peer Specialist (CRPS), which assist in providing client directed care by helping individuals develop skills, and relationships that will allow them to achieve and maintain recovery from SUDs and mental illness.³⁰ CRPS applicants must attest to having been in recovery for a minimum of two years.³¹ The CRPS must also have demonstrated competency through training and experience in the performance domains of: Recovery Support, Advocacy, Mentoring and Professional Responsibilities.³² As of June 2020, 630 individuals maintain active CRPS certifications statewide.³³

Individuals seeking certification must adhere to the CRPS credentialing standards and requirements, complete a background screening, and have completed all court-ordered sanctions related to any prior crimes committed for at least three years.³⁴ Prospective CRPS must also successfully complete training and a competency exam demonstrating proficiency in certain educational areas.³⁵

Substance Use Disorder and Criminal History

Certain individuals receiving substance abuse treatment may have a criminal or violent history: about 54 percent of state prisoners and 61 percent of sentenced jail inmates incarcerated for violent offenses met the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, 4th Edition, (DSM-IV) criteria for drug dependence or abuse.³⁶ Additionally, individuals who use illicit drugs are more likely to commit crimes, and it is common for many offenses, including violent crimes, to be committed by individuals who had used drugs or alcohol prior to committing the crime, or who were using at the time of the offense.³⁷ As a result, individuals who have recovered from a SUD or mental illness often have a criminal history that may disqualify them from employment in the substance abuse treatment industry due to Florida's background screening process.

Background Screening Process

Current law establishes standard procedures for criminal history background screening of prospective employees; ch. 435, F.S., outlines the screening requirements. There are two levels of background screening: level 1 and level 2. Level 1 screening includes, at a minimum, employment history checks and statewide criminal correspondence checks through the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) and a check of the Dru Sjodin National Sex Offender Public Website,³⁸ and may include criminal records checks through local law enforcement agencies. A level 2 background screening includes, but is not limited to, fingerprinting for statewide criminal history records checks through the FDLE and national criminal history checks through the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and may include local criminal records checks through local law enforcement agencies.³⁹

Every person required by law to be screened pursuant to ch. 435, F.S., must submit a complete set of information necessary to conduct a screening to his or her employer.⁴⁰ Such information for a level 2 screening includes fingerprints, which are taken by a vendor that submits them electronically to the FDLE.⁴¹

For both level 1 and 2 screenings, an employer must submit the information necessary for screening to the FDLE within five working days after receiving it.⁴² Additionally, for both levels of screening, the FDLE must perform a criminal history record check of its records.⁴³ For a level 1 screening, this is the only information searched, and once complete, the FDLE responds to the employer or agency, who must then inform the employee whether screening has revealed any disqualifying information.⁴⁴ For level 2 screening, the FDLE also requests the FBI to conduct a national criminal history record check of its records for each employee for whom the request is made.⁴⁵

The person undergoing screening must supply any missing criminal or other necessary information upon request to the requesting employer or agency within 30 days after receiving the request for the information.⁴⁶

Exemption from Disqualification

If an individual is disqualified due to a pending arrest, conviction, plea of nolo contendere, or adjudication of delinquency to one or more of the disqualifying offenses, s. 435.07, F.S., allows the Secretary of the appropriate agency (in the case of substance abuse treatment, the DCF) to exempt applicants from disqualification under certain circumstances.⁴⁸

⁴⁷ Section 435.04(2), F.S.

Receiving an exemption allows that individual to work despite the disqualifying crime in that person's past. However, an individual who is considered a sexual predator,⁴⁹ career offender,⁵⁰ or sexual offender (unless not required to register)⁵¹ cannot ever be exempted from disqualification.⁵²

Additionally, individuals (including peer specialists) employed, or applicants for employment, by treatment providers who treat adolescents 13 years of age and older who are disqualified from employment solely because of certain crimes may be exempted from disqualification from employment, without applying the 3-year waiting period.⁵³ These crimes include certain offenses related to:

- Prostitution;
- Unarmed burglary of a structure;
- Third degree felony grand theft;
- Sale of imitation controlled substance;
- Forgery;
- Uttering or publishing a forged instrument;
- Sale, manufacture, delivery, or possession with intent to sell, manufacture, or deliver controlled substances (excluding drug trafficking);
- Use, possession, manufacture, delivery, transportation, advertisement, or sale of drug paraphernalia; and
- Any related criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy.⁵⁴

To seek exemption from disqualification, an employee must submit a request for an exemption from disqualification within 30 days after being notified of a pending disqualification, and the DCF must grant or deny the application within 60 days of the receipt of a completed application.⁵⁵

To be exempted from disqualification and thus be able to work, the applicant must demonstrate by clear and convincing evidence that he or she should not be disqualified from employment.⁵⁶ Clear and convincing evidence is a heavier burden than the preponderance of the evidence standard but less than beyond a reasonable doubt.⁵⁷ This means that the evidence presented is credible and verifiable, and that the memories of witnesses are clear and without confusion.⁵⁸ This evidence must create a firm belief and conviction of the truth of the facts presented and,

considered as a whole, must convince DCF representatives without hesitancy that the requester will not pose a threat if allowed to hold a position of special trust relative to children, vulnerable adults, or to developmentally disabled individuals.⁵⁹ Evidence that may support an exemption includes, but is not limited to:

- Personal references.
- Letters from employers or other professionals.
- Evidence of rehabilitation, including documentation of successful participation in a rehabilitation program.
- Evidence of further education or training.
- Evidence of community involvement.
- Evidence of special awards or recognition.
- Evidence of military service.
- Parenting or other caregiver experiences.⁶⁰

After the DCF receives a complete exemption request package from the applicant, the background screening coordinator searches available data, including, but not limited to, a review of records and pertinent court documents including case disposition and the applicant's plea in order to determine the appropriateness of granting the applicant an exemption.⁶¹ These materials, in addition to the information provided by the applicant, form the basis for a recommendation as to whether the exemption should be granted.⁶²

After all reasonable evidence is gathered, the background screening coordinator consults with his or her supervisor and, after consultation with the supervisor, the coordinator and the supervisor will recommend whether the exemption should be granted.⁶³ The regional legal counsel's office reviews the recommendation to grant or deny an exemption to determine legal sufficiency. The criminal justice coordinator in the region in which the background screening coordinator is located also reviews the exemption request file and recommendation and makes an initial determination whether to grant or deny the exemption.⁶⁴

If the regional criminal justice coordinator makes an initial determination that the exemption should be granted, the exemption request file and recommendations are forwarded to the regional director, who has delegated authority from the DCF Secretary to grant or deny the exemption.⁶⁵ After an exemption request decision is final, the background screener provides a written response to the applicant as to whether the request is granted or denied.⁶⁶

If the DCF grants the exemption, the applicant and the facility or employer are notified of the decision by regular mail.⁶⁷ However, if the request is denied, notification of the decision is sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the applicant, addressed to the last known address

and a separate letter of denial is sent by regular mail to the facility or employer.⁶⁸ If the application is denied, the denial letter must set forth pertinent facts that the background screening coordinator, the background screening coordinator's supervisor, the criminal justice coordinator, and regional director, where appropriate, used in deciding to deny the exemption request.⁶⁹ It must also inform the denied applicant of the availability of an administrative review⁷⁰ pursuant to ch. 120, F.S.⁷¹

Individuals Requiring Background Screening Under Ch. 397, F.S.

Only certain individuals affiliated with substance abuse treatment providers require background screening. Section 397.4073, F.S., requires peer specialists who have direct contact⁷² with individuals receiving services must undergo a level 2 background screening as provided under s. 408.809 and ch. 435.⁷³ Applicant peer specialists are required to pay the costs associated with such screenings.⁷⁴ Similarly, all owners, directors, chief financial officers, and clinical supervisors of service providers, as well as all service provider personnel who have direct contact with children receiving services or with adults who are developmentally disabled receiving services must also undergo level 2 background screening.

Other statutory provisions are tailored to facilitate individuals in recovery who have disqualifying offenses being able to work in substance abuse treatment. The DCF may grant exemptions from disqualification for an individual seeking certification as a peer specialist if at least three years have passed since the individual has completed, or been lawfully released from, any confinement, supervision, or nonmonetary condition imposed by a court for the individual's most recent disqualifying offense.⁷⁵ Similar to the conditional employment granted to other select applicants in s. 397.4073, certified peer specialists may work with adults with SUD for up to 90 days after being notified of his or her disqualification or until the DCF makes a final determination regarding the request for an exemption from disqualification if three years or more have elapsed since the most recent disqualifying offense, whichever is earlier.⁷⁶

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Coordinated System of Care

The bill amends s. 394.4573, F.S., relating to coordinated systems of care, to add the use of peer specialists to assist in an individual's recovery from a substance use disorder or mental illness to the list of essential elements of a coordinated system of behavioral health care.

Legislative Findings and Intent

The bill provides legislative findings and intent, as follows:

- The Legislature finds that the ability to provide adequate behavioral health services is limited by a shortage of professionals and paraprofessionals.
- The Legislature finds that the state is experiencing an increase in opioid addictions, many of which prove fatal.
- The Legislature finds that peer specialists provide effective support services because they share common life experiences with the persons they assist.
- The Legislature finds that peer specialists promote a sense of community among those in recovery.
- The Legislature finds that research has shown that peer support facilitates recovery and reduces health care costs.
- The Legislature finds that persons who are otherwise qualified to serve as peer specialists may have a criminal history that prevents them from meeting background screening requirements.
- It is the intent of the Legislature that the use of peer specialists be expanded as a cost-effective means of providing services.
- It is the intent of the Legislature to ensure that peer specialists meet specified qualifications and modified background screening requirements and are adequately reimbursed for their services.

Criteria for Becoming a Certified Peer Specialist

The bill codifies a number of criteria currently used by the Florida Certification Board (FCB) in the process of certifying peer specialists. Specifically, the bill requires that persons seeking certification as peer specialists:

- Be in recovery from a substance use disorder (SUD) or mental illness for the past two years, or be a family member or caregiver of an individual with a history of SUD or mental illness;
- Pass a competency exam developed under the bill by the Department of Children and Families (DCF); and
- Undergo background screening as provided under the bill.

Duties of the Department of Children and Families (DCF)

Currently, the FCB provides training and administers a competency exam for peer specialists seeking certification. Under the bill, the DCF is made statutorily responsible for:

- Creating a training program for peer specialists, giving preference to trainers who are certified peer specialists. The training program must coincide with a competency exam and be based on current practice standards; and
- Mandating that all individuals providing recovery support services become certified.

Individuals may practice as a peer specialist prior to becoming certified for up to one year if the individual is actively working toward certification and is supervised by a qualified professional⁷⁷

or a certified peer specialist with at least two years of full-time experience as a peer specialist at a licensed behavioral health organization.

Background Screening

The bill specifies revised background screening requirements, requiring applicants to submit a full set of fingerprints to the DCF, or to a vendor, entity, or agency⁷⁸ that has entered into an agreement with the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE). Fingerprints must then be forwarded to the FDLE for state processing and retention, and to the FBI for national processing and retention. This will enable the FDLE to conduct ongoing, fingerprint-based, state and national background checks on certified peer specialists. The bill mandates any arrest record discovered be reported to the DCF. The bill requires the DCF to screen results in order to ensure an applicant meets the requirements of certification, and it provides that the applicant peer specialist is to pay all fees charged in connection with state and federal fingerprint processing and retention.⁷⁹

The bill authorizes the DCF or the Agency for Health Care Administration (the AHCA) to contract with vendors for electronic fingerprinting, provided that such contracts ensure the integrity and security of all personal identifying information obtained. Vendors who submit fingerprints on behalf of employees must:

- Meet the requirements of s. 943.053, F.S.;⁸⁰
- Be capable of communicating electronically with the state agency accepting screening results from the FDLE; and
- Be capable of providing the applicant's:
 - Full first name, middle initial, and last name;
 - Social security number or individual taxpayer identification number;
 - Date of birth;
 - Mailing address;
 - Sex; and
 - Race.

The bill provides that a background screening of a peer specialist must ensure that a prospective peer specialist has not been arrested for and awaiting final disposition of, found guilty of, regardless of adjudication, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to, or been adjudicated delinquent and the record has not been sealed or expunged for, any felony within the past three

under part I of chapter 464; or a person who is certified through a department-recognized certification process for substance abuse treatment services and who holds, at a minimum, a bachelor's degree." A person who is certified in substance abuse treatment services by a state-recognized certification process in another state at the time of employment with a licensed substance abuse provider in this state may perform the functions of a qualified professional as defined in this chapter but must meet certification requirements contained in this subsection no later than 1 year after his or her date of employment.

⁷⁹ This cost is already borne by the applicant under current law requiring level 2 background screening for certified peer specialists. See ss. 397.4073(1)(a)3. and 408.809(5), F.S.

⁸⁰ Section 943.053, F.S., provides, among other things, standards for vendors meant to ensure that all persons having direct or indirect responsibility for verifying identification, taking fingerprints, and electronically submitting fingerprints are qualified to do so and will ensure the integrity and security of all personal information gathered from the persons whose fingerprints are submitted.

years. The bill also requires that background screening ensure the applicant has not, at any time, been found guilty of, regardless of adjudication, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to, or been adjudicated delinquent and the record has not been sealed or expunged for, the following laws or similar laws of other jurisdictions:

The new screening requirements of the bill eliminate the following disqualifying offenses from current law for peer specialists:

- Misdemeanor assault, or battery (Ch. 784, F.S.).
- Prostitution (Ch. 796, F.S.), with the exception of those offenses listed in s. 796.07, F.S., which have not been expunged.
- Lower level burglary offenses (s. 810.02, F.S.).
- Lower level theft and robbery offenses (Ch. 812, F.S.).
- Lower level drug abuse offenses (s. 817.563 and Ch. 893, F.S.).
- Credit card fraud (ss. 817.481, 817.60, and 817.61, F.S.).
- Forgery (ss. 831.01, 831.02, 831.07 and 831.09, F.S.).

The bill allows individuals who wish to become peer specialists, but have a disqualifying offense in their background, to request an exemption from disqualification pursuant to s. 435.07, F.S., from the DCF or the AHCA, as applicable.

The bill also allows service provider personnel, including peer specialists, to work with adults with mental health disorders (in addition to the current allowance to work with adults suffering from SUDs or co-occurring disorders) while an exemption request is pending, and extends the time limit for such work from 90 days to 180 days.

The bill grandfathers in all peer specialists certified as of July 1, 2021, by stating they are recognized as having met the requirements of the bill.

Deleted Provisions of s. 397.417, F.S.

The bill eliminates and replaces all of the current provisions of s. 397.417, F.S. Specifically, the bill:

- Eliminates the requirement that a family member or caregiver of an individual with a SUD or mental illness have at least two years of experience in order to attain certification as a peer specialist;
- Requires the DCF to develop a peer specialist training program rather than a third-party credentialing entity;
- Allows the DCF the option of certifying peer specialists directly or approving third party credentialing entities to do so;
- Permits an individual with two years of full-time experience as a peer specialist to supervise an individual providing recovery support services and working toward certification (supervisory certified peer specialists currently must have at least three years of experience).

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

CS/CS/SB 130 eliminates several disqualifying criminal offenses that often result in disqualification from certification eligibility, and as a result the DCF predicts that there may be additional revenues generated for certification providers from fees paid by a greater number of individuals seeking certification.⁸¹

C. Government Sector Impact:

The DCF estimates there may be a negative impact to state government due to a potential increase in background screenings being conducted, and a possible increase in the number of exemptions from disqualification requested, leading to a heavier workload for the department's Background Screening Office.⁸² However, any additional workload will likely be absorbed within existing department resources.

139 397.417 Peer specialists.—

140 (1) LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND INTENT.—

141 (a) The Legislature finds that:

142 1. The ability to provide adequate behavioral health
143 services is limited by a shortage of professionals and
144 paraprofessionals.

145 2. The state is experiencing an increase in opioid

586-02353-21

2021130c1

146 addictions, many of which prove fatal.

147 3. Peer specialists provide effective support services
148 because they share common life experiences with the persons they 149 assist.

150 4. Peer specialists promote a sense of community among
151 those in recovery.

152 5. Research has shown that peer support facilitates
153 recovery and reduces health care costs.

154 6. Persons who are otherwise qualified to serve as peer
155 specialists may have a criminal history that prevents them from 156 meeting background screening requirements.

157 (b) The Legislature intends to expand the use of peer
158 specialists as a cost-effective means of providing services. The 159 Legislature also intends to ensure that peer specialists meet
160 specified qualifications and modified background screening
161 requirements and are adequately reimbursed for their services.

162 (2) QUALIFICATIONS.—

163 (a) A person may seek certification as a peer specialist if 164 he or she has been in recovery from a substance use disorder or 165 mental illness for the past 2 years or if he or she is a family
166 member or caregiver of a person with a substance use disorder or 167 mental illness.

168 (b) To obtain certification as a peer specialist, a person
169 must complete the training program developed under subsection
170 (3), achieve a passing score on the competency exam described in 171 paragraph (3) (a), and meet the background screening requirements
172 specified in subsection (5).

173 (3) DUTIES OF THE DEPARTMENT.—

174 (a) The department shall develop a training program for

175 persons seeking certification as peer specialists. The
 176 department must give preference to trainers who are certified
 177 peer specialists. The training program must coincide with a
 178 competency exam and be based on current practice standards.

179 (b) The department may certify peer specialists directly or 180 may approve one or more third-party credentialing entities for 181 the purposes of certifying peer specialists, approving training
 182 programs for individuals seeking certification as peer
 183 specialists, approving continuing education programs, and
 184 establishing the minimum requirements and standards applicants
 185 must meet to maintain certification.

186 (c) The department shall require that a person providing
 187 recovery support services be certified; however, an individual
 188 who is not certified may provide recovery support services as a
 189 peer specialist for up to 1 year if he or she is working toward 190 certification and is supervised by a qualified professional or 191 by a certified peer specialist who has at least 2 years of full-
 192 time experience as a peer specialist at a licensed behavioral
 193 health organization.

194 (4) PAYMENT.—Recovery support services may be reimbursed as
 195 a recovery service through the department, a behavioral health
 196 managing entity, or the Medicaid program. Medicaid managed care
 197 plans are encouraged to use peer specialists in providing
 198 recovery services.

199 (5) BACKGROUND SCREENING.—

200 (a) A peer specialist, or an individual who is working
 201 toward certification and providing recovery support services as 202 provided in subsection (3), must have completed or have been
 203 lawfully released from confinement, supervision, or any

204 nonmonetary condition imposed by the court for any felony and 205 must undergo a background screening as a condition of initial
 206 and continued employment. The applicant must submit a full set
 207 of fingerprints to the department or to a vendor, an entity, or 208 an agency that enters into an agreement with the Department of 209 Law Enforcement as provided in s. 943.053(13). The department,
 210 vendor, entity, or agency shall forward the fingerprints to the 211 Department of Law Enforcement for state processing and the
 212 Department of Law Enforcement shall forward the fingerprints to 213 the Federal Bureau of Investigation for national processing. The 214 department shall screen the results to determine if a peer
 215 specialist meets certification requirements. The applicant is 216 responsible for all fees charged in connection with state and 217 federal fingerprint processing and retention. The state cost for 218 fingerprint processing shall be as provided in s. 943.053(3)(e)
 219 for records provided to persons or entities other than those 220 specified as exceptions therein. Fingerprints submitted to the 221 Department of Law Enforcement pursuant to this paragraph shall 222 be retained as provided in s. 435.12 and, when the Department of 223 Law Enforcement begins participation in the program, enrolled in 224 the Federal Bureau of Investigation's national retained
 225 fingerprint arrest notification program, as provided in s.
 226 943.05(4). Any arrest record identified must be reported to the 227 department.

228 (b) The department or the Agency for Health Care
 229 Administration, as applicable, may contract with one or more
 230 vendors to perform all or part of the electronic fingerprinting
 231 pursuant to this section. Such contracts must ensure that the 232 owners and personnel of the vendor performing the electronic

586-02353-21 2021130c1

233 fingerprinting are qualified and will ensure the integrity and 234 security of all personal identifying information.

235 (c) Vendors who submit fingerprints on behalf of employers
236 must:

237 1. Meet the requirements of s. 943.053; and 238 2. Have the ability to communicate electronically with the 239 state agency accepting screening results from the Department of 240 Law Enforcement and provide the applicant's full first name,
241 middle initial, and last name; social security number or
242 individual taxpayer identification number; date of birth;
243 mailing address; sex; and race.

244 (d) The background screening conducted under this 245 subsection must ensure that a peer specialist has not, during 246 the previous 3 years, been arrested for and is awaiting final
247 disposition of, been found guilty of, regardless of
248 adjudication, or entered a plea of nolo contendere or guilty to,
249 or been adjudicated delinquent and the record has not been 250 sealed or expunged for, any felony.

251 (e) The background screening conducted under this 252 subsection must ensure that a peer specialist has not been found
253 guilty of, regardless of adjudication, or entered a plea of nolo 254 contendere or guilty to, or been adjudicated delinquent and the 255 record has not been sealed or expunged for, any offense
256 prohibited under any of the following state laws or similar laws

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 168 extends the Hurricane Loss Mitigation Program within Division of Emergency Management until June 30, 2031. The Hurricane Loss Mitigation Program funds programs that improve the wind resistance of residences and public hurricane shelters. The program is funded through an annual appropriation of $10 million from the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund to the Division of Emergency Management. The Hurricane Loss Mitigation Program is set to expire on June 30, 2021.

The bill takes effect upon becoming a law.

II. Present Situation:

In the years following Hurricane Andrew, the Legislature created a series of programs to stabilize the economy and insurance industry.¹ These programs include the creation of Citizens Property Insurance Corporation, a state-administered insurance for those unable to obtain a conventional homeowners insurance policy; the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund, a reinsurance fund established to limit residential insurers' exposure after a storm; and mitigation funding, which eventually became the Hurricane Loss Mitigation Program.²

Hurricane Loss Mitigation Program (HLMP)

In 1999, the Legislature created the HLMP within the Division of Emergency Management (DEM) to fund programs for improving the wind resistance of residences and mobile homes.³ The HLMP is funded by an annual appropriation of $10 million from the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund.⁴ Specifically, current law requires the funds to be used as follows:

- $3 million must be directed toward retrofitting existing facilities used as public hurricane shelters.⁵
- $7 million must be directed toward programs that improve the wind resistance of residences and mobile homes, including loans, subsidies, grants, demonstration projects, and direct assistance; educating persons concerning the Florida Building Code; and other efforts to prevent or reduce losses or reduce the cost of building after a disaster.⁶

Of the $7 million allocated to improve the wind resistance of residences and mobile homes, provide education regarding Florida Building Code cooperative programs, and reduce the cost of rebuilding after a disaster:

- 50 percent ($3.5 million) is directed to grant funding for governmental entities, nonprofit organizations, and qualified for-profit organizations to improve the resiliency of residential, community, and government structures within their communities (Hurricane Loss Mitigation Program Retrofit Grant).
- 40 percent ($2.8 million) must be directed to the Manufactured Housing and Mobile Home Mitigation and Enhancement Program (Mobile Home Tie-Down Program) to mitigate future losses for mobile homes and inspect and improve tie-downs for mobile homes. The program is administered by Tallahassee Community College (TCC).⁷
- 10 percent ($700,000) must be directed to the Florida International University (FIU) for hurricane research at the International Hurricane Research Center.⁸

On January 1 of each year, DEM submits an annual report and accounting of activities under the HLMP and an evaluation of the activities.⁹ The report must be submitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President of the Senate, and the Majority and Minority Leaders of the House of Representatives and the Senate. The Office of Insurance Regulation must review the report and make recommendations to the insurance industry as deemed appropriate.¹⁰

The HLMP expires on June 30, 2021.¹¹

Shelter Retrofit Program

Of the funds dedicated to the Shelter Retrofit Program, the DEM must prioritize the use of the funds for projects included in the annual Shelter Retrofit Report.¹² The DEM must similarly prioritize these funds to projects in regional planning council regions with shelter deficits and projects that maximize the use of state funds.¹³

In Fiscal Year 2019-2020, the DEM reports that 14 new shelter retrofit agreements were executed and 16 projects were completed. At the end of the fiscal year, 19 projects were active in communities across the state; of the total, nine projects were opened in previous fiscal years. The funds in the program that have not been expended in previous fiscal years are made available in following years for new projects.¹⁴

Hurricane Loss Mitigation Program Retrofit Grant

Governmental entities, nonprofit organizations, and qualified for-profit organizations can submit a proposal for the HLMP Retrofit Grant. Each submitted proposal is reviewed through a cost-benefit analysis to ensure that the recommended mitigation retrofits remain cost effective. A review panel selects eligible applicants based on priority, need, benefit, and alignment with local mitigation strategy projects.¹⁵

In Fiscal Year 2019-2020, the DEM reports that 16 new wind mitigation retrofits to homes were awarded and 7 grants were awarded that involved other mitigation strategies, such as stormwater drainage, flood mitigation, and public wind retrofit activities. Due to projects being halted and supply chain bottlenecks for construction equipment and materials because of COVID-19 impacts, the projects were granted an extension for completion. Typically projects must be complete at the end of the fiscal year; however, the 2019-2020 fiscal year projects were granted an extension through December 31, 2020. Similar to the Shelter Retrofit Grant, funds in the program that have not been expended in previous fiscal years are made available in following years for new projects.¹⁶

Mobile Home Tie-Down Program

The purpose of the Mobile Home Tie-Down Program is to mitigate future losses and inspect and improve tie-downs for mobile homes built before 1999 to meet the current standards.¹⁷ Mitigation under the program includes addressing problems associated with weakened trusses, studs, and other structural components caused by wood rot or termite damage; site-built additions, such as porches or carports; tie-down systems; and any additional issues deemed appropriate by TCC, the Federation of Manufactured Home Owners of Florida, the Florida Manufactured Housing Association, and the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV).¹⁸

¹² The Shelter Retrofit Report is prepared annually and submitted to the Governor and the Legislature. See s. 252.385, F.S.

¹⁸ Section 215.559(2)(b)1., F.S.

The Mobile Home Tie-Down Program is funded by a direct $2.8 million allocation under the HLMP to TCC, which serves as program administrator.¹⁹ The Mobile Home Tie-Down Program does not, and mobile homes are ineligible to, receive federal mitigation funds under Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Pre-Disaster Mitigation Grant, Building Resilient Infrastructure and Communities, or Hazard Mitigation Grant programs.

Since 1999, the Mobile Home Tie-Down Program has served over 40,000 mobile homes in over 278 mobile home communities.²⁰ Activities during the 2019-2020 fiscal year included 1,702 completed mobile homes in 14 mobile home communities.²¹ COVID-19 travel, inspection, and community access restrictions prevented the Mobile Home Tie-Down Program from expensing 100% of the allocated funds.²²

Third-party studies of the Mobile Home Tie-Down Program report improved wind resistance following participation in the program. In 2005, a FEMA Mitigation Branch Technical Services Division study of impacted mobile home communities during the 2004 hurricane season reported 4 percent to 5 percent of inspected mobile homes with retrofitted tie-downs were substantially damaged.²³ The same study reported that the primary cause of damage to mobile homes was caused by roof failure associated with the destruction of carports and sunrooms not constructed to code.²⁴

As of December 2020, the Mobile Home Tie-Down Program reported a current waiting list of seven years.²⁵ TCC is not accepting new applications until the waiting list shortens to three years.²⁶

Hurricane Research

FIU conducts research to support hurricane loss reduction devices and techniques as identified by the International Hurricane Research Center. The center's mission is to reduce hurricane damage and loss of life through more effective mitigation. The center has four laboratories focused on different aspects of hurricane impact: Laboratory for Coastal Research; Laboratory for Social and Behavioral Research; Laboratory for Insurance, Financial, and Economic Research; and Laboratory for Wind Engineering Research.²⁷

For Fiscal Year 2019-2020, the International Hurricane Research Center is researching several topics, including experimental and analytical assessments of effects of leakage around residential building openings; investigation to codify wind pressure distribution of elevated homes; continued development of an integrated storm tide and freshwater flooding model; and education and outreach programs to convey the benefits of various hurricane loss mitigation devices and techniques. Due to the impacts of COVID-19, the center was granted an extension to finish its research. Final reports will be delivered to the state in April 2021.²⁸

Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund (Cat Fund)

The Cat Fund is a tax-exempt fund created in 1993 after Hurricane Andrew as a form of mandatory reinsurance for residential property insurers.²⁹ The Cat Fund is administered by the State Board of Administration and is a tax-exempt source of reimbursement to property insurers for a selected percentage (45, 75, or 90 percent) of hurricane losses above the insurer's retention (deductible).³⁰ The fund provides insurers an additional source of reinsurance that is less expensive than what is available in the private market, enabling insurers to generally write more residential property insurance in the state than would otherwise be written. All insurers admitted to do business in this state writing residential property insurance that includes wind coverage must buy reimbursement coverage (reinsurance) on their residential property exposure through the Cat Fund.³¹ Because of the low cost of coverage from the Cat fund, the fund acts to lower residential property insurance premiums for consumers.

When the moneys in the Cat Fund are or will be insufficient to cover losses, the fund is authorized to issue revenue bonds funded by emergency assessments on all lines of insurance, except medical malpractice and workers compensation.³² Through private letter ruling the U.S. Internal Revenue Service authorized the Cat Fund to issue tax-exempt bonds. The initial ruling was granted on March 27, 1998, and in 2008 another private letter ruling held that the prior exemption could continue to be relied upon on a permanent basis.³³

The private letter ruling "includes a requirement that a certain amount of [Cat Fund] funds be devoted to hurricane mitigation purposes."³⁴ "The allocation of a portion of [Cat Fund] funds to the broad public purpose of hurricane loss mitigation was one of the factors that the US Internal Revenue Service relied on in determining the tax-exempt status of the [fund]."³⁵

Section 215.555(7)(c), F.S., specifies that the appropriation is for the purpose of providing funding for local governments, state agencies, public and private educational institutions, and nonprofit organizations to:

- Support programs intended to improve hurricane preparedness;
- Reduce potential losses in the event of a hurricane;
- Provide research into means to reduce such losses;
- Educate or inform the public as to means to reduce hurricane losses;
- Assist the public in determining the appropriateness of particular upgrades to structures or in the financing of such upgrades; or
- Protect local infrastructure from potential damage from a hurricane.

Statute requires an annual appropriation of at least $10 million, but no more than 35 percent of yearly investment income. Annually $13.5 million is appropriated from the Cat Fund to DEM, including a recurring $3.5 million for the statewide emergency and mass notification system (Alert System) and a recurring $10 million for the HLMP as discussed above.

Obsolete Reference

Section 215.559(2)(b)3., F.S., contains an obsolete reference regarding competitive rates for the Manufactured Housing and Mobile home Mitigation and Enhancement Program. The reference is to a defunct rate standard that has not applied to mobile home insurance policies issued by Citizens Property Insurance Corporation since 2007.³⁶

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 extends until June 30, 2031, the Hurricane Loss Mitigation Program (HLMP) within the Division of Emergency Management. Without the bill, the HLMP is set to expire on June 30, 2021.

The bill also removes an obsolete reference in s. 215.559(2)(b)3., F.S.

Indeterminate with respect to insurance premiums. A reduction in wind loss attributable to retrofitted tie-downs may be offset by wind loss attributable to carports and sunrooms not constructed to code, which FEMA has concluded as being the primary causes of damage to mobile homes from a wind event.

Nonprofit organizations, qualified for-profit organizations, and property owners benefit from the extension of the mitigation retrofit grant program, which provides for hazard mitigation retrofitting to residential and commercial properties.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The Legislature needs to ensure the continuation of appropriations of at least $10 million from the Cat Fund are made to hurricane mitigation programs as provided under s. 215.555(7)(c), F.S., to maintain the tax exempt status of the Cat Fund. The extension of the HLMP under the bill provides continued direction for use of these funds. Local housing authorities, local governments, TCC, and FIU benefit from the extension of the shelter retrofit program, the mitigation retrofit grant program, the Mobile Home Tie-Down Program, and the hurricane research at FIU.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 184 requires the Division of Emergency Management to identify and maintain an inventory of available digitally displayed automatic changeable facing signs capable of providing the immediate distribution of critical information to the public in times of declared emergency and regarding missing endangered persons.

It also establishes criteria and processes for issuing Purple Alerts to assist in finding missing adults with developmental disabilities, brain injuries, or other disabilities not related to substance abuse.

The bill provides the FDLE with budget authority of $199,901 ($92,790 nonrecurring) in the Operating Trust Fund and 2 FTE in order to accommodate increased workload and make technology improvements. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement for additional information.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2021, but the alert system is effective July 1, 2022.

II. Present Situation:

Florida Statutory Alerts

Section 937.021, F.S., requires law enforcement agencies (LEAs) in this state to adopt written policies that specify the procedures to be used to investigate reports of missing children and missing adults. Section 937.022, F.S., creates the Missing Endangered Persons Information Clearinghouse (MEPIC) within the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) “to serve as a central repository of information regarding missing endangered persons.” Every state, county, or municipal LEA must submit information on missing endangered persons to the clearinghouse and the FDLE must collect and disseminate the information to assist in the location of missing endangered persons.¹

A Missing Child Alert is intended to enable law enforcement to quickly disseminate information when a child is missing and believed to be in life-threatening danger, but there is no indication that the child has been abducted.² A Missing Child Alert may result in an AMBER Alert if investigation produces an indication that the child has been abducted.³ A state Silver Alert is intended to aid law enforcement in the rescue or recovery of a missing elderly person who suffers from irreversible deterioration of intellectual faculties⁴ and becomes lost while driving a vehicle.⁵

Generally, in each case, the local LEA with jurisdiction contacts the FDLE’s MEPIC. The FDLE works with the local LEA to determine whether information will be broadcast on a regional or statewide basis and prepares information for public distribution through the Emergency Alert System, wireless emergency alerts, the Department of Transportation’s (FDOT) 511 traveler information system⁶ and dynamic message signs, lottery machines, and email, as appropriate.⁷

With respect to use of the FDOT’s dynamic message signs, after contact from the FDLE, the appropriate FDOT Regional Transportation Management Center is ultimately responsible for displaying alert messages on those signs. If the alert message is:

- A Missing Child Alert or a Silver Alert, the message is displayed for a maximum of six hours and is re-activated if the FDLE requests it, but only in the specific area the law enforcement believes the child may be located.
- An AMBER Alert, the message is displayed until the child is recovered or for a maximum of 24 hours, again re-activated upon the FDLE’s request only in the specific area law enforcement believes the child may be located.⁸

⁷ Missing Persons and Blue Alert Plans, pp. 1-5.

⁸ Missing Persons and Blue Alert Plans, pp. 4-5.

Section 937.021(5), F.S., provides immunity from civil liability for complying in good faith with a request to record, report, transmit, display, or release Missing Child, AMBER, and Silver Alert information.

Section 784.071, F.S., authorizes Blue Alerts and the FDLE will issue a Blue Alert if a law enforcement officer has been killed, suffered serious bodily injury, or been assaulted with a deadly weapon; or is missing while in the line of duty or under circumstances indicating concern for an officer's safety; and the suspect has fled the scene and poses an imminent threat to the public or to other law enforcement officers.

The FDLE, in conjunction with the Florida Highway Patrol, the FDOT, and the Department of Lottery, broadcasts information to the public through the Emergency Alert System on television and radio when information about an offender would help avert further harm or assist in apprehending a suspect in connection with killing or harming a law enforcement officer.⁹ In such cases, dynamic message signs are also used to display Blue Alerts.¹⁰ These alerts use the technologies employed for Amber Alerts.¹¹ At the request of a local LEA, the FDLE Intelligence Watch and Warning Regional Special Agency Supervisor works with the investigating agency to prepare information for public release, include suspect and/or vehicle information. The FDLE works with the FDOT's Regional Transportation Management Center, which is ultimately responsible for displaying Blue Alert messages on the dynamic message signs. Again, the alert is displayed for a maximum of six hours, with re-activation upon FDLE request in the specific area that law enforcement believes the person may be located.¹²

The FDOT observes the following orders of priority with respect to these alert messages on dynamic message signs:

- If there are multiple alerts activated during the same time: AMBER, Missing Child, Blue, and Silver.
- If there are multiple AMBER, Missing Child, or Blue Alerts activated during the same time, each one is displayed on every other dynamic message sign.¹³

Missing Endangered Persons

Section 937.0201(4), F.S., defines the term "missing endangered person" for purposes of missing person investigations to mean:

- A missing child;
- A missing adult younger than 26 years of age;
- A missing adult 26 years of age or older who is suspected by an LEA of being endangered or the victim of criminal activity; or
- A missing adult who meets the criteria for activation of the Silver Alert Plan¹⁴ of the FDLE.

Alzheimer’s Participants

Section 429.918, F.S., relating to licensure designation as a specialized Alzheimer’s services adult day care center, requires a number of requirements for such day centers to operate, including, among other requirements that:

- Employees hired to provide direct care to ADRD participants¹⁵ must receive and review an orientation plan that includes information on the Silver Alert Plan; and
- ADRD participants (or caregivers) must be provided a copy of the participant’s plan of care and information regarding resources to assist in ensuring the safety and security of a participant, which must include (among other items) information on the Silver Alert Plan.

Civil Immunity

Florida law provides civil immunity to certain individuals in specified circumstances who, acting in good faith, attempt to render aid to others.¹⁶ Section 937.021, F.S., currently provides civil immunity for specified entities requested by law enforcement to record, report, transmit, display, or release information pertaining to a missing person if such entity complied with the request in good faith.¹⁷ These entities include:

- The FDLE, a state or local law enforcement agency, and agency personnel;
- A radio or television network, broadcaster, or other media representative; or
- A dealer of communications services as defined in s. 202.11, F.S.¹⁸

Entities who report, transmit, display, or release information pertaining to a missing person are presumed to have acted in good faith.¹⁹ The presumption of good faith is not overcome if a technical or clerical error is made by an agency, employee, individual, or entity acting at the request of the local law enforcement agency having jurisdiction or if the missing person information is incomplete or incorrect because the information received from the local law enforcement agency was incomplete or incorrect.²⁰

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill establishes criteria and processes for Purple Alerts.

<http://www.fdle.state.fl.us/Silver-Alert-Plan/Activation-Steps> (last visited February 11, 2021)(hereinafter cited as “Silver Activation Steps”). This site lists the criteria for both local and state Silver Alerts.

¹⁶ For example, Section 768.13, F.S. (also known as Florida’s Good Samaritan Act (GSA)) provides immunity from civil liability for persons acting in good faith who render emergency care and treatment to individuals in need of assistance. Under the GSA, immunity from civil liability is available to any person who gratuitously and in good faith renders emergency assistance without the objection of a victim, if the person acts as a reasonably prudent person would act under similar circumstances.

¹⁷ Section 937.021(5)(a), F.S.

¹⁹ Section 937.021(5)(c), F.S.

Section 1 amends s. 252.35, F.S., relating to duties of the Division of Emergency Management, to add a requirement that the division identify and maintain an inventory of available digitally displayed automatic changeable facing signs capable of providing the immediate distribution of critical information to the public in times of declared emergency and regarding missing endangered persons.

Section 2 amends s. 937.0201, F.S., relating to definitions for purposes of missing person investigations. The bill includes in the definition of “missing endangered person” a missing adult who meets the criteria for the FDLE’s activation of the Purple Alert pursuant to s. 937.0205, F.S., created by the bill.

Section 3 creates s. 937.0205, entitled Purple Alert. The bill expresses the following Legislative findings:

- A standardized state system is necessary to aid in the search of certain missing adults (identified and discussed below).
- A coordinated local law enforcement and state agency response with prompt and widespread sharing of information will improve the chances of finding the person.

The bill also recites the Legislature’s intent to establish the Purple Alert, implemented in a manner that, to the extent practicable, safeguards the privacy rights and related health diagnostic information of such missing adults.

The bill directs the FDLE, in cooperation with the FDOT, the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV), the Department of the Lottery, and local LEAs, to establish and implement the Purple Alert. At a minimum, the Purple Alert must:

- Be the only viable means by which the missing adult is likely to be returned to safety;
- Provide, to the greatest extent possible, for the protection of the privacy, dignity, and independence of the missing adult by including standards aimed at safeguarding these civil liberties by preventing the inadvertent or unnecessary broadcasting or dissemination of sensitive health and diagnostic information;
- Provide that the broadcasting and dissemination of alerts and related information be limited to the geographic areas where the missing adult could reasonably be, considering his or her circumstances and physical and mental condition, the potential modes of transportation available to him or her or suspected to be involved, and the known or suspected circumstances of his or her disappearance; and
- Be activated only when there is sufficient descriptive information about the missing adult and the circumstances surrounding his or her disappearance to indicate that activating the alert is likely to help locate the missing adult.

The bill authorizes (but does not require) a local LEA, under a Purple Alert, to broadcast to the media and to persons who subscribe to receive alert notifications information concerning a missing adult:

- Who has a mental or cognitive disability that is not Alzheimer’s disease or a dementia-related disorder; an intellectual disability or a development disability, as those terms are defined in s.

393.063, F.S.;²¹ a brain injury; another physical, mental, or emotional disability that is not related to substance abuse; or a combination of any of these;

- Whose disappearance indicates a credible threat of immediate danger or serious bodily harm to himself or herself, as determined by the local LEA;
- Who cannot be returned to safety without law enforcement intervention; and,
- Who does not meet the criteria for activation of a local Silver Alert or the Silver Alert Plan of the FDLE.²²

If a Purple Alert is determined to be necessary and appropriate, the local law enforcement agency having jurisdiction must notify the media and subscribers in the jurisdiction or jurisdictions where the missing adult is believed to or may be located. The local law enforcement agency having jurisdiction may also request that the Purple Alert notification be broadcast on lottery terminals within the geographic regions where the missing adult may reasonably be, including, but not limited to, lottery terminals in gas stations, convenience stores, and supermarkets.

The local jurisdictional LEA is also authorized to request that a case be opened with the FDLE's MEPIC. To enhance local or regional efforts when the investigation indicates that an identifiable vehicle is involved, the MEPIC is required to coordinate with the FDOT and the DHSMV for the activation of dynamic message signs on state highways and the immediate distribution of critical information to the public regarding the missing adult in accordance with the alert.

The bill requires the Purple Alert process to include procedures to monitor the use, activation, and results of alerts and a strategy for informing and educating law enforcement, the media, and other stakeholders concerning the alert. Lastly, this section of the bill authorizes the FDLE to adopt rules to implement and administer the new section of law.

Missing adults who meet the criteria for activation of a Purple Alert, their caregivers and families, as well as the general public may benefit from improved communication of emergency information through Purple Alerts. However, to receive Purple Alerts, individuals must be subscribers in the jurisdiction or jurisdictions where the missing adult is believed to or may be located, see the alerts on lottery terminals in gas stations, convenience stores, or supermarkets or on dynamic message signs along the State Highway System, or otherwise gain knowledge of a Purple Alert following notification of the media by the local jurisdictional LEA.

Section 4 amends s. 937.021, F.S., relating to missing child and missing adult reports, to include Purple Alerts in the existing provisions relating to immunity from civil liability for law enforcement agencies, broadcasters, and other entities acting in good faith when involved in issuing Missing Child Alerts, AMBER Alerts, and Silver Alerts.

²¹ That section defines "intellectual disability" to mean significantly sub-average general intellectual functioning existing concurrently with deficits in adaptive behavior which manifests before the age of 18 and can reasonably be expected to continue indefinitely. For the purposes of this definition, the term: (a) "Adaptive behavior" means the effectiveness or degree with which an individual meets the standards of personal independence and social responsibility expected of his or her age, cultural group, and community. (b) "Significantly sub-average general intellectual functioning" means performance that is two or more standard deviations from the mean score on a standardized intelligence test specified in the rules of the agency. "Developmental disability" means a disorder or syndrome that is attributable to intellectual disability, cerebral palsy, autism, spina bifida, Down syndrome, Phelan-McDermid syndrome, or Prader-Willi syndrome; that manifests before the age of 18; and that constitutes a substantial handicap that can reasonably be expected to continue indefinitely.

²² See Silver Activation Steps. See also FDLE Missing Endangered Persons Information Clearinghouse, Florida's Silver Alert Plan, available at <http://www.fdle.state.fl.us/mcicsearch/SilverAlerts.asp> (last visited February 11, 2021).

Section 5 amends s. 937.022, F.S., relating to the MEPIC, to include Purple Alerts in this provision. This will limit the activation of the Purple Alerts to only allow the LEA having jurisdiction over a case to make a request to the MEPIC for activation of a Purple Alert if the criteria for issuance are met. This is the same limitation for the activation of Silver Alert Plan discussed above.

Section 6 provides $107,111 in recurring and $92,790 in nonrecurring budget authority from the Operating Trust Fund to the Department of Law Enforcement, and two full-time equivalent positions with associated salary rate of 55,853 for the purpose of accommodating increased workload and implementing required technology improvements.

Section 7 provides that except as otherwise expressly provided in the act and except for this section, which shall take effect July 1, 2021, the act shall take effect July 1, 2022.

The FDLE estimates that the bill's provision will result in an additional 146 alerts added to the alert system yearly or, on average, one Purple Alert every 2.5 days. To address this workload, the FDLE is requesting three Crime Intelligence Analyst I FTE positions totaling $165,735 ($155,262 recurring). Additionally, the FDLE indicates that the cost of necessary modifications to existing information technology will total $170,000 and take approximately 12 months to complete. The FDLE will be required to create policies and procedures on how to activate and cancel Purple Alerts but the department did not estimate the cost of such activities.²³

The bill provides $107,111 in recurring and $92,790 in nonrecurring budget authority from the Operating Trust Fund to the Department of Law Enforcement, and two full-time equivalent positions with associated salary rate of 55,853 for the purpose of accommodating increased workload and implementing required technology improvements.

The Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT):

The fiscal impact to the FDOT relating to display of Purple Alerts on dynamic message signs is indeterminate, as the potential increase in volume of alerts cannot be determined.

The Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV):

The DHSMV notes the bill will result in a significant workload increase for the Florida Highway Patrol, especially the regional communications center ultimately assigned to coordinate Purple Alerts. At this time, the workload increase is expected to be absorbed within existing resources. However, the DHSMV states that it will monitor the workload increase to determine if additional staff may be necessary at a future time to address the workload.²⁴

Local Law Enforcement Agencies:

Local jurisdictional LEAs will incur indeterminate expenses associated with notifying the media and subscribers as authorized under the bill, and with developing any necessary policies and training and establishing or enhancing necessary infrastructure and systems.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

²³ See the FDLE 2021 Legislative Bill Analysis for SB 184 on file with the Senate Committee on Transportation.

²⁴ See the DHSMV 2021 Legislative Bill Analysis for SB 184 on file with the Senate Committee on Transportation.

VII. Related Issues:

The FDLE noted that the language in the bill omitting an adult who has Alzheimer's disease or a dementia-related disorder from the alert may significantly complicate the required investigative and verification steps necessary for local law enforcement agencies to assess and confirm a potential alert subject's medical diagnoses. Similarly, the language may complicate details of training criteria and necessitate the FDLE to run through longer and multiple checklists with local agencies requesting an alert, especially if they are unsure of the subject's exact medical history. These complexities could lengthen the time it takes law enforcement to issue the alert, whatever the type. According to the FDLE, timely public notification is crucial for improving the chances of a successful, safe recovery and this language may have the unintended consequence of making both the existing and the new alert types less successful.²⁵

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 252.35, 937.0201, 937.021, and 937.022.

This bill creates section 937.0205 of the Florida Statutes.

IX. Additional Information:

67 (b) A missing adult younger than 26 years of age.~~+~~

73 (e) A missing adult who meets the criteria for activation
 74 of the Purple Alert of the Department of Law Enforcement
 75 pursuant to s. 937.0205.

76 Section 3. Section 937.0205, Florida Statutes, is created
 77 to read:

78 937.0205 Purple Alert.—

79 (1) The Legislature finds that a standardized state system
 80 is necessary to aid in the search for a missing adult identified
 81 in paragraph (4) (a). The Legislature also finds that a
 82 coordinated local law enforcement and state agency response with 83 prompt and widespread sharing of information will improve the 84 chances of finding the person.

85 (2) It is the intent of the Legislature to establish the 86 Purple Alert, to be implemented in a manner that, to the extent
 87 practicable, safeguards the privacy rights and related health

596-01961-21 2021184c1

88 and diagnostic information of such missing adults.

89 (3) The Department of Law Enforcement, in cooperation with 90 the Department of Transportation, the Department of Highway
 91 Safety and Motor Vehicles, the Department of the Lottery, and 92 local law enforcement agencies, shall establish and implement
 93 the Purple Alert. At a minimum, the Purple Alert must:

94 (a) Be the only viable means by which the missing adult is 95 likely to be returned to safety;

96 (b) Provide, to the greatest extent possible, for the 97 protection of the privacy, dignity, and independence of the 98 missing adult by including standards aimed at safeguarding these 99 civil liberties by preventing the inadvertent or unnecessary
 100 broadcasting or dissemination of sensitive health and diagnostic 101 information;

102 (c) Limit the broadcasting and dissemination of alerts and
 103 related information to the geographic areas where the missing
 104 adult could reasonably be, considering his or her circumstances
 105 and physical and mental condition, the potential modes of 106 transportation available to him or her or suspected to be 107 involved, and the known or suspected circumstances of his or her 108 disappearance; and

109 (d) Be activated only when there is sufficient descriptive
 110 information about the missing adult and the circumstances
 111 surrounding his or her disappearance to indicate that activating
 112 the alert is likely to help locate the missing adult.

113 (4) (a) Under a Purple Alert, a local law enforcement agency
 114 may broadcast to the media and to persons who subscribe to 115 receive alert notifications under this section information
 116 concerning a missing adult:

 123 immediate danger or serious bodily harm to himself or herself,
 124 as determined by the local law enforcement agency;

125 3. Who cannot be returned to safety without law enforcement

 128 Silver Alert or the Silver Alert Plan of the Department of Law
 129 Enforcement.

130 (b) If a Purple Alert is determined to be necessary and 131 appropriate, the local law enforcement agency having 132 jurisdiction must notify the media and subscribers in the 133 jurisdiction or jurisdictions where the missing adult is 134 believed to or may be located. The local law enforcement agency
 135 having jurisdiction may also request that the Purple Alert
 136 notification be broadcast on lottery terminals within the 137 geographic regions where the missing adult may reasonably be,
 138 including, but not limited to, lottery terminals in gas
 139 stations, convenience stores, and supermarkets.

140 (c) Under the Purple Alert, the local law enforcement
 141 agency having jurisdiction may also request that a case be 142 opened with the Department of Law Enforcement's Missing
 143 Endangered Persons Information Clearinghouse. To enhance local 144 or regional efforts when the investigation indicates that an 145 identifiable vehicle is involved, the clearinghouse must

146 coordinate with the Department of Transportation and the 147 Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles for the 174 the missing adult.

596-01961-21

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 260 creates the Florida Veterans' Care Coordination Program (Program), to provide veterans and their families dedicated behavioral health care referral services, primarily for mental health and substance abuse. Through the Program, a veteran may call a separate veteran-dedicated support line to receive assistance and support from a fellow veteran who is trained to respond to the calls for assistance.

The bill authorizes the Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs (FDVA) to establish the Program. To provide services, the FDVA may contract with a nonprofit entity that has statewide phone capacity to serve veterans and is accredited by the Council on Accreditation and fully accredited by the Alliance of Information and Referral Services. The contracting entity must enter into agreements with Florida 211 Network participants to provide services to veterans.

The FDVA must compile data collected by the Florida 211 Network into a report for the Governor, President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives by December 15, 2022.

Current federal funding for the program is set to expire September 30, 2021. Should the funding not be extended, annual recurring costs to operate the statewide program have been estimated at $4.5 million from General Revenue. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Veterans and Mental Health and/or Substance Abuse

More than 1.5 million veterans currently live in Florida, making the state's veteran population the third largest nationally.¹ Veterans face unique challenges, and some struggle with mental health and substance abuse.

Post-traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) is a psychiatric disorder that can occur in people who have experienced or witnessed a traumatic event, including war or combat.²

The National Center for PTSD, U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), lists the percentage of veterans with PTSD by service era:

- Between 11 and 20 percent of veterans who served in Operations Iraqi Freedom and Enduring Freedom have PTSD in a given year.
- About 12 percent of veterans who served in the Gulf War have PTSD in a given year.
- About 15 percent of veterans of the Vietnam War were diagnosed with PTSD at the time of the most recent study in the late 1980's. However, it is estimated that about 30 percent of veterans of the Vietnam War have had PTSD in their lifetimes.³

A strong association exists between PTSD and substance use disorders (SUD) amongst veterans. Statistics show:

- More than two in 10 veterans with PTSD also have SUD;
- Almost one in three veterans seeking treatment for SUD also have PTSD;
- About one in 10 veterans returning from the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan seen at the VA have problems with alcohol or other drugs.⁴

Suicide rates for veterans continue to be a cause of national concern:

- More than 6,000 veterans committed suicide each year from 2008 to 2016.
- In 2016, the suicide rate was 1.5 times greater for veterans than for non-veteran adults, after adjusting for age and gender.⁵

From 2005 to 2016, the increase in suicide rate among veterans in Veterans Hospital Administration (VHA) care was lower than among veterans not in VHA care.⁶

Florida Alliance of Information and Referral Services (FLAIRS)

Each year, 16 million people in the United States call 2-1-1 for help with basic needs like food and shelter, and emergency needs, such as mental health, addiction, and suicide intervention.⁷ The Florida Alliance of Information and Referral Services (FLAIRS) is the 211 collaborative organization for the state responsible for designing, studying, and implementing the Florida 211 Network.⁸ The mission of the FLAIRS is to strengthen the health and human service information and referral provider network in the state through advocacy, coordination, and education.⁹

The Florida 211 Network, established in s. 408.918, F.S., operates as the single point of coordination for information and referral of health and human services.¹⁰ As of February 20, 2017, 22 Florida 211 Network providers operated across the state.¹¹

To participate in the Florida 211 Network, a 211 provider must be fully accredited by the National Alliance of Information and Referral Services or have received approval to operate, pending accreditation from its affiliate, the FLAIRS.¹²

The Council on Accreditation

The Council on Accreditation (COA) is an international accrediting entity that accredits private and public organizations and programs that provide human services.¹³ The COA specifically accredits entities providing child welfare, behavioral health, and community-based social services.¹⁴

Pilot Program and Statewide Expansion

Pilot Program

In 2014, the Crisis Center of Tampa Bay launched a pilot program through its existing 211 Network to offer a separate dedicated phone line for state veterans in need of support, known as the Florida Veterans Support Line. The pilot program expanded existing 211 services, including crisis intervention and peer-to-peer care coordination, to veterans and their families in Hillsborough, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, and Manatee counties.¹⁵

Under the Crisis Center's Peer-to-Peer Care Coordination model, callers to the support line talk to a fellow veteran who will provide emotional support and referral to VA and non-VA services, including for medical care, housing, counseling, legal, and employment assistance.¹⁶

History of Funding for the Pilot Program

Since the launch of the pilot program, funding has been provided as follows:

- 2014 - 2015
The Legislature provided $150,000 in nonrecurring general revenue funds to the FDVA to contract with the Crisis Center of Tampa Bay to establish a pilot program to expand 2-1-1-services to veterans.¹⁷ With the appropriation, in August 2014, the Crisis Center of Tampa Bay expanded its services to veterans and hired veterans to answer crisis calls. In November 2014, the Crisis Center launched the Florida Veterans Support Line.
- 2016 - 2021
The Department of Children and Families (DCF) has continued to fund the Crisis Center of Tampa Bay's pilot program with an annual appropriation of approximately $150,000.¹⁸
- 2017 - 2018
The Legislature provided $400,000 in nonrecurring general revenue funds to the FDVA to contract with the Crisis Center of Tampa Bay to fund local call centers statewide with the purpose of connecting veterans with resources available in their community.¹⁹
- 2018 - 2019
The U.S. Department of Veteran Affairs (USDVA) agreed to partially fund the implementation of statewide peer-to-peer coordination and provided $1 million in funding for the statewide program.²⁰ To ensure full statewide implementation, the DCF provided $538,000 in federal funds provided through the State Opioid Response Grant (SOR Grant).²¹
- 2019 - 2020
The USDVA provided $1 million in funding, matched in full with the DCF SOR Grant for total funding of $2 million.²²

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill creates the Florida Veterans' Care Coordination Program (Program) as a statewide program, to provide veterans and their families dedicated behavioral health care referral services, primarily for mental health and substance abuse. Through the Program, a veteran who calls a dedicated support line receives assistance and support from a trained fellow veteran.

The bill authorizes the Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs (FDVA) to establish the Program. To provide services, the FDVA may contract with a nonprofit entity that has statewide phone capacity to serve veterans and is accredited by the Council on Accreditation and fully accredited by the National Alliance of Information and Referral Services. The entity must enter into agreements with Florida 211 Network participants to provide services to veterans.

The bill models the Program after the pilot program established in 2014 by the Crisis Center of Tampa Bay and the FDVA in Hillsborough, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, and Manatee Counties.

Program Goals and Services

Program goals are to prevent suicide by a veteran and increase veteran participation in programs and services provided by the VA and community-based programs and services.

Florida 211 Network participants in the Program must provide an array of specific services, including all of the following:

- Telephonic peer support, crisis intervention, and information on referral resources.
- Treatment coordination, including coordination of follow-up care.
- Assessment of suicide risk.
- Immediate needs assessments, including safety planning and support.
- Promotion of the safety and wellness of veterans and their families, including continuous safety planning and support.
- Resource coordination, including data analysis, to facilitate acceptance, enrollment, and attendance of veterans and their families in programs and services provided by the VA and other available community-based programs and services.

The bill requires program teams to:

- Document all incoming calls and capture data needed to reach a greater number of veterans and their families;
- Track the number and nature of requests from veterans and family members;
- Follow up with callers to determine if they have pursued referrals and whether additional help is needed; and
- Implement communication strategies³⁴ to educate veterans and their families about programs and services provided by the VA and other community-based programs and services.

To educate others about the Program:

³⁴ Examples of communication strategies provided by the bill include media promotions, public service announcements, print and Internet articles, and community presentations.

- Florida 211 network participants must collect data on the program and establish and maintain a database of services available locally.
- Both the FDVA and its contractor must work with managing entities to educate service providers about the Florida Veterans Support Line and the Program.

Data Collection and Report

Florida 211 Network participants must provide all collected data to the FDVA, as directed by the FDVA. By December 15, 2022, the FDVA must then submit a report to the Governor, President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The report must include:

- The total number of calls received by the Program;
- Demographic information on each caller, including military affiliation, veteran status, and whether they are receiving services provided by the VA or other available community-based programs and services;
- The nature of each call, including any concerns prompting the call and any services requested by the caller;
- The outcome of each call, including referrals for services and any organizations to which the caller was referred;
- Services received as a result of each call;
- Information regarding follow-up by the Program team, including the percentage of calls receiving follow-up and the outcome of such follow-up;
- Information regarding the Program's impact on each caller's quality of life and avoidance of negative outcomes; and
- Each caller's level of satisfaction with services received.

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2021.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 366 modifies Florida's statutes to provide support for students in work-based learning programs, modify assessment requirements for initial student eligibility in dual enrollment programs, and provide relevant mathematics pathways. Specifically, the bill:

- Specifies that students in a preapprenticeship program or courses with a work-based component are deemed to be employees of the state for workers' compensation purposes for medically necessary care only.
- Clarifies that eligibility for initial enrollment in dual enrollment courses requires a student to demonstrate a level of achievement of college-level communication and computation skills through an approved common placement test or alternative method, to be approved by the State Board of Education.
- Eases plan development and reporting requirements for the implementation of developmental education strategies by Florida College System (FCS) institutions for potential students entering dual enrollment courses.
- Requires a representative committee of State University System, district career centers, and FCS faculty to identify mathematics pathways aligned to programs, meta-majors, and careers.

The fiscal impact is discussed in section V.

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

The present situation for the relevant portions of the bill is discussed under the Effect of Proposed Changes of this bill analysis.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Work-based Learning

Present Situation

Federal legislation defines work-based learning (WBL) as “sustained interactions with industry or community professionals in real workplace settings, to the extent practicable, or simulated environments at an educational institution that foster in depth, firsthand engagement with the tasks required in a given career field, that are aligned to curriculum and instruction.”¹ Learning set in the real-world context of work not only makes academic learning more accessible to many students but also increases their engagement in schooling. WBL can play a crucial role in improving outcomes for at-risk students by increasing their engagement in learning, whether in or out of school.²

WBL takes many forms, such as internships, job shadowing, service learning, or preapprenticeships, and is defined by activities and experiences that occur when a student or worker:³

- Goes to a workplace or works with an employer; and
- Does meaningful job tasks that develop his or her skills, knowledge, and readiness for work and support entry or advancement in a particular career field.

WBL is comprised of identified courses that involve OJT, which is an instructional method whereby students acquire knowledge and skills exclusively on-site with a business or industry partner instead of a traditional classroom setting. WBL may also be delivered through utilization of the cooperative method of instruction which is delivered through formal classroom instruction and on-the-job learning, on-site, with a business or industry partner.⁴

Recent research, policy literature, and federal legislation suggest that comprehensive WBL programs contain three key components: the alignment of classroom and workplace learning; application of academic, technical, and employability skills in a work setting; and support from classroom or workplace mentors.⁵

¹ 20 U.S.C. s. 2302; Perkins V (The Strengthening Career and Technical Education for the 21st Century Act) and other federal legislation reference and support work-based learning, including in the Every Student Succeeds Act of 2015 (ESSA), and the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014 (WIOA).

Workers' Compensation

Workers' compensation is a form of insurance designed to provide wage replacement and medical benefits for employees who are injured in the course of employment, in exchange for giving up the right to sue the employer for negligence.⁷ In Florida, workers' compensation is governed by ch. 440, F.S., the "Workers' Compensation Law." The law prescribes coverage requirements, medical and indemnity benefits, the rights and responsibilities of employers, injured employees, medical providers, and carriers, as well as procedures for dispute resolution.

Generally, employers are required to provide medical and indemnity benefits to a worker who is injured due to an accident arising out of and during the course of employment.⁸ For such injuries, an employer is responsible for providing medical treatment⁹ and compensation in the event of employee disability¹⁰ or death.¹¹ Specific employer coverage requirements are based on the type of industry, number of employees, and entity organization.¹²

State Risk Management Program

The Division of Risk Management (DRM)¹³ located within the Department of Financial Services (DFS) is responsible for ensuring that state agencies and universities participating in the state's self-insurance program receive quality coverage for workers' compensation, general liability, federal civil rights, auto liability, and property insurance at reasonable rates. The DRM's operations and the state's insurance coverage are funded by annual agency assessments, which are deposited into the State Risk Management Trust Fund (SRMTF). The SRMTF provides coverage that protects state property and workforce members that are exposed to the risk of financial losses through damage, injuries, and alleged negligent or improper acts.¹⁴

Effect of Proposed Changes

The bill creates s. 446.54, F.S., to provide a definition of "work-based learning" to include "on-the-job training" and mean interactions with industry or community professionals in off-campus workplaces which foster in-depth, firsthand engagement with the tasks required in a given career field and which are aligned to curriculum and instruction. The bill encourages school districts to place students in paid work experiences for purposes of educational training and WBL and defines WBL as it relates to public K-12 education to mean sustained interactions with industry or community professionals in workplace settings, to the extent practicable, or simulated environments that foster in-depth, firsthand engagement with the tasks required in a given career field, that align with curriculum and instruction, and that are provided in partnership with an educational institution.

The bill provides that:

- An individual 18 years of age or younger who is enrolled in a preapprenticeship program, as defined in s. 446.021, F.S., which requires work-based learning and who suffers a work-related injury in the course of his or her enrollment is deemed to be an employee of the state for purposes of workers' compensation coverage. Such coverage applies only to medically necessary care rendered as a direct result of that injury.
- A student in grades 6 through 12 who is enrolled in a course identified in the Course Code Directory which incorporates a work-based learning component or an activity that is unpaid and who suffers a work-related injury in the course of his or her enrollment is deemed to be an employee of the state for purposes of workers' compensation coverage. Such coverage applies only to medically necessary care rendered as a direct result of that injury.

The bill provides that work-based learning may be paid or unpaid and may be delivered in a stand-alone, work-based learning course that results in high school credit or may be a component of an existing course which may use the cooperative method of instruction. As it relates to postsecondary education, the bill defines cooperative method of instruction as an instructional methodology that provides students enrolled in career education programs an opportunity to extend their employment preparation beyond the classroom through participation in concurrent career education instruction through regularly scheduled on-the-job training experiences.

The designation of preapprenticeship and WBL program students as employees of the state for the purposes of workers' compensation medical claims may increase the financial liability of the state, but may encourage more employers, who otherwise would not participate due to concerns about assuming liability for a minor, to partner with school districts to sponsor such programs. The provisions in the bill may allow more students under 18 to participate in WBL opportunities.

Florida College System Institution Admissions

Present Situation

Admissions Requirements for FCS Institutions

Each FCS institution board of trustees is authorized to adopt rules governing admissions of students subject to requirements provided in law and rules of the SBE.¹⁵

Admissions counseling must be provided to all students entering college or career credit programs. Counseling must use tests to measure achievement of college-level communication and computation competencies by students entering college credit programs or tests to measure achievement of basic skills for students entering career education programs. Counseling includes providing developmental education options for students whose assessment results indicate that they need to improve communication or computation skills that are essential to perform college-level work.¹⁶

Each FCS institution board of trustees is required to develop a plan to implement developmental education strategies through which a high school graduate who applies for any college credit program may attain the communication and computation skills necessary to successfully complete college credit instruction. Each plan must include certain minimum requirements that are specified in law.¹⁷

FCS institutions are also required to annually prepare an accountability report that includes student success data relating to each developmental education strategy implemented by the institution and submit the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the SBE.¹⁸

Admission to associate degree programs is subject to minimum standards adopted by the SBE and requires:

- A standard high school diploma, a high school equivalency diploma as prescribed in law,¹⁹ previously demonstrated competency in college credit postsecondary coursework, or, in the case of a student who is home educated, a signed affidavit submitted by the student's parent or legal guardian attesting that the student has completed a home education program pursuant to the requirements of law. Students who are enrolled in a dual enrollment or early admission program are exempt from this requirement.
- A demonstrated level of achievement of college-level communication and computation skills.
- Any other requirements established by the FCS board of trustees.²⁰

Student Eligibility for Dual Enrollment Programs

The dual enrollment program is the enrollment of an eligible secondary student or home education student in a postsecondary course creditable toward high school completion and a career certificate or an associate or baccalaureate degree. A student who is enrolled in postsecondary instruction that is not creditable toward a high school diploma may not be classified as a dual enrollment student. An eligible secondary student is a student who is enrolled in any of grades 6 through 12 in a Florida public school or in a Florida private school that provides a secondary curriculum.²¹

Student eligibility requirements for initial enrollment in college credit dual enrollment courses must include a 3.0 unweighted high school grade point average and the minimum score on a common placement test adopted by the SBE which indicates that the student is ready for college-level coursework. Student eligibility requirements for initial and continued enrollment in career certificate dual enrollment courses must include a 2.0 unweighted high school grade point average.²² FCS institution boards of trustees may establish additional initial student eligibility requirements, which must be included in the dual enrollment articulation agreement, to ensure student readiness for postsecondary instruction.²³

Common Placement Testing for Public Postsecondary Education

The SBE, in conjunction with the BOG, has implemented common placement testing requirements²⁴ for the purpose of assessing the basic computation and communication skills of students who intend to enter a degree program at any public postsecondary educational institution. The common placement testing program must include the capacity to diagnose the basic competencies in the areas of English, reading, and mathematics that are essential for success in meta-majors and the capacity to provide test information to students on the specific skills the student needs to attain.²⁵

Assessment of Career Education Program Basic Skills

The SBE is required to adopt standards of basic skill mastery for completion of certificate career education programs and to designate examinations to assess mastery. Students who enroll in a program offered for career credit of 450 hours or more must complete an entry-level examination within the first six weeks after admission into the program. A student may not receive a career or technical certificate of completion without first demonstrating the basic skills required in the state curriculum frameworks for the career education program. Certain students are exempted from this requirement.²⁶

Effect of Proposed Changes

Admissions Requirements for FCS Institutions

The bill modifies s. 1007.263, F.S., to provide flexibility to FCS institutions in their admissions requirements for entering students. Specifically, the bill authorizes FCS institutions to accept:

- Alternate methods, to be approved by the state board, to measure achievement of college level communication and computation competencies by students entering college credit programs.
- For admission to associate degree programs, a high school equivalency diploma issued by another state which is recognized as equivalent by SBE rule and is based on an assessment recognized by the United States Department of Education.

The bill requires that admissions counseling at FCS institutions measure achievement of basic skills for career education programs, which may direct a student to developmental education to improve communication and computation skills.

²² Section 1007.271(3), F.S. Exceptions to the required grade point averages may be granted on an individual student basis if the educational entities agree and the terms of the agreement are contained within the dual enrollment articulation agreement developed by the district school superintendent and the public postsecondary institution president through an articulation committee, as specified in s. 1007.271(21).

²³ Section 1007.271(3), F.S.

²⁴ The state board has adopted rules 6A-14.064 and 6A-10.0315, F.A.C., to govern assessment requirements for determining initial student eligibility for dual enrollment programs.

²⁵ Section 1008.30(1) and (2), F.S.

²⁶ Section 1004.91(1)-(3), F.S.

The bill also modifies s. 1008.30, F.S., to remove outdated language related to a requirement that FCS institutions develop and submit a developmental education plan to the Chancellor of the FCS. In addition, the bill removes the requirement that the FCS annually prepare an accountability report that includes student success data relating to each developmental education strategy and submit the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the SBE.

Student Eligibility for Dual Enrollment Programs

The bill modifies the mechanism in s. 1007.271, F.S., for assessing the readiness of a student for initial enrollment in college credit dual enrollment courses. In addition to achievement by a student of the minimum score on a common placement test, the bill authorizes a student to demonstrate a level of achievement of college-level communication and computation skills via an alternative method of assessment.

Common Placement Testing for Public Postsecondary Education

The bill modifies s. 1008.30, F.S., to require, by January 31, 2022, the SBE to adopt rules to develop and implement alternative methods for assessing the basic computation and communication skills of students who intend to enter a degree program at a FCS institution. The bill authorizes FCS institutions to use these alternative methods in lieu of common placement tests to assess student readiness for college-level work in computation and communication. The bill removes the requirement that the common placement testing program include the capacity to diagnose certain basic competencies in the areas of English, reading, and mathematics. The bill also specifies that students who are currently exempt from common placement testing requirements are also exempt from the college readiness assessment established in the bill.

Mathematics Pathways

Present Situation

Statewide Articulation Agreement

The SBE and the BOG are required to enter into a statewide articulation agreement. The agreement must preserve Florida's "2+2" system of articulation and facilitate the seamless articulation of student credit across and among Florida's educational entities.²⁷ The agreement requires state university BOT, FCS BOT, and district school boards to adopt policies and procedures to provide articulated programs so that students can proceed toward their educational objectives as rapidly as their circumstances permit.²⁸

Academic Pathways

The SBE, in consultation with the BOG, is required to approve a series of meta-majors and the academic pathways that identify the gateway courses associated with each meta-major. FCS institutions use placement test results to determine the extent to which each student demonstrates sufficient communication and computation skills to indicate readiness for his or her chosen meta-

²⁷ Section 1007.23(1), F.S.

major. FCS institutions counsel students into college credit courses as quickly as possible, with developmental education limited to the content needed for success in the meta-major.²⁹

The purpose of meta-major academic pathways is to advise FCS system associate degree seeking students of the gateway courses that are aligned with their intended academic and career goals. The meta-major academic pathways in SBE rule are established in the following areas:

- Arts, humanities, communication and design.
- Business.
- Education.
- Health sciences.
- Industry/manufacturing and construction.
- Public Safety.
- Science, technology, engineering, and mathematics.
- Social and behavioral sciences and human services.³⁰

In 2018, the Florida Student Success Center³¹ established three workgroups to identify current challenges in mathematics pathways and develop policy and practice recommendations to improve student achievement across Florida's education systems. The charge to the workgroups was to explore complex issues surrounding mathematics pathways to prepare high school students for transition into FCS institutions, and FCS institution students for transition into four-year universities. More than 90 mathematics faculty, administrators and key stakeholders from Florida's K-12 system, the FCS, and the SUS served as members of the workgroups in 2018-19. Among the 12 recommendations, the workgroups recommended creation of common mathematics pathways by aligning mathematics courses to programs, meta-majors, and careers in Florida.³²

The bill modifies s. 1007.23, F.S., to require the statewide articulation agreement to specify three mathematics pathways, which are aligned to programs, meta-majors, and careers, on which degree-seeking students must be placed. The bill specifies the purpose of the pathways is to facilitate seamless transfer, reduce excess credit hours, and ensure that students are taking the relevant courses needed for their future careers. To accomplish the identification of the mathematics pathways, the bill requires a representative committee of State University System, district career centers, and FCS faculty to collaborate to identify the three pathways.

The bill removes the requirement that the SBE, in consultation with the BOG, approve a series of meta-majors and the academic pathways that identify the gateway courses associated with each meta-major.

The Department of Financial Services, Division of Risk Management (DRM) estimates that the workers' compensation coverage provisions would cause additional claims costs for covering participants in preapprenticeship and work-based learning programs. The bill provides a $2 million nonrecurring appropriation from the General Revenue Fund to the State Risk Management Trust Fund in the Department of Financial Services for worker's compensation costs associated with the provisions of the bill. The bill also provides an appropriation for two FTE positions to the Department of Financial Services out of the trust fund to implement the worker's coverage provisions of the bill.

³³ A homeless student is defined as a student who lacks a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence or whose primary nighttime residence is a public or private shelter designed to provide temporary residence, a public or private transitional living program, or a public or private place not designed for, or ordinarily used as, a regular sleeping accommodation for human beings. Section 1009.25(1)(f), F.S.

Depending on the number and severity of future claims, the increase in workers' compensation loss payments and operational costs to the Risk Management Trust Fund could result in a long-term need for additional premium to be charged to the state agencies to cover these losses.

School districts that pay workers' compensation expenses for participants in work-based learning programs would likely see a reduction in workers' compensation costs. The reduction in workers' compensation costs is indeterminate.³⁴

- Modifies legislative intent regarding apprenticeships to:
 - Expand legislative intent to encourage apprenticeship programs that lead to any postsecondary credential. The bill encourages only the programs that lead to college credit or a degree.
 - Clarify that the responsibility of the Department of Education (DOE) over minimum standards applies only to apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs that are registered.
- Modifies the duties of the DOE to:
 - Provide that the DOE must include information and resources related to preapprenticeship programs in its annual apprenticeship report.
 - Add that the DOE must provide assistance to postsecondary educational institutions in notifying the community of apprenticeship and preapprenticeship opportunities.
 - Clarify that the DOE must ensure that equal opportunity for apprentices, preapprentices, and applicants for apprenticeships and preapprenticeships is provided for the apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs.
- Modifies additional work-based learning program provisions. Specifically, the committee substitute:
 - Modifies provisions of the bill directed toward state universities and Florida College System (FCS) institutions and includes all postsecondary educational institutions.
 - Removes the requirement of the bill that defines apprentices as employees of the state for purposes of workers' compensation coverage for medical benefits. The amendment retains other provisions of the bill deeming preapprentices and students in work-based learning as employees of the state for workers' compensation coverage for medical benefits.
 - Defines "work-based learning," as it relates to public k-12 education, to mean sustained interactions with industry or community professionals in workplace settings, to the extent practicable, or simulated environments that foster in-depth, firsthand engagement with the tasks required in a given career field, that align with curriculum and instruction, and that are provided in partnership with an educational institution.
 - Defines "cooperative method of instruction," as it relates to postsecondary education, to mean an instructional methodology that provides students enrolled in career education programs an opportunity to extend their employment preparation beyond the classroom through participation in concurrent career education instruction through regularly scheduled on-the-job training experiences.
 - Removes a provision of the bill providing for guaranteed licenses for apprenticeship program completers.
- Modifies provisions related to the middle school course in career and education planning, by:
 - Removing a provision of the bill authorizing the Florida Virtual School to offer a course in career and education planning.
 - Removing a provision of the bill that would have made the required course in career and education planning optional for students in middle grades.
- Modifies provisions relating to K-12 career and technical education, by:

- Removing the requirement of the bill that opportunities for learning computer science in elementary school include computational thinking and foundational computer science skills, and retains current law that makes the skills optional.
- Removing a provision of the bill that modifies the authorized uses of funds for computer science instruction.
- Removing a provision of the bill authorizing school districts or regional consortia to work with national providers to submit recommended career-themed courses to the DOE for state board approval.
- Granting the DOE rulemaking authority over the administration of the CAPE Act.
- Modifies provisions relating to FCS institution admissions and student progression. The committee substitute:
 - Authorizes alternate methods, to be approved by the state board, to measure achievement of college level communication and computation competencies by students entering college credit programs.
 - Authorizes associate degree programs to accept a high school equivalency diploma issued by another state, as approved by the State Board of Education (SBE).
 - Clarifies that student eligibility for initial enrollment in dual enrollment courses includes a demonstrated level of achievement of college-level communication and computation skills through an approved common placement test or alternative method as adopted by the SBE.
 - Removes a requirement of existing law that the common placement testing program include the capacity to diagnose basic competencies in the areas of English, reading, and mathematics which are essential for success in meta-majors and to provide test information to students on the specific skills the student needs to attain.
 - Requires the SBE, by January 31, 2022, to adopt rules to develop and implement alternative methods for assessing the basic computation and communication skills of students who intend to enter a degree program at an FCS institution. The amendment authorizes FCS institutions to use these alternative methods in lieu of common placement tests to assess student readiness for college-level work in computation and communication.
 - Removes the requirement of existing law for FCS institutions to submit to the Chancellor of the FCS for approval implemented developmental education strategies through which a high school graduate who applies for any college credit program may attain the communication and computation skills necessary to successfully complete college credit instruction.
 - Adds alternative methods to the requirement for in current law for FCS institutions to use placement test results as established by the SBE to determine the extent to which each student demonstrates sufficient computation and communication skills to indicate readiness for his or her chosen meta-major and to counsel students into college credit courses as quickly as possible, with developmental education limited to that content needed for success in the meta-major.
 - Removes a requirement of existing law that each FCS institution annually prepare and submit to state officials an accountability report that includes student success data relating to each developmental education strategy implemented by the institution.

- Provides for a representative committee of State University System, certain career centers established by district school boards, and FCS faculty, instead of the representative workgroup of the Articulation Coordinating Committee required by the bill, to identify the three mathematics pathways and the mathematics course sequence within each pathway which align to the mathematics skills needed for success in the corresponding academic programs and careers.
- Modifies workforce and postsecondary financial provisions. The committee substitute:
 - Removes the additional full-time-equivalent (FTE) weights for industry certifications associated with aviation-related and aerospace-related occupations and instead provides additional FTE weight for industry certifications that lead to occupations in critical industry sectors as identified by the Department of Education and included on the Career and Professional Education (CAPE) industry funding list.
 - Authorizes a technical center operated by a school district, an FCS institution, or a state university to enter into an agreement with another entity to cover the approved apprenticeship program student tuition and fees, including lab fees.
 - Authorizes the SBE and the Board of Governors of the State University System of Florida to adopt rules and regulations regarding requirements for fee waivers for homeless students.
 - Modifies the provisions of the bill authorizing school districts and FCS institutions to earn an additional $2000 for workforce education programs that lead to industry certification in critical industry sectors to instead provide an additional $2000 for school districts and FCS institutions for industry certifications earned by students in workforce education programs that are identified as leading to employment in critical industry sectors.
 - Requires a district school board or FCS institution board of trustees that receives workforce performance funding to use at least 70 percent of the funds received to directly support the program that generated the funds.

57 experiences, including apprenticeships and preapprenticeships,
58 for purposes of educational training and work-based learning.

59 (2) For purposes of this section, "work-based learning"
60 includes "on-the-job training" as defined in s. 446.021(7) and 61 means sustained interactions with industry or community
62 professionals in off-campus workplace settings that foster in-
63 depth firsthand engagement with the tasks required in a given
64 career or field and are aligned to curriculum and instruction.

65 (3) (a) A student in grades 6 through 12 who is enrolled in 66 a course identified in the Course Code Directory which 67 incorporates a work-based learning component or an activity that 68 is unpaid and who suffers a work-related injury in the course of 69 his or her enrollment is deemed to be an employee of the state
70 for purposes of workers' compensation coverage. Such coverage
71 applies only to medically necessary care rendered as a direct
72 result of that injury.

86 excess credit hours, and ensure students are taking the courses
87 needed for their future career, the articulation agreement must 88 establish three mathematics pathways for students by aligning
89 mathematics courses to programs, meta-majors, and careers. A
90 representative committee consisting of State University System
91 faculty, faculty of career centers established under s. 1001.44,
92 and Florida College System institution faculty shall collaborate
93 to identify the three mathematics pathways and the mathematics

109 of college-level communication and computation competencies by 110 students entering college credit programs ~~or tests to measure~~
111 achievement of basic skills for career education programs as 112 prescribed in s. 1004.91. Counseling must measure achievement of 115 for students whose ~~assessment~~ results, determined under s.

116 1008.30, indicate that they need to improve communication or 117 computation skills that are essential to perform college-level
118 work.

119 (2) Admission to associate degree programs is subject to 120 minimum standards adopted by the State Board of Education and 121 shall require:

122 (a) A standard high school diploma; ~~a~~ a State of Florida

136
137 Each board of trustees shall establish policies that notify
138 students about developmental education options for improving
139 their communication or computation skills that are essential to 140 performing college-level work, including tutoring, extended time
141 in gateway courses, free online courses, adult basic education,

156 grade point average and the minimum postsecondary grade point
157 average established by the postsecondary institution. Regardless
158 of meeting student eligibility requirements for continued
159 enrollment, a student may lose the opportunity to participate in 160 a dual enrollment course if the student is disruptive to the 161 learning process such that the progress of other students or the 162 efficient administration of the course is hindered. Student
163 eligibility requirements for initial and continued enrollment in
164 career certificate dual enrollment courses must include a 2.0
165 unweighted high school grade point average. Exceptions to the 166 required grade point averages may be granted on an individual
167 student basis if the educational entities agree and the terms of

176 ability to master advanced courses from participating in dual
177 enrollment courses or limit the number of dual enrollment
178 courses in which a student may enroll based solely upon
179 enrollment by the student at an independent postsecondary
180 institution.

181 (13)

182 (b) Each public postsecondary institution eligible to 183 participate in the dual enrollment program pursuant to s.
184 1011.62(1)(i) must enter into a home education articulation

187 of each year, the eligible postsecondary institution shall 188 complete and submit the home education articulation agreement to 189 the Department of Education. The home education articulation
190 agreement must include, at a minimum:

191 1. A delineation of courses and programs available to 192 dually enrolled home education students. Courses and programs
193 may be added, revised, or deleted at any time by the 194 postsecondary institution. Any course or program limitations may
195 not exceed the limitations for other dually enrolled students.

196 2. The initial and continued eligibility requirements for 197 home education student participation, not to exceed those
198 required of other dually enrolled students. A high school grade
199 point average may not be required for home education students
200 who demonstrate achievement of college-level communication and 201 computation skills as provided under s. 1008.30(1) or (2) meet

208 postsecondary institution.

209 3. The student's responsibilities for providing his or her
210 own transportation.

211 4. A copy of the statement on transfer guarantees developed
212 by the Department of Education under subsection (15).

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 366 modifies Florida’s statutes to provide support for students in work-based learning programs, modify assessment requirements for initial student eligibility in dual enrollment programs, and provide relevant mathematics pathways. Specifically, the bill:

- Specifies that students in a preapprenticeship program or courses with a work-based component are deemed to be employees of the state for workers’ compensation purposes for medically necessary care only.
- Clarifies that eligibility for initial enrollment in dual enrollment courses requires a student to demonstrate a level of achievement of college-level communication and computation skills through an approved common placement test or alternative method, to be approved by the State Board of Education.
- Eases plan development and reporting requirements for the implementation of developmental education strategies by Florida College System (FCS) institutions for potential students entering dual enrollment courses.
- Requires a representative committee of State University System, district career centers, and FCS faculty to identify mathematics pathways aligned to programs, meta-majors, and careers.

The fiscal impact is discussed in section V.

The bill takes effect on July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

The present situation for the relevant portions of the bill is discussed under the Effect of Proposed Changes of this bill analysis.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Work-based Learning

Present Situation

Federal legislation defines work-based learning (WBL) as “sustained interactions with industry or community professionals in real workplace settings, to the extent practicable, or simulated environments at an educational institution that foster in depth, firsthand engagement with the tasks required in a given career field, that are aligned to curriculum and instruction.”¹ Learning set in the real-world context of work not only makes academic learning more accessible to many students but also increases their engagement in schooling. WBL can play a crucial role in improving outcomes for at-risk students by increasing their engagement in learning, whether in or out of school.²

WBL takes many forms, such as internships, job shadowing, service learning, or preapprenticeships, and is defined by activities and experiences that occur when a student or worker:³

- Goes to a workplace or works with an employer; and
- Does meaningful job tasks that develop his or her skills, knowledge, and readiness for work and support entry or advancement in a particular career field.

WBL is comprised of identified courses that involve OJT, which is an instructional method whereby students acquire knowledge and skills exclusively on-site with a business or industry partner instead of a traditional classroom setting. WBL may also be delivered through utilization of the cooperative method of instruction which is delivered through formal classroom instruction and on-the-job learning, on-site, with a business or industry partner.⁴

Recent research, policy literature, and federal legislation suggest that comprehensive WBL programs contain three key components: the alignment of classroom and workplace learning; application of academic, technical, and employability skills in a work setting; and support from classroom or workplace mentors.⁵

¹ 20 U.S.C. s. 2302; Perkins V (The Strengthening Career and Technical Education for the 21st Century Act) and other federal legislation reference and support work-based learning, including in the Every Student Succeeds Act of 2015 (ESSA), and the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2014 (WIOA).

In 2019-2020, there were 23,258 students enrolled in secondary on-the-job training, preapprenticeship, work experience, and other WBL courses.⁶

Workers' Compensation

Workers' compensation is a form of insurance designed to provide wage replacement and medical benefits for employees who are injured in the course of employment, in exchange for giving up the right to sue the employer for negligence.⁷ In Florida, workers' compensation is governed by ch. 440, F.S., the "Workers' Compensation Law." The law prescribes coverage requirements, medical and indemnity benefits, the rights and responsibilities of employers, injured employees, medical providers, and carriers, as well as procedures for dispute resolution.

Generally, employers are required to provide medical and indemnity benefits to a worker who is injured due to an accident arising out of and during the course of employment.⁸ For such injuries, an employer is responsible for providing medical treatment⁹ and compensation in the event of employee disability¹⁰ or death.¹¹ Specific employer coverage requirements are based on the type of industry, number of employees, and entity organization.¹²

State Risk Management Program

The Division of Risk Management (DRM)¹³ located within the Department of Financial Services (DFS) is responsible for ensuring that state agencies and universities participating in the state's self-insurance program receive quality coverage for workers' compensation, general liability, federal civil rights, auto liability, and property insurance at reasonable rates. The DRM's operations and the state's insurance coverage are funded by annual agency assessments, which are deposited into the State Risk Management Trust Fund (SRMTF). The SRMTF provides coverage that protects state property and workforce members that are exposed to the risk of financial losses through damage, injuries, and alleged negligent or improper acts.¹⁴

The bill creates s. 446.54, F.S., to encourage school districts to place students in paid work experiences for purposes of educational training and WBL.

The bill provides that:

- An individual 18 years of age or younger who is enrolled in a preapprenticeship program, as defined in s. 446.021, F.S., which requires work-based learning and who suffers a work-related injury in the course of his or her enrollment is deemed to be an employee of the state for purposes of workers' compensation coverage. Such coverage applies only to medically necessary care rendered as a direct result of that injury.

- A student in grades 6 through 12 who is enrolled in a course identified in the Course Code Directory which incorporates a work-based learning component or an activity that is unpaid and who suffers a work-related injury in the course of his or her enrollment is deemed to be an employee of the state for purposes of workers' compensation coverage. Such coverage applies only to medically necessary care rendered as a direct result of that injury.

The bill provides that work-based learning may be paid or unpaid and may be delivered in a stand-alone, work-based learning course that results in high school credit or may be a component of an existing course which may use the cooperative method of instruction. As it relates to postsecondary education, the bill defines cooperative method of instruction as an instructional methodology that provides students enrolled in career education programs an opportunity to extend their employment preparation beyond the classroom through participation in concurrent career education instruction through regularly scheduled on-the-job training experiences.

The designation of preapprenticeship and WBL program students as employees of the state for the purposes of workers' compensation medical claims may increase the financial liability of the state, but may encourage more employers, who otherwise would not participate due to concerns about assuming liability for a minor, to partner with school districts to sponsor such programs. The provisions in the bill may allow more students under 18 to participate in WBL opportunities.

Florida College System Institution Admissions

Present Situation

Admissions Requirements for FCS Institutions

Each FCS institution board of trustees is authorized to adopt rules governing admissions of students subject to requirements provided in law and rules of the SBE.¹⁵

Admissions counseling must be provided to all students entering college or career credit programs. Counseling must use tests to measure achievement of college-level communication and computation competencies by students entering college credit programs or tests to measure achievement of basic skills for students entering career education programs. Counseling includes providing developmental education options for students whose assessment results indicate that they need to improve communication or computation skills that are essential to perform college-level work.¹⁶

Each FCS institution board of trustees is required to develop a plan to implement developmental education strategies through which a high school graduate who applies for any college credit program may attain the communication and computation skills necessary to successfully complete college credit instruction. Each plan must include certain minimum requirements that are specified in law.¹⁷

¹⁷ Sections 1008.30(5) and 1008.02(1), F.S.

FCS institutions are also required to annually prepare an accountability report that includes student success data relating to each developmental education strategy implemented by the institution and submit the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the SBE.¹⁸

Admission to associate degree programs is subject to minimum standards adopted by the SBE and requires:

- A standard high school diploma, a high school equivalency diploma as prescribed in law,¹⁹ previously demonstrated competency in college credit postsecondary coursework, or, in the case of a student who is home educated, a signed affidavit submitted by the student's parent or legal guardian attesting that the student has completed a home education program pursuant to the requirements of law. Students who are enrolled in a dual enrollment or early admission program are exempt from this requirement.
- A demonstrated level of achievement of college-level communication and computation skills.
- Any other requirements established by the FCS board of trustees.²⁰

Student Eligibility for Dual Enrollment Programs

The dual enrollment program is the enrollment of an eligible secondary student or home education student in a postsecondary course creditable toward high school completion and a career certificate or an associate or baccalaureate degree. A student who is enrolled in postsecondary instruction that is not creditable toward a high school diploma may not be classified as a dual enrollment student. An eligible secondary student is a student who is enrolled in any of grades 6 through 12 in a Florida public school or in a Florida private school that provides a secondary curriculum.²¹

Student eligibility requirements for initial enrollment in college credit dual enrollment courses must include a 3.0 unweighted high school grade point average and the minimum score on a common placement test adopted by the SBE which indicates that the student is ready for college-level coursework. Student eligibility requirements for initial and continued enrollment in career certificate dual enrollment courses must include a 2.0 unweighted high school grade point average.²² FCS institution boards of trustees may establish additional initial student eligibility requirements, which must be included in the dual enrollment articulation agreement, to ensure student readiness for postsecondary instruction.²³

¹⁹ Section 1003.435, F.S., specifies the requirements for earning a high school equivalency diploma.

²⁰ Section 1007.263(2), F.S.

²¹ Section 1007.271(1) and (2), F.S.

²² Section 1007.271(3), F.S. Exceptions to the required grade point averages may be granted on an individual student basis if the educational entities agree and the terms of the agreement are contained within the dual enrollment articulation agreement developed by the district school superintendent and the public postsecondary institution president through an articulation committee, as specified in s. 1007.271(21).

²³ Section 1007.271(3), F.S.

Common Placement Testing for Public Postsecondary Education

The SBE, in conjunction with the BOG, has implemented common placement testing requirements²⁴ for the purpose of assessing the basic computation and communication skills of students who intend to enter a degree program at any public postsecondary educational institution. The common placement testing program must include the capacity to diagnose the basic competencies in the areas of English, reading, and mathematics that are essential for success in meta-majors and the capacity to provide test information to students on the specific skills the student needs to attain.²⁵

Assessment of Career Education Program Basic Skills

The SBE is required to adopt standards of basic skill mastery for completion of certificate career education programs and to designate examinations to assess mastery. Students who enroll in a program offered for career credit of 450 hours or more must complete an entry-level examination within the first six weeks after admission into the program. A student may not receive a career or technical certificate of completion without first demonstrating the basic skills required in the state curriculum frameworks for the career education program. Certain students are exempted from this requirement.²⁶

Effect of Proposed Changes

Admissions Requirements for FCS Institutions

The bill modifies s. 1007.263, F.S., to provide flexibility to FCS institutions in their admissions requirements for entering students. Specifically, the bill authorizes FCS institutions to accept:

- Alternate methods, to be approved by the state board, to measure achievement of college level communication and computation competencies by students entering college credit programs.
- For admission to associate degree programs, a high school equivalency diploma issued by another state which is recognized as equivalent by SBE rule and is based on an assessment recognized by the United States Department of Education.

The bill requires that admissions counseling at FCS institutions measure achievement of basic skills for career education programs, which may direct a student to developmental education to improve communication and computation skills.

The bill also modifies s. 1008.30, F.S., to remove outdated language related to a requirement that FCS institutions develop and submit a developmental education plan to the Chancellor of the FCS. In addition, the bill removes the requirement that the FCS annually prepare an accountability report that includes student success data relating to each developmental education strategy and submit the report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the SBE.

²⁴ The state board has adopted rules 6A-14.064 and 6A-10.0315, F.A.C., to govern assessment requirements for determining initial student eligibility for dual enrollment programs.

²⁵ Section 1008.30(1) and (2), F.S.

²⁶ Section 1004.91(1)-(3), F.S.

Student Eligibility for Dual Enrollment Programs

The bill modifies the mechanism in s. 1007.271, F.S., for assessing the readiness of a student for initial enrollment in college credit dual enrollment courses. In addition to achievement by a student of the minimum score on a common placement test, the bill authorizes a student to demonstrate a level of achievement of college-level communication and computation skills via an alternative method of assessment.

Common Placement Testing for Public Postsecondary Education

The bill modifies s. 1008.30, F.S., to require, by January 31, 2022, the SBE to adopt rules to develop and implement alternative methods for assessing the basic computation and communication skills of students who intend to enter a degree program at a FCS institution. The bill authorizes FCS institutions to use these alternative methods in lieu of common placement tests to assess student readiness for college-level work in computation and communication. The bill removes the requirement that the common placement testing program include the capacity to diagnose certain basic competencies in the areas of English, reading, and mathematics. The bill also specifies that students who are currently exempt from common placement testing requirements are also exempt from the college readiness assessment established in the bill.

Mathematics Pathways

Present Situation

Statewide Articulation Agreement

The SBE and the BOG are required to enter into a statewide articulation agreement. The agreement must preserve Florida's "2+2" system of articulation and facilitate the seamless articulation of student credit across and among Florida's educational entities.²⁷ The agreement requires state university BOT, FCS BOT, and district school boards to adopt policies and procedures to provide articulated programs so that students can proceed toward their educational objectives as rapidly as their circumstances permit.²⁸

Academic Pathways

The SBE, in consultation with the BOG, is required to approve a series of meta-majors and the academic pathways that identify the gateway courses associated with each meta-major. FCS institutions use placement test results to determine the extent to which each student demonstrates sufficient communication and computation skills to indicate readiness for his or her chosen meta-major. FCS institutions counsel students into college credit courses as quickly as possible, with developmental education limited to the content needed for success in the meta-major.²⁹

The purpose of meta-major academic pathways is to advise FCS system associate degree seeking students of the gateway courses that are aligned with their intended academic and career goals. The meta-major academic pathways in SBE rule are established in the following areas:

- Arts, humanities, communication and design.

²⁷ Section 1007.23(1), F.S.

²⁸ Rule 6A-10.024(1), F.A.C.

²⁹ Section 1008.30(4) and (5), F.S.

- Business.
- Education.
- Health sciences.
- Industry/manufacturing and construction.
- Public Safety.
- Science, technology, engineering, and mathematics.
- Social and behavioral sciences and human services.³⁰

In 2018, the Florida Student Success Center³¹ established three workgroups to identify current challenges in mathematics pathways and develop policy and practice recommendations to improve student achievement across Florida's education systems. The charge to the workgroups was to explore complex issues surrounding mathematics pathways to prepare high school students for transition into FCS institutions, and FCS institution students for transition into four-year universities. More than 90 mathematics faculty, administrators and key stakeholders from Florida's K-12 system, the FCS, and the SUS served as members of the workgroups in 2018-19. Among the 12 recommendations, the workgroups recommended creation of common mathematics pathways by aligning mathematics courses to programs, meta-majors, and careers in Florida.³²

The bill modifies s. 1007.23, F.S., to require the statewide articulation agreement to specify three mathematics pathways, which are aligned to programs, meta-majors, and careers, on which degree-seeking students must be placed. The bill specifies the purpose of the pathways is to facilitate seamless transfer, reduce excess credit hours, and ensure that students are taking the relevant courses needed for their future careers. To accomplish the identification of the mathematics pathways, the bill requires a representative committee of State University System, district career centers, and FCS faculty to collaborate to identify the three pathways.

The bill removes the requirement that the SBE, in consultation with the BOG, approve a series of meta-majors and the academic pathways that identify the gateway courses associated with each meta-major.

The bill also modifies s. 1009.25, F.S., to authorize the State Board of Education (SBE) and the Board of Governors of the State University System of Florida (BOG) to adopt rules and regulations, regarding documentation and procedures to implement a fee waiver for a student who is homeless.³³

The Department of Financial Services, Division of Risk Management (DRM) estimates that the workers' compensation coverage provisions would cause additional claims costs for covering participants in preapprenticeship and work-based learning programs. The bill provides a $2 million nonrecurring appropriation from the General Revenue Fund to the State Risk Management Trust Fund in the Department of Financial Services for worker's compensation costs associated with the provisions of the bill. The bill also provides an appropriation for two FTE positions to the Department of Financial Services out of the trust fund to implement the worker's coverage provisions of the bill.

Depending on the number and severity of future claims, the increase in workers' compensation loss payments and operational costs to the Risk Management Trust Fund could result in a long-term need for additional premium to be charged to the state agencies to cover these losses.

School districts that pay workers' compensation expenses for participants in work-based learning programs would likely see a reduction in workers' compensation costs. The reduction in workers' compensation costs is indeterminate.³⁴

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 1007.23, 1007.263, 1007.271, 1008.30, and 1009.25.

This bill creates section 446.54 of the Florida Statutes.

IX. Additional Information:

- A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:
(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

CS/CS by Appropriations on April 15, 2021:

The committee substitute makes the following changes:

- Removes the legislative intent and the definition of “work-based learning”.
- Removes modifications from the bill, provisions related to:
 - Apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs.
 - CAPE Industry Certification Funding List.

³⁴Florida Department of Financial Services, 2021 Legislative Bill Analysis for SB 366 (Apr. 4, 2021).

- Provide that the DOE must include information and resources related to preapprenticeship programs in its annual apprenticeship report.
- Add that the DOE must provide assistance to postsecondary educational institutions in notifying the community of apprenticeship and preapprenticeship opportunities.
- Clarify that the DOE must ensure that equal opportunity for apprentices, preapprentices, and applicants for apprenticeships and preapprenticeships is provided for the apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs.
- Modifies additional work-based learning program provisions. Specifically, the committee substitute:
 - Modifies provisions of the bill directed toward state universities and Florida College System (FCS) institutions and includes all postsecondary educational institutions.
 - Removes the requirement of the bill that defines apprentices as employees of the state for purposes of workers' compensation coverage for medical benefits. The amendment retains other provisions of the bill deeming preapprentices and students in work-based learning as employees of the state for workers' compensation coverage for medical benefits.
 - Defines "work-based learning," as it relates to public k-12 education, to mean sustained interactions with industry or community professionals in workplace settings, to the extent practicable, or simulated environments that foster in-depth, firsthand engagement with the tasks required in a given career field, that align with curriculum and instruction, and that are provided in partnership with an educational institution.
 - Defines "cooperative method of instruction," as it relates to postsecondary education, to mean an instructional methodology that provides students enrolled in career education programs an opportunity to extend their employment preparation beyond the classroom through participation in concurrent career education instruction through regularly scheduled on-the-job training experiences.
 - Removes a provision of the bill providing for guaranteed licenses for apprenticeship program completers.
- Modifies provisions related to the middle school course in career and education planning, by:
 - Removing a provision of the bill authorizing the Florida Virtual School to offer a course in career and education planning.
 - Removing a provision of the bill that would have made the required course in career and education planning optional for students in middle grades.
- Modifies provisions relating to K-12 career and technical education, by:
 - Removing the requirement of the bill that opportunities for learning computer science in elementary school include computational thinking and foundational computer science skills, and retains current law that makes the skills optional.
 - Removing a provision of the bill that modifies the authorized uses of funds for computer science instruction.
 - Removing a provision of the bill authorizing school districts or regional consortia to work with national providers to submit recommended career-themed courses to the DOE for state board approval.
 - Granting the DOE rulemaking authority over the administration of the CAPE Act.

- Modifies provisions relating to FCS institution admissions and student progression. The committee substitute:
 - Authorizes alternate methods, to be approved by the state board, to measure achievement of college level communication and computation competencies by students entering college credit programs.
 - Authorizes associate degree programs to accept a high school equivalency diploma issued by another state, as approved by the State Board of Education (SBE).
 - Clarifies that student eligibility for initial enrollment in dual enrollment courses includes a demonstrated level of achievement of college-level communication and computation skills through an approved common placement test or alternative method as adopted by the SBE.
 - Removes a requirement of existing law that the common placement testing program include the capacity to diagnose basic competencies in the areas of English, reading, and mathematics which are essential for success in meta-majors and to provide test information to students on the specific skills the student needs to attain.
 - Requires the SBE, by January 31, 2022, to adopt rules to develop and implement alternative methods for assessing the basic computation and communication skills of students who intend to enter a degree program at an FCS institution. The amendment authorizes FCS institutions to use these alternative methods in lieu of common placement tests to assess student readiness for college-level work in computation and communication.
 - Removes the requirement of existing law for FCS institutions to submit to the Chancellor of the FCS for approval implemented developmental education strategies through which a high school graduate who applies for any college credit program may attain the communication and computation skills necessary to successfully complete college credit instruction.
 - Adds alternative methods to the requirement for in current law for FCS institutions to use placement test results as established by the SBE to determine the extent to which each student demonstrates sufficient computation and communication skills to indicate readiness for his or her chosen meta-major and to counsel students into college credit courses as quickly as possible, with developmental education limited to that content needed for success in the meta-major.
 - Removes a requirement of existing law that each FCS institution annually prepare and submit to state officials an accountability report that includes student success data relating to each developmental education strategy implemented by the institution.
- Provides for a representative committee of State University System, certain career centers established by district school boards, and FCS faculty, instead of the representative workgroup of the Articulation Coordinating Committee required by the bill, to identify the three mathematics pathways and the mathematics course sequence within each pathway which align to the mathematics skills needed for success in the corresponding academic programs and careers.
- Modifies workforce and postsecondary financial provisions. The committee substitute:

- Removes the additional full-time-equivalent (FTE) weights for industry certifications associated with aviation-related and aerospace-related occupations and instead provides additional FTE weight for industry certifications that lead to occupations in critical industry sectors as identified by the Department of Education and included on the Career and Professional Education (CAPE) industry funding list.

513 1003.491 Florida Career and Professional Education Act.—The 514 Florida Career and Professional Education Act is created to 515 provide a statewide planning partnership between the business
 516 and education communities in order to attract, expand, and 517 retain targeted, high-value industry and to sustain a strong,
 518 knowledge-based economy.

519 (6) The Department of Education may adopt rules to 520 administer this section.

521 Section 15. Subsection (27) is added to section 1004.02,
 522 Florida Statutes, to read:

523 1004.02 Definitions.—As used in this chapter:
 524 (27) “Cooperative method of instruction” means an 525 instructional methodology that provides students enrolled in 526 career education programs an opportunity to extend their 527 employment preparation beyond the classroom through 528 participation in concurrent career education instruction through 529 regularly scheduled on-the-job training experiences.

530 Section 16. Present subsections (3) through (8) of section
 531 1007.23, Florida Statutes, are redesignated as subsections (4)
 532 through (9), respectively, and a new subsection (3) is added to 533 that section, to read:

534 1007.23 Statewide articulation agreement.—

535 (3) To facilitate seamless transfer of credits, reduce 536 excess credit hours, and ensure that students are taking the 537 courses needed for their future careers, the articulation
 538 agreement must establish three mathematics pathways for students
 539 by aligning mathematics courses to programs, meta-majors, and 540 careers. A representative committee of State University System,
 541 career centers established under s. 1001.44, and Florida College
 542 System faculty shall collaborate to identify the three 543 mathematics pathways and the mathematics course sequence within 544 each pathway which align to the mathematics skills needed for 545 success in the corresponding academic programs and careers.

546 Section 17. Subsection (1) and paragraph (a) of subsection
 547 (2) of section 1007.263, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:
 548 1007.263 Florida College System institutions; admissions of 549 students.—Each Florida College System institution board of 550 trustees is authorized to adopt rules governing admissions of 551 students subject to this section and rules of the State Board of

581-02347-21

552 Education. These rules shall include the following:

553 (1) Admissions counseling shall be provided to all students
 554 entering college or career credit programs. For students who are 555 not otherwise exempt from testing under s. 1008.30, counseling 556 must use the tests or alternative methods established by the 557 State Board of Education pursuant to s. 1008.30 to measure
 558 achievement of college-level communication and computation
 559 competencies by students entering college credit programs ~~or~~ 560 ~~tests to measure achievement of basic skills for career~~
 561 ~~education programs as prescribed in s. 1004.91.~~ Counseling must 562 measure achievement of basic skills for career education
 563 programs under s. 1004.91 and include ~~includes~~ providing 564 developmental education options for students whose ~~assessment~~
 565 results, determined under s. 1008.30, indicate that they need to 566 improve communication or computation skills that are essential
 567 to perform college-level work.

568 (2) Admission to associate degree programs is subject to 569 minimum standards adopted by the State Board of Education and 570 shall require:

571 (a) A standard high school diploma; ~~r~~ a State of Florida
 572 high school equivalency diploma awarded under s. 1003.435(2); a 573 high school equivalency diploma issued by another state which is 574 recognized as equivalent by State Board of Education rule and is 575 based on an assessment recognized by the United States
 576 Department of Education; ~~as prescribed in s. 1003.435,~~
 577 previously demonstrated competency in college credit
 578 postsecondary coursework; ~~r~~ or, in the case of a student who is 579 home educated, a signed affidavit submitted by the student’s 580 parent or legal guardian attesting that the student has

581-02347-21 2021366c1

581 completed a home education program pursuant to the requirements
 582 of s. 1002.41. Students who are enrolled in a dual enrollment or 583 early admission program pursuant to s. 1007.271 are exempt from 584 this requirement.

 586 Each board of trustees shall establish policies that notify
 587 students about developmental education options for improving
 588 their communication or computation skills that are essential to 589 performing college-level work, including tutoring, extended time
 590 in gateway courses, free online courses, adult basic education,
 591 adult secondary education, or private provider instruction.

592 Section 18. Subsection (3) and paragraph (b) of subsection
 593 (13) of section 1007.271, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:
 594 1007.271 Dual enrollment programs.—

595 (3) Student eligibility requirements for initial enrollment
 596 in college credit dual enrollment courses must include a 3.0
 597 unweighted high school grade point average and a demonstrated 598 level of achievement of college-level communication and 599 computation skills as provided under s. 1008.30(1) or (2) the 600 minimum score on a common placement test adopted by the State
 601 Board of Education which indicates that the student is ready for 602 college-level coursework. Student eligibility requirements for 603 continued enrollment in college credit dual enrollment courses
 604 must include the maintenance of a 3.0 unweighted high school
 605 grade point average and the minimum postsecondary grade point
 606 average established by the postsecondary institution. Regardless
 607 of meeting student eligibility requirements for continued
 608 enrollment, a student may lose the opportunity to participate in 609 a dual enrollment course if the student is disruptive to the

581-02347-21 2021366c1

610 learning process such that the progress of other students or the
 611 efficient administration of the course is hindered. Student
 612 eligibility requirements for initial and continued enrollment in
 613 career certificate dual enrollment courses must include a 2.0
 614 unweighted high school grade point average. Exceptions to the
 615 required grade point averages may be granted on an individual
 616 student basis if the educational entities agree and the terms of 617 the agreement are contained within the dual enrollment
 618 articulation agreement established pursuant to subsection (21).
 619 Florida College System institution boards of trustees may 620 establish additional initial student eligibility requirements,
 621 which shall be included in the dual enrollment articulation
 622 agreement, to ensure student readiness for postsecondary
 623 instruction. Additional requirements included in the agreement
 624 may not arbitrarily prohibit students who have demonstrated the 625 ability to master advanced courses from participating in dual
 626 enrollment courses or limit the number of dual enrollment
 627 courses in which a student may enroll based solely upon
 628 enrollment by the student at an independent postsecondary
 629 institution.

630 (13)

631 (b) Each public postsecondary institution eligible to
 632 participate in the dual enrollment program pursuant to s.
 633 1011.62(1)(i) must enter into a home education articulation
 634 agreement with each home education student seeking enrollment in 635 a dual enrollment course and the student's parent. By August 1
 636 of each year, the eligible postsecondary institution shall
 637 complete and submit the home education articulation agreement to 638 the Department of Education. The home education articulation

581-02347-21

2021366c1

639 agreement must include, at a minimum:

640 1. A delineation of courses and programs available to 641 dually enrolled home education students. Courses and programs
642 may be added, revised, or deleted at any time by the 643 postsecondary institution. Any course or program limitations may
644 not exceed the limitations for other dually enrolled students.

645 2. The initial and continued eligibility requirements for 646 home education student participation, not to exceed those
647 required of other dually enrolled students. A high school grade
648 point average may not be required for home education students
649 who demonstrate achievement of college-level communication and
650 computation skills as provided under s. 1008.30(1) or (2) meet
651 the minimum score on a common placement test adopted by the 652 State Board of Education which indicates that the student is 653 ~~ready for college-level coursework~~; however, home education
654 student eligibility requirements for continued enrollment in 655 dual enrollment courses must include the maintenance of the 656 minimum postsecondary grade point average established by the 657 postsecondary institution.

658 3. The student's responsibilities for providing his or her
659 own transportation.

660 4. A copy of the statement on transfer guarantees developed
661 by the Department of Education under subsection (15).

662 Section 19. Section 1008.30, Florida Statutes, is amended
663 to read:

664 1008.30 Common placement testing for public postsecondary
665 education.—

666 (1) The State Board of Education, in conjunction with the 667 Board of Governors, shall develop and implement a common

581-02347-21

668 placement test for the purpose of assessing the basic 669 computation and communication skills of students who intend to 670 enter a degree program at any public postsecondary educational 671 institution. Alternative assessments that may be accepted in 672 lieu of the common placement test shall also be identified in 673 rule. Public postsecondary educational institutions shall 674 provide appropriate modifications of the test instruments or 675 test procedures for students with disabilities.

676 (2) By January 31, 2022, the State Board of Education shall 677 adopt rules to develop and implement alternative methods for 678 assessing the basic computation and communication skills of 679 students who intend to enter a degree program at a Florida
680 College System institution. Florida College System institutions
681 may use these alternative methods in lieu of common placement
682 tests as described in subsection (1) to assess student readiness
683 for college-level work in computation and communication ~~The~~ 684 ~~common placement testing program shall include the capacity to~~
685 ~~diagnose basic competencies in the areas of English, reading,~~
686 ~~and mathematics which are essential for success in meta-majors~~
687 ~~and to provide test information to students on the specific~~ 688 ~~skills the student needs to attain.~~

689 (3) ~~By October 31, 2013, the State Board of Education shall~~ 690 ~~establish by rule the test scores a student must achieve to~~ 691 ~~demonstrate readiness to perform college-level work, and The~~ 692 ~~rules~~ required by subsection (2) must specify the following:

693 (a) A student who entered 9th grade in a Florida public
694 school in the 2003-2004 school year, or any year thereafter, and 695 earned a Florida standard high school diploma or a student who 696 is serving as an active duty member of any branch of the United

581-02347-21 2021366c1

697 States Armed Services shall not be required to be assessed for 698 readiness for college-level work in computation and 699 communication ~~take the common placement test~~ and shall not be 700 required to enroll in developmental education instruction in a 701 Florida College System institution. However, a student who is 702 not required to be assessed for readiness for college-level work
 703 in computation and communication ~~take the common placement test~~
 704 and is not required to enroll in developmental education under 705 this paragraph may opt to be assessed and to enroll in 706 developmental education instruction, and the college shall 707 provide such assessment and instruction upon the student's 708 request.

709 (b) A student who is assessed for readiness for college-
 710 level computation and communication and whose assessment results
 711 indicate ~~takes the common placement test and whose score on the~~ 712 ~~test indicates~~ a need for developmental education must be 713 advised of all the developmental education options offered at 714 the institution and, after advisement, shall be allowed to 715 enroll in the developmental education option of his or her
 716 choice.

717 (c) A student who demonstrates readiness by achieving or 718 exceeding the test scores established by the state board and 719 enrolls in a Florida College System institution within 2 years
 720 after achieving such scores shall not be required to retest or 721 complete developmental education when admitted to any Florida
 722 College System institution.

723 (4) ~~(a) By December 31, 2013, the State Board of Education,~~
 724 ~~in consultation with the Board of Governors, shall approve a~~ 725 ~~series of meta-majors and the academic pathways that identify~~

581-02347-21 2021366c1

726 ~~the gateway courses associated with each meta-major. Florida~~
 727 ~~College System institutions shall use placement test results to~~ 728 ~~determine the extent to which each student demonstrates~~
 729 ~~sufficient communication and computation skills to indicate~~
 730 ~~readiness for his or her chosen meta major. Florida College~~
 731 ~~System institutions shall counsel students into college credit~~
 732 ~~courses as quickly as possible, with developmental education~~
 733 ~~limited to that content needed for success in the meta-major.~~

734 ~~(5)(a) Each Florida College System institution board of~~ 735 ~~trustees shall develop a plan to implement the developmental~~ 736 ~~education strategies defined in s. 1008.02 and rules established~~
 737 ~~by the State Board of Education. The plan must be submitted to~~ 738 ~~the Chancellor of the Florida College System for approval no~~
 739 ~~later than March 1, 2014, for implementation no later than the~~ 740 ~~fall semester 2014. Each plan must include, at a minimum, local~~ 741 ~~policies that outline:~~

742 1. ~~Documented student achievements such as grade point~~
 743 ~~averages, work history, military experience, participation in~~
 744 ~~juried competitions, career interests, degree major declaration,~~
 745 ~~or any combination of such achievements that the institution may~~ 746 ~~consider, in addition to common placement test scores, for~~
 747 ~~advising students regarding enrollment options.~~

748 2. ~~Developmental education strategies available to~~ 749 ~~students.~~

750 3. ~~A description of student costs and financial aid~~
 751 ~~opportunities associated with each option.~~

752 4. ~~Provisions for the collection of student success data.~~

753 5. ~~A comprehensive plan for advising students into~~ 754 ~~appropriate developmental education strategies based on student~~

755 ~~success data.~~

756 (b) ~~Beginning October 31, 2015,~~ Each Florida College System
 757 institution shall use placement test results or alternative
 758 methods as established by the State Board of Education to 759 determine the extent to which each student demonstrates 760 sufficient computation and communication skills to indicate
 761 readiness for his or her chosen meta-major. Florida College
 762 System institutions shall counsel students into college credit
 763 courses as quickly as possible, with developmental education
 764 limited to that content needed for success in the meta-major
 765 annually prepare an accountability report that includes student 766 success data relating to each developmental education strategy
 767 implemented by the institution. The report shall be submitted to 768 the Division of Florida Colleges by October 31 in a format
 769 determined by the Chancellor of the Florida College System. By 770 December 31, the chancellor shall compile and submit the 771 institutional reports to the Governor, the President of the 772 Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the 773 State Board of Education.

774 (c) A university board of trustees may contract with a
 775 Florida College System institution board of trustees for the 776 Florida College System institution to provide developmental 777 education on the state university campus. Any state university
 778 in which the percentage of incoming students requiring 779 developmental education equals or exceeds the average percentage
 780 of such students for the Florida College System may offer
 781 developmental education without contracting with a Florida
 782 College System institution; however, any state university
 783 offering college-preparatory instruction as of January 1, 1996,

 785 defined in s. 1008.02(1).

786 ~~(5)(6)~~ A student may not be enrolled in a college credit
 787 mathematics or English course on a dual enrollment basis unless 788 the student has demonstrated adequate precollegiate preparation

 790 ~~skills assessment required pursuant to subsection (1) that is~~ 791 appropriate for successful student participation in the course.

792 Section 20. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) and paragraph 793 (b) of subsection (4) of section 1008.44, Florida Statutes, are 794 amended, and paragraph (f) is added to subsection (1) of that 795 section, to read:

798 (1) Pursuant to ss. 1003.4203 and 1003.492, the Department
 799 of Education shall, at least annually, identify, under rules
 800 adopted by the State Board of Education, and the Commissioner of 801 Education may at any time recommend adding the following
 802 certificates, certifications, and courses:

 804 Industry Certification Funding List that must be applied in the 805 distribution of funding to school districts pursuant to s.
 806 1011.62(1)(o). The CAPE Industry Certification Funding List
 807 shall incorporate by reference the industry certifications on 808 the career pathways list approved for the Florida Gold Seal CAPE
 809 Vocational Scholars award. In addition, by August 1 of each
 810 year, the not-for-profit corporation established pursuant to s.
 811 445.004 may annually select one industry certification, that 812 does not articulate for college credit, for inclusion on the

814 unless otherwise approved by the curriculum review committee
815 pursuant to s. 1003.491. Such industry certifications, if earned
816 by a student, shall be eligible for additional full-time
817 equivalent membership, pursuant to s. 1011.62(1)(o)1.

818 (f) Industry certifications leading to occupations in 819 critical industry sectors which, if earned by a student, are 820 eligible for additional full-time equivalent student membership
821 pursuant to s. 1011.62(1)(o)1.e.

822 (4)

823 (b) For the purpose of calculating additional full-time
824 equivalent membership pursuant to s. 1011.62(1)(o)1.e., the 829 Section 21. Paragraphs (b) and (f) of subsection (1) of 830 section 1009.25, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

831 1009.25 Fee exemptions.—

832 (1) The following students are exempt from the payment of 833 tuition and fees, including lab fees, at a school district that 834 provides workforce education programs, Florida College System
835 institution, or state university:

836 (b) A student enrolled in an ~~approved~~ apprenticeship
837 program, as defined in s. 446.021. A technical center operated
838 by a school district, a Florida College System institution, or a
839 state university may enter into an agreement with another entity 840 to cover the approved apprenticeship program student tuition and 841 fees, including lab fees.

842 (f) A student who lacks a fixed, regular, and adequate
843 nighttime residence or whose primary nighttime residence is a
844 public or private shelter designed to provide temporary

847 a regular sleeping accommodation for human beings. This includes 848 a student who would otherwise meet the requirements of this 849 paragraph, as determined by a college or university, but for his 850 or her residence in college or university dormitory housing. The 851 State Board of Education may adopt rules and the Board of 852 Governors may adopt regulations regarding documentation and 853 procedures to implement this paragraph.

854 Section 22. Paragraph (o) of subsection (1) of section
855 1011.62, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

856 1011.62 Funds for operation of schools.—If the annual

861 follows:

862 (1) COMPUTATION OF THE BASIC AMOUNT TO BE INCLUDED FOR 863 OPERATION.—The following procedure shall be followed in 864 determining the annual allocation to each district for 865 operation:

866 (o) Calculation of additional full-time equivalent

875 1.a. A value of 0.025 full-time equivalent student
 876 membership shall be calculated for CAPE Digital Tool
 877 certificates earned by students in elementary and middle school
 878 grades.

879 b. A value of 0.1 or 0.2 full-time equivalent student
 880 membership shall be calculated for each student who completes a 881 course as defined in s. 1003.493(1)(b) or courses with embedded 882 CAPE industry certifications and who is issued an industry
 883 certification identified annually on the CAPE Industry
 884 Certification Funding List approved under rules adopted by the 885 State Board of Education. For a CAPE industry certification that 886 has a statewide articulation agreement for 4 to 14 college
 887 credits and for a CAPE industry certification that has a 888 statewide articulation agreement for 1 to 3 college credits and 889 that is deemed by the department to be of sufficient rigor and 890 to be linked to a high-skill occupation, a value of 0.2 full-
 891 time equivalent membership shall be calculated. For all other
 892 CAPE industry certifications with a statewide articulation
 893 agreement for 1 to 3 college credits, a value of 0.1 full-time

 902 membership for a CAPE Digital Tool certificate pursuant to sub-903 subparagraph a. may not use the previously funded examination to 904 satisfy the requirements for earning an industry certification
 905 under this sub-subparagraph. ~~Additional FTE membership for an~~ 906 ~~elementary or middle grades student may not exceed 0.1 for~~ 907 ~~certificates or certifications earned within the same fiscal~~

 909 values on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List under 910 rules adopted by the state board. Such value shall be added to 911 the total full-time equivalent student membership for grades 6
 912 through 12 in the subsequent year. CAPE industry certifications
 913 earned through dual enrollment must be reported and funded
 914 pursuant to s. 1011.80. However, if a student earns a 915 certification through a dual enrollment course and the 916 certification is not a fundable certification on the 917 postsecondary certification funding list, or the dual enrollment
 918 certification is earned as a result of an agreement between a 919 school district and a nonpublic postsecondary institution, the 920 bonus value shall be funded in the same manner as other nondual
 921 enrollment course industry certifications. In such cases, the 922 school district may provide for an agreement between the high 923 school and the technical center, or the school district and the 924 postsecondary institution may enter into an agreement for 925 equitable distribution of the bonus funds.

926 c. A value of 0.3 full-time equivalent student membership
 927 shall be calculated for student completion of the courses and 928 the embedded certifications identified on the CAPE Industry

 930 pursuant to ss. 1003.4203(5) (a) and 1008.44.

931 d. A value of 0.5 full-time equivalent student membership
 932 shall be calculated for CAPE Acceleration Industry
 933 Certifications that articulate for 15 to 29 college credit
 934 hours, and 1.0 full-time equivalent student membership shall be 935 calculated for CAPE Acceleration Industry Certifications that 936 articulate for 30 or more college credit hours pursuant to CAPE
 937 Acceleration Industry Certifications approved by the 938 commissioner pursuant to ss. 1003.4203(5) (b) and 1008.44.

939 e. In addition to the full-time equivalent student
 940 membership calculated under paragraphs (a)-(d), a supplemental 941 value of 0.2 full-time equivalent student membership shall be 942 calculated for industry certifications identified on the CAPE
 943 Industry Certification Funding List as leading to employment in 944 occupations in critical industry sectors.

945 2. Each district must allocate at least 80 percent of the 946 funds provided for CAPE industry certification, in accordance 947 with this paragraph, to the program that generated the funds.
 948 The remaining 20 percent may be used for other CAPE program
 949 expenses, such as administrative costs and new industry
 950 certification programs; however, administrative costs may not

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 468 creates section 943.0586, Florida Statutes, providing for the expunction of certain criminal history records relating to the misdemeanor offense of possession of 20 grams or less of cannabis, regardless of disposition. The language in the bill closely mirrors the procedures and requirements for court ordered expunction under section 943.0585, Florida Statutes.

The bill provides that a person may only receive one expunction under this section, and may only petition the court for an expunction after at least one year has elapsed since the disposition of the criminal activity to which the petition pertains, and he or she is no longer under court supervision. A person who receives an expunction under this section is not precluded from seeking a sealing or expunction provided under any other section of law.

The bill's fiscal impact to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement is significant; most of these costs will be offset by expunction application fees. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement for additional information.

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

There are several limited forms of relief that may be sought in order to seal or expunge a criminal history record. The public will not have access to a criminal history record that has been sealed or expunged. Certain government or related entities have access to records even after they are sealed. Most of the entities who have access to sealed records also have access to see whether a person has had an expunction. However, those entities do not have access to the expunged criminal history record without a court order.¹

Expunction of Criminal History Records

A criminal history record includes any non-judicial record maintained by a criminal justice agency² that contains criminal history information.³ Criminal history information is information collected by criminal justice agencies and consists of identifiable descriptions of individuals and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, information, other formal criminal charges, and criminal dispositions.⁴

State courts have continuing jurisdiction over their own procedures, including the expunction and sealing of judicial records that contain criminal history information.⁵ Pursuant to statute, judges have the discretion to order criminal records maintained by the court system and records held by law enforcement agencies to be sealed⁶ or expunged for either a minor or an adult.⁷ However, no one has a right to have a record expunged and the request may be denied at the sole discretion of the court.⁸

A person may have his or her criminal history record⁹ expunged under certain enumerated circumstances.¹⁰ When a record is expunged, the criminal justice agencies¹¹ that possess the record must physically destroy or obliterate it. However, a criminal justice agency may retain a notation indicating compliance with an order to expunge.¹² The FDLE maintains a copy of the ² Section 943.045(11), F.S., provides that criminal justice agencies include the court, the FDLE, the Department of Juvenile Justice, components of the Department of Children and Families, and other governmental agencies that administrate criminal justice.

³ Section 943.045(6), F.S.

⁴ Section 943.045(5), F.S.

⁶ In general terms, sealing makes records confidential in most cases while expunction requires the actual physical destruction of records held by courts and most law enforcement agencies. When a record is sealed, it is preserved so that it is secure and inaccessible to any person who does not have a legal right to access the record or the information contained within the record. A court may order a criminal history record sealed, rendering it confidential and exempt from Florida's public records laws. Sections 943.045(19), 943.059(6), and 119.07(1), F.S., and Art. I, s. 24(a), Fla. Const.

⁷ Sections 943.0585(4)(b) and 943.059(4)(b), F.S.

⁸ Section 943.0585(4)(b) and (e), F.S.

⁹ Section 943, 045(6), F.S., provides that a "criminal history record" is any judicial record maintained by a criminal justice agency containing criminal history information.

¹⁰ Sections 943.0581, 943.0582, 943.0583, and 943.0585, F.S.

¹¹ Section 943.045(11), F.S., provides that "criminal justice agency," means: (1) A court; (2) the FDLE; (3) The Department of Juvenile Justice; (4) The protective investigations component of the Department of Children and Families, which investigates the crimes of abuse and neglect; and (5) Any other governmental agency or subunit thereof that performs the administration of criminal justice pursuant to a statute or rule of court and that allocates a substantial part of its annual budget to the administration of criminal justice.

¹² Section 943.0585(6)(a), F.S.

record to evaluate subsequent requests for sealing or expunction, and to recreate the record in the event a court vacates the order to expunge.¹³ The criminal history record retained by the FDLE is confidential and exempt.¹⁴ Once the record is expunged, a person may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge the arrests covered by the expunged record, subject to exceptions.^{15, 16}

Court-Ordered Expunction

A court, in its discretion, may order the expunction of a person's criminal history record if the FDLE issues the person a certificate of eligibility for expunction.¹⁷ Generally, a person is eligible for expunction if:

- An indictment, information, or other charging document was not filed or issued in the case giving rise to the criminal history record.
- An indictment, information, or other charging document was filed or issued in the case giving rise to the criminal history record, but was dismissed or nolle prosequi by the State, was dismissed by the court, a judgment of acquittal was rendered, or a verdict of not guilty was rendered.
- The person is not seeking to expunge a criminal history record that is ineligible under s. 943.0584, F.S.¹⁸

¹⁴ Section 943.0585(6)(a), F.S.

¹⁵ Section 943.0585(6), F.S.

¹⁶ Section 943.0585(6), F.S., provides that enumerated entities include criminal justice agencies, The Florida Bar, the Department of Children and Families, the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation within the Department of Education, the Agency for Health Care Administration, the Agency for Persons with Disabilities, the Department of Health, the Department of Elderly Affairs, the Department of Juvenile Justice, the Department of Education, a district school board, a university laboratory school, a charter school, a private or parochial school, a local governmental entity that licenses child care facilities, the Division of Insurance Agent and Agency Services within the Department of Financial Services, and the Bureau of License Issuance of the Division of Licensing within the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.

- The person has never, prior to filing the application for a certificate of eligibility, been either:
 - Adjudicated guilty of any criminal offense or comparable ordinance violation; or
 - Adjudicated delinquent of any felony or certain enumerated misdemeanors as a juvenile.
- The person has not been adjudicated guilty or delinquent for committing any of the acts stemming from the arrest or alleged criminal activity to which the petition to expunge pertains.
- The person has never secured a prior sealing or expunction, unless:
 - Expunction is sought of a criminal history record previously sealed for at least 10 years; and
 - The record was sealed because adjudication was withheld, or because a judgment of acquittal or verdict of not guilty was rendered.²⁰

Certificate of Eligibility

A person must first apply to the FDLE for a certificate of eligibility. The FDLE must issue a certificate of eligibility for court-ordered expunction to a person who:²¹

- Is eligible for expunction, as described above.
- Has submitted to the department a written certified statement from the appropriate state attorney or statewide prosecutor which confirms the criminal history record complies with certain requirements described above.
- Has submitted to the FDLE a certified copy of the disposition of the charge to which the petition pertains.
- Pays a $75 processing fee to the FDLE for placement in the FDLE Operating Trust Fund, unless the executive director waives such fee.²²

Upon receiving a certificate of eligibility from the FDLE, a person must petition the court to expunge the record.²³ A complete petition contains both a valid certificate of eligibility, issued within the previous 12 months, and a sworn statement from the petitioner attesting to his or her eligibility.²⁴ It is solely within the court's discretion to grant or deny a petition to expunge.²⁵

Fees to Expunge Records

The application for a certificate of eligibility to seal or expunge under either statute must include a certified copy of the disposition. The clerk charges $2 per document for a certification fee²⁶ plus $1 a page for copying²⁷ the disposition. The FDLE charges $75 for the certificate of eligibility.²⁸

Other Types of Expunction

Other types of expunction include:

- Lawful self-defense expunction.²⁹
- Human trafficking victim expunction.³⁰
- Automatic Juvenile expunction.³¹
- Early juvenile expunction.³²
- Administrative expunction.³³
- Juvenile diversion program expunction.³⁴

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill creates s. 943.0586, F.S., providing for the expunction of certain criminal history records relating to the misdemeanor offense of possession of 20 grams or less of cannabis.

A person is eligible to petition the court for an expunction if:

- The person was arrested or given a notice to appear for a misdemeanor offense for obtaining, purchasing, or possessing 20 grams or less of cannabis, regardless of disposition.
- The person was not convicted of, nor pled no contest to, a contemporaneous offense other than the misdemeanor offense for obtaining, purchasing, or possessing 20 grams or less of cannabis.
- At least 1 year has elapsed since disposition of the offense or alleged criminal activity.
- The person is no longer under court supervision related to the cannabis offense.
- The person has not previously received this type of expunction.

A person must apply to the FDLE for a certificate of eligibility before he or she petitions a court to expunge a criminal history record. The bill directs the FDLE to establish procedures for applying for and issuing a certificate of eligibility. The FDLE must issue a certificate of eligibility to a person who is the subject of a criminal history record if that person:

- Satisfies the criteria listed above, and is not ineligible under s. 943.0584, F.S.³⁵

³⁵ See footnote 21.

- Has submitted to the FDLE a written certified statement from the appropriate state attorney or statewide prosecutor that confirms the criminal history record complies with the criteria listed above.
- Has submitted a certified copy of the disposition of the charge.
- Remits a processing fee.

A certificate of eligibility is valid for 12 months after the date it is issued by the FDLE.

The following must be submitted with the petition to expunge a criminal history record:

- A valid certificate of eligibility.
- The petitioner's sworn statement that he or she satisfies the eligibility requirements for expunction, and is eligible for expunction and to the best of his or her knowledge does not have any other petition to seal or expunge pending before any court.

A person who knowingly provides false information commits a third degree felony.

The bill further provides that courts have jurisdiction over their own procedures to the extent that such procedures are not inconsistent with the conditions, responsibilities, and duties established in the bill. A court may order a criminal justice agency to expunge a criminal history record of a person who complies with the requirements established in the bill.

The court may order expunction of a criminal history record pertaining to one arrest or one incident of alleged criminal activity. However, the court may order the expunction of a criminal history record pertaining to more than one arrest if the additional arrests directly relate to the original arrest.

The bill provides that it does not confer any right to expunction of any criminal history record and any request for expunction may be denied at the sole discretion of the court.

A copy of the completed petition must be served upon the state attorney or the statewide prosecutor, who, with the arresting agency, may respond to the petition. If the expunction is granted, the clerk must certify copies of the order to:

- The appropriate state attorney or statewide prosecutor.
- The arresting agency who must forward the order to any agency to which the arresting agency disseminated the criminal history record information.
- Any other agency which the court records reflect has received the criminal history record from the court.

Additionally, the FDLE must forward the order to the Federal Bureau of Investigations.

The FDLE and any other criminal justice agency is only required to act on a court order if the order is in compliance with the criteria described above. Upon receipt of an order that is not in compliance, the FDLE must notify:

- The appropriate state attorney or statewide prosecutor.
- The petitioner or the petitioner's attorney.
- The arresting agency.

The appropriate state attorney or statewide prosecutor must take action within 60 days to correct the record and petition the court to void the order. A cause of action, including contempt of court, may not arise against any criminal justice agency for failure to comply with an order to expunge when the petitioner for such order failed to obtain the certificate of eligibility or comply with other requirements.

A person who has received an expunction may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge the arrests and notices to appear covered by the expunged record, except in specified circumstances.³⁶

Except as provided above, a person who has been granted an expunction under this bill may not be held under any provision of law of this state to commit perjury or to be otherwise liable for giving a false statement by a person's failure to recite or acknowledge an expunged criminal history record.

The bill provides that a person who receives an expunction under this section is not precluded from seeking a sealing or expunction provided under ss. 943.0583, 943.0585, and 943.059, F.S., if the person is otherwise eligible.

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

The bill does not require counties or municipalities to spend funds or limit their authority to raise revenue or receive state-shared revenues as specified in article VII, section 18 of the Florida Constitution.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. State Tax or Fee Increases:

None.

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

None identified.

³⁶ Exceptions include, when the person is a defendant in a criminal prosecution; Is a candidate for admission to The Florida Bar; Is seeking employment or licensing with specified entities; Is seeking to be appointed as a guardian pursuant to s. 744.3125, F.S.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The FDLE will experience an increase in workload associated with this bill; however, the $75 application fee will provide revenue to support additional staffing to address this workload. This bill allows the FDLE to collect a $75 application processing fee to be deposited into the department's Operating Trust Fund. Currently, the Computerized Criminal History (CCH) repository contains 729,070 unique state identification numbers (SIDs) with 1,016,255 charges for a qualifying marijuana offense of possession under 20 grams. Assuming 10 percent of those individuals seek relief, there would be an increase of 72,907 applications @ $75 for a total of $5,468,025 in increased revenue.³⁷ The FDLE estimates the bill's provision will result in the need to hire 88 additional staff to manage the workload, at a recurring cost of $5,425,716. The department also estimates additional nonrecurring costs of $1 million for technology modifications.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill creates section 943.0586 of the Florida Statutes.

CS by Judiciary on March 16, 2021:

The committee substitute re-drafted the bill in order to closely follow existing expungement law codified at s. 943.0585, F.S. Significant policy changes made by the Committee Substitute include:

- The process is no longer completely free to the applicant, but will require a $75 fee to the Department of Law Enforcement for a certificate of eligibility.

³⁷ The FDLE, 2021 Agency Analysis for Cs/SB 468, p. 4, February 16, 2021 (Revised March 23, 2021).

- The one year wait and the probation limitation are added.
- The petition must be filed with the sentencing court.
- The clerk of court is not responsible for service on the state attorney.
- Expungement is limited to one time under this new section.
- No other contemporaneous offense is allowed.
- Expungement is not automatic, it may be denied by the court.
- The exceptions allowing future access for select agencies was added.
- The CS specifies that expungement under this new section is not a bar to sealing or expungement of a different offense under another law.

87 (4) COURT AUTHORITY.—

590-02872-21

2021468c1

88 (a) The courts of this state have jurisdiction over their 89 own procedures, including the maintenance, expunction, and 90 correction of judicial records containing criminal history
91 information, to the extent that such procedures are not
92 inconsistent with the conditions, responsibilities, and duties
93 established by this section.

94 (b) A court of competent jurisdiction may order a criminal
95 justice agency to expunge the criminal history record of a minor
96 or an adult who complies with the requirements of this section.
97 The court may not order a criminal justice agency to expunge a
98 criminal history record until the person seeking to expunge a
99 criminal history record has applied for and received a
100 certificate of eligibility under subsection (2).

101 (c) The court may order expunction of a criminal history
102 record pertaining to one arrest or one incident of alleged 103 criminal activity only, except that the court may order the 104 expunction of a criminal history record pertaining to more than 105 one arrest if the additional arrests directly relate to the 106 original arrest. If the court intends to order the expunction of 107 records pertaining to such additional arrests, such intent must 108 be specified in the order. A criminal justice agency may not 109 expunge any record pertaining to such additional arrests if the 110 order to expunge does not articulate the intention of the court
111 to expunge a record pertaining to more than one arrest. This 112 section does not prevent the court from ordering the expunction
113 of only a portion of a criminal history record pertaining to one
114 arrest or one incident of alleged criminal activity.

115 (d) This section does not confer any right to expunction of 116 any criminal history record, and any request for expunction of a

117 criminal history record may be denied at the sole discretion of 118 the court.

119 (5) PROCESSING OF A PETITION OR AN ORDER.—

120 (a) In judicial proceedings under this section, a copy of 121 the completed petition to expunge shall be served upon the 122 appropriate state attorney or the statewide prosecutor and upon 123 the arresting agency; however, it is not necessary to make any 124 agency other than the state a party. The appropriate state
 125 attorney or the statewide prosecutor and the arresting agency
 126 may respond to the court regarding the completed petition to 127 expunge.

128 (b) If relief is granted by the court, the clerk of the 129 court shall certify copies of the order to the appropriate state
 130 attorney or the statewide prosecutor and the arresting agency.
 131 The arresting agency shall forward the order to any other agency
 132 to which the arresting agency disseminated the criminal history
 133 record information to which the order pertains. The department
 134 shall forward the order to expunge to the Federal Bureau of 135 Investigation. The clerk of the court shall certify a copy of 136 the order to any other agency which the records of the court
 137 reflect has received the criminal history record from the court.

138 (c) The department or any other criminal justice agency is 139 not required to act on an order to expunge entered by a court
 140 when such order does not comply with the requirements of this 141 section. Upon receipt of such an order, the department must 142 notify the issuing court, the appropriate state attorney or 143 statewide prosecutor, the petitioner or the petitioner's
 144 attorney, and the arresting agency of the reason for 145 noncompliance. The appropriate state attorney or statewide

146 prosecutor shall take action within 60 days to correct the 147 record and petition the court to void the order. No cause of 148 action, including contempt of court, shall arise against any 149 criminal justice agency for failure to comply with an order to 150 expunge when the petitioner for such order failed to obtain the 151 certificate of eligibility as required by this section or such 152 order does not otherwise comply with the requirements of this 153 section.

154 (6) EFFECT OF EXPUNCTION ORDER.—

155 (a) The person who is the subject of a criminal history
 156 record that is expunged under this section may lawfully deny or 157 fail to acknowledge the arrests and notices to appear covered by 158 the expunged record, except when the subject of the record:

- 159 1. Is a candidate for employment with a criminal justice 160 agency;
- 161 2. Is a defendant in a criminal prosecution;

175 school, or any local governmental entity that licenses child
176 care facilities;

177 6. Is seeking to be licensed by the Division of Insurance
178 Agent and Agency Services within the Department of Financial 179 Services; or

180 7. Is seeking to be appointed as a guardian pursuant to s.
181 744.3125.

182 (b) Subject to the exceptions in paragraph (a), a person
183 who has been granted an expunction under this section may not be 184 held under any provision of law of this state to commit perjury
185 or to be otherwise liable for giving a false statement by reason
186 of such person's failure to recite or acknowledge an expunged
187 criminal history record.

188 (7) RELATION TO OTHER LAWS ON EXPUNCTION OR SEALING.—
189 Expunction or sealing granted under this section does not 190 prevent the person who receives such relief from petitioning for 191 the expunction or sealing of a criminal history record as 192 provided for in ss. 943.0583, 943.0585, and 943.059, if the 193 person is otherwise eligible under those sections.

194 Section 2. This act shall take effect July 1, 2021.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 470 is the public records exemption bill linked to CS/SB 468. The bill provides that criminal history records relating to certain misdemeanor cannabis offenses that have been expunged and are retained by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) are confidential and exempt from public disclosure. Exceptions permit specified entities to access such records for limited purposes. CS/SB 468 creates section 943.0586, Florida Statutes, providing for the expunction of certain criminal history records relating to the misdemeanor offense of possession of 20 grams or less of cannabis, regardless of disposition.

Additionally, the bill provides that it is a first degree misdemeanor for any employee of a specified entity to disclose information relating to the existence of an expunged criminal history record of a person seeking employment, access authorization, or licensure with such entity or contractor, except to:

- The person to whom the record relates.
- Persons having direct responsibility for employment, access authorization, or licensure decisions.

This bill is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act and stands repealed on October 2, 2026, unless reviewed and saved from the repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

Because this bill creates a public records exemption, it will require a two-thirds vote of each house in order to pass.

This bill takes effect on the same date as CS/SB 468 or similar legislation takes effect. CS/SB 468 is effective on July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Access to Public Records - Generally

The Florida Constitution provides that the public has the right to inspect or copy records made or received in connection with official governmental business.¹ The right to inspect or copy applies to the official business of any public body, officer, or employee of the state, including all three branches of state government, local governmental entities, and any person acting on behalf of the government.²

Additional requirements and exemptions related to public records are found in various statutes and rules, depending on the branch of government involved. For instance, s. 11.0431, F.S., provides public access requirements for legislative records. Relevant exemptions are codified in s. 11.0431(2)-(3), F.S., and the statutory provisions are adopted in the rules of each house of the legislature.³ Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.420 governs public access to judicial branch records.⁴ Lastly, ch. 119, F.S., provides requirements for public records held by executive agencies.

Executive Agency Records – The Public Records Act

Chapter 119, F.S., known as the Public Records Act, provides that all state, county, and municipal records are open for personal inspection and copying by any person, and that providing access to public records is a duty of each agency.⁵

A public record includes virtually any document or recording, regardless of its physical form or how it may be transmitted.⁶ The Florida Supreme Court has interpreted the statutory definition of “public record” to include “material prepared in connection with official agency business which is intended to perpetuate, communicate, or formalize knowledge of some type.”⁷

³ See Rule 1.48, Rules and Manual of the Florida Senate, (2020-2022) and Rule 14.1, Rules of the Florida House of Representatives, Edition 1, (2020-2022).

⁴ State v. Wooten, 260 So. 3d 1060 (Fla. 4th DCA 2018).

⁶ Section 119.011(12), F.S., defines “public record” to mean “all documents, papers, letters, maps, books, tapes, photographs, films, sound recordings, data processing software, or other material, regardless of the physical form, characteristics, or means of transmission, made or received pursuant to law or ordinance or in connection with the transaction of official business by any agency.”

⁷ Shevin v. Byron, Harless, Schaffer, Reid and Assoc., Inc., 379 So. 2d 633, 640 (Fla. 1980).

The Florida Statutes specify conditions under which public access to public records must be provided. The Public Records Act guarantees every person's right to inspect and copy any public record at any reasonable time, under reasonable conditions, and under supervision by the custodian of the public record.⁸ A violation of the Public Records Act may result in civil or criminal liability.⁹

The Legislature may exempt public records from public access requirements by passing a general law by a two-thirds vote of both the House and the Senate.¹⁰ The exemption must state with specificity the public necessity justifying the exemption and must be no broader than necessary to accomplish the stated purpose of the exemption.¹¹

General exemptions from the public records requirements are contained in the Public Records Act.¹² Specific exemptions often are placed in the substantive statutes relating to a particular agency or program.¹³

When creating a public records exemption, the Legislature may provide that a record is "exempt" or "confidential and exempt." Custodians of records designated as "exempt" are not prohibited from disclosing the record; rather, the exemption means that the custodian cannot be compelled to disclose the record.¹⁴ Custodians of records designated as "confidential and exempt" may not disclose the record except under circumstances specifically defined by the Legislature.¹⁵

Open Government Sunset Review Act

The Open Government Sunset Review Act¹⁶ (the Act) prescribes a legislative review process for newly created or substantially amended¹⁷ public records or open meetings exemptions, with specified exceptions.¹⁸ It requires the automatic repeal of such exemption on October 2nd of the fifth year after creation or substantial amendment, unless the Legislature reenacts the exemption.¹⁹

⁸ Section 119.07(1)(a), F.S.

⁹ Section 119.10, F.S. Public records laws are found throughout the Florida Statutes, as are the penalties for violating those laws.

¹¹ Id. See, e.g., Halifax Hosp. Medical Center v. News-Journal Corp., 724 So. 2d 567 (Fla. 1999) (holding that a public meetings exemption was unconstitutional because the statement of public necessity did not define important terms and did not justify the breadth of the exemption); Baker County Press, Inc. v. Baker County Medical Services, Inc., 870 So. 2d 189 (Fla. 1st DCA 2004) (holding that a statutory provision written to bring another party within an existing public records exemption is unconstitutional without a public necessity statement).

¹⁶ Section 119.15, F.S.

¹⁷ An exemption is considered to be substantially amended if it is expanded to include more records or information or to include meetings as well as records. Section 119.15(4)(b), F.S.

¹⁸ Section 119.15(2)(a) and (b), F.S., provides that exemptions that are required by federal law or are applicable solely to the Legislature or the State Court System are not subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act.

¹⁹ Section 119.15(3), F.S.

The Act provides that a public records or open meetings exemption may be created or maintained only if it serves an identifiable public purpose and is no broader than is necessary.²⁰ An exemption serves an identifiable purpose if it meets one of the following purposes and the Legislature finds that the purpose of the exemption outweighs open government policy and cannot be accomplished without the exemption:

- It allows the state or its political subdivisions to effectively and efficiently administer a governmental program, and administration would be significantly impaired without the exemption;²¹
- It protects sensitive, personal information, the release of which would be defamatory, cause unwarranted damage to the good name or reputation of the individual, or would jeopardize the individual's safety. If this public purpose is cited as the basis of an exemption; however, only personal identifying information is exempt;²² or
- It protects information of a confidential nature concerning entities, such as trade or business secrets.²³

The Act also requires specified questions to be considered during the review process.²⁴ In examining an exemption, the Act directs the Legislature to carefully question the purpose and necessity of reenacting the exemption.

If the exemption is continued and expanded, then a public necessity statement and a two-thirds vote for passage are required.²⁵ If the exemption is continued without substantive changes or if the exemption is continued and narrowed, then a public necessity statement and a two-thirds vote for passage are not required. If the Legislature allows an exemption to sunset, the previously exempt records will remain exempt unless provided for by law.²⁶

Expunction

A criminal history record includes any non-judicial record maintained by a criminal justice agency²⁷ that contains criminal history information.²⁸ Criminal history information is information collected by criminal justice agencies and consists of identifiable descriptions of

- What is the identifiable public purpose or goal of the exemption?
- Can the information contained in the records or discussed in the meeting be readily obtained by alternative means? If so, how?
- Is the record or meeting protected by another exemption?
- Are there multiple exemptions for the same type of record or meeting that it would be appropriate to merge?

individuals and notations of arrests, detentions, indictments, information, other formal criminal charges, and criminal dispositions.²⁹

A person may have his or her criminal history record expunged under certain circumstances.³⁰ When a record is expunged, the criminal justice agencies possessing such record must physically destroy or obliterate it. The FDLE maintains a copy of the record to evaluate subsequent requests for sealing or expunction, and to recreate the record in the event a court vacates the order to expunge.³¹ The criminal history record retained by the FDLE is confidential and exempt.³² Once the record is expunged, a person may lawfully deny or fail to acknowledge the arrests covered by the expunged record, subject to exceptions.³³

SB 468 Expunction of Criminal History Records Relating to Certain Cannabis Offenses

CS/SB 468 creates s. 943.0586, F.S., providing for the expunction of certain criminal history records relating to the misdemeanor offense of possession of 20 grams or less of cannabis, regardless of disposition. The language in the bill closely mirrors the procedures and requirements for court ordered expunction under s. 943.0585, F.S.

The bill provides that a person may only receive one expunction under this section, and may only petition the court for an expunction after at least one year has elapsed since the disposition of the criminal activity to which the petition pertains, and he or she is no longer under court supervision. A person who receives an expunction under this section is not precluded from seeking a sealing or expunction provided under any other section of law.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

CS/SB 470 is the public records exemption bill linked to CS/SB 468. The bill provides that criminal history records relating to certain misdemeanor cannabis offenses that have been expunged and are retained by the FDLE are confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), F.S., and article I, section 24(a) of the State Constitution. The bill provides exceptions to permit specified entities to access such records for limited purposes. The FDLE must disclose the existence of a criminal history record ordered expunged to specified entities for their respective licensing, access authorization, employment purposes, and to criminal justice agencies for criminal justice purposes. Such entities include:

- Criminal justice agencies.
- The Florida Bar.
- The Department of Children and Families.
- The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation with the Department of Education.
- The Agency for Health Care Administration.
- The Agency for Persons with Disabilities.
- The Department of Health.
- The Department of Elderly Affairs.

²⁹ Section 943.045(5), F.S.

³⁰ Sections 943.0581, 943.0582, 943.0583, and 943.0585, F.S.

³¹ Section 943.045(16), F.S.

³² Section 943.0585(6)(a), F.S.

³³ Section 943.0585(6), F.S.

- The Department of Juvenile Justice.
- Any district school board, university laboratory school, charter school, private or parochial school, or local governmental entity that licenses child care facilities.
- The Division of Insurance Agent and Agency Services within the Department of Financial Services.
- The guardian ad litem program.

The bill creates a first degree misdemeanor for any employee of an entity listed above to disclose information relating to the existence of an expunged criminal history record of a person seeking employment, access authorization, or licensure with such entity or contractor, except to:

- The person to whom the record relates.
- Persons having direct responsibility for employment, access authorization, or licensure decisions.

This subsection is subject to the Open Government Sunset Review Act and stands repealed on October 2, 2026, unless reviewed and saved from the repeal through reenactment by the Legislature.

This bill provides a public necessity statement as required by article I, section 24(c) of the State Constitution. The public necessity statement provides that:

The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that individuals who petition a court and are granted expunction of certain low-level and nonviolent criminal history records have such criminal history records made confidential and exempt from s. 119.07(1), Florida Statutes, and s. 24(a), Article I of the State Constitution. The Legislature recognizes the disproportionate harm that criminalizing the purchase or possession of small amounts of cannabis has had on minorities and disadvantaged communities. The Legislature further recognizes the trends in this state, and nationally, of counties and localities decriminalizing the purchase or possession of small amounts of cannabis. Without this public records exemption, individuals with such low-level and nonviolent criminal history records who are granted expunction of such records might not be able to seek gainful employment and become productive, contributing members of this state. For these reasons, the Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that such records be made confidential and exempt.

This bill takes effect on the same date as CS/SB 468 or similar legislation takes effect. As currently in the Senate, CS/SB 468 is effective July 1, 2021.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

The bill does not require counties or municipalities to spend funds or limit their authority to raise revenue or receive state-shared revenues as specified in article VII, section 18 of the Florida Constitution.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:Vote Requirement

Article I, s. 24(c) of the State Constitution requires a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting for final passage of a newly created or expanded public records or public meeting exemption. The bill creates a public record exemption for a judicial record that is expunged, and therefore, requires a two-thirds vote for final passage.

Public Necessity Statement

Article I, s. 24(c) of the State Constitution requires a public necessity statement for a newly created or expanded public record or public meeting exemption. The bill creates a public record exemption for a judicial record that is expunged. Section 2 of the bill provides a public necessity statement.

Breadth of Exemption

Article I, s. 24(c) of the State Constitution requires a newly created public record or public meeting exemption to be no broader than necessary to accomplish the stated purpose of the law. The bill makes confidential and exempt limited criminal history records. The exemption does not appear to be in conflict with the constitutional requirement that the exemption be no broader than necessary to accomplish its purpose.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 506 requires a nongovernmental entity that receives at least 50 percent of its annual revenue from state funds or that receives $750,000 or more from state funds in a fiscal year to submit a report to the Department of Management Services (DMS) by January 15 of each year that includes the name, position, and total annual compensation of, including bonuses, exit bonuses, accrued paid time off, severance payments, and incentive payments paid to, each director, board member, chief executive officer, chief financial officer, chief operating officer, or any other person performing equivalent functions. The report must be verified by a director, board member, chief executive officer, chief financial officer, or chief operating officer of the nongovernmental entity.

The bill provides definitions for the terms “nongovernmental entity” and “state funds.”

The bill requires the DMS to include on its Florida Has a Right to Know website the information reported by the nongovernmental entities beginning February 1, 2022, and annually thereafter.

The bill requires a nongovernmental entity to post the reported information on its own website, if the nongovernmental entity maintains a website.

The bill provides that, before receiving funds from a governmental entity, a nongovernmental entity that received state funds in the previous year must submit to the governmental entity an attestation verifying that the nongovernmental entity has submitted the required report. A nongovernmental entity that did not receive state funds in the previous year must submit, before receiving funds from a governmental entity, to the governmental entity an attestation verifying that the nongovernmental entity did not receive funding in the previous year.

The bill establishes that, beginning January 15, 2022, a governmental entity may not expend, transfer, or distribute funds to a nongovernmental entity until the nongovernmental entity has complied with the reporting and posting requirements. This prohibition is applicable to payments associated with contracts executed, amended, extended, or renewed on or after July 1, 2021, and any transfers or distributions authorized on or after July 1, 2021.

The bill will have an indeterminate negative fiscal impact. See Part V, Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Transparency Florida Act

Section 215.985, F.S., is referred to as the Transparency Government Act (the act). The act mandates the Executive Office of the Governor, in consultation with the appropriations committees of the Senate and the House of Representatives, to establish and maintain a single website that provides access to all other websites required under s. 215.985, F.S. The single website, and other websites must:

- Be constructed for usability and provide an intuitive user experience.
- Provide a consistent visual design, interaction or navigation design, and information or data presentation.
- Be deployed in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act.
- Be compatible with all major web browsers.

The outcome of this requirement has been the single webpage known as “Transparency Florida,”¹ an initiative to ensure accountability in how the state spends its money. The Transparency Florida website allows for Florida citizens to view state budgets, payments, and contracts in order to hold state government accountable. The website provides links to:

- State Financials (budget, spending, and related information);
- State Payments;
- Florida State Contract Search (FACTS);
- State Contract Audits;
- State Economic Incentives Program;
- Quasi Government Spending;
- Estimated state taxes paid based on income;
- State Financial Reports;
- Local Government Financial Reporting; and
- State Employee Data (Florida Has a Right to Know).

Florida Fiscal Portal

Section 215.985(5), F.S., requires the Executive Office of the Governor to establish and maintain a website that provides information relating to fiscal planning for the state.² This website is known as the “Florida Fiscal Portal” and houses a collection of documents that detail the fiscal status of the state. The website includes agency legislative budget requests, the long-range financial outlook, the Governor’s budget recommendation, and other fiscal publications.³ The Office of Policy and Budget in the Executive Office of the Governor ensures all data added to the website remains accessible to the public for 10 years.

Florida Has a Right to Know Website

The DMS is required to maintain a website that provides current information regarding each employee or officer of a state agency, a state university, a Florida College System institution, or the State Board of Administration, regardless of the appropriation category.⁴ This website, known as “Florida Has a Right to Know,” provides current information relating to each employee or officer including the:

- Name;
- Salary or hourly rate of pay;
- Position number, class code, and class title; and
- Employing agency and budget entity.⁵

The information must be searchable by state agency, state university, Florida College System institution, and State Board Administration, and by employee name, salary range, or class code, and must be downloadable in a format that allows offline analysis.⁶

Florida Accountability Contract Tracking System

The Chief Financial Officer (CFO) is required to establish and maintain a secure contract tracking system available for viewing and downloading by the public through a secure website.⁷ The Department of Financial Services (DFS) maintains and updates the contract tracking system. The tracking system contains contracts, grant awards, and amendments to contracts.

Within 30 days after executing a contract, each state entity is required to post the following information relating to the contract on the contract tracking system:

- The names of the contracting entities;
- The procurement method;
- The contract beginning and ending dates;
- The nature or type of commodities or services purchased;
- Applicable contract unit prices and deliverables;
- Total compensation to be paid or received under the contract;
- All payments made to the contractor to date;

⁵ Section 215.985(6)(a), F.S.

⁶ Section 215.985(6)(b), F.S.

⁷ Section 215.985(14), F.S.

- Applicable contract performance measures;
- If a competitive solicitation was not used to procure the goods and services, the justification of the action, including citation to a statutory exemption from competitive solicitation if any; and
- Electronic copies of the contract and procurement documents that have been redacted to exclude confidential information or exempt information.⁸

Within 30 calendar days after an amendment to an existing contract, the state entity that is a party to the contract must update the information on the contract tracking system.

Records made available on the contract tracking system may not reveal information made confidential or exempt by law. Each state entity that is a party to a contract must redact confidential and exempt information from the contract and procurement documents before posting an electronic copy on the contract tracking system.⁹ A request to redact confidential and exempt information must be made in writing and delivered by mail, facsimile, electronic transmission, or in person to the state entity. The CFO, and the DFS, or an employee thereof, is not responsible for redacting confidential or exempt information contained on the system or the failure of a state entity to redact the confidential or exempt information. The CFO may regulate and prohibit the posting of records that could facilitate identity theft or fraud. Such action by the CFO does not supersede the duty of a public entity to provide a copy of a public record upon request.¹⁰

Verification of Documents

Section 92.525, F.S., specifies that the requirement that a document be verified means that the document must be signed or executed by a person and that the person must state under oath (affirmation) that the facts or matters stated or recited in the document are true or other words to that effect. A document may be verified in three ways:

- Under oath or affirmation taken or administered before an officer authorized under s. 92.50, F.S., to administer oaths;
- Under oath or affirmation taken or administered by an officer authorized under s. 117.10, F.S., to administer oaths; or
- By the signing of the written declaration prescribed in s. 92.525(2), F.S.^{11,12}

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 215.985, F.S., to expand transparency in government spending.

⁸ Section 215.985(14)(a), F.S.

⁹ Section 215.985(14)(d), F.S.

¹⁰ Section 215.985(14)(f), F.S.

¹¹ Section 92.525(2), F.S., provides that a written declaration means the following statement: “Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have read the foregoing [document] and that the facts stated in it are true,” followed by the signature of the person making the declaration, except when a verification on information or belief is permitted by law, in which case the words “to the best of my knowledge and belief” may be added. The written declaration shall be printed or typed at the end of or immediately below the document being verified and above the signature of the person making the declaration.

¹² Section 92.525(1), F.S.

The term “nongovernmental entity” is defined as a nonprofit corporation.

The term “state funds” is defined to mean funds paid from the General Revenue Fund or any state trust fund, funds allocated by the Federal Government and distributed by the state, or funds appropriated by the state for distribution through any grant program.

This section requires a nongovernmental entity that receives at least 50 percent of its annual revenue, calculated using the nongovernmental entity’s fiscal year, from state funds or that receives $750,000 or more from state funds in a fiscal year, to submit a report to the DMS by January 15 of each year that lists the name, position, and total annual compensation of, including bonuses, exit bonuses, accrued paid time off, severance payments, and incentive payments paid to each director, board member, chief executive officer, chief financial officer, chief operating officer, or any other person performing equivalent functions of the nongovernmental entity. The report must be verified as provided in s. 92.525, F.S., by a director, board member, chief executive officer, chief financial officer, or chief operating officer of the nongovernmental entity. Beginning February 1, 2022, and annually thereafter, the DMS must post the submitted information on its Florida Has a Right to Know website. In addition, the nongovernmental entity must post the same information on its own website if it maintains a website.

Before receiving funds from a governmental entity, a nongovernmental entity must attest that it has received state funds above the applicable thresholds in the previous year and has submitted the report required to the DMS, or that it did not receive funding meeting those thresholds in the previous year.

Beginning January 15, 2022, a governmental entity may not expend, transfer, or distribute funds to a nongovernmental entity until the nongovernmental entity has complied with the requirements of the bill. This prohibition is applicable to payments associated with contracts executed, amended, extended, or renewed on or after July 1, 2021, and any transfers or distributions authorized on or after July 1, 2021.

Section 2 provides that the bill take effect July 1, 2021.

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

B. Private Sector Impact:

The bill will have an indeterminate fiscal impact on private sector organizations. A nonprofit corporation may experience costs associated with complying with the reporting requirement and including the reported information on its own website, if it maintains one. Further, nongovernmental entities will incur additional workload and costs associated with verifying the attestation being submitted to the affiliated governmental entity.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The DMS will incur additional workload and associated costs resulting from the processing and posting of the data provided by nongovernmental entities. The DMS estimates costs, based on current technology spending for the Florida Has a Right to Know website, will result in a net increase of at least $1,000 annually to maintain the data on the portal.¹³

The bill prohibits governmental entities from expending, transferring, or distributing funds to a nongovernmental entity that is in noncompliance with the requirements of the bill. Governmental entities will experience increased workload and associated costs relating to the determination or confirmation of a nongovernmental entity's compliance before expending, transferring, or distributing funds.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

The bill as currently drafted does not appear to provide to noncompliant nongovernmental entities notice or an opportunity to be heard prior to the suspension of funding.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 694 amends the requirement that a local government must either provide three years' notice before its solid waste collection service displaces a private waste company or pay the displaced company an amount equal to the company's preceding 15 months' gross receipts for the displaced service. The bill requires a local government that displaces a solid waste collection service to provide a three-year notice period and pay the displaced company an amount equal to the company's preceding 18 months' gross receipts at the end of the notice period. The bill specifies that this does not apply to any displacement where the local government provided three years notice on or before December 31, 2020.

The bill defines the term "storm-generated yard trash" to expressly include storm-generated debris. It further provides that a private solid waste or debris management service provider is not required to collect such debris unless it is otherwise specified in a contract or agreement with a local government.

The bill also requires the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) to review and update their 2010 Retail Bags Report. The DEP must submit the updated report with conclusions and recommendations to the Legislature by December 31, 2021. Until such time that the Legislature adopts the recommendations of the DEP, a local government, local governmental agency, or state governmental agency may not enact any rule, regulation, or ordinance regarding use, disposition, sale, prohibition, restriction, or tax of such auxiliary containers, wrappings, or disposable plastic bags.

The DEP may incur nominal costs while reviewing and updating its 2010 Retail Bags Report.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Home Rule Authority

The Florida Constitution grants local governments broad home rule authority. Specifically, non-charter county governments may exercise those powers of self-government that are provided by general or special law.¹ Counties operating under a county charter have all powers of self-government not inconsistent with general law or special law approved by vote of the electors.² Likewise, municipalities have governmental, corporate, and proprietary powers that enable them to conduct municipal government, perform municipal functions and provide services, and exercise any power for municipal purposes except as otherwise provided by law.³

County governments have authority to provide fire protection, ambulance services, parks and recreation, libraries, museums and other cultural facilities, waste and sewage collection and disposal, and water and alternative water supplies.⁴ Municipalities are afforded broad home rule powers with the exception of annexation, merger, exercise of extraterritorial power, or subjects prohibited or preempted by the Federal or State Constitution, county charter, or statute.⁵

Solid Waste

Counties have the authority to provide and regulate waste and sewage collection and disposal.⁶ A county may require that any person within the county demonstrate the existence of some arrangement or contract by which the person's solid waste⁷ will be disposed of in a manner consistent with county ordinance or state or federal law.⁸ Counties also have authority to adopt ordinances that govern the disposal of solid waste generated outside the county at the county's solid waste disposal facility.⁹

The DEP is responsible for implementing and enforcing the solid waste management program, which provides guidelines for the storage, separation, processing, recovery, recycling, and disposal of solid waste throughout the state.¹⁰ The program is required to include procedures and requirements to ensure cooperative efforts in solid waste management by counties and municipalities and groups of counties and municipalities where appropriate.¹¹

Counties are responsible for operating solid waste disposal facilities, which are permitted through the DEP, in order to meet the needs of the incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county¹² and may contract with other persons to fulfill some or all of its solid waste responsibilities.¹³ Each county must ensure that municipalities within its boundaries participate in the preparation and implementation of recycling and solid waste management programs through interlocal agreements or other means.¹⁴ In providing services or programs for solid waste management, local governments and state agencies are encouraged to use the most cost-effective means for providing services and are encouraged to contract with private entities for any or all such services or programs to assure that those services are provided on the most cost-effective basis.¹⁵ Local governments are expressly prohibited from discriminating against privately owned solid waste management facilities solely because they are privately owned.¹⁶

Competition with Private Companies

Section 403.70605, F.S., was enacted in 2000 to address concerns of private waste management companies regarding competition with local governments' solid waste departments for third party service contracts.¹⁷ Private companies were concerned that public entities were able to subsidize their costs with funds from other government operations, allowing the public entities to unfairly compete for contracts.¹⁸

Solid Waste Collection Services in Direct Competition

Under s. 403.70605, F.S., local governments providing specific solid waste collection services in direct competition with a private company must comply with local environmental, health, and safety standards applicable to private companies providing competitive collection services.¹⁹ Local governments may not enact or enforce any license, permit, registration procedure, or associated fee that:

- Does not apply to the local government and for which there is not a substantially similar requirement that applies to the local government; and
- Provides the local government with a material advantage in its ability to compete with a private company in terms of cost or ability to promptly or efficiently provide such collection services, excluding zoning, land use, or comprehensive plan requirements.²⁰

²⁰ Section 403.70605(1)(a)2., F.S.

When providing solid waste collection services outside of their jurisdiction in competition with private companies, local governments are prohibited from instituting predatory pricing schemes.²¹

A private company in competition with a local government has legal remedies against local government action that violates the statute, including injunctive relief.²² The private company must notify the local government of the violation and give them 30 days to respond.²³ No injunctive relief is granted if the official action has a reasonable relationship to the health, safety, or welfare of the citizens of the local government, unless a court finds the actual or potential anticompetitive effects outweigh the public benefits of the challenged action.²⁴

Displacement of Private Garbage, Trash, and Refuse Collection Services

A local government, or group of local governments, may not displace a private company²⁵ that provides garbage, trash, or refuse collection without following the requirements under s. 403.70605, F.S. “Displacement” means a local government’s provision of a collection service which prohibits a private company from continuing to provide the same service it was providing when the decision to displace was made.²⁶

Displacement does not include:

- Public and private sector competition for individual contracts;
- A local government refusing to renew an expiring contract with a private company;
- Local government action in response to an act by a private company that is a threat to public health or safety, or results in a substantial public nuisance;
- Local government action in response to material breach by a private company of its contract with the local government;
- Refusal by a private company to continue operations under the terms and conditions of existing agreement during the three-year notice period;
- Contracts between local governments and private waste companies absent an ordinance that displaces another private company;
- A majority of property owners in the displacement area petitioning for the local governing body to take over collection services;
- Municipal annexations honoring existing solid waste contracts pursuant to law; or
- A private company licensed to provide service for a limited time whose license expires and is not renewed by the local government.²⁷

Before displacing a private company, a local government must first hold at least one public hearing, publicly noticed with a separate notice to private companies providing the service within the jurisdiction, on the advisability of the local government providing the service.²⁸ The local government must take measures to provide services within one year of the final public hearing.²⁹ The local governments must provide three years' notice to a private company before it engages in the actual provision of the service that displaces the company.³⁰ As an alternative to delaying displacement three years, the local government may pay a displaced company an amount equal to the company's preceding 15 months' gross receipts for the displaced service in the displacement area.³¹ The local government and the private company are not prohibited from voluntarily negotiating a different notice period or amount of compensation.³²

If a private company refuses to continue operations under the terms and conditions of its existing agreement during the three-year notice period, the company is no longer considered displaced and the notice period lapses.³³

Department of Environmental Protection Retail Bag Report

In response to growing concerns regarding the impact of retail plastic bags on the environment, the Legislature enacted s. 403.7033, F.S., in 2008 to require the DEP to analyze "the need for new or different regulation of auxiliary containers, wrappings, or disposable plastic bags used by consumers to carry products from retail establishments." Section 403.7033, F.S., required the DEP to submit a report with its conclusions and recommendations to the Legislature by February 1, 2010.³⁴

Additionally, s. 403.7033, F.S., includes a prohibition on local governments, local governmental agencies, and state government agencies from enacting any rule, regulation, or ordinance regarding the use, disposition, sale, prohibition, restriction, or tax of such auxiliary containers, wrappings, or disposable plastic bags until the Legislature adopts the DEP's recommendations.³⁵ To date, the Legislature has not adopted any recommendations contained in the report and the prohibition on any rule, regulation, or ordinance regarding use, disposition, sale, prohibition, restriction, or tax of such auxiliary containers, wrappings, or disposable plastic bags remains in effect.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 403.7033, F.S., to require the DEP to review and update their 2010 Retail Bags Report. The DEP must submit the updated report with conclusions and recommendations to the Legislature by December 31, 2021. Until such time that the Legislature adopts the recommendations of the DEP, a local government, local governmental agency, or state governmental agency may not enact any rule, regulation, or ordinance regarding use, disposition, sale, prohibition, restriction, or tax of such auxiliary containers, wrappings, or disposable plastic bags.

Section 2 amends s. 403.70605, F.S., which establishes the process a local government must follow when its provision of a solid waste collection service displaces a private waste company. Under current law, a local government must either provide three years' notice to the private company before beginning the displacing service, or, as an alternative to delaying displacement for three years, the local government may pay the displaced company an amount equal to the company's preceding 15 months' gross receipts for the displaced service. The bill requires local governments to provide the three years' notice and pay the private company an amount equal to its preceding 18 months' gross receipts at the end of the three-year notice period.

Section 3 provides that this act does not apply to any displacement if the local government provided three years' notice to the displaced private company or companies on or before December 31, 2020.

Section 4 provides a definition in s. 403.703, F.S., for the term "storm-generated yard trash" as vegetative matter that:

- Results from a tropical storm, a hurricane, a tornado, or any other significant weather event and is located or placed within a federally designated disaster area on public property or a public right-of-way;
- Is eligible for federal reimbursement; and
- Is placed curbside or on public property or a public right-of-way within the 15-day period after the tropical storm, hurricane, tornado, or other significant weather event that is the subject of the federally declared disaster.

The bill further provides the definition expressly includes storm-generated debris, as described in existing law, which is solid waste generated as a result of a storm event that is the subject of an emergency order issued by the DEP.

Section 5 amends s. 403.7071, F.S., to provide that a private solid waste or debris management service provider is not required to collect storm-generated yard trash, unless otherwise specified in a contract or franchise agreement between a local government and a private service provider.

Section 6 provides an effective date of July 1, 2021.

B. Private Sector Impact:

There may be an indeterminate, positive economic impact on the private sector because the bill deletes the authorization in current law for local governments to pay the displaced company 15 months of gross receipts instead of providing three year's notice so that the displaced companies are assured three years' notice prior to displacement and 18 months of gross receipts when their service ends.

C. Government Sector Impact:

There may be an indeterminate, negative fiscal impact on local governments because the bill deletes the authorization in current law for local governments to pay the displaced company 15 months of gross receipts instead of providing three year's notice so that the displaced companies are assured three years' notice prior to displacement and 18 months of gross receipts when their service ends.

The DEP may incur nominal costs while reviewing and updating its 2010 Retail Bags Report.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 403.7033 and 403.70605.

IX. Additional Information:A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Changes:

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

CS by Appropriations Committee on April 15, 2021:

The committee substitute:

- Removes a deletion to retain a provision authorizing local governments and displaced private waste companies to voluntarily negotiate a notice period or amount of compensation different from those provided in statute.
- Specifies that the bill does not apply to any displacement where the local government provided three years' notice to the displaced private company(s) on or before December 31, 2020.
- Creates a new definition for part IV of ch. 403, F.S., defining “storm-generated yard trash” as vegetative matter that:
 - Results from a tropical storm, a hurricane, a tornado, or any other significant weather event and is located or placed within a federally designated disaster area on public property or a public right-of-way;
 - Is eligible for federal reimbursement; and
- Is placed curbside or on public property or a public right-of-way within the 15-day period after the tropical storm, hurricane, tornado, or other significant weather event that is the subject of the federally declared disaster.
- Provides the definition expressly includes storm-generated debris, as described in existing law, which is solid waste generated as a result of a storm event that is the subject of an emergency order issued by the Department of Environmental Protection.
- Provides that a private solid waste or debris management service provider is not required to collect storm-generated yard trash, unless otherwise specified in a contract or franchise agreement between a local government and a private service provider.

CS by Community Affairs on March 30, 2021:

The committee substitute adds the provision requiring the DEP to review and update the its 2010 Retail Bags Report and changes the title of the bill to “an act relating to waste management.”

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 748 revises a broad range of statutes that govern the operation of the court system. Some of the diverse changes are made to accommodate developments in technology, some reflect the impact COVID-19 has had on the court system, and one change recognizes the effect of inflation on the monetary jurisdictional thresholds in the county courts.

- The bill updates provisions controlling the maintenance of appellate court records to allow the electronic storage of court records at a remote location. These provisions are updated to keep pace with electronic technology rather than require the court clerk to keep manual control of the records.
- The clerks of court, working with the Florida Courts Technology Commission, must prepare a plan to procure or develop a statewide electronic solution that identifies all civil and criminal mandatory financial assessments required by statute.
- The jurisdictional amount of county courts will be adjusted beginning in 2030, and every 10 years afterwards, to account for inflation based on changes in the Consumer Price Index.
- The jurisdictional limit must be rounded to the nearest $5,000, but no lower than $50,000. The Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR) must calculate the adjusted jurisdictional limit and certify it to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court beginning January 31, 2030 and every 10 years thereafter.
- The EDR and the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) must publish the adjusted jurisdictional limit to their websites.

- The bill authorizes a person to postpone for jury service for up to 1 year when a public health emergency or a state of emergency is declared.
- Finally, the bill revises three criminal statutes to authorize the taking and certification of fingerprints when a guilty judgment is entered in a proceeding that is conducted remotely. The fingerprints no longer must be taken in open court and in the judge's presence.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Responsibilities of the Clerk of the Florida Supreme Court

Chapter 25, F.S., is devoted to the organization and operation of the Florida Supreme Court. Among the provisions in the chapter are two statutes detailing the responsibilities of the Clerk of the Supreme Court. The clerk must keep all books, papers, records, files, and the seal of the Court in the clerk's office in the Supreme Court Building and in his or her custody.¹

Additionally, any decisions and opinions delivered by the Court or any justice must be filed and remain in the clerk's office. These decisions and opinions may not be removed unless ordered by the Court. The clerk is required to furnish certified copies of the decisions and opinions to any person who requests them and pays the necessary fees.² These statutes do not accommodate the developments in technology that allow for digital storage in a remote location.

Mandatory Monetary Assessments

The clerks of the circuit courts were required, by October 1, 2012, to develop a uniform form for the identification and imposition of all assessments mandated by statute. The clerks were required to work with their association and in consultation with the Office of the State Courts Administrator to develop the form. An assessment includes, but is not limited to, a fine or other monetary penalty, fee, service charge, or cost. The clerks are currently required to submit that form by October 1 of each year to the Supreme Court for approval. The form must contain updates to reflect recent changes made in the law. Once a form is approved by the Court, all circuit and county courts must use the form.³

According to information supplied in the Judicial Branch 2021 Legislative Agenda, the clerks' association, the Florida Court Clerks and Comptrollers, submitted the initial form matrix as required on October 1, 2012, and updated the form annually. The matrix is a catalogue of mandatory and discretionary fines, fees, charges, and costs in many areas, both civil and criminal. It provides the necessary statutory authority for each item with a brief description, states whether the item is mandatory or discretionary, provides the minimum and maximum amounts authorized, and often contains brief comments on the assessment.⁴ The Judicial Branch 2021 Legislative Agenda further states that the Supreme Court has never approved the form matrix because of “concerns that it is not a form within the meaning of the statute.” However, the chief justice has provided the document each year to the chief judges of the trial courts for their use as a possible resource.⁵

The Judicial Management Council’s Workgroup on Court Costs and Fines⁶ was established on December 31, 2018, within the Judicial Management Council. Its purpose is to review monetary assessments and identify methods that will reduce the disproportionate impact the assessments have on low income individuals.⁷ In June 2020, the Workgroup finalized its report, Court Costs and Fines in Florida, and the report was approved by the Judicial Management Council on August 31, 2020. The Workgroup recommended:

- Removing from statute the requirement for a uniform form for identifying and imposing assessments that the clerks produce; and
- Working in cooperation with the clerks of court to develop reforms, using an electronic system, to standardize the ability to identify and impose assessments and payments.

The Supreme Court approved these recommendations on November 4, 2020, at the Court Conference for consideration by the Legislature.⁸

Jurisdictional Amount of County Courts

A county court is a trial court that has jurisdiction over the following types of cases within its jurisdictional or monetary limits:

- All criminal misdemeanor cases not cognizable by the circuit courts.
- All violations of municipal and county ordinances.
- Disputes occurring in homeowner associations, but this jurisdiction is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the circuit courts.⁹

The statute governing the jurisdiction of county courts was amended in 2018 to increase the maximum jurisdictional amount of county courts in a three-step process. For all actions, except those within the exclusive jurisdiction of the circuit courts, in which the matter in controversy does not exceed, exclusive of interest, costs, and attorney fees, the jurisdictional amount is:

- $15,000 if filed on or before December 31, 2019.
- $30,000 if filed on or after January 1, 2020.
- $50,000 if filed on or after January 1, 2023.¹⁰

⁶ The Judicial Management Councils are described as “high-level management consultants” to the Florida Supreme Court. The first Judicial Management Council was established in 2012 and the current council is the Court’s fifth council. Each council is composed of 15 voting members including the Chief Justice and one other justice, members of each level of the court system, and members from the public. The council meets at least quarterly and is tasked with identifying potential crisis situations for the judiciary and developing strategies to meet those concerns; evaluating information that will improve the effectiveness and performance of the judicial branch; developing and monitoring the judiciary’s long-range planning work; reviewing the charges of the courts and Florida Bar commissions and committees, making revisions and proposing ways to coordinate the work of these groups; and addressing issues that the Supreme Court brings before the council.

¹⁰ Id.; Ch. 2019-58, s. 9, Laws of Fla.

When the statute was amended in 2018, an additional provision was included requiring the Office of the State Courts Administrator to submit a report to the Governor, President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives by February 1, 2021. The report was to include recommendations regarding the adjustment of county court jurisdiction that considered the claim value of filings in both county and circuit courts, case events, the timeliness in processing cases, as well as any fiscal impact to the state resulting from the adjusted jurisdictional limits. The clerks of the county and circuit courts were tasked with providing data to assist in developing the report. The report was to include a review of fees to ensure that the court system is adequately funded and a review of the appellate jurisdiction of the district and circuit courts, including the use of appellate panels by circuit courts.

The Office of the State Courts Administrator issued its report entitled “Recommendations Regarding the Adjustment of County Court Jurisdiction” on February 1, 2021.¹¹

Maintenance of Appellate Court Records in the District Courts of Appeal

The statutes contain a number of provisions directing how court records are to be stored. Unfortunately, many of these provisions have become outdated and have not kept pace with changes in electronic technology and storage. Section 35.15, F.S., states that all decisions and opinions delivered by the district courts of appeal or one its judges must be filed and remain in the office of the clerk. The decisions and opinions may not be taken from the clerk’s office except by court order. However, the clerk must furnish to anyone who desires certified copies of the opinions and decision upon payment of the appropriate fees.

Section 35.24, F.S., requires each clerk for a district court of appeal to physically keep his or her records at the headquarters of the court. This provision does not envision advancements in technology and electronic storage that would permit a clerk to store records electronically at a remote location.

In a similar manner, s. 35.24, F.S., requires that all books, papers, records, files, and the court seal be kept in the clerk’s office. This also precludes electronic storage of these items at a remote location.

Jury Duty Postponement

The clerks of the court are responsible for summoning prospective jurors at least 14 days before they are to appear in court for jury selection.¹² If a person is summoned to attend as a juror and fails to attend without providing a sufficient excuse, he or she may be required to pay a fine that does not exceed $100 and may be held in contempt of court.¹³

If someone has been summoned for jury duty, jury service may be postponed for up to 6 months once a written or oral request is made. The request may specify a date or time period to which

the service is to be postponed, and if that is stated, he or she will be given consideration for service once the assignment of the postponed date of jury service is made.¹⁴

According to the Judicial Branch 2021 Legislative Agenda, jury service in Florida has been postponed since March 2020 because of the COVID-19 pandemic. Once jury service resumes, some people who are summoned may not be able to attend on a particular date due to complications created by the pandemic. The examples are given that the person summoned might recently have returned to work after being unemployed during the pandemic or might be responsible for the care of someone who is at greater risk of health complications if he or she is exposed to COVID-19.¹⁵

Fingerprinting a Defendant upon Conviction

The criminal law statutes detail procedures that must be followed when a judgment is entered in certain misdemeanor and all felony offenses. A judgment of guilty or not guilty for a misdemeanor petit theft offense¹⁶ or a felony offense¹⁷ must contain:

- A written record, signed by the judge, and recorded by the clerk of the circuit court; or
- An electronic record that contains the judge's electronic signature and is recorded by the clerk of the circuit court.

To enter a written or electronic judgment of guilt involving petit theft and all felonies, the judge must, in open court, and in the judge's presence, have the defendant's fingerprints taken either manually or electronically, sign a certificate certifying that the fingerprints on the judgment are the defendant's fingerprints and that they were placed on the certificate in the judge's presence, and for a felony judgment, cause the defendant's social security number to be recorded. It is the opinion of some practitioners that these statutes do not appear to allow for a proceeding to be conducted remotely.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Responsibilities of the Clerk of the Florida Supreme Court (Sections 1 and 2)

The requirement that the clerk keep all books, papers, records, files, and the seal in his or her office and custody is amended. The revised language reflects developments in technology and electronic storage and requires that those items be "maintained" by the clerk and in the clerk's "control" as prescribed by the Supreme Court. The clerk is no longer required to physically keep them in the clerk's office and custody but is permitted to electronically store records at a remote location.

¹⁷ Section 921.241, F.S.

Mandatory Monetary Assessments (Section 3)

Section 28.2457(2), F.S., is amended to delete the requirements that the uniform form developed by the circuit court clerks be updated and submitted annually to the Supreme Court for approval and later distribution. Under the bill, the clerks of the circuit courts must collaborate with the state courts through the Florida Courts Technology Commission¹⁸ to prepare a plan to procure or develop a statewide electronic solution that will accurately identify all civil and criminal assessments required by statute. At a minimum, the plan must address operational, technological, and fiscal considerations involved in implementing the electronic solution. The clerks must submit the plan to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by January 1, 2022.

Jurisdiction Amount of County Courts (Section 4)

The statute defining the jurisdiction of the county courts is amended to delete the now obsolete provision requiring the Office of the State Courts Administrator to publish a report by February 1, 2021.

A new provision is added requiring the $50,000 jurisdictional amount for cases that will be filed on or after January 1, 2023, to be adjusted in accordance with changes in the Consumer Price Index. Effective January 1, 2030, and every 10 years after, the $50,000 limit will be adjusted by The Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR), and certified to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The percentage change must be adjusted and increased by the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers, U.S. Average, All Items 1982-84=100, or successor reports, as initially reported by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics. . The jurisdictional limit must be rounded to the nearest $5,000, but may not be lower than $50,000. The EDR and the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) must publish the adjusted jurisdictional limit to their websites.

Maintenance of Appellate Court Records in the District Courts of Appeal (Sections 5, 6, and 7)

Section 35.15, F.S., as amended, no longer requires that decisions and opinions be kept in the physical office of the clerks, but requires them to be kept under the clerk's "maintenance or control." The decisions and opinions, however, may be taken from the clerk's maintenance or control when ordered by the court. These revisions permit the electronic storage of records at a remote location and reflects an adaptation to advancements in technology.

Section 35.23, F.S., is amended to provide that a clerk must no longer "keep his or her records" at the headquarters of the district court of appeal, but rather to "have an office" at the headquarters of the court. This revision permits the use of electronic technology to store records at a remote location in accordance with the revision to s. 35.24, F.S., which no longer requires the clerk to keep the books, papers, records, files, and the seal of the court in his or her office. As amended, these items must be maintained by, and in the control of, the clerk.

¹⁸ The Florida Courts Technology Commission was created by the Florida Supreme Court in 2010. The Commission is composed of 25 members who are tasked with the responsibility of "overseeing, managing, and directing the development and use of technology within the judicial branch under the direction of the Court." The Commission must submit an annual report by April 1 each year.

Jury Duty Postponement (Section 8)

The bill creates an additional postponement period of up to 12 months for someone who has been summoned for jury service. If the State Health Officer declares a public health emergency pursuant to s. 381.00315, F.S., or the Governor declares a state of emergency pursuant to s. 252.36(2), F.S., a person who has been summoned may have his or her service postponed from for up to 12 months upon a written or oral request. As with the existing 6 month postponement in statute, the request may specify a date or time period to which the service is to be postponed and may be given consideration when an assignment of jury service is made.

Fingerprinting a Defendant upon Conviction (Sections 9, 10, and 11)

The pandemic has significantly limited the number of in-person criminal court proceedings, which is creating a backlog of pending cases. The Florida Supreme Court's COVID-19 workgroup has studied options for resolving criminal cases remotely without the requirement of proceedings conducted in court. The Workgroup determined that the Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure could be adopted to authorize a criminal defendant to expressly request and be given approval by the court to either enter a plea of guilty or nolo contendere in a remote proceeding using audio-visual technology. To make this possible, the Workgroup has recommended that several statutes be amended.¹⁹

Because current law requires that a defendant be fingerprinted in open court in the judge's presence, it appears that current laws must be amended to establish a court's authority to take fingerprints at the time a judgment is entered in a remotely conducted proceeding.²⁰

Section 812.014, F.S., relating to petit theft, s. 921.241, F.S., relating to felony judgments, and s. 921.242, F.S., relating to prostitution offenses, are amended to:

- Authorize the fingerprinting of a defendant, either manually or electronically, when a guilty judgment is entered in a proceeding that is conducted outside of court or outside of the judge's presence.
- Delete the requirement that a judge must certify that a defendant's fingerprints were taken in open court and in the judge's presence.
- Require that the certification be entered by a court officer, employee of the court, or the employee of a criminal justice agency who captured the fingerprints. If taken manually, the person who took the fingerprints must place his or her written signature on the certification. If taken electronically, he or she must place a written or electronic signature on the certification. The fingerprints and certification must be filed in the case.
- Delete the requirement that a defendant's social security number be taken when his or her fingerprints are taken.

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

Recommended CS/CS by Appropriations Subcommittee on Criminal and Civil Justice on March 24, 2021:

The committee substitute requires the jurisdictional limit be rounded to the nearest $5,000, but no lower than $50,000. The Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR) must calculate the adjusted jurisdictional limit and certify it to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court beginning January 31, 2030 and every 10 years thereafter. EDR and the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) must publish the adjusted jurisdictional limit to their respective websites.

CS by Judiciary Committee on March 2, 2021:

The committee substitute makes changes to the underlying bill in two areas: mandatory monetary assessments and fingerprinting defendants. The clerks of court must work with the Florida Courts Technology Commission to develop a plan for a technology solution that tracks all civil and criminal monetary assessments. The plan must be submitted to legislative leaders by January 1, 2022. The fingerprinting section now permits fingerprints to be taken manually or electronically, regardless of whether the judgment is a written judgment or electronic judgment. The defendant's fingerprints and the certification of the person who took the fingerprints must be filed in the case in which the judgment is entered.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 748 revises a broad range of statutes that govern the operation of the court system. Some of the diverse changes are made to accommodate developments in technology, some reflect the impact COVID-19 has had on the court system, and one change recognizes the effect of inflation on the monetary jurisdictional thresholds in the county courts.

- The bill updates provisions controlling the maintenance of appellate court records to allow the electronic storage of court records at a remote location. These provisions are updated to keep pace with electronic technology rather than require the court clerk to keep manual control of the records.
- The clerks of court, working with the Florida Courts Technology Commission, must prepare a plan to procure or develop a statewide electronic solution that identifies all civil and criminal mandatory financial assessments required by statute.
- The jurisdictional amount of county courts will be adjusted beginning in 2030, and every 10 years afterwards, to account for inflation based on changes in the Consumer Price Index.
- The jurisdictional limit must be rounded to the nearest $5,000, but no lower than $50,000. The Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR) must calculate the adjusted jurisdictional limit and certify it to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court beginning January 31, 2030 and every 10 years thereafter.
- The EDR and the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) must publish the adjusted jurisdictional limit to their websites.

- The bill authorizes a person to postpone for jury service for up to 1 year when a public health emergency or a state of emergency is declared.
- Finally, the bill revises three criminal statutes to authorize the taking and certification of fingerprints when a guilty judgment is entered in a proceeding that is conducted remotely. The fingerprints no longer must be taken in open court and in the judge's presence.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Responsibilities of the Clerk of the Florida Supreme Court

Chapter 25, F.S., is devoted to the organization and operation of the Florida Supreme Court. Among the provisions in the chapter are two statutes detailing the responsibilities of the Clerk of the Supreme Court. The clerk must keep all books, papers, records, files, and the seal of the Court in the clerk's office in the Supreme Court Building and in his or her custody.¹

Additionally, any decisions and opinions delivered by the Court or any justice must be filed and remain in the clerk's office. These decisions and opinions may not be removed unless ordered by the Court. The clerk is required to furnish certified copies of the decisions and opinions to any person who requests them and pays the necessary fees.² These statutes do not accommodate the developments in technology that allow for digital storage in a remote location.

Mandatory Monetary Assessments

The clerks of the circuit courts were required, by October 1, 2012, to develop a uniform form for the identification and imposition of all assessments mandated by statute. The clerks were required to work with their association and in consultation with the Office of the State Courts Administrator to develop the form. An assessment includes, but is not limited to, a fine or other monetary penalty, fee, service charge, or cost. The clerks are currently required to submit that form by October 1 of each year to the Supreme Court for approval. The form must contain updates to reflect recent changes made in the law. Once a form is approved by the Court, all circuit and county courts must use the form.³

According to information supplied in the Judicial Branch 2021 Legislative Agenda, the clerks' association, the Florida Court Clerks and Comptrollers, submitted the initial form matrix as required on October 1, 2012, and updated the form annually. The matrix is a catalogue of mandatory and discretionary fines, fees, charges, and costs in many areas, both civil and criminal. It provides the necessary statutory authority for each item with a brief description, states whether the item is mandatory or discretionary, provides the minimum and maximum amounts authorized, and often contains brief comments on the assessment.⁴ The Judicial Branch 2021 Legislative Agenda further states that the Supreme Court has never approved the form matrix because of “concerns that it is not a form within the meaning of the statute.” However, the chief justice has provided the document each year to the chief judges of the trial courts for their use as a possible resource.⁵

The Judicial Management Council’s Workgroup on Court Costs and Fines⁶ was established on December 31, 2018, within the Judicial Management Council. Its purpose is to review monetary assessments and identify methods that will reduce the disproportionate impact the assessments have on low income individuals.⁷ In June 2020, the Workgroup finalized its report, Court Costs and Fines in Florida, and the report was approved by the Judicial Management Council on August 31, 2020. The Workgroup recommended:

- Removing from statute the requirement for a uniform form for identifying and imposing assessments that the clerks produce; and
- Working in cooperation with the clerks of court to develop reforms, using an electronic system, to standardize the ability to identify and impose assessments and payments.

The Supreme Court approved these recommendations on November 4, 2020, at the Court Conference for consideration by the Legislature.⁸

Jurisdictional Amount of County Courts

A county court is a trial court that has jurisdiction over the following types of cases within its jurisdictional or monetary limits:

- All criminal misdemeanor cases not cognizable by the circuit courts.
- All violations of municipal and county ordinances.
- Disputes occurring in homeowner associations, but this jurisdiction is concurrent with the jurisdiction of the circuit courts.⁹

The statute governing the jurisdiction of county courts was amended in 2018 to increase the maximum jurisdictional amount of county courts in a three-step process. For all actions, except those within the exclusive jurisdiction of the circuit courts, in which the matter in controversy does not exceed, exclusive of interest, costs, and attorney fees, the jurisdictional amount is:

- $15,000 if filed on or before December 31, 2019.
- $30,000 if filed on or after January 1, 2020.
- $50,000 if filed on or after January 1, 2023.¹⁰

⁶ The Judicial Management Councils are described as “high-level management consultants” to the Florida Supreme Court. The first Judicial Management Council was established in 2012 and the current council is the Court’s fifth council. Each council is composed of 15 voting members including the Chief Justice and one other justice, members of each level of the court system, and members from the public. The council meets at least quarterly and is tasked with identifying potential crisis situations for the judiciary and developing strategies to meet those concerns; evaluating information that will improve the effectiveness and performance of the judicial branch; developing and monitoring the judiciary’s long-range planning work; reviewing the charges of the courts and Florida Bar commissions and committees, making revisions and proposing ways to coordinate the work of these groups; and addressing issues that the Supreme Court brings before the council.

When the statute was amended in 2018, an additional provision was included requiring the Office of the State Courts Administrator to submit a report to the Governor, President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives by February 1, 2021. The report was to include recommendations regarding the adjustment of county court jurisdiction that considered the claim value of filings in both county and circuit courts, case events, the timeliness in processing cases, as well as any fiscal impact to the state resulting from the adjusted jurisdictional limits. The clerks of the county and circuit courts were tasked with providing data to assist in developing the report. The report was to include a review of fees to ensure that the court system is adequately funded and a review of the appellate jurisdiction of the district and circuit courts, including the use of appellate panels by circuit courts.

The Office of the State Courts Administrator issued its report entitled “Recommendations Regarding the Adjustment of County Court Jurisdiction” on February 1, 2021.¹¹

Maintenance of Appellate Court Records in the District Courts of Appeal

The statutes contain a number of provisions directing how court records are to be stored. Unfortunately, many of these provisions have become outdated and have not kept pace with changes in electronic technology and storage. Section 35.15, F.S., states that all decisions and opinions delivered by the district courts of appeal or one its judges must be filed and remain in the office of the clerk. The decisions and opinions may not be taken from the clerk’s office except by court order. However, the clerk must furnish to anyone who desires certified copies of the opinions and decision upon payment of the appropriate fees.

Section 35.24, F.S., requires each clerk for a district court of appeal to physically keep his or her records at the headquarters of the court. This provision does not envision advancements in technology and electronic storage that would permit a clerk to store records electronically at a remote location.

In a similar manner, s. 35.24, F.S., requires that all books, papers, records, files, and the court seal be kept in the clerk’s office. This also precludes electronic storage of these items at a remote location.

Jury Duty Postponement

The clerks of the court are responsible for summoning prospective jurors at least 14 days before they are to appear in court for jury selection.¹² If a person is summoned to attend as a juror and fails to attend without providing a sufficient excuse, he or she may be required to pay a fine that does not exceed $100 and may be held in contempt of court.¹³

If someone has been summoned for jury duty, jury service may be postponed for up to 6 months once a written or oral request is made. The request may specify a date or time period to which

¹² Section 40.23(1), F.S.

the service is to be postponed, and if that is stated, he or she will be given consideration for service once the assignment of the postponed date of jury service is made.¹⁴

According to the Judicial Branch 2021 Legislative Agenda, jury service in Florida has been postponed since March 2020 because of the COVID-19 pandemic. Once jury service resumes, some people who are summoned may not be able to attend on a particular date due to complications created by the pandemic. The examples are given that the person summoned might recently have returned to work after being unemployed during the pandemic or might be responsible for the care of someone who is at greater risk of health complications if he or she is exposed to COVID-19.¹⁵

Fingerprinting a Defendant upon Conviction

The criminal law statutes detail procedures that must be followed when a judgment is entered in certain misdemeanor and all felony offenses. A judgment of guilty or not guilty for a misdemeanor petit theft offense¹⁶ or a felony offense¹⁷ must contain:

- A written record, signed by the judge, and recorded by the clerk of the circuit court; or
- An electronic record that contains the judge's electronic signature and is recorded by the clerk of the circuit court.

To enter a written or electronic judgment of guilt involving petit theft and all felonies, the judge must, in open court, and in the judge's presence, have the defendant's fingerprints taken either manually or electronically, sign a certificate certifying that the fingerprints on the judgment are the defendant's fingerprints and that they were placed on the certificate in the judge's presence, and for a felony judgment, cause the defendant's social security number to be recorded. It is the opinion of some practitioners that these statutes do not appear to allow for a proceeding to be conducted remotely.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Responsibilities of the Clerk of the Florida Supreme Court (Sections 1 and 2)

The requirement that the clerk keep all books, papers, records, files, and the seal in his or her office and custody is amended. The revised language reflects developments in technology and electronic storage and requires that those items be "maintained" by the clerk and in the clerk's "control" as prescribed by the Supreme Court. The clerk is no longer required to physically keep them in the clerk's office and custody but is permitted to electronically store records at a remote location.

¹⁷ Section 921.241, F.S.

Mandatory Monetary Assessments (Section 3)

Section 28.2457(2), F.S., is amended to delete the requirements that the uniform form developed by the circuit court clerks be updated and submitted annually to the Supreme Court for approval and later distribution. Under the bill, the clerks of the circuit courts must collaborate with the state courts through the Florida Courts Technology Commission¹⁸ to prepare a plan to procure or develop a statewide electronic solution that will accurately identify all civil and criminal assessments required by statute. At a minimum, the plan must address operational, technological, and fiscal considerations involved in implementing the electronic solution. The clerks must submit the plan to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by January 1, 2022.

Jurisdiction Amount of County Courts (Section 4)

The statute defining the jurisdiction of the county courts is amended to delete the now obsolete provision requiring the Office of the State Courts Administrator to publish a report by February 1, 2021.

A new provision is added requiring the $50,000 jurisdictional amount for cases that will be filed on or after January 1, 2023, to be adjusted in accordance with changes in the Consumer Price Index. Effective January 1, 2030, and every 10 years after, the $50,000 limit will be adjusted by The Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR), and certified to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The percentage change must be adjusted and increased by the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers, U.S. Average, All Items 1982-84=100, or successor reports, as initially reported by the United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics. . The jurisdictional limit must be rounded to the nearest $5,000, but may not be lower than $50,000. The EDR and the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) must publish the adjusted jurisdictional limit to their websites.

Maintenance of Appellate Court Records in the District Courts of Appeal (Sections 5, 6, and 7)

Section 35.15, F.S., as amended, no longer requires that decisions and opinions be kept in the physical office of the clerks, but requires them to be kept under the clerk's "maintenance or control." The decisions and opinions, however, may be taken from the clerk's maintenance or control when ordered by the court. These revisions permit the electronic storage of records at a remote location and reflects an adaptation to advancements in technology.

Section 35.23, F.S., is amended to provide that a clerk must no longer "keep his or her records" at the headquarters of the district court of appeal, but rather to "have an office" at the headquarters of the court. This revision permits the use of electronic technology to store records at a remote location in accordance with the revision to s. 35.24, F.S., which no longer requires the clerk to keep the books, papers, records, files, and the seal of the court in his or her office. As amended, these items must be maintained by, and in the control of, the clerk.

¹⁸ The Florida Courts Technology Commission was created by the Florida Supreme Court in 2010. The Commission is composed of 25 members who are tasked with the responsibility of "overseeing, managing, and directing the development and use of technology within the judicial branch under the direction of the Court." The Commission must submit an annual report by April 1 each year.

Jury Duty Postponement (Section 8)

The bill creates an additional postponement period of up to 12 months for someone who has been summoned for jury service. If the State Health Officer declares a public health emergency pursuant to s. 381.00315, F.S., or the Governor declares a state of emergency pursuant to s. 252.36(2), F.S., a person who has been summoned may have his or her service postponed from for up to 12 months upon a written or oral request. As with the existing 6 month postponement in statute, the request may specify a date or time period to which the service is to be postponed and may be given consideration when an assignment of jury service is made.

Fingerprinting a Defendant upon Conviction (Sections 9, 10, and 11)

The pandemic has significantly limited the number of in-person criminal court proceedings, which is creating a backlog of pending cases. The Florida Supreme Court's COVID-19 workgroup has studied options for resolving criminal cases remotely without the requirement of proceedings conducted in court. The Workgroup determined that the Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure could be adopted to authorize a criminal defendant to expressly request and be given approval by the court to either enter a plea of guilty or nolo contendere in a remote proceeding using audio-visual technology. To make this possible, the Workgroup has recommended that several statutes be amended.¹⁹

Because current law requires that a defendant be fingerprinted in open court in the judge's presence, it appears that current laws must be amended to establish a court's authority to take fingerprints at the time a judgment is entered in a remotely conducted proceeding.²⁰

Section 812.014, F.S., relating to petit theft, s. 921.241, F.S., relating to felony judgments, and s. 921.242, F.S., relating to prostitution offenses, are amended to:

- Authorize the fingerprinting of a defendant, either manually or electronically, when a guilty judgment is entered in a proceeding that is conducted outside of court or outside of the judge's presence.

- A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:
(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

CS/CS by Appropriations on April 15, 2021:

The committee substitute requires the jurisdictional limit be rounded to the nearest $5,000, but no lower than $50,000. The Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR) must calculate the adjusted jurisdictional limit and certify it to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court beginning January 31, 2030 and every 10 years thereafter. EDR and the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) must publish the adjusted jurisdictional limit to their respective websites.

CS by Judiciary Committee on March 2, 2021:

The committee substitute makes changes to the underlying bill in two areas: mandatory monetary assessments and fingerprinting defendants. The clerks of court must work with the Florida Courts Technology Commission to develop a plan for a technology solution that tracks all civil and criminal monetary assessments. The plan must be submitted to legislative leaders by January 1, 2022. The fingerprinting section now permits fingerprints to be taken manually or electronically, regardless of whether the judgment is a written judgment or electronic judgment. The defendant's fingerprints and the certification of the person who took the fingerprints must be filed in the case in which the judgment is entered.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/CS/SB 750 makes a number of changes regarding limitations on, and requirements for, the imposition of impact fees by local governments to fund local infrastructure to meet the demands of population growth. The bill:

- Specifies that impact fees may be utilized only for fixed capital expenditures or fixed capital outlays for major capital improvements;
- Revises requirements for crediting contributions against the collection of impact fees;
- Specifies limitations and restrictions on certain impact fee increases;
- Specifies criteria that must be met to be exempted from certain fee increase limitations and restrictions; and
- Revises annual financial reporting requirements for local governments relating to impact fees.

The Revenue Estimating Conference determined that the bill will have a negative indeterminate fiscal impact on local governments and school districts.

The bill takes effect upon becoming a law.

II. Present Situation:

Local Government Authority

The State Constitution grants local governments broad home rule authority. Specifically, non-charter county governments may exercise those powers of self-government that are provided by general or special law.¹ Those counties operating under a county charter have all powers of self-government not inconsistent with general law or special law approved by the vote of the electors.² Likewise, municipalities have those governmental, corporate, and proprietary powers that enable them to conduct municipal government, perform their functions and provide services, and exercise any power for municipal purposes, except as otherwise provided by law.³

Under the State Constitution, local governments have no authority to levy taxes, other than ad valorem taxes, except as provided by general law.⁴ However, local governments have authority under their home rule authority to impose special assessments and user fees.⁵

Local Government Impact Fees

In Florida, impact fees are imposed pursuant to local legislation and are generally charged as a condition for the issuance of a project's building permit. The principle behind the imposition of impact fees is to transfer to new users of a government-owned system a fair share of the costs the new use of the system involves.⁶ Impact fees have become an accepted method of paying for public improvements that must be constructed to serve new growth.⁷ In order for an impact fee to be a constitutional user fee and not an unconstitutional tax, the fee must meet a dual rational nexus test, in that the local government must demonstrate the impact fee is proportional and reasonably connected to, or has a rational nexus with:

- The need for additional capital facilities and the increased impact generated by the new residential or commercial construction; and
- The expenditures of the funds collected and the benefits accruing to the new residential or nonresidential construction.⁸

Impact fee calculations vary from jurisdiction to jurisdiction and from fee to fee. Impact fees also vary extensively depending on local costs, capacity needs, resources, and the local government's determination to charge the full cost or only part of the cost of the infrastructure improvement through utilization of the impact fee.

Until 2006, the characteristics and limitations of impact fees in Florida were found in case law rather than state statute.⁹ In 2006, in response to local governments' reliance on impact fees and the growth of impact fee collections, the Legislature adopted the Florida Impact Fee Act¹⁰, found in s. 163.31801, F.S., which requires local governing authorities to satisfy certain requirements when imposing impact fees.¹¹ Section 163.31801(3), F.S., provides requirements and procedures for the adoption of an impact fee. An impact fee adopted by ordinance of a county or municipality or by resolution of a special district must, at minimum, meet the following criteria:

- The fee must be calculated using the most recent and localized data.
- The local government adopting the impact fee must account for and report impact fee collections and expenditures. If the fee is imposed for a specific infrastructure need, the local government must account for those revenues and expenditures in a separate accounting fund.
- Charges imposed for the collection of impact fees must be limited to the actual costs.
- All local governments must give notice of a new or increased impact fee at least 90 days before the new or increased fee takes effect, but need not wait 90 days before decreasing, suspending, or eliminating an impact fee. Unless the result reduces total mitigation costs or impact fees on an applicant, new or increased impact fees may not apply to current or pending applications submitted before the effective date of an ordinance or resolution imposing a new or increased impact fee.
- A local government may not require payment of the impact fee before the date of issuing a building permit for the property that is subject to the fee.
- The impact fee must be reasonably connected to, or have a rational nexus with the need for additional capital facilities and the increased impact generated by the new residential or commercial construction.
- The impact fee must be reasonably connected to, or have a rational nexus with, the expenditures of the revenues generated and the benefits accruing to the new residential or commercial construction.
- The local government must specifically earmark revenues generated by the impact fee to acquire, construct, or improve capital facilities to benefit new users.
- The local government may not use revenues generated by the impact fee to pay existing debt or for previously approved projects unless the expenditure is reasonably connected to, or has a rational nexus with the increased impact generated by the new residential or commercial construction.

Meeting the dual rational nexus test requires the local government ordinance or resolution imposing the impact fee to earmark the funds collected for acquiring the new capital facilities necessary to benefit the new residents.

Some local governments impose impact fees specifically for local school facilities.¹² School districts have authority to impose ad valorem taxes within the district for school purposes¹³ but

Section 163.31801(4), F.S., provides that a local government must credit against the collection of an education-based impact fee any contribution for public education facilities on a dollar-for-dollar basis at fair market value.

Section 163.31801(5), F.S., provides that if a local government increases its impact fee rates, the holder of any impact fee credits, whether such credits are granted under concurrency, developments of regional impact, or otherwise, which were in existence before the increase, is entitled to the full benefit of the intensity or density prepaid by the credit balance as of the date it was first established.

Financial Reporting

Counties, district school boards, municipalities with revenues or total expenditures and expenses exceeding $250,000, and special districts with revenues or total expenditures and expenses exceeding $100,000 must have an annual financial audit prepared by either the Auditor General or an independent certified public accountant.¹⁷ Municipalities with revenues or total expenditures and expenses between $100,000 and $250,000, and special districts with revenues or total expenditures and expenses between $50,000 and $100,000, must have a financial audit prepared every three fiscal years.¹⁸ Municipalities with revenues or total expenditures and expenses less than $100,000 and special districts with revenues or total expenditures and expenses of less than $50,000 are not required to have their financial statements audited.¹⁹ All local governmental entities are required to file an annual financial report with the Department of Financial Services no later than nine months from the end of the entity's fiscal year.²⁰

The financial audit report of a county, municipality, special district, or district school board filed with the Auditor General must include an affidavit signed by the chief financial officer²¹ of the ¹⁶ In Miami-Dade County, the education facility impact fee is paid to the County Planning & Zoning Director, who must then deposit that amount into a specific trust fund maintained by the county. See Miami-Dade County Code of Ordinances, ss. 33K-7(a), 33K-10(c). In Orange County, the school impact fee is paid to the county or municipality (if the land being developed is within a municipality), which then transfers the funds collected at least quarterly to the Orange County School District. The District is responsible for maintaining the trust into which the impact fee revenues must be deposited. See Orange County Code of Ordinances, s. 23-142.

reporting entity that the local governmental entity or district school board has complied with the requirements of the impact fee statute.²²

In addition to their annual financial reporting requirements, counties, municipalities, and special districts must report the following information on all impact fees charged:²³

- The specific purpose of the impact fee, including the specific infrastructure needs to be met, including, but not limited to, transportation, parks, water, sewer, and schools.
- The impact fee schedule policy describing the method of calculating impact fees, such as flat fees, tiered scales based on number of bedrooms, or tiered scales based on square footage.
- The amount assessed for each purpose and for each type of dwelling.
- The total amount of impact fees charged by type of dwelling.
- Each exception and waiver provided for construction or development of housing that is affordable.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Definitions

The bill defines “infrastructure” as a fixed capital expenditure or fixed capital outlay, excluding the cost of repairs or maintenance, associated with the construction, reconstruction, or improvement of public facilities with a life expectancy of at least 5 years; related land acquisition, land improvement, design, engineering, and permitting costs; and other related construction costs required to bring the public facility into service. The term also includes a fire department vehicle, an emergency medical service vehicle, a sheriff’s office vehicle, a police department vehicle, a school bus, and the equipment necessary to outfit the vehicle or bus for its official use. For the independent special fire control districts, the term includes “new facilities” as defined in the independent special fire control district statute.²⁴ The bill also defines “public facilities” as major capital improvements, including transportation, sanitary sewer, solid waste, drainage, potable water, educational, parks, and recreational facilities, and expressly includes emergency medical, fire, and law enforcement facilities.

Impact Fee Credits

The bill expands the current requirement, added in 2019,²⁵ for local governments to credit against impact fees any contributions related to public education facilities. First, the bill subjects special districts to the requirement. Second, it expands the credit requirement to any contribution related to the improvement of public facilities or infrastructure, rather than only public education facilities under current law. Third, it provides that any contribution must be applied on a dollar-for-dollar basis at fair market value to reduce any impact fee collected for the general category or class of public facilities or infrastructure for which the contribution was made, rather than only education-based impact fees under current law. However, if a local government or special district does not charge and collect an impact fee for the general category or class of public facilities or infrastructure contributed to, the credit may not be applied. All credits against impact fee collections must be made regardless of any provision in a local government's or special district's charter, comprehensive plan policy, ordinance, resolution, or development order or permit.

The bill provides applicability for a current provision in s. 163.31801(8), F.S., which provides for the assignability and transferability of impact fee credits between developments and parcels within the same impact fee zone or district or within certain adjoining impact fee zones or parcels. The bill provides that the provision applies to all impact fee credits regardless of whether the credits were established before or after the effective date of this act. The bill directs the Division of Law Revision to replace the phrase "the effective date of this act" with the date the act becomes a law.

Impact Fee Increases

The bill provides limitations on impact fee increases imposed by a local government, school district, or special district. An impact fee may increase only pursuant to a plan for the imposition, collection, and use of the increased impact fees that complies with the provisions of this bill.

The bill limits impact fee increases as follows:

- An impact fee increase of not more than 25 percent of the current rate must be implemented in two equal annual increments beginning with the date on which the increased fee is adopted.
- If the increase in rate is between 25 and 50 percent of the current rate, the increase must be implemented in four equal annual installments.
- No impact fee increase may exceed 50 percent of the current impact fee rate.
- An impact fee may not be increased more than once every four years.
- An impact fee may not be increased retroactively for a previous or current fiscal or calendar year.

The bill provides an exception to the first four bulleted limitations above if a local government, school district, or special district:

- Completes, within the 12-month period before the adoption of the impact fee increase, a demonstrated-need study justifying the increase and expressly demonstrating the extraordinary circumstances necessitating the need to exceed the limitations;
- Holds at least two publicly noticed workshops dedicated to the extraordinary circumstances necessitating the need to exceed the limitations; and
- Approves the impact fee increase ordinance by at least a two-thirds vote of the governing body.

A local government or school district that enacts new impact fees as a result of a current impact fee study may implement the total amount of those fees in up to four equal segments in up to four succeeding years.

The bill provides that the above provisions relating to impact fee increases operate retroactively to January 1, 2021.

Financial Reporting Requirements

The bill revises financial reporting requirements for a local government, school district, or special district by requiring its chief financial officer, or its executive officer if there is no chief financial officer, to attest in an affidavit separate from the local government's, school district's, or special district's annual financial report that:

- All impact fees were collected and expended by the local government, school district, or special district, or were collected and expended on its behalf, in full compliance with the spending period provision in the local ordinance or resolution; and
- Funds expended from each impact fee account were used only to acquire, construct, or improve specific infrastructure needs, as defined in s. 163.31801, F.S.

Additional Reporting Requirements

The bill adds school districts to the list of entities that must report the following information on all impact fees charged, in addition to the annual financial reporting requirements under s. 213.32, F.S.:

- The specific purpose of the impact fee, including the specific infrastructure needs to be met, including, but not limited to, transportation, parks, water, sewer, and schools.
- The impact fee schedule policy describing the method of calculating impact fees, such as flat fees, tiered scales based on number of bedrooms, or tiered scales based on square footage.
- The amount assessed for each purpose and for each type of dwelling.
- The total amount of impact fees charged by type of dwelling.
- Each exception and waiver provided for construction or development of housing that is affordable.

The bill takes effect upon becoming a law.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

Article VII, s. 18(b) of the State Constitution provides that except upon the approval of each house of the Legislature by a two-thirds vote of the membership, the Legislature may not enact, amend, or repeal any general law if the anticipated effect of doing so would be to reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenue in the aggregate, as such authority existed on February 1, 1989. However, the mandate requirement does not apply to laws having an insignificant impact. Based on joint guidelines of the Legislature, the insignificant impact limit for Fiscal Year 2020-2021 is approximately $2.2 million.²⁶

²⁶ Neither the State Constitution nor the Florida Statutes define “insignificant fiscal impact” for purposes of s. 18(d), Art. VII of the State Constitution. Joint Senate and House guidelines define “insignificant” as an amount not greater than the average statewide population for the applicable fiscal year times $0.10. Senate President Margolis and Speaker of the House Wetherell, County and Municipality Mandates Analysis (1991), cited at Florida Senate Committee on Community Affairs, Interim Report 2012-115: Insignificant Impact, (Sept. 2011), available at <http://www.flsenate.gov/PublishedContent/Session/2012/InterimReports/2012-115ca.pdf> (last visited April 15, 2021). The $2.2 million figure is based on the Florida Demographic Estimating Conference’s Nov. 13, 2020, population forecast for

The mandate provisions may apply because the bill imposes limitations on a county and municipality's ability to increase impact fees. However, the bill provides an exception to the limitations if the county or municipality can demonstrate the proposed impact fee increase complies with certain statutory impact fee provisions, including adherence to the rational nexus test. If the impact of the limitations in the bill is determined to exceed $2.2 million in the aggregate, final passage of the bill may require approval by two-thirds of the membership of each house of the Legislature.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. State Tax or Fee Increases:

The bill does not create or raise state taxes or fees. Therefore, the requirements of Art. VII, s. 19 of the State Constitution do not apply.

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

None identified.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

The Revenue Estimating Conference determined that the bill will have a negative indeterminate fiscal impact to local governments and school districts.²⁷

B. Private Sector Impact:

Private developers may avoid large future increases in local government impact fees with the impact fee increase limitations in the bill.

C. Government Sector Impact:

Local governments seeking to increase impact fees will be limited in the amount of such increase annually. However, the bill provides an exception to the limitation where a local government may increase impact fees beyond the bill's limitations if the local government can establish the need for the increase in full compliance with certain statutory impact fee provisions.

The Committee on Appropriations (Gruters) recommended the following:

Senate Amendment (with title amendment)

Delete lines 19 - 177

and insert:

Section 1. Section 163.31801, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

163.31801 Impact fees; short title; intent; minimum requirements; audits; challenges.—

(1) This section may be cited as the "Florida Impact Fee Act."

783100

11 (2) The Legislature finds that impact fees are an important
12 source of revenue for a local government to use in funding the 13 infrastructure necessitated by new growth. The Legislature
14 further finds that impact fees are an outgrowth of the home rule
15 power of a local government to provide certain services within 16 its jurisdiction. Due to the growth of impact fee collections
17 and local governments' reliance on impact fees, it is the intent
18 of the Legislature to ensure that, when a county or municipality
19 adopts an impact fee by ordinance or a special district adopts 20 an impact fee by resolution, the governing authority complies
21 with this section.

22 (3) For purposes of this section, the term:

23 (a) "Infrastructure" means a fixed capital expenditure or 24 fixed capital outlay, excluding the cost of repairs or 25 maintenance, associated with the construction, reconstruction,
26 or improvement of public facilities that have a life expectancy
27 of at least 5 years; related land acquisition, land improvement,
28 design, engineering, and permitting costs; and other related 29 construction costs required to bring the public facility into 30 service. The term also includes a fire department vehicle, an 31 emergency medical service vehicle, a sheriff's office vehicle, a 32 police department vehicle, a school bus as defined in s.
33 1006.25, and the equipment necessary to outfit the vehicle or 34 bus for its official use. For independent special fire control 35 districts, the term "infrastructure" includes new facilities as 36 defined in s. 191.009(4).

37 (b) "Public facilities" has the same meaning as in s.
38 163.3164 and includes emergency medical, fire, and law
39 enforcement facilities.

100 (b) If a local government or special district does not 101 charge and collect an impact fee for the general category or 102 class of public facilities or infrastructure contributed, a
103 credit may not be applied under paragraph (a).

104 (6)-(5) A local government, school district, or special
105 district may increase an impact fee only as provided in this 106 subsection.

107 (a) An impact fee may be increased only pursuant to a plan
108 for the imposition, collection, and use of the increased impact
109 fees which complies with this section.

110 (b) An increase to a current impact fee rate of not more
111 than 25 percent of the current rate must be implemented in two 112 equal annual increments beginning with the date on which the 113 increased fee is adopted.

114 (c) An increase to a current impact fee rate which exceeds
115 25 percent but is not more than 50 percent of the current rate
116 must be implemented in four equal installments beginning with 117 the date the increased fee is adopted.

II. Present Situation:

Career Service

The Florida Constitution requires the Legislature to create a civil service system for state employees.¹ The Department of Management Services (DMS) is responsible for developing uniform personnel rules, guidelines, records, and reports relating to employees and positions in the career service.² All state employees generally fall into one of four categories:

- Career service system;³
- Senior management service system;⁴
- Volunteers;⁵ or
- Selected exempt service system.⁶

All non-exempt employees belong to the career service system.⁷ Military police chiefs, military police officers, firefighter trainers, firefighter rescuers, and electronic security system technicians in the Department of Military Affairs (DMA) are exempt from the career service system.⁸ The DMA states that the job titles of military police chiefs, military police officers, firefighter trainers, and firefighter rescuers are no longer used.⁹

Senior Management Service Class

Any officer or employee who is elected, appointed, or employed by the state is covered by the Florida Retirement System (FRS).¹⁰ The FRS is administered by DMS and participation is compulsory unless the position held is exempted by law.¹¹

The senior management service (SMS) class is a separate class of membership within the FRS and is for members who fill senior management level positions assigned by law to the senior management service class or authorized by law as eligible for inclusion.¹² Participation in the SMS class is mandated by statute.¹³ The Adjutant General, Assistant Adjutant General-Army, Assistant Adjutant General-Air, State Quartermaster, Director of Military Personnel, Director of Administration, and additional directors in DMA are required to participate in the SMS class.¹⁴ The DMA states that these positions no longer exist or have been changed.¹⁵

The Florida National Guard

The Florida National Guard (FLNG) is the organized militia of the state.¹⁶ Its mission includes maintaining readiness to support national and state security efforts, as well as leading or assisting in humanitarian and logistical operations. These operations include hurricane preparation and recovery and currently includes assistance with the pandemic response. The Governor is the commander in chief of the FLNG and the Adjutant General is its chief of staff.¹⁷ The FLNG has an Army component and an Air component, each of which has an Assistant Adjutant General who is also its Commander.¹⁸

Adjutant General

The Adjutant General is the head of the Department of Military Affairs (DMA)¹⁹ and the chief of staff of the Florida National Guard. The Adjutant General is appointed by the Governor, subject to Senate confirmation.²⁰ The Adjutant General may, upon delegation of authority by the Governor, convene a general court-martial.²¹

The Florida Statutes provide the minimum qualifications for a candidate to be Adjutant General. He or she must be a federally recognized officer of the Florida National Guard who has served for the preceding 5 years.²²

Federal Uniform Code of Military Justice and Manual for Courts-Martial

The United States Constitution grants Congress the power to raise and support armies, provide and maintain a navy, and provide for organizing and disciplining their members.²³ Pursuant to its constitutional authority, Congress enacted the federal Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ), which contains the substantive and procedural laws governing the military justice system.²⁴ Jurisdiction under the UCMJ does not depend on where the offense was committed but only on the status of the accused, including an active duty servicemember of the Armed Forces or a National Guard member when in federal service.²⁵ Presidents have implemented the UCMJ through the Manual for Courts-Martial (MCM).²⁶ The MCM outlines procedural rules and punishments for violations of crimes and contains the Rules for Courts-Martial, the Military Rules of Evidence, and the punitive articles of the UCMJ.²⁷

A servicemember who violates the UCMJ is subject to discipline in a military court called a court-martial. There are three types of courts-martial: summary courts-martial, special courts-martial, and general courts-martial. A summary courts-martial is designed to dispose of minor offenses (non-criminal). Only enlisted servicemembers may be tried by summary courts-martial. A single officer presides over the hearing.²⁸

A special courts-martial is an intermediate trial level (generally similar to misdemeanors) composed of either a military judge alone or four members and a judge. An enlisted servicemember may ask that a portion of the court members be enlisted. There is both a prosecutor, commonly referred to as the trial counsel, and a defense counsel. In addition, the accused may be represented by civilian counsel, at no expense to the government, or by an individually requested military counsel. A judge presiding in a special courts-martial must be a qualified military judge.²⁹

A general courts-martial is the military's highest level trial court. This court tries servicemembers for the most serious crimes (similar to felonies). The punishment authority of the general court-martial is limited by the maximum authorized punishment for each offense in the MCM. A judge presiding in a general courts-martial must be a qualified military judge. The accused may request that the proceedings be overseen by a military judge and eight service members; for capital cases, 12 members are required.³⁰

Florida Courts-Martial

Article X, s. 2 of the Florida Constitution specifies that the qualifications of members of the FLNG and “the grounds and proceedings for their discipline and removal” must conform to appropriate United States Army or Air Force regulations. All provisions of federal law which relate to the FLNG and which are not inconsistent with the state constitution are part of the military laws of Florida.³¹ Members of the FLNG are subject to the UCMJ at all times during their enlistment or appointment, and ch. 250, F.S., applies to such members whether serving in-state or in another state.³²

Courts-martial are authorized to try a servicemember of the FLNG for any crime or offense made punishable by the UCMJ. However, a commissioned officer, warrant officer, or cadet may not be tried by summary courts-martial.³³ A servicemember of the FLNG who violates the UCMJ is subject to discipline pursuant to the court-martial.

A courts-martial or court of inquiry may be held in a unit of the FLNG serving outside the state, and such court has the same jurisdiction and powers as if the courts-martial or court of inquiry were held in Florida.³⁴ However, a service member may not be tried for offenses committed while in civilian status.³⁵

The MCM is updated periodically. Current law, s. 250.35, F.S., references the 2012 edition.

Similar to federal law, Florida has general, special, and summary courts-martial.³⁶ A summary court-martial may be convened by the commanding officer of each battalion, higher headquarters, or similar type unit when not in active federal service.³⁷ Punishment may include:

- A fine of $200 or less per offense.
- Confinement of 25 days or less.
- Forfeiture of pay and allowances.
- Reduction by one grade.³⁸

Any two or more punishments may be combined; however, confinement may not be combined with a fine.³⁹

General courts-martial and special courts-martial must be tried by a military judge⁴⁰ and a panel of officers as designated in regulations of the FLNG. However, a panel may include enlisted members, at the request of an enlisted defendant. The military judge must be qualified by attendance at appropriate Judge Advocate General (JAG) schools and must be certified as qualified by the Adjutant General of Florida. In a general and special courts-martial, the defendant may waive trial by panel and request trial by military judge alone. The granting of the waiver is in the military judge's discretion.⁴¹

A special courts-martial may be convened by a commanding officer of the FLNG or a superior commander when not in active federal service.⁴² A commanding officer of a garrison, fort, post, camp, air base, auxiliary air base, or any other place where troops are on duty may also convene special courts-martial for his or her command. These special courts-martial may be convened by a superior commander when advisable.⁴³ Special courts-martial with bad conduct discharge authority may impose punishment to include:

- A fine of $300 or less.
- Confinement of 100 days or less.
- Forfeiture of all pay and allowances.
- Reprimand or a bad conduct discharge from the service.
- Reduction by one grade of a member whom the commander had the authority to promote.⁴⁴

General courts-martial in the FLNG may be convened by order of the President of the United States, the Governor, or the Adjutant General as delegated by the Governor.⁴⁵ Punishment may include:

- A fine of $500 or less.
- Confinement of 200 days or less.
- Forfeiture of all pay and allowances.
- Reprimand, dismissal, or dishonorable discharge from the service.
- Reduction to the lowest enlisted grade or any intermediate grade for enlisted personnel.⁴⁶

Any two or more of the punishments may be combined.

Only the DMA, in an appropriately convened courts-martial action provided by law, may impose a sentence of imprisonment.⁴⁷ A sentence of dismissal or dishonorable discharge from the service cannot be executed until approved by the Governor.⁴⁸

Appeals

Article V, s. 1 of the Florida Constitution provides that the “legislature may, by general law, authorize a military court-martial to be conducted by military judges of the Florida National Guard, with direct appeal of a decision to the District Court of Appeal, First District.”

Accordingly under Florida law, a servicemember who is found guilty and is sentenced in a general or special court-martial to imprisonment may appeal the case to the First District Court of Appeal. The FLNG may appeal any dismissal of a general or special court-martial that does not violate the servicemember's constitutional rights may appeal the case to the First District Court of Appeal.⁴⁹

In a summary court-martial, a servicemember may appeal a finding of guilt or sentence to the convening authority. A servicemember who is sentenced to imprisonment may appeal the finding of guilt or the sentence to the Adjutant General.⁵⁰

Nonjudicial Punishment

As an alternative to a court-martial, a commander may impose nonjudicial punishment. This punishment may include:

- Oral or written reprimand.
- A fine of $200 or less.
- Extra duty for 14 days or less.
- Restriction for 14 days or less.
- Reduction by one grade of a member whom the commander had the authority to promote.⁵¹

These punishments may be combined; however a combination of extra duty and restriction may not exceed 14 days.

Mandates & Process for Military Courts - Searches

Military courts may issue all process and mandates, including writs, warrants, and subpoenas, necessary to carry out the powers vested in the courts. The mandates and process may be directed to a sheriff and must be in a form prescribed by the Adjutant General.⁵²

When not in active federal service, the Adjutant General, his or her designee, or a military judge of the FLNG may issue a pretrial confinement warrant to secure the presence of an accused at trial, as well as subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum, to require witnesses to produce documents.⁵³

When a servicemember is sentenced to confinement by court-martial, the sheriff or jailer must provide the same care as provided to other prisoners properly committed for custody under the sentence of any civil court.⁵⁴

Neither the Florida Statutes nor the UCMJ specify who may authorize a search or which areas may be searched. However, the Military Rules of Evidence authorize a commander or military judge to issue a search authorization, which is the military law equivalent of a search warrant.⁵⁵

Under the Fourth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, a search generally must be conducted pursuant to a search warrant that is supported by probable cause.⁵⁶

Medical Officer Authorization

Section 250.375, F.S., provides that physicians holding an active license to practice medicine in any other state or Puerto Rico, while serving as medical officers in the FLNG pursuant to federal or state orders, are expressly authorized to practice medicine on military personnel or civilians during an emergency, declared disaster, or during federal military training.

Armory Board

Section 250.01(5), F.S., defines the term “armory” as a building or group of buildings, used primarily for housing and training troops or for storing military property, supplies, or records. Section 250.40, F.S., creates the Armory Board, which is charged with the supervision and control of all FLNG armories, facilities, and real property within the state used for military purposes. Voting members of the Armory Board include the Governor as Commander in Chief and chair of the Armory Board, Adjutant General as vice chair, Assistant Adjutants General, and major command commanders reporting directly to the Adjutant General, in the active FLNG. Any member of the Armory Board may delegate his or her deputy commander to attend the meeting as an alternate member with voting privileges in the Armory Board member’s absence.⁵⁷ Board member terms are for the period during which the member possesses the qualifications for the membership.⁵⁸

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 110.205, F.S., relating to career service exemptions, to repeal references to job titles no longer used (military police chiefs, military police officers, firefighter trainers, and firefighter rescuers). The bill also repeals reference to electronic security system technicians in the DMA, thereby allowing those positions to have the same salary and benefits as career services employees.

Section 2 amends s. 121.055, F.S., relating to the SMS class, to revise references to certain military positions required to participate in the SMS class. This section adds the DMA Inspector General and Executive Officer to the class positions and renames the Director of Military Personnel to Director of Human Resources and the Director of Administration to the Director of Legislative Affairs.

Section 3 amends s. 250.10, F.S., to revise the requirements for appointment as Adjutant General to require the Adjutant General to have served in the FLNG for at least 5 years, rather than the “preceding five years” as provided under current law. This section specifies that the Adjutant General must serve as the commanding general of Florida’s organized militia. This section also provides that the Assistant Adjutant General for Army and the Assistant Adjutant General for Air must have served for at least three years in the FLNG, rather than the “preceding five years” in current law.

⁵⁷ Section 250.40(2)(a), F.S.

⁵⁸ Section 250.40(3), F.S.

Section 4 amends 250.35, F.S., to update a reference to the outdated version of the Manual for Courts-Martial (MCM) to the 2019 edition and provides that the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ), together with ch. 250, F.S., is to be referred to as the Florida Code of Military Justice (FCMJ).

This section specifies that a court-martial in this state is an administrative procedure of the executive branch and not a court under the control of the judicial branch. Servicemembers must be tried pursuant to the MCM, except as otherwise provided by FLNG regulations.

Current law provides that a panel of officers may include enlisted members, at the request of an enlisted defendant. The bill strikes the word defendant (this conforms to the UCMJ’s replacement of the term defendant with accused) and provides that such a panel may include enlisted members, at the request of an enlisted person who is accused of a crime or an offense.

This section clarifies the qualifications of a military judge in a general or special court-martial and requires that a military judge in a summary court-martial must be a commissioned officer who is appointed by the Summary Courts-Martial Convening Authority or any higher authority.

Current law allows for the Governor to delegate to convene a general courts-martial to the Adjutant General. The bill authorizes the President, the Governor, or the Adjutant General to convene a general courts-martial and prohibits the delegation of that duty. The bill also revises provisions relating to the imposition of nonjudicial punishment by providing that courts, upon the finding of guilt, may adjudge no punishment or adjudge one or more of the following punishments:

- Confinement in an appropriate penal institution for up to 367 days.
- Dismissal or discharge from the FLNG with the characterization of service deemed appropriate by the military judge or panel members, including a dishonorable or bad conduct discharge.
- A fine of up to $500 per violation.
- Forfeiture of all or just a portion of pay and allowances.
- Reduction to the lowest enlisted pay grade or any intermediate pay grade for enlisted persons (current law does not specify pay grade).
- A written reprimand filed in the official military personnel file of the person found guilty.

This section provides that special courts-martial authorized to adjudicate a bad conduct discharge in the FLNG, may be convened by order of commanding officers of the FLNG who are in the accused’s chain of command and hold the rank of colonel or by any person who is authorized to convene a general court-martial. The bill prohibits the delegation of this duty. The bill also revises the type of punishment allowed for a special courts-martial, to allow the courts, upon the finding of guilt, to adjudge no punishment or adjudge one or more of the following punishments:

- Confinement in an appropriate penal institution for up to 100 days.
- Discharge from the Florida National Guard with a bad conduct discharge.
- A fine of up to $400 per violation.

- Forfeiture of all or just a portion of pay and allowances for a period of up to 1 year.
- Reduction to the lowest or any intermediate pay grade of enlisted persons.
- A written reprimand filed in the official military personnel file of the person found guilty.

The bill provides that special courts-martial not authorized to adjudicate a bad conduct discharge in the FLNG may be convened by order of the commanding officers of the FLNG who are in the accused's chain of command and hold the rank of a lieutenant colonel or by any person who is authorized to convene a general court-martial or special court-martial that is authorized to adjudicate a bad conduct discharge. The bill prohibits the delegation of this duty. Punishment is the similar as special courts-martial authorized to adjudicate a bad conduct discharge except that (i) no punishment by discharge is provided; (ii) the fine may not exceed $300; and (iii) forfeiture of pay may not exceed 60 days.

This section specifies that summary court-martial in the FLNG may be convened by order of commanding officers of the FLNG who are in the accused's chain of command and hold the rank of lieutenant colonel or by any person authorized to convene a general court-martial or special court-martial. The bill prohibits the delegation of this duty. The bill also revises the type of punishment allowed for a summary courts-martial, to allow the courts, upon the finding of guilt, to adjudge no punishment or adjudge one or more of the following punishments:

- Confinement in an appropriate penal institution for up to 25 days.
- A fine of up to $200 per violation.
- Forfeiture of all or just a portion of pay and allowances for a period of up to 60 days.
- Reduction to no more than two pay grades below the person's current pay grade.
- A reprimand.

This section clarifies that commanding officers may impose nonjudicial punishment in accordance with FLNG regulations. It also provides greater specificity as to which commanders are authorized to impose a nonjudicial punishment as follows:

- A unit commander or superior commander may punish enlisted personnel;
- Field grade commanders or general officers may punish company grade and warrant officers; and
- General officers may punish field grade officers.

The bill revises the nonjudicial punishments authorized to:

- Clarify extra duty may not exceed a period of 14 days of active duty, whether state active duty, annual training, or any similar duty, or 14 unit training assemblies.
- Provide that restriction to the armory, training site, or any other specified limitations, with or without suspension from duty, may not exceed a period of 14 days of active duty, whether state active duty, annual training or any similar duty, or 14 unit training assemblies.
- Provide for reduction by no more than two pay grades for enlisted personnel in the E-4 pay grade or below and reduction of one grade of enlisted personnel in the E-5 pay grade or above.
- Add forfeiture of base pay for a period not to exceed 14 days of active duty, whether state active duty, annual training, or any similar duty, or 14 unit training assemblies.

The bill provides that a commander or a successor in command over the person punished may, at any time, suspend any part or amount of the punishment subject to the following conditions:

- Any unexecuted punishment may be suspended at any time;
- Any executed punishment of any grade reduction, fine, or forfeiture of pay, may only be suspended within 8 months after the date of execution; and
- The suspension cannot be longer than 12 months from the date of suspension, but the expiration of the current enlistment or term of service of the servicemember involved automatically terminates the period of suspension.

The bill specifies that the regulations adopted by the FLNG may provide for plenary and summarized nonjudicial punishment.

The bill provides which commanders have the authority to reduce certain enlisted servicemember pay grades.

The bill provides that in addition to a dismissal of a general or special courts-martial case, a dismissal of any specific charge or offense may be appealed by the FLNG to the First District Court of Appeal.

The bill specifies that a finding of guilt and the sentence of a nonjudicial punishment may be appealed only to the next highest commander in the accused's chain of command and any such appeal is final.

Section 5 amends s. 250.351, F.S., regarding court-martial jurisdiction, to provide that members of the FLNG are subject to ch. 250, F.S., regardless of whether in civilian or military status. Jurisdiction is based exclusively on membership in the FLNG and is not subject to additional requirements.

This section provides that subject matter jurisdiction is established if a nexus exists between an offense, either military or nonmilitary, and the state military force. The bill specifies that courts-martial under the FCMJ have primary jurisdiction of military offenses committed when the member is not in the active service. If a nonmilitary offense violates both the FCMJ and local criminal law (foreign or domestic), a proper civilian court has primary jurisdiction. In such cases, a court-martial may be initiated only after the civilian authority has declined to prosecute or dismissed the charge, provided jeopardy has not attached.

This section also provides that jurisdiction over attempted crimes, conspiracy crimes, solicitation, and accessory crimes must be determined by the underlying offense. Courts-martial under the FCMJ may be initiated for offenses committed by a FLNG member while in the active service only after the commander with authority over the offense under the UCMJ has declined to prosecute or dismissed the charge, provided jeopardy has not attached.

Section 6 amends s. 250.36, F.S., to provide for the issuance and execution of search authorizations by the Adjutant General, his or her designee, or a military judge when not in active service and when the FLNG or the Department of Military Affairs has control over the location where property or the person to be searched is situated or found. If the location is not under military control, the commander has control over such property of persons subject to military law or law of war.

Section 7 amends s. 250.375, F.S., to provide that in addition to any state, a physician who holds a license to practice medicine in any territory of the United States or the District of Columbia, while serving as a medical officer with or in support of the FLNG, may practice medicine on military personnel or civilians during an emergency, declared disaster, or during federal military training.

Section 8 amends s. 250.40, F.S., to revise the Armory Board membership to specify that the Assistant Adjutant General must be from the Army. The bill provides that a member of the Armory Board may request excusal from a board meeting by the Adjutant General or his or her designee. The excused member may delegate the authority to a deputy commander or executive officer to attend the meeting as an alternate member with voting privileges.

Section 9 provides that the bill takes effect July 1, 2021.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

The bill does not appear to require cities and counties to expend funds or limit their authority to raise revenue or receive state-shared revenues as specified by Art. VII, s. 18 of the State Constitution.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

B. Private Sector Impact:

C. Government Sector Impact:

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

Lines 253 to 255 state “[a] court-martial in this state is an administrative procedure of the executive branch and not a court under the control of the judicial branch.” The constitution and ch. 255, F.S., expressly provides for judicial review in the First District Court of Appeal. The current language is a bit confusing as worded and may be read to be in conflict with the authority for judicial review. It is suggested that an amendment be considered to expressly state that courts-martial are a proceeding within the executive branch and not a court as established under Article V of the State Constitution.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 110.205, 121.055, 250.10, 250.35, 250.351, 250.36, 250.375, and 250.40.

466 (d) A finding of guilt and the sentence of a nonjudicial
 467 punishment may be appealed only to the next highest commander in 468 the accused's chain of command. Any such appeal is final.

469 ~~(14)(11)~~ When the Florida National Guard is not in the 470 active service of the United States, a sentence of dismissal
 471 from the service or dishonorable discharge from the service,
 472 imposed by court-martial, may not be executed until approved by 473 the Governor.

474 Section 5. Section 250.351, Florida Statutes, is amended to 475 read:

476 250.351 Court-martial; jurisdiction.—

477 (1) Members of the Florida National Guard are subject to 478 this chapter and the Florida Uniform Code of Military Justice,
 479 including any provision authorizing punishment, at all times
 480 during their enlistment or appointment, regardless of whether in 481 civilian or military status or serving in this state or outside 482 the state. Jurisdiction is based exclusively on membership in 483 the Florida National Guard and is not subject to any additional 484 requirements.

485 (2) Subject matter jurisdiction is established if a nexus
 486 exists between an offense, either military or nonmilitary, and 487 the state military force. Courts-martial under the Florida Code
 488 of Military Justice have primary jurisdiction of military
 489 offenses committed when the member is not in the active service
 490 of the United States. A proper civilian court has primary
 491 jurisdiction of a nonmilitary offense when an act or omission
 492 violates both the Florida Code of Military Justice and local 493 criminal law, foreign or domestic. In such cases, a court-

494 martial may be initiated only after the civilian authority has 495 declined to prosecute or has dismissed the charge, provided
 496 jeopardy has not attached. Jurisdiction over attempted crimes, 497 conspiracy crimes, solicitation, and accessory crimes must be 498 determined by the underlying offense. Courts-martial under the 499 Florida Code of Military Justice may be initiated for offenses
 500 committed by a Florida National Guard member while in the active 501 service of the United States only after the commander with 502 authority over the offense under the Uniform Code of Military
 503 Justice has declined to prosecute or dismissed the charge,
 504 provided jeopardy has not attached.

505 (3) Courts-martial ~~A court martial or court of inquiry~~ may
 506 be convened and held in a unit of the Florida National Guard
 507 serving outside the state, and the court has the same
 508 jurisdiction and powers as if the court-martial ~~or court of~~

 510 the state may be tried and punished outside the state or within 511 the state.

512 Section 6. Section 250.36, Florida Statutes, is amended to 513 read:

514 250.36 Mandates and process.—

515 (1) Military courts may issue all process and mandates,
 516 including writs, warrants, and subpoenas, necessary to carry out
 517 the powers vested in the courts. Such mandates and process may 518 be directed to the sheriff of any county and must be in the form
 519 prescribed by the Adjutant General in the rules issued by him or 520 her under this chapter. All officers to whom such mandates and 521 process are directed must execute the same and make returns of 522 their acts thereunder according to the requirements of the form

523 of process. Any sheriff or other officer who neglects or refuses 524 to perform the duty enjoined upon him or her by this chapter is 525 subject to the same liabilities, penalties, and punishments as 526 are prescribed by the law for neglect or refusal to perform any 527 other duty of his or her office.

528 (2) When not in the active service of the United States,
529 the Adjutant General, or his or her designee, or a military
530 judge ~~of the Florida National Guard~~ may issue a pretrial
531 confinement warrant for the purpose of securing the presence of 532 an accused at trial. The warrant must be directed to the sheriff 533 of the county, directing the sheriff to arrest the accused and 534 bring the accused before the court for trial if the accused has 535 disobeyed an order in writing to appear before the court which 536 was delivered to the accused in person or mailed to the 537 accused's last known address, along with a copy of the charges.
538 Pretrial confinement may not exceed 48 hours. However, the 539 Adjutant General or military judge may extend pretrial
540 confinement for not more than 15 days in order to facilitate the 541 presence of the accused at trial. For purposes of this
542 subsection, the term "military judge" does not include a summary
543 court-martial officer who is not qualified to act as a military 544 judge in general or special courts-martial.

545 (3) When not in the active service of the United States,
546 the Adjutant General, or his or her designee, or a military
547 judge ~~of the Florida National Guard~~ may issue subpoenas and 548 subpoenas duces tecum and enforce by attachment the attendance
549 of witnesses and the production of documents and other items of 550 evidentiary value.

552 the Adjutant General, or his or her designee, or a military 553 judge may issue and execute search authorizations when the 554 Florida National Guard or the Department of Military Affairs has 556 searched is situated or found. If the location is not under 557 military control, the commander has control over such property

558 or persons subject to military law or law of war.

559 (5) When a sentence of confinement is imposed by any court-
560 martial of the Florida National Guard, the Adjutant General or 561 his or her designee whose approval makes effective the sentence
562 imposed by the court-martial shall issue a warrant directing the 563 sheriff of the appropriate county to take the convicted person
564 into custody and confine him or her in the jail of such county
565 for the period specified in the sentence of the court. Any 566 sheriff receiving such warrant must promptly execute the warrant 567 by taking the convicted person into custody and confining him or 568 her in jail. The sheriff or jailer in charge of any county jail
569 shall receive any person committed for confinement in such jail
570 under proper process from a court-martial, and provide for the 571 care, subsistence, and safekeeping of such prisoner just as the 572 sheriff or jailer would a prisoner properly committed for 573 custody under the sentence of any civil or criminal court.

574 ~~(6)-(5)~~ All sums of money collected through fines adjudged
575 by a general, special, or summary court-martial or through the

BILL ANALYSIS AND FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

(This document is based on the provisions contained in the legislation as of the latest date listed below.)

Prepared By: The Professional Staff of the Committee on Appropriations

BILL: SB 794

INTRODUCER: Senator Bean

SUBJECT: Independent Living Services

DATE: April 14, 2021

REVISED: _____

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION
1.	Delia	Cox	CF	Favorable
2.	Jahnke	Bouck	ED	Favorable
3.	Underhill	Sadberry	AP	Favorable

I. Summary:

SB 794 modifies the membership and responsibilities of the Florida Independent Living Council (FILC). Specifically, the bill removes the Division of Blind Services (DBS) from the membership of the FILC, and revises the total number of members from 14 to 11. The bill also permits the FILC to choose representative members from a wide range of persons with developmental disabilities from diverse backgrounds.

The bill revises certain required and discretionary tasks of the FILC and prohibits the FILC from engaging in certain prohibited activities related to lobbying.

The bill increases the percentage of total revenues collected from the Tax Collection Enforcement Diversion Program (Diversion Program) used to administer the James Patrick Memorial Work Incentive Personal Attendant Services Program (JPPAS Program) from 50 percent to 75 percent.

The bill will have a positive fiscal impact on the JPPAS program by increasing the proportion of funds from the Diversion Program to the JPPAS Program, and a negative fiscal impact on other segments of state government. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Independent Living

The term “independent living” is not defined in Florida Statutes. “Independent living” may refer to an elderly person with the physical and mental capacity to live independently but who wants companionship or otherwise needs supportive services. It may also encompass a living arrangement for people with disabilities who need supportive services.¹

The Federal Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, created a framework for states to obtain funding for independent living programs, known as Centers for Independent Living, which work to support community living and independence for people with disabilities.² There are 16 Centers for Independent Living in Florida which together serve all 67 counties.³ To receive funding, states must develop a State Plan for Independent Living (SPIL), which is a three year plan for providing independent living services in the state, through a designated Statewide Independent Living Council (SILC).

Independent living communities are communities in which healthy individuals may live on their own but that do not offer assisted living or nursing services. Independent living communities may offer amenities such as transportation, security, yard maintenance, laundry service, group meals, and social and cultural activities.⁴

Florida Independent Living Council

In 1988, the Legislature created the FILC which serves as Florida's SILC.⁵ The FILC's responsibilities include jointly developing and submitting the SPIL.⁶ The FILC works to ensure that persons with disabilities have an opportunity for input into the development of the SPIL and works for systematic change in the areas that are the biggest barriers to people with disabilities participating fully in their communities. The FILC describes the independent living philosophy as "promot[ing] consumer control of services, self-determination and equal access and participation in every aspect of community life, to the level that individual wishes."⁷ The 2017-2019 SPIL, in part, identified the need for safe, affordable, accessible housing as being critical for Florida's Centers for Independent Living and noted a lack of housing is commonly identified as the main barrier to independent living.⁸

Currently, the FILC is comprised of 14 members, including, among other members, directors of independent living centers, a representative from the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (VR), a representative from the Division of Blind Services (DBS), and various individuals with developmental disabilities.⁹ The FILC must coordinate activities with the Florida Rehabilitation Council and other councils that address the needs of specific disability populations under federal law. The FILC must also submit periodic reports to the Commissioner of the Federal Rehabilitation Administration Services, and provide access to such records at the request of the Commissioner.¹⁰

The Florida Division of Vocational Rehabilitation

The VR within the Department of Education (DOE) administers the vocational rehabilitation program in Florida. The VR provides services to help individuals with a disability find, advance in, or retain employment, and provides services to youth and students with a disability to aid in the transition from high school to a meaningful career path. In FY 2018-19, the VR served 48,439 individuals, including 26,086 customers who were between the ages of 14 through 21.¹¹

An individual with a disability¹² is presumed eligible for vocational rehabilitation services if the person requires rehabilitation services to prepare for, enter, engage in, or retain gainful employment.¹³ After determining eligibility, the VR must complete an assessment to determine rehabilitation needs and ensure that an individualized plan for employment (IPE)¹⁴ is prepared.¹⁵ The IPE must be designed to achieve the specific employment outcome of the individual and may include services such as vocational evaluation and planning, career counseling and guidance, job-site assessment and accommodations, job placement, job coaching, and on-the-job training.¹⁶

Division of Blind Services

The DBS is housed within the DOE.¹⁷ The purpose of the DBS is to ensure the greatest possible efficiency and effectiveness of services to individuals who are blind.¹⁸ It is the intent of the Legislature to establish a coordinated program of services that are available throughout Florida to such individuals. The program must be designed to maximize employment opportunities for individuals who are blind and to increase their independence and self-sufficiency.¹⁹ The DBS's program of services include a blind babies program, children's program, transition services, independent living program, vocational rehabilitative program, employer services, business enterprises program, rehabilitation center for the blind and visually impaired, and braille and talking books library.²⁰

The DBS was administratively housed within the VR upon inception.²¹ The DBS has since been established as a separate entity within the DOE and has a separate representative council, known as the Rehabilitative Council for the Blind (RCB).²² The RCB is an advisory council²³ responsible for assisting the DBS in the planning and development of statewide vocational rehabilitation programs and services pursuant to the Rehabilitative Act of 1973,²⁴ as amended, to recommend improvements to such programs and services, and to perform specified functions.

James Patrick Memorial Work Incentive Personal Attendant Services Program

The James Patrick Memorial Work Incentive Personal Attendant Services Program (JPPAS) Program was created by the Legislature in 2002 as a pilot project. In 2008, it was established in ch. 413.402, F.S., as a statewide program. The administration and financial oversight of the JPPAS Program was originally conducted as a partnership between the Florida Endowment Foundation for Vocational Rehabilitation and FACIL. In 2017, ch. 413.402, F.S. was amended, transferring administration and financial oversight to FACIL.²⁵

The JPPAS Program provides a monthly stipend to participants in an effort to offset the cost of the personal care assistance used to help with daily activities such as bathing, dressing, toileting, and eating. As of December 31, 2020, 79 individuals were enrolled in the JPPAS Program.²⁶

The JPPAS Program is funded with delinquent sales taxes collected by state attorney's offices in the following eight Florida circuits:

- The Fourth Judicial Circuit (Clay, Duval, Nassau);
- The Sixth Judicial Circuit (Pasco, Pinellas);
- The Ninth Judicial Circuit (Orange, Osceola);
- The Eleventh Judicial Circuit (Miami-Dade);
- The Thirteenth Judicial Circuit (Hillsborough);
- The Fifteenth Judicial Circuit (Palm Beach); and
- The Seventh Judicial Circuit (Broward).²⁷

Persons eligible to participate in the program must:

- Be at least 18 years of age, a legal resident of this state, and be significantly and chronically disabled;
- Require a personal care attendant for assistance with or support for at least two activities of daily living such as bathing and dressing and as defined in s. 429.02, F.S.;

²¹ Ch. 88-214, L.O.F.

²³ Section 20.03(7), F.S., defines "advisory council" to mean "an advisory body created by specific statutory enactment and appointed to function on a continuing basis for the study of problems arising in a specified functional area of state government and to provide recommendations and policy alternatives."

Tax Collection Enforcement Diversion Program

The primary source of funding for the JPPAS Program is the Diversion Program.²⁹ In conjunction with the establishment of the JPPAS program, the DOR was directed, in cooperation with FACIL and state attorneys, to select judicial circuits in which to operate the Diversion Program to collect unpaid sales taxes from delinquent business owners.³⁰ Fifty percent of the collections from the Diversion Program are deposited into the operating account of the Florida Achieving a Better Life Experience (ABLE) Trust³¹ to be used to operate the JPPAS program and to contract with the state attorneys participating in the tax diversion program, and the remaining 50 percent is deposited into General Revenue.³²

The annual budget for the JPPAS Program is determined by the State Revenue Estimating Conference's estimates of delinquent tax collections and revenue from the Bikers Care special motorcycle license tag.³³ The estimate adopted for the Diversion Program for the 2020-2021 fiscal year is $3,247,129 in total tax collections.³⁴ FACIL expects to receive approximately $70,000 in additional revenue from Florida Bikers Tag license plate sales.³⁵ This means the estimated budget for the JPPAS Program for Fiscal Year 2020-2021 is approximately $1,693,565, (50 percent of the total estimated collections ($1,623,565) plus the additional $70,000 from Florida Bikers Tag license plate sales).

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill amends s. 413.395, F.S., removing a representative of the DBS from the membership of the FILC. The bill also reduces the total number of members on the FILC from 14 members to 11 members, at least three of whom must be employees of a center for independent living. The bill requires that at least six of the members must be persons with significant disabilities who are not employed by any state agency or any center for independent living.

The bill also requires the membership of the FILC to include a broad range of persons with disabilities from diverse backgrounds. Under the bill, the FILC must select a chairperson from among the FILC's voting membership. The bill provides that the FILC must meet at the request of the VR alone, and removes the requirement for a joint request of the VR and the DBS. The bill also removes requirement that both the VR and the DBS make the FILC meeting reports available to the public, and requires only the VR to make such reports available.

The bill revises the duties of the FILC by requiring the FILC to develop and submit a state plan for independent living in conjunction with the directors of independent living centers, rather than with the VR, and by requiring the state plan to be in accordance with federal guidelines following the receipt of public input from individuals with developmental disabilities and other relevant stakeholders throughout the state. The FILC must coordinate activities with state entities which provide services similar to or complementary of independent living services, including entities which offer or facilitate the provision of long-term community-based services and supports. The bill eliminates the current requirement that the FILC coordinate activities with the Florida Rehabilitation Council.

Under the bill the FILC must conduct regular meetings and submit periodic reports to the Administration for Community Living within the United States Department of Health and Human Services, as well as keep access to and provide such reports to the administrator as frequently as is necessary to verify the reports. The bill changes the recipient of the reports from the Commissioner of the Federal Rehabilitation Administration Services to the head of the Administration for Community Living within the United States Department of Health and Human Services.

The bill authorizes the FILC to conduct the following activities described in the state plan for independent living:

- Working with independent living centers to coordinate services with public and private entities in an effort to improve independent living services for developmentally disabled persons;
- Developing resources to augment activities provided in the SPIL and the provision of relevant services by independent living centers; and
- Other activities consistent with and comparable to other enumerated activities as the FILC deems appropriate and as authorized in the SPIL.

The bill also requires the FILC to:

- Coordinate with independent living centers to avoid conflicting or overlapping activities within established service areas;
- Refrain from engaging in the direct provision of independent living services to developmentally disabled individuals, including the independent living core services.
- Comply with state and federal laws and regulations which restrict and prohibit lobbying activities.

The bill amends s. 413.4021, F.S., to direct 75 percent of the delinquent tax collection revenues to the JPPAS program (instead of 50 percent).

The bill is effective July 1, 2021.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

Article VII, s. 18 of the Florida Constitution governs laws that require counties and municipalities to spend funds or that limit their ability to raise revenue or receive state tax revenues.

Subsection (b) of Art. VII, s. 18 of the Florida Constitution, provides that except upon approval of each house of the Legislature by two-thirds vote of the membership, the Legislature may not enact, amend, or repeal any general law if the anticipated effect of doing so would be to reduce the authority that municipalities or counties have to raise revenue in the aggregate, as such authority existed on February 1, 1989. However, the mandates requirements do not apply to laws having an insignificant fiscal impact^{36, 37} which for Fiscal Year 2021-2022, is forecast at approximately $2.2 million or less.³⁸

While the bill diverts funding away from General Revenue, the bill does not appear to affect the authority of local governments to raise revenues. Therefore, the local governments mandate provision does not apply.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. State Tax or Fee Increases:

Not applicable. The bill does not create or increase state taxes or fees. Thus, Art. VII, s. 19 of the Florida Constitution does not apply.

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

None identified.

³⁶ Fla. Const. art. VII, s. 18(d).

³⁷ An insignificant fiscal impact is the amount not greater than the average statewide population for the applicable fiscal year multiplied by $0.10. See Florida Senate Committee on Community Affairs, Interim Report 2012-115: Insignificant Impact at p. 1, (September 2011), available at <http://www.flsenate.gov/PublishedContent/Session/2012/InterimReports/2012-115ca.pdf> (last visited March 10, 2021).

³⁸ Based on the EDR's Estimating Conference's April 1, 2021, estimated population adopted on Nov. 13, 2020. The EDR, Demographic Estimating Conference at p. T-1, available at <http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/conferences/population/ConferenceResults.pdf> (last visited March 10, 2021).

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The January 5, 2021, Revenue Estimating Conference reported that collections for the Diversion Program declined by 3.8 percent in the 2019-20 fiscal year and are projected to remain flat, at approximately $3.25 million per year, for the next five years. The bill would create a positive, significant fiscal impact on the JPPAS program by increasing funding levels from 50 percent of the Diversion Program proceeds to 75 percent. Increasing funding from 50 percent of Diversion Program revenues ($1.62 million) to 75 percent ($2.44 million) would result in approximately $690,000 more annually in each of the next five years for the JPPAS program, and a proportionate increase in years thereafter. The bill would divert an additional 25 percent of Diversion Program funds away from General Revenue to the JPPAS program, resulting in a negative fiscal impact on other segments of state government.³⁹

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 413.395 and 413.4021.

IX. Additional Information:A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Changes:

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

None.

B. Amendments:

None.

PCS/CS/SB 838 amends laws related to the funding of the clerks of court to:

- Require the Clerk of Courts Operations Corporation to establish and maintain a budget reserve of up to 16 percent of the budget from the previous year.

The bill amends laws related to monies owed to a clerk of court to:

- Require notice of the availability of payment plans to individuals receiving a traffic infraction or a notice of suspension of driving privilege.

On March 5, 2021, the Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR), Revenue Estimating Impact Conference (REC) adopted a positive indeterminate impact for various state and local funds related to the bills changes to payment plans. Additionally, the REC estimates an out year negative indeterminate impact to the General Revenue Fund and a positive indeterminate impact to the clerks under certain circumstances. See Section V.

The portions of the bill related to clerk funding are effective upon becoming a law, the remaining portions of the bill are effective October 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Clerk of the Circuit Court

The clerk of the circuit court is a constitutional officer. Each of Florida's 67 counties are required to elect a clerk of the circuit court¹ to serve as both the clerk of court, completing judiciary functions, and as the "ex officio"² clerk of the board of county commissioners, auditor, recorder, and custodian of all county funds.³ In other words, the clerk of the circuit court wears approximately five hats. In wearing the auditor and custodian of county funds hats, the clerk may also be referred to as the comptroller.⁴

Funding for the Clerks' Court-Related Functions

In its capacity as the clerk of the circuit and county courts, the clerk is required to perform various court-related, administrative and ministerial functions. Any court-related function authorized by law or court rule must be funded by the clerk's collection of filing fees, service charges, costs, and fines, including all of the following:

- Case maintenance.
- Records management.
- Court preparation and attendance.
- Processing the assignment, reopening, and reassignment of cases.
- Processing appeals.
- Collection and distribution of fines, fees, service charges, and court costs.
- Data collection and reporting.
- Determinations of indigent status.
- Paying reasonable administrative support costs to enable the clerks to carry out court-related functions.⁵

Court funding is governed by Art. V, s. 14 of the Florida Constitution. For the clerks of the circuit courts, Art. V, s. 14(b) provides that the clerks are self-sustaining and fund their court-related functions through the collection of filing fees, service charges, and other costs. Specifically, Art. V, s. 14(b) states:

² See BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY (10th ed. 2014) ("ex officio" means "By virtue or because of an office; by virtue of the authority implied by office.")

³ FLA. CONST. art. V, s. 16. This provision also provides that two officials may split the position, one serving as clerk of court and one serving in the ex officio position. Additionally, this provision permits the election of a county clerk of court when authorized by general or special law. Id.

See also BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY (10th ed. 2014) ("comptroller" means "An officer of a business or a private, state, or municipal corporation who is charged with duties usu. relating to fiscal affairs, including auditing and examining accounts and reporting the financial status periodically.")

(b) All funding for the offices of the clerks of the circuit and county courts performing court-related functions, except as otherwise provided in this subsection and subsection (c), shall be provided by adequate and appropriate filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions as required by general law. Selected salaries, costs, and expenses of the state courts system may be funded from appropriate filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions, as provided by general law. Where the requirements of either the United States Constitution or the Constitution of the State of Florida preclude the imposition of filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions sufficient to fund the court-related functions of the offices of the clerks of the circuit and county courts, the state shall provide, as determined by the Legislature, adequate and appropriate supplemental funding from state revenues appropriated by general law.⁶

County Funding Referenced in Article V, Section 14(c)

As referenced above, Art. V, s. 14(c) of the Florida Constitution states that while funding for the state courts system, including the clerks of court, will not be required by a county or municipality, the counties are responsible to fund certain types of court infrastructure and maintenance, including “the cost of communications services, existing radio systems, existing multi-agency criminal justice information systems and the cost of construction or lease, maintenance, utilities, and security of facilities for . . . the offices of the clerks of the circuit and county courts performing court-related functions.”⁷ Additionally, counties pay “reasonable and necessary salaries, costs, and expenses of the state courts system to meet local requirements as determined by general law.”⁸

No-Fee Court Functions

Additionally, as referenced above, there are certain categories of cases and certain types of filings for which the clerks of court cannot charge a filing fee and possibly other service charges or other costs. These types of cases and filings include the following:

- Various services and filings for indigent parties to pending litigation.⁹
- Petitions for Habeas Corpus filed by persons detained as mental health patients.¹⁰
- Filing an ex parte order for involuntary examination (Baker Act).¹¹
- Petitions for involuntary inpatient placement for mental health.¹²

⁷ FLA. CONST. art. V, s. 14(c).

⁸ Id. Additionally, Art. V, s. 14(a) provides that funding for state court systems as well as state attorney’s offices, public defender’s offices, and court-appointed counsel will generally be paid from “state revenues appropriated by general law; and section 14(d) clarifies that the court system has no appropriations authority.

History of the Clerks of Court Funding Model

1998 Article V Revision (“Revision 7”) and Implementing Legislation

Article V, section 14, was amended in 1998 to “substantially and significantly revise[] judicial system funding, greatly reducing funding from local governments and placing the responsibility primarily on the state.”¹⁹ The statement of intent accompanying the revision of Art. V, s. 14(b), also known as “Revision 7,” reflects that the proposers intended for the Legislature to adopt procedures: (1) to fund the clerks’ office in the event “filing fees, services charges and costs are insufficient to cover the court-related salaries, costs, and expenses of the offices of the clerks . . . in a given fiscal year”; and (2) for the disposition of excess revenues collected by the clerks’ offices in a given fiscal year.²⁰

Further, the statement of intent clarifies that the purpose for Revision 7 is to require legislative oversight and an independent review of clerk funding and spending practices. The reason for independent oversight is set out as follows:

The drafters of subsection (b) recognize that there currently exists significant disparities among what the various clerks’ offices spend to perform the same functions. The determination by the [L]egislature as to the appropriate level of spending should not entail an acceptance of the current level of spending by the clerks’ offices throughout the state to perform court-related functions. Rather, it is the intent of this proposal that the clerks be held accountable and responsible to a cost standard which is independently established by the [L]egislature.²¹

Revision 7's 1998 amendment to Art. V of the Florida Constitution had to be implemented by July 1, 2004.²² In order to implement the 1998 amendment, the Legislature responded "in stages, beginning with passage of SB 1212 in 2000 (Chapter 200-237, Laws of Florida), followed by additional changes to that law in 2001, and, finally in 2002, through the funding of a study to assist in the final phase of implementation."²³

The final stage was implemented during the 2003 legislative session. To provide Revision 7's envisioned oversight, accountability, uniformity, and procedures in funding and budgeting for the clerks of court, the Legislature enacted sections 28.35, 28.36, and 28.37, F.S.²⁴:

- Section 28.35, F.S., created the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation (Corporation),²⁵ which is responsible to provide accountability, procedural review, and oversight to the clerks of court budgeting process throughout the state.
- Section 28.36, F.S., established budget review and approval procedures of individual clerk of court budgets by the Corporation.
- Section 28.37, F.S., ensures that a portion of certain fines, fees, service charges, and costs collected by the clerks of court are remitted to the state to fund other court-related salaries, costs, and expenses.

Post-Article V Revision to Clerk Funding: 2004-2008²⁶

Between 2004 and 2008, the clerks collected and deposited into their local fine and forfeiture funds revenues from court filing fees, service charges, court costs, and fines assessed in civil and criminal proceedings.²⁷ A portion of the revenues in a clerk's fine and forfeiture fund was retained to finance the clerk's operations. However, another portion of these revenues were distributed to the General Revenue Fund or other state trust funds to meet other court-related costs. For example, the clerks were required to remit one-third of all fines, fees, service charges, and costs collected to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Clerk of the Court Trust Fund,²⁸ a fund established to assist the clerks in meeting revenue deficits.

Regarding budget planning, the clerks had discretion to set their individual budgets based on anticipated revenues and expenditures. Each clerk's proposed budget had to be balanced with estimated revenues equaling or exceeding anticipated expenditures, although the budget could include a 10 percent contingency reserve.²⁹ If a clerk estimated that available funds plus projected revenues were insufficient to meet anticipated expenditures for court-related functions, that clerk could follow the statutory procedure for receiving funds from the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund to address the deficit.³⁰

Each clerk had to submit its proposed budget to the Corporation for review and certification that the individual budget was complete and complied with budget procedures.³¹ Upon review and certification by the Corporation, revenue exceeding the amount needed to fund each budget was deposited in the General Revenue Fund.³²

During this time, the Legislature's involvement in the clerks' budgets was limited. The Legislative Budget Commission (LBC) had authority to approve increases to the maximum annual budgets approved for individual clerks if the additional funding was necessary to:

- Pay the cost of performing new or additional functions required by changes in law or court rule; or
- Pay the cost of supporting increases in the number of judges or magistrates authorized by the Legislature.³³

Clerks in the General Appropriations Act: 2009-2012³⁴

In an effort to gain greater oversight and accountability for the operations and funding of the clerks of court, the Legislature passed Chapter 2009-204, Laws of Fla., which substantially amended the clerks' statutory budget process and procedures. The new law brought the clerks into the state budget and appropriated their funding in the annual General Appropriations Act.

More specifically, the 2009 law required that all revenues received by the clerks from court-related fees, fines, costs and service charges be remitted to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Clerks of Court Trust Fund within the Justice Administrative Commission (JAC).³⁵ The law permitted the clerks, however, to deposit 10 percent of all court-related fines in the Public Records Modernization Trust Fund to be used in addition to state appropriations for operational needs.³⁶

By 2009, revenues accruing to the Clerks of Court Trust Fund began to decline due to the downturn in the economy and the reduction in foreclosure filing fees. As a result, the Legislature reinforced the clerks' budgets with additional moneys from the General Revenue Fund. The 2011 Legislature appropriated $44.2 million from the General Revenue Fund to address FY 2010-2011 revenue deficits and the 2012 Legislature appropriated $57.6 million to address FY 2011-2012 deficits.

Return to Pre-2009 Funding Model: 2013-2019³⁷

In 2013, the Legislature reversed many of the 2009 funding model changes, but expanded the oversight and accountability in the clerks' budget process. Chapter 2013-44, Laws of Florida, added the following:

³¹ Section 28.36(3), F.S. (2008).

³² Section 28.37(4), F.S. (2008).

³³ Section 28.36(6), F.S. (2008).

³⁶ Section 28.37(5), F.S.

³⁷ This section adapted or used in its entirety from the Appropriations Committee staff analysis in SB 2506 (2017).

- Monthly accounting: required each clerk to submit all collected revenues exceeding one-twelfth of the clerk's total budget for the prior month to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund.
- Annual accounting: required the transfer of revenue exceeding one-twelfth of the clerks' total budget out of the Clerks of Court Trust Fund into the General Revenue Fund each January unless the official estimate by the Revenue Estimating Conference projects a trust fund deficit (based on the current budget) in the current or upcoming fiscal year.
- Corporation audits: directed the Corporation to conduct annual base budget reviews, conduct cost-comparisons of similarly situated clerks, report pay and benefit issues, and provide an explanation of any clerk expenditure increases over 3 percent.³⁸
- Corporation budget standard: required the Corporation to use the official Article V Revenue Estimating Conference revenue estimates for the clerks' budget process.³⁹

The 2013 law also enhanced the role and responsibilities of the Legislative Budget Commission (LBC), and directed the LBC to review the budgets of the clerks and either: (1) approve, (2) disapprove, or (3) amend and approve the budgets by October 1 of each year.⁴⁰ In 2017, however, the Legislature removed these duties from the LBC to review the clerks' budgets.⁴¹

Most Recent Changes: 2019 to present

The clerk's budget process was amended again in 2019.⁴² In addition to the total estimated revenues from fees, service charges, costs, and fines for court-related functions available for court-related expenditures as determined by the most recent Revenue Estimating Conference, the combined budget for the clerks of court may also include:

- The unspent budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by the clerks of court from the previous county fiscal year; and
- The balance of funds remaining in the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund after the transfer of funds to the General Revenue Fund required pursuant to s. 28.37, F.S.

In 2019, the requirement that the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, service charges, and costs retained by the clerks of court exceeding the amount needed to fund their authorized budgets was transferred to the General Revenue Fund, was changed as follows:

- No later than February 1, 2020, the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs exceeding $10 million will be transferred to the General Revenue Fund.
- No later than February 1, 2021, and no later than February 1, 2022, not less than 50 percent of the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs will be transferred to the General Revenue Fund; provided, however, that the balance remaining in the Clerks of Courts Trust Fund after the transfer may not exceed $20 million.
- No later than February 1, 2023, and each February 1 thereafter, the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs will be transferred to the General Revenue Fund.

In that same act, the 2019 Legislature was looking ahead to 2022, and included the following language:

Section 32. Before the 2022 Regular Session of the Legislature, the Legislature shall review and consider the results of the analysis submitted pursuant to Specific Appropriation 2754 of the 2019-2020 General Appropriations Act regarding the review of the Clerk of Court Processes for the purpose of considering the extension or reenactment of provisions in this act relating to clerk funding.⁴³

Specific appropriation 2754 reads in relevant part:

From the funds in Specific Appropriation 2754, the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability is directed to contract with an independent third party consulting firm to assist with a review of the Clerk of Court processes including collection and compilation of empirical evidence based on observation of a random sample of clerks' offices employees; comparison of clerks' office work patterns to propose efficiency and productivity standards; and assessment and comparison of organizational arrangements and deployment of personnel resources among all clerks' offices. Sample groups must include a broad number of large and small counties and include entities from all areas of the state. The analysis shall be submitted to the chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee and the chair of the House of Representatives Appropriations Committee by November 15, 2019.

The report contains 26 recommendations for operational efficiency and cost savings in five categories.⁴⁴ It is unknown how many recommendations have been implemented.

Payment Plans

Persons who pay money to the clerk of court for an outstanding fine, penalty, fee, service charge, or court cost are expected to pay in full. Many individuals, however, cannot afford to pay. Section 28.246(4), F.S., authorizes a clerk to accept partial payments and to enter into payment plans with individuals. Monthly payments of no more than 2 percent of the individual's net pay is presumed to be within an individual's ability to pay.⁴⁵

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Clerk of Court Budgeting and Finances

The bill amends s. 28.37, F.S., regarding funds collected in the Clerk of the Courts Trust Fund. Currently, if the clerks have a budget surplus at the end of their fiscal year, 50 percent of the surplus must be transferred to General Revenue, with a maximum retainage in the trust fund of $20 million. After the county fiscal year 2021-22, 100 percent of the annual surplus with no retainage is to be transferred to General Revenue. The bill repeals the current sweeps and retainage laws and requires instead that 50 percent of the surplus be transferred to the General Revenue Fund. Of the remaining 50 percent, a minimum of 10 percent must be held in reserve in the Clerk of the Courts Trust Fund, and the remainder may be used to increase clerk budgets. The reserve may not exceed 16 percent of the total budget authority of the clerks from the current county fiscal year.⁴⁶

The bill amends s. 28.36, F.S., to allow the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation to create a budget reserve in the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund of up to 16 percent of the total budget authority during the current county fiscal year. The budget reserve will only accrue should the clerks have a budget surplus that is not otherwise subject to being swept by the Department of Revenue. The budget reserve may only be used to:

- Offset a current year deficit caused by a revenue shortfall;
- Provide supplemental funding related to a declared emergency; and
- Provide for a minimum continuation budget where the clerks have projected a deficit and the legislature did not appropriate funds sufficient to create a minimum continuation budget. A minimum continuation budget is the current county fiscal year budget unless the corporation requires a lesser budget.

The bill requires the corporation to request a budget amendment from the Governor in order to access the reserve. This is in line with the requirements for Executive Branch agencies seeking to establish trust fund budget from a reserve.

The bill amends s. 28.36, F.S., to allow a clerk of the court to request, and the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation to approve, an increase in a clerk's budget authority for a financial impact resulting from increases in use of hearing officers and senior judges.

Monies Owed to a Clerk of Court

The bill amends s. 28.246, F.S., to direct the clerks of court to offer a payment plan to every person who owes money to the clerk and cannot immediately pay. The clerk is responsible for setting the terms of individual plans, although the trial court may review the reasonableness of the plan.

The bill amends s. 28.42, F.S., to require the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation to create a uniform payment plan form. The form must be created by October 1, 2021, and must be used by each clerk starting January 1, 2022. The bill amends traffic and licensing laws at ss. 318.15, 318.20, and 322.45, F.S., to require notice of the availability of payment plans through the clerk of court. The notice must be included with a notice of suspension of a license and must be appended to a citation.

The bill amends s. 28.246, F.S., to require that an individual released from incarceration contact the clerk within 30 days after release to either pay the outstanding fines and fees in full or set up a payment plan.

The bill amends the criminal fine statute at s. 775.083, F.S., to add that the clerk of the court is the entity that collects fines, fees, service charges, and court costs. This reflects current law. The bill also adds the requirement that an offender must contact the clerk to pay, or set up a payment plan, upon assessment by the court.

The portions of the bill related to budgeting and financial matters of the clerks of court are effective upon becoming law, the remainder of the bill is effective October 1, 2021.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

The bill does not require counties or municipalities to spend funds or limit their authority to raise revenue or receive state-shared revenues as specified in Art. VII, s. 18 of the Florida Constitution.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. State Tax or Fee Increases:

None.

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

None identified.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

On March 5th, 2021, the Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR), Revenue Estimating Impact Conference (REC) evaluated SB 838 and its companion HB 903. The conference adopted a positive indeterminate impact for various state and local trust funds, the General Revenue Fund, Clerks of Court Trust Fund, and Clerk's Fine and Forfeiture Funds as it relates to the bill's changes to payment plans.⁴⁷

Currently, if the Article V Estimating Conference forecasts that revenue will exceed the clerks' total budget, 50 percent of the surplus is transferred to General Revenue and the clerks retain the other 50 percent up to a maximum of $20 million. This procedure is set to expire at the end of County Fiscal Year (CFY) 2021-22 after which time, 100 percent of any surplus revenue will be transferred to the General Revenue Fund. Because the bill permanently codifies the existing revenue split, if clerk revenues surpass the total clerks' budget, the REC estimates there will be an indeterminate negative impact to the General Revenue Fund and a positive indeterminate impact to the clerks.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 28.246, 28.35, 28.36, 28.37, 28.42, 318.15, 318.20, 322.245, and 775.083.

IX. Additional Information:

- A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:
(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

Recommended CS/CS by Appropriations Subcommittee on Criminal and Civil Justice on March 17, 2021:

The committee substitute removed provisions modifying the duties of the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation with respect to the funding of clerks' offices.

CS by Judiciary on March 9, 2021:

The committee substitute removed a provision that would have allowed a clerk of court to request a budget increase due to requirements of the courts, changed the effective date of portions of the bill other than clerk budgeting to October 1, 2021, and made technical corrections and clarifications.

Section 1. Effective upon this act becoming a law, paragraph (i) of subsection (5) of section 27.52, Florida
Statutes, is amended to read:

27.52 Determination of indigent status.—

(5) INDIGENT FOR COSTS.—A person who is eligible to be represented by a public defender under s. 27.51 but who is

187280

11 represented by private counsel not appointed by the court for a
12 reasonable fee as approved by the court or on a pro bono basis,
13 or who is proceeding pro se, may move the court for a
14 determination that he or she is indigent for costs and eligible
15 for the provision of due process services, as prescribed by ss.
16 29.006 and 29.007, funded by the state.

17 (i) A defendant who is found guilty of a criminal act by a
18 court or jury or enters a plea of guilty or nolo contendere and 19 who received due process services after being found indigent for 20 costs under this subsection is liable for payment of due process
21 costs expended by the state.

22 1. The attorney representing the defendant, or the 23 defendant if he or she is proceeding pro se, shall provide an

480 funds for court-related functions" means undisbursed funds
481 included in the clerks of the courts budgets for court-related
482 functions established pursuant to this section and s. 28.36.

483 (3) (a) The list of court-related functions that clerks may

494 the court to carry out these court-related functions.

495 Section 8. Effective upon this act becoming a law, present
496 subsections (3) and (4) of section 28.36, Florida Statutes, are 497 redesignated as subsections (4) and (5), respectively, a new 498 subsection (3) is added to that section, and subsection (1), 499 paragraph (b) of subsection (2), and present subsection (4) of 500 that section are amended, to read:

501 28.36 Budget procedure.—There is established a budget
502 procedure for the court-related functions of the clerks of the 503 court.

187280

504 (1) Only those functions listed in s. 28.35(3)(a) may be
505 funded from fees, service charges, court costs, and fines
506 retained by the clerks of the court.

507 (2) Each proposed budget shall further conform to the
508 following requirements:

509 (b) The proposed budget must be balanced such that the 510 total of the estimated revenues available equals or exceeds the 511 total of the anticipated expenditures. Such revenues include
512 revenue projected to be received from fees, service charges,
513 court costs, and fines for court-related functions during the 514 fiscal period covered by the budget, plus the total of unspent
515 budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by 516 the clerk of the court from the previous county fiscal year and 517 plus the portion of the balance of funds remaining in the Clerks
518 of the Court Trust Fund after the transfer of funds to the 519 General Revenue Fund required pursuant to s. 28.37(4)(b) ~~or~~ 520 ~~28.37(3)(b)~~ which has been allocated to each respective clerk of 521 the court by the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation.
522 For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "unspent budgeted
523 funds for court-related functions" means undisbursed funds
524 included in the clerk of the courts' budget for court related
525 functions established pursuant to s. 28.35 and this section. The 526 anticipated expenditures must be itemized as required by the
527 corporation.

528 (3)(a) The Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation
529 shall establish and manage a reserve for contingencies within
530 the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund which must consist of an
531 amount not to exceed 16 percent of the total budget authority
532 for the clerks of court during the current county fiscal year,

187280

533 to be carried forward at the end of the fiscal year. Funds to be 534 held in reserve include transfers of cumulative excess, as
535 provided in s. 28.37(4)(b), from the Clerks of the Court Trust
536 Fund and may also include revenues provided by law or moneys
537 appropriated by the Legislature.

538 (b) The corporation shall provide a reporting of the 539 balance and use of these funds during each county fiscal year as 540 part of the corporation's annual report submitted under s.
541 28.35(2)(h).

542 (c) The corporation may use the reserve to ensure the 543 clerks of court can perform the court-related functions as
544 provided in s. 28.35(3)(a). Moneys in the Clerks of the Court
545 Trust Fund which are held in reserve may be used by the 546 corporation under the following circumstances:

547 1. To offset a current deficit between the revenue
548 available and the original budget authority. A deficit is deemed
549 to occur when the revenue available to the clerks of court falls
550 below the original revenue projection for that county fiscal 551 year.

552 2. To provide funding for an emergency, as defined in s.
553 252.34(4). The emergency must have been declared by the
554 Governor, pursuant to s. 252.36, or otherwise declared by law.

555 3. To provide funds in the development of the total
556 aggregate budget of the clerks of court to ensure that a minimum
557 continuation budget is met. For purposes of this subparagraph, a
558 minimum continuation budget is the budget approved for the 559 current county fiscal year or some lesser amount adopted by the
560 corporation.

561 (d) To use the reserve, the corporation must request a

187280

562 budget amendment pursuant to s. 216.292.

563 (5)-(4) The corporation may approve increases or decreases
564 to the previously authorized budgets approved for individual
565 clerks of the court pursuant to s. 28.35 for court-related
566 functions, if:

567 (a) The additional budget authority is necessary to pay the 568 cost of performing new or additional functions required by 569 changes in law or court rule; or

570 (b) The additional budget authority is necessary to pay the 571 cost of supporting increases in the number of judges or 572 magistrates authorized by the Legislature, or for increases in 573 the use of hearing officers and senior judges assigned by the 574 courts.

575 Section 9. Effective upon this act becoming a law, section
576 28.37, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

577 28.37 Fines, fees, service charges, and costs remitted to
578 the state.—

585 from state revenues as appropriated by the Legislature.

586 (2) As used in this section, the term:

587 (a) "Cumulative excess" means revenues derived from fines,
588 fees, service charges, and court costs collected by the clerks
589 of the court which are greater than the original revenue
590 projection.

591 (b) "Original revenue projection" means the official
592 estimate, as determined by the Revenue Estimating Conference, of 593 revenues from fines, fees, service charges, and court costs
594 available for court-related functions for the county fiscal year
595 covered by the projection.

596 (3) The ~~Beginning November 1, 2013,~~ that portion of all

617 (b) No later than February 1, 2022, and each February 1
618 thereafter, the Department of Revenue shall transfer 50 percent 619 of the cumulative excess of the original revenue projection from

187280

620 the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund to the General Revenue Fund.
621 The remaining 50 percent in the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund
622 may be used in the development of the total combined budgets of 623 the clerks of the court as provided in s. 28.35(2)(f)6. However, 624 a minimum of 10 percent of the clerk-retained portion of the 625 cumulative excess amount must be held in reserve until such 626 funds reach an amount equal to at least 16 percent of the total
627 budget authority from the current county fiscal year, as

669 Department of Revenue. The clerk of the court shall remit the 670 amount due no later than the 10th day of the month following the 671 month in which notice is provided by the corporation to the 672 clerk of the court.

673 ~~(6)~~(5) Ten percent of all court-related fines collected by

832 recording. A person acquiring an interest in the property after 833 the tax deed application notice has been recorded is deemed to 834 be on notice of the pending tax deed sale, and no additional
835 notice is required. The sale of the property automatically
836 releases any recorded notice of tax deed application for that
837 property. If the property is redeemed, the clerk must record a
838 release of the notice of tax deed application upon payment of 839 the fees as authorized in s. 28.24(9) and (13) ~~s. 28.24(8) and~~

849 addresses at the time of the filing of the application, the 850 clerk shall send a copy of the notice referred to in s. 197.522
851 to anyone to whom the certificateholder may request him or her

187280

852 to send it, and the clerk shall include in such notice the 853 statement required in s. 197.522. The certificateholder shall
854 pay the clerk the service charges as prescribed in s. 28.24(6)
855 ~~s. 28.24(5)~~ for preparing and mailing each copy of notice
856 requested by the holder. When the charges are made, they shall 857 be added by the clerk to the amount required to redeem the land
858 from sale.

859 Section 17. Effective upon this act becoming a law,
860 subsection (3) and paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (4) of 861 section 197.542, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

862 197.542 Sale at public auction.—

863 (3) If the sale is canceled for any reason or the buyer
864 fails to make full payment within the time required, the clerk
865 shall readvertise the sale within 30 days after the buyer's
866 nonpayment or, if canceled, within 30 days after the clerk
867 receives the costs of resale. The sale shall be held within 30
868 days after readvertising. Only one advertisement is necessary.
869 The amount of the opening bid shall be increased by the cost of 870 advertising, additional clerk's fees as provided for in s.
871 28.24(22) ~~s. 28.24(21)~~, and interest as provided for in
872 subsection (1). If, at the subsequent sale, there are no bidders
873 at the tax deed sale and the certificateholder fails to pay the 874 moneys due within 30 days after the sale, the clerk may not
875 readvertise the sale and shall place the property on a list
876 entitled "lands available for taxes." The clerk must receive
877 full payment before the issuance of the tax deed.

878 (4) (a) A clerk may conduct electronic tax deed sales in
879 lieu of public outcry. The clerk must comply with the procedures
880 provided in this chapter, except that electronic proxy bidding

187280

881 shall be allowed and the clerk may require bidders to advance
882 sufficient funds to pay the deposit required by subsection (2).
883 The clerk shall provide access to the electronic sale by
884 computer terminals open to the public at a designated location.
885 A clerk who conducts such electronic sales may receive
886 electronic deposits and payments related to the sale. The 887 portion of an advance deposit from a winning bidder required by 888 subsection (2) shall, upon acceptance of the winning bid, be
889 subject to the fee under s. 28.24(11) ~~s. 28.24(10)~~.

890 (b) This subsection does not restrict or limit the 891 authority of a charter county to conduct electronic tax deed
892 sales. In a charter county where the clerk of the circuit court
893 does not conduct all electronic sales, the charter county shall 894 be permitted to receive electronic deposits and payments related
895 to sales it conducts, as well as to subject the winning bidder

466 below the original revenue projection for that county fiscal 467 year.

472 aggregate budget of the clerks of court to ensure that a minimum
473 continuation budget is met. For purposes of this subparagraph, a 474 minimum continuation budget is the budget approved for the

212474

475 current county fiscal year or some lesser amount adopted by the
476 corporation.

779 Section 14. Effective July 1, 2021, paragraph (i) of 780 subsection (5) of section 27.52, Florida Statutes, is amended to 781 read:

782 27.52 Determination of indigent status.—

783 (5) INDIGENT FOR COSTS.—A person who is eligible to be
784 represented by a public defender under s. 27.51 but who is
785 represented by private counsel not appointed by the court for a
786 reasonable fee as approved by the court or on a pro bono basis,
787 or who is proceeding pro se, may move the court for a

801 2. The court shall issue an order determining the amount of 802 all costs paid by the state and any costs for which prepayment
803 was waived under this section or s. 57.081. The clerk shall 804 cause a certified copy of the order to be recorded in the 805 official records of the county, at no cost. The recording
806 constitutes a lien against the person in favor of the state in 807 the county in which the order is recorded. The lien may be 808 enforced in the same manner prescribed in s. 938.29.

809 3. If the attorney or the pro se defendant fails to provide

825 office of the clerk and the judiciary, increase timeliness in 826 the processing of cases, and provide the judiciary with case-
827 related information to allow for improved judicial case
828 management. The Legislature requests that the Supreme Court set 829 statewide standards for electronic filing to be used by the 830 clerks of court to implement electronic filing. The standards
831 should specify the required information for the duties of the 832 clerks of court and the judiciary for case management. Revenues
833 provided to counties and the clerk of court under s.

834 28.24(13)(e) ~~s. 28.24(12)(e)~~ for information technology may also 861 law.

862
863 To offset processing costs, clerks may impose either a per-month
864 service charge pursuant to s. 28.24(27)(b) ~~s. 28.24(26)(b)~~ or a

873 45.031-45.033 ~~ss. 45.031-45.034~~ and this section:

874 (1) The clerk shall receive a service charge of $70, from 875 which the clerk shall remit $10 to the Department of Revenue for 876 deposit into the General Revenue Fund, for services in making,
877 recording, and certifying the sale and title, which service
878 charge shall be assessed as costs and shall be advanced by the 879 plaintiff before the sale.

880 (2) If there is a surplus resulting from the sale, the 212474

881 clerk may receive the following service charges, which shall be 882 deducted from the surplus:

883 (a) The clerk may withhold the sum of $28 from the surplus

897 the fee under s. 28.24(11) ~~s. 28.24(10)~~. The portion of an 898 advance deposit from a winning bidder required by s. 45.031(3)
899 shall, upon acceptance of the winning bid, be subject to the fee
900 under s. 28.24(11) ~~s. 28.24(10)~~.

901 Section 18. Effective July 1, 2021, subsection (2) of 902 section 55.141, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

920 amount, calculated based upon all fees and all anticipated
921 costs, is presumed to correspond to the person's ability to pay
922 if it does not exceed 2 percent of the person's annual net
923 income, as defined in subsection (1), divided by 12. The person
924 may seek review of the clerk's decisions regarding a payment
925 plan established under s. 28.246 in the court having 926 jurisdiction over the matter. A case may not be impeded in any 927 way, delayed in filing, or delayed in its progress, including 928 the final hearing and order, due to nonpayment of any fees or 929 costs by an indigent person. Filing fees waived from payment
930 under s. 57.081 may not be included in the calculation related 931 to a payment plan established under this section.

932 Section 20. Effective July 1, 2021, paragraph (c) of 933 subsection (5) of section 197.502, Florida Statutes, is amended

940 application in the official records, which constitutes notice of 941 the pendency of a tax deed application with respect to the 942 property and remains effective for 1 year from the date of 943 recording. A person acquiring an interest in the property after 944 the tax deed application notice has been recorded is deemed to 945 be on notice of the pending tax deed sale, and no additional
946 notice is required. The sale of the property automatically
947 releases any recorded notice of tax deed application for that
948 property. If the property is redeemed, the clerk must record a
949 release of the notice of tax deed application upon payment of 950 the fees as authorized in s. 28.24(9) and (13) ~~s. 28.24(8) and~~

961 clerk shall send a copy of the notice referred to in s. 197.522
962 to anyone to whom the certificateholder may request him or her
963 to send it, and the clerk shall include in such notice the 964 statement required in s. 197.522. The certificateholder shall
965 pay the clerk the service charges as prescribed in s. 28.24(6)
966 ~~s. 28.24(5)~~ for preparing and mailing each copy of notice
967 requested by the holder. When the charges are made, they shall

212474

968 be added by the clerk to the amount required to redeem the land
969 from sale.

970 Section 22. Effective July 1, 2021, subsection (3) and 971 paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (4) of section 197.542,
972 Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

973 197.542 Sale at public auction.—

974 (3) If the sale is canceled for any reason or the buyer
975 fails to make full payment within the time required, the clerk
976 shall readvertise the sale within 30 days after the buyer's
977 nonpayment or, if canceled, within 30 days after the clerk
978 receives the costs of resale. The sale shall be held within 30
979 days after readvertising. Only one advertisement is necessary.
980 The amount of the opening bid shall be increased by the cost of 981 advertising, additional clerk's fees as provided for in s.

983 subsection (1). If, at the subsequent sale, there are no bidders
984 at the tax deed sale and the certificateholder fails to pay the 985 moneys due within 30 days after the sale, the clerk may not
986 readvertise the sale and shall place the property on a list
987 entitled "lands available for taxes." The clerk must receive
988 full payment before the issuance of the tax deed.

989 (4) (a) A clerk may conduct electronic tax deed sales in
990 lieu of public outcry. The clerk must comply with the procedures
991 provided in this chapter, except that electronic proxy bidding
992 shall be allowed and the clerk may require bidders to advance
993 sufficient funds to pay the deposit required by subsection (2).
994 The clerk shall provide access to the electronic sale by
995 computer terminals open to the public at a designated location.
996 A clerk who conducts such electronic sales may receive

212474

997 electronic deposits and payments related to the sale. The 998 portion of an advance deposit from a winning bidder required by 999 subsection (2) shall, upon acceptance of the winning bid, be
1000 subject to the fee under s. 28.24(11) ~~s. 28.24(10)~~.

1003 sales. In a charter county where the clerk of the circuit court
1004 does not conduct all electronic sales, the charter county shall
1005 be permitted to receive electronic deposits and payments related
1006 to sales it conducts, as well as to subject the winning bidder

57 days after release to pay fees, service charges, court costs,
58 and fines in full, or to apply for enrollment in a payment plan.

59 A monthly payment amount, calculated based upon all fees and all 60 anticipated fees, service charges, court costs, and fines, is 61 presumed to correspond to the person's ability to pay if the 62 amount does not exceed 2 percent of the person's annual net
63 income, as defined in s. 27.52(1), divided by 12. The clerk
64 shall establish all terms of a payment plan and the court may 65 review the reasonableness of the payment plan.

66 Section 2. Effective upon this act becoming a law,
67 paragraph (f) of subsection (2) and paragraph (a) of subsection

77 court-related expenditures as determined by the most recent 78 Revenue Estimating Conference, plus the total of unspent
79 budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by 80 the clerks of the court from the previous county fiscal year,

91 each clerk of the court to efficiently perform the list of 92 court-related functions specified in paragraph (3)(a). The 93 corporation shall apply the workload measures appropriate for 94 determining the individual level of review required to fund the 95 clerk's budget.

97 of the court, based on county population and numbers of filings,
98 using the standard list of court-related functions specified in 99 paragraph (3)(a).

100 3. Conduct an annual base budget review and an annual 101 budget exercise examining the total budget of each clerk of the 102 court. The review shall examine revenues from all sources,
103 expenses of court-related functions, and expenses of noncourt-
104 related functions as necessary to determine that court-related 105 revenues are not being used for noncourt-related purposes. The 106 review and exercise shall identify potential targeted budget
107 reductions in the percentage amount provided in Schedule VIII-B
108 of the state's previous year's legislative budget instructions,
109 as referenced in s. 216.023(3), or an equivalent schedule or 110 instruction as may be adopted by the Legislature.

112 items not included on the standard list of court-related
113 functions specified in paragraph (3)(a).

114 5. Identify those clerks projected to have court-related

576-03013-21

115 revenues insufficient to fund their anticipated court-related 116 expenditures.

117 6. Use revenue estimates based on the official estimate for 118 funds from fees, service charges, court costs, and fines for
119 court-related functions accruing to the clerks of the court made
120 by the Revenue Estimating Conference, as well as any unspent
121 budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by 122 the clerks of the court from the previous county fiscal year and
123 the balance of funds remaining in the Clerks of the Court Trust
124 Fund after the transfer of funds to the General Revenue Fund
125 required pursuant to s. 28.37(4)(b), plus any appropriations for 126 the purpose of funding court-related functions ~~s. 28.37(3)(b)~~.

127 7. Identify pay and benefit increases in any proposed clerk
128 budget, including, but not limited to, cost of living increases,
129 merit increases, and bonuses.

130 8. Identify increases in anticipated expenditures in any
131 clerk budget that exceeds the current year budget by more than 3
132 percent.

133 9. Identify the budget of any clerk which exceeds the 134 average budget of similarly situated clerks by more than 10
135 percent.

136
137 For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "unspent budgeted
138 funds for court-related functions" means undisbursed funds
139 included in the clerks of the courts budgets for court-related
140 functions established pursuant to this section and s. 28.36.

141 (3)(a) The list of court-related functions that clerks may
142 fund from filing fees, service charges, court costs, and fines
143 is limited to those functions expressly authorized by law or

576-03013-21

144 court rule. Those functions include the following: case
145 maintenance; records management; court preparation and 146 attendance; processing the assignment, reopening, and
147 reassignment of cases; processing of appeals; collection and
148 distribution of fines, fees, service charges, and court costs;
149 processing of bond forfeiture payments; data collection and
150 reporting; determinations of indigent status; and paying
151 reasonable administrative support costs to enable the clerk of 152 the court to carry out these court-related functions.

153 Section 3. Effective upon this act becoming a law, present
154 subsections (3) and (4) of section 28.36, Florida Statutes, are 155 redesignated as subsections (4) and (5), a new subsection (3) is 156 added to that section, and subsection (1), paragraph (b) of 157 subsection (2), and present subsection (4) of that section are 158 amended, to read:

159 28.36 Budget procedure.—There is established a budget
160 procedure for the court-related functions of the clerks of the 161 court.

162 (1) Only those functions listed in s. 28.35(3)(a) may be
163 funded from fees, service charges, court costs, and fines
164 retained by the clerks of the court.

165 (2) Each proposed budget shall further conform to the 166 following requirements:

167 (b) The proposed budget must be balanced such that the 168 total of the estimated revenues available equals or exceeds the 169 total of the anticipated expenditures. Such revenues include
170 revenue projected to be received from fees, service charges,
171 court costs, and fines for court-related functions during the 172 fiscal period covered by the budget, plus the total of unspent

412016

576-03013-21

173 budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by
174 the clerk of the court from the previous county fiscal year and
175 plus the portion of the balance of funds remaining in the Clerks
176 of the Court Trust Fund after the transfer of funds to the
177 General Revenue Fund required pursuant to s. 28.37(4)(b) ~~s.~~
178 ~~28.37(3)(b)~~ which has been allocated to each respective clerk of 179 the court by the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation.
180 For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "unspent budgeted
181 funds for court-related functions" means undisbursed funds
182 included in the clerk of the courts' budget for court related
183 functions established pursuant to s. 28.35 and this section. The 184 anticipated expenditures must be itemized as required by the
185 corporation.

186 (3)(a) The Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation
187 shall establish and manage a reserve for contingencies within 188 the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund which must consist of an
189 amount not to exceed 16 percent of the total budget authority
190 for the clerks of court during the current county fiscal year,
191 to be carried forward at the end of the fiscal year. Funds to be 192 held in reserve include transfers of cumulative excess, as
193 provided in s. 28.37(4)(b), from the Clerks of the Court Trust
194 Fund and may also include revenues provided by law or moneys
195 appropriated by the Legislature.

196 (b) The corporation shall provide a reporting of the 197 balance and use of these funds during each county fiscal year as 198 part of the corporation's annual report submitted under s.
199 28.35(2)(h).

200 (c) The corporation may use the reserve to ensure the 201 clerks of court can perform the court-related functions as

412016

576-03013-21

202 provided in s. 28.35(3)(a). Moneys in the Clerks of the Court
203 Trust Fund which are held in reserve may be used by the
204 corporation under the following circumstances:

205 1. To offset a current deficit between the revenue
206 available and the original budget authority. A deficit is deemed
207 to occur when the revenue available to the clerks of court falls
208 below the original revenue projection for that county fiscal 209 year.

210 2. To provide funding for an emergency, as defined in s.
211 252.34(4). The emergency must have been declared by the
212 Governor, pursuant to s. 252.36, or otherwise declared by law.

213 3. To provide funds in the development of the total
214 aggregate budget of the clerks of court to ensure that a minimum
215 continuation budget is met. For purposes of this subparagraph, a
216 minimum continuation budget is the budget approved for the 217 current county fiscal year or some lesser amount adopted by the 218 corporation.

219 (d) To use the reserve, the corporation must request a
220 budget amendment pursuant to s. 216.292.

221 (5)(4) The corporation may approve increases or decreases
222 to the previously authorized budgets approved for individual
223 clerks of the court pursuant to s. 28.35 for court-related
224 functions, if:

225 (a) The additional budget authority is necessary to pay the 226 cost of performing new or additional functions required by
227 changes in law or court rule; or

228 (b) The additional budget authority is necessary to pay the 229 cost of supporting increases in the number of judges or 230 magistrates authorized by the Legislature, or for increases in

576-03013-21

231 the use of hearing officers and senior judges assigned by the 232 courts.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 838 amends laws related to the funding of the clerks of court to:

- Require the Clerk of Courts Operations Corporation to establish and maintain a budget reserve of up to 16 percent of the budget from the previous year;
- Specify that portions of certain service charges collected by a clerk of court that are required to be transferred to the General Revenue Fund only apply for performing services related to a “court record”;
- Revise the appellate filing fee for an appeal from county court to circuit court by eliminating the requirement that $20 of the $100 fee be transferred to the General Revenue Fund; and
- Revise the procedure for clerks of the circuit court to receive payments for management of the jury process for the court system.

The bill amends laws related to monies owed to a clerk of court to:

- Specify that fines, costs, service charges, and court costs are due immediately upon assessment.
- Require a person owing monies to the clerk who cannot immediately pay to contact the clerk and set up a payment plan.
- Require an offender to contact the clerk within 30 days after release from incarceration to arrange for payment of any outstanding court obligations.
- Require creation of a statewide uniform payment plan form for monies owed to a clerk.

- Require notice of the availability of payment plans to individuals receiving a traffic infraction or a notice of suspension of driving privilege.

On March 5, 2021, the Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR), Revenue Estimating Impact Conference (REC) adopted a positive indeterminate impact for various state and local funds related to the bill's changes to payment plans. Additionally, the REC estimates an out-year negative indeterminate impact to the General Revenue Fund and a positive indeterminate impact to the clerks under certain circumstances. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement.

For the sections relating to the clerks' budget process changes, the effective date is upon becoming law. For the sections relating to the payment of juror costs, service charges, and correcting service charge cross-references, the bill is effective July 1, 2021. For the sections pertaining to payment plans, the bill's effective date is October 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Clerk of the Circuit Court

The clerk of the circuit court is a constitutional officer. Each of Florida's 67 counties are required to elect a clerk of the circuit court¹ to serve as both the clerk of court, completing judiciary functions, and as the "ex officio"² clerk of the board of county commissioners, auditor, recorder, and custodian of all county funds."³ In other words, the clerk of the circuit court wears approximately five hats. In wearing the auditor and custodian of county funds hats, the clerk may also be referred to as the comptroller.⁴

Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation

The Legislature created the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation (CCOC) in 2003. It is a public corporation organized to perform the specific functions assigned in ss. 28.35, 28.36, and 28.37, F.S., which outline the CCOC's duties, the clerks' budget procedure for court-related functions, and how fines, fees, service charges, and costs are to be remitted to the state. All clerks of the circuit court are members and hold their position and authority as ex officio members. The responsibilities assigned to the Corporation are performed by an executive council composed of eight clerks from various size populations and three ex officio members designated by the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.⁵

² See BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY (10th ed. 2014) ("ex officio" means "By virtue or because of an office; by virtue of the authority implied by office.")

³ FLA. CONST. art. V, s. 16. This provision also provides that two officials may split the position, one serving as clerk of court and one serving in the ex officio position. Additionally, this provision permits the election of a county clerk of court when authorized by general or special law. Id.

See also BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY (10th ed. 2014) ("comptroller" means "An officer of a business or a private, state, or municipal corporation who is charged with duties usu. relating to fiscal affairs, including auditing and examining accounts and reporting the financial status periodically.")

⁵ Section 28.35(1), F.S

In general terms, the CCOC was created to provide professional budget support to the 67 clerks of court and ensure that resources are fairly and equitably distributed for the operation of the courts.⁶ The CCOC's duties include, but are not limited to:

- Recommending to the Legislature changes in the amounts of various court-related fines, fees, service charges, and costs that are established in law to ensure that the clerks have reasonable and adequate funding to perform their court-related functions.
- Developing and certifying a uniform system of workload measures and workload standards for court-related functions.
- Entering into a contract with the Department of Financial Services for the department to audit the court-related expenditures of individual clerks.
- Approving the proposed budgets submitted by clerks.⁷

When approving the clerks' proposed budgets, the CCOC must ensure that the total combined budgets of the clerks do not exceed:

- The total estimated revenues from fees, service charges, costs, and fines for court-related functions that are available for court-related expenditures (as determined by the most recent Revenue Estimating Conference);
- The total of unspent budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by the clerks from the previous county fiscal year; and
- The balance of funds remaining in the Clerks of Court Trust Fund after funds are transferred to the General Revenue Fund as required by law.

Clerks of the Court Trust Fund

The Legislature created the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund in 2001⁸ within the Department of Revenue (DOR). The Trust Fund was transferred to the JAC in 2009 when the clerks' budget was placed in the state budget process. The Trust Fund was transferred back to the DOR in 2013 when the clerks' budget was removed from the General Appropriations Act (GAA). The Trust Fund exists as a one sentence item in the statutes with no mention of a purpose.

According to the CCOC, the Trust Fund is used as a repository for funds from counties that have a projected revenue surplus. Section 28.37(2), F.S., provides that, since November 1, 2013, all fines, fees, service charges, and costs that are collected by the clerks for the previous month which exceed one-twelfth of the clerks' total budget for performing court-related functions must be remitted to DOR for deposit into the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund. Those funds are distributed by DOR to clerks in counties that have a projected revenue deficit. The CCOC also uses the Trust Fund to annually reconcile the clerks' expenditures. In the reconciliation process at the end of the year, a clerk's total revenues are compared to total expenditures. Some clerks will receive additional money to meet expenses, and other clerks will be required to return money because he or she had a surplus of revenue after covering expenses.

Additionally, during the 2019 legislative session, s. 28.37, F.S., was amended to require:

⁶ Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation, Welcome to Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation (CCOC), available at <https://flccoc.org/>.

⁷ Section 28.35(2)(c), (d), (e), and (f), F.S.

⁸ Section 213.131, F.S.

- No later than February 1, 2020, the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs exceeding $10 million be transferred to the General Revenue Fund;
- No later than February 1, 2021, and no later than February 1, 2022, not less than 50 percent of the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs be transferred to the General Revenue Fund; provided, however, that the balance remaining in the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund after the transfer may not exceed $20 million; and
- No later than February 1, 2023, and each February 1 thereafter, the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs be transferred to the General Revenue Fund.

Service Charges Collected by a Clerk of Court

Clerks of circuit courts are required to charge for services rendered in recording documents and instruments.⁹ Section 28.24, F.S., specifies the maximum amount a clerk may charge for these services. Some services described in s. 28.24, F.S., are “court-related” functions, while other services are “county-related” functions performed by the clerk in its capacity as County Recorder,¹⁰ such as providing certified copies of official county records. Some functions described in s. 28.24, F.S., can be either court-related or county-related functions, depending on the type of document or service requested. For example, s. 28.24(3), F.S., describes a charge for certifying copies of any instrument in the public records. If the requested record is a court filing, the clerk’s providing of certified copies of this record is a court-related function, while if the requested record is in the Official Records, the clerk’s providing of certified copies of this record is a county-related function.

Appellate Filing Fees

Prior to 2008, s. 28.241(2), F.S., required court clerks to collect a $250 filing fee for appeals from the county to circuit courts and a $50 filing fee for appeals from the circuit court to the district court of appeal (DCA) or the Supreme Court.¹¹ Clerks were required to remit $50 of these fees to the DOR for deposit into the General Revenue Fund.¹² Therefore, the clerks were able to retain $200 of the fees for appeals from county to circuit courts, but none of the fees from appeals from circuit courts to the DCAs or the Supreme Court.¹³

In 2008, the Legislature amended s. 28.241(2), F.S., increasing the filing fee for appeals from the county to the circuit courts from $250 to $280 and increasing the fee for appeals from the circuit courts to the DCAs or Supreme Court from $50 to $100.¹⁴ The amendment required the clerks to remit $80 from both fees to the DOR for deposit in the General Revenue Fund, and to remit one-third of the fees collected in excess of $80 to the DOR for deposit into the Clerks of Court Trust Fund.¹⁵ Thus, the clerks’ retention of the fee for appeal from the county to circuit courts remained at $200, but the clerks were now allowed to retain $20 of the DCA and Supreme Court

appellate fee.¹⁶ But the 2008 amendments included a provision stating that the Florida Court Clerks of Court Operations Corporation (CCOC) could not approve increases in court clerks' budgets based on increased revenue generated by the amendments.¹⁷ As a result, the new money collected in excess of the $80 filing fee, i.e. the $20 retained from the fees for appeals to the DCAs or Supreme Court, sent to the DOR for deposit in the Clerks of Court Trust Fund, could not be used for court clerks' budgets. Thus, all of the $100 fee for appeals from the circuit courts to the DCAs or Supreme Court was deposited in the General Revenue Fund.¹⁸

In 2017, the Legislature again amended s. 28.241(2), F.S., removing the requirement that clerks remit $80 of the appellate filing fees to the DOR for deposit in the General Revenue Fund.¹⁹ But the provision barring the clerks' use of revenue generated by the 2008 fee increases remained intact, and the clerks continued remitting $20 of the $100 DCA and Supreme Court appellate fee to the DOR for deposit in the General Revenue Fund. Thus, after the 2017 amendments, the clerks were able to retain all of the $280 fee for appeals from the county to the circuit courts, and retain $80 of the $100 fee for appeals from the circuit courts to the DCAs or Supreme Court.²⁰

When the Legislature amended s. 28.241(2), F.S., in 2019, the clerks were required to remit $20 from the $280 filing fee for appeals from the county court to the circuit courts to the DOR for deposit into the General Revenue Fund.²¹ The 2019 amendments to s. 28.241, F.S., were "remedial and clarifying in nature" and applied retroactively to July 1, 2008.²²

Effective January 1, 2021, most appeals from the county court are filed in the district court of appeal, rather than with the circuit court.²³

Funding for the Clerks' Court-Related Functions

In its capacity as the clerk of the circuit and county courts, the clerk is required to perform various court-related, administrative and ministerial functions. Any court-related function authorized by law or court rule must be funded by the clerk's collection of filing fees, service charges, costs, and fines, including all of the following:

- Case maintenance.
- Records management.
- Court preparation and attendance.
- Processing the assignment, reopening, and reassignment of cases.
- Processing appeals.
- Collection and distribution of fines, fees, service charges, and court costs.
- Data collection and reporting.
- Determinations of indigent status.

Court funding is governed by Art. V, s. 14 of the Florida Constitution. For the clerks of the circuit courts, Art. V, s. 14(b) provides that the clerks are self-sustaining and fund their court-related functions through the collection of filing fees, service charges, and other costs. Specifically, Art. V, s. 14(b) states:

(b) All funding for the offices of the clerks of the circuit and county courts performing court-related functions, except as otherwise provided in this subsection and subsection (c), shall be provided by adequate and appropriate filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions as required by general law. Selected salaries, costs, and expenses of the state courts system may be funded from appropriate filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions, as provided by general law. Where the requirements of either the United States Constitution or the Constitution of the State of Florida preclude the imposition of filing fees for judicial proceedings and service charges and costs for performing court-related functions sufficient to fund the court-related functions of the offices of the clerks of the circuit and county courts, the state shall provide, as determined by the Legislature, adequate and appropriate supplemental funding from state revenues appropriated by general law.²⁵

County Funding Referenced in Article V, Section 14(c)

As referenced above, Art. V, s. 14(c) of the Florida Constitution states that while funding for the state courts system, including the clerks of court, will not be required by a county or municipality, the counties are responsible to fund certain types of court infrastructure and maintenance, including “the cost of communications services, existing radio systems, existing multi-agency criminal justice information systems and the cost of construction or lease, maintenance, utilities, and security of facilities for . . . the offices of the clerks of the circuit and county courts performing court-related functions.”²⁶ Additionally, counties pay “reasonable and necessary salaries, costs, and expenses of the state courts system to meet local requirements as determined by general law.”²⁷

No-Fee Court Functions

Additionally, as referenced above, there are certain categories of cases and certain types of filings for which the clerks of court cannot charge a filing fee and possibly other service charges or other costs. These types of cases and filings include the following:

²⁶ FLA. CONST. art. V, s. 14(c).

²⁷ Id. Additionally, Art. V, s. 14(a) provides that funding for state court systems as well as state attorney’s offices, public defender’s offices, and court-appointed counsel will generally be paid from “state revenues appropriated by general law; and section 14(d) clarifies that the court system has no appropriations authority.

- Various services and filings for indigent parties to pending litigation.²⁸
- Petitions for Habeas Corpus filed by persons detained as mental health patients.²⁹
- Filing an ex parte order for involuntary examination (Baker Act).³⁰
- Petitions for involuntary inpatient placement for mental health.³¹
- Appellate filing fees for indigent persons determined to be and involuntarily committed as a sexually violent predator.³²
- Petitions for involuntary assessment and stabilization for substance abuse impairment.³³
- Petitions for a risk protection order (Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School Public Safety Act).³⁴

History of the Clerks of Court Funding Model

1998 Article V Revision (“Revision 7”) and Implementing Legislation

Article V, section 14, was amended in 1998 to “substantially and significantly revise[] judicial system funding, greatly reducing funding from local governments and placing the responsibility primarily on the state.”³⁸ The statement of intent accompanying the revision of Art. V, s. 14(b), also known as “Revision 7,” reflects that the proposers intended for the Legislature to adopt procedures: (1) to fund the clerks’ office in the event “filing fees, services charges and costs are insufficient to cover the court-related salaries, costs, and expenses of the offices of the clerks . . . in a given fiscal year”; and (2) for the disposition of excess revenues collected by the clerks’ offices in a given fiscal year.³⁹

Further, the statement of intent clarifies that the purpose for Revision 7 is to require legislative oversight and an independent review of clerk funding and spending practices. The reason for independent oversight is set out as follows:

The drafters of subsection (b) recognize that there currently exists significant disparities among what the various clerks’ offices spend to perform the same functions. The determination by the [L]egislature as to the appropriate level of spending should not entail an acceptance of the current level of spending by the clerks' offices throughout the state to perform court-related functions. Rather, it is the intent of this proposal that the clerks be held accountable and responsible to a cost standard which is independently established by the [L]egislature.⁴⁰

Revision 7's 1998 amendment to Art. V of the Florida Constitution had to be implemented by July 1, 2004.⁴¹ In order to implement the 1998 amendment, the Legislature responded "in stages, beginning with passage of SB 1212 in 2000 (Chapter 200-237, Laws of Florida), followed by additional changes to that law in 2001, and, finally in 2002, through the funding of a study to assist in the final phase of implementation."⁴²

The final stage was implemented during the 2003 legislative session. To provide Revision 7's envisioned oversight, accountability, uniformity, and procedures in funding and budgeting for the clerks of court, the Legislature enacted sections 28.35, 28.36, and 28.37, F.S.⁴³:

- Section 28.35, F.S., created the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation (Corporation),⁴⁴ which is responsible to provide accountability, procedural review, and oversight to the clerks of court budgeting process throughout the state.
- Section 28.36, F.S., established budget review and approval procedures of individual clerk of court budgets by the Corporation.
- Section 28.37, F.S., ensures that a portion of certain fines, fees, service charges, and costs collected by the clerks of court are remitted to the state to fund other court-related salaries, costs, and expenses.

Post-Article V Revision to Clerk Funding: 2004-2008⁴⁵

Between 2004 and 2008, the clerks collected and deposited into their local fine and forfeiture funds revenues from court filing fees, service charges, court costs, and fines assessed in civil and criminal proceedings.⁴⁶ A portion of the revenues in a clerk's fine and forfeiture fund was retained to finance the clerk's operations. However, another portion of these revenues were distributed to the General Revenue Fund or other state trust funds to meet other court-related costs. For example, the clerks were required to remit one-third of all fines, fees, service charges, and costs collected to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Clerk of the Court Trust Fund,⁴⁷ a fund established to assist the clerks in meeting revenue deficits.

Regarding budget planning, the clerks had the discretion to set their individual budgets based on anticipated revenues and expenditures. Each clerk's proposed budget had to be balanced with estimated revenues equaling or exceeding anticipated expenditures, although the budget could include a 10 percent contingency reserve.⁴⁸ If a clerk estimated that available funds plus projected revenues were insufficient to meet anticipated expenditures for court-related functions, that clerk could follow the statutory procedure for receiving funds from the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund to address the deficit.⁴⁹

Each clerk had to submit its proposed budget to the Corporation for review and certification that the individual budget was complete and complied with budget procedures.⁵⁰ Upon review and certification by the Corporation, revenue exceeding the amount needed to fund each budget was deposited in the General Revenue Fund.⁵¹

During this time, the Legislature's involvement in the clerks' budgets was limited. The Legislative Budget Commission (LBC) had the authority to approve increases to the maximum annual budgets approved for individual clerks if the additional funding was necessary to:

- Pay the cost of performing new or additional functions required by changes in law or court rule; or
- Pay the cost of supporting increases in the number of judges or magistrates authorized by the Legislature.⁵²

Clerks in the General Appropriations Act: 2009-2012⁵³

In an effort to gain greater oversight and accountability for the operations and funding of the clerks of court, the Legislature passed Chapter 2009-204, Laws of Fla., which substantially amended the clerks' statutory budget process and procedures. The new law brought the clerks into the state budget and appropriated their funding in the annual General Appropriations Act.

More specifically, the 2009 law required that all revenues received by the clerks from court-related fees, fines, costs, and service charges be remitted to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Clerks of Court Trust Fund within the Justice Administrative Commission (JAC).⁵⁴ The law permitted the clerks, however, to deposit 10 percent of all court-related fines in the Public Records Modernization Trust Fund to be used in addition to state appropriations for operational needs.⁵⁵

By 2009, revenues accruing to the Clerks of Court Trust Fund began to decline due to the downturn in the economy and the reduction in foreclosure filing fees. As a result, the Legislature reinforced the clerks' budgets with additional money from the General Revenue Fund. The 2011 Legislature appropriated $44.2 million from the General Revenue Fund to address FY 2010-2011 revenue deficits, and the 2012 Legislature appropriated $57.6 million to address FY 2011-2012 deficits.

Return to Pre-2009 Funding Model: 2013-2019⁵⁶

In 2013, the Legislature reversed many of the 2009 funding model changes but expanded the oversight and accountability in the clerks' budget process. Chapter 2013-44, Laws of Florida, added the following:

- Monthly accounting: required each clerk to submit all collected revenues exceeding one-twelfth of the clerk's total budget for the prior month to the Department of Revenue for deposit into the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund.
- Annual accounting: required the transfer of revenue exceeding one-twelfth of the clerks' total budget out of the Clerks of Court Trust Fund into the General Revenue Fund each January unless the official estimate by the Revenue Estimating Conference projects a trust fund deficit (based on the current budget) in the current or upcoming fiscal year.
- Corporation audits: directed the Corporation to conduct annual base budget reviews, conduct cost-comparisons of similarly situated clerks, report pay and benefit issues, and provide an explanation of any clerk expenditure increases over 3 percent.⁵⁷
- Corporation budget standards: required the Corporation to use the official Article V Revenue Estimating Conference revenue estimates for the clerks' budget process.⁵⁸

The 2013 law also enhanced the role and responsibilities of the Legislative Budget Commission (LBC) and directed the LBC to review the budgets of the clerks and either: (1) approve, (2) disapprove, or (3) amend and approve the budgets by October 1 of each year.⁵⁹ In 2017, however, the Legislature removed these duties from the LBC to review the clerks' budgets.⁶⁰

Most Recent Changes: 2019 to present

The clerk's budget process was amended again in 2019.⁶¹ In addition to the total estimated revenues from fees, service charges, costs, and fines for court-related functions available for court-related expenditures as determined by the most recent Revenue Estimating Conference, the combined budget for the clerks of court may also include:

- The unspent budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by the clerks of court from the previous county fiscal year; and
- The balance of funds remaining in the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund after the transfer of funds to the General Revenue Fund required pursuant to s. 28.37, F.S.

In 2019, the requirement that the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, service charges, and costs retained by the clerks of court exceeding the amount needed to fund their authorized budgets was transferred to the General Revenue Fund, was changed as follows:

- No later than February 1, 2020, the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs exceeding $10 million will be transferred to the General Revenue Fund.
- No later than February 1, 2021, and no later than February 1, 2022, not less than 50 percent of the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs will be transferred to the General Revenue Fund; provided, however, that the balance remaining in the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund after the transfer may not exceed $20 million.
- No later than February 1, 2023, and each February 1 thereafter, the cumulative excess of all fines, fees, services charges, and costs will be transferred to the General Revenue Fund.

In that same act, the 2019 Legislature was looking ahead to 2022 and included the following language:

Section 32. Before the 2022 Regular Session of the Legislature, the Legislature shall review and consider the results of the analysis submitted pursuant to Specific Appropriation 2754 of the 2019-2020 General Appropriations Act regarding the review of the Clerk of Court Processes for the purpose of considering the extension or reenactment of provisions in this act relating to clerk funding.⁶²

Specific appropriation 2754 reads in relevant part:

From the funds in Specific Appropriation 2754, the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Government Accountability is directed to contract with an independent third party consulting firm to assist with a review of the Clerk of Court processes including collection and compilation of empirical evidence based on observation of a random sample of clerks' offices employees; comparison of clerks' office work patterns to propose efficiency and productivity standards; and assessment and comparison of organizational arrangements and deployment of personnel resources among all clerks' offices. Sample groups must include a broad number of large and small counties and include entities from all areas of the state. The analysis shall be submitted to the chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee and the chair of the House of Representatives Appropriations Committee by November 15, 2019.

The report contains 26 recommendations for operational efficiency and cost savings in five categories.⁶³ It is unknown how many recommendations have been implemented.

Payment Plans

Persons who pay money to the clerk of court for an outstanding fine, penalty, fee, service charge, or court cost are expected to pay in full. Many individuals, however, cannot afford to pay. Section 28.246(4), F.S., authorizes a clerk to accept partial payments and to enter into payment plans with individuals. Monthly payments of no more than 2 percent of the individual's net pay is presumed to be within an individual's ability to pay.⁶⁴

Jury Management

Court clerks' responsibilities include managing the jury process. This includes determining the qualifications of jurors, issuing jury summons, providing selection lists, reporting, and compensating jurors when necessary to prevent financial hardship.⁶⁵ It is estimated that Florida clerks summon almost 2 million jurors annually.⁶⁶

Juror Cost Reimbursement

Under Revision 7 to article V of the Florida Constitution, juror compensation and related expenses were initially a state court system responsibility and paid for with state revenues appropriated by general law.⁶⁷ The 2004 Legislature amended s. 28.35, F.S., to require the clerks to pay the payment to jurors and witnesses as well as juror meals and lodging.⁶⁸ Each clerk prepared quarterly estimates of needed funds for the Office of State Court Administrator (OSCA). Based on these estimates, OSCA approved the payment for each clerk. In 2008, the Legislature amended the law to clarify that the clerks were financially responsible for paying juror meals and lodging as well as juror and witness payments.⁶⁹

In recognition of clerk revenue deficits, the 2016 Legislature passed a provision to reimburse the clerks for juror expenses and jury-related personnel costs during the 2016-2017 fiscal year.⁷⁰ The Legislature also appropriated $11.7 million in recurring general revenue in the General Appropriations Act within the Justice Administrative Commission to support funding these jury expenses.

Budget Procedure for Payment of Jury Costs

The Justice Administration Commission (JAC) is required by s. 40.29(5), F.S., to provide funds to the clerks to compensate jurors, pay for meals or lodging for jurors, and pay jury-related personnel costs. As noted above, since 2016, the Legislature has provided $11.7 million annually from General Revenue to cover the projected costs of managing the jury process.⁷¹ The funds are released quarterly.

The process established in s. 40.29, F.S., for clerks to submit information to the JAC to request funding, has been modified slightly from statute by agreement between the clerks and the CCOC. The process is as follows:

⁶⁴ Using the 2021 Florida minimum wage at full-time employment and subtracting the standard federal payroll deductions, an unmarried individual would pay no more than $26.80 a month on a clerk's payment plan.

⁷¹ For the Fiscal Year 2020-2021 appropriation, see ch. 2020-111, s. 4, Laws of Fla., Specific Appropriation 736).

- Each clerk of the circuit court forwards to the CCOC a quarterly estimate of funds needed to compensate jurors, pay for meals or lodging, and personnel and other costs related to jury management for the upcoming quarter. Each clerk must include a signed and dated certification letter by the 10th of the month immediately before the beginning of the requested quarter.
- The CCOC reviews the quarterly requests and determines a funding allocation for each of the 67 clerks, then forwards the funding estimate to the JAC for its review.
- The JAC reviews the funding estimate for the individual counties, determines that the funds are available for the upcoming quarterly funding allocation from General Revenue, and processes the payment through the Department of Financial Services for pre-imburement payments to each clerk.

Pursuant to s. 40.29(5), F.S., if the JAC believes the amount appropriated by the Legislature is not sufficient to meet the costs for the remainder of the state fiscal year, the JAC may apportion funds appropriated in the General Appropriations Act (GAA) among the counties. The apportionment is based upon the amount expended for those purposes in each county during the previous fiscal year. The Chief Financial Officer will then issue the appropriate apportioned amount to each county. The statute further provides that the clerks are responsible for any compensation costs that exceed the funding provided in the GAA.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Service Charges Collected by a Clerk of Court

The bill amends various service charges in s 28.24, F.S., to provide that service charges related to a “court record” is required to have a designated portion of the service charge transferred to the General Revenue Fund. A service charge not related to a court record is fully retained by the clerk. No service charge is increased or decreased by the bill.

The bill defines the term “court record” to mean the contents of a court file, to include:

- Progress dockets and other similar records generated to document activity in a case.
- Transcripts filed with the clerk.
- Documentary exhibits in the custody of the clerk.
- Electronic records, video recordings, and stenographic tapes of depositions or other proceedings filed with the clerk.
- Electronic records, video recordings, and stenographic tapes of court proceedings.

The bill amends s. 28.222, F.S., regarding the clerk’s role as county recorder, to provide that a service charge related to an instrument recorded in the Official Records is fully retained by the clerk, except that a service charge related to a court record or a court function in the Official Records is subject to the partial distribution to the General Revenue Fund. The bill also amends several sections of statute to correct cross-references to specific service charges.

Appellate Filing Fees

The bill amends s. 28.241, F.S., to provide that the $20 distribution to the General Revenue Fund from the filing fee paid to a clerk of court of the lower court when filing an appeal does not apply to an appeal from the county court to the circuit court. Thus, the bill provides that a clerk of court retains the entire $100 fee.

The bill also clarifies in that subsection that the $100 filing fee payable to the clerk of court as the lower court in the appeal is in addition to the filing fee payable to the appellate court.

Clerk of Court Budgeting and Finances

The bill amends s. 28.37, F.S., regarding funds collected in the Clerk of the Courts Trust Fund. Currently, if the clerks have a budget surplus at the end of their fiscal year, 50 percent of the surplus must be transferred to the General Revenue Fund, with a maximum retainage in the trust fund of $20 million. After the county fiscal year 2021-22, 100 percent of the annual surplus with no retainage is to be transferred to the General Revenue Fund. The bill repeals the current sweeps and retainage laws and requires instead that 50 percent of the surplus be transferred to the General Revenue Fund. Of the remaining 50 percent, a minimum of 10 percent must be held in reserve in the Clerk of the Courts Trust Fund, and the remainder may be used to increase clerk budgets. The reserve may not exceed 16 percent of the total budget authority of the clerks from the current county fiscal year.⁷²

The bill amends s. 28.36, F.S., to allow the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation to create a budget reserve in the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund of up to 16 percent of the total budget authority during the current county fiscal year. The budget reserve will only accrue should the clerks have a budget surplus that is not otherwise subject to being swept by the Department of Revenue. The budget reserve may only be used to:

- Offset a current-year deficit caused by a revenue shortfall;
- Provide supplemental funding related to a declared emergency; and
- Provide for a minimum continuation budget where the clerks have projected a deficit and the legislature did not appropriate funds sufficient to create a minimum continuation budget. A minimum continuation budget is the current county fiscal year budget unless the Corporation requires a lesser budget.

The bill requires the Corporation to request a budget amendment from the Governor in order to access the reserve. This is in line with the requirements for Executive Branch agencies seeking to establish trust fund budget from a reserve.

The bill amends s. 28.36, F.S., to allow a clerk of the court to request, and the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation to approve, an increase in a clerk's budget authority for a financial impact resulting from increases in use of hearing officers and senior judges.

Monies Owed to a Clerk of Court

The bill amends s. 28.246, F.S., to direct the clerks of court to offer a payment plan to every person who owes money to the clerk and cannot immediately pay. The clerk is responsible for setting the terms of individual plans, although the trial court may review the reasonableness of the plan.

The bill amends s. 28.42, F.S., to require the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation to create a uniform payment plan form. The form must be created by October 1, 2021, and must be used by each clerk starting January 1, 2022. The bill amends traffic and licensing laws at ss. 318.15, 318.20, and 322.45, F.S., to require notice of the availability of payment plans through the clerk of court. The notice must be included with a notice of suspension of a license and must be appended to a citation.

The bill amends s. 28.246, F.S., to require that an individual released from incarceration contact the clerk within 30 days after release to either pay the outstanding fines and fees in full or set up a payment plan.

The bill amends the criminal fine statute at s. 775.083, F.S., to add that the clerk of the court is the entity that collects fines, fees, service charges, and court costs. This reflects current law. The bill also adds the requirement that an offender must contact the clerk to pay, or set up a payment plan, upon assessment by the court.

Jury Management

The bill modifies the process by which clerks receive funds for jury management by changing the current practice under which clerks receive pre-imburements for their costs to one in which they will receive reimbursements for the costs they have incurred.

The new process by which the clerks will receive reimbursement for jury-related costs is as follows:

- Each clerk of the court shall submit a request for reimbursement to the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation (CCOC) within 20 days after each quarter attesting to the clerk's actual costs to compensate jurors, to pay for meals or lodging provided to jurors, and to pay jury-related personnel costs.
- The CCOC will review the request for reimbursement to ensure that the costs are reasonably and directly related to jury management.
- The CCOC will then forward the request for reimbursement to the Justice Administrative Commission (JAC) unless the requests total more than is available, in which case the CCOC will adjust the cumulative total to match the available funds before submittal.
- The JAC will then review the amount requested for the most recently completed quarter to determine if funds are available and submit a request for payment to the Chief Financial Officer.

For the sections relating to the clerks' budget process changes, the effective date is upon becoming law. For the sections relating to the payment of juror costs, service charges, and correcting service charge cross-references, the bill is effective July 1, 2021. For the sections pertaining to payment plans, the bill's effective date is October 1, 2021.

On March 5th, 2021, the Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR), Revenue Estimating Impact Conference (REC) evaluated SB 838 and its companion HB 903. The conference adopted a positive indeterminate impact for various state and local trust funds, the General Revenue Fund, Clerks of Court Trust Fund, and Clerk's Fine and Forfeiture Funds as it relates to the bill's changes to payment plans.⁷³

Currently, if the Article V Estimating Conference forecasts that revenue will exceed the clerks' total budget, 50 percent of the surplus is transferred to General Revenue and the clerks retain the other 50 percent up to a maximum of $20 million. This procedure is set to expire at the end of County Fiscal Year (CFY) 2021-22 after which time 100 percent of any surplus revenue will be transferred to the General Revenue Fund. Because the bill permanently codifies the existing revenue split, if clerk revenues surpass the total clerks' budget, the REC estimates there will be an indeterminate negative impact to the General Revenue Fund and a positive indeterminate impact to the clerks.

⁷³ Office of Economic and Demographic Research, Results of the Revenue Estimating Impact Conference held March 5, 2021, available at http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/conferences/revenueimpact/archives/2021/_pdf/Impact0305.pdf

The sections of the bill related to service charges, appellate filing fees and jury management are expected to have an indeterminate but likely minimal fiscal impact.

A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:
(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

CS/CS by Appropriations on April 15, 2021:

The committee substitute:

- Removes provisions modifying the duties of the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation with respect to the funding of clerks' offices;
- Incorporates the substance of SB 382 into the bill which:
 - Specifies that portions of certain service charges collected by a clerk of court that are required to be transferred to the General Revenue Fund only apply for performing services related to a "court record";
 - Revises the appellate filing fee for an appeal from county court to circuit court by eliminating the requirement that $20 of the $100 fee be transferred to the General Revenue Fund; and
 - Revises the procedure for clerks of the circuit court to receive payments for management of the jury process for the court system.

CS by Judiciary on March 9, 2021:

The committee substitute removes a provision that would have allowed a clerk of court to request a budget increase due to requirements of the courts, changes the effective date of portions of the bill other than clerk budgeting to October 1, 2021, and makes technical corrections and clarifications.

 89 corporation may amend any individual clerk of the court budget
 90 to ensure compliance with this paragraph and must consider
 91 performance measures, workload performance standards, workload
 92 measures, and expense data before modifying the budget. As part 93 of this process, the corporation shall:

94 1. Calculate the minimum amount of revenue necessary for
 95 each clerk of the court to efficiently perform the list of

 109 revenues are not being used for noncourt-related purposes. The 110 review and exercise shall identify potential targeted budget
 111 reductions in the percentage amount provided in Schedule VIII-B
 112 of the state's previous year's legislative budget instructions,

122 funds from fees, service charges, court costs, and fines for
123 court-related functions accruing to the clerks of the court made
124 by the Revenue Estimating Conference, as well as any unspent
125 budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by 126 the clerks of the court from the previous county fiscal year and
127 the balance of funds remaining in the Clerks of the Court Trust
128 Fund after the transfer of funds to the General Revenue Fund
129 required pursuant to s. 28.37(4) (b), plus any appropriations for 130 the purpose of funding court-related functions ~~s. 28.37(3) (b)~~.

131 7. Identify pay and benefit increases in any proposed clerk
132 budget, including, but not limited to, cost of living increases,
133 merit increases, and bonuses.

134 8. Identify increases in anticipated expenditures in any
135 clerk budget that exceeds the current year budget by more than 3
136 percent.

137 9. Identify the budget of any clerk which exceeds the 138 average budget of similarly situated clerks by more than 10
139 percent.

141 215.18(1), a temporary transfer of moneys from unobligated funds
142 in the State Treasury to the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund in 143 the Department of Revenue to meet temporary deficiencies in that 144 fund.

145 11. Determine if the estimated revenue available for the 146 upcoming county fiscal year is adequate to fund court-related 147 functions, and certify and submit any aggregate difference to 148 the chairs of the legislative appropriations committees and the 149 Executive Office of the Governor for consideration, at least 30

150 days before the start of the next regular session of the 151 Legislature.

152
153 For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "unspent budgeted
154 funds for court-related functions" means undisbursed funds
155 included in the clerks of the courts budgets for court-related
156 functions established pursuant to this section and s. 28.36.

157 (i) If the corporation determines that the cumulative
158 budget for all clerks will vary by more than 5 percent from the 159 approved cumulative budget for the previous year, certify to the 160 Legislature the specific causes for the variance and how each
161 variance relates to the clerks' responsibilities in performing 162 their court-related functions.

163 (j) Prepare and submit legislative budget requests to the 164 Legislature, consistent with the requirements of s. 216.023.
165 Such requests must be submitted for any fiscal year for which 166 the corporation determines that new duties or financial 167 obligations under s. 28.36(4), beyond those funded in prior 168 fiscal years, have been imposed on the court-related functions
169 of clerks of the court; and for any fiscal year for which the 170 corporation determines that the total estimated revenues
171 available for court-related expenditures as determined by the 172 most recent Revenue Estimating Conference, unspent revenues
173 carried forward from the previous fiscal year, and budget
174 amendments and appropriations made by law for the purpose of

175 funding court-related functions will be inadequate to provide 176 funding for court-related functions of clerks of the court at 177 the current level of operations.

178 (3) (a) The list of court-related functions that clerks may
 179 fund from filing fees, service charges, court costs, and fines
 180 is limited to those functions expressly authorized by law or
 181 court rule. Those functions include the following: case
 182 maintenance; records management; court preparation and
 183 attendance; processing the assignment, reopening, and
 184 reassignment of cases; processing of appeals; collection and
 185 distribution of fines, fees, service charges, and court costs;
 186 processing of bond forfeiture payments; data collection and
 187 reporting; determinations of indigent status; and paying
 188 reasonable administrative support costs to enable the clerk of 189 the court to carry out these court-related functions.

190 Section 3. Effective upon this act becoming a law, present
 191 subsections (3) and (4) of section 28.36, Florida Statutes, are 192 redesignated as subsections (4) and (5), a new subsection (3) is 193 added to that section, and subsection (1), paragraph (b) of 194 subsection (2), and present subsection (4) of that section are
 195 amended, to read:

196 28.36 Budget procedure.—There is established a budget
 197 procedure for the court-related functions of the clerks of the 198 court.

199 (1) Only those functions listed in s. 28.35(3) (a) may be
 200 funded from fees, service charges, court costs, and fines
 201 retained by the clerks of the court.

202 (2) Each proposed budget shall further conform to the 203 following requirements:

590-02600-21

2021838c1

204 (b) The proposed budget must be balanced such that the 205 total of the estimated revenues available equals or exceeds the
 206 total of the anticipated expenditures. Such revenues include
 207 revenue projected to be received from fees, service charges,
 208 court costs, and fines for court-related functions during the
 209 fiscal period covered by the budget, plus the total of unspent
 210 budgeted funds for court-related functions carried forward by 211 the clerk of the court from the previous county fiscal year and
 212 plus the portion of the balance of funds remaining in the Clerks
 213 of the Court Trust Fund after the transfer of funds to the
 214 General Revenue Fund required pursuant to s. 28.37(4) (b) ~~s.~~
 215 ~~28.37(3) (b)~~ which has been allocated to each respective clerk of 216 the court by the Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation.
 217 For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "unspent budgeted
 218 funds for court-related functions" means undisbursed funds
 219 included in the clerk of the courts' budget for court related
 220 functions established pursuant to s. 28.35 and this section. The 221 anticipated expenditures must be itemized as required by the 222 corporation.

223 (3) (a) The Florida Clerks of Court Operations Corporation
 224 shall establish and manage a reserve for contingencies within 225 the Clerks of the Court Trust Fund which must consist of an
 226 amount not to exceed 16 percent of the total budget authority
 227 for the clerks of court during the current county fiscal year,
 228 to be carried forward at the end of the fiscal year. Funds to be 229 held in reserve include transfers of cumulative excess, as
 230 provided in s. 28.37(4) (b), from the Clerks of the Court Trust
 231 Fund and may also include revenues provided by law or moneys
 232 appropriated by the Legislature.

590-02600-21

2021838c1

233 (b) The corporation shall provide a reporting of the 234 balance and use of these funds during each county fiscal year as 235 part of the corporation's annual report submitted under s.
 236 28.35(2)(h).

237 (c) The corporation may use the reserve to ensure the 238 clerks of court can perform the court-related functions as
 239 provided in s. 28.35(3)(a). Moneys in the Clerks of the Court
 240 Trust Fund which are held in reserve may be used by the
 241 corporation under the following circumstances:

242 1. To offset a current deficit between the revenue
 243 available and the original budget authority. A deficit is deemed
 244 to occur when the revenue available to the clerks of court falls
 245 below the original revenue projection for that county fiscal 246 year.

247 2. To provide funding for an emergency, as defined in s.
 248 252.34(4). The emergency must have been declared by the
 249 Governor, pursuant to s. 252.36, or otherwise declared by law.

250 3. If, after the corporation has notified the Legislature
 251 of a deficit under s. 28.35(2)(f)11., there remains a deficit
 252 between the total revenues available and the total budget from 253 the current county fiscal year, to provide funds in the 254 development of the total aggregate budget of the clerks of court
 255 to ensure that a minimum continuation budget is met. For 256 purposes of this subparagraph, a minimum continuation budget is 257 the budget approved for the current county fiscal year or some 258 lesser amount adopted by the corporation.

259 (d) To use the reserve, the corporation must request a
 260 budget amendment pursuant to s. 216.292.

261 (5)(4) The corporation may approve increases or decreases

262 to the previously authorized budgets approved for ~~individual~~
 263 clerks of the court pursuant to s. 28.35 for court-related
 264 functions, if:

265 (a) The additional budget authority is necessary to pay the 266 cost of performing new or additional functions required by 267 changes in law or court rule; or

268 (b) The additional budget authority is necessary to pay the 269 cost of supporting increases in the number of judges or 270 magistrates authorized by the Legislature, or for increases in 271 the use of hearing officers and senior judges assigned by the 272 courts.

273 Section 4. Effective upon this act becoming a law, section
 274 28.37, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

275 28.37 Fines, fees, service charges, and costs remitted to

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 1024 requires the Department of Financial Services (DFS) to submit a report to the Legislature and the Governor regarding complaints submitted by individuals covered by an individual or group health insurance policy or health maintenance organization (HMO) contract about the adequacy of coverage and access to mental health services. The report is due January 31, 2022.

Insurers and HMOs are required to provide insureds and subscribers a direct notice regarding the federal and state coverage requirements for mental health services, as well as contact information for the Division of Consumer Services within the DFS. Insurers and HMOs are also required to make this information available on their website.

The bill will have an insignificant fiscal impact on the DFS that can be absorbed within existing resources.

The bill is effective October 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Mental health is a state of mind characterized by emotional well-being, good behavioral adjustment, relative freedom from anxiety and disabling symptoms, and a capacity to establish constructive relationships and cope with the ordinary demands and stresses of life.¹ Mental illness refers collectively to all diagnosable mental disorders – health conditions involving significant changes in thinking, emotion or behavior or distress or problems functioning in social, work, or family activities.² In the United States, mental illnesses are common. Nearly one in five U.S. adults, or 51.5 million people, in 2019, were living with a mental illness, which represents 20.6 percent of all U.S. adults.³ Mental illnesses include many different conditions that vary in degree of severity, ranging from mild to moderate to severe. Serious mental illness (SMI) is a mental, behavioral, or emotional disorder resulting in serious functional impairment, which substantially interferes with or limits one or more major life activities.⁴ The burden of mental illnesses is particularly concentrated among those who experience disability due to SMI. In 2019, there were an estimated 13.1 million adults aged 18 or older in the United States with SMI. This number represented 5.2 percent of all U.S. adults. In 2019, among the 13.1 million adults with SMI, 8.6 million (65.5 percent) received mental health treatment in the past year.⁵

Some mental health conditions have been identified as risk factors for developing a substance use disorder.⁶ For example, research suggests that people with mental illness may use drugs or alcohol as a form of self-medication.⁷ In the United States, approximately 8.2 million adults (3.4 percent of all adults) had co-occurring disorders, which is the existence of both a mental health and a substance use disorder.⁸

Mental Health Insurance Coverage in the Private Health Insurance Market

Federal Requirements

Prior to 1996, health insurance coverage for mental illness was generally not as comprehensive as coverage for medical and surgical benefits. In response, Congress enacted the Mental Health Parity Act of 1996⁹ (MHPA), which requires parity of medical and surgical benefits with mental health benefits for annual and aggregate lifetime limits of large group plans.

⁹ Pub. L. No. 104-204.

In 2008, Congress passed the Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act¹⁰ (MHPAEA), which generally applies to large group health plans.¹¹ The MHPAEA expanded parity of coverage to include financial requirements, treatment limitations, and in- and out-of-network coverage if a plan provided coverage for mental illness. The MHPAEA also applies to the treatment of substance use disorders.¹² Like the MHPA, the MHPAEA does not require large groups to provide benefits for mental health or substance use disorders. The MHPAEA contains a cost exemption, which allows a group health plan to receive a waiver, exempting them from some of the key requirements, if the plan demonstrates that costs increased at least one percent because of compliance.¹³

In 2010, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act¹⁴ (PPACA) amended the MHPAEA to apply the provisions to individual health insurance coverage. The PPACA mandates that qualified health plans must provide coverage of 10 essential health benefits,¹⁵ including coverage for mental health and substance use disorders for individual and small group qualified health plans. The final rule, implementing these provisions, generally requires health insurers offering health insurance coverage in the individual and small group markets to comply with the requirements of the MHPAEA regulations in order to satisfy the essential health benefit requirement.¹⁶

State Requirements

Section 627.668, F.S., requires insurers and HMOs offering group coverage to make available optional coverage for mental and nervous disorders for an appropriate additional premium that would include specified benefits. Section 627.669, F.S., requires insurers and HMOs offering group coverage to make available optional coverage for substance abuse that would include certain benefits.

The Chief Financial Officer (CFO) is an elected member of the Cabinet, serves as the chief fiscal officer of the State of Florida,¹⁷ is designated as the State Fire Marshal,¹⁸ and is known as the Treasurer.¹⁹ The CFO is the head of the DFS.²⁰ Section 20.121, F.S., establishes the Office of

If such a cost is incurred, the plan or coverage is exempt from MHPAEA requirements for the plan or policy year following the year the cost was incurred. The plan sponsors or issuers must notify the plan beneficiaries that MHPAEA does not apply to their coverage. These exemptions last one year. After that, the plan or coverage is required to comply again; however, if the plan or coverage incurs an increased cost of at least one percent in that plan or policy year, the plan or coverage could claim the exemption for the following plan or policy year.

the Insurance Consumer Advocate and numerous divisions within the DFS, including the Division of Consumer Services.

Division of Consumer Services

The Division of Consumer Services (division) of the DFS assists consumers with issues and complaints related to products or services regulated by the DFS or the Office of Insurance (OIR). The division:

- Receives inquiries and complaints from consumers;
- Prepares and disseminates information as the DFS deems appropriate to inform or assist consumers;
- Provides direct assistance and advocacy for consumers; and
- Reports potential violations of law or applicable rules by a person or entity licensed by the DFS or the OIR to the appropriate division within the DFS or the OIR, as applicable.²¹

A consumer may request assistance from the division regarding coverage questions and concerns, or file a formal complaint by telephone, email, or online.²² An insurer or other entity licensed or issued a certificate of authority by the DFS or the OIR must respond in writing to the division within 20 days after receipt of a written request for information from the division concerning a consumer complaint.²³ The division may impose an administrative penalty on an entity licensed by the DFS or the OIR that fails to respond to the division.²⁴

The division currently tracks and monitors complaint activity using a database known as ServicePoint.²⁵ The division can generate reports, by request, on any entity, individual, line of business, or reason by accessing ServicePoint codes along with the use of key word searches. Individuals requesting reports can request any key words to be used in their report request. The division refers managed care consumer complaints regarding allegations of lack of an adequate provider network to the agency once the division has assisted the individual to the extent of its ability.²⁶

The Office of Insurance Regulation

The OIR regulates insurers, HMOs, and other risk-bearing entities.²⁷ Rates and forms of health insurers and HMOs are subject to prior approval by the OIR.²⁸ The OIR reviews health insurance rates and forms for compliance with state and federal laws, such as the MHPAEA.²⁹ The OIR communicates any violations of MHPAEA to the insurer or HMO. III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 creates s. 624.36, F.S., to require the DFS to submit a report by January 31, 2022, to the Legislature and the Governor regarding the disposition of complaints relating to access and affordability of mental health services and benefits during the prior calendar year. The report must include all of the following information:

- The total number of complaints received.
- The nature of the complaints; including but not limited to, concerns related to access to providers, facilities, and inpatient or outpatient services; affordability of services. equivalency of mental health benefits with respect to medical and surgical benefits; quality of care; and denial of services.
- The disposition of complaints.
- Any recommendations made by the DFS to the Legislature for ensuring access to and the affordability of mental health services to insureds and subscribers.

Further, the section also requires the DFS to make available on its website a description of mental health benefits required to be made available pursuant to state and federal law for individual and group policies and contracts.

Sections 2 and 3 create ss. 627.4215 and 641.31085, F.S., to require health insurers and HMOs, respectively, to provide direct notices to insureds and subscribers and make information available on their websites. Health insurers and HMOs are required to provide insureds and subscribers an annual direct notice regarding the federal and state requirements for coverage of mental health services, as well as contact information for the DFS' Division of Consumer Services. Further, insurers and HMOs are required to make the same information contained in the written notices available at their respective websites.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 1024 requires the Department of Financial Services (DFS) to submit a report to the Legislature and the Governor regarding complaints submitted by individuals covered by an individual or group health insurance policy or health maintenance organization (HMO) contract about the adequacy of coverage and access to mental health services. The report is due January 31, 2022.

Insurers and HMOs are required to provide insureds and subscribers a direct notice regarding the federal and state coverage requirements for mental health services, as well as contact information for the Division of Consumer Services within the DFS. Insurers and HMOs are also required to make this information available on their website.

The bill will have an insignificant fiscal impact on the DFS that can be absorbed within existing resources.

The bill is effective October 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Mental health is a state of mind characterized by emotional well-being, good behavioral adjustment, relative freedom from anxiety and disabling symptoms, and a capacity to establish constructive relationships and cope with the ordinary demands and stresses of life.¹ Mental illness refers collectively to all diagnosable mental disorders – health conditions involving significant changes in thinking, emotion or behavior or distress or problems functioning in social, work, or family activities.² In the United States, mental illnesses are common. Nearly one in five U.S. adults, or 51.5 million people, in 2019, were living with a mental illness, which represents 20.6 percent of all U.S. adults.³ Mental illnesses include many different conditions that vary in degree of severity, ranging from mild to moderate to severe. Serious mental illness (SMI) is a mental, behavioral, or emotional disorder resulting in serious functional impairment, which substantially interferes with or limits one or more major life activities.⁴ The burden of mental illnesses is particularly concentrated among those who experience disability due to SMI. In 2019, there were an estimated 13.1 million adults aged 18 or older in the United States with SMI. This number represented 5.2 percent of all U.S. adults. In 2019, among the 13.1 million adults with SMI, 8.6 million (65.5 percent) received mental health treatment in the past year.⁵

Some mental health conditions have been identified as risk factors for developing a substance use disorder.⁶ For example, research suggests that people with mental illness may use drugs or alcohol as a form of self-medication.⁷ In the United States, approximately 8.2 million adults (3.4 percent of all adults) had co-occurring disorders, which is the existence of both a mental health and a substance use disorder.⁸

Federal Requirements

Prior to 1996, health insurance coverage for mental illness was generally not as comprehensive as coverage for medical and surgical benefits. In response, Congress enacted the Mental Health Parity Act of 1996⁹ (MHPA), which requires parity of medical and surgical benefits with mental health benefits for annual and aggregate lifetime limits of large group plans.

⁹ Pub. L. No. 104-204.

In 2008, Congress passed the Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act¹⁰ (MHPAEA), which generally applies to large group health plans.¹¹ The MHPAEA expanded parity of coverage to include financial requirements, treatment limitations, and in- and out-of-network coverage if a plan provided coverage for mental illness. The MHPAEA also applies to the treatment of substance use disorders.¹² Like the MHPA, the MHPAEA does not require large groups to provide benefits for mental health or substance use disorders. The MHPAEA contains a cost exemption, which allows a group health plan to receive a waiver, exempting them from some of the key requirements, if the plan demonstrates that costs increased at least one percent because of compliance.¹³

In 2010, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act¹⁴ (PPACA) amended the MHPAEA to apply the provisions to individual health insurance coverage. The PPACA mandates that qualified health plans must provide coverage of 10 essential health benefits,¹⁵ including coverage for mental health and substance use disorders for individual and small group qualified health plans. The final rule, implementing these provisions, generally requires health insurers offering health insurance coverage in the individual and small group markets to comply with the requirements of the MHPAEA regulations in order to satisfy the essential health benefit requirement.¹⁶

State Requirements

Section 627.668, F.S., requires insurers and HMOs offering group coverage to make available optional coverage for mental and nervous disorders for an appropriate additional premium that would include specified benefits. Section 627.669, F.S., requires insurers and HMOs offering group coverage to make available optional coverage for substance abuse that would include certain benefits.

Department of Financial Services

The Chief Financial Officer (CFO) is an elected member of the Cabinet, serves as the chief fiscal officer of the State of Florida,¹⁷ is designated as the State Fire Marshal,¹⁸ and is known as the Treasurer.¹⁹ The CFO is the head of the DFS.²⁰ Section 20.121, F.S., establishes the Office of ¹³ Plans and issuers that make changes to comply with MHPAEA and incur an increased cost of at least two percent in the first year that MHPAEA applies to the plan or coverage or at least one percent in any subsequent plan year may claim an exemption from MHPAEA based on their increased cost. If such a cost is incurred, the plan or coverage is exempt from MHPAEA requirements for the plan or policy year following the year the cost was incurred. The plan sponsors or issuers must notify the plan beneficiaries that MHPAEA does not apply to their coverage. These exemptions last one year. After that, the plan or coverage is required to comply again; however, if the plan or coverage incurs an increased cost of at least one percent in that plan or policy year, the plan or coverage could claim the exemption for the following plan or policy year.

the Insurance Consumer Advocate and numerous divisions within the DFS, including the Division of Consumer Services.

Division of Consumer Services

The Division of Consumer Services (division) of the DFS assists consumers with issues and complaints related to products or services regulated by the DFS or the Office of Insurance (OIR). The division:

- Receives inquiries and complaints from consumers;
- Prepares and disseminates information as the DFS deems appropriate to inform or assist consumers;
- Provides direct assistance and advocacy for consumers; and
- Reports potential violations of law or applicable rules by a person or entity licensed by the DFS or the OIR to the appropriate division within the DFS or the OIR, as applicable.²¹

A consumer may request assistance from the division regarding coverage questions and concerns, or file a formal complaint by telephone, email, or online.²² An insurer or other entity licensed or issued a certificate of authority by the DFS or the OIR must respond in writing to the division within 20 days after receipt of a written request for information from the division concerning a consumer complaint.²³ The division may impose an administrative penalty on an entity licensed by the DFS or the OIR that fails to respond to the division.²⁴

The division currently tracks and monitors complaint activity using a database known as ServicePoint.²⁵ The division can generate reports, by request, on any entity, individual, line of business, or reason by accessing ServicePoint codes along with the use of key word searches. Individuals requesting reports can request any key words to be used in their report request. The division refers managed care consumer complaints regarding allegations of lack of an adequate provider network to the agency once the division has assisted the individual to the extent of its ability.²⁶

The OIR regulates insurers, HMOs, and other risk-bearing entities.²⁷ Rates and forms of health insurers and HMOs are subject to prior approval by the OIR.²⁸ The OIR reviews health insurance rates and forms for compliance with state and federal laws, such as the MHPAEA.²⁹ The OIR communicates any violations of MHPAEA to the insurer or HMO. III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 creates s. 624.36, F.S., to require the DFS to submit a report by January 31, 2022, to the Legislature and the Governor regarding the disposition of complaints relating to access and affordability of mental health services and benefits during the prior calendar year. The report must include all of the following information:

- The total number of complaints received.
- The nature of the complaints; including but not limited to, concerns related to access to providers, facilities, and inpatient or outpatient services; affordability of services. equivalency of mental health benefits with respect to medical and surgical benefits; quality of care; and denial of services.
- The disposition of complaints.
- Any recommendations made by the DFS to the Legislature for ensuring access to and the affordability of mental health services to insureds and subscribers.

Further, the section also requires the DFS to make available on its website a description of mental health benefits required to be made available pursuant to state and federal law for individual and group policies and contracts.

Sections 2 and 3 create ss. 627.4215 and 641.31085, F.S., to require health insurers and HMOs, respectively, to provide direct notices to insureds and subscribers and make information available on their websites. Health insurers and HMOs are required to provide insureds and subscribers an annual direct notice regarding the federal and state requirements for coverage of mental health services, as well as contact information for the DFS' Division of Consumer Services. Further, insurers and HMOs are required to make the same information contained in the written notices available at their respective websites.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 1086 contains numerous changes to existing laws administered by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) and other law enforcement entities.

Relating to rulemaking, the bill provides additional rulemaking authority to the FWC to implement provisions relating to derelict vessels.

Relating to boater safety, the bill:

- Effective October 1, 2021, revises conditions under which a person operating a motor vehicle or vessel commits a misdemeanor by failing to submit to breath or urine testing for alcohol, chemical substances, and controlled substances.
- Deletes the provisions establishing a misdemeanor for the refusal to submit to blood testing for alcohol, chemical substances, and controlled substances.
- Defines the term “human-powered vessel” and restricts the operation of such vessels within the boundaries of the Florida Intracoastal Waterway.
- Prohibits a livery from leasing, hiring, or renting a vessel to a person required to complete a FWC-approved boating safety education course, unless the person presents certain documentation indicating compliance.
- Revises boating-restricted areas to include certain areas around public or private marinas, permitted public mooring fields, and the Florida Intracoastal Waterway.

- Designates Monroe County as an anchoring limitation area under certain conditions.
- Authorizes the FWC to establish anchoring/mooring/beaching/grounding protection zones for springs.
- Prohibits the operation of vessels faster than slow speed, minimum wake upon approaching certain hazardous conditions, including approaching an emergency or construction vessel.

Relating to derelict vessels, the bill:

- Authorizes officers to provide in-person notice that a vessel is at risk of becoming derelict if there is a body camera recording.
- Authorizes law enforcement officers to relocate at-risk vessels to a certain distance from mangroves or vegetation.
- Authorizes the FWC to establish a derelict vessel prevention program.
- Authorizes local governments to enact and enforce regulations to remove an abandoned or lost vessel affixed to a public mooring.
- Authorizes law enforcement officers to relocate or remove public nuisance vessels from the waters of this state.
- Prohibits the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV) from issuing a certificate of title to an applicant for a vessel that has been deemed derelict, and beginning in 2023, authorizes the DHSMV to reject an application for a certificate of title for a vessel that has been deemed derelict.
- Authorizes the FWC to provide local government grants for the destruction and disposal of derelict vessels.
- Creates specific procedures for derelict vessels or vessels that have been declared a public nuisance that are present on waters of this state, including notice and hearing requirements and liability for removal costs.
- Revises the definition of the term “derelict vessel” to specify requirements for a vessel to be considered “wrecked,” “junked,” or “substantially dismantled.”
- Authorizes certain governmental subdivisions to perform relocation or removal activities and specifies requirements for licensure, insurance, and equipment.

Relating to marine sanitation devices, the bill requires the owner/operator of a live-aboard vessel or houseboat equipped with a marine sanitation device to maintain records of each pump out.

Relating to penalties, the bill:

- Increases the civil penalties for a vessel deemed at risk of becoming derelict.
- Creates civil penalties for vessels creating special hazards as specified in the bill.
- Adds operating a human-powered vessel in the Intracoastal Waterway to the list of violations resulting in a noncriminal infraction.

Relating to spaceflight, the bill authorizes the FWC to establish temporary protective zones in certain water bodies in preparation for a launch service or reentry service, or for the recovery of spaceflight assets before or after a launch service or reentry service.

There may be a positive fiscal impact to the FWC due to the new and increased civil penalties provided under the bill. However, the FWC may also experience increased costs due to increased enforcement.

The bill provides that except as otherwise expressly provided, the effective date is July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission

The Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is responsible for regulating, managing, protecting, and conserving the state's fish and wildlife resources.¹ The FWC is governed by a board of seven members who are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Florida Senate to five-year terms.² Under Article IV, Section 9 of the Florida Constitution, the FWC is granted the authority to exercise the regulatory and executive powers of the state with respect to wild animal life, fresh water aquatic life, and marine life. The Legislature may enact laws that aid the FWC in its exercise of regulatory functions and executive powers in the areas of planning, budgeting, personnel management, and purchasing.³

Chapters 327 and 328, F.S., concerning vessel safety and vessel title certificates, liens, and registration, are enforced by the FWC's Division of Law Enforcement and its officers, county sheriffs and deputies, municipal police officers, and any other law enforcement officer.⁴ The Division of Law Enforcement manages the state's waterways to ensure boating safety for residents of and visitors to the state.⁵ This includes enforcing boating rules and regulations, coordinating boating safety campaigns and education, managing public waters and access to the waters, conducting boating accident investigations, identifying and removing derelict vessels, and investigating vessel theft and title fraud.⁶

Boater Safety Education

A person born on or after January 1, 1988, who will be operating a boat in Florida waters with an engine of 10 horsepower or more, must obtain a Florida boating safety identification card.⁷ To obtain a card, a person must complete an approved boating safety course.⁸ There are several courses available at various price points ranging from free up to $50.⁹ The course must meet the eight-hour instruction requirement established by the National Association of State Boating Law

The definition also includes all certified supervisory and command personnel whose duties include, in whole or in part, the supervision, training, guidance, and management responsibilities of full-time law enforcement officers, part-time law enforcement officers, or auxiliary law enforcement officers but does not include support personnel employed by the employing agency.

Administrators and must include a component regarding diving vessels.¹⁰ The card is valid for life, unless it was obtained by passing a temporary certificate examination, in which case it is valid for 90 days after the date of issuance.¹¹

Certain persons are exempt from the requirement to obtain a boating safety identification card. A person is exempt if he or she:

- Is licensed by the United States Coast Guard (Coast Guard) to serve as master of a vessel.
- Operates a vessel only on a private lake or pond.
- Is accompanied in the vessel by a person who is exempt from this section or who holds an identification card in compliance with this section, is 18 years of age or older, is attendant to the operation of the vessel and responsible for the safe operation of the vessel and for any violation that occurs during the operation of the vessel.
- Is a nonresident who has in his or her possession proof that he or she has completed a boater education course or equivalent examination in another state which meets or exceeds the requirements in Florida.
- Is operating a vessel within 90 days after the purchase of that vessel and has available for inspection aboard that vessel a bill of sale.
- Is operating a vessel within 90 days after completing the boater education course and has a photographic identification card and a boater education certificate available for inspection as proof of having completed a boater education course. The boater education certificate must provide, at a minimum, the student's first and last name, the student's date of birth, and the date that he or she passed the course examination.
- Is exempted by FWC rule.¹²

A person who operates a vessel without the required boating safety identification card can be charged with a noncriminal infraction and is subject to a uniform boating citation and a $50 civil penalty.¹³

A livery may not knowingly lease, hire, or rent vessels under certain conditions meant to ensure boater safety.¹⁴ A livery may also not knowingly lease, hire, or rent any vessel powered by a motor of 10 horsepower or greater to any person who is required to comply with boater safety education requirements, unless the person presents photographic identification and a valid boater safety identification card to the livery or meets one of the listed exemptions.¹⁵

Boating Safety Regulations

An operator of a vessel in Florida must operate the vessel in a reasonable and prudent manner, having regard for other waterborne traffic, posted speed and wake restrictions, and all other attendant circumstances so as not to endanger the life, limb, or property of another person

outside the vessel or due to vessel overloading or excessive speed.¹⁶ Operating a vessel in excess of a posted speed limit is a noncriminal infraction, for which the penalty is $50.¹⁷

Vessel owners and operators must carry, store, maintain, and use safety equipment in accordance with current Coast Guard safety equipment requirements, unless expressly exempted.¹⁸ Vessel owners and operators are also subject to additional safety requirements relating to appropriate equipment and the use of personal flotation devices.¹⁹

Anchoring or Mooring

Anchoring or mooring refers to a boater's practice of seeking and using a safe harbor on the public waterway system for an undefined duration. Anchoring is accomplished using an anchor carried on the vessel.²⁰ Mooring is accomplished through the use of moorings permanently affixed to the bottom of the water body. Anchorages are areas that boaters regularly use for anchoring or mooring, whether designated or managed for that purpose or not. Mooring fields are areas designated and used for a system of properly spaced moorings.²¹

State law prohibits a person from anchoring a vessel, except in case of emergency, in a manner which unreasonably or unnecessarily constitutes a navigational hazard or interferes with another vessel.²² Interference with navigation is a noncriminal infraction and punishable by a fine of $50.²³

The owner or operator of a vessel or floating structure may not anchor or moor such that the nearest approach of the anchored or moored vessel or floating structure is:

- Within 150 feet of any marina, boat ramp, boatyard, or vessel launching or loading facility;
- Within 300 feet of a superyacht repair facility (a facility that services or repairs a yacht with a water line of 120 feet or more in length); or
- Within 100 feet outward from the marked boundary of a public mooring field or a lesser distance if approved by the local government within which the mooring field is located.²⁴

However, there are exceptions if:

- The vessel suffers a mechanical failure that poses an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard such vessel. The owner or operator of the vessel may anchor or moor for five business days or until the vessel is repaired, whichever occurs first; or

- Imminent or existing weather conditions in the vicinity of the vessel pose an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard such vessel. The owner or operator of the vessel may anchor or moor until weather conditions no longer pose such risk.²⁵

Additionally, the owner or operator of a vessel or floating structure may not anchor or moor within the marked boundary of a public mooring field unless the owner or operator has a lawful right to do so by contractual agreement or other business arrangement.²⁶

Local Regulation of the Anchoring or Mooring of Vessels

Local governments are authorized by general permit to construct, operate, and maintain public mooring fields, each for up to 100 vessels.²⁷ Mooring fields are required to be located where navigational access already exists between the mooring field and the nearest customarily used access channel or navigable waters which the mooring field is designed to serve. Each mooring field must be associated with a land-based support facility that provides amenities and conveniences, such as parking, bathrooms, showers, and laundry facilities. Major boat repairs and maintenance, fueling activities other than from the land-based support facility, and boat hull scraping and painting are not authorized within mooring fields.²⁸

Local governments are authorized to enact and enforce ordinances that prohibit or restrict the mooring or anchoring of floating structures²⁹ or live-aboard vessels³⁰ within their jurisdictions and vessels that are within the marked boundaries of permitted mooring fields.³¹ However, local governments are prohibited from enacting, continuing in effect, or enforcing any ordinance or local regulation that regulates the anchoring of vessels, other than live-aboard vessels, outside the marked boundaries of permitted mooring fields.³²

Anchoring Limitation Areas

State law designates certain densely populated urban areas as anchoring limitation areas.³³ To promote the public's use and enjoyment of these waterways, anchoring a vessel is prohibited at any time between 30 minutes after sunset and 30 minutes before sunrise in an anchoring limitation area.³⁴ However, there are some exceptions where anchoring is permitted in an anchoring limitation area:

²⁹ Section 327.02, F.S., defines the term "floating structure" as a "floating entity, with or without accommodations built thereon, which is not primarily used as a means of transportation on water but which serves purposes or provides services typically associated with a structure or other improvement to real property. The term includes an entity used as a residence, place of business, or office with public access; a hotel or motel; a restaurant or lounge; a clubhouse; a meeting facility; a storage or parking facility; or a mining platform, dredge, dragline, or similar facility or entity represented as such."

³⁰ Section 327.02, F.S., defines the term "live-aboard vessel" as "a vessel used solely as a residence and not for navigation; a vessel represented as a place of business or a professional or other commercial enterprise; or a vessel for which a declaration of domicile has been filed. The definition expressly excludes commercial fishing boats."

- If imminent or existing weather conditions in the vicinity of the vessel pose an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard unless the vessel anchors; or
- During certain special events.³⁵

Certain types of vessels are exempt from anchoring limitation areas, including certain government, construction, and fishing vessels.³⁶ Law enforcement officers or agencies may remove and impound vessels from anchoring limitation areas when a vessel operator who was previously issued a citation continues to anchor the vessel in or refuses to leave the anchoring limitation area.³⁷

Boating-Restricted Areas

The FWC may establish boating-restricted areas on the waters of this state for any purpose deemed necessary to ensure the safety of the public if the restrictions are necessary based on boating accidents, visibility, hazardous currents or water levels, vessel traffic congestion, or other navigational hazards or to protect seagrasses on privately owned submerged lands.³⁸ The FWC adopts boating-restricted areas by rule.³⁹

Each boating-restricted area must be developed in consultation and coordination with the governing body of the county or municipality in which the boating-restricted area is located. When the boating-restricted area is to be on the navigable waters of the United States, the FWC must consult and coordinate with the Coast Guard and the United States Army Corps of Engineers.⁴⁰

Local governments also have authority to establish boating-restricted areas by ordinance.⁴¹ These areas include, but are not limited to:

- Idle-speed, no wake areas;
- Slow speed, minimum wake areas; and
- Vessel-exclusion zones.

Local ordinances establishing boating-restricted areas are subject to FWC review and approval. The FWC must make its determination based on substantial competent evidence that the ordinance is necessary to protect public safety.⁴² However, navigational hazards are presumed to exist in several areas noted under FWC rule and statute.⁴³ In these cases, a showing of substantial competent evidence is not required.

Additionally, the Coast Guard can establish safety zones,⁴⁴ security zones,⁴⁵ regulated navigation areas,⁴⁶ or naval vessel protection zones⁴⁷ where persons may not knowingly operate a vessel or authorize the operation of a vessel in violation of the restrictions under the zone.⁴⁸ The restricted vessel access protects against destruction, loss, or injury from various causes.⁴⁹ Generally, the Coast Guard establishes security zones around vessels, harbors, ports, and waterfront facilities. The Coast Guard has established several safety zones, security zones, and regulated navigation areas in Florida,⁵⁰ including a security zone around the Kennedy Space Center.⁵¹

A person who knowingly operates a vessel or authorizes the operation of a vessel in violation of an established zone or area, and without authorization by the Coast Guard Captain of the Port, commits a misdemeanor of the first degree.⁵² A person who continues to do so after receiving a warning, or refusing to leave, commits a felony of the third degree.⁵³ State and local law enforcement may enforce these zones at the request of a federal authority if necessary to augment federal law enforcement efforts and if there is a compelling need to protect the residents and infrastructure of the state.⁵⁴

Protection Zones for Springs

The FWC is authorized to establish protection zones that restrict the speed and operation of vessels to protect and prevent harm to springs, including negative impacts to water quality, water quantity, hydrology, wetlands, and aquatic and wetland-dependent species.⁵⁵ To develop a springs protection zone, the FWC consults and coordinates with the appropriate water management district, the Department of Environmental Protection, and the county and municipality, if applicable, where the zone is located.⁵⁶

Derelict Vessels

A derelict vessel is a vessel that is left, stored, or abandoned in a wrecked, junked, or substantially dismantled condition upon any public waters of this state; at a port in the state without the consent of the agency that has jurisdiction of the port; or docked, grounded, or beached upon the property of another without the consent of the owner of the property.⁵⁸ It is unlawful for a person, firm, or corporation to store, leave, or abandon any derelict vessel in this state.⁵⁹

At-Risk Vessels

In 2016, the Legislature prohibited neglected vessels or those in deteriorating conditions from anchoring, mooring, or occupying the waters of this state.⁶⁰ A vessel is at risk of becoming derelict if any of the following conditions exist:

- The vessel is taking on or has taken on water without an effective means to dewater;
- Spaces on the vessel that are designed to be enclosed are incapable of being sealed off or remain open to the elements for extended periods of time;
- The vessel has broken loose or is in danger of breaking loose from its anchor;
- The vessel is left or stored aground unattended in such a state that would prevent the vessel from getting underway, or is listing due to water intrusion, or is sunk or partially sunk; or
- The vessel does not have an effective means of propulsion for safe navigation within 72 hours after the vessel owner or operator receives telephonic or written notice from an officer, and the vessel owner or operator is unable to provide a receipt, proof of purchase, or other documentation of having ordered necessary parts for vessel repair.⁶¹

Abandoned Vessels

“Abandoned property”⁶² means all tangible personal property that does not have an identifiable owner and that has been disposed of on public property in a wrecked, inoperative, or partially dismantled condition or has no apparent intrinsic value to the rightful owner. The term includes derelict vessels, as defined in s. 823.11, F.S.

When an article of lost or abandoned property is present on public property and is not easily removable, the law enforcement officer must place a notice of removal on the property. The law enforcement agency must then contact the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles to determine the name and address of the owner, and must mail a copy of the notice to the owner.⁶³

⁶¹ Section 327.4107, F.S.

⁶² Section 705.101(3), F.S.

⁶³ Section 705.103(2), F.S.

If, after five days of posting the notice and mailing such notice, the owner has not removed the items from public property or shown reasonable cause for failure to do so, the law enforcement agency may retain the property for its own use, trade the property, donate the property, sell the property, or remove the property.⁶⁴

The owner of abandoned or lost property who does not remove the property after being noticed, is liable to the law enforcement agency for all costs of removal, storage, and destruction of the property, less any salvage value obtained by the disposal of the property.⁶⁵ Upon the final disposition of the property, the law enforcement officer is required to notify the owner of the amount owed. A person who neglects or refuses to pay the amount owed is not entitled to be issued a certificate of registration for the vessel, or any other vessel, until such costs have been paid.⁶⁶

Local governments are authorized to enact and enforce regulations to implement the procedures for abandoned or lost property that allow the local law enforcement agency, after providing written notice, to remove a vessel affixed to a public dock within its jurisdiction that is abandoned or lost property.⁶⁷

Removal of Derelict Vessels

The FWC's Division of Law Enforcement and its officers, the sheriffs of the various counties and their deputies, municipal police officers, and any other law enforcement officers have the responsibility and authority to enforce vessel safety and vessel title certificates, liens, and registration.⁶⁸

Both state and local law enforcement are authorized and empowered to relocate or remove a derelict vessel from public waters if the derelict vessel obstructs or threatens to obstruct navigation or in any way constitutes a danger to the environment, property, or persons.⁶⁹ FWC officers and other law enforcement agency officers or contractors who perform relocation or removal activities at the FWC's direction are required to be licensed, insured, and properly equipped to perform the services to be provided.⁷⁰

The costs incurred by the FWC or another law enforcement agency for relocating or removing a derelict vessel are recoverable against the vessel owner.⁷¹ A vessel owner who neglects or refuses to pay the costs of removal, storage, and destruction of the vessel, less any salvage value obtained by disposal of the vessel, is not entitled to be issued a certificate of registration for such vessel, or any other vessel or motor vehicle, until the costs are paid.⁷²

The FWC may provide grants, funded from the Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund, to local governments for the removal of derelict vessels from waters of this state, if funds are appropriated for the grant program.⁷³ Grants are awarded based on a set of criteria outlined in FWC rules.⁷⁴ Removal or relocation of a vessel on private property is not eligible for grant funding.⁷⁵ However, each fiscal year, if all program funds are not requested by and granted to local governments for the removal of derelict vessels by the end of the third quarter, the FWC may use the remainder of the funds to remove, or to pay private contractors to remove, derelict vessels.⁷⁶

Penalties for Prohibited Acts Relating to Derelict Vessels and Anchoring and Mooring

It is a first degree misdemeanor to store, leave, or abandon a derelict vessel in Florida.⁷⁷ Violations are punishable by a term of imprisonment of no more than one year and a fine of up to $1,000.⁷⁸ Further, such violation is punishable by a civil penalty of up to $75,000 per violation per day.⁷⁹ Each day during any portion of which the violation occurs constitutes a separate offense.⁸⁰

Section 327.73(1)(aa), F.S., provides that an owner or operator of a vessel at risk of becoming derelict on waters of this state or who allows such vessel to occupy such waters, is subject to a uniform boating citation and civil penalty. The civil penalty provided is:

- $50 for a first offense;
- $100 for a second offense occurring 30 days or more after a first offense; and
- $250 for a third offense occurring 30 days or more after a previous offense.⁸¹

Section 327.73(1)(bb), F.S., provides that an owner or operator of a vessel or floating structure who anchors or moors in a prohibited area is subject to a uniform boating citation and penalties. The civil penalty provided is up to a maximum of:

- $50 for a first offense;
- $100 for a second offense; and
- $250 for a third offense.⁸²

Finally, s. 327.73(1), F.S., provides that any person who fails to appear or otherwise properly respond to a uniform boating citation must, in addition to the charge relating to the violation of the boating laws, be charged with a second degree misdemeanor, which is punishable by a maximum fine of $500 and no more than 60 days imprisonment.⁸³

Artificial Reef Program

Artificial reefs are reef habitats using one or more objects of natural or human origin intentionally placed on the seafloor to enhance marine life for human use. Artificial reefs provide benefits including:

- Enhancing recreational and diving opportunities;
- Providing socio-economic benefits to local coastal communities;
- Increasing reef fish habitat;
- Mitigation reefs to replace hard bottom habitat lost through activities such as beach renourishment and damage caused by vessel groundings;
- Oyster reef regeneration; and
- Shoreline protection.⁸⁴

Florida has one of the most active artificial reef programs in the nation. Since the 1940s, more than 3,750 planned public artificial reefs have been placed in state and federal waters off of Florida's coast.⁸⁵ The FWC is authorized to accept title, on behalf of the state, of vessels to use as offshore reefs in the artificial reef program.⁸⁶ Under the program, the FWC provides grants and financial and technical assistance to coastal local governments, state universities, and qualified nonprofit organizations for the siting and development of artificial reefs, and for monitoring and evaluating such reefs and their recreational, economic, and biological effectiveness.⁸⁷

Marine Sanitation Devices

Certain vessels, including those that are 26 feet or longer with an enclosed cabin and berthing facilities, houseboats,⁸⁸ and floating structures with an enclosed living space with berthing facilities or work space with public access, are required to have a working toilet on board.⁸⁹ Permanently installed toilets must be properly attached to a Coast Guard certified or labeled marine sanitation device.⁹⁰ A marine sanitation device is equipment that is designed to receive, retain, treat, or discharge sewage and the process to treat such sewage.⁹¹

Florida prohibits the discharge of untreated sewage from any vessel, including houseboats, or any floating structure into state waters.⁹² This prohibition also applies to live-aboard vessels, which are defined as: a vessel used solely as a residence and not for navigation; a vessel for which a declaration of domicile has been filed; or a vessel used as a residence that does not have an effective means of propulsion for safe navigation; and specifically excludes commercial fishing vessels.⁹³ Vessel owners with Type III⁹⁴ marine sanitation devices must dispose of sewage in an approved pump-out facility.⁹⁵ Violators are subject to a noncriminal infraction, for which the penalty is $50.⁹⁶

Nuisance Vessels

Florida law declares that vessels or floating structures that are operated or occupied on the waters of this state and violate marine sanitation device requirements are a nuisance and hazard to public safety and health.⁹⁷ If an owner or operator does not correct a violation within 30 days after a citation is issued, and their vessel or floating structure remains on the waters of this state, law enforcement officers are required to apply to the appropriate court in the county where the vessel or floating structure is located, to order or cause the removal of the vessel or floating structure from the waters of this state at the owner's expense.⁹⁸ If the owner cannot be found or fails to pay the removal costs, the vessel or floating structure will be sold at a nonjudicial sale and the proceeds will be used to pay the removal costs.⁹⁹

Testing for Alcohol, Chemical Substances, and Controlled Substances

Anyone who operates a motor vehicle or vessel in the state is, by operating such a vehicle or vessel, deemed to have given his or her consent to submit to an approved chemical or physical test of his or her breath to determine the alcoholic content of his or her blood or breath, or a urine test to detect the presence of chemical substances or controlled substances.¹⁰⁰ These tests may be performed if the person is lawfully arrested for any offense allegedly committed while the person was driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle, or operating a vessel, while under the influence of alcohol or chemical or controlled substances.¹⁰¹

Additionally, anyone who operates a motor vehicle or vessel in the state is deemed to have given his or her consent to submit to an approved blood test to determine the alcoholic content of his or her blood or to detect the presence of chemical substances or controlled substances.¹⁰² These tests may be performed if there is reasonable cause to believe that the person was driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle, or operating a vessel, while under the influence of alcohol or chemical or controlled substances and the person appears for treatment at a hospital, clinic, or emergency vehicle, and the administration of a breath or urine test is impractical or impossible.¹⁰³

A person who operates a motor vehicle and fails to submit to a breath, urine, or blood test will have his or her driver's license suspended for a period of one year for a first refusal, or 18 months for a repeat refusal.¹⁰⁴ A person who operates a motor vehicle who fails to submit to such test who has previously had his or her license suspended for a prior refusal commits a misdemeanor of the first degree and is subject to additional penalties.¹⁰⁵

A person who operates a vessel and fails to submit to a breath, urine, or blood test is subject to a civil penalty of $500 for a first refusal.¹⁰⁶ A person who operates a vessel and fails to submit to such test who has been previously fined commits a misdemeanor and is subject to additional penalties.¹⁰⁷

However, in 2016, the United States Supreme Court issued a ruling in Birchfield v. North Dakota that prohibits warrantless blood tests incident to arrests for driving under the influence.¹⁰⁸ The Court held that the Fourth Amendment prohibits unreasonable searches, and the taking of a blood sample or administration of a blood test is a search.¹⁰⁹ Under the Court's ruling, refusing a blood test may not subject a person to criminal penalties.¹¹⁰ Thus, Florida's current laws relating to the penalties for refusal to submit to a blood test are unenforceable.

Mangroves

Mangroves are tropical plants that are adapted to loose, wet soils, salt water, and periodic submersion by tides.¹¹¹ They provide protected nursery areas for fishes, crustaceans, and shellfish; food, shelter, and nesting areas for a multitude of species;¹¹² protection of the shoreline from storm surge and erosion;¹¹³ and water quality protection.¹¹⁴

Currently, there are not any state regulations for anchoring or mooring near mangroves, although the trimming of mangroves is regulated under the Mangrove Trimming and Preservation Act.¹¹⁵ Through the Mangrove Trimming and Preservation Act, the Legislature intends to protect and preserve mangrove resources valuable to our environment and economy from unregulated removal, defoliation, and destruction.¹¹⁶ The FWC notes that removing derelict and at-risk vessels from areas in close proximity to mangroves and other upland vegetation can be considerably more expensive than from other areas due to conservation and depth concerns.¹¹⁷

Florida Intracoastal Waterway

The Florida Intracoastal Waterway is defined as the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway, the Georgia state line north of Fernandina to Miami; the Port Canaveral lock and canal to the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway; the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway, Miami to Key West; the Okeechobee Waterway, Stuart to Fort Myers; the St. Johns River, Jacksonville to Sanford; the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, Anclote to Fort Myers; the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, Carrabelle to Tampa Bay; Carrabelle to Anclote open bay section, using the Gulf of Mexico; the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, Carrabelle to the Alabama state line west of Pensacola; and the Apalachicola, Chattahoochee, and Flint Rivers in Florida.¹¹⁸ The Florida Intracoastal Waterway is shown in the map below.¹¹⁹

Spaceflight

With the recent resurgence of space activity, Florida is emerging as a national leader in spaceflight activities. In 2020, the space industry in Florida completed 31 launches from Cape

Canaveral Spaceport,¹²⁰ including the SpaceX Demo-2 mission in May 2020¹²¹ and the SpaceX Crew-1 mission in November 2020.¹²² According to Space Florida, over 50 launches are expected in 2021, and up to 100 launches are expected annually going forward.¹²³ Upon re-entry, the space capsules splashed down in waters off of Florida's coasts for the first time in 45 years.¹²⁴ The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and SpaceX teams coordinated with the Coast Guard to ensure crew safety upon splashdown, including providing extra ships and air assets to patrol the splashdown zone to mitigate safety concerns for boaters approaching the landing area.¹²⁵

When the capsule landed in waters near Pensacola in August 2020, private boats approached the landing area too closely, according to NASA.¹²⁶ This led to confusion as recovery crews tried to reach the spacecraft. There were concerns that private boats could have interfered with the emergency recovery operation and that the spacecraft's thrusters could have released toxic propellant fumes.¹²⁷ Although the Coast Guard had patrol boats in the area ahead of the splashdown, it stated that "numerous boaters ignored the Coast Guard crews' requests and decided to encroach the area, putting themselves and those involved in the operation in potential danger."¹²⁸

There are no existing state statutes in place to protect spaceflight operations and astronauts. The FWC stated in its agency bill analysis that "spectator separation is necessary to prevent interference with sensitive operations, as well as for public safety reasons."¹²⁹

¹²⁹ FWC, Senate Bill 1086 Agency Bill Analysis (February 10, 2021) (on file with the Senate Committee on Environment and Natural Resources).

Section 2 of the bill, effective October 1, 2021, amends s. 316.1939, F.S., relating to refusal to submit to testing for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances.

The bill revises the conditions under which a person's driving privilege is suspended and under which a person commits a misdemeanor relating to tests for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances. The bill provides that failure to submit to a lawful breath test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances if a person has previously been fined for failure to submit to such test is a misdemeanor of the first degree.

Section 6 of the bill, effective October 1, 2021, amends s. 327.352, F.S., relating to tests for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances while operating a vessel. The bill revises the conditions under which a person commits a misdemeanor relating to boating while impaired or intoxicated. The bill provides that failure to submit to a lawful breath or urine test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances if a person has previously been fined for failure to submit to such test, or had his or her driver's license suspended for an unlawful blood-alcohol or breath-alcohol level, is a misdemeanor of the first degree.

Section 7 of the bill, effective October 1, 2021, amends s. 327.359, F.S., relating to refusal to submit to testing for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances. The bill revises the conditions under which a person commits a misdemeanor of the first degree for failure to submit to a chemical or physical breath or urine test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances to include refusal to submit to such a test, and either a previous fine for failure to submit to a chemical or physical breath test, or a driver's license suspension for an unlawful blood-alcohol or breath-alcohol level. The bill deletes from the list of misdemeanors the refusal to submit to a lawful blood test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances.

In Sections 1, 2, 6, and 7, the bill deletes the provisions establishing that a person commits a misdemeanor for refusing to submit to a lawful blood test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances if the person has been previously fined for refusal to submit to a lawful breath, urine, or blood test.

Human-Powered Vessels: Sections 3 and 8

Section 3 of the bill amends s. 327.02, F.S., relating to definitions. The bill defines the term "human-powered vessel" to mean a vessel powered only by its occupant or occupants, including, but not limited to, a vessel powered only by the occupants' hands or feet, oars, or paddles.

The bill revises references to the International Navigational Rules Act of 1977 and Inland Navigational Rules Act of 1980 to the most recent versions of the Acts, as amended.

Section 8 of the bill creates a new section of law, s. 327.371, F.S., regulating human-powered vessels. The bill authorizes persons to operate a human-powered vessel within the boundaries of the marked channel of the Florida Intracoastal Waterway only under the following conditions:

- When the marked channel is the only navigable portion of the waterway available due to vessel congestion or obstructions on the water and the operator proceeds with diligence to a location where he or she may safely operate the vessel outside the marked channel;

- While crossing the marked channel in the most direct, continuous, and expeditious manner possible and not interfering with other vessel traffic in the channel; or
- During an emergency endangering life or limb.

The bill provides that a person who operates a human-powered vessel within the marked channel outside of these conditions commits a noncriminal infraction.

Rulemaking Authority: Section 4

Section 4 of the bill amends s. 327.04, F.S., related to the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) rules. The bill provides additional rulemaking authority to the FWC to implement the provisions of:

- Chapter 705, F.S., relating to lost or abandoned vessels;
- Section 376.15, F.S., relating to relocation or removal of derelict vessels from public waters; and
- Section 823.11, F.S., relating to criminal penalties for relocation or removal of derelict vessels.

Spaceflight: Section 5

Section 5 of the bill creates a new section of law, s. 327.462, F.S., regulating the temporary establishment of protection zones in water bodies to ensure security around the launch and recovery of spaceflight assets.

The bill defines the following terms for the new section of law:

- “Launch services” means the conduct of a launch and activities involved in the preparation of a launch vehicle, payload, government astronaut, commercial astronaut, or spaceflight participant for such launch.
- “Reentry services” means the conduct of a reentry and activities involved in the preparation of a reentry vehicle, payload, government astronaut, commercial astronaut, or spaceflight participant for such reentry.
- “Spaceflight assets” means any item, or any part of an item, owned by a spaceflight entity which is used in launch services or reentry services, including crewed and uncrewed spacecraft, launch vehicles, parachutes and other landing aids, and any spacecraft or ancillary equipment that was attached to the launch vehicle during launch, orbit, or reentry.
- “Spaceflight entity” means any public or private entity holding a United States Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) launch, reentry, operator, or launch site license for spaceflight activities. The term also includes any manufacturer or supplier of components, services, or vehicles that have been reviewed by the FAA as part of issuing such a license, permit, or authorization.¹³⁰

The bill authorizes the head of a law enforcement agency or entity, or his or her designee (law enforcement), to, within the agency or entity’s jurisdiction, temporarily establish a protection zone requiring vessels to leave, or prohibiting vessels from entering, water bodies when necessary for preparations in advance of or for recovery of spaceflight assets before or after a launch service or reentry service.

A temporary protection zone must be established under the following conditions:

- The zone must be located within five hundred yards of where launch services, reentry services, or spaceflight asset recovery operations are being conducted. However, the protection zone may be located at a distance greater than five hundred yards if law enforcement determines that such greater distance is in the best interest of public safety.
- The zone may remain in effect only as long as necessary to ensure security around the launch and recovery areas and to recover spaceflight assets and any personnel being transported within a spacecraft following the launch or reentry activity. Such protection zone may not be in place more than 72 hours before or 72 hours after the launch.
- Law enforcement may also restrict vessels from operating within up to 500 yards of any vessel transporting recovered spaceflight assets following a launch or reentry while the transport vessel is continuously underway transporting such assets to a location for removal.
- Law enforcement may not restrict vessel movement within the Florida Intracoastal Waterway, except as necessary during the transport of spaceflight assets to or from port or during exigent circumstances.
- Law enforcement must report the establishment of the temporary protection zone via email to The FWC's Division of Law Enforcement, Boating and Waterways Section, and to the appropriate Coast Guard Sector Command having responsibility over the water body, at least 72 hours before establishment of the protection zone. The report must include:
 - Reasons for the protection zone;
 - The portion of the water body or water bodies that will be included in the protection zone; and
 - The duration of the protection zone.
- Law enforcement must report via email to the FWC's Division of Law Enforcement, Boating and Waterways Section, the details of all citations issued for violation of the protection zone no later than 72 hours after the end of the protection zone period.

The section of law applies only to launch services, reentry services, or the recovery of spaceflight assets occurring or originating within spaceport territory,¹³¹ and to federally licensed or federally authorized launches and reentries occurring or transiting to an end destination upon waters of this state.

The bill provides that a person who violates this section or any directive given by law enforcement relating to an established temporary protection zone after being advised of the establishment of the protection zone commits a misdemeanor of the second degree.

Boating Safety: Sections 10, 16, 15, and 19

Section 10 of the bill amends s. 327.395, F.S., relating to boater safety identification.

¹³¹ Section 331.304, F.S. establishes as spaceport territory specified real property in Brevard, Santa Rosa, Okaloosa, Gulf, Walton, and Duval Counties, and real property which is a spaceport licensed by the FAA, as designated by the board of directors of Space Florida.

The bill clarifies what documentation and certifications persons operating a vessel must have in their possession aboard the vessel.

The bill exempts, from the boater safety identification card requirement, persons who have been previously licensed by the Coast Guard to serve as master of a vessel, provided proof of such licensure to the FWC, and requested that a boating safety identification card be issued in his or her name.

The bill deletes a provision authorizing the FWC to appoint liveries, marinas, or other persons as its agents to administer a boating safety education course or temporary certificate examination and issue identification cards or temporary certificates, and requiring the agent to charge a $2 examination fee. However, the provision is retained in another subsection within the same section of law.

Section 16 of the bill creates s. 327.463, F.S., relating to special hazards requiring slow speeds by vessel operators. The bill specifies conditions under which a vessel is and is not considered to be operating at slow speed, minimum wake.

A vessel is considered to be operating at slow speed, minimum wake only if it is:

- Fully off plane and completely settled into the water; and
- Proceeding without wake or with minimum wake.

A vessel is not considered to be operating at slow speed, minimum wake if it is:

- Operating on plane;
- In the process of coming off plane and settling into the water or getting on plane; or
- Operating at a speed that creates a wake which unreasonably or unnecessarily endangers other vessels.

The bill prohibits a vessel that is required to operate at slow speed, minimum wake from proceeding at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent to avoid the creation of an excessive wake or other hazardous condition under the existing circumstances.

The bill prohibits vessel operators from operating a vessel faster than slow speed, minimum wake upon approaching certain hazardous conditions and provides that a vessel operator found in violation of this requirement is guilty of a noncriminal infraction. The hazardous conditions are:

- Approaching within 300 feet of any emergency vessel, including but not limited to, a law enforcement vessel, a Coast Guard vessel, or a firefighting vessel, when such emergency vessel has its emergency lights activated; and
- Approaching within 300 feet of any construction vessel or barge displaying an orange flag indicating that the vessel or barge is actively engaged in construction operations.
 - The flag must be displayed from a pole that extends at least 10 feet above the tallest portion of the vessel or barge, or at least five feet above any superstructure permanently installed upon the vessel or barge.
 - The flag must meet certain requirements, including:
 - Be a size of at least two feet by three feet;

- Include a wire or other stiffener or be otherwise constructed to ensure that the flag remains fully unfurled and extended in the absence of a wind or breeze; and
- Be displayed so the visibility of the flag is not obscured in any direction.

The bill specifies that a person may not be cited for a violation during periods of low visibility, including any time between the hours from 30 minutes after sunset to 30 minutes before sunrise, unless the orange flag is illuminated and visible from a distance of at least two nautical miles. Such illumination does not relieve the construction vessel or barge from complying with all navigation rules.

The bill also provides that a person operating a vessel who violates this section, or the owner of or responsible party for a construction vessel or barge that displays an orange flag when it is not actively engaged in construction operations, is guilty of a noncriminal infraction.

The bill specifies that the speed and penalty provisions of this section do not apply to law enforcement, firefighting, or rescue vessels that are owned or operated by a governmental entity.

Section 19 of the bill amends s. 327.54, F.S., relating to safety regulations of liveries. The bill prohibits liveries from knowingly leasing, hiring, or renting a vessel unless the person renting presents:

- Photographic identification and a valid boater safety identification card issued by the FWC;
- A state-issued identification card or driver license indicating possession of the boating safety identification card; or
- Photographic identification and a valid temporary certificate issued or approved by the FWC.
- These provisions do not apply to those individuals that are exempt from boating safety education requirements (Individuals born before January 1, 1988).

Boating-Restricted Areas: Sections 12, 13, 14, and 15

Section 12 of the bill amends s. 327.4108, F.S., relating to anchoring of vessels in anchoring limitation areas. The bill designates Monroe County as an anchoring limitation area within which a vessel may only be anchored in the same location for a maximum of 90 days. The bill requires the FWC to adopt rules to implement the anchoring limitation area. The bill provides that this anchoring limitation area does not apply to an approved and permitted mooring field. The bill provides that this section is not effective until Monroe County approves, permits, and opens new moorings for public use, at least 250 moorings within one mile of the Key West Bight City Dock and at least 50 moorings within the Key West Garrison Bight Mooring Field. Until such time the FWC shall designate the area within one mile of the Key West Bight City Dock as a priority for the expedited removal of derelict vessels, notwithstanding the FWC rules adopted pursuant to this section.

The bill deletes a provision that references an obsolete section of law.

Section 13 of the bill amends s. 327.4109, F.S., relating to prohibited anchoring and mooring. The bill revises existing anchoring and mooring restrictions to prohibit anchoring and mooring within 150 feet of a public or private marina or other public vessel launching or loading facility. However, vessels may anchor and moor within these areas under the exemptions in existing law.

Section 14 of the bill amends s. 327.45, F.S., relating to protection zones for springs. The bill authorizes the FWC to establish protection zones for springs which prohibit the anchoring, mooring, beaching, or grounding of vessels, to protect and prevent harm to first, second, and third magnitude springs and springs groups, including their associated spring runs, as determined by the FWC using the most recent Florida Geological Survey springs bulletin.

Section 15 of the bill amends s. 327.46, F.S., relating to boating-restricted areas. The bill authorizes municipalities and counties to establish slow speed, minimum wake boating-restricted areas by ordinance if the area is within the boundaries of a permitted public mooring field and up to a 100 foot buffer around the mooring field.

Derelict/At-Risk Vessels: Sections 11, 20, 22, 23, 24, 25, and 27

Section 11 of the bill amends s. 327.4107, F.S., relating to vessels at risk of becoming derelict on waters of this state. The bill revises the conditions under which a vessel is determined to be at risk of becoming derelict to delete vessels that are left or stored aground unattended in such a state that would prevent the vessel from getting underway or are sunk or partially sunk.

The bill authorizes the FWC and other law enforcement officers to provide notice to a vessel owner or operator that a vessel is at risk of becoming derelict via in-person notice recorded on an agency-approved body camera.

The bill authorizes the FWC and other law enforcement officers to relocate or cause to be relocated a vessel at risk of becoming derelict to a distance greater than 20 feet from a mangrove or upland vegetation. Law enforcement agencies and officers must be held harmless for damages to an at-risk vessel that result from relocation unless the damage results from gross negligence¹³² or willful misconduct.¹³³

The bill authorizes the FWC to establish a derelict vessel prevention program to address vessels at risk of becoming derelict. The program may, but is not required to, include:

- Removal, relocation, and destruction of vessels declared a public nuisance, derelict or at risk of becoming derelict, or lost or abandoned in accordance with state law;
- Creation of a vessel turn-in program allowing the owner of a vessel determined by law enforcement to be at risk of becoming derelict to turn his or her vessel and vessel title over to the FWC to be destroyed without penalty;
- Removal and destruction of an abandoned vessel for which an owner cannot be identified or the owner of which is deceased and no heir is interested in acquiring the vessel;
- Purchase of anchor line, anchors, and other equipment necessary for securing vessels at risk of becoming derelict; and
- Creation or acquisition of moorings designated for securing vessels at risk of becoming derelict.

¹³² “Gross negligence” means conduct so reckless or wanting in care that it constitutes a conscious disregard or indifference to the safety of the property exposed to such conduct. Section 823.11, F.S.

¹³³ “Willful misconduct” means conduct evidencing carelessness or negligence of such a degree or recurrence as to manifest culpability, wrongful intent, or evil design or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the interests of the vessel owner. Section 823.11, F.S.

The bill authorizes the FWC to adopt rules to implement the program. Implementation of the program is subject to appropriation by the Legislature and is funded by the Marine Resources Conservation Trust Fund or the Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund.

Section 20 of the bill amends s. 327.60, F.S., relating to local regulations. The bill authorizes local governments to enact and enforce regulations to implement the procedures for abandoned or lost property that allow the local law enforcement agency to remove an abandoned or lost vessel within its jurisdiction that is affixed to a public mooring.

Section 22 and Section 23 of the bill amend s. 328.09, F.S., relating to the refusal to issue and authority to cancel a certificate of title or registration. The bill prohibits the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV) from issuing a certificate of title to an applicant for a vessel that has been deemed derelict.

Section 23 of the bill takes effect on July 1, 2023. At that time, the bill authorizes the DHSMV to reject an application for a certificate of title for a vessel that has been deemed derelict.

Section 24 of the bill amends s. 376.15, F.S., relating to the relocation or removal of derelict vessels from public waters. The bill deletes the prohibition in existing law against storing or abandoning a derelict vessel and provides that it is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to leave a derelict vessel upon the waters of this state. The bill provides that for purposes of this section, the term “leave” means to allow a vessel to remain occupied or unoccupied on the waters of this state for more than 24 hours.

The bill prohibits charging a person who owns or operates a vessel that becomes derelict upon the waters of this state solely as a result of a boating accident that is reported to law enforcement in a written report or otherwise; a hurricane; or another sudden event outside of his or her control with a violation if:

- The individual documents for law enforcement the specific event that led to the vessel being derelict upon the waters of this state; and
- The vessel has been removed from the waters of this state or has been repaired or addressed such that it is no longer derelict upon the waters of this state:
 - For a vessel that has become derelict as a result of a boating accident or other sudden event outside of his or her control, within seven days after such accident or event; or
 - Within 45 days after the hurricane has passed over this state.

However, this provision does not apply to a vessel that was derelict upon the waters of this state before a stated accident or event.

The bill authorizes the FWC or law enforcement agencies or officers to store, destroy, or dispose of derelict vessels, in addition to relocating or removing them. The bill authorizes the recovery of relocation, removal, storage, destruction, and disposal costs incurred by the FWC or a law enforcement agency from the party determined to be legally responsible for the vessel being upon the waters of this state in a derelict condition. The FWC or law enforcement agencies or officers are held harmless for damages to the derelict vessel resulting from these actions, unless the damage results from gross negligence or willful misconduct.

The bill requires a governmental subdivision that has received authorization from a law enforcement agency to perform vessel relocation or removal activities to be licensed, insured, and properly equipped to perform such activities.

The bill adds storage, destruction, and disposal to the list of authorized actions for which the FWC may provide grants from the Marine Resources Conservation Trust Fund or Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund to local governments under an established program for derelict vessels.

Section 25 of the bill amends s. 705.103, F.S., relating to the procedures for abandoned or lost property. The bill creates specific procedures for derelict vessels or vessels that have been declared a public nuisance that are present on waters of this state. When a law enforcement officer ascertains that such a vessel exists, the officer must cause a notice to be placed on the vessel in substantially the following form:

NOTICE TO THE OWNER AND ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE ATTACHED VESSEL. This vessel, to wit: ...(setting forth brief description)... has been determined to be (derelict or a public nuisance) and is unlawfully upon waters of this state ...(setting forth brief description of location)... and must be removed within 21 days; otherwise, it will be removed and disposed of pursuant to chapter 705, Florida Statutes. The owner and other interested parties may have the right to a hearing to challenge the determination that this vessel is derelict or otherwise in violation of the law. Please contact ...(contact information for person who can arrange for a hearing in accordance with this section)... The owner or the party determined to be legally responsible for the vessel being upon the waters of this state in a derelict condition will be liable for the costs of removal, destruction, and disposal if this vessel is not removed by the owner. Dated this: ...(setting forth the date of posting of notice)..., signed: ...(setting forth name, title, address, and telephone number of law enforcement officer)...

The bill requires the law enforcement agency to mail a copy of the notice and inform the owner or responsible party that he or she has a right to a hearing to dispute the determination that the vessel is derelict or otherwise in violation of the law. If a request for a hearing is made, the bill requires a state agency to follow the statutory processes for proceedings in which the substantial interests of a party are determined by an agency, except that a local judge, magistrate, or code enforcement officer may be designated to conduct a hearing.

The bill authorizes the law enforcement agency, or its designee, if the owner or responsible party for a derelict vessel or vessel that has been declared a nuisance has not requested a hearing at the end of 21 days after the notice is published, or if, following a hearing, the judge, magistrate, administrative law judge, or hearing officer has determined the vessel to be derelict or at risk of becoming derelict and a final order has been entered or the case is otherwise closed, to:

- Remove the vessel from the waters of this state and destroy and dispose of the vessel or authorize another governmental entity or its designee to do so; or

- Authorize the vessel's use as an artificial reef in accordance with the FWC's artificial reef program if all necessary federal, state, and local authorizations are received.

The bill provides that the party determined to be legally responsible for the vessel being upon the waters of this state in a derelict condition is liable to the law enforcement agency, governmental entity, or the agency's or entity's designee for removal, storage, and destruction costs.

The bill provides that neglecting or refusing to pay all costs of removal, storage, disposal, and destruction of a vessel or motor vehicle, after having been provided written notice via certified mail that such costs are owed, and after having applied for and been issued a registration for a vessel or motor vehicle before such costs have been paid in full, is a misdemeanor of the first degree.

Section 27 of the bill amends s. 823.11, F.S., relating to the relocation or removal of derelict vessels. The bill revises the definition of "derelict vessel" to delete that the vessel is left, stored, or abandoned. The portion of the definition of "derelict vessel" that describes the vessel as in a wrecked, junked, or substantially dismantled condition upon any public waters of this state is also revised to delete the word "public." The new definition provides that a vessel is:

- Wrecked if it is sunken or sinking; aground without the ability to extricate itself absent mechanical assistance; or remaining after a marine casualty, including, but not limited to, a boating accident, extreme weather, or a fire.
- Junked if it has been substantially stripped of vessel components, if vessel components have substantially degraded or been destroyed, or if the vessel has been discarded by the owner or operator. Attaching an outboard motor to a vessel that is otherwise junked will not cause the vessel to no longer be junked if such motor is not an effective means of propulsion for safe navigation within 72 hours after the vessel owner or operator receives telephonic or written notice of such from an officer, and the vessel owner or operator is unable to provide a receipt, proof of purchase, or other documentation of having ordered necessary parts for vessel repair.
- Substantially dismantled if at least two of the three following vessel systems or components are missing, compromised, incomplete, inoperable, or broken: the steering system, the propulsion system, or the exterior hull integrity. Attaching an outboard motor to a vessel that is otherwise substantially dismantled will not cause the vessel to no longer be substantially dismantled if the motor is not an effective means of propulsion.

The bill deletes the prohibition against storing or abandoning a derelict vessel in existing law and prohibits a person, firm, or corporation from leaving a derelict vessel upon the waters of this state. The bill provides that for purposes of the paragraph, the term "leave" means to allow a vessel to remain occupied or unoccupied on the waters of this state for more than 24 hours.

The bill prohibits charging a person who owns or operates a vessel that becomes derelict upon the waters of this state solely as a result of a boating accident that is reported to law enforcement in a written report or otherwise; a hurricane; or another sudden event outside of his or her control with a violation if:

- The individual documents for law enforcement the specific event that led to the vessel being derelict upon the waters of this state; and

- The vessel has been removed from the waters of this state or has been repaired or addressed such that it is no longer derelict upon the waters of this state:
 - For a vessel that has become derelict as a result of a boating accident or other sudden event outside of his or her control, within 7 days after such accident or event; or
 - Within 45 days after the hurricane has passed over this state.

However, this provision does not apply to a vessel that was derelict upon the waters of this state before a stated accident or event.

The bill authorizes the FWC or law enforcement agencies or officers to store, destroy, or dispose of derelict vessels, in addition to relocating or removing them, if the derelict vessel obstructs or threatens to obstruct navigation or constitutes a danger to the environment, property, or persons. The FWC or law enforcement agencies or officers are held harmless for damages to the derelict vessel resulting from these actions, unless the damage results from gross negligence or willful misconduct.

The bill allows for the FWC, law enforcement agencies, or governmental subdivisions that have received authorization from a law enforcement officer or agency to recover costs for relocation, removal, storage, destruction, and disposal of a derelict vessel from a vessel owner or the party determined to be legally responsible for the vessel being upon the waters of this state in a derelict condition. The bill provides that neglecting or refusing to pay all costs of removal, storage, destruction, or disposal of a derelict vessel, after having been provided written notice via certified mail that such costs are owed, and after having applied for and been issued a registration for a vessel or motor vehicle before such costs have been paid in full, is a misdemeanor of the first degree.

The bill requires a governmental subdivision that has received authorization from a law enforcement agency to perform vessel relocation or removal activities to be licensed, insured, and properly equipped to perform such activities.

Marine Sanitation Devices: Section 18

Section 18 of the bill amends s. 327.53, F.S., relating to marine sanitation. The bill requires the owner or operator of a live-aboard vessel or houseboat that is equipped with a marine sanitation device to maintain a record of the date of each pump-out of the device and the location of the pump-out station or waste reception facility. The bill requires each record to be maintained for one year after the pump-out date.

Penalties: Section 21

Section 21 of the bill amends s. 327.73, F.S., relating to civil penalties for violations of specified vessel laws.

The bill amends the noncriminal infraction for a violation of s. 327.395, F.S., relating to boater safety education to provide that a person cited for failing to have the required proof of boating safety education in his or her possession may not be convicted if, before or at the time of a county court hearing, the person produces proof of the boating safety education identification card or temporary certificate for verification by the hearing officer or the court clerk and the identification card or temporary certificate was valid at the time the person was cited.

The bill increases civil penalties for a violation of s. 327.4107, F.S., relating to vessels at risk of becoming derelict on waters of this state, from:

- $50 to $100 for a first offense;
- $100 to $250 for a second offense occurring 30 days or more after a previous offense; and
- $250 to $500 for a third or subsequent offense occurring 30 days or more after a previous offense.

The bill declares that a vessel that is the subject of three or more violations issued within an 18-month period by a law enforcement officer for being at risk of becoming derelict, which result in a disposition other than acquittal or dismissal, is a public nuisance and is subject to relocation or removal. The bill authorizes the FWC or other law enforcement to relocate or remove the vessel or cause it to be relocated or removed. Law enforcement officers who relocate or remove such a vessel are held harmless for damages to the vessel unless the damage results from gross negligence¹³⁴ or willful misconduct.¹³⁵

The bill creates civil penalties for a violation of s. 327.463(4)(a) and (b), F.S., the new section relating to vessels creating special hazards, of:

- $50 for a first offense;
- $100 for a second offense occurring within 12 months after a prior offense; and
- $250 for a third offense occurring within 36 months after a prior offense.

The bill adds to the list of violations resulting in a noncriminal offense:

- Failing to maintain the required pump-out records of a marine sanitation device for a live-aboard vessel or houseboat; and
- Operating a human-powered vessel within the boundaries of a marked channel of the Florida Intracoastal Waterway in violation of the new statutory restrictions.

Conforming Changes: Sections 9, 17, and 26

Section 9 of the bill amends s. 327.391, F.S., relating to the regulation of airboats, to make conforming and technical changes.

Section 17 of the bill amends s. 327.50, F.S., relating to vessel safety regulations, equipment, and lighting requirements. The bill corrects an incorrect reference to clarify that the FWC may exempt vessel owners and operators from current Coast Guard safety equipment requirements.

Section 26 of the bill amends s. 705.103, F.S., relating to the procedures for abandoned or lost property, to conform to revisions from ch. 2019-76, Laws of Florida, which take effect in 2023.

¹³⁴ “Gross negligence” means conduct so reckless or wanting in care that it constitutes a conscious disregard or indifference to the safety of the property exposed to such conduct. Section 823.11, F.S.

¹³⁵ “Willful misconduct” means conduct evidencing carelessness or negligence of such a degree or recurrence as to manifest culpability, wrongful intent, or evil design or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the interests of the vessel owner. Section 823.11, F.S.

Effective Date

Section 28 of the bill provides that except as otherwise expressly provided, the effective date is July 1, 2021. (Section 23 of the bill takes effect July 1, 2023.)

298 risk of becoming derelict if any of the following conditions
299 exist:

300 (d) The vessel is ~~left or stored aground unattended in such~~

321860

301 ~~a state that would prevent the vessel from getting underway, is~~ 302 ~~listing due to water intrusion, or is sunk or partially sunk.~~

303 (e) The vessel does not have an effective means of 304 propulsion for safe navigation within 72 hours after the vessel
305 owner or operator receives telephonic notice, in-person notice
306 recorded on an agency-approved body camera, or written notice,
307 which may be provided by facsimile, electronic mail, or other
308 electronic means, stating such from an officer, and the vessel
309 owner or operator is unable to provide a receipt, proof of 310 purchase, or other documentation of having ordered necessary
311 parts for vessel repair. The commission may adopt rules to 312 implement this paragraph.

313 (5) The commission, an officer of the commission, or a law
314 enforcement agency or officer specified in s. 327.70 may 315 relocate or cause to be relocated an at-risk vessel found to be 316 in violation of this section to a distance greater than 20 feet
317 from a mangrove or upland vegetation. The commission, an officer
318 of the commission, or a law enforcement agency or officer acting
319 pursuant to this subsection upon waters of this state shall be 320 held harmless for all damages to the at-risk vessel resulting 321 from such relocation unless the damage results from gross
322 negligence or willful misconduct as these terms are defined in 323 s. 823.11.

324 (7) The commission may establish a derelict vessel
325 prevention program to address vessels at risk of becoming 326 derelict. Such program may, but is not required to, include:

327 (a) Removal, relocation, and destruction of vessels
328 declared a public nuisance, derelict or at risk of becoming 329 derelict, or lost or abandoned in accordance with s. 327.53(7),

321860

330 s. 327.73(1)(aa), s. 705.103(2) and (4), or s. 823.11(3).

331 (b) Creation of a vessel turn-in program allowing the owner
332 of a vessel determined by law enforcement to be at risk of 333 becoming derelict in accordance with this section to turn his or 334 her vessel and vessel title over to the commission to be 335 destroyed without penalty.

336 (c) Providing for removal and destruction of an abandoned
337 vessel for which an owner cannot be identified or the owner of 338 which is deceased and no heir is interested in acquiring the 339 vessel.

340 (d) Purchase of anchor line, anchors, and other equipment
341 necessary for securing vessels at risk of becoming derelict.

342 (e) Creating or acquiring moorings designated for securing
343 vessels at risk of becoming derelict.

344
345 The commission may adopt rules to implement this subsection.
346 Implementation of the derelict vessel prevention program shall 347 be subject to appropriation by the Legislature and shall be 348 funded by the Marine Resources Conservation Trust Fund or the 349 Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund.

350 Section 13. Section 327.4108, Florida Statutes, is amended
351 to read:

352 327.4108 Anchoring of vessels in anchoring limitation
353 areas.-

354 (1) The following densely populated urban areas, which have 355 narrow state waterways, residential docking facilities, and 356 significant recreational boating traffic, are designated as 357 anchoring limitation areas, within which a person may not anchor
358 a vessel at any time during the period between one-half hour

321860

359 after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise, except as 360 provided in subsections (3) and (4):

361 (a) The section of Middle River lying between Northeast
362 21st Court and the Intracoastal Waterway in Broward County.

363 (b) Sunset Lake in Miami-Dade County.

364 (c) The sections of Biscayne Bay in Miami-Dade County lying 365 between:

366 1. Rivo Alto Island and Di Lido Island.

367 2. San Marino Island and San Marco Island.

368 3. San Marco Island and Biscayne Island.

369 (2) (a) Monroe County is designated as an anchoring
370 limitation area within which a vessel on waters of the state may 371 only be anchored in the same location for a maximum of 90 days.

372 The commission shall adopt rules to implement this subsection.

373 (b) The anchoring limitations in this subsection do not 374 apply to approved and permitted moorings or mooring fields.

375 (c) Notwithstanding the commission rules adopted pursuant
376 to this section, this section is not effective for Monroe County
377 until the county approves, permits, and opens new moorings for 378 public use, including at least 250 moorings within 1 mile of the 379 Key West Bight City Dock and at least 50 moorings within the Key
380 West Garrison Bight Mooring Field. Until such time, the 381 commission shall designate the area within 1 mile of the Key 382 West Bight City Dock as a priority for the investigation and 383 removal of derelict vessels.

384 ~~(2) To promote the public's use and enjoyment of the~~ 385 ~~designated waterway, except as provided in subsections (3) and~~ 386 ~~(4), a person may not anchor a vessel at any time during the~~ 387 ~~period between one-half hour after sunset and one-half hour~~

321860

388 ~~before sunrise in an anchoring limitation area.~~

389 (3) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and subsection (2), a
390 person may anchor a vessel in an anchoring limitation area
391 during a time that would otherwise be unlawful:

392 (a) If the vessel suffers a mechanical failure that poses
393 an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons
394 onboard unless the vessel anchors. The vessel may anchor for 3
395 business days or until the vessel is repaired, whichever occurs
396 first.

397 (b) If imminent or existing weather conditions in the 398 vicinity of the vessel pose an unreasonable risk of harm to the 399 vessel or the persons onboard unless the vessel anchors. The 400 vessel may anchor until weather conditions no longer pose such
401 risk. During a hurricane or tropical storm, weather conditions
402 are deemed to no longer pose an unreasonable risk of harm when 403 the hurricane or tropical storm warning affecting the area has 404 expired.

405 (c) During events described in s. 327.48 or other special
406 events, including, but not limited to, public music
407 performances, local government waterfront activities, or 408 fireworks displays. A vessel may anchor for the lesser of the 409 duration of the special event or 3 days.

410 (4) This section does not apply to:

411 (a) Vessels owned or operated by a governmental entity for 412 law enforcement, firefighting, military, or rescue purposes.

413 (b) Construction or dredging vessels on an active job site.

414 (c) Vessels actively engaged in commercial fishing.

415 (d) Vessels engaged in recreational fishing if the persons
416 onboard are actively tending hook and line fishing gear or nets.

321860

417 (5) (a) As used in this subsection, the term "law
418 enforcement officer or agency" means an officer or agency
419 authorized to enforce this section pursuant to s. 327.70.

420 (b) A law enforcement officer or agency may remove a vessel
421 from an anchoring limitation area and impound the vessel for up
422 to 48 hours, or cause such removal and impoundment, if the
423 vessel operator, after being issued a citation for a violation
424 of this section:

425 1. Anchors the vessel in violation of this section within 426 12 hours after being issued the citation; or

427 2. Refuses to leave the anchoring limitation area after 428 being directed to do so by a law enforcement officer or agency.

429 (c) A law enforcement officer or agency acting under this 430 subsection to remove or impound a vessel, or to cause such 431 removal or impoundment, shall be held harmless for any damage to 432 the vessel resulting from such removal or impoundment unless the 433 damage results from gross negligence or willful misconduct.

434 (d) A contractor performing removal or impoundment services
435 at the direction of a law enforcement officer or agency pursuant 436 to this subsection must:

437 1. Be licensed in accordance with United States Coast Guard
438 regulations, as applicable.

439 2. Obtain and carry a current policy issued by a licensed
440 insurance carrier in this state to insure against any accident,
441 loss, injury, property damage, or other casualty caused by or 442 resulting from the contractor's actions.

443 3. Be properly equipped to perform such services.

444 (e) In addition to the civil penalty imposed under s.
445 327.73(1)(z), the operator of a vessel that is removed and

321860

446 impounded pursuant to paragraph (b) must pay all removal and 447 storage fees before the vessel is released. A vessel removed 448 pursuant to paragraph (b) may not be impounded for longer than 449 48 hours.

450 (6) A violation of this section is punishable as provided
451 in s. 327.73(1)(z).

452 ~~(7) This section shall remain in effect notwithstanding the~~ 453 ~~Legislature's adoption of the commission's recommendations for~~
454 ~~the regulation of mooring vessels outside of public mooring~~
455 ~~fields pursuant to s. 327.4105.~~

456 Section 14. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) and subsection
457 (2) of section 327.4109, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:
458 327.4109 Anchoring or mooring prohibited; exceptions;
459 penalties.—

460 (1)(a) The owner or operator of a vessel or floating
461 structure may not anchor or moor such that the nearest approach 462 of the anchored or moored vessel or floating structure is:

463 1. Within 150 feet of any public or private marina, boat
464 ramp, boatyard, or other public vessel launching or loading
465 facility;

466 2. Within 500 ~~300~~ feet of a superyacht repair facility. For 467 purposes of this subparagraph, the term "superyacht repair 468 facility" means a facility that services or repairs a yacht with 469 a water line of 120 feet or more in length; or

470 3. Within 100 feet outward from the marked boundary of a
471 public mooring field or a lesser distance if approved by the 472 commission upon request of a local government within which the 473 mooring field is located. The commission may adopt rules to 474 implement this subparagraph.

321860

475 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), an owner or operator of 476 a vessel may anchor or moor within 150 feet of any public or
477 private marina, boat ramp, boatyard, or other public vessel
478 launching or loading facility; within 500 ~~300~~ feet of a 479 superyacht repair facility; or within 100 feet outward from the 480 marked boundary of a public mooring field if:

481 (a) The vessel suffers a mechanical failure that poses an
482 unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard
483 such vessel. The owner or operator of the vessel may anchor or 484 moor for 5 business days or until the vessel is repaired,
485 whichever occurs first.

486 (b) Imminent or existing weather conditions in the vicinity
487 of the vessel pose an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or 488 the persons onboard such vessel. The owner or operator of the 489 vessel may anchor or moor until weather conditions no longer
490 pose such risk. During a hurricane or tropical storm, weather
491 conditions are deemed to no longer pose an unreasonable risk of 492 harm when the hurricane or tropical storm warning affecting the 493 area has expired.

494 Section 15. Subsection (2) of section 327.45, Florida
495 Statutes, is amended to read:

496 327.45 Protection zones for springs.—

497 (2) The commission may establish by rule protection zones
498 that restrict the speed and operation of vessels, or that 499 prohibit the anchoring, mooring, beaching, or grounding of 500 vessels, to protect and prevent harm to first, second, and third
501 magnitude springs and springs groups, including their associated 502 spring runs, as determined by the commission using the most 503 recent Florida Geological Survey springs bulletin. This harm

321860

504 includes negative impacts to water quality, water quantity,
505 hydrology, wetlands, and aquatic and wetland-dependent species.

506 Section 16. Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section
507 327.46, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

508 327.46 Boating-restricted areas.—

509 (1) Boating-restricted areas, including, but not limited
510 to, restrictions of vessel speeds and vessel traffic, may be 511 established on the waters of this state for any purpose
512 necessary to protect the safety of the public if such 513 restrictions are necessary based on boating accidents,
514 visibility, hazardous currents or water levels, vessel traffic
515 congestion, or other navigational hazards or to protect 516 seagrasses on privately owned submerged lands.

517 (b) Municipalities and counties may have the authority to 518 establish the following boating-restricted areas by ordinance,
519 including, notwithstanding the prohibition in s. 327.60(2)(c), 520 within the portion of the Florida Intracoastal Waterway within 521 their jurisdiction:

522 1. An ordinance establishing an idle speed, no wake
523 boating-restricted area, if the area is:

524 a. Within 500 feet of any boat ramp, hoist, marine railway, 525 or other launching or landing facility available for use by the 526 general boating public on waterways more than 300 feet in width
527 or within 300 feet of any boat ramp, hoist, marine railway, or 528 other launching or landing facility available for use by the 529 general boating public on waterways not exceeding 300 feet in 530 width.

532 marine fueling facility that sells motor fuel to the general

321860

533 boating public on waterways more than 300 feet in width or 534 within 300 feet of the fuel pumps or dispensers at any licensed
535 terminal facility that sells motor fuel to the general boating
536 public on waterways not exceeding 300 feet in width.

537 c. Inside or within 300 feet of any lock structure.

538 2. An ordinance establishing a slow speed, minimum wake
539 boating-restricted area if the area is:

540 a. Within 300 feet of any bridge fender system.

541 b. Within 300 feet of any bridge span presenting a vertical 542 clearance of less than 25 feet or a horizontal clearance of less
543 than 100 feet.

544 c. On a creek, stream, canal, or similar linear waterway if 545 the waterway is less than 75 feet in width from shoreline to 546 shoreline.

547 d. On a lake or pond of less than 10 acres in total surface
548 area.

549 e. Within the boundaries of a permitted public mooring
550 field and a buffer around the mooring field of up to 100 feet.

554 designated as a public bathing beach or swim area, except that 555 such areas may not be established within the Florida
556 Intracoastal Waterway.

557 b. Within 300 feet of a dam, spillway, or flood control
558 structure.

559 Section 17. Section 327.463, Florida Statutes, is created
560 to read:

561 327.463 Special hazards.-

321860

- 562 (1) For purposes of this section, a vessel:
563 (a) Is operating at slow speed, minimum wake only if it is:
564 1. Fully off plane and completely settled into the water;
565 and
566 2. Proceeding without wake or with minimum wake.

567
568 A vessel that is required to operate at slow speed, minimum wake 569 may not proceed at a speed greater than a speed that is 570 reasonable and prudent to avoid the creation of an excessive 571 wake or other hazardous condition under the existing 572 circumstances.

- 573 (b) Is not proceeding at slow speed, minimum wake if it is:
574 1. Operating on plane;
575 2. In the process of coming off plane and settling into the 576 water or getting on plane; or 577 3. Operating at a speed that creates a wake that 578 unreasonably or unnecessarily endangers other vessels.

579 (2) A person may not operate a vessel faster than slow
580 speed, minimum wake within 300 feet of any emergency vessel,
581 including, but not limited to, a law enforcement vessel, United 582 States Coast Guard vessel, or firefighting vessel, when such 583 emergency vessel's emergency lights are activated.

584 (3) (a) A person may not operate a vessel faster than slow
585 speed, minimum wake within 300 feet of any construction vessel
586 or barge when the vessel or barge is displaying an orange flag 587 from a pole extending:

- 588 1. At least 10 feet above the tallest portion of the vessel
589 or barge, indicating that the vessel or barge is actively 590 engaged in construction operations; or

592 installed upon the vessel or barge, indicating that the vessel
593 or barge is actively engaged in construction operations.

594 (b) A flag displayed on a construction vessel or barge
595 pursuant to this subsection must:

596 1. Be at least 2 feet by 3 feet in size.

597 2. Have a wire or other stiffener or be otherwise
598 constructed to ensure that the flag remains fully unfurled and 599 extended in the absence of a wind or breeze.

600 3. Be displayed so that the visibility of the flag is not 601 obscured in any direction.

602 (c) In periods of low visibility, including any time
603 between 30 minutes after sunset and 30 minutes before sunrise, a
604 person may not be cited for a violation of this subsection
605 unless the orange flag is illuminated and visible from a
606 distance of at least 2 nautical miles. Such illumination does 607 not relieve the construction vessel or barge from complying with 608 all navigation rules.

609 (4) (a) A person operating a vessel in violation of this
610 section commits a noncriminal infraction, punishable as provided
611 in s. 327.73.

612 (b) The owner of, or party who is responsible for, a
613 construction vessel or barge who displays an orange flag on the 614 vessel or barge when it is not actively engaged in construction 615 operations commits a noncriminal infraction, punishable as 616 provided in s. 327.73.

617 (5) The speed and penalty provisions of this section do not 618 apply to a law enforcement, firefighting, or rescue vessel that 619 is owned or operated by a governmental entity.

321860

620 Section 18. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of section
621 327.50, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

635 infraction, punishable as provided in s. 327.73. Each violation
636 shall be a separate offense. The owner and operator of any 637 vessel shall be jointly and severally liable for the civil 638 penalty imposed pursuant to this section.

654 state at the owner's expense. If the owner cannot be found or 655 otherwise fails to pay the removal costs, the provisions of s.
656 328.17 shall apply. If the proceeds under s. 328.17 are not 657 sufficient to pay all removal costs, funds appropriated from the 658 Marine Resources Conservation Trust Fund pursuant to paragraph
659 (6) (b) or s. 328.72(15) (c) ~~s. 328.72(16)~~ may be used.

521 (1)(a)1. The Legislature declares that the operation of a
522 vessel is a privilege that must be exercised in a reasonable
523 manner. In order to protect the public health and safety, it is 524 essential that a lawful and effective means of reducing the 525 incidence of boating while impaired or intoxicated be 526 established. Therefore, a any person who accepts the privilege
527 extended by the laws of this state of operating a vessel within 528 this state is, by ~~se~~ operating such vessel, deemed to have given

532 alcoholic content of his or her blood or breath if the person is 533 lawfully arrested for any offense allegedly committed while the 534 person was operating a vessel while under the influence of 535 alcoholic beverages. The chemical or physical breath test must 536 be incidental to a lawful arrest and administered at the request
537 of a law enforcement officer who has reasonable cause to believe 538 such person was operating the vessel within this state while 539 under the influence of alcoholic beverages. The administration
540 of a breath test does not preclude the administration of another
541 type of test. The person shall be told that his or her failure
542 to submit to any lawful test of his or her breath under this 543 chapter will result in a civil penalty of $500, and shall also

550 775.082 or s. 775.083, in addition to any other penalties
551 provided by law. The refusal to submit to a chemical or physical 552 breath test upon the request of a law enforcement officer as 553 provided in this section is admissible into evidence in any 554 criminal proceeding.

555 2. A Any person who accepts the privilege extended by the 556 laws of this state of operating a vessel within this state is,

561 any offense allegedly committed while the person was operating a 562 vessel while under the influence of chemical substances or 563 controlled substances. The urine test must be incidental to a 564 lawful arrest and administered at a detention facility or any 565 other facility, mobile or otherwise, which is equipped to 566 administer such tests at the request of a law enforcement
567 officer who has reasonable cause to believe such person was 568 operating a vessel within this state while under the influence
569 of chemical substances or controlled substances. The urine test
570 shall be administered at a detention facility or any other
571 facility, mobile or otherwise, which is equipped to administer
572 such test in a reasonable manner that will ensure the accuracy
573 of the specimen and maintain the privacy of the individual
574 involved. The administration of a urine test does not preclude 575 the administration of another type of test. The person shall be 576 told that his or her failure to submit to any lawful test of his 577 or her urine under this chapter will result in a civil penalty

518944

590 laws of this state of operating a vessel within this state is,
591 by operating such vessel, deemed to have given his or her
592 consent to submit to an approved blood test for the purpose of 593 determining the alcoholic content of the blood or a blood test
594 for the purpose of determining the presence of chemical

597 a vessel while under the influence of alcoholic beverages or 598 chemical or controlled substances and the person appears for 599 treatment at a hospital, clinic, or other medical facility and 600 the administration of a breath or urine test is impractical or 601 impossible. As used in this paragraph, the term "other medical 602 facility" includes an ambulance or other medical emergency
603 vehicle. The blood test shall be performed in a reasonable
604 manner. A Any person who is incapable of refusal by reason of 897 limitation area within which a vessel may only be anchored in 898 the same location for a maximum of 90 days. The commission shall 899 adopt rules to implement this subsection.

900 (b) This subsection does not apply to an approved and 901 permitted mooring field or to privately owned submerged land.

902 (c) Notwithstanding the commission rules adopted pursuant
903 to this section, this section is not effective for Monroe County
904 until the county approves, permits, and opens new moorings for 905 public use, including at least 250 moorings within 1 mile of the 906 Key West Bight City Dock and at least 50 moorings within the Key
907 West Garrison Bight Mooring Field. Until such time, the

926 vessel or the persons onboard unless the vessel anchors. The 927 vessel may anchor until weather conditions no longer pose such
928 risk. During a hurricane or tropical storm, weather conditions
929 are deemed to no longer pose an unreasonable risk of harm when

948 from an anchoring limitation area and impound the vessel for up
949 to 48 hours, or cause such removal and impoundment, if the 950 vessel operator, after being issued a citation for a violation
951 of this section:

952 1. Anchors the vessel in violation of this section within 953 12 hours after being issued the citation; or

954 2. Refuses to leave the anchoring limitation area after

576-03924-21

955 being directed to do so by a law enforcement officer or agency.

956 (c) A law enforcement officer or agency acting under this
957 subsection to remove or impound a vessel, or to cause such 958 removal or impoundment, shall be held harmless for any damage to

975 pursuant to paragraph (b) may not be impounded for longer than 976 48 hours.

977 (6) A violation of this section is punishable as provided
978 in s. 327.73(1)(z).

979 ~~(7) This section shall remain in effect notwithstanding the~~ 980 ~~Legislature's adoption of the commission's recommendations for~~
981 ~~the regulation of mooring vessels outside of public mooring~~
982 ~~fields pursuant to s. 327.4105.~~

983 Section 13. Paragraph (a) of subsection (1) and subsection

995 facility" means a facility that services or repairs a yacht with 996 a water line of 120 feet or more in length; or

997 3. Within 100 feet outward from the marked boundary of a
998 public mooring field or a lesser distance if approved by the
999 commission upon request of a local government within which the 1000 mooring field is located. The commission may adopt rules to 1001 implement this subparagraph.

1002 (2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), an owner or operator of 1003 a vessel may anchor or moor within 150 feet of any public or
1004 private marina, boat ramp, boatyard, or other public vessel
1005 launching or loading facility; within 500 ~~300~~ feet of a

1007 marked boundary of a public mooring field if:

1008 (a) The vessel suffers a mechanical failure that poses an
1009 unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard
1010 such vessel. The owner or operator of the vessel may anchor or

1015 the persons onboard such vessel. The owner or operator of the 1016 vessel may anchor or moor until weather conditions no longer
1017 pose such risk. During a hurricane or tropical storm, weather
1018 conditions are deemed to no longer pose an unreasonable risk of 1019 harm when the hurricane or tropical storm warning affecting the 1020 area has expired.

1021 Section 14. Subsection (2) of section 327.45, Florida
1022 Statutes, is amended to read:

1027 vessels, to protect and prevent harm to first, second, and third
1028 magnitude springs and springs groups, including their associated
1029 spring runs, as determined by the commission using the most
1030 recent Florida Geological Survey springs bulletin. This harm
1031 includes negative impacts to water quality, water quantity,
1032 hydrology, wetlands, and aquatic and wetland-dependent species.

1697 reasonable cause for failure to do so, and, in the case of a
1698 derelict vessel or a vessel declared a public nuisance pursuant 1699 to s. 327.73(1)(aa), has not requested a hearing in accordance 1700 with this section, the following shall apply:
1701 a. ~~(a)~~ For abandoned property other than a derelict vessel
1702 or a vessel declared a public nuisance pursuant to s.

1711 agency or its designee may:
1712 (I) Remove the vessel from the waters of this state and 1713 destroy and dispose of the vessel or authorize another
1714 governmental entity or its designee to do so; or 1715 (II) Authorize the vessel's use as an artificial reef in 1716 accordance with s. 379.249 if all necessary federal, state, and 1717 local authorizations are received.
1718
1719 A law enforcement agency or its designee may also take action as 1720 described in this sub-subparagraph if, following a hearing
1721 pursuant to this section, the judge, magistrate, administrative 1722 law judge, or hearing officer has determined the vessel to be 1723 derelict as provided in s. 823.11 or otherwise in violation of 1724 the law in accordance with s. 327.73(1)(aa) and a final order
1725 has been entered or the case is otherwise closed.
1726 (b) For lost property, the officer shall take custody and 1727 the agency shall retain custody of the property for 90 days. The 1738 county where the property was found if the value of the property

1739 is more than $100. If the value of the property is $100 or less,
1740 notice shall be given by posting a description of the property

1744 notice must describe the property in a manner reasonably
1745 adequate to permit the rightful owner of the property to claim 1746 it.

1747 2. If the agency elects to sell the property, it must do so
1748 at public sale by competitive bidding. Notice of the time and 1749 place of the sale shall be given by an advertisement of the sale
1750 published once a week for 2 consecutive weeks in a newspaper of 1751 general circulation in the county where the sale is to be held.
1752 The notice shall include a statement that the sale shall be 1753 subject to any and all liens. The sale must be held at the 1754 nearest suitable place to that where the lost or abandoned
1755 property is held or stored. The advertisement must include a 1756 description of the goods and the time and place of the sale. The 1757 sale may take place no earlier than 10 days after the final 1758 publication. If there is no newspaper of general circulation in 1759 the county where the sale is to be held, the advertisement shall 1760 be posted at the door of the courthouse and at three other
1761 public places in the county at least 10 days prior to sale.
1762 Notice of the agency's intended disposition shall describe the 1763 property in a manner reasonably adequate to permit the rightful

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 1086 contains numerous changes to existing laws administered by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) and other law enforcement entities.

Relating to rulemaking, the bill provides additional rulemaking authority to the FWC to implement provisions relating to derelict vessels.

Relating to boater safety, the bill:

- Effective October 1, 2021, revises conditions under which a person operating a motor vehicle or vessel commits a misdemeanor by failing to submit to breath or urine testing for alcohol, chemical substances, and controlled substances.
- Deletes the provisions establishing a misdemeanor for the refusal to submit to blood testing for alcohol, chemical substances, and controlled substances.
- Defines the term “human-powered vessel” and restricts the operation of such vessels within the boundaries of the Florida Intracoastal Waterway.
- Prohibits a livery from leasing, hiring, or renting a vessel to a person required to complete a FWC-approved boating safety education course, unless the person presents certain documentation indicating compliance.
- Revises boating-restricted areas to include certain areas around public or private marinas, permitted public mooring fields, and the Florida Intracoastal Waterway.

- Designates Monroe County as an anchoring limitation area under certain conditions.
- Authorizes the FWC to establish anchoring/mooring/beaching/grounding protection zones for springs.
- Prohibits the operation of vessels faster than slow speed, minimum wake upon approaching certain hazardous conditions, including approaching an emergency or construction vessel.

Relating to derelict vessels, the bill:

- Authorizes officers to provide in-person notice that a vessel is at risk of becoming derelict if there is a body camera recording.
- Authorizes law enforcement officers to relocate at-risk vessels to a certain distance from mangroves or vegetation.
- Authorizes the FWC to establish a derelict vessel prevention program.
- Authorizes local governments to enact and enforce regulations to remove an abandoned or lost vessel affixed to a public mooring.
- Authorizes law enforcement officers to relocate or remove public nuisance vessels from the waters of this state.
- Prohibits the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV) from issuing a certificate of title to an applicant for a vessel that has been deemed derelict, and beginning in 2023, authorizes the DHSMV to reject an application for a certificate of title for a vessel that has been deemed derelict.
- Authorizes the FWC to provide local government grants for the destruction and disposal of derelict vessels.
- Creates specific procedures for derelict vessels or vessels that have been declared a public nuisance that are present on waters of this state, including notice and hearing requirements and liability for removal costs.
- Revises the definition of the term “derelict vessel” to specify requirements for a vessel to be considered “wrecked,” “junked,” or “substantially dismantled.”
- Authorizes certain governmental subdivisions to perform relocation or removal activities and specifies requirements for licensure, insurance, and equipment.

Relating to marine sanitation devices, the bill requires the owner/operator of a live-aboard vessel or houseboat equipped with a marine sanitation device to maintain records of each pump out.

Relating to penalties, the bill:

- Increases the civil penalties for a vessel deemed at risk of becoming derelict.
- Creates civil penalties for vessels creating special hazards as specified in the bill.
- Adds operating a human-powered vessel in the Intracoastal Waterway to the list of violations resulting in a noncriminal infraction.
- Requires the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles to enter final disposition of failure to submit to a sobriety test into a person’s driving record.

Relating to spaceflight, the bill authorizes the FWC to establish temporary protective zones in certain water bodies in preparation for a launch service or reentry service, or for the recovery of spaceflight assets before or after a launch service or reentry service.

There may be a positive fiscal impact to the FWC due to the new and increased civil penalties provided under the bill. However, the FWC may also experience increased costs due to increased enforcement.

The bill provides that except as otherwise expressly provided, the effective date is July 1, 2021.

II. Present Situation:

Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission

The Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is responsible for regulating, managing, protecting, and conserving the state's fish and wildlife resources.¹ The FWC is governed by a board of seven members who are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Florida Senate to five-year terms.² Under Article IV, Section 9 of the Florida Constitution, the FWC is granted the authority to exercise the regulatory and executive powers of the state with respect to wild animal life, fresh water aquatic life, and marine life. The Legislature may enact laws that aid the FWC in its exercise of regulatory functions and executive powers in the areas of planning, budgeting, personnel management, and purchasing.³

Chapters 327 and 328, F.S., concerning vessel safety and vessel title certificates, liens, and registration, are enforced by the FWC's Division of Law Enforcement and its officers, county sheriffs and deputies, municipal police officers, and any other law enforcement officer.⁴ The Division of Law Enforcement manages the state's waterways to ensure boating safety for residents of and visitors to the state.⁵ This includes enforcing boating rules and regulations, coordinating boating safety campaigns and education, managing public waters and access to the waters, conducting boating accident investigations, identifying and removing derelict vessels, and investigating vessel theft and title fraud.⁶

Boater Safety Education

A person born on or after January 1, 1988, who will be operating a boat in Florida waters with an engine of 10 horsepower or more, must obtain a Florida boating safety identification card.⁷ To obtain a card, a person must complete an approved boating safety course.⁸ There are several ⁴ Section 327.70(1), F.S.; see s. 943.10(1), F.S., which defines "law enforcement officer" as any person who is elected, appointed, or employed full time by any municipality or the state or any political subdivision thereof; who is vested with authority to bear arms and make arrests; and whose primary responsibility is the prevention and detection of crime or the enforcement of the penal, criminal, traffic, or highway laws of the state. The definition also includes all certified supervisory and command personnel whose duties include, in whole or in part, the supervision, training, guidance, and management responsibilities of full-time law enforcement officers, part-time law enforcement officers, or auxiliary law enforcement officers but does not include support personnel employed by the employing agency.

courses available at various price points ranging from free up to $50.⁹ The course must meet the eight-hour instruction requirement established by the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators and must include a component regarding diving vessels.¹⁰ The card is valid for life, unless it was obtained by passing a temporary certificate examination, in which case it is valid for 90 days after the date of issuance.¹¹

Certain persons are exempt from the requirement to obtain a boating safety identification card. A person is exempt if he or she:

- Is licensed by the United States Coast Guard (Coast Guard) to serve as master of a vessel.
- Operates a vessel only on a private lake or pond.
- Is accompanied in the vessel by a person who is exempt from this section or who holds an identification card in compliance with this section, is 18 years of age or older, is attendant to the operation of the vessel and responsible for the safe operation of the vessel and for any violation that occurs during the operation of the vessel.
- Is a nonresident who has in his or her possession proof that he or she has completed a boater education course or equivalent examination in another state that meets or exceeds the requirements in Florida.
- Is operating a vessel within 90 days after the purchase of that vessel and has available for inspection aboard that vessel a bill of sale.
- Is operating a vessel within 90 days after completing the boater education course and has a photographic identification card and a boater education certificate available for inspection as proof of having completed a boater education course. The boater education certificate must provide, at a minimum, the student's first and last name, the student's date of birth, and the date that he or she passed the course examination.
- Is exempted by FWC rule.¹²

A person who operates a vessel without the required boating safety identification card can be charged with a noncriminal infraction and is subject to a uniform boating citation and a $50 civil penalty.¹³

A livery may not knowingly lease, hire, or rent vessels under certain conditions meant to ensure boater safety.¹⁴ A livery may also not knowingly lease, hire, or rent any vessel powered by a motor of 10 horsepower or greater to any person who is required to comply with boater safety education requirements, unless the person presents photographic identification and a valid boater safety identification card to the livery or meets one of the listed exemptions.¹⁵

Boating Safety Regulations

An operator of a vessel in Florida must operate the vessel in a reasonable and prudent manner, having regard for other waterborne traffic, posted speed and wake restrictions, and all other attendant circumstances so as not to endanger the life, limb, or property of another person outside the vessel or due to vessel overloading or excessive speed.¹⁶ Operating a vessel in excess of a posted speed limit is a noncriminal infraction, for which the penalty is $50.¹⁷

Vessel owners and operators must carry, store, maintain, and use safety equipment in accordance with current Coast Guard safety equipment requirements, unless expressly exempted.¹⁸ Vessel owners and operators are also subject to additional safety requirements relating to appropriate equipment and the use of personal flotation devices.¹⁹

Anchoring or Mooring

Anchoring or mooring refers to a boater's practice of seeking and using a safe harbor on the public waterway system for an undefined duration. Anchoring is accomplished using an anchor carried on the vessel.²⁰ Mooring is accomplished through the use of moorings permanently affixed to the bottom of the water body. Anchorages are areas that boaters regularly use for anchoring or mooring, whether designated or managed for that purpose or not. Mooring fields are areas designated and used for a system of properly spaced moorings.²¹

State law prohibits a person from anchoring a vessel, except in case of emergency, in a manner which unreasonably or unnecessarily constitutes a navigational hazard or interferes with another vessel.²² Interference with navigation is a noncriminal infraction and punishable by a fine of $50.²³

The owner or operator of a vessel or floating structure may not anchor or moor such that the nearest approach of the anchored or moored vessel or floating structure is:

- Within 150 feet of any marina, boat ramp, boatyard, or vessel launching or loading facility;
- Within 300 feet of a superyacht repair facility (a facility that services or repairs a yacht with a water line of 120 feet or more in length); or
- Within 100 feet outward from the marked boundary of a public mooring field or a lesser distance if approved by the local government within which the mooring field is located.²⁴

However, there are exceptions if:

- The vessel suffers a mechanical failure that poses an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard such vessel. The owner or operator of the vessel may anchor or moor for five business days or until the vessel is repaired, whichever occurs first; or
- Imminent or existing weather conditions in the vicinity of the vessel pose an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard such vessel. The owner or operator of the vessel may anchor or moor until weather conditions no longer pose such risk.²⁵

Additionally, the owner or operator of a vessel or floating structure may not anchor or moor within the marked boundary of a public mooring field unless the owner or operator has a lawful right to do so by contractual agreement or other business arrangement.²⁶

Local governments are authorized by general permit to construct, operate, and maintain public mooring fields, each for up to 100 vessels.²⁷ Mooring fields are required to be located where navigational access already exists between the mooring field and the nearest customarily used access channel or navigable waters which the mooring field is designed to serve. Each mooring field must be associated with a land-based support facility that provides amenities and conveniences, such as parking, bathrooms, showers, and laundry facilities. Major boat repairs and maintenance, fueling activities other than from the land-based support facility, and boat hull scraping and painting are not authorized within mooring fields.²⁸

Local governments are authorized to enact and enforce ordinances that prohibit or restrict the mooring or anchoring of floating structures²⁹ or live-aboard vessels³⁰ within their jurisdictions and vessels that are within the marked boundaries of permitted mooring fields.³¹ However, local governments are prohibited from enacting, continuing in effect, or enforcing any ordinance or local regulation that regulates the anchoring of vessels, other than live-aboard vessels, outside the marked boundaries of permitted mooring fields.³²

Anchoring Limitation Areas

State law designates certain densely populated urban areas as anchoring limitation areas.³³ To promote the public's use and enjoyment of these waterways, anchoring a vessel is prohibited at any time between 30 minutes after sunset and 30 minutes before sunrise in an anchoring

²⁹ Section 327.02, F.S., defines the term "floating structure" as a "floating entity, with or without accommodations built thereon, which is not primarily used as a means of transportation on water but which serves purposes or provides services typically associated with a structure or other improvement to real property. The term includes an entity used as a residence, place of business, or office with public access; a hotel or motel; a restaurant or lounge; a clubhouse; a meeting facility; a storage or parking facility; or a mining platform, dredge, dragline, or similar facility or entity represented as such."

³⁰ Section 327.02, F.S., defines the term "live-aboard vessel" as "a vessel used solely as a residence and not for navigation; a vessel represented as a place of business or a professional or other commercial enterprise; or a vessel for which a declaration of domicile has been filed. The definition expressly excludes commercial fishing boats."

limitation area.³⁴ However, there are some exceptions where anchoring is permitted in an anchoring limitation area:

- When a vessel suffers a mechanical failure that poses an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard unless the vessel anchors;
- If imminent or existing weather conditions in the vicinity of the vessel pose an unreasonable risk of harm to the vessel or the persons onboard unless the vessel anchors; or
- During certain special events.³⁵

Certain types of vessels are exempt from anchoring limitation areas, including certain government, construction, and fishing vessels.³⁶ Law enforcement officers or agencies may remove and impound vessels from anchoring limitation areas when a vessel operator who was previously issued a citation continues to anchor the vessel in or refuses to leave the anchoring limitation area.³⁷

Boating-Restricted Areas

The FWC may establish boating-restricted areas on the waters of this state for any purpose deemed necessary to ensure the safety of the public if the restrictions are necessary based on boating accidents, visibility, hazardous currents or water levels, vessel traffic congestion, or other navigational hazards or to protect seagrasses on privately owned submerged lands.³⁸ The FWC adopts boating-restricted areas by rule.³⁹

Each boating-restricted area must be developed in consultation and coordination with the governing body of the county or municipality in which the boating-restricted area is located. When the boating-restricted area is to be on the navigable waters of the United States, the FWC must consult and coordinate with the Coast Guard and the United States Army Corps of Engineers.⁴⁰

Local governments also have authority to establish boating-restricted areas by ordinance.⁴¹ These areas include, but are not limited to:

- Idle-speed, no wake areas;
- Slow speed, minimum wake areas; and
- Vessel-exclusion zones.

Local ordinances establishing boating-restricted areas are subject to FWC review and approval. The FWC must make its determination based on substantial competent evidence that the ordinance is necessary to protect public safety.⁴² However, navigational hazards are presumed to exist in several areas noted under FWC rule and statute.⁴³ In these cases, a showing of substantial competent evidence is not required.

Additionally, the Coast Guard can establish safety zones,⁴⁴ security zones,⁴⁵ regulated navigation areas,⁴⁶ or naval vessel protection zones⁴⁷ where persons may not knowingly operate a vessel or authorize the operation of a vessel in violation of the restrictions under the zone.⁴⁸ The restricted vessel access protects against destruction, loss, or injury from various causes.⁴⁹ Generally, the Coast Guard establishes security zones around vessels, harbors, ports, and waterfront facilities. The Coast Guard has established several safety zones, security zones, and regulated navigation areas in Florida,⁵⁰ including a security zone around the Kennedy Space Center.⁵¹

A person who knowingly operates a vessel or authorizes the operation of a vessel in violation of an established zone or area, and without authorization by the Coast Guard Captain of the Port, commits a misdemeanor of the first degree.⁵² A person who continues to do so after receiving a warning, or refusing to leave, commits a felony of the third degree.⁵³ State and local law enforcement may enforce these zones at the request of a federal authority if necessary to augment federal law enforcement efforts and if there is a compelling need to protect the residents and infrastructure of the state.⁵⁴

The FWC is authorized to establish protection zones that restrict the speed and operation of vessels to protect and prevent harm to springs, including negative impacts to water quality, water quantity, hydrology, wetlands, and aquatic and wetland-dependent species.⁵⁵ To develop a springs protection zone, the FWC consults and coordinates with the appropriate water management district, the Department of Environmental Protection, and the county and municipality, if applicable, where the zone is located.⁵⁶

The restrictions in a springs protection zone do not apply to certain law enforcement, firefighting, or rescue personnel operating a vessel in the course of performing their official duties, or in emergency situations.⁵⁷

Derelict Vessels

A derelict vessel is a vessel that is left, stored, or abandoned in a wrecked, junked, or substantially dismantled condition upon any public waters of this state; at a port in the state without the consent of the agency that has jurisdiction of the port; or docked, grounded, or beached upon the property of another without the consent of the owner of the property.⁵⁸ It is unlawful for a person, firm, or corporation to store, leave, or abandon any derelict vessel in this state.⁵⁹

At-Risk Vessels

In 2016, the Legislature prohibited neglected vessels or those in deteriorating conditions from anchoring, mooring, or occupying the waters of this state.⁶⁰ A vessel is at risk of becoming derelict if any of the following conditions exist:

- The vessel is taking on or has taken on water without an effective means to dewater;
- Spaces on the vessel that are designed to be enclosed are incapable of being sealed off or remain open to the elements for extended periods of time;
- The vessel has broken loose or is in danger of breaking loose from its anchor;
- The vessel is left or stored aground unattended in such a state that would prevent the vessel from getting underway, or is listing due to water intrusion, or is sunk or partially sunk; or
- The vessel does not have an effective means of propulsion for safe navigation within 72 hours after the vessel owner or operator receives telephonic or written notice from an officer, and the vessel owner or operator is unable to provide a receipt, proof of purchase, or other documentation of having ordered necessary parts for vessel repair.⁶¹

Abandoned Vessels

“Abandoned property”⁶² means all tangible personal property that does not have an identifiable owner and that has been disposed of on public property in a wrecked, inoperative, or partially dismantled condition or has no apparent intrinsic value to the rightful owner. The term includes derelict vessels, as defined in s. 823.11, F.S.

When an article of lost or abandoned property is present on public property and is not easily removable, the law enforcement officer must place a notice of removal on the property. The law enforcement agency must then contact the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles to determine the name and address of the owner, and must mail a copy of the notice to the owner.⁶³

⁶¹ Section 327.4107, F.S.

⁶² Section 705.101(3), F.S.

⁶³ Section 705.103(2), F.S.

If, after five days of posting the notice and mailing such notice, the owner has not removed the items from public property or shown reasonable cause for failure to do so, the law enforcement agency may retain the property for its own use, trade the property, donate the property, sell the property, or remove the property.⁶⁴

The owner of abandoned or lost property who does not remove the property after being noticed, is liable to the law enforcement agency for all costs of removal, storage, and destruction of the property, less any salvage value obtained by the disposal of the property.⁶⁵ Upon the final disposition of the property, the law enforcement officer is required to notify the owner of the amount owed. A person who neglects or refuses to pay the amount owed is not entitled to be issued a certificate of registration for the vessel, or any other vessel, until such costs have been paid.⁶⁶

Local governments are authorized to enact and enforce regulations to implement the procedures for abandoned or lost property that allow the local law enforcement agency, after providing written notice, to remove a vessel affixed to a public dock within its jurisdiction that is abandoned or lost property.⁶⁷

Removal of Derelict Vessels

The FWC's Division of Law Enforcement and its officers, the sheriffs of the various counties and their deputies, municipal police officers, and any other law enforcement officers have the responsibility and authority to enforce vessel safety and vessel title certificates, liens, and registration.⁶⁸

Both state and local law enforcement are authorized and empowered to relocate or remove a derelict vessel from public waters if the derelict vessel obstructs or threatens to obstruct navigation or in any way constitutes a danger to the environment, property, or persons.⁶⁹ FWC officers and other law enforcement agency officers or contractors who perform relocation or removal activities at the FWC's direction are required to be licensed, insured, and properly equipped to perform the services to be provided.⁷⁰

The costs incurred by the FWC or another law enforcement agency for relocating or removing a derelict vessel are recoverable against the vessel owner.⁷¹ A vessel owner who neglects or refuses to pay the costs of removal, storage, and destruction of the vessel, less any salvage value obtained by disposal of the vessel, is not entitled to be issued a certificate of registration for such vessel, or any other vessel or motor vehicle, until the costs are paid.⁷²

The FWC may provide grants, funded from the Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund, to local governments for the removal of derelict vessels from waters of this state, if funds are appropriated for the grant program.⁷³ Grants are awarded based on a set of criteria outlined in FWC rules.⁷⁴ Removal or relocation of a vessel on private property is not eligible for grant funding.⁷⁵ However, each fiscal year, if all program funds are not requested by and granted to local governments for the removal of derelict vessels by the end of the third quarter, the FWC may use the remainder of the funds to remove, or to pay private contractors to remove, derelict vessels.⁷⁶

Penalties for Prohibited Acts Relating to Derelict Vessels and Anchoring and Mooring

It is a first degree misdemeanor to store, leave, or abandon a derelict vessel in Florida.⁷⁷ Violations are punishable by a term of imprisonment of no more than one year and a fine of up to $1,000.⁷⁸ Further, such violation is punishable by a civil penalty of up to $75,000 per violation per day.⁷⁹ Each day during any portion of which the violation occurs constitutes a separate offense.⁸⁰

Section 327.73(1)(aa), F.S., provides that an owner or operator of a vessel at risk of becoming derelict on waters of this state or who allows such vessel to occupy such waters, is subject to a uniform boating citation and civil penalty. The civil penalty provided is:

- $50 for a first offense;
- $100 for a second offense occurring 30 days or more after a first offense; and
- $250 for a third offense occurring 30 days or more after a previous offense.⁸¹

Section 327.73(1)(bb), F.S., provides that an owner or operator of a vessel or floating structure who anchors or moors in a prohibited area is subject to a uniform boating citation and penalties. The civil penalty provided is up to a maximum of:

- $50 for a first offense;
- $100 for a second offense; and
- $250 for a third offense.⁸²

Finally, s. 327.73(1), F.S., provides that any person who fails to appear or otherwise properly respond to a uniform boating citation must, in addition to the charge relating to the violation of the boating laws, be charged with a second degree misdemeanor, which is punishable by a maximum fine of $500 and no more than 60 days imprisonment.⁸³

Artificial Reef Program

Artificial reefs are reef habitats using one or more objects of natural or human origin intentionally placed on the seafloor to enhance marine life for human use. Artificial reefs provide benefits including:

- Enhancing recreational and diving opportunities;
- Providing socio-economic benefits to local coastal communities;
- Increasing reef fish habitat;
- Mitigation reefs to replace hard bottom habitat lost through activities such as beach re-nourishment and damage caused by vessel groundings;
- Oyster reef regeneration; and
- Shoreline protection.⁸⁴

Florida has one of the most active artificial reef programs in the nation. Since the 1940s, more than 3,750 planned public artificial reefs have been placed in state and federal waters off of Florida's coast.⁸⁵ The FWC is authorized to accept title, on behalf of the state, of vessels to use as offshore reefs in the artificial reef program.⁸⁶ Under the program, the FWC provides grants and financial and technical assistance to coastal local governments, state universities, and qualified nonprofit organizations for the siting and development of artificial reefs, and for monitoring and evaluating such reefs and their recreational, economic, and biological effectiveness.⁸⁷

Marine Sanitation Devices

Certain vessels, including those that are 26 feet or longer with an enclosed cabin and berthing facilities, houseboats,⁸⁸ and floating structures with an enclosed living space with berthing facilities or work space with public access, are required to have a working toilet on board.⁸⁹ Permanently installed toilets must be properly attached to a Coast Guard certified or labeled marine sanitation device.⁹⁰ A marine sanitation device is equipment that is designed to receive, retain, treat, or discharge sewage and the process to treat such sewage.⁹¹

Florida prohibits the discharge of untreated sewage from any vessel, including houseboats, or any floating structure into state waters.⁹² This prohibition also applies to live-aboard vessels, which are defined as: a vessel used solely as a residence and not for navigation; a vessel for which a declaration of domicile has been filed; or a vessel used as a residence that does not have an effective means of propulsion for safe navigation; and specifically excludes commercial fishing vessels.⁹³ Vessel owners with Type III⁹⁴ marine sanitation devices must dispose of sewage in an approved pump-out facility.⁹⁵ Violators are subject to a noncriminal infraction, for which the penalty is $50.⁹⁶

Nuisance Vessels

Florida law declares that vessels or floating structures that are operated or occupied on the waters of this state and violate marine sanitation device requirements are a nuisance and hazard to public safety and health.⁹⁷ If an owner or operator does not correct a violation within 30 days after a citation is issued, and their vessel or floating structure remains on the waters of this state, law enforcement officers are required to apply to the appropriate court in the county where the vessel or floating structure is located, to order or cause the removal of the vessel or floating structure from the waters of this state at the owner's expense.⁹⁸ If the owner cannot be found or fails to pay the removal costs, the vessel or floating structure will be sold at a nonjudicial sale and the proceeds will be used to pay the removal costs.⁹⁹

Testing for Alcohol, Chemical Substances, and Controlled Substances

Anyone who operates a motor vehicle or vessel in the state is, by operating such a vehicle or vessel, deemed to have given his or her consent to submit to an approved chemical or physical test of his or her breath to determine the alcoholic content of his or her blood or breath, or a urine test to detect the presence of chemical substances or controlled substances.¹⁰⁰ These tests may be performed if the person is lawfully arrested for any offense allegedly committed while the person was driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle, or operating a vessel, while under the influence of alcohol or chemical or controlled substances.¹⁰¹

Additionally, anyone who operates a motor vehicle or vessel in the state is deemed to have given his or her consent to submit to an approved blood test to determine the alcoholic content of his or her blood or to detect the presence of chemical substances or controlled substances.¹⁰² These tests may be performed if there is reasonable cause to believe that the person was driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle, or operating a vessel, while under the influence of alcohol or chemical or controlled substances and the person appears for treatment at a hospital, clinic, or emergency vehicle, and the administration of a breath or urine test is impractical or impossible.¹⁰³

A person who operates a motor vehicle and fails to submit to a breath, urine, or blood test will have his or her driver's license suspended for a period of one year for a first refusal, or 18 months for a repeat refusal.¹⁰⁴ A person who operates a motor vehicle who fails to submit to such test who has previously had his or her license suspended for a prior refusal commits a misdemeanor of the first degree and is subject to additional penalties.¹⁰⁵

A person who operates a vessel and fails to submit to a breath, urine, or blood test is subject to a civil penalty of $500 for a first refusal.¹⁰⁶ A person who operates a vessel and fails to submit to such test who has been previously fined commits a misdemeanor and is subject to additional penalties.¹⁰⁷

However, in 2016, the United States Supreme Court issued a ruling in Birchfield v. North Dakota that prohibits warrantless blood tests incident to arrests for driving under the influence.¹⁰⁸ The Court held that the Fourth Amendment prohibits unreasonable searches, and the taking of a blood sample or administration of a blood test is a search.¹⁰⁹ Under the Court's ruling, refusing a blood test may not subject a person to criminal penalties.¹¹⁰ Thus, Florida's current laws relating to the penalties for refusal to submit to a blood test are unenforceable.

Mangroves

Mangroves are tropical plants that are adapted to loose, wet soils, salt water, and periodic submersion by tides.¹¹¹ They provide protected nursery areas for fishes, crustaceans, and shellfish; food, shelter, and nesting areas for a multitude of species;¹¹² protection of the shoreline from storm surge and erosion;¹¹³ and water quality protection.¹¹⁴

Currently, there are not any state regulations for anchoring or mooring near mangroves, although the trimming of mangroves is regulated under the Mangrove Trimming and Preservation Act.¹¹⁵ Through the Mangrove Trimming and Preservation Act, the Legislature intends to protect and preserve mangrove resources valuable to our environment and economy from unregulated removal, defoliation, and destruction.¹¹⁶ The FWC notes that removing derelict and at-risk vessels from areas in close proximity to mangroves and other upland vegetation can be considerably more expensive than from other areas due to conservation and depth concerns.¹¹⁷

Canaveral Spaceport,¹²⁰ including the SpaceX Demo-2 mission in May 2020¹²¹ and the SpaceX Crew-1 mission in November 2020.¹²² According to Space Florida, over 50 launches are expected in 2021, and up to 100 launches are expected annually going forward.¹²³ Upon re-entry, the space capsules splashed down in waters off of Florida's coasts for the first time in 45 years.¹²⁴ The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and SpaceX teams coordinated with the Coast Guard to ensure crew safety upon splashdown, including providing extra ships and air assets to patrol the splashdown zone to mitigate safety concerns for boaters approaching the landing area.¹²⁵

When the capsule landed in waters near Pensacola in August 2020, private boats approached the landing area too closely, according to NASA.¹²⁶ This led to confusion as recovery crews tried to reach the spacecraft. There were concerns that private boats could have interfered with the emergency recovery operation and that the spacecraft's thrusters could have released toxic propellant fumes.¹²⁷ Although the Coast Guard had patrol boats in the area ahead of the splashdown, it stated that "numerous boaters ignored the Coast Guard crews' requests and decided to encroach the area, putting themselves and those involved in the operation in potential danger."¹²⁸

There are no existing state statutes in place to protect spaceflight operations and astronauts. The FWC stated in its agency bill analysis that "spectator separation is necessary to prevent interference with sensitive operations, as well as for public safety reasons."¹²⁹

Section 2 of the bill, effective October 1, 2021, amends s. 316.1939, F.S., relating to refusal to submit to testing for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances.

The bill revises the conditions under which a person's driving privilege is suspended and under which a person commits a misdemeanor relating to tests for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances. The bill provides that failure to submit to a lawful breath test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances if a person has previously been fined for failure to submit to such test is a misdemeanor of the first degree.

Section 6 of the bill, effective October 1, 2021, amends s. 327.352, F.S., relating to tests for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances while operating a vessel. The bill revises the conditions under which a person commits a misdemeanor relating to boating while impaired or intoxicated. The bill provides that failure to submit to a lawful breath or urine test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances if a person has previously been fined for failure to submit to such test, or had his or her driver's license suspended for an unlawful blood-alcohol or breath-alcohol level, is a misdemeanor of the first degree.

Section 8 of the bill, effective October 1, 2021, amends s. 327.359, F.S., relating to refusal to submit to testing for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances. The bill revises the conditions under which a person commits a misdemeanor of the first degree for failure to submit to a chemical or physical breath or urine test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances to include refusal to submit to such a test, and either a previous fine for failure to submit to a chemical or physical breath test, or a driver's license suspension for an unlawful blood-alcohol or breath-alcohol level. The bill deletes from the list of misdemeanors the refusal to submit to a lawful blood test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances.

In Sections 1, 2, 6, and 8, the bill deletes the provisions establishing that a person commits a misdemeanor for refusing to submit to a lawful blood test for alcohol, chemical substances, or controlled substances if the person has been previously fined for refusal to submit to a lawful breath, urine, or blood test.

Section 7 of the bill amends s. 327.35215, F.S., to require the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles to enter final disposition of failure to submit to a blood, breath, or urine test into a person's driving record.

Human-Powered Vessels: Sections 3 and 8

Section 3 of the bill amends s. 327.02, F.S., relating to definitions. The bill defines the term "human-powered vessel" to mean a vessel powered only by its occupant or occupants, including, but not limited to, a vessel powered only by the occupants' hands or feet, oars, or paddles.

The bill revises references to the International Navigational Rules Act of 1977 and Inland Navigational Rules Act of 1980 to the most recent versions of the Acts, as amended.

Section 9 of the bill creates a new section of law, s. 327.371, F.S., regulating human-powered vessels. The bill authorizes persons to operate a human-powered vessel within the boundaries of the marked channel of the Florida Intracoastal Waterway only under the following conditions:

- When the marked channel is the only navigable portion of the waterway available due to vessel congestion or obstructions on the water and the operator proceeds with diligence to a location where he or she may safely operate the vessel outside the marked channel;
- While crossing the marked channel in the most direct, continuous, and expeditious manner possible and not interfering with other vessel traffic in the channel; or
- During an emergency endangering life or limb.

The bill provides that a person who operates a human-powered vessel within the marked channel outside of these conditions commits a noncriminal infraction.

Rulemaking Authority: Section 4

Section 4 of the bill amends s. 327.04, F.S., related to the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) rules. The bill provides additional rulemaking authority to the FWC to implement the provisions of:

- Chapter 705, F.S., relating to lost or abandoned vessels;
- Section 376.15, F.S., relating to relocation or removal of derelict vessels from public waters; and
- Section 823.11, F.S., relating to criminal penalties for relocation or removal of derelict vessels.

Spaceflight: Section 5

Section 5 of the bill creates a new section of law, s. 327.462, F.S., regulating the temporary establishment of protection zones in water bodies to ensure security around the launch and recovery of spaceflight assets.

The bill defines the following terms for the new section of law:

- “Launch services” means the conduct of a launch and activities involved in the preparation of a launch vehicle, payload, government astronaut, commercial astronaut, or spaceflight participant for such launch.
- “Reentry services” means the conduct of a reentry and activities involved in the preparation of a reentry vehicle, payload, government astronaut, commercial astronaut, or spaceflight participant for such reentry.
- “Spaceflight assets” means any item, or any part of an item, owned by a spaceflight entity which is used in launch services or reentry services, including crewed and uncrewed spacecraft, launch vehicles, parachutes and other landing aids, and any spacecraft or ancillary equipment that was attached to the launch vehicle during launch, orbit, or reentry.
- “Spaceflight entity” means any public or private entity holding a United States Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) launch, reentry, operator, or launch site license for spaceflight activities. The term also includes any manufacturer or supplier of components, services, or vehicles that have been reviewed by the FAA as part of issuing such a license, permit, or authorization.¹³⁰

The bill authorizes the head of a law enforcement agency or entity, or his or her designee (law enforcement), to, within the agency or entity’s jurisdiction, temporarily establish a protection zone requiring vessels to leave, or prohibiting vessels from entering, water bodies when necessary for preparations in advance of or for recovery of spaceflight assets before or after a launch service or reentry service.

A temporary protection zone must be established under the following conditions:

- The zone must be located within five hundred yards of where launch services, reentry services, or spaceflight asset recovery operations are being conducted. However, the protection zone may be located at a distance greater than five hundred yards if law enforcement determines that such greater distance is in the best interest of public safety.
- The zone may remain in effect only as long as necessary to ensure security around the launch and recovery areas and to recover spaceflight assets and any personnel being transported within a spacecraft following the launch or reentry activity. Such protection zone may not be in place more than 72 hours before or 72 hours after the launch.
- Law enforcement may also restrict vessels from operating within up to 500 yards of any vessel transporting recovered spaceflight assets following a launch or reentry while the transport vessel is continuously underway transporting such assets to a location for removal.
- Law enforcement may not restrict vessel movement within the Florida Intracoastal Waterway, except as necessary during the transport of spaceflight assets to or from port or during exigent circumstances.
- Law enforcement must report the establishment of the temporary protection zone via email to The FWC's Division of Law Enforcement, Boating and Waterways Section, and to the appropriate Coast Guard Sector Command having responsibility over the water body, at least 72 hours before establishment of the protection zone. The report must include:
 - Reasons for the protection zone;
 - The portion of the water body or water bodies that will be included in the protection zone; and
 - The duration of the protection zone.
- Law enforcement must report via email to the FWC's Division of Law Enforcement, Boating and Waterways Section, the details of all citations issued for violation of the protection zone no later than 72 hours after the end of the protection zone period.

The section of law applies only to launch services, reentry services, or the recovery of spaceflight assets occurring or originating within spaceport territory,¹³¹ and to federally licensed or federally authorized launches and reentries occurring or transiting to an end destination upon waters of this state.

The bill provides that a person who violates this section or any directive given by law enforcement relating to an established temporary protection zone after being advised of the establishment of the protection zone commits a misdemeanor of the second degree.

Boating Safety: Sections 11, 17, and 20

Section 11 of the bill amends s. 327.395, F.S., relating to boater safety identification.

¹³¹ Section 331.304, F.S. establishes as spaceport territory specified real property in Brevard, Santa Rosa, Okaloosa, Gulf, Walton, and Duval Counties, and real property which is a spaceport licensed by the FAA, as designated by the board of directors of Space Florida.

The bill clarifies what documentation and certifications persons operating a vessel must have in their possession aboard the vessel.

The bill exempts, from the boater safety identification card requirement, persons who have been previously licensed by the Coast Guard to serve as master of a vessel, provided proof of such licensure to the FWC, and requested that a boating safety identification card be issued in his or her name.

The bill deletes a provision authorizing the FWC to appoint liveries, marinas, or other persons as its agents to administer a boating safety education course or temporary certificate examination and issue identification cards or temporary certificates, and requiring the agent to charge a $2 examination fee. However, the provision is retained in another subsection within the same section of law.

Section 17 of the bill creates s. 327.463, F.S., relating to special hazards requiring slow speeds by vessel operators. The bill specifies conditions under which a vessel is and is not considered to be operating at slow speed, minimum wake.

A vessel is considered to be operating at slow speed, minimum wake only if it is:

- Fully off plane and completely settled into the water; and
- Proceeding without wake or with minimum wake.

A vessel is not considered to be operating at slow speed, minimum wake if it is:

- Operating on plane;
- In the process of coming off plane and settling into the water or getting on plane; or
- Operating at a speed that creates a wake which unreasonably or unnecessarily endangers other vessels.

The bill prohibits a vessel that is required to operate at slow speed, minimum wake from proceeding at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent to avoid the creation of an excessive wake or other hazardous condition under the existing circumstances.

The bill prohibits vessel operators from operating a vessel faster than slow speed, minimum wake upon approaching certain hazardous conditions and provides that a vessel operator found in violation of this requirement is guilty of a noncriminal infraction. The hazardous conditions are:

- Approaching within 300 feet of any emergency vessel, including but not limited to, a law enforcement vessel, a Coast Guard vessel, or a firefighting vessel, when such emergency vessel has its emergency lights activated; and
- Approaching within 300 feet of any construction vessel or barge displaying an orange flag indicating that the vessel or barge is actively engaged in construction operations.
 - The flag must be displayed from a pole that extends at least 10 feet above the tallest portion of the vessel or barge, or at least five feet above any superstructure permanently installed upon the vessel or barge.
 - The flag must meet certain requirements, including:
 - Be a size of at least two feet by three feet;

- Include a wire or other stiffener or be otherwise constructed to ensure that the flag remains fully unfurled and extended in the absence of a wind or breeze; and
- Be displayed so the visibility of the flag is not obscured in any direction.

The bill specifies that a person may not be cited for a violation during periods of low visibility, including any time between the hours from 30 minutes after sunset to 30 minutes before sunrise, unless the orange flag is illuminated and visible from a distance of at least two nautical miles. Such illumination does not relieve the construction vessel or barge from complying with all navigation rules.

The bill also provides that a person operating a vessel who violates this section, or the owner of or responsible party for a construction vessel or barge that displays an orange flag when it is not actively engaged in construction operations, is guilty of a noncriminal infraction.

The bill specifies that the speed and penalty provisions of this section do not apply to law enforcement, firefighting, or rescue vessels that are owned or operated by a governmental entity.

Section 20 of the bill amends s. 327.54, F.S., relating to safety regulations of liveries. The bill prohibits liveries from knowingly leasing, hiring, or renting a vessel unless the person renting presents:

- Photographic identification and a valid boater safety identification card issued by the FWC;
- A state-issued identification card or driver license indicating possession of the boating safety identification card; or
- Photographic identification and a valid temporary certificate issued or approved by the FWC.
- These provisions do not apply to those individuals that are exempt from boating safety education requirements (Individuals born before January 1, 1988).

Boating-Restricted Areas: Sections 13, 14, 15, and 16

Section 13 of the bill amends s. 327.4108, F.S., relating to anchoring of vessels in anchoring limitation areas. The bill designates Monroe County as an anchoring limitation area within which a vessel on the waters of this state may only be anchored in the same location for a maximum of 90 days. The bill requires the FWC to adopt rules to implement the anchoring limitation area. The bill provides that this anchoring limitation area does not apply to an approved and permitted mooring field. The bill provides that this section is not effective until Monroe County approves, permits, and opens new moorings for public use, at least 250 moorings within one mile of the Key West Bight City Dock and at least 50 moorings within the Key West Garrison Bight Mooring Field. Until such time the FWC shall designate the area within one mile of the Key West Bight City Dock as a priority for the investigation and removal of derelict vessels, notwithstanding the FWC rules adopted pursuant to this section.

The bill deletes a provision that references an obsolete section of law.

Section 14 of the bill amends s. 327.4109, F.S., relating to prohibited anchoring and mooring. The bill revises existing anchoring and mooring restrictions to prohibit anchoring and mooring within 150 feet of a public or private marina or other public vessel launching or loading facility. However, vessels may anchor and moor within these areas under the exemptions in existing law.

Section 15 of the bill amends s. 327.45, F.S., relating to protection zones for springs. The bill authorizes the FWC to establish protection zones for springs which prohibit the anchoring, mooring, beaching, or grounding of vessels, to protect and prevent harm to first, second, and third magnitude springs and springs groups, including their associated spring runs, as determined by the FWC using the most recent Florida Geological Survey springs bulletin.

Section 16 of the bill amends s. 327.46, F.S., relating to boating-restricted areas. The bill authorizes municipalities and counties to establish slow speed, minimum wake boating-restricted areas by ordinance if the area is within the boundaries of a permitted public mooring field and up to a 100 foot buffer around the mooring field. The bill provides that boating restricted areas designated by a local ordinance as a public bathing beach or swim area must be accessible by land and open to the general public.

Derelict/At-Risk Vessels: Sections 12, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, and 28

Section 12 of the bill amends s. 327.4107, F.S., relating to vessels at risk of becoming derelict on waters of this state. The bill revises the conditions under which a vessel is determined to be at risk of becoming derelict to delete vessels that are left or stored aground unattended in such a state that would prevent the vessel from getting underway or are sunk or partially sunk.

The bill authorizes the FWC and other law enforcement officers to provide notice to a vessel owner or operator that a vessel is at risk of becoming derelict via in-person notice recorded on an agency-approved body camera.

The bill authorizes the FWC and other law enforcement officers to relocate or cause to be relocated a vessel at risk of becoming derelict to a distance greater than 20 feet from a mangrove or upland vegetation. Law enforcement agencies and officers must be held harmless for damages to an at-risk vessel that result from relocation unless the damage results from gross negligence¹³² or willful misconduct.¹³³

The bill authorizes the FWC to establish a derelict vessel prevention program to address vessels at risk of becoming derelict. The program may, but is not required to, include:

- Removal, relocation, and destruction of vessels declared a public nuisance, derelict or at risk of becoming derelict, or lost or abandoned in accordance with state law;
- Creation of a vessel turn-in program allowing the owner of a vessel determined by law enforcement to be at risk of becoming derelict to turn his or her vessel and vessel title over to the FWC to be destroyed without penalty;
- Removal and destruction of an abandoned vessel for which an owner cannot be identified or the owner of which is deceased and no heir is interested in acquiring the vessel;
- Purchase of anchor line, anchors, and other equipment necessary for securing vessels at risk of becoming derelict; and

¹³² “Gross negligence” means conduct so reckless or wanting in care that it constitutes a conscious disregard or indifference to the safety of the property exposed to such conduct. Section 823.11, F.S.

¹³³ “Willful misconduct” means conduct evidencing carelessness or negligence of such a degree or recurrence as to manifest culpability, wrongful intent, or evil design or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the interests of the vessel owner. Section 823.11, F.S.

- Creation or acquisition of moorings designated for securing vessels at risk of becoming derelict.

The bill authorizes the FWC to adopt rules to implement the program. Implementation of the program is subject to appropriation by the Legislature and is funded by the Marine Resources Conservation Trust Fund or the Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund.

Section 21 of the bill amends s. 327.60, F.S., relating to local regulations. The bill authorizes local governments to enact and enforce regulations to implement the procedures for abandoned or lost property that allow the local law enforcement agency to remove an abandoned or lost vessel within its jurisdiction that is affixed to a public mooring.

Section 23 and Section 24 of the bill amend s. 328.09, F.S., relating to the refusal to issue and authority to cancel a certificate of title or registration. The bill prohibits the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV) from issuing a certificate of title to an applicant for a vessel that has been deemed derelict.

Section 23 of the bill takes effect on July 1, 2023. At that time, the bill authorizes the DHSMV to reject an application for a certificate of title for a vessel that has been deemed derelict.

Section 25 of the bill amends s. 376.15, F.S., relating to the relocation or removal of derelict vessels from public waters. The bill deletes the prohibition in existing law against storing or abandoning a derelict vessel and provides that it is unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to leave a derelict vessel upon the waters of this state. The bill provides that for purposes of this section, the term “leave” means to allow a vessel to remain occupied or unoccupied on the waters of this state for more than 24 hours.

The bill prohibits charging a person who owns or operates a vessel that becomes derelict upon the waters of this state solely as a result of a boating accident that is reported to law enforcement in a written report or otherwise; a hurricane; or another sudden event outside of his or her control with a violation if:

- The individual documents for law enforcement the specific event that led to the vessel being derelict upon the waters of this state; and
- The vessel has been removed from the waters of this state or has been repaired or addressed such that it is no longer derelict upon the waters of this state:
 - For a vessel that has become derelict as a result of a boating accident or other sudden event outside of his or her control, within seven days after such accident or event; or
 - Within 45 days after the hurricane has passed over this state.

However, this provision does not apply to a vessel that was derelict upon the waters of this state before a stated accident or event.

The bill authorizes the FWC or law enforcement agencies or officers to store, destroy, or dispose of derelict vessels, in addition to relocating or removing them. The bill authorizes the recovery of relocation, removal, storage, destruction, and disposal costs incurred by the FWC or a law enforcement agency from the party determined to be legally responsible for the vessel being upon the waters of this state in a derelict condition. The FWC or law enforcement agencies or officers are held harmless for damages to the derelict vessel resulting from these actions, unless the damage results from gross negligence or willful misconduct.

The bill requires a governmental subdivision that has received authorization from a law enforcement agency to perform vessel relocation or removal activities to be licensed, insured, and properly equipped to perform such activities.

The bill adds storage, destruction, and disposal to the list of authorized actions for which the FWC may provide grants from the Marine Resources Conservation Trust Fund or Florida Coastal Protection Trust Fund to local governments under an established program for derelict vessels.

Section 26 of the bill amends s. 705.103, F.S., relating to the procedures for abandoned or lost property. The bill creates specific procedures for derelict vessels or vessels that have been declared a public nuisance that are present on waters of this state. When a law enforcement officer ascertains that such a vessel exists, the officer must cause a notice to be placed on the vessel in substantially the following form:

NOTICE TO THE OWNER AND ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE ATTACHED VESSEL. This vessel, to wit: ...(setting forth brief description)... has been determined to be (derelict or a public nuisance) and is unlawfully upon waters of this state ...(setting forth brief description of location)... and must be removed within 21 days; otherwise, it will be removed and disposed of pursuant to chapter 705, Florida Statutes. The owner and other interested parties may have the right to a hearing to challenge the determination that this vessel is derelict or otherwise in violation of the law. Please contact ...(contact information for person who can arrange for a hearing in accordance with this section)... The owner or the party determined to be legally responsible for the vessel being upon the waters of this state in a derelict condition will be liable for the costs of removal, destruction, and disposal if this vessel is not removed by the owner. Dated this: ...(setting forth the date of posting of notice)..., signed: ...(setting forth name, title, address, and telephone number of law enforcement officer)...

The bill requires the law enforcement agency to mail a copy of the notice and inform the owner or responsible party that he or she has a right to a hearing to dispute the determination that the vessel is derelict or otherwise in violation of the law. If a request for a hearing is made, the bill requires a state agency to follow the statutory processes for proceedings in which the substantial interests of a party are determined by an agency, except that a local judge, magistrate, or code enforcement officer may be designated to conduct a hearing.

The bill authorizes the law enforcement agency, or its designee, if the owner or responsible party for a derelict vessel or vessel that has been declared a nuisance has not requested a hearing at the end of 21 days after the notice is published, or if, following a hearing, the judge, magistrate, administrative law judge, or hearing officer has determined the vessel to be derelict or at risk of becoming derelict and a final order has been entered or the case is otherwise closed, to:

- Remove the vessel from the waters of this state and destroy and dispose of the vessel or authorize another governmental entity or its designee to do so; or
- Authorize the vessel's use as an artificial reef in accordance with the FWC's artificial reef program if all necessary federal, state, and local authorizations are received.

The bill provides that the party determined to be legally responsible for the vessel being upon the waters of this state in a derelict condition is liable to the law enforcement agency, governmental entity, or the agency's or entity's designee for removal, storage, and destruction costs.

The bill provides that neglecting or refusing to pay all costs of removal, storage, disposal, and destruction of a vessel or motor vehicle, after having been provided written notice via certified mail that such costs are owed, and after having applied for and been issued a registration for a vessel or motor vehicle before such costs have been paid in full, is a misdemeanor of the first degree.

Section 28 of the bill amends s. 823.11, F.S., relating to the relocation or removal of derelict vessels. The bill revises the definition of "derelict vessel" to delete that the vessel is left, stored, or abandoned. The portion of the definition of "derelict vessel" that describes the vessel as in a wrecked, junked, or substantially dismantled condition upon any public waters of this state is also revised to delete the word "public." The new definition provides that a vessel is:

- Wrecked if it is sunken or sinking; aground without the ability to extricate itself absent mechanical assistance; or remaining after a marine casualty, including, but not limited to, a boating accident, extreme weather, or a fire.
- Junked if it has been substantially stripped of vessel components, if vessel components have substantially degraded or been destroyed, or if the vessel has been discarded by the owner or operator. Attaching an outboard motor to a vessel that is otherwise junked will not cause the vessel to no longer be junked if such motor is not an effective means of propulsion for safe navigation within 72 hours after the vessel owner or operator receives telephonic or written notice of such from an officer, and the vessel owner or operator is unable to provide a receipt, proof of purchase, or other documentation of having ordered necessary parts for vessel repair.
- Substantially dismantled if at least two of the three following vessel systems or components are missing, compromised, incomplete, inoperable, or broken: the steering system, the propulsion system, or the exterior hull integrity. Attaching an outboard motor to a vessel that is otherwise substantially dismantled will not cause the vessel to no longer be substantially dismantled if the motor is not an effective means of propulsion.

The bill deletes the prohibition against storing or abandoning a derelict vessel in existing law and prohibits a person, firm, or corporation from leaving a derelict vessel upon the waters of this state. The bill provides that for purposes of the paragraph, the term "leave" means to allow a vessel to remain occupied or unoccupied on the waters of this state for more than 24 hours.

The bill prohibits charging a person who owns or operates a vessel that becomes derelict upon the waters of this state solely as a result of a boating accident that is reported to law enforcement in a written report or otherwise; a hurricane; or another sudden event outside of his or her control with a violation if:

- The individual documents for law enforcement the specific event that led to the vessel being derelict upon the waters of this state; and
- The vessel has been removed from the waters of this state or has been repaired or addressed such that it is no longer derelict upon the waters of this state:
 - For a vessel that has become derelict as a result of a boating accident or other sudden event outside of his or her control, within 7 days after such accident or event; or
 - Within 45 days after the hurricane has passed over this state.

However, this provision does not apply to a vessel that was derelict upon the waters of this state before a stated accident or event.

The bill authorizes the FWC or law enforcement agencies or officers to store, destroy, or dispose of derelict vessels, in addition to relocating or removing them, if the derelict vessel obstructs or threatens to obstruct navigation or constitutes a danger to the environment, property, or persons. The FWC or law enforcement agencies or officers are held harmless for damages to the derelict vessel resulting from these actions, unless the damage results from gross negligence or willful misconduct.

The bill allows for the FWC, law enforcement agencies, or governmental subdivisions that have received authorization from a law enforcement officer or agency to recover costs for relocation, removal, storage, destruction, and disposal of a derelict vessel from a vessel owner or the party determined to be legally responsible for the vessel being upon the waters of this state in a derelict condition. The bill provides that neglecting or refusing to pay all costs of removal, storage, destruction, or disposal of a derelict vessel, after having been provided written notice via certified mail that such costs are owed, and after having applied for and been issued a registration for a vessel or motor vehicle before such costs have been paid in full, is a misdemeanor of the first degree.

The bill requires a governmental subdivision that has received authorization from a law enforcement agency to perform vessel relocation or removal activities to be licensed, insured, and properly equipped to perform such activities.

Marine Sanitation Devices: Section 19

Section 19 of the bill amends s. 327.53, F.S., relating to marine sanitation. The bill requires the owner or operator of a live-aboard vessel or houseboat that is equipped with a marine sanitation device to maintain a record of the date of each pump-out of the device and the location of the pump-out station or waste reception facility. The bill requires each record to be maintained for one year after the pump-out date. This subsection does not apply to vessels equipped with marine compost toilets that process and manage human waste using marine compost toilet technologies that comply with U.S. Coast Guard requirements.

Penalties: Section 21

Section 22 of the bill amends s. 327.73, F.S., relating to civil penalties for violations of specified vessel laws.

The bill amends the noncriminal infraction for a violation of s. 327.395, F.S., relating to boater safety education to provide that a person cited for failing to have the required proof of boating safety education in his or her possession may not be convicted if, before or at the time of a county court hearing, the person produces proof of the boating safety education identification card or temporary certificate for verification by the hearing officer or the court clerk and the identification card or temporary certificate was valid at the time the person was cited.

The bill increases civil penalties for a violation of s. 327.4107, F.S., relating to vessels at risk of becoming derelict on waters of this state, from:

- $50 to $100 for a first offense;
- $100 to $250 for a second offense occurring 30 days or more after a previous offense; and
- $250 to $500 for a third or subsequent offense occurring 30 days or more after a previous offense.

The bill declares that a vessel that is the subject of three or more violations issued within an 18-month period by a law enforcement officer for being at risk of becoming derelict, which result in a disposition other than acquittal or dismissal, is a public nuisance and is subject to relocation or removal. The bill authorizes the FWC or other law enforcement to relocate or remove the vessel or cause it to be relocated or removed. Law enforcement officers who relocate or remove such a vessel are held harmless for damages to the vessel unless the damage results from gross negligence¹³⁴ or willful misconduct.¹³⁵

The bill creates civil penalties for a violation of s. 327.463(4)(a) and (b), F.S., the new section relating to vessels creating special hazards, of:

- $50 for a first offense;
- $100 for a second offense occurring within 12 months after a prior offense; and
- $250 for a third offense occurring within 36 months after a prior offense.

The bill adds to the list of violations resulting in a noncriminal offense:

- Failing to maintain the required pump-out records of a marine sanitation device for a live-aboard vessel or houseboat; and
- Operating a human-powered vessel within the boundaries of a marked channel of the Florida Intracoastal Waterway in violation of the new statutory restrictions.

Conforming Changes: Sections 10, 18, and 27

Section 10 of the bill amends s. 327.391, F.S., relating to the regulation of airboats, to make conforming and technical changes.

¹³⁴ “Gross negligence” means conduct so reckless or wanting in care that it constitutes a conscious disregard or indifference to the safety of the property exposed to such conduct. Section 823.11, F.S.

¹³⁵ “Willful misconduct” means conduct evidencing carelessness or negligence of such a degree or recurrence as to manifest culpability, wrongful intent, or evil design or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the interests of the vessel owner. Section 823.11, F.S.

Section 18 of the bill amends s. 327.50, F.S., relating to vessel safety regulations, equipment, and lighting requirements. The bill corrects an incorrect reference to clarify that the FWC may exempt vessel owners and operators from current Coast Guard safety equipment requirements.

Section 27 of the bill amends s. 705.103, F.S., relating to the procedures for abandoned or lost property, to conform to revisions from ch. 2019-76, Laws of Florida, which take effect in 2023.

Effective Date

Section 29 of the bill provides that except as otherwise expressly provided, the effective date is July 1, 2021. (Sections 1, 2, 6, and 8 of the bill take effect October 1, 2021; Section 23 of the bill takes effect July 1, 2023.)
