(3) The council shall meet at the call of its chair, at the request of six of its members, or at the request of the chair of the governing board of the St. Johns River Water Management District. Resignation by a council member, or removal of a council member for failure to attend three consecutive meetings without an excuse approved by the chair, shall result in a vacancy on the council.

Section 4. Subsection (5) is added to section 373.705, Florida Statutes, to read:

373.705 Water resource development; water supply development.—

(5) The water management districts shall promote expanded cost-share criteria for additional conservation practices, such as soil and moisture sensors and other irrigation improvements, water-saving equipment, water-saving household fixtures, and software technologies that can achieve verifiable water conservation by providing water use information to utility customers.

Section 5. Subsection (4) is added to section 378.209, Florida Statutes, to read:

378.209 Timing of reclamation.—

(4) If the beneficial use of a constructed clay settling area has been extended, the rate of reclamation requirements in paragraphs (1)(a)-(e) and the requirements of s. 378.208 shall become applicable for such area when the beneficial use of such area is completed.

Section 6. Subsection (29) of section 403.061, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.061 Department; powers and duties.—The department shall have the power and the duty to control and prohibit pollution of air and water in accordance with the law and rules adopted and promulgated by it and, for this purpose, to:

(29)(a) Adopt by rule special criteria to protect Class II and Class III shellfish harvesting waters. Such rules may include special criteria for approving docking facilities that have 10 or fewer slips if the construction and operation of such facilities will not result in the closure of shellfish waters.

(b) Adopt by rule a specific surface water classification to protect surface waters used for treated potable water supply. These designated surface waters shall have the same water quality criteria protections as waters designated for fish consumption, recreation, and the propagation and maintenance of a healthy, well-balanced population of fish and wildlife, and shall be free from discharged substances at a concentration that, alone or in combination with other discharged substances, would require significant alteration of permitted treatment processes at the permitted treatment facility or that would otherwise prevent compliance with applicable state drinking water standards in the treated water. Notwithstanding this classification or the inclusion of treated water supply as a designated use of a surface water, a surface water used for treated potable water supply may be reclassified to the potable water supply classification.

The department shall implement such programs in conjunction with its other powers and duties and shall place special emphasis on reducing and eliminating contamination that presents a threat to humans, animals or plants, or to the environment.

Section 7. Paragraph (i) is added to subsection (8) of section 403.067, Florida Statutes, to read:

403.067 Establishment and implementation of total maximum daily loads.—

(8) WATER QUALITY CREDIT TRADING.—

(i) Land set-asides and land use modifications not otherwise required by state law or a permit, including constructed wetlands or other water quality improvement projects, that reduce nutrient loads into nutrient impaired surface waters may be used under this subsection.

403.201 Variances.—

(2) A ~~No~~ variance may not ~~shall~~ be granted from any provision or requirement concerning discharges of waste into waters of the state or hazardous waste management which would result in the provision or requirement being less stringent than a comparable federal provision or requirement, except as provided in s. 403.70715. However, this subsection does not prohibit the issuance of moderating provisions or requirements under state law, subject to any necessary approval by the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

Section 9. Subsection (5) of section 403.709, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

403.709 Solid Waste Management Trust Fund; use of waste tire fees.—There is created the Solid Waste Management Trust Fund, to be administered by the department.

(5)(a) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a solid waste landfill closure account is established within the Solid Waste Management Trust Fund to provide funding for the closing and long-term care of solid waste management facilities. The department may use funds from the account to contract with a third party for the closing and long-term care of a solid waste management facility if:

1. The facility has or had a department permit to operate as a solid waste management ~~the~~ facility;

2. The permittee provided proof of financial assurance for closure in the form of an insurance certificate;

3. The department deemed the facility ~~is deemed~~ to be abandoned or ~~was~~ ordered the facility to close ~~by the department~~;

4. Closure is accomplished in substantial accordance with a closure plan approved by the department; and

5. The department has written documentation that the insurance company issuing the closure insurance policy will provide or reimburse the funds required to complete closing and long-term care of the facility.

(b) The department shall deposit the funds received from the insurance company as reimbursement for the costs of the closure ~~closing~~ or long-term care of the facility into the solid waste landfill closure account.

Section 10. Subsection (2) of section 403.713, Florida Statutes, is amended, and subsection (3) is added to that section, to read:

403.713 Ownership and control of solid waste and recovered materials.—

(2) Any local government that ~~which~~ undertakes resource recovery from solid waste pursuant to general law or special act may institute a flow control ordinance for the purpose of ensuring that the resource recovery facility receives an adequate quantity of solid waste from solid waste generated within its jurisdiction. Such authority does ~~shall~~ not extend to recovered materials, whether separated at the point of generation or after collection, which ~~that~~ are intended to be held for purposes of recycling pursuant to the requirements of this part; however, the handling of such materials is ~~shall be~~ subject to applicable state and local public health and safety laws. A flow control ordinance may be instituted under this section by a local government only after it owns, and actively uses, a resource recovery facility and the local government proves the necessity of instituting flow control to ensure sufficient materials for that resource recovery facility. A flow control ordinance also does not limit the ability of other entities and districts to contract for waste management services.

(3) For the purposes of exercising flow control authority under this section, a resource recovery facility does not include a landfill gas-to-energy system or facility.

Section 11. Subsection (21) is added to section 403.861, Florida Statutes, to read:

403.861 Department; powers and duties.—The department shall have the power and the duty to carry out the provisions and purposes of this act and, for this purpose, to:

(21)(a) Upon issuance of a construction permit to construct a new public water system drinking water treatment facility to provide potable water supply using a surface water that, at the time of the permit application, is not being used as a potable water supply, and the classification of which does not include potable water supply as a designated use, the department shall add treated potable water supply as a designated use of the surface water segment in accordance with s. 403.061(29)(b).

(b) For existing public water system drinking water treatment facilities that use a surface water as a treated potable water supply, which surface water classification does not include potable water supply as a designated use, the department shall add treated potable water supply as a designated use of the surface water segment in accordance with s. 403.061(29)(b).

Section 12. For the purpose of incorporating the amendment made by this act to section 403.201, Florida Statutes, in a reference thereto, subsection (17) of section 373.414, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

373.414 Additional criteria for activities in surface waters and wetlands.—

(17) The variance provisions of s. 403.201 are applicable to the provisions of this section or any rule adopted pursuant to this section. The governing boards and the department are authorized to review and take final agency action on petitions requesting such variances for those activities they regulate under this part and s. 373.4145.

Section 13. For the 2016-2017 fiscal year, the sum of $2,339,764 in nonrecurring funds is appropriated to the Department of Environmental Protection from the Solid Waste Management Trust Fund in the Fixed Capital Outlay-Agency Managed-Closing and Long-Term Care of Solid Waste Management Facilities appropriation category for the closing and long-term care of solid waste management facilities.

Section 14. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

BILL ANALYSIS AND FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

(This document is based on the provisions contained in the legislation as of the latest date listed below.)

Prepared By: The Professional Staff of the Committee on Appropriations

BILL:	SB 1060
INTRODUCER:	Senator Legg
SUBJECT:	Career and Adult Education
DATE:	February 19, 2016
REVISED:

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION
1.	Scott	Klebacha	ED	Favorable
2.	Sikes	Elwell	AED	Recommend: Favorable
3.	Sikes	Kynoch	AP	Pre-meeting

I. Summary:

SB 1060 updates terminology and expands opportunities and requirements related to career and adult education. Specifically, the bill:

- Updates, revises, and expands terminology and criteria to align statutory law to federal guidelines and regulations regarding apprenticeship programs.
- Increases the number of Career and Professional Education (CAPE) Digital Tool certificates that can be earned by elementary and middle school students, and approved annually on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List.
- Requires school district career centers and charter technical career centers to establish financial aid appeal procedures for students seeking redress of grievances.

The bill has no impact on state funds. The increase in the number of CAPE Digital Tool certificates made available on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List may result in an increase in the number of students eligible to generate additional full-time equivalent (FTE) funding to school districts. Each CAPE Digital Tool certificate generates 0.025 FTE, which would generate approximately $104 in additional funding for each certificate earned in the 2015-2016 fiscal year.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Apprenticeship Programs

Federal Program Requirements

The United States Congress enacted the National Apprenticeship Act (also known as the Fitzgerald Act in honor of its author, Congressman William J. Fitzgerald)[1] in 1937.[2] Following the passage of the act, Registered Apprenticeship (RA) programs consisted mainly of manufacturing, construction, and utilities industries.[3] In 2008, revised regulations were issued by the U.S. Department of Labor which increase program flexibility to better serve the needs of today's apprentices and program sponsors.[4]

For apprentices and program sponsors, the regulations:[5]
- Incorporate technology-based learning;
- Provide additional pathways to certification;
- Introduce interim credentials;
- Improve registration and review process;
- Update the reciprocal registration provision; and
- Introduce provisional registration.

For State Apprenticeship Agencies (SAAs), the regulations:[6]
- Increase linkages with the workforce investment system;
- Redefine the roles and responsibilities of SAAs and State Apprenticeship Councils;
- Establish a process for continued recognition; and
- Increase flexibility for location of an SAA.

For the U.S. Department of Labor, the regulations:[7]
- Enhance program accountability; and
- Ensure national conformity with federal apprenticeship legislation and regulations.

Registered apprenticeship program sponsors (i.e., employers, employer associations, and labor management organizations)[8] identify the minimum qualifications to apply to their apprenticeship programs.[9]

State Law Regarding Apprenticeship Programs

While the Federal government works in cooperation with states to oversee the nation's apprenticeship programs, the states have the authority to register apprenticeship programs through federally recognized SAAs.[10] In Florida, the Department of Education (DOE) serves as the registering entity to ensure compliance with federal and state apprenticeship standards, provide technical assistance, and conduct quality assurance assessments.[11]

Florida law provides education and training opportunities, in the form of apprenticeship and preapprenticeship programs, to prepare individuals for trades, occupations, and professions suited to their abilities.[12]

An apprenticeship program means "an organized course of instruction, registered and approved by the department, which course shall contain all terms and conditions for the qualifications, recruitment, selection, employment, and training of apprentices[13] including such matters as the requirements for a written apprenticeship agreement."[14] A preapprenticeship program means "an organized course of instruction in the public school system or elsewhere, which course is designed to prepare a person 16 years of age or older to become an apprentice and which course

[8] Registered Apprenticeship program sponsors vary from small, privately owned businesses to national employer and industry associations. There are nearly 29,000 sponsors representing more than 250,000 employers, such as UPS, the United States Military Apprenticeship Program, Werner Enterprises, and CVS/pharmacy. An individual must be at least 16 years of age to be an apprentice. Id. In hazardous occupations, individuals must usually be 18 years of age. Id. Program sponsors may also identify additional minimum qualifications and credentials to apply (e.g., education, ability to physically perform the essential functions of the occupation, and proof of age). Id. All applicants are required to meet the minimum qualifications. Id. Based on the selection method utilized by the sponsor, additional qualification standards, such as fair aptitude tests and interviews, school grades, and previous work experience may be identified. Id.

[13] An "apprentice" means "a person at least 16 years of age who is engaged in learning a recognized skilled trade through actual work experience under the supervision of journeyman craftsmen, which training should be combined with properly coordinated studies of technical and supplementary subjects, and who has entered into a written agreement, which may be cited as an apprentice agreement, with a registered apprenticeship sponsor who may be either an employer, an association of employers, or a local joint apprenticeship committee." Section 446.021(2), F.S. A "journeyman means" "a person working in an apprenticeable occupation who has successfully completed a registered apprenticeship program or who has worked the number of years required by established industry practices for the particular trade or occupation." Section 446.021(4), F.S. An apprenticeable occupation is a skilled trade which possesses all of the characteristics that are specified in law (e.g., customarily learned in a practical way through a structured, systemic program of on-the-job, supervised training and involves manual, mechanical, or technical skills and knowledge which require a minimum of 2,000 hours of work and training, which hours are excluded from the time spent at related instruction). The DOE is responsible for administering, facilitating, and supervising registered apprenticeship programs, including, but not limited to:[16]

- Developing and encouraging apprenticeship programs.
- Cooperating with and assisting apprenticeship sponsors to develop apprenticeship standards and training requirements.
- Monitoring RA programs.
- Investigating complaints regarding failure to meet the standards[17] established by the DOE.
- Canceling registration of programs that fail to comply with DOE standards and policies.

Additionally, the DOE, district school boards, and Florida College System (FCS) institution district boards of trustees must work together with existing apprenticeship programs so that individuals completing preapprenticeship programs may be able to receive credit towards completing registered apprenticeship programs.[18]

The State Apprenticeship Advisory Council (Council) advises the DOE on matters related to apprenticeship.[19] The Council is comprised of 10 voting members appointed by the Governor and two ex officio nonvoting members.[20] The Commissioner of Education (Commissioner) or the Commissioner's designee must serve ex officio as chair of the Council, but may not vote.[21] Two public members who are knowledgeable about registered apprenticeship and apprenticeable occupations are appointed by the Governor to the Council.[22] One of the public members must be recommended by joint organizations and one must be recommended by nonjoint organizations.[23]

CAPE Digital Tool Certificates

The DOE annually identifies CAPE Digital Tool certificates[24] available to school districts to use in their programs for public elementary and middle school students to attain digital skills needed for academic work and future employment.[25] The skills may include, but are not limited to:[26]

- Word processing;
- Spreadsheets;
- Presentations;
- Digital arts;
- Cybersecurity; and
- Coding.

The certificates are identified on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List[27] (list) and solely updated by the Chancellor of Career and Adult Education.[28] Currently, the list includes 15 CAPE Digital Tool certificates, the maximum number allowed.[29] In the 2014-2015 school year, 3,666 students earned a total of 3,953 CAPE Digital Tool certificates in 26 school districts.[30] A student who earns a CAPE Digital Tool certificate generates additional full-time equivalent student membership for purposes of school district funding under the Florida Education Finance Program.[31]

[24] A certificate is earned through coursework with a specific focus and learning objectives, attainment of which demonstrates knowledge of course content. Certification results from an assessment process demonstrating mastery or competency of a set of standards. Career and Technical Education Programs

Florida law states that "[t]he purpose of career education is to enable students who complete career programs to attain and sustain employment and realize economic self-sufficiency."[32] Public school districts and FCS institutions are responsible for ensuring adherence to accountability standards for career education programs, including, but not limited to:[33]

- Student demonstration of the academic skills necessary to enter an occupation.
- Student preparation to enter an occupation in an entry-level position or continue postsecondary study.
- Student completion, placement, and retention rates.[34]

The DOE is responsible for, among other things, providing timely, accurate technical assistance to schools districts and FCS institutions and developing program standards and industry-driven benchmarks for career, adult, and community education programs.[35]

The president of each state university or FCS institution is responsible for establishing procedures for appeals to redress student grievances related to the award or administration of financial aid at the university or institution.[36] Although Florida law does not expressly require career and technical centers to establish such procedures, federal law does. As student financial aid granting institutions in accordance with Title IV of the Higher Education Act of 1965, career and technical centers must establish and maintain financial aid appeal procedures.[37]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill updates terminology and expands opportunities and requirements related to career and adult education. Specifically, the bill:

- Updates, revises, and expands terminology and criteria to align statutory law to federal guidelines and regulations regarding apprenticeship programs.
- Increases the number of CAPE Digital Tool certificates that can be earned by elementary and middle school students and approved annually on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List.
- Requires school district career centers and charter technical career centers to establish financial aid appeal procedures for students seeking redress of grievances.

[34] The DOE must develop a system of performance measures in order to evaluate the career education programs which measure program enrollment, completion rates, placement rates, and amount of earnings at the time of placement. Placement and employment information, where applicable, shall contain data relevant to job retention, including retention rates. The State Board of Education must adopt by rule the specific measures and any definitions needed to establish the system of performance measures. Section 1008.43(1)(a), F.S.; Rule 6A-10.0342, F.A.C.

Apprenticeships

Definitions

The bill changes the term "journeyman" to "journeyworker." Also, the bill clarifies and expands the definition of the term journeyworker as a worker who has mastered the skills and competencies required for a specific trade or occupation through a formal apprenticeship, attainment of a nationally recognized industry certification, or practical on-the-job experience or formal training. The revised definition aligns the state definition with federal law and recognizes the importance of industry certifications as nationally recognized credentials that demonstrate competency of the student's knowledge in a specific trade or occupation.

The bill redefines "related instruction" by specifying that such instruction may be given in occupational or industrial courses taught inside or outside the classroom through correspondence courses, electronic media, or other forms of self-study approved by the Department of Education (DOE). The bill expands the definition to broaden the types of courses and options for receiving instruction for such courses, which may benefit preapprentices and apprentices who would not otherwise have the opportunity to receive the instruction in a traditional classroom setting.

Apprenticeable Occupations

The bill expands the criteria for an apprenticeable occupation as a clearly identified, skilled trade which may be associated with a nationally recognized industry certification and involves skills and knowledge in accordance with the applicable industry standards. By revising the criteria for an apprenticeable occupation, the bill recognizes the importance of industry certifications as nationally recognized credentials that demonstrate competency of the student's knowledge in a specific trade or occupation.

State Apprenticeship Advisory Council Membership

The bill authorizes the Governor to appoint two public members to the State Apprenticeship Advisory Council (council) who are independent of, rather than recommended by, joint or nonjoint organizations affiliated with apprenticeship sponsors, which meets the intent of federal law. The bill may provide the Governor more autonomy when appointing council members.

Apprenticeship Agreements

The bill prohibits apprenticeship programs or agreements from discriminating against or invalidating special provisions for veterans, minority persons, or women. In effect, the bill ensures that such individuals are protected and special provisions are honored in apprenticeship agreements.

CAPE Digital Tool Certificates

The bill increases from 15 to 30 the maximum number of CAPE Digital Tool certificates available for school districts to use in their programs and provides students more options for acquiring digital skills and attaining industry-approved credentials. Also, the bill removes the requirement that the CAPE Digital Tool certificates be updated solely by the Chancellor of Career and Adult Education which may provide the DOE with more flexibility to review, recommend, and update the CAPE Certification Funding List with regard to such certificates.

Career and Technical Center Financial Aid Appeals

The bill requires, consistent with federal law, each district school board operating a career center and each governing board of a charter technical career center to establish procedures for student appeals relating to financial aid grievances. In effect, the bill ensures that students enrolled in career and technical education programs are afforded the same rights relating to student financial aid as students enrolled in state universities and Florida College System institutions.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

However, if an associate in applied science or an associate in science degree program contains within it an occupational completion point that confers a certificate or an applied technology diploma, that portion of the program may be offered ~~conducted~~ by a school district career center. ~~Any~~ Instruction designed to articulate to a degree program is subject to guidelines and standards adopted by the State Board of Education pursuant to s. 1007.25.

(3) Each school district and Florida College System institution receiving state appropriations for workforce education programs must maintain adequate and accurate records, including a system to record school district workforce education funding and expenditures, in order to maintain separation of postsecondary workforce education expenditures from secondary workforce education expenditures. These records must be filed with the Department of Education in correct and proper form on or before the date due as provided by law or rule for each annual or periodic report that is required by rules of the State Board of Education.

(4) ~~(9)~~ School districts shall report full-time equivalent students by discipline category for the programs specified in subsection (1). ~~(4) Funding for all workforce education programs must be based on cost categories, performance output measures, and performance outcome measures.~~

~~(a) The cost categories must be calculated to identify high-cost programs, medium-cost programs, and low-cost programs. The cost analysis used to calculate and assign a program of study to a cost category must include at least both direct and indirect instructional costs, consumable supplies, equipment, and standard program length.~~

~~(b) The performance output measure for an adult general education course of study is measurable improvement in student skills. This measure shall include improvement in literacy skills, grade level improvement as measured by an approved test, or attainment of a State of Florida diploma or an adult high school diploma.~~

~~(c) The performance outcome measures for adult general education programs are associated with placement and retention of students after reaching a completion point or completing a program of study. These measures include placement or retention in employment. Continuing postsecondary education at a level that will further enhance employment is a performance outcome for adult general education programs.~~

(5) State funding and student fees for workforce education instruction shall be established as follows:

(a) Expenditures for the continuing workforce education programs provided by the Florida College System institutions or school districts must be fully supported by fees. Enrollments in continuing workforce education courses shall not be counted for purposes of funding full-time equivalent enrollment.

(b) For all other workforce education programs, state funding shall be calculated based on weighted enrollment and program costs minus fee revenues generated to offset program operational costs ~~equal 75 percent of the average cost of instruction with the remaining 25 percent made up from student fees~~. Fees for courses within a program shall not vary according to the cost of the individual program, but instead shall be as provided in s. 1009.22 ~~based on a uniform fee calculated and set at the state level, as adopted by the State Board of Education~~, unless otherwise specified in the General Appropriations Act.

(6)(a) ~~A school district or a Florida College System institution that provides workforce education programs shall receive funds in accordance with distributions for base and performance funding established by the Legislature in the General Appropriations Act.~~ To ensure equitable funding for all school district workforce education programs and to recognize enrollment growth, the Department of Education shall use the funding model developed by the District Workforce Education Funding Steering Committee to determine each district's workforce education funding needs. To assist the Legislature in allocating workforce education funds in the General Appropriations Act, the funding model shall annually be provided to the legislative appropriations committees no later than March 1.

(b) Operational funding shall be provided to school districts for workforce education programs based on weighted student enrollment and program costs determined by cost categories. The cost categories must be calculated to identify high-cost programs, medium-cost programs, and low-cost programs. The cost analysis used to calculate and assign a program of study to a cost category must include, at a minimum, direct and indirect instructional costs, consumable supplies, equipment, and standard program length.

(7) Performance funding for workforce education programs shall be contingent upon specific appropriation in the General Appropriations Act. To assist the Legislature in determining performance funding allocations, the State Board of Education shall annually, by March 1, provide the Legislature with recommended formulas, criteria, timeframes, and mechanisms for distributing performance funds. These recommendations shall reward programs that:

(a) Prepare people to enter high-skill and high-wage occupations identified by the Workforce Estimating Conference pursuant to s. 216.136 and programs approved by CareerSource Florida, Inc. At a minimum, performance incentives shall be calculated for adults who reach completion points or complete programs that lead to their placement in high-skill and high-wage employment.

(b) Prepare adults who are eligible for public assistance, economically disadvantaged, disabled, not proficient in English, or dislocated workers for high-wage occupations. At a minimum, performance incentives shall be calculated at an enhanced value for such adults who complete programs that lead to their placement in high-wage employment. In addition, adjustments may be made in performance incentives for such adults who become employed in high-wage occupations in areas with high unemployment rates.

(c) Increase student achievement in adult general education courses by measuring performance output and outcome measures.

1. The performance output measure for an adult general education course is measurable improvement in student skills. This measure includes improvement in literacy skills, grade-level improvement as measured by an approved test, or attainment of a high school diploma.

2. The performance outcome measures for adult general education programs are placement in and retention of employment after reaching a completion point or completing a program. These measures include continuation of postsecondary education at a level that will further enhance employment.

(d) ~~(b)~~ Award industry certifications. Performance funding for industry certifications ~~for school district workforce education programs is contingent upon specific appropriation in the General Appropriations Act and~~ shall be determined as follows:

1. Occupational areas for which industry certifications may be earned, as established in the General Appropriations Act, are eligible for performance funding. Priority shall be given to the occupational areas emphasized in state, national, or corporate grants provided to Florida educational institutions.

2. The Chancellor of Career and Adult Education shall identify the industry certifications eligible for funding on the CAPE Postsecondary Industry Certification Funding List approved by the State Board of Education pursuant to s. 1008.44, based on the occupational areas specified in the General Appropriations Act.

3. Each school district shall be provided $1,000 for each industry certification earned by a workforce education student. The maximum amount of funding appropriated for performance funding pursuant to this paragraph shall be limited to $15 million annually. If funds are insufficient to fully fund the calculated total award, such funds shall be prorated.

~~(c) A program is established to assist school districts and Florida College System institutions in responding to the needs of new and expanding businesses and thereby strengthening the state's workforce and economy. The program may be funded in the General Appropriations Act. The district or Florida College System institution shall use the program to provide customized training for businesses which satisfies the requirements of s. 288.047. Business firms whose employees receive the customized training must provide 50 percent of the cost of the training. Balances remaining in the program at the end of the fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund, but shall be carried over for 1 additional year and used for the purpose of serving incumbent worker training needs of area businesses with fewer than 100 employees. Priority shall be given to businesses that must increase or upgrade their use of technology to remain~~

(8)~~(7)~~(a) A school district or Florida College System institution that receives workforce education funds must use the money to benefit the workforce education programs it provides. The money may be used for equipment upgrades, program expansions, or any other use that would result in workforce education program improvement. The district school board or Florida College System institution board of trustees may not withhold any portion of the performance funding for indirect costs.

(b) State funds provided for the operation of postsecondary workforce programs may not be expended for the education of state or federal inmates.

~~(8) The State Board of Education and CareerSource Florida, Inc., shall provide the Legislature with recommended formulas, criteria, timeframes, and mechanisms for distributing performance funds. The commissioner shall consolidate the recommendations and develop a consensus proposal for funding. The Legislature shall adopt a formula and distribute the performance funds to the State Board of Education for Florida College System institutions and school districts through the General Appropriations Act. These recommendations shall be based on formulas that would discourage low-performing or low-demand programs and encourage through performance-funding awards:~~

~~(a) Programs that prepare people to enter high-wage occupations identified by the Workforce Estimating Conference created by s. 216.136 and other programs as approved by CareerSource Florida, Inc. At a minimum, performance incentives shall be calculated for adults who reach completion points or~~

~~complete programs that lead to specified high-wage employment and to their placement in that employment.~~

~~(b) Programs that successfully prepare adults who are eligible for public assistance, economically disadvantaged, disabled, not proficient in English, or dislocated workers for high-wage occupations. At a minimum, performance incentives shall be calculated at an enhanced value for the completion of adults identified in this paragraph and job placement of such adults upon completion. In addition, adjustments may be made in payments for job placements for areas of high unemployment.~~

~~(c) Programs that are specifically designed to be consistent with the workforce needs of private enterprise and regional economic development strategies, as defined in guidelines set by CareerSource Florida, Inc. CareerSource Florida, Inc., shall develop guidelines to identify such needs and strategies based on localized research of private employers and economic development practitioners.~~

~~(d) Programs identified by CareerSource Florida, Inc., as increasing the effectiveness and cost efficiency of education.~~

(9) ~~(10)~~ A high school student dually enrolled under s. 1007.271 in a workforce education program operated by a Florida College System institution or school district career center generates the amount calculated for workforce education funding, including any payment of performance funding, and the proportional share of full-time equivalent enrollment generated through the Florida Education Finance Program for the student's enrollment in a high school. If a high school student is dually enrolled in a Florida College System institution program, including a program conducted at a high school, the Florida

College System institution earns the funds generated for workforce education funding, and the school district earns the proportional share of full-time equivalent funding from the Florida Education Finance Program. If a student is dually enrolled in a career center operated by the same district as the district in which the student attends high school, that district earns the funds generated for workforce education funding and also earns the proportional share of full-time equivalent funding from the Florida Education Finance Program. If a student is dually enrolled in a workforce education program provided by a career center operated by a different school district, the funds must be divided between the two school districts proportionally from the two funding sources. A student may not be reported for funding in a dual enrollment workforce education program unless the student has completed the basic skills assessment pursuant to s. 1004.91. A student who is coenrolled in a K-12 education program and an adult education program may be reported for purposes of funding in an adult education program. If a student is coenrolled in core curricula courses for credit recovery or dropout prevention purposes and does not have a pattern of excessive absenteeism or habitual truancy or a history of disruptive behavior in school, the student may be reported for funding for up to two courses per year. Such a student is exempt from the payment of the block tuition for adult general education programs provided in s. 1009.22(3)(c). The Department of Education shall develop a list of courses to be designated as core curricula courses for the purposes of coenrollment.

(10) ~~(11)~~ The State Board of Education may adopt rules to

Section 15. Section 1011.802, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

(2) Applications from career centers, charter technical career centers, and Florida College System institutions must contain projected enrollment and projected costs for the new or expanded apprenticeship program.

(3) The department shall give priority to apprenticeship programs in the areas of information technology, health, and machining and manufacturing. Grant funds may be used for instructional equipment, supplies, personnel, student services, and other expenses associated with the creation or expansion of an apprenticeship program. COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/SB 1166 updates and establishes numerous early learning, public K-12, and postsecondary education statutes relating to the School Readiness program, public school funding and policy issues, the Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education Pilot Program, and the Distinguished Florida College System Program. Specifically, the bill:

- Revises provisions relating to health and safety standards and eligibility for the School Readiness program to align to federal requirements in the 2014 reauthorization of the Child Care and Development Block Grant;
- Authorizes and codifies changes to the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) funding formula;
- Makes the Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education Pilot Program, established in s. 1004.935, F.S., a permanent program by removing its pilot status and sunset date; and
- Establishes the Distinguished Florida College System Program to recognize Florida's highest-performing colleges.

The proposed Senate General Appropriations Bill, SPB 2500, contains funding for the provisions of this bill which require an appropriation. SPB 2500 appropriates $614,755 to the Department of Children and Families for the additional licensing and inspection requirements related to the School Readiness program. Also, $2 million is appropriated for the Distinguished Florida College System Program in SPB 2500.

SPB 2500 also appropriates $12,208,418 in the FEFP for the federally connected student supplement. The other changes to the FEFP have no impact on state funds. However, individual school districts may experience an increase or decrease in their ESE Guaranteed Allocation based on the results of the October full-time equivalent (FTE) student survey.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG)

The Office of Child Care (OCC) of the United States Department of Health and Human Services supports low-income working families by providing access to affordable, high-quality early care and afterschool programs.[1] The OCC administers the Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) and works with state, territory and tribal governments to provide support for children and their families to promote family economic self-sufficiency and to help children succeed in school and life through affordable, high-quality early care and afterschool programs.[2] The CCDF provides funding for state efforts to provide child care services for low-income family members who work, train for work, attend school, or whose children receive or need to receive protective services.[3] Block grant funding can be used for public or private, religious or non-religious, and center or home-based care.[4] Child care programs that accept funding must comply with state health and safety requirements.[5]

School Readiness Program

Florida's Office of Early Learning (OEL)[6] is the designated lead agency for purposes of administering the CCDF Block Grant Trust Fund and provides state-level administration for the School Readiness program.[7] The School Readiness program is a state-federal partnership between the OEL and the OCC.[8] The School Readiness program receives funding from a mixture of state and federal sources, including the federal CCDF, the federal Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant, general revenue and other state funds.[9] The School Readiness program provides subsidies for child care services and early childhood education for children of low-income families; children in protective services who are at risk of abuse, neglect, or abandonment; and children with disabilities.

The School Readiness program utilizes a variety of providers to deliver program services, such as licensed and unlicensed child care providers and public and nonpublic schools.[10] The Florida Department of Children and Families' Office of Child Care Regulation (OCCR), as the agency responsible for the state's child care provider licensing program, regulates some, but not all, of the child care providers that provide early learning programs.[11] The program is administered at the county or regional level by early learning coalitions (ELC).[12]

In order to be eligible to deliver the School Readiness program, a provider must be:[13]

- A licensed child care facility;
- A licensed or registered family day care home (FDCH);
- A licensed large family child care home (LFCCH);
- A public school or non-public school;
- A license-exempt faith-based child care provider;
- A before-school or after-school program; or
- An informal child care provider authorized in the state's CCDF plan.[14]

On November 19, 2014, the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) Act of 2014 was signed into law reauthorizing the CCDF for the first time since 1996.[15] The new law prescribes health and safety requirements for School Readiness program providers and requires transparent information to parents and the general public about available child care choices.[16]

While Florida's School Readiness program currently meets many of the new federal requirements, there are specific federal requirements that necessitate changes to Florida law including:[17]

- Screening for child care staff to include searches of the National Sex Offender Registry, as well as searches of state criminal records, the sex offender registry and child abuse and neglect registry of any state in which the child care personnel resided during the preceding 5 years.[18]

Florida Education Finance Program

The Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) is the primary mechanism for funding the operating costs of Florida school districts.[24] The FEFP is comprised of multiple categorical funds and factors which, when multiplied by the full-time equivalent (FTE) students, generates the annual operational allocation for each school district.

Exceptional Student Education Guaranteed Allocation

In order to provide exceptional education and related services, an Exceptional Student Education (ESE) Guaranteed Allocation was established by the Legislature to provide funding through the FEFP in addition to the basic program funding.[25] This allocation is a lump sum that is derived from the number of FTE students and the cost factors associated with the matrix of services (matrix) to document the services that each student with an exceptionality will receive.[26]

The Florida Department of Education (DOE) developed the Matrix of Services Handbook to provide districts, schools and teachers with information about the matrix required for selected students with exceptionalities.[27] The matrix is designed with five levels in each of the following five domain areas:[28]

- Curriculum and Learning Environment: This domain addresses services provided to the student in the areas of curriculum, instructional strategies and learning environment.
- Social or Emotional Behavior: This domain includes services provided to meet identified social and emotional needs of students with exceptionalities, such as positive behavioral supports, behavioral interventions, social skills development, socialization and counseling as a related service.
- Independent Functioning: This domain includes services that are necessary for the independent functioning of students with exceptionalities, such as instruction in organizational strategies, assistance for activities of daily living and self-care, physical therapy, occupational therapy, orientation and mobility training and supervision of students to ensure physical safety
- Health Care: This domain addresses services provided to students with exceptionalities who have health care needs. Included in this domain are services related to monitoring and assessment of health conditions, provision of related health care services and interagency collaboration.
- Communication: This domain includes services provided to support the communication needs of students with exceptionalities. Services included in this domain are personal assistance, instructional interventions, speech or language therapy and the use of alternative and augmentative communication systems.

A student is evaluated within each of these five domains to determine the appropriate level of service the student requires. Level 1 represents the lowest level of service and Level 5 represents the highest level of service.[29] The frequency and intensity of the service and the qualifications of personnel required to provide the service are critical factors that impact the determination of the appropriate level of service for the student.[30]

The ESE Guaranteed Allocation was established in 2000 in conjunction with the elimination of the mandatory requirement for the determination of a matrix of services for Levels 1 through 3 ESE students. ESE services for students whose level of service is Levels 1 through 3 are funded through the ESE Guaranteed Allocation.[31] These students generate FTE funding using the appropriate basic program cost factor for their grade level.[32] The ESE Guaranteed Allocation provides for the additional services needed for these exceptional students. [33] For the 2015-2016 fiscal year, the average ESE Guaranteed Allocation funding per FTE is $2,007.[34] Students whose level of service is Level 4 or 5 do not receive funds from the ESE Guaranteed Allocation, but

- For grades K-3, the cost factor is 1.115
- For grades 4-8, the cost factor is 1.000
- For grades 9-12, the cost factor is 1.005

instead generate weighted funding using a higher program cost factor which provides for both their education program and their exceptional services.[35]

For the 2015-2016 fiscal year, $959,182,058 was appropriated within the FEFP for the ESE Guaranteed Allocation.[36] The allocation for each district is calculated once based on projected ESE and total FTE enrollment and is not recalculated during the school year.[37] Since the allocation is not recalculated, a school district that overestimates its ESE FTE keeps the additional funds. A school district that underestimates their ESE FTE does not receive additional funds to support its ESE student population.

Federally Connected Student Supplement

The federally connected student supplement was established in the 2015-2016 Implementing Bill, ch. 2015-222, L.O.F., to provide funding to school districts to support the education of students connected with federally-owned military installations, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) property, and Indian lands. To be eligible for this supplement, the district must also be eligible for federal impact aid funds, pursuant to Title VIII of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The supplement is based on two components: a student allocation and an exempt-property allocation. The student allocation is based on the number of students in the district reported for federal impact aid, including students with disabilities, who

- Reside with a parent who is on active duty in the uniformed services or is an accredited foreign government official and military officer;
- Reside on eligible federally-owned Indian lands; or
- Reside with a civilian parent who lives or works on eligible federal property connected with a military installation or NASA. The number of these students shall be multiplied by a factor of 0.5.

The exempt-property allocation is based on the district's real property value of exempt federal property of federal impact aid lands reserved as military installations, NASA properties, or federally-owned Indian lands, multiplied by the millage authorized and levied under s. 1011.71 (2), F.S. The student allocation and the exempt-property allocation are added together for each eligible district to produce the federally connected student supplement.

The federal impact aid funding for Florida school districts has decreased by 50 percent from $13.9 million in the 1993-1994 fiscal year to $6.9 million in the 2013-2014 fiscal year. Currently, 14 school districts in Florida qualify for federal impact aid. These districts received $12,404,401 through the federally connected student supplement as appropriated in the 2015-2016 General Appropriations Act (GAA).

[35] The 2015-2016 Level 4 cost factor is 3.613 and the Level 5 cost factor is 5.258.

Career and Professional Education (CAPE) Dual Enrollment Industry Certification Funding

Performance funding for a CAPE industry certification earned through dual enrollment is provided to the Florida College System institution or district career center providing the instruction only if the industry certification is eligible for funding on the Postsecondary Industry Certification Funding List approved by the State Board of Education.[38]

CAPE Bonus Funding

Bonus funding is authorized for school districts and for teachers if a student earns a CAPE industry certification.[39] Depending on the certification earned, a school district receives bonus funding of 0.1, 0.2, 0.3, 0.5, or 1.0 FTE. Teacher bonus funding is awarded for CAPE industry certifications as follows:

- A bonus in the amount of $25 is awarded for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.1.[40]
- A bonus in the amount of $50 is awarded for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.2, 0.3, 0.5, and 1.0.[41]
- CAPE industry certification bonuses may not exceed $2,000 to a teacher in any given school year.[42]

Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education Pilot Program

The Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education Pilot Program was created in 2012 to operate for two years in Hardee, DeSoto, Manatee, and Sarasota Counties and provide the option of receiving a scholarship for instruction at private schools for up to 30 students who meet the following requirements:[43]

- Have a disability;[44]
- Are 22 years of age;
- Are receiving instruction from an instructor in a private school to meet the high school graduation requirements in s. 1003.428 or s. 1003.4282, F.S.;

- Receive supported employment services.[45]

In 2014, the Legislature extended the program for an additional two years through June 30, 2016.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill updates and establishes numerous early learning, public K-12, and postsecondary education statutes.

School Readiness Health and Safety Standards

The bill revises provisions relating to health and safety standards and eligibility for the School Readiness program to align to federal requirements in the 2014 reauthorization of the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG).

Specifically, the bill:

- Increases health and safety standards.
- Expands requirements for employment history checks and child care personnel background screenings.
- Expands availability of child care information, including inspection and monitoring reports.
- Expands School Readiness provider standards to include preservice and in-service training requirements and appropriate group size and staff-to-child ratios.
- Aligns child eligibility criteria to the federal requirements.

Current law requires a child care provider to provide basic health and safety of its premises and facilities and compliance with requirements for age-appropriate immunizations of children. A licensed provider may satisfy this requirement through compliance with current licensing standards for child care facilities, large family child care homes, or family day care homes. Faith-based child care providers, informal child care providers, and nonpublic schools exempt from licensure satisfy this requirement by posting a health and safety checklist adopted by the Office of Early Learning (OEL).

Pursuant to the CCDBG Reauthorization, all School Readiness program providers must meet a minimum level of health and safety requirements and receive at least one annual inspection. The bill requires registered or license-exempt School Readiness providers to comply with the health and safety checklist and training requirements adopted by the OEL, as well as the child care personnel background screening requirements.

Screening of Child Care Personnel

The bill redefines the definition of "screening" to include employment history checks consisting of documented attempts to contact each employer that employed the child care applicant within the preceding 5 years and documented findings from such contact. The bill requires that a screening include a search of the criminal history records, sexual predator and sexual offender registry, and child abuse and neglect registry of any state in which the applicant resided during the preceding 5 years. In effect, the bill revises the definition of screening to align it with the new federal requirements, and requires that any School Readiness provider screen individuals seeking employment in a manner consistent with those requirements.

The bill authorizes the use of information in the Department of Children and Families' (DCF) Central Abuse Hotline for purposes of conducting background screenings of child care personnel. Generally, the use of information in the Central Abuse Hotline is prohibited from being used for employment screenings, except in specified instances (e.g., child or adult protective investigations or licensure or approval of child care facilities). Furthermore, the bill authorizes employees, authorized agents, and contract providers of the OEL to have access to DCF child abuse and neglect reports and records to ensure compliance with the federal requirements.

Disqualification from Employment

The bill disqualifies a person from employment with a School Readiness provider if the person has been convicted of a felony offense relating to:

- Domestic violence.[46]
- Murder.[47]
- Manslaughter; aggravated manslaughter of an elderly person or a disabled adult; aggravated manslaughter of a child; or aggravated manslaughter of an officer, a firefighter, an emergency medical technician, or a paramedic.[48]
- Aggravated assault.[49]
- Aggravated battery.[50]
- Kidnapping.[51]
- Luring or enticing a child.[52]
- Leading, taking, enticing, or removing a minor, with criminal intent, pending custody proceedings, dependency proceedings, or proceedings concerning alleged abuse or neglect of a minor.[53]
- Sexual battery.[54]
- Sexual activity with or solicitation of a child by a person in familial or custodial authority.[55]
- Unlawful sexual activity with certain minors.[56]
- Female genital mutilation.[57]
- Arson.[58]
- Incest.[59]
- Child abuse, aggravated child abuse, neglect of a child.[60]

- Contributing to the delinquency or dependency of a child.[61]
- Sexual performance by a child.[62]
- Sexual misconduct in juvenile justice programs.[63]

Also, the bill disqualifies any person who has been convicted of a misdemeanor offense relating to battery of a minor[64] or luring or enticing a child.[65]

Furthermore, if the person committed a criminal act in another state or under federal law which, if committed in this state, would constitute any of the above-listed offenses, he or she is disqualified from employment with a School Readiness provider.

Affidavit of Compliance with Mandatory Child Abuse Reporting

The bill requires each child care facility, family day care home, and large family day care home to annually submit an affidavit of compliance with the mandatory reporting requirements in Florida law.[66] The change in law is consistent with the new federal requirement that child care personnel of School Readiness providers be familiar and comply with the mandatory child abuse, abandonment, or neglect reporting requirements.

Department of Children and Families Inspection and Monitoring of School Readiness Providers

The bill requires School Readiness providers to permit access to the DCF to inspect facilities, personnel, and records for the purpose of verifying compliance with the standards established and adopted by the OEL. Under the bill, inspection and monitoring of School Readiness providers by the DCF or local licensing agencies must be governed by a memorandum of understanding between the OEL and the DCF or local licensing agencies for verifying compliance solely with the standards contained in the statewide provider contract and the health and safety checklist. Furthermore, the bill requires that a School Readiness provider's contract be terminated if the provider refuses permission for entry or inspection.

Child Care Information

The bill requires the DCF and local licensing agencies to make electronically available to the public all licensing standards and procedures, health and safety standards for School Readiness providers, monitoring and inspection reports, and the names and addresses of licensed child care facilities, School Readiness providers, and licensed or registered family day care homes. Additionally, the bill requires the DCF to make publicly available the following information:

- Number of deaths, serious injuries, and instances of substantiated child abuse which have occurred in child care settings each year;
- Research and best practices in child development; and
- Resources regarding social-emotional development, parent and family engagement, healthy eating, and physical activity.

[66] Section 39.201, F.S.

Requiring that such information be made publicly available is consistent with the federal requirements in the CCDBG Reauthorization.

The Office of Early Learning's Duty to Align Standards to the Federal Requirements

Consistent with federal law, the bill requires the OEL to:

- Develop and implement strategies to increase the supply and improve the quality of child care services for infants and toddlers, children with disabilities, children who receive care during nontraditional hours, children in underserved areas, and children in areas that have significant concentrations of poverty and unemployment.
- Establish preservice and in-service training requirements addressing, at a minimum:
  - School Readiness child development standards.
  - Health and safety requirements.
  - Social-emotional behavior intervention models.
- Establish standards for emergency preparedness plans.
- Establish group size and staff-to-child ratios.
- Establish eligibility criteria, including income-based limitations and family assets.

Child Eligibility

The bill revises provisions relating to child eligibility to align with the federal requirement that once a child is deemed eligible for School Readiness program services, he or she remains eligible for a minimum of 12 months. Under current law, a child's eligibility may be redetermined at any time based on a change in family income or upon notification of a parent's change in employment status. Consequently, the bill repeals a requirement that each early learning coalition (ELC) redetermine eligibility twice per year for an additional 50 percent of the ELC's enrollment through a statistically valid random sampling.

Pursuant to the CCDBG Reauthorization, the bill provides that if a child's eligibility priority category requires the child to be from a working family, he or she will become ineligible to receive School Readiness program services if the parent does not reestablish employment or resume attendance at a job training or educational program within 90 days after becoming unemployed or ceasing to attend the job training or educational program. Current law affords a parent 60 days to reestablish employment or resume attendance at a job training or educational program. The change will provide additional time for parents to reestablish employment or resume attendance at a job training or educational program, so that their children may continue to receive School Readiness program services.

Also, the bill authorizes an ELC to temporarily waive the parent's copayment for a child whose family's income is at or below the federal poverty level and whose family experiences a natural disaster or an event that limits the parent's ability to pay. Authorizing waiver of the copayment is consistent with federal law, which contemplates that a copayment not be a barrier to families receiving School Readiness program services.

Exceptional Student Education Guaranteed Allocation

The bill authorizes the Florida Department of Education (DOE) to recalculate the Exceptional Student Education (ESE) Guaranteed Allocation for each school district. The ESE Guaranteed Allocation will be calculated initially in the General Appropriations Act (GAA), and recalculated based on each school district's actual ESE and total full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment as determined by the October FTE survey. This recalculation will ensure school districts receive their appropriate share of the ESE Guaranteed Allocation based on actual enrollment rather than projected enrollment.

Federally Connected Student Supplement

The bill codifies the federally connected student supplement categorical within the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP). The school districts which receive federal impact aid under Title VIII of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, will continue to be eligible for additional FEFP funding under this categorical.

Career and Professional Education (CAPE) Dual Enrollment Industry Certification Funding

The bill authorizes performance funding for a CAPE industry certification earned through a dual enrollment course, which is not a fundable certification on the Postsecondary Industry Certification Funding List or is earned as a result of an agreement with a nonpublic postsecondary institution, to be funded in the same manner as a non-dual enrollment course industry certification. The school district may provide for an agreement between the high school and the technical center, or the school district and the postsecondary institution may enter into an agreement for equitable distribution of the bonus funds.

CAPE Teacher Bonus Funding

The bill establishes two new tiers of bonuses available to CAPE industry certification teachers under s. 1011.62 (1)(o), F.S. A teacher providing in instruction to a student in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.3 will earn a $75 bonus, which is $25 more than currently authorized. A teacher providing instruction to a student in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.5 or 1.0 will earn a $100 bonus, which is $50 more than currently authorized. The bill also eliminates the $2,000 maximum annual bonus for teachers providing instruction in courses leading to these CAPE industry certifications.

Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education Pilot Program

The bill removes the pilot status and sunset provision for the Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education Pilot Program, thereby making the program permanent and no longer subject to expiration.

Distinguished Florida College System Program

The bill establishes the Distinguished Florida College System Program to recognize Florida's highest-performing colleges. A Florida college earns the designation as a distinguished college by the State Board of Education by meeting at least five of the seven excellence standards. The excellence standards established for the program are as follows:

- A 150 percent-of-normal-time completion rate[67] of 50 percent or higher;
- A 150 percent-of-normal-time completion rate for Pell Grant recipients of 40 percent or higher;
- A retention rate of 70 percent or higher;
- A continuing education, or transfer, rate of 72 percent or higher for students graduating with an associate of arts degree;
- A licensure passage rate on the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN) of 90 percent or higher for first-time exam takers;
- A job placement or continuing education rate of 88 percent or higher for workforce programs;
- A time-to-degree for students graduating with an associate of arts degree of 2.25 years or less for first-time-in-college students with accelerated college credits;

A Florida College System institution designated as a distinguished college is eligible for funding as specified in the GAA.

Powers and Duties of a District School Board

The bill provides a district school board with the authority to visit schools, give suggestions for improvement, and advise citizens with the view of promoting interest in education and improving the school.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

[67] The National Center for Education Statistics, in the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) glossary (available at http://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/glossary/?charindex=N), defines normal time to completion as the amount of time necessary for a student to complete all requirements for a degree or certificate according to the institution's catalog. For example, an associate's degree in a standard term-based institution has a normal time of completion of 2 years (4 semesters). The 150 percent of normal time to completion for an associate's degree would be 3 years (6 semesters). The 150 percent normal time of completion rate reflects the percentage of full-time students who complete all requirements for a degree or certificate within 150 percent of the amount of time necessary for a student to complete a degree or certificate according to the institution's catalog.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

Under PCS/SB 1166, teachers providing instruction in courses leading to CAPE industry certifications may be eligible for additional bonus funds for each student attaining specific CAPE industry certifications. The bill also removes the $2,000 annual limit for these CAPE teacher bonuses.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The proposed Senate General Appropriations Bill, SPB 2500, contains funding for the provisions of this bill which require an appropriation. SPB 2500 appropriates $614,755 to the Department of Children and Families for the additional licensing and inspection requirements related to the School Readiness program. Also, $2 million is appropriated for the Distinguished Florida College System Program in SPB 2500.

SPB 2500 also appropriates $12,208,418 in the FEFP for the federally connected student supplement. The other changes to the FEFP have no impact on state funds. However, individual school districts may experience an increase or decrease in their ESE Guaranteed Allocation based on the results of the October FTE survey.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 39.201, 39.202, 402.302, 402.3057, 402.306, 402.311, 402.319, 409.1757, 435.07, 1001.42, 1002.82, 1002.84, 1002.87, 1002.88, 1002.89, 1004.935, 1011.62, and 1011.71.

The bill creates section 1011.67 of the Florida Statutes.

(2) GUIDING PRINCIPLES; PURPOSE.—

(a) Charter schools in Florida shall be guided by the following principles:

2. Promote enhanced academic success and financial efficiency by aligning responsibility with accountability.

3. Provide parents with sufficient information on whether their child is reading at grade level and whether the child gains at least a year’s worth of learning for every year spent in the charter school. For a student who exhibits a substantial deficiency in reading, as determined by the charter school, the school shall notify the parent of the deficiency, the intensive interventions and supports used, and the student’s progress in accordance with s. 1008.25(5).

(6) APPLICATION PROCESS AND REVIEW.—Charter school applications are subject to the following requirements:

(a) A person or entity seeking ~~wishing~~ to open a charter school shall prepare and submit an application on a model application form prepared by the Department of Education which:

1. Demonstrates how the school will use the guiding principles and meet the statutorily defined purpose of a charter school.

2. Provides a detailed curriculum plan that illustrates how students will be provided services to attain the Sunshine State Standards.

3. Contains goals and objectives for improving student learning and measuring that improvement. These goals and objectives must indicate how much academic improvement students are expected to show each year, how success will be evaluated, and the specific results to be attained through instruction.

4. Describes the reading curriculum and differentiated strategies that will be used for students reading at grade level or higher and a separate curriculum and strategies for students who are reading below grade level. A sponsor shall deny an application ~~a charter~~ if the school does not propose a reading curriculum that is evidence-based and includes explicit, systematic, and multisensory reading instructional strategies; however, a sponsor may not require the charter school to implement the reading plan adopted by the school district pursuant to s. 1011.62(9) ~~consistent with effective teaching strategies that are grounded in scientifically based reading research~~.

5. Contains an annual financial plan for each year requested by the charter for operation of the school for up to 5 years. This plan must contain anticipated fund balances based on revenue projections, a spending plan based on projected revenues and expenses, and a description of controls that will safeguard finances and projected enrollment trends.

6. Discloses the name of each applicant, governing board member, and all proposed education services providers; the name and sponsor of any charter school operated by each applicant, each governing board member, and each proposed education services provider that has closed and the reasons for the closure; and the academic and financial history of such charter schools, which the sponsor shall consider in deciding whether to approve or deny the application.

7.~~6.~~ Contains additional information a sponsor may require, which shall be attached as an addendum to the charter school application described in this paragraph.

8.~~7.~~ For the establishment of a virtual charter school, documents that the applicant has contracted with a provider of virtual instruction services pursuant to s. 1002.45(1)(d).

(b) A sponsor shall receive and review all applications for a charter school using the ~~an~~ evaluation instrument developed by the Department of Education. A sponsor shall receive and consider charter school applications received on or before August 1 of each calendar year for charter schools to be opened at the beginning of the school district’s next school year, or to be opened at a time agreed to by the applicant and the sponsor. A sponsor may not refuse to receive a charter school application submitted before August 1 and may receive an application submitted later than August 1 if it chooses. In order to facilitate greater collaboration in the application process, an applicant may submit a draft charter school application on or before May 1 with an application fee of $500. If a draft application is timely submitted, the sponsor shall review and provide feedback as to material deficiencies in the application by July 1. The applicant shall then have until August 1 to resubmit a revised and final application. The sponsor may approve the draft application. Except as provided for a draft application, a sponsor may not charge an applicant for a charter any fee for the processing or consideration of an application, and a sponsor may not base its consideration or approval of a final application upon the promise of future payment of any kind. Before approving or denying any final application, the sponsor shall allow the applicant, upon receipt of written notification, at least 7 calendar days to make technical or nonsubstantive corrections and clarifications, including, but not limited to, corrections of grammatical, typographical, and like errors or missing signatures, if such errors are identified by the sponsor as cause to deny the final application.

1. In order to facilitate an accurate budget projection process, a sponsor shall be held harmless for FTE students who are not included in the FTE projection due to approval of charter school applications after the FTE projection deadline. In a further effort to facilitate an accurate budget projection, within 15 calendar days after receipt of a charter school application, a sponsor shall report to the Department of Education the name of the applicant entity, the proposed charter school location, and its projected FTE.

2. In order to ensure fiscal responsibility, an application for a charter school shall include a full accounting of expected assets, a projection of expected sources and amounts of income, including income derived from projected student enrollments and from community support, and an expense projection that includes full accounting of the costs of operation, including start-up costs.

3.a. A sponsor shall by a majority vote approve or deny an application no later than 60 calendar days after the application is received, unless the sponsor and the applicant mutually agree in writing to temporarily postpone the vote to a specific date, at which time the sponsor shall by a majority vote approve or deny the application. If the sponsor fails to act on the application, an applicant may appeal to the State Board of Education as provided in paragraph (c). If an application is denied, the sponsor shall, within 10 calendar days after such denial, articulate in writing the specific reasons, based upon good cause, supporting its denial of the ~~charter~~ application and shall provide the letter of denial and supporting documentation to the applicant and to the Department of Education.

b. An application submitted by a high-performing charter school identified pursuant to s. 1002.331 may be denied by the sponsor only if the sponsor demonstrates by clear and convincing evidence that:

(I) The application does not materially comply with the requirements in paragraph (a);

(II) The charter school proposed in the application does not materially comply with the requirements in paragraphs

(9)(a)-(f);

(III) The proposed charter school's educational program does not substantially replicate that of the applicant or one of the applicant's high-performing charter schools;

(IV) The applicant has made a material misrepresentation or false statement or concealed an essential or material fact during the application process; or

(V) The proposed charter school's educational program and financial management practices do not materially comply with the requirements of this section.

Material noncompliance is a failure to follow requirements or a violation of prohibitions applicable to charter school applications, which failure is quantitatively or qualitatively significant either individually or when aggregated with other noncompliance. An applicant is considered to be replicating a high-performing charter school if the proposed school is substantially similar to at least one of the applicant's high-performing charter schools and the organization or individuals involved in the establishment and operation of the proposed school are significantly involved in the operation of replicated schools.

c. If the sponsor denies an application submitted by a high-performing charter school, the sponsor must, within 10 calendar days after such denial, state in writing the specific reasons, based upon the criteria in sub-subparagraph b., supporting its denial of the application and must provide the letter of denial and supporting documentation to the applicant and to the Department of Education. The applicant may appeal the sponsor's denial of the application directly to the State Board of Education and, if an appeal is filed, must provide a copy of the appeal to the sponsor pursuant to paragraph (c) ~~sub-subparagraph (c)3.b~~.

4. For budget projection purposes, the sponsor shall report to the Department of Education the approval or denial of an ~~a charter~~ application within 10 calendar days after such approval or denial. In the event of approval, the report to the Department of Education shall include the final projected FTE for the approved charter school.

5. Upon approval of an ~~a charter~~ application, the initial startup shall commence with the beginning of the public school calendar for the district in which the charter is granted unless the sponsor allows a waiver of this subparagraph for good cause.

2. The focus of the curriculum, the instructional methods to be used, any distinctive instructional techniques to be employed, and identification and acquisition of appropriate technologies needed to improve educational and administrative performance which include a means for promoting safe, ethical, and appropriate uses of technology which comply with legal and

a. The charter shall ensure that reading is a primary focus of the curriculum and that resources are provided to identify and provide specialized instruction for students who are reading below grade level. The curriculum and instructional strategies for reading must be consistent with the Next Generation Sunshine State Standards and evidence-based ~~grounded in scientifically based reading research~~.

b. In order to provide students with access to diverse instructional delivery models, to facilitate the integration of technology within traditional classroom instruction, and to provide students with the skills they need to compete in the 21st century economy, the Legislature encourages instructional methods for blended learning courses consisting of both traditional classroom and online instructional techniques. Charter schools may implement blended learning courses which combine traditional classroom instruction and virtual instruction. Students in a blended learning course must be full-time students of the charter school and receive the online instruction in a classroom setting at the charter school. Instructional personnel certified pursuant to s. 1012.55 who provide virtual instruction for blended learning courses may be employees of the charter school or may be under contract to provide instructional services to charter school students. At a minimum, such instructional personnel must hold an active state or school district adjunct certification under s. 1012.57 for the subject area of the blended learning course. The funding and performance accountability requirements for blended learning courses are the same as those for traditional courses.

a. How the baseline student academic achievement levels and prior rates of academic progress will be established.

b. How these baseline rates will be compared to rates of academic progress achieved by these same students while attending the charter school.

c. To the extent possible, how these rates of progress will be evaluated and compared with rates of progress of other closely comparable student populations.

The district school board is required to provide academic student performance data to charter schools for each of their students coming from the district school system, as well as rates of academic progress of comparable student populations in the district school system.

4. The methods used to identify the educational strengths and needs of students and how well educational goals and performance standards are met by students attending the charter school. The methods shall provide a means for the charter school to ensure accountability to its constituents by analyzing student performance data and by evaluating the effectiveness and efficiency of its major educational programs. Students in charter schools shall, at a minimum, participate in the statewide assessment program created under s. 1008.22.

5. In secondary charter schools, a method for determining that a student has satisfied the requirements for graduation in

9. The financial and administrative management of the school, including a reasonable demonstration of the professional experience or competence of those individuals or organizations applying to operate the charter school or those hired or retained to perform such professional services and the description of clearly delineated responsibilities and the policies and practices needed to effectively manage the charter school. A description of internal audit procedures and establishment of controls to ensure that financial resources are properly managed must be included. 12. The term of the charter which shall provide for cancellation of the charter if insufficient progress has been made in attaining the student achievement objectives of the charter and if it is not likely that such objectives can be achieved before expiration of the charter. The initial term of a charter shall be for 4 or 5 years. In order to facilitate access to long-term financial resources for charter school construction, charter schools that are operated by a municipality or other public entity as provided by law are eligible for up to a 15-year charter, subject to approval by the district school board. A charter lab school is eligible for a charter for a term of up to 15 years. In addition, to facilitate access to long-term financial resources for charter school construction, charter schools that are operated by a private, not-for-profit, s. 501(c)(3) status corporation are eligible for up to a 15-year charter, subject to approval by the district school board. Such long-term charters remain subject to annual review and may be terminated during the term of the charter, but only according to the provisions set forth in subsection (8).

However, alternative arrangements shall not be required for current teachers who choose not to teach in a charter lab school, except as authorized by the employment policies of the state university which grants the charter to the lab school.

18. Full disclosure of the identity of all relatives employed by the charter school who are related to the charter school owner, president, chairperson of the governing board of directors, superintendent, governing board member, principal, assistant principal, or any other person employed by the charter school who has equivalent decisionmaking authority. The representative's contact information must be provided annually in writing to parents and posted prominently on the charter school's website if a website is maintained by the school. The sponsor may not require that governing board members reside in the school district in which the charter school is located if the charter school complies with this paragraph.~~

~~2. Each charter school's governing board must hold at least two public meetings per school year in the school district. The meetings must be noticed, open, and accessible to the public, and attendees must be provided an opportunity to receive information and provide input regarding the charter school's operations. b. At the discretion of the charter school's governing board, a charter school may elect to follow generally accepted accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, but must reformat this information for reporting according to this paragraph.

2. Charter schools shall provide annual financial report and program cost report information in the state-required formats for inclusion in district reporting in compliance with s. 1011.60(1). Charter schools that are operated by a municipality or are a component unit of a parent nonprofit organization may use the accounting system of the municipality or the parent but must reformat this information for reporting according to this paragraph.

3. A charter school shall, upon approval of the charter contract, provide the sponsor with a concise, uniform, monthly financial statement summary sheet that contains a balance sheet and a statement of revenue, expenditures, and changes in fund balance. The balance sheet and the statement of revenue, expenditures, and changes in fund balance shall be in the governmental funds format prescribed by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. A high-performing charter school pursuant to s. 1002.331 may provide a quarterly financial statement in the same format and requirements as the uniform monthly financial statement summary sheet. The sponsor shall review each monthly or quarterly financial statement to identify the existence of any conditions identified in s. 1002.345(1)(a).

c. The sponsor may annually waive a corrective action if it determines that the charter school is likely to improve a letter grade if additional time is provided to implement the intervention and support strategies prescribed by the school improvement plan. Notwithstanding this sub-subparagraph, a charter school that earns a second consecutive grade of "F" is subject to subparagraph 4.

d. A charter school is no longer required to implement a corrective action if it improves by at least one letter grade. However, the charter school must continue to implement strategies identified in the school improvement plan. e. A charter school implementing a corrective action that does not improve by at least one letter grade after 2 full school years of implementing the corrective action must select a different corrective action. Implementation of the new corrective action must begin in the school year following the implementation period of the existing corrective action, unless the sponsor determines that the charter school is likely to improve a letter grade if additional time is provided to implement the existing corrective action. 3. A charter school with a grade of "D" or "F" that improves by at least one letter grade must continue to implement a. The charter school is established to turn around the performance of a district public school pursuant to s. 1008.33(4)(b)3. Such charter schools shall be governed by s. 1008.33;

b. The charter school serves a student population the majority of which resides in a school zone served by a district public school that earned a grade of "F" in the year before the charter school opened and the charter school earns at least a grade of "D" in its third year of operation. The exception provided under this sub-subparagraph does not apply to a charter school in its fourth year of operation and thereafter; or

c. The state board grants the charter school a waiver of termination. The charter school must request the waiver within 15 days after the department's official release of school grades. The state board may waive termination if the charter school demonstrates that the Learning Gains of its students on statewide assessments are comparable to or better than the Learning Gains of similarly situated students enrolled in nearby district public schools. The waiver is valid for 1 year and may only be granted once. Charter schools that have been in

765 operation for more than 5 years are not eligible for a waiver 766 under this sub-subparagraph.
768 The sponsor shall notify the charter school's governing board, 769 the charter school principal, and the department in writing when 770 a charter contract is terminated under this subparagraph. The 771 letter of termination must meet the requirements of paragraph 772 (8)(c). A charter terminated under this subparagraph must follow
773 the procedures for dissolution and reversion of public funds 774 pursuant to paragraphs (8)(e)-(g) and (9)(o).
775 5. The director and a representative of the governing board 776 of a graded charter school that has implemented a school 777 improvement plan under this paragraph shall appear before the 778 sponsor at least once a year to present information regarding 779 the progress of intervention and support strategies implemented 780 by the school pursuant to the school improvement plan and 781 corrective actions, if applicable. The sponsor shall communicate 782 at the meeting, and in writing to the director, the services 783 provided to the school to help the school address its 784 deficiencies.
785 6. Notwithstanding any provision of this paragraph except 786 sub-subparagraphs 4.a.-c., the sponsor may terminate the charter 787 at any time pursuant to subsection (8).

791 board members; the programs at the school; any management
792 companies, service providers, or education management 793 corporations associated with the school; the school's annual

If the governing board oversees multiple charter schools in the same school district, the governing board must appoint a separate representative for each charter school in the district. The representative's contact information must be provided annually in writing to parents and posted prominently on the charter school's website. The sponsor may not require governing board members to reside in the school district in which the charter school is located if the charter school complies with this subparagraph.

3. Each charter school's governing board must hold at least two public meetings per school year in the school district where the charter school is located. The meetings must be noticed, open, and accessible to the public, and attendees must be provided an opportunity to receive information and provide input regarding the charter school's operations. The appointed representative and charter school principal or director, or his or her designee, must be physically present at each meeting.

854 Act, including gross state and local funds, discretionary 855 lottery funds, and funds from the school district's current 856 operating discretionary millage levy; divided by total funded 857 weighted full-time equivalent students in the school district;
858 multiplied by the weighted full-time equivalent students for the 859 charter school. Charter schools whose students or programs meet 860 the eligibility criteria in law are entitled to their 861 proportionate share of categorical program funds included in the 862 total funds available in the Florida Education Finance Program 863 by the Legislature, including transportation, the research-based 864 reading allocation, and the Florida digital classrooms 865 allocation. Total funding for each charter school shall be 866 recalculated during the year to reflect the revised calculations 867 under the Florida Education Finance Program by the state and the 868 actual weighted full-time equivalent students reported by the 869 charter school during the full-time equivalent student survey 870 periods designated by the Commissioner of Education.

879 the charter school, are provided by the school district at the 880 request of the charter school, that any funds due to the charter school under the federal lunch program be paid to the charter school as soon as the charter school begins serving food under the federal lunch program, and that the charter school is paid at the same time and in the same manner under the federal lunch program as other public schools serviced by the sponsor or the school district; test administration services, including payment of the costs of state-required or district-required student assessments; processing of teacher certificate data services; and information services, including equal access to student information systems that are used by public schools in the district in which the charter school is located. Student performance data for each student in a charter school, including, but not limited to, FCAT scores, standardized test scores, previous public school student report cards, and student performance measures, shall be provided by the sponsor to a charter school in the same manner provided to other public schools in the district.

2. A total administrative fee for the provision of such services shall be calculated based upon up to 5 percent of the available funds defined in paragraph (17)(b) for all students, except that when 75 percent or more of the students enrolled in the charter school are exceptional students as defined in s. 1003.01(3), the 5 percent of those available funds shall be calculated based on unweighted full-time equivalent students. However, a sponsor may only withhold up to a 5-percent administrative fee for enrollment for up to and including 250 students. For charter schools with a population of 251 or more students, the difference between the total administrative fee calculation and the amount of the administrative fee withheld may only be used for capital outlay purposes specified in s. 1013.62(2).

3. For high-performing charter schools, as defined in s. 1002.331 ~~ch. 2011-232~~, a sponsor may withhold a total administrative fee of up to 2 percent for enrollment up to and including 250 students per school.

(8) ASSESSMENT AND ACCOUNTABILITY.—

(c) An approved provider that receives a school grade of "D" or "F" under s. 1008.34 or a school improvement rating of "Unsatisfactory" ~~"Declining"~~ under s. 1008.341 must file a school improvement plan with the department for consultation to determine the causes for low performance and to develop a plan for correction and improvement.

(d) An approved provider's contract must be terminated if the provider receives a school grade of "D" or "F" under s. 1008.34 or a school improvement rating of "Unsatisfactory" ~~"Declining"~~ under s. 1008.341 for 2 years during any consecutive 4-year period or has violated any qualification requirement pursuant to subsection (2). A provider that has a contract terminated under this paragraph may not be an approved provider for a period of at least 1 year after the date upon which the contract was terminated and until the department determines that the provider is in compliance with subsection (2) and has corrected each cause of the provider's low performance.

Section 8. Section 1003.3101, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

1003.3101 Additional educational choice options.—Each school district board shall establish a transfer process for a parent to request his or her child be transferred to another classroom teacher. Section 9. Subsection (3) of section 1003.4295, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

1003.4295 Acceleration options.—

Notwithstanding s. 1003.436, a school district shall award course credit to a student who is not enrolled in the course, or who has not completed the course, if the student attains a passing score on the corresponding end-of-course assessment, Advanced Placement Examination, or CLEP ~~statewide, standardized assessment~~. The school district shall permit a public school or home education student who is not enrolled in the course, or who has not completed the course, to take the assessment or examination during the regular administration of the assessment or examination.

Section 10. Effective June 29, 2016, section 1004.935, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

1004.935 Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education ~~Pilot~~ Program.—

(1) The Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education ~~Pilot~~

Program is established in the Department of Education ~~through June 30, 2016,~~ in Hardee, DeSoto, Manatee, and Sarasota Counties to provide the option of receiving a scholarship for instruction at private schools for up to 30 students who:

(a) Have a disability;

(b) Are 22 years of age;

(c) Are receiving instruction from an instructor in a private school to meet the high school graduation requirements in s. 1002.3105(5) or s. 1003.4282;

(d) Do not have a standard high school diploma or a special high school diploma; and

(e) Receive "supported employment services," which means employment that is located or provided in an integrated work setting with earnings paid on a commensurate wage basis and for which continued support is needed for job maintenance.

As used in this section, the term "student with a disability" includes a student who is documented as having an intellectual disability; a speech impairment; a language impairment; a hearing impairment, including deafness; a visual impairment, including blindness; a dual sensory impairment; an orthopedic impairment; another health impairment; an emotional or behavioral disability; a specific learning disability, including, but not limited to, dyslexia, dyscalculia, or developmental aphasia; a traumatic brain injury; a developmental delay; or autism spectrum disorder.

(2) A student participating in the ~~pilot~~ program may continue to participate in the program until the student graduates from high school or reaches the age of 40 years,

(3) Supported employment services may be provided at more than one site.

(4) The provider of supported employment services must be a nonprofit corporation under s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code which serves Hardee County, DeSoto County, Manatee County, or Sarasota County and must contract with a private school in this state which meets the requirements in subsection (5).

(5) A private school that participates in the ~~pilot~~ program may be sectarian or nonsectarian and must:

(a) Be academically accountable for meeting the educational needs of the student by annually providing to the provider of supported employment services a written explanation of the student's progress.

(b) Comply with the antidiscrimination provisions of 42 U.S.C. s. 2000d.

(c) Meet state and local health and safety laws and codes.

(d) Provide to the provider of supported employment services all documentation required for a student's participation, including the private school's and student's fee schedules, at least 30 days before any quarterly scholarship payment is made for the student. A student is not eligible to receive a quarterly scholarship payment if the private school fails to meet this deadline.

The inability of a private school to meet the requirements of this subsection constitutes a basis for the ineligibility of the private school to participate in the ~~pilot~~ program.

(6)(a) If the student chooses to participate in the ~~pilot~~ program and is accepted by the provider of supported employment services, the student must notify the Department of Education of his or her acceptance into the program 60 days before the first scholarship payment and before participating in the ~~pilot~~ program in order to be eligible for the scholarship.

(b) Upon receipt of a scholarship warrant, the student or parent to whom the warrant is made must restrictively endorse the warrant to the provider of supported employment services for deposit into the account of the provider. The student or parent may not designate any entity or individual associated with the participating provider of supported employment services as the student's or parent's attorney in fact to endorse a scholarship warrant. A participant who fails to comply with this paragraph forfeits the scholarship.

(7) Funds for the scholarship shall be provided from the appropriation from the school district's Workforce Development Fund in the General Appropriations Act for students who reside in the Hardee County School District, the DeSoto County School District, the Manatee County School District, or the Sarasota County School District. ~~During the pilot program,~~ The scholarship amount granted for an eligible student with a disability shall be equal to the cost per unit of a full-time equivalent adult general education student, multiplied by the adult general education funding factor, and multiplied by the district cost differential pursuant to the formula required by s. 1011.80(6)(a) for the district in which the student resides.

(8) Upon notification by the Department of Education that it has received the required documentation, the Chief Financial Officer shall make scholarship payments in four equal amounts no later than September 1, November 1, February 1, and April 1 of each academic year in which the scholarship is in force. The initial payment shall be made after the Department of Education verifies that the student was accepted into the ~~pilot~~ program, and subsequent payments shall be made upon verification of continued participation in the ~~pilot~~ program. Payment must be by individual warrant made payable to the student or parent and mailed by the Department of Education to the provider of supported employment services, and the student or parent shall restrictively endorse the warrant to the provider of supported employment services for deposit into the account of that provider.

(9) Subsequent to each scholarship payment, the Department of Education shall request from the Department of Financial Services a sample of endorsed warrants to review and confirm compliance with endorsement requirements.

Section 11. Subsection (3) and paragraph (a) of subsection (8) of section 1006.15, Florida Statutes, are amended, and subsection (9) is added to that section, to read:

1006.15 Student standards for participation in interscholastic and intrascholastic extracurricular student activities; regulation.—

(3)(a) As used in this section and s. 1006.20, the term "eligible to participate" includes, but is not limited to, a student participating in tryouts, off-season conditioning, summer workouts, preseason conditioning, in-season practice, or contests. The term does not mean that a student must be placed on any specific team for interscholastic or intrascholastic extracurricular activities. To be eligible to participate in interscholastic extracurricular student activities, a student must:

1. Maintain a grade point average of 2.0 or above on a 4.0 scale, or its equivalent, in the previous semester or a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or above on a 4.0 scale, or its equivalent, in the courses required by s. 1002.3105(5) or s. 1003.4282.

2. Execute and fulfill the requirements of an academic performance contract between the student, the district school board, the appropriate governing association, and the student's parents, if the student's cumulative grade point average falls below 2.0, or its equivalent, on a 4.0 scale in the courses required by s. 1002.3105(5) or s. 1003.4282. At a minimum, the contract must require that the student attend summer school, or its graded equivalent, between grades 9 and 10 or grades 10 and 11, as necessary.

3. Have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 or above on a 4.0 scale, or its equivalent, in the courses required by s. 1002.3105(5) or s. 1003.4282 during his or her junior or senior year.

4. Maintain satisfactory conduct, including adherence to appropriate dress and other codes of student conduct policies described in s. 1006.07(2). If a student is convicted of, or is found to have committed, a felony or a delinquent act that would have been a felony if committed by an adult, regardless of whether adjudication is withheld, the student's participation in interscholastic extracurricular activities is contingent upon established and published district school board policy.

(b) Any student who is exempt from attending a full school day based on rules adopted by the district school board for double session schools or programs, experimental schools, or schools operating under emergency conditions must maintain the grade point average required by this section and pass each class for which he or she is enrolled.

(c) An individual home education student is eligible to participate at the public school to which the student would be assigned according to district school board attendance area policies or which the student could ~~choose to~~ attend ~~pursuant to district or interdistrict controlled open enrollment provisions~~, or may develop an agreement to participate at a private school, in the interscholastic extracurricular activities of that school, provided the following conditions are met:

1. The home education student must meet the requirements of the home education program pursuant to s. 1002.41.

2. During the period of participation at a school, the home education student must demonstrate educational progress as required in paragraph (b) in all subjects taken in the home education program by a method of evaluation agreed upon by the parent and the school principal which may include: review of the student’s work by a certified teacher chosen by the parent; grades earned through correspondence; grades earned in courses taken at a Florida College System institution, university, or trade school; standardized test scores above the 35th percentile; or any other method designated in s. 1002.41.

3. The home education student must meet the same residency requirements as other students in the school at which he or she participates.

4. The home education student must meet the same standards of acceptance, behavior, and performance as required of other students in extracurricular activities.

5. The student must register with the school his or her intent to participate in interscholastic extracurricular activities as a representative of the school before the beginning date of the season for the activity in which he or she wishes to participate. A home education student must be able to participate in curricular activities if that is a requirement for an extracurricular activity.

6. A student who transfers from a home education program to a public school before or during the first grading period of the school year is academically eligible to participate in interscholastic extracurricular activities during the first grading period provided the student has a successful evaluation from the previous school year, pursuant to subparagraph 2.

7. Any public school or private school student who has been unable to maintain academic eligibility for participation in interscholastic extracurricular activities is ineligible to participate in such activities as a home education student until the student has successfully completed one grading period in home education pursuant to subparagraph 2. to become eligible to participate as a home education student.

(d) An individual charter school student pursuant to s. 1002.33 is eligible to participate at the public school to which the student would be assigned according to district school board attendance area policies or which the student could ~~choose to~~ attend, ~~pursuant to district or interdistrict controlled open-enrollment provisions,~~ in any interscholastic extracurricular activity of that school, unless such activity is provided by the student's charter school, if the following conditions are met:

1. The charter school student must meet the requirements of the charter school education program as determined by the charter school governing board.

2. During the period of participation at a school, the charter school student must demonstrate educational progress as required in paragraph (b).

3. The charter school student must meet the same residency requirements as other students in the school at which he or she participates.

4. The charter school student must meet the same standards of acceptance, behavior, and performance that are required of other students in extracurricular activities.

5. The charter school student must register with the school his or her intent to participate in interscholastic extracurricular activities as a representative of the school before the beginning date of the season for the activity in which he or she wishes to participate. A charter school student must be able to participate in curricular activities if that is a requirement for an extracurricular activity.

6. A student who transfers from a charter school program to a traditional public school before or during the first grading period of the school year is academically eligible to participate in interscholastic extracurricular activities during the first grading period if the student has a successful evaluation from the previous school year, pursuant to subparagraph 2.

7. Any public school or private school student who has been unable to maintain academic eligibility for participation in interscholastic extracurricular activities is ineligible to participate in such activities as a charter school student until the student has successfully completed one grading period in a charter school pursuant to subparagraph 2. to become eligible to participate as a charter school student.

(e) A student of the Florida Virtual School full-time program may participate in any interscholastic extracurricular activity at the public school to which the student would be assigned according to district school board attendance area policies or which the student could ~~choose to~~ attend, ~~pursuant to district or interdistrict controlled open enrollment policies,~~ if the student:

1. During the period of participation in the interscholastic extracurricular activity, meets the requirements in paragraph (a).

2. Meets any additional requirements as determined by the board of trustees of the Florida Virtual School.

3. Meets the same residency requirements as other students in the school at which he or she participates.

4. Meets the same standards of acceptance, behavior, and performance that are required of other students in extracurricular activities.

5. Registers his or her intent to participate in interscholastic extracurricular activities with the school before the beginning date of the season for the activity in which he or she wishes to participate. A Florida Virtual School student must be able to participate in curricular activities if that is a requirement for an extracurricular activity.

(f) A student who transfers from the Florida Virtual School full-time program to a traditional public school before or during the first grading period of the school year is academically eligible to participate in interscholastic extracurricular activities during the first grading period if the student has a successful evaluation from the previous school year pursuant to paragraph (a).

(g) A public school or private school student who has been unable to maintain academic eligibility for participation in interscholastic extracurricular activities is ineligible to participate in such activities as a Florida Virtual School student until the student successfully completes one grading period in the Florida Virtual School pursuant to paragraph (a).

(h)1. A school district or charter school may not delay eligibility or otherwise prevent a student participating in controlled open enrollment, or a choice program, from being immediately eligible to participate in interscholastic and intrascholastic extracurricular activities.

2. A student participating in a sport at a school may not participate in that same sport at another school during that school year, unless the student meets one of the following criteria:

a. Dependent children of active duty military personnel whose move resulted from military orders.

b. Children who have been relocated due to a foster care placement in a different school zone.

c. Children who move due to a court ordered change in custody due to separation or divorce, or the serious illness or death of a custodial parent.

d. Authorized for good cause in district or charter school

(8)(a) The Florida High School Athletic Association (FHSAA), in cooperation with each district school board, shall facilitate a program in which a middle school or high school student who attends a private school shall be eligible to participate in an interscholastic or intrascholastic sport at a public high school, a public middle school, or a 6-12 public school that is zoned for the physical address at which the student resides if:

1. The private school in which the student is enrolled is not a member of the FHSAA ~~and does not offer an interscholastic or intrascholastic athletic program~~.

2. The private school student meets the guidelines for the conduct of the program established by the FHSAA's board of directors and the district school board. At a minimum, such guidelines shall provide:

a. A deadline for each sport by which the private school student's parents must register with the public school in writing their intent for their child to participate at that school in the sport.

b. Requirements for a private school student to participate, including, but not limited to, meeting the same standards of eligibility, acceptance, behavior, educational progress, and performance which apply to other students participating in interscholastic or intrascholastic sports at a public school or FHSAA member private school.

(9)(a) A student who transfers to a school during the school year may seek to immediately join an existing team if the roster for the specific interscholastic or intrascholastic extracurricular activity has not reached the activity's identified maximum size and if the coach for the activity determines that the student has the requisite skill and ability to participate. The FHSAA and school district or charter school may not declare such a student ineligible because the student did not have the opportunity to comply with qualifying requirements.

(b) A student participating in a sport at a school may not participate in that same sport at another school during that school year, unless the student meets one of the following criteria:

1. Dependent children of active duty military personnel whose move resulted from military orders.

2. Children who have been relocated due to a foster care placement in a different school zone.

3. Children who move due to a court ordered change in custody due to separation or divorce, or the serious illness or death of a custodial parent.

Section 12. Subsection (1) and paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (g) of subsection (2) of section 1006.20, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

1006.20 Athletics in public K-12 schools.—

(1) GOVERNING NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION.—The Florida High School Athletic Association (FHSAA) is designated as the governing nonprofit organization of athletics in Florida public schools. If the FHSAA fails to meet the provisions of this section, the commissioner shall designate a nonprofit organization to govern athletics with the approval of the State Board of Education. The FHSAA is not a state agency as defined in s. 120.52. The FHSAA shall be subject to the provisions of s. 1006.19. A private school that wishes to engage in high school athletic competition with a public high school may become a member of the FHSAA. Any high school in the state, including charter schools, virtual schools, and home education cooperatives, may become a member of the FHSAA and participate in the activities of the FHSAA. However, membership in the FHSAA is not mandatory for any school. The FHSAA must allow a private school the option of maintaining full membership in the association or joining by sport and may not discourage a private school from simultaneously maintaining membership in another athletic association. The FHSAA may allow a public school the option to apply for consideration to join another athletic association. The FHSAA may not deny or discourage interscholastic competition between its member schools and non-FHSAA member Florida schools, including members of another athletic governing organization, and may not take any retributory or discriminatory action against any of its member schools that participate in interscholastic competition with non-FHSAA member Florida schools. The FHSAA may not unreasonably withhold its approval of an application to become an affiliate member of the National Federation of State High School Associations submitted by any other organization that governs interscholastic athletic competition in this state. The bylaws of the FHSAA are the rules by which high school athletic programs in its member schools, and the students who participate in them, are governed, unless otherwise specifically provided by statute. For the purposes of this section, "high school" includes grades 6 through 12.

(2) ADOPTION OF BYLAWS, POLICIES, OR GUIDELINES.—

(a) The FHSAA shall adopt bylaws that, unless specifically provided by statute, establish eligibility requirements for all students who participate in high school athletic competition in its member schools. The bylaws governing residence and transfer shall allow the student to be immediately eligible in the school in which he or she first enrolls each school year or the school in which the student makes himself or herself a candidate for an athletic team by engaging in a practice prior to enrolling in the school. The bylaws shall also allow the student to be immediately eligible in the school to which the student has transferred ~~during the school year if the transfer is made by a deadline established by the FHSAA, which may not be prior to the date authorized for the beginning of practice for the sport. These transfers shall be allowed pursuant to the district school board policies in the case of transfer to a public school or pursuant to the private school policies in the case of transfer to a private school~~. The student shall be eligible in that school so long as he or she remains enrolled in that school. Subsequent eligibility shall be determined and enforced through the FHSAA's bylaws. Requirements governing eligibility and transfer between member schools shall be applied similarly to public school students and private school students.

(b) The FHSAA shall adopt bylaws that specifically prohibit the recruiting of students for athletic purposes. The bylaws shall prescribe penalties and an appeals process for athletic recruiting violations.

1. If it is determined that a school has recruited a student in violation of FHSAA bylaws, the FHSAA may require the school to participate in a higher classification for the sport in which the recruited student competes for a minimum of one classification cycle, in addition to the penalties in subparagraphs 2. and 3., and any other appropriate fine or ~~and~~ sanction imposed on the school, its coaches, or adult representatives who violate recruiting rules.

2. Any recruitment by a school district employee or contractor in violation of FHSAA bylaws results in escalating punishments as follows:

a. For a first offense, a $5,000 forfeiture of pay for the school district employee or contractor who committed the violation.

b. For a second offense, suspension without pay for 12 months from coaching, directing, or advertising an extracurricular activity and a $5,000 forfeiture of pay for the school district employee or contractor who committed the violation.

c. For a third offense, a $5,000 forfeiture of pay for the school district employee or contractor who committed the violation. If the individual who committed the violation holds an educator certificate, the FHSAA shall also refer the violation to the department for review pursuant to s. 1012.796 to determine whether probable cause exists, and, if there is a finding of probable cause, the commissioner shall file a formal complaint against the individual. If the complaint is upheld, the individual’s educator certificate shall be revoked for 3 years, in addition to any penalties available under s. 1012.796.

Additionally, the department shall revoke any adjunct teaching certificates issued pursuant to s. 1012.57 and all permissions under ss. 1012.39 and 1012.43, and the educator is ineligible for such certificates or permissions for a period of time equal to the period of revocation of his or her state-issued certificate.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a school shall forfeit every competition in which a student participated who was recruited by an adult who is not a school district employee or contractor in violation of FHSAA bylaws.

4. A student may not be declared ineligible based on violation of recruiting rules unless the student or parent has falsified any enrollment or eligibility document or accepted any benefit ~~or any promise of benefit~~ if such benefit is not generally available to the school's students or family members or is based in any way on athletic interest, potential, or performance.

(c) The FHSAA shall adopt bylaws that require all students participating in interscholastic athletic competition or who are candidates for an interscholastic athletic team to satisfactorily pass a medical evaluation each year prior to participating in interscholastic athletic competition or engaging in any practice, tryout, workout, or other physical activity associated with the student's candidacy for an interscholastic athletic team. Such medical evaluation may be administered only by a practitioner licensed under chapter 458, chapter 459, chapter 460, or s. 464.012, and in good standing with the practitioner's regulatory board. The bylaws shall establish requirements for eliciting a student's medical history and performing the medical evaluation required under this paragraph, which shall include a physical assessment of the student's physical capabilities to participate in interscholastic athletic competition as contained in a uniform preparticipation physical evaluation and history form. The evaluation form shall incorporate the recommendations of the American Heart Association for participation cardiovascular screening and shall provide a place for the signature of the practitioner performing the evaluation with an attestation that each examination procedure listed on the form was performed by the practitioner or by someone under the direct supervision of the practitioner. The form shall also contain a place for the practitioner to indicate if a referral to another practitioner was made in lieu of completion of a certain examination procedure. The form shall provide a place for the practitioner to whom the student was referred to complete the remaining sections and attest to that portion of the examination. The preparticipation physical evaluation form shall advise students to complete a cardiovascular assessment and shall include information concerning alternative cardiovascular evaluation and diagnostic tests. Results of such medical evaluation must be provided to the school. A student is not ~~No student shall be~~ eligible to participate, as provided in s. 1006.15(3), in any interscholastic athletic competition or engage in any practice, tryout, workout, or other physical activity associated with the student's candidacy for an interscholastic athletic team until the results of the medical evaluation have been received and approved by the school.

(g) The FHSAA shall adopt bylaws establishing the process and standards by which FHSAA determinations of eligibility are made. Such bylaws shall provide that:

1. Ineligibility must be established by a preponderance of the ~~clear and convincing~~ evidence;

2. Student athletes, parents, and schools must have notice of the initiation of any investigation or other inquiry into eligibility and may present, to the investigator and to the individual making the eligibility determination, any information or evidence that is credible, persuasive, and of a kind reasonably prudent persons rely upon in the conduct of serious affairs;

3. An investigator may not determine matters of eligibility but must submit information and evidence to the executive director or a person designated by the executive director or by the board of directors for an unbiased and objective determination of eligibility; and

4. A determination of ineligibility must be made in writing, setting forth the findings of fact and specific violation upon which the decision is based.

Section 13. Subsection (1) of section 1011.61, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

1011.61 Definitions.—Notwithstanding the provisions of s. 1000.21, the following terms are defined as follows for the purposes of the Florida Education Finance Program:

1. Instruction in a standard school, comprising not less than 900 net hours for a student in or at the grade level of 4 through 12, or not less than 720 net hours for a student in or at the grade level of kindergarten through grade 3 or in an authorized prekindergarten exceptional program; or

~~2. Instruction in a double-session school or a school utilizing an experimental school calendar approved by the Department of Education, comprising not less than the equivalent of 810 net hours in grades 4 through 12 or not less than 630 net hours in kindergarten through grade 3; or~~

2.~~3.~~ Instruction comprising the appropriate number of net hours set forth in subparagraph 1. ~~or subparagraph 2.~~ for students who, within the past year, have moved with their parents for the purpose of engaging in the farm labor or fish industries, if a plan furnishing such an extended school day or week, or a combination thereof, has been approved by the commissioner. Such plan may be approved to accommodate the needs of migrant students only or may serve all students in schools having a high percentage of migrant students. The plan described in this subparagraph is optional for any school district and is not mandated by the state.

(b) A "part-time student" is a student on the active membership roll of a school program or combination of school programs listed in s. 1011.62(1)(c) who is less than a full-time student. A student who receives instruction in a school that operates for less than the minimum term shall generate full-time equivalent student membership proportional to the amount of instructional hours provided by the school divided by the minimum term requirement as provided in s. 1011.60(2).

(c)1. A "full-time equivalent student" is:

a. A full-time student in any one of the programs listed in s. 1011.62(1)(c); or

b. A combination of full-time or part-time students in any one of the programs listed in s. 1011.62(1)(c) which is the equivalent of one full-time student based on the following calculations:

(I) A full-time student in a combination of programs listed in s. 1011.62(1)(c) shall be a fraction of a full-time equivalent membership in each special program equal to the number of net hours per school year for which he or she is a member, divided by the appropriate number of hours set forth in subparagraph (a)1. ~~or subparagraph (a)2~~. The difference between that fraction or sum of fractions and the maximum value as set forth in subsection (4) for each full-time student is presumed to be the balance of the student's time not spent in a special program and shall be recorded as time in the appropriate basic program.

(II) A prekindergarten student with a disability shall meet the requirements specified for kindergarten students.

(III) A full-time equivalent student for students in kindergarten through grade 12 in a full-time virtual instruction program under s. 1002.45 or a virtual charter school under s. 1002.33 shall consist of six full-credit completions or the prescribed level of content that counts toward promotion to the next grade in programs listed in s. 1011.62(1)(c). Credit completions may be a combination of full-credit courses or half-credit courses. ~~Beginning in the 2016-2017 fiscal year, the reported full-time equivalent students and associated funding of students enrolled in courses requiring passage of an end-of-course assessment under s. 1003.4282 to earn a standard high school diploma shall be adjusted if the student does not pass the end-of-course assessment. However, no adjustment shall be made for a student who enrolls in a segmented remedial course delivered online.~~

(IV) A full-time equivalent student for students in kindergarten through grade 12 in a part-time virtual instruction program under s. 1002.45 shall consist of six full-credit completions in programs listed in s. 1011.62(1)(c)1. and 3. Credit completions may be a combination of full-credit courses or half-credit courses. ~~Beginning in the 2016-2017 fiscal year, the reported full-time equivalent students and associated funding of students enrolled in courses requiring passage of an end-of-course assessment under s. 1003.4282 to earn a standard high school diploma shall be adjusted if the student does not pass the end-of-course assessment. However, no adjustment shall be made for a student who enrolls in a segmented remedial course delivered online.~~

(V) A Florida Virtual School full-time equivalent student shall consist of six full-credit completions or the prescribed level of content that counts toward promotion to the next grade in the programs listed in s. 1011.62(1)(c)1. and 3. for students participating in kindergarten through grade 12 part-time virtual instruction and the programs listed in s. 1011.62(1)(c) for students participating in kindergarten through grade 12 full-time virtual instruction. Credit completions may be a combination of full-credit courses or half-credit courses. ~~Beginning in the 2016-2017 fiscal year, the reported full-time equivalent students and associated funding of students enrolled in courses requiring passage of an end-of-course assessment under s. 1003.4282 to earn a standard high school diploma shall be adjusted if the student does not pass the end-of-course assessment. However, no adjustment shall be made for a student who enrolls in a segmented remedial course delivered online.~~

(VI) Each successfully completed full-credit course earned through an online course delivered by a district other than the one in which the student resides shall be calculated as 1/6 FTE.

(VII) A full-time equivalent student for courses requiring passage of a statewide, standardized end-of-course assessment under s. 1003.4282 to earn a standard high school diploma shall be defined and reported based on the number of instructional hours as provided in this subsection ~~until the 2016-2017 fiscal year~~. ~~Beginning in the 2016-2017 fiscal year, the FTE for the course shall be assessment-based and shall be equal to 1/6 FTE. The reported FTE shall be adjusted if the student does not pass the end-of-course assessment. However, no adjustment shall be made for a student who enrolls in a segmented remedial course delivered online.~~

(VIII) For students enrolled in a school district as a full-time student, the district may report 1/6 FTE for each student who passes a statewide, standardized end-of-course assessment without being enrolled in the corresponding course.

2. A student in membership in a program scheduled for more or less than 180 school days or the equivalent on an hourly basis as specified by rules of the State Board of Education is a fraction of a full-time equivalent membership equal to the number of instructional hours in membership divided by the appropriate number of hours set forth in subparagraph (a)1.; however, for the purposes of this subparagraph, membership in programs scheduled for more than 180 days is limited to students enrolled in:

a. Juvenile justice education programs.

b. The Florida Virtual School.

c. Virtual instruction programs and virtual charter schools for the purpose of course completion and credit recovery pursuant to ss. 1002.45 and 1003.498. Course completion applies only to a student who is reported during the second or third membership surveys and who does not complete a virtual education course by the end of the regular school year. The course must be completed no later than the deadline for amending the final student enrollment survey for that year. Credit recovery applies only to a student who has unsuccessfully completed a traditional or virtual education course during the regular school year and must re-take the course in order to be eligible to graduate with the student’s class.

The full-time equivalent student enrollment calculated under this subsection is subject to the requirements in subsection (4).

The department shall determine and implement an equitable method of equivalent funding for ~~experimental schools and for~~ schools operating under emergency conditions, which schools have been approved by the department to operate for less than the minimum term as provided in s. 1011.60(2) ~~school day~~.

Section 14. Effective July 1, 2016, and upon the expiration of the amendment to section 1011.62, Florida Statutes, made by chapter 2015-222, Laws of Florida, paragraphs (e) and (o) of subsection (1), paragraph (a) of subsection (4), and present subsection (13) of that section are amended, present subsections (13), (14), and (15) of that section are redesignated as subsections (14), (15), and (16), respectively, and a new subsection (13) is added to that section, to read:

1011.62 Funds for operation of schools.—If the annual allocation from the Florida Education Finance Program to each district for operation of schools is not determined in the annual appropriations act or the substantive bill implementing the annual appropriations act, it shall be determined as follows:

(1) COMPUTATION OF THE BASIC AMOUNT TO BE INCLUDED FOR OPERATION.—The following procedure shall be followed in determining the annual allocation to each district for operation:

(e) Funding model for exceptional student education programs.—

1.a. The funding model uses basic, at-risk, support levels IV and V for exceptional students and career Florida Education Finance Program cost factors, and a guaranteed allocation for exceptional student education programs. Exceptional education cost factors are determined by using a matrix of services to document the services that each exceptional student will receive. The nature and intensity of the services indicated on the matrix shall be consistent with the services described in each exceptional student's individual educational plan. The Department of Education shall review and revise the descriptions of the services and supports included in the matrix of services for exceptional students and shall implement those revisions before the beginning of the 2012-2013 school year.

b. In order to generate funds using one of the two weighted cost factors, a matrix of services must be completed at the time of the student's initial placement into an exceptional student education program and at least once every 3 years by personnel who have received approved training. Nothing listed in the matrix shall be construed as limiting the services a school district must provide in order to ensure that exceptional students are provided a free, appropriate public education.

c. Students identified as exceptional, in accordance with chapter 6A-6, Florida Administrative Code, who do not have a matrix of services as specified in sub-subparagraph b. shall generate funds on the basis of full-time-equivalent student membership in the Florida Education Finance Program at the same funding level per student as provided for basic students. Additional funds for these exceptional students will be provided through the guaranteed allocation designated in subparagraph 2.

2. For students identified as exceptional who do not have a matrix of services and students who are gifted in grades K through 8, there is created a guaranteed allocation to provide these students with a free appropriate public education, in accordance with s. 1001.42(4)(l) and rules of the State Board of Education, which shall be allocated initially ~~annually~~ to each school district in the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act. These funds shall be supplemental ~~in~~

~~addition~~ to the funds appropriated for the basic funding level ~~on the basis of FTE student membership in the Florida Education Finance Program~~, and the amount allocated for each school district shall ~~not~~ be recalculated once during the year, based on actual student membership from the October FTE survey. Upon recalculation, if the generated allocation is greater than the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act, the total shall be prorated to the level of the appropriation based on each district's share of the total recalculated amount. These funds shall be used to provide special education and related services for exceptional students and students who are gifted in grades K through 8. ~~Beginning with the 2007-2008 fiscal year,~~ A district's expenditure of funds from the guaranteed allocation for students in grades 9 through 12 who are gifted may not be greater than the amount expended during the 2006-2007 fiscal year for gifted students in grades 9 through 12.

(o) Calculation of additional full-time equivalent membership based on successful completion of a career-themed course pursuant to ss. 1003.491, 1003.492, and 1003.493, or courses with embedded CAPE industry certifications or CAPE Digital Tool certificates, and issuance of industry certification identified on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List pursuant to rules adopted by the State Board of Education or CAPE Digital Tool certificates pursuant to s. 1003.4203.—

b. A value of 0.1 or 0.2 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for each student who completes a course as defined in s. 1003.493(1)(b) or courses with embedded CAPE industry certifications and who is issued an industry certification identified annually on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List approved under rules adopted by the State Board of Education. A value of 0.2 full-time equivalent membership shall be calculated for each student who is issued a CAPE industry certification that has a statewide articulation agreement for college credit approved by the State Board of Education. For CAPE industry certifications that do not articulate for college credit, the Department of Education shall assign a full-time equivalent value of 0.1 for each certification. Middle grades students who earn additional FTE membership for a CAPE Digital Tool certificate pursuant to sub-subparagraph a. may not use the previously funded examination to satisfy the requirements for earning an industry certification under this sub-subparagraph. Additional FTE membership for an elementary or middle grades student may ~~shall~~ not exceed 0.1 for certificates or certifications earned within the same fiscal year. The State Board of Education shall include the assigned values on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List under rules adopted by the state board. Such value shall be added to the total full-time equivalent student membership for grades 6 through 12 in the subsequent year ~~for courses that were not provided through dual enrollment~~. CAPE industry certifications earned through dual enrollment must be reported and funded pursuant to s. 1011.80. However, if a student earns a certification through a dual enrollment course and the certification is not a fundable certification on the postsecondary certification funding list, or the dual enrollment certification is earned as a result of an agreement between a school district and a nonpublic postsecondary institution, the bonus value shall be funded in the same manner as other nondual enrollment course industry certifications. In such cases, the school district may provide for an agreement between the high school and the technical center, or the school district and the postsecondary institution may enter into an agreement for equitable distribution of the bonus funds.

c. A value of 0.3 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for student completion of the courses and the embedded certifications identified on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List and approved by the commissioner pursuant to ss. 1003.4203(5)(a) and 1008.44.

d. A value of 0.5 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for CAPE Acceleration Industry Certifications that articulate for 15 to 29 college credit hours, and 1.0 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for CAPE Acceleration Industry Certifications that articulate for 30 or more college credit hours pursuant to CAPE Acceleration Industry Certifications approved by the commissioner pursuant to ss. 1003.4203(5)(b) and 1008.44.

2. Each district must allocate at least 80 percent of the funds provided for CAPE industry certification, in accordance with this paragraph, to the program that generated the funds. This allocation may not be used to supplant funds provided for basic operation of the program.

3. For CAPE industry certifications earned in the 2013-2014

school year and in subsequent years, the school district shall distribute to each classroom teacher who provided direct instruction toward the attainment of a CAPE industry certification that qualified for additional full-time equivalent membership under subparagraph 1.:

a. A bonus ~~in the amount~~ of $25 for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.1.

b. A bonus ~~in the amount~~ of $50 for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.2~~, 0.3, 0.5, and 1.0~~.

c. A bonus of $75 for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.3.

d. A bonus of $100 for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.5 or 1.0.

Bonuses awarded pursuant to this paragraph shall be provided to teachers who are employed by the district in the year in which the additional FTE membership calculation is included in the calculation. Bonuses shall be calculated based upon the associated weight of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List for the year in which the certification is earned by the student. Any bonus awarded to a teacher under this paragraph ~~may not exceed $2,000 in any given school year and~~ is in addition to any regular wage or other bonus the teacher received or is scheduled to receive.

(4) COMPUTATION OF DISTRICT REQUIRED LOCAL EFFORT.—The Legislature shall prescribe the aggregate required local effort for all school districts collectively as an item in the General Appropriations Act for each fiscal year. The amount that each district shall provide annually toward the cost of the Florida Education Finance Program for kindergarten through grade 12 programs shall be calculated as follows:

(a) Estimated taxable value calculations.—

1.a. Not later than 2 working days before ~~prior to~~ July 19, the Department of Revenue shall certify to the Commissioner of Education its most recent estimate of the taxable value for school purposes in each school district and the total for all school districts in the state for the current calendar year based on the latest available data obtained from the local property appraisers. The value certified shall be the taxable value for school purposes for that year, and no further adjustments shall be made, except those made pursuant to paragraphs (c) and (d), or an assessment roll change required by final judicial decisions as specified in paragraph (15)(b) ~~(14)(b)~~. Not later than July 19, the Commissioner of Education shall compute a millage rate, rounded to the next highest one one-thousandth of a mill, which, when applied to 96 percent of the estimated state total taxable value for school purposes, would generate the prescribed aggregate required local effort for that year for all districts. The Commissioner of Education shall certify to each district school board the millage rate, computed as prescribed in this subparagraph, as the minimum millage rate necessary to provide the district required local effort for that year.

b. The General Appropriations Act shall direct the computation of the statewide adjusted aggregate amount for required local effort for all school districts collectively from ad valorem taxes to ensure that no school district's revenue from required local effort millage will produce more than 90 percent of the district's total Florida Education Finance Program calculation as calculated and adopted by the Legislature, and the adjustment of the required local effort millage rate of each district that produces more than 90 percent of its total Florida Education Finance Program entitlement to a level that will produce only 90 percent of its total Florida Education Finance Program entitlement in the July calculation.

2. On the same date as the certification in sub-subparagraph 1.a., the Department of Revenue shall certify to the Commissioner of Education for each district:

a. Each year for which the property appraiser has certified the taxable value pursuant to s. 193.122(2) or (3), if applicable, since the prior certification under sub-subparagraph 1.a.

b. For each year identified in sub-subparagraph a., the taxable value certified by the appraiser pursuant to s. 193.122(2) or (3), if applicable, since the prior certification under sub-subparagraph 1.a. This is the certification that reflects all final administrative actions of the value adjustment board.

(13) FEDERALLY CONNECTED STUDENT SUPPLEMENT.—The federally connected student supplement is created to provide supplemental funding for school districts to support the education of students connected with federally owned military installations, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) real property, and Indian lands. To be eligible for this supplement, the district must be eligible for federal Impact Aid Program funds under s. 8003 of Title VIII of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. The supplement shall be allocated annually to each eligible school district in the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act. The supplement shall be the sum of the student allocation and an exempt property allocation.

(a) The student allocation shall be calculated based on the number of students reported for federal Impact Aid Program funds, including students with disabilities, who meet one of the following criteria:

1. The student has a parent who is on active duty in the uniformed services or is an accredited foreign government official and military officer. Students with disabilities shall also be reported separately for this category.

2. The student resides on eligible federally owned Indian land. Students with disabilities shall also be reported separately for this category.

3. The student resides with a civilian parent who lives or works on eligible federal property connected with a military installation or NASA. The number of these students shall be multiplied by a factor of 0.5.

(b) The total number of federally connected students calculated under paragraph (a) shall be multiplied by a percentage of the base student allocation as provided in the General Appropriations Act. The total of the number of students with disabilities as reported separately under subparagraphs (a)1. and (a)2. shall be multiplied by an additional percentage of the base student allocation as provided in the General Appropriations Act. The base amount and the amount for students with disabilities shall be summed to provide the student allocation.

(c) The exempt property allocation shall be equal to the tax-exempt value of federal impact aid lands reserved as military installations, real property owned by NASA, or eligible federally owned Indian lands located in the district, as of January 1 of the previous year, multiplied by the millage authorized and levied under s. 1011.71(2).

unweighted FTE shall be computed. For those school districts which have less than the legislatively assigned percentage increase, funds shall be provided to guarantee the assigned percentage increase in funds per unweighted FTE student. Should appropriated funds be less than the sum of this calculated amount for all districts, the commissioner shall prorate each district's allocation. This provision shall be implemented to the extent specifically funded.

Section 15. Effective July 1, 2016, and upon the expiration of the amendment to section 1011.71, Florida Statutes, made by chapter 2015-222, Laws of Florida, subsection (1) of that section is amended to read:

1011.71 District school tax.—

(1) If the district school tax is not provided in the General Appropriations Act or the substantive bill implementing the General Appropriations Act, each district school board desiring to participate in the state allocation of funds for current operation as prescribed by s. 1011.62(15) ~~s. 1011.62(14)~~ shall levy on the taxable value for school purposes of the district, exclusive of millage voted under ~~the provisions of~~ s. 9(b) or s. 12, Art. VII of the State Constitution, a millage rate not to exceed the amount certified by the commissioner as the minimum millage rate necessary to provide the district required local effort for the current year, pursuant to s. 1011.62(4)(a)1. In addition to the required local effort millage levy, each district school board may levy a nonvoted current operating discretionary millage. The Legislature shall prescribe annually in the appropriations act the maximum amount of millage a district may levy.

Section 16. Subsection (2) of section 1012.42, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

1012.42 Teacher teaching out-of-field.—

(2) NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS.—When a teacher in a district school system is assigned teaching duties in a class dealing with subject matter that is outside the field in which the teacher is certified, outside the field that was the applicant's minor field of study, or outside the field in which the applicant has demonstrated sufficient subject area expertise, as determined by district school board policy in the subject area to be taught, the parents of all students in the class shall be notified in writing of such assignment, and each school district shall report out-of-field teachers on the district's website within 30 days before the beginning of each semester. A parent whose student is assigned an out-of-field teacher may request that his or her child be transferred to an in-field classroom teacher within the school and grade in which the student is currently enrolled. The school district must approve or deny the parent's request and transfer the student to a different classroom teacher within a reasonable period of time, not to exceed 2 weeks, if an in-field teacher for that course or grade level is employed by the school and the transfer does not violate maximum class size pursuant to s. 1003.03 and s. 1, Art. IX of the State Constitution. If a request for transfer is denied, the school must notify the parent and specify the reasons for the denial. An explanation of the transfer process must be made available in the student handbook or a similar publication. This subsection does not provide a parent the right to choose a specific teacher.

Section 17. Paragraph (b) of subsection (8) of section 1012.56, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

(8) PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT CERTIFICATION AND EDUCATION COMPETENCY PROGRAM.—

(b)1. Each school district must and a private school or state-supported ~~state supported~~ public school, including a charter school, ~~or a private school~~ may develop and maintain a system by which members of the instructional staff may demonstrate mastery of professional preparation and education competence as required by law. Each program must be based on classroom application of the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices and instructional performance and, for public schools, must be aligned with the district's or state-supported public school's evaluation system established ~~approved~~ under s. 1012.34, as applicable.

2. The Commissioner of Education shall determine the continued approval of programs implemented under this paragraph, based upon the department's review of performance data. (2) The department, in consultation with the Statewide Office for Suicide Prevention and suicide prevention experts, shall develop a list of approved youth suicide awareness and prevention training materials. The materials:

(a) Must include training on how to identify appropriate mental health services and how to refer youth and their families to those services.

(b) May include materials currently being used by a school district if such materials meet any criteria established by the department.

(c) May include programs that instructional personnel can complete through a self-review of approved youth suicide awareness and prevention materials.

(3) The training required by this section must be included in the existing continuing education or inservice training requirements for instructional personnel and may not add to the total hours currently required by the department.

(4) A person has no cause of action for any loss or damage caused by an act or omission resulting from the implementation of this section or resulting from any training required by this section unless the loss or damage was caused by willful or wanton misconduct. This section does not create any new duty of care or basis of liability.

(5) The State Board of Education may adopt rules to implement this section.

Section 19. Paragraph (o) is added to subsection (1) of section 1012.795, Florida Statutes, and subsection (5) of that section is amended, to read:

1012.795 Education Practices Commission; authority to discipline.—

(1) The Education Practices Commission may suspend the educator certificate of any person as defined in s. 1012.01(2) or (3) for up to 5 years, thereby denying that person the right to teach or otherwise be employed by a district school board or public school in any capacity requiring direct contact with students for that period of time, after which the holder may return to teaching as provided in subsection (4); may revoke the educator certificate of any person, thereby denying that person the right to teach or otherwise be employed by a district school board or public school in any capacity requiring direct contact with students for up to 10 years, with reinstatement subject to the provisions of subsection (4); may revoke permanently the educator certificate of any person thereby denying that person the right to teach or otherwise be employed by a district school board or public school in any capacity requiring direct contact with students; may suspend the educator certificate, upon an order of the court or notice by the Department of Revenue relating to the payment of child support; or may impose any other penalty provided by law, if the person:

The department general counsel or members of that staff shall review the investigation or the referral and advise the commissioner concerning probable cause or lack thereof. The determination of probable cause shall be made by the commissioner. The commissioner shall provide an opportunity for a conference, if requested, prior to determining probable cause. The commissioner may enter into deferred prosecution agreements in lieu of finding probable cause if, in his or her judgment, such agreements are in the best interests of the department, the certificateholder, and the public. Such deferred prosecution

However, a deferred prosecution agreement shall not be entered into if there is probable cause to believe that a felony or an act of moral turpitude, as defined by rule of the State Board of Education, has occurred, or for referrals by the FHSAA. Upon finding no probable cause, the commissioner shall dismiss the complaint.

(7) A panel of the commission shall enter a final order either dismissing the complaint or imposing one or more of the following penalties:

Section 17. Effective June 29, 2016, section 1004.935, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

1004.935 Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education ~~Pilot~~ Program.—

(1) The Adults with Disabilities Workforce Education ~~Pilot~~ Program is established in the Department of Education ~~through June 30, 2016,~~ in Hardee, DeSoto, Manatee, and Sarasota Counties to provide the option of receiving a scholarship for instruction at private schools for up to 30 students who:

(a) Have a disability;

(b) Are 22 years of age;

(c) Are receiving instruction from an instructor in a private school to meet the high school graduation requirements in s. 1002.3105(5) or s. 1003.4282;

(d) Do not have a standard high school diploma or a special high school diploma; and

(e) Receive "supported employment services," which means employment that is located or provided in an integrated work setting with earnings paid on a commensurate wage basis and for which continued support is needed for job maintenance.

As used in this section, the term "student with a disability" includes a student who is documented as having an intellectual disability; a speech impairment; a language impairment; a hearing impairment, including deafness; a visual impairment, including blindness; a dual sensory impairment; an orthopedic impairment; another health impairment; an emotional or behavioral disability; a specific learning disability, including, but not limited to, dyslexia, dyscalculia, or developmental aphasia; a traumatic brain injury; a developmental delay; or autism spectrum disorder.

(2) A student participating in the ~~pilot~~ program may continue to participate in the program until the student graduates from high school or reaches the age of 40 years, whichever occurs first.

(3) Supported employment services may be provided at more than one site.

(4) The provider of supported employment services must be a nonprofit corporation under s. 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code which serves Hardee County, DeSoto County, Manatee County, or Sarasota County and must contract with a private school in this state which meets the requirements in subsection (5).

(5) A private school that participates in the ~~pilot~~ program may be sectarian or nonsectarian and must:

(a) Be academically accountable for meeting the educational needs of the student by annually providing to the provider of supported employment services a written explanation of the student's progress.

(b) Comply with the antidiscrimination provisions of 42 U.S.C. s. 2000d.

(c) Meet state and local health and safety laws and codes.

(d) Provide to the provider of supported employment services all documentation required for a student's participation, including the private school's and student's fee schedules, at least 30 days before any quarterly scholarship payment is made for the student. A student is not eligible to receive a quarterly scholarship payment if the private school fails to meet this deadline.

The inability of a private school to meet the requirements of this subsection constitutes a basis for the ineligibility of the private school to participate in the ~~pilot~~ program.

(6)(a) If the student chooses to participate in the ~~pilot~~ program and is accepted by the provider of supported employment services, the student must notify the Department of Education of his or her acceptance into the program 60 days before the first scholarship payment and before participating in the ~~pilot~~ program in order to be eligible for the scholarship.

(b) Upon receipt of a scholarship warrant, the student or parent to whom the warrant is made must restrictively endorse the warrant to the provider of supported employment services for deposit into the account of the provider. The student or parent may not designate any entity or individual associated with the participating provider of supported employment services as the student's or parent's attorney in fact to endorse a scholarship warrant. A participant who fails to comply with this paragraph forfeits the scholarship.

(7) Funds for the scholarship shall be provided from the appropriation from the school district's Workforce Development Fund in the General Appropriations Act for students who reside in the Hardee County School District, the DeSoto County School District, the Manatee County School District, or the Sarasota County School District. ~~During the pilot program,~~ The scholarship amount granted for an eligible student with a disability shall be equal to the cost per unit of a full-time equivalent adult general education student, multiplied by the adult general education funding factor, and multiplied by the district cost differential pursuant to the formula required by s. 1011.80(6)(a) for the district in which the student resides.

(8) Upon notification by the Department of Education that it has received the required documentation, the Chief Financial Officer shall make scholarship payments in four equal amounts no later than September 1, November 1, February 1, and April 1 of each academic year in which the scholarship is in force. The initial payment shall be made after the Department of Education verifies that the student was accepted into the ~~pilot~~ program, and subsequent payments shall be made upon verification of continued participation in the ~~pilot~~ program. Payment must be by individual warrant made payable to the student or parent and mailed by the Department of Education to the provider of supported employment services, and the student or parent shall restrictively endorse the warrant to the provider of supported employment services for deposit into the account of that provider.

(9) Subsequent to each scholarship payment, the Department of Education shall request from the Department of Financial Services a sample of endorsed warrants to review and confirm compliance with endorsement requirements.

Section 18. Effective July 1, 2016, and upon the expiration of the amendment to section 1011.62, Florida Statutes, made by chapter 2015-222, Laws of Florida, paragraphs (e) and (o) of subsection (1), paragraph (a) of subsection (4), and present subsection (13) of that section are amended, present subsections (13), (14), and (15) of that section are redesignated as subsections (14), (15), and (16), respectively, and a new subsection (13) is added to that section, to read:

1011.62 Funds for operation of schools.—If the annual allocation from the Florida Education Finance Program to each district for operation of schools is not determined in the annual appropriations act or the substantive bill implementing the annual appropriations act, it shall be determined as follows:

(1) COMPUTATION OF THE BASIC AMOUNT TO BE INCLUDED FOR OPERATION.—The following procedure shall be followed in determining the annual allocation to each district for operation:

(e) Funding model for exceptional student education programs.—

1.a. The funding model uses basic, at-risk, support levels IV and V for exceptional students and career Florida Education Finance Program cost factors, and a guaranteed allocation for exceptional student education programs. Exceptional education cost factors are determined by using a matrix of services to document the services that each exceptional student will receive. The nature and intensity of the services indicated on the matrix shall be consistent with the services described in each exceptional student's individual educational plan. The Department of Education shall review and revise the descriptions of the services and supports included in the matrix of services for exceptional students and shall implement those revisions before the beginning of the 2012-2013 school year.

b. In order to generate funds using one of the two weighted cost factors, a matrix of services must be completed at the time of the student's initial placement into an exceptional student education program and at least once every 3 years by personnel who have received approved training. Nothing listed in the matrix shall be construed as limiting the services a school

c. Students identified as exceptional, in accordance with chapter 6A-6, Florida Administrative Code, who do not have a matrix of services as specified in sub-subparagraph b. shall generate funds on the basis of full-time-equivalent student membership in the Florida Education Finance Program at the same funding level per student as provided for basic students. Additional funds for these exceptional students will be provided through the guaranteed allocation designated in subparagraph 2.

2. For students identified as exceptional who do not have a matrix of services and students who are gifted in grades K through 8, there is created a guaranteed allocation to provide these students with a free appropriate public education, in accordance with s. 1001.42(4)(l) and rules of the State Board of Education, which shall be allocated initially ~~annually~~ to each school district in the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act. These funds shall be supplemental ~~in addition~~ to the funds appropriated for the basic funding level ~~on the basis of FTE student membership in the Florida Education Finance Program~~, and the amount allocated for each school district shall ~~not~~ be recalculated once during the year, based on actual student membership from the October FTE survey. Upon recalculation, if the generated allocation is greater than the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act, the total shall be prorated to the level of the appropriation based on each district's share of the total recalculated amount. These funds shall be used to provide special education and related services for exceptional students and students who are gifted in grades K through 8. ~~Beginning with the 2007-2008 fiscal year,~~ A district's expenditure of funds from the guaranteed allocation for students in grades 9 through 12 who are gifted may not be greater than the amount expended during the 2006-2007 fiscal year for gifted students in grades 9 through 12.

(o) Calculation of additional full-time equivalent membership based on successful completion of a career-themed course pursuant to ss. 1003.491, 1003.492, and 1003.493, or courses with embedded CAPE industry certifications or CAPE Digital Tool certificates, and issuance of industry certification identified on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List pursuant to rules adopted by the State Board of Education or CAPE Digital Tool certificates pursuant to s. 1003.4203.—

1.a. A value of 0.025 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for CAPE Digital Tool certificates earned by students in elementary and middle school grades.

b. A value of 0.1 or 0.2 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for each student who completes a course as defined in s. 1003.493(1)(b) or courses with embedded CAPE industry certifications and who is issued an industry certification identified annually on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List approved under rules adopted by the State Board of Education. A value of 0.2 full-time equivalent membership shall be calculated for each student who is issued a CAPE industry certification that has a statewide articulation agreement for college credit approved by the State Board of Education. For CAPE industry certifications that do not articulate for college credit, the Department of Education shall assign a full-time equivalent value of 0.1 for each certification. Middle grades students who earn additional FTE membership for a CAPE Digital Tool certificate pursuant to sub-subparagraph a. may not use the previously funded examination to satisfy the requirements for earning an industry certification under this sub-subparagraph. Additional FTE membership for an elementary or middle grades student may ~~shall~~ not exceed 0.1 for certificates or certifications earned within the same fiscal year. The State Board of Education shall include the assigned values on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List under rules adopted by the state board. Such value shall be added to the total full-time equivalent student membership for grades 6 through 12 in the subsequent year ~~for courses that were not provided through dual enrollment~~. CAPE industry certifications earned through dual enrollment must be reported and funded pursuant to s. 1011.80. However, if a student earns a certification through a dual enrollment course and the certification is not a fundable certification on the postsecondary certification funding list, or the dual enrollment certification is earned as a result of an agreement between a school district and a nonpublic postsecondary institution, the bonus value shall be funded in the same manner as other nondual enrollment course industry certifications. In such cases, the school district may provide for an agreement between the high school and the technical center, or the school district and the postsecondary institution may enter into an agreement for equitable distribution of the bonus funds.

c. A value of 0.3 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for student completion of the courses and the embedded certifications identified on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List and approved by the commissioner pursuant to ss. 1003.4203(5)(a) and 1008.44.

d. A value of 0.5 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for CAPE Acceleration Industry Certifications that articulate for 15 to 29 college credit hours, and 1.0 full-time equivalent student membership shall be calculated for CAPE Acceleration Industry Certifications that articulate for 30 or more college credit hours pursuant to CAPE Acceleration Industry Certifications approved by the commissioner pursuant to ss. 1003.4203(5)(b) and 1008.44.

2. Each district must allocate at least 80 percent of the funds provided for CAPE industry certification, in accordance with this paragraph, to the program that generated the funds. This allocation may not be used to supplant funds provided for basic operation of the program.

3. For CAPE industry certifications earned in the 2013-2014 school year and in subsequent years, the school district shall distribute to each classroom teacher who provided direct instruction toward the attainment of a CAPE industry certification that qualified for additional full-time equivalent membership under subparagraph 1.:

a. A bonus ~~in the amount~~ of $25 for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.1.

b. A bonus ~~in the amount~~ of $50 for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.2~~, 0.3, 0.5, and 1.0~~.

c. A bonus of $75 for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.3.

d. A bonus of $100 for each student taught by a teacher who provided instruction in a course that led to the attainment of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List with a weight of 0.5 or 1.0.

Bonuses awarded pursuant to this paragraph shall be provided to teachers who are employed by the district in the year in which the additional FTE membership calculation is included in the calculation. Bonuses shall be calculated based upon the associated weight of a CAPE industry certification on the CAPE Industry Certification Funding List for the year in which the certification is earned by the student. Any bonus awarded to a teacher under this paragraph ~~may not exceed $2,000 in any given school year and~~ is in addition to any regular wage or other bonus the teacher received or is scheduled to receive.

(a) Estimated taxable value calculations.—

1.a. Not later than 2 working days before ~~prior to~~ July 19, the Department of Revenue shall certify to the Commissioner of Education its most recent estimate of the taxable value for school purposes in each school district and the total for all school districts in the state for the current calendar year based on the latest available data obtained from the local property appraisers. The value certified shall be the taxable value for school purposes for that year, and no further adjustments shall be made, except those made pursuant to paragraphs (c) and (d), or an assessment roll change required by final judicial decisions as specified in paragraph (15)(b) ~~(14)(b)~~. Not later than July 19, the Commissioner of Education shall compute a millage rate, rounded to the next highest one one-thousandth of a mill, which, when applied to 96 percent of the estimated state total taxable value for school purposes, would generate the prescribed aggregate required local effort for that year for all districts. The Commissioner of Education shall certify to each district school board the millage rate, computed as prescribed in this subparagraph, as the minimum millage rate necessary to provide the district required local effort for that year.

b. The General Appropriations Act shall direct the computation of the statewide adjusted aggregate amount for required local effort for all school districts collectively from ad valorem taxes to ensure that no school district's revenue from required local effort millage will produce more than 90 percent of the district's total Florida Education Finance Program calculation as calculated and adopted by the Legislature, and the adjustment of the required local effort millage rate of each district that produces more than 90 percent of its total Florida Education Finance Program entitlement to a level that will produce only 90 percent of its total Florida Education Finance Program entitlement in the July calculation.

2. On the same date as the certification in sub-subparagraph 1.a., the Department of Revenue shall certify to the Commissioner of Education for each district:

a. Each year for which the property appraiser has certified the taxable value pursuant to s. 193.122(2) or (3), if applicable, since the prior certification under sub-subparagraph 1.a.

b. For each year identified in sub-subparagraph a., the taxable value certified by the appraiser pursuant to s. 193.122(2) or (3), if applicable, since the prior certification under sub-subparagraph 1.a. This is the certification that reflects all final administrative actions of the value adjustment board.

(13) FEDERALLY CONNECTED STUDENT SUPPLEMENT.—The federally connected student supplement is created to provide supplemental funding for school districts to support the education of students connected with federally owned military installations, National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) real property, and Indian lands. To be eligible for this supplement, the district must be eligible for federal Impact Aid Program funds under s. 8003 of Title VIII of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. The supplement shall be allocated annually to each eligible school district in the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act. The supplement shall be the sum of the student allocation and an exempt property allocation.

(a) The student allocation shall be calculated based on the number of students reported for federal Impact Aid Program funds, including students with disabilities, who meet one of the following criteria:

1. The student has a parent who is on active duty in the uniformed services or is an accredited foreign government official and military officer. Students with disabilities shall also be reported separately for this category.

2. The student resides on eligible federally owned Indian land. Students with disabilities shall also be reported separately for this category.

3. The student resides with a civilian parent who lives or works on eligible federal property connected with a military installation or NASA. The number of these students shall be multiplied by a factor of 0.5.

(b) The total number of federally connected students calculated under paragraph (a) shall be multiplied by a percentage of the base student allocation as provided in the General Appropriations Act. The total of the number of students with disabilities as reported separately under subparagraphs (a)1. and (a)2. shall be multiplied by an additional percentage of the base student allocation as provided in the General Appropriations Act. The base amount and the amount for students with disabilities shall be summed to provide the student allocation.

(c) The exempt property allocation shall be equal to the tax-exempt value of federal impact aid lands reserved as military installations, real property owned by NASA, or eligible federally owned Indian lands located in the district, as of January 1 of the previous year, multiplied by the millage authorized and levied under s. 1011.71(2).

(14)~~(13)~~ QUALITY ASSURANCE GUARANTEE.—The Legislature may annually in the General Appropriations Act determine a percentage increase in funds per K-12 unweighted FTE as a minimum guarantee to each school district. The guarantee shall be calculated from prior year base funding per unweighted FTE student which shall include the adjusted FTE dollars as provided in subsection (15) ~~(14)~~, quality guarantee funds, and actual nonvoted discretionary local effort from taxes. From the base funding per unweighted FTE, the increase shall be calculated for the current year. The current year funds from which the guarantee shall be determined shall include the adjusted FTE dollars as provided in subsection (15) ~~(14)~~ and potential nonvoted discretionary local effort from taxes. A comparison of current year funds per unweighted FTE to prior year funds per unweighted FTE shall be computed. For those school districts which have less than the legislatively assigned percentage increase, funds shall be provided to guarantee the assigned percentage increase in funds per unweighted FTE student. Should appropriated funds be less than the sum of this calculated amount for all districts, the commissioner shall prorate each district's allocation. This provision shall be implemented to the extent specifically funded.

Section 19. Effective July 1, 2016, and upon the expiration of the amendment to section 1011.71, Florida Statutes, made by chapter 2015-222, Laws of Florida, subsection (1) of that section is amended to read:

1011.71 District school tax.—

(1) If the district school tax is not provided in the General Appropriations Act or the substantive bill implementing the General Appropriations Act, each district school board desiring to participate in the state allocation of funds for current operation as prescribed by s. 1011.62(15) ~~s. 1011.62(14)~~ shall levy on the taxable value for school purposes of the district, exclusive of millage voted under ~~the provisions of~~ s. 9(b) or s. 12, Art. VII of the State Constitution, a millage rate not to exceed the amount certified by the commissioner as the minimum millage rate necessary to provide the district required local effort for the current year, pursuant to s. 1011.62(4)(a)1. In addition to the required local effort millage levy, each district school board may levy a nonvoted current operating discretionary millage. The Legislature shall prescribe annually in the appropriations act the maximum amount of millage a district may levy.

Section 20. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this act, this act shall take effect July 1, 2016.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

SB 1166 authorizes the Florida Department of Education to recalculate the Exceptional Student Education (ESE) Guaranteed Allocation for each school district based on the district's actual student full-time equivalent (FTE) as determined by the October FTE survey.

The bill has no impact on state funds. However, individual school districts may experience an increase or decrease in their ESE Guaranteed Allocation based on the results of the October FTE survey.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

In order to provide exceptional education and related services, an Exceptional Student Education (ESE) Guaranteed Allocation was established by the Legislature to provide funding through the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) in addition to the basic program funding.[1] This allocation is a lump sum that is derived from the number of full-time equivalent (FTE) students and the cost factors associated with the matrix of services (matrix) to document the services that each student with an exceptionality will receive.[2]

[2] Section 1011.62 (1)(e)1.a., F.S.

The Florida Department of Education (DOE) developed the Matrix of Services Handbook to provide districts, schools and teachers with information about the matrix required for selected students with exceptionalities.[3] The matrix is designed with five levels in each of the following five domain areas:[4]

- Curriculum and Learning Environment: This domain addresses services provided to the student in the areas of curriculum, instructional strategies and learning environment.
- Social or Emotional Behavior: This domain includes services provided to meet identified social and emotional needs of students with exceptionalities, such as positive behavioral supports, behavioral interventions, social skills development, socialization and counseling as a related service.
- Independent Functioning: This domain includes services that are necessary for the independent functioning of students with exceptionalities, such as instruction in organizational strategies, assistance for activities of daily living and self-care, physical therapy, occupational therapy, orientation and mobility training and supervision of students to ensure physical safety
- Health Care: This domain addresses services provided to students with exceptionalities who have health care needs. Included in this domain are services related to monitoring and assessment of health conditions, provision of related health care services and interagency collaboration.
- Communication: This domain includes services provided to support the communication needs of students with exceptionalities. Services included in this domain are personal assistance, instructional interventions, speech or language therapy and the use of alternative and augmentative communication systems.

A student is evaluated within each of these five domains to determine the appropriate level of service the student requires. Level 1 represents the lowest level of service and Level 5 represents the highest level of service.[5] The frequency and intensity of the service and the qualifications of personnel required to provide the service are critical factors that impact the determination of the appropriate level of service for the student.[6]

The ESE Guaranteed Allocation was established in 2000 in conjunction with the elimination of the mandatory requirement for the determination of a matrix of services for Levels 1 through 3 ESE students. ESE services for students whose level of service is Levels 1 through 3 are funded through the ESE Guaranteed Allocation.[7] These students generate student full-time equivalent (FTE) funding using the appropriate basic program cost factor for their grade level.[8] The ESE Guaranteed Allocation provides for the additional services needed for these exceptional students.

[8] The basic program cost factors are as follows:

- For grades K-3, the cost factor is 1.115
- For grades 4-8, the cost factor is 1.000
- For grades 9-12, the cost factor is 1.005

[9] For the 2015-2016 fiscal year, the average ESE Guaranteed Allocation funding per FTE is $2,007.[10] Students whose level of service is Level 4 or 5 do not receive funds from the ESE Guaranteed Allocation, but instead generate weighted funding using a higher program cost factor which provides for both their education program and their exceptional services.[11]

For the 2015-2016 fiscal year, $959,182,058 was appropriated within the FEFP for the ESE Guaranteed Allocation.[12] The allocation for each district is calculated once based on projected ESE and total FTE enrollment and is not recalculated during the school year.[13] Since the allocation is not recalculated, a school district that overestimates its ESE FTE keeps the additional funds. A school district that underestimates their ESE FTE does not receive additional funds to support its ESE student population.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill authorizes the Florida Department of Education (DOE) to recalculate the Exceptional Student Education (ESE) Guaranteed Allocation for each school district. The ESE Guaranteed Allocation will be calculated initially in the General Appropriations Act, and recalculated based on each school district's actual ESE and total full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment as determined by the October FTE survey. This recalculation will ensure school districts receive their appropriate share of the ESE Guaranteed Allocation based on actual enrollment rather than projected enrollment.

A bill to be entitled

An act relating to education funding; amending s. 1011.62, F.S.; revising the calculation for certain supplemental funds for exceptional student education programs; requiring the funds to be prorated under certain circumstances; providing an effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Paragraph (e) of subsection (1) of section 1011.62, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

1011.62 Funds for operation of schools.—If the annual allocation from the Florida Education Finance Program to each district for operation of schools is not determined in the annual appropriations act or the substantive bill implementing the annual appropriations act, it shall be determined as follows:

(1) COMPUTATION OF THE BASIC AMOUNT TO BE INCLUDED FOR OPERATION.—The following procedure shall be followed in determining the annual allocation to each district for operation:

(e) Funding model for exceptional student education programs.—

1.a. The funding model uses basic, at-risk, support levels IV and V for exceptional students and career Florida Education Finance Program cost factors, and a guaranteed allocation for exceptional student education programs. Exceptional education cost factors are determined by using a matrix of services to document the services that each exceptional student will receive. The nature and intensity of the services indicated on the matrix shall be consistent with the services described in each exceptional student's individual educational plan. The

Department of Education shall review and revise the descriptions of the services and supports included in the matrix of services for exceptional students and shall implement those revisions before the beginning of the 2012-2013 school year.

b. In order to generate funds using one of the two weighted cost factors, a matrix of services must be completed at the time of the student's initial placement into an exceptional student education program and at least once every 3 years by personnel who have received approved training. Nothing listed in the matrix shall be construed as limiting the services a school district must provide in order to ensure that exceptional students are provided a free, appropriate public education.

c. Students identified as exceptional, in accordance with chapter 6A-6, Florida Administrative Code, who do not have a matrix of services as specified in sub-subparagraph b. shall generate funds on the basis of full-time-equivalent student membership in the Florida Education Finance Program at the same funding level per student as provided for basic students. Additional funds for these exceptional students will be provided through the guaranteed allocation designated in subparagraph 2.

2. For students identified as exceptional who do not have a matrix of services and students who are gifted in grades K through 8, there is created a guaranteed allocation to provide these students with a free appropriate public education, in accordance with s. 1001.42(4)(l) and rules of the State Board of Education, which shall be allocated initially ~~annually~~ to each school district in the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act. These funds shall be supplemental ~~in addition~~ to the funds appropriated for the basic funding level

~~on the basis of FTE student membership in the Florida Education Finance Program~~, and the amount allocated for each school district shall ~~not~~ be recalculated once during the year, based on actual student membership from the October FTE survey. Upon recalculation, if the generated allocation is greater than the amount provided in the General Appropriations Act, the total shall be prorated to the level of the appropriation based on each district's share of the total recalculated amount. These funds shall be used to provide special education and related services for exceptional students and students who are gifted in grades K through 8. ~~Beginning with the 2007-2008 fiscal year,~~ A district's expenditure of funds from the guaranteed allocation for students in grades 9 through 12 who are gifted may not be greater than the amount expended during the 2006-2007 fiscal year for gifted students in grades 9 through 12.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/SB 1170 revises provisions in the Insurance Code and other Florida Statutes that conflict with the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA) and provides other changes. These changes include:

- Eliminates provisions relating to preexisting condition exclusions since the federal act requires guaranteed issue of coverage and prohibits preexisting condition exclusions;
- Removes the requirement that insurers provide an outline of coverage for individual or family accident and health insurance policies;
- Requires insurers to provide an outline of coverage for a large group policy or policy offering excepted benefits;
- Eliminates provisions relating to medical loss ratios since the federal act prescribes such standards and requires rebates if certain conditions are met;
- Eliminates the requirement for insurers to issue certificates of creditable coverage; and
- Provides technical and conforming changes.

The bill has no fiscal impact.

The effective date of the bill is July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA)

The federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act was signed into law on March 23, 2010.[1] The federal law made significant changes to the U.S. health care system such as providing requirements for health insurers to make coverage available to all individuals and employers, without exclusions for preexisting conditions and without basing premiums on any health-related factors. The PPACA imposes many insurance requirements, including required benefits, rating and underwriting standards, required review of rate increases, establishing and reporting of medical loss ratios and payment of rebates, covering adult dependents, internal and external appeals of adverse benefit determinations, and other requirements on individual and group coverage.[2] All health insurance coverage sold in the individual and group market must include the benefits in the essential health benefits benchmark with some exceptions. Excepted benefits are not subject to these requirements.[3]

Generally, health insurance is divided into two types of coverage: major medical coverage and excepted benefits. The PPACA regulates major medical, also known as comprehensive health insurance. Health insurance that provides benefits on a limited or ancillary basis have been referred to as excepted benefits. The Florida Insurance Code delineates the excepted benefits in s. 627.6561(5)(b), F.S. Excepted benefits include coverage such as limited scope dental, hospital indemnity, and specified disease coverage.

Guaranteed Availability and Renewability of Coverage

Individual major medical health maintenance organization (HMO) coverage is guaranteed issue and renewable. That is, the PPACA requires health insurers to accept every individual and every employer that applies for coverage, commonly referred to as offering coverage on a guaranteed-issue basis. The PPACA also requires health insurers to renew or continue in force the coverage with exceptions.[4] In Florida, this requirement is found in s. 627.6425(1), F.S., and applies to coverage defined in s. 627.6561(5)(a)2., F.S., which includes insurer policies and HMO contracts.

Grandfathered Health Plans

The PPACA exempts "grandfathered health plan coverage" from many of its insurance requirements (as specified in the summary of the key insurance provisions, below). For an insured plan, grandfathered health plan coverage is group or individual coverage in which an individual was enrolled on March 23, 2010, subject to conditions for maintaining grandfathered status as specified by law and rule.[5] Grandfathered health plan coverage is tied to the individual or employer who obtained the coverage, not to the policy or contract form itself. An insurer may have both policyholders with grandfathered coverage and policyholders with non-grandfathered coverage insured under the same policy form, depending on whether the coverage was effective before or after March 23, 2010. The conditions for maintaining grandfathered status are specified in the rule.

1 On March 23, 2010, President Obama signed into law Public Law No. 111-148, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), and on March 30, 2010, President Obama signed into law Public Law No. 111-152, the Health Care and Education Affordability Reconciliation Act of 2010, amending PPACA.

Medical Loss Ratio and Payment of Rebates

Effective for plan years beginning January 1, 2011, the PPACA requires health insurers to report to the federal Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) information concerning the percent of premium revenue spent on claims for clinical services and activities. This percentage is also known as the medical loss ratio, or MLR. Insurers must provide a rebate to consumers if the MLR is less than 85 percent in the large group market and 80 percent in the small group and individual markets.[6] Grandfathered health plans are not exempt from this requirement. Florida law requires as a condition of prior approval of rates by the Office of Insurance Regulation[7] (OIR) that the projected minimum loss ratio for small group and individual policies is 65 percent,[8] and rebates are not required if the MLR is not met. The calculation of Florida's MLR is not consistent with federal regulations.

Summary of Benefits and Coverage

The PPACA directs the HHS and the U.S. Department of the Treasury to develop standards for insurers and HMOs to use in compiling and providing a summary of benefits and coverage (SBC) that ''accurately describes the benefits and coverage under the applicable plan or coverage.'' On June 16, 2015, the HHS issued final rules relating to the summary of benefits and coverage disclosures that insurers and HMOs are required to provide for individual and group coverage. Section 627.6482, F.S., requires insurers to provide an outline of coverage for individuals and family accident and health policies.

Preexisting Conditions and Certificates of Coverage

The federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA)[9] was enacted to provide guaranteed availability of coverage for certain employees and individuals, and to increase portability through the limitation of preexisting condition exclusions. Generally, group plans were allowed to impose a preexisting condition exclusion for up to 18 months after the enrollment date. The exclusion period could be reduced by the aggregate periods of creditable coverage applicable to the individual as of the enrollment date. Creditable coverage included group health plan and other specified coverage. Creditable coverage did not include excepted benefits. In 1997,[10] Florida adopted many of the requirements of HIPAA, which, in part, is codified in s. 627.6561, F.S.

Insurers were required to issue certificates of creditable coverage to individuals switching from one health insurance plan to another that would allow the individual to mitigate or avoid preexisting condition exclusions. Effective December 31, 2014, certificates of creditable coverage are no longer required to be provided. After December 31, 2014, most health insurance plans will no longer contain preexisting condition exclusions because of the PPACA.[11]

Florida Kidcare Program

The Florida Kidcare Program[12] (Kidcare) was created in 1998 by the Florida Legislature in response to the federal enactment of the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) in 1997. The Florida Kidcare program was created to provide a defined set of health benefits to uninsured, low-income children through the establishment of a variety of affordable health benefits coverage options from which families may select coverage and through which families may contribute financially to the health care of their children.[13]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 408.909, F.S., to revise a cross-references to excepted benefits and limited benefits, which are amended in the bill.

Section 2 amends s. 409.817, F.S., relating to Kidcare, to eliminate an exception to the prohibition on preexisting condition exclusions, since PPACA prohibits such exclusions.

Sections 3 and 4 amends ss. 624.123 and 627.402, F.S., to revise cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 5 repeals subsection (3) of s. 627.411, F.S. The bill removes a ground for disapproval of a major medical health insurance policy for failure to meet a 65 percent medical loss ratio and removes the definition of incurred claims. The PPACA requires major medical health insurance to have an 80 percent loss ratio.

Sections 6 and 7 amend ss. 627.6011 and 627.602, F.S. to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 8 amends s. 627.642, F.S., to eliminate the requirement that insurers provide an outline of coverage for individual or family accident and health insurance policies. Instead, insurers are required to provide an outline of coverage for a large group policy or policy offering excepted benefits. The PPACA requires a summary of benefits be included in individual and small group major medical policies.

Section 9 amends s. 627.6425, F.S., to remove the guaranteed renewable requirements for individual HMO major medical policies. Currently, s. 627.6425(1), F.S., applies to health insurance coverage as defined in s. 627.6561(5)(a)2., F.S., which includes HMO contracts. Additionally, the only guaranteed renewable statute in the HMO chapter is s. 641.31074, F.S., but it only applies to group health insurance. The bill deletes the reference to s. 627.6561(5)(a)2., F.S., and refers to s. 624.603, F.S., which includes the definition of health insurance.

Section 10 amends s. 627.6487, F.S., to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 11 repeals s. 627.64871, F.S., which relates to creditable coverage and the issuance of certifications of coverage by insurers, since PPACA prohibits preexisting condition exclusions and such certificates are no longer needed.

Section 12 amends s. 627.6512, F.S., relating to the exemption of certain policies from regulations imposed on health insurance policies, to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 13 amends s. 627.6513, F.S., to delineate excepted benefits and provide that excepted benefits do not apply to group policies.

Section 14 amends s. 627.6561, F.S., to delete provisions relating to creditable coverage and to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 15 amends s. 627.6562, F.S., relating to dependent coverage, to provide a definition of creditable coverage, which delineates what type of coverage qualifies as "creditable coverage" and what coverage does not qualify as creditable. These provisions are currently delineated in s. 627.6561, F.S., which is being repealed by the bill.

Section 16 amends s. 727.65626, F.S., to update a cross-reference to sections amended by the bill.

Section 17 amends s. 627.6699, F.S., to revise a cross-reference to excepted benefits, which is amended by the bill. The section also provide a definition of "late enrollee" and eliminates provisions relating to creditable coverage.

Section 18 amends s. 627.6741, F.S., to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 19 amends s. 641.31, F.S. to delete a provision that exempts individual or large group HMO contracts from any law restricting or limiting deductibles, coinsurance, copayments, or annual or lifetime maximum payments. Federal law establishes deductibles and annual and lifetime limits and provides that copayments are not allowed for certain essential health benefits.

Section 20 amends s. 641.31071, F.S., to delete provisions relating to creditable coverage and to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 21 amends s. 641.31074, F.S., to revise provisions relating to the guaranteed renewability of health maintenance organization coverage to conform to changes made under the bill.

Section 22 amends s. 641.312, F.S., to update a cross-reference to a section amended by the bill.

Section 23 provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

Section 5 of PCS/SB 1170 deletes s. 627.411(3)(a)-(b), F.S. According to the OIR, only paragraph (3)(a) needs to be deleted. The elimination of paragraph (3)(b) removes the definition of incurred claims, which is needed by OIR to review a company's request for rating action (increase or decrease), and therefore paragraph (3)(b) needs to be retained.[14]

VII. Related Issues:

The effective date of the bill is July 1, 2016. According to the Office of Insurance Regulation, implementing the bill in the middle of a plan year may create policyholder confusion and market disruption. Making these provisions effective at the beginning of the calendar year could avoid these negative outcomes.[15] provide and pay out of its available funds for all or part of the premium for life, health, accident, hospitalization, legal expense, or annuity insurance, or all or any kinds of such insurance, for the officers and employees of the local governmental unit and for health, accident, hospitalization, and legal expense insurance for the dependents of such officers and employees upon a group insurance plan and, to that end, to enter into contracts with insurance companies or professional administrators to provide such insurance or with a corporation not for profit whose membership consists entirely of local governmental units authorized to enter into risk management consortiums under this subsection. Each local governmental unit may self-insure any plan for health, accident, and hospitalization coverage or enter into a risk management consortium to provide such coverage, subject to approval based on actuarial soundness by the Office of Insurance Regulation; and each shall contract with an insurance company or professional administrator qualified and approved by the office or with a corporation not for profit whose membership consists entirely of local governmental units authorized to enter into a risk management consortium under this subsection to administer such a plan.

~~(b) An insurer is not subject to any penalty or enforcement action with respect to the insurer's crediting, or not crediting, such coverage if the insurer has sought to comply in good faith with applicable provisions of this section.~~

~~(12) For purposes of subsection (9), any plan amendment made pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement relating to the plan which amends the plan solely to conform to any requirement of this section may not be treated as a termination of such collective bargaining agreement.~~

Section 18. Subsection (1) and paragraph (c) of subsection

627.6741 Issuance, cancellation, nonrenewal, and replacement.—

(1)(a) An insurer issuing Medicare supplement policies in this state shall offer the opportunity of enrolling in a Medicare supplement policy, without conditioning the issuance or effectiveness of the policy on, and without discriminating in the price of the policy based on, the medical or health status or receipt of health care by the individual:

1. To any individual who is 65 years of age or older, or under 65 years of age and eligible for Medicare by reason of disability or end-stage renal disease, and who resides in this state, upon the request of the individual during the 6-month period beginning with the first month in which the individual has attained 65 years of age and is enrolled in Medicare Part B, or is eligible for Medicare by reason of a disability or end-stage renal disease, and is enrolled in Medicare Part B; or

2. To any individual who is 65 years of age or older, or under 65 years of age and eligible for Medicare by reason of a disability or end-stage renal disease, who is enrolled in Medicare Part B, and who resides in this state, upon the request of the individual during the 2-month period following termination of coverage under a group health insurance policy.

(b) The 6-month period to enroll in a Medicare supplement policy for an individual who is under 65 years of age and is eligible for Medicare by reason of disability or end-stage renal disease and otherwise eligible under subparagraph (a)1. or subparagraph (a)2. and first enrolled in Medicare Part B before October 1, 2009, begins on October 1, 2009.

(c) A company that has offered Medicare supplement policies to individuals under 65 years of age who are eligible for Medicare by reason of disability or end-stage renal disease before October 1, 2009, may, for one time only, effect a rate schedule change that redefines the age bands of the premium classes without activating the period of discontinuance required by s. 627.410(6)(e)2.

(d) As a part of an insurer's rate filings, before and including the insurer's first rate filing for a block of policy forms in 2015, notwithstanding the provisions of s. 627.410(6)(e)3., an insurer shall consider the experience of the policies or certificates for the premium classes including individuals under 65 years of age and eligible for Medicare by reason of disability or end-stage renal disease separately from the balance of the block so as not to affect the other premium classes. For filings in such time period only, credibility of that experience shall be as follows: if a block of policy forms has 1,250 or more policies or certificates in force in the age band including ages under 65 years of age, full or 100-percent credibility shall be given to the experience; and if fewer than 250 policies or certificates are in force, no or zero-percent credibility shall be given. Linear interpolation shall be used for in-force amounts between the low and high values. Florida-only experience shall be used if it is 100-percent credible. If Florida-only experience is not 100-percent credible, a combination of Florida-only and nationwide experience shall be used. If Florida-only experience is zero-percent credible, nationwide experience shall be used. The insurer may file its initial rates and any rate adjustment based upon the experience of these policies or certificates or based upon expected claim experience using experience data of the same company, other companies in the same or other states, or using data publicly available from the Centers for Medicaid and Medicare Services if the insurer's combined Florida and nationwide experience is not 100-percent credible, separate from the balance of all other Medicare supplement policies.

A Medicare supplement policy issued to an individual under subparagraph (a)1. or subparagraph (a)2. may not exclude benefits based on a preexisting condition if the individual has a continuous period of creditable coverage, as defined in s. 627.6562(3) ~~627.6561(5)~~, of at least 6 months as of the date of application for coverage.

(2) For both individual and group Medicare supplement policies:

(c) If a Medicare supplement policy or certificate replaces another Medicare supplement policy or certificate or creditable coverage as defined in s. 627.6562(3) ~~627.6561(5)~~, the replacing insurer shall waive any time periods applicable to preexisting conditions, waiting periods, elimination periods, and probationary periods in the new Medicare supplement policy for similar benefits to the extent such time was spent under the original policy~~, subject to the requirements of s. 627.6561(6)-(11)~~.

Section 19. Subsection (2) and paragraph (a) of subsection (40) of section 641.31, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

641.31 Health maintenance contracts.—

(2) The rates charged by any health maintenance

organization to its subscribers shall not be excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory or follow a rating methodology that is inconsistent, indeterminate, or ambiguous or encourages misrepresentation or misunderstanding. ~~A law restricting or limiting deductibles, coinsurance, copayments, or annual or lifetime maximum payments shall not apply to any health maintenance organization contract that provides coverage as described in s. 641.31071(5)(a)2., offered or delivered to an individual or a group of 51 or more persons.~~ The commission, in accordance with generally accepted actuarial practice as applied to health maintenance organizations, may define by rule what constitutes excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory rates and may require whatever information it deems necessary to determine that a rate or proposed rate meets the requirements of this subsection.

(40)(a) Any group rate, rating schedule, or rating manual for a health maintenance organization policy, which provides creditable coverage as defined in s. 627.6562(3) ~~627.6561(5)~~, filed with the office shall provide for an appropriate rebate of premiums paid in the last policy year, contract year, or calendar year when the majority of members of a health plan are enrolled in and have maintained participation in any health wellness, maintenance, or improvement program offered by the group contract holder. The group must provide evidence of demonstrative maintenance or improvement of his or her health status as determined by assessments of agreed-upon health status indicators between the group and the health insurer, including, but not limited to, reduction in weight, body mass index, and smoking cessation. Any rebate provided by the health maintenance organization is presumed to be appropriate unless credible data demonstrates otherwise, or unless the rebate program requires the insured to incur costs to qualify for the rebate which equals or exceeds the value of the rebate but the rebate may not exceed 10 percent of paid premiums.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1170 revises provisions in the Insurance Code and other Florida Statutes that conflict with the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA) and provides other changes. These changes include:

- Eliminates provisions relating to preexisting condition exclusions since the federal act requires guaranteed issue of coverage and prohibits preexisting condition exclusions;
- Removes the requirement that insurers provide an outline of coverage for individual or family accident and health insurance policies;
- Requires insurers to provide an outline of coverage for a large group policy or policy offering excepted benefits;
- Eliminates provisions relating to medical loss ratios since the federal act prescribes such standards and requires rebates if certain conditions are met;
- Eliminates the requirement for insurers to issue certificates of creditable coverage; and
- Provides technical and conforming changes.

The bill has no fiscal impact.

The effective date of the bill is July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA)

The federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act was signed into law on March 23, 2010.[1] The federal law made significant changes to the U.S. health care system such as providing requirements for health insurers to make coverage available to all individuals and employers, without exclusions for preexisting conditions and without basing premiums on any health-related factors. The PPACA imposes many insurance requirements, including required benefits, rating and underwriting standards, required review of rate increases, establishing and reporting of medical loss ratios and payment of rebates, covering adult dependents, internal and external appeals of adverse benefit determinations, and other requirements on individual and group coverage.[2] All health insurance coverage sold in the individual and group market must include the benefits in the essential health benefits benchmark with some exceptions. Excepted benefits are not subject to these requirements.[3]

Generally, health insurance is divided into two types of coverage: major medical coverage and excepted benefits. The PPACA regulates major medical, also known as comprehensive health insurance. Health insurance that provides benefits on a limited or ancillary basis have been referred to as excepted benefits. The Florida Insurance Code delineates the excepted benefits in s. 627.6561(5)(b), F.S. Excepted benefits include coverage such as limited scope dental, hospital indemnity, and specified disease coverage.

Guaranteed Availability and Renewability of Coverage

Individual major medical health maintenance organization (HMO) coverage is guaranteed issue and renewable. That is, the PPACA requires health insurers to accept every individual and every employer that applies for coverage, commonly referred to as offering coverage on a guaranteed-issue basis. The PPACA also requires health insurers to renew or continue in force the coverage with exceptions.[4] In Florida, this requirement is found in s. 627.6425(1), F.S., and applies to coverage defined in s. 627.6561(5)(a)2., F.S., which includes insurer policies and HMO contracts.

Grandfathered Health Plans

The PPACA exempts "grandfathered health plan coverage" from many of its insurance requirements (as specified in the summary of the key insurance provisions, below). For an insured plan, grandfathered health plan coverage is group or individual coverage in which an individual was enrolled on March 23, 2010, subject to conditions for maintaining grandfathered status as specified by law and rule.[5] Grandfathered health plan coverage is tied to the individual or employer who obtained the coverage, not to the policy or contract form itself. An insurer may have both policyholders with grandfathered coverage and policyholders with non-grandfathered coverage insured under the same policy form, depending on whether the coverage was effective before or after March 23, 2010. The conditions for maintaining grandfathered status are specified in the rule.

Medical Loss Ratio and Payment of Rebates

Effective for plan years beginning January 1, 2011, the PPACA requires health insurers to report to the federal Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) information concerning the percent of premium revenue spent on claims for clinical services and activities. This percentage is also known as the medical loss ratio, or MLR. Insurers must provide a rebate to consumers if the MLR is less than 85 percent in the large group market and 80 percent in the small group and individual markets.[6] Grandfathered health plans are not exempt from this requirement. Florida law requires as a condition of prior approval of rates by the Office of Insurance Regulation[7] (OIR) that the projected minimum loss ratio for small group and individual policies is 65 percent,[8] and rebates are not required if the MLR is not met. The calculation of Florida's MLR is not consistent with federal regulations.

Summary of Benefits and Coverage

The PPACA directs the HHS and the U.S. Department of the Treasury to develop standards for insurers and HMOs to use in compiling and providing a summary of benefits and coverage (SBC) that ''accurately describes the benefits and coverage under the applicable plan or coverage.'' On June 16, 2015, the HHS issued final rules relating to the summary of benefits and coverage disclosures that insurers and HMOs are required to provide for individual and group coverage. Section 627.6482, F.S., requires insurers to provide an outline of coverage for individuals and family accident and health policies.

Preexisting Conditions and Certificates of Coverage

The federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA)[9] was enacted to provide guaranteed availability of coverage for certain employees and individuals, and to increase portability through the limitation of preexisting condition exclusions. Generally, group plans were allowed to impose a preexisting condition exclusion for up to 18 months after the enrollment date. The exclusion period could be reduced by the aggregate periods of creditable coverage applicable to the individual as of the enrollment date. Creditable coverage included group health plan and other specified coverage. Creditable coverage did not include excepted benefits. In 1997,[10] Florida adopted many of the requirements of HIPAA, which, in part, is codified in s. 627.6561, F.S.

Insurers were required to issue certificates of creditable coverage to individuals switching from one health insurance plan to another that would allow the individual to mitigate or avoid preexisting condition exclusions. Effective December 31, 2014, certificates of creditable coverage are no longer required to be provided. After December 31, 2014, most health insurance plans will no longer contain preexisting condition exclusions because of the PPACA.[11]

Florida Kidcare Program

The Florida Kidcare Program[12] (Kidcare) was created in 1998 by the Florida Legislature in response to the federal enactment of the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) in 1997. The Florida Kidcare program was created to provide a defined set of health benefits to uninsured, low-income children through the establishment of a variety of affordable health benefits coverage options from which families may select coverage and through which families may contribute financially to the health care of their children.[13]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 408.909, F.S., to revise a cross-references to excepted benefits and limited benefits, which are amended in the bill.

Section 2 amends s. 409.817, F.S., relating to Kidcare, to eliminate an exception to the prohibition on preexisting condition exclusions, since PPACA prohibits such exclusions.

Sections 3 and 4 amends ss. 624.123 and 627.402, F.S., to revise cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 5 repeals subsection (3) of s. 627.411, F.S. The bill removes a ground for disapproval of a major medical health insurance policy for failure to meet a 65 percent medical loss ratio and removes the definition of incurred claims. The PPACA requires major medical health insurance to have an 80 percent loss ratio.

Sections 6 and 7 amend ss. 627.6011 and 627.602, F.S. to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 8 amends s. 627.642, F.S., to eliminate the requirement that insurers provide an outline of coverage for individual or family accident and health insurance policies. Instead, insurers are required to provide an outline of coverage for a large group policy or policy offering excepted benefits. The PPACA requires a summary of benefits be included in individual and small group major medical policies.

Section 9 amends s. 627.6425, F.S., to remove the guaranteed renewable requirements for individual HMO major medical policies. Currently, s. 627.6425(1), F.S., applies to health insurance coverage as defined in s. 627.6561(5)(a)2., F.S., which includes HMO contracts. Additionally, the only guaranteed renewable statute in the HMO chapter is s. 641.31074, F.S., but it only applies to group health insurance. The bill deletes the reference to s. 627.6561(5)(a)2., F.S., and refers to s. 624.603, F.S., which includes the definition of health insurance.

Section 10 amends s. 627.6487, F.S., to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 11 repeals s. 627.64871, F.S., which relates to creditable coverage and the issuance of certifications of coverage by insurers, since PPACA prohibits preexisting condition exclusions and such certificates are no longer needed.

Section 12 amends s. 627.6512, F.S., relating to the exemption of certain policies from regulations imposed on health insurance policies, to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill.

Section 13 amends s. 627.6513, F.S., to delineate excepted benefits and provide that excepted benefits do not apply to group policies.

Sections 14 and 21 repeal ss. 627.6561 and 641.31071, F.S., relating to preexisting conditions and creditable coverage.

Section 15 amends s. 627.6562, F.S., relating to dependent coverage, to provide a definition of creditable coverage, which delineates what type of coverage qualifies as "creditable coverage" and what coverage does not qualify as creditable. These provisions are currently delineated in s. 627.6561, F.S., which is being repealed by the bill.

Section 16 amends s. 727.65626, F.S., to update a cross-reference to sections amended by the bill.

Section 17 amends s. 627.6699, F.S., to revise a cross-reference to excepted benefits, which is amended by the bill. The section also provide a definition of "late enrollee," as provided in s. 627.6561(1)(b), F.S. The section eliminates provisions relating to preexisting condition exclusions.

Sections 18 and 19 amend ss. 627.6741 and 641.185, F.S., respectively, to update cross-references to sections amended by the bill and to eliminate a provision relating to preexisting conditions.

Section 20 amends s. 641.31, F.S. to delete a provision that exempts individual or large group HMO contracts from any law restricting or limiting deductibles, coinsurance, copayments, or annual or lifetime maximum payments. Federal law establishes deductibles and annual and lifetime limits and provides that copayments are not allowed for certain essential health benefits.

Sections 22 amends s. 641.3111, F.S., to delete the provision that, except as otherwise provided, an HMO subscriber is not entitled to an extension of benefits if the HMO terminates coverage based upon:

- Fraud or intentional misrepresentation in applying for benefits;
- Disenrollment for cause; or

- The subscriber has left the HMO's geographic area with the intent to relocate or establish a new residence outside the organization's geographic area.

Section 23 amends s. 641.312, F.S., to update a cross-reference to a section amended by the bill.

Section 24 provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

None.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

Section 5 of the bill deletes s. 627.411(3)(a)-(b), F.S. According to the OIR, only paragraph (3)(a) needs to be deleted. The elimination of paragraph (3)(b) removes the definition of incurred claims, which is needed by OIR to review a company's request for rating action (increase or decrease), and therefore paragraph (3)(b) needs to be retained.[14]

VII. Related Issues:

The effective date of CS/SB 1170 is July 1, 2016. According to the Office of Insurance Regulation, implementing the bill in the middle of a plan year may create policyholder confusion and market disruption. Making these provisions effective at the beginning of the calendar year could avoid these negative outcomes.[15]

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 408.909, 409.817, 624.123, 627.402, 627.411, 627.6011, 627.602, 627.642, 627.6425, 627.6487, 627.6512, 627.6513, 627.6562, 627.65626, 627.6699, 627.6741, 641.185, 641.31, 641.3111, and 641.312.

This bill repeals the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 627.64871, 627.6561, and 641.31071.

Section 16. Subsection (1) of section 627.65626, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

627.65626 Insurance rebates for healthy lifestyles.—

(1) Any rate, rating schedule, or rating manual for a health insurance policy that provides creditable coverage as defined in s. 627.6562(3) ~~s. 627.6561(5)~~ filed with the office shall provide for an appropriate rebate of premiums paid in the last policy year, contract year, or calendar year when the majority of members of a health plan have enrolled and maintained participation in any health wellness, maintenance, or improvement program offered by the group policyholder and health plan. The rebate may be based upon premiums paid in the last calendar year or policy year. The group must provide evidence of demonstrative maintenance or improvement of the enrollees' health status as determined by assessments of agreed-upon health status indicators between the policyholder and the health insurer, including, but not limited to, reduction in weight, body mass index, and smoking cessation. The group or health insurer may contract with a third-party administrator to assemble and report the health status required in this subsection between the policyholder and the health insurer. Any rebate provided by the health insurer is presumed to be appropriate unless credible data demonstrates otherwise, or unless the rebate program requires the insured to incur costs to qualify for the rebate which equal or exceed the value of the rebate, but the rebate may not exceed 10 percent of paid premiums.

Section 17. Paragraphs (e), (l), and (n) of subsection (3), paragraphs (c) and (d) of subsection (5), and paragraph (b) of subsection (6) of section 627.6699, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

627.6699 Employee Health Care Access Act.—

(3) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(e) "Creditable coverage" has the same meaning ascribed in s. 627.6562(3) ~~s. 627.6561~~.

(l) "Late enrollee" means an eligible employee or dependent who, with respect to coverage under a group health policy, is a participant or beneficiary who enrolls under the policy other than during:

1. The first period in which the individual is eligible to enroll under the policy.

2. A special enrollment period, as provided under s.

627.65615 ~~as defined under s. 627.6561(1)(b)~~.

(n) "Modified community rating" means a method used to develop carrier premiums which spreads financial risk across a large population; allows the use of separate rating factors for age, gender, family composition, tobacco usage, and geographic area as determined under paragraph (5)(e) ~~(5)(f)~~; and allows adjustments for~~:~~ claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage as permitted under subparagraph (6)(b)5.; and administrative and acquisition expenses as permitted under subparagraph (6)(b)5.

(5) AVAILABILITY OF COVERAGE.—

~~(c) Except as provided in paragraph (d), a health benefit plan covering small employers must comply with preexisting condition provisions specified in s. 627.6561 or, for health maintenance contracts, in s. 641.31071.~~

(c)~~(d)~~ A health benefit plan covering small employers, issued or renewed on or after January 1, 1994, must comply with the following conditions:

1. All health benefit plans must be offered and issued on a guaranteed-issue basis. Additional or increased benefits may only be offered by riders.

~~2. Paragraph (c) applies to health benefit plans issued to a small employer who has two or more eligible employees and to health benefit plans that are issued to a small employer who has fewer than two eligible employees and that cover an employee who has had creditable coverage continually to a date not more than 63 days before the effective date of the new coverage.~~

2.~~3.~~ For health benefit plans that are issued to a small employer who has fewer than two employees and that cover an employee who has not been continually covered by creditable coverage within 63 days before the effective date of the new coverage, preexisting condition provisions must not exclude coverage for a period beyond 24 months following the employee's effective date of coverage and may relate only to:

a. Conditions that, during the 24-month period immediately preceding the effective date of coverage, had manifested themselves in such a manner as would cause an ordinarily prudent person to seek medical advice, diagnosis, care, or treatment or for which medical advice, diagnosis, care, or treatment was recommended or received; or

b. A pregnancy existing on the effective date of coverage.

(6) RESTRICTIONS RELATING TO PREMIUM RATES.—

(b) For all small employer health benefit plans that are subject to this section and issued by small employer carriers on or after January 1, 1994, premium rates for health benefit plans are subject to the following:

1. Small employer carriers must use a modified community rating methodology in which the premium for each small employer is determined solely on the basis of the eligible employee's and eligible dependent's gender, age, family composition, tobacco use, or geographic area as determined under paragraph (5)(e) ~~(5)(f)~~ and in which the premium may be adjusted as permitted by this paragraph. A small employer carrier is not required to use gender as a rating factor for a nongrandfathered health plan.

2. Rating factors related to age, gender, family composition, tobacco use, or geographic location may be developed by each carrier to reflect the carrier's experience. The factors used by carriers are subject to office review and approval.

3. Small employer carriers may not modify the rate for a small employer for 12 months from the initial issue date or renewal date, unless the composition of the group changes or benefits are changed. However, a small employer carrier may modify the rate one time within the 12 months after the initial issue date for a small employer who enrolls under a previously issued group policy that has a common anniversary date for all employers covered under the policy if:

a. The carrier discloses to the employer in a clear and conspicuous manner the date of the first renewal and the fact that the premium may increase on or after that date.

b. The insurer demonstrates to the office that efficiencies in administration are achieved and reflected in the rates charged to small employers covered under the policy.

4. A carrier may issue a group health insurance policy to a small employer health alliance or other group association with rates that reflect a premium credit for expense savings attributable to administrative activities being performed by the alliance or group association if such expense savings are specifically documented in the insurer's rate filing and are approved by the office. Any such credit may not be based on different morbidity assumptions or on any other factor related to the health status or claims experience of any person covered under the policy. This subparagraph does not exempt an alliance or group association from licensure for activities that require licensure under the insurance code. A carrier issuing a group health insurance policy to a small employer health alliance or other group association shall allow any properly licensed and appointed agent of that carrier to market and sell the small employer health alliance or other group association policy. Such agent shall be paid the usual and customary commission paid to any agent selling the policy.

5. Any adjustments in rates for claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage may not be charged to individual employees or dependents. For a small employer's policy, such adjustments may not result in a rate for the small employer which deviates more than 15 percent from the carrier's approved rate. Any such adjustment must be applied uniformly to the rates charged for all employees and dependents of the small employer. A small employer carrier may make an adjustment to a small employer's renewal premium, up to 10 percent annually, due to the claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage of the employees or dependents of the small employer. If the aggregate resulting from the application of such adjustment exceeds the premium that would have been charged by application of the approved modified community rate by 4 percent for the current policy term, the carrier shall limit the application of such adjustments only to minus adjustments. For any subsequent policy term, if the total aggregate adjusted premium actually charged does not exceed the premium that would have been charged by application of the approved modified community rate by 4 percent, the carrier may apply both plus and minus adjustments. A small employer carrier may provide a credit to a small employer's premium based on administrative and acquisition expense differences resulting from the size of the group. Group size administrative and acquisition expense factors may be developed by each carrier to reflect the carrier's experience and are subject to office review and approval.

6. A small employer carrier rating methodology may include separate rating categories for one dependent child, for two dependent children, and for three or more dependent children for family coverage of employees having a spouse and dependent children or employees having dependent children only. A small employer carrier may have fewer, but not greater, numbers of categories for dependent children than those specified in this subparagraph.

7. Small employer carriers may not use a composite rating methodology to rate a small employer with fewer than 10 employees. For the purposes of this subparagraph, the term "composite rating methodology" means a rating methodology that averages the impact of the rating factors for age and gender in the premiums charged to all of the employees of a small employer.

8. A carrier may separate the experience of small employer groups with fewer than 2 eligible employees from the experience of small employer groups with 2-50 eligible employees for purposes of determining an alternative modified community rating.

a. If a carrier separates the experience of small employer groups, the rate to be charged to small employer groups of fewer than 2 eligible employees may not exceed 150 percent of the rate determined for small employer groups of 2-50 eligible employees. However, the carrier may charge excess losses of the experience pool consisting of small employer groups with less than 2 eligible employees to the experience pool consisting of small employer groups with 2-50 eligible employees so that all losses are allocated and the 150-percent rate limit on the experience pool consisting of small employer groups with less than 2 eligible employees is maintained.

b. Notwithstanding s. 627.411(1), the rate to be charged to a small employer group of fewer than 2 eligible employees, insured as of July 1, 2002, may be up to 125 percent of the rate determined for small employer groups of 2-50 eligible employees for the first annual renewal and 150 percent for subsequent annual renewals.

9. A carrier shall separate the experience of grandfathered health plans from nongrandfathered health plans for determining rates.

Section 18. Subsection (1) and paragraph (c) of subsection (2) of section 627.6741, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

627.6741 Issuance, cancellation, nonrenewal, and replacement.—

(1)(a) An insurer issuing Medicare supplement policies in this state shall offer the opportunity of enrolling in a Medicare supplement policy, without conditioning the issuance or effectiveness of the policy on, and without discriminating in the price of the policy based on, the medical or health status or receipt of health care by the individual:

1. To any individual who is 65 years of age or older, or under 65 years of age and eligible for Medicare by reason of disability or end-stage renal disease, and who resides in this state, upon the request of the individual during the 6-month period beginning with the first month in which the individual has attained 65 years of age and is enrolled in Medicare Part B, or is eligible for Medicare by reason of a disability or end-stage renal disease, and is enrolled in Medicare Part B; or

2. To any individual who is 65 years of age or older, or under 65 years of age and eligible for Medicare by reason of a disability or end-stage renal disease, who is enrolled in Medicare Part B, and who resides in this state, upon the request of the individual during the 2-month period following termination of coverage under a group health insurance policy.

(b) The 6-month period to enroll in a Medicare supplement policy for an individual who is under 65 years of age and is eligible for Medicare by reason of disability or end-stage renal disease and otherwise eligible under subparagraph (a)1. or subparagraph (a)2. and first enrolled in Medicare Part B before October 1, 2009, begins on October 1, 2009.

(c) A company that has offered Medicare supplement policies to individuals under 65 years of age who are eligible for Medicare by reason of disability or end-stage renal disease before October 1, 2009, may, for one time only, effect a rate schedule change that redefines the age bands of the premium classes without activating the period of discontinuance required by s. 627.410(6)(e)2.

(d) As a part of an insurer's rate filings, before and including the insurer's first rate filing for a block of policy forms in 2015, notwithstanding the provisions of s. 627.410(6)(e)3., an insurer shall consider the experience of the policies or certificates for the premium classes including individuals under 65 years of age and eligible for Medicare by reason of disability or end-stage renal disease separately from the balance of the block so as not to affect the other premium classes. For filings in such time period only, credibility of that experience shall be as follows: if a block of policy forms has 1,250 or more policies or certificates in force in the age band including ages under 65 years of age, full or 100-percent credibility shall be given to the experience; and if fewer than 250 policies or certificates are in force, no or zero-percent credibility shall be given. Linear interpolation shall be used for in-force amounts between the low and high values. Florida-only experience shall be used if it is 100-percent credible. If Florida-only experience is not 100-percent credible, a combination of Florida-only and nationwide experience shall be used. If Florida-only experience is zero-percent credible, nationwide experience shall be used. The insurer may file its initial rates and any rate adjustment based upon the experience of these policies or certificates or based upon expected claim experience using experience data of the same company, other companies in the same or other states, or using data publicly available from the Centers for Medicaid and Medicare Services if the insurer's combined Florida and nationwide experience is not 100-percent credible, separate from the balance of all other Medicare supplement policies.

A Medicare supplement policy issued to an individual under subparagraph (a)1. or subparagraph (a)2. may not exclude benefits based on a preexisting condition if the individual has a continuous period of creditable coverage, as defined in s. 627.6562(3) ~~s. 627.6561(5)~~, of at least 6 months as of the date of application for coverage.

(2) For both individual and group Medicare supplement policies:

(c) If a Medicare supplement policy or certificate replaces another Medicare supplement policy or certificate or creditable coverage as defined in s. 627.6562(3) ~~s. 627.6561(5)~~, the replacing insurer shall waive any time periods applicable to preexisting conditions, waiting periods, elimination periods, and probationary periods in the new Medicare supplement policy for similar benefits to the extent such time was spent under the original policy~~, subject to the requirements of s. 627.6561(6)-(11)~~.

Section 19. Paragraphs (f) and (h) of subsection (1) of section 641.185, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

641.185 Health maintenance organization subscriber protections.—

(1) With respect to the provisions of this part and part III, the principles expressed in the following statements shall serve as standards to be followed by the commission, the office, the department, and the Agency for Health Care Administration in exercising their powers and duties, in exercising administrative discretion, in administrative interpretations of the law, in enforcing its provisions, and in adopting rules:

(f) A health maintenance organization subscriber should receive the flexibility to transfer to another Florida health maintenance organization, regardless of health status, pursuant to ss. 641.228, 641.3104, ~~641.3107,~~ 641.3111, 641.3921, and 641.3922.

(h) A health maintenance organization that issues a group health contract must~~: provide coverage for preexisting conditions pursuant to s. 641.31071;~~ guarantee renewability of coverage pursuant to s. 641.31074~~,~~ ~~;~~ provide notice of cancellation pursuant to s. 641.3108~~,~~ ~~;~~ provide extension of benefits pursuant to s. 641.3111~~,~~ ~~;~~ provide for conversion on termination of eligibility pursuant to s. 641.3921~~,~~ ~~;~~ and provide for conversion contracts and conditions pursuant to s. 641.3922.

Section 20. Subsection (2) and paragraph (a) of subsection (40) of section 641.31, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

641.31 Health maintenance contracts.—

(2) The rates charged by any health maintenance organization to its subscribers shall not be excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory or follow a rating methodology that is inconsistent, indeterminate, or ambiguous or encourages misrepresentation or misunderstanding. ~~A law restricting or limiting deductibles, coinsurance, copayments, or annual or lifetime maximum payments shall not apply to any health maintenance organization contract that provides coverage as described in s. 641.31071(5)(a)2., offered or delivered to an individual or a group of 51 or more persons.~~ The commission, in accordance with generally accepted actuarial practice as applied to health maintenance organizations, may define by rule what constitutes excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory rates and may require whatever information it deems necessary to determine that a rate or proposed rate meets the requirements of this subsection.

(40)(a) Any group rate, rating schedule, or rating manual for a health maintenance organization policy, which provides creditable coverage as defined in s. 627.6562(3) ~~s. 627.6561(5)~~, filed with the office shall provide for an appropriate rebate of premiums paid in the last policy year, contract year, or calendar year when the majority of members of a health plan are enrolled in and have maintained participation in any health wellness, maintenance, or improvement program offered by the group contract holder. The group must provide evidence of demonstrative maintenance or improvement of his or her health status as determined by assessments of agreed-upon health status indicators between the group and the health insurer, including, but not limited to, reduction in weight, body mass index, and smoking cessation. Any rebate provided by the health maintenance organization is presumed to be appropriate unless credible data demonstrates otherwise, or unless the rebate program requires the insured to incur costs to qualify for the rebate which equals or exceeds the value of the rebate but the rebate may not exceed 10 percent of paid premiums.

Section 21. Section 641.31071, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 22. Subsection (4) of section 641.3111, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

641.3111 Extension of benefits.—

~~(4) Except as provided in subsection (1), no subscriber is entitled to an extension of benefits if the termination of the contract by the health maintenance organization is based upon any event referred to in s. 641.3922(7)(a), (b), or (c).~~

Section 23. Section 641.312, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

641.312 Scope.—The Office of Insurance Regulation may adopt rules to administer the provisions of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' Uniform Health Carrier External Review Model Act, issued by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and dated April 2010. This section does not apply to a health maintenance contract that is subject to the Subscriber Assistance Program under s. 408.7056 or to the types of benefits or coverages provided under s. 627.6513(1)-(14) ~~s. 627.6561(5)(b)-(c)~~ issued in any market.

Section 24. This act shall take effect July 1, 2016.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1196 modifies the definition of an authorized entity for the purposes of emergency allergy treatment and authorizes public and private schools to enter into agreements with wholesale distributors or manufacturers to obtain epinephrine auto-injectors. Specifically, the bill:

- Expands the definition of an authorized entity to include private schools and their employees, agents, and the physician who provides the standing protocol for school epinephrine auto-injectors; changes the purposes for which public and private schools and their employees, agents, and physician are considered an authorized entity; and extends immunity from liability to such schools and their employees, agents, and physician.
- Clarifies that public and private schools may obtain a supply of epinephrine auto-injectors from a wholesale distributor or enter into an arrangement with a wholesale distributor or manufacturer for the epinephrine auto-injectors.

The bill has no fiscal impact.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The law provides for parents of students to receive accurate and timely information regarding their child's academic progress and be informed about ways to help their child succeed in school.[1] Students and parents are afforded numerous rights including, but not limited to, epinephrine[2] use and supply.[3] Additionally, through the "Emergency Allergy Treatment Act," certain authorized entities[4] may also obtain and administer epinephrine auto-injectors.[5]

Epinephrine Use

A student who has experienced or is at risk for life-threatening allergic reactions is authorized to carry an epinephrine auto-injector and self-administer epinephrine by auto-injector while in school, participating in school-sponsored activities, or in transit to or from school or school-sponsored activities, if the school secures authorization from the student's parent and physician.[6]

Epinephrine Supply

Public and Private Schools

Public and private schools may purchase from a wholesale distributor[7] and maintain in a locked, secure location on its premises a supply of epinephrine auto-injectors for use if a student experiences an anaphylactic reaction.[8] The participating school district or private school, as applicable, must adopt a protocol developed by a licensed physician for a trained school personnel to administer an epinephrine auto-injection.[9] The supply of epinephrine auto-injectors may be provided to and used by a student, who is authorized to self-administer epinephrine by auto-injector, or by trained school personnel.[10]

Other Authorized Entities

The law specifies that an authorized entity that acquires a stock supply of epinephrine auto-injectors, in accordance with the law, is authorized to make the auto-injectors available to individuals, other than certified individuals, who may administer the auto-injector to a person

The injection comes as a pre-filled automatic injection device containing a liquid solution to inject under the skin or into the muscle in the outer side of the thigh. It is usually injected as needed at the first sign of a serious allergic reaction. Typically, automatic injection devices contain enough solution for one dose of epinephrine. believed in good faith to be experiencing a severe allergic reaction if the epinephrine auto-injectors are stored in a locked, secure container and are made available only upon remote authorization after consulting an authorized health care practitioner, as specified.[11]

Epinephrine Liability

School Districts and Private Schools

The school district or private school, as applicable, and its employees and agents, including the physician who provides the standing protocol for school epinephrine auto-injectors, are not liable for any injury arising from the use of an epinephrine auto-injector administered by trained school personnel who follow the adopted protocol and whose professional opinion is that the student is having an anaphylactic reaction:[12]

- Unless the trained school personnel's action is willful and wanton;
- Notwithstanding that the parents or guardians of the student to whom the epinephrine is administered have not been provided notice or have not signed a statement acknowledging that the school district is not liable; and
- Regardless of whether authorization has been given by the student's parents or guardians or by the student's physician, physician's assistant, or advanced registered nurse practitioner.

Other Individuals

Additionally, the law affords civil liability immunity protections to certain individuals (e.g., authorized health care practitioner, a dispensing health care practitioner or pharmacist and an uncertified person who administers epinephrine auto-injectors in accordance with the law) who possess, administer, or store an epinephrine auto-injector, in accordance with the law.[13]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill modifies the definition of authorized entity for the purposes of emergency allergy treatment and authorizes public and private schools to enter into agreements with wholesale distributors or manufacturers[14] to obtain epinephrine auto-injectors at an affordable price.

The manufacturer must disclose the names of all its affiliated group members to the department; or (f) a person permitted as a third party logistics provider, only while providing warehousing, distribution, or other logistics services on behalf of a person described in paragraph (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e). The term "manufacturer" does not include a

Authorized Entity

The bill expands the definition of authorized entity to include private schools and their employees, agents, and the physician who provides the standing protocol for school epinephrine auto-injectors. Currently, public schools and their employees and agents including the physician, as specified, are considered an authorized entity.[15]

Additionally, the bill changes the purposes for which public and private schools will be considered as authorized entity. Current law specifies that public schools are considered authorized entity only for the purposes of conducting educational training programs which must include recognition of symptoms of allergic reactions and the administration of epinephrine auto-injectors.[16] The bill changes that purpose by authorizing public and private schools to acquire a stock supply of epinephrine auto-injectors in accordance with the law and make the auto-injectors available to individuals, other than certified individuals, who may administer the auto-injectors to a person believed in good faith to be experiencing a severe allergic reaction, as specified.[17] The bill also expands immunity from liability to the public and private schools and their employees, agents, and physician, as specified.

Epinephrine Supply

The bill authorizes additional ways to obtain epinephrine auto-injectors by permitting schools to enter into arrangements with wholesale distributors or manufacturers. Current law already authorizes public and private schools to purchase a supply of epinephrine auto-injectors from wholesale distributors.

The bill clarifies that public and private schools may obtain a supply of epinephrine auto-injectors from a wholesale distributor or enter into an arrangement with a wholesale distributor or manufacturer for the epinephrine auto-injectors at fair-market, free, or reduced prices for use if a student experiences an anaphylactic reaction. Such arrangements may involve third party entities other than the wholesale distributors and manufacturers. Accordingly, such manufacturers and third party entities, in addition to the wholesale distributors, may be considered agents of school districts and private schools, as applicable, and may be granted immunity from liability for an injury arising from the use of an epinephrine auto-injector.

The bill eliminates the requirement that the supply of epinephrine auto-injectors obtained by public and private schools must be kept locked on the school premises but continues to maintain current law requiring the schools to maintain the epinephrine auto-injectors in a secure location on the school premises.[18]

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Technical Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1256 creates an alternative sanctioning program (program) for technical violations of probation. The bill defines "technical violation" as any alleged violation of supervision that is not a new felony offense, misdemeanor offense, or criminal traffic offense. The bill allows the chief judge of each judicial circuit, in consultation with the state attorney, public defender, and Department of Corrections, to establish an alternative sanctioning program and determine which technical violations will be eligible for alternative sanctioning.

An eligible probationer who commits a technical violation may choose to participate in the program and admit to the violation, comply with a probation officer's recommended sanctions, and waive his or her right to a hearing on the violation. A probation officer's recommended alternative sanction must be reviewed by the court, which may approve the sanction or remove the probationer from the program.

The bill has a positive indeterminate fiscal impact on state and local funds.

The bill has an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Probation

Any person who is found guilty by a jury or the court sitting without a jury or who enters a plea of guilty or nolo contendre may be placed on probation regardless of whether adjudication is withheld.[1] The court determines the terms and conditions of probation. The standard conditions of probation that do not require oral pronouncement, include:

- Report to the probation and parole supervisors as directed;
- Permit such supervisors to visit him or her at his or her home or elsewhere;
- Work faithfully at suitable employment insofar as may be possible;
- Remain within a specified place;
- Live without violating any law;
- Make reparation or restitution to the aggrieved party;
- Repayment of debt to a county or municipal detention facility for medical care, treatment received;
- Payment of any fees due;
- Not associate with persons engaged in criminal activities; and
- Submit to random testing.[2]

When a defendant is placed on probation the Department of Corrections ("department") provides immediate officer supervision. Private entities may not provide probationary or supervision services to felony or misdemeanor offenders sentenced or placed on probation or other supervision by the circuit court.[3]

Section 948.06, F.S., provides procedures regarding a violation of the terms and conditions required of a person on probation. Upon violation, the probationer is arrested and brought before the sentencing court. At the first hearing on the violation, the probationer is advised of the charge. If the probationer admits the charge, the court may immediately revoke, modify, or continue the probation or place the probationer into a community control program.

If the probationer denies having violated the terms of the probation, the court may commit him or her to jail or release him or her with or without bail to await further hearing, or it may dismiss the charge of probation violation. Unless dismissed, the court must conduct a hearing and determine whether the probationer has violated the terms of his or her probation. If the court finds that the probationer has violated, the court may immediately revoke, modify, or continue the probation or place the probationer into a community control program.

If probation is revoked, the court must adjudicate the probationer guilty of the offense charged and proven or admitted, unless he or she has previously been adjudicated guilty. The court may then impose any sentence that it might have originally imposed for the offense for which the probationer was placed on probation or into community control.

[2] Section 948.03(1), F.S.
[3] Section 948.01(1)(a), F.S.

Technical Violations

Section 948.06(1)(g), F.S., provides that the chief judge of each judicial circuit may direct the department to use a notification letter of a technical violation in lieu of a violation report when the alleged violation is not a new felony or misdemeanor.

During Fiscal Year 2014-2015, approximately 94,000 violation reports were submitted to the court due to probation violations. Of this number, 61,777 (or 66%) were technical violations. Because of overcrowded court dockets, it often takes weeks and multiple hearings for a probationer to be sentenced as the result of a violation of probation. If the probationer is charged with a technical violation, these hearings often result in the court reinstating or modifying the probation with additional sanctions imposed. If the probationer is held in jail pending a violation hearing, he or she may lose employment and be unable to pay victim restitution, attend treatment, or comply with supervision requirements.[4]

In an effort to improve the violation of probation process, the department's Office of Community Corrections developed the Alternative Sanctions Program to reduce recidivism for supervised probationers by utilizing collaborative efforts between courts, probation, and law enforcement. The program, created through administrative order in each circuit, allows a technical violation to be addressed immediately with the probationer through an administrative process. Circuit court judges in 12 counties within six judicial circuits have agreed to implement the Alternative Sanctions Program via administrative order, including Alachua, Brevard, Desoto, Flagler, Manatee, Palm Beach, Pinellas, Putnam, Sarasota, Seminole, St. Johns, and Volusia.[5]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill codifies current practice by creating an alternative sanctioning program ("program") for technical violations of probation. The bill defines technical violations as any alleged violation of supervision that is not a new felony offense, misdemeanor offense, or criminal traffic offense. The bill allows the chief judge of each judicial circuit, in consultation with the state attorney, public defender, and the department, to establish an alternative sanctioning program and determine which technical violations will be eligible for alternative sanctioning.

If an eligible offender on probation is alleged to have committed a technical violation, the offender may either waive participation in the program or elect to participate. By participating in the program, the offender admits to the violation, agrees to the probation officer's recommended sanction, and waives the right to:

- Be represented by legal counsel;
- Require the state to prove his or her quilt before a neutral and detached hearing body;
- Subpoena witnesses and present to a judge evidence in his or her defense;
- Confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses; and
- Receive a written statement from a factfinder as to the evidence relied on and the reasons for the sanction imposed.

[5] Id.

Before imposing the sanction, the probation officer must submit the recommended sanction and documentation of the offender's admission of violation and agreement with the sanction to the court. The court has the discretion to impose the recommended sanction or to direct the department to submit a violation report, affidavit, and warrant like a normal case not in the program. Any participation by the offender in the program is solely voluntary and the offender may elect to discontinue participation in the program as long as it is before the issuance of the court order imposing the recommended sanction. When an offender quits the program, the probation officer may submit a violation report, affidavit, and warrant to the court concerning the violation. Any prior admission by the offender may not be used as evidence in subsequent proceedings.

The chief judge, in order to establish the program, must issue an administrative order specifying eligibility, which technical violations will be eligible for program, which sanctions may be recommended by a probation officer, and the process for reporting violations of the program.

C. Government Sector Impact:

According to the department, alternative sanctioning programs may decrease expenditures by reducing law enforcement arrests, jail incarceration of offenders pending technical violation hearings, probation officer time spent at these violation hearings, and court personnel involved in the violation hearing process. The Criminal Justice Impact Conference from January 29, 2016, concluded that CS/SB 1256 has a negative indeterminate impact on prison beds meaning a positive indeterminate impact on state general revenue funds as well as a positive impact on local funds.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/SB 1282 revises statutes within chapter 379, F.S., to consolidate the penalties for violations relating to recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing violations within the four-level penalty structure. The bill clarifies existing penalties and revises other penalties. Additionally, the bill:

- Offers violators of recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing the option of purchasing the respective license or permit rather than paying the cost of such license or permit without actually receiving it in addition to a civil penalty.
- Expands the scope of the civil penalty for illegally killing, taking, possessing, or selling game or fur-bearing animals, while committing burglary or trespassing to include illegally killing, taking, possessing, or selling all fish and wildlife.
- Clarifies that a person possessing certain marine turtle species, hatchlings, or the nests of such marine turtle species commits a third degree felony.
- Clarifies that spearfishing is authorized by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission rule.
- Authorizes, rather than requires, the commission to retain an administrative fee on donations provided by application to the Southeastern Guide Dogs, Inc.

By changing the penalties and allowing the violator an option to obtain a permit or license to bring the individual into compliance with law, the bill has an estimated negative fiscal impact of $85,456 to the Clerks of the Circuit Court and a positive fiscal impact of $50,806 to the FWC.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Constitution was amended in 1998 to create the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC).[1] The constitution grants the FWC both the regulatory and executive powers of the state with respect to wild animal life and fresh water aquatic life.[2] The FWC additionally has regulatory and executive powers with respect to marine life, except that all license fees for taking wild animal life, fresh water aquatic life, and marine life and penalties for violating regulations of the commission are required to be prescribed by general law.[3]

Certain regulatory functions from three separate agencies, the Game and Freshwater Fish Commission, the Marine Fisheries Commission, and the Department of Environmental Protection, were combined to create the FWC.[4] Beginning in 2005, FWC staff began reviewing all recreational wildlife, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing penalties, with the goal of proposing a four-level penalty structure to the Legislature which would provide consistency.[5] In 2006, the Legislature adopted the recommended structure, which provided four levels of classifying violations based upon the seriousness of the violation along with commensurate penalties for each violation.[6]

In 2008, ch. 370, F.S., relating to the state's marine fisheries, and ch. 372, F.S, relating to the state's wildlife and freshwater fisheries statutes, were consolidated into ch. 379, F.S.[7] The four-level penalty structure was retained, but revised to bring in the majority of FWC's recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing violations into one section. Section 379.401, F.S., provides a listing of penalties and violations by level.[8]

Level One Violations

A person commits a Level One violation if he or she violates any of the following provisions:

- Rules or orders relating to the filing of reports or other documents required to be filed by persons who hold recreational licenses and permits issued by the commission.
- Rules or orders relating to quota hunt permits, daily use permits, hunting zone assignments, camping, alcoholic beverages, vehicles, and check stations within wildlife management areas or other areas managed by the FWC.
- Rules or orders relating to daily use permits, alcoholic beverages, swimming, possession of firearms, operation of vehicles, and watercraft speed within fish management areas managed by the commission.
- Rules or orders relating to vessel size or specifying motor restrictions on specified water bodies.

The penalties for Level Four violations are as follows:

Section 379.401(4)(b), F.S., only references ss. 775.082 and 775.083, F.S., in relation to the punishment available for third degree felonies. Section 775.084, F.S., relating to enhanced penalties for habitual felony offenders or habitual violent felony offenders, is not included.

Section 379.401(5), F.S., provides an additional "catch-all" provision that makes violations of ch. 379, F.S., except as provided elsewhere, for a first offense, a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable by a definite term of imprisonment not exceeding 60 days or up to a $500 fine. For second or subsequent violations, the person commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable by a definite term of imprisonment not exceeding one year or up to a $1,000 fine.[30]

Section 379.401(6), F.S., authorizes the court to order the suspension or forfeiture of any license or permit issued under ch. 379, F.S., to a person who is found guilty of committing a violation of the chapter.

In 2014, the FWC staff began to review all fish, wildlife, and recreational penalties to ensure that they were "fair, appropriate, meaningful, and consistent."[31] The FWC staff discovered, that while the revision in 2008 consolidated a majority of the penalties into the four-level structure, there are statutes relating to recreational activities which have penalties outside of the structure.[32] These penalty violations include:

- Section 379.2223, F.S., relating to the control and management of state game lands, is a second degree misdemeanor, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S. or s. 775.083, F.S.
- Section 379.2257, F.S., relating to cooperative agreements with the U.S. Forest Service.
- Section 379.29, F.S., relating to contaminating fresh waters, is a second degree misdemeanor, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S. or s. 775.083, F.S.
- Section 379.3511, F.S., relating to the appointment of subagents for the sale of hunting, fishing, and trapping licenses and permits, is a second degree misdemeanor, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S. or s. 775.083, F.S.
- Section 379.411, F.S., relating to the killing or wounding of any species designated as endangered, threatened, or of special concern, is a third degree felony, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S., s. 775.083, F.S., or s. 775.084, F.S.
- Section 379.4115, F.S., relating to the Florida or wild panther, is a third degree felony, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S., s. 775.083, F.S., or s. 775.084, F.S.

In addition to statutes that have penalties outside of the four-level structure, there are statutes within ch. 379, F.S., which do not have specified penalties. Section 379.401(2)(a)11 and (5), F.S., both address penalties for prohibitions or violations that are not covered in ch. 379, F.S.

Section 379.401(2)(a)11., F.S., states:

> (2)(a) LEVEL TWO VIOLATIONS.—A person commits a Level Two violation if he or she violates any of the following provisions:
> 11. All prohibitions in this chapter which are not otherwise classified.[33]

Section 379.401(5), F.S., states:

> (5) VIOLATIONS OF CHAPTER.—Except as provided in this chapter:

[33] Section 379.401(2)(a)11., F.S.

> (a) A person who commits a violation of any provision of this chapter commits, for the first offense, a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.
> (b) A person who is convicted of a second or subsequent violation of any provision of this chapter commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.[34]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill revises various statutes within ch. 379, F.S., to consolidate the penalties for violations relating to recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing violations within the four-level penalty structure. The bill clarifies existing penalties and revises other penalties.

Revisions to Clarify Penalties without Changing the Penalty

Level Two Violations

In ch. 379, F.S., there are multiple sections that do not have a specified penalty. Therefore, the penalty defaults to either a Level Two violation pursuant to s. 379.401(2)(a)11., F.S., or to a second or first degree misdemeanor pursuant to s. 379.401(5), F.S. The bill amends the following sections that do not have specified penalties to clarify that the violations of such sections are Level Two violations:

- Section 379.2425, F.S., relating to spearfishing.
- Section 379.295, F.S., prohibiting the use of explosives and other substances in fresh waters.
- Section 379.3502, F.S., prohibiting the loaning, transferring, or using a borrowed or transferred license or permit.
- Section 379.3503, F.S., prohibiting false statements in an application for a license or permit.
- Section 379.3504, F.S., prohibiting entering false information on licenses or permits.
- Section 379.363, F.S., relating to freshwater fish dealer's licenses.
- Section 379.364, F.S., relating to licenses required for fur and hide dealers.
- Section 379.3751, F.S., relating to required licenses for the taking and possession of alligators.
- Section 379.3752, F.S., relating to required tagging of alligators and hides.

Level Four Violations

In ch. 379, F.S., there are sections that have penalties for violations specified as third degree felonies. The bill amends the following sections to state that the penalties for the violation of the following statues are Level Four violations, which are punishable as third degree felonies:

- Section 379.409, F.S., prohibiting the unlawful killing, injuring, possessing, or capturing of alligators or other crocodilian or their eggs.
- Section 379.411, F.S., prohibiting the intentional killing or wounding of any species designated as endangered, threatened, or of special concern.
- Section 379.4115, F.S., prohibiting the killing of any Florida or wild panther.

[34] Section 379.401(5), F.S.

Section 379.354, F.S., relating to Recreational Licenses and Permits

In s. 379.354, F.S., there are only specified violations for subsections (16) and (17). Therefore, violations of the rest of the section should be Level Two violations by default pursuant to s. 379.401(2)(a)11 or second or first degree misdemeanors pursuant to s. 379.401(5). However, there is a cross-reference in s. 379.401, F.S., which lists violations of subsections (1) through (15) of s. 379.354, F.S., as Level One violations. The bill amends s. 379.354, F.S., to clarify that a person who violates such section, unless otherwise provided, commits a Level One violation under s. 379.401, F.S.

Section 379.365, F.S., relating to Stone Crab Regulations

Any person, other than a commercial harvester, who violates commission rules regulating stone crab trap certificates and trap tags under current law commits a Level Two violation. Because violations relating to the conservation of marine resources are provided in s. 379.407, F.S., the bill removes the Level Two violation. Therefore, any person, other than a commercial harvester, who violates commission rules regulating stone crab trap certificates and trap tags is subject to the following penalties:

- Upon a first conviction; imprisonment for a period of not more than 60 days, a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or both the fine and imprisonment.
- On a second or subsequent conviction within 12 months; imprisonment for not more than six months, a fine of not less than $250 nor more than $1,000, or both the fine and imprisonment.[35]

Increases or Decreases to Penalties

In ch. 379, F.S., there are sections that have penalties for violations specified as second degree misdemeanors. The penalties for second degree misdemeanors are equivalent to Level Two violations, except that the penalties for repeat offenders are increased for Level Two violations. The bill amends the following sections to change the penalties from second degree misdemeanors to Level Two violations:

- Section 379.29, F.S., prohibiting the contamination of fresh waters.
- Section 379.3511, F.S., relating to the sale of hunting, fishing, and trapping licenses and permits by subagents.

Section 379.2223, F.S., provides that the penalty for violating rules necessary for the protection, control, operation, management, or development of lands or waters owned, leased, or otherwise assigned to the FWC for fish and wildlife management purposes is a second degree misdemeanor. The bill amends this section and provides that a person who violates or fails to comply with such rules is subject to penalties as provided in s. 379.401, F.S.

Section 379.2257, F.S., provides that the penalty for violations of rules on areas under a cooperative agreement with the United States Forest Service is a second degree misdemeanor. The bill amends this section to be consistent with the penalties on all other wildlife management areas and provides that a person who violates such rules is subject to penalties as provided in s. 379.401, F.S.

[35] Section 379.407(1), F.S.

The bill amends s. 379.357, F.S., to increase the penalty for the illegal sale of tarpon from a Level Two violation to a Level Three violation. This brings consistency with the penalties for violation of rules or orders prohibiting the sale of saltwater species. Additionally, the bill clarifies that the illegal taking, killing, or possessing of tarpon is a Level Two violation.

Section 379.401, F.S., relating to Penalties and Violations

The bill substantially amends s. 379.401, F.S. to consolidate the penalties for violations relating to recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing violations within with the four-level penalty structure.

Level One Violations

The bill adds the penalties for violating rules or orders relating to the filing of reports and other documents required by persons holding alligator licenses and permits to the list of Level One violations. Also added to the list of Level One violations are the penalties for violating rules or orders requiring the return of unused Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species (CITES) tags issued under the Statewide Alligator Harvest Program or the Statewide Nuisance Alligator Program.

Under current law, the civil penalty for committing a Level One violation involving the license and permit requirements of s. 379.354, F.S., is $50 plus the cost of the license or permit. If the person has previously committed the same Level One violation within the preceding 36 months, the civil penalty is $100 plus the cost of the license or permit. The bill provides an alternative for people who violate the license and permit requirements of s. 379.354, F.S., except violations of subsection (6) relating to pier licenses, subsection (7) relating to vessel licenses, paragraph (8)(f) relating to special use permits for limited entry hunting and fishing activities, or paragraph (8)(h) relating to recreational user permits. A person would be able to purchase the license or permit rather than paying the cost of the license or permit as part of the civil penalty. The bill requires submission of the proof of purchase of the license or permit with the civil penalty. Additionally, the bill increases the civil penalty for any person who has previously committed the same Level One violation within the preceding 36 months from $100 to $250.

Level Two Violations

The bill adds the following references to the list of Level Two violations (these were Level Two violations by default or were revised to Level Two violations):

- Rules or orders requiring the maintenance of records relating to alligators.
- Return of unused CITES tags issued under alligator programs other than the Statewide Alligator Harvest Program or the Statewide Nuisance Alligator Program.
- Section 379.2425, F.S., relating to spearfishing.
- Section 379.29, F.S., prohibiting the contamination of fresh waters.
- Section 379.295, F.S., prohibiting the use of explosives and other substances in fresh waters.
- Section 379.3502, F.S., prohibiting loaning, transferring, or using a borrowed or transferred license or permit.
- Section 379.3503, F.S., prohibiting false statements in an application for a license or permit.
- Section 379.3504, F.S., prohibiting entering false information on licenses or permits.

- Section 379.3511, F.S., relating to the sale of hunting, fishing, and trapping licenses and permits by subagents.
- Section 379.363, F.S., relating to freshwater fish dealer's licenses.
- Section 379.364, F.S., relating to licenses required for fur and hide dealers.
- Section 379.3751, F.S., relating to required licenses for the taking and possession of alligators.
- Section 379.3752, F.S., relating to required tagging of alligators and hides.

The bill removes ss. 379.33 and 379.407(7), F.S., from the list of Level Two violations. Section 379.33, F.S., was amended to remove the penalty provided in the section because it was an inaccurate statement. This section no longer contains a Level Two violation and, consequently, its cross-reference is removed from the list of penalties. Section 379.407(7), F.S., provides penalties for the unlicensed sale, purchase, or harvest relating to commercial saltwater fishing activities. As s. 379.401, F.S., provides penalties related to recreational activities, the bill removes the cross-reference to s. 379.407(7), F.S., from the section.

The bill amends the following references already on the Level Two list:
- Rules or orders of the commission prohibiting the unlawful use of finfish traps, to reference any traps, unless otherwise provided.
- Section 379.2421, F.S., for consistency.
- Section 379.357, F.S., to clarify that only a violation of subsection (3) of that section, prohibiting the take, kill, or possession of tarpon without purchasing a tarpon tag, is a Level Two violation.
- Section 379.365(2)(a), F.S., to remove the provision prohibiting the possession or use of stone crab traps without trap tags.
- Section 379.3671(2)(c), F.S., to remove the reference prohibiting the possession or use of spiny lobster traps without trap tags or certificates.
- All prohibitions in this chapter which are not otherwise classified, to include all requirements in this chapter which are not otherwise classified.

Level Three Violations

The bill clarifies that not all violations within s. 379.407(2), F.S., are Level Three violations and adds the penalty for violating s. 379.357(4), F.S., which prohibits the sale, transfer, or purchase of tarpon.

Level Four Violations

The bill amends the following references already on the Level Four list to clarify that there are other penalties within those provisions that are not Level Four violations:
- Section 379.365(2)(c), F.S., prohibiting criminal activities relating to the taking of stone crabs.
- Section 379.366(4)(c), F.S., prohibiting criminal activities relating to the taking and harvesting of blue crabs.
- Section 379.367(4), F.S., prohibiting the willful molestation of spiny lobster gear.
- Section 379.3671(2)(c)5., F.S., prohibiting the unlawful reproduction, possession, sale, trade, or barter of spiny lobster trap tags or certificates.

The bill adds the following sections to the list of Level Four violations (these were third degree felonies):

- Section 379.411, F.S., prohibiting the intentional killing or wounding of any species designated as endangered, threatened, or of special concern.
- Section 379.4115, F.S., prohibiting the killing of any Florida or wild panther.

The bill amends the penalty for a Level Four violation to include s. 775.084, F.S., relating to penalties for habitual felony offenders.

Illegal Activities While Committing Burglary or Trespass

The bill repeals s. 379.403, F.S., relating to the taking of game or fur-bearing animals while committing burglary or trespass, and moves the language to s. 379.401, F.S., with the following changes:

- Adds violations pertaining to orders which prohibit the killing, taking, possessing or selling of fish and wildlife.
- Increases the penalty from a $250 fine to a $500 fine.
- Expands the scope from game[36] or fur-bearing animals[37] to all fish and wildlife.

Violations of the Chapter

The bill removes s. 379.401(5), F.S., which provides an additional catch-all provision. However, s. 379.401(2)(a)13., F.S., retains the catchall that provides that all requirements or prohibitions in ch. 379, F.S., which are not otherwise classified are Level Two violations.

Additional Changes

The bill amends s. 379.2425, F.S., to clarify that spearfishing is authorized under certain circumstances by FWC rule or order.[38]

The bill amends s. 379.2431, F.S., to prohibit knowingly possessing any marine turtle or the eggs or nests of marine turtles and to prohibit knowingly possessing, taking, disturbing, mutilating, destroying, causing to be destroyed, transferring, selling, offering to sell, molesting, or harassing any marine turtle hatchling, or parts thereof. The bill provides that a person, firm, or corporation that illegally possesses any marine turtle species or hatchling, or parts thereof, or the nest of any marine turtle species described in s. 379.2431, F.S., commits a felony of the third degree, punishable by a term of imprisonment of up to five years or a maximum fine of $5,000 or additional penalties for violent or habitual felony offenders. The bill clarifies that a person, firm, or corporation may not take, disturb, mutilate, destroy, cause to be destroyed, transfer, sell, offer to sell, molest, or harass any hatchling, or parts thereof, of any marine turtle species unless authorized by FWC rule.

[36] The term "game" is defined by s. 379.101, F.S., to mean "deer, bear, squirrel, rabbits, and, where designated by commission rules, wild hogs, ducks, geese, rails, coots, gallinules, snipe, woodcock, wild turkeys, grouse, pheasants, quail, and doves."
[37] The term "fur-bearing animals" is defined by s. 379.101, F.S., to mean "muskrat, mink, raccoon, otter, civet cat, skunk, red and gray fox, and opossum."
[38] Rule 68B-20.003, F.A.C., authorizes spearfishing if provided in other marine fisheries rules.

The bill amends s. 379.33, F.S., to strike language relating to an inaccurate statement that states "except as provided under s. 379.401, F.S., any person who violates or otherwise fails to comply with any rule adopted by the commission shall be punished pursuant to s. 379.407(1)." This statement is inaccurate because violators of FWC rules may also be punished under s. 379.4015, F.S., or ch. 327, F.S., for example.[39]

The bill amends s. 379.3502, F.S., to remove language prohibiting a person from altering or changing in any manner any license or permit issued pursuant to ch. 379, F.S. The section covers illegally loaning or transferring a permit and not altering or changing a permit. Section 379.354(16), F.S., makes forging or counterfeiting permits a Level Four violation.

The bill amends s. 379.357, F.S., to clarify that the purchase of a tarpon tag does not give the purchaser any right to harvest or possess tarpon in contravention of FWC rule.

Individuals purchasing a license or permit from the FWC may voluntarily authorize an additional payment of $2 with their application fee to be provided to the Southeastern Guide Dogs, Inc.[40] The bill amends s. 379.359, F.S., to authorize, rather than require, the FWC to retain $0.90 of the fee. This enables the FWC to send the full amount to Southeastern Guide Dogs Inc., minus administrative costs.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

B. Private Sector Impact:

As the penalties for some violations are increased or decreased, PCS/SB 1282 may have an indeterminate fiscal impact on individuals who violate ch. 379, F.S.

Southeastern Guide Dogs, Inc. may receive an indeterminate positive fiscal impact if applicants for recreational hunting or fishing licenses choose to donate $2 to the charity. Under the bill, the provision requiring FWC to retain $0.90 is removed and, therefore, FWC may provide the charity with the full $2, minus administrative costs.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The FWC estimates the net negative impact to the Clerks of the Circuit Court is $85,456 annually. This represents all the changes to violations if the violators choose the alternative option provided under the bill and purchase a license or permit rather than paying the cost of such license or permit when cited for a violation.[41]

There is an estimated positive fiscal impact on the FWC if violators purchase the recreational licenses or permits. The proceeds from license or permit sales would go into different trust funds depending on the type of license or permit being acquired.[42] The FWC has estimated the bill would increase funds collected by $50,806 annually.[43]

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 379.2223, 379.2257, 379.2425, 379.2431, 379.29, 379.295, 379.33, 379.3502, 379.3503, 379.3504, 379.3511, 379.354, 379.357, 379.359, 379.363, 379.364, 379.365, 379.3751, 379.3752, 379.401, 379.409, 379.411, and 379.4115.

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

Recommended CS by Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government on February 11, 2016:
The CS removes the definition of the term "fish and wildlife," the cross-reference to the definition, and the sections that contained revisions to cross-references that were necessary as a result of adding the definition to s. 379.401, F.S.

The CS makes it a third degree felony to knowingly possess marine turtles or the eggs or nests of marine turtles. The CS clarifies the prohibition on knowingly taking, disturbing, mutilating, destroying, causing to be destroyed, transferring, selling, offering to sell, molesting, or harassing to include hatchlings or parts thereof.

BILL ANALYSIS AND FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

(This document is based on the provisions contained in the legislation as of the latest date listed below.)

Prepared By: The Professional Staff of the Committee on Appropriations

BILL:	SB 1282
INTRODUCER:	Senator Dean
SUBJECT:	Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission
DATE:	February 24, 2016 REVISED:

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION
1.	Istler	Rogers	EP	Favorable
2.	Betta	DeLoach	AGG	Recommend: Fav/CS
3.	Betta	Kynoch	AP	Pre-meeting

I. Summary:

SB 1282 revises statutes within chapter 379, F.S., to consolidate the penalties for violations relating to recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing violations within the four-level penalty structure. The bill clarifies existing penalties and revises other penalties. Additionally, the bill:

- Offers violators of recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing the option of purchasing the respective license or permit rather than paying the cost of such license or permit without actually receiving it in addition to a civil penalty.
- Defines the term "fish and wildlife" to mean "any member of the animal kingdom, including, but not limited to, any mammal, fish, bird, amphibian, reptile, mollusk, crustacean, arthropod, or other invertebrate."
- Expands the scope of the civil penalty for illegally killing, taking, possessing or selling game or fur-bearing animals, while committing burglary or trespassing to include all fish and wildlife.
- Clarifies that spearfishing is authorized by the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission rule.
- Authorizes, rather than requires, the commission to retain an administrative fee on donations provided by application to the Southeastern Guide Dogs, Inc.

By changing the penalties and allowing the violator an option to obtain a permit or license to bring the individual into compliance with law, the bill has an estimated negative fiscal impact of $85,456 to the Clerks of the Circuit Court and a positive fiscal impact of $50,806 to the FWC.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Constitution was amended in 1998 to create the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC).[1] The constitution grants the FWC both the regulatory and executive powers of the state with respect to wild animal life and fresh water aquatic life.[2] The FWC additionally has regulatory and executive powers with respect to marine life, except that all license fees for taking wild animal life, fresh water aquatic life, and marine life and penalties for violating regulations of the commission are required to be prescribed by general law.[3]

Certain regulatory functions from three separate agencies, the Game and Freshwater Fish Commission, the Marine Fisheries Commission, and the Department of Environmental Protection, were combined to create the FWC.[4] Beginning in 2005, FWC staff began reviewing all recreational wildlife, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing penalties, with the goal of proposing a four-level penalty structure to the Legislature which would provide consistency.[5] In 2006, the Legislature adopted the recommended structure, which provided four levels of classifying violations based upon the seriousness of the violation along with commensurate penalties for each violation.[6]

In 2008, ch. 370, F.S., relating to the state's marine fisheries, and ch. 372, F.S, relating to the state's wildlife and freshwater fisheries statutes, were consolidated into ch. 379, F.S.[7] The four-level penalty structure was retained, but revised to bring in the majority of FWC's recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing violations into one section. Section 379.401, F.S., provides a listing of penalties and violations by level.[8]

Section 379.401(4)(b), F.S., only references ss. 775.082 and 775.083, F.S., in relation to the punishment available for third degree felonies. Section 775.084, F.S., relating to enhanced penalties for habitual felony offenders or habitual violent felony offenders, is not included.

Section 379.401(5), F.S., provides an additional "catch-all" provision that makes violations of ch. 379, F.S., except as provided elsewhere, for a first offense, a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable by a definite term of imprisonment not exceeding 60 days or up to a $500

fine. For second or subsequent violations, the person commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable by a definite term of imprisonment not exceeding one year or up to a $1,000 fine.[30]

Section 379.401(6), F.S., authorizes the court to order the suspension or forfeiture of any license or permit issued under ch. 379, F.S., to a person who is found guilty of committing a violation of the chapter.

In 2014, the FWC staff began to review all fish, wildlife, and recreational penalties to ensure that they were "fair, appropriate, meaningful, and consistent."[31] The FWC staff discovered, that while the revision in 2008 consolidated a majority of the penalties into the four-level structure, there are statutes relating to recreational activities which have penalties outside of the structure.[32] These penalty violations include:

- Section 379.2223, F.S., relating to the control and management of state game lands, is a second degree misdemeanor, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S. or s. 775.083, F.S.
- Section 379.2257, F.S., relating to cooperative agreements with the U.S. Forest Service.
- Section 379.29, F.S., relating to contaminating fresh waters, is a second degree misdemeanor, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S. or s. 775.083, F.S.
- Section 379.3511, F.S., relating to the appointment of subagents for the sale of hunting, fishing, and trapping licenses and permits, is a second degree misdemeanor, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S. or s. 775.083, F.S.
- Section 379.411, F.S., relating to the killing or wounding of any species designated as endangered, threatened, or of special concern, is a third degree felony, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S., s. 775.083, F.S., or s. 775.084, F.S.
- Section 379.4115, F.S., relating to the Florida or wild panther, is a third degree felony, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, F.S., s. 775.083, F.S., or s. 775.084, F.S.

In addition to statutes that have penalties outside of the four-level structure, there are statutes within ch. 379, F.S., which do not have specified penalties. Section 379.401(2)(a)11 and (5), F.S., both address penalties for prohibitions or violations that are not covered in ch. 379, F.S.

Section 379.401(2)(a)11., F.S., states:

> (2)(a) LEVEL TWO VIOLATIONS.—A person commits a Level Two violation if he or she violates any of the following provisions:
> 11. All prohibitions in this chapter which are not otherwise classified.[33]

Section 379.401(5), F.S., states:

> (5) VIOLATIONS OF CHAPTER.—Except as provided in this chapter:

[32] Id.
[33] Section 379.401(2)(a)11., F.S.

> (a) A person who commits a violation of any provision of this chapter commits, for the first offense, a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.
> (b) A person who is convicted of a second or subsequent violation of any provision of this chapter commits a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.[34]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill revises various statutes within ch. 379, F.S., to consolidate the penalties for violations relating to recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing violations within the four-level penalty structure. The bill clarifies existing penalties and revises other penalties.

Revisions to Clarify Penalties without Changing the Penalty

Level Two Violations

In ch. 379, F.S., there are multiple sections that do not have a specified penalty. Therefore, the penalty defaults to either a Level Two violation pursuant to s. 379.401(2)(a)11., F.S., or to a second or first degree misdemeanor pursuant to s. 379.401(5), F.S. The bill amends the following sections that do not have specified penalties to clarify that the violations of such sections are Level Two violations:

- Section 379.2425, F.S., relating to spearfishing.
- Section 379.295, F.S., prohibiting the use of explosives and other substances in fresh waters.
- Section 379.3502, F.S., prohibiting the loaning, transferring, or using a borrowed or transferred license or permit.
- Section 379.3503, F.S., prohibiting false statements in an application for a license or permit.
- Section 379.3504, F.S., prohibiting entering false information on licenses or permits.
- Section 379.363, F.S., relating to freshwater fish dealer's licenses.
- Section 379.364, F.S., relating to licenses required for fur and hide dealers.
- Section 379.3751, F.S., relating to required licenses for the taking and possession of alligators.
- Section 379.3752, F.S., relating to required tagging of alligators and hides.

Level Four Violations

In ch. 379, F.S., there are sections that have penalties for violations specified as third degree felonies. The bill amends the following sections to state that the penalties for the violation of the following statues are Level Four violations, which are punishable as third degree felonies:

- Section 379.409, F.S., prohibiting the unlawful killing, injuring, possessing, or capturing of alligators or other crocodilian or their eggs.
- Section 379.411, F.S., prohibiting the intentional killing or wounding of any species designated as endangered, threatened, or of special concern.
- Section 379.4115, F.S., prohibiting the killing of any Florida or wild panther.

[34] Section 379.401(5), F.S.

Section 379.354, F.S., relating to Recreational Licenses and Permits

In s. 379.354, F.S., there are only specified violations for subsections (16) and (17). Therefore, violations of the rest of the section should be Level Two violations by default pursuant to s. 379.401(2)(a)11 or second or first degree misdemeanors pursuant to s. 379.401(5). However, there is a cross-reference in s. 379.401, F.S., which lists violations of subsections (1) through (15) of s. 379.354, F.S., as Level One violations. The bill amends s. 379.354, F.S., to clarify that a person who violates such section, unless otherwise provided, commits a Level One violation under s. 379.401, F.S.

Section 379.365, F.S., relating to Stone Crab Regulations

Any person, other than a commercial harvester, who violates commission rules regulating stone crab trap certificates and trap tags under current law commits a Level Two violation. Because violations relating to the conservation of marine resources are provided in s. 379.407, F.S., the bill removes the Level Two violation. Therefore, any person, other than a commercial harvester, who violates commission rules regulating stone crab trap certificates and trap tags is subject to the following penalties:

- Upon a first conviction; imprisonment for a period of not more than 60 days, a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or both the fine and imprisonment.
- On a second or subsequent conviction within 12 months; imprisonment for not more than six months, a fine of not less than $250 nor more than $1,000, or both the fine and imprisonment.[35]

Increases or Decreases to Penalties

In ch. 379, F.S., there are sections that have penalties for violations specified as second degree misdemeanors. The penalties for second degree misdemeanors are equivalent to Level Two violations, except that the penalties for repeat offenders are increased for Level Two violations. The bill amends the following sections to change the penalties from second degree misdemeanors to Level Two violations:

- Section 379.29, F.S., prohibiting the contamination of fresh waters.
- Section 379.3511, F.S., relating to the sale of hunting, fishing, and trapping licenses and permits by subagents.

Section 379.2223, F.S., provides that the penalty for violating rules necessary for the protection, control, operation, management, or development of lands or waters owned, leased, or otherwise assigned to the FWC for fish and wildlife management purposes is a second degree misdemeanor. The bill amends this section and provides that a person who violates or fails to comply with such rules is subject to penalties as provided in s. 379.401, F.S.

Section 379.2257, F.S., provides that the penalty for violations of rules on areas under a cooperative agreement with the United States Forest Service is a second degree misdemeanor. The bill amends this section to be consistent with the penalties on all other wildlife management areas and provides that a person who violates such rules is subject to penalties as provided in s. 379.401, F.S.

[35] Section 379.407(1), F.S.

The bill amends s. 379.357, F.S., to increase the penalty for the illegal sale of tarpon from a Level Two violation to a Level Three violation. This brings consistency with the penalties for violation of rules or orders prohibiting the sale of saltwater species. Additionally, the bill clarifies that the illegal taking, killing, or possessing of tarpon is a Level Two violation.

Section 379.401, F.S., relating to Penalties and Violations

The bill substantially amends s. 379.401, F.S. to consolidate the penalties for violations relating to recreational hunting, freshwater fishing, and saltwater fishing violations within with the four-level penalty structure.

Level One Violations

The bill adds the penalties for violating rules or orders relating to the filing of reports and other documents required by persons holding alligator licenses and permits to the list of Level One violations. Also added to the list of Level One violations are the penalties for violating rules or orders requiring the return of unused Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species (CITES) tags issued under the Statewide Alligator Harvest Program or the Statewide Nuisance Alligator Program.

Under current law, the civil penalty for committing a Level One violation involving the license and permit requirements of s. 379.354, F.S., is $50 plus the cost of the license or permit. If the person has previously committed the same Level One violation within the preceding 36 months, the civil penalty is $100 plus the cost of the license or permit. The bill provides an alternative for people who violate the license and permit requirements of s. 379.354, F.S., except violations of subsection (6) relating to pier licenses, subsection (7) relating to vessel licenses, paragraph (8)(f) relating to special use permits for limited entry hunting and fishing activities, or paragraph (8)(h) relating to recreational user permits. A person would be able to purchase the license or permit rather than paying the cost of the license or permit as part of the civil penalty. The bill requires submission of the proof of purchase of the license or permit with the civil penalty. Additionally, the bill increases the civil penalty for any person who has previously committed the same Level One violation within the preceding 36 months from $100 to $250.

Level Two Violations

The bill adds the following references to the list of Level Two violations (these were Level Two violations by default or were revised to Level Two violations):

- Rules or orders requiring the maintenance of records relating to alligators.
- Return of unused CITES tags issued under alligator programs other than the Statewide Alligator Harvest Program or the Statewide Nuisance Alligator Program.
- Section 379.2425, F.S., relating to spearfishing.
- Section 379.29, F.S., prohibiting the contamination of fresh waters.
- Section 379.295, F.S., prohibiting the use of explosives and other substances in fresh waters.
- Section 379.3502, F.S., prohibiting loaning, transferring, or using a borrowed or transferred license or permit.
- Section 379.3503, F.S., prohibiting false statements in an application for a license or permit.
- Section 379.3504, F.S., prohibiting entering false information on licenses or permits.

- Section 379.3511, F.S., relating to the sale of hunting, fishing, and trapping licenses and permits by subagents.
- Section 379.363, F.S., relating to freshwater fish dealer's licenses.
- Section 379.364, F.S., relating to licenses required for fur and hide dealers.
- Section 379.3751, F.S., relating to required licenses for the taking and possession of alligators.
- Section 379.3752, F.S., relating to required tagging of alligators and hides.

The bill removes ss. 379.33 and 379.407(7), F.S., from the list of Level Two violations. Section 379.33, F.S., was amended to remove the penalty provided in the section because it was an inaccurate statement. This section no longer contains a Level Two violation and, consequently, its cross-reference is removed from the list of penalties. Section 379.407(7), F.S., provides penalties for the unlicensed sale, purchase, or harvest relating to commercial saltwater fishing activities. As s. 379.401, F.S., provides penalties related to recreational activities, the bill removes the cross-reference to s. 379.407(7), F.S., from the section.

The bill amends the following references already on the Level Two list:
- Rules or orders of the commission prohibiting the unlawful use of finfish traps, to reference any traps, unless otherwise provided.
- Section 379.2421, F.S., for consistency.
- Section 379.357, F.S., to clarify that only a violation of subsection (3) of that section, prohibiting the take, kill, or possession of tarpon without purchasing a tarpon tag, is a Level Two violation.
- Section 379.365(2)(a), F.S., to remove the provision prohibiting the possession or use of stone crab traps without trap tags.
- Section 379.3671(2)(c), F.S., to remove the reference prohibiting the possession or use of spiny lobster traps without trap tags or certificates.
- All prohibitions in this chapter which are not otherwise classified, to include all requirements in this chapter which are not otherwise classified.

Level Three Violations

The bill clarifies that not all violations within s. 379.407(2), F.S., are Level Three violations and adds the penalty for violating s. 379.357(4), F.S., which prohibits the sale, transfer, or purchase of tarpon.

Level Four Violations

The bill amends the following references already on the Level Four list to clarify that there are other penalties within those provisions that are not Level Four violations:
- Section 379.365(2)(c), F.S., prohibiting criminal activities relating to the taking of stone crabs.
- Section 379.366(4)(c), F.S., prohibiting criminal activities relating to the taking and harvesting of blue crabs.
- Section 379.367(4), F.S., prohibiting the willful molestation of spiny lobster gear.
- Section 379.3671(2)(c)5., F.S., prohibiting the unlawful reproduction, possession, sale, trade, or barter of spiny lobster trap tags or certificates.

The bill adds the following sections to the list of Level Four violations (these were third degree felonies):

- Section 379.411, F.S., prohibiting the intentional killing or wounding of any species designated as endangered, threatened, or of special concern.
- Section 379.4115, F.S., prohibiting the killing of any Florida or wild panther.

The bill amends the penalty for a Level Four violation to include s. 775.084, F.S., relating to penalties for habitual felony offenders.

Illegal Activities While Committing Burglary or Trespass

The bill repeals s. 379.403, F.S., relating to the taking of game or fur-bearing animals while committing burglary or trespass, and moves the language to s. 379.401, F.S., with the following changes:

- Adds violations pertaining to orders which prohibit the killing, taking, possessing or selling of fish and wildlife.
- Increases the penalty from a $250 fine to a $500 fine.
- Expands the scope from game[36] or fur-bearing animals[37] to all fish and wildlife.

As the term "fish and wildlife" is not defined in ch. 379, F.S., the bill amends s. 379.101, F.S., to define the term "fish and wildlife" to mean "any member of the animal kingdom, including, but not limited to, any mammal, fish, bird, amphibian, reptile, mollusk, crustacean, arthropod, or other invertebrate." This definition has the same meaning as in Florida's Endangered and Threatened Species Act.[38]

Violations of the Chapter

The bill removes s. 379.401(5), F.S., which provides an additional catch-all provision. However, s. 379.401(2)(a)13., F.S., retains the catchall that provides that all requirements or prohibitions in ch. 379, F.S., which are not otherwise classified are Level Two violations.

Additional Changes

The bill amends s. 379.2425, F.S., to clarify that spearfishing is authorized under certain circumstances by FWC rule or order.[39]

The bill amends s. 379.33, F.S., to strike language relating to an inaccurate statement that states "except as provided under s. 379.401, F.S., any person who violates or otherwise fails to comply with any rule adopted by the commission shall be punished pursuant to s. 379.407(1)." This

[36] The term "game" is defined by s. 379.101, F.S., to mean "deer, bear, squirrel, rabbits, and, where designated by commission rules, wild hogs, ducks, geese, rails, coots, gallinules, snipe, woodcock, wild turkeys, grouse, pheasants, quail, and doves."
[37] The term "fur-bearing animals" is defined by s. 379.101, F.S., to mean "muskrat, mink, raccoon, otter, civet cat, skunk, red and gray fox, and opossum."
[38] Section 379.2291, F.S.
[39] Rule 68B-20.003, F.A.C., authorizes spearfishing if provided in other marine fisheries rules.

statement is inaccurate because violators of FWC rules may also be punished under s. 379.4015, F.S., or ch. 327, F.S., for example.[40]

The bill amends s. 379.3502, F.S., to remove language prohibiting a person from altering or changing in any manner any license or permit issued pursuant to ch. 379, F.S. The section covers illegally loaning or transferring a permit and not altering or changing a permit. Section 379.354(16), F.S., makes forging or counterfeiting permits a Level Four violation.

The bill amends s. 379.357, F.S., to clarify that the purchase of a tarpon tag does not give the purchaser any right to harvest or possess tarpon in contravention of FWC rule.

Individuals purchasing a license or permit from the FWC may voluntarily authorize an additional payment of $2 with their application fee to be provided to the Southeastern Guide Dogs, Inc.[41] The bill amends s. 379.359, F.S., to authorize, rather than require, the FWC to retain $0.90 of the fee. This enables the FWC to send the full amount to Southeastern Guide Dogs Inc., minus administrative costs.

The bill amends ss. 379.3004, 379.337, 589.19, and 810.09, F.S., to conform cross-references.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

As the penalties for some violations are increased or decreased, SB 1282 may have an indeterminate fiscal impact on individuals who violate ch. 379, F.S.

[41] Section 379.359, F.S.

Southeastern Guide Dogs, Inc. may receive an indeterminate positive fiscal impact if applicants for recreational hunting or fishing licenses choose to donate $2 to the charity. Under the bill, the provision requiring FWC to retain $0.90 is removed and, therefore, FWC may provide the charity with the full $2, minus administrative costs.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The FWC estimates the net negative impact to the Clerks of the Circuit Court is $85,456 annually. This represents all the changes to violations if the violators choose the alternative option provided under the bill and purchase a license or permit rather than paying the cost of such license or permit when cited for a violation.[42]

There is an estimated positive fiscal impact on the FWC if violators purchase the recreational licenses or permits. The proceeds from license or permit sales would go into different trust funds depending on the type of license or permit being acquired.[43] The FWC has estimated the bill would increase funds collected by $50,806 annually.[44]

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 379.101, 379.2223, 379.2257, 379.2425, 379.29, 379.295, 379.33, 379.3502, 379.3503, 379.3504, 379.3511, 379.354, 379.357, 379.359, 379.363, 379.364, 379.365, 379.3751, 379.3752, 379.401, 379.409, 379.411, 379.4115, 379.3004, 379.337, 589.19, and 810.09.

BILL:	SB 1312
INTRODUCER:	Senator Dean
SUBJECT:	Protection Zones for Springs
DATE:	February 24, 2016
REVISED:

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION

I. Summary:

SB 1312 requires the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) to establish protection zones restricting the speed and operation of vessels to protect and prevent harm to Florida's springs. Any individual who operates a vessel in violation of a spring protection zone may be charged a uniform boating citation. The bill requires the FWC to adopt rules for implementation.

The FWC indicates that the fiscal impact of the bill can be absorbed within its existing budget.

The effective date of the bill is July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Florida's Springs

Springs are major sources of stream flow in a number of rivers such as the Rainbow, Chassahowitzka, Homosassa, and Ichetucknee.[1] Florida's springs provide a "window" into the Floridan aquifer system, which provides most of the state's drinking water.

Springs form when groundwater is forced out through natural openings in the ground.[2] Florida has more than 700 recognized springs, categorized by flow in cubic feet per second. First magnitude springs are those that discharge 100 cubic feet of water per second or greater. Florida has 33 first magnitude springs in 18 counties that discharge more than 64 million gallons of water per day. Spring discharges, primarily from the Floridan aquifer, are used to determine groundwater quality and the degree of human impact on a spring's recharge area. Rainfall, surface conditions, soil type, mineralogy, the composition and porous nature of the aquifer system, flow, and length of time in the aquifer all contribute to groundwater chemistry.[3]

Motorboat activity has the potential to harm aquatic ecosystems by causing impacts such as sediment re-suspension and shoreline erosion. Propeller-induced turbulence can cause disturbance of sediments.[4] The amount of resuspension varies with water depth and sediment type, as depth and sediment particle size decrease, resuspension increases.[5] Shoreline erosion refers to the process by which soil particles located along a bank or shore become detached and transported by water currents or wave energy.[6] Boats produce wake, which may in turn create waves that propagate outward until dissipated at the shoreline.[7] Physical impacts due to wake and the consequent wave action are dependent on various factors such as boat size, boating speed, hull design, water depth, and local shoreline characteristics.[8] The impacts of boats on aquatic ecosystems are exhibited in shallow-water near-shore areas; protecting these areas with no wake-zones has been suggested as the most effective way of reducing such impacts.[9]

Regulation of Motorboat Speeds in Florida

Boating Restricted Areas

Section 327.46, F.S., authorizes the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) to establish restrictions on vessel speeds and vessel traffic on the waters of this state for any purpose necessary to protect the safety of the public, if such restrictions are necessary based on boating accidents, visibility, hazardous currents or water levels, vessel traffic congestion, or other navigational hazards. Boating-restricted areas are adopted by the FWC by rule.[10]

Each boating-restricted area must be developed in consultation and coordination with the governing body of the county or municipality in which the boating-restricted area is located. When the boating-restricted area is to be on the navigable waters of the United States, the FWC must consult and coordinate with the United States Coast Guard and the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

Local governments are authorized to establish boating-restricted areas by ordinance within certain parameters.[11] Such ordinances must be reviewed by the FWC and determined necessary to protect public safety based upon substantial competent evidence.[12] The following types of restrictions are authorized to be established:

  - Within 500 feet of any boat ramp, hoist, marine railway, or other launching or landing facility available for use by the general boating public on waterways more than 300 feet in width.
  - Within 300 feet of any boat ramp, hoist, marine railway, or other launching or landing facility available for use by the general boating public on waterways not exceeding 300 feet in width.
  - Within 500 feet of fuel pumps or dispensers at any marine fueling facility that sells motor fuel to the general boating public on waterways more than 300 feet in width.

- An ordinance establishing a slow speed, minimum wake[15] boating-restricted area if the area is:

  - Within 300 feet of any bridge span presenting a vertical clearance of less than 25 feet or a horizontal clearance of less than 100 feet.
  - On a creek, stream, canal, or similar linear waterway if the waterway is less than 75 feet in width from shoreline to shoreline.
  - On a lake or pond of less than 10 acres in total surface area.[16]
- An ordinance establishing a vessel-exclusion zone if the area is:
  - Designated as a public bathing beach or swim area.
  - Within 300 feet of a dam, spillway, or flood control structure.[17]

The penalty for operating a vessel in a prohibited manner within a boating-restricted area that has been clearly marked by regulatory markers is a noncriminal infraction, punishable by a civil penalty of $50.[18]

Manatee Protection Zones

Slower boat speeds provide boat operators with more time to see manatees and take avoidance actions. Blunt force injuries that do occur will be less severe, and less likely lethal, when boats are traveling at slower speeds.[19] The Florida Manatee Sanctuary Act requires the FWC to regulate the operation and speed of motorboat traffic where manatee sightings are frequent utilizing the best available scientific information, as well as other available, relevant, and reliable information. This information may include, but is not limited to, manatee surveys, observations, available studies of food sources, water depths, and data that supports the conclusions that [15] Rule 68D-24.002, F.A.C. defines the term "Slow Speed Minimum Wake" to mean that a vessel must be fully off plane and completely settled in the water and it may not proceed greater than that speed which is reasonable and prudent to avoid the creation of an excessive wake or other hazardous condition under existing circumstances.

manatees inhabit these areas on a regular basis.[20] However, the Legislature made clear that it did not intend to authorize the FWC to post and regulate boat speeds generally throughout the waters of the state, thereby unduly interfering with the rights of fishers, boaters, and water skiers using the areas for recreational and commercial purposes.[21]

Local governments, except in the marked navigation channel of the Florida Intracoastal Waterway and the area within 100 feet of such channel, may regulate (by ordinance) motorboat speed and operation on waters within their jurisdiction that manatees inhabit on a regular basis. The best available scientific information, as well as other available, relevant, and reliable information, which may include but is not limited to, manatee surveys, observations, available studies of food sources, and water depths, must support the conclusion that manatees inhabit these areas on a regular basis.[22] However, such an ordinance may not take effect until it has been reviewed and approved by the FWC.[23] If local and state regulations are established for the same area, the more restrictive regulation prevails.[24]

The penalty for operating a vessel in excess of a posted speed limit is a noncriminal infraction, punishable by a civil penalty of $50.[25]

Uniform Waterway Markers

The FWC has established a uniform system of regulatory markers compatible with the system of regulatory markers prescribed by the United States Coast Guard in the United States Aids to Navigation System, 33 C.F.R. part 62.[26] The Division of Law Enforcement's Boating Waterways Section, within the FWC, permits and regulates the placement of markers in, on, and over the waters and shores of Florida.[27]

A person or municipality, county, or other governmental entity may not place any uniform waterway marker in, on, or over the waters or shores of the state without a permit.[28] The FWC will not issue any permit authorizing placement of regulatory markers implementing municipal or county ordinances that:

- Are in violation of s. 327.60, F.S., relating to limitations on local regulations;
- Establish boating-restricted areas until such ordinances have been reviewed and approved by the Boating and Waterways Section; or
- Regulate vessel speed or operation for manatee protection purposes, until such ordinances have been reviewed and approved by the FWC, coordinated through the Imperiled Species Management Section, and provided that such ordinances do not apply within the marked

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill creates s. 373.469, F.S., to require the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) to establish protection zones restricting the speed and operation of vessels to protect and prevent harm to Florida's springs. The bill clarifies that harm includes negative impacts to water quality, water quantity, hydrology, wetlands, and aquatic- and wetland-dependent species.

The bill requires the FWC to develop each protection zone in consultation and coordination with the water management district and the governing bodies of the county and municipality, if applicable, in which the zone is located. If the zone includes navigable waters of the United States, the commission shall additionally coordinate with the United States Coast Guard and the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

Any individual who operates a vessel in violation of a spring protection zone shall be charged on a uniform boating citation and is subject to the following penalties:

- First offense is a noncriminal infraction, up to a maximum fine of $50.
- Second offense is a noncriminal infraction, up to a maximum fine of $250.
- Third and subsequent violations are misdemeanors of the second degree, punishable by up to 60 days of imprisonment or up to a $500 fine.

The bill clarifies that any restriction in a spring protection zone does not apply:

- To law enforcement, firefighting, or rescue personnel operating a vessel in the course of performing their official duties; or
- In emergency situations, provided the emergency operation of a vessel is a reasonable response given the circumstances.

The bill defines the following terms:

- "Commission" means "the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission."
- "Navigable waters of the United States" means "the waters of the United States, including the territorial seas, as referenced in the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. ss. 1251 et seq., and the federal rules and regulations promulgated thereunder."
- "Vessel" has the same meaning as provided in s. 327.02, F.S., which defines the term "vessel" as "synonymous with boat as referenced in s. 1(b), Art. VII of the State Constitution and includes every description of watercraft, barge, and airboat, other than a seaplane on the water, used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water."[30]

The bill provides that the FWC is responsible for the posting and maintenance of regulatory markers identifying the spring protection zones and requires the FWC to adopt rules to establish and implement the spring protection zones.

[30] Section 327.02, F.S.

The bill amends s. 327.73, F.S., to include the penalties for violations relating to protection zones for springs on the list of noncriminal infractions.

The bill amends s. 327.731, F.S., to conform a cross-reference to the list of noncriminal infractions.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

SB 1312 creates fines with the following penalties for any individual who operates a vessel in violation of a spring protection zone and charged on a uniform boating citation:

- First offense is a noncriminal infraction, up to a maximum fine of $50.
- Second offense is a noncriminal infraction, up to a maximum fine of $250.
- Third and subsequent violations are misdemeanors of the second degree, punishable by up to 60 days of imprisonment or up to a $500 fine.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The FWC will incur costs associated with rulemaking to develop protection zones and for the posting and maintenance of the regulatory markers for identifying the zones. The FWC estimates that regulatory markers for springs will cost approximately $3,000 per marker. The number of markers are indeterminate at this time. According to the FWC, it is anticipated that these additional costs can be absorbed within existing budget.[31]

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/SB 1322 creates a new cost sharing methodology for calculating the shared county and state financial obligations for juvenile detention that reduces the amount that will be paid by counties that are not fiscally constrained (non-fiscally constrained counties) compared to current law. The bill requires non-fiscally constrained counties to pay a total of $42.5 million for detention care costs in Fiscal Year 2016-2017, and requires the state to pay the remaining costs. In subsequent years, the bill requires each non-fiscally constrained county and the state to each pay 50 percent of the total costs of providing detention care in the county. The bill continues current law requiring the state to pay all costs for providing detention care for fiscally constrained counties and juveniles residing out of state.

The bill eliminates "final court disposition" as the demarcation between county and state financial obligations for juvenile detention, replacing it with a cost sharing relationship based on actual costs and county utilization.

The Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) indicates that the total required payments for non-fiscally constrained counties in Fiscal Year 2015-2016 is $54.3 million. The bill's provision for non-fiscally constrained counties to pay a total of $42.5 million in shared detention costs for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 will make the counties responsible for paying $11.8 million less than in Fiscal Year 2015-2016. The DJJ estimates that it will need an appropriation of $8.8 million in general revenue funds above the amount appropriated for juvenile detention care in Senate Bill 2500, the Senate proposed 2016-2017 General Appropriations Bill, to offset the bill's reduction in the counties' payments for Fiscal Year 2016-2017. For Fiscal Year 2017-2018, when the total costs for detention care for non-fiscally constrained counties will be split equally between the state and those counties, the DJJ estimates that it will need an appropriation of $6.2 million more in general revenue funds above the amount appropriated for juvenile detention care in SB 2500. The amount for subsequent years should be similar, with adjustments for variances in costs.

The bill takes effect upon becoming a law.

II. Present Situation:

The DJJ operates a statewide secure detention system for youth who are charged with committing delinquent acts. The detention care process begins when the DJJ receives custody of a juvenile from a law enforcement agency which has taken the juvenile into custody:

- Upon assuming custody, the DJJ decides whether to place the juvenile in detention care as provided in s. 985.25, F.S., based upon an assessment of risk as provided in s. 985.245, F.S.
- If the DJJ places the juvenile in detention care, a court hearing must be held within 24 hours of the time that the juvenile was taken into custody. At the hearing, the court considers a number of factors to determine whether the juvenile should be kept in continued detention. Section 985.255, F.S., provides these factors, which include current offenses, prior history, legal status, and aggravating or mitigating factors.
- If the court orders the juvenile to be held in secure detention, the detention cannot extend beyond 48 hours unless the court holds another hearing and finds in writing that continued detention is necessary to protect the victim from injury.
- The juvenile may be held in detention until a disposition hearing is held to determine whether the juvenile committed a delinquent act and, if necessary, until the juvenile is sentenced.[1]
- A juvenile who is adjudicated delinquent may be kept in detention for a limited time while awaiting placement in a residential commitment program.[2]

The detention program provides 24-hour care and supervision to juveniles in physically secure facilities, with educational programming provided by individual school districts. The DJJ detention staff transports detained youth to and from court and residential commitment facilities.

Currently, the DJJ operates secure detention facilities in 21 counties with a total of more than 1,300 beds. During Fiscal Year 2014-2015, the DJJ served a total of 15,580 individual youth in secure detention facilities. Marion County, Polk County, and Seminole County operate their own detention centers.

[1] Section 985.26, F.S., provides that pre-hearing detention care is limited to 21 days unless the court has commenced an adjudicatory hearing in good faith. For certain serious offenses, the time may be extended to 30 days before an adjudicatory hearing is commenced. There are also provisions for continued detention beyond these limits to account for continuances granted by the court. In such cases, the court must hold a hearing at the end of every 72 hour period to determine whether continued detention is appropriate and whether further continuance of the hearing is needed.

In 2004, the Legislature enacted s. 985.686, F.S., requiring joint financial participation by the state and counties in the provision of juvenile detention. The statute made counties responsible for pre-dispositional detention costs and the DJJ responsible for post-dispositional detention costs, costs for detention care in fiscally constrained counties,[3] and costs for out-of-state youth. Historically, the counties were held responsible for 74 percent of detention costs and the state was responsible for 26 percent. The DJJ's apportionment of costs has been a source of administrative litigation by counties.

In June 2013, the First District Court of Appeal (DCA) affirmed an administrative law judge's order invalidating rules that the DJJ had promulgated in 2010 to clarify the state and the counties' responsibilities. According to the order, the rules at issue shifted a greater responsibility for costs to the counties than was required by the relevant statute. The opinion had the effect of significantly decreasing the counties' fiscal responsibility and increasing the state's financial responsibility.[4]

Administrative petitions have been filed to contest reconciliations for fiscal years since 2008-2009. The DJJ initially entered into stipulations relating to Fiscal Years 2009-2010, 2010-2011, and 2011-2012. These stipulations included all detention after violations of probation as solely in the state's share of costs. However, the DJJ subsequently determined the statute required that counties should pay for the costs of new law violations of probation and the state would pay for the costs of other violations of probation. In May 2014, the DJJ promulgated new rules to implement its understanding of the sharing of costs in accordance with the statute.[5] The Florida Association of Counties and a number of individual counties filed administrative challenges to the new rule.[6] In April 2015, the Division of Administrative Hearings (DOAH) upheld the DJJ's interpretation of "final court disposition" and other significant sections of the proposed rule.[7] The decision is currently on appeal in the First DCA.[8]

In 2014 and 2015, a number of counties ceased to pay, or paid a reduced portion, of their share of the costs of detention costs due to their dispute concerning the DJJ's billing. The Implementing Bill for the Fiscal Year 2015-2016 General Appropriations Act included a requirement for the DJJ to notify the Department of Revenue (DOR) when counties don't pay their share of the costs, and for the DOR to transfer funds from the counties revenue sharing accounts to the DJJ to make up any shortfall.[9] Volusia County has not paid its Fiscal Year 2015-2016 share, and

[3] The term "fiscally constrained county" is currently defined to mean "a county within a rural area of opportunity as designated by the Governor pursuant to s. 288.0656, F.S., or each county for which the value of a mill will raise no more than $5 million in revenue, based on the certified school taxable value certified pursuant to s. 1011.62(4)(a)1.a., F.S., from the previous July 1. Currently, 29 counties are considered fiscally constrained. Prior to 2014, the definition referred to a "rural area of critical economic concern" rather than a "rural area of opportunity," but included the same criteria.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 985.686, F.S., relating to shared county and state responsibility for juvenile detention. It adds the term "total shared detention costs" and defines it to mean:

> The amount of funds expended by the department for the costs of detention care for the prior fiscal year. This amount is including the most recent actual certify forward amounts minus any funds it expends on detention care for juveniles residing in fiscally constrained counties or out of state.

For Fiscal Year 2016-2017, the bill requires non-fiscally constrained counties to pay a total of $42.5 million, with each county paying its percentage share of detention use. A county's percentage share of that amount is determined by dividing the number of juvenile detention days for juveniles residing in that county in the most recently completed 12-month period by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all non-fiscally constrained counties during that time period. The bill requires that the DJJ calculate and provide each county with its percentage share by June 1, 2016. Each county is then required to pay its percentage share in 12 equal payments on the first of each month, beginning on July 1, 2016. The state is required to pay the remaining actual costs of detention care.

In Fiscal Year 2015-2016, non-fiscally constrained counties will pay a total of $54.3 million annually. Thus, the bill will reduce the total payment for non-fiscally constrained counties by approximately $11.8 million in Fiscal Year 2016-2017, as compared to what those counties will pay in Fiscal Year 2015-2016.

Beginning in Fiscal Year 2017-2018, the bill will require non-fiscally constrained counties to annually pay a total of 50 percent of total shared detention costs for the prior fiscal year. The bill requires the DJJ to provide each non-fiscally constrained county with its annual percentage share (based upon "the most recently completed 12-month period") of total shared detention costs by June 1, 2017 for Fiscal Year 2017-2018 and each successive fiscal year thereafter. Beginning July 1, non-fiscally constrained counties must make payments in 12 equal installments to the DJJ on the first day of each month of the fiscal year.

The bill continues current law requiring the state to pay the costs of detention in fiscally constrained counties, and codifies current practice by which the state pays detention costs for juveniles who are not residents of Florida. The bill also requires the state to pay all costs of [10] The administrative petitions are Case No. 15-6458 (Okaloosa County and Manatee County) and Case No. 15-6459 (Volusia County) and are set for hearing on February 19, 2016.

[11] The following counties are plaintiffs in civil complaints that include challenges to the revenue recovery provision: Alachua, Bay, Charlotte, Collier, Hillsborough, Manatee, Marion, Martin, Nassau, Okaloosa, Polk, St. Lucie, and Walton. The cases were all filed in the Circuit Court for the Second Judicial Circuit in and for Leon County and have been consolidated into Charlotte County, Florida et al. v. Daly, Case No. 2014 CA 1885 (Fla. 2d Judicial Circuit).

detention care for juveniles housed in state detention centers in counties that provide their own detention care.

Finally, this section of the bill deletes a statutory provision that requires the DOR and the counties to provide technical assistance to the DJJ in order to develop the most cost effective means of collecting payments.

Section 2 amends s. 985.6015(2), F.S., to remove references to predisposition juvenile detention.

Section 3 amends s. 985.688(11), F.S., to remove references to preadjudication detention and preadjudication detention care.

Section 4 provides that the bill will take effect upon becoming law.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The DJJ indicates that the total required payments for non-fiscally constrained counties in Fiscal Year 2015-2016 is $54.3 million.

Under PCS/SB 1322, the provision for non-fiscally constrained counties to pay a total of $42.5 million in shared detention costs for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 will make the counties responsible for paying $11.8 million less than in Fiscal Year 2015-2016. The DJJ estimates that it will need an appropriation of $8.8 million in general revenue funds above the amount appropriated for juvenile detention care in Senate Bill 2500, the Senate 2016-2017 General Appropriations Bill, to be able to offset the bill's reduction in the counties' payments for Fiscal Year 2016-2017.

For Fiscal Year 2017-2018, when the total costs for detention care for non-fiscally constrained counties will be split equally between the state and those counties, the DJJ estimates that it will need an appropriation of $6.2 million more in general revenue funds above the amount appropriated for juvenile detention care in SB 2500. The amount for subsequent years should be similar, with adjustments for variances in costs. The table below illustrates the current situation and the effect of the bill on cost sharing:

2015-2016	$91.5 mil	$37.2 mil	40.70%	N/A	N/A	$54.3 mil	59.30%	N/A
2016-2017	$91.5 mil	$49.0 mil	53.60%	$11.8 mil	$8.8 mil	$42.5 mil	46.40%	(11.8 mil)
2017-2018	$92.8 mil	$46.4 mil	50.00%	$ 9.2 mil	$6.2 mil	$46.4 mil	50.00%	(7.9 mil)

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

- Consideration should be given to amending lines 32-33 to read: "This amount includes the amount of funds certified forward during that fiscal year, but does not include any funds expended or certified forward for detention care for juveniles residing in fiscally constrained counties."
- On line 48, the word "actual" should be deleted to be consistent with the wording on lines 66-67 pertaining to the state paying the remaining costs of detention care.
- On lines 42 and 57-58, consideration should be given to amending the phrase "the most recently completed 12-month period" to allow sufficient time for the department to obtain detention data and calculate each county's annual share of detention days. For example, if the notice is required by June 1, the phrase could be "the 12-month period that ended on the previous April 30."
- The bill implies that the DJJ will provide each county with the total shared detention costs, but does not specify a due date for doing so. For Fiscal Year 2017-2018 and thereafter, it is impractical for the DJJ to be able to provide each county with the total shared detention costs necessary for the county to pay the first installment of its annual percentage share of total shared detention costs on July 1 of each year. Total shared detention costs are based on costs for the prior fiscal year, which ends on the day before the payments are due. Therefore, consideration should be given to requiring that the DJJ provide the total shared detention costs by July 15 and that each county's first payment be due on August 1 of each year. However, this will require adjustment of the payment schedule for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 so that there is not a gap in the requirement to make a payment each month.
- On line 57, the word "in" included in the phrase "in the most recently" should be replaced by "for" to be consistent with the wording of the phrase on lines 41-42.
- On line 79, the word "in" before the word "counties" should be replaced by "who are from." Generally, a juvenile is detained in the state detention center that serves the county in which he or she is taken into custody. The state detention center may not be in the same county where the child is taken into custody. It is the juvenile's county of residence, and not the county in which the state detention center is located, that determines whether the state pays all costs of detention care for the juvenile.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION

Senate . House

. . . . . .

The Committee on Appropriations (Latvala) recommended the following:

Senate Amendment (with title amendment)

Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Subsection (1) of section 985.686, Florida Statutes, is amended, paragraph (c) is added to subsection (2), subsections (3) through (8) of that section are amended, present subsections (9) and (11) of that section are redesignated as subsections (8) and (10), respectively, and present subsection (10) of that section is amended, to read:

985.686 Shared county and state responsibility for juvenile detention.—

(1)(a) It is the policy of this state that the state and the counties have a joint obligation, as provided in this section, to contribute to the financial support of the detention care provided for juveniles.

(b) The Legislature finds that various counties and the Department of Juvenile Justice have engaged in a multitude of legal proceedings regarding detention cost sharing for juveniles. Such litigation has largely focused on how the Department of Juvenile Justice calculates the detention costs that the counties are responsible for paying. Additionally, litigation pending in 2016 is a financial burden on the taxpayers of this state.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties and that have pending administrative or judicial claims or challenges file a notice of voluntary dismissal with prejudice to dismiss all actions pending on or before February 1, 2016, against the state or any state agency related to juvenile detention cost sharing. Furthermore, all counties that are not fiscally constrained shall execute a release and waiver of any existing or future claims and actions arising from detention cost sharing for the 2015-2016 fiscal year. The department may not seek reimbursement from counties complying with this subsection for any underpayment for any cost-sharing requirements before the 2016-2017 fiscal year.

(2) As used in this section, the term:

(c) "Total shared detention costs" means the amount of funds expended by the department for the costs of detention care for the prior fiscal year. This amount includes the most recent actual certify forward amounts minus any funds it expends on detention care for juveniles residing in fiscally constrained counties or out of state.

(3)(a) For the 2016-2017 fiscal year, and each fiscal year thereafter, each county that is not a fiscally constrained county and that has taken the action fulfilling the intent of this legislation as described in paragraph (1)(c) shall pay its annual percentage share of 50 percent of the total shared detention costs. By July 15, 2016, and each year thereafter, the department shall calculate and provide to each such county its annual percentage share by dividing the total number of detention days for juveniles residing in the county for the most recently completed 12-month period by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties during the same period. The annual percentage share of each county that is not a fiscally constrained county must be multiplied by 50 percent of the total shared detention costs to determine that county's share of detention costs. Beginning August 1, each county shall pay to the department its share of detention costs, which shall be paid in 12 equal payments due on the first day of each month. The state shall pay the remaining actual costs of detention care ~~Each county shall pay the costs of providing detention care, exclusive of the costs of any preadjudicatory nonmedical educational or therapeutic services and $2.5 million provided for additional medical and mental health care at the detention centers, for juveniles for the period of time prior to final~~

(b) For the 2016-2017 fiscal year, and each fiscal year thereafter, each county that is not a fiscally constrained county and that has not taken the action fulfilling the intent of this legislation as described in paragraph (1)(c) shall pay its annual percentage share of 57 percent of the total shared detention costs. By July 15, 2016, and each year thereafter, the department shall calculate and provide to each such county its annual percentage share by dividing the total number of detention days for juveniles residing in that county in the most recently completed 12-month period by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties during the same period. The annual percentage share of each county that is not a fiscally constrained county must be multiplied by 57 percent of the total shared detention costs to determine that county's share of detention costs. Beginning August 1, each county shall pay to the department its share of detention costs, which shall be paid in 12 equal payments due on the first day of each month. The state shall pay the remaining actual costs of detention care.

(4) ~~Notwithstanding subsection (3),~~ The state shall pay all costs of detention care for juveniles residing in ~~for which~~ a fiscally constrained county and for juveniles residing out of state ~~would otherwise be billed~~. The state shall pay all costs of detention care for juveniles housed in state detention centers from counties that provide their own detention care for juveniles.

~~(a) By October 1, 2004, the department shall develop a methodology for determining the amount of each fiscally constrained county's costs of detention care for juveniles, for the period of time prior to final court disposition, which must be paid by the state. At a minimum, this methodology must consider the difference between the amount appropriated to the department for offsetting the costs associated with the assignment of juvenile pretrial detention expenses to the fiscally constrained county and the total estimated costs to the fiscally constrained county, for the fiscal year, of detention care for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition.~~

~~(b) Subject to legislative appropriation and based on the methodology developed under paragraph (a), the department shall provide funding to offset the costs to fiscally constrained counties of detention care for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition. If county matching funds are required by the department to eliminate the difference calculated under paragraph (a) or the difference between the actual costs of the fiscally constrained counties and the amount appropriated in small county grants for use in mitigating such costs, that match amount must be allocated proportionately among all fiscally constrained counties.~~

(5) Each county that is not a fiscally constrained county shall incorporate into its annual county budget sufficient funds to pay its annual percentage share of the total shared detention costs required by subsection (3) ~~of detention care for juveniles who reside in that county for the period of time prior to final court disposition. This amount shall be based upon the prior use~~

~~of secure detention for juveniles who are residents of that county, as calculated by the department. Each county shall pay the estimated costs at the beginning of each month. Any difference between the estimated costs and actual costs shall be reconciled at the end of the state fiscal year~~.

(6) Funds paid by the counties to the department pursuant to this section must be deposited ~~Each county shall pay to the department for deposit~~ into the Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund ~~its share of the county's total costs for juvenile detention, based upon calculations published by the department with input from the counties~~.

(7) The department ~~of Juvenile Justice~~ shall determine each quarter whether the counties ~~of this state~~ are remitting funds as required ~~to the department their share of the costs of detention as required~~ by this section. If the department determines that a county is not remitting funds as required, the department shall direct the Department of Revenue to deduct the amount owed to the department from the funds provided to the county under s. 218.23. The Department of Revenue shall transfer the funds withheld to the Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund.

~~(8) The Department of Revenue and the counties shall provide technical assistance as necessary to the Department of Juvenile Justice in order to develop the most cost-effective means of collection.~~

(9) ~~(10)~~ This section does not apply to a ~~any~~ county that provides detention care for ~~preadjudicated~~ juveniles or that contracts with another county to provide detention care for ~~preadjudicated~~ juveniles.

Section 2. Subsection (2) of section 985.6015, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

985.6015 Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund.—

(2) The fund is established for use as a depository for funds to be used for ~~the~~ costs of ~~predisposition~~ juvenile detention. Moneys credited to the trust fund shall consist of funds from the counties' share of the costs for ~~predisposition~~ juvenile detention.

Section 3. Paragraph (a) of subsection (11) of section 985.688, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

986.688 Administering county and municipal delinquency programs and facilities.-

(11)(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a county is in compliance with this section if:

1. The county provides the full cost for ~~preadjudication~~ detention for juveniles;

2. The county authorizes the county sheriff, any other county jail operator, or a contracted provider located inside or outside the county to provide ~~preadjudication~~ detention care for juveniles;

3. The county sheriff or other county jail operator is accredited by the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission or American Correctional Association; and

4. The facility is inspected annually and meets the Florida Model Jail Standards.

Section 4. This act shall take effect upon coming law.

Beginning July 1, 2016, each county shall pay to the department its annual percentage share of $42.5 million, which shall be paid in 12 equal payments due on the first day of each month. The state shall pay the remaining actual costs of detention care. This paragraph expires June 30, 2017.

(b) For the 2017-2018 fiscal year, and each fiscal year thereafter, each county that is not a fiscally constrained county shall pay its annual percentage share of 50 percent of the total shared detention costs for the prior fiscal year. By June 1, 2017, and each year thereafter, the department shall calculate and provide to each such county its annual percentage share by dividing the total number of detention days for juveniles residing in that county in the most recently completed 12-month period by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties during the same period. The annual percentage share of each county that is not a fiscally constrained county must be multiplied by 50 percent of the total shared detention costs to determine that county's share of detention costs. Beginning July 1, each county shall pay to the department its share of detention costs, which shall be paid in 12 equal payments due on the first day of each month. The state shall pay the remaining costs of detention care ~~Each county shall pay the costs of providing detention care, exclusive of the costs of any preadjudicatory nonmedical educational or therapeutic services and $2.5 million provided for additional medical and mental health care at the detention centers, for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition. The department shall develop an accounts payable system to allocate costs that are payable by the counties.~~

(4) ~~Notwithstanding subsection (3),~~ The state shall pay all costs of detention care for juveniles residing in ~~for which~~ a fiscally constrained county and for juveniles residing out of state. The state shall pay all costs of detention care for juveniles housed in state detention centers in counties that provide their own detention care for juveniles ~~would otherwise be billed~~.

~~be paid by the state. At a minimum, this methodology must consider the difference between the amount appropriated to the department for offsetting the costs associated with the assignment of juvenile pretrial detention expenses to the fiscally constrained county and the total estimated costs to the fiscally constrained county, for the fiscal year, of detention care for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition.~~

~~(b) Subject to legislative appropriation and based on the methodology developed under paragraph (a), the department shall provide funding to offset the costs to fiscally constrained counties of detention care for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition. If county matching funds are required by the department to eliminate the difference calculated under paragraph (a) or the difference between the actual costs of the fiscally constrained counties and the amount appropriated in small county grants for use in mitigating such costs, that match amount must be allocated proportionately among all fiscally constrained counties.~~

(5) Each county that is not a fiscally constrained county shall incorporate into its annual county budget sufficient funds to pay its annual percentage share of 50 percent of the total shared detention costs ~~of detention care for juveniles who reside in that county for the period of time prior to final court disposition. This amount shall be based upon the prior use of secure detention for juveniles who are residents of that county, as calculated by the department. Each county shall pay the estimated costs at the beginning of each month. Any difference between the estimated costs and actual costs shall be~~

~~reconciled at the end of the state fiscal year~~.

(6) Funds paid by the counties to the department pursuant to this section must be deposited ~~Each county shall pay to the department for deposit~~ into the Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund ~~its share of the county's total costs for juvenile detention, based upon calculations published by the department with input from the counties~~.

(7) The department ~~of Juvenile Justice~~ shall determine each quarter whether the counties ~~of this state~~ are remitting funds as required ~~to the department their share of the costs of detention as required~~ by this section.

~~(8) The Department of Revenue and the counties shall provide technical assistance as necessary to the Department of Juvenile Justice in order to develop the most cost-effective means of collection.~~

(9)~~(10)~~ This section does not apply to a ~~any~~ county that provides detention care for ~~preadjudicated~~ juveniles or that contracts with another county to provide detention care for ~~preadjudicated~~ juveniles.

Section 2. Subsection (2) of section 985.6015, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

985.6015 Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund.—

(2) The fund is established for use as a depository for funds to be used for the costs of ~~predisposition~~ juvenile detention. Moneys credited to the trust fund shall consist of funds from the counties' share of the costs for ~~predisposition~~ juvenile detention.

Section 3. Paragraph (a) of subsection (11) of section

985.688, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

985.688 Administering county and municipal delinquency programs and facilities.—

(11)(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a county is in compliance with this section if:

1. The county provides the full cost for ~~preadjudication~~ detention for juveniles;

2. The county authorizes the county sheriff, any other county jail operator, or a contracted provider located inside or outside the county to provide ~~preadjudication~~ detention care for juveniles;

3. The county sheriff or other county jail operator is accredited by the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission or American Correctional Association; and

4. The facility is inspected annually and meets the Florida Model Jail Standards.

Section 4. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

BILL ANALYSIS AND FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

(This document is based on the provisions contained in the legislation as of the latest date listed below.)

Prepared By: The Professional Staff of the Committee on Appropriations

BILL:	SB 1322
INTRODUCER:	Senator Latvala
SUBJECT:	Juvenile Detention Costs
DATE:	February 24, 2016
REVISED:

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION
1.	Clodfelter	Sadberry	ACJ	Recommend: Fav/CS
2.	Clodfelter	Kynoch	AP	Pre-meeting
3.			RC

I. Summary:

SB 1322 creates a new cost sharing methodology for calculating the shared county and state financial obligations for juvenile detention that reduces the amount that will be paid by counties that are not fiscally constrained (non-fiscally constrained counties) compared to current law. The bill requires non-fiscally constrained counties to pay a total of $42.5 million for detention care costs in Fiscal Year 2016-2017, and requires the state to pay the remaining costs. In subsequent years, the bill requires each non-fiscally constrained county and the state to each pay 50 percent of the total costs of providing detention care in the county. The bill continues current law requiring the state to pay all costs for providing detention care for fiscally constrained counties and juveniles residing out of state.

The bill eliminates "final court disposition" as the demarcation between county and state financial obligations for juvenile detention, replacing it with a cost sharing relationship based on actual costs and county utilization.

The Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) indicates that the total required payments for non-fiscally constrained counties in Fiscal Year 2015-2016 is $54.3 million. The bill's provision for non-fiscally constrained counties to pay a total of $42.5 million in shared detention costs for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 will make the counties responsible for paying $11.8 million less than in Fiscal Year 2015-2016. The DJJ estimates that it will need an appropriation of $8.8 million in general revenue funds above the amount appropriated for juvenile detention care in Senate Bill 2500, the Senate proposed 2016-2017 General Appropriations Bill, to offset the bill's reduction in the counties' payments for Fiscal Year 2016-2017. For Fiscal Year 2017-2018, when the total costs for detention care for non-fiscally constrained counties will be split equally between the state and those counties, the DJJ estimates that it will need an appropriation of $6.2 million more in general revenue funds above the amount appropriated for juvenile detention care in SB 2500. The amount for subsequent years should be similar, with adjustments for variances in costs.

The bill takes effect upon becoming a law.

II. Present Situation:

The DJJ operates a statewide secure detention system for youth who are charged with committing delinquent acts. The detention care process begins when the DJJ receives custody of a juvenile from a law enforcement agency which has taken the juvenile into custody:

- Upon assuming custody, the DJJ decides whether to place the juvenile in detention care as provided in s. 985.25, F.S., based upon an assessment of risk as provided in s. 985.245, F.S.
- If the DJJ places the juvenile in detention care, a court hearing must be held within 24 hours of the time that the juvenile was taken into custody. At the hearing, the court considers a number of factors to determine whether the juvenile should be kept in continued detention. Section 985.255, F.S., provides these factors, which include current offenses, prior history, legal status, and aggravating or mitigating factors.
- If the court orders the juvenile to be held in secure detention, the detention cannot extend beyond 48 hours unless the court holds another hearing and finds in writing that continued detention is necessary to protect the victim from injury.
- The juvenile may be held in detention until a disposition hearing is held to determine whether the juvenile committed a delinquent act and, if necessary, until the juvenile is sentenced.[1]
- A juvenile who is adjudicated delinquent may be kept in detention for a limited time while awaiting placement in a residential commitment program.[2]

The detention program provides 24-hour care and supervision to juveniles in physically secure facilities, with educational programming provided by individual school districts. The DJJ detention staff transports detained youth to and from court and residential commitment facilities.

Currently, the DJJ operates secure detention facilities in 21 counties with a total of more than 1,300 beds. During Fiscal Year 2014-2015, the DJJ served a total of 15,580 individual youth in secure detention facilities. Marion County, Polk County, and Seminole County operate their own detention centers.

In 2004, the Legislature enacted s. 985.686, F.S., requiring joint financial participation by the state and counties in the provision of juvenile detention. The statute made counties responsible for pre-dispositional detention costs and the DJJ responsible for post-dispositional detention costs, costs for detention care in fiscally constrained counties,[3] and costs for out-of-state youth.

[1] Section 985.26, F.S., provides that pre-hearing detention care is limited to 21 days unless the court has commenced an adjudicatory hearing in good faith. For certain serious offenses, the time may be extended to 30 days before an adjudicatory hearing is commenced. There are also provisions for continued detention beyond these limits to account for continuances granted by the court. In such cases, the court must hold a hearing at the end of every 72 hour period to determine whether continued detention is appropriate and whether further continuance of the hearing is needed.

[2] Sections 985.26 and 985.27, F.S., govern the length of time that a juvenile may be held in detention care after an adjudication of delinquency.

[3] The term "fiscally constrained county" is currently defined to mean "a county within a rural area of opportunity as designated by the Governor pursuant to s. 288.0656, F.S., or each county for which the value of a mill will raise no more than $5 million in revenue, based on the certified school taxable value certified pursuant to s. 1011.62(4)(a)1.a., F.S., from the previous July 1. Currently, 29 counties are considered fiscally constrained. Prior to 2014, the definition referred to a "rural area of critical economic concern" rather than a "rural area of opportunity," but included the same criteria.

Historically, the counties were held responsible for 74 percent of detention costs and the state was responsible for 26 percent. The DJJ's apportionment of costs has been a source of administrative litigation by counties.

In June 2013, the First District Court of Appeal (DCA) affirmed an administrative law judge's order invalidating rules that the DJJ had promulgated in 2010 to clarify the state and the counties' responsibilities. According to the order, the rules at issue shifted a greater responsibility for costs to the counties than was required by the relevant statute. The opinion had the effect of significantly decreasing the counties' fiscal responsibility and increasing the state's financial responsibility.[4]

Administrative petitions have been filed to contest reconciliations for fiscal years since 2008-2009. The DJJ initially entered into stipulations relating to Fiscal Years 2009-2010, 2010-2011, and 2011-2012. These stipulations included all detention after violations of probation as solely in the state's share of costs. However, the DJJ subsequently determined the statute required that counties should pay for the costs of new law violations of probation and the state would pay for the costs of other violations of probation. In May 2014, the DJJ promulgated new rules to implement its understanding of the sharing of costs in accordance with the statute.[5] The Florida Association of Counties and a number of individual counties filed administrative challenges to the new rule.[6] In April 2015, the Division of Administrative Hearings (DOAH) upheld the DJJ's interpretation of "final court disposition" and other significant sections of the proposed rule.[7] The decision is currently on appeal in the First DCA.[8]

In 2014 and 2015, a number of counties ceased to pay, or paid a reduced portion, of their share of the costs of detention costs due to their dispute concerning the DJJ's billing. The Implementing Bill for the Fiscal Year 2015-2016 General Appropriations Act included a requirement for the DJJ to notify the Department of Revenue (DOR) when counties don't pay their share of the costs, and for the DOR to transfer funds from the counties revenue sharing accounts to the DJJ to make up any shortfall.[9] Volusia County has not paid its Fiscal Year 2015-2016 share, and Manatee and Okaloosa counties have made partial payments. These counties have file administrative petition challenging the revenue recovery provision in the DOAH[10], and a number of other counties have filed complaints in circuit court.[11]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 985.686, F.S., relating to shared county and state responsibility for juvenile detention. It adds the term "total shared detention costs" and defines it to mean:

> The amount of funds expended by the department for the costs of detention care in a calendar year, minus any funds it expends on detention care for juveniles residing in fiscally constrained counties or out of state and for postdisposition detention care in those counties that provide their own predisposition detention care for juveniles.

For Fiscal Year 2016-2017, the bill requires non-fiscally constrained counties to pay a total of $42.5 million, with each county paying its percentage share of detention use. A county's percentage share is determined by dividing the number of juvenile detention days for juveniles residing in that county in the prior calendar year by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all non-fiscally constrained counties during the prior calendar year. The bill requires that the DJJ calculate and provide each county with its percentage share by June 1, 2016. Each county is then required to pay its percentage share in 12 equal payments on the first of each month, beginning on July 1, 2016. The state is required to pay the remaining actual costs of detention care.

In Fiscal Year 2015-2016, non-fiscally constrained counties will pay a total of $54.3 million annually. Thus, the bill will reduce the total payment for non-fiscally constrained counties by approximately $11.8 million in Fiscal Year 2016-2017, as compared to what those counties will pay in Fiscal Year 2015-2016.

Beginning in Fiscal Year 2017-2018, the bill will require non-fiscally constrained counties to annually pay a total of 50 percent of total shared detention costs for the prior calendar year. The bill requires the DJJ to provide each non-fiscally constrained county with its annual percentage share of detention costs by February 1, 2017 for Fiscal Year 2017-2018, and by February 1 of each year thereafter for each successive fiscal year. As is required for Fiscal Year 2016-2017, payments to the DJJ must be made in 12 equal installments on the first day of each month of the fiscal year.

The bill continues current law requiring the state to pay the costs of detention in fiscally constrained counties, and codifies current practice by which the state pays detention costs for juveniles who are not residents of Florida. The bill also requires the state to pay all postdisposition costs of detention for juveniles in counties that provide their own predisposition detention care.

Finally, the bill deletes a statutory provision that requires the DOR and the counties to provide technical assistance to the DJJ in order to develop the most cost effective means of collecting payments.

Section 2 provides that the bill will take effect upon becoming law.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The DJJ indicates that the total required payments for non-fiscally constrained counties in Fiscal Year 2015-2016 is $54.3 million. Under SB 1322, the provision for non-fiscally constrained counties to pay a total of $42.5 million in shared detention costs for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 will make the counties responsible for paying $11.8 million less than in Fiscal Year 2015-2016. The DJJ estimates that it will need an appropriation of $8.8 million in general revenue funds above the amount appropriated for juvenile detention care in Senate Bill 2500, the Senate proposed 2016-2017 General Appropriations Bill, to be able to offset the bill's reduction in the counties' payments for Fiscal Year 2016-2017. For Fiscal Year 2017-2018, when the total costs for detention care for non-fiscally constrained counties will be split equally between the state and those counties, the DJJ estimates that it will need an appropriation of $6.2 million more in general revenue funds above the amount appropriated for juvenile detention care in SB 2500. The amount for subsequent years should be similar, with adjustments for variances in costs. The table below illustrates the current situation and the effect of the bill on cost sharing:

2017-2018	$92.8 mil	$46.4 mil	50.00%	$ 9.2 mil	$6.2 mil	$46.4 mil	50.00%	(7.9 mil)

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

The provision added to s. 985.686(4), F.S. (lines 76-78 of the bill) regarding responsibility for predisposition and postdisposition detention care costs for counties that maintain their own predisposition detention care is not necessary because the bill does not change current law that s. 985.686 does not apply to such counties.

This bill substantially amends section 985.686 of the Florida Statutes.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION

Senate . House

. . . . .

The Committee on Appropriations (Latvala) recommended the following:

Senate Amendment (with title amendment)

Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Subsection (1) of section 985.686, Florida Statutes, is amended, paragraph (c) is added to subsection (2), subsections (3) through (8) of that section are amended, present subsections (9) and (11) of that section are redesignated as subsections (8) and (10), respectively, and present subsection (10) of that section is amended, to read:

985.686 Shared county and state responsibility for juvenile detention.—

(1)(a) It is the policy of this state that the state and the counties have a joint obligation, as provided in this section, to contribute to the financial support of the detention care provided for juveniles.

(b) The Legislature finds that various counties and the Department of Juvenile Justice have engaged in a multitude of legal proceedings regarding detention cost sharing for juveniles. Such litigation has largely focused on how the Department of Juvenile Justice calculates the detention costs that the counties are responsible for paying. Additionally, litigation pending in 2016 is a financial burden on the taxpayers of this state.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties and that have pending administrative or judicial claims or challenges file a notice of voluntary dismissal with prejudice to dismiss all actions pending on or before February 1, 2016, against the state or any state agency related to juvenile detention cost sharing. Furthermore, all counties that are not fiscally constrained shall execute a release and waiver of any existing or future claims and actions arising from detention cost sharing for the 2015-2016 fiscal year. The department may not seek reimbursement from counties complying with this subsection for any underpayment for any cost-sharing requirements before the 2016-2017 fiscal year.

(2) As used in this section, the term:

(c) "Total shared detention costs" means the amount of funds expended by the department for the costs of detention care for the prior fiscal year. This amount includes the most recent actual certify forward amounts minus any funds it expends on detention care for juveniles residing in fiscally constrained counties or out of state.

(3)(a) For the 2016-2017 fiscal year, and each fiscal year thereafter, each county that is not a fiscally constrained county and that has taken the action fulfilling the intent of this legislation as described in paragraph (1)(c) shall pay its annual percentage share of 50 percent of the total shared detention costs. By July 15, 2016, and each year thereafter, the department shall calculate and provide to each such county its annual percentage share by dividing the total number of detention days for juveniles residing in the county for the most recently completed 12-month period by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties during the same period. The annual percentage share of each county that is not a fiscally constrained county must be multiplied by 50 percent of the total shared detention costs to determine that county's share of detention costs. Beginning August 1, each county shall pay to the department its share of detention costs, which shall be paid in 12 equal payments due on the first day of each month. The state shall pay the remaining actual costs of detention care ~~Each county shall pay the costs of providing detention care, exclusive of the costs of any preadjudicatory nonmedical educational or therapeutic services and $2.5 million provided for additional medical and mental health care at the detention centers, for juveniles for the period of time prior to final~~

(b) For the 2016-2017 fiscal year, and each fiscal year thereafter, each county that is not a fiscally constrained county and that has not taken the action fulfilling the intent of this legislation as described in paragraph (1)(c) shall pay its annual percentage share of 57 percent of the total shared detention costs. By July 15, 2016, and each year thereafter, the department shall calculate and provide to each such county its annual percentage share by dividing the total number of detention days for juveniles residing in that county in the most recently completed 12-month period by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties during the same period. The annual percentage share of each county that is not a fiscally constrained county must be multiplied by 57 percent of the total shared detention costs to determine that county's share of detention costs. Beginning August 1, each county shall pay to the department its share of detention costs, which shall be paid in 12 equal payments due on the first day of each month. The state shall pay the remaining actual costs of detention care.

(4) ~~Notwithstanding subsection (3),~~ The state shall pay all costs of detention care for juveniles residing in ~~for which~~ a fiscally constrained county and for juveniles residing out of state ~~would otherwise be billed~~. The state shall pay all costs of detention care for juveniles housed in state detention centers from counties that provide their own detention care for juveniles.

~~(a) By October 1, 2004, the department shall develop a methodology for determining the amount of each fiscally constrained county's costs of detention care for juveniles, for the period of time prior to final court disposition, which must be paid by the state. At a minimum, this methodology must consider the difference between the amount appropriated to the department for offsetting the costs associated with the assignment of juvenile pretrial detention expenses to the fiscally constrained county and the total estimated costs to the fiscally constrained county, for the fiscal year, of detention care for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition.~~

~~(b) Subject to legislative appropriation and based on the methodology developed under paragraph (a), the department shall provide funding to offset the costs to fiscally constrained counties of detention care for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition. If county matching funds are required by the department to eliminate the difference calculated under paragraph (a) or the difference between the actual costs of the fiscally constrained counties and the amount appropriated in small county grants for use in mitigating such costs, that match amount must be allocated proportionately among all fiscally constrained counties.~~

(5) Each county that is not a fiscally constrained county shall incorporate into its annual county budget sufficient funds to pay its annual percentage share of the total shared detention costs required by subsection (3) ~~of detention care for juveniles who reside in that county for the period of time prior to final court disposition. This amount shall be based upon the prior use~~

~~of secure detention for juveniles who are residents of that county, as calculated by the department. Each county shall pay the estimated costs at the beginning of each month. Any difference between the estimated costs and actual costs shall be reconciled at the end of the state fiscal year~~.

(6) Funds paid by the counties to the department pursuant to this section must be deposited ~~Each county shall pay to the department for deposit~~ into the Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund ~~its share of the county's total costs for juvenile detention, based upon calculations published by the department with input from the counties~~.

(7) The department ~~of Juvenile Justice~~ shall determine each quarter whether the counties ~~of this state~~ are remitting funds as required ~~to the department their share of the costs of detention as required~~ by this section. If the department determines that a county is not remitting funds as required, the department shall direct the Department of Revenue to deduct the amount owed to the department from the funds provided to the county under s. 218.23. The Department of Revenue shall transfer the funds withheld to the Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund.

~~(8) The Department of Revenue and the counties shall provide technical assistance as necessary to the Department of Juvenile Justice in order to develop the most cost-effective means of collection.~~

(9)~~(10)~~ This section does not apply to a ~~any~~ county that provides detention care for ~~preadjudicated~~ juveniles or that contracts with another county to provide detention care for ~~preadjudicated~~ juveniles.

Section 2. Subsection (2) of section 985.6015, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

985.6015 Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund.—

(2) The fund is established for use as a depository for funds to be used for ~~the~~ costs of ~~predisposition~~ juvenile detention. Moneys credited to the trust fund shall consist of funds from the counties' share of the costs for ~~predisposition~~ juvenile detention.

Section 3. Paragraph (a) of subsection (11) of section 985.688, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

986.688 Administering county and municipal delinquency programs and facilities.-

(11)(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, a county is in compliance with this section if:

1. The county provides the full cost for ~~preadjudication~~ detention for juveniles;

2. The county authorizes the county sheriff, any other county jail operator, or a contracted provider located inside or outside the county to provide ~~preadjudication~~ detention care for juveniles;

3. The county sheriff or other county jail operator is accredited by the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission or American Correctional Association; and

4. The facility is inspected annually and meets the Florida Model Jail Standards.

Section 4. This act shall take effect upon coming law.

An act relating to juvenile detention costs; amending s. 985.686, F.S.; defining a term; revising the annual contributions by certain counties for the costs of detention care for juveniles; revising the methodology by which the Department of Juvenile Justice determines the percentage share for each county; requiring the state to pay all costs of detention care for juveniles residing out of state and for certain postdisposition detention care; deleting a requirement that the Department of Revenue and the counties provide certain technical assistance to the Department of Juvenile Justice; revising the applicability of specified provisions; providing an effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Paragraph (c) is added to subsection (2) of section 985.686, Florida Statutes, present subsections (9) and (11) of that section are redesignated as subsections (8) and (10), respectively, and subsections (3) through (7) and present subsections (8) and (10) of that section are amended, to read:

985.686 Shared county and state responsibility for juvenile detention.—

(2) As used in this section, the term:

(c) "Total shared detention costs" means the amount of funds expended by the department for the costs of detention care in a calendar year, minus any funds it expends on detention care for juveniles residing in fiscally constrained counties or out of state and for postdisposition detention care in those counties that provide their own predisposition detention care for juveniles.

(3)(a) For the 2016-2017 fiscal year, each county that is not a fiscally constrained county shall pay to the department its annual percentage share of $42.5 million. By June 1, 2016, the department shall calculate and provide to each such county its annual percentage share by dividing the total number of detention days for juveniles residing in that county in the prior calendar year by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties in the prior calendar year. Beginning July 1, 2016, each county shall pay to the department its annual percentage share of $42.5 million, which shall be paid in 12 equal payments due on the first day of each month. The state shall pay the remaining actual costs of detention care. This paragraph expires June 30, 2017.

(b) For the 2017-2018 fiscal year, and each fiscal year thereafter, each county that is not a fiscally constrained county shall pay its annual percentage share of 50 percent of the total shared detention costs for the prior calendar year. By February 1, 2017, and each year thereafter, the department shall calculate and provide to each such county its annual percentage share by dividing the total number of detention days for juveniles residing in that county in the prior calendar year by the total number of detention days for juveniles in all counties that are not fiscally constrained counties in the prior calendar year. The annual percentage share of each county that is not a fiscally constrained county must be multiplied by 50 percent of the total shared detention cost for the prior calendar year to determine that county's share of detention costs. Beginning July 1, each county shall pay to the department its share of detention costs for the prior calendar year, which shall be paid in 12 equal payments due on the first day of each month. The state shall pay the remaining actual costs of detention care ~~Each county shall pay the costs of providing detention care, exclusive of the costs of any preadjudicatory nonmedical educational or therapeutic services and $2.5 million provided for additional medical and mental health care at the detention centers, for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition. The department shall develop an accounts payable system to allocate costs that are payable by the counties.~~

(4) ~~Notwithstanding subsection (3),~~ The state shall pay all costs of detention care for juveniles residing in ~~for which~~ a fiscally constrained county and for juveniles residing out of state. The state shall pay all costs of postdisposition detention care for those counties that provide their own predisposition detention care for juveniles ~~would otherwise be billed~~.

~~(a) By October 1, 2004, the department shall develop a methodology for determining the amount of each fiscally constrained county's costs of detention care for juveniles, for the period of time prior to final court disposition, which must be paid by the state. At a minimum, this methodology must consider the difference between the amount appropriated to the department for offsetting the costs associated with the assignment of juvenile pretrial detention expenses to the fiscally constrained county and the total estimated costs to the fiscally constrained county, for the fiscal year, of detention care for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition.~~

~~(b) Subject to legislative appropriation and based on the methodology developed under paragraph (a), the department shall provide funding to offset the costs to fiscally constrained counties of detention care for juveniles for the period of time prior to final court disposition. If county matching funds are required by the department to eliminate the difference calculated under paragraph (a) or the difference between the actual costs of the fiscally constrained counties and the amount appropriated in small county grants for use in mitigating such costs, that match amount must be allocated proportionately among all fiscally constrained counties.~~

(5) Each county that is not a fiscally constrained county shall incorporate into its annual county budget sufficient funds to pay its annual percentage share of 50 percent of the total shared detention costs for the prior calendar ~~of detention care for juveniles who reside in that county for the period of time prior to final court disposition. This amount shall be based upon the prior use of secure detention for juveniles who are residents of that county, as calculated by the department. Each county shall pay the estimated costs at the beginning of each month. Any difference between the estimated costs and actual costs shall be reconciled at the end of the state fiscal~~ year.

(6) Funds paid by the counties to the department pursuant to this section must be deposited ~~Each county shall pay to the department for deposit~~ into the Shared County/State Juvenile Detention Trust Fund ~~its share of the county's total costs for juvenile detention, based upon calculations published by the department with input from the counties~~.

(7) The department ~~of Juvenile Justice~~ shall determine each quarter whether the counties ~~of this state~~ are remitting funds as required ~~to the department their share of the costs of detention as required~~ by this section.

~~(8) The Department of Revenue and the counties shall provide technical assistance as necessary to the Department of Juvenile Justice in order to develop the most cost-effective means of collection.~~

(9)~~(10)~~ This section does not apply to a ~~any~~ county that provides detention care for preadjudicated juveniles or that contracts with another county to provide predisposition detention care for ~~preadjudicated~~ juveniles.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1370 authorizes the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) to certify that a Medicaid provider is "out of business" and that any overpayments made to that provider cannot be collected. Such an authorization allows Florida to use a federal exemption from repayment of the mandatory Medicaid federal share for provider overpayments.

The bill removes obsolete technology references to expand the types of tools available to the AHCA to curb fraud and Medicaid overpayments.

The bill has a potentially positive fiscal impact to the state.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Florida Medicaid Program

The Florida Medicaid program is a partnership between the federal and state governments. Each state operates its own Medicaid program under a state plan that must be approved by the federal Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS). The state plan outlines Medicaid eligibility standards, policies, and reimbursement methodologies.

Florida Medicaid is administered by the AHCA and financed with federal and state funds. Over 3.9 million Floridians are currently enrolled in Medicaid, and the program's estimated expenditures for the 2015-2016 fiscal year are over $24.9 billion.[1]

Medicaid provider agreements are voluntary contracts between the provider and the AHCA under s. 409.907, F.S., and specifies that a person or entity who enrolls in Medicaid as a provider agrees to comply with all laws, rules, and policies relating to the Medicaid program. Additionally, s. 409.907(4), F.S., specifically states:

> (4) A provider agreement shall provide that, if the provider sells or transfers a business interest or practice that substantially constitutes the entity named as the provider in the provider agreement, or sells or transfers a facility that is of substantial importance to the entity named as the provider in the provider agreement, the provider is required to maintain and make available to the agency Medicaid-related records that relate to the sale or transfer of the business interest, practice, or facility in the same manner as though the sale or transaction had not taken place, unless the provider enters into an agreement with the purchaser of the business interest, practice, or facility to fulfill this requirement.

Office of Medicaid Program Integrity

The Office of Medicaid Program Integrity (MPI), a unit within the Office of the Inspector General at AHCA, audits Medicaid providers and determines if an overpayment has occurred requiring a provider to return funds to the Medicaid program. The AHCA also works jointly with the Medicaid Fraud Control Unit (MFCU) of the Department of Legal Affairs to prevent, reduce, and mitigate health care fraud, waste, and abuse. Because audits are often retrospective in nature and completed on claims data that may be two to five years old, the Medicaid provider may have gone out of business, moved, or may not otherwise be able to be located when the audit has been completed.

The MPI is statutorily required to develop statistical methodologies to identify providers who exhibit aberrant billing patterns.[2] The MPI uses these methods to perform comprehensive audits and analyses of Medicaid providers. Overpayments identified through these audits are referred to the AHCA's Division of Operations, Bureau of Financial Services for collection.[3]

Any suspected criminal violation identified by the AHCA must be referred to the MFCU of the Office of the Attorney General for investigation.[4] The MFCU is responsible for investigating and prosecuting provider fraud within the Medicaid program which commonly involves fraud related to providers billing for services not provided, overcharging for services that are provided, or billing for services that are medically unnecessary.[5] The AHCA and the MFCU are required to submit an annual joint report to the Legislature documenting the effectiveness of the state's efforts to control Medicaid fraud and abuse and to recover Medicaid overpayments during the previous fiscal year.[6]

When the AHCA discovers an overpayment has been made to a provider that has since gone out of business, a refund from the provider is still pursued, but, historically, less than one percent of such overpayment debts are recovered.[7]

Under federal law, the state is required to refund to federal CMS the federal share of the overpayment no later than one year after the state discovers that an overpayment has been made, regardless of whether the state has collected a refund from the provider.[8]

However, federal law provides that the requirement to refund the federal share to CMS can be waived in cases in which the state is unable to recover the overpayment because the provider has been determined bankrupt or out of business.[9] For an out-of-business provider, in order for the federal refund requirement to be waived, the state must, within one year of discovering the overpayment:

- Document its efforts to locate the provider and its assets; and
- Make available an affidavit or certification from the appropriate state legal authority establishing that the provider is out of business and that the overpayment cannot be collected under state law and procedures.[10]

Currently, the AHCA is not afforded a means under state law and procedures to certify that a Medicaid provider is out of business. Therefore, the provision for the federal refund requirement to be waived cannot be triggered. During Fiscal Year 2012-13, the AHCA was required to refund to CMS approximately $520,000, which represented the federal share of overpayments made to providers that had gone out of business. In Fiscal Year 2011-12, the sum was approximately $2.9 million.[11]

Home Health Care Services Monitoring Project

The Florida Medicaid program has implemented several programs to ensure its recipients do not receive unnecessary and inappropriate medical care and that providers bill for services actually provided. The AHCA manages a number of quality improvement and prior authorization projects to ensure that Medicaid recipients receive medically necessary, quality care in the most cost effective manner.[12] One of the Medicaid services subject to quality improvement or prior authorization is home health services. Sandata Technologies, LLC, currently verifies the utilization and delivery of home health services through a telephone verification system using a technology called biometrics.[13] The databases contain information on home health agency staff, recipients, service authorizations, visit schedules, visit verifications, and billing activity.[14]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 409.908, F.S., to authorize the AHCA to certify a Medicaid provider as "out of business."

Section 2 amends s. 409.9132, F.S., to remove a reference to telephonic technology for the verification of home health service visits. This section authorizes the AHCA to use technology that is effective for identifying delivery of home health services and deterring fraudulent and abusive billing for the service. Alternate advanced technology may be available at this time.

Section 3 reenacts subsection (4) of s. 409.8132, F.S., relating to the Medikids program for the purposes of incorporating the changes to s. 409.908(25), F.S. This section is included as a cross-reference of Medicaid statutes that are also applicable to the Medikids program.

Section 4 provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

Private vendors who provide technology that verify the delivery of home health visits may also benefit from the ability of the AHCA to use alternative methods of identifying and deterring fraud and abuse in the Medicaid program.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The AHCA estimates the bill would result in the anticipated average retention of $1 million to $3 million per state fiscal year in federal dollars to the state.[15] Electronic verification for home health services was mandated to help curb fraud and abuse for these services. With the majority of Medicaid recipients receiving services through managed care plans, electronic visit verification has been reduced from being statewide to operating in eight counties where service utilization remains relatively high.[16] The AHCA will be able to procure a more effective form of an electronic visit verification system upon expiration of its current system with the modification under this bill.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 409.908 and 409.9132.

A bill to be entitled

An act relating to Medicaid provider overpayments; amending s. 409.908, F.S.; authorizing the Agency for Health Care Administration to certify that a Medicaid provider is out of business and that overpayments made to a provider cannot be collected under state law; amending s. 409.9132, F.S.; revising the manner in which the Medicaid program verifies a vendor's visits for the delivery of home health services; reenacting s. 409.8132(4), F.S., to incorporate the amendment made to s. 409.908, F.S., in a reference thereto; providing an effective date.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsection (25) is added to section 409.908, Florida Statutes, to read:

409.908 Reimbursement of Medicaid providers.—Subject to specific appropriations, the agency shall reimburse Medicaid providers, in accordance with state and federal law, according to methodologies set forth in the rules of the agency and in policy manuals and handbooks incorporated by reference therein. These methodologies may include fee schedules, reimbursement methods based on cost reporting, negotiated fees, competitive bidding pursuant to s. 287.057, and other mechanisms the agency considers efficient and effective for purchasing services or goods on behalf of recipients. If a provider is reimbursed based on cost reporting and submits a cost report late and that cost report would have been used to set a lower reimbursement rate for a rate semester, then the provider's rate for that semester shall be retroactively calculated using the new cost report, and full payment at the recalculated rate shall be effected retroactively. Medicare-granted extensions for filing cost reports, if applicable, shall also apply to Medicaid cost reports. Payment for Medicaid compensable services made on behalf of Medicaid eligible persons is subject to the availability of moneys and any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act or chapter 216. Further, nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent or limit the agency from adjusting fees, reimbursement rates, lengths of stay, number of visits, or number of services, or making any other adjustments necessary to comply with the availability of moneys and any limitations or directions provided for in the General Appropriations Act, provided the adjustment is consistent with legislative intent.

(25) In accordance with 42 C.F.R. s. 433.318(d), the agency may certify that a Medicaid provider is out of business and that any overpayments made to the provider cannot be collected under state law and procedures.

Section 2. Section 409.9132, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

409.9132 Pilot project to monitor home health services.—The Agency for Health Care Administration shall expand the home health agency monitoring pilot project in Miami-Dade County on a statewide basis effective July 1, 2012, except in counties in which the program is not cost-effective, as determined by the agency. The agency shall contract with a vendor to verify the utilization and delivery of home health services and provide an electronic billing interface for home health services. The contract must require the creation of a program to submit claims electronically for the delivery of home health services. The program must verify ~~telephonically~~ visits for the delivery of home health services by using technology that is effective for identifying delivery of the home health services and deterring fraudulent or abusive billing for these services ~~voice biometrics~~. The agency may seek amendments to the Medicaid state plan and waivers of federal laws, as necessary, to implement or expand the pilot project. Notwithstanding s. 287.057(3)(e), the agency must award the contract through the competitive solicitation process and may use the current contract to expand the home health agency monitoring pilot project to include additional counties as authorized under this section.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 1422 revises provisions within the Insurance Code relating to solvency requirements and regulatory oversight of insurers by the Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR).

The bill implements the Risk Management and Own Risk and Solvency Assessment (ORSA) Model Act and the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act. The model acts originated from the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' Solvency Modernization Initiative.

Specifically, the bill:

- Provides criteria for the OIR to exempt certain insurers and insurance groups and to provide waivers of ORSA requirements;
- Provides that the ORSA and Corporate Governance filings and related documents are privileged and not subject to subpoena or discovery directly from the OIR;
- Authorizes the OIR to retain third-party consultants to assist in its administration of the bill and specifies requirements for such third-party consultants;
- Authorizes the Financial Services Commission to adopt rules to implement the ORSA and Corporate Governance requirements; and
- Authorizes the OIR to impose sanctions for failure to submit ORSA summary reports or Corporate Governance reports.

There is an insignificant fiscal impact to the OIR that can be handled within existing resources. The bill is effective October 1, 2016, and is contingent upon SB 1416 (Public Record Exemption) becoming law.

II. Present Situation:

State Regulation of Insurance

States are the primary regulators of insurance companies. The state of domicile serves as the primary regulator for insurers. Solvency regulation is designed to protect policyholders against the risk that insurers will not be able to meet their financial responsibilities. The OIR[1] is primarily responsible for monitoring the solvency of regulated insurers and examining insurers to determine compliance with applicable laws, and taking administrative action, if necessary. Solvency regulation includes the requirements for starting and operating an insurance company,[2] monitoring the financial condition of insurers through examinations and audits, and procedures for the administrative supervision,[3] rehabilitation,[4] or liquidation[5] of an insurance company if it is in unsound financial condition or insolvent.

National Association of Insurance Commissioners Model Acts

The National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) is a voluntary association of insurance regulators from all 50 states. The NAIC coordinates regulation and examination of multistate insurers, provides a forum for addressing major insurance issues, and promotes uniform model laws among the states. The NAIC accreditation is a certification that a state insurance regulator is fulfilling legal, financial, and organizational standards. The NAIC establishes accreditation effective dates for states to adopt in substantially similar form models and acts for purposes of NAIC accreditation review. As a member of the NAIC, the OIR is required to participate in the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program. The OIR is accredited by the NAIC. The last five-year review occurred in 2013.

In response to the 2008 financial crisis, the NAIC launched the Solvency Modernization Initiative to review existing solvency oversight tools and early warning mechanisms and identify areas of potential improvement. Two of the model acts emanating from this initiative are the ORSA Model Act and the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act.

The ORSA Model Act

The ORSA Model Act requires insurers to conduct their own internal assessment of all reasonably foreseeable and relevant material risks (e.g., underwriting, credit, market) potentially affecting their ability to meet policyholder obligations. This information will provide regulators

[3] Administrative supervision allows the Department of Financial Services (DFS) to supervise the management of a consenting troubled insurance company in an attempt to cure the company's troubles rather than close it down.
[4] In rehabilitation, the DFS is authorized as receiver to conduct all business of the insurer in an attempt to place the insurance company back in sound financial condition.
[5] In liquidation, the DFS is authorized as receiver to gather the insurance company's assets, convert them to cash, distribute them to various claimants, and shut down the company.

with a more comprehensive view of the ability of an insurer to withstand financial stress. According to the ORSA Model Act and ORSA Guidance Manual, the ORSA has two primary goals: "to foster an effective level of Enterprise Risk Management…;" and "provide a group-level perspective on risk and capital, as a supplement to the existing legal entity view."[6]

The ORSA Model Act requires insurers (or an insurance group, as applicable) to:

- Maintain a risk management framework for identifying assessing, monitoring, managing and reporting on its material and relevant risks;
- Conduct an ORSA at least annually; and
- File an ORSA summary report based on the ORSA Guidance Manual with their domestic regulator or lead state (for an insurance group) beginning in 2017.

The ORSA Model Act and ORSA Guidance Manual give the insurer and insurance group flexibility with respect to the form and content of the ORSA summary report, recognizing that each insurer and insurance group's business, strategic planning, and approach to enterprise risk management is unique. The ORSA summary reports are filed with the lead state regulator of the insurance group. Depending on the group, the OIR may or may not be the lead state regulator.

Insurers with direct premium below $500 million and an insurance group of which the insurer is a member with premium below $1 billion are exempt from the requirements of the ORSA Model Act. However, based on "unique circumstances," the OIR may require an exempt insurer to file an ORSA summary report. The OIR may waive the filing requirement for non-exempt insurers.

The ORSA Model Act is an NAIC accreditation standard effective January 1, 2018. Thirty-four[7] jurisdictions have adopted a substantially similar version of the ORSA Model Act. Florida has not yet adopted it in any form.

Corporate Governance Model Act

During full-scope, onsite financial examinations, the OIR obtains some information on insurer governance structures, processes and practices. However, these examinations are typically limited to domestic insurers and occur only once every five years.[8] During the interval between these examinations, the OIR's access to insurer governance practices is more limited. This can mask changes and activities having a substantial bearing on the financial condition of the insurer.

The Corporate Governance Model Act is designed to provide insurance regulators with sufficient information on insurer governance structures, practices, and processes through an annual disclosure. The Corporate Governance Model Act does not mandate any particular standards or procedures beyond those already provided under state law. The NAIC simultaneously adopted a Corporate Governance Model Regulation that delineates the contents of the annual disclosure.

[8] Section 624.316 (2)(a), F.S., provides that the OIR may examine each insurer as often as may be warranted for the protection of the policyholders and in the public interest, and shall examine each domestic insurer not less frequently than once every 5 years.

Insurers or insurer groups must file a Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure with their domestic regulator or the lead state regulator (for an insurance group) no later than June 1 of each year beginning in 2017. The key items in the Corporate Governance disclosure include:

- The insurer's corporate governance framework and structure including duties and structure of the Board of Directors and its committees;
- The policies and practices of its Board of Directors and significant committees including appointment practices, the frequency of meetings held and review procedures;
- The policies and practices directing Senior Management including a description of defined suitability standards, the insurer's code of conduct and ethics, performance evaluation and compensation practices, and succession planning; and
- The processes by which the Board of Directors, its committees and senior management ensure an appropriate level of oversight to the critical risk areas impacting the insurer's business activities including risk management processes, the actuarial function, and investment, reinsurance and business strategy decision-making processes.

The Corporate Governance Model Act is expected to become an NAIC accreditation standard.[9] According to the NAIC, five states[10] have adopted a version of the Corporate Governance Model Act in a substantially similar form. Florida has not adopted it.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 creates s. 628.8015, F.S., which requires insurers or insurance groups (if applicable), to file an ORSA and Corporate Governance information with their domestic regulator or lead state, beginning in 2017.

Definitions

In addition to defining "corporate governance annual disclosure," "ORSA," "ORSA guidance manual," and "ORSA summary report," the bill defines the following:

- "Insurer" is defined to have the same meaning as in s. 624.03, F.S.,[11] but excludes state and federal agencies, authorities, instrumentalities, possessions, territories, or political subdivisions of a state.
- "Insurance group" is defined to mean insurers and affiliates included within an insurance holding company system.
- "Senior management" is defined to mean any corporate officer responsible for reporting information to the board of directors at regular intervals or providing information to shareholders or regulators. This includes, but is not limited to, a number of executives such as chief executive officer, chief financial officer, and chief risk officer.

[9] According to the NAIC, "The F Committee currently has out for a one year exposure the 2014 revisions to Models #305 and #306 for inclusion to the Accreditation Part A standards. The exposure period for this will end 12/31/2016. The F Committee will discuss this again at the 2017 Spring National Meeting and likely expose it for 30 days after – then consider adoption at the 2017 Summer National Meeting...if the Committee votes to adopt them into the Part A standards, the earliest it could be required for accreditation would be 1/1/19. There is a possibility the timeline could change." NAIC correspondence (Jan. 19, 2016) (on file with Senate Committee on Banking and Insurance).

[10] California, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, and Vermont have adopted the model act. Office of Insurance Regulation, Senate Bill 1422 Legislative Analysis (Jan. 22, 2016) (on file with Banking and Insurance Committee).

[11] Section 624.03, F.S., defines "insurer" to mean every person engaged as an indemnitor, surety, or contractor in the business of entering into contracts of insurance or of annuity.

ORSA Provisions

The bill incorporates the three major components of the ORSA, to require insurers or insurance groups to:

- Maintain a risk management framework for identifying, assessing, monitoring, managing, and reporting on its material, relevant risks;
  - This requirement may be satisfied by being a member of an insurance group with a risk management framework applicable to the insurer's operations;
- Conduct an ORSA at least annually (and whenever there have been significant changes to the risk profile of the insurer or the insurance group), consistent with and comparable to the process in the ORSA Guidance Manual;[12]
- File an ORSA summary report, based on the ORSA Guidance Manual, with their domestic regulator or lead state (for an insurance group), beginning in 2017, which must:
  - Be submitted once every calendar year;
  - Include notification to the OIR of its proposed annual submission date by December 1, 2016; the initial ORSA summary report must be submitted by December 31, 2017;
  - Include a brief description of material changes and updates from the prior year's report;
  - Be signed by the chief risk officer or chief executive officer responsible for overseeing the enterprise risk management process; provide copy to board of directors or appropriate board committee; and
  - Be prepared in accordance with the ORSA guidance manual and insurer must maintain and make available for OIR examination documentation and supporting information.

ORSA Exemption & Waiver

The bill exempts an insurer from the ORSA requirement if:

- Its annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium is less than $500 million (excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and the National Flood Insurance Program), or
- It is a member of an insurance group with an annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium of $1 billion or less (excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and the National Flood Insurance Program).[13]

The bill also creates reporting obligations, contingent on the exempt status of the insurer and its insurance group. The OIR may still require an exempt insurer to maintain a risk management framework, conduct an ORSA, and file an ORSA summary report based on certain circumstances, such as risk-based capital that triggers a company-action-level event,[14] the exhibition of qualities of an insurer in hazardous financial condition, or if submission of the report is in the best interests of the state. In addition, the bill allows OIR to grant a waiver to an otherwise non-exempt insurer based on unique circumstances, and specifies criteria for the OIR to consider.

[12] The bill defines "ORSA guidance manual" as the ORSA manual developed and adopted by the NAIC. See NAIC, ORSA Guidance Manual (Jul. 2014), at http://www.naic.org/store/free/ORSA_manual.pdf.

[13] According to the OIR, two property and casualty insurer groups and five life and health insurer groups meet the ORSA threshold and have Florida as the lead state. OIR, Q&A on ORSA and CGAD (Nov. 15, 2015), on file with the Banking and Insurance Committee.

[14] Section 624.81(11), F.S., authorizes the OIR to place an insurer under administrative supervision and order corrective action if the insurer is in unsound condition, exceeds its powers granted under its certificate of authority, or its practices are hazardous to the public. Commission rule defines "hazardous financial condition" in accordance with NAIC model regulation. Rule 69O-141.002, F.A.C.

Corporate Governance

The bill requires insurers or insurer members of insurance groups (of which the OIR is the lead state regulator) to submit a Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure every June 1, with an initial disclosure to be submitted by December 31, 2018. The chief executive officer or corporate officer must sign the disclosure, and must describe the insurer or insurance group's governance framework and structure, relevant policies and practices, and processes for overseeing critical risk areas affecting business activities.

The bill specifies that the OIR may require the submission of the annual disclosure prior to December 31, 2018:

- Based on unique circumstances including type and volume of business written, ownership and structure, and federal and international requests.
- If the insurer meets one of the standards of an insurer deemed to be in a hazardous financial condition or exhibits qualities of an insurer in hazardous financial condition.
- If the insurer is a member of an insurance group where the OIR is the lead state regulator.
- If the OIR determines that is in the best interest of the state.

The bill allows insurers and insurance groups to provide corporate governance information at the ultimate controlling parent level, the intermediate holding company level, or at the individual legal entity level. Additionally, insurers and insurance groups may make their Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure at levels at which the insurer or insurance group 1) determines risk appetite, 2) oversees or exercises coordinated supervision of earnings, capital, liquidity, operations, and reputation of the insurer, or 3) at which legal liability would be placed for failure of general corporate governance duties. The insurer or insurance group must indicate their level of reporting and explain any subsequent changes, and may meet these requirements by referring other relevant and existing documents, such as the ORSA summary report, Holding Company B or F filings, and Securities and Exchange Commission proxy statements.

Insurers and insurance groups must report subsequent changes to the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure. The lead state may request additional information and must review the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure in accordance with the NAIC Financial Handbook. The insurer or insurance group must maintain and make available upon examination or request by the OIR any documentation and supporting information relating to the disclosure.

Privilege & Confidentiality of ORSA and Corporate Governance

The bill provides that the ORSA and Corporate Governance filings and related documents that are submitted pursuant to this new provision, s. 628.8015, F.S., are privileged and not subject to subpoena or discovery directly from the OIR. The bill prohibits the OIR, or any person acting under the OIR's authority (such as third-party consultants), from testifying as to such filings or related documents in a private civil action. However, the OIR or the Department of Financial Services may use these filings and related documents in any regulatory or legal action it brings against an insurer as part of their official duties. The bill also provides that any applicable claims of privilege as to these filings and related documents are not waived simply because a disclosure to the OIR under this section or under any other provision of the Insurance Code. In 2014, substantially similar privilege language was enacted[15] for other insurer regulatory filings, regarding insurance holding company registration statements and annual enterprise risk reports[16] and annual actuarial opinions of reserves and supporting memoranda required of life insurers.[17]

Third-Party Consultants

The bill authorizes the OIR to retain third-party consultants at the expense of the insurer or the insurance group for assisting the OIR with ORSA and Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure responsibilities. The bill requires these third-party consultants to adhere to confidentiality and conflict of interest standards through a written agreement with the OIR. In other areas of the Insurance Code, the OIR has authority to contract with independent external auditors or examiners under the following provisions.[18]

Rulemaking

The bill authorizes the Financial Services Commission to adopt rules to administer the provisions of s. 628.8015, F.S.

Sanctions

Currently, s. 628.803, F.S., authorizes the OIR to impose sanctions on insurers and certain affiliated individuals of insurers for certain violations. The 2014 insurer solvency legislation authorizes the OIR to place an insurer under an order of supervision and to disapprove dividends or distributions, if the OIR finds that the insurer violated s. 628.461, F.S., (acquisition of controlling stock requirements) or s. 628.801, F.S., (insurance holding company registration statement and enterprise risk reporting requirements).[19]

Section 2 amends s. 628.803, F.S., to provide that the OIR may impose these fines for failure to submit an ORSA summary report or Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure, or may issue an order of supervision and disapprove dividends or distributions if an insurance company violates s. 628.8015, F.S., which is created by this bill. The OIR may impose a penalty of $100 per day for failure to file a report, not to exceed $10,000.

Section 3 provides the act is repealed on October 2, 2021, unless the Legislature reauthorizes the public records exemption provided in SB 1416 or similar legislation.

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

Under PCS/CS/SB 1422, insurers may incur additional administrative costs associated with preparing and submitting the ORSA report and the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure. However, under the provisions of the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure, insurers and insurance groups are permitted to reference existing documents and filings. For purposes of ORSA filings, insurers are required to file the ORSA Summary reports with the lead state regulator of the insurance group, thereby avoiding regulatory redundancies associated with reporting in each state.

C. Government Sector Impact:

According to the OIR, implementation of the bill is expected to have an insignificant impact on technology systems. The OIR can accommodate the collection of any additional information through their current system.[20]

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Section 628.8015, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

628.8015 Own-risk and solvency assessment; corporate governance annual disclosure.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, the term:

(a) "Corporate governance annual disclosure" means a report filed by an insurer or insurance group in accordance with this section.

(b) "Insurance group" means insurers and affiliates included within an insurance holding company system.

(c) "Insurer" has the same meaning as in s. 624.03. However, the term does not include agencies, authorities, instrumentalities, possessions, or territories of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or the District of Columbia; or agencies, authorities, instrumentalities, or political subdivisions of a state.

(d) "Own-risk and solvency assessment" or "ORSA" means an internal assessment, appropriate to the nature, scale, and complexity of an insurer or insurance group, conducted by that insurer or insurance group, of the material and relevant risks associated with the business plan of an insurer or insurance group and the sufficiency of capital resources to support those risks.

(e) "ORSA guidance manual" means the own-risk and solvency assessment guidance manual developed and adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

(f) "ORSA summary report" means a high-level ORSA summary of an insurer or insurance group, consisting of a single report or combination of reports.

(g) "Senior management" means any corporate officer responsible for reporting information to the board of directors at regular intervals or providing information to shareholders or regulators and includes, but is not limited to, the chief executive officer, chief financial officer, chief operations officer, chief risk officer, chief procurement officer, chief legal officer, chief information officer, chief technology officer, chief revenue officer, chief visionary officer, or any other executive performing one or more of these functions.

(2) OWN-RISK AND SOLVENCY ASSESSMENT.—

(a) Risk management framework.—An insurer shall maintain a risk management framework to assist in identifying, assessing, monitoring, managing, and reporting its material and relevant risks. An insurer may satisfy this requirement by being a member of an insurance group with a risk management framework applicable to the operations of the insurer.

(b) ORSA requirement.—Subject to paragraph (c), an insurer, or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, shall regularly conduct an ORSA consistent with and comparable to the process in the ORSA guidance manual. The ORSA must be conducted at least annually and whenever there have been significant changes to the risk profile of the insurer or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member.

(c) ORSA summary report.—

1.a. A domestic insurer or insurer member of an insurance group of which the office is the lead state, as determined by the procedures in the most recent National Association of Insurance Commissioners Financial Analysis Handbook, shall:

(I) Submit an ORSA summary report to the office once every calendar year.

(II) Notify the office of its proposed annual submission date by December 1, 2016. The initial ORSA summary report must be submitted by December 31, 2017.

b. An insurer not required to submit an ORSA summary report pursuant to sub-subparagraph a. shall:

(I) Submit an ORSA summary report at the request of the office, but not more than once per calendar year.

(II) Notify the office of the proposed submission date within 30 days after the request of the office.

2. An insurer may comply with sub-subparagraph 1.a. or sub-subparagraph 1.b. by providing the most recent and substantially similar ORSA summary report submitted by the insurer, or another member of an insurance group of which the insurer is a member, to the chief insurance regulatory official of another state or the supervisor or regulator of a foreign jurisdiction. For purposes of this subparagraph, a "substantially similar" ORSA summary report is one that contains information comparable to the information described in the ORSA guidance manual as determined by the commissioner of the office. If the report is in a language other than English, it must be accompanied by an English translation.

3. The chief risk officer or chief executive officer of the insurer or insurance group responsible for overseeing the enterprise risk management process must sign the ORSA summary report attesting that, to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, the insurer or insurance group applied the enterprise risk management process described in the ORSA summary report and provided a copy of the report to the board of directors or the appropriate board committee.

4. The ORSA summary report must be prepared in accordance with the ORSA guidance manual. Documentation and supporting information must be maintained by the insurer and made available upon examination pursuant to s. 624.316 or upon the request of the office.

5. The ORSA summary report must include a brief description of material changes and updates since the prior year report.

6. The office's review of the ORSA summary report must be conducted, and any additional requests for information must be made, using procedures similar to those used in the analysis and examination of multistate or global insurers and insurance groups.

(d) Exemption.—

1. An insurer is exempt from the requirements of this subsection if:

a. The insurer has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium, including international direct and assumed premium, but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and the National Flood Insurance Program, of less than $500 million; or

b. The insurer is a member of an insurance group and the insurance group has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium, including international direct and assumed premium, but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and the National Flood Insurance Program, of less than $1 billion.

2. If an insurer is:

a. Exempt under sub-subparagraph 1.a., but the insurance group of which the insurer is a member is not exempt under sub-subparagraph 1.b., the ORSA summary report must include every insurer within the insurance group. The insurer may satisfy this requirement by submitting more than one ORSA summary report for any combination of insurers if any combination of reports includes every insurer within the insurance group.

b. Not exempt under sub-subparagraph 1.a., but the insurance group of which it is a member is exempt under sub-subparagraph 1.b., the insurer must submit to the office the ORSA summary report applicable only to that insurer.

3. The office may require an exempt insurer to maintain a risk management framework, conduct an ORSA, and file an ORSA summary report:

a. Based on unique circumstances, including, but not limited to, the type and volume of business written, ownership and organizational structure, federal agency requests, and international supervisor requests;

b. If the insurer has risk-based capital for a company action level event pursuant to s. 624.4085(3), meets one or more of the standards of an insurer deemed to be in hazardous financial condition as defined in rules adopted by the commission pursuant to s. 624.81(11), or exhibits qualities of an insurer in hazardous financial condition as determined by the office; or

c. If the office determines it is in the best interest of the state.

4. If an exempt insurer becomes disqualified for an exemption because of changes in premium as reported on the most recent annual statement of the insurer or annual statements of the insurers within the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, the insurer must comply with the requirements of this section effective 1 year after the year in which the insurer exceeded the premium thresholds.

(e) Waiver.—An insurer that does not qualify for an exemption under paragraph (d) may request a waiver from the office based upon unique circumstances. If the insurer is part of an insurance group with insurers domiciled in more than one state, the office must coordinate with the lead state and with the other domiciliary regulators in deciding whether to grant a waiver. In deciding whether to grant a waiver, the office may consider:

1. The type and volume of business written by the insurer.

2. The ownership and organizational structure of the insurer.

3. Any other factor the office considers relevant to the insurer or insurance group of which the insurer is a member.

A waiver granted pursuant to this paragraph is valid until withdrawn by the office.

(3) CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE.—

(a) Scope.—This section does not prescribe or impose corporate governance standards and internal procedures beyond those required under applicable state corporate law or limit the authority of the office, or the rights or obligations of third parties, under s. 624.316.

(b) Disclosure requirement.—

1.a. An insurer, or insurer member of an insurance group, of which the office is the lead state regulator, as determined by the procedures in the most recent National Association of Insurance Commissioners Financial Analysis Handbook, shall submit a corporate governance annual disclosure to the office by June 1 of each calendar year. The initial corporate governance annual disclosure must be submitted by December 31, 2018.

b. An insurer or insurance group not required to submit a corporate governance annual disclosure under sub-subparagraph a. shall do so at the request of the office, but not more than once per calendar year. The insurer or insurance group shall notify the office of the proposed submission date within 30 days after the request of the office.

c. Before December 31, 2018, the office may require an insurer or insurance group to provide a corporate governance annual disclosure:

(I) Based on unique circumstances, including, but not limited to, the type and volume of business written, the ownership and organizational structure, federal agency requests, and international supervisor requests;

(II) If the insurer has risk-based capital for a company action level event pursuant to s. 624.4085(3), meets one or more of the standards of an insurer deemed to be in hazardous financial condition as defined in rules adopted pursuant to s. 624.81(11), or exhibits qualities of an insurer in hazardous financial condition as determined by the office;

(III) If the insurer is the member of an insurer group of which the office acts as the lead state regulator as determined by the procedures in the most recent National Association of Insurance Commissioners Financial Analysis Handbook; or

(IV) If the office determines that it is in the best interest of the state.

2. The chief executive officer or corporate secretary of the insurer or the insurance group must sign the corporate governance annual disclosure attesting that, to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, the insurer has implemented the corporate governance practices and provided a copy of the disclosure to the board of directors or the appropriate board committee.

3.a. Depending on the structure of its system of corporate governance, the insurer or insurance group may provide corporate governance information at one of the following levels:

(I) The ultimate controlling parent level;

(II) An intermediate holding company level; or

(III) The individual legal entity level.

b. The insurer or insurance group may make the corporate governance annual disclosure at:

(I) The level used to determine the risk appetite of the insurer or insurance group;

(II) The level at which the earnings, capital, liquidity, operations, and reputation of the insurer are collectively overseen and the supervision of those factors is coordinated and exercised; or

(III) The level at which legal liability for failure of general corporate governance duties would be placed.

An insurer or insurance group must indicate the level of reporting used and explain any subsequent changes in the reporting level.

4. The review of the corporate governance annual disclosure and any additional requests for information shall be made through the lead state as determined by the procedures in the most recent National Association of Insurance Commissioners Financial Analysis Handbook.

5. An insurer or insurance group may comply with this paragraph by cross-referencing other existing relevant and applicable documents, including, but not limited to, the ORSA summary report, Holding Company Form B or F filings, Securities and Exchange Commission proxy statements, or foreign regulatory reporting requirements, if the documents contain information substantially similar to the information described in paragraph (c). The insurer or insurance group shall clearly identify and reference the specific location of the relevant and applicable information within the corporate governance annual disclosure and attach the referenced document if it has not already been filed with, or made available to, the office.

6. Each year following the initial filing of the corporate governance annual disclosure, the insurer or insurance group shall file an amended version of the previously filed corporate governance annual disclosure indicating changes that have been made. If changes have not been made in the previously filed disclosure, the insurer or insurance group should so indicate.

(c) Preparation of the corporate governance annual disclosure.—

1. The corporate governance annual disclosure must be prepared in a manner consistent with this subsection. Documentation and supporting information must be maintained and made available upon examination pursuant to s. 624.316 or upon the request of the office.

2. The corporate governance annual disclosure must be as descriptive as possible and include any attachments or example documents used in the governance process.

3. The insurer or insurance group has discretion in determining the appropriate format of the corporate governance annual disclosure in communicating the required information and responding to inquiries, provided that the corporate governance annual disclosure includes material and relevant information sufficient to enable the office to understand the corporate governance structure, policies, and practices used by the insurer or insurance group.

4. The corporate governance annual disclosure must describe the:

a. Corporate governance framework and structure of the insurer or insurance group.

b. Policies and practices of the most senior governing entity and significant committees.

c. Policies and practices for directing senior management.

d. Processes by which the board, its committees, and senior management ensure an appropriate amount of oversight to the critical risk areas that have an impact on the insurer's business activities.

(4) CONFIDENTIALITY.—The filings and related documents submitted pursuant to subsections (2) and (3) are privileged and not subject to subpoena or discovery directly from the office.

However, the department or office may use these filings and related documents in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought against an insurer as part of the official duties of the department or office. A waiver of any applicable claim of privilege in these filings and related documents may not occur because of a disclosure to the office under this section, because of any other provision of the Insurance Code, or because of sharing under s. 624.4212. The office or a person receiving these filings and related documents, while acting under the authority of the office, or with whom such filings and related documents are shared pursuant to s. 624.4212, is not permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any such filings or related documents.

(5) USE OF THIRD-PARTY CONSULTANTS.—The office may retain third-party consultants at the expense of the insurer or insurance group for the purpose of assisting it in the performance of its regulatory responsibilities under this section, including, but not limited to, the risk management framework, the ORSA, the ORSA summary report, and the corporate governance annual disclosure. A third-party consultant must agree, in writing, to:

(a) Adhere to confidentiality standards and requirements applicable to the office governing the sharing and use of such filings and related documents.

(b) Verify to the office, with notice to the insurer, that the consultant is free of any conflict of interest.

(c) Monitor compliance with applicable confidentiality and conflict of interest standards pursuant to a system of internal procedures.

(6) RULE ADOPTION.—The commission may adopt rules to administer this section.

Section 2. Subsections (1) and (4) of section 628.803, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

628.803 Sanctions.—

(1) Any company failing, without just cause, to file any registration statement or certificate of exemption required to be filed pursuant to commission rules relating to this part or to submit an ORSA summary report or a corporate governance annual disclosure required pursuant to s. 628.8015 shall, in addition to other penalties prescribed under the Florida Insurance Code, be subject to pay a penalty of $100 for each day's delay, not to exceed a total of $10,000.

(4) If the office determines that any person violated s. 628.461, ~~or~~ s. 628.801, or s. 628.8015, the violation may serve as an independent basis for disapproving dividends or distributions and for placing the insurer under an order of supervision in accordance with part VI of chapter 624.

Section 3. Section 628.8015, Florida Statutes, and the amendments made by this act to s. 628.803, Florida Statutes, are repealed on October 2, 2021, unless, before that date, the Legislature saves from repeal through reenactment the amendments to s. 624.4212, Florida Statutes, made by SB 1416 or similar legislation.

Section 4. This act shall take effect October 1, 2016, if SB 1416 or similar legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1422 revises provisions within the Insurance Code relating to solvency requirements and regulatory oversight of insurers by the Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR).

The bill implements the Risk Management and Own Risk and Solvency Assessment (ORSA) Model Act and the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act. The model acts originated from the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' Solvency Modernization Initiative.

Specifically, the bill:

- Provides criteria for the OIR to exempt certain insurers and insurance groups and to provide waivers of ORSA requirements;
- Provides that the ORSA and Corporate Governance filings and related documents are privileged and not subject to subpoena or discovery directly from the OIR;
- Authorizes the OIR to retain third-party consultants to assist in its administration of the bill and specifies requirements for such third-party consultants;
- Authorizes the Financial Services Commission to adopt rules to implement the ORSA and Corporate Governance requirements; and
- Authorizes the OIR to impose sanctions for failure to submit ORSA summary reports or Corporate Governance reports.

There is an insignificant fiscal impact to the OIR that can be handled within existing resources.

The bill is effective October 1, 2016, and is contingent upon SB 1416 (Public Record Exemption) becoming law.

II. Present Situation:

State Regulation of Insurance

States are the primary regulators of insurance companies. The state of domicile serves as the primary regulator for insurers. Solvency regulation is designed to protect policyholders against the risk that insurers will not be able to meet their financial responsibilities. The OIR[1] is primarily responsible for monitoring the solvency of regulated insurers and examining insurers to determine compliance with applicable laws, and taking administrative action, if necessary. Solvency regulation includes the requirements for starting and operating an insurance company,[2] monitoring the financial condition of insurers through examinations and audits, and procedures for the administrative supervision,[3] rehabilitation,[4] or liquidation[5] of an insurance company if it is in unsound financial condition or insolvent.

National Association of Insurance Commissioners Model Acts

The National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) is a voluntary association of insurance regulators from all 50 states. The NAIC coordinates regulation and examination of multistate insurers, provides a forum for addressing major insurance issues, and promotes uniform model laws among the states. The NAIC accreditation is a certification that a state insurance regulator is fulfilling legal, financial, and organizational standards. The NAIC establishes accreditation effective dates for states to adopt in substantially similar form models and acts for purposes of NAIC accreditation review. As a member of the NAIC, the OIR is required to participate in the Financial Regulation Standards and Accreditation Program. The OIR is accredited by the NAIC. The last five-year review occurred in 2013.

In response to the 2008 financial crisis, the NAIC launched the Solvency Modernization Initiative to review existing solvency oversight tools and early warning mechanisms and identify areas of potential improvement. Two of the model acts emanating from this initiative are the ORSA Model Act and the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure Model Act.

The ORSA Model Act

The ORSA Model Act requires insurers to conduct their own internal assessment of all reasonably foreseeable and relevant material risks (e.g., underwriting, credit, market) potentially affecting their ability to meet policyholder obligations. This information will provide regulators with a more comprehensive view of the ability of an insurer to withstand financial stress.

[4] In rehabilitation, the DFS is authorized as receiver to conduct all business of the insurer in an attempt to place the insurance company back in sound financial condition.
[5] In liquidation, the DFS is authorized as receiver to gather the insurance company's assets, convert them to cash, distribute them to various claimants, and shut down the company.

According to the ORSA Model Act and ORSA Guidance Manual, the ORSA has two primary goals: "to foster an effective level of Enterprise Risk Management…;" and "provide a group-level perspective on risk and capital, as a supplement to the existing legal entity view."[6]

The ORSA Model Act requires insurers (or an insurance group, as applicable) to:

- Maintain a risk management framework for identifying assessing, monitoring, managing and reporting on its material and relevant risks;
- Conduct an ORSA at least annually; and
- File an ORSA summary report based on the ORSA Guidance Manual with their domestic regulator or lead state (for an insurance group) beginning in 2017.

The ORSA Model Act and ORSA Guidance Manual give the insurer and insurance group flexibility with respect to the form and content of the ORSA summary report, recognizing that each insurer and insurance group's business, strategic planning, and approach to enterprise risk management is unique. The ORSA summary reports are filed with the lead state regulator of the insurance group. Depending on the group, the OIR may or may not be the lead state regulator.

Insurers with direct premium below $500 million and an insurance group of which the insurer is a member with premium below $1 billion are exempt from the requirements of the ORSA Model Act. However, based on "unique circumstances," the OIR may require an exempt insurer to file an ORSA summary report. The OIR may waive the filing requirement for non-exempt insurers.

The ORSA Model Act is an NAIC accreditation standard effective January 1, 2018. Thirty-four[7] jurisdictions have adopted a substantially similar version of the ORSA Model Act. Florida has not yet adopted it in any form.

Corporate Governance Model Act

During full-scope, onsite financial examinations, the OIR obtains some information on insurer governance structures, processes and practices. However, these examinations are typically limited to domestic insurers and occur only once every five years.[8] During the interval between these examinations, the OIR's access to insurer governance practices is more limited. This can mask changes and activities having a substantial bearing on the financial condition of the insurer.

The Corporate Governance Model Act is designed to provide insurance regulators with sufficient information on insurer governance structures, practices, and processes through an annual disclosure. The Corporate Governance Model Act does not mandate any particular standards or procedures beyond those already provided under state law. The NAIC simultaneously adopted a Corporate Governance Model Regulation that delineates the contents of the annual disclosure. Insurers or insurer groups must file a Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure with their domestic regulator or the lead state regulator (for an insurance group) no later than June 1 of each year beginning in 2017. The key items in the Corporate Governance disclosure include:

- The insurer's corporate governance framework and structure including duties and structure of the Board of Directors and its committees;
- The policies and practices of its Board of Directors and significant committees including appointment practices, the frequency of meetings held and review procedures;
- The policies and practices directing Senior Management including a description of defined suitability standards, the insurer's code of conduct and ethics, performance evaluation and compensation practices, and succession planning; and
- The processes by which the Board of Directors, its committees and senior management ensure an appropriate level of oversight to the critical risk areas impacting the insurer's business activities including risk management processes, the actuarial function, and investment, reinsurance and business strategy decision-making processes.

The Corporate Governance Model Act is expected to become an NAIC accreditation standard.[9] According to the NAIC, five states[10] have adopted a version of the Corporate Governance Model Act in a substantially similar form. Florida has not adopted it.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 creates s. 628.8015, F.S., which requires insurers or insurance groups (if applicable), to file an ORSA and Corporate Governance information with their domestic regulator or lead state, beginning in 2017.

Definitions

In addition to defining "corporate governance annual disclosure," "ORSA," "ORSA guidance manual," and "ORSA summary report," the bill defines the following:

- "Insurer" is defined to have the same meaning as in s. 624.03, F.S.,[11] but excludes state and federal agencies, authorities, instrumentalities, possessions, territories, or political subdivisions of a state.
- "Insurance group" is defined to mean insurers and affiliates included within an insurance holding company system.
- "Senior management" is defined to mean any corporate officer responsible for reporting information to the board of directors at regular intervals or providing information to shareholders or regulators. This includes, but is not limited to, a number of executives such as chief executive officer, chief financial officer, and chief risk officer.

[9] According to the NAIC, "The F Committee currently has out for a one year exposure the 2014 revisions to Models #305 and #306 for inclusion to the Accreditation Part A standards. The exposure period for this will end 12/31/2016. The F Committee will discuss this again at the 2017 Spring National Meeting and likely expose it for 30 days after – then consider adoption at the 2017 Summer National Meeting...if the Committee votes to adopt them into the Part A standards, the earliest it could be required for accreditation would be 1/1/19. There is a possibility the timeline could change." NAIC correspondence (Jan. 19, 2016) (on file with Senate Committee on Banking and Insurance).

[10] California, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, and Vermont have adopted the model act. Office of Insurance Regulation, Senate Bill 1422 Legislative Analysis (Jan. 22, 2016) (on file with Banking and Insurance Committee).

[11] Section 624.03, F.S., defines "insurer" to mean every person engaged as an indemnitor, surety, or contractor in the business of entering into contracts of insurance or of annuity.

ORSA Provisions

The bill incorporates the three major components of the ORSA, to require insurers or insurance groups to:

- Maintain a risk management framework for identifying, assessing, monitoring, managing, and reporting on its material, relevant risks;
  - This requirement may be satisfied by being a member of an insurance group with a risk management framework applicable to the insurer's operations;
- Conduct an ORSA at least annually (and whenever there have been significant changes to the risk profile of the insurer or the insurance group), consistent with and comparable to the process in the ORSA Guidance Manual;[12]
- File an ORSA summary report, based on the ORSA Guidance Manual ,with their domestic regulator or lead state (for an insurance group), beginning in 2017, which must:
  - Be submitted once every calendar year;
  - Include notification to the OIR of its proposed annual submission date by December 1, 2016; the initial ORSA summary report must be submitted by December 31, 2017;
  - Include a brief description of material changes and updates from the prior year's report;
  - Be signed by the chief risk officer or chief executive officer responsible for overseeing the enterprise risk management process; provide copy to board of directors or appropriate board committee; and
  - Be prepared in accordance with the ORSA guidance manual and insurer must maintain and make available for OIR examination documentation and supporting information.

ORSA Exemption & Waiver

The bill exempts an insurer from the ORSA requirement if:

- Its annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium is less than $500 million (excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and the National Flood Insurance Program), or
- It is a member of an insurance group with an annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium of $1 billion or less (excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and the National Flood Insurance Program).[13]

The bill also creates reporting obligations, contingent on the exempt status of the insurer and its insurance group. The OIR may still require an exempt insurer to maintain a risk management framework, conduct an ORSA, and file an ORSA summary report based on certain circumstances, such as risk-based capital that triggers a company-action-level event,[14] the exhibition of qualities of an insurer in hazardous financial condition, or if submission of the report is in the best interests of the state. In addition, the bill allows OIR to grant a waiver to an otherwise non-exempt insurer based on unique circumstances, and specifies criteria for the OIR to consider.

[12] The bill defines "ORSA guidance manual" as the ORSA manual developed and adopted by the NAIC. See NAIC, ORSA Guidance Manual (Jul. 2014), at http://www.naic.org/store/free/ORSA_manual.pdf.

[13] According to the OIR, two property and casualty insurer groups and five life and health insurer groups meet the ORSA threshold and have Florida as the lead state. OIR, Q&A on ORSA and CGAD (Nov. 15, 2015), on file with the Banking and Insurance Committee.

[14] Section 624.81(11), F.S., authorizes the OIR to place an insurer under administrative supervision and order corrective action if the insurer is in unsound condition, exceeds its powers granted under its certificate of authority, or its practices are hazardous to the public. Commission rule defines "hazardous financial condition" in accordance with NAIC model regulation. Rule 69O-141.002, F.A.C.

Corporate Governance

The bill requires insurers or insurer members of insurance groups (of which the OIR is the lead state regulator) to submit a Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure every June 1, with an initial disclosure to be submitted by December 31, 2017. The chief executive officer or corporate officer must sign the disclosure, and must describe the insurer or insurance group's governance framework and structure, relevant policies and practices, and processes for overseeing critical risk areas affecting business activities.

The bill allows insurers and insurance groups to provide corporate governance information at the ultimate controlling parent level, the intermediate holding company level, or at the individual legal entity level. Additionally, insurers and insurance groups may make their Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure at levels at which the insurer or insurance group 1) determines risk appetite, 2) oversees or exercises coordinated supervision of earnings, capital, liquidity, operations, and reputation of the insurer, or 3) at which legal liability would be placed for failure of general corporate governance duties. The insurer or insurance group must indicate their level of reporting and explain any subsequent changes, and may meet these requirements by referring other relevant and existing documents, such as the ORSA summary report, Holding Company B or F filings, and Securities and Exchange Commission proxy statements.

Insurers and insurance groups must report subsequent changes to the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure. The lead state may request additional information and must review the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure in accordance with the NAIC Financial Handbook. The insurer or insurance group must maintain and make available upon examination or request by the OIR any documentation and supporting information relating to the disclosure.

Privilege & Confidentiality of ORSA and Corporate Governance

The bill provides that the ORSA and Corporate Governance filings and related documents that are submitted pursuant to this new provision, s. 628.8015, F.S., are privileged and not subject to subpoena or discovery directly from the OIR. The bill prohibits the OIR, or any person acting under the OIR's authority (such as third-party consultants), from testifying as to such filings or related documents in a private civil action. However, the OIR or the Department of Financial Services may use these filings and related documents in any regulatory or legal action it brings against an insurer as part of their official duties. The bill also provides that any applicable claims of privilege as to these filings and related documents are not waived simply because a disclosure to the OIR under this section or under any other provision of the Insurance Code. In 2014, substantially similar privilege language was enacted[15] for other insurer regulatory filings, regarding insurance holding company registration statements and annual enterprise risk reports[16] and annual actuarial opinions of reserves and supporting memoranda required of life insurers.[17]

Third-Party Consultants

The bill authorizes the OIR to retain third-party consultants at the expense of the insurer or the insurance group for assisting the OIR with ORSA and Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure responsibilities. The bill requires these third-party consultants to adhere to confidentiality and conflict of interest standards through a written agreement with the OIR. In other areas of the Insurance Code, the OIR has authority to contract with independent external auditors or examiners under the following provisions.[18]

Rulemaking

The bill authorizes the Financial Services Commission to adopt rules to administer the provisions of s. 628.8015, F.S.

Sanctions

Currently, s. 628.803, F.S., authorizes the OIR to impose sanctions on insurers and certain affiliated individuals of insurers for certain violations. The 2014 insurer solvency legislation authorizes the OIR to place an insurer under an order of supervision and to disapprove dividends or distributions, if the OIR finds that the insurer violated s. 628.461, F.S., (acquisition of controlling stock requirements) or s. 628.801, F.S., (insurance holding company registration statement and enterprise risk reporting requirements).[19]

Section 2 amends s. 628.803, F.S., to provide that the OIR may impose these fines for failure to submit an ORSA summary report or Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure, or may issue an order of supervision and disapprove dividends or distributions if an insurance company violates s. 628.8015, F.S., which is created by this bill. The OIR may impose a penalty of $100 per day for failure to file a report, not to exceed $10,000.

Section 3 provides the act will take effect October 1, 2016, if SB 1416 or similar legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

However, under the provisions of the Corporate Governance Annual Disclosure, insurers and insurance groups are permitted to reference existing documents and filings. For purposes of ORSA filings, insurers are required to file the ORSA Summary reports with the lead state regulator of the insurance group, thereby avoiding regulatory redundancies associated with reporting in each state.

According to the OIR, implementation of the bill is expected to have an insignificant impact on technology systems. The OIR can accommodate the collection of any additional information through their current system.[20] included within an insurance holding company system.

However, the term does not include agencies, authorities, instrumentalities, possessions, or territories of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or the District of Columbia; or agencies, authorities, instrumentalities, or political subdivisions of a state.

(d) "Own-risk and solvency assessment" or "ORSA" means an internal assessment, appropriate to the nature, scale, and complexity of an insurer or insurance group, conducted by that insurer or insurance group, of the material and relevant risks associated with the business plan of an insurer or insurance group and the sufficiency of capital resources to support those risks.

(e) "ORSA guidance manual" means the own-risk and solvency assessment guidance manual developed and adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

(f) "ORSA summary report" means a high-level ORSA summary of an insurer or insurance group, consisting of a single report or combination of reports.

(g) "Senior management" means any corporate officer responsible for reporting information to the board of directors at regular intervals or providing information to shareholders or regulators and includes, but is not limited to, the chief executive officer, chief financial officer, chief operations officer, chief risk officer, chief procurement officer, chief legal officer, chief information officer, chief technology officer, chief revenue officer, chief visionary officer, or any other executive performing one or more of these functions.

(2) OWN-RISK AND SOLVENCY ASSESSMENT.—

(a) Risk management framework.—An insurer shall maintain a risk management framework to assist in identifying, assessing, monitoring, managing, and reporting its material and relevant risks. An insurer may satisfy this requirement by being a member of an insurance group with a risk management framework applicable to the operations of the insurer.

(b) ORSA requirement.—Subject to paragraph (c), an insurer, or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, shall regularly conduct an ORSA consistent with and comparable to the process in the ORSA guidance manual. The ORSA must be conducted at least annually and whenever there have been significant changes to the risk profile of the insurer or the insurance group of which the insurer is a member.

(c) ORSA summary report.—

1.a. A domestic insurer or insurer member of an insurance group of which the office is the lead state, as determined by the procedures in the most recent National Association of Insurance Commissioners Financial Analysis Handbook, shall:

(I) Submit an ORSA summary report to the office once every calendar year.

(II) Notify the office of its proposed annual submission date by December 1, 2016. The initial ORSA summary report must be submitted by December 31, 2017.

b. An insurer not required to submit an ORSA summary report pursuant to sub-subparagraph a. shall:

(I) Submit an ORSA summary report at the request of the office, but not more than once per calendar year.

(II) Notify the office of the proposed submission date within 30 days after the request of the office.

2. An insurer may comply with sub-subparagraph 1.a. or sub-subparagraph 1.b. by providing the most recent and substantially similar ORSA summary report submitted by the insurer, or another member of an insurance group of which the insurer is a member, to the chief insurance regulatory official of another state or the supervisor or regulator of a foreign jurisdiction. For purposes of this subparagraph, a "substantially similar" ORSA summary report is one that contains information comparable to the information described in the ORSA guidance manual as determined by the commissioner of the office. If the report is in a language other than English, it must be accompanied by an English translation.

3. The chief risk officer or chief executive officer of the insurer or insurance group responsible for overseeing the enterprise risk management process must sign the ORSA summary report attesting that, to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, the insurer or insurance group applied the enterprise risk management process described in the ORSA summary report and provided a copy of the report to the board of directors or the appropriate board committee.

4. The ORSA summary report must be prepared in accordance with the ORSA guidance manual. Documentation and supporting information must be maintained by the insurer and made available upon examination pursuant to s. 624.316 or upon the request of the office.

5. The ORSA summary report must include a brief description of material changes and updates since the prior year report.

6. The office's review of the ORSA summary report must be conducted, and any additional requests for information must be made, using procedures similar to those used in the analysis and examination of multistate or global insurers and insurance groups.

(d) Exemption.—

1. An insurer is exempt from the requirements of this subsection if:

a. The insurer has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium, including international direct and assumed premium, but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and the National Flood Insurance Program, of less than $500 million; or

b. The insurer is a member of an insurance group and the insurance group has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium, including international direct and assumed premium, but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and the National Flood Insurance Program, of less than $1 billion.

2. If an insurer is:

a. Exempt under sub-subparagraph 1.a., but the insurance group of which the insurer is a member is not exempt under sub-subparagraph 1.b., the ORSA summary report must include every insurer within the insurance group. The insurer may satisfy this requirement by submitting more than one ORSA summary report for any combination of insurers if any combination of reports includes every insurer within the insurance group.

b. Not exempt under sub-subparagraph 1.a., but the insurance group of which it is a member is exempt under sub-subparagraph 1.b., the insurer must submit to the office the ORSA summary report applicable only to that insurer.

3. The office may require an exempt insurer to maintain a risk management framework, conduct an ORSA, and file an ORSA summary report:

a. Based on unique circumstances, including, but not limited to, the type and volume of business written, ownership and organizational structure, federal agency requests, and international supervisor requests;

b. If the insurer has risk-based capital for a company action level event pursuant to s. 624.4085(3), meets one or more of the standards of an insurer deemed to be in hazardous financial condition as defined in rules adopted by the commission pursuant to s. 624.81(11), or exhibits qualities of an insurer in hazardous financial condition as determined by the office; or

c. If the office determines it is in the best interest of the state.

4. If an exempt insurer becomes disqualified for an exemption because of changes in premium as reported on the most recent annual statement of the insurer or annual statements of the insurers within the insurance group of which the insurer is a member, the insurer must comply with the requirements of this section effective 1 year after the year in which the insurer exceeded the premium thresholds.

(e) Waiver.—An insurer that does not qualify for an exemption under paragraph (d) may request a waiver from the office based upon unique circumstances. If the insurer is part of an insurance group with insurers domiciled in more than one state, the office must coordinate with the lead state and with the other domiciliary regulators in deciding whether to grant a waiver. In deciding whether to grant a waiver, the office may consider:

1. The type and volume of business written by the insurer.

2. The ownership and organizational structure of the insurer.

3. Any other factor the office considers relevant to the insurer or insurance group of which the insurer is a member.

A waiver granted pursuant to this paragraph is valid until withdrawn by the office.

(3) CORPORATE GOVERNANCE ANNUAL DISCLOSURE.—

(a) Scope.—This section does not prescribe or impose corporate governance standards and internal procedures beyond those required under applicable state corporate law or limit the authority of the office, or the rights or obligations of third parties, under s. 624.316.

(b) Disclosure requirement.—

1.a. An insurer, or insurer member of an insurance group, of which the office is the lead state regulator, as determined by the procedures in the most recent National Association of Insurance Commissioners Financial Analysis Handbook, shall submit a corporate governance annual disclosure to the office by June 1 of each calendar year. The initial corporate governance annual disclosure must be submitted by December 31, 2017.

b. An insurer or insurance group not required to submit a corporate governance annual disclosure under sub-subparagraph 1.a. shall do so at the request of the office, but not more than once per calendar year. The insurer shall notify the office of the proposed submission date within 30 days after the request of the office.

2. The chief executive officer or corporate secretary of the insurer or the insurance group must sign the corporate governance annual disclosure attesting that, to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, the insurer has implemented the corporate governance practices and provided a copy of the disclosure to the board of directors or the appropriate board committee.

3.a. Depending on the structure of its system of corporate governance, the insurer or insurance group may provide corporate governance information at one of the following levels:

(I) The ultimate controlling parent level;

(II) An intermediate holding company level; or

(III) The individual legal entity level.

b. The insurer or insurance group may make the corporate governance annual disclosure at:

(I) The level used to determine the risk appetite of the insurer or insurance group;

(II) The level at which the earnings, capital, liquidity, operations, and reputation of the insurer are collectively overseen and the supervision of those factors is coordinated and exercised; or

(III) The level at which legal liability for failure of general corporate governance duties would be placed.

An insurer or insurance group must indicate the level of reporting used and explain any subsequent changes in the reporting level.

4. The review of the corporate governance annual disclosure and any additional requests for information shall be made through the lead state as determined by the procedures in the most recent National Association of Insurance Commissioners Financial Analysis Handbook.

5. An insurer or insurance group may comply with this paragraph by cross-referencing other existing relevant and applicable documents, including, but not limited to, the ORSA summary report, Holding Company Form B or F filings, Securities and Exchange Commission proxy statements, or foreign regulatory reporting requirements, if the documents contain information substantially similar to the information described in paragraph (c). The insurer or insurance group shall clearly identify and reference the specific location of the relevant and applicable information within the corporate governance annual disclosure and attach the referenced document if it has not already been filed with, or made available to, the office.

6. Each year following the initial filing of the corporate governance annual disclosure, the insurer or insurance group shall file an amended version of the previously filed corporate governance annual disclosure indicating changes that have been made. If changes have not been made in the previously filed disclosure, the insurer or insurance group should so indicate.

(c) Preparation of the corporate governance annual disclosure.—

1. The corporate governance annual disclosure must be prepared in a manner consistent with this subsection. Documentation and supporting information must be maintained and made available upon examination pursuant to s. 624.316 or upon the request of the office.

2. The corporate governance annual disclosure must be as descriptive as possible and include any attachments or example documents used in the governance process.

3. The insurer or insurance group has discretion in determining the appropriate format of the corporate governance annual disclosure in communicating the required information and responding to inquiries, provided that the corporate governance annual disclosure includes material and relevant information sufficient to enable the office to understand the corporate governance structure, policies, and practices used by the insurer or insurance group.

4. The corporate governance annual disclosure must describe the:

a. Corporate governance framework and structure of the insurer or insurance group.

b. Policies and practices of the most senior governing entity and significant committees.

c. Policies and practices for directing senior management.

d. Processes by which the board, its committees, and senior management ensure an appropriate amount of oversight to the critical risk areas that have an impact on the insurer's business activities.

(4) CONFIDENTIALITY.—The filings and related documents submitted pursuant to subsections (2) and (3) are privileged and not subject to subpoena or discovery directly from the office. However, the department or office may use these filings and related documents in the furtherance of any regulatory or legal action brought against an insurer as part of the official duties of the department or office. A waiver of any applicable claim of privilege in these filings and related documents may not occur because of a disclosure to the office under this section, because of any other provision of the Insurance Code, or because of sharing under s. 624.4212. The office or a person receiving these filings and related documents, while acting under the authority of the office, or with whom such filings and related documents are shared pursuant to s. 624.4212, is not permitted or required to testify in any private civil action concerning any such filings or related documents.

(5) USE OF THIRD-PARTY CONSULTANTS.—The office may retain third-party consultants at the expense of the insurer or insurance group for the purpose of assisting it in the performance of its regulatory responsibilities under this section, including, but not limited to, the risk management framework, the ORSA, the ORSA summary report, and the corporate governance annual disclosure. A third-party consultant must agree, in writing, to:

(a) Adhere to confidentiality standards and requirements applicable to the office governing the sharing and use of such filings and related documents.

(b) Verify to the office, with notice to the insurer, that the consultant is free of any conflict of interest.

(c) Monitor compliance with applicable confidentiality and conflict of interest standards pursuant to a system of internal procedures.

(6) RULE ADOPTION.—The commission may adopt rules to administer this section.

Section 2. Subsections (1) and (4) of section 628.803,

Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

628.803 Sanctions.—

(1) Any company failing, without just cause, to file any registration statement or certificate of exemption required to be filed pursuant to commission rules relating to this part or to submit an ORSA summary report or a corporate governance annual disclosure required pursuant to s. 628.8015 shall, in addition to other penalties prescribed under the Florida Insurance Code, be subject to pay a penalty of $100 for each day's delay, not to exceed a total of $10,000.

(4) If the office determines that any person violated s. 628.461, ~~or~~ s. 628.801, or s. 628.8015, the violation may serve as an independent basis for disapproving dividends or distributions and for placing the insurer under an order of supervision in accordance with part VI of chapter 624.

Section 3. This act shall take effect October 1, 2016, if SB 1416 or similar legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an extension thereof and becomes a law.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 1442 prohibits an out-of-network provider from balance billing members of a preferred provider organization (PPO) or an exclusive provider organization (EPO) for covered emergency services or covered nonemergency services. The bill establishes a payment process for insurers to provide reimbursement for such out-of-network services.

The bill requires insurers to provide coverage for emergency services without a prior authorization determination and regardless of whether the provider is a participating provider. Applicable cost sharing must be the same for participating or nonparticipating providers for the same services.

The bill also provides that willful noncompliance by a provider (health care practitioners subject to regulation under ch. 456, 458, or 459, F.S.) with the balance billing provisions for covered emergency services and nonemergency services, are grounds for discipline by the Department of Health (DOH) if such noncompliance occurs with such frequency as to constitute a general business practice. Other specified providers (hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers, specialty hospitals, and urgent care centers) are required to comply with the balance billing provisions as a condition of licensure.

In order to put the public on notice, hospitals are required under the bill to maintain information on their websites about insurers and health maintenance organizations for which the hospital is a contracted provider, as well as contact information for practitioners and practice groups contracting with the hospital. The bill adds compliance with these new provisions as a condition of licensure for hospitals, surgical centers, and urgent care centers.

The bill has an indeterminate fiscal impact on state government.

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the effective date of the bill is October 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) is responsible for the licensure and regulation of insurers, health maintenance organizations (HMOs), and other risk-bearing entities.[1]

Balance Billing – Preferred Provider Organizations and Exclusive Provider Organizations

Generally, individuals purchase insurance coverage for protecting themselves from future expenses, or in the case of health insurance, unexpected medical bills or large health care costs. Preferred provider organization (PPOs) and exclusive provider organization (EPOs) contract with health care providers at set reimbursement rates for covered medical services. A PPO is a group of licensed health care providers with which the insurer has contracted for alternative or reduced rates of payment.[2]

An exclusive provider is a provider of health care, or a group of providers of health care, that has entered into a written agreement with an insurer to provide benefits under a health insurance policy.[3] In an EPO, an insurer contracts with hospitals, physicians, and other medical facilities. Insureds of an EPO must use the contracted hospitals or providers to receive covered benefits from this type of plan. Providers within an EPO or PPO network are prohibited from billing or otherwise seeking reimbursement from or recourse against any policyholder. Insurers and HMOs may require higher copayments for urgent care or primary care provided in an emergency department and higher copayments for use of out-of-network emergency departments.[4]

Under these types of coverage, an insured individual is responsible for any applicable copayments, coinsurance, or deductibles if services are obtained from a contracted provider. If the insured receives services from a non-contracted provider and the provider does not reach a reimbursement agreement with the PPO or EPO insurer, the provider may balance bill the insured for the difference between the cost of the services and what the PPO or EPO paid for the services. However, balance billing is prohibited under current law for health care services under Medicaid[5] by an exclusive provider who is part of an EPO[6] or a by provider who is under contract with a prepaid limited service organization.[7] If the insured did not knowingly use a non-contracted provider, especially in an emergency services situation, the invoice for balance billing is often not expected and is known as a "surprise bill."

In addition, the Statewide Medicaid Managed Care Contract (Core Provisions of the MMA Contract (Nov. 1, 2015) version, pp. 104-105) establishes minimum requirements for contracts between the managed care plans and its contracted providers. Except for copayments, the contract prohibits the provider from seeking payment from the enrollee for any covered services, and to seek payment from the managed care plan.

A recent survey by the Kaiser Family Foundation found that among insured, non-elderly adults, nearly seven in ten individuals with unaffordable out-of-network medical bills were unaware that the health care provider was not part of their plan's network at the time they received care.[8] In these situations, having insurance did not necessarily protect individuals from unaffordable medical bills. In the same survey, one in five working age, insured individuals reported trouble paying medical bills that caused serious financial challenges, and the number was higher within the uninsured (53 percent).[9] Among the insured, 26 percent said they received unexpected denials and 32 percent said they received care from an out-of-network provider their insurance would not cover.[10] Insured individuals with higher deductible health plans were more likely to report medical bill issues than those with lower deductible plans (26 percent compared to 15 percent).[11]

According to a 2014 OIR balance billing survey, insurers reported $97.9 million in potential balance billings associated with out-of-network emergency claims. Further, insurers reported $1.3 billion in potential balance billings associated with out-of-network nonemergency claims.[12]

Balanced Billing – Health Maintenance Organizations

Generally, an HMO member must use the HMO's network of health care providers in order for the HMO to provide payment of benefits, except in the case of an emergency. In an emergency, an HMO is liable for payment of fees for services rendered to a subscriber by a provider, contracted or non-contracted, and the subscriber is not liable for payment of fees to the provider.[13] A provider, regardless of whether contracted or not with the HMO, may not collect or attempt to collect money from a subscriber of an HMO for payment of services for which the HMO is liable, if the provider in good faith knows or should know that the HMO is liable.[14] However, a provider can balance bill a subscriber in a nonemergency situation if authorization is denied or if a non-contract provider does not seek prior authorization.[15]

Florida law requires HMOs to provide coverage without prior authorization for emergency care, based on a determination by a hospital physician or other personnel.[16] Prehospital and hospital-based trauma services and emergency services must be provided to a subscriber of an HMO as required under ss. 395.1041, 395.4045, and 401.45, F.S. When such services are obtained from an out-of-network provider, the statute establishes the reimbursement rate for the provider as the lesser of the provider's charges, the usual and customary charges[17] for similar services in the community where the services were provided, or the charges mutually agreed to by the HMO and the provider within 60 days of the claim submittal.[18]

Required Description of Coverage

The Florida Insurance Code requires insurers and HMOs to provide a description of coverage, benefits, and limitations of a policy or contract. This document may include an outline of coverage explaining the principal exclusions and limitations of the policy.[19]

Agency for Health Care Administration

The Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) licenses and regulates hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers, home health agencies, clinical laboratories, nursing homes, assisted living facilities, and all other types of health care providers under ch. 395, F.S. The AHCA is responsible for inspections and investigations as part of the licensure process, including inspections to investigate emergency access complaints.[20]

The AHCA also regulates quality of care provided by HMOs and EPOs. Before receiving a certificate of authority from the OIR, an HMO or EPO must receive a health care provider certificate (HCPC) from the AHCA pursuant to part III of ch. 641, F.S.[21] As part of the review process to receive an HCPC for any given area, the plans must demonstrate the ability to provide quality of care consistent with the prevailing standards of care.[22]

Access to Emergency Services and Care

The Federal Emergency Medical Treatment and Active Labor Act

In 1986, Congress enacted the Emergency Medical Treatment and Active Labor Act (EMTALA) to ensure public access to emergency services, regardless of ability to pay.[23] The EMTALA

[17] The interpretation of "usual and customary charges" has been the subject of litigation between providers and insurers. In 2010, a court held that the determination of fair market value of a hospital's emergency services could include consideration of amounts billed and accepted by the hospital except for Medicare and Medicaid payments.[17] In determining the fair market value of the services, it is appropriate to consider the amounts billed and the amounts accepted by providers with one exception. The reimbursement rates for Medicare and Medicaid are set by government agencies and cannot be said to be "arms' length." Moreover, in the emergency room context, hospitals do not have the option that private providers have to refuse to provide services to Medicare or Medicaid patients. Thus, it is not appropriate to consider the amounts accepted by providers for patients covered by Medicare and Medicaid. *See: Baker County Medical Services, Inc. v. imposes specific obligations on hospitals participating in the Medicare program and which offer emergency services. Any patient who comes to the emergency department must be provided with a medical screening examination to determine if the patient has an emergency medical condition. If an emergency condition exists, the hospital must provide treatment within its service capability to stabilize the patient. If a hospital is unable to stabilize a patient, or upon the patient's request, the hospital must transfer the patient to another appropriate facility. A hospital that violates EMTALA is subject to civil penalty, termination of its Medicare agreement, or civil suit by a patient who suffers personal harm. The EMTALA does not provide for civil action against a hospital's physicians.

Requirements in Florida Law for Access to Emergency Services

Florida law imposes similar requirements on hospitals that in some ways are more stringent than EMTALA.[24] AHCA is required to maintain an inventory of the service capability of all licensed hospitals that provide emergency care in order to assist emergency medical services (EMS or ambulance) providers and the public in locating appropriate medical care.

Under Florida law, every general hospital that has an emergency department must provide emergency services and care for any emergency medical condition when:

- Any person requests emergency services and care; or
- Emergency services and care are requested on behalf of a person by:
  - An EMS provider who is rendering care to or transporting the person; or
  - Another hospital, when such hospital is seeking a medically necessary transfer, except as otherwise provided.[25]

Arrangements for transfers of patients seeking or receiving emergency services must be made between hospital emergency services personnel for each hospital, unless other arrangements between the hospitals exist. A patient, whether stabilized or not, may be transferred to another hospital that has the service capability or is not at service capacity, only if:

- The patient, or a person who is legally responsible for the patient and acting on the patient's behalf, after being informed of the hospital's obligations and of the risk of transfer, requests that the transfer be effected;[26]
- A physician has signed a certification that, based upon the reasonable risks and benefits to the patient, and based upon the information available at the time of transfer, the medical benefits reasonably expected from the provision of appropriate medical treatment at another hospital outweigh the increased risks to the individual's medical condition;[27] or
- In cases in which a physician is not physically present at the time of transfer, a qualified medical person, in consultation with a physician, signs a certification that the consulting physician has determined that the medical benefits reasonably expected from medical treatment at another facility outweigh the increased risks to the patient, provided that the consulting physician countersigns the certification.[28]

However, the provisions above relating to patient transfers do not require facilities to accept a transfer that is not medically necessary.[29]

When the condition of a medically necessary transferred patient improves so that the service capability of the receiving hospital is no longer required, the receiving hospital may transfer the patient back to the transferring hospital, and the transferring hospital is required to receive the patient within its service capability.[30]

Each hospital must ensure emergency services can be provided at all times either directly or through an arrangement with another hospital. Hospitals are expressly prohibited from allowing the provision of emergency services and care, the acceptance of a medically necessary transfer, or the return of a patient previously transferred, to be based upon, or affected by, the patient's race, ethnicity, religion, national origin, citizenship, age, sex, preexisting medical condition, physical or mental handicap, insurance status, economic status, or ability to pay for medical services, except to the extent that a circumstance such as age, sex, preexisting medical condition, or physical or mental handicap is medically significant to the provision of appropriate medical care to the patient.[31]

A hospital that violates Florida's access to emergency care statute is subject to administrative penalties; denial, revocation, or suspension of its license; and civil action by another hospital or physician suffering financial loss. In addition, hospital administrative or medical staff are subject to a civil suit by a patient who suffers personal harm and may be found guilty of a second degree misdemeanor for a knowing or intentional violation. Physicians who violate the act are also subject to disciplinary action against their license and civil action by another hospital or physician suffering financial loss.[32]

Pre-hospital Care

The Emergency Medical Transportation Services Act[33] (EMTSA) similarly regulates the services provided by emergency medical technicians, paramedics, and air and ground ambulances. The EMTSA establishes minimum standards for emergency medical services personnel, vehicles, services, and medical direction, and provides for monitoring of the quality of patient care. The Florida Department of Health (DOH) administers and enforces these standards. Ambulance services operate pursuant to a license issued by the DOH and a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued from each county in which the provider operates.[34] A licensee may not deny a person necessary prehospital treatment or transport for an emergency medical condition.[35] A violation may result in denial, suspension, or revocation of a license, or a reprimand or fine.[36]

In general, the medical director of an ambulance provider is responsible for issuing standing orders and protocols to ensure that the patient is transported to a facility that offers the type and level of care appropriate to the patient's medical condition, with separate protocols required for stroke patients.[37] An exception to the general requirement is that trauma alert patients are required by statute to be transported to an approved trauma center.[38]

Federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA)

On March 23, 2010, President Obama signed into law Pub. L. No. 111-148, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), and on March 30, 2010, President Obama signed into law Public Law No. 111-152, the Health Care and Education Affordability Reconciliation Act of 2010, which amended the PPACA. The PPACA provides fundamental changes to the U.S. health insurance system by requiring health insurers to make coverage available to all individuals and employers, without exclusions for preexisting conditions and without basing premiums on any health-related factors. The PPACA imposes many insurance requirements, including required benefits, rating and underwriting standards, required review of rate increases, and other requirements. Emergency services is one of the required essential health benefits.[39]

PPACA Regulations on Charitable Hospitals

In February 2015, the U.S. Department of the Treasury released a regulation impacting charitable hospital organizations. The regulation is based on requirements in the PPACA for certain hospitals to conduct a community health needs assessment and adopt an implementation strategy once every three years to establish a written financial assistance policy (FAP) and a written policy related to care for emergency medical conditions.[40] Hospitals are also required to make reasonable efforts to determine whether an individual is eligible for assistance under a FAP before engaging in extraordinary collection activities.[41] In general, the final regulation requires charitable hospitals to:

- Limit charges to no more than the amounts generally billed to patients with insurance;
- Establish and disclose financial assistance policies;
- Abide by reasonable billing and collection requirements; and
- Perform a community health needs assessment at least every three years.

Federal Emergency Room Coverage Regulations

On June 28, 2010, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services issued final regulations relating to coverage for emergency services.[42] Such coverage for emergency services is not subject to prior authorization, regardless of whether the provider is a participating provider. Services provided by out-of-network providers must be provided with cost sharing that is no greater than that which would apply for a network provider and without regard to any other restriction, other than an exclusion or coordination of benefits, an affiliation or waiting period, and cost-sharing. Regulations specify minimum reimbursement that plans must pay a non-network provider for emergency services.[43] Plans are required to pay out-of-network providers a reasonable rate, which is defined to be the highest amount of the following:

- The amount negotiated with in-network providers for the emergency service furnished, with the stipulation that if the plan has more than one negotiated amount with providers for a particular service, the basis for payment would be the median amount;
- The amount for the emergency service calculated using the same method the plan generally uses to determine payments for out-of-network services (such as the usual, customary, and reasonable charges) but substituting the in-network cost-sharing provisions for the out-of-network cost-sharing; or
- The amount that would be paid under Medicare for the emergency services.

Subsequently, on September 20, 2010, the U.S. Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services issued guidance relating to coverage for emergency services.[44] If a state law prohibits balance billing, plans and issuers are not required to satisfy the payment minimums set forth in the regulations described above. Similarly, if a plan or issuer is contractually responsible for any amounts balance billed by an out-of-network emergency services provider, the plan or issuer is not required to satisfy the payment minimums. In both situations, however, patients must be provided with adequate and prominent notice of their lack of financial responsibility with respect to such amounts, to prevent inadvertent payment by the patient. Nonetheless, even if state law prohibits balance billing, or if the plan or issuer is contractually responsible for amounts balance billed, the plan or issuer may not impose any copayment or coinsurance requirement that is higher than the copayment or coinsurance requirement that would apply if the services were provided in network.[45]

Statewide Provider and Health Plan Claim Dispute Resolution Program

The Statewide Provider and Health Plan Claim Dispute Resolution Program provides assistance to contracted and non-contracted providers and HMOs, insurers, prepaid health clinics, EPOs, and Medicaid prepaid health plans for resolution of claim disputes that are not resolved by the provider and the plan. Section 408.7057, F.S., requires the AHCA to contract with a third party resolution organization to timely review and consider claim disputes and to submit recommendations to the AHCA. The AHCA's responsibility is to issue a final order adopting the recommendation of the resolution organization.

Since May 2001, MAXIMUS has been under contract with the AHCA to review claim disputes. The cost of the program is borne by the users of the program. The non-prevailing entity in AHCA's final order must pay the review costs. In cases where both parties prevail in part, the review cost must be shared. The review costs are determined by MAXIMUS and depend largely on the complexity of the cases submitted.

Eligible Claims

Claim disputes may be submitted by physicians, hospitals, institutions, other licensed health care providers, HMOs, EPOs, PHPs, major medical expense health insurance policies offered by a group or an individual health insurer, and PPOs. Hospital and physicians are required to aggregate claims (for one or more patients for same insurer) by type of service to meet certain thresholds:[46]

• Hospital Inpatient Claims (contracted providers)	$25,000
• Hospital Inpatient Claims (non-contracted providers)	$10,000
• Hospital Outpatient Claims (contracted providers)	$10,000
• Hospital Outpatient Claims (non-contracted providers)	$ 3,000
• Physicians	$ 500
• Rural Hospitals	None
• Other Providers	None

The following types of claims are not eligible for the program:

- Claims for less than minimum amounts listed above for each type of service;
- Claim disputes that are the basis for an action pending in state or federal court;
- Claims disputes that are subject to an internal binding managed care organization's resolution process for contracts entered into prior to October 1, 2000;
- Claims solely related to late payment and/or late processing;
- Interest payment disputes;
- Medicare claim disputes that are part of Medicare managed care internal grievance or that qualify for Medicare reconsideration appeal;
- Claims related to health plans not regulated by the state of Florida; and
- Claims filed more than 12 months after final determination by the health plan or provider.

During 2014, only 25 claim disputes were filed for consideration. Nine of the 25 claim disputes were accepted as eligible claims for review. At year-end, one case was settled; four cases were under review; and the plans opted-out of the remaining four cases. [47] In 2015, nine claim disputes were filed for consideration. Of those nine, only one was accepted as an eligible claim for review and settled, and three are still under review for acceptance. The remaining five were ineligible.[48]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 395.003, F.S., to require hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers, specialty hospitals, and urgent care centers to comply with the provisions of ss. 627.64194, and 641.513, F.S., as a condition of licensure.

[46] Claim thresholds are established by Rule 59A-12.030, F.A.C.

[47] Section 408.7057, F.S., requires the AHCA to submit an annual report to the Governor and the Legislature on the status of the program. See Agency for Health Care Administration. Statewide Provider and Health Plan Claim Dispute Resolution Program Annual Report (Feb. 2015) available at: https://ahca.myflorida.com/mchq/Health_Facility_Regulation/Commercial_Managed_Care/docs/SPHPClaimDRP/AnnualReportFeb-2015.pdf.

Section 2 amends s. 395.301, F.S., to add website-posting requirements for hospitals. A hospital must post the following information:

- The names and hyperlinks for direct access to the websites of all health insurers and HMOs for which the hospitals contracts as a network provider or a participating provider;
- As applicable, the names, mailing addresses, and telephone numbers of the health care practitioners and practice groups under contract with the hospital to provide services in the hospital, and how to contact them to determine in which health insurers and HMOs they are participating providers; and
- A statement that:
  - Services provided in the hospital by health care practitioners may not be included in the hospital's charges;
  - Health care practitioners who provide services in the hospital may or may not participate in the same health insurance plans as the hospital; and
  - Prospective patients should contact the health care practitioner arranging for the services to determine the health care plans in which the health care practitioner participates.

Section 3 amends s. 408.7057, F.S., to revise the statewide provider and health plan claim dispute resolution program. The bill authorizes the provider or a health plan to make an offer to settle a claim dispute by providing financial incentives for resolution. The party making the offer to settle must state its total amount offered and provide the other party 15 days to respond. If the party receiving the offer does not accept the offer and the final order is more than 90 percent or less than 110 percent of the offer amount, the party receiving the offer must pay the final order amount to the offering party and is deemed the non-prevailing party. The amount of an offer made by a provider to settle an alleged underpayment by a health plan must be greater than 110 percent of the reimbursement amount the provider received. The offer made by a health plan to settle an alleged overpayment to the provider must be less than 90 percent of the alleged overpayment by the health plan. Both parties may agree to settle the disputed claim at any time, for any amount, regardless of whether an offer to settle was made or rejected.

Sections 4, 5, and 6 amends ss. 456.072, 458.331, and 459.015, F.S., respectively, to add as grounds for discipline of a licensee of the Department of Health (DOH) for the willful failure to comply with the provision s. 627.64191, F.S., or s. 641.513, F.S., with such frequency as to constitute a general business practice.

Section 7 amends s. 626.9541, F.S., to provide that a willful violation of s. 627.64194, F.S., by an insurer with such frequency as to indicate a general business practice would constitute an unfair insurance trade practice under s. 626.9541(1), F.S.

Section 8 creates s. 627.64194, F.S., to expand protection for out-of-network coverage of emergency services and covered nonemergency services for insureds of preferred provider organization (PPO) and exclusive provider organization (EPO) networks. Under this section, the following terms are defined:

- Emergency services means the services and care to treat an emergency medical condition, as defined in s. 641.47(8), F.S.;[49]

[49] "Emergency services and care" means medical screening, examination, and evaluation by a physician, or to the extent permitted by applicable law, by other appropriate personnel under the supervision of a physician, to determine if an

- Facility means a licensed facility as defined in s. 395.002(16), F.S.,[50] or an urgent care center as defined in s. 395.002(30), F.S.;[51]
- Nonemergency services means the services and care to treat a condition other than an emergency medical condition;[52]
- Nonparticipating provider means a provider who is not a "preferred provider" as defined in s. 627.6471, F.S.,[53] or an "exclusive provider" as defined in s. 627.6472, F.S.;[54]
- Participating provider means a "preferred provider" as defined in s. 627.6471, F.S., and an "exclusive provider" as defined in s. 627.6472, F.S., but not a facility licensed under ch. 395, F.S.; and
- Insured means a person who is covered under an individual or group health insurance policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state by an insurer authorized to transact business in this state.

For purposes of covered emergency services, a facility licensed under ch. 395, F.S., or an urgent care center is a nonparticipating provider if the facility has not contracted with an insurer to provide emergency services to its insureds at a specified rate.

The bill requires the insurer to be solely responsible for payment to a nonparticipating provider for emergency services in accordance with the coverage terms of the health insurance policy. The insured's liability for payment of fees to a nonparticipating provider of emergency services is limited to applicable coinsurance, copayments, and deductibles. The insurer must provide coverage for emergency services that:

- Does not require a prior authorization;

emergency medical condition exists, and if it does, the care, treatment, or surgery for a covered service by a physician necessary to relieve or eliminate the emergency condition within the service capability of a hospital.

[50] "Licensed facility" means a hospital, ambulatory surgical center, or mobile surgical center licensed in accordance with this chapter.

[51] "Urgent care center" means a facility or clinic that provides immediate but not emergent ambulatory medical care to patients. The term includes an offsite emergency department of a hospital that is presented to the general public in any manner as a department where immediate and not only emergent care is provided. The term also includes: (a) An offsite facility of a facility licensed under this chapter, or a joint venture between a facility licensed under this chapter and a provider licensed under chapter 458 or chapter 459, that does not require a patient to make an appointment and is presented to the general public in any manner as a facility where immediate but not emergent care is provided. (b) A clinic organization that is licensed under part X of ch. 400, F.S., maintains three or more locations using the same or similar name, does not require a patient to make an appointment, and holds itself out to the public in any manner as a facility or clinic where immediate but not emergent medical care is provided.

[52] "Emergency medical condition" means (a) A medical condition manifesting itself by acute symptoms of sufficient severity, which may include severe pain, such that the absence of immediate medical attention could reasonably be expected to result in any of the following: 1. Serious jeopardy to patient health, including a pregnant woman or fetus. 2. Serious impairment to bodily functions. 3. Serious dysfunction of any bodily organ or part. (b) With respect to pregnant women: 1. That there is inadequate time to effect safe transfer to another hospital prior to delivery. 2. That a transfer may pose a threat to the health and safety of the patient or fetus; or 3. That there is evidence of the onset and persistence of uterine contractions or rupture of the membranes.

[53] "Preferred provider" means any licensed health care provider with which the insurer has directly or indirectly contracted for an alternative or a reduced rate of payment, which shall include any health care provider listed in s. 627.419(3) and (4), F.S., and shall provide reasonable access to such health care providers.

[54] "Exclusive provider" means a provider of health care, or a group of providers of health care, that has entered into a written agreement with the insurer to provide benefits under his section, which agreement shall include any health care provider listed in s. 627.419(3) and (4), F.S., and shall provide reasonable access to such health care providers.

- Pays for emergency services regardless of whether the service is furnished by a participating or nonparticipating provider; and
- Imposes coinsurance, copayment, or limitation of benefits for a nonparticipating provider only if the same applies to a participating provider.

Under the bill, the insurer, not the insured, is liable for payment of fees to a nonparticipating provider other than applicable coinsurance, copayments and deductibles, for covered nonemergency services provided to an insured pursuant with coverage terms of the health insurance policy, and such insured is not liable for payment of fees to a nonparticipating provider for covered nonemergency services that are:

- Provided in a facility licensed under ch. 395, F.S., which has a contract with the insurer for nonemergency services that the facility would be otherwise obligated to provide under contract with the insurer; and
- Provided when the insured has no ability and opportunity to choose a participating provider at the facility who is available to treat the insured.

An insurer must reimburse the nonparticipating provider for services provided to an insured in the manner specified under s. 641.513(5), F.S.,[55] reduced only by an insured's cost sharing responsibilities provided in the policy, and within the specified timeframes of s. 627.6131, F.S.[56] A nonparticipating provider of covered emergency services or nonemergency services may not collect or attempt to collect from the insured any amount in excess of applicable coinsurance, copayments, or deductibles. A provider may collect or attempt to collect from an insured an amount due for the provision of uncovered services.

If there is a dispute as to the amount of the reimbursement to the nonparticipating provider of either emergency or nonemergency services, the dispute must be resolved in either a court of competent jurisdiction or by the voluntary dispute resolution process in s. 408.7057, F.S.

Section 9 amends s. 627.6471, F.S., to require that an insurer must make a current list of preferred providers available on its website. The bill requires that the preferred provider list be ordered by specialty, where applicable, and include the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all participating providers, including facilities, and in the case of physicians, their board specialties, languages spoken, and affiliations with local hospitals. The website must be updated on at least a calendar month basis with additions and terminations of providers from the network and any changes in physician hospital affiliations.

Section 10 amends s. 627.6471, F.S., relating to insurance contracts and policies for preferred provider networks, effective upon the bill becoming law. While current law requires any insurer issuing a policy under s. 627.6471, F.S., to provide each policyholder and certificate holder with a current list of preferred providers, the bill requires any such health insurance policy issued after January 1, 2017, to also include the following specific disclosure to policyholders:

[55] Under this statute, the nonparticipating provider may be reimbursed for emergency services in an amount which is the lesser of: the provider's charges; the usual and customary provider charges for similar services in the community where the services were provided; or the charge mutually agreed to by the health maintenance organization and the provider within 60 days of submittal of the claim.

[56] Typically, with an electronically submitted claim, an insurer shall pay the claim within 20 days after receipt or notify the provider or designee if the claim is to be denied or contested.

> WARNING: LIMITED BENEFITS WILL BE PAID WHEN NONPARTICIPATING PROVIDERS ARE USED. You should be aware that when you elect to utilize the services of a nonparticipating provider for a covered nonemergency service, benefit payments to the provider are not based upon the amount the provider charges. The basis of the payment will be determined according to your policy's out-of-network reimbursement benefit. Nonparticipating providers may bill insureds for any difference in the amount. YOU MAY BE REQUIRED TO PAY MORE THAN THE COINSURANCE OR COPAYMENT. Participating providers have agreed to accept discounted payments for services with no additional billing to you other than coinsurance and deductible amounts. You may obtain further information about the providers who have contracted with your insurance plan by consulting your insurer's website or contacting your insurer or agent directly.

Section 11 amends s. 627.662, F.S., to apply the provisions of s. 627.64194, F.S., relating to coverage requirements for services provided by out-of-network providers and payment collection limitations, to group health insurance, blanket health insurance, and franchise health insurance.

Section 12 provides that, except as otherwise expressly provided, the bill is effective October 1, 2016.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact"

Under CS/CS/SB 1442, patients covered by an exclusive provider organization (EPO) or preferred provider organization (PPO) will not be subject to balance billing for emergency services provided by nonparticipating providers. An insurer is liable for the payment of covered nonemergency services provided by nonparticipating providers if the services are provided in a facility that has a contract with the insurer for the nonemergency services, which the facility would be otherwise obligated to provide under the contract, and if the insured does not have the ability and opportunity to select a participating provider.

Hospitals will be required to post and maintain information on their websites about which insurers, health maintenance organizations (HMOs), practitioners, and group practices with which they contract, to put the public on notice. The hospitals may incur an indeterminate amount of costs to comply with this notice requirement.

To the extent that the options provided for determining reimbursement of an out-of-network emergency services claim are different from how an insurer or health care provider currently is reimbursed, the formula for reimbursement may have a fiscal impact on the affected parties.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill adds a new licensing condition for the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) to consider when inspecting hospitals, ambulatory surgical centers, specialty hospitals, and urgent care centers, which may involve an indeterminate amount of additional time and resources for the completion of an inspection.

The Department of Health (DOH) may experience an indeterminate amount of additional workload relating to the bill's new disciplinary grounds.

There is a potential negative fiscal impact of the bill on the Division of State Group Insurance.[57] The impact does not require an appropriation; rather, it indicates a potential impact to the State Employees' Group Health Self-Insurance Trust Fund to be considered through future Self-Insurance Estimating Conferences. The future impact on employer and employee contributions is unknown.

[57] February 23, 2016, email from Department of Management Services (DMS) staff on file with the Committee on Appropriations. An analysis done by the DMS, in consultation with actuarial consultants Foster & Foster, indicated a potential negative fiscal impact of $7 to $14 million annually on the State Employees' Group Health Self-Insurance Trust Fund. According to Foster & Foster, this is a rough estimate based on a limited amount of time to analyze the bill language, limited supporting data, and the inclusion of very broad assumptions:

- The estimate was developed by reviewing one current contracted carrier's experience with non-participating provider claims in a recent three-month period.
- Non-participating providers who currently accept offers of payment based on contracted rates are assumed to be reimbursed at a level equivalent to their reasonable and customary fees.
- All non-participating providers subject to the bill are assumed to settle for amount 11 percent above their reasonable and customary fees.

The analysis performed by Foster & Foster assumes participation in the Statewide Provider and Health Plan Claim Dispute Resolution Program process; however, the current definition of "health plan" in s. 408.7057(1)(b), F.S., does not reference the State Group Insurance Program as defined in s. 110.123(2)(j), F.S. The Department of Management Services and Foster & Foster are conducting a more in-depth analysis to fully evaluate the cost impact to the State Group Health Insurance Program regarding the Statewide Provider and Health Plan Claim Dispute Resolution Program not being applicable to the State Group Health Insurance Program.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

The effective date of this bill is October 1, 2016, which is in the middle or towards end of the plan year for individual health insurance plans and many group plans. It may be more appropriate for the provisions of sections 8 and 11 of this bill to apply to new plans and plan renewals starting after the effective date.

The bill provides that an insured is not liable for payment of fees to a nonparticipating provider for nonemergency services only if the services are provided in a facility contracted for nonemergency services and only if the insured "has no ability and opportunity to choose a participating provider at the facility." The manner in which that ability and opportunity is to be determined is not specified. It may be appropriate to place responsibility on the insurer and the contracted facility, rather than the consumer, for determining and ensuring that the providers treating the consumer at the contracted facility will be participating providers unless the consumer expressly selects a specific nonparticipating provider.[58]

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 395.003, 395.301, 408.7057, 456.072, 458.331, 459.015, 626.9541, 627.6471, and 627.662.

This bill creates section 627.64194 of the Florida Statutes.

(f) "Participating provider" means, for purposes of this section, a preferred provider as defined in s. 627.6471 or an exclusive provider as defined in s. 627.6472.

(2) An insurer is solely liable for payment of fees to a nonparticipating provider of covered emergency services provided to an insured in accordance with the coverage terms of the health insurance policy, and such insured is not liable for payment of fees for covered services to a nonparticipating provider of emergency services, other than applicable copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles. An insurer must provide coverage for emergency services that:

(a) May not require prior authorization.

(b) Must be provided regardless of whether the services are furnished by a participating provider or a nonparticipating provider.

(c) May impose a coinsurance amount, copayment, or limitation of benefits requirement for a nonparticipating provider only if the same requirement applies to a participating provider.

The provisions of s. 627.638 apply to this subsection.

(3) An insurer is solely liable for payment of fees to a nonparticipating provider of covered nonemergency services provided to an insured in accordance with the coverage terms of the health insurance policy, and such insured is not liable for payment of fees to a nonparticipating provider, other than applicable copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles, for covered nonemergency services that are:

(a) Provided in a facility that has a contract for the nonemergency services with the insurer which the facility would be otherwise obligated to provide under contract with the insurer; and

(b) Provided when the insured does not have the ability and opportunity to choose a participating provider at the facility who is available to treat the insured.

The provisions of s. 627.638 apply to this subsection.

(4) An insurer must reimburse a nonparticipating provider of services under subsections (2) and (3) as specified in s. 641.513(5), reduced only by insured cost share responsibilities as specified in the health insurance policy, within the applicable timeframe provided in s. 627.6131.

(5) A nonparticipating provider of emergency services as provided in subsection (2) or a nonparticipating provider of nonemergency services as provided in subsection (3) may not be reimbursed an amount greater than the amount provided in subsection (4) and may not collect or attempt to collect from the insured, directly or indirectly, any excess amount, other than copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles. This section does not prohibit a nonparticipating provider from collecting or attempting to collect from the insured an amount due for the provision of noncovered services.

(6) Any dispute with regard to the reimbursement to the nonparticipating provider of emergency or nonemergency services as provided in subsection (4) shall be resolved in a court of competent jurisdiction or through the voluntary dispute resolution process in s. 408.7057.

Section 9. Subsection (2) of section 627.6471, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

627.6471 Contracts for reduced rates of payment; limitations; coinsurance and deductibles.—

(2) Any insurer issuing a policy of health insurance in this state, which insurance includes coverage for the services of a preferred provider, must provide each policyholder and certificateholder with a current list of preferred providers and must make the list available on its website. The list must include, when applicable and reported, a listing by specialty of the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all participating providers, including facilities, and, in the case of physicians, must also include board certifications, languages spoken, and any affiliations with participating hospitals. Information posted on the insurer's website must be updated on at least a calendar-month basis with additions or terminations of providers from the insurer's network or reported changes in physicians' hospital affiliations ~~for public inspection during regular business hours at the principal office of the insurer within the state~~.

Section 10. Effective upon this act becoming a law, subsection (7) is added to section 627.6471, Florida Statutes, to read:

627.6471 Contracts for reduced rates of payment; limitations; coinsurance and deductibles.—

(7) Any policy issued under this section after January 1, 2017, must include the following disclosure: "WARNING: LIMITED BENEFITS WILL BE PAID WHEN NONPARTICIPATING PROVIDERS ARE USED. You should be aware that when you elect to utilize the services of a nonparticipating provider for a covered nonemergency service, benefit payments to the provider are not based upon the amount the provider charges. The basis of the payment will be determined according to your policy's out-of-network reimbursement benefit. Nonparticipating providers may bill insureds for any difference in the amount. YOU MAY BE REQUIRED TO PAY MORE THAN THE COINSURANCE OR COPAYMENT AMOUNT.

Participating providers have agreed to accept discounted payments for services with no additional billing to you other than coinsurance, copayment, and deductible amounts. You may obtain further information about the providers who have contracted with your insurance plan by consulting your insurer's website or contacting your insurer or agent directly."

Section 11. Subsection (15) is added to section 627.662, Florida Statutes, to read:

627.662 Other provisions applicable.—The following provisions apply to group health insurance, blanket health insurance, and franchise health insurance:

(15) Section 627.64194, relating to coverage requirements for services provided by nonparticipating providers and payment collection limitations.

Section 12. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this act and except for this section, which shall take effect upon this act becoming a law, this act shall take effect October 1, 2016.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/SB 1496 increases the transparency and availability of health care pricing and quality of service information. The Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) is required to contract with a vendor to provide a consumer-friendly, Internet-based platform that allows a consumer to research the cost of health care services and procedures to facilitate price comparison of typical health care services provided in hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers (ASCs). Quality indicators for services at the facilities will also be made available to the consumer to facilitate health care decision making.

Under the bill, hospitals and ASCs are required to provide access to the searchable service bundles on their websites. Consumers will be presented with estimated average payment and estimated payment ranges for each service bundle, by facility, facilities within geographic boundaries, and nationally. A hospital or ASC must notify consumers of other health care providers that may bill separately from the facility, as well as information about the facility's financial assistance policies and collection procedures.

A hospital's or ASC's website must also provide hyperlinks to the websites of insurers and health maintenance organizations (HMOs) for which the facility is in-network or a preferred provider to enable an insured patient to research cost-sharing responsibilities for the service bundle. Insurers and HMOs are required to provide on their websites a method for policy holders to estimate their cost-sharing responsibilities by service bundle, based on the insured's policy and known usage. These estimates must include both in-network and out-of-network providers. Insurers and HMOs are also required to provide hyperlinks on their website to the AHCA's performance outcome and financial data.

Consumers may request personalized good faith estimates of charges for non-emergency medical services from hospitals, ASCs, and health care practitioners relating to medical services provided in the hospital or ASC. The bill also requires home health agencies and home medical equipment providers to provide consumers with good-faith estimates of medical services and supplies. These good-faith estimates must be provided to the consumer within seven days after the request. Information must also be provided about the health care provider's financial assistance policies and collection procedures.

A patient may also request an itemized bill or statement from a hospital or ASC after discharge. The hospital or ASC must provide an itemized bill or statement within seven days that is specific, written in plain language, and identifies all services provided by the facility, as well as rates charged, amounts due, and the payment status. The itemized bill or statement must inform the patient to contact his or her insurer regarding the patient's share of costs. The facility must provide records to verify the bill or statement upon request.

The bill requires the consumer advocate in the Department of Financial Services (DFS) to receive and investigate complaints from insured and uninsured patients concerning billing practices. If, after investigating a complaint, the consumer advocate determines the billing practices and charges were unfair, the consumer advocate will report these findings to the AHCA and the Department of Health (DOH) for regulatory and disciplinary action. The bill provides for penalties for unconscionable prices. The consumer advocate is also authorized to mediate billing complaints and negotiate payment arrangements.

The bill requires health insurers and HMOs that participate in the state group health insurance plan or Medicaid managed care to submit claims data to the vendor selected by the AHCA.

The AHCA estimates the bill will have a negative recurring fiscal impact of approximately $2.7 million in general revenue. Estimates of the fiscal impact of the new duties of the consumer advocate within the DFS are not available at this time. See Section V.

The bill has an effective date of July 1, 2016, except as otherwise provided in the bill.

II. Present Situation:

Health Care Price and Quality Transparency

In general, the term "transparency," when applied to health care, refers to the ability of a patient or the public to investigate and compare different health care providers for pricing and quality of care for one or more procedures. Although simple sounding, health care price transparency is difficult to implement due to legal challenges, the various manners in which health care is provided, and the various manners in which health care costs are paid. Demonstrating this difficulty, the Health Care Incentives Improvement Institute gave an F grade to 45 out of 50 states, including Florida, in its 2015 Report Card on State Price Transparency Laws.[1, 2]

Some difficulties in implementing health care price transparency include:

- Legal barriers, including the confidentiality of some contractual information between health care providers and insurers, as well and health insurer trade secret information;[3]
- Difficulty in determining who will be providing care and whether or not all providers are in a patient's insurance network;[4]
- General confusion over billing practices;[5] and
- Difficulty drawing comparisons between patients' particular situations.[6]

Common Definitions in Health Care Pricing

Another basic difficulty in interpreting health care pricing is understanding the definition of many terms. Some common definitions include:

- "Charge," which means the dollar amount a provider charges for services rendered, before any contracted discounts are applied; a charge can be different from the amount paid;
- "Cost," the definition of which varies by the party incurring the expense:
  - To the patient, cost is the amount payable out of pocket for health care services;
  - To the provider, cost is the expense (direct and indirect) incurred to deliver health care services to patients;
  - To the insurer, cost is the amount payable to the provider (or reimbursable to the patient) for services rendered;
  - To the employer, cost is the expense related to providing health benefits (premiums or claims paid);
- "Price," which means the total amount a provider expects to be paid by payers and/or patients for health care services; and
- "Out-of-pocket payment," which means the portion of total payment for medical services and treatment for which the patient is responsible, including copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles.[7]

[5] Many hospital bills, and bills issued by other health care facilities, consist of billing codes and names of procedures or medications which may not be easily understood by a layperson. Additionally, it may be difficult to determine whether charges on the bill have been paid, need to be paid, or will be paid by a third party such as a health insurer.
[6] For example, an older patient may be more fragile and require more recovery time and caution when administering a procedure and, therefore, may be charged more than a younger patient for the same procedure. Additionally, actual payment amounts to the health care provider may differ from patient to patient depending on whether that patient has insurance and the magnitude of any discounts that the insurer has negotiated with that health care provider.

Current Florida Requirements for Health Care Price and Quality Transparency

Current Florida law establishes multiple requirements regarding health care cost and quality transparency. Examples of such requirements include:

- Florida's Patient's Bill of Rights and Responsibilities,[8] which establishes the right of patients to, among other rights, be given information of known financial resources for the patient's health care, a reasonable estimate of charges before a procedure, and an itemized bill;
- The requirement for hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers (ASCs) to provide patients and their physicians with itemized bills upon request;[9]
- The requirement for pharmacies, health insurers, and health maintenance organizations (HMOs) to inform customers of the availability of the Agency for Health Care Administration's (AHCA's) quality and cost information;[10] and
- The requirement for HMOs to disclose financial data to customers and provide customers with estimated costs for services.[11]

The Florida Center for Health Information and Policy Analysis

Section 408.05, F.S., establishes the Florida Center for Health Information and Policy Analysis (Florida Center). The Florida Center is required to establish a comprehensive health information system to provide for the collection, compilation, coordination, analysis, indexing, dissemination, and utilization of collected and extant health-related data. The Florida Center is responsible for:

- Collecting adverse incident reports from hospitals, ASCs, HMOs, nursing homes, and assisted living facilities (ALFs);
- Collecting discharge data from licensed hospitals, ASCs, emergency departments, cardiac catheterization laboratories, and lithotripsy;
- Administering patient injury reporting, tracking, trending, and problem resolution programs for hospitals, ASCs, nursing homes, ALFs, and some HMOs
- Processing patient data requests and providing technical assistance; and
- Administering www.FloridaHealthFinder.gov, Florida's state-run website which provides easy access to health care information through health care quality comparison tools, a health encyclopedia, and other resources. The public may access the website to learn about medical conditions, compare health care facilities and providers, and find health care resources. The website also allows users to compare price ranges for some commonly offered health care services between health care providers.[12, 13]

The Florida Commission on Health care and Hospital Funding

On May 5, 2015, Governor Rick Scott signed Executive Order 15-99 that established the Commission on Health care and Hospital Funding (commission).[14] The commission was created to investigate and advise on the role of taxpayer funding for hospitals, insurers, and health care providers, and the affordability, access, and quality of health care services they provide. The commission has met 15 times between May 20, 2015 and January 19, 2016, and will continue meeting. The commission has heard testimony and collected data from numerous sources, including physicians, hospitals, state agencies, health maintenance organizations, and the public, but it has not yet published conclusions or final recommendations. On November 19, 2015, the commission endorsed proposed bill language from Governor Scott to address the issue of health care price and quality transparency.[15, 16] Many of the concepts inherent to the Governor's proposal are addressed in SB 1496.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends the licensure requirements for hospitals and ambulatory surgical centers (ASCs) in s. 395.301, F.S., to require that such facilities meet new standards for providing financial information and quality of service measures to patients and the public.[17]

General Requirements for the Provision of Information to the Public

The bill requires each hospital and ASC to:

- Provide timely and accurate financial information and quality of service measures to prospective patients, actual patients, and patient's legal guardians or survivors;
- Provide information on payments made to that facility via the facility's website, under the following parameters:
  - The posted information must be presented and searchable in accordance with, and through a hyperlink to, the system and service bundles established by the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA).
  - The minimum information that must be provided by the facility for each service bundle includes:
    - The estimated average payment received from all payers except Medicaid and Medicare; and
    - The estimated payment range.
  - The facility must state in plain language that the information provided is an estimate of costs and that actual costs will be based on services actually provided.

[17] Note: Some of the effects detailed in the analysis of section 1 of the bill are requirements that are in current law and which are either kept intact or revised and restated. Due to the significant reorganization of s. 395.301, F.S., the total effects of all new, current law, and revised requirements are included in this analysis as effects of the bill.

  - The facility must assist the consumer in accessing his or her health insurer's or HMO's website for information on estimated copayments, deductibles, and other cost-sharing responsibilities;
- Post information on its website, including:
  - The names of all health insurers and HMOs for which the facility is a network provider or a preferred provider, along with links to the respective websites;
  - Information for uninsured or out-of-network patients on:
    - The facility's financial assistance policy including the application process, payment plans, and discounts; and
    - The facility's collection procedures and charity care policies;
  - A notification to patients and prospective patients that services may be provided in the facility by the facility and by other health care providers who may bill separately;
  - Notification that patients and prospective patients may request a personalized estimate of charges from the facility; and
  - A link to health-related data, including quality measures and statistics that are disseminated by the AHCA; and
- Take action to notify the public that health-related data is electronically available to the public and provide a link to the AHCA's website.

Requirements to Respond to Specific Requests for Information

Upon specific request, the bill requires each facility to provide:
- A written, good-faith estimate of reasonably anticipated facility charges for the non-emergency treatment of the requestor's specific condition, under the following parameters:
  - The estimate must be provided within seven business days after the receipt of the request;
  - The facility is not required to adjust the estimate to account for any insurance coverage;
  - The estimate may be based on the service bundles created by the AHCA unless the patient requests a more specific estimate;
  - The facility must inform the patient that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or HMO for additional information on cost-sharing responsibilities;
  - The estimate must provide information on the facility's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, and discounts;
  - The estimate must provide information on the facility's charity care policy and collection procedures;
  - Upon request, the facility must notify the requestor of any revision to the estimate;
  - The estimate must contain a notice that services may be provided by other health care providers who may bill separately;
  - The facility must take action to notify the public that such estimates are available;
  - The facility will be fined $500 for each instance of failing to timely provide a requested estimate; and
  - The provision of the estimate does not preclude the charges from exceeding the estimate;
- An itemized bill or statement to the patient, or the patient's survivor or legal guardian, under the following parameters:
  - The initial itemized statement or bill:
    - Must be provided within seven days of the patient's discharge or the patient's request;
    - Must detail the specific nature of charges or expenses in plain language, comprehensible to an ordinary layperson;

- Must contain a statement of specific services received and expenses incurred by date;
- Must enumerate in detail, as prescribed by the AHCA, the constituent components of the services received within each department of the facility;
- Must include unit price data on rates charged by the facility;
- Must identify each item as paid, pending payment by a third party, or pending payment by the patient;
- Must include the amount due, if applicable;
- Must advise the patient or the patient's legal survivor or guardian to contact the patient's health insurer or HMO regarding the patient's cost-sharing responsibilities;
- Must include a notice of hospital-based physicians and other health care providers who bill separately;
- May not include any generalized category of expenses;
- Must list drugs by brand or generic name;
- Must identify the date, type, and length of treatment for any physical, occupational, or speech therapy provided; and
- Must prominently display the telephone number of the medical facility's patient liaison;

o Any subsequent bill must contain all of the information required in the initial bill with any revisions clearly delineated;
o A facility must make available at no charge, except copying fees, both in the facility's office and electronically, all records necessary for the verification of the accuracy of the invoice or bill within 10 business days after a request for such records and before payment of the statement or bill; and o Each facility must establish a method of responding to a patient's question about his or her itemized bill within seven business days after the question is received.

If the patient is not satisfied with the facility's response to a question, the facility must provide the patient with the address and contract information for the consumer advocate as provided in s. 627.0613, F.S.

Miscellaneous Provisions

The bill deletes statutory language:
- Stating that any person who receives an itemized statement is fully and accurately informed as to each charge and service provided by the institution preparing the statement;
- Requiring an itemized statement to contain a disclosure identifying the ownership status, either for-profit or not-for-profit, of the facility preparing the statement;
- Requiring an itemized bill to be provided to the patient's physician at no charge;
- Restricting physicians, dentists, podiatrists, and other licensed facilities from adding to the price charged by a third party except for a service or handling charge which represents a cost actually incurred.

The bill also makes other technical and conforming changes.

Section 2 creates s. 395.3012, F.S., to allow the AHCA to impose fines based on the findings of the consumer advocate's investigation of billing complaints pursuant to s. 627.0613(6), F.S. The bill sets the fines for noncompliance at the greater of $2,500 per violation or double the amount of the original charges.

Sections 3 and 4 amend ss. 400.487 and 400.934, F.S., respectively, to require home health agencies and home medical equipment providers to, upon request, provide a written, good-faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for services provided by that health care provider within seven business days after receiving a request and to provide information disclosing payment plans, discounts, other available assistance, and collection procedures. Additionally, home health agencies and home medical equipment providers must inform the requestor that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or HMO for additional information concerning cost sharing responsibilities.

Section 5 amends s. 408.05, F.S., to replace the Florida Center for Health Information and Policy Analysis with the Florida Center for Health Information and Transparency (center), to be housed within the AHCA. The center's responsibilities are streamlined and updated to reflect current data needs. The center is tasked with collecting, compiling, coordinating, analyzing, indexing, and disseminating health-related data and statistics. The center and the AHCA must meet numerous requirements, as described below.[18]

Health Related Data

The bill:

- Requires that the center be staffed as necessary to carry out its functions;
- Requires that the center maintain data sets in existence before July 1, 2016, unless such data are duplicated and readily available from other credible sources;
- Requires that the center collect data on:
  - Health resources, including licensed health care practitioners by specialty and type of practice and including data collected by the Department of Health (DOH) pursuant to ss. 458.3191 and 456.0081, F.S.;
  - Health service inventories, including acute care, long-term care, and other institutional care facilities and specific services provided by hospitals, nursing homes, home health agencies, and other licensed health care facilities;
  - Service utilization for licensed health care facilities;
  - Health care costs and financing;
  - The extent of public and private health insurance coverage in Florida; and
  - Specific quality-of-care initiatives involving various health care providers when extant data is not adequate to achieve the objectives of the initiatives;
- Eliminates the requirement that the center collect data on:
  - The extent and nature of illness and disability of the state population;
  - The impact of illness and disability of the state population on the state economy;
  - Environmental, social, and other health hazards;
  - Health knowledge and practices of the people in Florida; and
  - Family formation, growth, and dissolution.

[18] As similarly noted in Section 1, due to significant revision and organizational changes in this section, the total effects of all new, revised, and current law requirements are included in this analysis as effects of the bill.

Health Information Transparency

The bill:

- Requires the AHCA to:
  - Contract with a vendor to provide a consumer-friendly, Internet-based platform that allows a consumer to research the cost of health care services and procedures and allows for price comparison, and the platform must allow a consumer to search by condition or service bundle that is comprehensible to an ordinary layperson and may not require registration, password, or user identification;
  - Collect and compile information on and coordinate the activities of state agencies involved in providing health information to consumers;
  - Promote data sharing by making state-collected data available, transferable, and readily usable;
  - Develop written agreements with local, state, and federal agencies to facilitate the sharing of data related to health care;
  - Establish by rule the types of data collected, complied, processed, used, or shared;
  - Consult with contracted vendors, the State Consumer Health Information and Policy Advisory Council, and other public and private users regarding the types of data that should be collected and the use of such data;
  - Monitor data collection procedures and test data quality to facilitate the dissemination of data that are accurate, valid, reliable, and complete;
  - Develop methods for archiving data, retrieving archived data, and editing data, and verifying data;
  - Make available health care quality measures that will allow consumers to compare outcomes and other performance measures for health care services; and
  - Make available the results of special health surveys, health care research, and health care evaluations conducted or supported by under s. 408.05, F.S.;
- Restricts the AHCA from establishing an all-payer claims database without express legislative authority;
- Eliminates requirements, except as detailed above, for the AHCA and the center to:
  - Review the statistical activities of state agencies to ensure they are consistent with the comprehensive health information system;
  - Establish minimum health-care-related data sets;
  - Establish advisory standards for the quality of health statistical and epidemiological data collection;
  - Prescribe standards for the publication of health-care-related data;
  - Establish a long-range plan for making health care quality measures and financial data available;
  - Provide technical assistance to persons or organizations engaged in health planning activities;
  - Administer, manage, and monitor grants related to health information services; and
  - Aid in the dissemination of data through the publication of reports, including an annual report, and conducting special studies and surveys.

The vendor must:

- Be a non-profit research institute that is qualified under s. 1874 of the federal Social Security Act to receive Medicare claims data and which receives claims data from multiple private insurers nationwide;
- Have a national database consisting of at least 15 billion claim lines of administrative claims data from multiple payers capable of being expanded by adding third-party payers, including employers with Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) plans;
- Have a well-developed methodology for analyzing claims data within defined service bundles; and
- Have a bundling methodology that is available in the public domain to allow for consistency and comparison of state and national benchmarks with local regions and specific providers.

Section 6 amends s. 408.061, F.S., to:
- Require that the AHCA mandate the submission of data from health care facilities, health care providers, and health insurers in order to facilitate transparency in health care pricing and quality measures;
- Provide that data submitted by health care providers may include actual charges to patients as specified by rule; and
- Provide that data submitted by health insurers may include payments to health care facilities and health care providers as specified by rule.

Section 7 amends s. 456.0575, F.S., to require that every licensed health care practitioner must provide, upon request by a patient, a good-faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for any non-emergency services to treat the patient's condition at a hospital or ASC. This estimate must be provided within seven business days after receiving the request and before providing the service for which the request for an estimate was made. The practitioner must inform the patient that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or HMO for additional information concerning cost-sharing responsibilities. The practitioner must also provide information to uninsured or out of network patients on the practitioner's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, discounts, and other available assistance, the practitioner's charity care policy, and the practitioner's collection procedures.

The bill provides that such an estimate does not preclude the actual charges from exceeding the estimate and that failure to provide a requested estimate in accordance with the provisions stated and without good cause will result in disciplinary action and a fine of $500 for each instance of failure to provide the requested estimate.

Section 8 amends s. 456.072, F.S., to include the failure to comply with fair billing practices pursuant to s. 627.0613, F.S., in the list of grounds for which disciplinary actions may be taken against a health care practitioner.

Section 9 amends s. 627.0613, F.S., to expand the duties of the consumer advocate.[19] The bill requires that:

[19] The consumer advocate is appointed by, and reports to, the Chief Financial Officer and is tasked with representing the general public before various state agencies.

- The consumer advocate must report to the AHCA and the DOH the findings resulting from investigation of unresolved complaints concerning the billing practices of any hospital, ASC, or health care practitioner licensed under ch. 456, F.S.;
- The AHCA and the DOH must grant the consumer advocate access to any files, records, and data which are necessary for such investigations;
- The consumer advocate must provide mediation between providers and patients to resolve billing complaints and negotiate arrangements for extended payment schedules; and
- The consumer advocate must maintain a process for receiving and investigating complaints concerning billing practices by hospitals, ASCs, and health care practitioners licensed under ch. 456, F.S.

Under the bill, such investigations by the consumer advocate are limited to determining compliance with the following:

- The patient was informed before a non-emergency procedure of the expected payments related to the procedure, the contact information for health insurers or HMOs, and the expected involvement of other providers who may bill separately;
- The patient was informed of policies and procedures to qualify for discounts;
- The patient was informed of collection procedures and given the opportunity to participate in an extended payment schedule;

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

PCS/SB 1496 may have a positive fiscal impact on consumers of health care services to the extent the transparency measures allow consumers to make better informed choices on where to obtain their health care services based on price and quality, take advantage of discounts or other financial assistance, or negotiate with health care service providers on the specific costs of services.

The bill may have a negative fiscal impact on providers of health care services, health insurers, and HMOs related to posting health care information on their webpages or providing patient-specific estimates.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The AHCA estimates that the bill will have recurring costs to the agency of approximately $2.7 million per year, all of which is general revenue. Contracted services account for approximately $2.5 to $2.6 million of the annual costs. Approximately $133,000 of the annual costs are for two full-time-equivalent positions. Additional recurring costs include approximately $12,000 per year for expenses and less than $1,000 per year for human resource services. The AHCA also estimates non-recurring costs for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 of $9,054.[20]

An estimate of the fiscal impact of the new duties of the office of the consumer advocate within the Department of Financial Services (DFS) is not yet available, but an estimate has been requested of the DFS.

Delete everything after the enacting clause and insert:

Section 1. Section 395.301, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

395.301 Price transparency; itemized patient statement or bill; ~~form and content prescribed by the agency;~~ patient admission status notification.—

(1) A facility licensed under this chapter shall provide timely and accurate financial information and quality of service measures to prospective and actual patients of the facility, or to patients' survivors or legal guardians, as appropriate. Such information shall be provided in accordance with this section and rules adopted by the agency pursuant to this chapter and s. 408.05. Licensed facilities operating exclusively as state facilities are exempt from this subsection.

(a) Each licensed facility shall make available to the public on its website information on payments made to that facility for defined bundles of services and procedures. The payment data must be presented and searchable in accordance with, and through a hyperlink to, the system established by the agency and its vendor using the descriptive service bundles developed under s. 408.05(3)(c). At a minimum, the facility shall provide the estimated average payment received from all payors, excluding Medicaid and Medicare, for the descriptive service bundles available at that facility and the estimated payment range for such bundles. Using plain language, comprehensible to an ordinary layperson, the facility must disclose that the information on average payments and the payment ranges is an estimate of costs that may be incurred by the patient or prospective patient and that actual costs will be based on the services actually provided to the patient. The facility shall also assist the consumer in accessing his or her health insurer's or health maintenance organization's website for information on estimated copayments, deductibles, and other cost-sharing responsibilities. The facility's website must:

1. Identify and post the names and hyperlinks for direct access to the websites of all health insurers and health maintenance organizations for which the facility is a network provider or preferred provider.

2. Provide information to uninsured patients and insured patients whose health insurer or health maintenance organization does not include the facility as a network provider or preferred provider on the facility's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, and discounts, and the facility's charity care policy and collection procedures.

3. If applicable, notify patients and prospective patients that services may be provided in the health care facility by the facility as well as by other health care providers who may separately bill the patient and that such health care providers may or may not participate with the same health insurers or health maintenance organizations as the facility does.

4. Inform patients and prospective patients that they may request from the facility and other health care providers a more personalized estimate of charges and other information, and inform patients that they should contact each health care practitioner who will provide services in the hospital to determine with which health insurers and health maintenance organizations he or she participates as a network provider or preferred provider.

5. Provide the names, mailing addresses, and telephone numbers of the health care practitioners and medical practice groups with which it contracts to provide services in the facility and instructions on how to contact the practitioners and groups to determine the health insurers and health maintenance organizations with which they participate as a network provider or preferred provider.

(b)1. Upon request, and before providing any nonemergency medical services, each licensed facility shall provide a written, good faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges by the facility for the treatment of the patient's or prospective patient's specific condition. The facility must provide the estimate in writing to the patient or prospective patient within 7 business days after the receipt of the request and is not required to adjust the estimate for any potential insurance coverage. The estimate may be based on the descriptive service bundles developed by the agency under s. 408.05(3)(c) unless the patient or prospective patient requests a more personalized and specific estimate that accounts for the specific condition and characteristics of the patient or prospective patient. The facility shall inform the patient or prospective patient that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or health maintenance organization for additional information concerning cost-sharing responsibilities.

2. In the estimate, the facility shall provide to the patient or prospective patient information on the facility's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, and discounts and the facility's charity care policy and collection procedures.

3. The estimate shall clearly identify any facility fees and, if applicable, include a statement notifying the patient or prospective patient that a facility fee is included in the estimate, the purpose of the fee, and that the patient may pay less for the procedure or service at another facility or in another health care setting.

4. Upon request, the facility shall notify the patient or prospective patient of any revision to the estimate.

5. In the estimate, the facility must notify the patient or prospective patient that services may be provided in the health care facility by the facility as well as by other health care providers that may separately bill the patient, if applicable.

6. The facility shall take action to educate the public that such estimates are available upon request.

7. Failure to timely provide the estimate pursuant to this paragraph shall result in a daily fine of $1,000 until the estimate is provided to the patient or prospective patient. The total fine may not exceed $10,000.

The provision of an estimate does not preclude the actual charges from exceeding the estimate.

(c) Each facility shall make available on its website a hyperlink to the health-related data, including quality measures and statistics that are disseminated by the agency pursuant to s. 408.05. The facility shall also take action to notify the public that such information is electronically available and provide a hyperlink to the agency's website.

(d)1. Upon request, and after the patient's discharge or release from a facility, the facility must provide ~~A licensed facility not operated by the state shall notify each patient during admission and at discharge of his or her right to receive an itemized bill upon request. The statement or bill must also clearly identify any facility fee and explain the purpose of the fee. The statement or bill must identify each item as paid, pending payment by a third party, or pending payment by the patient and must include the amount due, if applicable. If an amount is due from the patient, a due date must be included. The initial statement or bill must direct the patient or the patient's survivor or legal guardian, as appropriate, to contact the patient's insurer or health maintenance organization regarding the patient's cost-sharing responsibilities.

2. Any subsequent statement or bill provided to a patient or to the patient's survivor or legal guardian, as appropriate, relating to the episode of care must include all of the information required by subparagraph 1., with any revisions clearly delineated.

The amount of the service or handling charge, if any, shall be set forth clearly in the bill to the patient.~~

At a minimum, the data shall be made available on the agency's Internet website in a manner that allows consumers to conduct an interactive search that allows them to view and compare the information for specific providers. The website must include~~

The schedule must be posted in a conspicuous place in the reception area of the provider's office and must include, but is not limited to, the 50 services most frequently provided by the primary care provider. The schedule may group services by three price levels, listing services in each price level. The posting must be at least 15 square feet in size. A primary care provider who publishes and maintains a schedule of charges for medical services is exempt from the license fee requirements for a single period of renewal of a professional license under chapter 456 for that licensure term and is exempt from the continuing education requirements of chapter 456 and the rules implementing those requirements for a single 2-year period.

4. If a primary care provider publishes a schedule of charges pursuant to subparagraph 3., he or she must continually post it at all times for the duration of active licensure in this state when primary care services are provided to patients. If a primary care provider fails to post the schedule of charges in accordance with this subparagraph, the provider shall be required to pay any license fee and comply with any continuing education requirements for which an exemption was received.

5. A health care provider or a health care facility shall, upon request, furnish a person, before the provision of medical services, a reasonable estimate of charges for such services. The health care provider or the health care facility shall provide an uninsured person, before the provision of a planned nonemergency medical service, a reasonable estimate of charges for such service and information regarding the provider's or facility's discount or charity policies for which the uninsured person may be eligible. Such estimates by a primary care provider must be consistent with the schedule posted under subparagraph 3. Estimates shall, to the extent possible, be written in language comprehensible to an ordinary layperson. Such reasonable estimate does not preclude the health care provider or health care facility from exceeding the estimate or making additional charges based on changes in the patient's condition or treatment needs.

6. Each licensed facility, except a facility operating exclusively as a state facility, ~~not operated by the state~~ shall make available to the public on its ~~Internet~~ website or by other electronic means a description of and a hyperlink ~~link~~ to the health information ~~performance outcome and financial data~~ that is disseminated ~~published~~ by the agency pursuant to s. 408.05(3) ~~s. 408.05(3)(k)~~. The facility shall place a notice in the reception area that such information is available electronically and the website address. The licensed facility may indicate that the pricing information is based on a compilation of charges for the average patient and that each patient's statement or bill may vary from the average depending upon the severity of illness and individual resources consumed. The licensed facility may also indicate that the price of service is negotiable for eligible patients based upon the patient's ability to pay.

7. A patient has the right to receive a copy of an itemized statement or bill upon request. A patient has a right to be given an explanation of charges upon request.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Section 395.301, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

395.301 Price transparency; itemized patient statement or bill; ~~form and content prescribed by the agency;~~ patient admission status notification.—

(1) A facility licensed under this chapter shall provide timely and accurate financial information and quality of service measures to prospective and actual patients of the facility, or to patients' survivors or legal guardians, as appropriate. Such information shall be provided in accordance with this section and rules adopted by the agency pursuant to this chapter and s. 408.05. Licensed facilities operating exclusively as state mental health treatment facilities or as mobile surgical facilities are exempt from the requirements of this subsection.

(a) Each licensed facility shall make available to the public on its website information on payments made to that facility for defined bundles of services and procedures. The payment data must be presented and searchable in accordance with, and through a hyperlink to, the system established by the agency and its vendor using the descriptive service bundles developed under s. 408.05(3)(c). At a minimum, the facility shall provide the estimated average payment received from all payors, excluding Medicaid and Medicare, for the descriptive service bundles available at that facility and the estimated payment range for such bundles. Using plain language, comprehensible to an ordinary layperson, the facility must disclose that the information on average payments and the payment ranges is an estimate of costs that may be incurred by the patient or prospective patient and that actual costs will be based on the services actually provided to the patient. The facility shall also assist the consumer in accessing his or her health insurer's or health maintenance organization's website for information on estimated copayments, deductibles, and other cost-sharing responsibilities. The facility's website must:

1. Identify and post the names of all health insurers and health maintenance organizations for which the facility is a network provider or preferred provider and include a hyperlink to the website of each.

2. Provide information to uninsured patients and insured patients whose health insurer or health maintenance organization does not include the facility as a network provider or preferred provider on the facility's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, and discounts, and the facility's charity care policy and collection procedures.

3. Notify patients or prospective patients that services may be provided in the health care facility by the facility as well as by other health care providers who may separately bill the patient.

4. Inform patients or prospective patients that they may request from the facility and other health care providers a more personalized estimate of charges and other information.

(b)1. Upon request, and before providing any nonemergency medical services, each licensed facility shall provide a written, good faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges by the facility for the treatment of the patient's or prospective patient's specific condition. The facility must provide the estimate in writing to the patient or prospective patient within 7 business days after the receipt of the request and is not required to adjust the estimate for any potential insurance coverage. The estimate may be based on the descriptive service bundles developed by the agency under s. 408.05(3)(c) unless the patient or prospective patient requests a more personalized and specific estimate that accounts for the specific condition and characteristics of the patient or prospective patient. The facility shall inform the patient or prospective patient that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or health maintenance organization for additional information concerning cost-sharing responsibilities.

2. In the estimate, the facility shall provide to the patient or prospective patient information on the facility's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, and discounts and the facility's charity care policy and collection procedures.

3. Upon request, the facility shall notify the patient or prospective patient of any revision to the estimate.

4. In the estimate, the facility must notify the patient or prospective patient that services may be provided in the health care facility by the facility as well as by other health care providers that may separately bill the patient.

5. The facility shall take action to educate the public that such estimates are available upon request.

6. Failure to timely provide the estimate pursuant to this paragraph shall result in a fine of $500 for each instance of the facility's failure to provide the requested information.

The provision of an estimate does not preclude the actual charges from exceeding the estimate.

(c) Each facility shall make available on its website a hyperlink to the health-related data, including quality measures and statistics that are disseminated by the agency pursuant to s. 408.05. The facility shall also take action to notify the public that such information is electronically available and provide a hyperlink to the agency's website.

(d)1. Upon request, and after the patient's discharge or release from the facility, the facility must provide ~~A licensed facility not operated by the state shall notify each patient during admission and at discharge of his or her right to receive an itemized bill upon request. Within 7 days following the~~ ~~patient's discharge or release from a licensed facility not operated by the state, the licensed facility providing the service shall, upon request, submit~~ to the patient~~,~~ or to the patient's survivor or legal guardian, as ~~may be~~ appropriate, an itemized statement or bill detailing in plain language, comprehensible to an ordinary layperson, the specific nature of charges or expenses incurred by the patient.~~, which in~~ The initial statement or bill ~~billing~~ shall be provided within 7 days after the patient's discharge or release from the facility or after a request for such statement or bill, whichever is later. The initial statement or bill must contain a statement of specific services received and expenses incurred by date for such items of service, enumerating in detail as prescribed by the agency the constituent components of the services received within each department of the licensed facility and including unit price data on rates charged by the licensed facility~~, as prescribed by the agency~~. The statement or bill must identify each item as paid, pending payment by a third party, or pending payment by the patient and must include the amount due, if applicable. If an amount is due from the patient, a due date must be included. The initial statement or bill must inform the patient or the patient's survivor or legal guardian, as appropriate, to contact the patient's insurer or health maintenance organization regarding the patient's cost-sharing responsibilities.

2. Any subsequent statement or bill provided to a patient or to the patient's survivor or legal guardian, as appropriate, relating to the episode of care must include all of the information required by subparagraph 1., with any revisions clearly delineated.

3.~~(2)(a)~~ Each ~~such~~ statement or bill provided ~~submitted~~ pursuant to this subsection ~~section~~:

a.~~1.~~ Must ~~May not~~ include notice ~~charges~~ of hospital-based physicians and other health care providers who bill ~~if billed~~ separately.

b.~~2.~~ May not include any generalized category of expenses such as "other" or "miscellaneous" or similar categories.

d.~~4.~~ Must ~~Shall~~ specifically identify physical, occupational, or speech therapy treatment as to the date, type, and length of treatment when such ~~therapy~~ treatment is a part of the statement or bill.

~~(b) Any person receiving a statement pursuant to this section shall be fully and accurately informed as to each charge and service provided by the institution preparing the statement.~~

(2)~~(3) On each itemized statement submitted pursuant to subsection (1) there shall appear the words "A FOR-PROFIT (or NOT-FOR-PROFIT or PUBLIC) HOSPITAL (or AMBULATORY SURGICAL CENTER) LICENSED BY THE STATE OF FLORIDA" or substantially similar words sufficient to identify clearly and plainly the ownership status of the licensed facility.~~ Each itemized statement or bill must prominently display the telephone ~~phone~~ number of the medical facility's patient liaison who is responsible for expediting the resolution of any billing dispute between the patient, or the patient's survivor or legal guardian ~~his or her representative~~, and the billing department.

~~(4) An itemized bill shall be provided once to the~~

~~patient's physician at the physician's request, at no charge.~~

~~(5) In any billing for services subsequent to the initial billing for such services, the patient, or the patient's survivor or legal guardian, may elect, at his or her option, to receive a copy of the detailed statement of specific services received and expenses incurred for each such item of service as provided in subsection (1).~~

~~(6) No physician, dentist, podiatric physician, or licensed facility may add to the price charged by any third party except for a service or handling charge representing a cost actually incurred as an item of expense; however, the physician, dentist, podiatric physician, or licensed facility is entitled to fair compensation for all professional services rendered. The amount of the service or handling charge, if any, shall be set forth clearly in the bill to the patient.~~

~~(7) Each licensed facility not operated by the state shall provide, prior to provision of any nonemergency medical services, a written good faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for the facility to treat the patient's condition upon written request of a prospective patient. The estimate shall be provided to the prospective patient within 7 business days after the receipt of the request. The estimate may be the average charges for that diagnosis related group or the average charges for that procedure. Upon request, the facility shall notify the patient of any revision to the good faith estimate. Such estimate shall not preclude the actual charges from exceeding the estimate. The facility shall place a notice in the reception area that such information is available. Failure to provide the estimate within the provisions~~

~~established pursuant to this section shall result in a fine of $500 for each instance of the facility's failure to provide the requested information.~~

~~(8) Each licensed facility that is not operated by the state shall provide any uninsured person seeking planned nonemergency elective admission a written good faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for the facility to treat such person. The estimate must be provided to the uninsured person within 7 business days after the person notifies the facility and the facility confirms that the person is uninsured. The estimate may be the average charges for that diagnosis-related group or the average charges for that procedure. Upon request, the facility shall notify the person of any revision to the good faith estimate. Such estimate does not preclude the actual charges from exceeding the estimate. The facility shall also provide to the uninsured person a copy of any facility discount and charity care discount policies for which the uninsured person may be eligible. The facility shall place a notice in the reception area where such information is available. Failure to provide the estimate as required by this subsection shall result in a fine of $500 for each instance of the facility's failure to provide the requested information.~~

(4) ~~(10)~~ A licensed facility shall make available to a patient all records necessary for verification of the accuracy of the patient's statement or bill within 10 ~~30~~ business days after the request for such records. The records ~~verification information~~ must be made available in the facility's offices and through electronic means that comply with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA). Such records must ~~shall~~ be available to the patient before ~~prior to~~ and after payment of the statement or bill ~~or claim~~. The facility may not charge the patient for making such verification records available; however, the facility may charge its usual fee for providing copies of records as specified in s. 395.3025.

(5) ~~(11)~~ Each facility shall establish a method for reviewing and responding to questions from patients concerning the patient's itemized statement or bill. Such response shall be provided within 7 business ~~30~~ days after the date a question is received. If the patient is not satisfied with the response, the facility must provide the patient with the address and contact information of the consumer advocate as provided in s. 627.0613 ~~agency~~ to which the issue may be sent for review.

~~(12) Each licensed facility shall make available on its Internet website a link to the performance outcome and financial data that is published by the Agency for Health Care Administration pursuant to s. 408.05(3)(k). The agency shall follow good purchasing practices of state procurement to the extent practicable under the circumstances.

2. Each vendor in a major procurement, and any other vendor if the department deems it necessary to protect the state's financial interests, shall, at the time of executing any contract with the department, post an appropriate bond with the department in an amount determined by the department to be adequate to protect the state's interests but not higher than the full amount estimated to be paid annually to the vendor under the contract.

3. Each major contract entered into by the department pursuant to this section shall contain a provision for payment of liquidated damages to the department for material noncompliance by a vendor with a contract provision. The department may require a liquidated damages provision in any contract if the department deems it necessary to protect the state's financial interests.

4. Section ~~The provisions of s.~~ 120.57(3) applies ~~apply~~ to the department's contracting process, except:

a. A formal written protest of any decision, intended decision, or other action subject to protest shall be filed within 72 hours after receipt of notice of the decision, intended decision, or other action.

b. As an alternative to any provision of s. 120.57(3), the department may proceed with the bid selection or contract award process if the director of the department sets forth, in writing, particular facts and circumstances which demonstrate the necessity of continuing the procurement process or the contract award process in order to avoid a substantial disruption to the provision of any scheduled insurance services.

5. The department shall make arrangements as necessary to provide claims data of the state group health insurance plan to the contracted vendor selected by the Agency for Health Care Administration pursuant to s. 408.05(3)(c).

6. Each contracted vendor for the state group health insurance plan shall provide claims data to the fullest extent possible to the vendor selected by the Agency for Health Care Administration pursuant to s. 408.05(3)(c).

Section 14. Subsection (3) of section 20.42, Florida

Statutes, is amended to read:

20.42 Agency for Health Care Administration.—

(3) The department shall be the chief health policy and planning entity for the state. The department is responsible for health facility licensure, inspection, and regulatory enforcement; investigation of consumer complaints related to health care facilities and managed care plans; the implementation of the certificate of need program; the operation of the Florida Center for Health Information and Transparency ~~Policy Analysis~~; the administration of the Medicaid program; the administration of the contracts with the Florida Healthy Kids Corporation; the certification of health maintenance organizations and prepaid health clinics as set forth in part III of chapter 641; and any other duties prescribed by statute or agreement.

Section 15. Paragraph (c) of subsection (4) of section 381.026, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

381.026 Florida Patient's Bill of Rights and Responsibilities.—

(4) RIGHTS OF PATIENTS.—Each health care facility or provider shall observe the following standards:

(c) Financial information and disclosure.—

1. A patient has the right to be given, upon request, by the responsible provider, his or her designee, or a representative of the health care facility full information and necessary counseling on the availability of known financial resources for the patient's health care.

2. A health care provider or a health care facility shall, upon request, disclose to each patient who is eligible for Medicare, before treatment, whether the health care provider or the health care facility in which the patient is receiving medical services accepts assignment under Medicare reimbursement as payment in full for medical services and treatment rendered in the health care provider's office or health care facility.

3. A primary care provider may publish a schedule of charges for the medical services that the provider offers to patients. The schedule must include the prices charged to an uninsured person paying for such services by cash, check, credit card, or debit card. The schedule must be posted in a conspicuous place in the reception area of the provider's office and must include, but is not limited to, the 50 services most frequently provided by the primary care provider. The schedule may group services by three price levels, listing services in each price level. The posting must be at least 15 square feet in size. A primary care provider who publishes and maintains a schedule of charges for medical services is exempt from the license fee requirements for a single period of renewal of a professional license under chapter 456 for that licensure term and is exempt from the continuing education requirements of chapter 456 and the rules implementing those requirements for a single 2-year period.

4. If a primary care provider publishes a schedule of charges pursuant to subparagraph 3., he or she must continually post it at all times for the duration of active licensure in this state when primary care services are provided to patients. If a primary care provider fails to post the schedule of charges in accordance with this subparagraph, the provider shall be required to pay any license fee and comply with any continuing education requirements for which an exemption was received.

5. A health care provider or a health care facility shall, upon request, furnish a person, before the provision of medical services, a reasonable estimate of charges for such services. The health care provider or the health care facility shall provide an uninsured person, before the provision of a planned nonemergency medical service, a reasonable estimate of charges for such service and information regarding the provider's or facility's discount or charity policies for which the uninsured person may be eligible. Such estimates by a primary care provider must be consistent with the schedule posted under subparagraph 3. Estimates shall, to the extent possible, be written in language comprehensible to an ordinary layperson. Such reasonable estimate does not preclude the health care provider or health care facility from exceeding the estimate or making additional charges based on changes in the patient's condition or treatment needs.

6. Each licensed facility, except a facility operating exclusively as a state mental health treatment facility or as a mobile surgical facility, ~~not operated by the state~~ shall make available to the public on its Internet website or by other electronic means a description of and a hyperlink ~~link~~ to the health information ~~performance outcome and financial data~~ that is disseminated ~~published~~ by the agency pursuant to s. 408.05(3) ~~s. 408.05(3)(k)~~. The facility shall place a notice in the reception area that such information is available electronically and the website address. The licensed facility may indicate that the pricing information is based on a compilation of charges for the average patient and that each patient's statement or bill may vary from the average depending upon the severity of illness and individual resources consumed. The licensed facility may also indicate that the price of service is negotiable for eligible patients based upon the patient's ability to pay.

7. A patient has the right to receive a copy of an itemized statement or bill upon request. A patient has a right to be given an explanation of charges upon request.

Section 16. Paragraph (e) of subsection (2) of section 395.602, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

395.602 Rural hospitals.—

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this part, the term:

(e) "Rural hospital" means an acute care hospital licensed under this chapter, having 100 or fewer licensed beds and an emergency room, which is:

(e) A critical access hospital.

Population densities used in this subsection must be based upon the most recently completed United States census. A hospital that received funds under s. 409.9116 for a quarter beginning no later than July 1, 2002, is deemed to have been and shall continue to be a rural hospital from that date through June 30, 2015, if the hospital continues to have 100 or fewer licensed beds and an emergency room. An acute care hospital that has not previously been designated as a rural hospital and that meets the criteria of this subsection shall be granted such designation upon application, including supporting documentation, to the Agency for Health Care Administration.

Section 19. Paragraph (a) of subsection (4) of section 408.18, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

408.18 Health Care Community Antitrust Guidance Act; antitrust no-action letter; market-information collection and education.—

The Florida Senate

BILL ANALYSIS AND FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

(This document is based on the provisions contained in the legislation as of the latest date listed below.)

Prepared By: The Professional Staff of the Committee on Appropriations

BILL:	SB 1496
INTRODUCER:	Senators Bradley and Gaetz
SUBJECT:	Transparency in Health Care
DATE:	February 24, 2016
REVISED:

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION
1.	Looke	Stovall	HP	Favorable
2.	Brown	Pigott	AHS	Recommend: Fav/CS
3.	Brown	Kynoch	AP	Pre-meeting

I. Summary:

SB 1496 increases the transparency and availability of health care pricing and quality of service information. The Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA) is required to contract with a vendor to provide a consumer-friendly, Internet-based platform that allows a consumer to research the cost of health care services and procedures to facilitate price comparison of typical health care services provided in hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers (ASCs). Quality indicators for services at the facilities will also be made available to the consumer to facilitate health care decision making.

Under the bill, hospitals and ASCs are required to provide access to the searchable service bundles on their website. Consumers will be presented with estimated average payment and estimated payment ranges for each service bundle, by facility, facilities within geographic boundaries, and nationally. A hospital or ASC must notify consumers of other health care providers that may bill separately from the facility, as well as information about the facility's financial assistance policies and collection procedures.

The hospital's and ASC's website must also provide hyperlinks to the websites of insurers and health maintenance organizations (HMOs) for which the facility is in-network or a preferred provider to enable an insured patient to research cost-sharing responsibilities for the service bundle. Insurers and HMOs are required to provide on their websites a method for policy holders to estimate their cost-sharing responsibilities by service bundle, based on the insured's policy and known usage. These estimates must include both in-network and out-of-network providers. Insurers and HMOs are also required to provide hyperlinks on their website to the AHCA's performance outcome and financial data.

Consumers may request personalized good faith estimates of charges for non-emergency medical services from hospitals, ASCs, and health care practitioners relating to medical services provided in the hospital or ASC. The bill also requires nursing homes, home health agencies, and home medical equipment providers to provide consumers with good-faith estimates of medical services and supplies. These good-faith estimates must be provided to the consumer within seven days after the request. Information must also be provided about the health care provider's financial assistance policies and collection procedures.

A patient may also request an itemized bill or statement from the hospital and ASC after discharge. The hospital or ASC must provide an itemized bill or statement within seven days that is specific, written in plain language, and identifies all services provided by the facility, as well as rates charged, amounts due, and the payment status. The itemized bill or statement must inform the patient to contact his or her insurer regarding the patient's share of costs. The facility must provide records to verify the bill or statement upon request.

The bill requires the consumer advocate in the Department of Financial Services (DFS) to receive and investigate complaints from insured and uninsured patients concerning billing practices. If, after investigating a complaint, the consumer advocate determines the billing practices and charges were unfair, the consumer advocate will report these findings to the AHCA and the Department of Health (DOH) for regulatory and disciplinary action. The bill provides for penalties for unconscionable prices. The consumer advocate is also authorized to mediate billing complaints and negotiate payment arrangements.

The bill requires health insurers and HMOs that participate in the state group health insurance plan or Medicaid managed care to submit claims data to the vendor selected by the AHCA. The bill grants a premium tax credit of 0.05 percent to health insurers and HMOs that submit data to the vendor and establishes a tax credit of $50 per employee per submission, up to $500,000, which may be used against either Florida's sales and use tax or corporate income tax for employers with plans covered by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) that submit qualifying health care claims information to the vendor selected by the AHCA.

The AHCA estimates the bill will have a negative recurring fiscal impact of approximately $2.7 million in general revenue. Estimates of the fiscal impact of the tax credits created under the bill and of the new duties of the consumer advocate within the DFS are not available at this time. See Section V.

The bill has an effective date of July 1, 2016, except as otherwise provided in the bill.

II. Present Situation:

Health Care Price and Quality Transparency

In general, the term "transparency," when applied to health care, refers to the ability of a patient or the public to investigate and compare different health care providers for pricing and quality of care for one or more procedures. Although simple sounding, health care price transparency is difficult to implement due to legal challenges, the various manners in which health care is provided, and the various manners in which health care costs are paid. Demonstrating this difficulty, the Health Care Incentives Improvement Institute gave an F grade to 45 out of 50 states, including Florida, in its 2015 Report Card on State Price Transparency Laws.[1, 2]

Some difficulties in implementing health care price transparency include:

- Legal barriers, including the confidentiality of some contractual information between health care providers and insurers, as well and health insurer trade secret information;[3]
- Difficulty in determining who will be providing care and whether or not all providers are in a patient's insurance network;[4]
- General confusion over billing practices;[5] and
- Difficulty drawing comparisons between patients' particular situations.[6]

Common Definitions in Health Care Pricing

Another basic difficulty in interpreting health care pricing is understanding the definition of many terms. Some common definitions include:

- "Charge," which means the dollar amount a provider charges for services rendered, before any contracted discounts are applied; a charge can be different from the amount paid;
- "Cost," the definition of which varies by the party incurring the expense:
  - To the patient, cost is the amount payable out of pocket for health care services;
  - To the provider, cost is the expense (direct and indirect) incurred to deliver health care services to patients;
  - To the insurer, cost is the amount payable to the provider (or reimbursable to the patient) for services rendered;
  - To the employer, cost is the expense related to providing health benefits (premiums or claims paid);
- "Price," which means the total amount a provider expects to be paid by payers and/or patients for health care services; and
- "Out-of-pocket payment," which means the portion of total payment for medical services and treatment for which the patient is responsible, including copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles.[7]

[5] Many hospital bills, and bills issued by other health care facilities, consist of billing codes and names of procedures or medications which may not be easily understood by a layperson. Additionally, it may be difficult to determine whether charges on the bill have been paid, need to be paid, or will be paid by a third party such as a health insurer.
[6] For example, an older patient may be more fragile and require more recovery time and caution when administering a procedure and, therefore, may be charged more than a younger patient for the same procedure. Additionally, actual payment amounts to the health care provider may differ from patient to patient depending on whether that patient has insurance and the magnitude of any discounts that the insurer has negotiated with that health care provider.

Current Florida Requirements for Health Care Price and Quality Transparency

Current Florida law establishes multiple requirements regarding health care cost and quality transparency. Examples of such requirements include:

- Florida's Patient's Bill of Rights and Responsibilities,[8] which establishes the right of patients to, among other rights, be given information of known financial resources for the patient's health care, a reasonable estimate of charges before a procedure, and an itemized bill;
- The requirement for hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers (ASCs) to provide patients and their physicians with itemized bills upon request;[9]
- The requirement for pharmacies, health insurers, and health maintenance organizations (HMOs) to inform customers of the availability of the Agency for Health Care Administration's (AHCA's) quality and cost information;[10] and
- The requirement for HMOs to disclose financial data to customers and provide customers with estimated costs for services.[11]

The Florida Center for Health Information and Policy Analysis

Section 408.05, F.S., establishes the Florida Center for Health Information and Policy Analysis (Florida Center). The Florida Center is required to establish a comprehensive health information system to provide for the collection, compilation, coordination, analysis, indexing, dissemination, and utilization of collected and extant health-related data. The Florida Center is responsible for:

- Collecting adverse incident reports from hospitals, ASCs, HMOs, nursing homes, and assisted living facilities (ALFs);
- Collecting discharge data from licensed hospitals, ASCs, emergency departments, cardiac catheterization laboratories, and lithotripsy;
- Administering patient injury reporting, tracking, trending, and problem resolution programs for hospitals, ASCs, nursing homes, ALFs, and some HMOs
- Processing patient data requests and providing technical assistance; and
- Administering www.FloridaHealthFinder.gov, Florida's state-run website which provides easy access to health care information through health care quality comparison tools, a health encyclopedia, and other resources. The public may access the website to learn about medical conditions, compare health care facilities and providers, and find health care resources. The website also allows users to compare price ranges for some commonly offered health care services between health care providers.[12, 13]

The Florida Commission on Health care and Hospital Funding

On May 5, 2015, Governor Rick Scott signed Executive Order 15-99 that established the Commission on Health care and Hospital Funding (commission).[14] The commission was created to investigate and advise on the role of taxpayer funding for hospitals, insurers, and health care providers, and the affordability, access, and quality of health care services they provide. The commission has met 15 times between May 20, 2015 and January 19, 2016, and will continue meeting. The commission has heard testimony and collected data from numerous sources, including physicians, hospitals, state agencies, health maintenance organizations, and the public, but it has not yet published conclusions or final recommendations. On November 19, 2015, the commission endorsed proposed bill language from Governor Scott to address the issue of health care price and quality transparency.[15, 16] Many of the concepts inherent to the Governor's proposal are addressed in SB 1496.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends the licensure requirements for hospitals and ambulatory surgical centers (ASCs) in s. 395.301, F.S., to require that such facilities meet new standards for providing financial information and quality of service measures to patients and the public.[17]

General Requirements for the Provision of Information to the Public

The bill requires each hospital and ASC to:

- Provide timely and accurate financial information and quality of service measures to prospective patients, actual patients, and patient's legal guardians or survivors;
- Provide information on payments made to that facility via the facility's website, under the following parameters:
  - The posted information must be presented and searchable in accordance with the system and service bundles established by the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA).
  - The minimum information that must be provided by the facility for each service bundle includes:
    - The estimated average payment received from all payers except Medicaid and Medicare; and
    - The estimated payment range.
  - The facility must state in plain language that the information provided is an estimate of costs and that actual costs will be based on services actually provided.
  - The facility must assist the consumer in accessing his or her health insurer's or HMO's website for information on estimated copayments, deductibles, and other cost-sharing responsibilities;

[17] Note: Some of the effects detailed in the analysis of section 1 of the bill are requirements that are in current law and which are either kept intact or revised and restated. Due to the significant reorganization of s. 395.301, F.S., the total effects of all new, current law, and revised requirements are included in this analysis as effects of the bill.

- Post information on its website, including:
  - The names of all health insurers and HMOs for which the facility is a network provider or a preferred provider, along with links to the respective websites;
  - Information for uninsured or out-of-network patients on:
    - The facility's financial assistance policy including the application process, payment plans, and discounts; and
    - The facility's collection procedures and charity care policies;
  - A notification to patients and prospective patients that services may be provided in the facility by the facility and by other health care providers who may bill separately;
  - Notification that patients and prospective patients may request a personalized estimate of charges from the facility; and
  - A link to health-related data, including quality measures and statistics that are disseminated by the AHCA; and
- Take action to notify the public that health-related data is electronically available to the public and provide a link to the AHCA's website.

Requirements to Respond to Specific Requests for Information

Upon specific request, the bill requires each facility to provide:

- A written, good-faith estimate of reasonably anticipated facility charges for the non-emergency treatment of the requestor's specific condition, under the following parameters:
  - The estimate must be provided within seven business days after the receipt of the request;
  - The facility is not required to adjust the estimate to account for any insurance coverage;
  - The estimate may be based on the service bundles created by the AHCA unless the patient requests a more specific estimate;
  - The facility must inform the patient that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or HMO for additional information on cost-sharing responsibilities;
  - The estimate must provide information on the facility's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, and discounts;
  - The estimate must provide information on the facility's charity care policy and collection procedures;
  - Upon request, the facility must notify the requestor of any revision to the estimate;
  - The estimate must contain a notice that services may be provided by other health care providers who may bill separately;
  - The facility must take action to notify the public that such estimates are available;
  - The facility will be fined $500 for each instance of failing to timely provide a requested estimate; and
  - The provision of the estimate does not preclude the charges from exceeding the estimate;
- An itemized bill or statement to the patient, or the patient's survivor or legal guardian, under the following parameters:
  - The initial itemized statement or bill:
    - Must be provided within seven days of the patient's discharge or the patient's request;
    - Must detail the specific nature of charges or expenses in plain language, comprehensible to an ordinary layperson;
    - Must contain a statement of specific services received and expenses incurred by date;
    - Must enumerate in detail, as prescribed by the AHCA, the constituent components of the services received within each department of the facility;

        - Must include unit price data on rates charged by the facility;
        - Must identify each item as paid, pending payment by a third party, or pending payment by the patient;
        - Must include the amount due, if applicable;
        - Must advise the patient or the patient's legal survivor or guardian to contact the patient's health insurer or HMO regarding the patient's cost-sharing responsibilities;
        - Must include a notice of hospital-based physicians and other health care providers who bill separately;
        - May not include any generalized category of expenses;
        - Must list drugs by brand or generic name;
        - Must identify the date, type, and length of treatment for any physical, occupational, or speech therapy provided; and
        - Must prominently display the telephone number of the medical facility's patient liaison;
    - Any subsequent bill must contain all of the information required in the initial bill with any revisions clearly delineated;
    - A facility must make available at no charge, except copying fees, both in the facility's office and electronically, all records necessary for the verification of the accuracy of the invoice or bill within 10 business days after a request for such records and before payment of the statement or bill; and
    - Each facility must establish a method of responding to a patient's question about his or her itemized bill within seven business days after the question is received.

If the patient is not satisfied with the facility's response to a question, the facility must provide the patient with the address and contract information for the consumer advocate as provided in s. 627.0613, F.S.

Miscellaneous Provisions

The bill deletes statutory language:

- Stating that any person who receives an itemized statement is fully and accurately informed as to each charge and service provided by the institution preparing the statement;
- Requiring an itemized statement to contain a disclosure identifying the ownership status, either for-profit or not-for-profit, of the facility preparing the statement;
- Requiring an itemized bill to be provided to the patient's physician at no charge;
- Restricting physicians, dentists, podiatrists, and other licensed facilities from adding to the price charged by a third party except for a service or handling charge which represents a cost actually incurred.

The bill also makes other technical and conforming changes.

Section 2 creates s. 395.3012, F.S., to allow the AHCA to impose fines based on the findings of the consumer advocate's investigation of billing complaints pursuant to s. 627.0613(6), F.S. The bill sets the fines for noncompliance at the greater of $2,500 per violation or double the amount that the charges exceeded fair charges.[18]

Sections 3, 4, and 5 amend ss. 400.165, 400.487, and 400.934, F.S., respectively, to require nursing homes, home health agencies, and home medical equipment providers to, upon request, provide a written, good-faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for services provided by that health care provider within seven business days after receiving a request and to provide information disclosing payment plans, discounts, other available assistance, and collection procedures. Additionally, home health agencies and home medical equipment providers must inform the requestor that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or HMO for additional information concerning cost sharing responsibilities.

Section 6 amends s. 408.05, F.S., to replace the Florida Center for Health Information and Policy Analysis with the Florida Center for Health Information and Transparency (center), to be housed within the AHCA. The center's responsibilities are streamlined and updated to reflect current data needs. The center is tasked with collecting, compiling, coordinating, analyzing, indexing, and disseminating health-related data and statistics. The center and the AHCA must meet numerous requirements, as described below.[19]

Health Related Data

The bill:

- Requires that the center be staffed as necessary to carry out its functions;
- Requires that the center maintain data sets in existence before July 1, 2016, unless such data are duplicated and readily available from other credible sources;
- Requires that the center collect data on:
  - Health resources, including licensed health care practitioners by specialty and type of practice and including data collected by the Department of Health (DOH) pursuant to ss. 458.3191 and 456.0081, F.S.;
  - Health service inventories, including acute care, long-term care, and other institutional care facilities and specific services provided by hospitals, nursing homes, home health agencies, and other licensed health care facilities;
  - Service utilization for licensed health care facilities;
  - Health care costs and financing;
  - The extent of public and private health insurance coverage in Florida; and
  - Specific quality-of-care initiatives involving various health care providers when extant data is not adequate to achieve the objectives of the initiatives;
- Eliminates the requirement that the center collect data on:
  - The extent and nature of illness and disability of the state population;
  - The impact of illness and disability of the state population on the state economy;
  - Environmental, social, and other health hazards;
  - Health knowledge and practices of the people in Florida; and [18] The term "fair charges" is defined under Section 10 of the bill to mean the common and frequent range of charges for patients who are similarly situated requiring the same or similar medical services.

[19] As similarly noted in Section 1, due to significant revision and organizational changes in this section, the total effects of all new, revised, and current law requirements are included in this analysis as effects of the bill.

- Family formation, growth, and dissolution.

Health Information Transparency

The bill:

- Requires the AHCA to:
  - Contract with a vendor to provide a consumer-friendly, Internet-based platform that allows a consumer to research the cost of health care services and procedures and allows for price comparison, and the platform must allow a consumer to search by condition or service bundle that is comprehensible to an ordinary layperson and may not require registration, password, or user identification;
  - Collect and compile information on and coordinate the activities of state agencies involved in providing health information to consumers;
  - Promote data sharing by making state-collected data available, transferable, and readily usable;
  - Develop written agreements with local, state, and federal agencies to facilitate the sharing of data related to health care;
  - Establish by rule the types of data collected, complied, processed, used, or shared;
  - Consult with contracted vendors, the State Consumer Health Information and Policy Advisory Council, and other public and private users regarding the types of data that should be collected and the use of such data;
  - Monitor data collection procedures and test data quality to facilitate the dissemination of data that are accurate, valid, reliable, and complete;
  - Develop methods for archiving data, retrieving archived data, and editing data, and verifying data;
  - Make available health care quality measures that will allow consumers to compare outcomes and other performance measures for health care services; and
  - Make available the results of special health surveys, health care research, and health care evaluations conducted or supported by under s. 408.05, F.S.;
- Restricts the AHCA from establishing an all-payer claims database without express legislative authority;
- Eliminates requirements, except as detailed above, for the AHCA and the center to:
  - Review the statistical activities of state agencies to ensure they are consistent with the comprehensive health information system;
  - Establish minimum health-care-related data sets;
  - Establish advisory standards for the quality of health statistical and epidemiological data collection;
  - Prescribe standards for the publication of health-care-related data;
  - Establish a long-range plan for making health care quality measures and financial data available;
  - Provide technical assistance to persons or organizations engaged in health planning activities;
  - Administer, manage, and monitor grants related to health information services; and
  - Aid in the dissemination of data through the publication of reports, including an annual report, and conducting special studies and surveys.

The vendor must:

- Be a non-profit research institute that is qualified under s. 1874 of the federal Social Security Act to receive Medicare claims data and which receives claims data from multiple private insurers nationwide;
- Have a national database consisting of at least 15 billion claim lines of administrative claims data from multiple payers capable of being expanded by adding third-party payers, including employers with Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) plans;
- Have a well-developed methodology for analyzing claims data within defined service bundles; and
- Have a bundling methodology that is available in the public domain to allow for consistency and comparison of state and national benchmarks with local regions and specific providers.

Section 7 amends s. 408.061, F.S., to:
- Require that the AHCA mandate the submission of data from health care facilities, health care providers, and health insurers in order to facilitate transparency in health care pricing and quality measures;
- Provide that data submitted by health care providers may include actual charges to patients as specified by rule; and
- Provide that data submitted by health insurers may include payments to health care facilities and health care providers as specified by rule.

Section 8 amends s. 456.0575, F.S., to require that every licensed health care practitioner must provide, upon request by a patient, a good-faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for any non-emergency services to treat the patient's condition at a hospital or ASC. This estimate must be provided within seven business days after receiving the request and before providing the service for which the request for an estimate was made. The practitioner must inform the patient that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or HMO for additional information concerning cost-sharing responsibilities. The practitioner must also provide information to uninsured or out of network patients on the practitioner's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, discounts, and other available assistance, the practitioner's charity care policy, and the practitioner's collection procedures.

The bill provides that such an estimate does not preclude the actual charges from exceeding the estimate and that failure to provide a requested estimate in accordance with the provisions stated and without good cause will result in disciplinary action and a fine of $500 for each instance of failure to provide the requested estimate.

Section 9 amends s. 456.072, F.S., to include the failure to comply with fair billing practices pursuant to s. 627.0613, F.S., in the list of grounds for which disciplinary actions may be taken against a health care practitioner.

Section 10 amends s. 627.0613, F.S., to expand the duties of the consumer advocate.[20] The bill requires that:

[20] The consumer advocate is appointed by, and reports to, the Chief Financial Officer and is tasked with representing the general public before various state agencies.

- The consumer advocate must report to the AHCA and the DOH the findings resulting from investigation of unresolved complaints concerning the billing practices of any hospital, ASC, or health care practitioner licensed under ch. 456, F.S.;
- The AHCA and the DOH must grant the consumer advocate access to any files, records, and data which are necessary for such investigations;
- The consumer advocate must provide mediation between providers and patients to resolve billing complaints and negotiate arrangements for extended payment schedules; and
- The consumer advocate must maintain a process for receiving and investigating complaints concerning billing practices by hospitals, ASCs, and health care practitioners licensed under ch. 456, F.S.

Under the bill, such investigations by the consumer advocate are limited to determining compliance with the following:

- The patient was informed before a non-emergency procedure of the expected payments related to the procedure, the contact information for health insurers or HMOs, and the expected involvement of other providers who may bill separately;
- The patient was informed of policies and procedures to qualify for discounts;
- The patient was informed of collection procedures and given the opportunity to participate in an extended payment schedule;
- The patient was given a written, personal, and itemized estimate as required in s. 395.301, F.S., for facilities and s. 456.0575, F.S., for health care practitioners for services in a facility;
- The statement or bill delivered to the patient was accurate and included all required information; and
- The billed amounts were fair charges, defined as "the common and frequent range of charges for patients who are similarly situated requiring the same or similar medical services."

Section 11 creates s. 627.6385, F.S., to require each health insurer to:

- Make available on its website a method for policyholders to estimate their cost-sharing responsibilities for health care services and procedures based on the service bundles established in s. 408.05(3)(c), F.S., or based on a personalized estimate, and a link to the health and quality information disseminated by the AHCA;
- Include in every policy delivered or issued to a person in Florida a notice that the information required by this section is available electronically and the address of the website where the information can be accessed; and
- If the health insurer participates in the state group health insurance plan or Medicaid managed care, provide all claims data to the fullest extent possible to the contracted vendor selected by the AHCA under s. 408.05(3)(c), F.S.

Under the bill, a health insurer that provides data to the vendor as described above is eligible for a 0.05 percent credit against the premium tax established pursuant to s. 624.509, F.S. This credit may exceed the limitation on such tax credits that is imposed by that section of law.

Section 12 amends s. 641.54, F.S., to require each HMO to:

- Make available electronically or by request the estimated amount of any cost-sharing responsibilities for any covered services described by the service bundles established pursuant to s. 408.05(3)(c), F.S., or as described in a personalized estimate received from a health care facility or health care practitioner;

- If the HMO participates in the state group health insurance plan or Medicaid managed care, provide all claims data to the fullest extent possible to the contracted vendor selected by the AHCA under s. 408.05(3)(c), F.S.; and
- Create a link on its website to the health information disseminated by the AHCA.

Under the bill, an HMO that provides data to the vendor as described above is eligible for a 0.05 percent credit against the premium tax established pursuant to s. 624.509, F.S. This credit may exceed the limitation on such tax credits that is imposed by that section of law.

Section 13 amends s. 409.967, F.S., to require that Medicaid managed care plans provide all claims data to the fullest extent possible to the contracted vendor selected by the AHCA under s. 408.05(3)(c), F.S.

Section 14 amends s. 110.123, F.S., to require that the Department of Management Services make arrangements to provide claims data of the state group health insurance plan to the contracted vendor selected by the AHCA pursuant to s. 408.05(3)(c), F.S. The bill also requires that each health plan awarded a contract in state group health insurance must provide claims data to the selected vendor.

Sections 15 and 16 create ss. 212.099 and 220.197, F.S., to establish tax credits against sales and use tax and corporate income tax, respectively, to encourage the submission of health care claims data for employees receiving health coverage under ERISA. These provisions take effect on January 1, 2017. The bill:
- Defines "eligible employer" as an employer that provides a health plan covered by the ERISA to eligible employees and provides qualifying health care claims information submissions on a quarterly basis;
- Defines "eligible employee" as an employee who is employed by an eligible employer and is covered under the eligible employer's ERISA plan;
- Defines "qualifying health care claims information submission" as the submission of health care claims information on eligible employees to the contract vendor selected by the AHCA pursuant to s. 408.05(3)(c), F.S.;
- Establishes each tax credit as an amount equal to the number of eligible employees included on each qualifying health care claims information submission multiplied by $50, up to a maximum of $500,000;
- Allows any excess credit amounts to be taken within 12 months after such submission for sales tax and within five years for corporate income tax;
- States that corporations may use only one of the tax credits established in ss. 212.099 and 220.197, F.S.; and
- Provides that any person who fraudulently claims such a tax credit commits a misdemeanor of the second degree and must repay 100 percent of the credit.

Sections 17 through 23 amend various sections of law to make technical and conforming changes.

Section 24 provides that, except as otherwise expressly provided, the bill takes effect on July 1, 2016.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

SB 1496 establishes two new tax credits:

- A 0.05 percent tax credit against a health insurer or health maintenance organization's (HMO's) premium tax available to health insurers and HMOs that provide claims data to the vendor selected by the AHCA, and this credit may exceed the statutory limitation on such tax credits established in s. 624.509, F.S.; and
- A tax credit of up to $500,000 against either state sales and use tax or state corporate income tax available to employers with Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) plans who submit qualifying health care claims information to the vendor selected by the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA).

B. Private Sector Impact:

The bill may have a positive fiscal impact on consumers of health care services to the extent the transparency measures allow consumers to make better informed choices on where to obtain their health care services based on price and quality, take advantage of discounts or other financial assistance, or negotiate with health care service providers on the specific costs of services.

The bill may have a negative fiscal impact on providers of health care services, health insurers, and HMOs related to posting health care information on their webpages or providing patient-specific estimates.

The bill may have a positive fiscal impact on health insurers, HMOs, and employers with ERISA plans that are able to take advantage of the tax credits established in the bill.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The AHCA estimates that the bill will have recurring costs to the agency of approximately $2.7 million per year, all of which is general revenue. Contracted services account for approximately $2.5 to $2.6 million of the annual costs. Approximately $133,000 of the annual costs are for two full-time-equivalent positions. Additional recurring costs include approximately $12,000 per year for expenses and less than $1,000 per year for human resource services. The AHCA also estimates non-recurring costs for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 of $9,054.[21]

Estimates of the aggregate amounts of tax credits that will be applied under sections 11, 12, 15, and 16 of the bill are not yet known. An estimate of the fiscal impact of the new duties of the office of the consumer advocate within the Department of Financial Services (DFS) is not yet available, but an estimate has been requested of the DFS.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 395.301, 400.165, 400.487, 400.934, 408.05, 408.061, 456.0575, 456.072, 627.0613, 641.54, 409.967, 110.123, 20.42, 381.026, 395.602, 395.6025, 408.07, 408.18, and 465.0244.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Section 395.301, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

395.301 Price transparency; itemized patient statement or bill; ~~form and content prescribed by the agency;~~ patient

admission status notification.—

(1) A facility licensed under this chapter shall provide timely and accurate financial information and quality of service measures to prospective and actual patients of the facility, or to patients' survivors or legal guardians, as appropriate. Such information shall be provided in accordance with this section and rules adopted by the agency pursuant to this chapter and s. 408.05. Licensed facilities operating exclusively as state mental health treatment facilities or as mobile surgical facilities are exempt from the requirements of this subsection.

(a) Each licensed facility shall make available to the public on its website information on payments made to that facility for defined bundles of services and procedures. The payment data must be presented and searchable in accordance with the system established by the agency and its vendor using the descriptive service bundles developed under s. 408.05(3)(c). At a minimum, the facility shall provide the estimated average payment received from all payors, excluding Medicaid and Medicare, for the descriptive service bundles available at that facility and the estimated payment range for such bundles. Using plain language, comprehensible to an ordinary layperson, the facility must disclose that the information on average payments and the payment ranges is an estimate of costs that may be incurred by the patient or prospective patient and that actual costs will be based on the services actually provided to the patient. The facility shall also assist the consumer in accessing his or her health insurer's or health maintenance organization's website for information on estimated copayments, deductibles, and other cost-sharing responsibilities. The facility's website must:

1. Identify and post the names of all health insurers and health maintenance organizations for which the facility is a network provider or preferred provider and include a hyperlink to the website of each.

2. Provide information to uninsured patients and insured patients whose health insurer or health maintenance organization does not include the facility as a network provider or preferred provider on the facility's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, and discounts, and the facility's charity care policy and collection procedures.

3. Notify patients or prospective patients that services may be provided in the health care facility by the facility as well as by other health care providers who may separately bill the patient.

4. Inform patients or prospective patients that they may request from the facility and other health care providers a more personalized estimate of charges and other information.

(b)1. Upon request, and before providing any nonemergency medical services, each licensed facility shall provide a written, good faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges by the facility for the treatment of the patient's or prospective patient's specific condition. The facility must provide the estimate in writing to the patient or prospective patient within 7 business days after the receipt of the request and is not required to adjust the estimate for any potential insurance coverage. The estimate may be based on the descriptive service bundles developed by the agency under s. 408.05(3)(c) unless the patient or prospective patient requests a more personalized and specific estimate that accounts for the specific condition and characteristics of the patient or prospective patient. The facility shall inform the patient or prospective patient that he or she may contact his or her health insurer or health maintenance organization for additional information concerning cost-sharing responsibilities.

2. In the estimate, the facility shall provide to the patient or prospective patient information on the facility's financial assistance policy, including the application process, payment plans, and discounts and the facility's charity care policy and collection procedures.

3. Upon request, the facility shall notify the patient or prospective patient of any revision to the estimate.

4. In the estimate, the facility must notify the patient or prospective patient that services may be provided in the health care facility by the facility as well as by other health care providers that may separately bill the patient.

5. The facility shall take action to educate the public that such estimates are available upon request.

6. Failure to timely provide the estimate pursuant to this paragraph shall result in a fine of $500 for each instance of the facility's failure to provide the requested information.

The provision of an estimate does not preclude the actual charges from exceeding the estimate.

(c) Each facility shall make available on its website a hyperlink to the health-related data, including quality measures and statistics that are disseminated by the agency pursuant to

s. 408.05. The facility shall also take action to notify the public that such information is electronically available and provide a hyperlink to the agency's website.

(d)1. Upon request, and after the patient's discharge or release from the facility, the facility must provide ~~A licensed facility not operated by the state shall notify each patient during admission and at discharge of his or her right to receive an itemized bill upon request. 2. Any subsequent statement or bill provided to a patient or to the patient's survivor or legal guardian, as appropriate, relating to the episode of care must include all of the information required by subparagraph 1., with any revisions clearly delineated.

~~(5) In any billing for services subsequent to the initial billing for such services, the patient, or the patient's survivor or legal guardian, may elect, at his or her option, to receive a copy of the detailed statement of specific services received and expenses incurred for each such item of service as provided in subsection (1).~~

~~(6) No physician, dentist, podiatric physician, or licensed facility may add to the price charged by any third party except for a service or handling charge representing a cost actually incurred as an item of expense; however, the physician, dentist, podiatric physician, or licensed facility is entitled to fair compensation for all professional services rendered. The amount of the service or handling charge, if any, shall be set forth clearly in the bill to the patient.~~

~~(7) Each licensed facility not operated by the state shall provide, prior to provision of any nonemergency medical services, a written good faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for the facility to treat the patient's condition upon written request of a prospective patient. The facility shall place a notice in the reception area that such information is available. Failure to provide the estimate within the provisions established pursuant to this section shall result in a fine of $500 for each instance of the facility's failure to provide the requested information.~~

~~(8) Each licensed facility that is not operated by the state shall provide any uninsured person seeking planned nonemergency elective admission a written good faith estimate of reasonably anticipated charges for the facility to treat such person. The estimate must be provided to the uninsured person within 7 business days after the person notifies the facility and the facility confirms that the person is uninsured. The estimate may be the average charges for that diagnosis-related group or the average charges for that procedure. Upon request, the facility shall notify the person of any revision to the good faith estimate. Such estimate does not preclude the actual charges from exceeding the estimate. The facility shall also provide to the uninsured person a copy of any facility discount and charity care discount policies for which the uninsured person may be eligible. The facility shall place a notice in the reception area where such information is available. Failure to provide the estimate as required by this subsection shall result in a fine of $500 for each instance of the facility's failure to~~

(4) RIGHTS OF PATIENTS.—Each health care facility or provider shall observe the following standards:

(c) Financial information and disclosure.—

1. A patient has the right to be given, upon request, by the responsible provider, his or her designee, or a representative of the health care facility full information and necessary counseling on the availability of known financial resources for the patient's health care.

2. A health care provider or a health care facility shall, upon request, disclose to each patient who is eligible for Medicare, before treatment, whether the health care provider or the health care facility in which the patient is receiving medical services accepts assignment under Medicare reimbursement as payment in full for medical services and treatment rendered in the health care provider's office or health care facility.

3. A primary care provider may publish a schedule of charges for the medical services that the provider offers to patients. The schedule must include the prices charged to an uninsured person paying for such services by cash, check, credit card, or debit card. The schedule must be posted in a conspicuous place in the reception area of the provider's office and must include, but is not limited to, the 50 services most frequently provided by the primary care provider. The schedule may group services by three price levels, listing services in each price level. The posting must be at least 15 square feet in size. A primary care provider who publishes and maintains a schedule of charges for medical services is exempt from the license fee requirements for a single period of renewal of a professional license under chapter 456 for that licensure term and is exempt from the continuing education requirements of chapter 456 and the rules implementing those requirements for a single 2-year period.

4. If a primary care provider publishes a schedule of charges pursuant to subparagraph 3., he or she must continually post it at all times for the duration of active licensure in this state when primary care services are provided to patients. Such estimates by a primary care provider must be consistent with the schedule posted under subparagraph 3. Estimates shall, to the extent possible, be written in language comprehensible to an ordinary layperson. Such reasonable estimate does not preclude the health care provider or health care facility from exceeding the estimate or making additional charges based on changes in the patient's condition or treatment needs.

6. Each licensed facility, except a facility operating exclusively as a state mental health treatment facility or as a mobile surgical facility, ~~not operated by the state~~ shall make available to the public on its Internet website or by other electronic means a description of and a hyperlink ~~link~~ to the health information ~~performance outcome and financial data~~ that is disseminated ~~published~~ by the agency pursuant to s. 408.05(3)

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Technical Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1508 substantially revises chapter 333, Florida Statutes, containing airport zoning provisions relating to the management of airspace and land use at or near airports. Generally, the bill:

- Updates statutory definitions and terms in accordance with federal regulations.
- Streamlines the current local airport protection zoning process to a simpler permitting model.
- Provides local governments the flexibility to structure and incorporate the airport protection zoning review process into existing local zoning review processes and repeals duplicative requirements for obtaining a variance.
- Makes other grammatical, editorial, and conforming changes.

The bill is expected to have an indeterminate, but positive fiscal impact resulting from simplification and streamlining of state and local airport zoning processes.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Due to the extensive chapter revision, the present situation for each section of the bill is discussed below in conjunction with the Effect of Proposed Changes.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Airport Zoning

Chapter 333, F.S., contains airport zoning provisions relating to the management of airspace and land use at or near airports. Generally, the chapter:

- Addresses permitting for structures exceeding federal obstruction standards;
- Requires adoption of certain airport zoning regulations;
- Provides a process for seeking variances from the zoning regulations;
- Sets out a process for appeal of decisions based on the zoning regulations;
- Requires boards of adjustment to hear and decide appeals;
- Provides for judicial review of any board of adjustment decision; and
- Establishes penalties and remedies for violations.

The Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) in 2012 created a stakeholder working group to address problems with implementing this chapter. Representatives from airports, local planning and zoning departments, the Florida Defense Alliance, the League of Cities, the Florida Airports Council, the real estate development community, and the FDOT participated in the working group. The FDOT advises that ch. 333, F.S., "contains outdated and inconsistent provisions when compared to applicable federal regulations, contains internal inconsistencies, and requires a local government airport protection zoning process that can be cumbersome and confusing."[1]

The FDOT advises it expects no substantive changes as a result of the bill's proposed revisions; e.g., the existing requirements for issuance of permits are substantively unchanged. The number of permits issued or denied is not expected to change. Rather, the changes are designed to facilitate more uniform permitting, appeals, and review processes applied at the local level and provide clarity and predictability for those subject to airport zoning regulations.[2]

Definitions

Present Situation

Section 333.01, F.S., contains definitions related to airport zoning that need updating for internal chapter consistency and for consistency with federal regulations.

Effect of Proposed Changes

Section 1 amends s. 333.01, F.S., to provide, revise, and delete definitions to:

- Reflect terminology used in federal regulations;
- Provide for consistency with Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) advisements;
- Remove antiquated terminology;
- Delete variances from definitions to reflect the streamlined permitting process effected in the bill; and

- Otherwise provide clarity through editorial and grammatical changes.

Permitting for Structures Exceeding Federal Obstruction Standards

Present Situation

The Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) sets forth standards for structures that present a hazard within an area in an airport due to obstruction of the airspace required for aircraft to take off, maneuver, or land.[3] Section 333.025, F.S., requires a permit from the FDOT for any proposed construction or alteration of a structure that would exceed the federal standards.[4] A permit from the FDOT is not required if a political subdivision[5] has adopted adequate airspace protection regulations and filed them with the FDOT.

The FDOT must issue or deny a permit within 30 days of receipt of an application for any structure that would exceed the federal obstruction standards. The FDOT is prohibited from approving a permit unless the applicant submits both documentation showing compliance with federal notification requirements and a valid aeronautical evaluation.

Effect of Proposed Changes

Section 2 amends s. 333.025, F.S., to replace the term "geographic center" with "airport reference point," which is located at the approximate geometric center of all usable runways and to update references to current federal regulations.

If a political subdivision has adopted adequate airport protection zoning regulations, placed the regulations on file with the FDOT, and the political subdivision has established a permitting process, a permit from the FDOT is not required for construction or alteration of an obstruction. Upon receipt of a complete permit application, the local government must provide a copy of the application to the FDOT. The bill provides a 15-day FDOT review period following receipt of the application, which must run concurrently with the established local permitting process.

The FDOT is required to review permit applications in conformity with s. 120.60, F.S., relating to licensing. The list of factors to be considered by the FDOT is revised to remove ambiguity and duplication, and to provide clarity. The FDOT must require the owner of a permitted obstruction to install, operate, and maintain marking and lighting in conformance with FAA standards, at the owner's expense. The denial of a permit is subjected to the administrative review provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act.

Adoption of Airport Zoning Regulations

Present Situation

Section 333.03, F.S., requires political subdivisions with an airport hazard area[6] to adopt, administer, and enforce airport zoning regulations for the area. If the airport is owned or [3] See 14 C.F.R. part 77, subpart C (2015).

[4] Public airports are licensed under the provisions of ch. 330, F.S.
[5] Generally, a local governmental entity, see s. 333.01(9), F.S.
[6] The bill redefines "airport hazard" to mean an obstruction to air navigation which affects the safe and efficient use of navigable airspace or the operation of planned or existing air navigation and communication facilities. The definition of controlled by a political subdivision and has a hazard area outside of its territorial limits, the political subdivision and the political subdivision within which the hazard area is located must either adopt zoning regulations by interlocal agreement or create a joint airport zoning board with the power to do so. The airport zoning regulations must, at a minimum, require:

- A variance for any structure that would exceed the federal obstruction standards;
- Obstruction marking and lighting per s. 333.07(3), F.S.;
- Documentation of compliance with federal proposed construction notification and a valid aeronautical evaluation submitted by each person applying for a variance;
- Consideration of the same factors when determining whether to issue or deny a variance as required of the FDOT when considering permit applications; and
- No variance be approved solely on the basis that a structure will not exceed the federal obstruction standards.

The FDOT is required to issue copies of the federal obstruction standards in the CFR to each political subdivision with an airport hazard area, and issue certain airport zoning maps at no cost.

Interim land use compatibility zoning regulations must be adopted and must consider whether sanitary landfills are located within certain areas and whether any landfill will attract or sustain hazardous bird movements. If a public-use airport has conducted a federal noise study, residential construction and educational facilities are prohibited within the area. If no study is conducted, the same construction is prohibited within a certain distance.

Airport zoning regulations restricting new incompatible uses within runway clear zones must be adopted. Certain limited exceptions for construction of educational facilities in specified areas are authorized.

Effect of Proposed Changes

Section 3 amends s. 333.03, F.S., to eliminate the duplicative requirement for obtaining a variance for structures that would exceed federal obstruction standards, in favor of a local permitting process. Every political subdivision having an airport hazard area is required to adopt airport protection zoning regulations. In addition to editorial and grammatical revisions, this section revises language to:

- Replace citations to the federal obstruction standards contained in the CFR with terminology used in the CFR; i.e., permits for the "construction or alteration of any obstruction."
- Remove the FDOT's duty to provide copies of the federal obstruction standards contained in the CFR and to issue maps, and replace it with making the FDOT available to provide assistance with respect to the standards.
- Update citations to the CFR.
- Eliminate the reporting requirements related to birds at airports near landfills in favor of requiring the landfill operator to incorporate bird management techniques.
- Include substantial modification of existing incompatible uses in the required adopted regulations restricting such uses within runway protection zones.

"obstruction" is revised, also to reflect terminology used in the federal standards for determining obstructions. "Airport hazard area" is redefined in the bill to mean any area of land or water upon which an airport hazard might be established.

- Remove the limited exceptions for construction of educational facilities when a noise study has been conducted in accordance with the federal regulations.
- Delete outdated language.
- Authorize an airport authority, local government, or other governing body operating a public-use airport to adopt more restrictive airport protection zoning regulations, per the FDOT, to allow restrictions appropriate to the local context of the airport.[7]

Guidelines Regarding Land Use near Airports

Present Situation

Section 333.065, F.S., requires the FDOT, after consultation with the Department of Economic Opportunity, local governments, and other interested persons, to adopt by rule recommended guidelines regarding compatible land uses in the vicinity of airports. The guidelines must use certain acceptable and established quantitative measures.

Effect of Proposed Changes

Section 7 repeals s. 333.065, F.S. The FDOT advises the deletion reflects completion of the FDOT Airport Compatible Land Use Guidebook.[8]

Permits, Variances, and Appeals

Present Situation

Section 333.07, F.S., authorizes any adopted airport zoning regulations to require a permit be obtained before any new structure or use is constructed or established and before any existing use or structure may be substantially changed or repaired. All such regulations must require a permit before any nonconforming structure or tree may be replaced, substantially altered or repaired, rebuilt, allowed to grow higher, or replanted.

If a nonconforming use, structure, or tree has been abandoned or is more than 80 percent torn down or deteriorated, a permit may not be issued under certain conditions. The owner of a nonconforming structure or tree may be compelled, at the owner's expense, to undergo certain actions to conform.

Any person desiring to erect any structure, increase the height of any structure, permit the growth of any tree, or otherwise use his or her property in violation of the adopted airport zoning regulations is authorized to apply to a board of adjustment for a variance from the regulations. Conditions for allowance of variations are provided. The FDOT is authorized to appeal any variance granted and to apply for judicial relief.

As a condition of any granted permit or variance, the administrative agency or board of adjustment must require the structure or tree owner to install, operate, and maintain at the owner's expense marking and lighting necessary to indicate to aircraft pilots the presence of an obstruction.

Section 333.08, F.S., authorizes any affected person or taxpayer; or any governing body of a political subdivision, the FDOT, or any joint airport zoning board, to appeal any decision of an administrative agency in its administration of adopted airport zoning regulations to the board of adjustment authorized to hear and decide appeals from the decisions of such administrative agency.

Effect of Proposed Changes

Section 8 amends s. 333.07, F.S., to streamline the permitting process, repeal the duplicative variance process, and facilitate implementation of the permitting process by local entities. More specifically, rather than authorizing any adopted airport zoning regulations to require a permit be obtained before any new structure or use is constructed or established and before any existing use or structure may be substantially changed or repaired, the bill simply requires a permit to construct, alter, or allow an airport obstruction in an airport hazard area in violation of the adopted airport protection zoning regulations.

The political subdivision or its administrative agency must consider virtually the same standards as must be considered by the FDOT when issuing or denying a permit for structures exceeding federal obstruction standards. All variance provisions are removed in favor of the permitting process. In addition, provisions relating to a lien resulting from an owner's failure to take action to bring a nonconforming structure or tree into regulatory compliance are removed. The FDOT 45-day comment period is removed in favor of the shortened 15-day period of review for technical consistency described above. Obstruction marking and lighting is required in conformance with specific standards established by the FAA. Outdated language is repealed.

Section 9 repeals s. 333.08, F.S., authorizing and providing requirements for appeals of zoning regulation decisions, in favor of relocated, modified appeals language in s. 333.09, F.S.

Administration of Airport Zoning Regulations

Present Situation

Section 333.09, F.S., requires all adopted airport zoning regulations to provide for administration and enforcement by an administrative agency; by any official, board, or other existing agency of the political subdivision adopting the regulations; or by one of the subdivisions that participated in creating a joint airport zoning board adopting the regulations. The duties of any such administrative agency include hearing and deciding all permits under s. 333.07, F.S., but not any of the powers delegated to the board of adjustment.

Section 333.10, F.S., currently requires all adopted airport zoning regulations to provide for a board of adjustment to hear and decide appeals and variances.

Effect of Proposed Changes

Section 10 amends s. 333.09, F.S., to remove the list of entities that may be an administrative agency, per the FDOT, to reflect correct community planning terminology.[9] Administration and enforcement is left to the affected political subdivision or its administrative agency. Also removed is the prohibition against an administrative agency exercising the powers delegated to the board of adjustment.

Political subdivisions required to adopt airport zoning regulations must establish a process to:
- Issue or deny permits consistent with s. 333.07, F.S.;
- Provide the FDOT with a copy of a complete permit application; and
- Enforce the issuance or denial of a permit or other determination made by the administrative agency with respect to airport zoning regulations.

Appeals must be taken within a reasonable time, as provided by the political subdivision or its administrative agency, by filing a notice of appeal. An appeal stays all proceedings in the underlying action, unless the entity from which the appeal is taken certifies that a stay would cause imminent peril to life or property.

The political subdivision or its administrative agency must set a reasonable time for the hearing of appeals and decide appeals within a reasonable time. A party may appear in person, by agent, or by attorney. The subdivision or agency may affirm, reverse, or modify the decision on the permit or other determination from which the appeal is taken.

Section 11 repeals s. 333.10, F.S., currently requiring all adopted airport zoning regulations to provide for a board of adjustment to hear and decide appeals and variances, in favor of the local government permitting and appeals process established by the bill in revised s. 333.09, F.S.

Judicial Review

Present Situation

Section 333.11, F.S., authorizes any person aggrieved or any taxpayer affected by a decision of a board of adjustment, any governing body of a political subdivision, the FDOT, any joint airport zoning board, or any administrative agency to apply for judicial relief in the judicial circuit court where the board of adjustment is located. The section provides procedural provisions related to the board of adjustment, describes the court's authorized review of a decision by a board of adjustment, and prohibits judicial review of decisions other than decision of a board of adjustment.

Effect of Proposed Changes

Section 12 amends s. 333.11, F.S., to allow any person, political subdivision, or joint airport zoning board affected by a decision of a political subdivision or its administrative agency to apply for judicial relief and to remove references to the board of adjustment, but otherwise leaves the authorization to apply for judicial review in place. The judicial review prohibition is revised.

[9] Supra note 7.

An appellant is required to exhaust all remedies through application for local government permits, exceptions, and appeals before seeking judicial review.

Transition Provisions

Section 15 of the bill creates s. 333.135, F.S., to:

- Provide that any airport zoning regulation in effect on July 1, 2016, and in conflict with the revised ch. 333, F.S., must be amended to conform by July 1, 2017.
- Require any political subdivision with an airport that has not adopted airport zoning regulations to do so by July 1, 2017, consistent with the revised chapter.
- Require the FDOT to administer the permitting process as provided in s. 333.025, F.S., for political subdivisions that have not yet adopted the required regulations.

Technical Revisions

Sections 4, 5, 6, 13, and 14, amending ss. 333.04, 333.05, 333.06, 333.12, and 333.13, F.S., respectively, primarily make grammatical and editorial revisions to existing language and modify sections of the chapter for internal consistency with definitions.

Section 16 repeals s. 333.14, F.S., containing the short title of ch. 333, F.S., the "Airport Zoning Law of 1945."

(1)(a) ~~In order to prevent the creation or establishment of airport hazards,~~ Every political subdivision having an airport hazard area within its territorial limits shall~~, by October 1, 1977,~~ adopt, administer, and enforce, under the police power and in the manner and upon the conditions ~~hereinafter~~ prescribed in this section, airport protection zoning regulations for such airport hazard area.

(b) If ~~Where~~ an airport is owned or controlled by a political subdivision and if any other political subdivision has land upon which an obstruction may be constructed or altered which underlies any surface of the airport as provided in 14 C.F.R. part 77, subpart C, the political subdivisions ~~airport hazard area appertaining to such airport is located wholly or partly outside the territorial limits of said political subdivision, the political subdivision owning or controlling the airport and the political subdivision within which the airport hazard area is located,~~ shall either:

1. By interlocal agreement, ~~in accordance with the provisions of chapter 163,~~ adopt, administer, and enforce a set of airport protection zoning regulations ~~applicable to the airport hazard area in question~~; or

2. By ordinance, regulation, or resolution duly adopted, create a joint airport protection zoning board that~~, which board~~ shall ~~have the same power to~~ adopt, administer, and enforce a set of airport protection zoning regulations ~~applicable to the airport hazard area in question as that vested in paragraph (a)~~

~~in the political subdivision within which such area is located~~. The ~~Each such~~ joint airport protection zoning board shall have as voting members two representatives appointed by each participating political subdivision ~~participating in its creation~~ and ~~in addition~~ a chair elected by a majority of the members so appointed. ~~However,~~ The airport manager or a representative of each airport in ~~managers of~~ the affected participating political subdivisions shall serve on the board in a nonvoting capacity.

(c) Airport protection zoning regulations adopted under paragraph (a) must ~~shall~~, at ~~as~~ a minimum, require:

1. A permit ~~variance~~ for the construction or ~~erection,~~ alteration~~, or modification~~ of any obstruction ~~structure which would cause the structure to exceed the federal obstruction standards as contained in 14 C.F.R. ss. 77.21, 77.23, 77.25, 77.28, and 77.29~~;

2. Obstruction marking and lighting for obstructions ~~structures as specified in s. 333.07(3)~~;

3. Documentation showing compliance with the federal requirement for notification of proposed construction or alteration of structures and a valid aeronautical study ~~evaluation~~ submitted by each person applying for a permit ~~variance~~;

4. Consideration of the criteria in s. 333.025(6), when determining whether to issue or deny a permit ~~variance~~; and

5. That approval of a permit not be based ~~no variance shall be approved~~ solely on the determination by the Federal Aviation Administration ~~basis~~ that the ~~such~~ proposed structure is not an airport hazard ~~will not exceed federal obstruction standards as~~

Material distributed pursuant to this subsection shall be at no cost to authorized recipients~~.

(2) In the manner provided in subsection (1), political subdivisions shall adopt, administer, and enforce ~~interim~~ airport land use compatibility zoning regulations ~~shall be adopted~~. Airport land use compatibility zoning ~~When political subdivisions have adopted land development~~ regulations shall, at a minimum, ~~in accordance with the provisions of chapter 163 which~~ address the ~~use of land in the manner consistent with the provisions herein, adoption of airport land use compatibility regulations pursuant to this subsection shall not be required. Interim airport land use compatibility zoning regulations shall consider the~~ following:

(a) The prohibition of new landfills and the restriction of existing landfills ~~Whether sanitary landfills are located~~ within the following areas:

1. Within 10,000 feet from the nearest point of any runway used or planned to be used by turbine ~~turbojet or turboprop~~ aircraft.

2. Within 5,000 feet from the nearest point of any runway used ~~only~~ by only nonturbine ~~piston-type~~ aircraft.

3. Outside the perimeters defined in subparagraphs 1. and 2., but still within the lateral limits of the civil airport imaginary surfaces defined in 14 C.F.R. s. 77.19 ~~part 77.25~~. Case-by-case review of such landfills is advised.

(b) Where ~~Whether~~ any landfill is located and constructed in a manner ~~so~~ that ~~it~~ attracts or sustains hazardous bird movements from feeding, water, or roosting areas into, or across, the runways or approach and departure patterns of aircraft. The landfill operator must ~~political subdivision shall request from the airport authority or other governing body operating the airport a report on such bird feeding or roosting areas that at the time of the request are known to the airport. In preparing its report, the authority, or other governing body, shall consider whether the landfill will~~ incorporate bird management techniques or other practices to minimize bird hazards to airborne aircraft. ~~The airport authority or other governing body shall respond to the political subdivision no later than 30 days after receipt of such request.~~

(c) Where an airport authority or other governing body operating a ~~publicly owned,~~ public-use airport has conducted a noise study in accordance with ~~the provisions of~~ 14 C.F.R. part 150, or where a public-use airport owner has established noise contours pursuant to another public study approved by the Federal Aviation Administration, the prohibition of incompatible uses, as established in the noise study in 14 C.F.R. part 150, Appendix A or as a part of an alternative Federal Aviation Administration-approved public study, within the noise contours established by any of these studies, except if such uses are specifically contemplated by such study with appropriate mitigation or similar techniques described in the study ~~neither residential construction nor any educational facility as defined in chapter 1013, with the exception of aviation school facilities, shall be permitted within the area contiguous to the airport defined by an outer noise contour that is considered incompatible with that type of construction by 14 C.F.R. part 150, Appendix A or an equivalent noise level as established by other types of noise studies~~.

(d) Where an airport authority or other governing body operating a ~~publicly owned,~~ public-use airport has not conducted a noise study, the prohibition of ~~neither~~ residential construction and ~~nor~~ any educational facility ~~as defined in chapter 1013~~, with the exception of aviation school facilities, ~~shall be permitted~~ within an area contiguous to the airport measuring one-half the length of the longest runway on either side of and at the end of each runway centerline.

(e) ~~(3)~~ The restriction of ~~In the manner provided in subsection (1), airport zoning regulations shall be adopted which restrict~~ new incompatible uses, activities, or substantial modifications to existing incompatible uses ~~construction~~ within runway protection ~~clear~~ zones~~, including uses, activities, or construction in runway clear zones which are incompatible with normal airport operations or endanger public health, safety, and welfare by resulting in congregations of people, emissions of light or smoke, or attraction of birds~~. ~~Such regulations shall prohibit the construction of an educational facility of a public or private school at either end of a runway of a publicly owned,~~

~~public-use airport within an area which extends 5 miles in a direct line along the centerline of the runway, and which has a width measuring one-half the length of the runway. Exceptions approving construction of an educational facility within the delineated area shall only be granted when the political subdivision administering the zoning regulations makes specific findings detailing how the public policy reasons for allowing the construction outweigh health and safety concerns prohibiting such a location.~~

~~(4) The procedures outlined in subsections (1), (2), and (3) for the adoption of such regulations are supplemental to any existing procedures utilized by political subdivisions in the adoption of such regulations.~~

(3)~~(5)~~ Political subdivisions shall provide ~~The Department of Transportation shall provide technical assistance to any political subdivision requesting assistance in the preparation of an airport zoning code.~~ a copy of all ~~local~~ airport protection zoning ~~codes, rules, and~~ regulations and airport land use compatibility zoning regulations, and any related amendments ~~and proposed and granted variances thereto~~, to ~~shall be filed with~~ the department's aviation office within 30 days after adoption ~~department~~.

(4)~~(6) Nothing in~~ Subsection (2) may not ~~or subsection (3) shall~~ be construed to require the removal, alteration, sound conditioning, or other change, or to interfere with the continued use or adjacent expansion of any educational facility ~~structure~~ or site in existence on July 1, 1993~~, or be construed to prohibit the construction of any new structure for which a site has been determined as provided in former s. 235.19, as of~~

~~July 1, 1993~~.

(5) This section does not prohibit an airport authority, a political subdivision or its administrative agency, or any other governing body operating a public-use airport from establishing airport zoning regulations more restrictive than prescribed in this section in order to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the public in the air and on the ground.

Section 4. Section 333.04, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

333.04 Comprehensive zoning regulations; most stringent to prevail where conflicts occur.—

(1) INCORPORATION.—In the event that a political subdivision has adopted, or hereafter adopts, a comprehensive plan or policy ~~zoning ordinance~~ regulating, among other things, the height of buildings, structures, and natural objects, and uses of property, any airport zoning regulations applicable to the same area or portion thereof may be incorporated in and made a part of such comprehensive plan or policy ~~zoning regulations~~, and be administered and enforced in connection therewith.

(2) CONFLICT.—In the event of conflict between any airport zoning regulations adopted under this chapter and any other regulations applicable to the same area, whether the conflict be with respect to the height of structures or vegetation ~~trees~~, the use of land, or any other matter, and whether such regulations were adopted by the political subdivision that ~~which~~ adopted the airport zoning regulations or by some other political subdivision, the more stringent limitation or requirement shall govern and prevail.

Section 5. Section 333.05, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

333.05 Procedure for adoption of airport zoning regulations.—

(1) NOTICE AND HEARING.—~~No~~ Airport zoning regulations may not ~~shall~~ be adopted, amended, or repealed ~~changed~~ under this chapter except by action of the legislative body of the political subdivision or affected subdivisions ~~in question~~, or the joint board provided in s. 333.03(1)(b)2. ~~s. 333.03(1)(b)~~ by the political subdivisions ~~bodies~~ therein provided and set forth, after a public hearing in relation thereto, at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard. Notice of the hearing shall be published at least once a week for 2 consecutive weeks in a newspaper ~~an official paper, or a paper~~ of general circulation~~,~~ in the political subdivision or subdivisions where ~~in which are located~~ the airport zoning regulations are ~~areas~~ to be adopted, amended, or repealed ~~zoned~~.

(2) AIRPORT ZONING COMMISSION.—Before ~~Prior to~~ the initial zoning of any airport area under this chapter, the political subdivision or joint airport zoning board that ~~which~~ is to adopt, administer, and enforce the regulations must ~~shall~~ appoint a commission, to be known as the airport zoning commission, to recommend the boundaries of the various zones to be established and the regulations to be adopted therefor. Such commission shall make a preliminary report and hold public hearings thereon before submitting its final report, and the legislative body of the political subdivision or the joint airport zoning board may ~~shall~~ not hold its public hearings or take any action until it has received the final report of such commission, and at least 15 days shall elapse between the receipt of the final report of the commission and the hearing to be held by the latter board. If ~~Where~~ a planning ~~city plan~~ commission, an airport commission, or a comprehensive zoning commission already exists, it may be appointed as the airport zoning commission.

Section 6. Section 333.06, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

333.06 Airport zoning regulation requirements.—

(1) REASONABLENESS.—All airport zoning regulations adopted under this chapter shall be reasonable and may not ~~none shall~~ impose any requirement or restriction which is not reasonably necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter. In determining what regulations it may adopt, each political subdivision and joint airport zoning board shall consider, among other things, the character of the flying operations expected to be conducted at the airport, the nature of the terrain within the airport hazard area and runway protection ~~clear~~ zones, the character of the neighborhood, the uses to which the property to be zoned is put and adaptable, and the impact of any new use, activity, or construction on the airport's operating capability and capacity.

(2) INDEPENDENT JUSTIFICATION.—The purpose of all airport zoning regulations adopted under this chapter is to provide both airspace protection and land uses ~~use~~ compatible with airport operations. Each aspect of this purpose requires independent justification in order to promote the public interest in safety, health, and general welfare. Specifically, construction in a runway protection ~~clear~~ zone which does not exceed airspace height restrictions is not conclusive ~~evidence per se~~ that such use, activity, or construction is compatible with airport operations.

(3) NONCONFORMING USES.—An ~~No~~ airport protection zoning regulation ~~regulations~~ adopted under this chapter may not ~~shall~~ require the removal, lowering, or other change or alteration of any obstruction ~~structure or tree~~ not conforming to the regulation ~~regulations~~ when adopted or amended, or otherwise interfere with the continuance of any nonconforming use, except as provided in s. 333.07(1) and (3).

(4) ADOPTION OF AIRPORT MASTER PLAN AND NOTICE TO AFFECTED LOCAL GOVERNMENTS.—An airport master plan shall be prepared by each public-use ~~publicly owned and operated~~ airport licensed by the department ~~of Transportation~~ under chapter 330. The authorized entity having responsibility for governing the operation of the airport, when either requesting from or submitting to a state or federal governmental agency with funding or approval jurisdiction a "finding of no significant impact," an environmental assessment, a site-selection study, an airport master plan, or any amendment to an airport master plan, shall submit simultaneously a copy of said request, submittal, assessment, study, plan, or amendments by certified mail to all affected local governments. As used in ~~For the purposes of~~ this subsection, the term "affected local government" is defined as any municipality ~~city~~ or county having jurisdiction over the airport and any municipality ~~city~~ or county located within 2 miles of the boundaries of the land subject to the airport master plan.

Section 7. Section 333.065, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 8. Section 333.07, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

333.07 Local government permitting of airspace obstructions ~~Permits and variances~~.—

(1) PERMITS.—

(a) A person proposing to construct, alter, or allow an airport obstruction in an airport hazard area in violation of the airport protection zoning regulations adopted under this chapter must apply for a permit. A ~~Any airport zoning regulations adopted under this chapter may require that a permit be obtained before any new structure or use may be constructed or established and before any existing use or structure may be substantially changed or substantially altered or repaired. In any event, however, all such regulations shall provide that before any nonconforming structure or tree may be replaced, substantially altered or repaired, rebuilt, allowed to grow higher, or replanted, a permit must be secured from the administrative agency authorized to administer and enforce the regulations, authorizing such replacement, change, or repair. No~~ permit may not ~~shall~~ be issued if it ~~granted that~~ would allow the establishment or creation of an airport hazard or if it would permit a nonconforming obstruction ~~structure or tree or nonconforming use to be made or become higher or~~ to become a greater hazard to air navigation than it was when the applicable airport protection zoning regulation was adopted which allowed the establishment or creation of the obstruction, or than it is when the application for a permit is made.

(b) If ~~Whenever~~ the political subdivision or its administrative agency determines that a nonconforming obstruction ~~use or nonconforming structure or tree~~ has been abandoned or is more than 80 percent torn down, destroyed, deteriorated, or decayed, a ~~no~~ permit may not ~~shall~~ be granted if it ~~that~~ would allow the obstruction ~~said structure or tree~~ to exceed the applicable height limit or otherwise deviate from the airport protection zoning regulations.~~, and,~~ Whether or not an application is made for a permit under this subsection ~~or not~~, ~~the said agency may by appropriate action, compel~~ the owner of the nonconforming obstruction may be required ~~structure or tree~~, at his or her own expense, to lower, remove, reconstruct, alter, or equip such obstruction ~~object~~ as may be necessary to conform to the current airport protection zoning regulations. If the owner of the nonconforming obstruction neglects or refuses ~~structure or tree shall neglect or refuse~~ to comply with such requirement ~~order~~ for 10 days after notice ~~thereof~~, the administrative ~~said~~ agency may report the violation to the political subdivision involved ~~therein~~, which subdivision, through its appropriate agency, may proceed to have the obstruction ~~object~~ so lowered, removed, reconstructed, altered, or equipped~~,~~ and assess the cost and expense thereof upon the owner of the obstruction ~~object~~ or the land whereon it is or was located~~, and, unless such an assessment is paid within 90 days from the service of notice thereof on the owner or the owner's agent, of such object or land, the sum shall be a lien on said land, and shall bear interest thereafter at the rate of 6 percent per annum until paid, and shall be collected in the same manner as taxes on real property are collected by said political subdivision, or, at the option of said political subdivision, said lien may be enforced in the manner provided for enforcement of liens by chapter 85~~.

~~(c) Except as provided herein, applications for permits shall be granted, provided the matter applied for meets the provisions of this chapter and the regulations adopted and in force hereunder.~~

(2) CONSIDERATIONS WHEN ISSUING OR DENYING PERMITS.—In determining whether to issue or deny a permit, the political subdivision or its administrative agency must consider the following, as applicable:

(a) The safety of persons on the ground and in the air.

(b) The safe and efficient use of navigable airspace.

(c) The nature of the terrain and height of existing structures.

(d) The effect of the construction or alteration on the state licensing standards for a public-use airport contained in chapter 330 and rules adopted thereunder.

(e) The character of existing and planned flight operations and developments at public-use airports.

(f) Federal airways, visual flight rules, flyways and corridors, and instrument approaches as designated by the Federal Aviation Administration.

(g) The effect of the construction or alteration of the proposed structure on the minimum descent altitude or the decision height at the affected airport.

(h) The cumulative effects on navigable airspace of all existing structures and all other known proposed structures in the area.

(i) Additional requirements adopted by the political subdivision or administrative agency pertinent to evaluation and protection of airspace and airport operations.

~~(2) VARIANCES.—~~

~~(a) Any person desiring to erect any structure, increase the height of any structure, permit the growth of any tree, or otherwise use his or her property in violation of the airport zoning regulations adopted under this chapter or any land development regulation adopted pursuant to the provisions of chapter 163 pertaining to airport land use compatibility, may apply to the board of adjustment for a variance from the zoning regulations in question. At the time of filing the application, the applicant shall forward to the department by certified mail, return receipt requested, a copy of the application. The department shall have 45 days from receipt of the application to comment and to provide its comments or waiver of that right to the applicant and the board of adjustment. The department shall include its explanation for any objections stated in its comments. If the department fails to provide its comments within 45 days of receipt of the application, its right to comment is waived. The board of adjustment may proceed with its consideration of the application only upon the receipt of the department's comments or waiver of that right as demonstrated by the filing of a copy of the return receipt with the board. Noncompliance with this section shall be grounds to appeal pursuant to s. 333.08 and to apply for judicial relief pursuant to s. 333.11. Such variances may only be allowed where a literal application or enforcement of the regulations would result in practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship and where the relief granted would not be contrary to the public interest but would do substantial justice and be in accordance with the spirit of the regulations and this chapter. However, any variance may be allowed subject to any reasonable conditions that the board of adjustment may deem necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.~~

~~(b) The Department of Transportation shall have the authority to appeal any variance granted under this chapter pursuant to s. 333.08, and to apply for judicial relief pursuant to s. 333.11.~~

(3) OBSTRUCTION MARKING AND LIGHTING.—

~~(a)~~ In issuing a ~~granting any~~ permit ~~or variance~~ under this section, the political subdivision or its administrative agency ~~or board of adjustment~~ shall require the owner of the obstruction ~~structure or tree in question~~ to install, operate, and maintain thereon, at his or her own expense, ~~such~~ marking and lighting in conformance with the specific standards established by the Federal Aviation Administration ~~as may be necessary to indicate to aircraft pilots the presence of an obstruction~~.

~~(b) Such marking and lighting shall conform to the specific standards established by rule by the Department of Transportation.~~

~~(c) Existing structures not in compliance on October 1, 1988, shall be required to comply whenever the existing marking requires refurbishment, whenever the existing lighting requires replacement, or within 5 years of October 1, 1988, whichever occurs first.~~

Section 9. Section 333.08, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 10. Section 333.09, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

333.09 Administration of airport protection zoning regulations.—

(1) ADMINISTRATION.—All airport protection zoning regulations adopted under this chapter shall provide for the administration and enforcement of such regulations by the political subdivision or its administrative agency ~~an administrative agency which may be an agency created by such regulations or any official, board, or other existing agency of the political subdivision adopting the regulations or of one of the political subdivisions which participated in the creation of the joint airport zoning board adopting the regulations, if satisfactory to that political subdivision, but in no case shall such administrative agency be or include any member of the board of adjustment~~. The duties of any administrative agency designated pursuant to this chapter must ~~shall~~ include that of hearing and deciding all permits under s. 333.07 ~~s. 333.07(1), deciding all matters under s. 333.07(3)~~, as they pertain to such agency, and all other matters under this chapter applying to said agency~~, but such agency shall not have or exercise any of the powers herein delegated to the board of adjustment~~.

(2) LOCAL GOVERNMENT PROCESS.—

(a) A political subdivision required to adopt airport zoning regulations under this chapter shall provide a process to:

1. Issue or deny permits consistent with s. 333.07.

2. Provide the department with a copy of a complete application consistent with s. 333.025(4).

3. Enforce the issuance or denial of a permit or other determination made by the administrative agency with respect to airport zoning regulations.

(b) If a zoning board or permitting body already exists within a political subdivision, the zoning board or permitting body may implement the airport zoning regulation permitting and appeals processes.

(3) APPEALS.—

(a) A person, a political subdivision or its administrative agency, or a joint airport zoning board that contends a decision made by a political subdivision or its administrative agency is an improper application of airport zoning regulations may use the process established for an appeal.

(b) All appeals taken under this section must be taken within a reasonable time, as provided by the political subdivision or its administrative agency, by filing with the entity from which the appeal is taken a notice of appeal specifying the grounds for appeal.

(c) An appeal shall stay all proceedings in the underlying action appealed from, unless the entity from which the appeal is taken certifies pursuant to the rules for appeal that by reason of the facts stated in the certificate a stay would, in its opinion, cause imminent peril to life or property. In such cases, proceedings may not be stayed except by order of the political subdivision or its administrative agency on notice to the entity from which the appeal is taken and for good cause shown.

(d) The political subdivision or its administrative agency shall set a reasonable time for the hearing of appeals, give public notice and due notice to the parties in interest, and decide the same within a reasonable time. Upon the hearing, any party may appear in person, by agent, or by attorney.

(e) The political subdivision or its administrative agency may, in conformity with this chapter, affirm, reverse, or modify the decision on the permit or other determination from which the appeal is taken.

Section 11. Section 333.10, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 12. Section 333.11, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

333.11 Judicial review.—

(1) Any person, ~~aggrieved, or taxpayer affected, by any decision of~~ ~~a board of adjustment, or any governing body of a~~ political subdivision, or ~~the Department of Transportation or any~~ joint airport zoning board affected by a decision of a political subdivision~~,~~ or its ~~of any~~ administrative agency ~~hereunder,~~ may apply for judicial relief to the circuit court in the judicial circuit where the political subdivision ~~board of adjustment~~ is located within 30 days after rendition of the decision ~~by the board of adjustment~~. Review shall be by petition for writ of certiorari, which shall be governed by the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure.

~~(2) Upon presentation of such petition to the court, it may allow a writ of certiorari, directed to the board of adjustment, to review such decision of the board. The allowance of the writ shall not stay the proceedings upon the decision appealed from, but the court may, on application, on notice to the board, on due hearing and due cause shown, grant a restraining order.~~

~~(3) The board of adjustment shall not be required to return the original papers acted upon by it, but it shall be sufficient to return certified or sworn copies thereof or of such portions thereof as may be called for by the writ. The return shall~~

~~concisely set forth such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show the grounds of the decision appealed from and shall be verified.~~

(2)~~(4)~~ The court has ~~shall have~~ exclusive jurisdiction to affirm, reverse, or modify~~, or set aside~~ the decision on the permit or other determination from which the appeal is taken ~~brought up for review, in whole or in part,~~ and, if appropriate ~~need be~~, to order further proceedings by the political subdivision or its administrative agency ~~board of adjustment~~. The findings of fact by the political subdivision or its administrative agency ~~board~~, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be accepted by the court as conclusive, and an ~~no~~ objection to a decision of the political subdivision or its administrative agency may not ~~board shall~~ be considered by the court unless such objection was raised in the underlying proceeding ~~shall have been urged before the board, or, if it was not so urged, unless there were reasonable grounds for failure to do so~~.

(3)~~(5)~~ If ~~In any case in which~~ airport zoning regulations adopted under this chapter~~, although generally reasonable,~~ are held by a court to interfere with the use and enjoyment of a particular structure or parcel of land to such an extent, or to be so onerous in their application to such a structure or parcel of land, as to constitute a taking or deprivation of that property in violation of the State Constitution or the Constitution of the United States, such holding shall not affect the application of such regulations to other structures and parcels of land, or such regulations as are not involved in the particular decision.

(4)~~(6)~~ A judicial ~~No~~ appeal to any court may not ~~shall~~ be ~~or is~~ permitted under this section until the appellant has exhausted all of its remedies through application for local government permits, exceptions, and appeals~~, to any courts, as herein provided, save and except an appeal from a decision of the board of adjustment, the appeal herein provided being from such final decision of such board only, the appellant being hereby required to exhaust his or her remedies hereunder of application for permits, exceptions and variances, and appeal to the board of adjustment, and gaining a determination by said board, before being permitted to appeal to the court hereunder~~.

Section 13. Section 333.12, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

333.12 Acquisition of air rights.—If ~~In any case which: it is desired to remove, lower or otherwise terminate~~ a nonconforming obstruction is determined to be an airport hazard and the owner will not remove, lower, or otherwise eliminate it ~~structure or use~~; ~~or~~ the approach protection necessary cannot, because of constitutional limitations, be provided by airport zoning regulations under this chapter; or it appears advisable that the necessary approach protection be provided by acquisition of property rights rather than by airport zoning regulations, the political subdivision within which the property or nonconforming obstruction ~~use~~ is located, or the political subdivision owning or operating the airport or being served by it, may acquire, by purchase, grant, or condemnation in the manner provided by chapter 73, such property, air right, avigation ~~navigation~~ easement, or other estate, portion, or interest in the property or nonconforming obstruction ~~structure~~

~~or use~~ or such interest in the air above such property, ~~tree~~, ~~structure, or use,~~ in question, as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter, and in so doing, if by condemnation, to have the right to take immediate possession of the property, interest in property, air right, or other right sought to be condemned, at the time, and in the manner and form, and as authorized by chapter 74. In the case of the purchase of any property, ~~or any~~ easement, or estate or interest therein or the acquisition of the same by the power of eminent domain, the political subdivision making such purchase or exercising such power shall, in addition to the damages for the taking, injury, or destruction of property, also pay the cost of the removal and relocation of any structure or any public utility that ~~which~~ is required to be moved to a new location.

Section 14. Section 333.13, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

333.13 Enforcement and remedies.—

(1) Each violation of this chapter or of any airport zoning regulations, orders, or rulings adopted ~~promulgated~~ or made pursuant to this chapter shall constitute a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083, and each day a violation continues to exist shall constitute a separate offense.

(2) In addition, the political subdivision or agency adopting the airport zoning regulations under this chapter may institute in any court of competent jurisdiction an action to prevent, restrain, correct, or abate any violation of this chapter or of airport zoning regulations adopted under this chapter or of any order or ruling made in connection with their administration or enforcement, and the court shall adjudge to the plaintiff such relief, by way of injunction, ~~(~~which may be mandatory,~~)~~ or otherwise, as may be proper under all the facts and circumstances of the case in order to fully effectuate the purposes of this chapter and of the regulations adopted and orders and rulings made pursuant thereto.

(3) The department ~~of Transportation~~ may institute a civil action for injunctive relief in the appropriate circuit court to prevent violation of any provision of this chapter.

Section 15. Section 333.135, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

333.135 Transition provisions.—

(1) Any airport zoning regulation in effect on July 1, 2016, which includes provisions in conflict with this chapter shall be amended to conform to the requirements of this chapter by July 1, 2017.

(2) Any political subdivision having an airport within its territorial limits which has not adopted airport zoning regulations shall, by July 1, 2017, adopt airport zoning regulations consistent with this chapter.

(3) For those political subdivisions that have not yet adopted airport zoning regulations pursuant to this chapter, the department shall administer the permitting process as provided in s. 333.025.

Section 16. Section 333.14, Florida Statutes, is repealed.

Section 17. This act shall take effect July 1, 2016.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Technical Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 1528 amends the schedule of controlled substances in s. 893.03, Florida Statutes, to describe, by core structure, the following synthetic controlled substances: synthetic cannabinoids; substituted cathinones; substituted phenethylamines; N-benzyl Phenethylamine compounds; substituted tryptamines; and substituted phenylcyclohexylamines. According to the Office of the Attorney General, the class descriptions define these groups of substances by specific core structure to limit the effect that possible alterations to these substances may have to remove a synthetic or designer drug from the list of controlled substances. Each class description includes examples of compounds that are covered by the class description. The criminal penalties relating to the possession, sale, manufacture, and delivery of controlled substances will apply to these synthetic substances.

The bill:

- Revises the definition of the term "substantially similar" for the purpose of determining whether a substance is an analog to a controlled substance. The bill defines the term according to the chemical structure of the substance instead of according to its physiological effect. The bill also provides additional factors for determining whether a substance is an analog of a controlled substance to include comparisons to the accepted methods of marketing, distribution, and sales of the substance.
- Revises the chemical terms for existing controlled substances by correcting errors in existing substance listings and deleting double entries. According to the Office of the Attorney General, the chemical terms in these provisions were reviewed by chemists and the revisions in this bill are based on their recommendations.

- Creates a noncriminal penalty for selling, manufacturing, or delivering, or possessing with intent to sell, manufacture, or deliver, certain unlawful controlled substance in, on, or near an assisted living facility. The noncriminal penalty is a $500 fine and 100 hours of community service an addition to any other penalty.
- Creates a third degree felony for a person 18 years of age or older who delivers certain illegal controlled substances to a person under the age of 18, who uses or hires a person under the age of 18 in the sale or delivery of such substance, or who uses a person under the age of 18 to assist in avoiding detection for specified violations.
- Creates a second degree felony for actual or constructive possession of a Schedule V controlled substance unless the controlled substance was lawfully obtained from a medical practitioner or pursuant to a valid prescription or order of a medical practitioner while acting in the course of his or her professional practice.
- Provides that a place or premises that has been used on two or more occasions within a six-month period as a site of a violation of ch. 499, F.S., may be declared a public nuisance and abated.
- Includes misbranded drugs in the listing of paraphernalia that are deemed to be contraband and subject to civil forfeiture.

The Criminal Justice Impact Conference has determined that the bill will have a positive indeterminate impact on the prison population, meaning that it will increase the prison population by an amount that cannot be quantified. The Department of Legal Affairs expects that any impact of the bill on criminal justice costs, such as increased costs to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) due to requirements to analyze the newly-scheduled drugs, would be short-lived because the market for the drugs will dry up shortly after they become illegal.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Chapter 893, F.S., sets forth the Florida Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act. This chapter classifies controlled substances into five schedules in order to regulate the manufacture, distribution, preparation, and dispensing of the substances. The schedules are as follows:

- A Schedule I substance has a high potential for abuse[1] and no currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States and its use under medical supervision does not meet accepted safety standards. Examples: heroin and methaqualone.[2]
- A Schedule II substance has a high potential for abuse, a currently accepted but severely restricted medical use in treatment in the United States, and abuse may lead to severe psychological or physical dependence. Examples: cocaine and morphine.[3]

[1] "Potential for abuse" means that a substance has properties of a central nervous system stimulant or depressant or an hallucinogen that create a substantial likelihood of its being: (a) Used in amounts that create a hazard to the user's health or the safety of the community; (b) Diverted from legal channels and distributed through illegal channels; or (c) Taken on the user's own initiative rather than on the basis of professional medical advice. s. 893.02(20), F.S.
[2] Section 893.03(1), F.S.
[3] Section 893.03(2), F.S.

- A Schedule III substance has a potential for abuse less than the substances contained in Schedules I and II, a currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States, and abuse may lead to moderate or low physical dependence or high psychological dependence or, in the case of anabolic steroids, may lead to physical damage. Examples: lysergic acid; ketamine; and some anabolic steroids.[4]
- A Schedule IV substance has a low potential for abuse relative to the substances in Schedule III, a currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States, and abuse may lead to limited physical or psychological dependence relative to the substances in Schedule III. Examples: alprazolam; diazepam; and phenobarbital.[5]
- A Schedule V substance has a low potential for abuse relative to the substances in Schedule IV, a currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States, and abuse may lead to limited physical or psychological dependence relative to the substances in Schedule IV. Examples: low dosage levels of codeine; certain stimulants; and certain narcotic compounds.[6]

A substance is a "controlled substance" if it is listed in any of the five schedules in s. 893.03, F.S. The particular scheduling determines penalties, i.e. which penalties may be imposed for unlawful possession, sale, manufacture, etc., and the conditions under which the substance can be legally possessed, prescribed, sold, etc.

The sale, manufacture, and delivery of a controlled substance listed in s. 893.03(1)(c), F.S., (Schedule I(c)), as well as the possession with intent to sell, manufacture, or deliver such substance, is considered a third degree felony.[7] However, if any of these acts are committed within 1,000 feet of certain designated places, the felony degree and penalties are greater.[8] For example, selling a controlled substance listed in Schedule I(c) within 1,000 feet of the real property of a child care facility or secondary school is a second degree felony.[9] Other prohibited activities include bringing a controlled substance listed in Schedule I(c) into the state and the purchase or possession with intent to purchase such a controlled substance, which are all third degree felonies.[10]

Synthetic Drugs

Synthetic drugs mimic the effects of controlled substances. Synthetic drugs are also known as "new or novel psychoactive substances," or "designer drugs." Synthetic drugs are used to circumvent existing prohibitions on controlled substances. According to the Office of the Attorney General, the increasing number of synthetic drug variants available and the higher toxicity of the new variants poses an increasing public health threat.

Concerned about the use of synthetic drugs in Broward County, the State Attorney took the issue to the grand jury. On December 30, 2015, the 17th Judicial Circuit State Attorney's Office released a grand jury report. The report examined the extent of the problem of synthetic drugs in Broward County and made several recommendations, including a recommendation for legislation to address the problem.

The grand jury report attributed more than 60 recent deaths to "Flakka."[11] According to information provided by the Attorney General's Office and the grand jury report, synthetic drugs are typically manufactured in pharmaceutical factories in China or Southeast Asia and are often sold through the internet.

Controlled substance "analogs" are new substances that are not controlled under ch. 893, F.S., but which have a "potential for abuse" and are manufactured, distributed, possessed, and used as substitutes for controlled substances.[12] Controlled substance analogs are treated, for purposes of drug abuse prevention and control, as a controlled substance in Schedule I of s. 893.03, F.S. Section 893.0356(3), F.S., defines the term "potential for abuse" in relation to properties as a central nervous system stimulant, depressant, or hallucinogen. The definition also requires that the substance create a substantial likelihood of being:

(a) Used in amounts that create a hazard to the user's health or the safety of the community;
(b) Diverted from legal channels and distributed through illegal channels; or
(c) Taken on the user's own initiative rather than on the basis of professional medical advice.

Proof of potential for abuse can be based upon a showing that these activities are already taking place, or upon a showing that the nature and properties of the substance make it reasonable to assume that there is a substantial likelihood that such activities will take place, in other than isolated or occasional instances.

Section 893.0356(3), F.S., provides that the potential for abuse is proven by showing "that these activities are already taking place, or upon a showing that the nature and properties of the substance make it reasonable to assume that there is a substantial likelihood that such activities will take place, in other than isolated or occasional instances."

When a new synthetic drug is initially introduced, it may not necessarily be controlled or illegal under state or federal law. The Florida Attorney General may adopt emergency rules to add the new synthetic drug to the controlled substance schedule.[13] The Legislature then can amend the controlled substances schedule to incorporate the new synthetic drug. Since 2011, 136 chemical compounds commonly used to produce synthetic drugs have been added to the schedule of controlled substances, including alpha-PVP, which is the main ingredient in the synthetic form of cathinone drug popularly known as "Flakka."[14]

According to the Office of the Attorney General, the core synthetic drugs of concern in Florida fall into the following categories or classifications:[15]

- Synthetic cannabinoids, such as "K2" or "Spice", which produce a high similar to cannabis;
- Substituted cathinones, commonly sold as "bath salts," which are central nervous system stimulants with stimulant properties related to cathinone, the psychoactive substance found in the shrub Catha edulis (khat) and produce pharmacological effects similar to methamphetamine, amphetamines, cocaine, Khat, LSD, and MDMA (Substituted Cathinones are central nervous system stimulants with no medicinal application and a tendency for dependence);
- Substituted phenethylamines, which mimic the effects of stimulants and/or hallucinogens, including amphetamine, methamphetamine, and MDMA;
- N-benzyl Phenethylamines, which are derivatives of the phenethylamine molecule by substitution that significantly increases the potency of the molecule, and are a potent hallucinogen and alternative to LSD;
- Substituted tryptamines, which are hallucinogenic substances; and
- Substituted phenylcyclohexylamines, which are comparable to PCP intoxication and results in behavioral/psychological effects from neurologic and physiologic abnormalities, stupor, or light or deep coma.

There are other potential classifications of drugs,[16] but according to the Office of the Attorney General, these classifications describe the top designer drugs of concern in Florida.

Approaches to Synthetic Drug Enforcement[17]

Three states, the District of Columbia, and the federal government schedule synthetic cannabinoids using the "neurochemical approach." This approach schedules the substances according to the effect they have on the brain rather than through either the listing of specific substances or through the use of class definitions.[18] The advantage of scheduling cannabinoids using the neurochemical approach is that states may not need to continually update the schedules of substances each time a new drug is created or introduced. However, there is uncertainty in determining the proof required to obtain a conviction under this method.[19]

Some states use an "analogue approach" to identify synthetic drugs. Under an analogue approach, prosecutors must prove that a substance is both substantially similar structurally to a Schedule I or II controlled substance and that it has either substantially similar effect on the body or that the person represents or intends the substance to have a substantially similar effect on the body as the controlled substance.[20] The advantage of using the analogue approach is that it covers every substance so long as it is structurally similar to a Schedule I or II substance. However, the analogue approach does not provide clear guidance on what constitutes "substantially similar."[21]

Many states use these class definitions to schedule synthetic drugs or specify each novel psychoactive substance individually in the controlled substance schedule by its specific chemical structure or trade/street name. The vast majority of states in the United States use one of these two scheduling approaches or both in combination. The advantage of scheduling substances by class definition is that a prosecutor only needs to prove that the substance falls within a particular class. A prosecutor does not necessary have to prove its structural similarity to another substance or its effect on the body. Most states also include specific substances as examples of the particular class in the definition. The principal disadvantage to scheduling synthetic drugs through a classification approach is that if a substance does not fall within a particular named class and is not otherwise specifically listed, the substance is "legal" until it is particularly scheduled, although the state or federal analogue statute could fill the void until the substance is scheduled.[22]

Among the recommendations in its report, the Broward County Grand Jury recommended that the Legislature adopt a classification system to include synthetic drugs within the existing provisions of s. 893.13, F.S.[23]

Chapter 499 - Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act

The Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act in ch. 499, F.S., consists of three parts that cover drugs, devices, cosmetics, and household products; ether; and medical gas. Section 499.003(18), F.S., defines the term drug to mean an article that is:

> Pharmacopoeia of the United States, or any supplement to any of those publications;
> (b) Intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, therapy, or prevention of disease in humans or other animals;
> (c) Intended to affect the structure or any function of the body of humans or other animals; or
> (d) Intended for use as a component of any article specified in paragraph (a), paragraph (b), or paragraph (c), and includes active pharmaceutical ingredients, but does not include devices or their nondrug components, parts, or accessories. For purposes of this paragraph, an "active pharmaceutical ingredient" includes any substance or mixture of substances intended, represented, or labeled for use in drug manufacturing that furnishes or is intended to furnish, in a finished dosage form, any pharmacological activity or other direct effect in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, therapy, or prevention of disease in humans or other animals, or to affect the structure or any function of the body of humans or other animals.

Section 499.005, F.S., specifies prohibited acts, including the manufacture, repackaging, sale, delivery, or holding or offering for sale of any drug, device, or cosmetic that is adulterated or misbranded or has otherwise been rendered unfit for human or animal use.

Section 499.0051, F.S., provides criminal acts and criminal penalties under ch. 499, F.S., including the knowing sale or transfer of a prescription drug to an unauthorized person in a wholesale transaction (second degree felony); the knowing sale or delivery, or possession with intent to sell, contraband prescription drugs (second degree felony); and knowing trafficking in contraband prescription drugs (first degree felony).[24]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Controlled Substances

The bill amends s. 893.02, F.S., to define and revise definitions for chemical terms used in ch. 893, F.S., including "cannabinoid receptor agonist," "homologue," "nitrogen-heterocyclic analog," and "positional isomer."

The bill amends s. 893.03, F.S., to describe, by core structure, the following synthetic controlled substances:

- Synthetic cannabinoids;
- Substituted cathinones;
- Substituted phenethylamines;
- N-benzyl phenethylamine compounds;
- Substituted tryptamines; and

[24] Section 499.003(11), F.S., defines a contraband prescription drug as follows: "any adulterated drug, as defined in s. 499.006, any counterfeit drug, as defined in this section, and also means any prescription drug for which a pedigree paper does not exist, or for which the pedigree paper in existence has been forged, counterfeited, falsely created, or contains any altered, false, or misrepresented matter."

- Substituted phenylcyclohexylamines.

According to the Office of the Attorney General, the class descriptions define these groups of substances by specific core structure to limit the effect that possible alterations to these substances may have in regards to remaining subject to the prohibitions in ch. 893, F.S. Each class description includes examples of compounds that are covered by the class description. The criminal penalties relating to the possession, sale, manufacture, and delivery of controlled substances will apply to these synthetic substances.

The bill amends s. 893.0356(3), F.S., to revise the definition of the term "substantially similar" to relate to the chemical structure of the substance. A substance is substantially similar to a controlled substance if it has a single difference in the structural formula that substitutes one atom or functional group for another, including, but not limited to, one halogen for another halogen, one hydrogen for a halogen or vice versa, an alkyl group added or deleted as a side chain to or from a molecule, or an alkyl group added or deleted from a side chain of a molecule.

The bill also amends s. 893.0356(4)(j), F.S., to provide additional factors for determining whether a substance is an analog of a controlled substance, including comparisons to the accepted methods of marketing, distribution, and sales of the substance.

The bill also amends ss. 893.03, 893.033, and 893.135, F.S., to revise the chemical terms for existing substances by correcting errors in existing substance listings and deleting double entries. According to the Office of the Attorney General, the chemical terms in these provisions were reviewed by chemists and the revisions in this bill are based on their recommendations.

Prohibitions

The bill amends s. 893.13(1)(h), F.S., to create a noncriminal penalty for selling, manufacturing, or delivering, or possessing with intent to sell, manufacture, or deliver, any unlawful controlled substance in, on, or near an assisted living facility. The noncriminal penalty is a $500 fine and 100 hours of community service and is in addition to any other lawful penalty for the offense. This noncriminal penalty refers to the remaining controlled substances listed in s. 893.03, F.S., that are not specifically listed in the paragraph.

The bill amends s. 893.13(4)(c), F.S., to create a felony of the third degree for a person 18 years of age or older who delivers any illegal controlled substance to a person younger than 18 years of age, who uses or hires a person younger than 18 years of age in the sale or delivery of such substance, or who uses a person younger than 18 years of age to assist in avoiding detection for specified violations. This criminal violation refers to the remaining controlled substances listed in s. 893.03, F.S., that are not specifically listed in the subsection.

The bill amends s. 921.0022, F.S., to revise the offense severity ranking chart that must be used with the Criminal Punishment Code worksheet to compute a sentence score for each felony offender whose offense was committed on or after October 1, 1998. The bill revises the chart to include a violation of s. 893.13(4)(c), F.S., as a "Level 3" violation.[25]

The bill amends s. 893.13(6)(d), F.S., to create a felony of the second degree for actual or constructive possession of a Schedule V controlled substance unless the controlled substance was lawfully obtained from a practitioner[26] or pursuant to a valid prescription or order of a practitioner while acting in the course of his or her professional practice.

The bill amends s. 895.02(1)(a)9., F.S., to specify that crimes in s. 499.0051, F.S., relating to misbranded drugs are included in the definition of "racketeering activity."

Nuisance Violations

The bill amends s. 893.0138(2), F.S., to provide that a place or premises that has been used on two or more occasions within a six-month period as a site of a violation of ch. 499, F.S., may be declared a public nuisance and abated.

Drug Paraphernalia

The bill amends s. 893.145, F.S., to include misbranded drugs in the listing of paraphernalia that is deemed to be contraband and subject to civil forfeiture.

Effective Date

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

[25] The offense severity ranking chart in s. 921.0022, F.S., has 10 offense levels, ranked from least severe, which are level 1 offenses, to most severe, which are level 10 offenses, and each felony offense is assigned to a level according to the severity of the offense.

[26] Section 893.02(21), F.S., defines the term "practitioner" to mean "a physician licensed pursuant to chapter 458, a dentist licensed pursuant to chapter 466, a veterinarian licensed pursuant to chapter 474, an osteopathic physician licensed pursuant to chapter 459, a naturopath licensed pursuant to chapter 462, a certified optometrist licensed pursuant to chapter 463, or a podiatric physician licensed pursuant to chapter 461, provided such practitioner holds a valid federal controlled substance registry number."

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The Office of the Attorney General and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement anticipate that, under PCS/CS/SB 1528, the FDLE's Crime Laboratory workload may experience an initial increase in costs associated with the testing of confiscated substances. However, the agencies further anticipate that the increase will be short-lived as the market for the substances is disrupted.

The Criminal Justice Impact Conference determined that CS/SB 1528, as filed, will have a positive indeterminate impact on the prison population, meaning that it will increase the prison population by an amount that cannot be quantified. PCS/CS/SB 1528 likely would have a similar impact.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 893.02, 893.03, 893.033, 893.0356, 893.13, 893.135, 893.138, 893.145, 895.02, and 921.0022.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsections (2), (11), and (16) of section 893.02, Florida Statutes, are amended, new subsections (17) and (20) are added to that section, present subsections (17), (18), (19), (20), (21), (22), and (23) of that section are redesignated as subsections (18), (19), (21), (22), (23), (24), and (25), respectively, and subsections (4) and (14) are republished, to read:

893.02 Definitions.—The following words and phrases as used in this chapter shall have the following meanings, unless the context otherwise requires:

(2) "Cannabinoid receptor agonist" means a chemical compound or substance that, according to scientific or medical research, study, testing, or analysis demonstrates the presence of binding activity at one or more of the CB1 or CB2 cell membrane receptors located within the human body ~~"Analog" or "chemical analog" means a structural derivative of a parent compound that is a controlled substance~~.

(4) "Controlled substance" means any substance named or described in Schedules I-V of s. 893.03. Laws controlling the manufacture, distribution, preparation, dispensing, or administration of such substances are drug abuse laws.

(11) "Homologue" means a chemical compound in a series in which each compound differs by one or more repeating hydrocarbon functional group units at any single point within the compound ~~alkyl functional groups on an alkyl side chain~~.

(14) "Listed chemical" means any precursor chemical or essential chemical named or described in s. 893.033.

(16) "Mixture" means any physical combination of two or more substances, including, but not limited to, a blend, an aggregation, a suspension, an emulsion, a solution, or a dosage unit, whether or not such combination can be separated into its components by physical means, whether mechanical or thermal.

(17) "Nitrogen-heterocyclic analog" means an analog of a controlled substance which has a single carbon atom in a cyclic structure of a compound replaced by a nitrogen atom.

(20) "Positional isomer" means any substance that possesses the same molecular formula and core structure and that has the same functional group or substituent as those found in the respective controlled substance, attached at any positions on the core structure, but in such manner that no new chemical functionalities are created and no existing chemical functionalities are destroyed relative to the respective controlled substance. Rearrangements of alkyl moieties within or between functional groups or substituents, or divisions or combinations of alkyl moieties, which do not create new chemical functionalities or destroy existing chemical functionalities, are allowed and include resulting compounds that are positional isomers. As used in this definition, the term "core structure" means the parent molecule that is the common basis for the class that includes, but is not limited to, tryptamine, phenethylamine, or ergoline. Examples of rearrangements resulting in creation or destruction of chemical functionalities, and therefore resulting in compounds that are not positional isomers, include, but are not limited to, ethoxy to alpha-hydroxyethyl, hydroxy and methyl to methoxy, or the repositioning of a phenolic or alcoholic hydroxy group to create a hydroxyamine. Examples of rearrangements resulting in compounds that would be positional isomers, include, but are not limited to, tert-butyl to sec-butyl, methoxy and ethyl to isopropoxy, N,N-diethyl to N-methyl-N-propyl, or alpha-methylamino to N-methylamino.

Section 2. Section 893.03, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

893.03 Standards and schedules.—The substances enumerated in this section are controlled by this chapter. The controlled substances listed or to be listed in Schedules I, II, III, IV, and V are included by whatever official, common, usual, chemical, ~~or~~ trade name, or class designated. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to include within any of the schedules contained in this section any excluded drugs listed within the purview of 21 C.F.R. s. 1308.22, styled "Excluded Substances"; 21 C.F.R. s. 1308.24, styled "Exempt Chemical Preparations"; 21 C.F.R. s. 1308.32, styled "Exempted Prescription Products"; or 21 C.F.R. s. 1308.34, styled "Exempt Anabolic Steroid Products."

(1) SCHEDULE I.—A substance in Schedule I has a high potential for abuse and has no currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States and in its use under medical supervision does not meet accepted safety standards. The following substances are controlled in Schedule I:

(a) Unless specifically excepted or unless listed in another schedule, any of the following substances, including their isomers, esters, ethers, salts, and salts of isomers, esters, and ethers, whenever the existence of such isomers, esters, ethers, and salts is possible within the specific chemical designation:

1. Acetyl-alpha-methylfentanyl.

2. Acetylmethadol.

3. Allylprodine.

4. Alphacetylmethadol (except levo-alphacetylmethadol, also known as levo-alpha-acetylmethadol, levomethadyl acetate, or LAAM).

5. Alphamethadol.

6. Alpha-methylfentanyl (N-[1-(alpha-methyl-betaphenyl) ethyl-4-piperidyl] propionanilide; 1-(1-methyl-2-phenylethyl)-4-(N-propanilido) piperidine).

9. Benzethidine.
10. Benzylfentanyl.
11. Betacetylmethadol.

893.0356 Control of new substances; findings of fact; "controlled substance analog" defined.—

(2)(a) As used in this section, "controlled substance analog" means a substance which, due to its chemical structure and potential for abuse, meets the following criteria:

1. Is substantially similar to that of a controlled substance listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of s. 893.03; and

2. Has a stimulant, depressant, or hallucinogenic effect on the central nervous system or is represented or intended to have a stimulant, depressant, or hallucinogenic effect on the central nervous system substantially similar to or greater than that of a controlled substance listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of s. 893.03.

(3) As used in this section, the term "substantially similar," as the term applies to the chemical structure of a substance, means that the chemical structure of the substance compared to the structure of a controlled substance has a single difference in the structural formula that substitutes one atom or functional group for another, including, but not limited to, one halogen for another halogen, one hydrogen for a halogen or vice versa, an alkyl group added or deleted as a side chain to or from a molecule, or an alkyl group added or deleted from a side chain of a molecule. ~~"potential for abuse" in this section means that a substance has properties as a central nervous~~

~~system stimulant or depressant or a hallucinogen that create a substantial likelihood of its being:~~

~~(a) Used in amounts that create a hazard to the user's health or the safety of the community;~~

~~(b) Diverted from legal channels and distributed through illegal channels; or~~

~~(c) Taken on the user's own initiative rather than on the basis of professional medical advice.~~

~~Proof of potential for abuse can be based upon a showing that these activities are already taking place, or upon a showing that the nature and properties of the substance make it reasonable to assume that there is a substantial likelihood that such activities will take place, in other than isolated or occasional instances.~~

(4) The following factors shall be relevant to a finding that a substance is a controlled substance analog within the purview of this section:

(j) Comparisons to the accepted methods of marketing, distribution, and sales of the substance and that which the substance is purported to be, including, but not limited to:

1. The difference in price at which the substance is sold and the price at which the substance it is purported to be or advertised as is normally sold;

2. The difference in how the substance is imported, manufactured, or distributed compared to how the substance it is purported to be or advertised as is normally imported, manufactured, or distributed;

3. The difference in the appearance of the substance in overall finished dosage form compared to the substance it is purported to be or advertised as normally appears in overall finished dosage form; and

4. The difference in how the substance is labeled for sale, packaged for sale, or the method of sale, including, but not limited to, the placement of the substance in an area commonly viewable to the public for purchase consideration compared to how the substance it is purported to be or advertised as is normally labeled for sale, packaged for sale, or sold to the public.

(5) A controlled substance analog shall, for purposes of drug abuse prevention and control, be treated as the highest scheduled ~~a~~ controlled substance of which it is a controlled substance analog to in ~~Schedule I of~~ s. 893.03.

Section 5. Subsections (1), (4), and (6), and paragraph (d) of subsection (8) of section 893.13, Florida Statutes, are amended, and subsection (2), paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (5), and paragraph (a) of subsection (7) of that section are republished, to read:

2890 made by this act to section 893.03, Florida Statutes, in 2891 references thereto, paragraphs (a) and (g) of subsection (30) of 2892 section 39.01, Florida Statutes, are reenacted to read:
2893 39.01 Definitions.—When used in this chapter, unless the 2894 context otherwise requires:
2895 (30) "Harm" to a child's health or welfare can occur when 2896 any person:
2897 (a) Inflicts or allows to be inflicted upon the child

2898 physical, mental, or emotional injury. In determining whether 2899 harm has occurred, the following factors must be considered in 2900 evaluating any physical, mental, or emotional injury to a child:
2901 the age of the child; any prior history of injuries to the 2902 child; the location of the injury on the body of the child; the 2903 multiplicity of the injury; and the type of trauma inflicted.
2904 Such injury includes, but is not limited to:
2905 1. Willful acts that produce the following specific 2906 injuries:
2907 a. Sprains, dislocations, or cartilage damage.
2908 b. Bone or skull fractures.
2909 c. Brain or spinal cord damage.
2910 d. Intracranial hemorrhage or injury to other internal 2911 organs.
2912 e. Asphyxiation, suffocation, or drowning.
2913 f. Injury resulting from the use of a deadly weapon.
2914 g. Burns or scalding.
2915 h. Cuts, lacerations, punctures, or bites.
2916 i. Permanent or temporary disfigurement.
2917 j. Permanent or temporary loss or impairment of a body part 2918 or function.
2920 As used in this subparagraph, the term "willful" refers to the 2921 intent to perform an action, not to the intent to achieve a 2922 result or to cause an injury.
2923 2. Purposely giving a child poison, alcohol, drugs, or 2924 other substances that substantially affect the child's behavior, 2925 motor coordination, or judgment or that result in sickness or 2926 internal injury. For the purposes of this subparagraph, the term

"drugs" means prescription drugs not prescribed for the child or not administered as prescribed, and controlled substances as outlined in Schedule I or Schedule II of s. 893.03.

3. Leaving a child without adult supervision or arrangement appropriate for the child's age or mental or physical condition, so that the child is unable to care for the child's own needs or another's basic needs or is unable to exercise good judgment in responding to any kind of physical or emotional crisis.

4. Inappropriate or excessively harsh disciplinary action that is likely to result in physical injury, mental injury as defined in this section, or emotional injury. The significance of any injury must be evaluated in light of the following factors: the age of the child; any prior history of injuries to the child; the location of the injury on the body of the child; the multiplicity of the injury; and the type of trauma inflicted. Corporal discipline may be considered excessive or abusive when it results in any of the following or other similar injuries:

a. Sprains, dislocations, or cartilage damage.

b. Bone or skull fractures.

c. Brain or spinal cord damage.

d. Intracranial hemorrhage or injury to other internal organs.

e. Asphyxiation, suffocation, or drowning.

f. Injury resulting from the use of a deadly weapon.

g. Burns or scalding.

h. Cuts, lacerations, punctures, or bites.

i. Permanent or temporary disfigurement.

j. Permanent or temporary loss or impairment of a body part or function.

k. Significant bruises or welts.

(g) Exposes a child to a controlled substance or alcohol. Exposure to a controlled substance or alcohol is established by:

1. A test, administered at birth, which indicated that the child's blood, urine, or meconium contained any amount of alcohol or a controlled substance or metabolites of such substances, the presence of which was not the result of medical treatment administered to the mother or the newborn infant; or

2. Evidence of extensive, abusive, and chronic use of a controlled substance or alcohol by a parent when the child is demonstrably adversely affected by such usage.

As used in this paragraph, the term "controlled substance" means prescription drugs not prescribed for the parent or not administered as prescribed and controlled substances as outlined in Schedule I or Schedule II of s. 893.03.

(5) The court shall place all offenders convicted of violating this section on monthly reporting probation and shall require completion of a substance abuse course conducted by a DUI program licensed by the department under s. 322.292, which must include a psychosocial evaluation of the offender. If the DUI program refers the offender to an authorized substance abuse treatment provider for substance abuse treatment, in addition to any sentence or fine imposed under this section, completion of all such education, evaluation, and treatment is a condition of reporting probation. The offender shall assume reasonable costs for such education, evaluation, and treatment. The referral to treatment resulting from a psychosocial evaluation shall not be waived without a supporting independent psychosocial evaluation conducted by an authorized substance abuse treatment provider appointed by the court, which shall have access to the DUI program's psychosocial evaluation before the independent psychosocial evaluation is conducted. The court shall review the results and recommendations of both evaluations before determining the request for waiver. The offender shall bear the full cost of this procedure. The term "substance abuse" means the abuse of alcohol or any substance named or described in Schedules I through V of s. 893.03. If an offender referred to treatment under this subsection fails to report for or complete such treatment or fails to complete the DUI program substance abuse education course and evaluation, the DUI program shall notify the court and the department of the failure. Upon receipt of the notice, the department shall cancel the offender's driving privilege, notwithstanding the terms of the court order or any suspension or revocation of the driving privilege. The department may temporarily reinstate the driving privilege on a restricted basis upon verification from the DUI program that the offender is currently participating in treatment and the DUI education course and evaluation requirement has been completed. If the DUI program notifies the department of the second failure to complete treatment, the department shall reinstate the driving privilege only after notice of completion of treatment from the DUI program. The organization that conducts the substance abuse education and evaluation may not provide required substance abuse treatment unless a waiver has been granted to that organization by the department. A waiver may be granted only if the department determines, in accordance with its rules, that the service provider that conducts the substance abuse education and evaluation is the most appropriate service provider and is licensed under chapter 397 or is exempt from such licensure. A statistical referral report shall be submitted quarterly to the department by each organization authorized to provide services under this section.

The driver shall assume the reasonable costs for the substance abuse course. As part of the substance abuse course, the program shall conduct a substance abuse evaluation of the driver, and notify the parents or legal guardians of drivers under the age of 19 years of the results of the evaluation. The term "substance abuse" means the abuse of alcohol or any substance named or described in Schedules I through V of s. 893.03. If a driver fails to complete the substance abuse education course and evaluation, the driver license shall not be reinstated by the department.

The offender shall assume reasonable costs for such education, evaluation, and treatment, with completion of all such education, evaluation, and treatment being a condition of reporting probation. Treatment resulting from a psychosocial evaluation may not be waived without a supporting psychosocial evaluation conducted by an agency appointed by the court and with access to the original evaluation. The offender shall bear the cost of this procedure. The term "substance abuse" means the abuse of alcohol or any substance named or described in Schedules I-V of s. 893.03.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1528 amends the schedule of controlled substances in section 893.03, Florida Statutes, to describe, by core structure, the following synthetic controlled substances: synthetic cannabinoids; substituted cathinones; substituted phenethylamines; N-benzyl Phenethylamine compounds; substituted tryptamines; and substituted phenylcyclohexylamines. According to the Office of the Attorney General, the class descriptions define these groups of substances by specific core structure to limit the effect that possible alterations to these substances may have to remove a synthetic or designer drug from the list of controlled substances. Each class description includes examples of compounds that are covered by the class description. The criminal penalties relating to the possession, sale, manufacture, and delivery of controlled substances will apply to these synthetic substances.

The bill:

- Revises the definition of the term "substantially similar" for the purpose of determining whether a substance is an analog to a controlled substance. The bill defines the term according to the chemical structure of the substance instead of according to its physiological effect. The bill also provides additional factors for determining whether a substance is an analog of a controlled substance to include comparisons to the accepted methods of marketing, distribution, and sales of the substance.
- Revises the chemical terms for existing controlled substances by correcting errors in existing substance listings and deleting double entries. According to the Office of the Attorney General, the chemical terms in these provisions were reviewed by chemists and the revisions in this bill are based on their recommendations.

- Creates a noncriminal penalty for selling, manufacturing, or delivering, or possessing with intent to sell, manufacture, or deliver, certain unlawful controlled substance in, on, or near an assisted living facility. The noncriminal penalty is a $500 fine and 100 hours of community service an addition to any other penalty.
- Creates a third degree felony for a person 18 years of age or older who delivers certain illegal controlled substances to a person under the age of 18, who uses or hires a person under the age of 18 in the sale or delivery of such substance, or who uses a person under the age of 18 to assist in avoiding detection for specified violations.
- Creates a second degree felony for actual or constructive possession of a Schedule V controlled substance unless the controlled substance was lawfully obtained from a medical practitioner or pursuant to a valid prescription or order of a medical practitioner while acting in the course of his or her professional practice.
- Provides that a place or premises that has been used on two or more occasions within a six-month period as a site of a violation of ch. 499, F.S., may be declared a public nuisance and abated.
- Includes misbranded drugs in the listing of paraphernalia that are deemed to be contraband and subject to civil forfeiture.

The Criminal Justice Impact Conference has determined that the bill will have a positive indeterminate impact on the prison population, meaning that it will increase the prison population by an amount that cannot be quantified. The Department of Legal Affairs expects that any impact of the bill on criminal justice costs, such as increased costs to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) due to requirements to analyze the newly-scheduled drugs, would be short-lived because the market for the drugs will dry up shortly after they become illegal.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Chapter 893, F.S., sets forth the Florida Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act. This chapter classifies controlled substances into five schedules in order to regulate the manufacture, distribution, preparation, and dispensing of the substances. The schedules are as follows:

- A Schedule I substance has a high potential for abuse[1] and no currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States and its use under medical supervision does not meet accepted safety standards. Examples: heroin and methaqualone.[2]
- A Schedule II substance has a high potential for abuse, a currently accepted but severely restricted medical use in treatment in the United States, and abuse may lead to severe psychological or physical dependence. Examples: cocaine and morphine.[3]

[1] "Potential for abuse" means that a substance has properties of a central nervous system stimulant or depressant or an hallucinogen that create a substantial likelihood of its being: (a) Used in amounts that create a hazard to the user's health or the safety of the community; (b) Diverted from legal channels and distributed through illegal channels; or (c) Taken on the user's own initiative rather than on the basis of professional medical advice. s. 893.02(20), F.S.
[2] Section 893.03(1), F.S.
[3] Section 893.03(2), F.S.

- A Schedule III substance has a potential for abuse less than the substances contained in Schedules I and II, a currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States, and abuse may lead to moderate or low physical dependence or high psychological dependence or, in the case of anabolic steroids, may lead to physical damage. Examples: lysergic acid; ketamine; and some anabolic steroids.[4]
- A Schedule IV substance has a low potential for abuse relative to the substances in Schedule III, a currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States, and abuse may lead to limited physical or psychological dependence relative to the substances in Schedule III. Examples: alprazolam; diazepam; and phenobarbital.[5]
- A Schedule V substance has a low potential for abuse relative to the substances in Schedule IV, a currently accepted medical use in treatment in the United States, and abuse may lead to limited physical or psychological dependence relative to the substances in Schedule IV. Examples: low dosage levels of codeine; certain stimulants; and certain narcotic compounds.[6]

A substance is a "controlled substance" if it is listed in any of the five schedules in s. 893.03, F.S. The particular scheduling determines penalties, i.e. which penalties may be imposed for unlawful possession, sale, manufacture, etc., and the conditions under which the substance can be legally possessed, prescribed, sold, etc.

The sale, manufacture, and delivery of a controlled substance listed in s. 893.03(1)(c), F.S., (Schedule I(c)), as well as the possession with intent to sell, manufacture, or deliver such substance, is considered a third degree felony.[7] However, if any of these acts are committed within 1,000 feet of certain designated places, the felony degree and penalties are greater.[8] For example, selling a controlled substance listed in Schedule I(c) within 1,000 feet of the real property of a child care facility or secondary school is a second degree felony.[9] Other prohibited activities include bringing a controlled substance listed in Schedule I(c) into the state and the purchase or possession with intent to purchase such a controlled substance, which are all third degree felonies.[10]

Synthetic Drugs

Synthetic drugs mimic the effects of controlled substances. Synthetic drugs are also known as "new or novel psychoactive substances," or "designer drugs." Synthetic drugs are used to circumvent existing prohibitions on controlled substances. According to the Office of the

A third degree felony is punishable by up to five years in state prison, a fine of up to $5,000, or both. ss. 775.082 and 775.083, F.S.

[9] Section 893.13(1)(c)2., F.S. A second degree felony is punishable by up to 15 years in state prison, a fine of up to $10,000, or both.

Attorney General, the increasing number of synthetic drug variants available and the higher toxicity of the new variants poses an increasing public health threat.

Concerned about the use of synthetic drugs in Broward County, the State Attorney took the issue to the grand jury. On December 30, 2015, the 17th Judicial Circuit State Attorney's Office released a grand jury report. The report examined the extent of the problem of synthetic drugs in Broward County and made several recommendations, including a recommendation for legislation to address the problem.

The grand jury report attributed more than 60 recent deaths to "Flakka."[11] According to information provided by the Attorney General's Office and the grand jury report, synthetic drugs are typically manufactured in pharmaceutical factories in China or Southeast Asia and are often sold through the internet.

Controlled substance "analogs" are new substances that are not controlled under ch. 893, F.S., but which have a "potential for abuse" and are manufactured, distributed, possessed, and used as substitutes for controlled substances.[12] Controlled substance analogs are treated, for purposes of drug abuse prevention and control, as a controlled substance in Schedule I of s. 893.03, F.S. Section 893.0356(3), F.S., defines the term "potential for abuse" in relation to properties as a central nervous system stimulant, depressant, or hallucinogen. The definition also requires that the substance create a substantial likelihood of being:

(a) Used in amounts that create a hazard to the user's health or the safety of the community;
(b) Diverted from legal channels and distributed through illegal channels; or
(c) Taken on the user's own initiative rather than on the basis of professional medical advice.

Proof of potential for abuse can be based upon a showing that these activities are already taking place, or upon a showing that the nature and properties of the substance make it reasonable to assume that there is a substantial likelihood that such activities will take place, in other than isolated or occasional instances.

Section 893.0356(3), F.S., provides that the potential for abuse is proven by showing "that these activities are already taking place, or upon a showing that the nature and properties of the substance make it reasonable to assume that there is a substantial likelihood that such activities will take place, in other than isolated or occasional instances."

When a new synthetic drug is initially introduced, it may not necessarily be controlled or illegal under state or federal law. The Florida Attorney General may adopt emergency rules to add the new synthetic drug to the controlled substance schedule.[13] The Legislature then can amend the controlled substances schedule to incorporate the new synthetic drug. Since 2011, 136 chemical compounds commonly used to produce synthetic drugs have been added to the schedule of controlled substances, including alpha-PVP, which is the main ingredient in the synthetic form of cathinone drug popularly known as "Flakka."[14]

According to the Office of the Attorney General, the core synthetic drugs of concern in Florida fall into the following categories or classifications:[15]

- Synthetic cannabinoids, such as "K2" or "Spice", which produce a high similar to cannabis;
- Substituted cathinones, commonly sold as "bath salts," which are central nervous system stimulants with stimulant properties related to cathinone, the psychoactive substance found in the shrub Catha edulis (khat) and produce pharmacological effects similar to methamphetamine, amphetamines, cocaine, Khat, LSD, and MDMA (Substituted Cathinones are central nervous system stimulants with no medicinal application and a tendency for dependence);
- Substituted phenethylamines, which mimic the effects of stimulants and/or hallucinogens, including amphetamine, methamphetamine, and MDMA;
- N-benzyl Phenethylamines, which are derivatives of the phenethylamine molecule by substitution that significantly increases the potency of the molecule, and are a potent hallucinogen and alternative to LSD;
- Substituted tryptamines, which are hallucinogenic substances; and
- Substituted phenylcyclohexylamines, which are comparable to PCP intoxication and results in behavioral/psychological effects from neurologic and physiologic abnormalities, stupor, or light or deep coma.

There are other potential classifications of drugs,[16] but according to the Office of the Attorney General, these classifications describe the top designer drugs of concern in Florida.

Approaches to Synthetic Drug Enforcement[17]

Three states, the District of Columbia, and the federal government schedule synthetic cannabinoids using the "neurochemical approach." This approach schedules the substances according to the effect they have on the brain rather than through either the listing of specific substances or through the use of class definitions.[18] The advantage of scheduling cannabinoids using the neurochemical approach is that states may not need to continually update the schedules of substances each time a new drug is created or introduced. However, there is uncertainty in determining the proof required to obtain a conviction under this method.[19]

Some states use an "analogue approach" to identify synthetic drugs. Under an analogue approach, prosecutors must prove that a substance is both substantially similar structurally to a Schedule I or II controlled substance and that it has either substantially similar effect on the body or that the person represents or intends the substance to have a substantially similar effect on the body as the controlled substance.[20] The advantage of using the analogue approach is that it covers every substance so long as it is structurally similar to a Schedule I or II substance. However, the analogue approach does not provide clear guidance on what constitutes "substantially similar."[21]

Many states use these class definitions to schedule synthetic drugs or specify each novel psychoactive substance individually in the controlled substance schedule by its specific chemical structure or trade/street name. The vast majority of states in the United States use one of these two scheduling approaches or both in combination. The advantage of scheduling substances by class definition is that a prosecutor only needs to prove that the substance falls within a particular class. A prosecutor does not necessary have to prove its structural similarity to another substance or its effect on the body. Most states also include specific substances as examples of the particular class in the definition. The principal disadvantage to scheduling synthetic drugs through a classification approach is that if a substance does not fall within a particular named class and is not otherwise specifically listed, the substance is "legal" until it is particularly scheduled, although the state or federal analogue statute could fill the void until the substance is scheduled.[22]

Among the recommendations in its report, the Broward County Grand Jury recommended that the Legislature adopt a classification system to include synthetic drugs within the existing provisions of s. 893.13, F.S.[23]

Chapter 499 - Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act

The Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act in ch. 499, F.S., consists of three parts that cover drugs, devices, cosmetics, and household products; ether; and medical gas. Section 499.003(18), F.S., defines the term drug to mean an article that is:

> Pharmacopoeia of the United States, or any supplement to any of those publications;
> (b) Intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, therapy, or prevention of disease in humans or other animals;
> (c) Intended to affect the structure or any function of the body of humans or other animals; or
> (d) Intended for use as a component of any article specified in paragraph (a), paragraph (b), or paragraph (c), and includes active pharmaceutical ingredients, but does not include devices or their nondrug components, parts, or accessories. For purposes of this paragraph, an "active pharmaceutical ingredient" includes any substance or mixture of substances intended, represented, or labeled for use in drug manufacturing that furnishes or is intended to furnish, in a finished dosage form, any pharmacological activity or other direct effect in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, therapy, or prevention of disease in humans or other animals, or to affect the structure or any function of the body of humans or other animals.

Section 499.005, F.S., specifies prohibited acts, including the manufacture, repackaging, sale, delivery, or holding or offering for sale of any drug, device, or cosmetic that is adulterated or misbranded or has otherwise been rendered unfit for human or animal use.

Section 499.0051, F.S., provides criminal acts and criminal penalties under ch. 499, F.S., including the knowing sale or transfer of a prescription drug to an unauthorized person in a wholesale transaction (second degree felony); the knowing sale or delivery, or possession with intent to sell, contraband prescription drugs (second degree felony); and knowing trafficking in contraband prescription drugs (first degree felony).[24]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Controlled Substances

The bill amends s. 893.02, F.S., to define and revise definitions for chemical terms used in ch. 893, F.S., including "cannabinoid receptor agonist," "homologue," "nitrogen-heterocyclic analog," and "positional isomer."

The bill amends s. 893.03, F.S., to describe, by core structure, the following synthetic controlled substances:

- Synthetic cannabinoids;
- Substituted cathinones;
- Substituted phenethylamines;
- N-benzyl phenethylamine compounds;
- Substituted tryptamines; and

[24] Section 499.003(11), F.S., defines a contraband prescription drug as follows: "any adulterated drug, as defined in s. 499.006, any counterfeit drug, as defined in this section, and also means any prescription drug for which a pedigree paper does not exist, or for which the pedigree paper in existence has been forged, counterfeited, falsely created, or contains any altered, false, or misrepresented matter."

- Substituted phenylcyclohexylamines.

According to the Office of the Attorney General, the class descriptions define these groups of substances by specific core structure to limit the effect that possible alterations to these substances may have in regards to remaining subject to the prohibitions in ch. 893, F.S. Each class description includes examples of compounds that are covered by the class description. The criminal penalties relating to the possession, sale, manufacture, and delivery of controlled substances will apply to these synthetic substances.

The bill amends s. 893.0356(3), F.S., to revise the definition of the term "substantially similar" to relate to the chemical structure of the substance. A substance is substantially similar to a controlled substance if it has a single difference in the structural formula that substitutes one atom or functional group for another, including, but not limited to, one halogen for another halogen, one hydrogen for a halogen or vice versa, an alkyl group added or deleted as a side chain to or from a molecule, or an alkyl group added or deleted from a side chain of a molecule.

The bill also amends s. 893.0356(4)(j), F.S., to provide additional factors for determining whether a substance is an analog of a controlled substance, including comparisons to the accepted methods of marketing, distribution, and sales of the substance.

The bill also amends ss. 893.03, 893.033, and 893.135, F.S., to revise the chemical terms for existing substances by correcting errors in existing substance listings and deleting double entries. According to the Office of the Attorney General, the chemical terms in these provisions were reviewed by chemists and the revisions in this bill are based on their recommendations.

Prohibitions

The bill amends s. 893.13(1)(h), F.S., to create a noncriminal penalty for selling, manufacturing, or delivering, or possessing with intent to sell, manufacture, or deliver, any unlawful controlled substance in, on, or near an assisted living facility. The noncriminal penalty is a $500 fine and 100 hours of community service and is in addition to any other lawful penalty for the offense. This noncriminal penalty refers to the remaining controlled substances listed in s. 893.03, F.S., that are not specifically listed in the paragraph.

The bill amends s. 893.13(4)(c), F.S., to create a felony of the third degree for a person 18 years of age or older who delivers any illegal controlled substance to a person younger than 18 years of age, who uses or hires a person younger than 18 years of age in the sale or delivery of such substance, or who uses a person younger than 18 years of age to assist in avoiding detection for specified violations. This criminal violation refers to the remaining controlled substances listed in s. 893.03, F.S., that are not specifically listed in the subsection.

The bill amends s. 921.0022, F.S., to revise the offense severity ranking chart that must be used with the Criminal Punishment Code worksheet to compute a sentence score for each felony offender whose offense was committed on or after October 1, 1998. The bill revises the chart to include a violation of s. 893.13(4)(c), F.S., as a "Level 3" violation.[25]

The bill amends s. 893.13(6)(d), F.S., to create a felony of the second degree for actual or constructive possession of a Schedule V controlled substance unless the controlled substance was lawfully obtained from a practitioner[26] or pursuant to a valid prescription or order of a practitioner while acting in the course of his or her professional practice.

Nuisance Violations

The bill amends s. 893.0138(2), F.S., to provide that a place or premises that has been used on two or more occasions within a six-month period as a site of a violation of ch. 499, F.S., may be declared a public nuisance and abated.

Drug Paraphernalia

The bill amends s. 893.145, F.S., to include misbranded drugs in the listing of paraphernalia that is deemed to be contraband and subject to civil forfeiture.

Effective Date

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

[25] The offense severity ranking chart in s. 921.0022, F.S., has 10 offense levels, ranked from least severe, which are level 1 offenses, to most severe, which are level 10 offenses, and each felony offense is assigned to a level according to the severity of the offense.

[26] Section 893.02(21), F.S., defines the term "practitioner" to mean "a physician licensed pursuant to chapter 458, a dentist licensed pursuant to chapter 466, a veterinarian licensed pursuant to chapter 474, an osteopathic physician licensed pursuant to chapter 459, a naturopath licensed pursuant to chapter 462, a certified optometrist licensed pursuant to chapter 463, or a podiatric physician licensed pursuant to chapter 461, provided such practitioner holds a valid federal controlled substance registry number."

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The Office of the Attorney General and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement anticipate that, under CS/SB 1528, the FDLE's Crime Laboratory workload may experience an initial increase in costs associated with the testing of confiscated substances. However, the agencies further anticipate that the increase will be short-lived as the market for the substances is disrupted.

The Criminal Justice Impact Conference determined that CS/SB 1528 will have a positive indeterminate impact on the prison population, meaning that it will increase the prison population by an amount that cannot be quantified.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsections (2), (11), and (16) of section 893.02, Florida Statutes, are amended, new subsections (17) and (20) are added to that section, present subsections (17), (18), (19), (20), (21), (22), and (23) of that section are redesignated as subsections (18), (19), (21), (22), (23), (24), and (25), respectively, and subsections (4) and (14) are republished, to read:

893.02 Definitions.—The following words and phrases as used in this chapter shall have the following meanings, unless the context otherwise requires:

(2) "Cannabinoid receptor agonist" means a chemical compound or substance that, according to scientific or medical research, study, testing, or analysis demonstrates the presence of binding activity at one or more of the CB1 or CB2 cell membrane receptors located within the human body ~~"Analog" or~~

~~"chemical analog" means a structural derivative of a parent compound that is a controlled substance~~.

(4) "Controlled substance" means any substance named or described in Schedules I-V of s. 893.03. Laws controlling the manufacture, distribution, preparation, dispensing, or administration of such substances are drug abuse laws.

(11) "Homologue" means a chemical compound in a series in which each compound differs by one or more repeating hydrocarbon functional group units at any single point within the compound ~~alkyl functional groups on an alkyl side chain~~.

(14) "Listed chemical" means any precursor chemical or essential chemical named or described in s. 893.033.

(16) "Mixture" means any physical combination of two or more substances, including, but not limited to, a blend, an aggregation, a suspension, an emulsion, a solution, or a dosage unit, whether or not such combination can be separated into its components by physical means, whether mechanical or thermal.

(17) "Nitrogen-heterocyclic analog" means an analog of a controlled substance which has a single carbon atom in a cyclic structure of a compound replaced by a nitrogen atom.

(20) "Positional isomer" means any substance that possesses the same molecular formula and core structure and that has the same functional group or substituent as those found in the respective controlled substance, attached at any positions on the core structure, but in such manner that no new chemical functionalities are created and no existing chemical functionalities are destroyed relative to the respective controlled substance. Rearrangements of alkyl moieties within or between functional groups or substituents, or divisions or combinations of alkyl moieties, which do not create new chemical functionalities or destroy existing chemical functionalities, are allowed and include resulting compounds that are positional isomers. As used in this definition, the term "core structure" means the parent molecule that is the common basis for the class that includes, but is not limited to, tryptamine, phenethylamine, or ergoline. Examples of rearrangements resulting in creation or destruction of chemical functionalities, and therefore resulting in compounds that are not positional isomers, include, but are not limited to, ethoxy to alpha-hydroxyethyl, hydroxy and methyl to methoxy, or the repositioning of a phenolic or alcoholic hydroxy group to create a hydroxyamine. Examples of rearrangements resulting in compounds that would be positional isomers, include, but are not limited to, tert-butyl to sec-butyl, methoxy and ethyl to isopropoxy, N,N-diethyl to N-methyl-N-propyl, or alpha-methylamino to N-methylamino.

Section 2. Section 893.03, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

893.03 Standards and schedules.—The substances enumerated in this section are controlled by this chapter. The controlled substances listed or to be listed in Schedules I, II, III, IV, and V are included by whatever official, common, usual, chemical, ~~or~~ trade name, or class designated. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to include within any of the schedules contained in this section any excluded drugs listed within the purview of 21 C.F.R. s. 1308.22, styled "Excluded Substances"; 21 C.F.R. s. 1308.24, styled "Exempt Chemical Preparations"; 21 C.F.R. s. 1308.32, styled "Exempted

Section 4. Subsections (3) and (5) of section 893.0356, Florida Statutes, are amended, paragraph (j) is added to subsection (4) of that section, and paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of that section is republished, to read:

893.0356 Control of new substances; findings of fact; "controlled substance analog" defined.—

(2)(a) As used in this section, "controlled substance analog" means a substance which, due to its chemical structure and potential for abuse, meets the following criteria:

1. Is substantially similar to that of a controlled substance listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of s. 893.03; and

2. Has a stimulant, depressant, or hallucinogenic effect on the central nervous system or is represented or intended to have a stimulant, depressant, or hallucinogenic effect on the central nervous system substantially similar to or greater than that of a controlled substance listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of s. 893.03.

(3) As used in this section, the term "substantially similar," as the term applies to the chemical structure of a substance, means that the chemical structure of the substance compared to the structure of a controlled substance has a single difference in the structural formula that substitutes one atom or functional group for another, including, but not limited to, one halogen for another halogen, one hydrogen for a halogen or vice versa, an alkyl group added or deleted as a side chain to or from a molecule, or an alkyl group added or deleted from a side chain of a molecule. ~~"potential for abuse" in this section means that a substance has properties as a central nervous system stimulant or depressant or a hallucinogen that create a substantial likelihood of its being:~~

~~(a) Used in amounts that create a hazard to the user's health or the safety of the community;~~

~~(b) Diverted from legal channels and distributed through illegal channels; or~~

~~(c) Taken on the user's own initiative rather than on the basis of professional medical advice.~~

~~Proof of potential for abuse can be based upon a showing that these activities are already taking place, or upon a showing that the nature and properties of the substance make it reasonable to assume that there is a substantial likelihood that such activities will take place, in other than isolated or occasional instances.~~

(4) The following factors shall be relevant to a finding that a substance is a controlled substance analog within the purview of this section:

(j) Comparisons to the accepted methods of marketing, distribution, and sales of the substance and that which the substance is purported to be, including, but not limited to:

1. The difference in price at which the substance is sold and the price at which the substance it is purported to be or advertised as is normally sold;

2. The difference in how the substance is imported, manufactured, or distributed compared to how the substance it is purported to be or advertised as is normally imported, manufactured, or distributed;

3. The difference in the appearance of the substance in overall finished dosage form compared to the substance it is purported to be or advertised as normally appears in overall finished dosage form; and

4. The difference in how the substance is labeled for sale, packaged for sale, or the method of sale, including, but not limited to, the placement of the substance in an area commonly viewable to the public for purchase consideration compared to how the substance it is purported to be or advertised as is normally labeled for sale, packaged for sale, or sold to the public.

39.01 Definitions.—When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(30) "Harm" to a child's health or welfare can occur when any person:

(a) Inflicts or allows to be inflicted upon the child physical, mental, or emotional injury. In determining whether harm has occurred, the following factors must be considered in evaluating any physical, mental, or emotional injury to a child: the age of the child; any prior history of injuries to the child; the location of the injury on the body of the child; the multiplicity of the injury; and the type of trauma inflicted. Such injury includes, but is not limited to:

1. Willful acts that produce the following specific injuries:

a. Sprains, dislocations, or cartilage damage.

b. Bone or skull fractures.

c. Brain or spinal cord damage.

d. Intracranial hemorrhage or injury to other internal organs.

e. Asphyxiation, suffocation, or drowning.

f. Injury resulting from the use of a deadly weapon.

g. Burns or scalding.

h. Cuts, lacerations, punctures, or bites.

i. Permanent or temporary disfigurement.

j. Permanent or temporary loss or impairment of a body part or function.

As used in this subparagraph, the term "willful" refers to the intent to perform an action, not to the intent to achieve a result or to cause an injury.

2. Purposely giving a child poison, alcohol, drugs, or other substances that substantially affect the child's behavior, motor coordination, or judgment or that result in sickness or internal injury. For the purposes of this subparagraph, the term "drugs" means prescription drugs not prescribed for the child or not administered as prescribed, and controlled substances as outlined in Schedule I or Schedule II of s. 893.03.

3. Leaving a child without adult supervision or arrangement appropriate for the child's age or mental or physical condition, so that the child is unable to care for the child's own needs or another's basic needs or is unable to exercise good judgment in responding to any kind of physical or emotional crisis.

4. Inappropriate or excessively harsh disciplinary action that is likely to result in physical injury, mental injury as defined in this section, or emotional injury. The significance of any injury must be evaluated in light of the following factors: the age of the child; any prior history of injuries to the child; the location of the injury on the body of the child; the multiplicity of the injury; and the type of trauma inflicted. Corporal discipline may be considered excessive or abusive when it results in any of the following or other similar injuries:

a. Sprains, dislocations, or cartilage damage.

b. Bone or skull fractures.

c. Brain or spinal cord damage.

d. Intracranial hemorrhage or injury to other internal organs.

e. Asphyxiation, suffocation, or drowning.

f. Injury resulting from the use of a deadly weapon.

g. Burns or scalding.

h. Cuts, lacerations, punctures, or bites.

i. Permanent or temporary disfigurement.

j. Permanent or temporary loss or impairment of a body part or function.

k. Significant bruises or welts.

(g) Exposes a child to a controlled substance or alcohol. Exposure to a controlled substance or alcohol is established by:

1. A test, administered at birth, which indicated that the child's blood, urine, or meconium contained any amount of alcohol or a controlled substance or metabolites of such substances, the presence of which was not the result of medical treatment administered to the mother or the newborn infant; or

2. Evidence of extensive, abusive, and chronic use of a controlled substance or alcohol by a parent when the child is demonstrably adversely affected by such usage.

As used in this paragraph, the term "controlled substance" means prescription drugs not prescribed for the parent or not administered as prescribed and controlled substances as outlined in Schedule I or Schedule II of s. 893.03.

(5) The court shall place all offenders convicted of violating this section on monthly reporting probation and shall require completion of a substance abuse course conducted by a DUI program licensed by the department under s. 322.292, which must include a psychosocial evaluation of the offender. If the DUI program refers the offender to an authorized substance abuse treatment provider for substance abuse treatment, in addition to any sentence or fine imposed under this section, completion of all such education, evaluation, and treatment is a condition of reporting probation. The offender shall assume reasonable costs for such education, evaluation, and treatment. The referral to treatment resulting from a psychosocial evaluation shall not be waived without a supporting independent psychosocial evaluation conducted by an authorized substance abuse treatment provider appointed by the court, which shall have access to the DUI program's psychosocial evaluation before the independent psychosocial evaluation is conducted. The court shall review the results and recommendations of both evaluations before determining the request for waiver. The offender shall bear the full cost of this procedure. The term "substance abuse" means the abuse of alcohol or any substance named or described in Schedules I through V of s. 893.03. If an offender referred to treatment under this subsection fails to report for or complete such treatment or fails to complete the DUI program substance abuse education course and evaluation, the DUI program shall notify the court and the department of the failure. Upon receipt of the notice, the department shall cancel the offender's driving privilege, notwithstanding the terms of the court order or any suspension or revocation of the driving privilege. The department may temporarily reinstate the driving privilege on a restricted basis upon verification from the DUI program that the offender is currently participating in treatment and the DUI education course and evaluation requirement has been completed. If the DUI program notifies the department of the second failure to complete treatment, the department shall reinstate the driving privilege only after notice of completion of treatment from the DUI program. The organization that conducts the substance abuse education and evaluation may not provide required substance abuse treatment unless a waiver has been granted to that organization by the department. A waiver may be granted only if the department determines, in accordance with its rules, that the service provider that conducts the substance abuse education and evaluation is the most appropriate service provider and is licensed under chapter 397 or is exempt from such licensure. A statistical referral report shall be submitted quarterly to the department by each organization authorized to provide services under this section.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/SB 1534 makes numerous changes to laws related to housing assistance, including housing for individuals and families who are homeless. The bill:

- Amends the State Apartment Incentive Loan (SAIL) Program to:
  - Change how funds are made available to better reflect projected needs and demand for affordable housing for the specified tenant groups and counties based on population; and
  - Require rent controls on rental units financed through the SAIL program based on applicable income limitations established by the Florida Housing Finance Corporation (FHFC).
- Amends provisions relating to the State Office on Homelessness and the Challenge Grant Program that provides grants to lead agencies of homeless assistance continuums of care, including:
  - Requiring that expenditures of leveraged funds or resources are permitted only for eligible activities committed on one project which have not been used as leverage or match for another project;
  - Removing the requirement that award levels for Challenge Grants be based upon the total population within the continuum of care catchment area and reflect the differing degrees of homelessness in the catchment planning areas; and
  - Requiring any funding distributed to the lead agencies be based on overall performance and achievement of specified objectives, including the number of persons or households that are no longer homeless, the rate of recidivism to homelessness, and the number of persons who obtain gainful employment.

- Expresses legislative intent to encourage homeless continuums of care to adopt the Rapid ReHousing approach to preventing homelessness for individuals and families who do not require the intense level of support provided in the permanent supportive housing model and requires Rapid ReHousing to be added to the components of a continuum of care plan.
- Amends the State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) Programs to:
  - Provide exceptions to the restriction on counties and eligible municipalities related to expenditures of State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) Program distributions for ongoing rent subsidies;
  - Provide that up to 25 percent of the SHIP Program funds made available in a county or municipality may be reserved for rental housing;
  - Clarify monitoring requirements when SHIP program funds are used for rental housing developments;
  - Revise the composition of local Affordable Housing Advisory Committees; and
  - Extend the time period for the FHFC to review local housing assistance plans from 30 to 45 days.
- Authorizes the FHFC to:
  - Forgive indebtedness for SAIL loans for small properties serving homeless persons in certain underserved counties or rural areas and make loans exceeding 25 percent of the cost for those projects; and
  - Ban developers for misrepresentations or fraud related to a program application from participating in FHFC's programs for any appropriate time period, including a permanent ban, rather than for only up to two years.
- Expresses legislative intent to encourage the state entity that administers funds from the National Housing Trust Fund to propose an allocation plan that includes strategies to reduce homelessness and the risk of homelessness in Florida.
- Makes several changes to laws relating to housing authorities, which include:
  - Prohibiting housing authorities, regardless of when they were created, from applying to the federal government to acquire through the exercise of the power of eminent domain any projects, units, or vouchers of another established housing authority;
  - Exempting housing authorities from the provisions of s. 215.425, F.S., which addresses extra compensation, bonuses and severance pay; and
  - Removing the requirement that housing authorities must submit a copy of the biennial financial reports submitted to the federal government to the governing body and the Auditor General.

The bill has an indeterminate, but expected insignificant, fiscal impact on state and local governments. While programs that provide services to homeless persons may receive additional resources, the private sector impact of the bill is indeterminate.

The bill has an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Housing for Individuals with Lower Incomes

In 1986[1] the Legislature found that:

- Decent, safe, and sanitary housing for individuals of very low income, low income, and moderate income is a critical need in the state;
- New and rehabilitated housing must be provided at a cost affordable to such persons in order to alleviate this critical need;
- Special programs are needed to stimulate private enterprise to build and rehabilitate housing in order to help eradicate slum conditions and provide housing for very-low-income persons, low-income persons, and moderate-income persons as a matter of public purpose; and
- Public-private partnerships are an essential means of bringing together resources to provide affordable housing.[2]

As a result of these findings, the Legislature determined that legislation was urgently needed to alleviate crucial problems related to housing shortages for individuals with very low,[3] low[4] and moderate[5] incomes. In 1986, part VI of ch. 420, F.S., was titled as the "Florida Affordable Care Act of 1986"[6] and programs and funding mechanisms were created over the years to help remedy low-income housing issues.

State Apartment Incentive Loan (SAIL) Program

The SAIL program was created by the Legislature in 1988[7] for the purpose of providing first, second, or other subordinated mortgage loans or loan guarantees to sponsors, including for-profit, nonprofit, and public entities, to provide housing affordable to very-low-income persons.[8]

The SAIL program provides low-interest loans on a competitive basis to affordable housing developers each year. This funding often serves to bridge the gap between the primary financing and the total cost of the development. SAIL program funds are available to individuals, public

[3] "Very-low-income persons" means one or more persons or a family, the total annual adjusted gross household income of which does not exceed 50 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the state, or 50 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the metropolitan statistical area (MSA) or within the county in which the person or family resides, whichever is greater.
[4] "Low-income persons" means one or more persons or a family, the total annual adjusted gross household income of which does not exceed 80 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the state, or 80 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the metropolitan statistical area (MSA) or within the county in which the person or family resides, whichever is greater.
[5] "Moderate-income persons" means one or more persons or a family, the total annual adjusted gross household income of which is less than 120 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the state, or 120 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the metropolitan statistical area (MSA) or within the county in which the household is located, whichever is greater.

entities, and not-for-profit or for-profit organizations that propose the construction or substantial rehabilitation of multifamily units affordable to very-low-income individuals and families.[9]

The Florida Housing Finance Corporation (FHFC) has the authority to make SAIL loans that exceed 25 percent of the project cost under the following circumstances:

- When the developer is a not-for-profit organization or a public entity that is able to secure grants, donations of land, or contributions from other sources;
- When the project sets aside at least 80 percent of the total units over the life of the loan for farmworkers, commercial fishing workers, homeless persons, or persons with special needs; and
- When the project serves extremely-low-income persons.[10]

The FHFC has the authority to forgive indebtedness for a share of a SAIL loan attributable to the units in a project reserved for extremely-low-income persons.[11]

SAIL program funds must be distributed in a manner that meets the need and demand for very-low-income housing throughout the state. The need and demand must be determined by using the most recent statewide low-income rental housing market studies available. The SAIL program funding is reserved for use within statutorily defined counties (large, medium, and small)[12] and for properties providing units for specified tenant groups. The University of Florida's Shimberg Center for Housing Studies prepares the rental housing market study for the Florida Finance Housing Corporation (FHFC).[13] Below is a comparison of the actual need based on the 2013 Rental Market Study compared to the current statutory reservation requirements for the specified tenant groups.

Specified Tenant Group	Actual Percentage of Total Households in Need	Current Statutory Reservation Requirements[14]
Commercial fishing workers and farmworker households	4 percent	Not less than 10 percent
Persons who are homeless	10 percent	Not less than 5 percent
Persons with special needs	13 percent	Not more than 10 percent
Elder persons	20 percent	Not less than 10 percent
Families	53 percent	Not less than 10 percent

During the first 6 months of loan or loan guarantee availability, SAIL program funds are required to be reserved for use by sponsors who provide the required housing set-aside for specified tenant groups. Under current law, the statutory requirement to reserve funds for the commercial fishing worker and farmworker household tenant group significantly exceeds the actual housing need for this group. The current statutory "cap" on the reservation for the persons with special needs (no more than 10 percent) does not allow the program to address the actual housing need for this group (13 percent) during the first 6 months of loan or loan guarantee availability.

Funding for the SAIL Program is subject to an annual appropriation.[15]

State Office on Homelessness

In 2001, the Florida Legislature created the State Office on Homelessness (office) within the Department of Children and Families (DCF) to serve as a central point of contact within state government on homelessness. The office is responsible for coordinating resources and programs across all levels of government, and with private providers that serve the homeless. It also manages targeted state grants to support the implementation of local homeless service continuum of care plans.[16]

Council on Homelessness

The inter-agency Council on Homelessness (council) was also created in 2001. The 17-member council is charged with developing recommendations on how to reduce homelessness statewide and advising the State Office on Homelessness.[17]

Local Coalitions for the Homeless

The DCF is required to establish local coalitions to plan, network, coordinate, and monitor the delivery of services to the homeless.[18] Groups and organizations provided the opportunity to participate in such coalitions include:

- Organizations and agencies providing mental health and substance abuse services;
- County health departments and community health centers;
- Organizations and agencies providing food, shelter, or other services targeted to the homeless;
- Local law enforcement agencies;
- Local workforce development boards;
- County and municipal governments;
- Local public housing authorities;
- Local school districts;
- Local organizations and agencies serving specific subgroups of the homeless population such as veterans, victims of domestic violence, persons with HIV/AIDS, and runaway youth; and
- Local community-based care alliances.[19]

Continuum of Care

A local coalition serves as the lead agency for the local homeless assistance continuum of care (CoC).[20] A local CoC is a framework for a comprehensive and seamless array of emergency, transitional, and permanent housing, and services to address the various needs of the homeless and those at risk of homelessness.[21] The purpose of a CoC is to help communities or regions envision, plan, and implement comprehensive and long-term solutions.[22]

The DCF interacts with the state's 28 CoCs through the office, which serves as the state's central point of contact on homelessness. The office has designated local entities to serve as lead agencies for local planning efforts to create homeless assistance CoC systems. The office has made these designations in consultation with the local homeless coalitions and the Florida offices of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The CoC planning effort is an ongoing process that addresses all subpopulations of the homeless. The development of a local CoC plan is a prerequisite to applying for federal housing grants through HUD. The plan also makes the community eligible to compete for the state's Challenge Grants and Homeless Housing Assistance Grants.[23]

Challenge Grants

The office is authorized to accept and administer moneys appropriated to it to provide Challenge Grants annually to designated lead agencies of homeless assistance CoCs.[24] The office may award grants in an amount of up to $500,000 per lead agency.[25] A lead agency may spend a maximum of 8 percent of its funding on administrative costs. To qualify for the grant, a lead agency must develop and implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care plan for its designated area.[26]

Pursuant to s. 420.624, F.S., the DCF provides funding for local homeless assistance CoC, which is a framework for providing an array of emergency, transitional, and permanent housing, and services to address the various needs of homeless persons and persons at risk of becoming homeless. There is no statutorily identified funding source for this program.[27]

Pursuant to s. 420.606(3), F.S., the Department of Economic Opportunity (DEO) provides training and technical assistance to staff of state and local government entities, community-based organizations, and persons forming such organizations for the purpose of developing new housing and rehabilitating existing housing that is affordable for very-low-income persons, low-income persons, and moderate-income persons. There is no statutorily identified funding source for this program.[28]

Homeless Housing Assistance Grants

The office is authorized to accept and administer moneys appropriated to it to provide Homeless Housing Assistance Grants annually to lead agencies of local homeless assistance CoC. The grants may not exceed $750,000 per project and an applicant may spend a maximum of 5 percent of its funding on administrative costs. The grant funds must be used to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate transitional or permanent housing units for homeless persons. The funds available for the eligible grant activities may be appropriated, received from donations, gifts, or from any public or private source.[29]

Rapid ReHousing

Rapid ReHousing is a model for providing housing for individuals and families who are homeless. The model places a priority on moving a family or individual experiencing homelessness into permanent housing as quickly as possible, hopefully within 30 days of a client becoming homeless and entering a program. While originally focused primarily on people experiencing homelessness due to short-term financial crises, programs across the country have begun to assist individuals and families who are traditionally perceived as more difficult to serve. This includes people with limited or no income, survivors of domestic violence, and those with substance abuse issues. Although the duration of financial assistance may vary, many programs find that, on average, 4 to 6 months of financial assistance is sufficient to stably re-house a household.[30]

Since federal funding for rapid re-housing first became available in 2008, a number of communities, including Palm Beach County, Florida, that prioritized rapid re-housing as a response to homelessness have seen decreases in the amount of time that households spend homeless, less recidivism, and improved permanent housing outcomes relative to other available interventions.[31]

There are three core components of rapid re-housing: housing identification, rent and move-in assistance (financial), and rapid re-housing case management and services. While all three components are present and available in effective rapid re-housing programs, there are instances where the components are provided by different entities or agencies, or where a household does not utilize all three.[32] A key element of rapid re-housing is the "Housing First" philosophy, which offers housing without preconditions such as employment, income, lack of a criminal background, or sobriety. If issues such as these need to be addressed, the household can address them most effectively once they are in housing.[33]

State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) Program

The SHIP Program was created in 1992[34] to provide funds to local governments as an incentive to create partnerships that produce and preserve affordable homeownership and multifamily housing. The program was designed to serve very-low, low, and moderate-income families and is administered by the FHFC. A dedicated funding source for this program was established by the passage of the 1992 William E. Sadowski Affordable Housing Act. The SHIP Program is funded through a statutory distribution of documentary stamp tax revenues, which are deposited into the Local Government Housing Trust Fund. Subject to specific appropriation, funds are distributed quarterly to local governments participating in the program under an established formula.[35] A county or eligible municipality seeking funds from the SHIP Program must adopt an ordinance that:

- Creates a local housing assistance trust fund;
- Adopts a local housing assistance plan to be implemented through a local housing partnership;
- Designates responsibility for administering the local housing assistance plan; and
- Creates an affordable housing advisory committee.[36]

National Housing Trust Fund

In July 2008, the federal Housing and Economic Recovery Act was signed into law,[37] establishing a National Housing Trust Fund (NHTF or trust fund), among other housing-related provisions. Although the National Housing Trust Fund has been established, a permanent funding stream has not been secured.[38]

The goal of the trust fund is to provide ongoing, permanent, dedicated, and sufficient sources of revenue to build, rehabilitate, and preserve 1.5 million units of housing for the lowest-income families, including people experiencing homelessness, over the next 10 years. The NHTF particularly aims to increase and preserve the supply of rental housing that is affordable for extremely[39] and very-low-income households, and increase homeownership opportunities for those households. To prevent funding for the NHTF from competing with existing HUD programs, this revenue is expected to be generated separately from the current federal appropriations process.[40]

The FHFC may adjust this amount annually by rule to provide that in lower-income counties, extremely-low income may exceed 30 percent of area median income and that in higher-income counties, extremely-low income may be less than 30 percent of area median income.

Housing Authorities and Eminent Domain

A housing authority has the right to acquire by the exercise of the power of eminent domain any real property which it may deem necessary for its purposes.[41] Property already devoted to a public use may be acquired in like manner, so long as no real property belonging to the city, the county, the state, or any political subdivision is acquired without its consent.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 420.503(36), F.S., the definition of "service provider" for purposes of Part V of ch. 420, F.S., relating to the Florida Housing Finance Corporation (FHFC), to update the bid threshold for contracts executed between the FHFC and service providers to conform to the purchasing categories established in s. 287.017, F.S.

Section 2 amends s. 420.507, F.S., relating to the powers of the FHFC, to give the FHFC the authority to forgive indebtedness for SAIL loans provided to create permanent rental housing units for homeless persons or persons who are residing in time-limited transitional housing or institutions as a result of a lack of permanent, affordable housing. Such developments must be:

- In counties or rural areas of counties that do not have existing units set aside for homeless persons;
- Supported by a local homeless assistance continuum of care (CoC) developed under s. 420.624, F.S.;
- Be developed by nonprofit applicants;
- Be small properties as defined by FHFC rules; and
- Be a project in the local housing assistance CoC plan recognized by the State Office on Homelessness.

The bill also authorizes the FHFC to make loans exceeding 25 percent of the cost for the projects described above.

The bill amends s. 420.057(35), F.S., to ban developers who have made material misrepresentations or engaged in fraudulent actions related to a program application from participating in FHFC's programs for any appropriate time period, including a permanent ban, rather than only up to two years.

Section 3 amends s. 420.5087, F.S., relating to the State Apartment Incentive Loan (SAIL) Program, to change how funds are made available through a competitive solicitation process to better reflect projected needs and demand for affordable housing for the specified tenant groups and counties throughout the state based on population. At least 10 percent of SAIL program funds, as calculated on an annual basis, must be made available to each of the three categories of counties based on population: 825,000 or more persons; more than 100,000 but less than 825,000 persons; and 100,000 or less persons. Funds made available within each notice of fund availability may not be less than:

- 10 percent each for families, homeless persons, persons with special needs, and elderly persons; and
- 5 percent for commercial fishing workers and farmworkers.

[41] Section 421.12, F.S. An authority may exercise the power of eminent domain pursuant to ch. 73 and ch. 74, F.S.

The bill requires that at least 10 percent of SAIL Program funds available must be reserved for four of the five tenant groups. At least 5 percent of available SAIL Program funds must be reserved for the commercial fishing workers and farmworkers tenant group.

Section 420.5087, F.S., is further amended to require rent controls on rental units financed through the SAIL program. Rent controls must be set at the income set-aside levels committed to by the project's sponsor at the applicable income limitations established by the Florida Housing Finance Corporation (FHFC) for federal low-income housing tax credits.

The bill also deletes s. 420.5087(10), F.S., which expires July 1, 2016.

Section 4 amends s. 420.511, F.S., relating to the FHFC's strategic business plan, long-range program plan, annual report, and audited financial statements, to remove language that requires the FHFC's business plan and annual report to recognize different fiscal periods. This language is no longer necessary as it is well established that the FHFC's fiscal year is the calendar year.

Section 5 amends s. 420.622, F.S., relating to the State Office on Homelessness (office) and the Council on Homelessness (council), to:

- Require the office, in coordination with other entities, to produce an inventory of state homeless programs instead of the currently required program and financial plan.
- Require the office to establish a task force to make recommendations related to the implementation of a statewide Homeless Management Information System (HMIS). The task force must make its recommendations to the council by December 31, 2016.
- Require, rather than allow, the office and the council to accept and administer moneys appropriated for annual Challenge Grants.
- Remove the requirement that award levels for Challenge Grants be based upon the total population within the continuum of care catchment area and reflect the differing degrees of homelessness in the catchment planning areas.
- Provide requirements related to expenditures of leveraged funds or resources. These funds may only be used for eligible activities committed on one project which have not been used as leverage or match for any other project.
- Require the office, in conjunction with the council, to establish performance measures and specific objectives to evaluate the performance and outcomes of lead agencies that receive grant funds.
- Require any funding distributed to the lead agencies be based on overall performance and achievement of specified objectives, including the number of persons or households that are no longer homeless, the rate of recidivism to homelessness, and the number of persons who obtain gainful employment.

Section 6 amends s. 420.624, F.S., relating to the local homeless assistance continuum of care (CoC), to require the office and the council to include a methodology for assessing performance and outcomes and data reporting in the CoC plan that communities seeking to implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care are encouraged to develop. The bill also requires Rapid ReHousing to be added to the components of a continuum of care plan.

Section 7 creates s. 420.6265, F.S., relating to Rapid ReHousing, to express legislative intent to encourage homeless continuums of care to adopt the Rapid ReHousing approach to preventing homelessness for individuals and families who do not require the intense level of support provided in the permanent supportive housing model.[42] The bill also statutorily prescribes the Rapid Rehousing Methodology.

Section 8 amends s. 420.9071(26), F.S., relating to the definition of "rent subsidies," to allow initial assistance for tenants, such as grants or loans for security and utility deposits.

Section 9 amends s. 420.9072, F.S., relating to the State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) Program, to provide that a county or an eligible municipality may not spend its portion of the local housing distribution to provide ongoing rent subsidies with the exception of:

- Security and utility deposit assistance.
- Eviction prevention not to exceed rent for 6 months.
- A rent subsidy program for very-low-income households that meet specified qualifications.

The section is further amended to extend the time period for the FHFC to review local housing assistance plans from 30 to 45 days after receipt.

Section 10 amends s. 420.9075, F.S., relating to local housing assistance plans and partnerships, to:

- Add "Lead agencies of local homeless assistance continuums of care" as part of the partnership process to participate in the SHIP Program.
- Clarify monitoring requirements when local governments use SHIP program funds to assist rental housing developments.
- Add language to encourage eligible municipalities to develop a strategy for providing program funds to reduce homelessness.
- Provide that up to 25 percent of the SHIP Program funds made available in a county or municipality may be reserved for rental housing.
- Require a county or eligible municipality to include a description of efforts to reduce homelessness in the annual report that must be submitted to the FHFC.

Section 11 amends s. 420.9076, F.S., relating to the adoption of affordable housing incentive strategies and committees, to revise the composition of local Affordable Housing Advisory Committees. Currently, the committees must have 11 members with each member representing a specific stakeholder group (for example, one citizen actively engaged in affordable housing residential construction, one citizen actively engaged as a for-profit affordable housing provider, etc.). The bill reduces the number of committee members to eight and requires the committee to consist of one representative from at least six of the 11 specified stakeholder categories. The [42] Permanent supportive housing is for individuals who need long-term housing assistance with supportive services in order to stay housed. Individuals and families living in supportive housing often have long histories of homelessness and face persistent obstacles to maintaining housing, such as a serious mental illness, a substance use disorder, or a chronic medical problem. Many supportive housing tenants face more than one of these serious conditions. See United States Interagency Council on Homelessness, Permanent Supportive Housing, available at https://www.usich.gov/solutions/housing/permanent-supportive-housing (last visited Jan. 21, 2016).

section is further amended to delete language no longer needed to address issues with committee representation and to correct cross references.

Section 12 creates s. 420.9089, F.S., relating to the NHTF, to express legislative intent to encourage the state entity that administers funds from the NHTF to propose an allocation plan that includes strategies to reduce homelessness and the risk of homelessness in the state. The Florida Housing Finance Corporation (FHFC) is the state entity designated by the Governor to administer funds made available to the state from the National Housing Trust Fund (NHTF). The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) will officially release the NHTF grant amount for each state in April 2016.[43] Each state must adopt an Allocation Plan that has been developed through a public process involving citizen participation, and may include strategies to address homelessness.[44] The funding must be used primarily to assist households with specified incomes and 90 percent of the funds must be used to preserve and increase the supply of rental housing.[45]

Section 13 amends s. 421.04, F.S., to prohibit housing authorities, regardless of when they were created, from applying to the federal government to acquire through the power of eminent domain any projects, units, or vouchers of another established housing authority, irrespective of each housing authority's area of operation.

Section 14 amends s. 421.05, F.S., to provide that housing authorities are exempt from the provisions of s. 215.425, F.S. Section 215.425, F.S., addresses extra compensation, bonuses, and severance pay.

Section 15 amends s. 421.091, F.S., to exempt housing authorities from reporting requirements of s. 218.32, F.S., which requires each local government to submit an annual financial report for the previous fiscal year to the Department of Financial Services. Housing authorities would still be responsible for submitting a biennial financial accounting and audit, made by a certified public accountant, to the federal government, but would not be required to provide that report to the governing body of the housing authority or the Auditor General.

Section 16 provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

(50) To reserve a minimum of 5 percent of its annual appropriation from the State Housing Trust Fund for housing projects designed and constructed to serve persons who have a disabling condition, as defined in s. 420.0004, with first priority given to projects serving persons who have a developmental disability, as defined in s. 393.063. Funding shall be provided as forgivable loans through a competitive solicitation. Private nonprofit organizations whose primary mission includes serving persons with a disabling condition shall be eligible for these funds. In evaluating proposals for these funds, the corporation shall consider the extent to which funds from local and other sources will be used by the applicant to leverage the funds provided under this section; employment opportunities and supports that will be available to residents of the proposed housing; a plan for residents to effectively access community-based services, resources, and amenities; and partnerships with other supportive services agencies.

Section 3. Subsections (1) and (3), paragraphs (b), (f), and (k) of subsection (6), and subsection (10) of section 420.5087, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.5087 State Apartment Incentive Loan Program.—There is hereby created the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program for the purpose of providing first, second, or other subordinated mortgage loans or loan guarantees to sponsors, including for-profit, nonprofit, and public entities, to provide housing affordable to very-low-income persons.

(1) Program funds shall be made available through a competitive solicitation process ~~distributed over successive 3-year periods~~ in a manner that meets the need and demand for very-low-income housing throughout the state. That need and demand must be determined by using the most recent statewide low-income rental housing market studies conducted every 3 years ~~available at the beginning of each 3-year period~~. However, at least 10 percent of the program funds, as calculated on an annual basis, ~~distributed during a 3-year period~~ must be made available ~~allocated~~ to each of the following categories of counties~~,~~ as determined by using the population statistics published in the most recent edition of the Florida Statistical Abstract:

(a) Counties that have a population of 825,000 or more.

(b) Counties that have a population of more than 100,000 but less than 825,000.

(c) Counties that have a population of 100,000 or less.

Any increase in funding required to reach the 10-percent minimum shall be taken from the county category that has the largest portion of the funding ~~allocation~~. The corporation shall adopt rules that ~~which~~ establish an equitable process for distributing any portion of the 10 percent of program funds made available ~~allocated~~ to the county categories specified in this subsection which remains unallocated ~~at the end of a 3-year period~~. Counties that have a population of 100,000 or less shall be given preference under these rules.

(3) During the first 6 months of loan or loan guarantee availability, program funds shall be made available ~~reserved~~ for use by sponsors who provide the housing set-aside required in subsection (2) for the tenant groups designated in this subsection. The ~~reservation of~~ funds made available to each of these groups shall be determined using the most recent statewide very-low-income rental housing market study available at the time of publication of each notice of fund availability required by paragraph (6)(b). The ~~reservation of~~ funds made available within each notice of fund availability to the tenant groups in paragraphs (b)-(e) ~~(a), (b), and (c)~~ may not be less than 10 percent of the funds available at that time. Any increase in funding required to reach the required ~~10-percent~~ minimum must be taken from the tenant group that would receive ~~has~~ the largest percentage of available funds in accordance with the study ~~reservation~~. The ~~reservation of~~ funds made available within each notice of fund availability to the tenant group in paragraph (a) ~~(c)~~ may not be less than 5 percent of the funds available at that time. ~~The reservation of funds within each notice of fund availability to the tenant group in paragraph (d) may not be more than 10 percent of the funds available at that time.~~ The tenant groups are:

(a) Commercial fishing workers and farmworkers;

(b) Families;

(c) Persons who are homeless;

(d) Persons with special needs; and

(e) Elderly persons. Ten percent of the amount made available ~~reserved~~ for the elderly shall ~~be reserved to~~ provide loans to sponsors of housing for the elderly for the purpose of making building preservation, health, or sanitation repairs or improvements which are required by federal, state, or local regulation or code, or lifesafety or security-related repairs or improvements to such housing. Such a loan may not exceed $750,000 per housing community for the elderly. In order to receive the loan, the sponsor of the housing community must make a commitment to match at least 5 percent of the loan amount to pay the cost of such repair or improvement. The corporation shall establish the rate of interest on the loan, which may not exceed 3 percent, and the term of the loan, which may not exceed 15 years; however, if the lien of the corporation’s encumbrance is subordinate to the lien of another mortgagee, then the term may be made coterminous with the longest term of the superior lien. The term of the loan shall be based on a credit analysis of the applicant. The corporation may forgive indebtedness for a share of the loan attributable to the units in a project reserved for extremely-low-income elderly by nonprofit organizations, as defined in s. 420.0004(5), where the project has provided affordable housing to the elderly for 15 years or more. The corporation shall establish, by rule, the procedure and criteria for receiving, evaluating, and competitively ranking all applications for loans under this paragraph. A loan application must include evidence of the first mortgagee's having reviewed and approved the sponsor's intent to apply for a loan. A nonprofit organization or sponsor may not use the proceeds of the loan to pay for administrative costs, routine maintenance, or new construction.

(6) On all state apartment incentive loans, except loans made to housing communities for the elderly to provide for lifesafety, building preservation, health, sanitation, or security-related repairs or improvements, the following provisions shall apply:

(b) The corporation shall publish a notice of fund availability in a publication of general circulation throughout the state. Such notice shall be published at least 60 days prior to the application deadline and shall provide notice of the availability ~~temporary reservations~~ of funds established in subsection (3).

(f) The review committee established by corporation rule pursuant to this subsection shall make recommendations to the board of directors of the corporation regarding program participation under the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program. The corporation board shall make the final decisions regarding which applicants shall become program participants based on the scores received in the competitive process, further review of applications, and the recommendations of the review committee. The corporation board shall approve or reject applications for loans and shall determine the tentative loan amount available to each applicant selected for participation in the program. The actual loan amount shall be determined pursuant to rule adopted pursuant to s. 420.507(22)(i) ~~s. 420.507(22)(h)~~.

(k) Rent controls shall ~~not be allowed on any project except as required in conjunction with the issuance of tax-exempt bonds or federal low-income housing tax credits and except when the sponsor has committed to set aside units for extremely-low-income persons, in which case rents shall~~ be set ~~restricted~~ at the income set-aside levels committed to by the sponsor at the ~~level~~ applicable income limitations established by the corporation for federal low-income tax credits.

~~(10)(a) Notwithstanding subsection (3), for the 2015-2016 fiscal year, the reservation of funds for the tenant groups within each notice of fund availability shall be:~~

~~1. Not less than 10 percent of the funds available at that time for the following tenant groups:~~

~~a. Families;~~

~~b. Persons who are homeless;~~

~~c. Persons with special needs; and~~

~~d. Elderly persons.~~

~~2. Not less than 5 percent of the funds available at that~~

855434

~~time for the commercial fishing workers and farmworkers tenant group.~~

~~(b) This subsection expires July 1, 2016.~~

Section 4. Subsection (5) of section 420.511, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

420.511 Strategic business plan; long-range program plan; annual report; audited financial statements.—

(5) The Auditor General shall conduct an operational audit of the accounts and records of the corporation and provide a written report on the audit to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by December 1, 2016. ~~Both the corporation's business plan and annual report must recognize the different fiscal periods under which the corporation, the state, the Federal Government, and local governments operate.~~

Section 5. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (3) and subsections (4), (5), and (6) of section 420.622, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.622 State Office on Homelessness; Council on Homelessness.—

(3) The State Office on Homelessness, pursuant to the policies set by the council and subject to the availability of funding, shall:

(a) Coordinate among state, local, and private agencies and providers to produce a statewide consolidated inventory ~~program and financial plan~~ for the state's entire system of homeless programs which incorporates regionally developed plans. Such programs include, but are not limited to:

1. Programs authorized under the Stewart B. McKinney

Homeless Assistance Act of 1987, 42 U.S.C. ss. 11371 et seq., and carried out under funds awarded to this state; and

2. Programs, components thereof, or activities that assist persons who are homeless or at risk for homelessness.

(b) Collect, maintain, and make available information concerning persons who are homeless or at risk for homelessness, including demographics information, current services and resources available, the cost and availability of services and programs, and the met and unmet needs of this population. All entities that receive state funding must provide access to all data they maintain in summary form, with no individual identifying information, to assist the council in providing this information. The State Office on Homelessness, in consultation with the designated lead agencies for a local homeless continuum of care and with the Council on Homelessness, shall develop the system and process of data collection from all lead agencies for the purpose of analyzing trends and assessing impacts in the statewide homeless delivery system. Any statewide homelessness survey and database system must comply with all state and federal statutory and regulatory confidentiality requirements ~~The council shall explore the potential of creating a statewide Management Information System (MIS), encouraging the future participation of any bodies that are receiving awards or grants from the state, if such a system were adopted, enacted, and accepted by the state~~.

(4) The State Office on Homelessness, with the concurrence of the Council on Homelessness, shall ~~may~~ accept and administer moneys appropriated to it to provide annual "Challenge Grants" to lead agencies of homeless assistance continuums of care designated by the State Office on Homelessness pursuant to s. 420.624. The department shall establish varying levels of grant awards up to $500,000 per lead agency. ~~Award levels shall be based upon the total population within the continuum of care catchment area and reflect the differing degrees of homelessness in the catchment planning areas.~~ The department, in consultation with the Council on Homelessness, shall specify a grant award level in the notice of the solicitation of grant applications.

(a) To qualify for the grant, a lead agency must develop and implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care plan for its designated catchment area. The continuum of care plan must implement a coordinated assessment or central intake system to screen, assess, and refer persons seeking assistance to the appropriate service provider. The lead agency shall also document the commitment of local government or ~~and~~ private organizations to provide matching funds or in-kind support in an amount equal to the grant requested. Expenditures of leveraged funds or resources, including third-party cash or in-kind contributions, are authorized only for eligible activities committed on one project which have not been used as leverage or match for any other project or program and must be certified through a written commitment.

(b) Preference must be given to those lead agencies that have demonstrated the ability of their continuum of care to provide quality services to homeless persons and the ability to leverage federal homeless-assistance funding under the Stewart B. McKinney Act with local government funding or ~~and~~ private funding for the provision of services to homeless persons.

(c) Preference must be given to lead agencies in catchment areas with the greatest need for the provision of housing and services to the homeless, relative to the population of the catchment area.

(d) The grant may be used to fund any of the housing, program, or service needs included in the local homeless assistance continuum of care plan. The lead agency may allocate the grant to programs, services, or housing providers that implement the local homeless assistance continuum care plan. The lead agency may provide subgrants to a local agency to implement programs or services or provide housing identified for funding in the lead agency's application to the department. A lead agency may spend a maximum of 8 percent of its funding on administrative costs.

(e) The lead agency shall submit a final report to the department documenting the outcomes achieved by the grant in enabling persons who are homeless to return to permanent housing thereby ending such person's episode of homelessness.

(5) The State Office on Homelessness, with the concurrence of the Council on Homelessness, may administer moneys appropriated to it to provide homeless housing assistance grants annually to lead agencies for local homeless assistance continuum of care, as recognized by the State Office on Homelessness, to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate transitional or permanent housing units for homeless persons. These moneys shall consist of any sums that the state may appropriate, as well as money received from donations, gifts, bequests, or otherwise from any public or private source, which are intended to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate transitional or permanent housing units for homeless persons.

(a) Grant applicants shall be ranked competitively. Preference must be given to applicants who leverage additional private funds and public funds, particularly federal funds designated for the acquisition, construction, or rehabilitation of transitional or permanent housing for homeless persons; who acquire, build, or rehabilitate the greatest number of units; or ~~and~~ who acquire, build, or rehabilitate in catchment areas having the greatest need for housing for the homeless relative to the population of the catchment area.

(b) Funding for any particular project may not exceed $750,000.

(c) Projects must reserve, for a minimum of 10 years, the number of units acquired, constructed, or rehabilitated through homeless housing assistance grant funding to serve persons who are homeless at the time they assume tenancy.

(d) No more than two grants may be awarded annually in any given local homeless assistance continuum of care catchment area.

(e) A project may not be funded which is not included in the local homeless assistance continuum of care plan, as recognized by the State Office on Homelessness, for the catchment area in which the project is located.

(f) The maximum percentage of funds that the State Office on Homelessness and each applicant may spend on administrative costs is 5 percent.

(6) The State Office on Homelessness, in conjunction with the Council on Homelessness, shall establish performance measures and specific objectives by which it may ~~to~~ evaluate the ~~effective~~ performance and outcomes of lead agencies that receive grant funds. Any funding through the State Office on Homelessness shall be distributed to lead agencies based on their overall performance and their achievement of specified objectives. Each lead agency for which grants are made under this section shall provide the State Office on Homelessness a thorough evaluation of the effectiveness of the program in achieving its stated purpose. In evaluating the performance of the lead agencies, the State Office on Homelessness shall base its criteria upon the program objectives, goals, and priorities that were set forth by the lead agencies in their proposals for funding. Such criteria may include, but are not ~~be~~ limited to, the number of persons or households that are no longer homeless, the rate of recidivism to homelessness, and the number of persons who obtain gainful employment ~~homeless individuals provided shelter, food, counseling, and job training~~.

Section 6. Subsections (3), (7), and (8) of section 420.624, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.624 Local homeless assistance continuum of care.—

(3) Communities or regions seeking to implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care are encouraged to develop and annually update a written plan that includes a vision for the continuum of care, an assessment of the supply of and demand for housing and services for the homeless population, and specific strategies and processes for providing the components of the continuum of care. The State Office on Homelessness, in conjunction with the Council on Homelessness, shall include in the plan a methodology for assessing performance and outcomes. The State Office on Homelessness shall supply a standardized format for written plans, including the reporting of data.

(7) The components of a continuum of care plan should include:

(a) Outreach, intake, and assessment procedures in order to identify the service and housing needs of an individual or family and to link them with appropriate housing, services, resources, and opportunities;

(b) Emergency shelter, in order to provide a safe, decent alternative to living in the streets;

(c) Transitional housing;

(d) Supportive services, designed to assist with the development of the skills necessary to secure and retain permanent housing;

(e) Permanent supportive housing;

(f) Rapid ReHousing, as specified in s. 420.6265;

(g) ~~(f)~~ Permanent housing;

(h) ~~(g)~~ Linkages and referral mechanisms among all components to facilitate the movement of individuals and families toward permanent housing and self-sufficiency;

(i) ~~(h)~~ Services and resources to prevent housed persons from becoming or returning to homelessness; and

(j) ~~(i)~~ An ongoing planning mechanism to address the needs of all subgroups of the homeless population, including but not limited to:

1. Single adult males;

2. Single adult females;

3. Families with children;

4. Families with no children;

5. Unaccompanied children and youth;

6. Elderly persons;

855434

7. Persons with drug or alcohol addictions;

8. Persons with mental illness;

9. Persons with dual or multiple physical or mental disorders;

10. Victims of domestic violence; and

11. Persons living with HIV/AIDS.

(8) Continuum of care plans must promote participation by all interested individuals and organizations and may not exclude individuals and organizations on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, handicap, familial status, or religion. Faith-based organizations must be encouraged to participate. To the extent possible, these components must ~~should~~ be coordinated and integrated with other mainstream health, social services, and employment programs for which homeless populations may be eligible, including Medicaid, State Children's Health Insurance Program, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, Food Assistance Program, and services funded through the Mental Health and Substance Abuse Block Grant, the Workforce Investment Act, and the welfare-to-work grant program.

Section 7. Section 420.6265, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

420.6265 Rapid ReHousing.—

(1) LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND INTENT.—

(a) The Legislature finds that Rapid ReHousing is a strategy of using temporary financial assistance and case management to quickly move an individual or family out of homelessness and into permanent housing.

(b) The Legislature also finds that public and private solutions to homelessness in the past have focused on providing individuals and families who are experiencing homelessness with emergency shelter, transitional housing, or a combination of both. While emergency shelter and transitional housing programs may provide critical access to services for individuals and families in crisis, the programs often fail to address their long-term needs.

(c) The Legislature further finds that most households become homeless as a result of a financial crisis that prevents individuals and families from paying rent or a domestic conflict that results in one member being ejected or leaving without resources or a plan for housing.

(d) The Legislature further finds that Rapid ReHousing is an alternative approach to the current system of emergency shelter or transitional housing which tends to reduce the length of time a person is homeless and has proven to be cost effective.

(e) It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to encourage homeless continuums of care to adopt the Rapid ReHousing approach to preventing homelessness for individuals and families who do not require the intense level of supports provided in the permanent supportive housing model.

(2) RAPID REHOUSING METHODOLOGY.—

(a) The Rapid ReHousing response to homelessness differs from traditional approaches to addressing homelessness by focusing on each individual’s or family’s barriers to housing. By using this approach, communities can significantly reduce the amount of time that individuals and families are homeless and prevent further episodes of homelessness.

(b) In Rapid ReHousing, an individual or family is identified as being homeless, temporary assistance is provided to allow the individual or family to obtain permanent housing as quickly as possible, and, if needed, assistance is provided to allow the individual or family to retain housing.

(c) The objective of Rapid ReHousing is to provide assistance for as short a term as possible so that the individual or family receiving assistance does not develop a dependency on the assistance.

Section 8. Subsections (16), (25), and (26) of section 420.9071, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.9071 Definitions.—As used in ss. 420.907-420.9079, the term:

(16) "Local housing incentive strategies" means local regulatory reform or incentive programs to encourage or facilitate affordable housing production, which include at a minimum, assurance that permits ~~as defined in s. 163.3164~~ for affordable housing projects are expedited to a greater degree than other projects, as provided in s. 163.3177(6)(f)3.; an ongoing process for review of local policies, ordinances, regulations, and plan provisions that increase the cost of housing prior to their adoption; and a schedule for implementing the incentive strategies. Local housing incentive strategies may also include other regulatory reforms, such as those enumerated in s. 420.9076 or those recommended by the affordable housing advisory committee in its triennial evaluation of the implementation of affordable housing incentives, and adopted by the local governing body.

(25) "Recaptured funds" means funds that are recouped by a county or eligible municipality in accordance with the recapture

420.9072 State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program.—The State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program is created for the purpose of providing funds to counties and eligible municipalities as an incentive for the creation of local housing partnerships, to expand production of and preserve affordable housing, to further the housing element of the local government comprehensive plan specific to affordable housing, and to increase housing-related employment.

(b) Within 45 ~~30~~ days after receiving a plan, the review committee shall review the plan and either approve it or identify inconsistencies with the requirements of the program. The corporation shall assist a local government in revising its plan if it initially proves to be inconsistent with program requirements. A plan that is revised by the local government to achieve consistency with program requirements shall be reviewed within 45 ~~30~~ days after submission. The deadlines for submitting original and revised plans shall be established by corporation

(7)(a) A county or an eligible municipality must expend its portion of the local housing distribution only to implement a local housing assistance plan or as provided in this subsection. ~~A county or an eligible municipality may not expend its portion of the local housing distribution to provide rent subsidies; however, this does not prohibit the use of funds for security and utility deposit assistance.~~

(b) A county or an eligible municipality may not expend its portion of the local housing distribution to provide ongoing rent subsidies, except for:

1. Security and utility deposit assistance.

2. Eviction prevention not to exceed 6 months' rent.

3. A rent subsidy program for very-low-income households with at least one adult who is a person with special needs as defined in s. 420.0004 or homeless as defined in s. 420.621. The period of rental assistance may not exceed 12 months for any eligible household.

420.9075 Local housing assistance plans; partnerships.—

(2)(a) Each county and each eligible municipality participating in the State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program shall encourage the involvement of appropriate public sector and private sector entities as partners in order to combine resources to reduce housing costs for the targeted population. This partnership process should involve:

1. Lending institutions.

2. Housing builders and developers.

3. Nonprofit and other community-based housing and service organizations.

4. Providers of professional services relating to affordable housing.

5. Advocates for low-income persons, including, but not limited to, homeless people, the elderly, and migrant farmworkers.

6. Real estate professionals.

7. Other persons or entities who can assist in providing housing or related support services.

8. Lead agencies of local homeless assistance continuums of care.

(3)

(f) Each county and each eligible municipality is encouraged to develop a strategy within its local housing assistance plan which provides program funds for reducing homelessness.

(g) Local governments may create regional partnerships across jurisdictional boundaries through the pooling of appropriated funds to address homeless housing needs identified in local housing assistance plans.

(4) Each local housing assistance plan is governed by the following criteria and administrative procedures:

(e) The staff or entity that has administrative authority for implementing a local housing assistance plan assisting rental developments shall annually monitor and determine tenant eligibility or, to the extent another governmental entity or corporation program provides periodic ~~the same~~ monitoring and determination, a municipality, county, or local housing financing authority may rely on such monitoring and determination of tenant eligibility. However, any loan or grant in the original amount of $10,000 ~~3,000~~ or less is ~~shall~~ not ~~be~~ subject to these annual monitoring and determination of tenant eligibility requirements.

(5) The following criteria apply to awards made to eligible sponsors or eligible persons for the purpose of providing eligible housing:

(b) Up to 25 percent of the funds made available in each county and eligible municipality from the local housing distribution may be reserved for rental housing for eligible persons or for the purposes enumerated in s. 420.9072(7)(b).

(d) Each local government must use a minimum of 20 percent of its allocation to serve persons with special needs as defined in s. 420.0004. A local government must certify that it will meet this requirement through existing approved strategies in the local housing assistance plan or submit a new local housing assistance plan strategy for this purpose to the corporation for approval to ensure that it meets these specifications. The first priority of these special needs funds must be to serve persons with developmental disabilities as defined in s. 393.063, with an emphasis on home modifications, including technological enhancements and devices, which will allow homeowners to remain independent in their own homes and maintain their homeownership.

(n) ~~(l)~~ Funds from the local housing distribution not used to meet the criteria established in paragraph (a) or paragraph (c) ~~(b)~~ or not used for the administration of a local housing assistance plan must be used for housing production and finance activities, including, but not limited to, financing preconstruction activities or the purchase of existing units, providing rental housing, and providing home ownership training to prospective home buyers and owners of homes assisted through the local housing assistance plan.

1. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (c) ~~(b)~~, program income as defined in s. 420.9071(24) may also be used to fund activities described in this paragraph.

2. When preconstruction due-diligence activities conducted as part of a preservation strategy show that preservation of the units is not feasible and will not result in the production of an eligible unit, such costs shall be deemed a program expense rather than an administrative expense if such program expenses do not exceed 3 percent of the annual local housing distribution.

3. If both an award under the local housing assistance plan and federal low-income housing tax credits are used to assist a project and there is a conflict between the criteria prescribed in this subsection and the requirements of s. 42 of the Internal

Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, the county or eligible municipality may resolve the conflict by giving precedence to the requirements of s. 42 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, in lieu of following the criteria prescribed in this subsection with the exception of paragraphs (a) and (g) ~~(e)~~ of

(36) "Service provider," except as otherwise defined in s. 420.512(5), means a law firm, investment bank, certified public accounting firm, auditor, trustee bank, credit underwriter, homeowner loan servicer, or any other provider of services to the corporation which offers to perform or performs services to the corporation or other provider for fees in excess of $35,000 ~~$25,000~~ in the aggregate during any fiscal year of the corporation. The term includes the agents, officers, principals, and professional employees of the service provider.

Section 2. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (22) of section 420.507, Florida Statutes, are amended, present paragraphs (d) through (i) of that subsection are redesignated as (e) through (j), respectively, a new paragraph (d) is added to that subsection, and subsection (35) of that section is amended, to read:

420.507 Powers of the corporation.—The corporation shall have all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this part, including the following powers which are in addition to all other powers granted by other provisions of this part:

(22) To develop and administer the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program. In developing and administering that program, the corporation may:

(a) Make first, second, and other subordinated mortgage loans including variable or fixed rate loans subject to contingent interest for all State Apartment Incentive Loans provided in this chapter based upon available cash flow of the projects. The corporation shall make loans exceeding 25 percent of project cost only to nonprofit organizations and public bodies that are able to secure grants, donations of land, or contributions from other sources and to projects meeting the criteria of subparagraph 1. Mortgage loans shall be made available at the following rates of interest:

1. Zero to 3 percent interest for sponsors of projects that set aside at least 80 percent of their total units for residents qualifying as farmworkers, commercial fishing workers, the homeless as defined in s. 420.621, or persons with special needs as defined in s. 420.0004(13) over the life of the loan.

2. Zero to 3 percent interest based on the pro rata share of units set aside for homeless residents or persons with special needs if the total of such units is less than 80 percent of the units in the borrower's project.

3. One to 9 percent interest for sponsors of projects targeted at populations other than farmworkers, commercial fishing workers, ~~the~~ homeless persons, or persons with special needs.

(b) Make loans exceeding 25 percent of project cost when the project serves extremely-low-income persons or projects as provided in paragraph (d).

(d) In counties or rural areas of counties that do not have existing units set aside for homeless persons, forgive indebtedness for loans provided to create permanent rental housing units for persons who are homeless, as defined in s. 420.621(5), or for persons residing in time-limited transitional housing or institutions as a result of a lack of permanent, affordable housing. Such developments must be supported by a local homeless assistance continuum of care developed under s. 420.624; be developed by nonprofit applicants; be small properties as defined by corporation rule; and be a project in the local housing assistance continuum of care plan recognized by the State Office on Homelessness.

(35) To preclude from further participation in any of the corporation's programs~~, for a period of up to 2 years~~, any applicant or affiliate of an applicant which has made a material misrepresentation or engaged in fraudulent actions in connection with any application for a corporation program.

Section 3. Subsections (1) and (3), paragraphs (b), (f), and (k) of subsection (6), and subsection (10) of section 420.5087, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.5087 State Apartment Incentive Loan Program.—There is hereby created the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program for the purpose of providing first, second, or other subordinated mortgage loans or loan guarantees to sponsors, including for-profit, nonprofit, and public entities, to provide housing affordable to very-low-income persons.

(1) Program funds shall be made available through a competitive solicitation process ~~distributed over successive 3-year periods~~ in a manner that meets the need and demand for very-low-income housing throughout the state. That need and demand must be determined by using the most recent statewide low-income rental housing market studies conducted every 3 years ~~available at the beginning of each 3-year period~~. However, at least 10 percent of the program funds, as calculated on an annual basis, ~~distributed during a 3-year period~~ must be made available ~~allocated~~ to each of the following categories of counties~~,~~ as determined by using the population statistics published in the most recent edition of the Florida Statistical Abstract:

(a) Counties that have a population of 825,000 or more.

(b) Counties that have a population of more than 100,000 but less than 825,000.

(c) Counties that have a population of 100,000 or less.

Any increase in funding required to reach the 10-percent minimum shall be taken from the county category that has the largest portion of the funding ~~allocation~~. The corporation shall adopt rules that ~~which~~ establish an equitable process for distributing any portion of the 10 percent of program funds made available ~~allocated~~ to the county categories specified in this subsection which remains unallocated ~~at the end of a 3-year period~~. Counties that have a population of 100,000 or less shall be given preference under these rules.

(3) During the first 6 months of loan or loan guarantee availability, program funds shall be made available ~~reserved~~ for use by sponsors who provide the housing set-aside required in subsection (2) for the tenant groups designated in this subsection. The ~~reservation of~~ funds made available to each of these groups shall be determined using the most recent statewide very-low-income rental housing market study available at the time of publication of each notice of fund availability required by paragraph (6)(b). The ~~reservation of~~ funds made available within each notice of fund availability to the tenant groups in paragraphs (b)-(e) ~~(a), (b), and (c)~~ may not be less than 10 percent of the funds available at that time. Any increase in funding required to reach the required ~~10-percent~~ minimum must be taken from the tenant group that would receive ~~has~~ the largest percentage of available funds in accordance with the study ~~reservation~~. The ~~reservation of~~ funds made available within each notice of fund availability to the tenant group in paragraph (a) ~~(c)~~ may not be less than 5 percent of the funds available at that time. ~~The reservation of funds within each notice of fund availability to the tenant group in paragraph (d) may not be more than 10 percent of the funds available at that time.~~ The tenant groups are:

(a) Commercial fishing workers and farmworkers;

(b) Families;

(c) Persons who are homeless;

(d) Persons with special needs; and

(e) Elderly persons. Ten percent of the amount made available ~~reserved~~ for the elderly shall ~~be reserved to~~ provide loans to sponsors of housing for the elderly for the purpose of making building preservation, health, or sanitation repairs or improvements which are required by federal, state, or local regulation or code, or lifesafety or security-related repairs or improvements to such housing. Such a loan may not exceed $750,000 per housing community for the elderly. In order to receive the loan, the sponsor of the housing community must make a commitment to match at least 5 percent of the loan amount to pay the cost of such repair or improvement. The corporation shall establish the rate of interest on the loan, which may not exceed 3 percent, and the term of the loan, which may not exceed 15 years; however, if the lien of the corporation's encumbrance is subordinate to the lien of another mortgagee, then the term may be made coterminous with the longest term of the superior lien. The term of the loan shall be based on a credit analysis of the applicant. The corporation may forgive indebtedness for a share of the loan attributable to the units in a project reserved for extremely-low-income elderly by nonprofit organizations, as defined in s. 420.0004(5), where the project has provided affordable housing to the elderly for 15 years or more. The corporation shall establish, by rule, the procedure and criteria for receiving, evaluating, and competitively ranking all applications for loans under this paragraph. A loan application must include evidence of the first mortgagee's having reviewed and approved the sponsor's intent to apply for a loan. A nonprofit organization or sponsor may not use the proceeds of the loan to pay for administrative costs, routine maintenance, or new construction.

(6) On all state apartment incentive loans, except loans made to housing communities for the elderly to provide for lifesafety, building preservation, health, sanitation, or security-related repairs or improvements, the following provisions shall apply:

(b) The corporation shall publish a notice of fund availability in a publication of general circulation throughout the state. Such notice shall be published at least 60 days prior to the application deadline and shall provide notice of the availability ~~temporary reservations~~ of funds established in subsection (3).

(f) The review committee established by corporation rule pursuant to this subsection shall make recommendations to the board of directors of the corporation regarding program participation under the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program. The corporation board shall make the final decisions regarding which applicants shall become program participants based on the scores received in the competitive process, further review of applications, and the recommendations of the review committee. The corporation board shall approve or reject applications for loans and shall determine the tentative loan amount available to each applicant selected for participation in the program. The actual loan amount shall be determined pursuant to rule adopted pursuant to s. 420.507(22)(i) ~~s. 420.507(22)(h)~~.

(k) Rent controls shall ~~not be allowed on any project except as required in conjunction with the issuance of tax-exempt bonds or federal low-income housing tax credits and except when the sponsor has committed to set aside units for extremely low-income persons, in which case rents shall~~ be set ~~restricted~~ at the income set-aside levels committed to by the sponsor at the ~~level~~ applicable income limitations established by the corporation for federal low-income tax credits.

~~(10)(a) Notwithstanding subsection (3), for the 2015-2016 fiscal year, the reservation of funds for the tenant groups within each notice of fund availability shall be:~~

~~1. Not less than 10 percent of the funds available at that time for the following tenant groups:~~

~~a. Families;~~

~~b. Persons who are homeless;~~

~~c. Persons with special needs; and~~

~~d. Elderly persons.~~

~~2. Not less than 5 percent of the funds available at that time for the commercial fishing workers and farmworkers tenant group.~~

~~(b) This subsection expires July 1, 2016.~~

Section 4. Subsection (5) of section 420.511, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

420.511 Strategic business plan; long-range program plan; annual report; audited financial statements.—

(5) The Auditor General shall conduct an operational audit of the accounts and records of the corporation and provide a written report on the audit to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives by December 1, 2016. ~~Both the corporation's business plan and annual report must recognize the different fiscal periods under which the corporation, the state, the Federal Government, and local governments operate.~~

Section 5. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (3) and subsections (4), (5), and (6) of section 420.622, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.622 State Office on Homelessness; Council on 310862

576-03403-16

Homelessness.—

(3) The State Office on Homelessness, pursuant to the policies set by the council and subject to the availability of funding, shall:

(a) Coordinate among state, local, and private agencies and providers to produce a statewide consolidated inventory ~~program and financial plan~~ for the state's entire system of homeless programs which incorporates regionally developed plans. Such programs include, but are not limited to:

1. Programs authorized under the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act of 1987, 42 U.S.C. ss. 11371 et seq., and carried out under funds awarded to this state; and

2. Programs, components thereof, or activities that assist persons who are homeless or at risk for homelessness.

(b) Collect, maintain, and make available information concerning persons who are homeless or at risk for homelessness, including demographics information, current services and resources available, the cost and availability of services and programs, and the met and unmet needs of this population. All entities that receive state funding must provide access to all data they maintain in summary form, with no individual identifying information, to assist the council in providing this information. The State Office on Homelessness shall establish a task force to make recommendations regarding the implementation of a statewide Homeless Management Information System (HMIS). The task force shall define the conceptual framework of such a system; study existing statewide HMIS models; establish an inventory of local HMIS systems, including providers and license capacity; examine the aggregated reporting being provided by local continuums of care; complete an analysis of current continuum of care resources; and provide recommendations on the costs and benefits of implementing a statewide HMIS. The task force shall also make recommendations regarding the development of a statewide, centralized coordinated assessment system in conjunction with the implementation of a statewide HMIS. The task force findings must be reported to the Council on Homelessness no later than December 31, 2016. ~~The council shall explore the potential of creating a statewide Management Information System (MIS), encouraging the future participation of any bodies that are receiving awards or grants from the state, if such a system were adopted, enacted, and accepted by the state.~~

(4) The State Office on Homelessness, with the concurrence of the Council on Homelessness, shall ~~may~~ accept and administer moneys appropriated to it to provide annual "Challenge Grants" to lead agencies of homeless assistance continuums of care designated by the State Office on Homelessness pursuant to s. 420.624. The department shall establish varying levels of grant awards up to $500,000 per lead agency. ~~Award levels shall be based upon the total population within the continuum of care catchment area and reflect the differing degrees of homelessness in the catchment planning areas.~~ The department, in consultation with the Council on Homelessness, shall specify a grant award level in the notice of the solicitation of grant applications.

(a) To qualify for the grant, a lead agency must develop and implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care plan for its designated catchment area. The continuum of care plan must implement a coordinated assessment or central intake system to screen, assess, and refer persons seeking assistance to the appropriate service provider. The lead agency shall also document the commitment of local government and private organizations to provide matching funds or in-kind support in an amount equal to the grant requested. Expenditures of leveraged funds or resources, including third-party cash or in-kind contributions, are permitted only for eligible activities committed on one project which have not been used as leverage or match for any other project or program and must be certified through a written commitment.

(b) Preference must be given to those lead agencies that have demonstrated the ability of their continuum of care to provide quality services to homeless persons and the ability to leverage federal homeless-assistance funding under the Stewart B. McKinney Act and private funding for the provision of services to homeless persons.

(c) Preference must be given to lead agencies in catchment areas with the greatest need for the provision of housing and services to the homeless, relative to the population of the catchment area.

(d) The grant may be used to fund any of the housing, program, or service needs included in the local homeless assistance continuum of care plan. The lead agency may allocate the grant to programs, services, or housing providers that implement the local homeless assistance continuum care plan. The lead agency may provide subgrants to a local agency to implement programs or services or provide housing identified for funding in the lead agency's application to the department. A lead agency may spend a maximum of 8 percent of its funding on administrative costs.

(e) The lead agency shall submit a final report to the department documenting the outcomes achieved by the grant in enabling persons who are homeless to return to permanent housing thereby ending such person's episode of homelessness.

(5) The State Office on Homelessness, with the concurrence of the Council on Homelessness, may administer moneys appropriated to it to provide homeless housing assistance grants annually to lead agencies for local homeless assistance continuum of care, as recognized by the State Office on Homelessness, to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate transitional or permanent housing units for homeless persons. These moneys shall consist of any sums that the state may appropriate, as well as money received from donations, gifts, bequests, or otherwise from any public or private source, which are intended to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate transitional or permanent housing units for homeless persons.

(a) Grant applicants shall be ranked competitively. Preference must be given to applicants who leverage additional private funds and public funds, particularly federal funds designated for the acquisition, construction, or rehabilitation of transitional or permanent housing for homeless persons; who acquire, build, or rehabilitate the greatest number of units; or ~~and~~ who acquire, build, or rehabilitate in catchment areas having the greatest need for housing for the homeless relative to the population of the catchment area.

(b) Funding for any particular project may not exceed $750,000.

(c) Projects must reserve, for a minimum of 10 years, the number of units acquired, constructed, or rehabilitated through homeless housing assistance grant funding to serve persons who are homeless at the time they assume tenancy.

(d) No more than two grants may be awarded annually in any given local homeless assistance continuum of care catchment area.

(e) A project may not be funded which is not included in the local homeless assistance continuum of care plan, as recognized by the State Office on Homelessness, for the catchment area in which the project is located.

(f) The maximum percentage of funds that the State Office on Homelessness and each applicant may spend on administrative costs is 5 percent.

(6) The State Office on Homelessness, in conjunction with the Council on Homelessness, shall establish performance measures and specific objectives by which it may ~~to~~ evaluate the ~~effective~~ performance and outcomes of lead agencies that receive grant funds. Any funding through the State Office on Homelessness shall be distributed to lead agencies based on their overall performance and their achievement of specified objectives. Each lead agency for which grants are made under this section shall provide the State Office on Homelessness a thorough evaluation of the effectiveness of the program in achieving its stated purpose. In evaluating the performance of the lead agencies, the State Office on Homelessness shall base its criteria upon the program objectives, goals, and priorities that were set forth by the lead agencies in their proposals for funding. Such criteria may include, but not be limited to, the number of persons or households that are no longer homeless, the rate of recidivism to homelessness, and the number of persons who obtain gainful employment ~~homeless individuals provided shelter, food, counseling, and job training~~.

Section 6. Subsections (3), (7), and (8) of section 420.624, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.624 Local homeless assistance continuum of care.—

(3) Communities or regions seeking to implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care are encouraged to develop and annually update a written plan that includes a vision for the continuum of care, an assessment of the supply of and demand for housing and services for the homeless population, and specific strategies and processes for providing the components of the continuum of care. The State Office on Homelessness, in conjunction with the Council on Homelessness, shall include in the plan a methodology for assessing performance and outcomes. The State Office on Homelessness shall supply a standardized format for written plans, including the reporting of data.

(7) The components of a continuum of care plan should include:

(a) Outreach, intake, and assessment procedures in order to identify the service and housing needs of an individual or family and to link them with appropriate housing, services, resources, and opportunities;

(b) Emergency shelter, in order to provide a safe, decent alternative to living in the streets;

(c) Transitional housing;

(d) Supportive services, designed to assist with the development of the skills necessary to secure and retain permanent housing;

(e) Permanent supportive housing;

(f) Rapid ReHousing, as specified in s. 420.6265;

(g) ~~(f)~~ Permanent housing;

(h) ~~(g)~~ Linkages and referral mechanisms among all components to facilitate the movement of individuals and families toward permanent housing and self-sufficiency;

(i) ~~(h)~~ Services and resources to prevent housed persons from becoming or returning to homelessness; and

(j) ~~(i)~~ An ongoing planning mechanism to address the needs of all subgroups of the homeless population, including but not limited to:

1. Single adult males;
2. Single adult females;
3. Families with children;
4. Families with no children;
5. Unaccompanied children and youth;
6. Elderly persons;
7. Persons with drug or alcohol addictions;
8. Persons with mental illness;
9. Persons with dual or multiple physical or mental disorders;
10. Victims of domestic violence; and
11. Persons living with HIV/AIDS.

(8) Continuum of care plans must promote participation by all interested individuals and organizations and may not exclude individuals and organizations on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, handicap, familial status, or religion. Faith-based organizations must be encouraged to participate. To the extent possible, these components must ~~should~~ be coordinated and integrated with other mainstream health, social services, and employment programs for which homeless populations may be eligible, including Medicaid, State Children's Health Insurance Program, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, Food Assistance Program, and services funded through the Mental Health and Substance Abuse Block Grant, the Workforce Investment Act, and the welfare-to-work grant program.

Section 7. Section 420.6265, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

420.6265 Rapid ReHousing.—

(1) LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND INTENT.—

(a) The Legislature finds that Rapid ReHousing is a strategy of using temporary financial assistance and case management to quickly move an individual or family out of homelessness and into permanent housing.

(b) The Legislature also finds that public and private solutions to homelessness in the past have focused on providing individuals and families who are experiencing homelessness with emergency shelter, transitional housing, or a combination of both. While emergency shelter and transitional housing programs may provide critical access to services for individuals and families in crisis, the programs often fail to address their long-term needs.

(c) The Legislature further finds that most households become homeless as a result of a financial crisis that prevents individuals and families from paying rent or a domestic conflict that results in one member being ejected or leaving without resources or a plan for housing.

(d) The Legislature further finds that Rapid ReHousing is an alternative approach to the current system of emergency shelter or transitional housing which tends to reduce the length of time a person is homeless and has proven to be cost effective.

(e) It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to encourage homeless continuums of care to adopt the Rapid ReHousing approach to preventing homelessness for individuals and families who do not require the intense level of supports provided in the permanent supportive housing model.

(2) RAPID REHOUSING METHODOLOGY.—

(a) The Rapid ReHousing response to homelessness differs from traditional approaches to addressing homelessness by focusing on each individual's or family's barriers to housing. By using this approach, communities can significantly reduce the amount of time that individuals and families are homeless and prevent further episodes of homelessness.

(b) In Rapid ReHousing, an individual or family is identified as being homeless, temporary assistance is provided to allow the individual or family to obtain permanent housing as quickly as possible, and, if needed, assistance is provided to allow the individual or family to retain housing.

(c) The objective of Rapid ReHousing is to provide assistance for as short a term as possible so that the individual or family receiving assistance does not develop a dependency on the assistance.

Section 8. Subsections (16), (25), and (26) of section 420.9071, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.9071 Definitions.—As used in ss. 420.907-420.9079, the term:

(16) "Local housing incentive strategies" means local regulatory reform or incentive programs to encourage or facilitate affordable housing production, which include at a minimum, assurance that permits ~~as defined in s. 163.3164~~ for affordable housing projects are expedited to a greater degree than other projects, as provided in s. 163.3177(6)(f)3.; an ongoing process for review of local policies, ordinances, regulations, and plan provisions that increase the cost of housing prior to their adoption; and a schedule for implementing the incentive strategies. Local housing incentive strategies may also include other regulatory reforms, such as those enumerated in s. 420.9076 or those recommended by the affordable housing advisory committee in its triennial evaluation of the implementation of affordable housing incentives, and adopted by the local governing body.

(25) "Recaptured funds" means funds that are recouped by a county or eligible municipality in accordance with the recapture provisions of its local housing assistance plan pursuant to s. 420.9075(5)(i) ~~s. 420.9075(5)(h)~~ from eligible persons or eligible sponsors, which funds were not used for assistance to an eligible household for an eligible activity, when there is a default on the terms of a grant award or loan award.

(26) "Rent subsidies" means ongoing monthly rental assistance. ~~The term does not include initial assistance to tenants, such as grants or loans for security and utility deposits.~~

420.9072 State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program.—The State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program is created for the purpose of providing funds to counties and eligible municipalities as an incentive for the creation of local housing partnerships, to expand production of and preserve affordable housing, to further the housing element of the local government comprehensive plan specific to affordable housing, and to increase housing-related employment.

(b) Within 45 ~~30~~ days after receiving a plan, the review committee shall review the plan and either approve it or identify inconsistencies with the requirements of the program. The corporation shall assist a local government in revising its plan if it initially proves to be inconsistent with program requirements. A plan that is revised by the local government to achieve consistency with program requirements shall be reviewed within 45 ~~30~~ days after submission. The deadlines for submitting original and revised plans shall be established by corporation rule; however, the corporation shall not require submission of a new local housing assistance plan to implement amendments to this act until the currently effective plan expires.

(7)(a) A county or an eligible municipality must expend its portion of the local housing distribution only to implement a local housing assistance plan or as provided in this subsection. ~~A county or an eligible municipality may not expend its portion of the local housing distribution to provide rent subsidies; however, this does not prohibit the use of funds for security and utility deposit assistance.~~

(b) A county or an eligible municipality may not expend its portion of the local housing distribution to provide ongoing rent subsidies, except for:

1. Security and utility deposit assistance.

2. Eviction prevention not to exceed 6 months' rent.

3. A rent subsidy program for very-low-income households with at least one adult who is a person with special needs as defined in s. 420.0004 or homeless as defined in s. 420.621. The period of rental assistance may not exceed 12 months for any eligible household.

Paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 420.9075, Florida Statutes, is amended, paragraph (f) is added to subsection (3) of that section, paragraph (e) of subsection (4) of that section is amended, present paragraphs (b) through (l) of subsection (5) of that section are redesignated as paragraphs (c) through (m), respectively, present paragraph (l) of that subsection is amended, and a new paragraph (b) is added to that subsection, paragraph (i) is added to subsection (10) of that section, and paragraph (b) of subsection (13) of that section is amended, to read:

420.9075 Local housing assistance plans; partnerships.—

(2)(a) Each county and each eligible municipality participating in the State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program shall encourage the involvement of appropriate public sector and private sector entities as partners in order to combine resources to reduce housing costs for the targeted population. This partnership process should involve:

1. Lending institutions.

2. Housing builders and developers.

3. Nonprofit and other community-based housing and service organizations.

4. Providers of professional services relating to affordable housing.

5. Advocates for low-income persons, including, but not limited to, homeless people, the elderly, and migrant farmworkers.

6. Real estate professionals.

7. Other persons or entities who can assist in providing housing or related support services.

8. Lead agencies of local homeless assistance continuums of care.

(3)

(f) Each county and eligible municipality is encouraged to develop a strategy within its local housing assistance plan which provides program funds for reducing homelessness.

(4) Each local housing assistance plan is governed by the following criteria and administrative procedures:

(e) The staff or entity that has administrative authority for implementing a local housing assistance plan assisting rental developments shall annually monitor and determine tenant eligibility or, to the extent another governmental entity or corporation program provides periodic ~~the same~~ monitoring and determination, a municipality, county, or local housing financing authority may rely on such monitoring and determination of tenant eligibility. However, any loan or grant in the original amount of $10,000 ~~3,000~~ or less is ~~shall~~ not ~~be~~ subject to these annual monitoring and determination of tenant eligibility requirements.

(5) The following criteria apply to awards made to eligible sponsors or eligible persons for the purpose of providing eligible housing:

(b) Up to 25 percent of the funds made available in each county and eligible municipality from the local housing distribution may be reserved for rental housing for eligible persons or for the purposes enumerated in s. 420.9072(7)(b).

(m) ~~(l)~~ Funds from the local housing distribution not used to meet the criteria established in paragraph (a) or paragraph (c) ~~(b)~~ or not used for the administration of a local housing assistance plan must be used for housing production and finance activities, including, but not limited to, financing preconstruction activities or the purchase of existing units, providing rental housing, and providing home ownership training to prospective home buyers and owners of homes assisted through the local housing assistance plan.

1. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (c) ~~(b)~~, program income as defined in s. 420.9071(24) may also be used to fund activities described in this paragraph.

2. When preconstruction due-diligence activities conducted as part of a preservation strategy show that preservation of the units is not feasible and will not result in the production of an eligible unit, such costs shall be deemed a program expense rather than an administrative expense if such program expenses do not exceed 3 percent of the annual local housing distribution.

3. If both an award under the local housing assistance plan and federal low-income housing tax credits are used to assist a project and there is a conflict between the criteria prescribed in this subsection and the requirements of s. 42 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, the county or eligible municipality may resolve the conflict by giving precedence to the requirements of s. 42 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, in lieu of following the criteria prescribed in this subsection with the exception of paragraphs (a) and (f) ~~(e)~~ of this subsection.

4. Each county and each eligible municipality may award funds as a grant for construction, rehabilitation, or repair as part of disaster recovery or emergency repairs or to remedy accessibility or health and safety deficiencies. Any other grants must be approved as part of the local housing assistance plan.

(10) Each county or eligible municipality shall submit to the corporation by September 15 of each year a report of its affordable housing programs and accomplishments through June 30 immediately preceding submittal of the report. The report shall be certified as accurate and complete by the local government's chief elected official or his or her designee. Transmittal of the annual report by a county's or eligible municipality's chief elected official, or his or her designee, certifies that the local housing incentive strategies, or, if applicable, the local housing incentive plan, have been implemented or are in the process of being implemented pursuant to the adopted schedule for implementation. The report must include, but is not limited to:

(i) A description of efforts to reduce homelessness.

(b) If, as a result of its review of the annual report, the corporation determines that a county or eligible municipality has failed to implement a local housing incentive strategy, or, if applicable, a local housing incentive plan, it shall send a notice of termination of the local government's share of the local housing distribution by certified mail to the affected county or eligible municipality.

576-03403-16

1. The notice must specify a date of termination of the funding if the affected county or eligible municipality does not implement the plan or strategy and provide for a local response. A county or eligible municipality shall respond to the corporation within 30 days after receipt of the notice of termination.

2. The corporation shall consider the local response that extenuating circumstances precluded implementation and grant an extension to the timeframe for implementation. Such an extension shall be made in the form of an extension agreement that provides a timeframe for implementation. The chief elected official of a county or eligible municipality or his or her designee shall have the authority to enter into the agreement on behalf of the local government.

3. If the county or the eligible municipality has not implemented the incentive strategy or entered into an extension agreement by the termination date specified in the notice, the local housing distribution share terminates, and any uncommitted local housing distribution funds held by the affected county or eligible municipality in its local housing assistance trust fund shall be transferred to the Local Government Housing Trust Fund to the credit of the corporation to administer.

4.a. If the affected local government fails to meet the timeframes specified in the agreement, the corporation shall terminate funds. The corporation shall send a notice of termination of the local government's share of the local housing distribution by certified mail to the affected local government. The notice shall specify the termination date, and any uncommitted funds held by the affected local government shall be transferred to the Local Government Housing Trust Fund to the credit of the corporation to administer.

b. If the corporation terminates funds to a county, but an eligible municipality receiving a local housing distribution pursuant to an interlocal agreement maintains compliance with program requirements, the corporation shall thereafter distribute directly to the participating eligible municipality its share calculated in the manner provided in ss. ~~s.~~ 420.9072 and 420.9073.

c. Any county or eligible municipality whose local distribution share has been terminated may subsequently elect to receive directly its local distribution share by adopting the ordinance, resolution, and local housing assistance plan in the manner and according to the procedures provided in ss. 420.907-420.9079.

Section 11. Subsection (2), paragraph (a) of subsection (4), and paragraph (b) of subsection (7) of section 420.9076, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.9076 Adoption of affordable housing incentive strategies; committees.—

(2) The governing board of a county or municipality shall appoint the members of the affordable housing advisory committee ~~by resolution~~. Pursuant to the terms of any interlocal agreement, a county and municipality may create and jointly appoint an advisory committee ~~to prepare a joint plan~~. The local action ~~ordinance~~ adopted pursuant to s. 420.9072 which creates the advisory committee and appoints ~~or the resolution appointing~~ the advisory committee members must name at least 8 but not more than 11 ~~provide for 11~~ committee members and specify their terms. The committee must consist of one representative from at least six of the categories below ~~include~~:

(i) A ~~One~~ citizen who resides within the jurisdiction of the local governing body making the appointments.

(j) A ~~One~~ citizen who represents employers within the jurisdiction.

(k) A ~~One~~ citizen who represents essential services personnel, as defined in the local housing assistance plan.

~~If a county or eligible municipality whether due to its small size, the presence of a conflict of interest by prospective appointees, or other reasonable factor, is unable to appoint a citizen actively engaged in these activities in connection with affordable housing, a citizen engaged in the activity without regard to affordable housing may be appointed. Local governments that receive the minimum allocation under the State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program may elect to appoint an affordable housing advisory committee with fewer than 11 representatives if they are unable to find representatives who meet the criteria of paragraphs (a)-(k).~~

(4) Triennially, the advisory committee shall review the established policies and procedures, ordinances, land development regulations, and adopted local government comprehensive plan of the appointing local government and shall recommend specific actions or initiatives to encourage or facilitate affordable housing while protecting the ability of the property to appreciate in value. The recommendations may include the modification or repeal of existing policies, procedures, ordinances, regulations, or plan provisions; the creation of exceptions applicable to affordable housing; or the adoption of new policies, procedures, regulations, ordinances, or plan provisions, including recommendations to amend the local government comprehensive plan and corresponding regulations, ordinances, and other policies. At a minimum, each advisory committee shall submit a report to the local governing body that includes recommendations on, and triennially thereafter evaluates the implementation of, affordable housing incentives in the following areas:

(a) The processing of approvals of development orders or permits~~, as defined in s. 163.3164,~~ for affordable housing projects is expedited to a greater degree than other projects, as provided in s. 163.3177(6)(f)3.

The advisory committee recommendations may also include other affordable housing incentives identified by the advisory committee. Local governments that receive the minimum allocation under the State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program shall perform the initial review but may elect to not perform the triennial review.

(7) The governing board of the county or the eligible municipality shall notify the corporation by certified mail of its adoption of an amendment of its local housing assistance plan to incorporate local housing incentive strategies. The notice must include a copy of the approved amended plan.

(b) If a county fails to timely adopt an amended local housing assistance plan to incorporate local housing incentive strategies but an eligible municipality receiving a local housing distribution pursuant to an interlocal agreement within the county does timely adopt an amended local housing assistance plan to incorporate local housing incentive strategies, the corporation, after issuance ~~receipt~~ of a notice of termination, shall thereafter distribute directly to the participating eligible municipality its share calculated in the manner provided in s. 420.9073 ~~s. 420.9072~~.

Section 12. Section 420.9089, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

420.9089 National Housing Trust Fund.—The Legislature finds that more funding for housing to assist individuals and families who are experiencing homelessness or who are at risk of homelessness is needed and encourages the state entity designated to administer funds made available to the state from the National Housing Trust Fund to propose an allocation plan that includes strategies to reduce homelessness and the risk of homelessness in this state. These strategies shall be in addition to strategies developed under s. 420.5087.

Section 13. Subsection (4) is added to section 421.04, Florida Statutes, to read:

421.04 Creation of housing authorities.—

(4) Regardless of the date of its creation, a housing authority may not apply to the Federal Government to seize any projects, units, or vouchers of another established housing authority, irrespective of each housing authority's areas of operation.

Section 14. Subsection (2) of section 421.05, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

and for all other purposes. Action may be taken by the authority upon a vote of a majority of the commissioners present, unless in any case the bylaws of the authority require a larger number. The mayor with the concurrence of the governing body shall designate ~~which of the commissioners appointed shall be~~ the first chair from among the appointed commissioners, but when the office of the chair of the authority thereafter becomes vacant, the authority shall select a chair from among the ~~its~~ commissioners. An authority shall also select from among the ~~its~~ commissioners a vice chair,~~,~~ and it may employ a secretary, who shall be the executive director, technical experts, and such other officers, agents, and employees, permanent and temporary, as it may require and shall determine their qualifications, duties, and compensation. 2.	Gusky	Miller	ATD	Recommend: Fav/CS
3.	Gusky	Kynoch	AP	Pre-meeting

I. Summary:

SB 1534 makes numerous changes to laws related to housing assistance, including housing for individuals and families who are homeless. The bill:

- Amends the State Apartment Incentive Loan (SAIL) Program to change the reservation requirements for the specified tenant groups to reflect projected need.
- Amends provisions relating to the State Office on Homelessness and the Challenge Grant Program that provides grants to lead agencies of homeless assistance continuums of care, including:
  - Requiring that expenditures of leveraged funds or resources are permitted only for eligible activities committed on one project which have not been used as leverage or match for another project;
  - Removing the requirement that award levels for Challenge Grants be based upon the total population within the continuum of care catchment area and reflect the differing degrees of homelessness in the catchment planning areas; and
  - Requiring any funding distributed to the lead agencies be based on overall performance and achievement of specified objectives, including the number of persons or households that are no longer homeless, the rate of recidivism to homelessness, and the number of persons who obtain gainful employment.
- Expresses legislative intent to encourage homeless continuums of care to adopt the Rapid ReHousing approach to preventing homelessness for individuals and families who do not require the intense level of support provided in the permanent supportive housing model and requires Rapid ReHousing to be added to the components of a continuum of care plan.
- Provides exceptions to the restriction on counties and eligible municipalities related to expenditures of State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) Program distributions for ongoing rent subsidies.
- Provides that up to 25 percent of the SHIP Program funds made available in a county or municipality may be reserved for rental housing.

- Expresses legislative intent to encourage the state entity that administers funds from the National Housing Trust Fund to propose an allocation plan that includes strategies to reduce statewide homelessness.
- Makes several changes to laws relating to housing authorities, which include:
  - Prohibiting housing authorities, regardless of when they were created, from applying to the federal government to acquire through the exercise of the power of eminent domain any projects, units, or vouchers of another established housing authority;
  - Exempting housing authorities from the provisions of s. 215.425, F.S., which addresses extra compensation, bonuses and severance pay; and
  - Removing the requirement that housing authorities must submit a copy of the biennial financial reports submitted to the federal government to the governing body and the Auditor General.

The bill has an indeterminate, but expected insignificant, fiscal impact on state and local governments. While programs that provide services to homeless persons may receive additional resources, the private sector impact of the bill is indeterminate.

The bill has an effective date of July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Housing for Individuals with Lower Incomes

In 1986[1] the Legislature found that:
- Decent, safe, and sanitary housing for individuals of very low income, low income, and moderate income is a critical need in the state;
- New and rehabilitated housing must be provided at a cost affordable to such persons in order to alleviate this critical need;
- Special programs are needed to stimulate private enterprise to build and rehabilitate housing in order to help eradicate slum conditions and provide housing for very-low-income persons, low-income persons, and moderate-income persons as a matter of public purpose; and
- Public-private partnerships are an essential means of bringing together resources to provide affordable housing.[2]

As a result of these findings, the Legislature determined that legislation was urgently needed to alleviate crucial problems related to housing shortages for individuals with very low,[3] low[4] and

[3] "Very-low-income persons" means one or more persons or a family, the total annual adjusted gross household income of which does not exceed 50 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the state, or 50 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the metropolitan statistical area (MSA) or within the county in which the person or family resides, whichever is greater.
[4] "Low-income persons" means one or more persons or a family, the total annual adjusted gross household income of which does not exceed 80 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the state, or 80 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the metropolitan statistical area (MSA) or within the county in which the person or family resides, whichever is greater.

moderate[5] incomes. In 1986, part VI of ch. 420, F.S., was titled as the "Florida Affordable Care Act of 1986"[6] and programs and funding mechanisms were created over the years to help remedy low-income housing issues.

State Apartment Incentive Loan (SAIL) Program

The SAIL program was created by the Legislature in 1988[7] for the purpose of providing first, second, or other subordinated mortgage loans or loan guarantees to sponsors, including for-profit, nonprofit, and public entities, to provide housing affordable to very-low-income persons.[8]

The SAIL program provides low-interest loans on a competitive basis to affordable housing developers each year. This funding often serves to bridge the gap between the primary financing and the total cost of the development. SAIL program funds are available to individuals, public entities, and not-for-profit or for-profit organizations that propose the construction or substantial rehabilitation of multifamily units affordable to very-low-income individuals and families.[9]

SAIL program funds must be distributed in a manner that meets the need and demand for very-low-income housing throughout the state. The need and demand must be determined by using the most recent statewide low-income rental housing market studies available. The SAIL program funding is reserved for use within statutorily defined counties (large, medium, and small)[10] and for properties providing units for specified tenant groups. The University of Florida's Shimberg Center for Housing Studies prepares the rental housing market study for the Florida Finance Housing Corporation (FHFC).[11] Below is a comparison of the actual need based on the 2013 Rental Market Study compared to the current statutory reservation requirements for the specified tenant groups.

[5] "Moderate-income persons" means one or more persons or a family, the total annual adjusted gross household income of which is less than 120 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the state, or 120 percent of the median annual adjusted gross income for households within the metropolitan statistical area (MSA) or within the county in which the household is located, whichever is greater.

[10] Section 420.5087(1), F.S., provides that funds must be allocated to the following categories of counties: counties that have a population of 845,000 or more ("large"); counties that have a population of more than 100,000 but less than 825,000 ("medium"); and counties that have a population of 100,000 or less ("small").

Specified Tenant Group	Actual Percentage of Total Households in Need	Current Statutory Reservation Requirements[12]
Commercial fishing workers and farmworker households	4 percent	Not less than 10 percent
Persons who are homeless	10 percent	Not less than 5 percent
Persons with special needs	13 percent	Not more than 10 percent
Elder persons	20 percent	Not less than 10 percent
Families	53 percent	Not less than 10 percent

During the first 6 months of loan or loan guarantee availability, SAIL program funds are required to be reserved for use by sponsors who provide the required housing set-aside for specified tenant groups. Under current law, the statutory requirement to reserve funds for the commercial fishing worker and farmworker household tenant group significantly exceeds the actual housing need for this group. The current statutory "cap" on the reservation for the persons with special needs (no more than 10 percent) does not allow the program to address the actual housing need for this group (13 percent) during the first 6 months of loan or loan guarantee availability.

Funding for the SAIL Program is subject to an annual appropriation.[13]

State Office on Homelessness

In 2001, the Florida Legislature created the State Office on Homelessness (office) within the Department of Children and Families (DCF) to serve as a central point of contact within state government on homelessness. The office is responsible for coordinating resources and programs across all levels of government, and with private providers that serve the homeless. It also manages targeted state grants to support the implementation of local homeless service continuum of care plans.[14]

Council on Homelessness

The inter-agency Council on Homelessness (council) was also created in 2001. The 17-member council is charged with developing recommendations on how to reduce homelessness statewide and advising the State Office on Homelessness.[15]

Local Coalitions for the Homeless

The DCF is required to establish local coalitions to plan, network, coordinate, and monitor the delivery of services to the homeless.[16] Groups and organizations provided the opportunity to participate in such coalitions include:

- Organizations and agencies providing mental health and substance abuse services;
- County health departments and community health centers;
- Organizations and agencies providing food, shelter, or other services targeted to the homeless;

- Local law enforcement agencies;
- Local workforce development boards;
- County and municipal governments;
- Local public housing authorities;
- Local school districts;
- Local organizations and agencies serving specific subgroups of the homeless population such as veterans, victims of domestic violence, persons with HIV/AIDS, and runaway youth; and
- Local community-based care alliances.[17]

Continuum of Care

A local coalition serves as the lead agency for the local homeless assistance continuum of care (CoC).[18] A local CoC is a framework for a comprehensive and seamless array of emergency, transitional, and permanent housing, and services to address the various needs of the homeless and those at risk of homelessness.[19] The purpose of a CoC is to help communities or regions envision, plan, and implement comprehensive and long-term solutions.[20]

The DCF interacts with the state's 28 CoCs through the office, which serves as the state's central point of contact on homelessness. The office has designated local entities to serve as lead agencies for local planning efforts to create homeless assistance CoC systems. The office has made these designations in consultation with the local homeless coalitions and the Florida offices of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

The CoC planning effort is an ongoing process that addresses all subpopulations of the homeless. The development of a local CoC plan is a prerequisite to applying for federal housing grants through HUD. The plan also makes the community eligible to compete for the state's Challenge Grants and Homeless Housing Assistance Grants.[21]

Challenge Grants

The office is authorized to accept and administer moneys appropriated to it, for the purpose of providing Challenge Grants annually to designated lead agencies of homeless assistance CoCs.[22] The office may award grants in an amount of up to $500,000 per lead agency.[23] A lead agency may spend a maximum of 8 percent of its funding on administrative costs. To qualify for the grant, a lead agency must develop and implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care plan for its designated area.[24]

It includes action steps to end homelessness and prevent a return to homelessness."

Pursuant to s. 420.624, F.S., the DCF provides funding for local homeless assistance CoC, which is a framework for providing an array of emergency, transitional, and permanent housing, and services to address the various needs of homeless persons and persons at risk of becoming homeless. There is no statutorily identified funding source for this program.[25]

Pursuant to s. 420.606(3), F.S., the DEO provides training and technical assistance to staff of state and local government entities, community-based organizations, and persons forming such organizations for the purpose of developing new housing and rehabilitating existing housing that is affordable for very-low-income persons, low-income persons, and moderate-income persons. There is no statutorily identified funding source for this program.[26]

Homeless Housing Assistance Grants

The office is authorized to accept and administer moneys appropriated to it to provide Homeless Housing Assistance Grants annually to lead agencies of local homeless assistance CoC. The grants may not exceed $750,000 per project and an applicant may spend a maximum of 5 percent of its funding on administrative costs. The grant funds must be used to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate transitional or permanent housing units for homeless persons. The funds available for the eligible grant activities may be appropriated, received from donations, gifts, or from any public or private source.[27]

Rapid ReHousing

Rapid ReHousing is a model for providing housing for individuals and families who are homeless. The model places a priority on moving a family or individual experiencing homelessness into permanent housing as quickly as possible, hopefully within 30 days of a client becoming homeless and entering a program. While originally focused primarily on people experiencing homelessness due to short-term financial crises, programs across the country have begun to assist individuals and families who are traditionally perceived as more difficult to serve. This includes people with limited or no income, survivors of domestic violence, and those with substance abuse issues. Although the duration of financial assistance may vary, many programs find that, on average, 4 to 6 months of financial assistance is sufficient to stably re-house a household.[28]

Since federal funding for rapid re-housing first became available in 2008, a number of communities, including Palm Beach County, Florida, that prioritized rapid re-housing as a response to homelessness have seen decreases in the amount of time that households spend homeless, less recidivism, and improved permanent housing outcomes relative to other available interventions.[29]

There are three core components of rapid re-housing: housing identification, rent and move-in assistance (financial), and rapid re-housing case management and services. While all three components are present and available in effective rapid re-housing programs, there are instances where the components are provided by different entities or agencies, or where a household does not utilize all three.[30] A key element of rapid re-housing is the "Housing First" philosophy, which offers housing without preconditions such as employment, income, lack of a criminal background, or sobriety. If issues such as these need to be addressed, the household can address them most effectively once they are in housing.[31]

State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) Program

The SHIP Program was created in 1992[32] to provide funds to local governments as an incentive to create partnerships that produce and preserve affordable homeownership and multifamily housing. The program was designed to serve very-low, low, and moderate-income families and is administered by the Florida Housing Finance Corporation (FHFC). A dedicated funding source for this program was established by the passage of the 1992 William E. Sadowski Affordable Housing Act. The SHIP Program is funded through a statutory distribution of documentary stamp tax revenues, which are deposited into the Local Government Housing Trust Fund. Subject to specific appropriation, funds are distributed quarterly to local governments participating in the program under an established formula.[33]

National Housing Trust Fund

In July 2008, the federal Housing and Economic Recovery Act was signed into law,[34] establishing a National Housing Trust Fund (NHTF or trust fund), among other housing-related provisions. Although the National Housing Trust Fund has been established, a permanent funding stream has not been secured.[35]

The goal of the trust fund is to provide ongoing, permanent, dedicated, and sufficient sources of revenue to build, rehabilitate, and preserve 1.5 million units of housing for the lowest-income families, including people experiencing homelessness, over the next 10 years. The NHTF particularly aims to increase and preserve the supply of rental housing that is affordable for extremely[36] and very-low-income households, and increase homeownership opportunities for those households. To prevent funding for the NHTF from competing with existing HUD programs, this revenue is expected to be generated separately from the current federal appropriations process.[37]

The FHFC may adjust this amount annually by rule to provide that in lower-income counties, extremely-low income may exceed 30 percent of area median income and that in higher-income counties, extremely-low income may be less than 30 percent of area median income.

Housing Authorities and Eminent Domain

A housing authority has the right to acquire by the exercise of the power of eminent domain any real property which it may deem necessary for its purposes.[38] Property already devoted to a public use may be acquired in like manner, so long as no real property belonging to the city, the county, the state, or any political subdivision is acquired without its consent.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 420.5087, F.S., relating to the State Apartment Incentive Loan (SAIL) Program, to change the reservation requirements for three of the five tenant groups. The set-aside for the persons who are in the homeless tenant group is increased from not less than 5 percent to at least 10 percent. The cap of not "more than 10 percent" for the persons with special needs tenant group is replaced with at least 10 percent. The bill requires that at least 10 percent of SAIL Program funds available must be reserved for four of the five tenant groups. At least 5 percent of available SAIL Program funds must be reserved for the commercial fishing workers and farmworkers tenant group.

Section 2 amends s. 420.622, F.S., relating to the State Office on Homelessness (office) and the Council on Homelessness (council), to:

- Require the office, in coordination with other entities, to produce an inventory of state homeless programs instead of the currently required program and financial plan.
- Require the office to establish a task force to make recommendations related to the implementation of a statewide Homeless Management Information System (HMIS). The task force must make its recommendations to the council by December 31, 2016.
- Require, rather than allow, the office and the council to accept and administer moneys appropriated for annual Challenge Grants.
- Remove the requirement that award levels for Challenge Grants be based upon the total population within the continuum of care catchment area and reflect the differing degrees of homelessness in the catchment planning areas.
- Provide requirements related to expenditures of leveraged funds or resources. These funds may only be used for eligible activities committed on one project which have not been used as leverage or match for any other project.
- Require the office, in conjunction with the council, to establish performance measures and specific objectives to evaluate the performance and outcomes of lead agencies that receive grant funds.
- Require any funding distributed to the lead agencies be based on overall performance and achievement of specified objectives, including the number of persons or households that are no longer homeless, the rate of recidivism to homelessness, and the number of persons who obtain gainful employment.

Section 3 amends s. 420.624, F.S., relating to the local homeless assistance continuum of care (CoC), to require the office and the council to include a methodology for assessing performance and outcomes and data reporting in the CoC plan that communities seeking to implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care are encouraged to develop. The bill also requires Rapid ReHousing to be added to the components of a continuum of care plan.

Section 4 creates s. 420.6265, F.S., relating to Rapid ReHousing, to express legislative intent to encourage homeless continuums of care to adopt the Rapid ReHousing approach to preventing homelessness for individuals and families who do not require the intense level of support provided in the permanent supportive housing model.[39] The bill also statutorily prescribes the Rapid Rehousing Methodology.

Section 5 amends s. 420.9071(26), F.S., relating to the definition of "rent subsidies," to allow initial assistance for tenants, such as grants or loans for security and utility deposits.

Section 6 amends s. 420.9072, F.S., relating to the State Housing Initiatives Partnership (SHIP) Program, to provide that a county or an eligible municipality may not spend its portion of the local housing distribution to provide ongoing rent subsidies with the exception of:

- Security and utility deposit assistance.
- Eviction prevention not to exceed rent for 6 months.
- A rent subsidy program for very-low-income households that meet specified qualifications.

Section 7 amends s. 420.9075, F.S., relating to local housing assistance plans and partnerships, to:

- Add "Lead agencies of local homeless assistance continuums of care" as part of the partnership process to participate in the SHIP Program.
- Add language to encourage eligible municipalities to develop a strategy for providing program funds to reduce homelessness.
- Provide that up to 25 percent of the SHIP Program funds made available in a county or municipality may be reserved for rental housing.
- Require a county or eligible municipality to include a description of efforts to reduce homelessness in the annual report that must be submitted to the FHFC.

Section 8 creates s. 420.9089, F.S., relating to the NHTF, to express legislative intent to encourage the state entity that administers funds from the NHTF to propose an allocation plan that includes strategies to reduce statewide homelessness. The Florida Housing Finance Corporation (FHFC) is the state entity designated by the Governor to administer funds made available to the state from the National Housing Trust Fund (NHTF). The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) will officially release the NHTF grant amount for each state in April 2016.[40] Each state must adopt an Allocation Plan that has been developed through a public process involving citizen participation, and may include strategies to address homelessness.[41] The funding must be used primarily to assist households with specified incomes and 90 percent of the funds must be used to preserve and increase the supply of rental housing.[42]

[39] Permanent supportive housing is for individuals who need long-term housing assistance with supportive services in order to stay housed. Individuals and families living in supportive housing often have long histories of homelessness and face persistent obstacles to maintaining housing, such as a serious mental illness, a substance use disorder, or a chronic medical problem. Many supportive housing tenants face more than one of these serious conditions. See United States Interagency Council on Homelessness, Permanent Supportive Housing, available at https://www.usich.gov/solutions/housing/permanent-supportive-housing (last visited Jan. 21, 2016).

Section 9 amends s. 421.04, F.S., to prohibit housing authorities, regardless of when they were created, from applying to the federal government to acquire through the power of eminent domain any projects, units, or vouchers of another established housing authority, irrespective of each housing authority's area of operation.

Section 10 amends s. 421.05, F.S., to provide that housing authorities are exempt from the provisions of s. 215.425, F.S. Section 215.425, F.S., addresses extra compensation, bonuses, and severance pay.

Section 11 amends s. 421.091, F.S., to exempt housing authorities from reporting requirements of s. 218.32, F.S., which requires each local government to submit an annual financial report for the previous fiscal year to the Department of Financial Services. Housing authorities would still be responsible for submitting a biennial financial accounting and audit, made by a certified public accountant, to the federal government, but would not be required to provide that report to the governing body of the housing authority or the Auditor General.

Section 12 provides an effective date of July 1, 2016.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Subsection (3) of section 420.5087, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

420.5087 State Apartment Incentive Loan Program.—There is hereby created the State Apartment Incentive Loan Program for the purpose of providing first, second, or other subordinated mortgage loans or loan guarantees to sponsors, including for-profit, nonprofit, and public entities, to provide housing affordable to very-low-income persons.

(3) During the first 6 months of loan or loan guarantee availability, program funds shall be reserved for use by sponsors who provide the housing set-aside required in subsection (2) for the tenant groups designated in this subsection. The reservation of funds to each of these groups shall be determined using the most recent statewide very-low-income rental housing market study available at the time of publication of each notice of fund availability required by paragraph (6)(b). The reservation of funds within each notice of fund availability to the tenant groups in paragraphs (b)-(e) ~~(a), (b), and (c)~~ may not be less than 10 percent of the funds available at that time. Any increase in funding required to reach the 10-percent minimum must be taken from the tenant group that has the largest reservation. The reservation of funds within each notice of fund availability to the tenant group in paragraph (a) ~~(c)~~ may not be less than 5 percent of the funds available at that time. ~~The reservation of funds within each notice of fund availability to the tenant group in paragraph (d) may not be more than 10 percent of the funds available at that time.~~ The tenant groups are:

(a) Commercial fishing workers and farmworkers;

(b) Families;

(c) Persons who are homeless;

(d) Persons with special needs; and

(e) Elderly persons. Ten percent of the amount reserved for the elderly shall be reserved to provide loans to sponsors of housing for the elderly for the purpose of making building preservation, health, or sanitation repairs or improvements which are required by federal, state, or local regulation or code, or lifesafety or security-related repairs or improvements to such housing. Such a loan may not exceed $750,000 per housing community for the elderly. In order to receive the loan, the sponsor of the housing community must make a commitment to match at least 5 percent of the loan amount to pay the cost of such repair or improvement. The corporation shall establish the rate of interest on the loan, which may not exceed 3 percent, and the term of the loan, which may not exceed 15 years; however, if the lien of the corporation's encumbrance is subordinate to the lien of another mortgagee, then the term may be made coterminous with the longest term of the superior lien. The term of the loan shall be based on a credit analysis of the applicant. The corporation may forgive indebtedness for a share of the loan attributable to the units in a project reserved for extremely-low-income elderly by nonprofit organizations, as defined in s. 420.0004(5), if ~~where~~ the project has provided affordable housing to the elderly for 15 years or more. The corporation shall establish, by rule, the procedure and criteria for receiving, evaluating, and competitively ranking all applications for loans under this paragraph. A loan application must include evidence of the first mortgagee's having reviewed and approved the sponsor's intent to apply for a loan. A nonprofit organization or sponsor may not use the proceeds of the loan to pay for administrative costs, routine maintenance, or new construction.

Section 2. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (3) and subsections (4), (5), and (6) of section 420.622, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.622 State Office on Homelessness; Council on Homelessness.—

(3) The State Office on Homelessness, pursuant to the policies set by the council and subject to the availability of funding, shall:

(a) Coordinate among state, local, and private agencies and providers to produce a statewide consolidated inventory ~~program and financial plan~~ for the state's entire system of homeless programs which incorporates regionally developed plans. Such programs include, but are not limited to:

1. Programs authorized under the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act of 1987, 42 U.S.C. ss. 11371 et seq., and carried out under funds awarded to this state; and

2. Programs, components thereof, or activities that assist persons who are homeless or at risk for homelessness.

(b) Collect, maintain, and make available information concerning persons who are homeless or at risk for homelessness, including demographics information, current services and resources available, the cost and availability of services and programs, and the met and unmet needs of this population. All entities that receive state funding must provide access to all data they maintain in summary form, with no individual identifying information, to assist the council in providing this information. The State Office on Homelessness shall establish a task force to make recommendations regarding the implementation of a statewide Homeless Management Information System (HMIS). The task force shall define the conceptual framework of such a system; study existing statewide HMIS models; establish an inventory of local HMIS systems, including providers and license capacity; examine the aggregated reporting being provided by local continuums of care; complete an analysis of current continuum of care resources; and provide recommendations on the costs and benefits of implementing a statewide HMIS. The task force shall also make recommendations regarding the development of a statewide, centralized coordinated assessment system in conjunction with the implementation of a statewide HMIS. The task force findings must be reported to the Council on Homelessness no later than December 31, 2016. ~~The council shall explore the potential of creating a statewide Management Information System (MIS), encouraging the future participation of any bodies that are receiving awards or grants from the state, if such a system were adopted, enacted, and accepted by the state.~~

(4) The State Office on Homelessness, with the concurrence of the Council on Homelessness, shall ~~may~~ accept and administer moneys appropriated to it to provide annual "Challenge Grants" to lead agencies of homeless assistance continuums of care designated by the State Office on Homelessness pursuant to s. 420.624. The department shall establish varying levels of grant awards up to $500,000 per lead agency. ~~Award levels shall be based upon the total population within the continuum of care catchment area and reflect the differing degrees of homelessness in the catchment planning areas.~~ The department, in consultation with the Council on Homelessness, shall specify a grant award level in the notice of the solicitation of grant applications.

(a) To qualify for the grant, a lead agency must develop and implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care plan for its designated catchment area. The continuum of care plan must implement a coordinated assessment or central intake system to screen, assess, and refer persons seeking assistance to the appropriate service provider. The lead agency shall also document the commitment of local government and private organizations to provide matching funds or in-kind support in an amount equal to the grant requested. Expenditures of leveraged funds or resources, including third-party cash or in-kind contributions, are permitted only for eligible activities committed on one project which have not been used as leverage or match for any other project or program and must be certified through a written commitment.

(b) Preference must be given to those lead agencies that have demonstrated the ability of their continuum of care to provide quality services to homeless persons and the ability to leverage federal homeless-assistance funding under the Stewart B. McKinney Act and private funding for the provision of services to homeless persons.

(c) Preference must be given to lead agencies in catchment areas with the greatest need for the provision of housing and services to the homeless, relative to the population of the catchment area.

(d) The grant may be used to fund any of the housing, program, or service needs included in the local homeless assistance continuum of care plan. The lead agency may allocate the grant to programs, services, or housing providers that implement the local homeless assistance continuum care plan. The lead agency may provide subgrants to a local agency to implement programs or services or provide housing identified for funding in the lead agency's application to the department. A lead agency may spend a maximum of 8 percent of its funding on administrative costs.

(e) The lead agency shall submit a final report to the department documenting the outcomes achieved by the grant in enabling persons who are homeless to return to permanent housing thereby ending such person's episode of homelessness.

(5) The State Office on Homelessness, with the concurrence of the Council on Homelessness, may administer moneys appropriated to it to provide homeless housing assistance grants annually to lead agencies for local homeless assistance continuum of care, as recognized by the State Office on Homelessness, to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate transitional or permanent housing units for homeless persons. These moneys shall consist of any sums that the state may appropriate, as well as money received from donations, gifts, bequests, or otherwise from any public or private source, which are intended to acquire, construct, or rehabilitate transitional or permanent housing units for homeless persons.

(a) Grant applicants shall be ranked competitively. Preference must be given to applicants who leverage additional private funds and public funds, particularly federal funds designated for the acquisition, construction, or rehabilitation of transitional or permanent housing for homeless persons; who acquire, build, or rehabilitate the greatest number of units; or ~~and~~ who acquire, build, or rehabilitate in catchment areas having the greatest need for housing for the homeless relative to the population of the catchment area.

(b) Funding for any particular project may not exceed $750,000.

(c) Projects must reserve, for a minimum of 10 years, the number of units acquired, constructed, or rehabilitated through homeless housing assistance grant funding to serve persons who are homeless at the time they assume tenancy.

(d) No more than two grants may be awarded annually in any given local homeless assistance continuum of care catchment area.

(e) A project may not be funded which is not included in the local homeless assistance continuum of care plan, as recognized by the State Office on Homelessness, for the catchment area in which the project is located.

(f) The maximum percentage of funds that the State Office on Homelessness and each applicant may spend on administrative costs is 5 percent.

(6) The State Office on Homelessness, in conjunction with the Council on Homelessness, shall establish performance measures and specific objectives by which it may ~~to~~ evaluate the ~~effective~~ performance and outcomes of lead agencies that receive grant funds. Any funding through the State Office on Homelessness shall be distributed to lead agencies based on their overall performance and their achievement of specified objectives. Each lead agency for which grants are made under this section shall provide the State Office on Homelessness a thorough evaluation of the effectiveness of the program in achieving its stated purpose. In evaluating the performance of the lead agencies, the State Office on Homelessness shall base its criteria upon the program objectives, goals, and priorities that were set forth by the lead agencies in their proposals for funding. Such criteria may include, but not be limited to, the number of persons or households that are no longer homeless, the rate of recidivism to homelessness, and the number of persons who obtain gainful employment ~~homeless individuals provided shelter, food, counseling, and job training~~.

Section 3. Subsections (3), (7), and (8) of section 420.624, Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.624 Local homeless assistance continuum of care.—

(3) Communities or regions seeking to implement a local homeless assistance continuum of care are encouraged to develop and annually update a written plan that includes a vision for the continuum of care, an assessment of the supply of and demand for housing and services for the homeless population, and specific strategies and processes for providing the components of the continuum of care. The State Office on Homelessness, in conjunction with the Council on Homelessness, shall include in the plan a methodology for assessing performance and outcomes. The State Office on Homelessness shall supply a standardized format for written plans, including the reporting of data.

(7) The components of a continuum of care plan should include:

(a) Outreach, intake, and assessment procedures in order to identify the service and housing needs of an individual or family and to link them with appropriate housing, services, resources, and opportunities;

(b) Emergency shelter, in order to provide a safe, decent alternative to living in the streets;

(c) Transitional housing;

(d) Supportive services, designed to assist with the development of the skills necessary to secure and retain permanent housing;

(e) Permanent supportive housing;

(f) Rapid ReHousing, as specified in s. 420.6265;

(g) ~~(f)~~ Permanent housing;

(h) ~~(g)~~ Linkages and referral mechanisms among all components to facilitate the movement of individuals and families toward permanent housing and self-sufficiency;

(i) ~~(h)~~ Services and resources to prevent housed persons from becoming or returning to homelessness; and

(j) ~~(i)~~ An ongoing planning mechanism to address the needs of all subgroups of the homeless population, including but not limited to:

1. Single adult males;
2. Single adult females;
3. Families with children;
4. Families with no children;
5. Unaccompanied children and youth;
6. Elderly persons;
7. Persons with drug or alcohol addictions;
8. Persons with mental illness;
9. Persons with dual or multiple physical or mental disorders;
10. Victims of domestic violence; and
11. Persons living with HIV/AIDS.

(8) Continuum of care plans must promote participation by all interested individuals and organizations and may not exclude individuals and organizations on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, handicap, familial status, or religion. Faith-based organizations must be encouraged to participate. To the extent possible, these components must ~~should~~ be coordinated and integrated with other mainstream health, social services, and employment programs for which homeless populations may be eligible, including Medicaid, State Children's Health Insurance Program, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, Food Assistance Program, and services funded through the Mental Health and Substance Abuse Block Grant, the Workforce Investment Act, and the welfare-to-work grant program.

Section 4. Section 420.6265, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

420.6265 Rapid ReHousing.—

(1) LEGISLATIVE FINDINGS AND INTENT.—

(a) The Legislature finds that Rapid ReHousing is a strategy of using temporary financial assistance and case management to quickly move an individual or family out of homelessness and into permanent housing.

(b) The Legislature also finds that public and private solutions to homelessness in the past have focused on providing individuals and families who are experiencing homelessness with emergency shelter, transitional housing, or a combination of both. While emergency shelter and transitional housing programs may provide critical access to services for individuals and families in crisis, the programs often fail to address their long-term needs.

(c) The Legislature further finds that most households become homeless as a result of a financial crisis that prevents individuals and families from paying rent or a domestic conflict that results in one member being ejected or leaving without resources or a plan for housing.

(d) The Legislature further finds that Rapid ReHousing is an alternative approach to the current system of emergency shelter or transitional housing which tends to reduce the length of time a person is homeless and has proven to be cost effective.

(e) It is therefore the intent of the Legislature to encourage homeless continuums of care to adopt the Rapid ReHousing approach to preventing homelessness for individuals and families who do not require the intense level of supports provided in the permanent supportive housing model.

(2) RAPID REHOUSING METHODOLOGY.—

(a) The Rapid ReHousing response to homelessness differs from traditional approaches to addressing homelessness by focusing on each individual's or family's barriers to housing. By using this approach, communities can significantly reduce the amount of time that individuals and families are homeless and prevent further episodes of homelessness.

(b) In Rapid ReHousing, an individual or family is identified as being homeless, temporary assistance is provided to allow the individual or family to obtain permanent housing as quickly as possible, and, if needed, assistance is provided to allow the individual or family to retain housing.

(c) The objective of Rapid ReHousing is to provide assistance for as short a term as possible so that the individual or family receiving assistance does not develop a dependency on the assistance.

Section 5. Subsections (25) and (26) of section 420.9071,

Florida Statutes, are amended to read:

420.9071 Definitions.—As used in ss. 420.907-420.9079, the term:

(25) "Recaptured funds" means funds that are recouped by a county or eligible municipality in accordance with the recapture provisions of its local housing assistance plan pursuant to s. 420.9075(5)(i) ~~s. 420.9075(5)(h)~~ from eligible persons or eligible sponsors, which funds were not used for assistance to an eligible household for an eligible activity, when there is a default on the terms of a grant award or loan award.

(26) "Rent subsidies" means ongoing monthly rental assistance. ~~The term does not include initial assistance to tenants, such as grants or loans for security and utility deposits.~~

Section 6. Subsection (7) of section 420.9072, Florida Statutes, is amended, present subsections (8) and (9) of that section are redesignated as subsections (9) and (10), respectively, and a new subsection (8) is added to that section, to read:

420.9072 State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program.—The State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program is created for the purpose of providing funds to counties and eligible municipalities as an incentive for the creation of local housing partnerships, to expand production of and preserve affordable housing, to further the housing element of the local government comprehensive plan specific to affordable housing, and to increase housing-related employment.

(7) A county or an eligible municipality must expend its portion of the local housing distribution only to implement a local housing assistance plan or as provided in this subsection. ~~A county or an eligible municipality may not expend its portion of the local housing distribution to provide rent subsidies; however, this does not prohibit the use of funds for security and utility deposit assistance.~~

(8) A county or an eligible municipality may not expend its portion of the local housing distribution to provide ongoing rent subsidies, except for:

(a) Security and utility deposit assistance.

(b) Eviction prevention not to exceed 6 months' rent.

(c) A rent subsidy program for very-low-income households with at least one adult who is a person with special needs as defined in s. 420.0004 or homeless as defined in s. 420.621. The period of rental assistance may not exceed 12 months for any eligible household.

Section 7. Paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section 420.9075, Florida Statutes, is amended, paragraph (f) is added to subsection (3) of that section, subsection (5) of that section is amended, and paragraph (i) is added to subsection (10) of that section, to read:

420.9075 Local housing assistance plans; partnerships.—

(2)(a) Each county and each eligible municipality participating in the State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program shall encourage the involvement of appropriate public sector and private sector entities as partners in order to combine resources to reduce housing costs for the targeted population. This partnership process should involve:

1. Lending institutions.

2. Housing builders and developers.

3. Nonprofit and other community-based housing and service organizations.

4. Providers of professional services relating to affordable housing.

5. Advocates for low-income persons, including, but not limited to, homeless people, the elderly, and migrant farmworkers.

6. Real estate professionals.

7. Other persons or entities who can assist in providing housing or related support services.

8. Lead agencies of local homeless assistance continuums of care.

(3)

(f) Each county and each eligible municipality is encouraged to develop a strategy within its local housing assistance plan which provides program funds for reducing homelessness.

(5) The following criteria apply to awards made to eligible sponsors or eligible persons for the purpose of providing eligible housing:

(a) At least 65 percent of the funds made available in each county and eligible municipality from the local housing distribution must be reserved for home ownership for eligible persons.

(b) Up to 25 percent of the funds made available in each county and eligible municipality from the local housing distribution may be reserved for rental housing for eligible persons or for the purposes enumerated in s. 420.9072(8).

(c) ~~(b)~~ At least 75 percent of the funds made available in each county and eligible municipality from the local housing distribution must be reserved for construction, rehabilitation, or emergency repair of affordable, eligible housing.

(d) ~~(c)~~ Not more than 20 percent of the funds made available in each county and eligible municipality from the local housing distribution may be used for manufactured housing.

(e) ~~(d)~~ The sales price or value of new or existing eligible housing may not exceed 90 percent of the average area purchase price in the statistical area in which the eligible housing is located. Such average area purchase price may be that calculated for any 12-month period beginning not earlier than the fourth calendar year before ~~prior to~~ the year in which the award occurs or as otherwise established by the United States Department of the Treasury.

(f) ~~(c)~~ 1. All units constructed, rehabilitated, or otherwise assisted with the funds provided from the local housing assistance trust fund must be occupied by very-low-income persons, low-income persons, and moderate-income persons except as otherwise provided in this section.

2. At least 30 percent of the funds deposited into the local housing assistance trust fund must be reserved for awards to very-low-income persons or eligible sponsors who will serve very-low-income persons and at least an additional 30 percent of the funds deposited into the local housing assistance trust fund must be reserved for awards to low-income persons or eligible sponsors who will serve low-income persons. This subparagraph does not apply to a county or an eligible municipality that includes, or has included within the previous 5 years, an area of critical state concern designated or ratified by the Legislature for which the Legislature has declared its intent to provide affordable housing. The exemption created by this act expires on July 1, 2013, and shall apply retroactively.

(g) ~~(f)~~ Loans shall be provided for periods not exceeding 30 years, except for deferred payment loans or loans that extend beyond 30 years which continue to serve eligible persons.

(h) ~~(g)~~ Loans or grants for eligible rental housing constructed, rehabilitated, or otherwise assisted from the local housing assistance trust fund must be subject to recapture requirements as provided by the county or eligible municipality in its local housing assistance plan unless reserved for eligible persons for 15 years or the term of the assistance, whichever period is longer. Eligible sponsors that offer rental housing for sale before 15 years or that have remaining mortgages funded under this program must give a first right of refusal to eligible nonprofit organizations for purchase at the current market value for continued occupancy by eligible persons.

(i) ~~(h)~~ Loans or grants for eligible owner-occupied housing constructed, rehabilitated, or otherwise assisted from proceeds provided from the local housing assistance trust fund shall be subject to recapture requirements as provided by the county or eligible municipality in its local housing assistance plan.

(j) ~~(i)~~ The total amount of monthly mortgage payments or the amount of monthly rent charged by the eligible sponsor or her or his designee must be made affordable.

(k) ~~(j)~~ The maximum sales price or value per unit and the maximum award per unit for eligible housing benefiting from awards made pursuant to this section must be established in the local housing assistance plan.

(l) ~~(k)~~ The benefit of assistance provided through the State Housing Initiatives Partnership Program must accrue to eligible persons occupying eligible housing. This provision shall not be construed to prohibit use of the local housing distribution funds for a mixed income rental development.

(m) ~~(l)~~ Funds from the local housing distribution not used to meet the criteria established in paragraph (a) or paragraph (c) ~~(b)~~ or not used for the administration of a local housing assistance plan must be used for housing production and finance activities, including, but not limited to, financing preconstruction activities or the purchase of existing units, providing rental housing, and providing home ownership training to prospective home buyers and owners of homes assisted through the local housing assistance plan.

1. Notwithstanding ~~the provisions of~~ paragraphs (a) and (c) ~~(b)~~, program income as defined in s. 420.9071(24) may also be used to fund activities described in this paragraph.

2. When preconstruction due-diligence activities conducted as part of a preservation strategy show that preservation of the units is not feasible and will not result in the production of an eligible unit, such costs shall be deemed a program expense rather than an administrative expense if such program expenses do not exceed 3 percent of the annual local housing distribution.

3. If both an award under the local housing assistance plan and federal low-income housing tax credits are used to assist a project and there is a conflict between the criteria prescribed in this subsection and the requirements of s. 42 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, the county or eligible municipality may resolve the conflict by giving precedence to the requirements of s. 42 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, in lieu of following the criteria prescribed in this subsection with the exception of paragraphs (a) and (f) ~~(e)~~ of this subsection.

4. Each county and each eligible municipality may award funds as a grant for construction, rehabilitation, or repair as part of disaster recovery or emergency repairs or to remedy accessibility or health and safety deficiencies. Any other grants must be approved as part of the local housing assistance plan.

(10) Each county or eligible municipality shall submit to the corporation by September 15 of each year a report of its affordable housing programs and accomplishments through June 30 immediately preceding submittal of the report. The report shall be certified as accurate and complete by the local government's chief elected official or his or her designee. Transmittal of the annual report by a county's or eligible municipality's chief elected official, or his or her designee, certifies that the local housing incentive strategies, or, if applicable, the local housing incentive plan, have been implemented or are in the process of being implemented pursuant to the adopted schedule for implementation. The report must include, but is not limited to:

(i) A description of efforts to reduce homelessness.

Section 8. Section 420.9089, Florida Statutes, is created to read:

420.9089 National Housing Trust Fund.—The Legislature finds that more funding for housing to assist the homeless is needed and encourages the state entity designated to administer funds made available to the state from the National Housing Trust Fund to propose an allocation plan that includes strategies to reduce homelessness in this state. These strategies to address homelessness shall be in addition to strategies under s. 420.5087.

Section 9. Subsection (4) is added to section 421.04, Florida Statutes, to read:

421.04 Creation of housing authorities.—

(4) Regardless of the date of its creation, a housing authority may not apply to the Federal Government to seize any projects, units, or vouchers of another established housing authority, irrespective of each housing authority's areas of operation.

Section 10. Subsection (2) of section 421.05, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

421.05 Appointment, qualifications, and tenure of commissioners; hiring of employees.—

(2) The powers of each authority shall be vested in the commissioners thereof in office from time to time. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum of the authority for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers and for all other purposes. Action may be taken by the authority upon a vote of a majority of the commissioners present, unless in any case the bylaws of the authority require a larger number. The mayor with the concurrence of the governing body shall designate ~~which of the commissioners appointed shall be~~ the first chair from among the appointed commissioners, but when the office of the chair of the authority thereafter becomes vacant, the authority shall select a chair from among the ~~its~~ commissioners. An authority shall also select from among the ~~its~~ commissioners a vice chair~~,~~ ~~;~~ and it may employ a secretary, who shall be the executive director, technical experts, and such other officers, agents, and employees, permanent and temporary, as it may require and shall determine their qualifications, duties, and compensation. Accordingly, authorities are exempt from s. 215.425. ~~For such legal services as it may require,~~ An authority may call upon the chief law officer of the city or may employ its own counsel and legal staff for legal services. An authority may delegate to one or more of its agents or employees such powers or duties as it may deem proper.

Section 11. Subsection (1) of section 421.091, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

421.091 Financial accounting and investments; fiscal year.—

(1) A complete and full financial accounting and audit in accordance with federal audit standards of public housing agencies shall be made biennially by a certified public accountant and submitted to the Federal Government in accordance with its policies. Housing authorities are otherwise exempt from the reporting requirements of s. 218.32. ~~A copy of such audit shall be filed with the governing body and with the Auditor General.~~

Section 12. This act shall take effect July 1, 2016.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1538 requires each state agency and authorizes the political subdivisions of the state to develop and implement a written veterans recruitment plan to establish annual goals for ensuring the full use of veterans in the agency's or political subdivision's workforce.

The bill requires the Department of Management Services (DMS) to annually collect and publish on its website and include in its annual workforce report statistical data for each state agency on the following:

- The number of persons who claim veterans' preference;
- The number of persons who are hired through the veterans' preference; and
- The number of persons who are hired as a result of the veterans' recruitment plan.

The bill requires each veterans' recruitment plan to apply to the same veterans and veterans' family members that are addressed in the Florida law governing veterans' preference in appointment and retention.

This bill has an indeterminate fiscal impact to the state. See Section V.

The effective date of the bill is October 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Veteran Presence in Florida

The law defines the term "veteran" as a person who served in the active military, naval, or air service and who was discharged or released under honorable conditions, or who later received an upgraded discharge under honorable conditions.[1] Currently, there are 21.8 million veterans in the United States, of which, over 1.6 million reside in Florida.[2] This makes Florida the state with the third largest veteran population, behind only California and Texas.[3] Approximately 299,000 of Florida's veterans are service-disabled.[4]

Florida's overall unemployment rate for calendar year 2014 was 6.3 percent.[5] The unemployment rate among Florida veterans was five percent compared to 5.3 percent nationally.[6] The unemployment rate among Florida Post-9/11 era veterans averaged 4.8 percent compared to 7.2 percent nationally.[7]

Veterans' Preference in Employment

Florida law has included some form of veterans' employment preference since 1947.[8] The purpose of the veterans' preference statute is to reward those who served their country in a time of need and to recognize the qualities and traits developed by military service.[9] In 2014, the Legislature expanded Florida's veterans' preference in the public employment process to increase the field of persons eligible for veterans' preference to include all veterans, Florida National Guard members, reservists, and Gold Star parents and legal guardians.[10] In addition, beginning in 2014, private sector employers in Florida were authorized to establish a veterans' preference process for honorably discharged veterans and certain spouses.[11]

Currently, Florida law does not provide a policy for state agencies concerning the recruitment of employees who are veterans. However, the law specifically requires all state government entities, counties, cities, towns, villages, special tax school districts, and special districts (government employers) to grant employment preference in hiring and retention to certain veterans, and family members of certain military servicemembers and veterans.[12] All advertisements and written job announcements must include notice that veterans and eligible family members receive preference in employment and are encouraged to apply for the position.[13]

Florida's veterans' preference in employment statutes does not require a government employer to hire a veteran over a more qualified non-veteran.[14] In addition, a potential government employer is not required to pass a person who is eligible for veterans' preference through the screening process if he or she does not meet the minimum qualifications for the position.[15]

Persons Eligible for Veterans' Preference and Exceptions

Pursuant to s. 295.07, F.S., the following persons are eligible to claim veterans' employment preference:[16]

- A disabled veteran who has served on active duty in any branch of the Armed Forces and who presently has an existing service-connected disability which is compensable under public laws administered by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) or is receiving compensation, disability retirement benefits, or pension by reason of public laws administered by the DVA and the United States Department of Defense.
- The spouse of a veteran:
  - Who has a total and permanent service-connected disability and who, because of this disability, cannot qualify for employment; or
  - Who is missing in action, captured in line of duty by a hostile force, or detained or interned in line of duty by a foreign government or power.
- A veteran of any war, who has served at least one day during that war time period as defined in subsection s. 1.01(14), F.S., or who has been awarded a campaign or expeditionary medal. (Active duty for training is not allowed for eligibility under this provision.)
- The unremarried widow or widower of a veteran who died of a service-connected disability.
- The mother, father, legal guardian, or unremarried widow or widower of a service member who died as a result of military service under combat-related conditions.
- A veteran as defined in s. 1.01(14), F.S.
- A current member of any reserve component of the U.S. Armed Forces or the Florida National Guard.

Florida law exempts the following government positions from the veterans' preference requirements:[17]

- Positions that are exempt from the state Career Service System, including certain legislative branch personnel, judicial branch personnel, and personnel of the Office of the Governor; however, all positions under the University Support Personnel System of the State University [12] Section 295.07(1), F.S., requires the state and political subdivisions of the state to comply with veterans' preference requirements. Section 1.01, F.S., defines "political subdivision" as "counties, cities, towns, villages, special tax school districts, special road and bridge districts, and all other districts in the state.

System as well as all Career Service System positions under the Florida College System and the School for the Deaf and the Blind are included;
- Positions in political subdivisions of the state which are filled by officers elected by popular vote or persons appointed to fill vacancies in such offices and the personal secretary of each officer;
- Members of boards and commissions;
- Persons employed on a temporary basis without benefits;
- Heads of departments;
- Positions that require licensure as a physician, licensure as an osteopathic physician, or licensure as a chiropractic physician; and
- Positions that require membership in the Florida Bar.

Veterans' Preference Applied when Examination Determines Qualification for Employment

If an examination is used to determine qualification for employment, points are added to the final examination score as follows:[18]

Veterans' Preference Beneficiary	Preference Points
Disabled Veteran	15
Spouse of Person With Total Disability, Missing in Action, Captured in Line of Duty, Etc.	15
Wartime Veteran	10
Un-remarried widow/widower of Person Who Died of a Service-Connected Disability	10
Gold Star Family	10
Veteran	5
National Guard/Reserve	5

In order for points to be awarded, the applicant must first obtain a qualifying score on the examination.[19]

Florida law requires each government employer to enter the names of persons eligible for preference on an appropriate register or list in accordance with their respective ratings.[20] For most positions, the names of all persons qualified to receive a fifteen-point preference whose service-connected disabilities have been rated to be 30 percent or more must be placed at the top of the appropriate register or employment list, in accordance with their respective ratings.[21] A Florida court determined that this provision gives an absolute preference for veterans to be placed at the top of the employment list only if the candidate has a 30 percent or more disability rating.[22]

However, the court further declared that there are no statutory provisions suggesting that veterans receiving a five or ten point exam score augmentation must be hired over more qualified non-veterans.[23]

Veterans' Preference Applied when Examination Does Not Determine Qualification for Employment

If an examination is not used to determine qualifications for a position, preference is given as follows: [24]

- First preference is given to disabled veterans and the spouses of veterans who have a total and permanent service-connected disability or who are missing in action, captured in line of duty by a hostile force, or detained or interned in line of duty by a foreign government or power; and
- Second preference is given to a veteran of any war; the unremarried widow or widower of a veteran who died of a service connected disability; the mother, father, legal guardian, or unremarried widow or widower of a service member who died as a result of military service under combat-related conditions; a veteran as defined in section s. 1.01(14), F.S., and a current member of any reserve component of the U.S. Armed Forces or the Florida National Guard.

State Government Veterans' Preference Provision

With respect to non-exempt positions in the state's career service system, Florida law requires the state to grant a preference in hiring and retention to an eligible person if the eligible person meets the minimum eligibility requirements for the position and has the knowledge, skills, and abilities required for the position.[25] A disabled veteran employed as the result of being placed at the top of the appropriate employment list must be appointed for a probationary period of one year.[26] At the end of one year, if the disabled veteran's performance is satisfactory, the veteran will acquire permanent employment status and will be subject to the employment rules of the DMS and the veteran's employing agency.[27]

State Equal Employment Policy

Section 110.112, F.S., declares that the policy of the state is to afford equal employment opportunities through programs of affirmative and positive action allowing for the full utilization of women and minorities. Each executive agency is required to develop and implement an affirmative action plan; [28] establish annual goals in its affirmative action plan for ensuring full utilization of groups underrepresented in the agency's workforce as compared to the relevant labor market; [29] and appoint an affirmative action-equal employment opportunity officer.[30]

Section 110.201(5), F.S., requires the DMS to develop an annual workforce report that contains data representative of the state's human resources.[31] The DMS is also required to include in its annual workforce report information relating to each executive agency's affirmative action plan.[32]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill amends s. 295.07, F.S., to require each state agency and authorize political subdivisions of the state to develop and implement a written veterans' recruitment plan to establish annual goals for ensuring the full use of veterans in the agency's or political subdivision's workforce. These veterans' recruitment plans apply to veterans and their family members who are eligible for veterans' employment preference identified in s. 295.07(1), F.S.

The bill requires the DMS to annually collect and publish on its website and include in its annual workforce report statistical data for each state agency on the following:

- The number of persons who claim veterans' preference;
- The number of persons who are hired through the veterans' preference; and
- The number of persons who are hired as a result of the veterans' recruitment plan.

The bill also updates cross references in ss. 295.085 and 295.09, F.S.

The bill takes effect on October 1, 2016.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

CS/SB 1538 may provide a positive fiscal impact to veterans in the state. Recruiting veterans to the state's government workforce will likely increase the number of veterans that obtain gainful employment.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill has an indeterminate negative fiscal impact to the state and local governments. The cost for state agencies to develop and implement a veterans' recruitment plan is unknown but most likely insignificant and may be handled within existing resources.

The fiscal impact to the DMS is indeterminate. The cost for the DMS to collect the required statistical data for all state agencies, annually update the data on its website, and include the data in its annual workforce report is unknown, but may be insignificant. In addition, the DMS states the bill may require People First programming modifications in order to capture the specified data.[33] These additional costs could be handled within existing resources or requested in the agency's legislative budget request.

Allowing each political subdivision of the state to develop and implement a written veterans' recruitment plan may create an indeterminate negative fiscal impact to these political subdivisions. However, this is an authorization for the political subdivisions to do so, not a requirement.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 295.07, 295.085, and 295.09.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 1604 updates the Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act (Act) to bring it into conformity with the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act (federal act). Recent amendments to the federal act preempted Florida's regulatory structure. The bill replaces provisions relating to pedigree papers with federal requirements for a transaction history, transaction information, or transaction statement for certain recordkeeping for the manufacture and distribution of prescription drugs. Certain activities are exempted from the definition of wholesale distribution in order to conform regulatory oversight in Florida to the federal regulatory scheme.

The bill provides for administrative efficiencies and cost savings for:

- Initial and renewal permitting for prescription drug wholesale distributors and out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributors by eliminating the distinction between primary and secondary wholesalers and the supplemental information required of a secondary wholesaler for permitting;
- Allowing certain key personnel to submit an affidavit that information submitted on a previous personal statement remains unchanged;
- Modifying the requirement for a surety bond; and
- Authorizing the Department of Business and Professional Regulation (DBPR) to contract with a vendor or enter into interagency agreements for electronic fingerprinting.

The bill establishes a nonresident prescription drug repackager permit, along with the requirement to obtain such a permit if a repackager located outside the state distributes its repackaged prescription drugs into the state. This repackager is also required to comply with provisions applicable to prescription drug manufacturers. The DBPR must establish a virtual prescription drug manufacturer permit and a virtual out-of-state prescription drug manufacturer permit for manufacturers that do not physically manufacture and possess their prescription drugs.

The DBPR is also authorized to issue non-disciplinary citations for violations of the Act for which there is no substantial threat to the public health, safety, or welfare.

The bill has an indeterminate, but most likely insignificant, fiscal impact on state funds.

This bill is effective July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act (Act) is found in ch. 499, F.S. The purpose of the Act is to safeguard the public health and promote the public welfare by protecting the public from injury by product use and by merchandising deceit involving drugs, devices, and cosmetics. The DBPR is responsible for regulating and enforcing the Act and is specifically charged with administering and enforcing the Act to prevent fraud, adulteration, misbranding, or false advertising in the preparation, manufacture, repackaging, or distribution of drugs, devices, and cosmetics.[1]

In 2003, the Legislature enacted the Prescription Drug Protection Act,[2] which put in place strong safeguards for the distribution of prescription drugs in, into, and from this state. This legislation was predicated on the findings and recommendations of the report of the Seventeenth Statewide Grand Jury in its First Interim Report to the Legislature.[3] That grand jury was called to examine, among other matters, the safety of prescription drugs in Florida. In particular, they examined the situation concerning the sale and re-sale of prescription drugs in the wholesale market.

The Prescription Drug Protection Act required prescription drug wholesalers to provide pedigree papers (a transaction history for tracing a prescription drug through the market) for the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs, strengthened permitting requirements for prescription drug wholesale distributors, especially for wholesale distributors that did not purchase directly from drug manufacturers (referred to as secondary wholesalers), and established significant criminal penalties for prescription drug violations related to counterfeiting and diversion.

In 2013, the Drug Quality and Security Act (DQSA) amended the federal act. The DQSA established a uniform national policy for product tracing and other requirements relating to the prescription drug supply chain. The DQSA expressly preempted states from establishing or continuing in effect any requirements for tracing products through the distribution system which are inconsistent with, more stringent than, or in addition to, any requirement applicable under DQSA. The preemption also included prohibiting states from establishing or continuing any standards, requirements, or regulations with respect to wholesale prescription drug distributor or third-party logistics provider licensure that are inconsistent with, less stringent than, directly related to, or covered by the standards and requirements of the DQSA.[4]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 499.003, F.S., to revise definitions to conform to the changes made to the Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act in this bill. New definitions are provided for: "active pharmaceutical ingredient"[5] and "affiliate." The following definitions are repealed: "affiliated group," "authenticate," "drop shipment," "normal distribution chain," "pedigree paper," "primary wholesale distributor," and "secondary wholesale distributor." The following definitions are substantially revised:

- "Distribute" means to sell, purchase, trade, deliver, handle, store, or receive. The term does not mean to administer or dispense. Deleted from the definition is the concept of offering to perform any of these activities and the method of distribution, i.e., by passage of title, physical movement, or both. The exemption for billing and invoicing activities is also deleted from the definition, but is addressed as an exception to the definition of wholesale distribution.
- "Manufacturer" is reworded to more accurately describe co-licensed partners and private label distributors. Third party logistics (TPL) providers are deleted from the definition.
- "Wholesale distribution" is clarified that the term includes both the distribution to a person and the receipt by a person, of a prescription drug, other than the consumer or patient. The exceptions to wholesale distribution are expanded and revised. Drug shortages not caused by a public health emergency are not deemed an emergency medical reason for the distribution of a prescription drug by a retail pharmacy. This provision is found in rule, but is now specifically addressed in statute. New exclusions from the definition of wholesale distribution include:
  - Intracompany distribution between members of an affiliate or within a manufacturer;
  - Distribution of a prescription drug by the manufacturer of that prescription drug;
  - Distribution of a prescription drug by a TPL provider in accordance with state and federal law if the TPL provider does not own the drug;
  - Distribution of, or offer to distribute, a prescription drug by an repackager that is registered under the federal act that owned or possessed the drug and which repackaged it;
  - The purchase or other acquisition by a dispenser, hospital, or other health care entity for use by that dispenser, hospital, or other health care entity;
  - Distribution of a prescription drug for the purpose of repacking the drug owned by a hospital for the hospital's use or other health care entity that is under common control with the hospital;
  - Distribution of minimal quantities of prescription drugs by a retail pharmacy to a licensed practitioner for office use in compliance with the Florida Pharmacy Act and its rules;
  - Distribution of an intravenous prescription drug that is intended for replenishment of fluids and electrolytes, or to maintain the equilibrium of water and minerals in the body;
  - Distribution of a prescription drug that is intended for irrigation or sterile water;
  - Distribution of exempt medical convenience kits;

[4] See sec. 585 of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.
[5] The definition of "active pharmaceutical ingredient" is moved from within the definition of "drug."

  - Transport by a common carrier if it does not own the prescription drug;
  - Saleable returns when conducted by a dispenser;
  - Facilitating the distribution of a prescription drug by providing solely administrative services;
  - Distribution of a specially-priced or donated prescription drug by a charitable organization to a licensed health care practitioner, health care clinic permitted pursuant to the Act, or to the Department of Health (DOH) or other governmental health care entity for providing emergency medical services, if the distributor and recipient receive no direct or indirect financial benefit other than tax benefits for charitable contributions; and
  - Distribution of a medical gas in compliance with part III of the Act.
- "Wholesale distributor" means a person other than a manufacturer, a manufacturer's co-licensed partner, a TPL provider, or a repackager, who is engaged in wholesale distribution.

Sections 2, 3, 4, and 20 amend s. 499.005, F.S., relating to prohibited acts; s. 499.0051, F.S., relating to criminal acts; s. 499.006, F.S., relating to adulterated drug or device; and s. 921.0022, F.S., relating to the criminal punishment code. The bill removes references to Florida's pedigree requirements throughout chapter 499, F.S. In addition, the bill replaces the references to "pedigree papers" with references to "transaction history", "transaction information", or "transaction statement" to conform to federal requirements, the federal pre-emption of individual state regulation pertaining to certain recordkeeping for the manufacture and distribution of prescription drugs, and changes made by this bill.

Section 5 amends s. 499.01, F.S., relating to permits to:
- Add a nonresident prescription drug repackager permit. This permit is required for any person located outside Florida but within the United States or its territories that repackages prescription drugs and distributes them into Florida. This permittee is required to comply with all provisions and rules that are applicable to prescription drug manufacturers and must be registered as a drug establishment with the federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA).
- Require the DBPR to adopt rules for issuing a virtual prescription drug manufacturer permit and virtual nonresident prescription drug manufacturer permit to a person that manufactures prescription drugs but does not make or take physical possession of any prescription drugs, for example when a contract manufacturer is used. Because these manufacturers do not possess prescription drugs, the DBPR is authorized to exempt them by rule from certain establishment, security, and storage requirements.
- Delete the $100,000 security bond requirement for prescription drug wholesalers and out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler; however a similar, less costly requirement is added to s. 499.012, F.S.
- Require an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler, a TPL provider, or a nonresident prescription drug manufacturer distributing prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredients into the state for the manufacture of an approved drug or biologic, which is not licensed by its resident state, to be licensed or registered under the federal act and for the recipient in Florida to maintain documentation of the supplier's compliance.
- Conform requirements of various permits to the repeal of the pedigree paper requirements.
- Remove the restriction that the exemption from permitting for a nonresident prescription drug manufacturer to distribute prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredients for research is applicable only if the distributions are in limited quantities, require that the label of a prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredient bear specific caution statement terminology, and require that a prescription drug manufacturer that obtains an active pharmaceutical ingredient from an exempt manufacturer maintain certain records detailing the specific clinical trials or biostudies for which the ingredient was obtained.

- Exempt a restricted prescription drug distributor that repackages and distributes a prescription drug to a not-for-profit rural hospital from compliance with current state and federal current good manufacturing practices relating to repackaging. Alternate provisions are made for the labeling of those prescription drugs.

Section 6 amends s. 499.012, F.S., relating to permit application requirements to:

- Clarify that a prescription drug manufacturer permit may be issued to the same address as a licensed nuclear pharmacy, even if the nuclear pharmacy holds a special sterile compounding permit under the Florida Pharmacy Act.
- Authorize the Department of Business and Professional Regulation (DBPR) to issue a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor permit to the address of a community pharmacy, even if the community pharmacy holds a special sterile compounding permit, as long as the community pharmacy is not a closed pharmacy.
- Provide that applications pending resolution of a deficiency after two years from the time the DBPR notified the applicant of the deficiency automatically expire.
- Require the DBPR to maintain trade secret information submitted in an application as trade secret.
- Authorize the issuance of four-year permits on selected permit types identified in rule.
- Authorize the DBPR to send a permit renewal notification at least 90 days before the expiration date of all permits which conspicuously notes the expiration date of the permit and that the establishment may not operate unless the permit is renewed timely. The renewal notification will eliminate the costs associated with sending the renewal application.
- For a prescription drug wholesale distributor or out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor permit:
    - Require a $100 delinquent fee for a renewal application that is submitted later than 45 days prior to the permit's expiration date.
    - Substitute submission of the applicant's gross annual receipts attributable to prescription drug wholesale distribution activities for the previous tax year in lieu of more extensive information pertaining to prescription drug sales during certain intermediate timeframes and annually, purchases directly from manufacturers for renewal permits, and estimated information for new applicants.
    - Allow a surety bond issued in this state or any other state or other equivalent security such as an irrevocable letter of credit, or a deposit in a trust account or financial institution, which includes the state as a beneficiary, to satisfy the bond requirement. The amount of the surety bond is tiered based on the applicant's annual gross receipts. A bond of $100,000 is applicable if the annual gross receipts of the applicant's previous tax year is over $10 million, or $25,000 if the annual gross receipts is $10 million or less.
    - Repeal the additional information required to be submitted by secondary wholesalers (wholesalers that did not purchase directly from manufacturers) since the concept of primary wholesale distributor and secondary wholesale distributor is eliminated in this bill.

- Require proof of establishment inspection by the DBPR, the FDA, or another governmental entity. The DBPR may recognize the inspection conducted by another state if that state's laws are substantially equivalent to the laws in Florida.
- Authorize the DBPR to contract with a vendor or enter into interagency agreements to handle electronic fingerprinting.
- Streamline the renewal requirements for the submission of a personal information statement for certain key individuals by allowing submission of a certification under oath that the most recently submitted statement submitted to the DBPR remains unchanged.

Section 7 amends s. 499.01201, F.S., to make conforming changes by removing obsolete references to the pedigree statutes in ch. 499, F.S.

Section 8 amends s. 499.0121, F.S., relating to the storage and handling of prescription drugs to conform changes associated with the repeal of the pedigree paper requirements and to include standards for active pharmaceutical ingredients that apply to other prescription drugs. This section is also amended to increase the number of unit doses, from 5,000 to 7,500 unit doses, of any one controlled substance that may be ordered during a one-month period before triggering an assessment by the wholesaler as to whether the purchase of that controlled substance is reasonable.

Section 9 amends s. 499.015, F.S., relating to registration of drugs, devices, and cosmetics to synchronize the expiration date of product registrations with the expiration date of the applicable manufacturing or repacking permit.

Section 13 amends s. 499.066, F.S., relating to penalties, to authorize the DBPR to adopt rules identifying low-risk violations of the act and applicable penalties, including monetary assessments and other remedial measures, for which a non-disciplinary citation may be issued. The person to whom a citation is issued may choose, in lieu of accepting the citation, to have the matter investigated more fully and processed according to the full procedures for violations of the Act in which discipline may be imposed. The low-risk violation are ones for which there is no substantial threat to the public health, safety, or welfare.

Section 14 amends s. 499.82, F.S., relating to definitions under ch. 499, Part III, F.S., (medical gas). Specifically, s. 499.82, F.S., amends the definition of "wholesale distribution" to clarify that the exceptions to wholesale distribution listed in the federal act – including the distribution of medical gases – are not included in the exemptions to wholesale distribution in Florida as that term relates to medical gases.

Sections 10, 11, 12, 15, 17, 18, and 19 amend s. 499.03, F.S., relating to possession of prescription drugs, s. 499.05, F.S., relating to rules, s. 499.051, F.S., relating to inspections and investigations, s. 499.89, F.S., relating to recordkeeping, s. 409.9201, F.S., relating to Medicaid fraud, s. 499.067, F.S., relating to denial, suspension or revocation of permit, certification, or registration, and s. 794.075, F.S., relating to sexual predators, respectively, to conform these sections of law to changes made in the bill.

Section 16 repeals s. 499.01212, relating to pedigree papers.

Section 21 provides that the effective date of the act is July 1, 2016.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

PCS/CS/SB 1604 updates and conforms the regulations for the distribution of prescription drugs in or into this state and eliminates potential ambiguity between Florida's requirements and a uniform national approach. This uniformity should generate savings by regulated persons. Other changes to permit application submission requirements may streamline initial and renewal administrative paperwork, resulting in efficiencies in time and costs. Anecdotal information received from multiple wholesale distributors suggests that the annual submission of the renewal application consumes approximately 40 hours.

Cost savings associated with the reduction of information that is required to be provided in distributor permit applications and renewals could result in an estimated annual savings of $225,379 to the industry each year and an estimated saving of $1,105 per year per permittee.[6]

Allowing a surety bond that was obtained for licensure in another state to satisfy Florida's requirement for a surety bond for prescription drug wholesale distributors and out-of-state wholesale distributors will generate a cost saving of $100,000 per qualifying permit. The tiered surety bond requirement may also help small businesses.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill provides for administrative efficiencies for the Department of Business and Professional Regulations (DBPR) in the regulation and enforcement of the Act which will generate cost savings. The DBPR will annually save $579 in postage from changes to the process for renewal of permits.[7] The DBPR will incur costs for technology changes in order to implement this Act; however, these costs can be absorbed within existing resources.

The bill amends ch. 499, F.S., to bring the statutes into conformity with the federal act, which has three permits not in current Florida law: nonresident repackager, virtual prescription drug manufacturer, and nonresident virtual prescription drug manufacturer. The entities that fall into these three new permits are already issued another type of permit by the DBPR. Under the bill, these permittees will be reclassified into the new permits and will not be charged a second time for the current permits. There will be no increased costs to the industry or increase in revenue to the DBPR.[8] These three new permits will impose an initial registration fee of $1,500 and a biennial registration fee of $1,500.[9] The current biennial fees for the virtual prescription drug manufacturer and the nonresident prescription drug manufacturer are $1,500; therefore, the cost will remain the same for these entities. The current biennial fee for the nonresident repackager is $1,600, as these entities are currently permitted as an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor. The $100 difference in this fee is negligible, as the DBPR does not believe that there is a significant number of entities to whom this would apply.[10]

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

The bill exempts the distribution of minimal quantities of prescription drugs by a retail pharmacy for office use in compliance with the Florida Pharmacy Act and its rules from the definition of wholesale distribution. However, the requirement for a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor permit is still required in s. 499.01(2)(g), F.S., for a retail pharmacy that engages in the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs to practitioners of up to 30 percent of the pharmacy's total annual prescription drug purchases. It is not apparent how these two sections of law are intended to co-exist and additional legislative direction may be warranted.

Lines 1580-1589 exempt a restricted prescription drug distributor that repackages and distributes a prescription drug to a not-for-profit rural hospital from compliance with all current state and federal current good manufacturing practices relating to repackaging. This may be overly broad and might create unreasonable risks for persons receiving those drugs in the rural hospital. Also, this provision may be read as exempting compliance with current good manufacturing practices for all repacked and distributed prescription drugs to all health care entities if at least one of the recipients is a rural hospital.

This bill repeals section 499.01212 of the Florida Statutes.

A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:
(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

Recommended CS/CS by Appropriations Subcommittee on General Government on February 11, 2016:
The committee substitute:

- Increases the number of unit doses, from 5,000 to 7,500 unit doses, of any one controlled substance that may be ordered during a one-month period before triggering an assessment by the wholesaler as to whether the purchase of that controlled substance is reasonable; and
- Specifies the equivalent security provided in lieu of a surety bond must include the State of Florida as a beneficiary, payable to the Professional Regulation Trust Fund within the DBPR.

CS by Health Policy on January 26, 2016:
The CS corrects a reference to a prescription drug manufacturer distributing their prescription drugs as opposed to engaging in the wholesale distribution of those drugs to comport with the federal act. The CS also reinstates the mandatory registration of cosmetic products manufactured in this state.

A third party logistics provider located outside of this state, must be licensed in the state or territory from which the prescription drug is distributed by the third party logistics provider. If the state or territory from which the third party logistics provider originates does not require a license to operate as a third party logistics provider, the third party logistic provider must be licensed as a third party logistics provider as required by the federal act. Each third party logistics provider permittee shall comply with s. ~~the requirements for wholesale distributors under ss.~~ 499.0121 ~~and 499.01212, with the exception of those wholesale distributions described in s. 499.01212(3)(a),~~ and other rules that the department requires.

(r)~~(q)~~ Health care clinic establishment permit. ~~Effective January 1, 2009,~~ A health care clinic establishment permit is required for the purchase of a prescription drug by a place of business at one general physical location that provides health care or veterinary services, which is owned and operated by a business entity that has been issued a federal employer tax identification number. For the purpose of this paragraph, the term "qualifying practitioner" means a licensed health care practitioner defined in s. 456.001, or a veterinarian licensed under chapter 474, who is authorized under the appropriate practice act to prescribe and administer a prescription drug.

1. An establishment must provide, as part of the application required under s. 499.012, designation of a qualifying practitioner who will be responsible for complying with all legal and regulatory requirements related to the purchase, recordkeeping, storage, and handling of the prescription drugs. Upon initial appointment of a qualifying practitioner, the qualifying practitioner and the health care clinic establishment shall notify the department on a form furnished by the department within 10 days after such employment. In addition, the qualifying practitioner and health care clinic establishment shall notify the department within 10 days after any subsequent change.

2. The health care clinic establishment must employ a qualifying practitioner at each establishment.

4. The purchase of prescription drugs by the health care clinic establishment is prohibited during any period of time when the establishment does not comply with this paragraph.

5. A health care clinic establishment permit is not a pharmacy permit or otherwise subject to chapter 465. A health care clinic establishment that meets the criteria of a modified Class II institutional pharmacy under s. 465.019 is not eligible to be permitted under this paragraph.

6. This paragraph does not apply to the purchase of a prescription drug by a licensed practitioner under his or her license.

A manufacturer claiming to be exempt from the permit requirements of this subsection and the prescription drug manufacturer purchasing and receiving the active pharmaceutical ingredient shall comply with the recordkeeping requirements of s. 499.0121(6)~~, but not the requirements of s. 499.01212~~. (a) The immediate package or container of a prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredient distributed into the state that is intended for research and development under this subsection shall bear a label prominently displaying the statement: "Caution: Research and Development Only—Not for Manufacturing, Compounding, or Resale."

(b) A prescription drug manufacturer that obtains a prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredient under this subsection for use in clinical trials and or biostudies authorized and regulated by federal law must create and maintain records detailing the specific clinical trials or biostudies for which the prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredient was obtained.

(4)(a) A permit issued under this part is not required to distribute a prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredient from an establishment located in the United States to an establishment located in this state permitted as a prescription drug manufacturer under this part for use by the recipient in preparing, deriving, processing, producing, or fabricating a prescription drug finished dosage form at the establishment in this state where the product is received under an approved and otherwise valid New Drug Approval Application, Abbreviated New Drug Application, New Animal Drug Application, or Therapeutic Biologic Application, provided that the application, active pharmaceutical ingredient, or finished dosage form has not been withdrawn or removed from the market in this country for public health reasons.

1. Any distributor claiming exemption from permitting requirements pursuant to this paragraph shall maintain a license, permit, or registration to engage in the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs under the laws of the state from which the product is distributed. If the state from which the prescription drugs are distributed does not require a license to engage in the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs, the distributor must be licensed as a wholesale distributor as required by the federal act.

2. Any distributor claiming exemption from permitting requirements pursuant to this paragraph and the prescription drug manufacturer purchasing and receiving the active pharmaceutical ingredient shall comply with the recordkeeping requirements of s. 499.0121(6)~~, but not the requirements of s. 499.01212~~.

(b) A permit issued under this part is not required to distribute ~~limited quantities of~~ a prescription drug that has not been repackaged from an establishment located in the United States to an establishment located in this state permitted as a prescription drug manufacturer under this part for research and development or to a holder of a letter of exemption issued by the department under s. 499.03(4) for research, teaching, or testing. ~~The department shall define "limited quantities" by rule and may include the allowable number of transactions within~~

~~a given period of time and the amounts of prescription drugs distributed into the state for purposes of this exemption.~~

1. Any distributor claiming exemption from permitting requirements pursuant to this paragraph shall maintain a license, permit, or registration to engage in the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs under the laws of the state from which the product is distributed. If the state from which the prescription drugs are distributed does not require a license to engage in the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs, the distributor must be licensed as a wholesale distributor as required by the federal act.

2. All purchasers and recipients of any prescription drugs distributed pursuant to this paragraph shall ensure that the products are not resold or used, directly or indirectly, on humans except in lawful clinical trials and biostudies authorized and regulated by federal law.

3. Any distributor claiming exemption from permitting requirements pursuant to this paragraph, and the purchaser and recipient of the prescription drug, shall comply with the recordkeeping requirements of s. 499.0121(6)~~, but not the requirements of s. 499.01212~~.

4. The immediate package or container of any active pharmaceutical ingredient distributed into the state that is intended for teaching, testing, research, and development shall bear a label prominently displaying the statement: "Caution: Research, Teaching, or Testing Only – Not for Manufacturing, Compounding, or Resale."

(c) An out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor permit is not required for an intracompany sale or transfer of a prescription drug from an out-of-state establishment that is duly licensed as a prescription drug wholesale distributor in its state of residence to a licensed prescription drug wholesale distributor in this state, if both wholesale distributors conduct wholesale distributions of prescription drugs under the same business name. The recordkeeping requirements of s. ~~ss.~~ 499.0121(6) ~~and 499.01212~~ must be followed for such transactions.

(d) Persons receiving prescription drugs from a source claimed to be exempt from permitting requirements under this subsection shall maintain on file:

1. A record of the FDA establishment registration number, if any;

2. The resident state or federal license, registration, or permit that authorizes the source to distribute prescription drugs ~~drug wholesale distribution license, permit, or registration number~~; and

3. A copy of the most recent resident state or FDA inspection report, for all distributors and establishments from whom they purchase or receive prescription drugs under this subsection.

(e) All persons claiming exemption from permitting requirements pursuant to this subsection who engage in the distribution of prescription drugs within or into the state are subject to this part, including ss. 499.005 and 499.0051, and shall make available, within 48 hours, to the department on request all records related to any prescription drugs distributed under this subsection, including those records described in s. 499.051(4), regardless of the location where the records are stored.

(f) A person purchasing and receiving a prescription drug from a person claimed to be exempt from licensing requirements pursuant to this subsection shall report to the department in writing within 14 days after receiving any product that is misbranded or adulterated or that fails to meet minimum standards set forth in the official compendium or state or federal good manufacturing practices for identity, purity, potency, or sterility, regardless of whether the product is thereafter rehabilitated, quarantined, returned, or destroyed.

(g) The department may adopt rules to administer this subsection which are necessary for the protection of the public health, safety, and welfare. Failure to comply with the requirements of this subsection, or rules adopted by the department to administer this subsection, is a violation of s. 499.005(14), and a knowing failure is a violation of s. 499.0051(3) ~~499.0051(4)~~.

(h) This subsection does not relieve any person from any requirement prescribed by law with respect to controlled substances as defined in the applicable federal and state laws.

(5) A prescription drug repackager permit issued under this part is not required for a restricted prescription drug distributor permitholder that is a health care entity to repackage prescription drugs in this state for its own use or for distribution to hospitals or other health care entities in the state for their own use, pursuant to s. 499.003(48)(a)3. ~~499.003(53)(a)3.~~, if:

(a) The prescription drug distributor notifies the department, in writing, of its intention to engage in repackaging under this exemption, 30 days before engaging in the repackaging of prescription drugs at the permitted establishment;

(b) The prescription drug distributor is under common control with the hospitals or other health care entities to which the prescription drug distributor is distributing prescription drugs. As used in this paragraph, "common control" means the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person or an organization, whether by ownership of stock, voting rights, contract, or otherwise;

(c) The prescription drug distributor repackages the prescription drugs in accordance with current state and federal good manufacturing practices; and

(d) The prescription drug distributor labels the prescription drug it repackages in accordance with state and federal laws and rules.

The prescription drug distributor is exempt from the product registration requirements of s. 499.015 with regard to the prescription drugs that it repackages and distributes under this subsection. A prescription drug distributor that repackages and distributes prescription drugs under this subsection to a not-for-profit rural hospital, as defined in s. 395.602, is not required to comply with paragraph (c) or paragraph (d), but must provide to each health care entity for which it repackages, for each prescription drug that is repackaged and distributed, the information required by department rule for labeling prescription drugs. The prescription drug distributor shall also provide the additional current packaging and label information for the prescription drug by hard copy or by electronic means.

Section 6. Section 499.012, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

499.012 Permit application requirements.—

(1)(a) A permit issued pursuant to this part may be issued only to a natural person who is at least 18 years of age or to an applicant that is not a natural person if each person who, directly or indirectly, manages, controls, or oversees the operation of that applicant is at least 18 years of age.

(b) An establishment that is a place of residence may not receive a permit and may not operate under this part.

(c) A person that applies for or renews a permit to manufacture or distribute prescription drugs may not use a name identical to the name used by any other establishment or licensed person authorized to purchase prescription drugs in this state, except that a restricted drug distributor permit issued to a health care entity will be issued in the name in which the institutional pharmacy permit is issued and a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor will be issued a permit in the name of its retail pharmacy permit.

(d) A permit for a prescription drug manufacturer, prescription drug repackager, prescription drug wholesale distributor, limited prescription drug veterinary wholesale distributor, or retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor may not be issued to the address of a health care entity or to a pharmacy licensed under chapter 465, except as provided in this paragraph. The department may issue a prescription drug manufacturer permit to an applicant at the same address as a licensed nuclear pharmacy, which is a health care entity, even if the nuclear pharmacy holds a special sterile compounding permit under chapter 465, for the purpose of manufacturing prescription drugs used in positron emission tomography or other radiopharmaceuticals, as listed in a rule adopted by the department pursuant to this paragraph. The purpose of this exemption is to assure availability of state-of-the-art pharmaceuticals that would pose a significant danger to the public health if manufactured at a separate establishment address from the nuclear pharmacy from which the prescription drugs are dispensed. The department may also issue a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor permit to the address of a community pharmacy licensed under chapter 465, even if the community pharmacy holds a special sterile compounding permit under chapter 465, as long as the community pharmacy ~~which~~ does not meet the definition of a closed pharmacy in s. 499.003.

(e) A county or municipality may not issue an occupational license for ~~any licensing period beginning on or after October 1, 2003, for~~ any establishment that requires a permit pursuant to this part, unless the establishment exhibits a current permit issued by the department for the establishment. Upon presentation of the requisite permit issued by the department, an occupational license may be issued by the municipality or county in which application is made. The department shall furnish to local agencies responsible for issuing occupational licenses a current list of all establishments licensed pursuant to this part.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (6), a permitted person in good standing may change the type of permit issued to that person by completing a new application for the requested permit, paying the amount of the difference in the permit fees if the fee for the new permit is more than the fee for the original permit, and meeting the applicable permitting conditions for the new permit type. The new permit expires on the expiration date of the original permit being changed; however, a new permit for a prescription drug wholesale distributor, an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor, or a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor shall expire on the expiration date of the original permit or 1 year after the date of issuance of the new permit, whichever is earlier. A refund may not be issued if the fee for the new permit is less than the fee that was paid for the original permit.

(3)(a) A written application for a permit or to renew a permit must be filed with the department on forms furnished by the department. The department shall establish, by rule, the form and content of the application to obtain or renew a permit. The applicant must submit to the department with the application a statement that swears or affirms that the information is true and correct.

(b) Upon a determination that 2 years have elapsed since the department notified an applicant for permit, certification, or product registration of a deficiency in the application and that the applicant has failed to cure the deficiency, the application shall expire. The determination regarding the 2-year lapse of time shall be based on documentation that the department notified the applicant of the deficiency in accordance with s. 120.60.

(c) Information submitted by an applicant on an application required pursuant to this subsection which is a trade secret, as defined in s. 812.081, shall be maintained by the department as trade secret information pursuant to s. 499.051(7).

(4)(a) Except for a permit for a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor, an application for a permit must include:

1. The name, full business address, and telephone number of the applicant;

2. All trade or business names used by the applicant;

3. The address, telephone numbers, and the names of contact persons for each facility used by the applicant for the storage, handling, and distribution of prescription drugs;

4. The type of ownership or operation, such as a partnership, corporation, or sole proprietorship; and

5. The names of the owner and the operator of the establishment, including:

a. If an individual, the name of the individual;

b. If a partnership, the name of each partner and the name of the partnership;

c. If a corporation, the name and title of each corporate officer and director, the corporate names, and the name of the state of incorporation;

d. If a sole proprietorship, the full name of the sole proprietor and the name of the business entity;

e. If a limited liability company, the name of each member, the name of each manager, the name of the limited liability company, and the name of the state in which the limited liability company was organized; and

f. Any other relevant information that the department requires.

(b) Upon approval of the application by the department and payment of the required fee, the department shall issue a permit to the applicant, if the applicant meets the requirements of this part and rules adopted under this part.

(c) Any change in information required under paragraph (a) must be submitted to the department before the change occurs.

(d) The department shall consider, at a minimum, the following factors in reviewing the qualifications of persons to be permitted under this part:

1. The applicant’s having been found guilty, regardless of adjudication, in a court of this state or other jurisdiction, of a violation of a law that directly relates to a drug, device, or cosmetic. A plea of nolo contendere constitutes a finding of guilt for purposes of this subparagraph.

2. The applicant’s having been disciplined by a regulatory agency in any state for any offense that would constitute a violation of this part.

3. Any felony conviction of the applicant under a federal, state, or local law;

4. The applicant’s past experience in manufacturing or distributing drugs, devices, or cosmetics;

5. The furnishing by the applicant of false or fraudulent material in any application made in connection with manufacturing or distributing drugs, devices, or cosmetics;

6. Suspension or revocation by a federal, state, or local government of any permit currently or previously held by the applicant for the manufacture or distribution of any drugs, devices, or cosmetics;

7. Compliance with permitting requirements under any previously granted permits;

8. Compliance with requirements to maintain or make available to the state permitting authority or to federal, state, or local law enforcement officials those records required under this section; and

9. Any other factors or qualifications the department considers relevant to and consistent with the public health and safety.

(5) ~~Except for a permit for a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor:~~

(a) The department shall adopt rules for the biennial renewal of permits; however, the department may issue up to a 4-year permit to selected permittees notwithstanding any other provision of law. Fees for such renewal may not exceed the fee caps set forth in s. 499.041 on an annualized basis as authorized by law.

(b) The department shall renew a permit upon receipt of the renewal application and renewal fee if the applicant meets the requirements established under this part and ~~the~~ rules adopted under this part.

(c) At least 90 days before the expiration date of a permit, the department shall forward a permit renewal notification to the permittee at the mailing address of the permitted establishment on file with the department. The permit renewal notification must state conspicuously the date on which the permit for the establishment will expire and that the establishment may not operate unless the permit for the establishment is renewed timely. ~~A permit, unless sooner~~

~~suspended or revoked, automatically expires 2 years after the last day of the anniversary month in which the permit was originally issued.~~

(d) A permit issued under this part may be renewed by making application for renewal on forms furnished by the department and paying the appropriate fees.

1. If a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor renewal application and fee are submitted and postmarked later than 45 days before the expiration date of the permit, the permit may be renewed only upon payment of a late renewal fee of $100, plus the required renewal fee.

2. If any other ~~a~~ renewal application and fee are submitted and postmarked after the expiration date of the permit, the permit may be renewed only upon payment of a late renewal delinquent fee of $100, plus the required renewal fee, not later than 60 days after the expiration date.

3. A permittee who submits a renewal application in accordance with this paragraph may continue to operate under its permit, unless the permit is suspended or revoked, until final disposition of the renewal application.

4.~~(d)~~ Failure to renew a permit in accordance with this section precludes any future renewal of that permit. If a permit issued pursuant to this part has expired and cannot be renewed, before an establishment may engage in activities that require a permit under this part, the establishment must submit an application for a new permit, pay the applicable application fee, the initial permit fee, and all applicable penalties, and be issued a new permit by the department.

(6) A permit issued by the department is nontransferable. Each permit is valid only for the person or governmental unit to which it is issued and is not subject to sale, assignment, or other transfer, voluntarily or involuntarily; nor is a permit valid for any establishment other than the establishment for which it was originally issued.

(a) A person permitted under this part must notify the department before making a change of address. The department shall set a change of location fee not to exceed $100.

(b)1. An application for a new permit is required when a majority of the ownership or controlling interest of a permitted establishment is transferred or assigned or when a lessee agrees to undertake or provide services to the extent that legal liability for operation of the establishment will rest with the lessee. The application for the new permit must be made before the date of the sale, transfer, assignment, or lease.

2. A permittee that is authorized to distribute prescription drugs may transfer such drugs to the new owner or lessee under subparagraph 1. only after the new owner or lessee has been approved for a permit to distribute prescription drugs.

(c) If an establishment permitted under this part closes, the owner must notify the department in writing before the effective date of closure and must:

1. Return the permit to the department;

2. If the permittee is authorized to distribute prescription drugs, indicate the disposition of such drugs, including the name, address, and inventory, and provide the name and address of a person to contact regarding access to records that are required to be maintained under this part. Transfer of ownership of prescription drugs may be made only to persons authorized to possess prescription drugs under this part.

The department may revoke the permit of any person that fails to comply with the requirements of this subsection.

(7) A permit must be posted in a conspicuous place on the licensed premises.

(8) An application for a permit or to renew a permit for a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor submitted to the department must include:

(a) The name, full business address, and telephone number of the applicant.

(b) All trade or business names used by the applicant.

(c) The address, telephone numbers, and the names of contact persons for each facility used by the applicant for the storage, handling, and distribution of prescription drugs.

(d) The type of ownership or operation, such as a partnership, corporation, or sole proprietorship.

(e) The names of the owner and the operator of the establishment, including:

2. If a partnership, the name of each partner and the name of the partnership.

3. If a corporation:

a. The name, address, and title of each corporate officer and director.

b. The name and address of the corporation, resident agent of the corporation, the resident agent’s address, and the corporation's state of incorporation.

c. The name and address of each shareholder of the corporation that owns 5 percent or more of the outstanding stock of the corporation.

4. If a sole proprietorship, the full name of the sole proprietor and the name of the business entity.

5. If a limited liability company:

(f) The applicant's past experience in manufacturing or distributing prescription drugs indicates that the applicant poses a public health risk.

(g) The applicant is affiliated directly or indirectly through ownership, control, or other business relations, with any person or persons whose business operations are or have been detrimental to the public health.

(h) The applicant, or any affiliated party, has been found guilty of or has pleaded guilty or nolo contendere to any felony or crime punishable by imprisonment for 1 year or more under the laws of the United States, any state, or any other country, regardless of whether adjudication of guilt was withheld.

(p) Information obtained in response to s. 499.01(2)(e) or (f) ~~499.01(2)(d) or (c)~~ demonstrates it would not be in the best interest of the public health, safety, and welfare to issue a permit.

(r) The applicant or any affiliated party has failed to comply with the requirements for manufacturing or distributing prescription drugs under this part, similar federal laws, similar laws in other states, or the rules adopted under such laws.

(11) Upon approval of the application by the department and payment of the required fee, the department shall issue or renew a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor permit to the applicant.

~~(12) For a permit for a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor:~~

~~(a) The department shall adopt rules for the annual renewal of permits. At least 90 days before the expiration of a permit, the department shall forward a permit renewal notification and renewal application to the prescription drug wholesale distributor or out-of-state prescription drug wholesale~~

~~distributor at the mailing address of the permitted establishment on file with the department. A permit may be renewed by making application for renewal on forms furnished by the department and paying the appropriate fees. If a renewal application and fee are submitted and postmarked after 45 days prior to the expiration date of the permit, the permit may be renewed only upon payment of a late renewal fee of $100, plus the required renewal fee. A permittee that has submitted a renewal application in accordance with this paragraph may continue to operate under its permit, unless the permit is suspended or revoked, until final disposition of the renewal application.~~

~~(c) Failure to renew a permit in accordance with this section precludes any future renewal of that permit. If a permit issued pursuant to this section has expired and cannot be renewed, before an establishment may engage in activities that require a permit under this part, the establishment must submit an application for a new permit; pay the applicable application fee, initial permit fee, and all applicable penalties; and be issued a new permit by the department.~~

(12) ~~(13)~~ A person that engages in wholesale distribution of prescription drugs in this state must have a wholesale distributor's permit issued by the department, except as noted in this section. Each establishment must be separately permitted except as noted in this subsection.

(a) A separate establishment permit is not required when a permitted prescription drug wholesale distributor consigns a prescription drug to a pharmacy that is permitted under chapter 465 and located in this state, provided that:

6. The pharmacy dispenses the consigned prescription drug in accordance with the limitations of its permit under chapter 465 or returns the consigned prescription drug to the consignor wholesale distributor. In addition, a person who holds title to prescription drugs may transfer the drugs to a person permitted or licensed to handle the reverse distribution or destruction of drugs. Any other distribution by and means of the consigned prescription drug by any person, not limited to the consignor wholesale distributor or consignee pharmacy, to any other person is prohibited.

(b) A wholesale distributor's permit is not required for the one-time transfer of title of a pharmacy's lawfully acquired prescription drug inventory by a pharmacy with a valid permit issued under chapter 465 to a consignor prescription drug wholesale distributor, permitted under this chapter, in accordance with a written consignment agreement between the pharmacy and that wholesale distributor if the permitted pharmacy and the permitted prescription drug wholesale distributor comply with all of the provisions of paragraph (a) and the prescription drugs continue to be within the permitted pharmacy's inventory for dispensing in accordance with the limitations of the pharmacy permit under chapter 465. A consignor drug wholesale distributor may not use the pharmacy as a wholesale distributor through which it distributes the prescription drugs to other pharmacies. Nothing in this section is intended to prevent a wholesale distributor from obtaining this inventory in the event of nonpayment by the pharmacy.

(c) A separate establishment permit is not required when a permitted prescription drug wholesale distributor operates temporary transit storage facilities for the sole purpose of storage, for up to 16 hours, of a delivery of prescription drugs when the wholesale distributor was temporarily unable to complete the delivery to the recipient.

(15)~~(16)~~(a) Each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesale distributor. This requirement shall be effective 1 year after the results of the initial examination are mailed to the persons that took the examination. The department shall offer such examinations at least four times each calendar year.

5. Provide the department with a personal information statement and fingerprints pursuant to subsection (9).

(c) The department may deny an application for certification as a designated representative or may suspend or revoke a certification of a designated representative pursuant to s. 499.067.

(d) A designated representative:

1. Must be actively involved in and aware of the actual daily operation of the wholesale distributor.

2. Must be employed full time in a managerial position by the wholesale distributor.

3. Must be physically present at the establishment during normal business hours, except for time periods when absent due to illness, family illness or death, scheduled vacation, or other authorized absence.

4. May serve as a designated representative for only one wholesale distributor at any one time.

(e) A wholesale distributor must notify the department when a designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor. Such notice must be provided to the department within 10 business days after the last day of designated representative's employment with the wholesale distributor.

(f) A wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesale distributor permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative.

(4) EXAMINATION OF MATERIALS AND RECORDS.—

(d) Upon receipt, a wholesale distributor must review records required under this section for the acquisition of prescription drugs for accuracy and completeness, considering the total facts and circumstances surrounding the transactions and the wholesale distributors involved. ~~This includes authenticating each transaction listed on a pedigree paper, as defined in s. 499.003(37).~~

(6) RECORDKEEPING.—The department shall adopt rules that require keeping such records of prescription drugs, including active pharmaceutical ingredients, as are necessary for the protection of the public health.

~~(c) When pedigree papers are required by this part, a wholesale distributor must maintain the pedigree papers separate and distinct from other records required under this part.~~

(15) DUE DILIGENCE OF PURCHASERS.—

(b) A wholesale distributor must take reasonable measures to identify its customers, understand the normal and expected transactions conducted by those customers, and identify those transactions that are suspicious in nature. A wholesale distributor must establish internal policies and procedures for identifying suspicious orders and preventing suspicious transactions. A wholesale distributor must assess orders for more ~~greater~~ than 7,500 ~~5,000~~ unit doses of any one controlled substance in any one month to determine whether the purchase is reasonable. COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1604 updates the Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act (Act) to bring it into conformity with the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act (federal act). Recent amendments to the federal act preempted Florida's regulatory structure. The bill replaces provisions relating to pedigree papers with federal requirements for a transaction history, transaction information, or transaction statement for certain recordkeeping for the manufacture and distribution of prescription drugs. Certain activities are exempted from the definition of wholesale distribution in order to conform regulatory oversight in Florida to the federal regulatory scheme.

The bill provides for administrative efficiencies and cost savings for:

- Initial and renewal permitting for prescription drug wholesale distributors and out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributors by eliminating the distinction between primary and secondary wholesalers and the supplemental information required of a secondary wholesaler for permitting;
- Allowing certain key personnel to submit an affidavit that information submitted on a previous personal statement remains unchanged;
- Modifying the requirement for a surety bond; and
- Authorizing the Department of Business and Professional Regulation (DBPR) to contract with a vendor or enter into interagency agreements for electronic fingerprinting.

The bill establishes a nonresident prescription drug repackager permit, along with the requirement to obtain such a permit if a repackager located outside the state distributes its repackaged prescription drugs into the state. This repackager is also required to comply with provisions applicable to prescription drug manufacturers. The DBPR must establish a virtual prescription drug manufacturer permit and a virtual out-of-state prescription drug manufacturer permit for manufacturers that do not physically manufacture and possess their prescription drugs.

The DBPR is also authorized to issue non-disciplinary citations for violations of the Act for which there is no substantial threat to the public health, safety, or welfare.

The bill has an indeterminate, but most likely insignificant, fiscal impact on state funds.

This bill is effective July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act (Act) is found in ch. 499, F.S. The purpose of the Act is to safeguard the public health and promote the public welfare by protecting the public from injury by product use and by merchandising deceit involving drugs, devices, and cosmetics. The DBPR is responsible for regulating and enforcing the Act and is specifically charged with administering and enforcing the Act to prevent fraud, adulteration, misbranding, or false advertising in the preparation, manufacture, repackaging, or distribution of drugs, devices, and cosmetics.[1]

In 2003, the Legislature enacted the Prescription Drug Protection Act,[2] which put in place strong safeguards for the distribution of prescription drugs in, into, and from this state. This legislation was predicated on the findings and recommendations of the report of the Seventeenth Statewide Grand Jury in its First Interim Report to the Legislature.[3] That grand jury was called to examine, among other matters, the safety of prescription drugs in Florida. In particular, they examined the situation concerning the sale and re-sale of prescription drugs in the wholesale market.

The Prescription Drug Protection Act required prescription drug wholesalers to provide pedigree papers (a transaction history for tracing a prescription drug through the market) for the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs, strengthened permitting requirements for prescription drug wholesale distributors, especially for wholesale distributors that did not purchase directly from drug manufacturers (referred to as secondary wholesalers), and established significant criminal penalties for prescription drug violations related to counterfeiting and diversion.

In 2013, the Drug Quality and Security Act (DQSA) amended the federal act. The DQSA established a uniform national policy for product tracing and other requirements relating to the prescription drug supply chain. The DQSA expressly preempted states from establishing or continuing in effect any requirements for tracing products through the distribution system which are inconsistent with, more stringent than, or in addition to, any requirement applicable under DQSA. The preemption also included prohibiting states from establishing or continuing any standards, requirements, or regulations with respect to wholesale prescription drug distributor or third-party logistics provider licensure that are inconsistent with, less stringent than, directly related to, or covered by the standards and requirements of the DQSA.[4]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 499.003, F.S., to revise definitions to conform to the changes made to the Florida Drug and Cosmetic Act in this bill. New definitions are provided for: "active pharmaceutical ingredient"[5] and "affiliate." The following definitions are repealed: "affiliated group," "authenticate," "drop shipment," "normal distribution chain," "pedigree paper," "primary wholesale distributor," and "secondary wholesale distributor." The following definitions are substantially revised:

- "Distribute" means to sell, purchase, trade, deliver, handle, store, or receive. The term does not mean to administer or dispense. Deleted from the definition is the concept of offering to perform any of these activities and the method of distribution, i.e., by passage of title, physical movement, or both. The exemption for billing and invoicing activities is also deleted from the definition, but is addressed as an exception to the definition of wholesale distribution.
- "Manufacturer" is reworded to more accurately describe co-licensed partners and private label distributors. Third party logistics (TPL) providers are deleted from the definition.
- "Wholesale distribution" is clarified that the term includes both the distribution to a person and the receipt by a person, of a prescription drug, other than the consumer or patient. The exceptions to wholesale distribution are expanded and revised. Drug shortages not caused by a public health emergency are not deemed an emergency medical reason for the distribution of a prescription drug by a retail pharmacy. This provision is found in rule, but is now specifically addressed in statute. New exclusions from the definition of wholesale distribution include:
  - Intracompany distribution between members of an affiliate or within a manufacturer;
  - Distribution of a prescription drug by the manufacturer of that prescription drug;
  - Distribution of a prescription drug by a TPL provider in accordance with state and federal law if the TPL provider does not own the drug;
  - Distribution of, or offer to distribute, a prescription drug by an repackager that is registered under the federal act that owned or possessed the drug and which repackaged it;
  - The purchase or other acquisition by a dispenser, hospital, or other health care entity for use by that dispenser, hospital, or other health care entity;
  - Distribution of a prescription drug for the purpose of repacking the drug owned by a hospital for the hospital's use or other health care entity that is under common control with the hospital;
  - Distribution of minimal quantities of prescription drugs by a retail pharmacy to a licensed practitioner for office use in compliance with the Florida Pharmacy Act and its rules;
  - Distribution of an intravenous prescription drug that is intended for replenishment of fluids and electrolytes, or to maintain the equilibrium of water and minerals in the body;
  - Distribution of a prescription drug that is intended for irrigation or sterile water;
  - Distribution of exempt medical convenience kits;

[4] See sec. 585 of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.
[5] The definition of "active pharmaceutical ingredient" is moved from within the definition of "drug."

  - Transport by a common carrier if it does not own the prescription drug;
  - Saleable returns when conducted by a dispenser;
  - Facilitating the distribution of a prescription drug by providing solely administrative services;
  - Distribution of a specially-priced or donated prescription drug by a charitable organization to a licensed health care practitioner, health care clinic permitted pursuant to the Act, or to the Department of Health (DOH) or other governmental health care entity for providing emergency medical services, if the distributor and recipient receive no direct or indirect financial benefit other than tax benefits for charitable contributions; and
  - Distribution of a medical gas in compliance with part III of the Act.
- "Wholesale distributor" means a person other than a manufacturer, a manufacturer's co-licensed partner, a TPL provider, or a repackager, who is engaged in wholesale distribution.

Sections 2, 3, 4, and 20 amend s. 499.005, F.S., relating to prohibited acts; s. 499.0051, F.S., relating to criminal acts; s. 499.006, F.S., relating to adulterated drug or device; and s. 921.0022, F.S., relating to the criminal punishment code. The bill removes references to Florida's pedigree requirements throughout chapter 499, F.S. In addition, the bill replaces the references to "pedigree papers" with references to "transaction history", "transaction information", or "transaction statement" to conform to federal requirements, the federal pre-emption of individual state regulation pertaining to certain recordkeeping for the manufacture and distribution of prescription drugs, and changes made by this bill.

Section 5 amends s. 499.01, F.S., relating to permits to:
- Add a nonresident prescription drug repackager permit. This permit is required for any person located outside Florida but within the United States or its territories that repackages prescription drugs and distributes them into Florida. This permittee is required to comply with all provisions and rules that are applicable to prescription drug manufacturers and must be registered as a drug establishment with the federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA).
- Require the DBPR to adopt rules for issuing a virtual prescription drug manufacturer permit and virtual nonresident prescription drug manufacturer permit to a person that manufactures prescription drugs but does not make or take physical possession of any prescription drugs, for example when a contract manufacturer is used. Because these manufacturers do not possess prescription drugs, the DBPR is authorized to exempt them by rule from certain establishment, security, and storage requirements.
- Delete the $100,000 security bond requirement for prescription drug wholesalers and out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler; however a similar, less costly requirement is added to s. 499.012, F.S.
- Require an out-of-state prescription drug wholesaler, a TPL provider, or a nonresident prescription drug manufacturer distributing prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredients into the state for the manufacture of an approved drug or biologic, which is not licensed by its resident state, to be licensed or registered under the federal act and for the recipient in Florida to maintain documentation of the supplier's compliance.
- Conform requirements of various permits to the repeal of the pedigree paper requirements.
- Remove the restriction that the exemption from permitting for a nonresident prescription drug manufacturer to distribute prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredients for research is applicable only if the distributions are in limited quantities, require that the label of a prescription drug active pharmaceutical ingredient bear specific caution statement terminology, and require that a prescription drug manufacturer that obtains an active pharmaceutical ingredient from an exempt manufacturer maintain certain records detailing the specific clinical trials or biostudies for which the ingredient was obtained.

- Exempt a restricted prescription drug distributor that repackages and distributes a prescription drug to a not-for-profit rural hospital from compliance with current state and federal current good manufacturing practices relating to repackaging. Alternate provisions are made for the labeling of those prescription drugs.

Section 6 amends s. 499.012, F.S., relating to permit application requirements to:
- Clarify that a prescription drug manufacturer permit may be issued to the same address as a licensed nuclear pharmacy, even if the nuclear pharmacy holds a special sterile compounding permit under the Florida Pharmacy Act.
- Authorize the Department of Business and Professional Regulation (DBPR) to issue a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor permit to the address of a community pharmacy, even if the community pharmacy holds a special sterile compounding permit, as long as the community pharmacy is not a closed pharmacy.
- Provide that applications pending resolution of a deficiency after two years from the time the DBPR notified the applicant of the deficiency automatically expire.
- Require the DBPR to maintain trade secret information submitted in an application as trade secret.
- Authorize the issuance of four-year permits on selected permit types identified in rule.
- Authorize the DBPR to send a permit renewal notification at least 90 days before the expiration date of all permits which conspicuously notes the expiration date of the permit and that the establishment may not operate unless the permit is renewed timely. The renewal notification will eliminate the costs associated with sending the renewal application.
- For a prescription drug wholesale distributor or out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor permit:
    - Require a $100 delinquent fee for a renewal application that is submitted later than 45 days prior to the permit's expiration date.
    - Substitute submission of the applicant's gross annual receipts attributable to prescription drug wholesale distribution activities for the previous tax year in lieu of more extensive information pertaining to prescription drug sales during certain intermediate timeframes and annually, purchases directly from manufacturers for renewal permits, and estimated information for new applicants.
    - Allow a surety bond issued in this state or any other state to satisfy the bond requirement. The amount of the surety bond is tiered based on the applicant's annual gross receipts. A bond of $100,000 is applicable if the annual gross receipts of the applicant's previous tax year is over $10 million, or $25,000 if the annual gross receipts is $10 million or less.
    - Repeal the additional information required to be submitted by secondary wholesalers (wholesalers that did not purchase directly from manufacturers) since the concept of primary wholesale distributor and secondary wholesale distributor is eliminated in this bill.
    - Require proof of establishment inspection by the DBPR, the FDA, or another governmental entity. The DBPR may recognize the inspection conducted by another state if that state's laws are substantially equivalent to the laws in Florida.

- Authorize the DBPR to contract with a vendor or enter into interagency agreements to handle electronic fingerprinting.
- Streamline the renewal requirements for the submission of a personal information statement for certain key individuals by allowing submission of a certification under oath that the most recently submitted statement submitted to the DBPR remains unchanged.

Section 7 amends s. 499.01201, F.S., to make conforming changes by removing obsolete references to the pedigree statutes in ch. 499, F.S.

Section 8 amends s. 499.0121, F.S., relating to the storage and handling of prescription drugs to conform changes associated with the repeal of the pedigree paper requirements and to include standards for active pharmaceutical ingredients that apply to other prescription drugs.

Section 9 amends s. 499.015, F.S., relating to registration of drugs, devices, and cosmetics to synchronize the expiration date of product registrations with the expiration date of the applicable manufacturing or repacking permit.

Section 13 amends s. 499.066, F.S., relating to penalties, to authorize the DBPR to adopt rules identifying low-risk violations of the act and applicable penalties, including monetary assessments and other remedial measures, for which a non-disciplinary citation may be issued. The person to whom a citation is issued may choose, in lieu of accepting the citation, to have the matter investigated more fully and processed according to the full procedures for violations of the Act in which discipline may be imposed. The low-risk violation are ones for which there is no substantial threat to the public health, safety, or welfare.

Section 14 amends s. 499.82, F.S., relating to definitions under ch. 499, Part III, F.S., (medical gas). Specifically, s. 499.82, F.S., amends the definition of "wholesale distribution" to clarify that the exceptions to wholesale distribution listed in the federal act – including the distribution of medical gases – are not included in the exemptions to wholesale distribution in Florida as that term relates to medical gases.

Sections 10, 11, 12, 15, 17, 18 and 19 amend s. 499.03, F.S., relating to possession of prescription drugs, s. 499.05, F.S., relating to rules, s. 499.051, F.S., relating to inspections and investigations, s. 499.89, F.S., relating to recordkeeping, s. 409.9201, F.S., relating to Medicaid fraud, s. 499.067, F.S., relating to denial, suspension or revocation of permit, certification, or registration, and s. 794.075, F.S., relating to sexual predators, respectively, to conform these sections of law to changes made in the bill.

Section 16 repeals s. 499.01212, relating to pedigree papers.

Section 21 provides that the effective date of the act is July 1, 2016.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

CS/SB 1604 updates and conforms the regulations for the distribution of prescription drugs in or into this state and eliminates potential ambiguity between Florida's requirements and a uniform national approach. This uniformity should generate savings by regulated persons. Other changes to permit application submission requirements may streamline initial and renewal administrative paperwork, resulting in efficiencies in time and costs. Anecdotal information received from multiple wholesale distributors suggests that the annual submission of the renewal application consumes approximately 40 hours.

Cost savings associated with the reduction of information that is required to be provided in distributor permit applications and renewals could result in an estimated annual savings of $225,379 to the industry each year and an estimated saving of $1,105 per year per permittee.[6]

Allowing a surety bond that was obtained for licensure in another state to satisfy Florida's requirement for a surety bond for prescription drug wholesale distributors and out-of-state wholesale distributors will generate a cost saving of $100,000 per qualifying permit. The tiered surety bond requirement may also help small businesses.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill provides for administrative efficiencies for the Department of Business and Professional Regulations (DBPR) in the regulation and enforcement of the Act which will generate cost savings. The DBPR will annually save $579 in postage from changes to the process for renewal of permits.[7] The DBPR will incur costs for technology changes in order to implement this Act; however, these costs can be absorbed within existing resources.

The bill amends ch. 499, F.S., to bring the statutes into conformity with the federal act, which has three permits not in current Florida law: nonresident repackager, virtual prescription drug manufacturer, and nonresident virtual prescription drug manufacturer.

[6] See DBPR, Senate Bill 1604 Analysis, p. 13, (on file with the Senate Committee on Health Policy).
[7] Id.

The entities that fall into these three new permits are already issued another type of permit by the DBPR. Under the bill, these permittees will be reclassified into the new permits and will not be charged a second time for the current permits. There will be no increased costs to the industry or increase in revenue to the DBPR.[8] These three new permits will impose an initial registration fee of $1,500 and a biennial registration fee of $1,500.[9] The current biennial fees for the virtual prescription drug manufacturer and the nonresident prescription drug manufacturer are $1,500; therefore, the cost will remain the same for these entities. The current biennial fee for the nonresident repackager is $1,600, as these entities are currently permitted as an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor. The $100 difference in this fee is negligible, as the DBPR does not believe that there is a significant number of entities to whom this would apply.[10]

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

The bill exempts the distribution of minimal quantities of prescription drugs by a retail pharmacy for office use in compliance with the Florida Pharmacy Act and its rules from the definition of wholesale distribution. However, the requirement for a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor permit is still required in s. 499.01(2)(g), F.S., for a retail pharmacy that engages in the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs to practitioners of up to 30 percent of the pharmacy's total annual prescription drug purchases. It is not apparent how these two sections of law are intended to co-exist and additional legislative direction may be warranted.

Lines 1580-1589 exempt a restricted prescription drug distributor that repackages and distributes a prescription drug to a not-for-profit rural hospital from compliance with all current state and federal current good manufacturing practices relating to repackaging. This may be overly broad and might create unreasonable risks for persons receiving those drugs in the rural hospital. Also, this provision may be read as exempting compliance with current good manufacturing practices for all repacked and distributed prescription drugs to all health care entities if at least one of the recipients is a rural hospital.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 499.003, 499.005, 499.0051, 499.006, 499.01, 499.012, 499.01201, 499.0121, 499.015, 499.03, 499.05, 499.051, 499.066, 499.82, 499.89, 409.9201, 499.067, 794.075, and 921.0022.

This bill repeals section 499.01212 of the Florida Statutes.

(d) A permit for a prescription drug manufacturer, prescription drug repackager, prescription drug wholesale distributor, limited prescription drug veterinary wholesale distributor, or retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor may not be issued to the address of a health care entity or to a pharmacy licensed under chapter 465, except as provided in this paragraph. The department may issue a prescription drug manufacturer permit to an applicant at the same address as a licensed nuclear pharmacy, which is a health care entity, even if the nuclear pharmacy holds a special sterile compounding permit under chapter 465, for the purpose of manufacturing prescription drugs used in positron emission tomography or other radiopharmaceuticals, as listed in a rule adopted by the department pursuant to this paragraph. The purpose of this exemption is to assure availability of state-of-the-art pharmaceuticals that would pose a significant danger to the public health if manufactured at a separate establishment address from the nuclear pharmacy from which the prescription drugs are dispensed. The department may also issue a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor permit to the address of a community pharmacy licensed under chapter 465, even if the community pharmacy holds a special sterile compounding permit under chapter 465, as long as the community pharmacy ~~which~~ does not meet the definition of a closed pharmacy in s. 499.003.

(e) A county or municipality may not issue an occupational license for ~~any licensing period beginning on or after October 1, 2003, for~~ any establishment that requires a permit pursuant to this part, unless the establishment exhibits a current permit issued by the department for the establishment. Upon presentation of the requisite permit issued by the department, an occupational license may be issued by the municipality or county in which application is made. The department shall furnish to local agencies responsible for issuing occupational licenses a current list of all establishments licensed pursuant to this part.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (6), a permitted person in good standing may change the type of permit issued to that person by completing a new application for the requested permit, paying the amount of the difference in the permit fees if the fee for the new permit is more than the fee for the original permit, and meeting the applicable permitting conditions for the new permit type. The new permit expires on the expiration date of the original permit being changed; however, a new permit for a prescription drug wholesale distributor, an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor, or a retail pharmacy drug wholesale distributor shall expire on the expiration date of the original permit or 1 year after the date of issuance of the new permit, whichever is earlier. A refund may not be issued if the fee for the new permit is less than the fee that was paid for the original permit.

(3)(a) A written application for a permit or to renew a permit must be filed with the department on forms furnished by the department. The department shall establish, by rule, the form and content of the application to obtain or renew a permit. The applicant must submit to the department with the application a statement that swears or affirms that the information is true and correct.

(b) Upon a determination that 2 years have elapsed since the department notified an applicant for permit, certification, or product registration of a deficiency in the application and that the applicant has failed to cure the deficiency, the application shall expire. The determination regarding the 2-year lapse of time shall be based on documentation that the department notified the applicant of the deficiency in accordance with s. 120.60.

(c) Information submitted by an applicant on an application required pursuant to this subsection which is a trade secret, as defined in s. 812.081, shall be maintained by the department as trade secret information pursuant to s. 499.051(7).

(d) The department shall consider, at a minimum, the following factors in reviewing the qualifications of persons to be permitted under this part:

1. The applicant's having been found guilty, regardless of ~~distributor:~~

(a) The department shall adopt rules for the biennial renewal of permits; however, the department may issue up to a 4-year permit to selected permittees notwithstanding any other provision of law. Fees for such renewal may not exceed the fee caps set forth in s. 499.041 on an annualized basis as authorized by law.

(6) A permit issued by the department is nontransferable. Each permit is valid only for the person or governmental unit to which it is issued and is not subject to sale, assignment, or other transfer, voluntarily or involuntarily; nor is a permit valid for any establishment other than the establishment for which it was originally issued.

(a) A person permitted under this part must notify the department before making a change of address. The department shall set a change of location fee not to exceed $100.

(b)1. An application for a new permit is required when a

(f) The applicant’s past experience in manufacturing or

~~(12) For a permit for a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor:~~

~~(a) The department shall adopt rules for the annual renewal of permits. At least 90 days before the expiration of a permit, the department shall forward a permit renewal notification and renewal application to the prescription drug wholesale distributor or out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor at the mailing address of the permitted establishment on file with the department. The permit renewal notification must state conspicuously the date on which the permit for the establishment will expire and that the establishment may not operate unless the permit for the establishment is renewed timely.~~

~~(b) A permit, unless sooner suspended or revoked, automatically expires 1 year after the last day of the anniversary month in which the permit was originally issued. A permit may be renewed by making application for renewal on forms furnished by the department and paying the appropriate fees. If~~

~~a renewal application and fee are submitted and postmarked after 45 days prior to the expiration date of the permit, the permit may be renewed only upon payment of a late renewal fee of $100, plus the required renewal fee. A permittee that has submitted a renewal application in accordance with this paragraph may continue to operate under its permit, unless the permit is suspended or revoked, until final disposition of the renewal application.~~

~~(c) Failure to renew a permit in accordance with this section precludes any future renewal of that permit. If a permit issued pursuant to this section has expired and cannot be renewed, before an establishment may engage in activities that require a permit under this part, the establishment must submit an application for a new permit; pay the applicable application fee, initial permit fee, and all applicable penalties; and be issued a new permit by the department.~~

(12) ~~(13)~~ A person that engages in wholesale distribution of prescription drugs in this state must have a wholesale distributor's permit issued by the department, except as noted in this section. Each establishment must be separately permitted except as noted in this subsection.

6. The pharmacy dispenses the consigned prescription drug in accordance with the limitations of its permit under chapter 465 or returns the consigned prescription drug to the consignor wholesale distributor. In addition, a person who holds title to prescription drugs may transfer the drugs to a person permitted or licensed to handle the reverse distribution or destruction of drugs. Any other distribution by and means of the consigned prescription drug by any person, not limited to the consignor wholesale distributor or consignee pharmacy, to any other person is prohibited.

(b) A wholesale distributor's permit is not required for the one-time transfer of title of a pharmacy's lawfully acquired prescription drug inventory by a pharmacy with a valid permit issued under chapter 465 to a consignor prescription drug wholesale distributor, permitted under this chapter, in accordance with a written consignment agreement between the pharmacy and that wholesale distributor if the permitted pharmacy and the permitted prescription drug wholesale distributor comply with all of the provisions of paragraph (a) and the prescription drugs continue to be within the permitted pharmacy's inventory for dispensing in accordance with the limitations of the pharmacy permit under chapter 465. A consignor drug wholesale distributor may not use the pharmacy as a wholesale distributor through which it distributes the prescription drugs to other pharmacies. Nothing in this section is intended to prevent a wholesale distributor from obtaining this inventory in the event of nonpayment by the pharmacy.

(c) A separate establishment permit is not required when a permitted prescription drug wholesale distributor operates temporary transit storage facilities for the sole purpose of storage, for up to 16 hours, of a delivery of prescription drugs when the wholesale distributor was temporarily unable to complete the delivery to the recipient.

(15) ~~(16)~~ (a) Each establishment that is issued an initial or renewal permit as a prescription drug wholesale distributor or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor must designate in writing to the department at least one natural person to serve as the designated representative of the wholesale distributor. the rules adopted by the department governing the wholesale distribution of prescription drugs. This requirement shall be effective 1 year after the results of the initial examination are mailed to the persons that took the examination. The department shall offer such examinations at least four times each calendar year.

5. Provide the department with a personal information statement and fingerprints pursuant to subsection (9).

(c) The department may deny an application for certification as a designated representative or may suspend or revoke a certification of a designated representative pursuant to s. 499.067.

(d) A designated representative:

1. Must be actively involved in and aware of the actual daily operation of the wholesale distributor.

2. Must be employed full time in a managerial position by the wholesale distributor.

3. Must be physically present at the establishment during normal business hours, except for time periods when absent due to illness, family illness or death, scheduled vacation, or other authorized absence.

4. May serve as a designated representative for only one wholesale distributor at any one time.

(e) A wholesale distributor must notify the department when a designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor. Such notice must be provided to the department within 10 business days after the last day of designated representative's employment with the wholesale distributor.

(f) A wholesale distributor may not operate under a prescription drug wholesale distributor permit or an out-of-state prescription drug wholesale distributor permit for more than 10 business days after the designated representative leaves the employ of the wholesale distributor, unless the wholesale distributor employs another designated representative and notifies the department within 10 business days of the identity of the new designated representative.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/CS/SB 1630 makes the following changes regarding Citizens Property Insurance Corporation (Citizens):

Citizens Depopulation

- Requires Citizens to make changes, by January 1, 2017, to their plan of operation as it relates to take-out agreements made with private insurers.
- Requires Citizens to establish six cycles for which take-out offers can be made by private insurers to Citizens' policyholders.
- Requires private insurers to offer similar coverage comparable to Citizens and must agree that their initial premium will be within ten percent of the estimated premium submitted with the take-out offer.
- Requires private insurers must include in their take-out offers to Citizens policyholders, a comparison of coverages and rate between the insurer's policy and Citizens policy.
- Requires Citizens to compile a list of companies that have shown interest in depopulating a policy and to make available to the agent of record.
- Allows a Citizens policyholder, who accepts a take-out offer, the ability to reapply to Citizens and be treated as a renewal through the clearinghouse if within 36 months of leaving Citizens their premium is increased above the rate allowed in the bill.

Citizens Agent Appointments

- Requires that agents who write business for Citizens must also hold an appointment with an admitted carrier that is currently writing or renewing policies in the state.

Other Provisions

- Allows the consumer representative to the Citizens Board of Governors to be afforded the same conflict of interest exemption as other board members.
- Allows Citizens to share underwriting and claims files data with entities that have obtained a permit to become an authorized insurer, a reinsurer, reinsurance broker, a licensed rating organization, a modeling company, or a licensed general lines insurance agent. Such data may only be used for the development of takeout plans or rating plans. General lines agents are prohibited from using Citizens' underwriting files and claims files for the direct solicitation of policyholders.

Public Model

Allows Citizens to use a combination of the public model and private models when calculating the windstorm portion of rates.

The bill has no fiscal impact to state funds.

The bill is effective July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

Citizens Property Insurance Corporation (Citizens)

Citizens Property Insurance Corporation (Citizens) is a state-created, not-for-profit, tax-exempt governmental entity whose public purpose is to provide property insurance coverage to those unable to find affordable coverage in the voluntary admitted market.[1] Citizens is not a private insurance company.[2] Citizens was statutorily created in 2002 when the Florida Legislature combined the state's two insurers of last resort, the Florida Residential Property and Casualty Joint Underwriting Association (RPCJUA) and the Florida Windstorm Underwriting Association (FWUA). Citizens operates in accordance with the provisions in s. 627.351(6), F.S., and is governed by an eight member Board of Governors[3] that administers its Plan of Operations. The Plan of Operations is reviewed and approved by the Financial Services Commission. The Governor, President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Chief Financial Officer each appoints two members to the board. Citizens is subject to regulation by the Florida Office of Insurance Regulation.

[1] Admitted market means insurance companies licensed to transact insurance in Florida.
[2] s. 627.351(6)(a)1., F.S. Citizens is also subject to regulation by the Office of Insurance Regulation.
[3] The Governor, the Chief Financial Officer, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives each appoint two members.

Citizens offers property insurance in three separate accounts. Each account is a separate statutory account with separate calculations of surplus and deficits.[4] Assets may not be commingled or used to fund losses in another account.[5]

The Personal Lines Account (PLA) offers personal lines residential policies that provide comprehensive, multiperil coverage statewide, except for those areas contained in the Coastal Account. The PLA also writes policies that exclude coverage for wind in areas contained within the Coastal Account. Personal lines residential coverage consists of the types of coverage provided to homeowners, mobile homeowners, dwellings, tenants, and condominium unit owner's policies.

The Commercial Lines Account (CLA) offers commercial lines residential and nonresidential policies that provide basic perils coverage statewide, except for those areas contained in the Coastal Account. The CLA also writes policies that exclude coverage for wind in areas contained within the Coastal Account. Commercial lines coverage includes commercial residential policies covering condominium associations, homeowners' associations, and apartment buildings. The coverage also includes commercial nonresidential policies covering business properties.

The Coastal Account offers personal residential, commercial residential and commercial non-residential policies in coastal areas of the state. Citizens must offer policies that solely cover the peril of wind (wind only policies) and may offer multiperil policies.[6]

The Citizens policyholder eligibility clearinghouse program was established by the Legislature in 2013.[7] Under the program, new and renewal policies for Citizens are placed into the clearinghouse where participating private insurers can review and decide to make offers of coverage before policies are placed or renewed with Citizens. For new policies applying with Citizens, any private market offer through the clearinghouse for similar coverage that is not greater than 15 percent of Citizens' rate makes the policy ineligible for coverage with Citizens. Additionally, a renewal Citizens policy that receives any private market offer through the clearinghouse for similar coverage that is equal to or less than Citizens' rate is ineligible for coverage with Citizens.

Citizens Board of Governors

Citizens operates under the direction of a nine member Board of Governors (board). The board members are not Citizens' employees and are not paid. The Chief Financial Officer, President of the Senate, and Speaker of the House of Representatives each appoint two members of the board, with one member appointed chair by the Chief Financial Officer (CFO). The Governor appoints

[4] The Personal Lines Account and the Commercial Lines Account are combined for credit and Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund coverage.

[6] In August of 2007, Citizens began offering personal and commercial residential multiperil policies in this limited eligibility area. Additionally, near the end of 2008, Citizens began offering commercial non-residential multiperil policies in this account.

three members, one of whom serves as a consumer representative.[8] Board members serve three-year staggered terms.

At least one of the two board members appointed by each appointing officer must have demonstrated expertise in insurance. By law, board members with the required insurance expertise fall within the exemption in the conflicting employment or contractual relationship statute that applies to public officers and agency employees.[9] Thus, these board members can maintain employment in the private sector in jobs involving business with Citizens without violating the conflict of interest statute because half of the board members are required by law to have insurance expertise in order to sit on the board.[10]

Agent Appointments

Section 627.351(6)(c)14., F.S., requires Citizens to appoint as its licensed agents only those agents who also hold an appointment with an insurer, who at the time of the agent's initial appointment by Citizens, is authorized to write and is actually writing personal lines residential property coverage, commercial residential property coverage, or commercial nonresidential property coverage within the state. As a result of the "initial appointment" language, there are many agents appointed by Citizens who currently do not hold an appointment with another private insurance company. As a result, these agents only try to place business in Citizens regardless if the policy should be submitted to the insurer of last resort.

Hurricane Loss Models

In 1995, the Legislature established the Florida Commission on Hurricane Loss Projection Methodology (Commission) to serve as an independent body within the State Board of Administration.[11] Section 627.0628, F.S., lists the 12 members who make up the commission[12]. The Commission is to adopt findings on the accuracy or reliability of the methods, standards, principles, models, and other means used to project hurricane losses. The Commission sets standards for loss projection methodology and examines the methods employed in proprietary hurricane loss models used by private insurers in setting rates to determine whether they meet the Commission's standards.

[9] Board members of Citizens fall under the definition of "public officer" in s. 112.313(1), F.S., because that definition includes any person appointed to hold office in any agency, including serving on an advisory board. "Agency" is defined in s. 112.312, F.S.

Public Hurricane Loss Model – Citizens

The Public Hurricane Model was approved by the Florida Legislature in the General Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2000-2001, and was directed to contract with the Florida University System. [13] The Financial Services Commission selected the Florida International University (FIU) as the lead institution for development. On August 9, 2005, the Florida Insurance Commissioner commissioned five teams of professionals to visit the FIU campus in Miami to review the efficacy of the Public Hurricane Model. The five teams included: 1) a Meteorological Team; 2) an Engineering Team; 3) an Insured Loss Team; 4) a Computer Science Team; and 5) a Statistical Team. Based on the team's findings, the insurance commissioner recommended to the Governor on August 31, 2005, that the Public Hurricane Model was ready for use.[14]

Section 627.351(6)(n)3., F.S., requires that Citizens must use the Public Model as the minimum benchmark when establishing rates. Citizens has found in certain territories that the Public Model ends up being the highest rates of all the models run. By requiring Citizens to use the Public Model as the minimum benchmark means Citizens must submit rates that are higher than rates that would have been allowed under the private model results.

Citizens Underwriting and Claims Files

Current law allows Citizens to share confidential underwriting and claims files with an insurer that is contemplating underwriting a risk insured by the corporation, provided the insurer executes a notarized agreement to retain their confidentiality.[15] The corporation may also make specified information from the underwriting and claims files available to general lines insurance agents. Such information is limited to the name, address, and telephone number of the property owner or insured; the location of the risk; rating information; loss history; and policy type. The law requires the agent to keep the information confidential.[16]

Takeout Bonus Agreements

Section 627.3511, F.S., was enacted by the Legislature in 1995[17] and at that time applied to the depopulation of the Residential Property and Casualty Joint Underwriting Association. After the Legislature merged the two underwriting associations to create Citizens in 2002, this section was amended to apply to the depopulation of Citizens.

Take out agreements that were approved under this section allowed for a per policy bonus to be paid to each participating insurer provided that they removed a given number of policies for a set number of years. Today, takeouts from Citizens are no longer approved through takeout bonus agreements. The last Citizens takeout bonus agreement under this section took place in November 2007.

Takeout Non-Bonus Agreements

In January of 2008, Citizens Board of Governors adopted a takeout non-bonus plan that was approved by the Office of Insurance Regulation (OIR) in March of that year. Since that time, most takeout agreements between Citizens and private carriers have occurred under this plan. The OIR has on occasion required stipulations in takeout agreements in addition to the requirements of the approved plan. Until 2009, the OIR required private carriers that removed policies from Citizens through a takeout agreement to write the risk at a rate below the rate of Citizens at that time.[18] Additionally, in November of 2013, the OIR began requiring takeout companies to provide information to the policyholder detailing a rate comparison between the Citizens rate and the private insurer's rate.[19]

Depopulation

Florida law requires Citizens to create programs to help return Citizens policies to the private market and reduce the risk of additional assessments for all Floridians.[20] Policyholders whose policies are selected for takeout are sent a letter notifying them of the pending takeout and, if eligible, they are provided instructions on how they can elect (opt-out) and remain with Citizens. Policyholders who do not opt-out within the opt-out timeframe will receive a Notice of Assumption, a non-renewal from Citizens, and a Certificate of Assumption. The policyholder still has an additional timeframe from the receipt of these notices to elect to remain with Citizens. Citizens encourages policyholders who receive private-market offers to consider them carefully and discuss the advantages of such coverage with their agents. Accepting an offer from a private insurer can decrease a Citizens policyholder's potential of assessment.

In November 2011, Citizens reported it had issued 1,472,391 policies. As of January 19, 2016, Citizens reported it had issued 484,788 policies insured.[21] Much of the success of Citizens reduction in size is the result of depopulation through takeout agreements. From 2012 through 2015, 1,332,108 policies were removed for Citizens and placed into the private market through the use of the current takeout agreement process.[22]

Citizens Glide Path Rates

Citizens' rates for coverage are required to be actuarially sound and, except as otherwise provided in s. 627.351(6), are subject to the rate standards for property and casualty insurance in s. 627.062, F.S. From 2007 until 2010, Citizens rates were frozen by statute at the level that had been established in 2006. In 2010, the Legislature established a "glide path" to impose annual rate increases up to a level that is actuarially sound. Citizens must implement an annual rate increase which, except for sinkhole coverage, does not exceed ten percent above the previous year for any individual policyholder, adjusted for coverage changes and surcharges.[23] The implementation of this increase ceases when Citizens has achieved actuarially sound rates. addition to the overall glide path rate increase, Citizens can increase its rates to recover the additional reimbursement premium that it incurs as a result of the annual cash build-up factor added to the price of the mandatory layer of the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund coverage, pursuant to s. 215.555(5)(b), F.S.

Citizens Eligibility

Eligibility for a Citizens insurance policy is for the most part verified through the clearing house, which is established in s. 627.3518, F.S. A new policy applicant to Citizens is ineligible if they receive an offer from a participating carrier at a rate that is no greater than 15 percent of the current rate being charged by Citizens. Additionally, a Citizens policy is ineligible for renewal if the policyholder receives an offer from a participating carrier at a rate that is no greater than the current rate being charged by Citizens.

36 Month Reapplication Exception

In 2013, CS/SB 1770 passed the Legislature and was approved by the Governor.[24] The bill created the Citizens policyholder eligibility clearinghouse program and provided Citizens policyholders made ineligible through a private market offer the ability to reapply to Citizens in certain circumstances and be treated as a renewal policyholder under s. 627.3518(5), F.S., rather than a new policyholder. The provision allows "an applicant for coverage from the corporation who was declared ineligible for coverage at renewal by the corporation in the previous 36 months due to an offer of coverage pursuant to this subsection shall be considered a renewal under this section if the corporation determines that the authorized insurer making the offer of coverage pursuant to this subsection continues to insure the applicant and increases the rate on the policy in excess of the increase allowed for the corporation under s. 627.351(6)(n)6."

In 2015, CS/CS/HB 1087 amended s. 627.351(6), F.S., to include a provision that stated "a policyholder whose policy was taken out by an insurer in the previous 36 months is considered a renewal policyholder under s. 627.3518, F.S., if the corporation determines that the insurer continues to insure the policyholder and that the initial premium of the insurer exceeded its estimated premium by more than 10 percent or the insurer increased the rate on the policy in excess of the increase allowed for the corporation under subparagraph (6)(n)6." The Governor vetoed CS/CS/HB 1087; his veto message said "The second issue with the legislation is in regards to the provision that creates a process where the policyholder returns to Citizens even though they are currently insured by a private market insurer."[25]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill allows for the consumer representative on the Citizens board to be afforded the same exemption from the conflicting employment or contractual relationship statute for public officers and agency employees as is provided in current law to other members of the Citizens board. The bill requires agents placing policies with Citizens to hold an appointment by an insurer authorized to write and is writing or renewing personal lines or commercial residential property coverage or commercial nonresidential property coverage within the state.

The bill allows Citizens to use a combination of the public model and private models when calculating the windstorm portion of rates.

The bill expands the list of those who may receive information from the confidential underwriting and claims files to include an entity which has obtained a permit to become an authorized insurer, a reinsurer, reinsurance broker, a licensed rating organization, a modeling company, or a licensed general lines insurance agent. The information made available to these entities is the same information available to licensed general lines agents. The information may be used only for the purposes of analyzing risks for underwriting in the private insurance market or developing a rating plan and must be kept confidential. In addition, the bill expressly prohibits the use of the data by any of the authorized users, and licensed general lines insurance agents, for direct solicitation of policyholders.

The bill requires Citizens by January 1, 2017, to amend its plan of operations relating to take-out agreements made with private insurers. The amended plan must:

- Establish six cycles for which take-out offers can be made by private insurers to Citizens' policyholders. The provision is intended to decrease the number of solicitations that Citizens policyholders receive pursuant to take-out offers. Proponents of the provision have expressed concern that policyholders who intend to remain with Citizens are sometimes inundated with takeout offers that the policyholder then must affirmatively decline. The bill does not define the length of such cycles or at what times during the year such cycles may occur.
- Require that private insurers include in their take-out offers to Citizens policyholders, a comparison of coverages and rates between the insurer's policy and Citizens policy.
- Require that private insurers agree to offer similar coverage to that being offered by Citizens and that their initial premium must be within ten percent of the estimated premium submitted with the take-out offer. The term "initial premium is somewhat unclear as it could refer to the premium charged by the insurer upon the takeout, or the premium charged at first renewal.
- Require that Citizens compile a list of companies that have shown interest in depopulating a policy and must make the list available to the agent of record. The provision is intended to facilitate the placement of Citizens policies with private market insurers.
- Allow a Citizens policyholder, who accepts a take-out offer, the ability to reapply to Citizens and be treated as a renewal through the clearinghouse if within 36 months of leaving Citizens their premium is increased above the rate estimated in the initial take-out letter or exceeds the ten percent glide path cap imposed on Citizens policies.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

Under CS/CS/SB 1630, policyholders in certain territories could see their wind rates lowered with the combining of the results from the public and private model findings.

More private entities will have access to Citizens data which will better help them analyze risks and trends in Florida's insurance market. This may facilitate greater accuracy in underwriting practices and further facilitate the depopulation of Citizens.

Citizens' policyholders who accept take-out offers from private insurers and whose rates are then increased above the Citizens glide path, within 36 months of leaving Citizens, will have the ability to reapply with Citizens and be rated as a renewal through the clearinghouse. The premiums paid by such policyholders, if ultimately insured by Citizens, will not be greater than the premiums such policyholders would have paid if continuously insured by Citizens. Citizens premium increases are generally limited to no greater than ten percent annually, with exceptions, under s. 627.736(6)(n), F.S.

C. Government Sector Impact:

None.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 627.351 and 627.3518.

A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:
(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

CS/CS by Ethics and Elections on February 16, 2016:

- Prohibits a licensed general lines insurance agent from using Citizens' underwriting files and confidential claims files for the direct solicitation of policyholders.

CS by Banking and Insurance on February 1, 2016:
The committee substitute:

- Removes section 1 pertaining to multiline discounts.
- Allows Citizens to use a combination of the public model and private models when calculating windstorm rates.
- Increases to six cycles from three cycles when take-out offers can be made to Citizens policyholders from private insurers.
- Removes a provision pertaining to the use of Citizens forms for three years.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Paragraphs (c), (n), and (x) of subsection (6) of section 627.351, Florida Statutes, are amended, and paragraph (ii) is added to that subsection, to read:

627.351 Insurance risk apportionment plans.—

(6) CITIZENS PROPERTY INSURANCE CORPORATION.—

(c) The corporation's plan of operation:

1. Must provide for adoption of residential property and casualty insurance policy forms and commercial residential and nonresidential property insurance forms, which must be approved by the office before use. The corporation shall adopt the following policy forms:

a. Standard personal lines policy forms that are comprehensive multiperil policies providing full coverage of a residential property equivalent to the coverage provided in the private insurance market under an HO-3, HO-4, or HO-6 policy.

b. Basic personal lines policy forms that are policies similar to an HO-8 policy or a dwelling fire policy that provide coverage meeting the requirements of the secondary mortgage market, but which is more limited than the coverage under a standard policy.

c. Commercial lines residential and nonresidential policy forms that are generally similar to the basic perils of full coverage obtainable for commercial residential structures and commercial nonresidential structures in the admitted voluntary market.

d. Personal lines and commercial lines residential property insurance forms that cover the peril of wind only. The forms are applicable only to residential properties located in areas eligible for coverage under the coastal account referred to in sub-subparagraph (b)2.a.

e. Commercial lines nonresidential property insurance forms that cover the peril of wind only. The forms are applicable only to nonresidential properties located in areas eligible for coverage under the coastal account referred to in sub-subparagraph (b)2.a.

f. The corporation may adopt variations of the policy forms listed in sub-subparagraphs a.-e. which contain more restrictive coverage.

g. Effective January 1, 2013, the corporation shall offer a basic personal lines policy similar to an HO-8 policy with dwelling repair based on common construction materials and methods.

2. Must provide that the corporation adopt a program in which the corporation and authorized insurers enter into quota share primary insurance agreements for hurricane coverage, as defined in s. 627.4025(2)(a), for eligible risks, and adopt property insurance forms for eligible risks which cover the peril of wind only.

a. As used in this subsection, the term:

(I) "Quota share primary insurance" means an arrangement in which the primary hurricane coverage of an eligible risk is provided in specified percentages by the corporation and an authorized insurer. The corporation and authorized insurer are each solely responsible for a specified percentage of hurricane coverage of an eligible risk as set forth in a quota share primary insurance agreement between the corporation and an authorized insurer and the insurance contract. The responsibility of the corporation or authorized insurer to pay its specified percentage of hurricane losses of an eligible risk, as set forth in the agreement, may not be altered by the inability of the other party to pay its specified percentage of losses. Eligible risks that are provided hurricane coverage through a quota share primary insurance arrangement must be provided policy forms that set forth the obligations of the corporation and authorized insurer under the arrangement, clearly specify the percentages of quota share primary insurance provided by the corporation and authorized insurer, and conspicuously and clearly state that the authorized insurer and the corporation may not be held responsible beyond their specified percentage of coverage of hurricane losses.

(II) "Eligible risks" means personal lines residential and commercial lines residential risks that meet the underwriting criteria of the corporation and are located in areas that were eligible for coverage by the Florida Windstorm Underwriting Association on January 1, 2002.

b. The corporation may enter into quota share primary insurance agreements with authorized insurers at corporation coverage levels of 90 percent and 50 percent.

c. If the corporation determines that additional coverage levels are necessary to maximize participation in quota share primary insurance agreements by authorized insurers, the corporation may establish additional coverage levels. However, the corporation's quota share primary insurance coverage level may not exceed 90 percent.

d. Any quota share primary insurance agreement entered into between an authorized insurer and the corporation must provide for a uniform specified percentage of coverage of hurricane losses, by county or territory as set forth by the corporation board, for all eligible risks of the authorized insurer covered under the agreement.

e. Any quota share primary insurance agreement entered into between an authorized insurer and the corporation is subject to review and approval by the office. However, such agreement shall be authorized only as to insurance contracts entered into between an authorized insurer and an insured who is already insured by the corporation for wind coverage.

f. For all eligible risks covered under quota share primary insurance agreements, the exposure and coverage levels for both the corporation and authorized insurers shall be reported by the corporation to the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund. For all policies of eligible risks covered under such agreements, the corporation and the authorized insurer must maintain complete and accurate records for the purpose of exposure and loss reimbursement audits as required by fund rules. The corporation and the authorized insurer shall each maintain duplicate copies of policy declaration pages and supporting claims documents.

g. The corporation board shall establish in its plan of operation standards for quota share agreements which ensure that there is no discriminatory application among insurers as to the terms of the agreements, pricing of the agreements, incentive provisions if any, and consideration paid for servicing policies or adjusting claims.

h. The quota share primary insurance agreement between the corporation and an authorized insurer must set forth the specific terms under which coverage is provided, including, but not limited to, the sale and servicing of policies issued under the agreement by the insurance agent of the authorized insurer producing the business, the reporting of information concerning eligible risks, the payment of premium to the corporation, and arrangements for the adjustment and payment of hurricane claims incurred on eligible risks by the claims adjuster and personnel of the authorized insurer. Entering into a quota sharing insurance agreement between the corporation and an authorized insurer is voluntary and at the discretion of the authorized insurer.

3. May provide that the corporation may employ or otherwise contract with individuals or other entities to provide administrative or professional services that may be appropriate to effectuate the plan. The corporation may borrow funds by issuing bonds or by incurring other indebtedness, and shall have other powers reasonably necessary to effectuate the requirements of this subsection, including, without limitation, the power to issue bonds and incur other indebtedness in order to refinance outstanding bonds or other indebtedness. The corporation may seek judicial validation of its bonds or other indebtedness under chapter 75. The corporation may issue bonds or incur other indebtedness, or have bonds issued on its behalf by a unit of local government pursuant to subparagraph (q)2. in the absence of a hurricane or other weather-related event, upon a determination by the corporation, subject to approval by the office, that such action would enable it to efficiently meet the financial obligations of the corporation and that such financings are reasonably necessary to effectuate the requirements of this subsection. The corporation may take all actions needed to facilitate tax-free status for such bonds or indebtedness, including formation of trusts or other affiliated entities. The corporation may pledge assessments, projected recoveries from the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund, other reinsurance recoverables, policyholder surcharges and other surcharges, and other funds available to the corporation as security for bonds or other indebtedness. In recognition of s. 10, Art. I of the State Constitution, prohibiting the impairment of obligations of contracts, it is the intent of the Legislature that no action be taken whose purpose is to impair any bond indenture or financing agreement or any revenue source committed by contract to such bond or other indebtedness.

4. Must require that the corporation operate subject to the supervision and approval of a board of governors consisting of nine individuals who are residents of this state and who are from different geographical areas of the state, one of whom is appointed by the Governor and serves solely to advocate on behalf of the consumer. The appointment of a consumer representative by the Governor is deemed to be within the scope of the exemption provided in s. 112.313(7)(b) and is in addition to the appointments authorized under sub-subparagraph a.

a. The Governor, the Chief Financial Officer, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall each appoint two members of the board. At least one of the two members appointed by each appointing officer must have demonstrated expertise in insurance and be deemed to be within the scope of the exemption provided in s. 112.313(7)(b). The Chief Financial Officer shall designate one of the appointees as chair. All board members serve at the pleasure of the appointing officer. All members of the board are subject to removal at will by the officers who appointed them. All board members, including the chair, must be appointed to serve for 3-year terms beginning annually on a date designated by the plan. However, for the first term beginning on or after July 1, 2009, each appointing officer shall appoint one member of the board for a 2-year term and one member for a 3-year term. A board vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term by the appointing officer. The Chief Financial Officer shall appoint a technical advisory group to provide information and advice to the board in connection with the board's duties under this subsection. The executive director and senior managers of the corporation shall be engaged by the board and serve at the pleasure of the board. Any executive director appointed on or after July 1, 2006, is subject to confirmation by the Senate. The executive director is responsible for employing other staff as the corporation may require, subject to review and concurrence by the board.

b. The board shall create a Market Accountability Advisory Committee to assist the corporation in developing awareness of its rates and its customer and agent service levels in relationship to the voluntary market insurers writing similar coverage.

(I) The members of the advisory committee consist of the following 11 persons, one of whom must be elected chair by the members of the committee: four representatives, one appointed by the Florida Association of Insurance Agents, one by the Florida

Association of Insurance and Financial Advisors, one by the Professional Insurance Agents of Florida, and one by the Latin American Association of Insurance Agencies; three representatives appointed by the insurers with the three highest voluntary market share of residential property insurance business in the state; one representative from the Office of Insurance Regulation; one consumer appointed by the board who is insured by the corporation at the time of appointment to the committee; one representative appointed by the Florida Association of Realtors; and one representative appointed by the Florida Bankers Association. All members shall be appointed to 3-year terms and may serve for consecutive terms.

(II) The committee shall report to the corporation at each board meeting on insurance market issues which may include rates and rate competition with the voluntary market; service, including policy issuance, claims processing, and general responsiveness to policyholders, applicants, and agents; and matters relating to depopulation.

5. Must provide a procedure for determining the eligibility of a risk for coverage, as follows:

a. Subject to s. 627.3517, with respect to personal lines residential risks, if the risk is offered coverage from an authorized insurer at the insurer's approved rate under a standard policy including wind coverage or, if consistent with the insurer's underwriting rules as filed with the office, a basic policy including wind coverage, for a new application to the corporation for coverage, the risk is not eligible for any policy issued by the corporation unless the premium for coverage from the authorized insurer is more than 15 percent greater than the premium for comparable coverage from the corporation. Whenever an offer of coverage for a personal lines residential risk is received for a policyholder of the corporation at renewal from an authorized insurer, if the offer is equal to or less than the corporation's renewal premium for comparable coverage, the risk is not eligible for coverage with the corporation. If the risk is not able to obtain such offer, the risk is eligible for a standard policy including wind coverage or a basic policy including wind coverage issued by the corporation; however, if the risk could not be insured under a standard policy including wind coverage regardless of market conditions, the risk is eligible for a basic policy including wind coverage unless rejected under subparagraph 8. However, a policyholder removed from the corporation through an assumption agreement remains eligible for coverage from the corporation until the end of the assumption period. The corporation shall determine the type of policy to be provided on the basis of objective standards specified in the underwriting manual and based on generally accepted underwriting practices.

(I) If the risk accepts an offer of coverage through the market assistance plan or through a mechanism established by the corporation other than a plan established by s. 627.3518, before a policy is issued to the risk by the corporation or during the first 30 days of coverage by the corporation, and the producing agent who submitted the application to the plan or to the corporation is not currently appointed by the insurer, the insurer shall:

(A) Pay to the producing agent of record of the policy for the first year, an amount that is the greater of the insurer's usual and customary commission for the type of policy written or a fee equal to the usual and customary commission of the corporation; or

(B) Offer to allow the producing agent of record of the policy to continue servicing the policy for at least 1 year and offer to pay the agent the greater of the insurer's or the corporation's usual and customary commission for the type of policy written.

If the producing agent is unwilling or unable to accept appointment, the new insurer shall pay the agent in accordance with sub-sub-sub-subparagraph (A).

(II) If the corporation enters into a contractual agreement for a take-out plan, the producing agent of record of the corporation policy is entitled to retain any unearned commission on the policy, and the insurer shall:

(A) Pay to the producing agent of record, for the first year, an amount that is the greater of the insurer's usual and customary commission for the type of policy written or a fee equal to the usual and customary commission of the corporation; or

(B) Offer to allow the producing agent of record to continue servicing the policy for at least 1 year and offer to pay the agent the greater of the insurer's or the corporation's usual and customary commission for the type of policy written.

If the producing agent is unwilling or unable to accept appointment, the new insurer shall pay the agent in accordance with sub-sub-sub-subparagraph (A).

b. With respect to commercial lines residential risks, for a new application to the corporation for coverage, if the risk is offered coverage under a policy including wind coverage from an authorized insurer at its approved rate, the risk is not eligible for a policy issued by the corporation unless the premium for coverage from the authorized insurer is more than 15 percent greater than the premium for comparable coverage from the corporation. Whenever an offer of coverage for a commercial lines residential risk is received for a policyholder of the corporation at renewal from an authorized insurer, if the offer is equal to or less than the corporation's renewal premium for comparable coverage, the risk is not eligible for coverage with the corporation. If the risk is not able to obtain any such offer, the risk is eligible for a policy including wind coverage issued by the corporation. However, a policyholder removed from the corporation through an assumption agreement remains eligible for coverage from the corporation until the end of the assumption period.

(I) If the risk accepts an offer of coverage through the market assistance plan or through a mechanism established by the corporation other than a plan established by s. 627.3518, before a policy is issued to the risk by the corporation or during the first 30 days of coverage by the corporation, and the producing agent who submitted the application to the plan or the corporation is not currently appointed by the insurer, the insurer shall:

(A) Pay to the producing agent of record of the policy, for the first year, an amount that is the greater of the insurer's usual and customary commission for the type of policy written or a fee equal to the usual and customary commission of the corporation; or

(B) Offer to allow the producing agent of record of the policy to continue servicing the policy for at least 1 year and offer to pay the agent the greater of the insurer's or the corporation's usual and customary commission for the type of policy written.

If the producing agent is unwilling or unable to accept appointment, the new insurer shall pay the agent in accordance with sub-sub-sub-subparagraph (A).

(II) If the corporation enters into a contractual agreement for a take-out plan, the producing agent of record of the corporation policy is entitled to retain any unearned commission on the policy, and the insurer shall:

(A) Pay to the producing agent of record, for the first year, an amount that is the greater of the insurer's usual and customary commission for the type of policy written or a fee equal to the usual and customary commission of the corporation; or

(B) Offer to allow the producing agent of record to continue servicing the policy for at least 1 year and offer to pay the agent the greater of the insurer's or the corporation's usual and customary commission for the type of policy written.

If the producing agent is unwilling or unable to accept appointment, the new insurer shall pay the agent in accordance with sub-sub-sub-subparagraph (A).

c. For purposes of determining comparable coverage under sub-subparagraphs a. and b., the comparison must be based on those forms and coverages that are reasonably comparable. The corporation may rely on a determination of comparable coverage and premium made by the producing agent who submits the application to the corporation, made in the agent's capacity as the corporation's agent. A comparison may be made solely of the premium with respect to the main building or structure only on the following basis: the same coverage A or other building limits; the same percentage hurricane deductible that applies on an annual basis or that applies to each hurricane for commercial residential property; the same percentage of ordinance and law coverage, if the same limit is offered by both the corporation and the authorized insurer; the same mitigation credits, to the extent the same types of credits are offered both by the corporation and the authorized insurer; the same method for loss payment, such as replacement cost or actual cash value, if the same method is offered both by the corporation and the authorized insurer in accordance with underwriting rules; and any other form or coverage that is reasonably comparable as determined by the board. If an application is submitted to the corporation for wind-only coverage in the coastal account, the premium for the corporation's wind-only policy plus the premium for the ex-wind policy that is offered by an authorized insurer to the applicant must be compared to the premium for multiperil coverage offered by an authorized insurer, subject to the standards for comparison specified in this subparagraph. If the corporation or the applicant requests from the authorized insurer a breakdown of the premium of the offer by types of coverage so that a comparison may be made by the corporation or its agent and the authorized insurer refuses or is unable to provide such information, the corporation may treat the offer as not being an offer of coverage from an authorized insurer at the insurer's approved rate.

6. Must include rules for classifications of risks and rates.

7. Must provide that if premium and investment income for an account attributable to a particular calendar year are in excess of projected losses and expenses for the account attributable to that year, such excess shall be held in surplus in the account. Such surplus must be available to defray deficits in that account as to future years and used for that purpose before assessing assessable insurers and assessable insureds as to any calendar year.

8. Must provide objective criteria and procedures to be uniformly applied to all applicants in determining whether an individual risk is so hazardous as to be uninsurable. In making this determination and in establishing the criteria and procedures, the following must be considered:

a. Whether the likelihood of a loss for the individual risk is substantially higher than for other risks of the same class; and

b. Whether the uncertainty associated with the individual risk is such that an appropriate premium cannot be determined.

The acceptance or rejection of a risk by the corporation shall be construed as the private placement of insurance, and the provisions of chapter 120 do not apply.

9. Must provide that the corporation make its best efforts to procure catastrophe reinsurance at reasonable rates, to cover its projected 100-year probable maximum loss as determined by the board of governors.

10. The policies issued by the corporation must provide that if the corporation or the market assistance plan obtains an offer from an authorized insurer to cover the risk at its approved rates, the risk is no longer eligible for renewal through the corporation, except as otherwise provided in this subsection.

11. Corporation policies and applications must include a notice that the corporation policy could, under this section, be replaced with a policy issued by an authorized insurer which does not provide coverage identical to the coverage provided by the corporation. The notice must also specify that acceptance of corporation coverage creates a conclusive presumption that the applicant or policyholder is aware of this potential.

12. May establish, subject to approval by the office, different eligibility requirements and operational procedures for any line or type of coverage for any specified county or area if the board determines that such changes are justified due to the voluntary market being sufficiently stable and competitive in such area or for such line or type of coverage and that consumers who, in good faith, are unable to obtain insurance through the voluntary market through ordinary methods continue to have access to coverage from the corporation. If coverage is sought in connection with a real property transfer, the requirements and procedures may not provide an effective date of coverage later than the date of the closing of the transfer as established by the transferor, the transferee, and, if applicable, the lender.

13. Must provide that, with respect to the coastal account, any assessable insurer with a surplus as to policyholders of $25 million or less writing 25 percent or more of its total countrywide property insurance premiums in this state may petition the office, within the first 90 days of each calendar year, to qualify as a limited apportionment company. A regular assessment levied by the corporation on a limited apportionment company for a deficit incurred by the corporation for the coastal account may be paid to the corporation on a monthly basis as the assessments are collected by the limited apportionment company from its insureds, but a limited apportionment company must begin collecting the regular assessments not later than 90 days after the regular assessments are levied by the corporation, and the regular assessments must be paid in full within 15 months after being levied by the corporation. A limited apportionment company shall collect from its policyholders any emergency assessment imposed under sub-subparagraph (b)3.d. The plan must provide that, if the office determines that any regular assessment will result in an impairment of the surplus of a limited apportionment company, the office may direct that all or part of such assessment be deferred as provided in subparagraph (q)4. However, an emergency assessment to be collected from policyholders under sub-subparagraph (b)3.d. may not be limited or deferred.

14. Must provide that the corporation appoint as its licensed agents only those agents who throughout such appointments also hold an appointment as defined in s. 626.015(3) by ~~with~~ an insurer who ~~at the time of the agent's initial appointment by the corporation~~ is authorized to write and is actually writing or renewing personal lines residential property coverage, commercial residential property coverage, or commercial nonresidential property coverage within the state.

15. Must provide a premium payment plan option to its policyholders which, at a minimum, allows for quarterly and semiannual payment of premiums. A monthly payment plan may, but is not required to, be offered.

16. Must limit coverage on mobile homes or manufactured homes built before 1994 to actual cash value of the dwelling rather than replacement costs of the dwelling.

17. Must provide coverage for manufactured or mobile home dwellings. Such coverage must also include the following attached structures:

a. Screened enclosures that are aluminum framed or screened enclosures that are not covered by the same or substantially the same materials as those of the primary dwelling;

b. Carports that are aluminum or carports that are not covered by the same or substantially the same materials as those of the primary dwelling; and

c. Patios that have a roof covering that is constructed of materials that are not the same or substantially the same materials as those of the primary dwelling.

The corporation shall make available a policy for mobile homes or manufactured homes for a minimum insured value of at least $3,000.

18. May provide such limits of coverage as the board determines, consistent with the requirements of this subsection.

19. May require commercial property to meet specified hurricane mitigation construction features as a condition of eligibility for coverage.

20. Must provide that new or renewal policies issued by the corporation on or after January 1, 2012, which cover sinkhole loss do not include coverage for any loss to appurtenant structures, driveways, sidewalks, decks, or patios that are directly or indirectly caused by sinkhole activity. The corporation shall exclude such coverage using a notice of coverage change, which may be included with the policy renewal, and not by issuance of a notice of nonrenewal of the excluded coverage upon renewal of the current policy.

21. As of January 1, 2012, must require that the agent obtain from an applicant for coverage from the corporation an acknowledgment signed by the applicant, which includes, at a minimum, the following statement:

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF POTENTIAL SURCHARGE AND ASSESSMENT LIABILITY:

1. AS A POLICYHOLDER OF CITIZENS PROPERTY INSURANCE CORPORATION, I UNDERSTAND THAT IF THE CORPORATION SUSTAINS A DEFICIT AS A RESULT OF HURRICANE LOSSES OR FOR ANY OTHER REASON, MY POLICY COULD BE SUBJECT TO SURCHARGES, WHICH WILL BE DUE AND PAYABLE UPON RENEWAL, CANCELLATION, OR TERMINATION OF THE POLICY, AND THAT THE SURCHARGES COULD BE AS HIGH AS 45 PERCENT OF MY PREMIUM, OR A DIFFERENT AMOUNT AS IMPOSED BY THE FLORIDA LEGISLATURE.

2. I UNDERSTAND THAT I CAN AVOID THE CITIZENS POLICYHOLDER SURCHARGE, WHICH COULD BE AS HIGH AS 45 PERCENT OF MY PREMIUM, BY OBTAINING COVERAGE FROM A PRIVATE MARKET INSURER AND THAT TO

BE ELIGIBLE FOR COVERAGE BY CITIZENS, I MUST FIRST TRY TO OBTAIN PRIVATE MARKET COVERAGE BEFORE APPLYING FOR OR RENEWING COVERAGE WITH CITIZENS. I UNDERSTAND THAT PRIVATE MARKET INSURANCE RATES ARE REGULATED AND APPROVED BY THE STATE.

3. I UNDERSTAND THAT I MAY BE SUBJECT TO EMERGENCY ASSESSMENTS TO THE SAME EXTENT AS POLICYHOLDERS OF OTHER INSURANCE COMPANIES, OR A DIFFERENT AMOUNT AS IMPOSED BY THE FLORIDA LEGISLATURE.

4. I ALSO UNDERSTAND THAT CITIZENS PROPERTY INSURANCE CORPORATION IS NOT SUPPORTED BY THE FULL FAITH AND CREDIT OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA.

a. The corporation shall maintain, in electronic format or otherwise, a copy of the applicant's signed acknowledgment and provide a copy of the statement to the policyholder as part of the first renewal after the effective date of this subparagraph.

b. The signed acknowledgment form creates a conclusive presumption that the policyholder understood and accepted his or her potential surcharge and assessment liability as a policyholder of the corporation.

(n)1. Rates for coverage provided by the corporation must be actuarially sound and subject to s. 627.062, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph. The corporation shall file its recommended rates with the office at least annually. The corporation shall provide any additional information regarding the rates which the office requires. The office shall consider the recommendations of the board and issue a final order establishing the rates for the corporation within 45 days after the recommended rates are filed. The corporation may not pursue an administrative challenge or judicial review of the final order of the office.

2. In addition to the rates otherwise determined pursuant to this paragraph, the corporation shall impose and collect an amount equal to the premium tax provided in s. 624.509 to augment the financial resources of the corporation.

3. After the public hurricane loss-projection model under s. 627.06281 has been found to be accurate and reliable by the Florida Commission on Hurricane Loss Projection Methodology, the model shall be considered when establishing ~~serve as the minimum benchmark for determining~~ the windstorm portion of the corporation's rates. The corporation may use the public model results in combination with the results of private models to calculate rates for the windstorm portion of the corporation's rates. This subparagraph does not require or allow the corporation to adopt rates lower than the rates otherwise required or allowed by this paragraph.

4. The rate filings for the corporation which were approved by the office and took effect January 1, 2007, are rescinded, except for those rates that were lowered. As soon as possible, the corporation shall begin using the lower rates that were in effect on December 31, 2006, and provide refunds to policyholders who paid higher rates as a result of that rate filing. The rates in effect on December 31, 2006, remain in effect for the 2007 and 2008 calendar years except for any rate change that results in a lower rate. The next rate change that may increase rates shall take effect pursuant to a new rate filing recommended by the corporation and established by the office, subject to this paragraph.

5. Beginning on July 15, 2009, and annually thereafter, the corporation must make a recommended actuarially sound rate filing for each personal and commercial line of business it writes, to be effective no earlier than January 1, 2010.

6. Beginning on or after January 1, 2010, and notwithstanding the board's recommended rates and the office's final order regarding the corporation's filed rates under subparagraph 1., the corporation shall annually implement a rate increase which, except for sinkhole coverage, does not exceed 10 percent for any single policy issued by the corporation, excluding coverage changes and surcharges.

7. The corporation may also implement an increase to reflect the effect on the corporation of the cash buildup factor pursuant to s. 215.555(5)(b).

8. The corporation's implementation of rates as prescribed in subparagraph 6. shall cease for any line of business written by the corporation upon the corporation's implementation of actuarially sound rates. Thereafter, the corporation shall annually make a recommended actuarially sound rate filing for each commercial and personal line of business the corporation writes.

(x)1. The following records of the corporation are confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution:

a. Underwriting files, except that a policyholder or an applicant shall have access to his or her own underwriting files. Confidential and exempt underwriting file records may also be released to other governmental agencies upon written request and demonstration of need; such records held by the receiving agency remain confidential and exempt as provided herein.

b. Claims files, until termination of all litigation and settlement of all claims arising out of the same incident, although portions of the claims files may remain exempt, as otherwise provided by law. Confidential and exempt claims file records may be released to other governmental agencies upon written request and demonstration of need; such records held by the receiving agency remain confidential and exempt as provided herein.

c. Records obtained or generated by an internal auditor pursuant to a routine audit, until the audit is completed, or if the audit is conducted as part of an investigation, until the investigation is closed or ceases to be active. An investigation is considered "active" while the investigation is being conducted with a reasonable, good faith belief that it could lead to the filing of administrative, civil, or criminal proceedings.

d. Matters reasonably encompassed in privileged attorney-client communications.

e. Proprietary information licensed to the corporation under contract and the contract provides for the confidentiality of such proprietary information.

f. All information relating to the medical condition or medical status of a corporation employee which is not relevant to the employee's capacity to perform his or her duties, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph. Information that is exempt shall include, but is not limited to, information relating to workers' compensation, insurance benefits, and retirement or disability benefits.

g. Upon an employee's entrance into the employee assistance program, a program to assist any employee who has a behavioral or medical disorder, substance abuse problem, or emotional difficulty that ~~which~~ affects the employee's job performance, all records relative to that participation shall be confidential and exempt from the provisions of s. 119.07(1) and s. 24(a), Art. I of the State Constitution, except as otherwise provided in s. 112.0455(11).

h. Information relating to negotiations for financing, reinsurance, depopulation, or contractual services, until the conclusion of the negotiations.

i. Minutes of closed meetings regarding underwriting files, and minutes of closed meetings regarding an open claims file until termination of all litigation and settlement of all claims with regard to that claim, except that information otherwise confidential or exempt by law shall be redacted.

2. If an authorized insurer is considering underwriting a risk insured by the corporation, relevant underwriting files and confidential claims files may be released to the insurer provided the insurer agrees in writing, notarized and under oath, to maintain the confidentiality of such files. If a file is transferred to an insurer, that file is no longer a public record because it is not held by an agency subject to the provisions of the public records law. Underwriting files and confidential claims files may also be released to staff and the board of governors of the market assistance plan established pursuant to s. 627.3515, who must retain the confidentiality of such files, except such files may be released to authorized insurers that are considering assuming the risks to which the files apply, provided the insurer agrees in writing, notarized and under oath, to maintain the confidentiality of such files. Finally, the corporation or the board or staff of the market assistance plan may make the following information obtained from underwriting files and confidential claims files available to an entity that has obtained a permit to become an authorized insurer, a reinsurer that may provide reinsurance under s. 624.610, a licensed reinsurance broker, a licensed rating organization, a modeling company, or a licensed general lines insurance agent ~~agents~~: name, address, and telephone number of the residential property owner or insured; location of the risk; rating information; loss history; and policy type. The receiving person ~~licensed general lines insurance agent~~ must retain the confidentiality of the information received and may use the information only for the purposes of developing a take-out plan or a rating plan to be submitted to the office for approval or otherwise analyzing the underwriting of a risk or risks insured by the corporation on behalf of the private insurance market. A licensed general lines insurance agent may not use such information for the direct solicitation of policyholders.

3. A policyholder who has filed suit against the corporation has the right to discover the contents of his or her own claims file to the same extent that discovery of such contents would be available from a private insurer in litigation as provided by the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure, the Florida Evidence Code, and other applicable law. Pursuant to subpoena, a third party has the right to discover the contents of an insured's or applicant's underwriting or claims file to the same extent that discovery of such contents would be available from a private insurer by subpoena as provided by the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure, the Florida Evidence Code, and other applicable law, and subject to any confidentiality protections requested by the corporation and agreed to by the seeking party or ordered by the court. The corporation may release confidential underwriting and claims file contents and information as it deems necessary and appropriate to underwrite or service insurance policies and claims, subject to any confidentiality protections deemed necessary and appropriate by the corporation.

4. Portions of meetings of the corporation are exempt from the provisions of s. 286.011 and s. 24(b), Art. I of the State Constitution wherein confidential underwriting files or confidential open claims files are discussed. All portions of corporation meetings which are closed to the public shall be recorded by a court reporter. The court reporter shall record the times of commencement and termination of the meeting, all discussion and proceedings, the names of all persons present at any time, and the names of all persons speaking. No portion of any closed meeting shall be off the record. Subject to the provisions hereof and s. 119.07(1)(d)-(f), the court reporter's notes of any closed meeting shall be retained by the corporation for a minimum of 5 years. A copy of the transcript, less any exempt matters, of any closed meeting wherein claims are discussed shall become public as to individual claims after settlement of the claim.

(ii) The corporation shall revise the programs adopted pursuant to sub-subparagraph (q)3.a. for personal lines residential policies to maximize policyholder options and encourage increased participation by insurers and agents. Such revisions must comply with this paragraph no later than January 1, 2017.

1. The corporation must schedule no more than 6 cycles per year during which insurers may identify policies they wish to take out and may submit requests to take out such policies to the corporation in a form and manner prescribed by the corporation. An insurer's take-out request must include a description of the coverages offered and an estimated premium. In submitting any take-out request, an insurer must agree to offer comparable coverage to that offered by the corporation and that the initial premium of the insurer after assumption will not exceed its estimated premium by more than 10 percent, excluding coverage changes, surcharges, and assessments.

2. For each policy of the corporation identified under subparagraph 1., the corporation shall maintain and make available to the agent of record a consolidated list of all insurers requesting the policy. The list must contain the information described in subparagraph 1.

3. The corporation shall provide written notice to its policyholders and the agents of record informing them of their option to accept one of the take-out offers presented or to remain with the corporation. The notice must be in a format prescribed by the corporation and include the amount of the estimated premium for the coverage of each offering insurer, the amount of the premium for the coverage provided by the corporation, and a description of the coverage offered by each insurer and the coverage provided by the corporation, which includes an explanation of any differences among the coverage offered by each insurer and the coverage provided by the corporation.

Section 2. Subsection (5) of section 627.3518, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

627.3518 Citizens Property Insurance Corporation policyholder eligibility clearinghouse program.—The purpose of this section is to provide a framework for the corporation to implement a clearinghouse program by January 1, 2014.

(5) Notwithstanding s. 627.3517, any applicant for new coverage from the corporation is not eligible for coverage from the corporation if provided an offer of coverage from an authorized insurer through the program at a premium that is at or below the eligibility threshold established in s. 627.351(6)(c)5.a. Whenever an offer of coverage for a personal lines risk is received for a policyholder of the corporation at renewal from an authorized insurer through the program, if the offer is equal to or less than the corporation's renewal premium for comparable coverage, the risk is not eligible for coverage with the corporation. In the event an offer of coverage for a new applicant is received from an authorized insurer through the program, and the premium offered exceeds the eligibility threshold contained in s. 627.351(6)(c)5.a., the applicant or insured may elect to accept such coverage, or may elect to accept or continue coverage with the corporation. In the event an offer of coverage for a personal lines risk is received from an authorized insurer at renewal through the program, and the premium offered is more than the corporation's renewal premium for comparable coverage, the insured may elect to accept such coverage, or may elect to accept or continue coverage with the corporation. Section 627.351(6)(c)5.a.(I) does not apply to an offer of coverage from an authorized insurer obtained through the program. An applicant for coverage from the corporation who in the previous 36 months has been assumed through a take-out offer from an insurer or who was declared ineligible for coverage at renewal by the corporation in the previous 36 months due to an offer of coverage pursuant to this subsection shall be considered a renewal under this section if the corporation determines that the same authorized insurer making the offer of coverage ~~pursuant to this subsection~~ continues to insure the applicant and increased the rate on the policy in excess of the increase allowed for the corporation under s. 627.351(6)(n)6.

Section 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2016.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/SB 1638 expands education and certification opportunities for members of the United States military. Specifically, the bill:

- Requires the Department of Education to annually, for specified tests, identify and publish minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which college credit must be awarded.
- Modifies the residency requirements for recipients of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence to qualify for a waiver from tuition for undergraduate college credit programs and career certificate programs.
- Adds new methods for demonstrating mastery of subject area knowledge for educator certification purposes.

The bill has an insignificant impact on state funds. State colleges and universities may generate slightly less in tuition revenue due to the requirements of the bill.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Legislature has enacted laws to provide members of the Armed Forces access to public postsecondary education in the state.

College Credit for Military Training and Education Courses

The Board of Governors for the State University System of Florida (BOG) and the State Board of Education (SBE or state board) must adopt rules that enable eligible members of the United States Armed Forces to earn academic college credit at public postsecondary educational institutions for college-level training and education acquired in the military.[1] Such rules must include procedures for credential evaluation and the award of academic college credit, including but not limited to, equivalency and alignment of military coursework with appropriate college courses, course descriptions, type and amount of college credit that may be awarded, and transfer of credit.[2]

Pursuant to law,[3] the BOG and the state board have adopted in regulation and rule, respectively, policies for granting college credit for military training and coursework.[4] For instance, state university and Florida College System (FCS) institution boards of trustees must grant college credit to students who have received military training or coursework that is recognized by the American Council on Education (ACE) and specify if such training or coursework fulfills general education, major, or degree requirements at the receiving institution.[5]

Fee Waivers

The term "tuition" is defined as "the basic fee charged to a student for instruction provided by a public postsecondary educational institution in this state."[6] An "out-of-state fee" is the additional fee for instruction provided by a public postsecondary educational institution charged to a student who does not qualify for the in-state tuition rate."[7]

A student who is classified as a "resident for tuition purposes" is a student who qualifies for the in-state tuition rate.[8] A "non-resident for tuition purposes" is defined as a "person who does not qualify for the in-state tuition rate,"[9] and pays the out-of-state fee in addition to tuition.

Florida law affords exemptions[10] and waivers[11] from fees for students who meet specified criteria.

Waivers for Purple Heart or Other Combat Decoration

In accordance with the law, a state university, an FCS institution, a career center operated by a school district, or a charter technical career center must waive tuition for undergraduate college credit programs and career certificate programs for each recipient of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence.[12] To qualify for this fee waiver, the recipient of such combat decoration must:[13]

- Be enrolled as a full-time, part-time, or summer-school student in a program that terminates in an associate or baccalaureate degree, a college credit certificate, or a career certificate.
- Currently, and at the time of the military action that resulted in the awarding of the Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence, be a resident of this state.
- Submit to the university, college, or career center the DD-214 form issued at the time of separation from service as documentation that the student has received the Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence. If the DD-214 is not available, other documentation may be acceptable if recognized by the United States Department of Defense or the United States Department of Veterans Affairs as documenting the award.

The fee waiver for a Purple Heart recipient or recipient of other combat decoration superior in precedence is applicable for 110 percent of the number of required credit hours of the degree or certificate program for which the student is enrolled.[14]

In 2014-2015, 100 students at FCS institutions received a fee waiver as the result of receiving a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence.[15] At state universities, 39 students received fee waivers as the result of receiving a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence.[16]

Educator Certification Requirements

Current law provides for eligibility criteria, mastery of general and subject area knowledge, mastery of professional preparation and education competence, the types and terms of certification, as well as examinations.[17]

Specifically, for subject area knowledge, the law specifies the following acceptable means of demonstrating mastery:[18]

- For a subject requiring only a baccalaureate degree for which a Florida subject area examination has been developed, achievement of a passing score on the Florida-developed subject area examination specified in state board rule;
- For a subject for which a Florida subject area examination has not been developed, achievement of a passing score on a standardized examination specified in state board rule, including, but not limited to, passing scores on both the oral proficiency and written proficiency examinations administered by the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages;

- For a subject for which a Florida subject area examination has not been developed or a standardized examination has not been specified in state board rule, completion of the subject area specialization requirements specified in state board rule and verification of the attainment of the essential subject matter competencies by the district school superintendent of the employing school district or chief administrative officer of the employing state-supported or private school;
- For a subject requiring a master's or higher degree, completion of the subject area specialization requirements specified in state board rule and achievement of a passing score on the Florida-developed subject area examination or a standardized examination specified in state board rule;
- Documentation of a valid professional standard teaching certificate issued by another state; or
- Documentation of a valid certificate issued by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards or a national educator credentialing board approved by the State Board of Education.

School districts are encouraged to provide mechanisms for middle grades teachers holding only a K-6 teaching certificate to obtain a subject area coverage for middle grades through postsecondary coursework or district add-on certification.[19]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill expands education and certification opportunities for members of the United States military. Specifically, the bill:
- Requires the Department of Education to annually, for specified tests, identify and publish minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which college credit must be awarded.
- Modifies the residency requirements for recipients of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence to qualify for a waiver from tuition for undergraduate college credit programs and career certificate programs.
- Adds new methods for demonstrating mastery of subject area knowledge, for educator certification purposes.

College Credit for Military Training and Education Courses

The bill expands the mechanism through which eligible members of the United States Armed Forces can earn college credit for military experience. Specifically, the bill identifies the following three types of subject tests that members of Armed Forces can take to generate college credit:
- Excelsior College subject examination.

[19] Id.

- Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) subject standardized test.[20]
- Defense Language Proficiency Test (DLPT).[21]

The bill requires the Department of Education (department) to annually identify and publish minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which credit must be awarded for each of the specified examinations. The department must identify such courses in the general education core[22] curriculum of each state university and FCS institution. In effect, the bill codifies Excelsior College subject examination, DANTES, and Defense Language Proficiency Tests (DLPT) as authorized tests that students can take to earn college credit by demonstrating subject area competency on such tests.

Current law requires the department to annually identify and publish the minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which credit must be awarded for each:[23]

- College Level Examination Program (CLEP) subject examination,
- College Board Advanced Placement (AP) Program examination,
- Advanced International Certificate of Education (AICE) examination, and the
- International Baccalaureate (IB) examination.

The law does not specify such requirements for Excelsior College subject examination, DANTES, and DLPT. However, the Articulation Coordinating Committee (ACC)[24] has established passing scores and course and credit equivalents for the tests that are currently specified in law as well as for DANTES and Excelsior College exam.[25] The credit-by-exam equivalencies have been adopted in rule by the State Board of Education (SBE or state board).[26] If a student attains a passing score on the AP, AICE, IB, or CLEP exam, state universities and FCS institutions must award the minimum credit for the course or courses specified on the credit-by-exam equivalencies list, even if such institutions do not offer the course or courses.[27] The credit-by-exam equivalencies will need to be updated to include DLPT.

Additionally, the bill modifies current law to apply the existing mechanisms for generating college credit (based on military training and coursework) to eligible servicemembers and honorably discharged veterans of the United States Armed Forces. As a result, such members and veterans of the United States Armed Forces will also be able to earn college credit at public postsecondary educational institutions through the specified mechanisms.[28]

Fee Waivers

The bill modifies the residency requirements for recipients of Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence to qualify for the fee waiver.[29]

Current eligibility requirements for the fee waiver specify that a student must be both a resident of Florida currently, and must have been a Florida resident at the time of the military action that resulted in the awarding of the Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence. The bill changes this residency requirement to allow students to qualify for the fee waiver if the student is currently or was at the time of the military action that resulted in the awarding of the combat decoration, a resident of this state, but not both. As a result, additional students will be able to receive the fee waiver to access public postsecondary education in Florida.

Educator Certification Requirements

The bill modifies educator certification requirements by adding new methods for demonstrating mastery of subject area knowledge. Specifically, the bill allows individuals to demonstrate subject area competency through documentation of:

- Successful completion of a United States Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center program,[30] or
- A passing score on the DLPT.

The bill recognizes military training and coursework and specifies that the United States Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center program and the DLPT are acceptable means to demonstrate mastery of subject area knowledge. As a result, individuals will have additional means to demonstrate such competency.[31]

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

B. Private Sector Impact:

PCS/SB 1638 expands the eligibility to receive a tuition waiver for each recipient of a Purple Heart or another combat decoration superior in precedence by allowing to students to either be a Florida resident currently or have been a Florida resident at the time of the military action that resulted in the awarding of the combat decoration. The bill also expands the mechanism through which eligible members of the United States Armed Forces can earn college credit for military experience.

For the State University System, the statutory resident undergraduate tuition rate per credit hour in 2015-2016 is $105.07.[32] Tuition will be waived for each eligible recipient of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence for 110 percent of the number of required credit hours of the degree or certificate program for which the student is enrolled. A student enrolled in a program requiring 120 credit hours could save approximately $14,000.

For the Florida College System, the statutory resident tuition rate per credit hour in 2015-2016 is $91.79 for baccalaureate degree programs.[33] Tuition shall be waived for each eligible recipient of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence for 110 percent of the number of required credit hours of the degree or certificate program for which the student is enrolled. A student enrolled in a program requiring 120 credit hours could save approximately $12,000.

[33] Section 1009.23(3)(b), F.S.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill will have an indeterminable fiscal impact on state universities because the annual loss of tuition revenue under the waiver expansion is contingent upon the number of eligible students for a given year. In 2012-2013, the most recent year for which data is available, there were 46 Purple Heart or other combat decoration fee waivers given to eligible students attending a state university. [34] For Fiscal Year 2015-2016, the statutory resident undergraduate tuition rate per credit hour is $105.07.[35] Assuming these students attend full-time and take 30 credit hours per year, the state university system would have generated approximately $145,000 less in tuition revenues in Fiscal Year 2015-2016.

The bill will have an indeterminable fiscal impact on the Florida College System because the annual loss of tuition revenue under the waiver expansion is contingent upon the number of eligible students for a given year. According to the Department of Education, in 2014-2015, there were 100 Purple Heart or other combat decoration fee waivers given to eligible students attending a Florida College System institution at total amount of $230,000. COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

SB 1638 expands education and certification opportunities for members of the United States military. Specifically, the bill:

- Requires the Department of Education to annually, for specified tests, identify and publish minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which college credit must be awarded.
- Modifies the residency requirements for recipients of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence to qualify for a waiver from tuition for undergraduate college credit programs and career certificate programs.
- Adds new methods for demonstrating mastery of subject area knowledge for educator certification purposes.

The bill has an insignificant impact on state funds. State colleges and universities may generate slightly less in tuition revenue due to the requirements of the bill.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Legislature has enacted laws to provide members of the Armed Forces access to public postsecondary education in the state.

College Credit for Military Training and Education Courses

The Board of Governors for the State University System of Florida (BOG) and the State Board of Education (SBE or state board) must adopt rules that enable eligible members of the United States Armed Forces to earn academic college credit at public postsecondary educational institutions for college-level training and education acquired in the military.[1] Such rules must include procedures for credential evaluation and the award of academic college credit, including but not limited to, equivalency and alignment of military coursework with appropriate college courses, course descriptions, type and amount of college credit that may be awarded, and transfer of credit.[2]

Pursuant to law,[3] the BOG and the state board have adopted in regulation and rule, respectively, policies for granting college credit for military training and coursework.[4] For instance, state university and Florida College System (FCS) institution boards of trustees must grant college credit to students who have received military training or coursework that is recognized by the American Council on Education (ACE) and specify if such training or coursework fulfills general education, major, or degree requirements at the receiving institution.[5]

Fee Waivers

The term "tuition" is defined as "the basic fee charged to a student for instruction provided by a public postsecondary educational institution in this state."[6] An "out-of-state fee" is the additional fee for instruction provided by a public postsecondary educational institution charged to a student who does not qualify for the in-state tuition rate."[7]

A student who is classified as a "resident for tuition purposes" is a student who qualifies for the in-state tuition rate.[8] A "non-resident for tuition purposes" is defined as a "person who does not qualify for the in-state tuition rate,"[9] and pays the out-of-state fee in addition to tuition.

Florida law affords exemptions[10] and waivers[11] from fees for students who meet specified criteria.

Waivers for Purple Heart or Other Combat Decoration

In accordance with the law, a state university, an FCS institution, a career center operated by a school district, or a charter technical career center must waive tuition for undergraduate college credit programs and career certificate programs for each recipient of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence.[12] To qualify for this fee waiver, the recipient of such combat decoration must:[13]

- Be enrolled as a full-time, part-time, or summer-school student in a program that terminates in an associate or baccalaureate degree, a college credit certificate, or a career certificate.
- Currently, and at the time of the military action that resulted in the awarding of the Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence, be a resident of this state.
- Submit to the university, college, or career center the DD-214 form issued at the time of separation from service as documentation that the student has received the Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence. If the DD-214 is not available, other documentation may be acceptable if recognized by the United States Department of Defense or the United States Department of Veterans Affairs as documenting the award.

The fee waiver for a Purple Heart recipient or recipient of other combat decoration superior in precedence is applicable for 110 percent of the number of required credit hours of the degree or certificate program for which the student is enrolled.[14]

In 2014-2015, 100 students at FCS institutions received a fee waiver as the result of receiving a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence.[15] At state universities, 39 students received fee waivers as the result of receiving a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence.[16]

Educator Certification Requirements

Current law provides for eligibility criteria, mastery of general and subject area knowledge, mastery of professional preparation and education competence, the types and terms of certification, as well as examinations.[17]

Specifically, for subject area knowledge, the law specifies the following acceptable means of demonstrating mastery:[18]

- For a subject requiring only a baccalaureate degree for which a Florida subject area examination has been developed, achievement of a passing score on the Florida-developed subject area examination specified in state board rule;
- For a subject for which a Florida subject area examination has not been developed, achievement of a passing score on a standardized examination specified in state board rule, including, but not limited to, passing scores on both the oral proficiency and written proficiency examinations administered by the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages;

- For a subject for which a Florida subject area examination has not been developed or a standardized examination has not been specified in state board rule, completion of the subject area specialization requirements specified in state board rule and verification of the attainment of the essential subject matter competencies by the district school superintendent of the employing school district or chief administrative officer of the employing state-supported or private school;
- For a subject requiring a master's or higher degree, completion of the subject area specialization requirements specified in state board rule and achievement of a passing score on the Florida-developed subject area examination or a standardized examination specified in state board rule;
- Documentation of a valid professional standard teaching certificate issued by another state; or
- Documentation of a valid certificate issued by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards or a national educator credentialing board approved by the State Board of Education.

School districts are encouraged to provide mechanisms for middle grades teachers holding only a K-6 teaching certificate to obtain a subject area coverage for middle grades through postsecondary coursework or district add-on certification.[19]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill expands education and certification opportunities for members of the United States military. Specifically, the bill:

- Requires the Department of Education to annually, for specified tests, identify and publish minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which college credit must be awarded.
- Modifies the residency requirements for recipients of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence to qualify for a waiver from tuition for undergraduate college credit programs and career certificate programs.
- Adds new methods for demonstrating mastery of subject area knowledge, for educator certification purposes.

College Credit for Military Training and Education Courses

The bill expands the mechanism through which eligible members of the United States Armed Forces can earn college credit for military experience. Specifically, the bill identifies the following three types of subject tests that members of Armed Forces can take to generate college credit:

- Excelsior College subject examination.
- Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) subject standardized test.[20]

[19] Id.

[20] Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) is a division of the Department of Defense that provides educational support to military members. In 2004, the exams were acquired and are now owned and administered by Prometric. Prometric owns and administers DSST exams. - Defense Language Proficiency Test (DLPT).[21]

The bill requires the Department of Education (department) to annually identify and publish minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which credit must be awarded for each of the specified examinations. The department must identify such courses in the general education core[22] curriculum of each state university and FCS institution. In effect, the bill codifies Excelsior College subject examination, DANTES, and Defense Language Proficiency Tests (DLPT) as authorized tests that students can take to earn college credit by demonstrating subject area competency on such tests.

Current law requires the department to annually identify and publish the minimum scores, maximum credit, and course or courses for which credit must be awarded for each:[23]

- College Level Examination Program (CLEP) subject examination,
- College Board Advanced Placement (AP) Program examination,
- Advanced International Certificate of Education (AICE) examination, and the
- International Baccalaureate (IB) examination.

The law does not specify such requirements for Excelsior College subject examination, DANTES, and DLPT. However, the Articulation Coordinating Committee (ACC)[24] has established passing scores and course and credit equivalents for the tests that are currently specified in law as well as for DANTES and Excelsior College exam.[25] The credit-by-exam equivalencies have been adopted in rule by the State Board of Education (SBE or state board).[26] If a student attains a passing score on the AP, AICE, IB, or CLEP exam, state universities and FCS institutions must award the minimum credit for the course or courses specified on the credit-by-exam equivalencies list, even if such institutions do not offer the course or courses.[27] The credit-by-exam equivalencies will need to be updated to include DLPT.

Additionally, the bill modifies current law to apply the existing mechanisms for generating college credit (based on military training and coursework) to eligible servicemembers and honorably discharged veterans of the United States Armed Forces. As a result, such members and veterans of the United States Armed Forces will also be able to earn college credit at public postsecondary educational institutions through the specified mechanisms.[28]

Fee Waivers

The bill modifies the residency requirements for recipients of Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence to qualify for the fee waiver.[29]

Current eligibility requirements for the fee waiver specify that a student must be a resident of Florida currently, and must have been a Florida resident at the time of the military action that resulted in the awarding of the Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence. The bill changes this residency requirement to allow students to qualify for the fee waiver by physically residing in Florida while enrolled in a state university, FCS institution, or career center. As a result, additional students will be able to receive the fee waiver to access public postsecondary education in Florida.

However, students currently utilizing the fee waiver that are stationed at military bases just outside of Florida who travel to campus for their courses, and those at more remote locations who are enrolled in online courses may become ineligible for the waiver while they do not physically reside in the state.

Educator Certification Requirements

The bill modifies educator certification requirements by adding new methods for demonstrating mastery of subject area knowledge. Specifically, the bill allows individuals to demonstrate subject area competency through documentation of:

- Successful completion of a United States Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center program,[30] or
- A passing score on the DLPT.

The bill recognizes military training and coursework and specifies that the United States Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center program and the DLPT are acceptable means to demonstrate mastery of subject area knowledge. As a result, individuals will have additional means to demonstrate such competency.[31]

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

B. Private Sector Impact:

SB 1638 expands the eligibility to receive a tuition waiver for each recipient of a Purple Heart or another combat decoration superior in precedence by removing a requirement that the recipient have been a Florida resident at the time of the military action that resulted in the awarding of the combat decoration. The bill also expands the mechanism through which eligible members of the United States Armed Forces can earn college credit for military experience.

For the State University System, the statutory resident undergraduate tuition rate per credit hour in 2015-2016 is $105.07.[32] Tuition will be waived for each eligible recipient of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence for 110 percent of the number of required credit hours of the degree or certificate program for which the student is enrolled. A student enrolled in a program requiring 120 credit hours could save approximately $14,000.

For the Florida College System, the statutory resident tuition rate per credit hour in 2015-2016 is $91.79 for baccalaureate degree programs.[33] Tuition shall be waived for each eligible recipient of a Purple Heart or other combat decoration superior in precedence for 110 percent of the number of required credit hours of the degree or certificate program for which the student is enrolled. A student enrolled in a program requiring 120 credit hours could save approximately $12,000.

[33] Section 1009.23(3)(b), F.S.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill will have an indeterminable fiscal impact on state universities because the annual loss of tuition revenue under the waiver expansion is contingent upon the number of eligible students for a given year. In 2012-2013, the most recent year for which data is available, there were 46 Purple Heart or other combat decoration fee waivers given to eligible students attending a state university.[34] For Fiscal Year 2015-2016, the statutory resident undergraduate tuition rate per credit hour is $105.07.[35] Assuming these students attend full-time and take 30 credit hours per year, the state university system would have generated approximately $145,000 less in tuition revenues in Fiscal Year 2015-2016.

The bill will have an indeterminable fiscal impact on the Florida College System because the annual loss of tuition revenue under the waiver expansion is contingent upon the number of eligible students for a given year. According to the Department of Education, in 2014-2015, there were 100 Purple Heart or other combat decoration fee waivers given to eligible students attending a Florida College System institution at total amount of $230,000.[36]

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 1686 creates a Telehealth Task Force within the Agency for Health Care Administration (AHCA), authorizes health care practitioners in Florida to provide telehealth services, and defines telehealth.

The task force will be chaired by the Secretary of the AHCA or his or her designee. The other members of the task force will include the State Surgeon General, and 17 other members, including other health care practitioners, health care providers, telehealth services providers and sellers, and representatives of health care facilities.

The bill requires the task force to compile data and submit a report by June 30, 2017, to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, that analyzes:

- Frequency and extent of the use of telehealth nationally and in this state;
- Costs and cost savings associated with using telehealth;
- Types of telehealth services available;
- Extent of available health insurance coverage available for telehealth services; and
- Barriers to implementing the use of, using, or accessing telehealth services.

The bill requires the task force to hold its first meeting by September 1, 2016, and to meet as frequently as necessary to complete its work. The AHCA must support the task force within existing resources; members of the task force will serve without compensation or per diem reimbursement. The section of law creating the task force sunsets December 1, 2017.

The bill has no direct fiscal impact but could result in cost-savings for the Medicaid program to an indeterminate extent.

The effective date of the bill is July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The term telehealth is sometimes used interchangeably with telemedicine. Telehealth, however, generally refers to a wider range of health care services that may or may not include clinical services.[1] Telehealth often collectively defines the telecommunications equipment and technology that is used to collect and transmit the data for a telemedicine consultation or evaluation.

The federal Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) defines telehealth as:

> The use of telecommunications and information technology to provide access to health assessment, diagnosis, intervention, consultation, supervision and information across distance. Telehealth includes such technologies such as telephones, facsimile machines, electronic mail systems, and remote patient monitoring devises which are used to collect and transmit data for monitoring and interpretation.[2]

Telemedicine is not a separate medical specialty and does not change what constitutes proper medical treatment and services. According to the American Telemedicine Association, services provided through telemedicine include:[3]

- Primary care and specialist referral services that involve a primary care or allied health professional providing consultation with a patient or specialist assisting the primary care physician with a diagnosis;
- Remote patient monitoring;
- Consumer medical and health information that offers consumers specialized health information and online discussion groups for peer-to-peer support; and
- Medical education that provides continuing medical education credits.

Board of Medicine Rulemaking

Florida's Board of Medicine (board) convened a Telemedicine Workgroup in 2013 to review its rules on telemedicine, which had not been amended since 2003. The 2003 rules focused on standards for the prescribing of medicine via the Internet. On March 12, 2014, the board's new Telemedicine Rule, 64B8-9.0141, became effective for Florida-licensed physicians. The new rule defined telemedicine, established standards of care, prohibited the prescription of controlled substances, permitted the establishment of a doctor-patient relationship via telemedicine, and exempted emergency medical services.[4]

Two months after the initial rule's implementation, the board proposed the development of a rule amendment to address concerns that the prohibition on physicians ordering controlled substances may also preclude physicians from prescribing controlled substances via telemedicine for hospitalized patients. The board indicated such a prohibition was not intended.[5] The amended rule took effect July 22, 2014.

Additional changes followed to clarify medical record requirements and the relationship between consulting or cross-coverage physicians. On December 18, 2015, the board published another proposed rule change to allow controlled substances to be prescribed through telemedicine for the limited treatment of psychiatric disorders.[6] The proposed rule amendment, Rule 64B8-9.0141-Standards for Telemedicine Practice, has been noticed by the Board of Medicine and if requested within 21 days of its first publication date in the Florida Administrative Registrar (FAR), a public hearing on the rule amendment, would be held on the rule and announced at a later date in the FAR. No public hearing notice has yet been published.

Telemedicine in Other States

As of May 2015, 24 states and the District of Columbia have mandated that private insurance plans cover telemedicine services at reimbursement rates equal to an in-person consultation.[7] Such laws require insurance companies and health plans to reimburse providers the same amount for the same visit regardless of whether the visit was conducted face-to-face or via electronic communications.

Forty-eight state Medicaid programs also reimburse for some form of telemedicine via live video.[8] A smaller number of states offer reimbursement for other types of telemedicine services, such as store-and-forward activities;[9] facility fees for hosting either the telemedicine provider, [4] Rule 64B15-14.0081, F.A.C., also went into effect March 12, 2014 for osteopathic physicians.

patient, or both; and remote patient monitoring. Florida, Idaho, and Montana only provide reimbursement for physician services.[10]

Hospitals in rural counties have utilized telemedicine to provide specialty care in their emergency rooms and to avoid costly and time-consuming transfers of patients from smaller hospitals to the larger tertiary centers for care.

In a California project, rural hospital emergency rooms received video conference equipment to facilitate the telemedicine consultations. The rural hospital physicians and nurses were linked with pediatric critical care medicine specialists at the University of California, Davis.[11] As a Futurity article notes, "while 21 percent of children in the United States live in rural areas, only 3 percent of pediatric critical-care medicine specialists practice in such areas."[12]

Federal Provisions for Telemedicine

Federal laws and regulations address telemedicine from several angles, including prescriptions for controlled substances, hospital emergency room guidelines, and reimbursement rates for the Medicare program.

Prescribing Via the Internet

Federal law specifically prohibits the prescribing of controlled substances via the Internet without an in-person evaluation. Federal regulation 21 CFR §829 specifically states:

> No controlled substance that is a prescription drug as determined under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act may be delivered, distributed or dispensed by means of the Internet without a valid prescription.

A valid prescription is further defined under the same regulation as one issued by a practitioner who has conducted an in-person evaluation. The in-person evaluation requires that the patient be in the physical presence of the provider without regard to the presence or conduct of other professionals.[13] However, the Ryan Haight Online Pharmacy Consumer Protection Act,[14] signed into law in October 2008, created an exception for the in-person medical evaluation for telemedicine practitioners. The practitioner is still subject to the requirement that all controlled substances be issued for a legitimate purpose by a practitioner acting in the usual course of professional practice.

The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) of the federal Department of Justice issued its own definition of telemedicine in April 2009, as required under the Haight Act.[15] The federal regulatory definition of telemedicine under the DEA includes, but is not limited to, the following elements:

- The patient and practitioner are located in separate locations;
- Patient and practitioner communicate via a telecommunications system;
- The practitioner must meet other registration requirements for the dispensing of controlled substances via the Internet; and
- Certain practitioners (Department of Veterans Affairs' employees, for example) or practitioners in certain situations (public health emergencies) may be exempted from registration requirements.[16]

Medicare Coverage

Specific telehealth services delivered at designated sites are covered under Medicare. Regulations of federal CMS require both a distant site (location of physician delivering the service via telecommunications) and an originating site (location of the patient).

To qualify for Medicare reimbursement, the Medicare beneficiary must be located at an originating site that meets one of three qualifications. These three qualifications are:

- A rural health professional shortage area (HPSA) that is either outside a metropolitan statistical area (MSA) or in a rural census tract;
- A county outside of an MSA; or
- Participation in a federal telemedicine demonstration project approved by the Secretary of Health and Human Services as of December 31, 2000.[17]

Additionally, federal requirements provide that an originating site must be one of the following location types as further defined in federal law and regulation:

- The office of a physician or practitioner;
- A hospital;
- A critical access hospital (CAH);
- A rural health clinic;
- A federally qualified health center;
- A hospital-based or CAH-based renal dialysis center (including satellite offices);
- A skilled nursing facility; or
- A community mental health center.[18]

Under Medicare, distant site practitioners are limited, subject also to state law, to:

- Physicians;
- Nurse practitioners;
- Physician assistants;
- Nurse-midwives;
- Clinical nurse specialists;
- Certified registered nurse anesthetists;
- Clinical psychologists and clinical social workers; and

- Registered dietitians and nutrition professionals.

For 2016, federal CMS added certified registered nurse anesthetists to the list of authorized distant site practitioners who can furnish telehealth services.[19]

For 2015, Medicare added new services under telehealth:
- Annual wellness visits;
- Psychoanalysis;
- Psychotherapy; and
- Prolonged evaluation and management services.[20]

For 2016, Medicare supplemented those services with end-stage renal disease services.[21]

Reimbursement for the distant site is established as "an amount equal to the amount that such physician or practitioner would have been paid under this title had such service been furnished without the use of a telecommunications system."[22] Federal law also provides for a facility fee for the originating site of $20 through December 31, 2002, and then, by law, the facility fee is subsequently increased each year by the percentage increase in the Medicare Economic Index (MEI). For calendar year 2016, the originating fee for telehealth is 80 percent of the lesser of the actual charge or $25.10.[23]

Telemedicine Services in Florida

University of Miami

The University of Miami (UM) initiated telehealth services in 1973 and claims the first telehealth service in Florida, the first use of nurse practitioners in telemedicine in the nation, and the first telemedicine program in correctional facilities.[24] Today, UM has several initiatives in the area of telehealth, including:
- Tele-dermatology;
- Tele-trauma;
- Humanitarian and disaster response relief;
- School telehealth services; and
- Acute tele-neurology or tele-stroke.

While some of UM's activities reach its local community, others reach outside of Florida, including providing Haiti earthquake relief and tele-dermatology to cruise line employees.

Telehealth communications are also used for monitoring hospital patients and conducting training exercises.

Florida Medicaid Program

Florida's Medicaid program reimburses only physicians for telemedicine services when there is two-way, real-time interactive communication between a patient and a physician at a distant site.[25] Equipment is also required to meet specific technical safeguards under 45 CFR 164.312, where applicable, which require implementation of procedures for protection of health information, including unique user identifications, automatic log-offs, encryption, authentication of users, and transmission security. Telemedicine services must also comply with all other state and federal laws regarding patient privacy.

For Medicaid, the distant or hub site is where the consulting physician delivering the telemedicine service is located. The spoke site is the location of the Medicaid recipient at the time the service occurs. The spoke site does not receive any reimbursement unless the provider located at the spoke site performs a separate service for the Medicaid recipient on the same day as the telemedicine consultation. The telemedicine referral consultation requires the presence of the referring practitioner and the Medicaid recipient.[26]

Under Medicaid fee-for-service, Medicaid reimbursement for telemedicine services is limited to certain services and settings. The following services are currently covered:[27]

- Behavioral health services, including:
  - Tele-psychiatry services for psychiatric medication management by practitioners licensed under ch. 458 or 459, F.S.; and
  - Tele-behavioral health services for provision of individual and family behavioral health therapy services by qualified practitioners licensed under ch. 490 or 491, F.S.;
  - Dental services provided using video conferencing between a registered dental hygienist employed by and under contract with a Medicaid-enrolled group provider and supervising dentist, including oral prophylaxis, topical fluoride application, and oral hygiene instructions; and
- Physician services, including:
  - Services provided using audio and video equipment that allow for two-way, real-time, interactive communication between the physician and a patient;
  - Consultation services provided via telemedicine;
  - Interpretation of diagnostic testing results through telecommunications and information technology; and
  - Synchronous emergency services provided under parts III and IV of ch. 409, F.S., using an all-inclusive rate.

Medicaid does not reimburse for the following telemedicine services:

- Telephone conversations;
- Video cell phone conversations;
- Email messages;
- Facsimile transmission;
- Telecommunication with recipient at a location other than the spoke; and
- "Store and forward" consultations that are transmitted after the recipient or physician is no longer available.[28]

Medicaid also does not reimburse providers for the costs of any equipment related to telemedicine services.

Coverage of telemedicine services under Medicaid includes specific documentation requirements. The clinical record must include the following information:

- A brief explanation of why the services were not provided face-to-face;
- Documentation of telemedicine services provided, including the results of the assessment; and
- A signed statement from the recipient (parent or guardian, if a child) indicating his or her choice to receive services through telemedicine.[29]

Under the Managed Medical Assistance (MMA) component of Statewide Medicaid Managed Care, managed care plans may use telemedicine for behavioral health, dental services, and physician services.[30] The AHCA may also approve other telemedicine services provided by the managed care plans if approval is sought by those plans under the MMA component.

Child Protection Teams

The child protection team program (CPT) under the Department of Health's Children's Medical Services Network utilizes a telemedicine network to perform child assessments. The CPT is a medically-directed, multi-disciplinary program that works with local sheriff's offices and the Department of Children and Families in cases of child abuse and neglect to supplement investigative activities.[31] The CPT patient is seen at a remote site and a registered nurse assists with the medical exam. A physician or advanced registered nurse practitioner (ARNP) is located at the hub site and has responsibility for directing the exam.[32]

Hub sites are comprehensive medical facilities that include a wide range of medical and interdisciplinary staff, whereas the remote sites tend to be smaller facilities that may lack medical diversity.[33] Twenty-four hub sites throughout the state facilitate these child abuse assessments and the evaluation of suspected cases of child abuse. The University of Florida Child Abuse Protection Team, for example, serves a 12-county area and, for the first six months of 2012, provided over 250 telemedicine examinations with medical community partners.[34]

Compliance with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA)

The federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) protects personal health information (PHI). Privacy rules were initially issued in 2000 by the federal Department of Health and Human Services and later modified in 2002. These rules address the use and disclosure of an individual's health information and create standards for privacy rights. Additional privacy and security measures were adopted in 2009 with the Health Information Technology for Economic Clinical Health (HITECH) Act.

Only certain entities are subject to HIPAA's provisions. These "covered entities" include:
- Health plans;
- Health care providers;
- Health care clearinghouses; and
- Business associates of the entities listed above.

While not a covered entity as an individual, the patient still maintains his or her privacy and confidentiality rights regardless of the method in which a medical service is delivered. The HITECH Act specifically identified telemedicine as an area for review and consideration, and funding was provided to, in part, strengthen infrastructure and tools to promote telemedicine.[35]

Under the provisions of HIPAA and the HITECH Act, a health care provider or other covered entity participating in telemedicine is required to meet the same technical and physical HIPAA and HITECH requirements as would be required for a physical office visit. These requirements include ensuring that that the equipment and technology are HIPAA compliant.

Discount Medical Plans

Discount medical plans and discount medical plan organizations (DMPOs) are regulated by the Office of Insurance Regulation under part II of ch. 636, F.S. DMPOs offer a variety of health care services to consumers through discount medical plans at a discounted rate. These plans are not health insurance and therefore do not pay for services on behalf of members; instead, the plans offer members access to specific health care products and services at a discounted fee. These health products and services may include, but are not limited to, dental services, emergency services, mental health services, vision care, chiropractic services, and hearing care. Generally, a DMPO has a contract with a provider network under which the individual providers render the medical services at a discount.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 establishes the Telehealth Task Force as a new section of law in s. 408.61, F.S. The task force is created within the AHCA and the AHCA is directed to use existing resources to administer and support its activities.

Under the bill, task force members do not receive any compensation or reimbursement for per diem for travel expenses. Meetings may be held in person, by conference call, or other electronic means. The Secretary of the AHCA or his or her designee serves as the task force chair, and the state Surgeon General or his or her designee also serves, along with 17 other members. The Secretary of the AHCA appoints 10 members:

- Three representatives of hospitals or facilities licensed under chapter 395;
- Three representatives of health insurers that offer coverage of telehealth services;
- Two representatives of organizations that represent health care facilities; and
- Two representatives of entities that create or sell telehealth products.

The State Surgeon General appoints 7 members:

- Five health care practitioners, each of whom practices in a different area of medicine; and
- Two representatives of organizations that represent health care practitioners.

The bill requires the task force to compile data and submit a report by June 30, 2017, to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives that analyzes:

- Frequency and extent of the use of telehealth nationally and in this state;
- Costs and cost savings associated with using telehealth technology and equipment;
- Types of telehealth services available;
- The extent of available health insurance coverage available for telehealth services, including:
  - A comparative analysis of such coverage to available coverage for in-person services;
  - A description of payment rates for such telehealth services and whether they are below, equal to, or above payment rates for in-person services;
  - Copayment, coinsurance, and deductible amounts; policy year, calendar year, lifetime, or other durational benefit limitations; and maximum benefits for telehealth and in-person services; and
  - Any unique conditions imposed as a prerequisite to obtaining coverage for telehealth services;
- Barriers to implementing the use of, using, or accessing telehealth services; and
- Consideration of opportunities for interstate cooperation in telehealth.

Under the bill, this section of law sunsets effective December 1, 2017.

Section 2 creates s. 456.51, F.S., relating to telehealth, which is applicable to healthcare practitioners generally. A health care practitioner[36] certified under part III of chapter 401,[37] or a person certified under part IV or V of chapter 468[38] who is practicing within the scope of his or her license or certification, may provide telehealth services.

Under the bill, a practitioner or person who provides telehealth services within the scope of his or her license, but is not a physician, will not be considered to be practicing medicine without a license.

"Telehealth" is specifically defined to mean:

> The use of synchronous or asynchronous telecommunications technology by a health care practitioner, a person certified under part III of chapter 401, or a person certified under part IV of chapter 468 to provide medical or other health care services, including, but not limited to, patient assessment, diagnosis, consultation, treatment, or remote monitoring; the transfer of medical or health data; patient and professional health-related education; the delivery of public health services; and health care administration functions.

Section 3 amends the definition of "discount medical plan" under s. 636.202(1), F.S., to provide that "discount medical plan" does not include any telehealth products defined under s. 456.51, F.S.

Section 4 provides that the act is effective July 1, 2016.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

[36] The definition of a "health care practitioner" includes 26 different disciplines: Acupuncture, medical practice, osteopathic medicine, chiropractic medicine, podiatry, naturopathy, optometry, nursing, pharmacy, dentistry, midwifery, speech-language-pathology-audiology, nursing home administration, occupational therapy, respiratory therapy, dietetics and nutrition practice, athletic trainers, orthotics, prosthetics, and pedorthotics, electrolysis, massage, clinical laboratory personnel, medical physicists, dispensing of optical devices and hearing aids, physical therapy, psychological services, and clinical, counseling, and psychotherapy.

[37] Persons certified under chapter 301 are those employed in the emergency medical services field, including emergency medical technicians, paramedics, and registered nurses.

[38] Part IV of Chapter 468 are those individuals certified as radiological personnel, and Part V regulates respiratory therapists.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

Under CS/SB 1686, Florida does not currently have a statutory definition for telehealth or telemedicine. Florida TaxWatch has opined in its report, Moving Telehealth Forward: The High Costs of Paying Later, that the lack of certainty in Florida around telehealth has led to confusion among providers on billing and payment options.[39] Florida TaxWatch estimated that with more timely access to care through telehealth, a one percent reduction in hospital charges alone could save $1 billion through hospitalization avoidance costs.[40]

The average estimated cost of a telehealth visit ranges from $40 to $50, compared to the average in-person visit of $136 to $176.[41] With an estimated savings of approximately $126 per telehealth visit, the report also showed that the participating vendor was able to resolve a patient's issue approximately 83 percent of the time.[42] When asked where the patient would have gone to receive care, or whether the patient would have received care at all, if not via telehealth, the most likely answer was urgent care (45.8 percent), physician office (30.9 percent), no care at all (12.3 percent), emergency room (5.6 percent), or other clinics (5.4 percent).[43] Other than receiving no care, all of these options would have cost more than the cost of the telehealth visit, ranging from the emergency room ($943 - $1,595) to other clinics ($57 - $83).[44]

C. Government Sector Impact:

The AHCA is required to use existing resources to support activities of the task force.

The Medicaid program may also be impacted with the definition of standard of care for telehealth to the extent that it may differ from the definition currently used by the program. Higher utilization of telehealth services may result in cost savings in other areas of the Medicaid program if the Florida Medicaid program experiences similar results as seen in other state Medicaid programs, such as New York, Texas, and California, where telehealth reimbursement parity is mandated.

COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

PCS/CS/SB 1714 promotes competency-based student learning opportunities. Specifically, the bill defines competency-based education and:

- Establishes a competency-based innovation pilot program (pilot program) within the Department of Education for five years.
- Specifies pilot program related requirements.
- Authorizes waivers from certain requirements in State Board of Education rule.
- Requires students participating in the pilot program at participating schools to be reported for funding in accordance with current law.
- Specifies repeal of the pilot program effective June 30, 2021.

Public schools in Lake County, Pinellas County, Seminole County, Palm Beach County, the P.K. Yonge Developmental Research School, and school districts or charter schools designated by the Commissioner of Education may apply to the department for approval of their pilot program.

The bill has no impact on state funds. The program is voluntary and it is unknown if any school districts will participate. However, if a district chooses to participate, any fiscal impact would be absorbed within existing resources.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Legislature has specified general powers and duties of the Commissioner of Education (commissioner) and the State Board of Education (SBE or state board), and the terms for student progression and award of credit.

Commissioner's Powers and Duties

The commissioner is the chief educational officer of the state and is responsible for assisting the SBE in enforcing compliance with the mission and goals of the K-20 education system except for the State University System.[1]

To facilitate innovative practices and to allow local selection of educational methods, the state board may authorize the commissioner to waive, upon request of a district school board, SBE rules regarding district school instruction and operations, except the rules that relate to civil rights, and student health, safety, and welfare.[2] The law prohibits the commissioner from granting waivers for certain specified provisions in rule (e.g., the allocation and appropriation of state and local funds for public education, graduation and state accountability standards, financial reporting requirements, public meetings, public records, and due process hearings governed by chapter 120).[3] Annually, by January 1, the commissioner must report to the Legislature and the state board all approved waiver requests from the preceding year.[4]

Student Progression

Regarding student progression, the Legislature intends that:[5]

- Each student's progression from one grade to another is determined, in part, upon satisfactory performance in English Language Arts (ELA), mathematics, science, and social studies.
- District school board policies facilitate student achievement.
- Each student and his or her parent be informed of the student's academic progress.
- Students have access to educational options that provide academically challenging coursework or accelerated instruction.[6]

Each district school board must establish a comprehensive plan for student progression which provides for a student's progression from one grade to another based on the student's mastery of ELA, mathematics, science, and social studies standards.[7]

[7] Section 1008.25(2), F.S.; see also Rule 6A-1.09401(3), F.A.C.

Each student must participate in the statewide, standardized assessment program.[8] A student who does not score Level 3 or above on the statewide, standardized ELA assessment, statewide, standardized mathematics assessment, or the Algebra I end-of-course (EOC) assessment must be evaluated to determine the nature of student's difficulty, the areas of academic need, and strategies for providing supports to improve the student's performance.[9] The law specifies that a student must pass the grade 3 ELA assessment to be promoted to grade 4.[10] A student retained in grade 3 must be provided intensive reading interventions to ameliorate the student's specific reading deficiency, as identified by a valid and reliable diagnostic assessment.[11] The law also authorizes midyear promotion of a student who is retained in grade 3 to grade 4 after the student demonstrates ability to read and perform at or above grade level in ELA.[12]

Award of Credit

For the purposes of satisfying high school graduation requirements, one full credit means a minimum of 135 hours of bona fide instruction in a designated course of study that contains student performance standards, except as authorized under the Credit Acceleration Program (CAP).[13] The CAP is created for the purpose of allowing a student to earn high school credit in Algebra I, Algebra II, geometry, United States history, or biology if the student attains a passing score on the statewide, standardized EOC assessment, without enrolling in or completing the corresponding course.[14] In doing so, the Legislature has authorized the ability of students to earn credit by demonstrating subject area competency based on the students' performance on specified assessments without requiring the students to enroll in and complete the corresponding courses.

With regards to a school district that is authorized to implement block scheduling by the district school board, one full credit means a minimum of 120 hours of bona fide instruction in a designated course of study that contains student performance standards for fulfilling high school graduation requirements.[15] The state board must determine the number of postsecondary credit hours earned through dual enrollment and that equal one full credit of the equivalent high school course.[16]

[10] To be promoted to grade 4, a student must score at Level 2 or higher on the grade 3 ELA assessment. A "full-time equivalent student" is a student who receives instruction in a standard school, comprising not less than 900 net hours for a student in or at the grade level of 4 through 12, or not less than 720 net hours for a student in or at the grade level of kindergarten through grade 3 or in an authorized prekindergarten exceptional program. The definition of a "full-time equivalent student" also includes students who receive instruction in a double-session school or a school utilizing an experimental school calendar approved by the Department of Education, comprising not less than the equivalent of 810 net hours in grades 4 through 12 or not less than 630 net hours in kindergarten through grade 3. To award credit for high school graduation, each district school board must maintain a one-half credit earned system that includes courses provided on a full-year basis.[17] A student enrolled in a full-year course must receive one-half credit if the student successfully completes either the first half or the second half of a full-year course but fails to complete the other half of the course.[18]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill promotes competency-based student learning opportunities. Specifically, the bill defines competency-based education and:

- Establishes a competency-based innovation pilot program (pilot program) within the Department of Education (DOE or department) for five years.
- Specifies pilot program related requirements.
- Authorizes waivers from certain requirements in State Board of Education (SBE or state board) rule.
- Requires students participating in the pilot program at participating schools to be reported for funding in accordance with current law.
- Specifies repeal of the pilot program effective June 30, 2021.

Public schools in Lake County, Pinellas County,[19] Seminole County, Palm Beach County, the P.K. Yonge Developmental Research School,[20] and school districts or charter schools designated by the Commissioner of Education (commissioner) may apply to the department for approval of their pilot program.

Definition

The bill defines "competency-based education" as "a system in which a student may advance to higher levels of learning after demonstrating a mastery of concepts and skills instead of after a specified timeframe." As a result, students will be able to demonstrate subject area and grade level competency through various methods such as performance on statewide, standardized assessments, without enrolling in and completing the corresponding courses.

[20] P.K. Yonge Developmental Research School is established as a developmental research school (lab school) pursuant to s. 1002.32(2), F.S., and is affiliated with the University of Florida, located in Gainesville, Florida. The mission of a lab school is to provide a vehicle for conducting research on and evaluation of management, teaching, and learning. The primary goal of a lab school is to enhance instruction and research in specialized subjects (e.g., mathematics, science, and computer science) by using resources available on a state university campus, while also providing an education in nonspecialized subjects. Section 1002.32(3), F.S.

Application Requirements

The bill specifies that the schools in the identified counties, P.K. Yonge Developmental Research School, and school districts or charter schools designated by the commissioner may submit their application on a form and by a date specified by the department. The application must include, at a minimum, the following pilot program-specific information:

- Vision and timeline, including the timeframe for districtwide implementation of competency-based education.
- Annual goals and performance outcomes that participating schools must meet (e.g., student performance,[21] promotion and retention rates, graduation rates, and indicators of college and career readiness).
- Communication plan for stakeholders, including businesses and community members.
- Scope of, and timeline for, professional development.
- Plan for:
  - Student progression based on mastery of skills, including the ways to determine the degree to which a student has attained mastery of concepts and skills.
  - Using technology and digital and blended learning to enhance student achievement and to facilitate competency-based education.
  - How resources will be allocated at the district- and school-level.
- Recruitment and selection of participating schools.
- Rules to be waived to implement the pilot program.

The application requirements affords program transparency and accountability by specifying the information that the authorized schools must submit to the department for approval of their pilot program, and the exemption from certain state board rules for the schools that the DOE approves to implement the pilot program.

Authorized Waivers

In addition to the state board's authority to allow the commissioner to waive, upon request of a district school board, certain SBE rules regarding district school instruction and operations, the bill authorizes the state board to allow the commissioner to grant additional waivers from state board rules related to student progression and award of credit. As a result, students will be able to earn credit by demonstrating subject area and grade level competency through performance on statewide, standardized assessments, without enrolling in and completing the corresponding courses. Currently, the Credit Acceleration Program (CAP) allows students to earn high school credit in Algebra I, Algebra II, geometry, United States history, or biology if the students attain a passing score on the statewide, standardized end-of-course (EOC) assessment, without enrolling in or completing the corresponding course.[22] The bill expands this mechanism for earning high school credit to include statewide, standardized comprehensive assessments for grades 9 and 10 English Language Arts (ELA).

[21] "Student performance," "student academic performance," or "academic performance" include, but is not limited to, student learning growth, achievement levels, and learning gains on statewide, standardized assessments. Section 1008.34(1)(c), F.S.
[22] Section 1003.4295(3), F.S.

Additionally, the bill allows waivers from state board rules to also apply to student progression decisions. As a result, a student may be promoted from one grade to the next grade level, by subject area, based on his or her performance on statewide, standardized comprehensive assessments for grades 3-10 ELA, grades 3-8 mathematics, and grades 5 and 8 science, without completing the corresponding course requirements. For instance, under the bill, a student in grade 3 may be promoted to grade 4 ELA if he or she demonstrates competency through performance on the grade 3 ELA assessment without completing the corresponding grade 3 ELA course requirements.

The bill provisions regarding waivers from student progression- and award of credit-related state board rules may also apply to the Civics EOC assessment and students with disabilities who take the Florida Alternate Assessment.

Funding

The bill requires students participating in the pilot program at participating schools to be reported for funding in accordance with current law.[23]

Department of Education Requirements

The bill requires the department to:
- Compile student and staff schedules before and after implementation of the pilot program.
- Provide access to the statewide, standardized comprehensive and EOC assessments.[24]
- Submit a report annually, by June 1, summarizing the activities and accomplishments of the pilot programs and recommendations for statutory revisions for statewide implementation to the Governor, President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

The bill has no impact on state funds. The program is voluntary and it is unknown if any school districts will participate. However, if a district chooses to participate, any fiscal impact would be absorbed within existing resources.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Legislature has specified general powers and duties of the Commissioner of Education (commissioner) and the State Board of Education (SBE or state board), and the terms for student progression and award of credit.

Commissioner's Powers and Duties

The commissioner is the chief educational officer of the state and is responsible for assisting the SBE in enforcing compliance with the mission and goals of the K-20 education system except for the State University System.[1]

To facilitate innovative practices and to allow local selection of educational methods, the state board may authorize the commissioner to waive, upon request of a district school board, SBE rules regarding district school instruction and operations, except the rules that relate to civil rights, and student health, safety, and welfare.[2] The law prohibits the commissioner from granting waivers for certain specified provisions in rule (e.g., the allocation and appropriation of state and local funds for public education, graduation and state accountability standards, financial reporting requirements, public meetings, public records, and due process hearings governed by chapter 120).[3] Annually, by January 1, the commissioner must report to the Legislature and the state board all approved waiver requests from the preceding year.[4]

Each student must participate in the statewide, standardized assessment program.[8] A student who does not score Level 3 or above on the statewide, standardized ELA assessment, statewide, standardized mathematics assessment, or the Algebra I end-of-course (EOC) assessment must be evaluated to determine the nature of student's difficulty, the areas of academic need, and strategies for providing supports to improve the student's performance.[9] The law specifies that a student must pass the grade 3 ELA assessment to be promoted to grade 4.[10] A student retained in grade 3 must be provided intensive reading interventions to ameliorate the student's specific reading deficiency, as identified by a valid and reliable diagnostic assessment.[11] The law also authorizes midyear promotion of a student who is retained in grade 3 to grade 4 after the student demonstrates ability to read and perform at or above grade level in ELA.[12]

Award of Credit

For the purposes of satisfying high school graduation requirements, one full credit means a minimum of 135 hours of bona fide instruction in a designated course of study that contains student performance standards, except as authorized under the Credit Acceleration Program (CAP).[13] The CAP is created for the purpose of allowing a student to earn high school credit in Algebra I, Algebra II, geometry, United States history, or biology if the student attains a passing score on the statewide, standardized EOC assessment, without enrolling in or completing the corresponding course.[14] In doing so, the Legislature has authorized the ability of students to earn credit by demonstrating subject area competency based on the students' performance on specified assessments without requiring the students to enroll in and complete the corresponding courses.

With regards to a school district that is authorized to implement block scheduling by the district school board, one full credit means a minimum of 120 hours of bona fide instruction in a designated course of study that contains student performance standards for fulfilling high school graduation requirements.[15] The state board must determine the number of postsecondary credit hours earned through dual enrollment and that equal one full credit of the equivalent high school course.[16]

The definition of a "full-time equivalent student" also includes students who receive instruction in a double-session school or a school utilizing an experimental school calendar approved by the Department of Education, comprising not less than the equivalent of 810 net hours in grades 4 through 12 or not less than 630 net hours in kindergarten through grade 3. To award credit for high school graduation, each district school board must maintain a one-half credit earned system that includes courses provided on a full-year basis.[17] A student enrolled in a full-year course must receive one-half credit if the student successfully completes either the first half or the second half of a full-year course but fails to complete the other half of the course.[18]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

This bill promotes competency-based student learning opportunities. Specifically, the bill defines competency-based education and:

- Establishes a competency-based innovation pilot program (pilot program) within the Department of Education (DOE or department) for five years.
- Specifies pilot program related requirements.
- Authorizes waivers from certain requirements in State Board of Education (SBE or state board) rule.
- Requires students participating in the pilot program at participating schools to be reported for funding in accordance with current law.
- Specifies repeal of the pilot program effective June 30, 2021.

Public schools in Lake and Pinellas Counties,[19] the P.K. Yonge Developmental Research School,[20] and school districts or charter schools designated by the Commissioner of Education (commissioner) may apply to the department for approval of their pilot program.

Definition

The bill defines "competency-based education" as "a system in which a student may advance to higher levels of learning after demonstrating a mastery of concepts and skills instead of after a specified timeframe." As a result, students will be able to demonstrate subject area and grade level competency through various methods such as performance on statewide, standardized assessments, without enrolling in and completing the corresponding courses.

Application Requirements

The bill specifies that the schools in the identified Counties (Lake and Pinellas), P.K. Yonge Developmental Research School, and school districts or charter schools designated by the

The mission of a lab school is to provide a vehicle for conducting research on and evaluation of management, teaching, and learning. The primary goal of a lab school is to enhance instruction and research in specialized subjects (e.g., mathematics, science, and computer science) by using resources available on a state university campus, while also providing an education in nonspecialized subjects. commissioner may submit their application on a form and by a date specified by the department. The application must include, at a minimum, the following pilot program-specific information:

- Vision and timeline, including the timeframe for districtwide implementation of competency-based education.
- Annual goals and performance outcomes that participating schools must meet (e.g., student performance,[21] promotion and retention rates, graduation rates, and indicators of college and career readiness).
- Communication plan for stakeholders, including businesses and community members.
- Scope of, and timeline for, professional development.
- Plan for:
  - Student progression based on mastery of skills, including the ways to determine the degree to which a student has attained mastery of concepts and skills.
  - Using technology and digital and blended learning to enhance student achievement and to facilitate competency-based education.
  - How resources will be allocated at the district- and school-level.
- Recruitment and selection of participating schools.
- Rules to be waived to implement the pilot program.

The application requirements affords program transparency and accountability by specifying the information that the authorized schools must submit to the department for approval of their pilot program, and the exemption from certain state board rules for the schools that the DOE approves to implement the pilot program.

Authorized Waivers

In addition to the state board's authority to allow the commissioner to waive, upon request of a district school board, certain SBE rules regarding district school instruction and operations, the bill authorizes the state board to allow the commissioner to grant additional waivers from state board rules related to student progression and award of credit. As a result, students will be able to earn credit by demonstrating subject area and grade level competency through performance on statewide, standardized assessments, without enrolling in and completing the corresponding courses. Currently, the Credit Acceleration Program (CAP) allows students to earn high school credit in Algebra I, Algebra II, geometry, United States history, or biology if the students attain a passing score on the statewide, standardized end-of-course (EOC) assessment, without enrolling in or completing the corresponding course.[22] The bill expands this mechanism for earning high school credit to include statewide, standardized comprehensive assessments for grades 9 and 10 English Language Arts (ELA).

Additionally, the bill allows waivers from state board rules to also apply to student progression decisions. As a result, a student may be promoted from one grade to the next grade level, by subject area, based on his or her performance on statewide, standardized comprehensive assessments for grades 3-10 ELA, grades 3-8 mathematics, and grades 5 and 8 science, without completing the corresponding course requirements. For instance, under the bill, a student in grade 3 may be promoted to grade 4 ELA if he or she demonstrates competency through performance on the grade 3 ELA assessment without completing the corresponding grade 3 ELA course requirements.

The bill provisions regarding waivers from student progression- and award of credit-related state board rules may also apply to the Civics EOC assessment and students with disabilities who take the Florida Alternate Assessment.

Funding

The bill requires students participating in the pilot program at participating schools to be reported for funding in accordance with current law.[23]

Department of Education Requirements

The bill requires the department to:

- Compile student and staff schedules before and after implementation of the pilot program.
- Provide access to the statewide, standardized comprehensive and EOC assessments.[24]
- Submit a report annually, by June 1, summarizing the activities and accomplishments of the pilot programs and recommendations for statutory revisions for statewide implementation to the Governor, President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2016.

BILL ANALYSIS AND FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

BILL:	SB 7068
INTRODUCER:	Criminal Justice Committee
SUBJECT:	Sentencing for Capital Felonies
DATE:	February 24, 2016 REVISED:

	ANALYST	STAFF DIRECTOR	REFERENCE	ACTION

I. Summary:

SB 7068 makes changes to Florida's capital sentencing scheme.

On January 12, 2016, the U.S. Supreme Court held Florida's capital sentencing scheme unconstitutional in an eight to one opinion.[1] The Court ruled that "the Sixth Amendment requires a jury, not a judge, to find each fact necessary to impose a sentence of death."[2] Several provisions contained within the bill are intended to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

Specifically, the bill amends Florida's capital sentencing scheme in the following ways:

- The prosecutor is required to provide notice to the defendant and file notice with the court when the state is seeking the death penalty and the notice must contain a list of the aggravating factors the state intends to prove;
- The jury is required to identify each aggravating factor found to exist by a unanimous vote in order for a defendant to be eligible for a sentence of death;
- The jury is required to determine whether the aggravating factors outweigh the mitigating circumstances in reaching its sentencing recommendation;
- The jury is required to render a unanimous verdict in recommending a sentence of death;
- The jury is required to recommend a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole if the recommendation for a death sentence was less than unanimous;
- The judge is permitted to impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole when the jury unanimously recommends a sentence of death; and
- The judge is no longer permitted to "override" the jury's recommendation of a sentence of life imprisonment by imposing a sentence of death.

Increased litigation is expected to result from the Hurst decision[3], and it is likely that the application of the bill's amendments to the death penalty sentencing scheme will be the subject of litigation. However, it is not expected that there will be a significant increase in costs associated with the bill itself.

The bill is effective upon becoming a law and the amendments made by the bill only apply to criminal acts that occur on or after the effective date.

II. Present Situation:

Florida's Capital Sentencing Law

Notice of Intent to Seek the Death Penalty

The Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure require the state to give notice to the defendant of its intent to seek the death penalty.

> Notice of Intent to Seek Death Penalty. The provisions of this rule apply only in those capital cases in which the state gives written notice of its intent to seek the death penalty within 45 days from the date of arraignment. Failure to give timely written notice under this subdivision does not preclude the state from seeking the death penalty. Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.202(a).

The rule does not require that any further information be conveyed in the notice, however Florida has broad pretrial discovery and should the defendant elect to participate in the discovery process the state's evidence against him or her will become known during the discovery process.

There is no statutory requirement that the aggravating factors upon which the state intends to rely in seeking death be enumerated before the state's evidence is presented at trial or the sentencing phase.

The Florida Supreme Court has not required the state to divulge the aggravating factors upon which it will rely in seeking the death penalty.[4] However, acknowledging the trial court's discretion, the Court has held that "a trial court does not depart from the essential requirements of law by requiring the State to provide pre-penalty phase notice of aggravating factors."[5]

[4] "We have consistently held that because Florida's death penalty statute limits aggravating factors to those listed ... there is no reason to require the state to notify defendants of the aggravating factors that the state intends to prove." *Hitchcock v. The Jury's Role in Sentencing

In Florida, after a guilty verdict in a capital case, the jury issues a sentencing recommendation – death or life imprisonment – unless the jury is waived.[6] During the sentencing phase the jury hears evidence to establish statutory aggravating factors and statutory or nonstatutory mitigating circumstances.[7] The aggravating factors must be established beyond a reasonable doubt.[8] The fact-finder must only be convinced by the greater weight of the evidence (a lower standard of proof than beyond a reasonable doubt) as to the existence of mitigating factors.[9]

If the jury finds one or more aggravating circumstances and determines that these circumstances are sufficient to recommend the death penalty, it must determine whether sufficient mitigating circumstances exist to outweigh the aggravating circumstances. Based upon these considerations, the jury must recommend whether the defendant should be sentenced to life imprisonment or death.[10] However, even if the aggravating circumstances are found to outweigh the mitigating circumstances, the jury is never required to return a recommendation for death and must be so instructed.[11]

[6] With the issue of guilt or innocence disposed of, the jury can then view the question of penalty as a separate and distinct issue. The fact that the defendant has committed the crime no longer determines automatically that he must die in the absence of a mercy recommendation. They must consider from the facts presented to them-facts in addition to those necessary to prove the commission of the crime-whether the crime was accompanied by aggravating circumstances sufficient to require death, or whether there were mitigating circumstances which require a lesser penalty. State v. Dixon, 283 So.2d 1(Fla. 1973).

[7] "An aggravating circumstance is a standard to guide the jury in making the choice between the alternative recommendations of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or death. It is a statutorily enumerated circumstance which increases the gravity of a crime or the harm to a victim." Fla. Standard Jury Instructions, Criminal Cases, Penalty Proceedings Capital Cases, Instr. 7.11.

[8] "An aggravating circumstance must be proven beyond a reasonable doubt before it may be considered by you in arriving at your recommendation. In order to consider the death penalty as a possible penalty, you must determine that at least one aggravating circumstance has been proven." … "If you find the aggravating circumstances do not justify the death penalty, your advisory sentence should be one of life imprisonment without possibility of parole." Id.

[9] "Should you find sufficient aggravating circumstances do exist to justify recommending the imposition of the death penalty, it will then be your duty to determine whether the mitigating circumstances outweigh the aggravating circumstances that you find to exist.

A mitigating circumstance is not limited to the facts surrounding the crime. It can be anything in the life of the defendant which might indicate that the death penalty is not appropriate for the defendant. In other words, a mitigating circumstance may include any aspect of the defendant's character, background or life or any circumstance of the offense that reasonably may indicate that the death penalty is not an appropriate sentence in this case.

A mitigating circumstance need not be proved beyond a reasonable doubt by the defendant. A mitigating circumstance need only be proved by the greater weight of the evidence, which means evidence that more likely than not tends to prove the existence of a mitigating circumstance. If you determine by the greater weight of the evidence that a mitigating circumstance exists, you may consider it established and give that evidence such weight as you determine it should receive in reaching your conclusion as to the sentence to be imposed." Id.

[10] "The process of weighing aggravating and mitigating factors to determine the proper punishment is not a mechanical process. The law contemplates that different factors may be given different weight or values by different jurors. In your decision-making process, you, and you alone, are to decide what weight is to be given to a particular factor." Id.

[11] "The sentence that you recommend to the court must be based upon the facts as you find them from the evidence and the law. If, after weighing the aggravating and mitigating circumstances, you determine that at least one aggravating circumstance is found to exist and that the mitigating circumstances do not outweigh the aggravating circumstances, or, in the absence of mitigating factors, that the aggravating factors alone are sufficient, you may recommend that a sentence of death be imposed rather than a sentence of life in prison without the possibility of parole. Regardless of your findings in this respect, however, you are neither compelled nor required to recommend a sentence of death. If, on the other hand, you determine that no aggravating circumstances are found to exist, or that the mitigating circumstances outweigh the aggravating circumstances, or, in the absence of mitigating factors, that the aggravating factors alone are not sufficient, you must recommend imposition of a sentence of life in prison without the possibility of parole rather than a sentence of death." Id.

A simple majority of the jury is necessary for recommendation of the death penalty. It is not necessary for the jury to list on the verdict the aggravating and mitigating circumstances it finds or to disclose the number of jurors making such findings.[12]

The aggravating and mitigating circumstances and the method by which they must be determined to apply for sentencing are set forth in s. 921.141, F.S., as follows:

> (2) ADVISORY SENTENCE BY THE JURY.—After hearing all the evidence, the jury shall deliberate and render an advisory sentence to the court, based upon the following matters:
> (a) Whether sufficient aggravating circumstances exist as enumerated in subsection (5);
> (b) Whether sufficient mitigating circumstances exist which outweigh the aggravating circumstances found to exist; and
> (c) Based on these considerations, whether the defendant should be sentenced to life imprisonment or death.
> (3) FINDINGS IN SUPPORT OF SENTENCE OF DEATH.—Notwithstanding the recommendation of a majority of the jury, the court, after weighing the aggravating and mitigating circumstances, shall enter a sentence of life imprisonment or death, but if the court imposes a sentence of death, it shall set forth in writing its findings upon which the sentence of death is based as to the facts:
> (a) That sufficient aggravating circumstances exist as enumerated in subsection (5), and
> (b) That there are insufficient mitigating circumstances to outweigh the aggravating circumstances.
> In each case in which the court imposes the death sentence, the determination of the court shall be supported by specific written findings of fact based upon the circumstances in subsections (5) and (6) and upon the records of the trial and the sentencing proceedings. If the court does not make the findings requiring the death sentence within 30 days after the rendition of the judgment and sentence, the court shall impose sentence of life imprisonment in accordance with s. 775.082.
> (5) AGGRAVATING CIRCUMSTANCES.—Aggravating circumstances shall be limited to the following:
> (a) The capital felony was committed by a person previously convicted of a felony and under sentence of imprisonment or placed on community control or on felony probation.

[12] "If a majority of the jury, seven or more, determine that (defendant) should be sentenced to death, your advisory sentence will be:
A majority of the jury by a vote of _____ to _____ advise and recommend to the court that it impose the death penalty upon (defendant).
On the other hand, if by six or more votes the jury determines that (defendant) should not be sentenced to death, your advisory sentence will be:
The jury advises and recommends to the court that it impose a sentence of life imprisonment upon (defendant) without possibility of parole." Id.

(b) The defendant was previously convicted of another capital felony or of a felony involving the use or threat of violence to the person.
(c) The defendant knowingly created a great risk of death to many persons.
(d) The capital felony was committed while the defendant was engaged, or was an accomplice, in the commission of, or an attempt to commit, or flight after committing or attempting to commit, any: robbery; sexual battery; aggravated child abuse; abuse of an elderly person or disabled adult resulting in great bodily harm, permanent disability, or permanent disfigurement; arson; burglary; kidnapping; aircraft piracy; or unlawful throwing, placing, or discharging of a destructive device or bomb.
(e) The capital felony was committed for the purpose of avoiding or preventing a lawful arrest or effecting an escape from custody.
(f) The capital felony was committed for pecuniary gain.
(g) The capital felony was committed to disrupt or hinder the lawful exercise of any governmental function or the enforcement of laws.
(h) The capital felony was especially heinous, atrocious, or cruel.
(i) The capital felony was a homicide and was committed in a cold, calculated, and premeditated manner without any pretense of moral or legal justification.
(j) The victim of the capital felony was a law enforcement officer engaged in the performance of his or her official duties.
(k) The victim of the capital felony was an elected or appointed public official engaged in the performance of his or her official duties if the motive for the capital felony was related, in whole or in part, to the victim's official capacity.
(l) The victim of the capital felony was a person less than 12 years of age.
(m) The victim of the capital felony was particularly vulnerable due to advanced age or disability, or because the defendant stood in a position of familial or custodial authority over the victim.
(n) The capital felony was committed by a criminal gang member, as defined in s. 874.03.
(o) The capital felony was committed by a person designated as a sexual predator pursuant to s. 775.21 or a person previously designated as a sexual predator who had the sexual predator designation removed.
(p) The capital felony was committed by a person subject to an injunction issued pursuant to s. 741.30 or s. 784.046, or a foreign protection order accorded full faith and credit pursuant to s. 741.315, and was committed against the petitioner who obtained the injunction or protection order or any spouse, child, sibling, or parent of the petitioner.
(6) MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES.—Mitigating circumstances shall be the following:
(a) The defendant has no significant history of prior criminal activity.
(b) The capital felony was committed while the defendant was under the influence of extreme mental or emotional disturbance.
(c) The victim was a participant in the defendant's conduct or consented to the act.

> (d) The defendant was an accomplice in the capital felony committed by another person and his or her participation was relatively minor.
> (e) The defendant acted under extreme duress or under the substantial domination of another person.
> (f) The capacity of the defendant to appreciate the criminality of his or her conduct or to conform his or her conduct to the requirements of law was substantially impaired.
> (g) The age of the defendant at the time of the crime.
> (h) The existence of any other factors in the defendant's background that would mitigate against imposition of the death penalty.[13]

Judicial Determination of Sentence

After receiving the jury's recommendation the judge must then decide the appropriate sentence.[14] The judge weighs the jury's recommendation and conducts his or her own analysis of the aggravating and mitigating factors. The recommendation of the jury must be given great weight in the judge's decision-making process on the sentence handed down.[15] The judge may sentence a defendant in a different manner than the jury recommends – this is known as an "override."

Records suggest that no Florida judge has overridden a jury's verdict of a life sentence since 1999. According to U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sotomayor's opinion dissenting from the Court's denial of certiorari review in the Alabama death penalty case of Woodward v. Alabama:

> Even after this Court upheld Florida's capital sentencing scheme in Spaziano v. Florida, 468 U. S. 447 (1984), the practice of judicial overrides consistently declined in that State. Since 1972, 166 death sentences have been imposed in Florida following a jury recommendation of life imprisonment. Between 1973 and 1989, an average of eight people was sentenced to death on an override each year. That average number dropped by 50 percent between 1990 and 1994, and by an additional 70 percent from 1995 to 1999. The practice then stopped completely. It has been more than 14 years since the last life-to-death override in Florida; the last person sentenced to death after a jury recommendation of life imprisonment was Jeffrey Weaver, sentenced in August 1999.[16]

[13] Aggravating and mitigating circumstances also appear in s. 921.142, F.S., which applies to Capital Drug Trafficking Felonies. Section 921.142, F.S., is also amended by this bill.
[14] "The punishment for this crime is either death or life imprisonment without the possibility of parole. The final decision as to which punishment shall be imposed rests with the judge of this court; however, the law requires that you, the jury, render to the court an advisory sentence as to which punishment should be imposed upon the defendant." Fla. Standard Jury Instructions, Criminal Cases, Penalty Proceedings Capital Cases, Instr. 7.11.
[15] What is referred to as the Tedder "Great Weight" Standard was announced by the Florida Supreme Court in Tedder v. State, 322 So.2d 908 (Fla. 1975). In that case, the court determined that "[a] jury recommendation under our trifurcated death penalty statute should be given great weight. In order to sustain a sentence of death following a jury recommendation of life, the facts suggesting a sentence of death should be so clear and convincing that virtually no reasonable person could differ."

The Sixth Amendment, Ring, and Hurst

The Sixth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution provides: "In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury. . . ."[17] This right, in conjunction with the Due Process Clause, requires that each element of a crime be proved to a jury beyond a reasonable doubt.[18]

Applying this right, the U.S. Supreme Court held in 2000 that any facts increasing the penalty for a defendant must be submitted to a jury and proved beyond a reasonable doubt.[19]

Two years later, the Court in Ring v. Arizona, applied this right to Arizona's capital sentencing scheme, which required a judge to determine the presence of aggravating and mitigating factors and to only sentence a defendant to death if the judge found at least one aggravating factor.[20] The Court struck the sentencing scheme down, finding it to be a violation of the Sixth Amendment because it permitted sentencing judges, without a jury, to find aggravating circumstances justifying imposition of the death penalty.[21] This ruling was subsequently held to not apply retroactively to cases already final on direct review.[22]

Hurst v. Florida

Until the U.S. Supreme Court issued its opinion in Hurst v. Florida[23] on January 12, 2016, Florida's capital sentencing scheme has withstood challenges based on the 8th, 14th, and 6th Amendments.[24]

In this case, Timothy Lee Hurst was convicted of first-degree murder for fatally stabbing his co-worker in 1998 with a box cutter.[25] A jury recommended a sentence of death by a seven-to-five vote; thereafter, the trial court entered a sentence of death.[26] Hurst challenged his sentence arguing that the jury was required to find specific aggravators and to issue a unanimous advisory sentence recommendation.[27] The Florida Supreme Court denied Hurst's claims that his sentence violated Ring by adhering to Florida's precedent of not adopting Ring and citing to the Eleventh Circuit's recent approval of the capital sentencing scheme.[28] Hurst appealed this denial to the U.S. Supreme Court arguing that Florida's capital sentencing scheme violated Ring because the jury recommends the sentence with only a simple majority, the judge finds the facts necessary for imposition of the death penalty, and the judge imposes the death penalty.[29]

On January 12, 2016, the U.S. Supreme Court held Florida's capital sentencing scheme unconstitutional in an eight-to-one opinion.[30] The Court ruled that "the Sixth Amendment requires a jury, not a judge, to find each fact necessary to impose a sentence of death."[31]

The Court compared Florida's sentencing scheme to Arizona's in Ring and found Florida's distinctive factor of the advisory jury verdict immaterial. Like the unconstitutional practice in Ring, the judge in Hurst performed her own fact finding and increased Hurst's authorized punishment, thereby violating the Sixth Amendment.[32] The Court also expressly overruled its past decisions upholding Florida's capital sentencing scheme which were issued prior to Ring.[33]

The Court's opinion did not address Hurst's contention that a jury's advisory verdict must be greater than a simple majority in order to comport with the Sixth and Eighth Amendments. Neither the U.S. Supreme Court nor the Florida Supreme Court has required unanimity in a jury's capital sentencing recommendation. Alabama's capital sentencing scheme allows the imposition of the death penalty with a 10-2 jury sentencing recommendation.[34] Delaware requires unanimity regarding the finding of aggravating factors, but does not require unanimity in a sentencing recommendation.[35]

Current Effect of Hurst

The Apprendi/Ring/Hurst Sixth Amendment issue has been preserved and raised on appeal in Florida death sentence cases since the Apprendi decision was issued by the U.S. Supreme Court in 2000. The Florida Supreme Court denied claims based on Apprendi and Ring over the last 15 years, finding that Florida's sentencing scheme in death cases had not been found to be constitutionally lacking by the U.S. Supreme Court and was therefore a valid sentencing scheme.[36]

The Florida Supreme Court must now decide how Hurst applies to death cases that have moved from the trial stage to the direct and collateral appeal process. The Court heard oral argument on February 2, 2016 in an active death warrant case, Lambrix v. Florida.[37] The Court had specifically required briefing in the case on the Hurst issue. After oral arguments the Court stayed the impending execution. It cannot be known when the Court will issue its ruling in the

Florida Statistics on Jury Votes in Death Cases

Table 1 shown below provides a fifteen year trend analysis on jury votes in death cases. Under current law and practice only 21 percent of the death cases over the past fifteen years had unanimous jury verdicts. Based on this analysis it is impossible to predict whether requiring a unanimous jury recommendation would result in a marked decline in death cases. It would appear from the current practice that a decline is likely if this bill becomes law, but the degree of the decline is uncertain.

Comparison of Florida to Other States

Of the 32 U.S. states that currently authorize the death penalty, three, including Florida, do not require a jury verdict on life or death to be unanimous in its final sentencing recommendation or decision. The federal government also requires unanimity.[41]

Of the three states:

- Alabama authorizes a jury to recommend a death sentence on a vote of 10-2, which is non-binding on the trial court.[42] By judicial decision, every death sentence must be based on a unanimous finding of at least one aggravating circumstance.[43] Alabama also permits the judge to make a decision to issue a death sentence, even after a unanimous jury makes a recommendation for life.
- Delaware requires juries to unanimously find at least one aggravating circumstance beyond a reasonable doubt. The jury must document how each juror voted on the decision of whether aggravating circumstances outweigh the mitigating circumstances. The sentencing decision is left to the trial judge.[44]
- Florida requires neither a unanimous jury recommendation nor a unanimous finding by the jury that any aggravating circumstance has been proved.[45] A Florida jury can recommend a death sentence to the trial judge on a simple majority vote of the 12 jurors, and there is no special verdict required to reflect the vote on the aggravating circumstances.[46]

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill changes the current death penalty sentencing scheme in four major ways.

The Notice of Aggravating Factors

In premeditated first degree murder cases, felony murder cases, and felony drug trafficking cases where the death penalty is a possible sentence, if the state intends to seek the death penalty, the prosecutor must give notice to the defendant and file the notice with the court. The notice must contain a list of the aggravating factors the state intends to prove beyond a reasonable doubt in support of a death sentence.[47]

The court may allow the prosecutor to amend the notice upon a showing of good cause. This provision gives the court discretion to make decisions to allow for changing circumstances and evidentiary considerations as the case progresses.

The Jury's Findings Making the Defendant Death Eligible or Ineligible

Sections 921.141 and 921.142, F.S., are amended to require a more specified role for the jury in sentencing in cases where death is a possible sentence.

Having found the defendant guilty, in the penalty phase the jury must first find whether the defendant is death eligible. In order to find the defendant death eligible, the jury must deliberate and determine whether the state has proven, beyond a reasonable doubt, the existence of at least one aggravating factor.

The jury must return specific findings to the court identifying each aggravating factor found to exist. A finding that an aggravating factor exists must be unanimous.

If the jury does not unanimously find at least one aggravating factor, the defendant is ineligible for a sentence of death and will therefore be sentenced by the court to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole.

If the jury unanimously finds at least one aggravating factor, the defendant is death eligible and the jury continues the deliberation process in order to arrive at a sentencing recommendation.

The Jury's Sentencing Recommendation

Having found the defendant eligible for a sentence of death, the jury must then weigh the following to arrive at the jury's sentencing recommendation:

- Whether sufficient aggravating factors exist.
- Whether aggravating factors exist which outweigh the mitigating circumstances found to exist.
- Based upon those considerations, whether the defendant should be sentenced to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or death.

[47] Section 782.04(1)(b), F.S.

If a unanimous jury determines that the defendant should be sentenced to death, the jury's recommendation shall be a sentence of death. If less than a unanimous jury determines that the defendant should be sentenced to death, the jury must recommend a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole.

The Imposition of Sentence

If the jury recommends a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole, the court must impose that sentence. This eliminates the "override" by the judge of the jury's life sentencing recommendation.

If the jury recommends a death sentence, the court must consider the aggravating factor(s) found unanimously by the jury and all mitigating circumstances. The court may then impose the death sentence unanimously recommended by the jury, or the court may impose a life sentence of imprisonment without the possibility of parole. This provision preserves the court's ability to "override" a death recommendation by the jury.

If the court imposes a death sentence in the case, the court must write a sentencing order as is required in current law which provides the basis of the Florida Supreme Court's proportionality review on direct appeal. The court must address in its order the aggravating factors found to exist, the mitigating circumstances reasonably established by the evidence, whether there are sufficient aggravating factors to warrant the death penalty, and whether the aggravating factors outweigh the mitigating circumstances.

Other Statutes Amended or Reenacted, Effective Date

Section 775.082(1)(a), F.S., is amended by the bill to conform that section to the new sentencing procedures created in s. 921.141, F.S. Additionally, ss. 794.011(2)(a), and 893.135(1)(b) through (l), F.S., are reenacted to incorporate amendments made by the bill.

The bill is effective upon becoming a law and the amendments made by the bill only apply to criminal acts that occur on or after the effective date.

Increased litigation is expected to result from the Hurst decision (discussed herein), and it is likely that the application of the bill's amendments to the death penalty sentencing scheme will be the subject of litigation. However, it is not expected that there will be a significant increase in costs associated with the bill itself. No estimates of the potential fiscal impact on the courts, the state attorneys, the Office of the Attorney General, the public defenders, or Capital Collateral Regional Counsel have been submitted as of the writing of this analysis.

(b) In all cases under this section, the procedure set forth in s. 921.141 shall be followed in order to determine sentence of death or life imprisonment. If the prosecutor intends to seek the death penalty, the prosecutor must give notice to the defendant and file the notice with the court within 45 days after arraignment. The notice must contain a list of the aggravating factors the state intends to prove and has reason to believe it can prove beyond a reasonable doubt. The court may allow the prosecutor to amend the notice upon a showing of good cause.

Section 3. Section 921.141, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

921.141 Sentence of death or life imprisonment for capital felonies; further proceedings to determine sentence.—

(1) SEPARATE PROCEEDINGS ON ISSUE OF PENALTY.—Upon conviction or adjudication of guilt of a defendant of a capital felony, the court shall conduct a separate sentencing proceeding to determine whether the defendant should be sentenced to death or life imprisonment as authorized by s. 775.082. The proceeding shall be conducted by the trial judge before the trial jury as soon as practicable. If, through impossibility or inability, the trial jury is unable to reconvene for a hearing on the issue of penalty, having determined the guilt of the accused, the trial judge may summon a special juror or jurors as provided in chapter 913 to determine the issue of the imposition of the penalty. If the trial jury has been waived, or if the defendant pleaded guilty, the sentencing proceeding shall be conducted before a jury impaneled for that purpose, unless waived by the defendant. In the proceeding, evidence may be presented as to any matter that the court deems relevant to the nature of the crime and the character of the defendant and shall include matters relating to any of the aggravating factors enumerated in subsection (6) and for which notice has been provided pursuant to s. 782.04(1)(b) or mitigating circumstances enumerated in subsection (7) ~~subsections (5) and (6)~~. Any such evidence that

~~which~~ the court deems to have probative value may be received, regardless of its admissibility under the exclusionary rules of evidence, provided the defendant is accorded a fair opportunity to rebut any hearsay statements. However, this subsection shall not be construed to authorize the introduction of any evidence secured in violation of the Constitution of the United States or the Constitution of the State of Florida. The state and the defendant or the defendant's counsel shall be permitted to present argument for or against sentence of death.

(2) FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDED SENTENCE BY THE JURY.—This subsection applies only if the defendant has not waived his or her right to a sentencing proceeding by a jury.

(a) After hearing all of the evidence presented regarding aggravating factors and mitigating circumstances, the jury shall deliberate and determine if the state has proven, beyond a reasonable doubt, the existence of at least one aggravating factor set forth in subsection (6).

(b) The jury shall return findings identifying each aggravating factor found to exist. A finding that an aggravating factor exists must be unanimous. If the jury:

1. Does not unanimously find at least one aggravating factor, the defendant is ineligible for a sentence of death.

2. Unanimously finds at least one aggravating factor, the defendant is eligible for a sentence of death and the jury shall make a recommendation to the court as to whether the defendant shall be sentenced to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or to death. The recommendation shall be based on a weighing of all of the following:

a. Whether sufficient aggravating factors exist.

b. Whether aggravating factors exist which outweigh the mitigating circumstances found to exist.

c. Based on the considerations in sub-subparagraphs a. and b., whether the defendant should be sentenced to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or to death.

(c) If a unanimous jury determines that the defendant should be sentenced to death, the jury's recommendation to the court shall be a sentence of death. If a less than unanimous jury determines that the defendant should be sentenced to death, the jury's recommendation to the court shall be a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole.

(3) IMPOSITION OF SENTENCE OF LIFE IMPRISONMENT OR DEATH.—

(a) If the jury has recommended a sentence of:

1. Life imprisonment without the possibility of parole, the court shall impose the recommended sentence.

2. Death, the court, after considering each aggravating factor found by the jury and all mitigating circumstances, may impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or a sentence of death. The court may consider only an aggravating factor that was unanimously found to exist by the jury.

(b) If the defendant waived his or her right to a sentencing proceeding by a jury, the court, after considering all aggravating factors and mitigating circumstances, may impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or a sentence of death. The court may impose a sentence of death only if the court finds that at least one aggravating factor has been proven to exist beyond a reasonable doubt.

each case in which the court imposes a sentence of death, the court shall, considering the records of the trial and the sentencing proceedings, enter a written order addressing the aggravating factors set forth in subsection (6) found to exist, the mitigating circumstances in subsection (7) reasonably established by the evidence, whether there are sufficient aggravating factors to warrant the death penalty, and whether the aggravating factors outweigh the mitigating circumstances reasonably established by the evidence. ~~(a) That sufficient aggravating circumstances exist as enumerated in subsection (5), and~~

~~(b) That there are insufficient mitigating circumstances to outweigh the aggravating circumstances.~~

~~In each case in which the court imposes the death sentence, the determination of the court shall be supported by specific written findings of fact based upon the circumstances in subsections (5) and (6) and upon the records of the trial and the sentencing proceedings. (9) ~~(8)~~ APPLICABILITY.—This section does not apply to a person convicted or adjudicated guilty of a capital drug trafficking felony under s. 893.135.

Section 4. Section 921.142, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

921.142 Sentence of death or life imprisonment for capital drug trafficking felonies; further proceedings to determine sentence.—

(1) FINDINGS.—The Legislature finds that trafficking in cocaine or opiates carries a grave risk of death or danger to the public; that a reckless disregard for human life is implicit in knowingly trafficking in cocaine or opiates; and that persons who traffic in cocaine or opiates may be determined by the trier of fact to have a culpable mental state of reckless indifference or disregard for human life.

(2) SEPARATE PROCEEDINGS ON ISSUE OF PENALTY.—Upon conviction or adjudication of guilt of a defendant of a capital felony under s. 893.135, the court shall conduct a separate sentencing proceeding to determine whether the defendant should be sentenced to death or life imprisonment as authorized by s. 775.082. The proceeding shall be conducted by the trial judge before the trial jury as soon as practicable. If, through impossibility or inability, the trial jury is unable to reconvene for a hearing on the issue of penalty, having determined the guilt of the accused, the trial judge may summon a special juror or jurors as provided in chapter 913 to determine the issue of the imposition of the penalty. If the trial jury has been waived, or if the defendant pleaded guilty, the sentencing proceeding shall be conducted before a jury impaneled for that purpose, unless waived by the defendant. In the proceeding, evidence may be presented as to any matter that the court deems relevant to the nature of the crime and the character of the defendant and shall include matters relating to any of the aggravating factors enumerated in subsection (7) and for which notice has been provided pursuant to s. 782.04(1)(b) or mitigating circumstances enumerated in subsection (8) ~~subsections (6) and (7)~~. Any such evidence that ~~which~~ the court deems to have probative value may be received, regardless of its admissibility under the exclusionary rules of evidence, provided the defendant is accorded a fair opportunity to rebut any hearsay statements. However, this subsection shall not be construed to authorize the introduction of any evidence secured in violation of the Constitution of the United States or the Constitution of the State of Florida. The state and the defendant or the defendant's counsel shall be permitted to present argument for or against sentence of death.

(3) FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDED SENTENCE BY THE JURY.—This subsection applies only if the defendant has not waived his or her right to a sentencing proceeding by a jury.

(a) After hearing all of the evidence presented regarding aggravating factors and mitigating circumstances, the jury shall deliberate and determine if the state has proven, beyond a reasonable doubt, the existence of at least one aggravating factor set forth in subsection (7).

(b) The jury shall return findings identifying each aggravating factor found to exist. A finding that an aggravating factor exists must be unanimous. If the jury:

1. Does not unanimously find at least one aggravating factor, the defendant is ineligible for a sentence of death.

2. Unanimously finds at least one aggravating factor, the defendant is eligible for a sentence of death and the jury shall make a recommendation to the court as to whether the defendant shall be sentenced to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or to death. The recommendation shall be based on a weighing of all of the following:

a. Whether sufficient aggravating factors exist.

b. Whether aggravating factors exist which outweigh the mitigating circumstances found to exist.

c. Based on the considerations in sub-subparagraphs a. and b., whether the defendant should be sentenced to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or to death.

(c) If a unanimous jury determines that the defendant should be sentenced to death, the jury's recommendation to the court shall be a sentence of death. If less than a unanimous jury determines that the defendant should be sentenced to death, the jury's recommendation to the court shall be a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole.

(4) IMPOSITION OF SENTENCE OF LIFE IMPRISONMENT OR DEATH.—

(a) If the jury has recommended a sentence of:

1. Life imprisonment without the possibility of parole, the court shall impose the recommended sentence.

2. Death, the court, after considering each aggravating factor found by the jury and all mitigating circumstances, may impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or a sentence of death. The court may consider only an aggravating factor that was unanimously found to exist by the jury.

(b) If the defendant waived his or her right to a sentencing proceeding by a jury, the court, after considering all aggravating factors and mitigating circumstances, may impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole or a sentence of death. The court may impose a sentence of death only if the court finds at least one aggravating factor has been proven to exist beyond a reasonable doubt.

(5) ORDER OF THE COURT IN SUPPORT OF SENTENCE OF DEATH.—In each case in which the court imposes a death sentence, the court shall, considering the records of the trial and the sentencing proceedings, enter a written order addressing the aggravating factors set forth in subsection (7) found to exist, the mitigating circumstances in subsection (8) reasonably established by the evidence, whether there are sufficient aggravating factors to warrant the death penalty, and whether the aggravating factors outweigh the mitigating circumstances reasonably established by the evidence. If the court does not issue its order requiring the death sentence within 30 days after the rendition of the judgment and sentence, the court shall impose a sentence of life imprisonment without the possibility of parole in accordance with s. 775.082.

~~(3) ADVISORY SENTENCE BY THE JURY. After hearing all the evidence, the jury shall deliberate and render an advisory sentence to the court, based upon the following matters:~~

~~(a) Whether sufficient aggravating circumstances exist as enumerated in subsection (6);~~

~~(b) Whether sufficient mitigating circumstances exist which outweigh the aggravating circumstances found to exist; and~~

~~(c) Based on these considerations, whether the defendant should be sentenced to life imprisonment or death.~~

~~(4) FINDINGS IN SUPPORT OF SENTENCE OF DEATH.—Notwithstanding the recommendation of a majority of the jury, the court, after weighing the aggravating and mitigating circumstances, shall enter a sentence of life imprisonment or death, but if the court imposes a sentence of death, it shall set forth in writing its findings upon which the sentence of death is based as to the facts:~~

~~(a) That sufficient aggravating circumstances exist as~~ ~~enumerated in subsection (6), and~~

~~(b) That there are insufficient mitigating circumstances to outweigh the aggravating circumstances.~~

~~In each case in which the court imposes the death sentence, the determination of the court shall be supported by specific written findings of fact based upon the circumstances in subsections (6) and (7) and upon the records of the trial and the sentencing proceedings. If the court does not make the findings requiring the death sentence within 30 days after the rendition of the judgment and sentence, the court shall impose sentence of life imprisonment in accordance with s. 775.082, and that person shall be ineligible for parole.~~

(6) ~~(5)~~ REVIEW OF JUDGMENT AND SENTENCE.—The judgment of conviction and sentence of death shall be subject to automatic review and disposition rendered by the Supreme Court of Florida within 2 years after the filing of a notice of appeal. Such review by the Supreme Court shall have priority over all other cases and shall be heard in accordance with rules promulgated by the Supreme Court.

(i) The defendant committed the offense after planning and premeditation.

(j) The defendant committed the offense in a heinous, cruel, or depraved manner in that the offense involved torture or serious physical abuse to the victim.

(9) ~~(8)~~ VICTIM IMPACT EVIDENCE.—Once the prosecution has provided evidence of the existence of one or more aggravating factors ~~circumstances~~ as described in subsection (7) ~~(6)~~, the prosecution may introduce, and subsequently argue, victim impact evidence. Such evidence shall be designed to demonstrate the victim's uniqueness as an individual human being and the resultant loss to the community's members by the victim's death.
