AMENDMENTS - Significant amendments were recommended

I. Summary:

SB 2-A apportions Florida into congressional districts as required by state and federal law.

As originally filed, this bill contains Redistricting Plan H000C9047 as adopted by the Legislature in 2012, and reenacted Chapter 8 of the Florida Statutes (Chapter 2012-2 Laws of Florida).

II. Present Situation:

The United States Constitution requires the Legislature periodically to reapportion the state into congressional districts.[1] Florida currently is apportioned into 27 single-member congressional districts.[2] The congressional apportionment plan the Legislature adopted in 2012 was challenged in Romo v. Detzner, consolidated case nos. 2012-CA-412 and 2012-CA-490 in the Circuit Court of the Second Judicial Circuit in and for Leon County, Florida.

In the Final Judgment issued July 10, 2104, Judge Terry Lewis found Congressional Districts (CD) 5 and 10 to be unconstitutional. Specifically, the trial court concluded that CD 5 did not strike the proper balance between tier one and tier two requirements, noting that the decision to retain Sanford in the district and increase the black voting age population from 49.9% in the benchmark district to 50.06% in the enacted plan was not justified by tier one requirements, made the district less compact, and was drawn with the intent to favor the Republican party. Similarly, the court found that an appendage that was drawn as part of CD 10 to facilitate the drawing of a majority-minority district in CD 5 and a Hispanic opportunity district in CD9 was unjustified under the tier one requirements, made CD 10 less compact than it could have been without the appendage, and was drawn with the intent to favor the Republican incumbent representative. The trial court rejected the Plaintiffs' challenges to CD 13, 14, 15, 21, 22, 25, 26, and 27.

In a subsequent ruling issued August 1, 2014, the judge ordered the Legislature to present a remedial plan to the court no later than noon on August 15, 2014. The trial court has also required the Secretary of State, in coordination with the Supervisors of Elections, to file a proposed special election schedule under the assumption that a new map could be in effect by August 21, 2014.

As a result, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House issued a Joint Proclamation convening the Legislature for the sole and exclusive purpose of considering revisions to Congressional Districts 5 and 10, as established in Chapter 2012-2, Laws of Florida, and to make conforming changes to districts that are a direct result of the changes to Congressional Districts 5 and 10.

Redistricting plans must comply with all requirements of the United States Constitution, the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, the Florida Constitution, and applicable court decisions.

The United States Constitution

The United States Supreme Court has interpreted Article I, Section 2 of the United States Constitution to require that congressional districts be as nearly equal in population as practicable.[3] In the creation of congressional districts, the so-called "one person, one vote" requires the Legislature to make a good-faith effort to achieve precise mathematical equality.[4] The Constitution permits population variances that are (1) unavoidable despite a good-faith effort to achieve absolute equality; or (2) necessary to achieve a legitimate goal.[5] In the case of congressional districts, however, the Court has allowed no de minimis population variances.[6]

The Equal Protection Clause limits the influence of race in redistricting. If race is the predominant factor in redistricting, such that traditional, race-neutral redistricting principles are subordinated to considerations of race, the redistricting plan will be subject to strict scrutiny.[7] To satisfy strict scrutiny, the use of race as a predominant factor must be narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling interest.[8] The United States Supreme Court has held that the interest of the state in remedying the effects of identified racial discrimination may be compelling,[9] and it has assumed, but has not decided, that compliance with the requirements of the federal Voting Rights Act likewise justifies the use of race as a predominant factor in redistricting.[10]

The United States Supreme Court has construed the Equal Protection Clause to prohibit political gerrymanders,[11] but it has not identified judicially discernible and manageable standards by which such claims are to be resolved.[12] Political gerrymandering cases, therefore, remain sparse.

The Federal Voting Rights Act

In some circumstances, Section 2 of the federal Voting Rights Act requires the creation of a district that performs for minority voters. Section 2 requires, as necessary preconditions, that (1) the minority group be sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a numerical majority in a single-member district; (2) the minority group be politically cohesive; and (3) the majority vote sufficiently as a bloc to enable it usually to defeat the candidate preferred by the minority group.[13] If each of these preconditions is established, Section 2 will require the creation of a performing minority district if, based on the totality of the circumstances, it is demonstrated that members of the minority group have less opportunity than other members of the electorate to participate in the political process and to elect representatives of their choice.[14]

Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act protects the electoral opportunities of minority voters in covered jurisdictions from retrogression, or backsliding.[15] In Florida, Section 5 covered five counties: Collier, Hardee, Hendry, Hillsborough, and Monroe.[16] Section 5 requires that, before its implementation in a covered jurisdiction, any change in electoral practices (including the enactment of a new redistricting plan) be submitted to the United States Department of Justice or to the federal District Court for the District of Columbia for review and preclearance.[17] A change in electoral practices is entitled to preclearance if, with respect to minority voters in the covered jurisdictions, the change has neither a discriminatory purpose nor diminishes the ability of any citizens on account of race or color to elect their preferred candidates.[18] In Shelby County v. Holder, which was decided after the redistricting process concluded, the United States Supreme Court declared that the "coverage formula" in Section 4 of the VRA—the formula by which Congress selected the jurisdictions that Section 5 covered— exceeded Congress's enforcement authority under the Fifteenth Amendment.[19] The preclearance process established by Section 5 of the VRA is thus no longer in effect. But Shelby County does not affect the validity of the statewide diminishment standard embodied in Article III, section 20, of the Florida Constitution. Shelby County's holding regarding the enforcement powers of Congress has no apparent application to the statewide standard embodied in the Florida Constitution.

The Florida Constitution

In 2010, voters amended the Florida Constitution to create standards for establishing congressional district boundaries.[20] The new standards are set forth in two tiers. To the extent that compliance with second-tier standards conflicts with compliance with first-tier standards, the second-tier standards do not apply.[21] The order in which the standards are set forth within either tier does not establish any priority of one standard over another within the same tier.[22]

The first tier provides that no apportionment plan or district shall be drawn with the intent to favor or disfavor a political party or an incumbent.[23] Redistricting decisions unconnected with an intent to favor or disfavor a political party and incumbent do not violate this provision of the Florida Constitution, even if their effect is to favor or disfavor a political party or incumbent.[24]

The first tier of the new standards also provides two distinct protections for racial and language minorities. First, districts may not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of minorities to participate in the political process. Second, districts may not be drawn to diminish the ability of racial or language minorities to elect representatives of their choice.[25] The first standard is comparable in its text to Section 2 of the federal Voting Rights Act. The second standard is comparable in its text to Section 5 of the federal Voting Rights Act, as amended in 2006, but is not limited to the five counties protected by Section 5.[26]

On March 29, 2011, the Florida Legislature submitted the new standards to the United States Department of Justice for preclearance. In the submission, the Legislature took the position that the two protections for racial and language minorities collectively ensure that the Legislature's traditional power to maintain and even increase minority voting opportunities is not impaired or diminished by other, potentially conflicting standards in the constitutional amendment, and that the Legislature may continue to employ, without change, the same methods to preserve and [20] Art. III, § 20, Fla. Const. Before the adoption of the amendment, the Florida Constitution did not regulate congressional redistricting. Two members of Congress have challenged the constitutionality of the new standards in federal court. They allege that, because the new standards purport to regulate congressional elections, its method of enactment violates Article I, Section 4 of the United States Constitution. The plaintiffs were unsuccessful in the district court but have appealed to the Eleventh Circuit. See Brown v. Browning, No. 1:10-cv-23968-UU, slip op. (S.D. Fla. Sep. 9, 2011), appeal docketed, No. 11-14554 (11th Cir. Oct. 3, 2011).

[22] Id.

[23] Art. III, § 20(a), Fla. Const. The statutes and constitutions of several states contain similar prohibitions. See, e.g., Cal. Const. Art. XXI, § 2(e); Del. Const. Art. II, § 2A; Haw. Const. Art. IV, § 6; Wash. Const. Art. II, § 43(5); Iowa Code § 42.4(5); Mont. Code Ann. § 5-1-115(3); Or. Rev. Stat. § 188.010(2); Wash. Rev. Code § 44-05-090(5). These standards have been the subject of little litigation. In Hartung v. Bradbury, 33 P.3d 972, 987 (Or. 2001), the court held that "the mere fact that a particular reapportionment may result in a shift in political control of some legislative districts (assuming that every registered voter votes along party lines)," does not show that a redistricting plan was drawn with an improper intent.

[24] It is well recognized that political consequences are inseparable from the redistricting process. See, e.g., Vieth v. Jubelirer, 541 U.S. 267, 343 (2004) (Souter, J., dissenting) ("The choice to draw a district line one way, not another, always carries some consequence for politics, save in a mythical State with voters of every political identity distributed in an absolutely gray uniformity.").

enhance minority representation as it has employed with so much success in recent decades.[27] Without comment, the Department of Justice granted preclearance on May 31, 2011.[28]

The first tier also requires that districts consist of contiguous territory.[29] In the context of state legislative districts, the Florida Supreme Court has held that a district is contiguous if no part of the district is isolated from the rest of the district by another district.[30] In a contiguous district, a person can travel from any point within the district to any other point without departing from the district.[31] A district is not contiguous if its parts touch only at a common corner, such as a right angle.[32] The Court has also concluded that the presence in a district of a body of water without a connecting bridge, even if it requires land travel outside the district in order to reach other parts of the district, does not violate contiguity.[33]

The second tier of standards requires that districts be compact.[34] The various measures of compactness that courts in other states have utilized include mathematical calculations that compare districts according to their areas, perimeters, and other geometric and geographical criteria[35] In In re Senate Joint Resolution of Legislative Apportionment 1176, 83 So. 3d 597, 631 (Fla. 2012) (Apportionment I), the Florida Supreme Court rejected broader considerations of compactness like functional compactness that would look to commerce, transportation, communication, and other practical measures that unite communities, facilitate access to elected officials, and promote the integrity and cohesiveness of districts for representational purposes.[36] In applying the compactness criterion, the Florida Supreme Court has counseled to look to the shape of the district. "Compact districts should not have an unusual shape, a bizarre design, or an unnecessary appendage unless it is necessary to comply with some other requirement."[37] Compactness may be assessed visually or mathematically using a variety of mathematical scores. Two mathematical measures of compactness specifically referenced by the Florida Supreme Court are the Reock or circle dispersion method[38] and the area/convex hull method.[39] It is unclear whether these are the only compactness measures to be considered.

Courts recognize that perfect geometric compactness, which consists of circles or regular simple polygons, is impracticable and not required.[40] The criterion of compactness needs to be measured and balanced against the other tier two criteria of equal population and utilization of political and geographical boundaries as well as tier one criteria of not denying the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or diminishing their ability to elect representatives of their choice.[41] Because the considerations that influence compactness are multi-faceted and fact-intensive, courts tend to agree that mere visual inspection is ordinarily insufficient to determine compliance with a compactness standard,[42] and that an evaluation of compactness requires a factual setting.[43]

In addition to compactness, the second tier of standards requires that, where feasible, districts utilize existing political and geographical boundaries.[44] The Florida Supreme Court has defined geographical boundaries as geography that is "easily ascertainable and commonly understood, such as rivers, railways, interstates, and state roads."[45] Likewise, the court has identified political boundaries to include municipalities and counties.[46] The Florida Constitution accords no preference to political over geographical boundaries.[47]

The Constitution recognizes that, in the creation of districts, it will often not be "feasible" to trace political and geographical boundaries.[48] District boundaries might depart from political and geographical boundaries to achieve objectives of superior importance, such as population equality and the protection of minorities, and many political subdivisions are not compact. Some local boundaries may be ill-suited to the achievement of effective and meaningful representation.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Consistent with state and federal law, the bill apportions the state into 27 single-member congressional districts. Maps and statistics for Redistricting Plan H000C9047 and the Benchmark 2002 Redistricting Plan are attached to this analysis.

The districts in the bill have an overall range of one person. Twenty-two districts have populations of 696,344, while five districts have populations of 696,345.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The enactment of a new map would not appear to have a significant fiscal impact on the Secretary of State. Supervisors of Elections impacted by the changes would have costs associated with implementation of the new districts. Nothing in the bill or the amendment would require a special election in the districts that are affected by the changes. The costs of any special elections are unknown at this time, but a substantial portion of the Supervisors of Elections' expenses would be reimbursable by the state.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 8.0001, 8.0002, 8.0111, 8.031, 8.0611, and 8.07.

IX. Additional Information:

B. Amendments:

Barcode 726240 by Reapportionment on August 8, 2014:

The amendment presents Redistricting Plan H000C9057, which addresses the elements of CD 5 and 10 in the enacted plan, H000C9047, that Judge Lewis found unconstitutional in his July 10 Final Judgment in Romo v. Detzner, consolidated case nos. 2012-CA-412 and 2012-CA-490. Plan H000C9057 also makes conforming changes to CD 6, 7, 9, 11, and 17 that are a direct result of the changes to CD 5 and 10 but which were made with the intent to improve upon the tier two requirements of compactness and following political and geographical boundaries where feasible.

Congressional District 5 was redrawn in accordance Judge Lewis's Final Judgment, and is compliant with both the tier one and the tier two standards of Article III, Section 20 of the Florida Constitution. The specific geographical feature of the district Judge Lewis found to be problematic was the inclusion of Sanford as part of an effort to increase the black voting age population (BVAP) above 50%. The trial court concluded this change unnecessarily subjugated tier two principles and was made with partisan intent. To correct this, the amendment removes Sanford, with the new boundary following the county line. Additionally, in Putnam County, the eastern boundary of the district was moved from the Alachua County line to the St. Johns River. In Marion County, the district boundary was moved to the south and west. In Orange County, the southernmost boundary was moved north, reducing the overall length of the district. Where feasible, the new district boundary follows political and geographical boundaries.

These changes improved the visual and mathematical compactness of the district. The newly drawn Congressional District 5 is both visually and statistically more compact, with a Reock score of .13 versus .09 in the Enacted Plan, and a Convex Hull score of .42 versus .29 in the Enacted Plan.

As a result of the geographical alterations of the district to make it more compact, the BVAP was reduced from 49.9% in the benchmark to 48.11% in the amendment. Consistent with the directions of the Florida Supreme Court in Apportionment I, a functional analysis was performed on CD 5 to assess the impact of the proposed changes in the minority population's ability to elect the candidate of its choice:

- Black voters have sufficient numbers to control Democratic primary elections. In the August 2010 Democratic primary, 64.1% of Democrats who voted in proposed CD 5 were black.
- Black voters also have sufficient numbers in general elections to elect their candidate of choice, but only if the candidate attracts a share of cross-over votes.[49] In the November 2012 general election (with President Obama on the ballot), 49.9% of voters casting ballots in proposed CD 5 were black. In the November 2010 general election (with Kendrick Meek on the ballot as the Democratic nominee for U.S. Senate), 43.7% of voters casting ballots were black.
- Black voters in proposed CD 5 are politically cohesive. In the November 2012 general election, 86.1% of blacks in proposed CD 5 were registered to vote as Democrats and in the November 2010 general election, 86.9% of blacks were registered to vote as Democrats.
- Other voters are less politically cohesive. In the November 2012 general election, 60.2% of registered voters in proposed CD 5 were Democrats, and in the November 2010 general election, 60.1% of registered voters were Democrats.
- Proposed CD 5 has performed for Democratic candidates in recent statewide elections:

Contest	Democratic Candidate	% of Votes	Republican Candidate	% of Votes
2012 General Election President of the U.S.	Barack Obama	68.7%	Mitt Romney	30.4%
2010 General Election United States Senator	Kendrick Meek*	46.1%	Marco Rubio*	34.5%
2010 General Election Governor	Alex Sink	63.5%	Rick Scott	33.8%
2008 General Election President of the U.S.	Barack Obama	68.4%	John McCain	30.9%
2006 General Election Governor	Jim Davis	56.7%	Charlie Crist	40.9%

* Charlie Crist (Independent) received 18.0% of total votes cast for U.S. Senator in 2010

The functional analysis above, which applies the method described by the Florida Supreme Court in Apportionment I,[50] indicates that minority voting strength in the proposed CD 5 is comparable to minority voting strength in the benchmark district. Consequently, proposed CD 5 affords black voters an undiminished ability to elect candidates of their choice. It further indicates that removing from proposed CD 5 either its northernmost urban population (268,347 persons in Jacksonville) or its southernmost urban population (283,419 persons in Orange County), would diminish ability black voters have enjoyed since 1992 to elect candidates of their choice, unless the territory removed is replaced with similar territory (in terms of its total population, racial composition, political participation, and political cohesion).

Congressional District 5 was the only minority district impacted by the amendment. No other impacted district was subjected to a functional analysis.

Congressional District 10 was also redrawn in accordance Judge Lewis's Final Judgment, and is compliant with both the tier one and the tier two standards of Article III, Section 20 of the Florida Constitution. The specific geographical feature the trial court took exception to was an "appendage" into Orange County that was included as part of CD 10 and had the effect of separating CD 5 and CD 9. In Orange County, the "appendage" that previously separated Districts 5 and 9 was removed, and the new boundary follows major roadways and geographical features where feasible. In Osceola County, the district boundary was moved east, and follows the boundary of the City of Kissimmee and major roadways and geographical features where feasible. The proposed CD 10 is both visually and statistically more compact, with a Reock score of .42 versus .39 in the Enacted Plan, and a Convex Hull score of .83 versus .73 in the Enacted Plan.

Congressional Districts 6, 7, 9, 11, and 17 were redrawn to conform to the changes in CD 5 and 10, and collectively the impacted districts are significantly visually and statistically more compact. Overall, the redrawn districts maintained a total population deviation of 1, kept the number of counties split at 21, and split only one additional city for a total of 28. Moreover, the amendment kept intact 20 of the districts from the original enacted plan, including CD 13, 14, 15, 21, 22, 25, 26, and 27 – districts that were specifically challenged and upheld by the trial court as constitutionally valid.

In addition to Redistricting Plan H000C9057, the amendment contains language expressing the Legislature's intent in establishing revised congressional districts and a change to Section 8.07 F.S. to clarify that these districts apply for any election held after the 2014 general election.

Additional maps and statistics for Redistricting Plan H000C9057 are attached to this analysis.

This Senate Bill Analysis does not reflect the intent or official position of the bill's introducer or the Florida Senate.

Section 2. Section 8.0111, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.0111 Inclusion of unlisted territory in contiguous districts.—Any portion of the state which is not stated in this chapter as being included in any district described in this chapter but which is entirely surrounded by a district shall be deemed to be included within the surrounding district. Any portion of the state which is not included in any district described in this chapter and which is not entirely surrounded by a district shall be included within that district contiguous to such portion that contains the least population per representative according to the United States Decennial Census of 2010; however, if every district contiguous to such portion has an equal population, such portion shall be included within the lowest-numbered district that is contiguous to such portion.

Section 3. Section 8.031, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.031 Election of representatives to Congress.—The districts named in s. 8.0002 constitute and form the congressional districts of the state, and a representative to the Congress shall be selected in and for each of the congressional districts as provided by law.

Section 4. Section 8.0611, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.0611 Severability.—If any provision of this chapter is held invalid with respect to any person or circumstance, or if any congressional district established in this chapter is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter or any other districts established in this chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are severable.

Section 5. Section 8.07, Florida Statutes, is amended to read:

8.07 Applicability.—The congressional districts prescribed in s. 8.0002 apply with respect to the qualification, nomination, and election to the office of representative to the Congress of the United States for any election held after the 2014 general election ~~in the primary and general elections held in 2012 and thereafter~~.

Section 6. This act shall take effect upon becoming a law.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

Section 1. Section 8.0001, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.0001 Definitions.—In accordance with s. 8(a), Art. X of the State Constitution, the United States Decennial Census of 2010 is the official census of the state for the purposes of congressional redistricting.

(1) The following delineation of congressional districts employs areas included within official county, voting tabulation district, tract, and block boundary descriptions used by the United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, in compiling the United States Decennial Census of 2010 in this state. The populations within these census geographic units are the population figures reported in the counts of the United States Decennial Census of 2010 provided to the state in accordance with Pub. L. No. 94-171.

(2) As used in this chapter, the term:

(a) "Block" describes the smallest geographic unit for which population was tabulated in the 2010 decennial census. Blocks are nested within tracts and within voting tabulation districts. A block is identified by a four-digit integer that is unique within a tract but is not necessarily unique within a voting tabulation district.

(b) "Tract" describes a relatively permanent statistical subdivision of a county updated by local participants prior to the 2010 decennial census. Tracts consist of whole blocks and are nested within counties. Tracts are identified uniquely within a county by an up to four-digit integer and may have an optional two-digit suffix.

(c) "Voting tabulation district" describes a subdivision of a county established in Phase 2 of the 2010 Census Redistricting Data Program. Voting tabulation districts consist of whole blocks and are nested within counties. Voting tabulation districts subdivide counties in ways supervisors of elections determined are efficient for conducting elections and keeping communities whole. Voting tabulation districts are identified uniquely within a county by an up to four-digit integer.

Section 2. Section 8.0002, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.0002 Division of state into congressional districts.—For the election of representatives to the United States House of Representatives, the state is divided into 27 consecutively numbered, single-member congressional districts of contiguous territory, to be designated by such numbers as follows:

Section 3. Section 8.0111, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.0111 Inclusion of unlisted territory in contiguous districts.—Any portion of the state which is not stated in this chapter as being included in any district described in this chapter but which is entirely surrounded by a district shall be deemed to be included within the surrounding district. Any portion of the state which is not included in any district described in this chapter and which is not entirely surrounded by a district shall be included within that district contiguous to such portion that contains the least population per representative according to the United States Decennial Census of 2010; however, if every district contiguous to such portion has an equal population, such portion shall be included within the lowest-numbered district that is contiguous to such portion.

Section 4. Section 8.031, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.031 Election of representatives to Congress.—The districts named in s. 8.0002 constitute and form the congressional districts of the state, and a representative to the Congress shall be selected in and for each of the congressional districts as provided by law.

Section 5. Section 8.0611, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.0611 Severability.—If any provision of this chapter is held invalid with respect to any person or circumstance, or if any congressional district established in this chapter is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the chapter or any other districts established in this chapter which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this chapter are severable.

Section 6. Section 8.07, Florida Statutes, is reenacted to read:

8.07 Applicability.—The congressional districts prescribed in s. 8.0002 apply with respect to the qualification, nomination, and election to the office of representative to the

Senate Committee on Reapportionment and House Select Committee
Testimony of Beverlye Colson Neal

My name is Beverlye Colson Neal. Because my time is limited, I have brought with me written comments that expand upon what I will share with you now. I have been a resident of Congressional District 5, formerly Congressional District 3 most of my life. I was born and grew up in Duval County. I have lived in Orlando and Orange County for 14 years. I am here today to testify to the importance of keeping Congressional District 5 running down to Orlando.

My family was always involved in the NAACP and political activism. I have worked in a number of political campaigns. Over the years, I have served in various roles with the national NAACP and the Florida State Conference of the NAACP. I was the Florida Voter Empowerment Coordinator for the NAACP National Voter Fund, and I was the Executive Director for the Florida Conference from 2003-2009. I am the 1st Vice President of the Orange County Branch of the NAACP, the largest branch in the state. In that role I oversee the Political Action Committee, Legal Redress, Youth Work, Criminal/Juvenile Justice Committee and Membership Committee. Our branch is active in voter registration and "Get Out the Vote" efforts in Orange County. We are also focused on the restoration of rights for convicted felons.

I have worked all over the state on nonpartisan issues. The NAACP has always consistently been a part of the redistricting process in this state. We have proposed plans and lobbied for the adoption of fair legislative and congressional districts. The State Conference supported the constitutional amendments passed in 2010.

I remember what it was like when nothing tangible was done for the African-American community by our former Congressional Representative, Charlie Bennett. I know the frustrations of Black voters who are unable to elect candidates to public office, who share or are sensitive to the issues of our community; other impediments make it almost impossible to impact these elections. On the other hand, the combination of communities that are linked in congressional district 5 makes it possible for these same people to elect one of their own to Congress. We do not endorse candidates for public office, but we actively encourage minority voter participation in our communities. We feel that the voting rights of African American voters should be protected as provided in Amendment 6, but the Amendments have no effect if we cannot maintain districts in which African-American voters have the opportunity to elect candidates.

I testified as a witness for the NAACP in the Romo v. Detzner trial. I talked about my experience in elections in this state. I also talked about the benefits of being able to elect a candidate of choice in congressional District 5. The historically black colleges and universities in Jacksonville, Daytona…even Florida A & M were in deplorable condition. Edward Waters College was not accredited, so students transferred to some other accredited college to complete their degrees. The infrastructure of Jacksonville, Orlando, and other parts of the district has improved. Now minorities get contracts with the government. Economic opportunities have improved. Sun Rail train service has been important to transportation in our area. There has been improvement in criminal justice reform which boosts the morale and spirit of people in the district. Our Congresswoman intervened in the Marissa Alexander and Travon Martin cases. These are benefits we've seen because we've been able to elect a candidate of our choice.

The District today is not much different from the original District that was drawn by the US Supreme Court; most of the counties are the same. The 5th District is a community of interest. The communities share a common history and culture. You find the same conditions in Jacksonville, Sanford, Gainesville…all over…concerns about economics, housing, education and crime. We have a congress person who will listen, and the district offices are important in giving access to government. But most important people are encouraged to register and vote. Because of the history of discrimination against us, our people are fragile; they need encouragement. The opportunity to elect candidates to public office is a right that means a lot in terms of the development of our communities.

I want Orange County to be a part of Congressional District 5. We depend on our congress person to help out with community issues. I have channeled people to the district offices for services they need, and they got assistance. Our current Congresswoman has been involved and supportive of our county. We share the same interests as other minority voters throughout the district. In other parts of the state African-American candidates have been asked to step down because they cannot win the election, or in other words, they could not get Caucasian support running as Democrats.

I cannot support the plaintiff's proposal to create a new District 5 that runs along the Florida-Georgia border. This will leave the core of the district unrepresented in Congress. Thousands of African-American voters in north central Florida will no longer have the opportunity to elect a candidate to Congress. These voters will be placed in districts where they are outnumbered by whites. This will negatively impact voter turnout, which will already be impacted by a likely special election.

There is no guarantee that African-American voters can be organized to elect a candidate in a new configuration that runs east and west. We do know from past elections that if the core of District 5 remains in place, north to south with the current mix of communities, there is a strong likelihood that African-American voters will be able to elect their own candidate to Congress and you will see more African American participation.

You should maintain the current configuration of District 5 with changes that will be acceptable to the court. African-American voters in Orange County should be allowed to remain in District 5. We need the opportunity to elect a candidate who will represent the interests of African-American voters.

Thank you.

Senate Committee on Reapportionment and House Select Committee
Testimony of Whitfield Jenkins

My name is Whitfield Jenkins. I have lived in Marion County all my life. I am retired from the Florida Department of Corrections. I served on the Board for the Ocala Housing Authority and Boys and Girls Clubs. I now serve on the Board for Ocala/Marion County Hospice. I am a past member of the Florida Commission on Human Relations, serving 12 years under three governors. We enforced the statutes that protected Florida citizens from discrimination.

I am a past president of the Marion County branch of the NAACP. I have served as first and third Vice President of the State Conference of the NAACP. I worked to train our leadership and revitalize our branches throughout the state I am currently the Vice Chair of the State Conference economic development committee. We are active in voter registration and minority political participation in this state. I feel that the voting rights of African American voters should be protected as provided in the Constitutional Amendments passed in 2010.

I also testified in the Romo v. Detzner trial. I understand the Judge's ruling in the case and support the efforts of this body to create a constitutional congressional redistricting plan.

I testified in the Romo v. Detzner trial about the difficulties in electing African-American candidates to public office in Marion County. No African-American has ever been elected to the county commission under the at-large system. 20-25 African-Americans have run for office, and only one or two have made it to runoffs. We are only able to elect candidates to the Ocala City Council because of the residency districts. We know the impact of racially polarized voting in our local elections. We don't have an early voting poll in our community. There are racial appeals in our elections. Black candidates do not put their pictures on campaign signs.

We have segregated housing patterns. A lawsuit was settled in 1979 against the city of Ocala because of discrimination in municipal services and employment. Our residents suffer from high illiteracy, unemployment, substandard housing and poverty.

I was a named plaintiff in the lawsuit that created the boundaries for congressional district 3. African-American voters in Marion County have benefitted from being part of the district. We are now able to elect our representative to Congress. We have common interests with the other communities in the district. All of us share a history that has only been partly remedied. We still suffer the effects of a past that did not allow us to be a part of the political process. Taking away the opportunity to elect our own candidate to congress will have a negative impact on minority voters.

I do not support any proposal to remove Marion County from District 5. Creating an alternative district that runs along the Florida-Georgia border between Jacksonville and Tallahassee will leave thousands of African-American voters no longer able to elect a candidate of their choice to congress. African-American voters that have been unified around the need to register and vote in order to be able to elect a candidate of choice will be negatively impacted.

Senate Committee on Reapportionment and House Select Committee
Testimony of Dale Landry

My name is Dale Landry. I am here today to speak on behalf of the Florida State Conference of NAACP Branches on the remedial congressional redistricting process under way here. I am the 4th Vice President of the Florida State Conference. Under the leadership of our state conference president, Adora Obi Nweze, the Florida NAACP has been very involved in the recent redistricting process and litigation in an effort to ensure that the voting rights of black voters in this state are not diminished or diluted. Because I will not have time to cover all the information that I would like to cover with you, I have brought copies of the letter the Florida NAACP sent to members of the Senate Reapportionment Committee and the House Select Committee, and submit those as my additional written testimony.

In 2010, the Florida NAACP formally and publicly supported Amendments 5 and 6 because of the minority voting protections that those amendments would enshrine in the state constitution. We certainly did not support an interpretation of the amendments that would undermine the electoral successes achieved by black voters in recent years. We have been dismayed that parties in recent litigation have adopted such an interpretation, and have vigorously argued that Congressional District 5 still serves as a much needed remedy in North Central Florida—a remedy that offers black voters a fair opportunity to participate in the political process.

We understand the ruling of Judge Lewis, and what you all are tasked with doing during this special session. We are here to convey our demand that the district remain oriented in a north-south direction, and that it continue to offer to black voters in the existing district the opportunities they have enjoyed since 1992. Judge Lewis did not rule that Congressional District 5 was unconstitutional because it went north-south—that much is clear. The legislature did the right thing in 2012 when it maintained the district's general orientation that way.

I am a resident of Leon County. I know what taking Congressional District 5 out to the west, as some people have urged, would mean. A Congressional District 5 that goes from Jacksonville to Tallahassee cannot be a replacement for a Congressional District 5 that runs from Jacksonsville to Orlando. First, a dramatic change to the district like that would leave out thousands and thousands of black voters used to being in Congressional District 5. They would no longer be able to elect the candidate of their choice. This is not an acceptable or constitutional option. Second, an east-west configuration of the district would create the illusion of a black opportunity district, but it would be just that, an illusion. There are a number of prisons in northern Florida counties, and those people cannot vote. Additionally, black voter turnout in this region of the state isn't as strong or reliable as it is down south of here. Finally, during litigation, the Florida NAACP commissioned Dr. Richard Engstrom to analyze the effect of taking district in a westward direction from Jacksonville. He found that would diminish the ability of black voters to elect their candidates of choice. As such, you simply cannot trade off these districts like some have suggested. The district must be maintained in its current configuration.

The Florida NAACP strongly urges the legislature to maintain the current configuration of District 5 to the extent possible. The counties in the current district have benefitted greatly from being in the district, and voters there would be irreparably harmed if they were excluded from the district when the legislature redraws it. When the redistricting amendments were adopted in 2010, we celebrated the fact that Florida was going to be a leader in the country by offering state constitutional protections to minority voters. The action that this body is about to take needs to adopt that spirit, and remember that black voters are not just numbers on a map. The NAACP and its members have fought long and hard to ensure that the electoral gains we have made are not lost, and we ask you to join in that fight with us.

Thank you for your time.
