COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE - Substantial Changes

I. Summary:

CS/SB 476 provides the aggressive careless driving statute may be cited as the “Anthony Reznik Act,” and provides penalties for the offense of aggressive careless driving. It further revises the definition of “aggressive careless driving” by adding operating a motor vehicle while texting and operating a motor vehicle in violation of driver license restrictions to those already listed.

The bill provides that a person who commits aggressive careless driving:

- Must be cited for a moving violation.
- And who, by reason of such operation, causes:
 - Damage to the property or person must be cited for a moving violation and attend a driver improvement course in order to maintain driving privileges.
 - Serious bodily injury to another person must be cited for a moving violation, attend a driver improvement course in order to maintain driving privileges, and have a mandatory court hearing.
 - Death to another person commits a misdemeanor of the second degree and must attend a driver improvement course in order to maintain driving privileges.

The bill may have an indeterminate positive fiscal impact to state and local government due to the collection of fines and fees for aggressive careless driving. See Section V. Fiscal Impact Statement.

The bill provides an effective date of October 1, 2022.

II. Present Situation:

Anthony Reznik

On February 10, 2021, a motor vehicle was traveling on Sunny Isles Beach Boulevard near Highway A-1-A. There is a traffic light for vehicles to stop for pedestrians crossing the roadway on the crosswalk. Eleven year old Anthony Reznik had a green light to cross the road and began to make his way across the lanes of traffic in the marked crosswalk. There were three lanes of traffic that he needed to cross to get to the other side of the road. Cars were stopped for the first two of the lanes of the roadway. However, in the third lane, there were no cars stopped for the red light. As the driver approached the stop bar of that third lane, she failed to stop. When she went through the red light, the vehicle she was driving struck Anthony. Anthony was rushed to the hospital; however, his life could not be saved. He died after being on life support for about two weeks.¹

After the crash, the driver stopped her car and remained at the scene. She cooperated with the investigation and provided a recorded interview to the police. In that interview, she stated that the traffic light was green for her. The police did not detect any signs of impairment so there was no legal basis to compel her to provide a sample of blood or urine for toxicology testing. Further, the police investigation indicated that she was not driving at an excessively high rate of speed at the time of the collision. No evidence was found to prove that she consciously disregarded the traffic control device.²

The Miami-Dade Police Department Traffic Homicide Unit was called to handle the fatal crash investigation. The investigators took photographs and crash measurements, conducted witness interviews, reconstructed the collision, and reviewed video surveillance footage of the crash. After factoring all the evidence gathered in this case, it was their opinion, as well as the Assistant State Attorney's, that there was insufficient evidence to charge the driver with any felony offenses in conjunction with this crash. There was no evidence that she was driving under the influence of drugs/alcohol, and she did not flee the scene. Consequently, she could not be charged with DUI Manslaughter or Leaving the Scene of a Deadly Crash.³

Moreover, the charge of Vehicular Homicide could not be sustained in this matter, either. In order to prove the crime of Vehicular Homicide, the State would have to prove that the driver was driving recklessly. The distinction between reckless driving (the basis for criminal vehicular homicide charges) and careless driving (which cannot be the basis of a criminal offense but can result in the issuance of traffic tickets) has been addressed in a multitude of cases with similar outcomes.⁴ In other words, even when an innocent person is killed in a traffic crash, the law recognizes that accidents can happen, and people should not go to jail or prison for mere mistakes. Unless the at-fault driver can be shown to have taken deliberate action knowing that it was likely that death or serious injury would likely result, the charge of Vehicular Homicide cannot be proven.⁵

Road Rage and Aggressive Driving

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), “aggressive driving” is defined as when an individual commits a combination of moving traffic offenses so as to endanger other persons or property.⁶ Occasionally, aggressive driving transforms into confrontation, physical assault, and even murder. A study on road deaths and injuries shows that:

road death and injury rates are the result, to a considerable extent, of the expression of aggressive behavior. . . . Those societies with the greatest amount of violence and aggression in their structure will show this by externalizing some of this violence in the form of dangerous and aggressive driving. . . .⁷

According to NHTSA, “road rage” is the label that has emerged to describe the angry and violent behaviors at the extreme of the aggressive driving continuum.⁸

The willful intent to injure other individuals or to cause damage, although directed at a specific target, presents an immediate danger to all in the vicinity of those engaged in acts of road rage. There are numerous accounts in which road rage incidents inadvertently involve drivers or pedestrians not targeted in the incident.

Aggressive driving maneuvers, such as tailgating and speeding, can also be seen as the result of the driving environment, and they are also connected with the issue of congestion.⁹ Studies show most incidents happen between the hours of four and six o’clock in the evening, times in which traffic congestion is more than likely a factor or the primary cause of an accident. In addition, wanton disregard for the safety of persons or property...” The court goes on to note that “willful” means “intentional, knowing and purposeful” conduct and that “wanton” means “with a conscious and intentional indifference to consequences and with the knowledge that damage is likely to be done to persons or property.”; Damoah v. State, 189 So.3d 316 (Fla. 4th D.C.A. 2016), noted that “The law differentiates between negligent driving conduct, which exposes a wrongdoer to civil liability, and criminal driving conduct, which subjects a person to incarceration and other criminal sanctions. Case law strictly construes criminal driving statutes to prevent the net of the criminal law from sweeping so broadly that it snares all conduct, both criminal and negligent.” The Damoah court went on to note that “Consistent with this view, the Florida Supreme Court has held “statutes criminalizing simple negligence to be unconstitutional.” State v. Smith, 638 So.2d 509, 510 (Fla.1994). “[U]nintentional conduct [] not generated by culpable negligence” will not support criminal liability. State v. Hamilton, 388 So.2d 561, 563 (Fla.1980); and Berubev. State, 6 So.3d 624 (Fla. 5th D.C.A. 2008) found that “What is missing from the State’s proof is evidence that Berubev, in an intentional, knowing and purposeful manner, made an improper left turn with a conscious and intentional indifference to consequences and with knowledge that damage is likely to be done to persons or property.”

there is strong evidence correlating the number of lane change maneuvers to accidents, and speed to accidents. Some researchers have theorized the root cause of these aggressive behaviors is passive-aggressive driving, i.e., the failure to move to the right from a left lane of a multi-lane highway when being overtaken by faster traffic. The theory contends that because slower moving traffic often refuses to yield to vehicles wishing to pass, those faster moving vehicles resort to aggressive driving such as “bobbing and weaving” from lane to lane.

Current Florida law in relation to “driving on right side of roadway” does require vehicles moving at a lesser rate of speed to drive in the right hand lane as soon as it is reasonable to proceed into that lane. Exceptions and exemptions include: when overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction or when preparing for a left turn at an intersection or into a private road or driveway.¹⁰ Violations of this law are noncriminal offenses.

Another important distinction is that aggressive driving is considered a traffic violation, while road rage may result in criminal offenses. Currently fifteen states have laws pertaining to aggressive driving as described above (including Florida).¹¹ Most, if not all acts under the umbrella of what is considered road rage, are labeled criminal offenses with applicable punishments. Road rage, if not accompanied by some other type of violation, is not considered a punishable crime in statute. Some crimes considered to be an act of road rage if carried out while driving include: Criminal Damage, Using Threatening, Abusive, or Insulting Words or Behavior (thereby causing fear or provocation), Wounding with Intent, Common Assault, Assault with a Deadly Weapon, Murder, Manslaughter, and Vehicular Homicide.

Florida Aggressive Driving Laws

Section 316.1923, F.S., describes, “aggressive careless driving” as committing two or more of the following acts simultaneously or in succession:

- Exceeding the posted speed as defined in s. 322.27(3)(d)5.b., F.S.;
- Unsafely or improperly changing lanes as defined in s. 316.085, F.S.;
- Following another vehicle too closely as defined in s. 316.0895(1), F.S.;
- Failing to yield the right-of-way as defined in ss. 316.079, 316.0815, or 316.123, F.S.;
- Improperly passing as defined in ss. 316.083, 316.084, or 316.085, F.S.; or
- Violating traffic control and signal devices as defined in ss. 316.074 and 316.075, F.S.

These violations carry separate penalties for each offense. Section 316.1923, F.S., does not, however, provide for any penalties to be administered for the act of aggressive driving itself. Law enforcement officers, by law are to check off a box, which is included on a ticket or an accident report form, when the officer believes the traffic violation or crash was due to aggressive careless driving.¹² The information is recorded and used by the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles (DHSMV).

¹² Section 316.650(1), F.S.

Current law provides that drivers overtaking other drivers must use the proper signal, and those being overtaken must yield the right of way to the overtaking vehicle. In addition, vehicles being overtaken may not increase speed until the attempted pass is complete or it is reasonably safe to do so.¹³ Some of the infractions may require a mandatory court hearing.¹⁴

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill amends s. 316.1923, F.S., to provide it may be cited as the “Anthony Reznik Act” and to provide penalties for the offense of aggressive careless driving. It further revises the definition of “aggressive careless driving” by adding the following acts to those already listed, requiring two or more of those listed to occur simultaneously or in succession for the act of aggressive careless driving:

- Operating a motor vehicle while texting as defined in s. 316.305(3)(a), F.S.; and
- Operating a motor vehicle in violation of driver license restrictions imposed under ss. 322.16(1)(a) or (b), F.S., such as restrictions suitable to the licensee’s driving ability with respect to the type of special mechanical control devices required on a motor vehicle and restrictions on use of the license with respect to time and purpose of use.

The bill provides that a person who commits aggressive careless driving:

- Must be cited for a moving violation, punishable as provided in chapter 318.¹⁵
- And who, by reason of such operation, causes:
 - Damage to the property or person of another must be cited for a moving violation and attend a driver improvement course in order to maintain driving privileges.¹⁶
 - Serious bodily injury to another person must be cited for a moving violation and attend a driver improvement course in order to maintain driving privileges.¹⁷ As used the term “serious bodily injury” means an injury to another person which consists of a physical condition that creates a substantial risk of death, serious personal disfigurement, or protracted loss or impairment of the function of any bodily member or organ.
 - Death to another person commits a misdemeanor of the second degree and must attend a driver improvement course in order to maintain driving privileges.¹⁸

The bill provides that a court may order a person who is convicted of aggressive careless driving and who, by reason of such operation, causes death to another person to pay restitution for all of the costs and damages arising from the criminal conduct. Payment of restitution is in addition to any other penalty provided by law.

¹³ Section 316.083, F.S.

¹⁴ Section 318.19, F.S.

¹⁵ Section 318.18(3)(a), F.S., provides penalties for noncriminal traffic infractions, and except as otherwise provided, the fine for a moving violation not requiring a mandatory appearance is $60; however, other penalties and fees may also be imposed; s. 322.27(3), F.S., the DHSMV is authorized to suspend the license of any person upon showing of its records or other good and sufficient evidence that the licensee has been convicted of violating motor vehicle laws or ordinances amounting to 12 or more points as determined by the point system, and the suspension may not exceed a period of 1 year; and s. 322.27(7), F.S., unless otherwise specified in law, the points for a moving violation are 3 points.

¹⁸ Section 775.082(4)(b), F.S., term of imprisonment not exceeding 60 days; and s. 775.083(1)(e), F.S., a fine not to exceed $500.

The bill amends s. 318.19, F.S., to provide that a person who commits aggressive careless driving and who, by reason of such operation, causes serious bodily injury to another person will be required to have a mandatory court hearing.

The bill provides an effective date of October 1, 2022.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

D. State Tax or Fee Increases:

None.

E. Other Constitutional Issues:

The bill criminalizes aggressive careless driving resulting in death. Damoah v. State, 189 So.3d 316 (Fla. 4th D.C.A. 2016), noted that “The law differentiates between negligent driving conduct, which exposes a wrongdoer to civil liability, and criminal driving conduct, which subjects a person to incarceration and other criminal sanctions. Case law strictly construes criminal driving statutes to prevent the net of the criminal law from sweeping so broadly that it snares all conduct, both criminal and negligent.” The Damoah court went on to note that “Consistent with this view, the Florida Supreme Court has held “statutes criminalizing simple negligence to be unconstitutional.” State v. Smith, 638 So.2d 509, 510 (Fla.1994). “[U]nintentional conduct [] not generated by culpable negligence” will not support criminal liability. State v. Hamilton, 388 So.2d 561, 563 (Fla.1980).

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

The bill may have a negative fiscal impact on individuals receiving a uniform traffic citation, or being charged with a misdemeanor, for aggressive careless driving.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The bill may have an indeterminate positive fiscal impact to state and local government due to the collection of fines and fees for aggressive careless driving.

The bill may have an indeterminate prison bed impact due to the criminalization of aggressive careless driving resulting in death.

The bill may have an indeterminate negative fiscal impact to the DHSMV's operational resources due to the need for programming to create new disposition codes in the Motorist Maintenance Application and Citation Processing and to add new violation codes to the Uniform Traffic Citation Annual Statistic Report.¹⁹

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

Section 316.1923, F.S., and the bill do not require any sort of intent to elevate the enumerated noncriminal violations to a criminal violation. Rather, it is the unintended result of a careless behavior that elevates the noncriminal violation to a criminal violation. Because the bill does not require any sort of intent behind the act, it is likely that persons who lack intent or would not ordinarily be characterized as aggressive drivers will find themselves facing criminal penalties.²⁰

VIII. Statutes Affected:

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes: 316.1923 and 318.19.

IX. Additional Information:A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Changes:

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

CS by Transportation on February 8, 2022:

Revises penalties for the offense of aggressive careless driving by removing criminal penalties for lesser offenses, and provides that a person who commits aggressive careless driving:

- Must be cited for a moving violation.
- And who, by reason of such operation, causes:
 - Damage to property or person be cited for a moving violation and must attend a driver improvement course.
 - Serious bodily injury to another person be cited for a moving violation, must attend a driver improvement course, and must appear for a mandatory court hearing.

- Death to another person commits a misdemeanor of the second degree and must attend a driver improvement course.

In addition, the amendment states that a court may order a person who is convicted of aggressive careless driving and who, by reason of such operation, causes death to another person to pay restitution for all of the costs and damages arising from the criminal conduct. Payment of restitution is in addition to any other penalty provided by law.

Specialty License Plates

TOURISM, INFRASTRUCTURE & ENERGY

FEBRUARY 8, 2022

Overview of Specialty License Plates

- The first Specialty Plates were enacted in 1986.
- Various categories of Specialty License Plates:
 - Collegiate, Environmental/Wildlife, Military, Sports
- Current Count: 129 Specialty License Plates available to purchase
 - Divine Nine, Explore Off-Road Florida and Florida State Parks recently completed the presale voucher requirement; 33 organizations remain in presales
- Revenue generated from the plates ($15 – 25) goes to the corresponding organizations.
- Special Plates require specific qualifications

Establishing a Specialty License Plate

- License plate must be enacted into law.
- Department begins the pre-sale voucher process.
- Plate is designed and approved.
- If pre-sale threshold is met, plate is manufactured and distributed to tax collectors and license plate agents.
- If threshold is not met within the two-year period, the voucher process ends, and the plate is discontinued.
- Customer can request a refund or apply the credit toward another specialty license plate.

Maintaining Valid Status

- Organizations must maintain the minimum number of active registrations outlined in law.
- Any organization falling below the threshold is placed on probation for one year.
- If they do not reach the minimum threshold for active registrations by the end of that year, the plate is discontinued and will no longer be available for replacement or original issuance.
- Any discontinued specialty license plate can continue to be renewed until the end of the 10-year license plate cycle; however, the specialty license plate fee is not charged for the remainder of the cycle.
- However, if the registration threshold is reached at any time during that year, the organization is removed from probation.

HB 1135 (2020 Session)

- Limit of 150 Specialty License Plates
- Change to pre-sale requirements; 3,000 vouchers and 4,000 vouchers for out-of-state universities
- Annual Relegation
- Dealer and Fleet Specialty Plates
- Established 33 new Specialty License Plates
- Divine 9 & Independent Colleges & Universities of Florida (ICUF)

- The valid registrations for the following license plates will be added together for one cumulative total:
 - Divine Nine
 - Independent Colleges and Universities of Florida (IFUC)
- Effective July 1, 2023, the department must discontinue any specialty license plate if the valid registrations is below 3,000 or 4,000 for out-of-state colleges or universities.

Audit & Attestation

- If annual expenditures are less than $750,000 for all State financial assistance from any State agency or not-for-profit entity, an attestation (Affidavit Form) must be submitted to FLHSMV within 9 months of entity's fiscal year end.
- Otherwise, a CPA audit in accordance with F.S. 215.97 (Florida Single Audit) must be filed with FLHSMV and Auditor General within 45 days after delivery of the audit to the entity, but no later than 9 months of entity's fiscal year end.

What's the Difference?

Audit – An independent audit conducted by a certified public accountant in accordance with s. 215.97, F.S., and the rules of the Auditor General. It includes examination of the financial statements and a report on compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on each major State Project and on internal control over compliance.

Attestation – An attestation document lists all revenues and expenditures of plate funds by the organization. The head of the organization attests and affirms, under penalties of perjury, that the funds have been spent in accordance with applicable statutes.
