THE WEEKLY RECAP

Watch The Video

This week began with a celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. On Monday, I traveled to three counties that honored Dr. King's heroic work and legacy—Gadsden, Jefferson, and Leon. It was incredibly moving to be among all the citizens who came out to march, cheer, pray and just remember all this great man achieved for our country. In honoring Dr. King, I shared the video below. His words are still poignant and true today, "The arc of the moral universe is long but it bends toward justice." Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Today ends week two of Session and it brought us a lot of great visits and time with representatives from our small towns and counties. I had the pleasure of meeting with County officials from Madison, Calhoun, Gadsden, Gulf, Taylor and Franklin. We also met with folks from Havana and Monticello on Main Street Day. Local sheriffs and cattle ranchers came by the office as well. It has been busy!

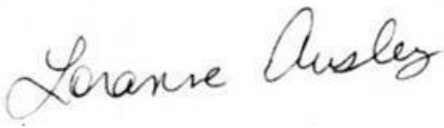

Each constituent shared issues, concerns and opinions on legislation, budget and overall state matters. I'll be working hard during Session to address all the issues that impact our small, rural and fiscally constrained counties.

We are deep into committee meetings, hearing bills and discussing issues; however, redistricting was really the main focus this week. The Senate and the House each draw their own districts, and both chambers negotiate to draw new Congressional districts. This week, the full Senate approved our version of the Congressional districts. This week, the full Senate approved our version of the Congressional district as well as the likely Senate districts. See the Senate maps we passed this week below.

We have seven more weeks and a lot more work to do this Session, so please keep emailing me with your thoughts, suggestions and opinions.
