COVID-19

On Tuesday, July 27 I sent a letter directly to Governor Ron DeSantis asking him to declare a state of emergency in Florida which would provide our hospitals with the much needed resources they require to beat this surge. They're being inundated with unvaccinated patients contracting COVID-19 and the more highly contagious Delta variant. Florida, which represents about 6.5% of the U.S. population, accounts for 1 of every 5 new cases in the U.S.

Dear Governor DeSantis,

As I'll likely tell you and Florida's ten-day average of COVID-19 cases reaches over 10,000, it is imperative that a state of emergency be declared. Right now, our state is seeing similar infection and hospitalization rates that occurred in June 2020 when we witnessed peak infection rates, hospitalizations, and deaths. In order to save lives, our hospitals need the help of the state and federal government to provide the critical resources they need.

Under Florida's state of emergency order, you were able to suspend statutes and rules of order that would have hindered our response to the pandemic. Some of these provisions included allowing critical doctors and healthcare professionals residing outside the state to be able to practice in Florida without a state license, allowing critical staff shortages. We also saw an expansion of telehealth services, allowing individuals to be seen by a healthcare provider virtually, keeping them out of the emergency room. Seeing as these provisions expired and we are facing similar staffing shortages, it is crucial that a state of emergency be declared to reinstate these exceptions before it is too late.

It is my fear however, that we are not seeing the full extent of COVID-19 cases due to incomplete data. On June 7th, the state ceased daily reporting of cases, opting for weekly reports instead. With new COVID-19 infections accounting for 20% of all new cases in the United States, I urge your administration to begin reporting daily cases so that Floridians are fully informed about the track of the virus, and can better make informed decisions to protect themselves and their families.

Finally, as you hold reports on July 21st, the vaccine is "saving lives" yet what we are witnessing during the latest surge in cases is a pandemic of the unvaccinated. I urge your administration to ramp up what efforts to address vaccination hesitancy and disseminate the right information that have made individuals reluctant in taking the vaccine. It is imperative that we protect every life possible and that requires a thoughtful approach in reminding Floridians that the COVID-19 vaccine is safe, free, and the best defense against the disease.

Sincerely,

Annette Taddeo

Miami-Dade opens five new COVID vaccine, testing sites as cases continue to surge
With virus positivity and hospitalizations increasing along with the growing threat of new variants, especially the Delta, Miami-Dade and Nomi Health are working to expand vaccination and testing, the county said. Please get vaccinated if you haven't already done so.

SOS Cuba

My Op-Ed in El Nuevo Herald, "The freedom of Cuba is not and should not be a partisan cause". It's sad that some do not understand that Cuba and its freedom should not be a partisan issue, which only the Castro regime would benefit from. For me it's not.

Senator Taddeo hosted and organized a listening round table with Cuban community leaders including Rosa Maria Paya, Ramon Saul Sanchez, the Cuban American National Foundation and more to discuss the dire situation that is #SOSCuba. Senator Taddeo was joined by Mayor Daniella Levine Cava and Congresswoman Debbie Wasserman Schultz as well as the Chief of Staff for Congresswoman Val Demings. This pivotal and historical moment is not only for Cuba but for all those who lack fundamental human rights!

The new generation of young people on the island of Cuba have lost their fear of the regime. In this historic and unprecedented moment, we have to support them and get rid of that oppressive government. Senator Taddeo joined Gloria Ordaz of Telemundo 51 and Cuban American radio personality Enrique Santos to uplift Cuban voices in the struggle to liberate Cuba.

Senator Annette Taddeo on the premiere of News Nations' newest late night prime time show "On Balance" with Leland Vittert discussing the latest revelations of the protests in Cuba. "We need to pressure other countries into understanding that Cuba isn't to be romanticized.", said Senator Taddeo. "The repressive Cuban regime shut off the internet because they don't want you to see the 400 people they've kidnapped or the child army they're creating."
