Original sections of the Penny Farms Potable Water System were installed in the 1920s. Repairs were made over tje years with a variety of pipe materials and diameters. The entire water system has been examined and documented on the diamond maps. The current system still has a large rectangular main of steel piping with lead joints within the Town. Testing shows no leakage at this point but it is only a matter of time before it will be a public health hazard. Many laterals are galvanized iron which springs a leak often. This unsettles the iron sediment resulting in rusting water in the system. 15,055ft of pipe needs to be replaced before new development.
