Operation New Hope provides re-entry services which includes both pre-release and post-release programs. The ONH Ready4Work (post release) program provides: case management, mental health support, job readiness and soft skills training, career and technical education, and a dedicated job coach. Additional supportive services are available such as: transportation, transitional housing assistance, clothing assistance, medical / vision support, vital documents, and work attire support. This budget year, ONH plans to expand to Central Florida providing in person services to hundreds of returning citizens in that region of the state. 12. Program Performance

a. What specific purpose or goal will be achieved by the funds requested?

Operation New Hope will deliver our nationally-recognized, reentry services to returning citizens and people affected by the justice system. Our programs and services increase public safety through reduced recidivism, lower unemployment rates and reduced incarceration costs to the state. We also impact the community by addressing the lack of quality reentry programs, increasing the number of available skilled workers, helping to treat substance abuse and addiction and helping to break cycles of poverty. Our Ready4Work program reports a 3-year recidivism rate of 8.64% compared to the FDC rate of 24.5%. We are saving taxpayers millions of dollars by avoiding repeated cost of incarceration and lost tax revenue. In 2022 we will open a new location in Central Florida.

b. What activities and services will be provided to meet the intended purpose of these funds?

Pre-release direct services include: building a face to face transition plan document, ongoing case management and coordination of housing and other support services prior to release. Post-release direct services include full-time employment placement through job training, case management, substance abuse treatment, and mental health support. Direct services also includes assistance and funding for: housing, transportation, medical, vital documents, and clothing/work attire. A new location in Central Florida and an eLearning platform will be developed.

Implementing a comprehensive 4-pronged approach (case management, supportive services, job training, and job placement assistance), our Ready4Work post-release program ensures each client succeeds. Our clients can receive up to $5,000 in supportive services and earned incentives while enrolled in the program, including transitional housing and transportation. We also work with post-secondary educational institutions to address the skills gap of employment needs and offer vocational training to provide our clients with a competitive edge that leads to living wage employment. In addition to our Ready4Work program, Operation New Hope successfully delivers Ready4Release pre-release services to 17 prisons. Our dedicated pre-release team meets face to face with inmates prior to release to create individualized transition plans for a successful transition back to the community.

d. Who is the target population served by this project? How many individuals are expected to be served?

Jobless persons, economically disadvantaged persons, current or formerly incarcerated persons, and Florida resident affected by the justice system in their past. We will anticipate serving approximately 500-600 pre-release inmates and 400-450 post release individuals.

The expected outcomes are to enable returning citizens to become stable, learn life and job skills that will enable them to find employment that will allow them to be self supporting thereby reducing recidivism and creating law abiding tax payers. This reduction in recidivism also decreases the state's correction's costs and unemployment. All of our data is managed in the Efforts to Outcomes software (by Social Solutions). Measurements are based off: career development graduation, job placement, job retention, average salary, and recidivism.
