4. Project/Program Description

The current roof on the Starke Police Department, located at 830 Edwards Road, Starke, Florida was installed in 1985 (36-years). The current flat roof has lasted beyond it's life and is currently leaking at multiple locations around the edges, and into the Department via several locations (See Roof Replacement Assessment). The existing roof needs to be replaced to insure hardening of the Department for operability and secure sheltering. The current generator is aged and not repairable (Parts are no longer available for the out dated unit). This funding would fund a replacement generator to insure hardening of the electrical system during severe weather and power outages to maintain operability and sheltering capabilities.
