4. Project/Program Description

A statewide Preschool Emergency Alert Response Learning System, PEARLS, will provide training, options, and information on current and optional notification to protect Florida's youngest and most vulnerable children. A K-12 public school could be on lock-down due to life-threatening criminal activity such as an active shooter, while a preschool close by remains unaware of the imminent threat. Florida's early education centers are an integral part of our state's educational & economic structure - developing young minds while providing young children a safe environment so parents can work to care for their families and improve their futures. Investing in the security of these young children and their educators is critical based on the current escalation of violence in schools. PEARLS has been successfully providing direct training to our early educators since its inception in 2018, supporting them in their mission to be prepared to protect these vulnerable children in an emergency.

PEARLS will provide training for preschool environments to mitigate risk and save lives in emergency situations such as active shooter events. Optional implementation of a local notification system to alert preschools of imminent danger, as is currently done with K-12 schools, closing the existing training and notification gap, keeping ALL of Florida's children safe. It is essential to share how these locations can use their environments and Proactive Planning to provide the safest environment possible for our youngest children.

b. What activities and services will be provided to meet the intended purpose of these funds?

This essential training will be provided through two methods, both in person training with early childhood educators and live on-line trainings for those who cannot attend in person. Participants are provided with resources to assist as they move forward with their planning. PEARLS will also utilize a Train the Trainer program to enhance program continuity and keep this important information accessible to all interested parties. Collaborative partnerships between law enforcement, statewide Early Learning Coalitions, and From Cradle to College will be utilized for local notification systems

c. What direct services will be provided to citizens by the appropriation project?

Training on highly relevant topics including planning and preparing for critical incidents and optional notification systems for schools.

d. Who is the target population served by this project? How many individuals are expected to be served?

Preschool children and staff - approximately 850,000 individuals in the State of Florida.

e. What is the expected benefit or outcome of this project? What is the methodology by which this outcome will be measured?

PEARLS expected benefit is an increased life-saving awareness of current threatening events and informed options for action that will mitigate risk and save lives. The program is designed to empower preschools with knowledge and awareness that will prompt them to have a preemptive plan of action which includes multiple options, making them ready to judiciously implement their plan based on the form of danger present, changing the outcome of the event. The program's outcome will be measured by its successful statewide training and implementation of beneficial notification systems, both of which enhance the safety of Florida's youngest children.

f. What are the suggested penalties that the contracting agency may consider in addition to its standard penalties for failing to meet deliverables or performance measures provided for the contract?
