If yes, indicate the amount of funds received and what the funds were used for.

The City of Tallahassee will receive up to approximately $46 million in ARP aid. These funds will be used to address the COVID-19 public health response, losses in revenue, and negative economic impacts. The City has no current plan to direct ARP aid towards this.

Educational, vocational, post-secondary and job opportunities for participants in TEMPO. Specifically, the program provides for the reengagement of Opportunity Youth through implementation of the seven phases of case management, GEDs through local adult and community education providers, workforce training programs at local educational and technical centers, and apprenticeships and pre-apprenticeships with local business partners.

c. What direct services will be provided to citizens by the appropriation project?

Participants will receive direct case management and access to career and educational opportunities. The broader public will see improvements to the community's economic development, public safety, quality of life, and impact on poverty.

d. Who is the target population served by this project? How many individuals are expected to be served?

Youth, ages 16-24
 Unemployed adults
 Economically disadvantaged persons
 At-risk (disconnected) youth
 Homeless individuals Drug users (in health services)

e. What is the expected benefit or outcome of this project? What is the methodology by which this outcome will be measured?

Participants will achieve greater educational and employment opportunities than they would if not for the program. The City regularly assesses the success of TEMPO by measuring the number of participants, GED completions, college enrollment, and job wages.

f. What are the suggested penalties that the contracting agency may consider in addition to its standard penalties for failing to meet deliverables or performance measures provided for the contract?

Future appropriations would be under greater scrutiny if the City failed to deliver on its contractual obligations.
