STATUTE(S) AFFECTED: Section 516.031, F.S.

COMPANION BILL(S): SB 2064 (s)

ORIGINATING COMMITTEE(S)/COMMITTEE(S) OF REFERENCE:
(1) GOVERNMENTAL RULES AND REGULATIONS
(2) BUSINESS REGULATION & CONSUMER AFFAIRS
(3) FINANCE & TAX
(4) GENERAL GOVERNMENT APPROPRIATIONS

I. SUMMARY:

Presently, consumer finance loans may not exceed $25,000 in value and must have a finance charge of more than 18 percent per annum.

Current law specifies that the maximum interest rates on consumer finance loans are as follows: 30 percent per annum on the part of principal up to $1,000; 24 percent per annum on the part of principal between $1,000 and $2,000; and18 percent per annum on the part of principal between $2,000 and $25,000.

HB 1211 increases the loan principal tiers by $1,000 in each of the three interest rate categories. Therefore, the maximum interest rates for such loans will be 30 percent per annum on the part of principal up to $2,000; 24 percent per annum on the part of principal between $2,000 and $3,000; and 18 percent per annum on the part of principal between $3,000 and $25,000.

This act shall take effect October 1, 1997.

II. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS:

A. PRESENT SITUATION:

Present law provides that consumer finance loans as defined by Chapter 516, F.S., may not exceed $25,000 in value and must have a finance charge of more than 18 percent per annum.

Section 516.031, F.S. (1995), provides for loan principal tiers with maximum interest rates on consumer finance loans of 30 percent per annum on the part of principal up to $1,000; 24 percent per annum on the part of principal between $1,000 and $2,000; and 18 percent per annum on the part of principal between $2,000 and $25,000.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

HB 1211 amends s. 516.031, F.S. (1995) by adjusting the loan principal tiers upward. Consequently, the maximum interest rates on consumer finance loans will be 30 percent per annum on the part of principal up to $2,000; 24 percent per annum on the part of principal between $2,000 and $3,000; and 18 percent per annum on the part of principal between $3,000 and $25,000.

As a result, borrowers who enter into a consumer finance loan will pay a higher finance charge.
