I. SUMMARY:

This bill is intended to permit municipalities with municipal detention facilities and municipal prosecutors to claim unclaimed moneys from violations of ordinances within the municipality's jurisdiction from the county's fine and forfeiture fund. The bill provides for reimbursement of the county's cost of publication of notice of unclaimed funds by the municipality.

This bill does not appear to have any significant fiscal impact on state or local (county and/or municipal) governments.

II. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS:

A. PRESENT SITUATION:

In 1943, the Legislature enacted chapter 116.21, Florida Statutes (chapter 22050, Laws of Florida), authorizing the sheriffs and clerks of the courts of counties of the State of Florida to annually pay into the fine and forfeiture fund of the counties any unclaimed moneys deposited or collected by them in their official capacity. In addition, the Legislature established a limitation of one year for making claims on the money and established notice and publishing requirements of the names of defendants and amounts of unclaimed moneys.

Annually, unclaimed moneys collected within the counties are, after proper notice, paid into the fine and forfeiture fund of the county in which the money was collected.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

To permit municipalities with municipal detention facilities and municipal prosecutors also to annually pay into their fine and forfeiture fund any unclaimed moneys deposited or collected by them in their official capacity, subject to the same limits, notice, and publishing requirements as the sheriffs and clerks.

This proposed change appears to apply only to the City of Fort Lauderdale, in Broward County. The amount of unclaimed moneys deposited or collected by the City is estimated to be approximately $7,500 annually.
