12 Section 1. Subsection (10) of section 561.01, Florida
13 Statutes, is amended to read:

14 561.01 Definitions.--As used in the Beverage Law:

15 (10) "Discount in the usual course of business" means
16 a cash or spirituous or vinous beverage merchandise discount
17 given pursuant to an agreement made at the time of sale.
18 However, such agreement shall not result in an accrued,
19 accumulated, or retroactive discount. The same discounts
20 shall be offered to all vendors of the same license series or 21 type buying similar quantities. Any discount which is in 22 violation of this section shall be considered an arrangement
23 for financial assistance by gift.

24 Section 2. Nothing in the Beverage Law shall prohibit 25 licensed distributors of malt beverages from charging 26 different malt beverage prices according to county, according 27 to the branch of a distributor's parent place of business,
28 according to whether a vendor sells malt beverages on premises
29 or off premises, or according to quantity sold, as long as the 30 price differentials are filed in advance with the Department
31 of Business and Professional Regulation as provided by rule.

1 Section 3. If any provision of this act or the 2 application thereof to any person or circumstance is held 3 invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or 4 applications of the act which can be given effect without the 5 invalid provision or application, and to this end the 6 provisions of this act are declared severable.

7 Section 4. This act shall take effect upon becoming a
8 law.
