BILL #: HB 425
RELATING TO: Robbery/Sudden Snatching
SPONSOR(S): Rep. Sanderson
COMPANION BILL(S): SB 722 (I)

ORIGINATING COMMITTEE(S)/COMMITTEE(S) OF REFERENCE:

- (1) CRIME AND PUNISHMENT YEAS 7 NAYS 0
- (2) JUDICIARY
- (3) CRIMINAL JUSTICE APPROPRIATIONS
- (4)
- (5)

I. SUMMARY:

The bill amends the robbery statute to add the phrase sudden snatching as follows:

“Robbery” means the taking of money or other property...when in the course of the taking there is the use of force, a sudden snatching, violence, assault, or putting in fear.

The bill defines “sudden snatching” as follows:

“Sudden snatching” means taking possession of money or other property from the victim, when the victim was aware of the taking. In order to satisfy this definition, it is not necessary to show that:

1. The offender used any amount of force beyond that effort necessary to obtain possession of the money or other property; or
2. There was any resistance offered by the victim to the offender or injury to the victim’s person.

The bill makes robbery by sudden snatching a third-degree felony, ranked as a level 5 offense in the offense severity ranking chart. The other types of robbery without a weapon will remain second-degree felonies ranked as level six offenses. Thus, the typical purse snatching offense will be a third-degree felony instead of a second-degree misdemeanor of petit theft.

II. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS:

A. PRESENT SITUATION:

Robbery means the taking of money or other property from the person or custody of another with the intent to steal when in the course of the taking there is the use of force, violence, assault, or putting in fear. If the robbery occurs without a weapon, then it is a second-degree felony that is ranked as a level 6 on the offense severity ranking chart. A level 6 offense, without a prior history gives the judge discretion to decide whether to impose prison.

The Florida courts have noted that the only element that distinguishes robbery from theft is that the property must have been taken from the person or custody of another by means of force, violence assault or putting in fear. The Florida Supreme Court has held that if the robbery is by means of force, then the force must be more than the force necessary to remove the property from the person. Robinson v. State, 692 So.2d 883 (Fla. 1997). Thus, the courts have held that grabbing a camera from the victim's shoulder did not involve force sufficient to elevate the offense from petit theft to robbery; snatching a gold chain from the victim's neck using only slight force necessary to take possession of the chain was theft rather than robbery; and snatching a purse without the use of force or putting in fear constituted theft rather than robbery. Robinson, id. The case law now seems to require that a victim resist the robbery in order to establish the use of force element necessary to prove robbery. Of course, robbery by violence or robbery by putting in fear do not require any resistance by the victim.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

The bill amends the robbery statute to add the phrase sudden snatching as follows:

"Robbery" means the taking of money or other property...when in the course of the taking there is the use of force, a sudden snatching, violence, assault, or putting in fear.

The bill defines "sudden snatching" as follows:

"Sudden snatching" means taking possession of money or other property from the victim, when the victim was aware of the taking. In order to satisfy this definition, it is not necessary to show that:

1. The offender used any amount of force beyond that effort necessary to obtain possession of the money or other property; or
2. There was any resistance offered by the victim to the offender or injury to the victim's person.

The bill makes robbery by sudden snatching a third-degree felony ranked as a level 5 offense in the offense severity ranking chart. The other types of robbery without a weapon will remain second degree felonies ranked as level six offenses. Thus, the typical purse snatching offense will be a third-degree felony instead of a second-degree misdemeanor of petit theft.

V. COMMENTS:

The bill modifies the definition of robbery to include robbery by sudden snatching, however, the penalty for robbery by sudden snatching is less than the penalty for robbery. This discrepancy will require a separate jury instruction for robbery by sudden snatching. It is also unusual to have what is essentially a separate, less serious offense contained within the definition of another offense. Litigation on appeal may be avoided if robbery by sudden snatching were made a separate offense from robbery.

VI. AMENDMENTS OR COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE CHANGES:

On page 2, line 28, the meaning of the following reference is unclear: “, as provided in paragraph (c).” On February 17, 1999 in the Committee on Crime and Punishment the sponsor of the bill offered an amendment to more clearly exempt robbery by sudden snatching from the enhancement in paragraph (b). The amendment was approved by the committee and is traveling with the bill.

A second amendment was offered by the sponsor in the Committee on Crime and Punishment to require a taking of property from the person of the victim in order to have an offense of robbery by sudden snatching. If robbery by sudden snatching were to apply to all property in a victim’s custody, then shoplifting could be robbery if the clerk is aware that the property is being taken.

The sponsor also offered a third amendment to provide that the victim must be aware of the theft of the property during the course of the taking. Thus if a victim becomes aware that property was taken while the offender was fleeing the scene, there would still be a robbery by sudden snatching even though the victim was not aware of the theft during the exact moment that it occurred.
