ANALYSIS

BILL #: HB 825
RELATING TO: Education/School Year Extension
SPONSOR(S): Representative Wallace
COMPANION BILL(S):

ORIGINATING COMMITTEE(S)/COMMITTEE(S) OF REFERENCE:

- (1) EDUCATION INNOVATION
- (2) EDUCATION APPROPRIATIONS
- (3)
- (4)
- (5)

I. SUMMARY:

HB 825 allows districts to extend their school year up to six additional days beyond the 180 days of regular school instruction. Schools that do so will receive an allocation for one-half the cost of operation of schools for each additional day. This amount is to be based on a pro rata share of each school district's operational budget for the previous year divided by the number of classroom teaching days.

II. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS:

A. PRESENT SITUATION:

Extended-School-Year Program

Section 236.081, F.S., states it is the intent of the Legislature that students are provided additional instruction by extending the school year to 210 days or more. Districts may apply to the Commissioner of Education for funds to be used in planning and implementing an extended-school-year program. The Department of Education (DOE) is then to recommend to the Legislature the policies necessary for full implementation of an extended school year.

There is one school in the state with an extended year calendar. The school is in Pinellas County and has had an extended year of 210 days for five years. This program is funded through full time equivalent funding (FTE) but had a planning grant for $100,000 to start the program.

School Funding

The basic amount for current operation to be included in the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) for kindergarten through grade 12 for each district is the product of the following:

1. The full-time equivalent student membership in each program, multiplied by
2. The cost factor for each program, multiplied by
3. The base student allocation.

According to information gathered from a meeting of the Florida Commission on Education Reform and Accountability, a rough estimate of the cost to operate the Florida educational system for one day is $60 million.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

HB 825 allows school districts to extend their school year up to six additional days beyond the 180 days of regular school instruction. They will receive an allocation for one-half the cost of operation of schools for each additional day. This amount is to be based on a pro rata share of each school district's operational budget for the previous year divided by the number of classroom teaching days.

C. APPLICATION OF PRINCIPLES:

1. Less Government:

- a. Does the bill create, increase or reduce, either directly or indirectly:

- (1) any authority to make rules or adjudicate disputes?

No.

- (2) any new responsibilities, obligations or work for other governmental or private organizations or individuals?

Districts that choose to extend the school year will need to plan and implement the program.

- (3) any entitlement to a government service or benefit?

No.

b. If an agency or program is eliminated or reduced:

(1) what responsibilities, costs and powers are passed on to another program, agency, level of government, or private entity?

N/A

(2) what is the cost of such responsibility at the new level/agency?

N/A

(3) how is the new agency accountable to the people governed?

N/A

2. Lower Taxes:

a. Does the bill increase anyone's taxes?

No.

b. Does the bill require or authorize an increase in any fees?

No.

c. Does the bill reduce total taxes, both rates and revenues?

No.

d. Does the bill reduce total fees, both rates and revenues?

No.

e. Does the bill authorize any fee or tax increase by any local government?

No.

3. Personal Responsibility:

a. Does the bill reduce or eliminate an entitlement to government services or subsidy?

No.

b. Do the beneficiaries of the legislation directly pay any portion of the cost of implementation and operation?

No.

4. Individual Freedom:

a. Does the bill increase the allowable options of individuals or private organizations/associations to conduct their own affairs?

The bill gives more flexibility to the school districts to implement an extended school year.

b. Does the bill prohibit, or create new government interference with, any presently lawful activity?

No.

5. Family Empowerment:

a. If the bill purports to provide services to families or children:

(1) Who evaluates the family's needs?

N/A

(2) Who makes the decisions?

N/A

(3) Are private alternatives permitted?

N/A

(4) Are families required to participate in a program?

N/A

(5) Are families penalized for not participating in a program?

N/A

b. Does the bill directly affect the legal rights and obligations between family members?

No.

c. If the bill creates or changes a program providing services to families or children, in which of the following does the bill vest control of the program, either through direct participation or appointment authority:

(1) parents and guardians?

No.

(2) service providers?

The bill will allow school districts to extend the school year.

(3) government employees/agencies?

The bill will allow school districts to extend the school year.

D. STATUTE(S) AFFECTED:

Amends section 236.081, F.S.

E. SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS:

Section 1 Amends s. 236.081, F.S., allowing school districts to extend their school year up to six additional days beyond the 180 days of regular school instruction. They will receive an allocation for one-half the cost of operation of schools for each additional day. This amount is to be based on a pro rata share of each school district's operational budget for the previous year divided by the number of classroom teaching days.

Section 2 Provides an effective date of July 1, 1999.

III. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT:

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE AGENCIES/STATE FUNDS:

1. Non-recurring Effects:

None.

2. Recurring Effects:

There would be an increase in costs if school districts chose to extend their school year. The cost is indeterminate at this time because it is dependent on how many districts choose to extend the school year. An approximate estimate of the cost to operate the Florida educational system for one day for all districts is $60 million. The bill allows districts to receive 50 percent of the operational cost; if all schools chose to extend their school year that cost would be approximately $30 million statewide for one day. Since school districts may extend the year six additional days per year, the cost, if all districts chose to extend their school year by the maximum six days, would be $30 million times six or $180 million.

3. Long Run Effects Other Than Normal Growth:

None.

4. Total Revenues and Expenditures:

There would be an increase in costs if school districts chose to extend their school year. The cost is indeterminate at this time because there is no way to tell how many districts would choose to extend the school year.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS AS A WHOLE:

1. Non-recurring Effects:

None.

2. Recurring Effects:

None.

3. Long Run Effects Other Than Normal Growth:

None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

1. Direct Private Sector Costs:

None.

2. Direct Private Sector Benefits:

None.

3. Effects on Competition, Private Enterprise and Employment Markets:

None.

IV. CONSEQUENCES OF ARTICLE VII, SECTION 18 OF THE FLORIDA CONSTITUTION:

A. APPLICABILITY OF THE MANDATES PROVISION:

The bill does not require counties or municipalities to expend funds.

B. REDUCTION OF REVENUE RAISING AUTHORITY:

The bill does not reduce the authority of counties or municipalities to raise revenue.

C. REDUCTION OF STATE TAX SHARED WITH COUNTIES AND MUNICIPALITIES:

The bill does not reduce the percentage of state tax shared with counties and municipalities.
