29 created to read:

30 90.5045 Parent-child privilege.--

31

1 (1) A child or parent has a privilege because of the 2 family relationship to refuse to disclose, and to prevent 3 another from disclosing, communications which were intended to 4 be made in confidence between the parent and the child. This 5 privilege is intended to continue based upon the privacy of 6 the family relationship whether or not the family members
7 reside together.

8 (2) The privilege may be claimed by either the child 9 or parent or by the guardian or conservator of the child or 10 parent. The authority of a child or parent, or guardian or 11 conservator of the parent or child, to claim the privilege is 12 presumed in the absence of contrary evidence.

13 (3) There is no privilege under this section:

14 (a) In a proceeding brought by or on behalf of one
15 member of the family against another member of the family.

16 (b) In a prosecution or other criminal proceeding
17 involving the commission of a crime or delinquent act or in an 18 investigation of murder or sexual battery.

19 (c) In Department of Juvenile Justice or Department of 20 Children and Family Services matters as part of established or 21 institutional proceedings relating to the well-being of the 22 child or the parent, including, but not limited to, matters
23 alleging child abuse, child neglect, abandonment, nonsupport
24 by a parent, or domestic violence against a parent.

25 (4) This privilege may be waived by the express
26 consent to disclosure by a parent or child entitled to claim 27 the privilege, or by the parent or child who made the 28 communication, or by failure of the parent or child to object
29 when the contents of a communication are demanded.

30 Section 2. This act shall take effect July 1, 1999.
