1 A bill to be entitled
2 An act relating to pretrial detention and 3 release; amending s. 903.047, F.S.; providing 4 conditions and procedures for revoking a
5 defendant's pretrial release; amending s.
6 907.041, F.S.; authorizing the court to revoke
7 a defendant's pretrial release and require
8 pretrial detention if the court finds that the 9 defendant violated any condition of pretrial
10 release; providing an effective date.

11
12 Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

13
14 Section 1. Section 903.047, Florida Statutes, is 15 amended to read:

16 903.047 Conditions of pretrial release; violation and 17 revocation; procedure.--

18 (1) As a condition of pretrial release, whether such 19 release is by surety bail bond or recognizance bond or in some 20 other form, the court shall require that:

21 (a) The defendant refrain from criminal activity of 22 any kind; and

23 (b) The defendant refrain from any contact of any type 24 with the victim, except through pretrial discovery pursuant to 25 the Florida Rules of Criminal Procedure.

26 (2) Upon motion by the defendant when bail is set, or 27 upon later motion properly noticed pursuant to law, the court
28 may modify the condition required by paragraph (1)(b) if good 29 cause is shown and the interests of justice so require. The 30 victim shall be permitted to be heard at any proceeding in 31 which such modification is considered, and the state attorney

1 shall notify the victim of the provisions of this subsection
2 and of the pendency of any such proceeding.

3 (3) The court may revoke a defendant's pretrial
4 release, whether such release is by surety bail bond,
5 recognizance bond, or some other form of pretrial release, and 6 order that the defendant be detained pending trial if the 7 defendant violates a condition of paragraph (1)(a) or 8 paragraph (1)(b), a court-ordered condition of bond, or other
9 condition of pretrial release.

10 (4) The court may revoke the pretrial release of the 11 defendant and order pretrial detention of the defendant after 12 a hearing in which the court finds that the defendant violated
13 any condition of his or her pretrial release, whether such 14 release is by surety bond, recognizance bond, or some other
15 form of pretrial release. The hearing on the pretrial-release 16 revocation must be held within 5 days after a motion by the 17 state attorney to revoke pretrial release. The defendant may 18 request a continuance. A continuance may not be granted for 19 longer than 5 days unless there are extenuating circumstances.
20 The defendant may be detained pending the hearing. The state 21 attorney is entitled to one continuance for good cause if the 22 defendant is detained pending the hearing.

23 (5) The defendant is entitled to be represented by 24 counsel, to present witnesses and evidence, and to 25 cross-examine witnesses at the hearing for revocation of 26 pretrial release. The court may admit relevant evidence
27 without complying with the rules of evidence, but evidence
28 secured in violation of the United States Constitution or the 29 State Constitution is not admissible. Testimony by the 30 defendant is not admissible to prove guilt at any other 31 judicial proceeding, but such testimony may be admitted in an

2 action for perjury, based upon the defendant's statements made
3 impeachment.

4 (6) The order of revocation of pretrial release which 5 on the record. The court must render its findings within 24
6 hours after the hearing for revocation of pretrial release and

7 (7) A defendant convicted at trial following the 8 issuance of an order revoking pretrial release and ordering 9 pretrial detention shall have the time he or she was held in 10 detention under the order credited to his sentence, if 11 imprisonment is imposed under s. 921.161.

12 (8) The defendant is entitled to dissolution of the 13 pretrial-detention order whenever the court finds that a
14 subsequent event has eliminated the basis for detention.

15 Section 2. Subsection (5) is added to section 907.041,
16 Florida Statutes, to read:

17 907.041 Pretrial detention and release.--

18 (5) REVOCATION OF PRETRIAL RELEASE.--If the court
19 finds that a defendant violated any condition of pretrial
20 release, whether such release is by surety bail bond,
21 recognizance bond, or in some other form, the court may revoke
22 the defendant's pretrial release and require pretrial
23 detention under s. 903.047.

24 Section 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2000.
