Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the following creation of Section 20 of Article III, and the following amendment to Section 5 of Article XI, of the State Constitution are agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the next general election or at an earlier special election specifically authorized by law for that purpose:

ARTICLE III
LEGISLATURE

SECTION 20. Citizen initiative.--The power to propose legislation by initiative is reserved to the people. The power may be invoked by filing a petition with the chief elections officer of the state which contains a copy of the proposed legislation, which petition is signed by a number of electors in each of one half of the congressional districts of the state, and of the state as a whole, equal to eight percent of the votes cast in each of such districts respectively and in the state as a whole in the last preceding election in which presidential electors were chosen. A statement must appear on the ballot which states the economic impact of each proposal.

1 Legislation proposed by initiative must be approved by 2 three-fifths of those electors voting on the proposal in order
3 to be adopted. Special laws and general laws of local 4 application may not be proposed by initiative. Such proposed 5 legislation must comply with the requirements of this 6 constitution applicable to laws enacted by the legislature
7 with respect to single subject and prohibition of amendment by 8 reference. The legislature shall establish by general law, no
9 later than July 1, 2003, procedures to be used in proposing
10 and voting on legislation proposed by initiative.

21 affirmative vote of three-fourths of the membership of each 22 house of the legislature and limited to a single amendment or

24 more than ninety days after such filing. To be effective, a 25 proposed amendment or revision must be approved by two-thirds 26 of the electors voting on the issue.

27 (b) Once in the tenth week, and once in the sixth week
28 immediately preceding the week in which the election is held, 29 the proposed amendment or revision, with notice of the date of 30 election at which it will be submitted to the electors, shall
