I. Summary:

This bill authorizes students in the final year of attendance at an accredited dental school who have successfully completed the National Board of Dental Examiners examination within 10 years before the date of application to sit for state dental examinations. Before any dental student in his or her final year may sit for the examination, the student must have successfully completed all the coursework necessary to prepare him or her to perform the clinical and didactic procedures required to pass the examination. If the student obtains a passing score on the state dental examination, the examination score is valid for 180 days after the date the examination was completed. The student must have graduated before he or she may be certified for licensure.

This bill requires accredited dental schools in Florida to seek the approval of the Florida Board of Dentistry to offer regional licensure examinations to students in the final year of attendance at an accredited dental school for the sole purpose of facilitating the student's licensing in other jurisdictions. To obtain board approval to do so, the dental school must meet requirements specified in the bill.

The bill provides an appropriation of $58,179 from the Medical Quality Assurance Trust Fund and one position to the Department of Health for FY 2003-2004.

This bill amends section 466.006, Florida Statutes.

This bill creates section 466.0065, Florida Statutes.

II. Present Situation:

Chapter 466, F.S., provides for the regulation of the practice of dentistry by the Board of Dentistry within the Department of Health. The chapter defines dentistry.

“Dentistry” means the healing art which is concerned with the examination, diagnosis, treatment planning, and care of conditions within the human oral cavity and its adjacent tissues and structures. It includes the performance or attempted performance of any dental operation, or oral or oral-maxillofacial surgery and any procedures adjunct thereto, including physical evaluation directly related to such operation or surgery pursuant to hospital rules and regulations. It also includes dental service of any kind gratuitously or for any remuneration paid, or to be paid, directly or indirectly, to any person or agency. The term “dentistry” shall also include the following:

- (a) The taking of an impression of the human tooth, teeth, or jaws directly or indirectly and by any means or method.
- (b) Supplying artificial substitutes for the natural teeth or furnishing, supplying, constructing, reproducing, or repairing any prosthetic denture, bridge, appliance, or any other structure designed to be worn in the human mouth except on the written work order of a duly licensed dentist.
- (c) The placing of an appliance or structure in the human mouth or the adjusting or attempting to adjust the same.
- (d) Delivering the same to any person other than the dentist upon whose work order the work was performed.
- (e) Professing to the public by any method to furnish, supply, construct, reproduce, or repair any prosthetic denture, bridge, appliance, or other structure designed to be worn in the human mouth.
- (f) Diagnosing, prescribing, or treating or professing to diagnose, prescribe, or treat disease, pain, deformity, deficiency, injury, or physical condition of the human teeth or jaws or oral-maxillofacial region.
- (g) Extracting or attempting to extract human teeth.
- (h) Correcting or attempting to correct malformations of teeth or of jaws.
- (i) Repairing or attempting to repair cavities in the human teeth.¹

In order to perform any of the tasks outlined in the definition of dentistry, a person must be a Florida-licensed dentist or be otherwise exempt from the dental licensure requirements.² The following are exempt from dental licensure requirements in Florida: a Florida-licensed physician or surgeon who practices his or her profession, including surgical procedures involving the oral cavity; qualified anesthesiologists giving an anesthetic for a dental operation under the supervision of a licensed dentist; graduate dentists or dental surgeons practicing dentistry in the discharge of their official duties in the military; licensed dentists appearing as clinicians at meetings of board-approved dental organizations; and students and instructors in Florida schools of dentistry and dental hygiene or dental assistant educational programs while performing regularly assigned work under the curriculum of such schools.³

Any person wishing to practice dentistry must apply to the Department of Health and meet specified requirements. Dentistry licensure applicants must sit for and pass a state written and clinical dental examination as part of the requirements for licensure, in addition to the National Board of Dental Examiners (NBDE) dental examination within 10 years of the date of application.⁴ To qualify to take the Florida dental licensure examination, an applicant must be 18 years of age or older, be a graduate of a dental school accredited by the American Dental Association, and have successfully completed the NBDE dental examination within 10 years of his or her application. Dental applicants who practice dentistry while taking the clinical portion of the state licensure examination do so pursuant to the licensure requirements without an express exemption. The Board of Dentistry may require any person applying to take the examination to practice dentistry in Florida to obtain malpractice insurance to cover patient harm during the clinical examination.⁵

Once a licensure application is verified as complete, it must be reviewed by the Department of Health or appropriate board to determine whether the applicant has met the licensure qualifications for the profession or occupation and the applicant must be notified within 30 days of any errors or omissions.⁶ Every application must be approved or denied within 90 days of the department's receipt of the application or request for additional information. An incomplete application expires 1 year after initial filing.⁷ In considering applications for licensure, the board or the Department of Health may require a personal appearance of the applicant.⁸ The licensure applicant bears the burden of proof of showing fitness for licensure.⁹ Once the applicant has proved that he or she meets the licensure qualifications, the Board of Dentistry must certify the

The board has adopted Rule 64B5-2.014(2), Florida Administrative Code, which states "Every candidate who is scheduled to take the entire clinical (or practical) portion of the examination or who is scheduled to retake any part of the clinical (or practical) portion which involves the use of a live patient must secure liability coverage for injuries which may be sustained or may be claimed to have been sustained by a dental patient in the course of the examination and present proof of such coverage to the credentials committee before he or she will be allowed to perform any of the procedures on a live patient." Rule 64B5-17.011, F.A.C., specifies minimum professional liability coverage and other financial responsibility limits that a dentist must have prior to licensure or licensure renewal unless otherwise exempt.

applicant for licensure.¹⁰ The Board of Dentistry may refuse to certify any applicant who has violated any of the provisions relating to the practice of dentistry.¹¹

A number of regional dental testing entities exist that are composed of groups of states. The Western Regional Examining Board (WREB) includes Alaska, Arizona, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming. The Central Regional Dental Testing Service, Inc. membership includes: Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Washington, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. The Southern Regional Testing Agency, Inc. (SRTA) membership includes: Alaska, Georgia, Kentucky, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. The North East Regional Board of Dental Examiners, Inc. (NERB) membership includes: Connecticut, District of Columbia, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and West Virginia.

The Western Regional Examining Board dental examination is administered at Nova Southeastern University College of Dental Medicine in Florida to applicants for licensure in states located in the western United States.¹² The next administration of the examination is scheduled in April, 2003.

The unlicensed practice of a health care profession or the performance of or delivery of medical or health care services to patients without a valid, active license to practice that profession is prohibited.¹³ The Department of Health has authority to issue a cease and desist notice to persons engaged in unlicensed activity and may impose by citation an administrative penalty no greater than $5,000 per incident. The Department of Health may also seek the imposition of a civil penalty through circuit court on violators for unlicensed activity. The violators of unlicensed activity are also liable for criminal offenses.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1. Amends s. 466.006, F.S., to authorize a dental student in the final year of attendance at an accredited dental school who has successfully completed the National Board of Dental Examiners examination within 10 years before the date of application to sit for state dental examination. Before any dental student in his or her final year may sit for the examination, the student must have successfully completed all the coursework necessary to prepare him or her to perform the clinical and didactic procedures required to pass the examination. If the student obtains a passing score on the state dental examination, the examination score is valid for 180 days after the date the examination was completed. The student must have graduated before he or she may be certified for licensure.

Section 2. Creates s. 466.0065, F.S., to express legislative intent that schools of dentistry be allowed to offer regional licensure examinations to dental students who are in the final year of an

¹⁰ See s. 466.011, F.S.

¹¹ See ss. 466.026 and 466.028.

¹² In a letter dated April 3, 2002, the General Counsel of the Department of Health declared that none of the students who take the WREB dental examination or the examiners who administer the WREB dental examination will be subject to criminal prosecution by the Department of Health for the illegal practice of dentistry without a license.

¹³ See s. 456.065, F.S.

approved dental school for the sole purpose of facilitating the student's licensing in other jurisdictions. Legislative intent is provided that a person who is permitted to take a regional licensure examination is not granted any authority to sit for the Florida dental examination for licensure in Florida without otherwise meeting the dental licensure requirements.

Each accredited school of dentistry in Florida may, upon written approval by the Florida Board of Dentistry, offer regional licensure examinations only to dental students who are in the final year of an approved dental school. The Florida Board of Dentistry may not approve the written plan from the school of dentistry hosting the regional examinations unless the following conditions are met:

- the examining body must be a member of the American Association of Dental Examiners;
- the student must have successfully completed parts I and II of the NDBE dental examination within 2 years before taking the regional examination;
- the student must have medical malpractice insurance in amounts that the board determines is sufficient to cover any reasonably foreseeable incident of harm to a patient during the clinical portion of the examination;
- the examination must be proctored by dentists licensed in Florida who are approved by the board and who have met specified requirements for grading standardization exercises;
- adequate arrangements, as specified by the board, for patients who require follow-up care as a result of the procedures performed during the clinical portion of the examination;
- the board chairman or the chairman's designee must be allowed to observe testing while it is in progress;
- each student must receive a written disclosure in at least 12-point boldface type which notes that the examination does not meet the Florida dental licensure requirements and for more information on Florida's licensure procedures to contact the Florida Board of Dentistry;
- the student must be enrolled as a dental student in his or her final year at an accredited dental school that is approved by the Board of Dentistry;
- the student must have completed all necessary coursework to prepare the student to perform all clinical and didactic procedures required to pass the examination;
- and the student's academic record must not include any evidence suggesting that the student poses an unreasonable risk to any live patients who are required for the clinical examination.

To protect the health and safety of Florida residents, the board may request additional information and documents relating to the candidate's mental and physical health so as to fully assess the candidate's fitness to engage in exercises involving a live patient.

Students who take the regional examination do not have standing to assert that a state agency has taken action for which an administrative hearing may be sought.

Section 3. Provides an appropriation of $58,179 from the Medical Quality Assurance Trust Fund to the Department of Health, and one position is authorized for the purpose of implementing this act during the 2003-2004 fiscal year.

Section 4. Provides an effective date of July 1, 2003.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

The provisions of this bill have no impact on municipalities and the counties under the requirements of Article VII, Section 18 of the Florida Constitution.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

The provisions of this bill have no impact on public records or open meetings issues under the requirements of Art. I, s. 24(a) and (b) of the Florida Constitution.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

The provisions of this bill have no impact on the trust fund restrictions under the requirements of Article III, Subsection 19(f) of the Florida Constitution.

D. Other Constitutional Issues:

In section 1 of the bill, before any dental student in his or her final year may sit for the state examination, the student must have successfully completed all the coursework necessary to prepare him or her to perform the clinical and didactic procedures required to pass the examination. The Board of Dentistry must make a determination on whether a student has met these qualifications without any statutory criteria specified to make the decision.

In section 2 of the bill, the Board of Dentistry must approve a dental school's request to host regional licensure examination based on specified criteria. One of the criteria is that the student must have successfully completed all the coursework necessary to prepare him or her to perform the clinical and didactic procedures required to pass the examination. The Board of Dentistry must make a determination on whether a student has met these qualifications without any statutory criteria specified to make the decision.

To the extent the bill authorizes the Board of Dentistry to establish (examination) licensure standards, by rule, or agency action, it raises the question whether this provides adequate limitations and safeguards so that the Legislature's delegation to the board is not violative of Article II, Section 3 of the Florida Constitution. The bill does not appear to expressly provide a sufficient limitation on the board's authority to establish requirements on who should be allowed to sit for the state dental examination or regional dental licensure examination. The Florida Supreme Court struck down a former section of law respecting the power of the Board of Psychological Examiners to grant certificates with the title "psychologist" and to determine the qualifications of applicants as unconstitutional in that it failed sufficiently to fix the standards to be applied and in effect delegated the application of the statute without sufficient limitations on the board's discretion.¹⁴

Section 2 of the bill authorizes the Board of Dentistry to request additional information and documents relating to the dental student examination candidate's mental and physical health so as to fully assess the candidate's fitness to engage in exercises involving a live patient. The board is not granted the authority to do so for examination applicants who are graduates of accredited dental schools. A violation of equal protection may be raised to the extent that the bill treats similarly situated individuals who are within the same class differently. It is well settled under federal and Florida law that all similarly situated persons are equal under the law and must be treated alike. See McLaughlin v. Florida, 379 U.S. 184, 85 S.Ct. 283, 13 L.Ed.2d 222 (1964); Palm Harbor Special Fire Control Dist. V. Kelly, 516 So.2d 249, 251 (Fla.1987); Haber v. State, 396 So.2d 707 (Fla.1981). All statutory classifications that treat one person or group differently than others must bear some reasonable relationship to a legitimate state objective and cannot be discriminatory, arbitrary, or oppressive. See Abdala v. World Omni Leasing, Inc., 583 So.2d 330, 333(Fla.1991); In re Greenberg's Estate, 390 So.2d 40 (Fla.1980); Graham v. Ramani, 383 So.2d 634 (Fla.1980); Department of Heath & Rehabilitative Services v. Heffler, 382 So.2d 301 (Fla.1980).

V. Economic Impact and Fiscal Note:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

Dental schools will incur costs to obtain approval (license) from the Board of Dentistry to offer regional licensure examinations to dental students in their final year of dental school. Examining bodies will incur costs to hire staff who have met the training requirements under the bill and who have a Florida dental license to proctor the examination, in addition to costs associated with obtaining the approval of the Florida Board of Dentistry. Under s. 120.50(9), F.S., "license" means a franchise, permit, certification, registration, charter, or similar form of authorization required by law, but does not include a license required primarily for revenue purposes when issuance of the license is merely a ministerial act.

Regional examination candidates will incur additional costs to meet the medical malpractice insurance requirements to cover incidents of harm to a patient during the clinical examination. If the student is sitting for a regional examination that does not require the successful passage of the NBDE dental examination, the examination candidate sitting in Florida will incur additional costs to meet the Florida-imposed requirement.

¹⁴ See Husband v. Cassel, 130 So.2d 69 (1961) and Askew v. Cross Key Waterways, 372 So.2d 913 at 921, "Where the Legislature makes the fundamental policy decision and delegates to some other body the task of implementing that policy under adequate safeguards, there is no violation of the [Delegations of Powers] doctrine."

Students who have not completed all of their coursework in dental school will benefit to the extent the bill authorizes the applicant to sit for the licensure examination prior to graduation.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The duties of the Board of Dentistry staff will increase to review the credentials of a student in his or her final year of dental school to determine if the student qualifies to sit for the state dental examination and subsequent licensure to practice. The Department of Health has indicated that it cannot assess the increase in its workload because it does not have any information on how many students might sit for the state dental examination.

The Board of Dentistry and the Department of Health would be required to provide considerable oversight of the dental school applying to offer regional licensure examinations and to ensure that the schools follow the criteria established for approval. The bill does not provide any additional revenue to cover the expense for this oversight. The Department of Health has indicated that it would require a Government Analyst II for oversight and psychometric support duties. The Department of Health estimates that the fiscal impact of the bill would be $58,179 in fiscal year 2003-2004 and $67,877 in fiscal year 2003-2004.

	FY 2003-04	FY 2004-05
Non-Recurring Expenditures
Expenses	$3,061
OCO	$1,500
Total Non-Recurring	$4,561
Recurring Expenditures
Salaries – Government Analyst II (1 FTE)	$42,777	$57,036
Expenses	$10,841	$10,841
Total Recurring Expenditures	$53,618	$67,877
Total All	$58,179	$67,877

The department notes that it is unclear in the bill as to who will be responsible for determining candidate eligibility for the regional licensure examinations. If the department is responsible then it notes that it will need one Regulatory Specialist I to review and process applications for the regional licensure examination to determine candidate eligibility. The cost figures above do not incorporate costs for work associated with candidate eligibility for the regional licensure examinations.

The Department of Health may incur costs relating to the Board of Dentistry chairman’s or his designee travel and per diem costs to observe regional licensure examinations.
