B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

The bill designates the S.S. American Victory as the official flagship of Hillsborough County.

History of the SS American Victory – Construction of the 455-foot SS American Victory was completed on June 20, 1945, at the California Shipyard in Los Angeles, California. This ship sailed the Pacific Ocean during the final days of World War II, supplying America's war effort and assisting in ferrying military equipment and troops back to the United States. After the war, the SS American Victory, under the auspices of the Marshal Plan and the United Nations, sailed the world delivering foodstuffs, manufacturing machinery, and raw materials to countries devastated by the destruction caused by World War II. During the Korean War and the Vietnam Conflict, the SS American Victory transported cargo, fuel and ammunition to these areas from ports in the United States and elsewhere.¹

Following service during the Vietnam War, the SS American Victory was de-activated on October 24, 1969, and placed in the James River Reserve Fleet (JRRF), located on the James River near Norfolk, Virginia. The SS American Victory was withdrawn from the JRRF on March 13, 1985, to participate in a government-sponsored Victory Ship Validation Program. The program was designed to gauge the time and expense necessary to activate mothballed Victory- class ships. The ship was brought to full operational status and performed sea trials. In June of 1985, after a $2.5 million restoration, the SS American Victory sailed for of 26 hours before returning to its anchorage in the JRRF, where it remained until 1999.

The American Victory Mariners Memorial and Museum Ship – In 1998, Congress authorized the conveyance of the SS American Victory to the Tampa-based organization, The Victory Ship, Inc. In 1999, the ship was towed from Virginia to Tampa for major renovation. In 2000, the SS American Victory was relocated to its permanent home in Tampa Bay adjacent to the Florida Aquarium where it has undergone additional restoration.

Once fully restored and operational, the SS American Victory will be the centerpiece of the American Victory Mariners Memorial and Museum Ship, an interactive exhibit honoring America's Merchant Marine, and highlighting the Tampa Bay area's maritime heritage. The SS American Victory will also serve as a "Relive History" cruising ship, providing guests with the opportunity to experience service on a merchant marine vessel.
