SUMMARY ANALYSIS

House Bill 1775 creates the Joining Forces for Public Guardianship Act, which is intended to assist counties to fund public guardianship needs and to open local offices of public guardian, and establishes a matching grant program. The matching grant program established within the Joining Forces for Public Guardianship Act specifies that the program is subject to a specific appropriation by the Legislature; there is $1,812,426 in general revenue/tobacco settlement funds in House Bill 1835 (General Appropriations Act). House Bill 1775 also requires any applicant for a grant to obtain a commitment from a local funding source, including county or local governments, for a one-to-one match of grant funds awarded. The match may be in the form of in-kind contributions.

The bill also provides operational requirements for the direct-support organization that supports the Statewide Public Guardianship Office (SPGO).

In addition, the bill requires the SPGO to review credit and criminal investigations prior to registration of a public or professional guardian.

Finally, the bill clarifies the definition and role of a guardian advocate in both the law on developmental disabilities and guardianship. The bill also exempts guardian advocates from the requirement to file an annual accounting under certain circumstances.

This document does not reflect the intent or official position of the bill sponsor or House of Representatives.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Creation of Joining Forces for Public Guardianship Act (Sections 12 through 17)

The Statewide Public Guardianship Office (SPGO) was created by the Legislature¹ to provide guardianship services to the state’s indigent and incapacitated citizens when no private guardian is available. Its responsibilities include establishment of local offices of public guardian and registration of professional guardians. There are 16 local offices in 22 counties statewide,² which in 2003 served 1,716 wards. The SPGO is within and under the supervision of the Secretary of the Department of Elderly Affairs (DOEA).³

Each county is authorized to impose a fee of up to $15 per civil action for the provision of public guardianship services. Implementation of Revision 7 to Article V relating to state funding of the court system, however, makes that funding source unavailable to counties after July 1, 2004.⁴ DOEA reports that a minimum of $1 million in current funding for offices of public guardian will be lost statewide, and at least 3 of the 16 offices of public guardian will lose all of their funding, with others facing operational shortfalls without funds derived from the filing fees.

The bill creates the Joining Forces for Public Guardianship Act and establishes the Joining Forces for Public Guardianship matching grant program to assist counties in the formation and funding of public guardianship offices. The grant program is to provide start-up and support funding for counties to implement offices of public guardian.

The bill provides that the funds may be distributed in the following ways:

- (1) As start-up funding to encourage those counties that have no office of public guardian to establish one or to open an additional office in counties where the need for public guardianship services requires.
- (2) As support funding for currently operating offices.
- (3) To expand existing offices to assist additional persons or a larger geographic area or to develop innovative programs designed to increase access to public guardianship services.
- (4) With the written approval of the secretary of DOEA, provide emergency grants in the best interest of the public guardianship program.

³ Chapter 2003-57, L.O.F. Prior to this transfer, the SPGO was housed administratively within DOEA, but not subject to its control or supervision.

⁴ S. 28.241, F.S.

More than one program within a county may receive an award; no one county, however, may receive more than 10 percent of the total available funds. If a county is eligible to receive multiple grants, the SPGO must allocate the sum of the awards so that the total support essentially phases out over a six-year period, with an amount no greater than 15 percent of the first year's grant awarded in that county. Grant awards may not be made to any applicant within a county that has received funds for six or more years.

The bill provides that funds may be used only for direct services, with 10 percent retained for administrative purposes, and that funding of the program is subject to a specific legislative appropriation.

The bill requires that the grant program be administered by the SPGO. They are to publicize the program; establish the application process; review the grant proposals; award the grant funds; develop a monitoring process to evaluate grant recipients; and ensure adherence to the act. The SPGO is granted authority to adopt rules to implement the grant program.

The bill requires that grant applicants must meet the statutory requirements to act as a guardian, and must already be, or awaiting appointment as, an office of public guardian. To be eligible for subsequent grants, an award recipient must maintain its initial eligibility and achieve satisfactory monitoring scores.

The bill details the application review process, including submission of a detailed budget and evidence that the applicant has attempted to procure other monies to fund the office. The applicant is also required to submit an agreement or confirmation from a local funding source, including county or local governments, to contribute matching funds totaling at least $1 for every $1 of grant funds awarded. The commitment may be from more than one local funding source, as long as the total of the commitments is at least $1 for every $1 of grant funds awarded. In-kind matching contributions are to be determined by rule and may be accepted.

The bill provides that in the first year of the grant program, priority consideration for grant awards shall be given to currently operating offices of public guardian that lost their funding because of Article V revisions. In subsequent years, priority shall be given to those applicants who submit confirmation of a local match equal to or exceeding $2 for each $1 awarded.

Direct-Support Organization (Section 11)

The Public Guardianship Alliance, Inc., is the direct-support organization that already is established to benefit the SPGO.⁵ The bill strengthens the relationship between the two organizations and directs the ability of the DSO to expend funds.

The bill provides that the DSO may only be organized to assist the SPGO, and that the SPGO must determine that the DSO is acting in the best interests of the state. The bill also requires that the DSO operate under contract to the SPGO. The contract must provide for annual certification by the SPGO that the DSO is operating in the best interest of the state, for reversion of money and property held in trust by the DSO, and for disclosure of the provisions of the contract to donors and in promotions and fundraising.

The bill allows the DSO to use DOEA's property and facilities; directs the use of DSO monies; and requires that the DSO provide an annual financial audit. The bill also requires that any existing DSO that has not entered into a written contract with the SPGO by July 1, 2004, shall be considered to meet the grounds for judicial dissolution. The assets of the dissolved corporation will revert to the SPGO.

⁵ See s. 744.7982, F.S. The direct-support organization is a not-for-profit corporation organized to operate for the direct or indirect benefit of the Statewide Public Guardianship Office or individual offices of public guardian.

Registration of Professional Guardians (Sections 6, 7, and 9)

The bill amends existing law to explicitly require the clerk of the court to forward copies of credit or criminal investigations of public or professional guardians to the SPGO for maintenance in the guardian's registration file.

The bill requires the SPGO to review recent credit or criminal investigations prior to registering a public or professional guardian. Without the ability to examine these records, the SPGO could unknowingly register a felon as a professional or public guardian in violation of the statutory guardianship requirements.

Guardian Advocates (Sections 2, 3, 5, and 8)

The bill amends the definition and role of a guardian advocate in both the law on developmental disabilities and guardianship to implement the recommendations of the Governor's Joint Work Group on Guardianship and the Developmentally Disabled (Joint Work Group).⁶ It is intended to expand the use of guardian advocacy as an alternative to full guardianship, thereby increasing options for the developmentally disabled.

The bill amends the definition of guardian advocate in section 393.063, F.S., to explain that a guardian advocate is appointed by the court after a proceeding pursuant to section 393.12, F.S., rather than the person who represents the developmentally disabled individual during that proceeding. The bill then amends that definition into Chapter 744, the guardianship laws, to provide increased "visibility" of this alternative to full guardianship for the developmentally disabled to practitioners and judges in the field. Finally, the bill authorizes a circuit court to appoint a guardian advocate for a developmentally disabled person without an adjudication of incapacity, and encourages courts to consider such an appointment when appropriate as a less restrictive form of guardianship.

Waiver of Annual Accounting Requirements (Sections 3 and 10)

Because the Social Security Administration requires the representative payee to file an annual accounting, waiver of the annual accounting requirement for guardian advocates or guardians who are also the ward's representative payee was proposed by the Joint Work Group to reduce the paperwork burden on family members and volunteers. The bill waives the annual accounting required of guardian advocates if the ward's only income is derived from government benefits and the guardian advocate is the ward's representative payee. As to waiver of the annual accounting requirement for guardians, see Drafting Issues below.
