

1 A bill to be entitled
2 An act relating to workers' compensation;
3 creating s. 624.4315, F.S.; requiring workers'
4 compensation insurers to notify the Office of 5 Insurance Regulation of significant
6 underwriting changes; amending s. 627.171,
7 F.S.; providing that the 10-percent limit on 8 the percentage of commercial insurance policies
9 that an insurer may write at a rate in excess
10 of the applicable filed rate excludes workers'
11 compensation policies written for an employer
12 in lieu of coverage from the joint underwriting
13 plan established under s. 627.311(5), F.S.; 14 amending s. 627.211, F.S.; revising the 15 standards used by the Office of Insurance
16 Regulation in approving or disapproving an 17 insurer's deviation from the approved workers'
18 compensation rate filing; requiring the Office
19 of Insurance Regulation to submit an annual 20 report to the Legislature which evaluates
21 competition in the workers' compensation
22 insurance market; providing an effective date.

23
24 Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

25
26 Section 1. Section 624.4315, Florida Statutes, is 27 created to read:

28 624.4315 Workers' compensation insurers; notice of 29 significant underwriting change.--Each workers' compensation
30 insurer shall notify the office in writing or by electronic 31 means of a significant underwriting change that materially

1 limits or restricts the number of workers' compensation
2 policies or premiums written in this state. The commission may 3 adopt rules to administer this requirement.

4 Section 2. Section 627.171, Florida Statutes, is 5 amended to read:

6 627.171 Excess rates.--

7 (1) With written consent of the insured signed prior 8 to the policy inception date and filed with the insurer, the 9 insurer may use a rate in excess of the otherwise applicable
10 filed rate on any specific risk. The signed consent form must 11 include the filed rate as well as the excess rate for the risk 12 insured, and a copy of the form must be maintained by the 13 insurer for 3 years and be available for review by the office.

14 (2) An insurer may not use excess rates pursuant to 15 this section for more than 10 percent of its commercial
16 insurance policies written or renewed in each calendar year
17 for any line of commercial insurance or for more than 5
18 percent of its personal lines insurance policies written or 19 renewed in each calendar year for any line of personal 20 insurance. In determining the 10-percent limitation for 21 commercial insurance policies, the insurer shall exclude any 22 workers' compensation policy that was written for an employer
23 who had coverage in the joint underwriting plan created by s.
24 627.311(5) immediately prior to the writing of the policy by 25 the insurer and any workers' compensation policy that was 26 written for an employer who had been offered coverage in the 27 joint underwriting plan but who was written a policy by the 28 insurer in lieu of accepting the joint underwriting plan
29 policy. These workers' compensation policies shall be excluded 30 from the 10-percent limitation for the first 3 years of 31 coverage.

1 Section 3. Subsection (3) of section 627.211, Florida
2 Statutes, is amended, and subsection (6) is added to that 3 section, to read:

4 627.211 Deviations; workers' compensation and 5 employer's liability insurances.--

6 (3) In considering an application for the deviation,
7 the office shall give consideration to the applicable
8 principles for ratemaking as set forth in ss. 627.062 and 9 627.072 ~~and~~ the financial condition of the insurer, ~~and the~~ 10 ~~impact of the deviation on the current market conditions~~
11 ~~including the composition of the market, the stability of~~ 12 ~~rates, and the level of competition in the market.~~ In 13 evaluating the financial condition of the insurer, the office
14 may consider: (1) the insurer's audited financial statements
15 and whether the statements provide unqualified opinions or 16 contain significant qualifications or "subject to" provisions;
17 (2) any independent or other actuarial certification of loss
18 reserves; (3) whether workers' compensation and employer's 19 liability reserves are above the midpoint or best estimate of 20 the actuary's reserve range estimate; (4) the adequacy of the 21 proposed rate; (5) historical experience demonstrating the 22 profitability of the insurer; (6) the existence of excess or 23 other reinsurance that contains a sufficiently low attachment 24 point and maximums that provide adequate protection to the 25 insurer; and (7) other factors considered relevant to the 26 financial condition of the insurer by the office. The office
27 shall approve the deviation if it finds it to be justified, it
28 would not endanger the financial condition of the insurer, it
29 ~~would not adversely affect the current market conditions~~
30 ~~including the composition of the market, the stability of~~ 31 ~~rates, and the level of competition in the market,~~ and it that

1 ~~the deviation~~ would not constitute predatory pricing. The 2 office ~~it~~ shall disapprove the deviation if it finds that the 3 resulting premiums would be excessive, inadequate, or unfairly
4 discriminatory, would endanger the financial condition of the 5 insurer, ~~or would adversely affect current market conditions~~
6 ~~including the composition of the marketplace, the stability of~~ 7 ~~rates, and the level of competition in the market,~~ or would 8 result in predatory pricing. The insurer may not use a 9 deviation unless the deviation is specifically approved by the 10 office.

11 (6) The office shall submit an annual report to the 12 President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of 13 Representatives by January 1 of each year which evaluates 14 competition in the workers' compensation insurance market in 15 this state. The report must contain an analysis of the 16 availability and affordability of workers' compensation
17 coverage and whether the current market structure, conduct,
18 and performance are conducive to competition, based upon 19 economic analysis and tests. The purpose of this report is to 20 aid the Legislature in determining whether changes to the 21 workers' compensation rating laws are warranted. The report 22 must also document that the office has complied with the 23 provisions of s. 627.096 which require the office to 24 investigate and study all workers' compensation insurers in 25 the state and to study the data, statistics, schedules, or 26 other information as it finds necessary to assist in its 27 review of workers' compensation rate filings.

28 Section 4. This act shall take effect July 1, 2004.
