I. Summary:

This CS abrogates the repeal, scheduled for June 30, 2005, of the community contribution tax credit program.

This CS amends sections 212.08, 220.03; 212.183; and 624.5105 of the Florida Statutes.

II. Present Situation:

Community Contribution Tax Credit Program

Finding that deterioration of housing and commercial facilities both evidences and contributes to the economic decline in Florida communities, the Legislature in 1980 created the Community Contribution Tax Credit Program in s. 220.183, F.S., to encourage businesses to make donations toward revitalization projects undertaken by redevelopment organizations. The credits are available as credits against the corporate income tax, franchise tax on banks and savings associations, the state sales tax, and the insurance premium tax.

The program authorizes businesses that make donations to approved organizations to claim a credit equal to 50 percent of the donation against corporate income tax, franchise tax, sales tax, or insurance premium tax. Under ss. 212.08(5)(q), 220.183 and 624.5105, F.S., the combined total amount of tax credits that may be approved is $10 million annually. An individual business may receive no more than $200,000 in tax credits per year. All projects, except those related to housing for low-income persons, must be located in enterprise zones or a Front Porch Florida Community.

"Eligible sponsors" or eligible contribution recipients are:

- A community action program;
- A nonprofit community-based development organization whose mission is the provision of housing for low-income or very-low-income households or increasing entrepreneurial and job-development opportunities for low-income persons;
- A neighborhood housing services corporation;
- A local housing authority, created pursuant to chapter 421, F.S.;
- A community redevelopment agency, created pursuant to s. 163.356, F.S.;
- The Florida Industrial Development Corporation;
- An historic preservation district agency or organization;
- A regional workforce board;
- A direct-support organization as provided in s. 1009.983, F.S.;
- An enterprise zone development agency created pursuant to s. 290.0056, F.S.;
- A not-for-profit community-based organization whose bylaws and articles of incorporation include affordable housing, economic development, or community development as the primary mission of the corporation;
- Units of local government;
- Units of state government; or
- Such other agency as the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development (OTTED) may, from time to time, designate by rule.

All community contributions must be reserved exclusively for use in projects as defined in s. 220.03(1)(t), F.S. Eligible projects include any activity undertaken by an eligible sponsor which is designed to construct, improve, or substantially rehabilitate housing that is affordable to low-income or very-low-income households; provide commercial, industrial, or public resources and facilities; or improve entrepreneurial and job-development opportunities for low-income persons.

In addition, a project may be the investment necessary to increase access to high-speed broadband capability in rural communities with enterprise zones, including projects that result in improvements to communication assets that are owned by a business; or a project which provides museum educational programs and materials that are directly related to any project approved between January 1, 1996, and December 31, 1999, and is located in an enterprise zone.

Section 220.03(1)(d), F.S., defines "community contribution" as the grant by a business firm of cash or other liquid assets, real property, goods, or inventory, and other physical resources as identified by the Department of Revenue.

OTTED is responsible for approving tax credits under ss. 212.08, 220.183, and 624.5105, F.S. Section 220.183(2)(b), F.S. allows OTTED to reserve up to 50 percent of the available annual tax credits for housing for very-low-income households pursuant to s. 420.9071(28), F.S., for the first 6 months of the fiscal year.

Section 420.9071(28), F.S., defines "very-low-income household" as:

... one or more natural persons or a family that has a total annual gross household income that does not exceed 50 percent of the median annual income adjusted for family size for households within the metropolitan statistical area, the county, or the non-metropolitan median for the state, whichever is greatest.

OTTED reports that they do not exercise this discretion to reserve funds for very-low-income housing projects. In addition, they do not distinguish between low-income and very-low-income projects when approving projects. Credits are allocated on a 'first come, first serve' basis.

In recent years, the credits have been claimed within the first quarter of the fiscal year. In FY 2003/04, all tax credits were approved on the first day the fiscal year. In FY 03/04, OTTED reports that 86 percent of the $10 million allocated for the program went to businesses contributing to eligible sponsors providing housing to low-income persons. TABLE 1 summarizes the allocation distribution for the past nine years.

Other Program Statistics

According to the Office of Tourism, Trade, and Economic Development, most of the community contribution tax credits are used against sales taxes, as shown in Chart 1 below.

The amount of tax credits available under the community contribution tax credit program has increased since 1995. From FY 1995-1996 through FY 1997-1998, $2 million in annual tax credits were available. For FY 1998-1999, $5 million in annual tax credits were available. From FY 1999-2000 to the present, $10 million in annual tax credits are available. Since the community contribution tax credit program was expanded to authorize refunds against sales taxes in FY 2001-2002, the majority of the $10 million allocation have been used to offset those taxes. See Chart 2.

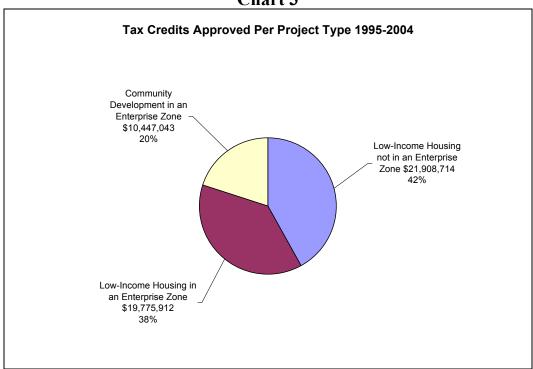

Since 1995, most community contribution tax credits have been made to low-income housing projects. In Chart 3, the category "community development in an enterprise zone" includes projects that construct or rehabilitate commercial, industrial, or public facilities. Examples of community development include: community centers, museums, parks, day care centers, and the PACE Center for Girls.
