B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

The bill makes clarifying and technical changes to provisions in Florida law relating to judgment liens.

BACKGROUND

In 2000, the Legislature adopted a major revision of Florida’s judgment lien laws.¹ This revision became effective on October 1, 2001. Prior to the revision, judgment creditors were required to file a lien in each separate county where a judgment debtor may own property. Florida was one of 11 states that still followed the lien-on-delivery rule which provides that a true lien is not actually created on personal property until the property is levied and sold by the sheriff. The revision established a statutory framework for perfecting and prioritizing judgment liens on personal property.² With the revision in place, judgment creditors need only to file a single judgment lien certificate with the Department of State. Since the implementation of this major revision, the need for some clarification to the law has been identified.³

JUDGMENT LIENS

A judgment lien refers to a lien against property that is based on an underlying money judgment. When a party prevails in a law suit and is awarded monetary damages, the losing party is referred to as the “judgment debtor” and the winning party is referred to as the “judgment creditor.” If the judgment debtor fails to pay the judgment creditor all or a part of the judgment, the judgment creditor may seek to attach and execute a lien against property owned by the judgment debtor. A judgment lien may be acquired on a judgment debtor’s interest in all personal property in the state other than fixtures, money, negotiable instruments, and mortgages, by filing a judgment lien certificate with the Department of State.⁴

² ss. 55.201 – 55.209, F.S.

³ See Jeffrey Davis, Fixing Florida’s Execution Lien Law Part Two: Florida’s New Judgment Lien on Personal Property, 54 Fla. L. Rev. 119(2002). Prof. Davis first wrote about the need to modernize Florida judgment lien law in 1996 which was a strong motivating factor for the revisions in 2000. See Jeffrey Davis, Fixing Florida Execution Lien Law, 48 Fla. L. Rev. 657 (1996).

⁴ s. 55.202(2), F.S.

A judgment creditor may file only one effective judgment lien certificate based upon a particular judgment.⁵ The priority of a judgment lien is established at the date and time the judgment lien certificate is filed.⁶ A judgment may not become a lien upon real or personal property after 20 years from the date of the entry of such judgment.⁷ A judgment lien lapses 5 years after the date of filing the judgment lien certificate.⁸ A second lien, valid for up to an additional 5 years, may be obtained within six months of the lapse of the first lien, however, no further liens may be acquired.⁹

A valid judgment lien confers on the judgment creditor the right to proceed against the property of the judgment debtor through writ of execution, garnishment, or other judicial process.¹⁰ A writ of execution authorizes the enforcement of a money judgment. The writ must be obtained from the clerk of the court. The judgment creditor must deliver the writ to the sheriff. The writ of execution directs the sheriff to levy on the property owned by the judgment debtor and located in the county. Upon levy, the sheriff seizes the property and, if not redeemed by the judgment debtor, the property is sold and the proceeds distributed to cover the costs of the sale, to pay the judgment creditor and any other judgment creditors, with the remainder, if any, going to the judgment debtor.¹¹ The levy is the process by which the property is seized for sale to satisfy the writ of execution based on the underlying judgment. A sheriff may take actual or constructive custody of personal property. The sheriff must take enough property to satisfy the judgment although he or she may accept payment in full on the writ in lieu of making a levy.¹²

PROPOSED CHANGES MADE BY PCB JU 04-02

Sections 1 – 3 of the bill provide clarifying language to provisions in ch. 55, F.S., relating to the judgment lien process. Changes to s. 55.202, F.S., make clear that a judgment lien may be acquired on a motor vehicle and specifically clarify provisions relating to the timing for filing a judgment lien certificate. Changes to s. 55.204, F.S., clarify provisions regarding instructions to the sheriff and recordkeeping by the Department of State. The change to s. 55.205, F.S., removes an unnecessary sentence which has been misread to require the filing of a judgment lien certificate as a condition precedent to seeking garnishment.

Sections 4 – 8 of the bill make clarifying changes to the “Uniform Out-of-Country Foreign Money Judgment Recognition Act.”¹³ The provisions of this Act govern the recognition and enforcement of judgments of any governmental unit other than the United States or any state, district, commonwealth, territory, or possession of the United States.¹⁴ The bill clarifies that these sections of Florida Statutes only apply to out-of-country foreign judgments. This clarification is necessary based on a county court’s recent misinterpretation of its jurisdiction under the Act and refusal to consider a case regarding a judgment from a court in another state. The decision was corrected through appeal to the circuit court.¹⁵

⁵ s. 55.202(2)(d), F.S.

⁶ s. 55.202(3), F.S.

⁷ s. 55.081, F.S.

⁸ s. 55.204(1), F.S.

⁹ s. 55.204(3), F.S. The second lien is a new lien and takes priority based on the filing date of the second judgment lien certificate.

¹⁰ s. 55.205(1), F.S. A judgment creditor who has not acquired a judgment lien through the filing of a judgment lien certificate with the Department of State may nevertheless acquire a lien by writ of execution. Such lien is acquired at the time of levy against the property of the judgment debtor and is taken subject to the claims and priority of other judgment creditors.

¹¹ ch. 30, F.S., contains provisions relating to sheriffs and their responsibilities regarding writs, execution, and other related processes.

¹² See ch. 56, F.S., for provisions regarding writs of executions and execution sales.

¹³ ss. 55.601 – 55.609, F.S.

¹⁴ s. 56.602, F.S.

¹⁵ Kalashnikov, USA v. Hesse, 10 Fla. L. Weekly Supp 694 (July 1, 2003).

Sections 9 - 11 make clarifying changes to provisions relating to the execution of liens and execution sales. The changes to s. 56.21, F.S., recognize the possibility of multiple judgment lien creditors and give control over the mailing of notices to the sheriff in order to reduce errors and ensure that all creditors receive proper notice. The changes to s. 56.27, F.S., recognize that the provisions within this section of statute apply to the payment of monies collected through execution sales of real property, as well as on execution sales of personal property. The changes to s. 56.29, F.S., remove the unnecessary requirement of delivery of a writ of execution when the judgment debtor has no property available for a judgment lien and recognize that the sheriff no longer docket writs of execution.

Section 12 of the bill amends s. 319.27, F.S., relating to liens on motor vehicles to provide clarifying language and correct statutory cross-references. The section provides that a judgment creditor with a lien against a motor vehicle may enforce the lien against other creditors or subsequent purchasers, even if the lien interest does not become possessory or if the lien is not noted on the vehicle's certificate of title.

Section 13 of the bill amends s. 679.1021, F.S., to provide a clarifying reference within the definition of "lien creditor" in the Uniform Commercial Code provisions of Florida law relating to secured transactions.

IV. AMENDMENTS/COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE CHANGES

This bill was a PCB in the Judiciary Committee. Two amendments were adopted to the PCB in the Judiciary Committee on January 21, 2004.

Amendment #1 by Rep. Planas:

Adds a technical change to section 55.202, Florida Statutes. The amendment clarifies that it is the filing of the judgment lien certificate that determines the priority of a judgment lien. Under the present law, judgment liens are not filed, rather, judgment lien certificates are filed with the Department of State.

Amendment #2 by Rep. Planas:

Adds technical change to s. 319.27(3)(b), Florida Statutes. The amendment corrects a statutory cross-reference in this paragraph.
