Senate Amendment

On page 4, lines 2-14, delete those lines and insert: the applicant's name, residence address, date of birth, social security number, and present or former place of work.

(7) The entry into evidence of a transaction history generated by a personal identification number establishing that a certification or claim for a week or weeks of benefits was made against the benefit account of the individual together with documentation that payment was paid by a state warrant made to the order of the person or by direct deposit via electronic means constitutes prima facie evidence that the person claimed and received unemployment benefits from the state.

(8) All records relating to investigations of unemployment compensation fraud in the custody of the Agency for Workforce Innovation or its tax collection provider are
