

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. HOUSE PRINCIPLES ANALYSIS:

Expand Individual Freedom - by increasing the required vote to gain approval of a proposed amendment or revision, the joint resolution, if approved by the voters, would make it more difficult to amend the Florida Constitution.

B. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Revision or Amendment to the Constitution

Amendments to Florida's Constitution can be proposed by five distinct methods: 1) joint legislative resolution, 2) the Constitutional Revision Commission, 3) citizen's initiative, 4) a constitutional convention, or 5) the Taxation and Budget Reform Commission.<sup>1</sup> Depending on the method, all proposed amendments or revisions to the constitution must be submitted to the electors at the next general election 1) held more than ninety days after the joint resolution, 2) 180 days after the report of the Constitutional Revision Commission or Taxation Budget Reform Commission, or 3) for citizen initiatives, if all the required signatures were submitted prior to February 1 of the year in which the general election is to be held.<sup>2</sup>

A proposed constitutional amendment or revision, other than one proposing a new tax or fee, requires approval of a majority of electors voting on the proposal.<sup>3</sup> A new tax or fee proposed by constitutional amendment or revision requires approval of at least two-thirds of those voting in the election in which such amendment is considered.<sup>4</sup> Below is a list of the approval percentages of some well known amendments adopted in the past:

There are presently active petition drives underway to gather the signatures required to add 48 proposals to the Florida Constitution. Some of these petitions have been active since the 1990's. These proposals range from requiring legislators to pass the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test, abolishing alimony, providing comprehensive health care for all citizens, addressing sales tax exemptions, lowering the voting age to sixteen, repealing the class size amendment, and Yari-Professor Fun-Der-Full Lawrence's legalization of marijuana.<sup>5</sup>

Effect of Joint Resolution

The joint resolution amends Article XI, section 5(e), of the Florida Constitution. The amendment, if approved by the voters, would require that all amendments or revisions, regardless of the method by which the amendment or revision was proposed, be approved by at least sixty percent of those voting on the measure. The proposed change would not affect the more specific requirement of Article XI, section 7, of the Florida Constitution that requires a two-thirds vote for new taxes or fees.

If enacted, the proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the November 2006 ballot as follows:

REQUIRING BROADER PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR CONTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS OR REVISIONS

Proposes an amendment to Section 5 of Article XI of the State Constitution to require that any proposed amendment to or revision of the State Constitution, whether proposed by the Legislature, by initiative, or by any other method, must be approved by at least 60 percent of the voters of the state voting on the measure, rather than by a simple majority.

C. SECTION DIRECTORY:

The legislation is a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment and, therefore, does not contain bill sections. The joint resolution proposes to amend Article XI, section 5(e), of the Florida Constitution relating to amendments and revisions.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

The joint resolution does not appear to have any impact on state revenues.

2. Expenditures:

Non-Recurring

FY 2006-07

Department Of State, Division of Elections

Publication Costs

$37,000 (General Revenue)

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

The joint resolution does not appear to have any impact on local government revenues.

<sup>5</sup> See <http://election.dos.state.fl.us/initiatives/initiativelist.asp> for a current listing of active petitions.

2. Expenditures:

The joint resolution does not appear to have any impact on local government expenditures.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

Many proposed amendments or revisions to the Florida Constitution are directed at private activities or particular industries. When approved by voters, such proposals may impact the private sector, both positively and negatively. While this proposal does not have a direct economic impact on the private sector, requiring proposed constitutional amendments and revisions to have broader public approval may affect the likelihood of success of such future proposals.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

The Florida Constitution requires publication of a proposed amendment or revision to the constitution in one newspaper of general circulation in each county in which a newspaper is published, once in the tenth week and once in the sixth week immediately preceding the week in which the election is held.<sup>6</sup> The Division of Elections with the Department of State estimates that the non-recurring cost of compliance would be approximately $37,000 in FY 2006-07.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

The mandates provision relates only to general bills and therefore would not apply to this joint resolution.

2. Other:

None.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

The joint resolution does not raise the need for rules or rulemaking authority or direct an agency to adopt rules.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

Amendments or revisions to the Florida Constitution may be proposed by joint resolution agreed to by three-fifths of the membership of each house of the Legislature.<sup>7</sup> Passage in a committee requires a simple majority vote. If the joint resolution is passed in this session, the proposed amendment would be placed on the ballot for the 2006 general election, unless it is submitted at an earlier special election pursuant to a law enacted by an affirmative vote of three-fourths of the membership of each house of the Legislature and is limited to a single amendment or revision.<sup>8</sup> Once in the tenth week, and once in the sixth week immediately preceding the week in which the election is held, the proposed amendment or revision, with notice of the date of election at which it will be submitted to the electors, must be published in one newspaper of general circulation in each county in which a newspaper is published.<sup>9</sup>

IV. AMENDMENTS/COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE & COMBINED BILL CHANGES

This analysis is drafted to the Committee Substitute as passed by the Justice Council.

An amendment was adopted in the Justice Council on April 20, 2005, to provide that all amendments be approved by “at least sixty percent of those voting on the measure” - rather than “of those voting in the election in which such proposal was considered.”

An amendment was adopted to this PCB in the Judiciary Committee on March 10, 2005. The amended version of the PCB differs from the original PCB in that the amended PCB provides that a proposed amendment or revision to the Florida Constitution would require at least sixty percent approval of those electors voting in the election in which such proposal was considered.
