I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background:

Florida Public Health Foundation

The Florida Public Health Foundation, Inc., filed for incorporation in 2001, as a s. 501 (c)(3) not-for-profit organization.¹

In 2004, the Florida Legislature created s. 381.98, F.S., establishing the Florida Public Health Foundation, Inc., or ("foundation") in law for the purpose of disseminating breakthrough findings in biomedical research and promoting health awareness in the state and to provide services to the Department of Health ("department").² The foundation's mission includes disseminating information about innovative biomedical research and clinical trials in this state as well as making Floridians and their treatment providers aware of specified diseases and conditions and available methods of preventing, diagnosing, treating, and curing those diseases and conditions.³ The purpose and objective of the foundation is to: operate exclusively for charitable, scientific, and educational purposes; to protect and improve the health and well-being of Florida's people and environment through partnerships committed to program innovation, education, applied research, and policy development; and to engage in charitable programs dedicated to improving the health of Floridians.⁴

The foundation is supposed to complement, supplement, and enhance the missions of the various organizations, entities, and departments represented on its 24-member board by serving as the lead corporation in the state for promoting public health awareness.⁵ The foundation must be managed by an executive director who is appointed by the board of directors. The members of the board are:

- The State Surgeon General or his or her designee;

- A representative of the Florida Association of Health Plans.

Under s. 381.98(8), F.S., the foundation, in consultation with the department and the Florida Center for Universal Research to Eradicate Disease, must facilitate communication between biomedical researchers and health care providers each month according to the health awareness schedule established by the corporation, in order to ensure ongoing dialogue between researchers, treatment providers, and the department. In addition, the foundation may provide personnel to the department for the purpose of performing duties and responsibilities outlined in private and public grants received by the department.⁶ Furthermore, the foundation and the department must enter into partnerships with providers of continuing education for health practitioners, to include, hospitals and state and local medical organizations, to ensure that practitioners are aware of the most recent and complete diagnostic and treatment tools.⁷ The foundation must provide an annual report concerning its activities and finances to the Florida Center for Universal Research to Eradicate Disease and must provide copies of the annual report to the Governor, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

In 2008, the Florida Public Health Foundation, voluntarily dissolved and merged with the Florida Public Health Institute.

records of incorporation, the institute was to be governed by a five member board of directors.⁹ In 2006, the institute was renamed as the Florida Public Health Institute.¹⁰

Today, the Institute is located on the 134-acre A.G. Holley State Hospital campus in Lantana, Florida, and has a board of directors that consists of 15 members.¹¹ The mission of the institute is to advance the knowledge and practice of public health to promote, protect, and improve the health of all.¹² The Institute serves as a partnership of academic, public health, and community resources to promote improvements in health. The Institute advocates health initiatives by the use of basic and applied research to solve health related problems through collaboration and an increased use of academic resources. The goals of the Institute include:¹³

- Improvement in the quality of and access to primary and preventative care for individuals and communities.
- Protection of health, the economy and the environment in times of emergency and disaster.
- Continued increase in both the quality and quantity of Florida's health care and public health professional workforce.
- Enhancement in the effective delivery of public health services.

The Florida Public Health Institute has established the following Centers of Excellence:¹⁴

- Center for Bio-Preparedness promotes innovative programs in bio preparedness, develop pandemic influenza planning and health promotion activities, and explore the use of computer modeling in disaster preparedness;
- Center for Workforce Development assesses health and public health workforce needs, and develop recruitment and retention strategies;
- Center for Preventative and Primary Care increases access to care, promote federally qualified health centers, increase knowledge of Medicaid/State Children's Health Insurance Program policies, promote the use of electronic medical records, and promote preventive training in graduate medical education; and
- Center for Education, Research and Training promotes collaborations between public health and academia; improve the translation of research to policy to practice, engage a statewide research university consortium, and support development of Palm Beach County Masters of Public Health programs.

Funding

The Institute receives funding from the National Network of Public Health Institutes, Palm Healthcare Foundation, Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin Counties, Miller School of Medicine at the University of Miami, and the Quantum Foundation.¹⁵ In 2007, the Quantum Foundation awarded roughly $1 million; the money will be used to pay salaries for three years for four main employees: Executive Director Dr. Earl Fox, a deputy, a consultant and an administrative assistant.¹⁶ The institute also has received $100,000 from the National Network of Public Health Institutes over two years, and another $100,000 in matching money from the Brumbach Fund in Palm Beach County. The University of Miami's medical school is giving $100,000.¹⁷ In January, 2008, Palm Healthcare Foundation

Effects of the Bill

The bill amends section 381.98, Florida Statutes, to amend the duties and responsibilities that were established for the Florida Public Health Foundation, Inc., and transfer the duties and responsibilities to the Florida Public Health Institute, Inc. The bill:

- Changes the name of the Florida Public Health Foundation, Inc., to the Florida Public Health Institute, Inc.;
- Modifies the purpose of the institute by deleting the requirements to disseminate breakthrough findings in biomedical research and providing services to the department;
- Deletes the mission statement for the institute;
- Revises the membership of the board of directors to add: a representative of the Florida Public Health Association; representatives of local health departments where at least a representative is from the southern, central, and northern geographic areas of the state; representatives from institutions of higher learning; and representatives of the private health care provider sector, industry or business groups, or philanthropic foundations; and deletes all other organizations represented on the board except the State Surgeon General or his/her designee;
- Provides the majority of board members may not be state employees;
- Deletes the 2-year terms limit for board members;
- Deletes the prohibition of serving board members receiving compensation;
- Deletes the requirement of organizations represented on the board of directors to cover the expenses of its representative;
- Deletes the duties of the institute that required it to facilitate communication between biomedical researchers and health providers;
- Deletes the requirement that the institute must provide an annual report concerning its activities and finances to the Florida Center for Universal Research to Eradicate Disease and the Governor, but must still submit an activities report to both chambers of the Legislature; and
- Conforms terminology by changing Florida Public Health Foundation, Inc., to the Florida Public Health Institute in ss. 381.855, 381.911, and 381.981, F.S. This in effect, requires the institute to have one representative on the Florida Center for Universal Research to Eradicate Disease Advisory Council. The conforming changes also provide that the institute may implement a Prostate Cancer Awareness Program with the department if funds are available. Furthermore, the institute in consultation with the department is required to coordinate monthly health awareness campaigns with national, state, and local health care organizations and government entities.

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1. Amends s. 381.98, F.S., relating to the Florida Public Health Foundation.

Section 2. Amends s. 381.855, F.S., relating to the Florida Center for Universal Research to Eradicate Disease.

Section 3. Amends s. 381.911, F.S., relating to Prostate Cancer Awareness Program.

Section 4. Amends s. 381.981, F.S., relating to health awareness campaigns.

Section 5. Provides an effective date of July 1, 2009.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

¹⁸ The Florida Public Health Institute, News & Press: Quantification and "Best Practices" for the public health nursing workforce. (January 2008) Available online: <http://www.flphi.org/NewsPress/PublicHealthNursingWorkforce/tabid/70/Default.aspx> (last viewed March 12, 2009).

Not applicable.

2. Expenditures:
Not applicable.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:
Not applicable.
2. Expenditures:
Not applicable.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

None identified.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

The bill deletes current law requiring organizations represented on the Institutes board to cover their representatives' expenses, and deletes current law prohibiting board members from receiving compensation. It is unclear whether, how, or by whom board members will be reimbursed for expenses or compensated.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

Not applicable. This bill does not appear to: require counties or municipalities to spend funds or take an action requiring the expenditure of funds; reduce the authority that counties or municipalities have to raise revenues in the aggregate; or reduce the percentage of a state tax sharing with counties or municipalities.

2. Other:
None.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

Not applicable.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

It is not clear why the Public Health Institute, Inc., is required to have a member on the Florida Center for Universal Research to Eradicate Disease Advisory Council since the bill deletes the duties and responsibilities relating to disseminating information about biomedical research.
