FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Section 948.51, F.S., provides for community corrections assistance to counties and consortiums of counties through the distribution of funds administered by the Department of Corrections (department). It creates a framework for effectively disbursing funds to counties for the purpose of building and operating corrections and public safety programs. The purposes of the community corrections funds are to:

- Provide community-based corrections programs within county-owned or county-contracted residential probation programs;
- Provide nonincarcerative diversionary programs, such as pretrial release programs for juvenile or adult offenders who would otherwise be housed in a county or state detention facility or a state correctional institute;
- Provide community-based drug treatment programs;
- Provide funds to enhance programs within county detention facilities; and to
- Provide funds to enhance public safety and crime prevention programs.¹

No funds have been distributed through this funding mechanism in recent years.

In order to enter into a community corrections partnership contract with the department, a county or consortium of counties must have established a public safety coordinating council under the provisions of s. 951.26, F.S. In turn, the public safety coordinating council must develop a public safety plan that is approved by the governing board of the county or counties and by the Secretary of Corrections in order to be eligible for community corrections funds. The plan must cover at least a 5-year program and include specific information about the programs to be offered, the target population for the programs, measurable goals and objectives, and projected costs and sources of funds. Section 948.51(4), F.S., lists ten types of programs, services, or facilities for which the Secretary may contract for the issuance of community corrections assistance funds to the counties if funds are appropriated by the Legislature.

Eligibility for funding is not restricted to the items on the list, which are:

- Programs providing pretrial services.
- Specialized divisions within the circuit or county court established for the purpose of hearing specific types of cases, such as drug cases or domestic violence cases.
- Work camps.

¹ Section 948.51(4)(a)1.-5., F.S.

- Programs providing intensive probation supervision.
- Military-style boot camps.
- Work-release facilities.
- Centers to which offenders report during the day.
- Restitution centers.
- Inpatient or outpatient programs for substance abuse treatment and counseling.
- Vocational and educational programs.

Funds may not be used for fixed capital outlay to construct, add to, renovate, or operate a secure juvenile detention facility; for construction, addition to, renovation, or operation of any state facility; or for state probation officer salaries.

Congress passed the Second Chance Act (Public Law 110-199) in an attempt to help inmates safely and successfully transition back into the community. The Act adds numerous grants and opportunities for extending re-entry efforts at the state and local levels. It provides for community and faith-based organizations to deliver mentoring and transitional services to inmates returning to the community. It will also help connect inmates to mental health and substance abuse treatment, expand job training and placement services, and facilitate transitional housing and case management services. The department has three grants funded under the Second Chance Act: the 2006 Prisoner Reentry Initiative (Targeting Lifetime Success) in Broward, Palm Beach, and Dade Counties, the 2007 Prisoner Reentry Initiative (Bridges to Success) in Duval County, and the 2009 Prisoner Reentry Initiative (the Jacksonville Re-entry Center "Portal of Entry") in Duval County. However, none of these grants is funded through the community corrections assistance fund mechanism in s. 948.51, F.S.

HB 203 adds "rehabilitative community reentry programs" to the list of programs that are specified as being eligible for funding with community corrections funds. However, the term "rehabilitative community reentry programs" is not defined in the bill.

The bill also removes "military style boot camps" from the list of programs eligible for funding with community corrections funds.

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1. Amends s. 948.51, F.S., relating to community corrections assistance to counties or county consortiums.

Section 2. Provides an effective date of July 1, 2010.
