6 1. If an impasse is declared pursuant to s. 447.403 and 7 the disputed impasse issues relate to wages or other economic 8 benefits, the board of county commissioners is deemed to be the 9 legislative body. However, if the resolution by the board of 10 county commissioners of the disputed impasse issues provides for 11 an increase in wages or other economic benefits beyond the 12 county constitutional officer's final offer at impasse, the 13 board of county commissioners shall provide supplemental funds
14 to the county constitutional officer that are sufficient to pay
15 the increased wages or other economic benefits beyond the county
16 constitutional officer's final offer at impasse. Such a

17 resolution of the impasse is binding on all parties.

18 Notwithstanding this subparagraph, the county constitutional 19 officer and his or her employees who are members of the 20 bargaining unit shall be the parties required to approve the 21 collective bargaining agreement pursuant to s. 447.309.

22 2. If provided by a county charter that was approved by a
23 vote of the electors of the county and that expressly abolished
24 the office of the sheriff, tax collector, property appraiser, 25 supervisor of elections, or clerk of the court and expressly 26 transferred all duties prescribed by general law to an elected 27 or appointed charter officer, that officer is subject to such 28 charter if the charter is not inconsistent with general law or 29 with a special law approved by a vote of the electors under s.
30 1(g), Art. VIII of the State Constitution.

31 3. If the sheriff has
