FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Faith and Character Based Initiative

Section 944.803, F.S., enacted in 1997, required the Department of Corrections (department) to have six faith-based programs. The faith- and character-based (FCB) initiative within the department is currently found within 11 different facilities across the state. There are two ways the faith- and character-based program operates within the department, through the use of:

- Faith and Character Based Institutions¹ and
- Faith Based/Self Improvement Dormitories.²

FCB programs are run entirely through a volunteer staff with no state funds spent on the initiative and allow inmates to participate in both religious and secular programming. Inmates participating in FCB programs have the opportunity to take classes on different topics such as writing, marriage and parenting, money management, interview and job skills, computer literacy, personal faith, and other various religious and secular topics.³

FCB institutions have no statutory requirements on program length or criteria regarding inmates' sentences. Unless an inmate commits a serious infraction, he or she can be housed in a FCB institution until the completion of his or her sentence or permanently if sentenced to life. Participation in the FCB program is voluntary and inmates are not required to have any religious beliefs to be eligible for either program. However, priority is given to inmates who have shown an indication for substance abuse. Department procedures further require that inmates must:

- Have received no disciplinary reports that resulted in disciplinary confinement during the previous ninety (90) days;
- Be in general population housing status; not in work-release, reception or transit status;
- Fit the parameters of the institutional profile; and
- Volunteer to be placed in the program.

¹ There are currently four FCB Institutions – Glades C.I., Lawtey C.I., Wakulla C.I., and Hillsborough C.I. (female).

² FCB dormitories are currently located at Everglades C.I., Polk C.I., Tomoka C.I., Union C.I., Gulf C.I., Lancaster C.I. (youthful offender), and Lowell C.I. (female). Inmates can only spend one year in a FCB dormitory.

³ Department of Corrections 2010 Analysis of HB 1005.

Inmates can be removed from the FCB program for:

- The purposes of population management,
- Inmate conduct that may subject the inmate to disciplinary confinement or loss of gain time,
- Physical or mental health concerns, or
- Security or safety concerns.⁴

Current law requires that 80% of the inmates assigned to a FCB dormitory be within 36 months of their release date.⁵ However, the Office of Program Policy Analysis and Governmental Accountability (OPPAGA) recommended that the Legislature amend the dormitory requirements found in s. 944.803, F.S., to allow the department to place more than 20% of inmates with more than 36 months left on their sentence in FCB dormitories.⁶

Section 944.803, F.S., requires the department to assign a chaplain and a full-time clerical support person to each dormitory to implement and monitor the FCB program and to strengthen volunteer participation and support. The department is also required to assign chaplains to community correctional centers⁷ who must strengthen volunteer participation by recruiting volunteers in the community to assist inmates in transition.

Currently the state-wide waiting list is at 880 inmates for the faith-based dormitories, 780 inmates for the self-improvement dormitories, and 9,241 inmates for the faith- and character-based institutions.⁸

Effect of Proposed Changes

HB 811 rewords the “faith based programs for inmates” section of statute to add secular language. “Faith and character-based” replaces “faith based” throughout s. 944.803, F.S. “Secular” is also added to that volunteers from secular institutions may also volunteer in the department’s faith and character-based programs.

This bill removes the outdated requirement that the Department of Corrections establish and operate six new programs.

The bill deletes provisions that require 80% of inmates participating in the program to be within 36 months of their release.

The bill removes faith and character-based program priority assignments given to inmates who have shown an indication for substance abuse.

The bill deletes provisions related to funding of faith and character-based programming.

The bill removes requirements to assign chaplains and clerical positions to FCB programs and community correctional centers.
