SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The bill amends s. 394.875, F.S., increasing the current limit on the number of Crisis Stabilization Unit (CSU) beds from a maximum of 30 per facility to a maximum of 50 per facility.

This bill appears to have no fiscal impact.

The bill provides an effective date of July 1, 2011.

FULL ANALYSIS

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Background

Crisis Stabilization Units (CSU's)

A Crisis Stabilization Unit (CSU) provides assessment stabilization and treatment of individuals who are experiencing a mental health crisis.<sup>1</sup> Individuals who are involuntarily or voluntarily committed under the Baker Act may be evaluated in a CSU. The Department of Children and Families (DCF) designates both private and public facilities (CSUs) as Baker Act Receiving Facilities and has the authority to withdraw or suspend such designation.<sup>2</sup> CSUs provide service to both adults and children and are licensed by the Agency for Health Care Administration.

CSU Capacity and Usage Rates

There are currently 45 adult CSUs which include 872 beds and 21 children's CSUs which include 219 beds.<sup>3</sup> On average an individual stays 4.57 days in a CSU bed, with adults staying longer than children. Current law limits the maximum size of an individual CSU to 30 beds.<sup>4</sup> DCF reports that during fiscal year 2008-2009, CSU's for adult's averaged 84% bed capacity utilized statewide.<sup>5</sup>

The most recent report on CSU bed utilization is from 2008-2009.<sup>6</sup> This report and DCF rule provide that the standard for bed capacity is 10 beds per 100,000 people.<sup>7</sup> Following that formula Florida should have 1,842 beds but currently has 1,091 statewide.<sup>8</sup> DCF reports that it is not uncommon for CSUs to be at their 30 bed capacity. When this occurs, hospital emergency rooms are unable to access local CSU beds and individuals may be held longer than necessary in emergency rooms awaiting psychiatric evaluation and treatment.<sup>9</sup>

DCF provides CSU funding on a per bed basis and contracts for only a certain number of beds per facility.<sup>10</sup> All clients who come to a CSU, either voluntarily or involuntarily are treated, regardless of their ability to pay for services.<sup>11</sup> The average cost per CSU bed day statewide was $438.03 for both children and adults in FY 2008-2009.

The Baker Act

Chapter 394, Part I, Florida Statutes is the Florida Mental Health Act also known as "The Baker Act." This section provides authority and process for the voluntary and involuntary examination of persons with evidence of a mental illness and the subsequent inpatient or outpatient placement of individuals for treatment. The Department of Children and Families (DCF) administers this portion of the Baker Act through Baker Act receiving facilities (Crisis Stabilization Units) which provide for the examination of persons with evidence of a mental illness.<sup>12</sup>
