A. COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE..... X B. AMENDMENTS.....

Statement of Substantial Changes Technical amendments were recommended Amendments were recommended Significant amendments were recommended

I. Summary:

This committee substitute for SJR 1176 apportions Florida into 40 state senate districts, as required by state and federal law.

This committee substitute substantially amends Chapter 10 of the Florida Statutes.

II. Present Situation:

The Florida Constitution requires the Legislature, by joint resolution, to reapportion the state into not less than 30 nor more than 40 consecutively numbered senate districts and into not less than 80 nor more than 120 consecutively numbered representative districts.<sup>1</sup> Redistricting must occur in the second year after each decennial Census.<sup>2</sup> Florida currently is apportioned into 40 single-member senate districts<sup>3</sup> and 120 single-member representative districts.<sup>4</sup>

The 2010 Census revealed uneven population growth across the state during the last 10 years. Districts must be adjusted to correct population differences. Based on the 2010 Census, the ideal population of a single-member district in a 40-seat Senate is 470,033, and the ideal population of a single-member district in a 120-seat House of Representatives is 156,678. Currently, the senate district with the largest population has 576,207 persons (106,174 more than the ideal), and the senate district with the smallest population has 394,766 persons (75,267 less than the ideal). The house district with the largest population has 252,332 persons (95,654 more than the ideal), and the house district with the smallest population has 124,511 persons (32,167 less than the ideal).

Redistricting plans must comply with all requirements of the United States Constitution, the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, the Florida Constitution, and applicable court decisions.

The United States Constitution

The Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment requires that legislative districts be as nearly equal in population as practicable.<sup>5</sup> The so-called "one person, one vote" mandate does not require that state legislative districts achieve exact mathematical equality, but, more flexibly, permits disparities in population based on legitimate considerations incident to the effectuation of rational state policies.<sup>6</sup> Specifically, in the case of state legislative districts, an overall range of less than 10 percent is constitutional, absent proof of arbitrariness or discrimination.<sup>7</sup>

The Equal Protection Clause also limits the influence of race in redistricting. If race is the predominant factor in redistricting, such that traditional, race-neutral redistricting principles are subordinated to considerations of race, the redistricting plan will be subject to strict scrutiny.<sup>8</sup> To satisfy strict scrutiny, the use of race as a predominant factor must be narrowly tailored to achieve a compelling interest.<sup>9</sup> The United States Supreme Court has held that the interest of the state in remedying the effects of identified racial discrimination may be compelling,<sup>10</sup> and it has assumed, but has not decided, that compliance with the requirements of the federal Voting Rights Act likewise justifies the use of race as a predominant factor in redistricting.<sup>11</sup>

The United States Supreme Court has construed the Equal Protection Clause to prohibit political gerrymanders,<sup>12</sup> but it has not identified judicially discernible and manageable standards by which such claims are to be resolved.<sup>13</sup> Political gerrymandering cases, therefore, remain sparse.

total population of the most populous district, and dividing the difference by the ideal population. The overall range has alternatively been referred to as the total or maximum deviation.

The term "political gerrymander" has been defined as "the practice of dividing a geographical area into electoral districts, often of highly irregular shape, to give one political party an unfair advantage by diluting the opposition's voting strength." Vieth v. Jubelirer, 541 U.S. 267, 272 n.1 (2004) (plurality opinion) (quoting Black's Law Dictionary 696 (7th ed. 1999)).

The Federal Voting Rights Act

In some circumstances, Section 2 of the federal Voting Rights Act requires the creation of a district that performs for minority voters. Section 2 requires, as necessary preconditions, that (1) the minority group be sufficiently large and geographically compact to constitute a numerical majority in a single-member district; (2) the minority group be politically cohesive; and (3) the majority vote sufficiently as a bloc to enable it usually to defeat the candidate preferred by the minority group.<sup>14</sup> If each of these preconditions is established, Section 2 will require the creation of a performing minority district if, based on the totality of the circumstances, it is demonstrated that members of the minority group have less opportunity than other members of the electorate to participate in the political process and to elect representatives of their choice.<sup>15</sup>

Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act protects the electoral opportunities of minority voters in covered jurisdictions from retrogression, or backsliding.<sup>16</sup> In Florida, Section 5 covers five counties: Collier, Hardee, Hendry, Hillsborough, and Monroe.<sup>17</sup> Section 5 requires that, before its implementation in a covered jurisdiction, any change in electoral practices (including the enactment of a new redistricting plan) be submitted to the United States Department of Justice or to the federal District Court for the District of Columbia for review and preclearance.<sup>18</sup> A change in electoral practices is entitled to preclearance if, with respect to minority voters in the covered jurisdictions, the change has neither a discriminatory purpose nor diminishes the ability of any citizens on account of race or color to elect their preferred candidates.<sup>19</sup>

The Florida Constitution

Since 1968, the Florida Constitution has required that state legislative districts be contiguous.<sup>20</sup> A district is contiguous if no part of the district is isolated from the rest of the district by another district.<sup>21</sup> In a contiguous district, a person can travel from any point within the district to any other point without departing from the district.<sup>22</sup> A district is not contiguous if its parts touch only at a common corner, such as a right angle.<sup>23</sup> The Florida Supreme Court has also held that the presence in a district of a body of water without a connecting bridge, even if it requires land travel outside the district in order to reach other parts of the district, does not violate contiguity.<sup>24</sup>

Districts must be consecutively numbered, but it is not necessary that adjacent districts receive consecutive numbers.<sup>25</sup> For example, districts in a 40-district redistricting plan may be numbered from one to 40, but District 1 and District 2 need not be adjacent to one another.<sup>26</sup> Ordinarily, senators are elected to four-year terms.<sup>27</sup> At the general election that follows redistricting, terms that are not scheduled naturally to expire will be truncated, and all seats in the Senate will be subject to election in the new districts.<sup>28</sup> To preserve staggered terms, voters in senate districts designated by even numbers will elect candidates to two-year terms, while voters in senate districts designated by odd numbers will elect candidates to four-year terms.<sup>29</sup>

In 2010, voters amended the Florida Constitution to create additional standards for establishing state legislative district boundaries.<sup>30</sup> The new standards are set forth in two tiers. To the extent that compliance with second-tier standards conflicts with compliance with first-tier standards, the second-tier standards do not apply.<sup>31</sup> The order in which the standards are set forth within either tier does not establish any priority of one standard over another within the same tier.<sup>32</sup>

The first tier provides that no apportionment plan or district shall be drawn with the intent to favor or disfavor a political party or an incumbent.<sup>33</sup> Redistricting decisions unconnected with an intent to favor or disfavor a political party and incumbent do not violate this provision of the Florida Constitution, even if their effect is to favor or disfavor a political party or incumbent.<sup>34</sup>

The first tier of the new standards also provides two distinct protections for racial and language minorities. First, districts may not be drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of minorities to participate in the political process. Second, districts may not be drawn to diminish the ability of racial or language minorities to elect representatives of their choice.<sup>35</sup> The second standard is comparable in its text to Section 5 of the federal Voting Rights Act, as amended in 2006, but is not limited to the five counties protected by Section 5. $^{36}$

On March 29, 2011, the Florida Legislature submitted the new standards to the United States Department of Justice for preclearance. In the submission, the Legislature took the position that the two protections for racial and language minorities collectively ensure that the Legislature's

&lt;sup>34</sup> It is well recognized that political consequences are inseparable from the redistricting process. See, e.g., Vieth v. Jubelirer, 541 U.S. 267, 343 (2004) (Souter, J., dissenting) ("The choice to draw a district line one way, not another, always carries some consequence for politics, save in a mythical State with voters of every political identity distributed in an absolutely gray uniformity.").

The first tier also requires that districts consist of contiguous territory.<sup>39</sup> In this respect, the new standards duplicate a requirement that the Florida Constitution has contained since 1968.<sup>40</sup>

The second tier of standards requires that districts be compact.<sup>41</sup> The various measures of compactness that courts in other states have utilized include mathematical calculations that compare districts according to their areas, perimeters, and other geometric criteria,<sup>42</sup> and broader considerations of how actual communities relate to one another to form effective representational units.<sup>43</sup> Geometric compactness considers the shapes of particular districts and the closeness of the territory of each district, while functional compactness looks to commerce, transportation, communication, and other practical measures that unite communities, facilitate access to elected officials, and promote the integrity and cohesiveness of districts for representational purposes.

Whether explicitly or implicitly, courts in most states appear to balance considerations of geometric and functional compactness. Courts recognize that perfect geometric compactness, which consists of circles or regular simple polygons, is impracticable and not required.<sup>44</sup> Thus, in assessing whether the legislature has achieved a reasonable degree of compactness, courts in different jurisdictions have considered combinations of the following criteria:

- Whether the shape of the district is regular or irregular.<sup>45</sup>
- Whether the territory of the district is closely united.<sup>46</sup>

- Whether constituents in the district are able to relate to and interact with one another.<sup>47</sup>
- Whether constituents in the district are able to access and communicate with their elected officials.<sup>48</sup>
- Whether the district is interconnected through commerce, transportation, and communication.<sup>49</sup>
- Whether the shape of the district is affected by the physical boundaries of the state.<sup>50</sup>
- Whether the shape of the district is affected by a good-faith consideration and balancing of other legal requirements of equal importance.<sup>51</sup>
- Whether the shape of the district is affected by the one-person, one-vote requirement, in light of uneven population distributions.<sup>52</sup>
- Whether the shape of the district is affected by non-compact minority districts.<sup>53</sup>

Because the considerations that influence compactness are multi-faceted and fact-intensive, courts tend to agree that mere visual inspection is ordinarily insufficient to determine compliance with a compactness standard,<sup>54</sup> and that an evaluation of compactness requires a factual setting.<sup>55</sup>

In addition to compactness, the second tier of standards requires that, where feasible, districts utilize existing political and geographical boundaries.<sup>56</sup> One principal purpose of a requirement to follow established boundaries is to aid voters in orienting themselves to the territory of their new districts.<sup>57</sup> An interpretation consistent with this policy would encourage the use of natural geographical features, such as bays, lakes, rivers, and other water areas, as well as commonly known geographical demarcations, such as interstate highways and, in urban areas, well-traveled thoroughfares. The term "political boundaries" refers, at a minimum, to the boundaries of cities and counties.<sup>58</sup> The Florida Constitution accords no preference to political over geographical boundaries.<sup>59</sup>

The Constitution recognizes that, in the creation of districts, it will often not be "feasible" to trace political and geographical boundaries.<sup>60</sup> District boundaries might depart from political and geographical boundaries to achieve objectives of superior importance, such as population equality and the protection of minorities, and many political subdivisions are not compact. Some local boundaries may be ill-suited to the achievement of effective and meaningful representation.

Public Outreach and Input

In the summer of 2011, the House and Senate initiated an extensive public outreach campaign. On May 6, 2011, the Senate Committee on Reapportionment and the House Redistricting Committee jointly announced the schedule for a statewide tour of 26 public hearings. The purpose of the hearings was to receive public comments to assist the Legislature in its creation of new redistricting plans. The schedule included stops in every region of the state, in rural and urban areas, and in all five counties subject to preclearance. The hearings were set primarily in the mornings and evenings to allow a variety of participants to attend. Specific sites were chosen based on their availability and their accessibility to members of each community.

Prior to each hearing, committee staff invited a number of interested parties in the region to attend and participate. Invitations were sent to representatives of civic organizations, public interest groups, school boards, and county elections offices, as well as to civil rights advocates, county commissioners and administrators, local elected officials, and the chairs and executive committees of statewide political parties. In all, over 4,000 invitations were sent.

In addition to distributing individual invitations, committee staff purchased legal advertisements in local print newspapers for each hearing, including Spanish-language newspapers. The House Redistricting Committee also purchased advertisement space in newspapers and airtime on local radio stations to raise awareness about the hearings. Staff from both chambers also informed the public of the hearings through social media websites.

The impact of the statewide tour and public outreach is observable in multiple ways. During the tour, committee members received testimony from over 1,600 speakers. To obtain an accurate count of attendance, committee staff asked guests to fill out attendance cards. Although not all attendees complied, the total recorded attendance for all 26 hearings amounted to 4,787.

Throughout the summer and at each hearing, legislators and staff encouraged members of the public to draw and submit their own redistricting plans through web applications created and made available on the internet by the House and Senate. At each hearing, staff from both chambers was available to demonstrate how members of the public could illustrate their ideas by means of the redistricting applications. In September 2011, the chairs of the House and Senate committees sent individual letters to more than fifty representatives of public-interest and voting-rights advocacy organizations to invite them to prepare and submit proposed redistricting plans.

As a result of these and other outreach efforts, the public submitted 157 proposed legislative and congressional redistricting plans between May 27 and November 1, 2011. Since then, 17 plans have been submitted by members of the public. This total represents a dramatic increase from the four plans submitted during the last decennial redistricting process.

Records from the public hearings,<sup>61</sup> comments sent to the committee,<sup>62</sup> committee meetings,<sup>63</sup> as well as the maps, downloads, and statistics for each redistricting plan drawn by legislators, staff, or the public<sup>64</sup> have been made available on the internet.

Interim Committee Meetings

During interim committee meetings, members discussed region-by-region redistricting scenarios and reviewed publicly submitted maps. Professional staff selected the maps for discussion as samples representative of the different testimony and ideas citizens offered the legislature. Members heard additional public testimony at each meeting, and reserved time for any senator, civil rights organization, or member of the public to present a plan in front of the committee.

The Committee took extra measures to ensure that any map proposed by a senator, an interest group, or an individual citizen could be examined and understood by all interested parties prior to a vote. The committee unanimously agreed to:

- Set a November 1 deadline for submitting maps for the committee's consideration;
- Not hear amendments filed less than 48 hours before the noticed meeting time;
- Publish committee proposals and a list of any plans to be heard by the committee at least seven calendar days in advance of the meeting;
- Make the Committee's amendment deadline 5:00pm Friday if the 48-hour rule would cause it to fall on a weekend.

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Consistent with state and federal law, the committee substitute apportions the state into 40 single-member senate districts. A statistical analysis is attached to this bill analysis.

The districts in the committee substitute have an overall range of 2.0 percent. The senate district with the largest population has 474,685 persons (4,652 more than the ideal), and the senate district with the smallest population has 465,343 persons (4,690 less than the ideal). The committee substitute contains only senate districts. Representative districts will be added subsequently.

After setting boundaries for all 40 districts in the Senate plan, professional staff assigned oddnumbered districts in a manner equitable to senators elected to terms of two years or less prior to redistricting and assigned even-numbered districts in a manner equitable to senators elected to four year terms prior to redistricting. Beginning in Perdido Key and working toward Key West, professional committee staff assigned odd and even numbers to districts based on the following:

- The Florida Constitution requires the legislature's apportionment plans to contain not less than 30 nor more than 40 consecutively numbered senate districts.<sup>65</sup>
- The Florida Supreme Court has held that senate terms be truncated when a district's constituency is altered by redrawing district's lines. Because the year 2012 is a multiple of four, senators in odd-numbered districts will be elected for four-year terms. Senators in even-numbered districts will be elected for two-year terms and may seek re-election in 2014 to four-year terms (unless disqualified by Article VI Section 4(b) of the Florida Constitution).<sup>66</sup>
- The Florida Constitution provides that some senators be elected for two-year terms in the next election after reapportionment when necessary to maintain staggered senate terms.<sup>67</sup>
- The Florida Constitution disqualifies senators from appearing on the ballot for re-election if at the end of the current term they will have served for eight consecutive years.<sup>68</sup>

Reapportionment in 2012 will change the constituencies of all senate districts, and many senate terms will be truncated. Twenty-five (25) senators elected in 2010, or in special elections thereafter, will have served terms shortened to two years or less. Two of those 25 senators not only will get truncated terms but also will be disqualified from appearing on the ballot for reelection (Senator from the 26th District and Senator from the 34th District).

An equitable method for numbering would be to assign odd numbers to districts represented by senators serving shortened two-year terms prior to redistricting; allowing them to seek election to full four-year terms after redistricting. Such a balance avoids the inequity of some senators having terms shortened to two years (or less) both before and after redistricting, while others have the opportunity to serve full four-year terms both before and after redistricting. Only 20 odd numbers are available, however, and assigning 23 is not possible.

To reconcile the provisions cited above and achieve an equitable result, professional staff considered not only the incidence of shortened senate terms but also when senators were first elected to the Senate (and when they would be disqualified from appearing on the ballot for reelection).

- One senator was first elected to the Senate in a special election to fill an unexpired term in November of 2008, and was re-elected to a shortened to two-year term in 2010. If that Senator wins election in an odd-numbered district in 2012, he will be disqualified from appearing on the ballot in 2016. If that Senator wins election in an even-numbered district in 2012, he will be eligible to appear on the ballot in 2014 and may have the opportunity of serving in the Senate for 10 years.<sup>69</sup>
- Two senators were first elected to the Senate in special elections to fill unexpired terms in 2011. If those senators win election in an odd-numbered district in 2012 and 2016, they will be disqualified from appearing on the ballot in 2020. If those senators win election in even-numbered districts in 2012, they will be eligible to appear on the ballot in 2014 and 2018, and may have the opportunity of serving in the Senate for more than 10 years.
- If any of the other 20 senators serving shortened terms wins election in an evennumbered district, the senator will get compound disadvantages: (1) a shortened term before redistricting, (2) a shortened term after redistricting, (3) only one opportunity to win election to a four-year term, and (4) less tenure than is typical among other senators before being disqualified from appearing on the ballot.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

None.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

&lt;sup>69</sup> Numbering districts with the intent to avoid some senators having terms shortened to two years or less both before and after redistricting (2 plus 2) while other senators have full four-year terms both before and after redistricting (4 plus 4) has an arithmetic consequence of a senator's final bid for re-election typically occurring when the senator will have served six consecutive years (2 plus 4 or 4 plus 2).

D. Other Constitutional Issues:

All redistricting plans are subject to Section 2 and Section 5 of the federal Voting Rights Act (42 U.S.C. § 1973c). Under Section 5, all statutory changes to procedures relating to voting and elections, to the extent they affect voters in the five counties of Collier, Hardee, Hendry, Hillsborough, and Monroe, are subject to preclearance by the United States Department of Justice or the federal District Court for the District of Columbia.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

The 2012 reapportionment will have an undetermined fiscal impact on Florida's election officials, including 67 Supervisor of Elections offices and the Department of State, Division of Elections. Local supervisors will incur the cost of data-processing and labor to change each of Florida's 11 million voter records to reflect new districts. As precincts are aligned to new districts, postage and printing will be required to provide each active voter whose precinct has changed with mail notification. Temporary staffing will be hired to assist with mapping, data verification, and voter inquiries.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

None.

VIII. Additional Information:

A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes: (Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

PCS (322922) by Reapportionment:

The committee substitute is a product of public feedback received after initial publication of the committee bills on November 28, 2011, committee discussion that occurred at the meeting on December 6, 2011, and suggestions offered by Supervisors of Elections after a committee staff presentation at their business meeting in Orlando on December 10, 2011. The committee substitute:

• Decreases the numbers of times counties are split by districts,

- Follows city boundaries and decreases the numbers of times cities are split by districts,
- Follows geographic boundaries, including bays, rivers, major roadways, and other recognizable physical features,
- Lowers population deviations among districts, and
- Assigns odd-numbered districts in a manner equitable to senators elected to terms of two years or less prior to redistricting and assigns even-numbered districts in a manner equitable to senators elected to four year terms prior to redistricting.
- B. Amendments:

None.

This Senate Bill Analysis does not reflect the intent or official position of the bill's introducer or the Florida Senate.
