SUMMARY ANALYSIS

Commercial lines insurance (commercial insurance) is insurance designed for and bought by a business to cover losses sustained by the business. Some commercial insurance, such as workers' compensation, is required to be purchased by businesses; however, most commercial insurance is purchased by businesses on a voluntary basis. The commercial insurance a business purchases also depends, in part, on the business type and industry.

The bill allows insurance companies writing commercial lines insurance policies to transfer these insurance policies to a different Florida licensed insurance company that is a member of the same insurance group or owned by the same holding company as the first insurer. But, no residential property insurance policy, except specified types covering farms, can be transferred under the bill.

The policy transfer is a renewal of the policy, rather than a cancellation or nonrenewal of the policy. Insurers transferring policies must give policyholders notice of the transfer 45 days before the transfer and provide the financial rating of the insurer receiving the policies. Allowing policies to be transferred between affiliated insurers, rather than requiring policies to be nonrenewed by the original insurer and reissued by an affiliated insurer, allows insurers to more easily manage their book of business and eliminates confusion among policyholders associated with policy nonrenewal and subsequent reissuance.

The bill is very similar to s. 627.728(4)(d), F.S., which allows an insurance company to transfer automobile insurance policies to a new insurer under the same ownership or management of first insurer instead of canceling and nonrenewing the policies at the end of the policy term.

The bill has no fiscal impact.

The bill is effective upon becoming a law.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Commercial lines insurance (commercial insurance) is insurance designed for and bought by a business to cover losses sustained by the business. Major types of commercial insurance are: boiler and machinery, business income, commercial auto, comprehensive general liability, directors and officers liability, medical malpractice liability, product liability, professional liability, and workers' compensation.

Some commercial insurance, such as workers' compensation, is required to be purchased by businesses; however, most commercial insurance is purchased by businesses on a voluntary basis. The commercial insurance a business purchases also depends, in part, on the business type and industry.

The bill allows insurance companies writing commercial lines insurance policies to transfer these insurance policies to a different Florida licensed insurance company that is a member of the same insurance group or owned by the same holding company as the first insurer. But, no residential property insurance policy, except specified types covering farms, can be transferred under the bill.

The policy transfer is a renewal of the policy, rather than a cancellation or nonrenewal of the policy. Thus, insurers will not have to provide 100 days' notice<sup>3</sup> of nonrenewal, or notice by June 1st, whichever is earlier, because the policy will be transferred, rather than nonrenewed. However, insurers transferring policies must give policyholders notice of the transfer 45 days before the transfer and provide the financial rating of the insurer receiving the policies. Allowing policies to be transferred between affiliated insurers, rather than requiring policies to be nonrenewed by the original insurer and reissued by an affiliated insurer, allows insurers to more easily manage their book of business and eliminates confusion among policyholders associated with policy nonrenewal and subsequent reissuance.

The bill is very similar to s. 627.728(4)(d), F.S., which allows an insurance company to transfer automobile insurance policies to a new insurer under the same ownership or management of first insurer instead of canceling and nonrenewing the policies at the end of the policy term. Insurers wanting to transfer automobile policies to an associated insurer must give 45-days notice to the policyholder and must notify the policyholder of the policy premium and any reasons for an increase in premium. The 45-day transfer notice requirement for automobile policy transfers is consistent with the notice requirement in current law for cancellation or nonrenewal of automobile policies.

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1: Amends s. 627.4133, F.S., relating to notice of cancellation, nonrenewal, or renewal premium.

Section 2: Provides an effective date of upon becoming a law.

&lt;sup>2</sup> Generally, non-construction businesses employing four or more employees have to buy workers' compensation insurance. Construction businesses must buy workers' compensation insurance if the business has one or more employees.

&lt;sup>3</sup> Under current law, policyholders whose residential structure has been insured by the same insurer for at least the five years before the date of nonrenewal receive 120 days' notice of nonrenewal, rather than 100 days.
