I. Summary:

SB 1496 creates an additional exemption from requirements to disclose public records. The bill exempts records held by the Department of Legal Affairs pursuant to an investigation of a false claim against the state under the Florida False Claims Act (FFCA).¹ The specific records include complaints and other information relating to the investigation. Once an investigation is complete, the information will no longer be confidential and exempt, unless disclosure will:

- Jeopardize another active investigation;
- Reveal investigative techniques or procedures; or
- Reveal trade secrets.²

This bill is linked to SB 1494,³ which substantially revises the authority of the Department of Legal Affairs to pursue fraud and other acts of misconduct under the FFCA.

The bill provides for repeal of the exemption on October 2, 2018, unless reviewed and saved from repeal by the Legislature. It also provides a statement of public necessity as required by the Florida Constitution.

² Section 688.02, F.S., defines trade secrets to mean "information, including a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, or process that: derives independent value, actual or potential, from not being readily ascertainable by proper means by, other persons who can obtain economic value from its disclosure or use; and is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy."

³ See Senate Staff Analysis and Economic Impact Statement for SB 1494 (2013 Reg. Sess.) by the Senate Committee on Judiciary (Mar. 15, 2013).

This bill substantially amends section 68.083, Florida Statutes.

II. Present Situation:

Public Records and Open Meetings Requirements

The Florida Constitution specifies requirements for public access to government records and meetings. It provides every person the right to inspect or copy any public record made or received in connection with the official business of any public body, officer, or employee of the state, or of persons acting on their behalf.⁴ The records of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches are specifically included.⁵ The Florida Constitution also requires all meetings of any collegial public body of the executive branch of state government or of any local government, at which official acts are to be taken or at which public business of such body is to be transacted or discussed, to be open and noticed to the public.⁶

In addition to the Florida Constitution, the Florida Statutes specify conditions under which public access must be provided to government records and meetings. The Public Records Act⁷ guarantees every person's right to inspect and copy any state or local government public record⁸ at any reasonable time, under reasonable conditions, and under supervision by the custodian of the public record.⁹ The Sunshine Law¹⁰ requires all meetings of any board or commission of any state or local agency or authority at which official acts are to be taken to be noticed and open to the public.¹¹

Only the Legislature may create an exemption to public records or open meetings requirements.¹² Such an exemption must be created by general law and must specifically state the public

⁶ FLA. CONST., Art. I, s. 24(b).

⁷ Chapter 119, F.S.

⁸ Section 119.011(12), F.S., defines "public records" to mean "all documents, papers, letters, maps, books, tapes, photographs, films, sound recordings, data processing software, or other material, regardless of the physical form, characteristics, or means of transmission, made or received pursuant to law or ordinance or in connection with the transaction of official business by any agency." Section 119.011(2), F.S., defines "agency" to mean as "any state, county, district, authority, or municipal officer, department, division, board, bureau, commission, or other separate unit of government created or established by law including, for the purposes of this chapter, the Commission on Ethics, the Public Service Commission, and the Office of Public Counsel, and any other public or private agency, person, partnership, corporation, or business entity acting on behalf of any public agency." The Public Records Act does not apply to legislative or judicial records (see Locke v. Hawkes, 595 So. 2d 32 (Fla. 1992)).

⁹ Section 119.07(1)(a), F.S.

¹⁰ Section 286.011, F.S.

¹¹ Section 286.011(1)-(2), F.S. The Sunshine Law does not apply to the Legislature; rather, open meetings requirements for the Legislature are set out in Art. III, s. 4(e) of the Florida Constitution. That section requires the rules of procedure of each house to provide that:

- All legislative committee and subcommittee meetings of each house and of joint conference committee meetings must be open and noticed to the public; and
- All prearranged gatherings, between more than two members of the Legislature, or between the Governor, the President of the Senate, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the purpose of which is to agree upon or to take formal legislative action, must be reasonably open to the public.

¹² FLA. CONST., Art. I, s. 24(c). There is a difference between records the Legislature designates as exempt from public records requirements and those the Legislature designates confidential and exempt. A record classified as exempt from public disclosure may be disclosed under certain circumstances (see WFTV, Inc. v. The School Board of Seminole, 874 So. 2d 48 necessity justifying the exemption.¹³ Further, the exemption must be no broader than necessary to accomplish the stated purpose of the law. A bill enacting an exemption may not contain other substantive provisions¹⁴ and must pass by a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting in each house of the Legislature.¹⁵

Open Government Sunset Review Act

The Open Government Sunset Review Act (the Act) prescribes a legislative review process for newly created or substantially amended public records or open meetings exemptions.¹⁶ It requires the automatic repeal of such exemption on October 2nd of the fifth year after creation or substantial amendment, unless the Legislature reenacts the exemption.¹⁷

The Act provides that a public records or open meetings exemption may be created or maintained only if it serves an identifiable public purpose and is no broader than is necessary to meet such public purpose.¹⁸ An exemption serves an identifiable purpose if it meets one of the following purposes and the Legislature finds that the purpose of the exemption outweighs open government policy and cannot be accomplished without the exemption:

- It allows the state or its political subdivision to effectively and efficiently administer a governmental program, which administration would be significantly impaired without the exemption;
- It protects sensitive personal information that, if released, would be defamatory or would jeopardize an individual's safety; however, only the identity of an individual may be exempted under this provision; or
- It protects trade or business secrets.¹⁹

The Act also requires specified questions to be considered during the review process.²⁰

(Fla. 5th DCA 2004), review denied 892 So. 2d 1015 (Fla. 2004); City of Riviera Beach v. Barfield, 642 So. 2d 1135 (Fla. 4th DCA 2004); and Williams v. City of Minneola, 575 So. 2d 687 (Fla. 5th DCA 1991). If the Legislature designates a record as confidential and exempt from public disclosure, such record may not be released, by the custodian of public records, to anyone other than the persons or entities specifically designated in the statutory exemption (see Attorney General Opinion 85-62, August 1, 1985).

¹³ FLA. CONST., Art. I, s. 24(c).

¹⁴ The bill, however, may contain multiple exemptions that relate to one subject.

¹⁵ FLA. CONST., Art. I, s. 24(c).

¹⁶ Section 119.15, F.S. An exemption is substantially amended if the amendment expands the scope of the exemption to include more records or information or to include meetings as well as records (s. 119.15(4)(b), F.S.). The requirements of the Act do not apply to an exemption that is required by federal law or that applies solely to the Legislature or the State Court System (s. 119.15(2), F.S.).

¹⁷ Section 119.15(3), F.S.

¹⁸ Section 119.15(6)(b), F.S.

¹⁹ Id.

²⁰ Section 119.15(6)(a), F.S. The specified questions are:

- What specific records or meetings are affected by the exemption?
- Whom does the exemption uniquely affect, as opposed to the general public?
- What is the identifiable public purpose or goal of the exemption?
- Can the information contained in the records or discussed in the meeting be readily obtained by alternative means? If so, how?
- Is the record or meeting protected by another exemption?

When reenacting an exemption that will repeal, a public necessity statement and a two-thirds vote for passage are required if the exemption is expanded.²¹ A public necessity statement and a two-thirds vote for passage are not required if the exemption is reenacted with grammatical or stylistic changes that do not expand the exemption, if the exemption is narrowed, or if an exception²² to the exemption is created.²³

Florida False Claims Act

The Florida False Claims Act (FFCA)²⁴ authorizes civil actions by individuals and the state against persons who file false claims for payment or approval with a state agency. The Florida Legislature enacted the FFCA in 1994 and the FFCA is modeled after the Federal Civil False Claims Act.²⁵ Actions that violate the FFCA include:

- Submitting a false claim for payment or approval;²⁶
- Making or using a false record to get a false or fraudulent claim paid or approved;²⁷
- Conspiring to make a false claim or to deceive an agency to get a false or fraudulent claim allowed or paid;²⁸ or
- Making or using a false record to conceal, avoid, or decrease payments owed to the state government.²⁹

The penalty for violating the FFCA is $5,500 to $11,000 per claim, plus three times the amount of damages to the state government for FFCA violations.³⁰ The Department of Financial Services or the Department of Legal Affairs may bring an action for a false claim, or may join a private action brought on the grounds outlined in the statute.³¹

SB 1494

Under current law, the Attorney General's office may investigate false claims against the state but does not have subpoena powers. The Department of Legal Affairs reports that the lack of subpoena authority can make it difficult for the department to determine if it is appropriate to intervene in a FFCA case.

- Are there multiple exemptions for the same type of record or meeting that it would be appropriate to merge?

²¹ An exemption is expanded when it is amended to include more records, information, or meetings or to include meetings as well as records, or records as well as meetings.

²² An example of an exception to a public records exemption would be allowing an additional agency access to confidential and exempt records.

²³ See State of Florida v. Ronald Knight, 661 So. 2d 344 (Fla. 4th DCA 1995) (holding that nothing in s. 24, Art. I of the Florida Constitution requires exceptions to a public records exemption to contain a public necessity statement).

²⁴ Section 68.081, F.S., supra note 1.

²⁵ See House Staff Analysis and Economic Impact Statement for SB 1185 (1994 Reg. Sess.) by the House Committee on Judiciary (Mar. 15, 1994) and see also, Federal False Claims Act, currently codified at 31 U.S.C. ss. 3729-3733 (Supp IV. 2010).

²⁷ Section 68.082(2)(b), F.S.

²⁸ Section 68.082(2)(c), F.S.

²⁹ Section 68.082(2)(g), F.S.

³⁰ Section 68.082(2), F.S.

³¹ See Section 68.083, F.S.

The bill creates s. 68.0831, F.S., to grant the Department of Legal Affairs discovery capabilities before the institution of a civil proceeding, if it has reason to believe that any person has testimony or evidence relevant to the investigation.³²

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill amends s. 68.083, F.S., to create a public records exemption for information held by the Department of Legal Affairs about an investigation involving false claims against the state under the Florida False Claims Act.

This exemption prevents the premature disclosure of the complaint and related information from compromising the ability of the Department of Legal Affairs to investigate false claims against the state before filing a complaint.

This bill takes effect on the same date as SB 1494 or similar legislation, which is July 1, 2013.

IV. Constitutional Issues:

A. Municipality/County Mandates Restrictions:

None.

B. Public Records/Open Meetings Issues:

Vote Requirement

Article I, s. 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a newly created or expanded public records or open meetings exemption to pass by a two-thirds vote of the members present and voting in each house. This bill creates a public records exemption; therefore, a two-thirds vote is required.

Public Necessity Statement

Article I, s. 24(c) of the Florida Constitution requires a bill creating or expanding a public records or open meetings exemption to contain a public necessity statement. This bill creates a public records exemption; therefore, this bill includes a public necessity statement.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:

A. Tax/Fee Issues:

None.

³² See Senate Staff Analysis and Economic Impact Statement for SB 1494 (2013 Reg. Sess.) supra note.

B. Private Sector Impact:

None.

C. Government Sector Impact:

None.

VI. Technical Deficiencies:

None.

VII. Related Issues:

The Department of Financial Services or the Department of Legal Affairs may bring an action for a false claim, or may join a private action brought on the grounds outlined in the statute.³³ As such, the Legislature may wish to consider whether the public records exemption created by the bill should also apply to information held by the Department of Financial Services.

VIII. Additional Information:A. Committee Substitute – Statement of Substantial Changes:

(Summarizing differences between the Committee Substitute and the prior version of the bill.)

None.

B. Amendments:

None.

This Senate Bill Analysis does not reflect the intent or official position of the bill's introducer or the Florida Senate.
