I. Summary:

SB 282 amends chapter 516, F.S., the Florida Consumer Finance Act (Act), which defines “consumer finance loan” as a loan of money, credit, goods, or provision of a line of credit, in an amount or to a value of $25,000 or less at an interest rate greater than 18 percent per annum. The allowable interest rates on consumer finance loans are tiered and limited based on the principal amount that falls within each tier of the loan. As the principal amount increases, the allowable interest rate decreases, as follows:

- $1 - $2,000 principal, up to 30 percent allowable interest;
- $2,001 - $3,000 principal, up to 24 percent allowable interest;
- $3,001 - $25,000 principal, up to 18 percent allowable interest.

The bill increases by $1,000 the principal amount that would be subject to the maximum amount of interest that is allowed to be charged within each tier. The bill increases from $10 to $15, the maximum amount that can be charged to a borrower for making a payment that is in default for at least 10 days.

This bill substantially amends the following sections of the Florida Statutes:
516.031 and 516.19.

II. Present Situation:

Under ch. 516, F.S., the Florida Consumer Finance Act (Act), the Office of Financial Regulation (OFR) licenses entities that issue consumer finance loans.¹ The license fees under the Act are $625 for the initial application, plus a $200 investigation fee, and $625 for a renewal. A license is valid for not more than 2 years. Under the requirements a licensee must maintain evidence of liquid assets of at least $25,000. The OFR is authorized to examine and investigate any licensee, and take disciplinary actions against licensees violating the Act. At present, the Office of Financial Regulation licenses approximately 301 consumer finance lenders in Florida.²

Under the Act, interest rates on consumer finance loans are tiered and limited based on the principal amount subject to each tier of the loan.

- For principal amounts up to $2,000, maximum interest rate of 30 percent per annum;
- For principal amounts between $2,001 and $3000, maximum interest rate of 24 percent per annum;
- For principal amounts between $3,001 and $25,000, maximum interest rate of 18 percent per annum.³

The principal amounts upon which interest rates are computed were last addressed by the Legislature in 1997.⁴

Additionally, the Act allows a lender to charge a delinquency fee of up to $10 for each payment that is in default for at least 10 days. Under the Act, the delinquency fee must first be agreed upon in writing by both parties.⁵ The delinquency fee was last addressed by the Legislature in 2000.⁶

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

The bill increases by $1,000 the principal amount that would be subject to the maximum amount of interest that is allowed to be charged for each tier.

Proposed Change	Current Law
$1 - $3,000 up to 30 percent interest	$1 - $2,000 up to 30 percent interest
$3,001 - $4,000 up to 24 percent interest	$2,001 - $3,000 up to 24 percent interest
$4,001 - $25,000 up to 18 percent interest	$3,001 - $25,000 up to 18 percent interest

Under the proposed change, consumers who borrow could be subject to an additional 6 percent of annual interest on up to $1,000 on monies borrowed above $2,000 and another 6 percent of annual interest of up to $1,000 on monies borrowed above $3,000.

¹ Section 516.01(2) defines “consumer finance loan” as a loan of money, credit, goods, or provision of a line of credit, in an amount or to a value of $25,000 or less at an interest rate greater than 18 percent per annum.

³ Section 516.031(1), F.S.

⁴ Section 1, ch. 97-181, L.O.F.

⁵ Section 516.031(3)(a)9., F.S.

⁶ Section 1, ch. 2000-127, L.O.F.

The bill increases from $10 to $15, the maximum amount that can be charged for a payment in default for at least 10 days, and keeps the requirement that both parties must first agree in writing to the delinquency fee.

The bill takes effect July 1, 2013.
