reenactment by the Legislature.

Section 2. The Legislature finds that it is a public necessity that information contained in a school district's after-drill report and the recommendations from participating law enforcement officers or fire officials be made exempt from public records requirements. While educating students is a school district's primary focus, each school district must also protect its students along with its employees and faculty members at each school. In light of the tragic events at Sandy Hook Elementary School in Newtown, Connecticut, where 20 students and six adults were killed on December 14, 2012, and at Columbine High School in Columbine, Colorado, where 12 students and one teacher were murdered and an additional 21 students were injured on April 20, 1999, school districts in this state are keenly aware that the safety and security of students, employees, and faculty members is of paramount concern. The information contained in an after-drill report and the recommendations from participating law enforcement officers or fire officials regarding a school's conducted emergency drills and the school's strengths and weaknesses in conducting those drills is information that could be used by a person who intends harm, possibly deadly harm, against the school's students, employees, and faculty members. Failing to exempt this information from public records requirements could expose a school's safety measures to a person who means ill will or is mentally unstable and could hamper the school's efforts to keep its students, employees, and faculty members safe and secure. Accordingly, the Legislature finds that the harm to a school's students, employees, and faculty members which would result from

Section 3. This act shall take effect on the same date that 63 SB _____ or similar legislation takes effect, if such 64 legislation is adopted in the same legislative session or an 65 extension thereof and becomes a law. 66
