- Reorganizes ch. 570, F.S., the department’s general authorizing statute, into five separate parts;
- Standardizes penalty language in the new part V which is cross-referenced in the various statutes enforced by the department;
- Removes obsolete language to ensure accuracy;
- Allows property owners to late file for an agricultural classification for assessment purposes under certain conditions;
- States that lands classified as agricultural and participating in a dispersed water storage program shall continue to be classified as agricultural;
- Provides private landowners participating in a water storage program with an option to establish a baseline condition determining the extent of wetlands;
- Adds a representative of the department to the Joint Task Force on State Agency Law Enforcement Communications;
- Revises requirements for registration and distribution of discontinued pesticides;
- Updates the department’s certification and licensure processes to include applying online;

- Expands the authority of the Florida Forest Service, under certain conditions, to grant leases, permits, privileges, and concessions for the use of state forest lands to include any lands leased by or assigned to the Florida Forest Service for management purposes;
- Authorizes the department to impose civil penalties for violations relating to private security, investigative, and repossession services;

- Authorizes the department to inspect aquaculture facilities and to analyze their food samples;
- Repeals a pilot program and permit for the use of Australian pine trees as windbreaks for citrus groves; and
- Creates new requirements for qualifying as a "non-dealer" in limited sales of dressed poultry.

II. Present Situation:

Chapter 570, F.S., Revision

Chapter 570, F.S., is the primary authorizing chapter for the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services (department). This chapter establishes the functions, powers, and duties of the department, as well as the Commissioner of Agriculture. It creates the divisions and offices within the department and their functions and duties. Over the years, ch. 570, F.S., has become a general "catch-all" for statutory language that does not clearly fall within another chapter. This bill reorganizes ch. 570, F.S., to promote accuracy and efficiency throughout the department.

Penalty Consolidation

Currently, penalties are located within specific statutory sections that contain the regulation being enforced. In an effort to be more consistent, as well as consumer friendly, the department has recommended consolidating its fines and penalties into one part of the statute and placing cross-references within the specific subject matter statutes to standardize penalty language.

Property Valuation in Florida

The Florida Constitution requires that all property be assessed at just value (fair market value) for ad valorem tax purposes. However, sections 3, 4, and 6, Article VII of the Florida Constitution, provide for specified assessment limitations, property classifications, and exemptions. After the property appraiser has considered any assessment limitation or use classification affecting the just value of a property, the assessed value is determined. The assessed value is then reduced by any applicable exemptions to produce the taxable value.

Agricultural Property Classification

Section 193.461, F.S., provides that each county's property appraiser shall, for assessment purposes on an annual basis, classify all lands within a county as agricultural or nonagricultural. For property to be classified as agricultural land, it must be used "primarily for bona fide agricultural purposes." Agricultural purposes include, but are not limited to: horticulture; floriculture; viticulture; forestry; dairy; livestock; poultry; bee; pisciculture, when the land is used principally for the production of tropical fish; aquaculture, including algaculture; sod farming; and all forms of farm products and farm production.

Property appraisers are required to reclassify lands as nonagricultural when they are diverted from an agricultural to a nonagricultural use or no longer utilized for agricultural purposes.

In response to the spread of citrus canker, the 2000 Legislature authorized lands to retain agricultural classification and be assessed at a de minimis value of no more than $50 per acre if the owner took the land out of production due to a state or federal eradication or quarantine program. These lands retain the agricultural classification and de minimis assessment as long as they are not used to produce income or used for a nonagricultural use.

Property owners must submit applications for agricultural classification by March 1 of each year.<sup>1</sup> If a property owner submits an application after March 1, the property owner must petition the value adjustment board and show extenuating circumstances that warrant granting the classification; the property appraiser is not authorized to review late applications.

Agricultural Water Policy

The Office of Agricultural Water Policy was established in 1995, in s. 570.074, F.S. The purpose of the office is to facilitate communications among federal, state, and local agencies, and the agricultural industry on water quantity and quality issues involving agriculture.<sup>2</sup> The bill requires the office to enforce and implement the provisions of ch. 582, F.S., which establishes the soil and water conservation districts. This duty is currently performed by the department's Division of Agricultural Environmental Services.

Water Retention Programs

The Legislature has encouraged and supported development of creative public-private partnerships and programs that facilitate or further the restoration of the surface water resources of the Lake Okeechobee watershed, the Caloosahatchee River watershed, and the St. Lucie River watershed. Since 2005, the South Florida Water Management District has been working with agencies, environmental organizations, land owners, and researchers to enhance opportunities for storing excess surface water on private and public lands. Over the years, these efforts have made thousands of acre-feet of water retention and storage available.

Water retention systems serve to control storm water volume before it is discharged to surface waters or floods urban areas. The systems also act to minimize point source and non-point source pollution prior to its entry into streams, natural wetlands, and other receiving waters. These systems vary widely in their pollutant removal capabilities, but can effectively remove a number of contaminants with removal rates as high as 95 and 99 percent for some non-dissolved nutrients and pesticides, respectively.

Eight Florida ranchers participated in a $6 million pilot program run by the South Florida Water Management District called the “Florida Ranchlands Environmental Services Project.” The program, which ran from 2006 to 2011, paid ranchers to construct water retention areas on their properties that acted as natural phosphorous filters. In addition to construction costs, the program paid ranchers for annual maintenance and a participation fee for three years. The district also created a $3 million water farming pilot project that paid citrus growers to build systems to store excess water on fallow citrus land before it can flow into estuaries.

When an agricultural landowner enters into an agreement with a water management district or the Department of Environmental Protection for water storage or water quality improvements on private land, the extent of existing wetlands and other surface waters must be established in the agreement.<sup>3</sup> This “baseline determination” is later needed so that any increase in wetlands or surface water as a result of the project does not subject the landowner to increased regulatory requirements.

As part of Florida’s pollution control requirements, Florida establishes the amount of a pollutant that a water body may receive without exceeding water quality standards.<sup>4</sup> The Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services is authorized to establish best management practices to reduce agricultural pollutants.<sup>5</sup>

Division of Food Safety

The Division of Food Safety is responsible for assuring a safe, wholesome and properly represented food supply. This is accomplished through permitting and inspection of food establishments, inspection of food products, and through specialized laboratory analyses on a variety of food products sold or produced in the state. The division monitors food from the farm gate through processing and distribution to the retail point of purchase.

The division is charged with administration and enforcement of food, poultry, and egg laws, and also provides support in the enforcement of other food safety laws. In addition to regulatory surveillance and enforcement, the division evaluates consumer complaints related to food.<sup>6</sup> The bill would authorize the division to also inspect aquaculture facilities and to analyze food samples from those facilities.

Office of Energy

The Office of Energy is the primary organization for state energy and climate change programs and policies. The office works cooperatively with other state entities, including the Florida Public Service Commission and the Florida Energy Consortium, to develop state energy and climate change policies and programs.<sup>7</sup> During the 2011 Legislative Session, the Office of Energy was transferred from the Governor's Office to the department. However, the Office of Energy was never specifically established in ch. 570, F.S.

Conservation Easements and Agreements

A conservation easement is a perpetual, undivided interest in property that may be created in a variety of ways. Section 570.71(12), F.S., authorizes the department to use funds from the following sources to implement certain conservation easements and agreements:

- State funds;
- Federal funds;
- Other governmental entities;
- Nongovernmental organizations; and
- Private individuals.

The bill specifies that the funds described above can be used for administrative and operating expenses related to appraisals, mapping, title process, personnel, and other real estate expenses.

Pesticide Regulation

The Bureau of Pesticides provides comprehensive pesticide regulatory programs that respond to state needs by ensuring the protection of public health and the environment. The bureau is responsible for registering pesticide products sold and distributed in Florida. The bureau also conducts scientific reviews to determine whether human health and the environment may be adversely affected when pesticides are used under Florida conditions and in accordance with label directions and applicable regulations.<sup>8</sup>

The Pesticide Registration Section registers federally accepted pesticides that are distributed, sold, or offered for sale in Florida as stipulated in ch. 487, F.S., and ch. 5E-2, Florida Administrative Code. The law requires biennial registration renewal for each pesticide product sold or distributed in Florida.<sup>9</sup>

Agricultural Fertilizers, Feed, and Seed

The Bureau of Compliance Monitoring ensures the more than 3,000 distributors of feed, seed, and fertilizer products in Florida are registered or licensed and that their products meet current regulatory standards and label guarantees.<sup>10</sup> The Agricultural Feed, Seed, and Fertilizer Advisory Council is a 15-member statutorily charged stakeholder advisory council to the department which was created in 2012 and convened in 2013. The council advises the department regarding actions to be taken with respect to the regulation and enforcement of agricultural feed, seed, and fertilizer. Stakeholders include the department, the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, and the aquaculture, dairy production, citrus, seed, feed, fertilizer, beef cattle, poultry, field/row crops, and vegetable industries.<sup>11</sup>

Plant Industry

The Division of Plant Industry works to detect, intercept, and control plant and honey bee pests that threaten Florida's native and commercially grown plants and agricultural resources.<sup>12</sup> In 2008, the Legislature established a five-year pilot program within the department to permit the planting of Casuarina cunninghamiana (Australian pine trees) as a windbreak for commercial citrus groves growing fresh fruit in Indian River, St. Lucie, and Martin counties.<sup>13</sup> The purpose of the pilot program was to determine if the use of the trees as an agricultural pest and disease windbreak poses any adverse environmental consequences. The five-year pilot project ended in 2012. A final report was issued that indicated that Casuarina cunninghamiana used as windbreaks did not demonstrate any invasive tendencies.

Florida Forest Service

The Florida Forest Service's mission is to protect and manage the forest resources of Florida. Wildfire prevention and suppression are key components of its efforts to protect homeowners from the threat of damage in a natural, fire-dependent environment. In addition to managing over one million acres of state forests for multiple public uses including timber, recreation, and wildlife habitat, the service also provides landowners throughout the state with technical information and grant programs.<sup>14</sup>

Goethe and Withlacoochee State Forests

Section 589.081, F.S., requires the Florida Forest Service to pay 15 percent of the gross receipts from Withlacoochee State Forest and the Goethe State Forest to each fiscally constrained county containing a portion of the forests. The funds must be equally divided between the board of county commissioners and the school board of each fiscally-constrained county. The bill transfers this language to s. 589.08, F.S., in the department's statutory reorganization and deletes references to the Withlacoochee State Forest because it is not located in any fiscally-constrained counties.

Classification and Sale of Eggs and Poultry

Section 583.01, F.S., currently defines the term "dealer" to mean any person, firm, or corporation, including a producer, processor, retailer, or wholesaler, that sells, offers for sale, or holds for the purpose of sale in this state 30 dozen or more eggs or its equivalent in any one week, or in excess of 100 pounds of dressed poultry in any one week. Egg and poultry dealers are regulated under this chapter and are required to possess a valid food permit. The bill creates limited sale poultry requirements to benefit operators of small poultry farms by correcting a long-standing discrepancy between state law and federal law regarding what constitutes a "dealer." For the past several years, the department has been working with small farmers to provide a level of economic and regulatory relief relative to production and sale of limited poultry. This change will establish more realistic numbers for a "non-dealer."

III. Effect of Proposed Changes:

Section 1 amends s. 193.461, F.S., to allow a property owner to file with the property appraiser for an agricultural classification for assessment purposes after the deadline for filing has passed. The application must be filed within 25 days after the property appraiser mails the notices required under s. 194.011(1). The application must demonstrate that the applicant was unable to apply for the classification in a timely manner or otherwise demonstrate extenuating circumstances as judged by the property appraiser.

The bill provides that lands classified as agricultural for assessment purposes and which participate in a dispersed water storage program pursuant to a contract with the Department of Environmental Protection or a water management district shall continue to be classified as agricultural lands for the duration of the lands' participation in the program and shall be assessed as nonproductive agricultural lands. Lands diverted to a nonagricultural use shall be assessed under s. 193.011, F.S.

Section 2 amends s. 282.709, F.S., to add a representative of the department to the Joint Task Force on State Agency Law Enforcement Communications. This task force advises the Department of Management Services of member-agency needs relating to the planning, designing, and establishment of the statewide radio communication system.

Section 3 amends s. 373.4591, F.S., to provide that when the department and a private landowner enter into an agreement related to water storage on private agricultural lands and to implement best management practices pursuant to s. 403.067(7)(c), F.S., a baseline condition determining the extent of wetlands and other surface waters may be established at the option and expense of the private landowner. The bill provides procedures to be followed by the department and directs the department to coordinate with the Department of Environmental Protection and water management districts on a process for reviewing such requests by private landowners.

C. Trust Funds Restrictions:

None.

V. Fiscal Impact Statement:*A. Tax/Fee Issues:

Refer to Private Sector Impact.

B. Private Sector Impact:

Section 1 allows landowners to late file for an agricultural classification and states that certain lands shall continue to be classified as agricultural for assessment purposes. Agricultural lands are assessed at de minimis levels, therefore, this aspect of the bill may have a positive impact on private landowners.

Section 5 (s. 487.046, F.S.), Section 6 (s. 487.048, F.S.), Section 75 (s. 576.021, F.S.), and Section 118 (s. 487.047, F.S.) allow online registration, thus saving time and the cost of postage.

Section 14 (s. 500.12, F.S.) provides that persons who operate a minor food outlet selling non-potentially hazardous food whose shelf space does not exceed 20 linear feet are no longer require to obtain and pay for a food permit.

Section 77 (s. 576.041, F.S.) no longer requires licensees for agricultural fertilizers to post a surety bond with the department or to sign a certificate of deposit.

Section 83 (s. 578.08, F.S.) establishes two new lower registration fees for distributors of small amounts of seed ($10/year for annual sales under $500 and $25/year for annual sales under $1,000). This will reduce the fees these small distributors will have to pay, resulting in lower costs. The department estimates that a savings will be recognized by approximately 200 seed dealers.

Section 87 (s. 581.091, F.S.) simplifies the regulatory process for using Australian pines for windbreaks in commercial citrus groves. Nurseries wanting to obtain a permit to propagate Australian pines will continue the current process of submitting an application accompanied by a fee of $200, adhering to permit requirements, and renewing the application and fee annually. Growers wanting to plant Australian pines for windbreaks must continue to submit an application accompanied by a fee not to exceed $500 to receive a special permit valid for five years.

Section 88 (s. 581.131, F.S.) benefits nurserymen, stock dealers, agents, and plant brokers by allowing billing to be more in alignment with established business practices using a 30-day notice.

Section 89 (s. 583.01, F.S.) allows small farmers to be permitted as limited poultry and egg farm operations under department rule, resulting in a savings in reduced regulation and lower permit fees.

C. Government Sector Impact:

Section 1 allows landowners to late file for an agricultural classification and states that certain lands shall continue to be classified as agricultural for assessment purposes. Agricultural lands are assessed at reduced or de minimis levels, therefore, this aspect of the bill may have a negative impact on the tax receipts of local governments.

The reduction of fines and registrations that would result from passage of this bill are not anticipated to affect the department because these figures were never recognized by the department as a source of revenue.

Section 87 (s. 581.091, F.S.) terminates the Australian pine pilot program and moves it into a process with less regulation and more areas where the pines can be planted. The department does not anticipate a significant increase in permits issued, but it could result in a potential indeterminate increase in permitting revenues.

Section 83 (s. 578.08, F.S.) reduces registration fees for seed dealers. The anticipated total reduction in registration fees is $13,725.<sup>15</sup>

The Division of Food Safety conducted a review of the penalty provisions provided in ch. 500 and ch. 502, F.S. Because trend analysis indicated the division has not assessed fines for these types of violations in several years, the division decided to lower the fine amounts. It is expected that the division will not experience any fiscal impact as a result of reducing the fine amounts, since the penalties for violations were never recognized by the division as a source of financial revenue.
